

AMNESTY ASKED OF WILSON FOR WAR PRISONERS

Senator Borah Will Lay the Case of Those Captured Before the President of the United States

WOULD CLEAR AMERICA OF ALL TRACES OF WAR

Many Allegations of Unfairness are Made to the Senators and Move is in Progress to Investigate Them

By L. C. MARTIN
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—General amnesty for all men convicted in the war by court martial is today asked of President Woodrow Wilson by Senator Borah. This is the second step in the progressive senator's campaign to rid the United States of all traces of war. Borah will co-operate with Senator Chamberlain of the military affairs committee in hearings to show the facts in respect to sentences meted out to men of the draft army. Allegations laid before Borah, Chamberlain and other senators are to the effect:

Allegations Made

That a startling inequality existed in the severity of sentences imposed on different men for the same offenses. That undue severity was exercised for minor infractions of military discipline.

That courts martial have been composed in some instances of men not qualified either by training or temperament, to sit as judges.

Many are Sentenced

Senators have been told that the total of sentences during the war ran well above ten thousand. Neither Borah nor Chamberlain vouches for these figures nor for the truth of the charges. Borah said today:

"So many complaints have been laid before me that I have asked that the war department furnish the senate complete data on all courts martial cases. After this has been obtained, hearings may be necessary to bring out additional facts. It is my intention to ask President Wilson to issue a general amnesty to all prisoners convicted and sentenced to prison by courts martial. This is that we may take the taste of the war out of our mouths. It is another step towards our old time ideals of democracy and justice."

TROUBLE BREWS AMONG FACTIONS OF SPARTACANS

Political Crisis is Expected to Develop in the Coalition of Workmen, Soldiers and Spartacans

By JOHN GRAUDEN
BERLIN, Jan. 27. (Delayed)—A new political crisis was brewing here over the future status of the workmen's and soldiers' councils by which administrative power has centered since the beginning of the revolution.

Spartacans Join Council

The Spartacans were throwing what power they still possessed on the side of the workmen's and soldiers' councils. A mass meeting of Spartacans in Braunschweig, passed a resolution in favor of continuation of the soviet until the socialist revolution is firmly established, regardless of the sitting of the national assembly.

The majority of the German people apparently are determined that the national assembly's work shall be absolute and that soviet and present cabinet alike must bow to its will. In view of this feeling, it is believed, that the meeting at Weimar may ultimately resolve itself into the first congress of the German republic.

Few Women Voted

The Prussian elections yesterday were conducted without enthusiasm only a few pamphlets were distributed and there was no agitation. Unlike the national elections, in which the women elected 30 delegates and gave the conservatives an unexpected strength, there were few women voting yesterday. Show kept most of them from the polls. The state elections are not generally considered important nationally.

IDAHO WEATHER
Fair tonight and Wednesday.

Search Is Made For a Moonshine Outfit in Iowