

PEACE CONGRESS PLANS ON FIRST PUBLIC SESSION

Initial Meeting of the Conference Will be Open to Correspondents—Many Subjects to be Discussed Tomorrow

STEERING COMMITTEE CONTINUES MEETINGS

League of Nations is Expected to Come Up Early and Some Are Seeking to Delay Measure by Territorial Claims

By WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMMS

PARIS, Jan. 24.—The league of nations will be formally taken up at tomorrow's session of the general peace congress, it was learned from authoritative sources today.

Much of the work in preparing drafts of the various nations' programs for the league is being done by the respective delegations outside the joint meetings and it was expected the preliminaries would be in such shape as to permit of a full discussion of the broad outlines of the plans tomorrow. The American delegation, it is understood, spent two hours in going over their league plans late yesterday, with the result that the formal draft was practically completed. Yet it was reported that neither the American nor the British plans would be presented in their entirety tomorrow, though they are farther advanced as regards details than any of the others. Apparently, President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George will wait until the other programs are submitted and thoroughly discussed, then they will bring forward the program of their delegations.

Initial Session Open

The correspondents, it was announced today, will be admitted to the full meeting tomorrow, as at the initial session of the plenary congress last Saturday. Meanwhile the meetings of the "steering committee" continue secret.

Among other subjects to be discussed tomorrow are responsibility and punishment for the war, reparation for war damages, international labor legislation and the international status of ports, waterways and railways. In connection with the latter proposition, it is believed the Dardanelles, the Bosporus and Constantinople will be considered.

Internationalists Erite

A move is expected to be made to internationalize that there may be an open exit from the Black Sea, assuring continuous access of Russia's wheat to the world. The Berlin-to-Bagdad railway would be the first object of internationalization of railways. At the congress of the supreme war council, in addition to completing the program for tomorrow's discussions was expected to take up certain matters in connection with the armies of occupation. This was forecast by the presence of Marshal Foch, Field Marshal General Diaz and other members of the associated powers' military council.

Some Seeking Delay

Alleged efforts to delay crystallization of the league of nations, or at least to obstruct the laying down of its fundamental principles as applicable to questions of territorial rights, were seen today in the attitude of certain powerful political figures. The Premier Clemenceau demanded the Haavala and Syria for France.

As announced by the United Press, two weeks ago, Clemenceau gave the associated powers reason to believe he would not press France's claim to those two territories. It is known he is adhering to this decision, but he is undergoing the strongest pressure from the financially powerful colonial faction. That the American delegates, supported by the British, have no intention of allowing the claims to succeed is obvious. With Clemenceau sticking to his decision, it is certain the Colonialists will fail.

AUNT OF PRESIDENT WILSON SUCCEEDS AT RIFE OLD AGE

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 24.—Mrs. Helen Hill Woodrow, 77, aunt of President Wilson, is dead today at the home of her daughter here. Stomach trouble caused death.

She was married in 1860 by the president's grandfather to a brother of the president's mother. Mrs. Woodrow was a guest at the white house frequently.

ON WAY TO FRANCE

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 24.—Evelyn Kondo, president of the Nippon Yewen aisha and Japanese advisory delegate to the peace conference at Versailles, is on his way east today to embark for France. He is accompanied by a party of steamship officials.

Government Urged to Act at Once in Shipyard's Strike

Department of Labor Advised That Trouble Will Spread If Not Quickly Checked

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 24.—An attempt to obtain government action to bring about a settlement of the Puget Sound Shipyard strike and to prevent a possible general strike was made here today by O. S. Larson, local representative of the war labor board.

Larson sent a telegram to Secretary of Labor Wilson, stating that the shipyard strike is serious and that it should not be allowed to develop into a general tie up. He urged the government to take immediate steps to effect a settlement.

War Materials Were Drug on the Market

Germans Who Bought Military Goods After Armistice Are Due to Take Heavy Loss

AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS IN GERMANY, Jan. 24.—German civilians who purchased millions of dollars worth of war materials from their army after the armistice was signed are turning these supplies over to the Americans under protest, it was announced today.

The materials included horses, weapons, motor trucks, clothing and foodstuffs. The buyers will lose the purchase price, which in many cases was ridiculously low.

WAR DEPARTMENT IS PERFECTLY WILLING TO STAND A PROBE

Baker and March Advise House Rules Committee of Desire for Investigation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The war department will welcome a congressional investigation either into the affairs of the department or the conduct of the war, Secretary of War Baker and Chief of Staff March told the house rules committee today.

If this action is taken Baker promised full information and that testimony of officers who have been in France would be made available.

Baker declared however, that a accurate investigation such as called for in a resolution by Representative Campbell of Kansas, into reports that the 35th division had suffered abnormal casualties because of faulty handling by poor officers, was difficult at this time because the officers had no information as well as documents were all over seas.

CALIFORNIA'S ACTION WAS DULY CERTIFIED

Ratification of Prohibition Amendment Transmitted to Congress Right After Its Passage

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 24.—The ratification of the Sheppard dry amendment by the California legislature was certified to congress immediately after its passage by Lieutenant Governor C. C. Young, it was learned today.

Speaker Wright of the assembly, also sent to the national capital notification of the action. California legislators at various points have obtained a temporary injunction preventing Governor Stephens taking such action. It has been understood that a provision of the state constitution is that only governor may communicate with the federal government.

WILL HEAR MOTION FOR REBEORN NEW TRIAL FOR BEBOER

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Members of the trial jury will be examined in connection with the trial of the California legislator for a new trial for Victor Berger and four other socialists here tomorrow, it was learned today. Subpoenas were issued by Judge Landis for the twelve men.

Berger and co-defendants were convicted on charges of conspiring to violate the espionage act.

SOLDIERS!

The Twin Falls News will accept, free of charge, advertising from soldiers looking for positions or work. Advertisements will be carried for no charge. It is necessary in the interests of any soldier desiring employment, upon application at The News office.

All soldiers desiring to do so are cordially invited to make full use of this offer.

PACKER TAKES NEW TACK IN HOUSE INQUIRY

Louis F. Swift Declares That Lifting of Government Control Over Food Stuffs Now Would Spell Disaster

WIDE FLUCTUATION OF PRICES IS MENACE

Head of Great Plant Offers His Opinion That Some Plan of Stabilization of Market is the Vital Necessity

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Louis F. Swift declared today that the $100,000,000 food bill is not intended to benefit the packers and that they have not used any influence to attain its passage.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Some method of regulating prices to stop extreme fluctuations in foodstuffs, Louis F. Swift told the house interstate commerce committee today. "If some system of stabilization could be arrived at it would be a good thing," he said. Lifting of government control over meat now would be disastrous, Swift warned the committee. "During the present uncertainty, when the food administration's authority over the stabilized prices removed, it would result in a disastrous condition," said Swift.

Too Much Fluctuation

"First prices might go to the ceiling, and the next effort might be that prices would go up—and everybody would be upset. And in the end, average prices might not be different than the stabilized price and it would have resulted in great injury."

Swift's answer was drawn by Representative Stephens, Nebraska, who inquired if Swift believed creation of a government agency to control and stabilize prices was worth considering.

THREE TRANSPORTS WILL BRING CASUAL TROOPS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The transport Samurina, St. Nazaire, for New York, is due January 31 with eastern casals.

The Mongolia, St. Nazaire for New York, is due January 30 with the following casual companies: 452 (California); 470 (regulars); 448 (regulars); 447 (regulars).

SPEAKERSHIP IS A SHARP FIGHT

New Republicans to Enter May Agree That a Change All Around Is for the Better

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The race for the speakership of the house of representatives is at the stage where the proverbial dark horse may take the lead at any time.

There is a growing sentiment evidenced already by the House and Senate that republican chances in 1920 would gain by dropping old leaders for a "new deal all around." This feeling, strong today, is likely to be heightened when sixty-one new republicans of the next house are heard from. These men for the most part own nothing to the old order and would gain by helping the move for a change of leaders.

Democrats who are watching the republican race from the side lines declared that Representative Longworth of Ohio already has been named and Mann of Illinois and Representative Gillett of Massachusetts, the two candidates who have announced themselves outdistanced.

A plan to get republicans and republican members-elect together for a caucus to settle the speakership matter is being discussed. All sides declare themselves in favor of this, but none is pushing it very hard.

ARMY OF REBELS FORMED

MADRID, Jan. 24.—Captain Concelor, leader of the Portuguese monarchist revolt, has organized an army of 4,000 and plans to march against the Lisbon government which is reported to be neutral, according to dispatches received here today.

FIRST BILL PASSES SENATE

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 24.—The senate passed its first bill today. It provides that American history and government courses be made prerequisites to high school graduation. The vote was unanimous.

COLD WEATHER OVER COUNTRY CONSPICIOUS BECAUSE OF ABSENCE

Customary January Thaw Fails to Materialize For the Reason That There Is Nothing to Thaw—B. V. D. Climate Prevails Over Greater Part of Country

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The well-known "January thaw" is a "frost" so far as New York and vicinity are concerned.

Indications today were that spring has beat the weather man to it and that there won't be any thaw for the very good reason that there isn't anything to thaw. All the proverbial "barbarians"—bees, birds, blooms and everything—are on the job. The first bees were reported in Middletown, the first robin in Westchester county and the first violet in Kent.

AMERICANS WARNED TO KEEP IN CLEAR OR TAKE MEDICINE

Villa Sees Notice That Participation in Mexican Politics Will Spell Serious Trouble

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 24.—American and English mining men at the Santa Eulalia camp, 15 miles southeast of Chihuahua city were warned to keep clear of Mexican politics under penalty of attack by Francisco Villa when his headquarters here yielded that town Wednesday, according to private advices received here today. Villa made no demands for money or food upon the foreign mining concerns but took supplies in town.

A telegram from W. J. Deavitt, manager of the American Smelting and Refining company's plant there, said foreigners were safe and the mines operating.

One American mining operator here said today that Villa strikes where and when he pleases and by fast riding escapes pursuit of federal troops.

SEVEN SHIPS LAND TROOPS

Over Four Thousand Soldiers Are Once More on the Home Soil

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Seven steamers arrived here today bringing 4,300 soldiers home from the war.

They were the hospital ship Mercy and the following:

Battlehip Louisiana, 928 men, including 24 officers and 874 enlisted men of the 39th regiment coast artillery. Goaneter, 1,143 men, including 49th engineers, 40 officers and 653 men; Battery F of 5th coast artillery regiment; casual company 418th and 102nd trench mortar battalion.

General Goethals, 245 men, including detachments of the following: Thirty-fourth division headquarters; 10th infantry train; headquarters military police; 125th, 126th, 127th machine gun battalions; the 133d, 134th, 135th and 136th infantry, casual company No. 11.

WORLD NEWS EVENTS

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—(Delayed)—"The German army, including sick and wounded, now numbers approximately a million," War Minister Reinhardt declared in an interview here today.

DUBLIN, Jan. 24.—An Irish centrist party with Captain Stephen Gwynn as chairman, was formed Thursday, it was announced today. This platform includes home rule under supervision of a Central Parliament dealing with national affairs and a provincial self-government within Ireland under provincial assemblies.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Japan and the United States are to be brought closer together through improved communications. K. Uchida, former vice-minister of communications of Japan, announced before leaving for the Orient that two new cable lines, jointly controlled by the United States and Japan, will be in operation within two years.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Secretary of War Baker was called before the house rules committee today to tell what he knows about reports that faulty strategy in the Argonne battle caused 7,000 casualties in the Thirty-fifth division, made up largely of Kansas troops. Representative Campbell, Kansas, has introduced a resolution for investigation of the matter.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 24.—American Ambassador Fletcher announced today he would depart tomorrow for Washington, mainly on a pleasure journey. He was at the National Palace yesterday bidding farewell to President Carranza. The government will furnish the ambassador with a special car and a heavy escort for the journey. An officer of the foreign department will accompany Fletcher to the border.

ADVISE CAUTION IN ACCEPTING OF EXECUTIVE PLAN

Efforts to Push Through Administration Bill for Centralizing Departments Meet Temporary Setback

NONPARTISAN TICKET SCHEME IS INTRODUCED

Representatives Elected as Democrats Would Divorce County Candidates from Political Affiliations

(Special to The News)

BOISE, Ida., Jan. 24.—Efforts to push through without amendment the administration bill for centralizing departments in the senate this morning met with temporary difficulty, when several members advised caution in its acceptance.

An amendment was offered by Senator Yeaman to protect the fish and game funds from being placed in the general funds of the state. It was passed by the committee of the whole and the bill itself, Senate bill number 19, was reported by the committee as having progressed and will be taken up again Monday. Frequent senate caucuses have been held during the past few days over the matter and administration leaders have fought to keep out amendments, the belief being that the whole principle involved might be endangered.

Asks Government for Road

The Pettibone memorial to congress asking for an appropriation to build a highway on the south fork of the Clearwater river was passed this morning, after having been in the senate for more than three weeks. It suggests that $500,000 be spent by the government on the road.

World Makes Ticket Non-Partisan

To make county officials run on non-partisan tickets such as judicial tickets is now in the subject of a bill in the house by Harrison of Clearwater and Peckham of Canyon. A bonded warehouse bill was also started this morning in the house and provides for a license fee and supervision of the state.

Representative Garbutt is the author of a bill in the house-making the board of equalization tax electric light and power plants on a basis of power generated and capable of generation.

Strikes at Enemy Tongue

Hereafter the teaching of German or any other foreign language in the committee or high schools of Idaho will be illegal. This measure introduced in the house today is passed.

County boards are authorized to hire a visiting nurse in the bill by Representative Tyler. The measure passed this house this morning.

If the water supply sold by irrigation districts under the law as amended by the state board to be insufficient, the bill may under the district to stop issuing other water, according to a piece of proposed legislation by Wedgwood.

To License Sugar Factories

Sugar factories should be added to the law of the state as institutions which should be licensed, according to Representative Hill of the Idaho house. The Onida county man is the author of a bill to put them in the list of businesses which affect agricultural interests. The bill provides that bonds should be given when the license is issued for a sum to be decided by the director of farm markets.

Soldiers Object of Lawmaking

Honorably discharged soldiers and sailors are still the object of much proposed legislation. A joint memorial by Representative Porter made its appearance today, asking congress to include service men of the war with Germany in the law which allows time of service to be used in a homestead proving. The senate adjourned shortly after noon until Monday morning.

CAMOUFLAGE EXPERT RETURNS

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Sergeant Fred Murray, hero of the Idaho house, was among the officers of the Fourth engineers arriving today on the transport Goaneter from Great Britain. Murray was one of the hundreds of men who made the front and rear lines look like mud anything but what they were, by clever camouflage work.

FOOD MEASURE PASSES SENATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—A bill to amend the law which allows time of service to be used in a homestead proving passed the $100,000,000 food bill.

QUARREL AMONG FRENCH ARMY AND AMERICAN SHORT

Facts of Story Show Only the Natural Discontent of the Doughboy to be Responsible for the Reported Rupture

By WEBB MILLER
AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS IN GERMANY, Jan. 22 (delayed).—To quiet rumors evidently in circulation that there is considerable friction between the American and French armies, some incidents from which such a feeling might have arisen are presented.

Undeniably there was some feeling for a time on the part of the men of the third army, but it originated from minor causes and has entirely disappeared now. Publication of some of the incidents from which this feeling started will do more than anything else to halt exaggerated reports.

Rescues Change of Order

As the third army reached the banks of the Rhine, there was a sudden change in orders from the allied high command by which French troops came up and occupied the southern portion of the bridgehead. This necessitated much shifting about of the American troops and caused several divisions to march thirty-six miles farther to reach the new areas assigned to them. It also deprived men of the third and forty-second divisions of the honor of crossing the Rhine. Naturally, the men were dissatisfied, inasmuch as it caused much extra labor and marching.

Enforced Outward Respect

The French apparently were under the impression that the Americans should enforce regulations which the French themselves had set out to affect. For instance, when a French regiment marched through Coblenz and was reviewed by General Dickman, several French officers circulated through the crowds knocking off the hats of German civilians as the colors passed and when the American national anthem was played. The Americans had recognized no regulation regarding civilians removing their hats when the colors passed and some of the Third army officers disapproved of the procedure.

Disagreement Subtles

Then, human-like, the American soldiers recalled petty personal incidents in France, such as overcharging, which could occur anywhere and other small affairs that were inevitable. This added to the feeling of dissatisfaction. Other incidents dropped out, mostly the outgrowth of misunderstandings. But within a week or two this feeling subsided and little of it can now be discerned.

On the whole, it was what might be expected there and other small incidents. Soldiers are notorious grumblers, and kicking about anything and everything is one of the American doughboys' most prized prerogatives.

When not cursing the mess sergeant, the Y. M. C. A., or congress, they are cursing something else. So far as can be determined, the above incidents are solely responsible for the rumors afloat.

Unholy Gathering at Fort Douglas

Alien Enemies Held in Utah Comprise Every Known Kind of Plotter Against U. S.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—There are 77 German and Austrian enemies confined in the third prison camp at Ft. Douglas. They have been gathered there from every section of the country, particularly from the Mexican border, since the United States entered the world war. These men are all classed as dangerous enemies and have been arrested by the department of justice of the government for safety and were turned over to the military organization for safe keeping until such time as the emergency is passed and it may become safe, so far as war measures are concerned, for them to be released. The personnel of the prison camp includes known German spies, suspected spies, propaganda agents, Germans who were found enlisted in the United States army, presumably for reasons best known to themselves, Germans and Austrians who have lived in this country for years without any effort to become citizens and without any particular business or occupation.

While the prison camp holds many who are illiterate and of the lower class of aliens, there are also many who are highly educated, accomplished in technical lines and of the class said to make the most skillful and efficient of secret agents and spies. It is learned that there are about 200 of the prisoners in the local camp who are avowedly members of the I. W. W. organization.

Lumber Vessel Stranded by a Storm on Sound

Crew Believed to Have Drowned in Attempt to Escape From the Boat

HOQUIAM, Wash., Jan. 24.—Six members of the crew of the British schooner Janet Caruthers are believed drowned, following an attempt last night to escape from the stranded vessel, which is aground in the breakers four miles north of the entrance to Gray's harbor.

A boat was found several miles up the beach, but no trace of the men has been uncovered.

Captain Carney and eight members of the crew who were rescued yesterday are today awaiting good weather to begin an attempt to get the vessel off the beach.

The Janet Caruthers, loaded with lumber to Tacoma, was on the way to Portland for fuel, "enough" when she ran ashore in the storm of Wednesday night.

IRRIGATION EXPERTS GATHER FOR STRUGGLE

Proposed Legislation Changing Existing Laws as to Water Will Be Bitterly Opposed

(Special to The News)

BOISE, Jan. 24.—Gathering of the irrigation men of the state in Boise during the past two or three days portends the desperate fight which will be made over the provisions of a bill about to be introduced in the legislature which it is said, would drastically change the irrigation laws of the state.

It is believed that the proposed measure which is voluminous in its provisions will be stoutly fought by many men interested in irrigation in southern and eastern Idaho. It is known that the Bonneville county delegation is absolutely against the measure.

In the bill salaries of $7,500 per year are provided for a board of three irrigation commissioners. Two of the board would be republicans and a third a democrat under the present administration. The authorship of the measure is generally credited to the retiring state engineer, Fred Wilkie, and its opponents state that Mr. Wilkie would likely be the democrat appointee on the board.

A number of lawyers from different parts of the state are here at the present time in the interests of or against the proposed piece of legislation.

WARNS AGAINST GERMAN MENACE TO WORLD TRADE

American Official Thinks Germany Is Planning a Strong Commercial Campaign in the United States and France

By FRED B. FERGUSON

PARIS, Jan. 24.—A warning was issued by American officials today that Germany is planning a strong commercial campaign in the United States and France. They pointed out that Germany has always been keen commercially and for the last quarter of a century she has devoted half of her energy to commerce and industry and the other half to building up a knowledge of the French and Italian markets and her industrial organizations can direct vastly more energy to trade.

When Edward Hurley addresses a meeting of French business men tomorrow night he is expected to outline the American attitude toward extending aid to French commerce in an effort to combat the German menace.

It is understood that Hurley will urge all nations to get back on a peace basis as quickly as possible so as to stabilize the world's commerce. He is known to believe that general mobilization of the French and Italian armies as well as the American and British, is essential to a revival of international trade.

H. C. OF L. RECEIVES A VERY SEVERE BLOW

Butter Dropped Thirteen Cents and Other Commodities Were Quick to Follow Suit

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Outer divisions of General High Cost of Living had their day today. Butter in two weeks has dropped thirteen cents wholesale, the butter and egg board announced. Pork loins tumbled eight cents. Veal dropped five and six cents. Other produce has dropped in a more or less demoralized market, due to stoppage of government and foreign supplies. Retailers, however, stocked with high priced goods, have been slow to follow wholesale prices. The butter and egg board, therefore, today started checking up on retailers who decline to lower charges in conformity.

Would Force the American Peace Terms on World

Internationalist Labor and Socialist Congress Would Put American Ideas on All

(BY LOWELL MELLET)

PARIS, Jan. 24.—Adoption of a policy to force acceptance of the full peace program advocated by the American delegation loomed today as a possible outgrowth of the international labor and socialist congress to be called in Rome on Monday.

The most drastic plan suggested by labor representatives to carry this project is a proposition to call general strikes in all countries in case other interests prove "too strong" for the Americans.

There will really be two sets of delegates at Rome. The labor and socialist delegates from associated, enemy and neutral countries will hold one meeting and the other will be an international trades union congress.

WOULD APPLY THE AUSTRALIAN LAWS TO LABOR

Thinks Application of This Plan Would Promote Better Understanding Between Capital and Labor All Over World

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—"Permanent peace cannot be assured until the nations of the world are placed on an equal footing as far as labor is concerned," said G. B. Beely, minister of labor for New South Wales, today, previous to his departure for England to continue his investigations of conditions.

He has been in the United States three months, visiting San Francisco, Portland, Ore., Denver, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, and other industrial and trade centers.

Afford Better Understanding

Explaining the system in operation in Australia, he said he believed it could be made applicable here as well as in European nations by building up a system that will create a better understanding between capital and labor. The recognition of the fundamentals of the eight-hour day, right to organize, the settlement of industrial disputes by conference and negotiation instead of litigation—he advocates as essentials in laying the foundation of stable labor conditions.

"The splendid organizations you have had during the war to control the situation are now virtually disintegrated and the industrial conditions are more or less chaotic," said Beely. The adoption of the Australian system to the United States, he believes, will remedy this condition.

Australian System

The Australian laws an effective or proposed, provide for: Federal regulation of factory and shop; industrial safety; workmen's compensation and accident and social insurance; a method of fixing the basic living wage; control of child labor; apprenticeship and vocational training; prescribing of the standard working day.

These laws control all other matters directly affecting employers' and workmen's relations. The arbitration boards, he said, consist of an equal number of representatives from both sides, with independent chairmen.

May Refuse Seating to Disloyal Member

Opposition to Admitting Victor Berger Developed in House by Speaker Candidate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The first open opposition to seating Victor Berger of Wisconsin as a member of the house came today, in a statement from Representative Gillett, of Massachusetts, candidate for speaker in the next congress.

Gillett said the refusal to seat Berger should be the very first act of the next house because Berger was found guilty of charges of disloyalty.

"The evidence convinces me of his disloyalty and I believe the country generally approves the verdict of the jury and I think his guilt is sufficiently manifest to disqualify him from congress," Gillett said.

ASK THE BOYS

Delegates to the meeting to be held here on February fourth under the auspices of the County Council of Defense to determine what manner of memorial is to be erected to the honor of Twin Falls County service men in the great war and how it is to be built will have presented for their consideration, undoubtedly, a wide variety of suggestions and proposals.

These suggestions may perhaps be divided into two general classifications. In one class would be grouped all of those proposals looking toward the erection of a memorial per se, such as a monument, a bridge or a highway, of service principally as a memorial and established along the lines commonly applied in the building of a memorial. In the other class would come every suggestion for the erection of a building intended to provide a meeting or recreation place under whatever auspices alike for service men and citizens. The establishment of such institutions here has been and is needed, regardless of whether a memorial is built or not. Being mentioned in connection with the building of a memorial it suggests the gift of a pair of shoes or other utilitarian article at Christmas time. Simply because it is being discussed in this connection, however, is no argument against its adoption to serve as the memorial. It may be that the advantage presented in this connection to supply such a necessary institution is one that is not likely to be presented so forcefully again for some time, and it is certain that advantage should be taken of every opportunity promising fulfillment of this need.

It is to be noted that suggestions so far in respect to the form which the memorial should take have come not from men whom the memorial is designed to honor, but from those who are considering the matter essentially from the standpoint of a good citizen of Twin Falls with eyes open to the needs of the community and the desirability of providing some suitable evidence of esteem in which the service men are held in the community.

The voice of the returning service men, so far as it has been raised; has been for provision to meet the immediate needs of the men who have worn the uniform.

There can be no question that the immediate needs of these men are deserving of the first consideration, and the establishment of a soldiers' and sailors' club, affording a means through which these needs may be met, is a worthy undertaking which must not be neglected while plans for the erection of another and perhaps more enduring type of evidence of appreciation are under consideration.

THE "LEAGUE OF NATIONS"

Following the pronouncement of President Wilson some permanent peace pact among the nations of the earth has been thus designated, and has been talked and written about no end—but in most cases without any definite idea, common to the talkers and writers, as to what would be the practical character, requirements and central authority of a really effective "League of Nations."

or to render judgment and also to furnish it the army to enforce such judgment. Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, another of the great constitutional lawyers of the senate, in beginning his speech upon this subject before that body said: "I, for one, am entirely ignorant of what the president means by a League of Nations. The American people do not know. Conceptions of a League of Nations range from a sort of world-republic to a mere entente something that need not necessarily cause alarm." He then shows that the pending peace conference could have no power to bind the United States in advance, to go to war at behest of any outside authority which the constitution provides that war can be declared only by the congress. Concluding, he sums up as follows:

"My conception of the league of nations is just this—that it shall operate as the organized moral force of men throughout the world and that whenever or wherever wrong and aggression are planned or contemplated, this searching light of conscience will be turned upon them, and men everywhere will ask: 'What are the purposes that you hold in your heart against the fairness of the world?'"

"The issue as to a League of Nations and a revision of the laws of the seas are issues between the Allies themselves and between them and each of them and all of the neutral powers."

Now after reading that statement several times over, its "definiteness," as an indication of what would be the working system of the proposed League of Nations—is not wholly nor clearly apparent. Under the stimulation of the anti-patriotic re-education of this momentary subject by the great allied peace conference, however, some of the best minds upon both sides of the ocean have been analyzing and interpreting, and we quote from some of them. For instance, Senator Borah, of this state, in introducing a discussion of the subject before the senate, said:

"I have shown conclusively that upon these latter issues there exists the widest diversity of opinion, and I have concluded that it is wise not to force upon a conference that must adjust the comparatively simple demands of the one, the complexities and confusions of the other."

Following this professor, the senator professes to make an argument to show, first, that for ultimate recognition of such matters of controversy as might come before such a league, jurisdiction and authority superior to that of any individual nation must be accorded; and, second, that in order to enforce such rulings and decisions as might be made, the military and naval forces of all the league nations must be subject to its supreme call. Then he adds:

"Are you going to organize a tribunal with the power to judge and also to enforce, or are you simply going to organize an international debating society? No man has yet been willing, according to my reading, to say he is willing to give such an international tribunal, or to this super-international court, the power to grant the request. Senator Hardwick, a Georgia democrat, says, in opposing the measure that the manner of the president's request "smacks too much of royalty." Senator Penrose would vote for the bill if a commission be raised to spend the money, and offered a resolution to that effect. Senator King, of Utah would never vote for it unless assured that the murderous Bolsheviks would not get a penny. Senator Johnson said it was America's first duty to look after the demobilized soldiers, many of whom are unemployed and will soon be in want, and not to increase by a hundred million the present burden on American business. "The effect of unemployment in the next few months may engulf this country and present a portent never before presented at our doors." Continuing, he declared: "I am opposed to spending this $100,000,000, ostensibly for starving of Europe, for the benefit of the packers. It is no longer necessary to pass legislation with a view to the aid of the soldiers." Senator Harding of Ohio said the spread of Bolshevism throughout Europe was "due largely to the policies of the chief executive of the United States," and declared that the statement that the United States entered the war for "the sake of democracy" "has been a lie from the beginning." He said the United States never would have entered the war except to protect its rights. There did not at first seem any doubt as to the final passage of this bill; but it does not appear to be gaining ground as the discussion progresses.

J. Ogden Armour has been telling the congressional interstate commerce committee that the pending legislation to regulate the meat packing industry was "reactionary and probably unconstitutional." J. Ogden seems well pleased with recent packhouse profits and he thoroughly believes in "letting well enough alone."

President Clemens' work in England appears about to result in an international trade union congress, although he did not visit the Continental Socialists to be his kind of people at all.

The new warden of the state penitentiary to build a new $5,000 dairy barn and a $7,000, home, outside the pen, for twenty-five "trusties" who are now being employed to milk the twenty cows and do other work about the place. He also asks $15,000 for a new swimming pool, gymnasium, reception rooms, (small auditorium, etc.) and it would accommodate not only our heroes and their friends but our heroines and their friends as well.

An old plot to kill the two John D. Rockefelleres was unveiled before the senate yesterday by the committee Wednesday. The New York police inspector, who told the tale; said the anarchist plotters were all killed by a premature explosion of their own bomb. The eternal fitness of things is not always so well vindicated.

An election has just been held in Germany by which the prospect of a fairly stable government is said to have been greatly improved. But the returns indicate that substantially all the votes were cast for socialists of one brand or another.

The sittings of the house post-office committee are developing something of an interest in "Political Science," General Burleson, as Harvey calls him, an agent government control of the telegraph systems. Mr. Edward Reynolds, late president of the T. & C. company, accused Burleson of being a "trust buster" and consolidating all telegraph, telephone and cable lines in one huge monopoly; and declares there was no good reason why all the lines should not be turned back at once and the loss now sustained by the government in their operation stopped.

Timely Topics of General Interest Contributed by News Readers and Printed Without Prejudice in the Interests of the Public Good

Editor Twin Falls News:

Dear Sir: In note with interest the discussion and with particular interest the divergence of views regarding a memorial to our heroes of army and navy in the late war. Some want a monument, a building or an arch, others suggest a Y. M. C. A. Library, etc. The idea is to memorialize the human effort, courage and sacrifice given to our country during the world struggle just ended. How can we best do this? To me a fitting memorial could not be other than that which is of great service—the greatest service—to all the people. Such service and sacrifice as was given cannot be fitly memorialized by anything as merely local as the "day for big thing" should be past and gone. They have no place in this new era. Those countries over across the pond are filled up with beautiful piles of rock and metal built to memorialize some great event, victory, might be shown to amount to nothing but these "wonderful" memorials men are killing one another and starving to death. Let us have an active memorial, a living memorial, a memorial of service and not a dead, cold one. Let us not figure out what we want that will mean nothing to us or enrich us, or bring us business and then dedicate that as a memorial to our heroes and heroines living and dead, but rather let us seek out that which will be of the greatest service to human life and society, build it and dedicate it to the service we willingly and freely spent in our behalf. We all recognize the service and sacrifice that has been spent for us; let us just as fully recognize that a monument of service is the only fitting monument that we can build. Let our slogan be "Not a dollar for a memorial to merely look at, but any reasonable sum and then some for a memorial of service."

I suggest a memorial building erected in the City Park or on lots owned by the City Library which would contain the Public Library and community home combined. This would include a reading room, gymnasium, reception rooms, (small auditorium, etc.) and it would accommodate not only our heroes and their friends but our heroines and their friends as well.

I suggest and favor this because I believe it would be of greater service to society than anything else. If something of greater service can be suggested I will favor that.

Yours truly, W. ZENAS SMITH, Twin Falls, January 22.

WHAT SHALL WE BUILD?

The imperative question just now is, what shall we do to commemorate the sacrifice and service of our soldiers? Many things have been suggested. Whatever we build should in some measure suggest the things which we would commemorate. The sentiment which gathers about the memorial, as well as the service which it renders should be as broad as the purpose which we have in view.

A suitable memorial must, in fact, meet a number of requirements. It must not be sectarian in religion nor partisan in political significance. Our memorial did not go to Europe to fight for any single creed. Neither did they fight for any political party to the exclusion of others. No religion or social creed, which is not in its nature disloyal to the principles and institutions of our government, should exclude any family who has sacrificed a son or daughter to our representation in the monument erected. Men and women, regardless of political or religious beliefs, have shown themselves ready for great sacrifice for our common civilization. The memorial should, therefore, represent sentiments sacred alike to all.

Moreover, a suitable memorial for our men who have given their lives in the great cause of liberty should unite rather than divide the entire interest of the community. If this monument is to partake of the nature of a public institution, it ought to be an institution of such nature as to relate itself to all our public interests.

If the above suggestions are true, and they seem to me to be almost axiomatic, then in connection with what institution should the memorial be established? If I were asked what institution is most closely allied to the entire community welfare, and therefore the most appropriate social center, I would unhesitatingly say "The High School."

That being true, it seems to me that nothing could be more appropriate than the erection of a community building in connection with the high school. Such a building might include in its equipment all those athletic and social features which go with the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. or it might include the library, which has been suggested as a suitable memorial.

It is impossible in one short article to set forth all the advantages of such a building as the one suggested, but the following, as well as many other considerations might be urged in its favor.

In the first place, the high school is training our future citizens. Where would the horde of our brave men bear a larger heritage than in the lives of those who are now being prepared for the responsibilities of citizenship? The bringing of the community social life into close contact with the high school will bring our young people into closer touch with the great influences with which they will have to deal when they have passed out of the school into the busy life of the world. This very contact will have its educational value. One of the weaknesses of our educational methods in the past has been that we have tended to educate our own young people away from the practical world and then leave them to fight their way back into the business and social life as best they could. What could be more natural than that our young people during their years of training should feel themselves identified very closely with the very things that will engage their best thought and effort in the years to come?

Furthermore, such a community building in connection with the high school would draw together all the people of the community in a very helpful way. Society is organized into groups which but partially represent the entire social welfare. Ought there not to be one great institution in which all would meet together on a common ground, and which would be sacred alike to all? Such an institution the high school might well be.

Death Claims Well Known Buhl Citizen

Solomon J. Hammel Succumbs to Stroke of Apoplexy—Funeral at Former Home

Funeral services are to be held today in Appleton, Wisconsin, for Solomon J. Hammel prominent real estate, Joan and insurance dealer of Buhl, who died at noon Monday at the Buhl general hospital from apoplexy, following an illness of about three weeks duration. Deceased was born March 24, 1884, at Nellville, Wisconsin. In his infancy his parents removed to Appleton, where he lived until 18 years of age, when he moved to Sidney, Nebraska, and farmed there for several years. After retiring from this place he traveled through the west for a year, spending some time in Arizona, and locating in February, 1911, in Buhl. On July 31, 1914, he was united in marriage to Miss Jennie Fisher of Appleton, who, with his two sisters, Miss Rachael, of Milwaukee, and a married sister in Appleton, survive him.

Masonic Form Escort
The remains were taken Tuesday morning from Buhl by the widow and sister, Miss Rachael, to Appleton. A number of members of Masonic lodges of Buhl, of which he was a member, escorted the remains to the station, and they were met at Appleton by members of the Appleton Masonic lodge. Mr. Hammel also had been an active member of the Knights of Pythias lodge at Buhl, having filled all of the officers' chairs.

Says the Buhl Herald, "Sol," as he was known to all, was probably the best known man in this community. He was held in high esteem by a host of friends, who join the bereaved widow and sisters in mourning his untimely death. The entire west end suffers a great loss in the one who has just departed.

ISSUES WARNING TO QUARRELSOME LITTLE NATIONS

Supreme War Council Declares Territory Acquired by Force Will Not be Recognized at the Peace Conference

By WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMMS
PARIS, Jan. 24.—The supreme war council today issued a sharp warning to certain European nations that territory acquired by force will not be recognized at the peace table. This statement, which was broadcasted by wireless, was accepted as a determined step to suppress the incipient warfare which had broken out in the Balkans, in Dalmatia within the former Austro-Hungarian empire and in portions of the new Poland. In a way the action signified the first concrete evidence of the power of a league of nations, inasmuch as there is every probability that the mandate will be promptly obeyed.

Committee Finishing Mailing of Appeals

Letters Soliciting Contributions for Work in Near East Are Sent Out

The mailing of circular letters to the Twin Falls citizens who are asked to contribute to a fund of $5000 to be raised in this county for the work of the American Committee for Relief in the Near East will be completed this evening. These letters already have been mailed to citizens of Filer, Kimberly, Hansen and Murtaugh, and responses are beginning to come in. The committee announces that because of an oversight of lack of proper address, a number of citizens who desire to contribute to this cause may have been overlooked in mailing the letters. Such persons are invited to make their contributions at offices of the committee, now open in the W. R. Priebe jewelry store, Shoshone street south. Contributions ranging from $1 to $10 are asked.

With Hosts and Hostesses

A jolly party of young folks surprised Miss Ann Wheelon on Wednesday evening, being her seventeenth birthday anniversary. Games and music were entertainment for the evening. An appetizing lunch was served. A large birthday cake with seventeen candles adorned the center of the table.

Mrs. W. F. McQuilkin entertained the members of the Entrenous club at bridge and tea on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. A. L. Stone was the guest of honor.

Dear Friend of my college days:
I have just been smiling over your last letter, Elizabeth. It brings old times so vividly before me—why it seems but yesterday when our Senior Class went out for its last sunrise picnic breakfast, and here I am now teaching in Idaho, a thing we little dreamed of then.

And you are married and living right across from the campus, and Marjorie Mend is in Red Cross work, and Richard Bain went to France over a year ago, and oh, Elizabeth, maybe you did not hear of it, but my own best friend, the Dearest Lad who ever wore a khaki uniform, is stationed at Camp Lewis and Camp Lewis is "near" here—that is "near" as distances go in the West.

And this reminds me of an odd little fact about the pictures I sent you at holiday time. I wrote to the Dearest Lad all about the views I had selected for you at The Bisbee Studio and told him that I especially admired the one marked "Bisbee Copyright—Number 500." And he says he has that very notation in his note-book, for when he went on an errand for his recruiting officer in Chicago he saw an enlarged view of this print in the hotel lobby. Such a lovely picture it was, nearly eight feet long, he says, and he was so impressed by it that he made a notation concerning it. He vows if he ever has a home of his own—or a wigwam, as he playfully calls it—he is going to have a picture just like this one for his den.

The last time I was in The Bisbee Studio I told Mrs. Bisbee about my two good friends, you and the Dearest Lad, finding the same view a favorite. And Mrs. Bisbee showed me the enlarging-casel where the lovely, large pictures are made.

It was so interesting to me to see the great, broad easel with its pulleys and truck suspended from the basement ceiling and, at a touch, moving this way and that. It was a revelation to me, too, when the powerful electric light with its special violet ray was turned on that I might see how the focus and exposure are made upon the big sheets. But I liked best the massive concrete sinks, so many of them and so wide and deep, all chemical proof and so smoothly polished that their gray surfaces shine. No corroding mark to mar the beauty of the splendid, large pictures they hold.

The words "Bisbee Copyright" mean more to me than they did before I saw this very adequate equipment. I strongly suspect that the words "Bisbee Copyright" mean also preeminence in the photographic field in this section.

When you write again, Elizabeth, please tell me whether Letty Rogers entered the training class; she was thinking of over-seek service, you know.

Yours,
Mary Lou Granger.

DRAWING NAMES JURORS OF NEXT TERM OF COURT

Thirty-Six Citizens Summoned to Serve During Sessions Crowded with One of Largest Calendars in District.

The sheriff, probate judge and clerk of the court Thursday, in accordance with law and pursuant to an order issued by Judge W. A. Babcock, drew from a box containing the names of 200 prospective jurors, the names of 36 men who will be summoned to serve as jurors during the January term of district court here.

On account of the fact that court did not convene here for the November term because of the epidemic situation, the calendar of cases to be tried at the coming term is one of the largest in the history of the court here. Court is to convene at the beginning of the January term on Monday, January 27, but the jury is not summoned to appear until the following Monday, February 3. Judge Babcock, who will be on the bench during the term, anticipates that the opening week will be occupied in arranging the order in which cases will be brought to trial. The criminal cases, as usual, will be tried first.

List of Jurymen
Following is the list of jurymen drawn for the January term:
Warren Anderson, James L. Barnes, A. H. Baldwin, A. L. Beysoromb, W. F. Brewer, B. F. Buffington, J. W. Carlisle, C. E. Campbell, Thomas Clinton, William F. Dinsley, Roy G. Erwin, C. A. Fox, J. C. Booze Cases Many
Violation of the liquor laws, illegal sale or possession of intoxicating liquor are the charges against 13 of the 20 defendants in criminal cases on the calendar for the coming term. Four men are charged with assault with a deadly weapon, the weapons in question ranging from an irrigating shovel to a revolver. Three are charged with obtaining money or property under false pretenses; two are charged with forgery, one with burglary, one with grand larceny, and one with malicious mischief.

Criminal Cases
Following is a list of the defendants in criminal cases, together with the charge against each and his legal representatives, as they are listed on the docket:
Sam Milas, forgery, in jail.
James E. Stevens, forgery, in jail.
Joe Pierco and Issao Baxter McKenney, burglary, in jail; attorney, E. V. Larson.

DECISION TO REOPEN BUHL SCHOOLS REACHED

Red-Cross Board and Council of Defense Auxiliary Meet in Conference with Directors on Situation

(Special to The News)
BUHL.—A meeting was held by the local Red-Cross board last Tuesday evening at their headquarters. The council of defense and the school board also had representatives present. At this meeting it was decided that the Buhl schools would reopen on Monday, January 27. The Buhl Broadway school will also continue to be the emergency hospital and several of the church buildings will be substituted for school rooms for the grades.

Bert Conrad and Hazel Frazier were married at Twin Falls on Wednesday of this week. They will make their future home on Mr. Conrad's ranch near Buhl.

Miss Dorothy Miller, Winifred Gibbs, and Thelma Yeaman were the guests at the Lloyd Wetenkamp home last Sunday evening.

Mrs. Lester Parker has been very ill at her home the past week with the influenza.

O. C. Anderson returned Monday from Beavertown, where he was called by the death from influenza of his brother.

Miss Ray Hammel arrived in Buhl this week from Wisconsin to be with her brother during his serious illness.

Rudy Kanzo is ill with the influenza at the Buhl emergency hospital this week.

Miss Hazel Nelson, who is employed in Oakley, is visiting in Buhl with her parents for a few days.

Word has been received by relatives that Miss Elsie Bing, a former Buhl girl now attending the University in Seattle, is ill with the influenza.

Miss Mary Norman is to leave Sunday for Portland, Oregon, where she has been called on account of the illness of her mother. Mr. Norman will accompany her to Elias, where he will meet his brother Lester Norman who recently returned from France. Lester Norman will visit in Buhl for a few weeks with his brother.

YOU PAY-USE-LESS

Don't try to save money buying cheap or big-can Baking Powders. You can't do it. You'll throw out more in spoiled bakings than you save on price of the powder. And don't think that old style high priced powders are best because they cost more. They are not.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

has proved in millions of bake-day tests that it is the best baking powder ever made—that's why it is the biggest selling baking powder in the world today. No other baking powder makes such temptingly good—tender, wholesome bakings. No powder of anywhere near the same quality is sold at such a low price.

You use less of Calumet—because it is the highest grade baking powder. One teaspoonful is equal to two of most other brands.

And there is no "luck" about it when you use Calumet. No loss. It is absolutely sure. It is the most economical of all. Millions of housewives use it—and so do leading domestic science teachers and cooking experts.

You save when you buy it—You save when you use it. Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been approved officially by U. S. Food Authorities. Made in world's largest, finest, most sanitary baking powder factory.

Wagon Driver Wins In Suit For Pay

John Baisch is Awarded Judgment in Settlement of the Claims Against Schools
Findings of fact and conclusions of law in the case of John Baisch against the Kimberly independent school district were filed Thursday with the clerk of the district court. In this case Baisch for himself, and as assignee of the claims of eight other wagon drivers in the employ of the district, brought suit to recover $1,520 alleged to be due under the contract. Question as to the sufficiency of the contract arose over the closing of the Kimberly schools on October 18, 1918, pursuant to order of the state board of health as a means of preventing the spread of influenza. Judgment was awarded to Baisch in the sum of $1,355.

BIG NEED OF FOOD CAUSES APPEAL FOR FOOD

Hoover Says the Necessity of Feeding Europe Was Evident as Soon as the Armistice Had Been Signed

PARIS, Jan. 24.—The supreme food council continued its work here today, outlining plans for feeding needy European populations, though no action will be taken until passage of the $100,000,000 food bill by the United States senate.

In addition to the official statement issued by Herbert Hoover yesterday in response to Senator Borah's charges that the $100,000,000 appropriation was decided upon before Hoover came to Europe, Hoover made a supplementary statement to the United Press today.

"Immediately on signing the armistice, it was evident that with evacuation by the Germans of the devastated areas, the starving population of those territories would appeal to the United States for aid," said Hoover.

Investigated Conditions

"Repeatedly I stated in public and in private that they would need financial assistance to buy food from the United States, until the next harvest. As a result of the appeals to him, the president requested me to go to Europe for no other purpose than to investigate the situation and organize such help as we could give in cooperation with the allied governments. This organization has been effected and wherever it could legally or charitably help, it has been given."

"A situation has arisen, however, where further legislation is necessary before anything can be done and the president has asked congress for a definite appropriation to assist the devastated territories in the prevention of starvation and anarchy."

SENATE DEBATES PROPER ACTIONS ON FAMINE BILL

Many Express Doubt as to the Course That Should be Pursued by This Country to Feed the Starving in Europe

By L. G. MARTIN WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—A movement to talk the $100,000,000 famine fund bill to death developed today in the senate.

Warned of the intention of hostile senators to filibuster, administration leaders were frankly undecided whether to adopt "rushing" tactics in an effort to get the bill through today or let the opposition take its course.

Their indecision arose from the fact that a clear majority of the senate was doubtful concerning the wisdom of the measure.

Denial Causes Distrust

Charged that Herbert Hoover agreed with hucker to save them from loss by creating a European market for their products gained credence through Hoover's own denial. The denial, however, according to many senators, while no one charges Hoover with improper motives or actions, the fact that the appeal for the famine fund was put on the humanitarian grounds of saving starving Europe, instead of on what many senators believe the real ground—keeping the food administration as we have it, with the big raisers and packers—has caused distrust.

Many Undecided

Doubt concerning the proper way to vote has been expressed in speeches by numerous senators. Smoot, Harding and Cummins, for example, said they could not make up their minds whether it would be better to vote no and deny European American aid, or to vote yes and perhaps learn later that they had helped the packers "put something over."

Proarranged Plans

The fact that Hoover, before he went to Europe, told the senate approximately the amount of $25,000,000, $30,000,000 would be necessary to buy food for distribution has convinced some of the truth of Borah's charge that Hoover had decided before sailing how his promise to the big raisers and packers was to be kept. Senator Borah laid this fact before the senate.

"If the bill fails to pass today, it may be a long time getting through."

DELEGATES ARE NAMED TO MEET RUSSIAN PARTY

No Official Announcement Made Yet and No Answer from the Russian Factions on the Proposed Conference

By LOWELL MELLETT

PARIS, Jan. 24.—President Wilson has selected the American representatives on the special commission which is to confer with delegates of the various Russian factions at Prince's Islands. They were expected to be announced today.

The other associated powers were understood to be showing similar activity in preparing to undertake solution of a problem in which speed is recognized as a vital element. No word had yet been received from the soviet government, in response to wireless messages sent out Wednesday night.

France, first of the "Big Five" to cry out against the Russian plan, was eventually adopted, soon will be completely reconciled, in the opinion of a French official in close touch with political and military affairs.

LIQUOR DEALERS MEET

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Theodore Bell, attorney for all of California's liquor interests, left today for New York. At his office it was explained a big conference of practically all the liquor leaders of the country had been called to meet in New York in the immediate future.

ANTI-GAMBLING BILL IS MAKING PROGRESS

Pocastello Cited as Example of Uninterrupted Vice—Chinese Gaming House Runs Steadily

(Special to The News)

ROSE, Jan. 24.—Bitterly opposing the bill by Senator Witty of Hancock county providing that gambling places be declared a nuisance and enjoined, Senator Whitcomb of Lemhi county again attacked the bill in the senate committee of the whole yesterday afternoon.

When the measure had been debated during the entire afternoon session, a substitute motion calling for an adverse report from the committee lost and Senator Witty was able to have the bill reported for passage.

After praising the city administration of Pocastello and especially the mayor as an earnest, conscientious man, Senator Witty stated in his speech favoring the measure, that at least one place in the gate city had a sign written in oriental characters on the door, Oriental gambling going on in here. He insisted that no innocent person would be subjected to unfair enjoyment under the bill while Senator Whitcomb characterized the measure as "an attack against the fundamental law of the state."

The bill reads that "any building, place, or the ground itself wherein or whereon gambling takes place—shall be enjoined or abated." Senator Witty amended it yesterday afternoon to have gambling include games for checks, trade and other substitutes for money, making it far reaching in its effect on pool rooms, cigar stores and card rooms in the state. The amendment was not fought as expected, it seeming to have escaped the attention of the opponents of the bill.

California Is Exception

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Winter gardens and roses are backward in the bay district as a result of one of the coldest winters of recent years. The temperature dropped as low as thirty-eight above here.

Frosts in Southern California forced the orange and lemon crops to 10 per cent below normal.

OPINIONS VARY ON QUESTION OF RUSSIAN POLICY

Diversified Views Expressed in Paris Concerning Wilson's Proposal to Settle Trouble of Russian Representation

PARIS, Jan. 24.—Paris newspapers today took widely different views of the action of the supreme war council in according partial recognition to the Euzalav soviet government.

"President Wilson's ideal was great and bold," said The Matin. "The future will prove whether it is practical and fruitful."

"The decision will cause a painful impression in France," according to The Journal. "It constitutes implied acknowledgment of the Lenin-Trotsky government."

"With the deepest joy the socialists and democrats of the whole world will read President Wilson's proposal," said The Humanite (which exclusively published Foreign Minister Pichon's flat refusal of the original plan to recognize the Bolsheviks). "It is an extremely useful preface to the league of nations."

"Although it is an inane proposition, it at least evinces a more liberal attitude, which would have given the Bolshevik opportunities to spread their propaganda in allied territories," declared The Echo of Paris.

MEETING PLACE IS QUIET SPOT

Island Selected for the Conference of Russian and Allied Leaders Is Ideal

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The Prince Islands, where the allied war to meet the Russian factions, furnish an ideal place for talking things over. There probably is no place more ideally situated for a series of quiet, unexcited talks.

Most of the islands comprising the group are inhabited but the total population is only a little more than ten thousand.

The islands are about thirteen miles southeast of Constantinople, with which they are connected by a ferry that makes trips every two hours, and the trip consists of about three hours.

The inhabitants are never a hurry. Prinkipo, the chief island of the group, is ten miles in circumference and contains a town of the same name.

Most of the inhabitants are Greeks. Travelers declare that the most beautiful women in the world live the simple life on the islands.

The inhabitants have home rule, that means practically no rule at all. There is no government worthy of notice, and no taxes are paid except when the people tax themselves, which is seldom, as the wealthy foreign residents provide all improvements needed.

Few of the residents ever lock their doors, whether they are at home or not, and the only work there is for the heavily armed and gaily decorated policemen is keeping the goats from eating the trees. Nobody does much work except the monks in the numerous monasteries.

Hog receipts 6000; market unchanged; top $17; bulk $17.

SAYS WORDS AND ACTIONS CLASH

California Senator Thinks Our Deeds Do Not Keep Up with Our Promises

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Congress today accepted with a few amendments a plan for dealing with Russia as suggested by President Wilson. The general feeling was that a start has been made toward a solution of the Russian problem.

One criticism that should be voiced of the plan, Senator Hiram Johnson, California, said, is that it does not tell the American people how long American soldiers are to remain in Siberia.

"I want these American boys brought home at once. What a sad commentary it is to read in one column of our newspapers today of our great love for the Russian and in the next of how we are shooting them to pieces."

"If our professions made since January, 1918, had repeated often, including yesterday, are anything more than mere words, let's cease making war in violation of our laws and constitution and bring home our soldiers who are now in Russia."

President Wilson's plan, it was learned today, follows very closely the ideas presented to him almost a year ago by a number of congressmen and senators deeply interested in seeing Russia saved.

LEAVES FOR CAMP LEWIS

BOLSHEVIKI ARE EVACUATING

LONDON, Jan. 24.—A Central News dispatch from Copenhagen today quoting advice from Helsinki, said the Bolsheviks may be evacuating Finland and that War Minister Trotsky had moved his headquarters to Nij-Novogorod.

All Thoughts for Exclusiveness

As loss as woman strives for exclusiveness it is likely that the carrying out of various color and novelty schemes will be followed. In this costume on the right, baby lamb is used as trimming, forming the snub and collar—and then the milliner is called in to make a hat to match. All of this on a suit of velour. On the left the vest is the thing. This waistcoat is fashioned in ermine and embroidered in red. It is a feature distinctly new.

Gypsy Magic Is a Cure for More Than Fits

Paid Good Money to Get Cured of Fits and Is Cured of Eggs Instead

LYNN, Mass., Jan. 24.—"Break an egg in a handkerchief, carry it around in your pocket for two weeks, then spit down the throat of a chicken. After that wrap yourself in eleven yards of red silk and sit for an hour on a piece of white cloth."

John Guahiter of this city, paid a gypsy $250 for the foregoing prescription, guaranteed to cure "fits." John kept company with an egg for two memorable weeks, insulted the chicken and presented himself in red silk and squatted on the white cloth. Now he charges the magic formula cured him, not of fits, but of eggs for evermore.

Judge Thayer, in the superior court, ordered Mary Guy, the gypsy, to return Guahiter the $250.

DEMENTED MOTHER SHOT FIVE LITTLE CHILDREN

Overwork in Caring for Sick Children Caused Unbalanced Mind and the Fatal Deed

SHOIX FALLS, S. D., Jan. 24.—Mrs. Clara Hanson, 35, shot and killed her five children at their home in Sheridan, near here, early today and fired a bullet into her own head in an attempt at suicide.

Overwork in caring for the children, who were sick, is believed to have unbalanced her mind. Authorities said she will live. The children ranged in ages from 18 months to 13 years.

BOXING COMMISSIONS ADVOCATED ON COAST

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 24.—Municipal boxing commissions to be appointed by city mayors or councils of the various cities of the state for conducting boxing exhibitions are provided for in a bill which was sent to the house by McFarland of Multnomah.

The commission of from three to five members, including one physician, will serve without salary. The city officials would not appoint a commission unless at least ten per cent of the tax payers so requested.

The successful municipal boxing commission in Portland is the motive for the bill.
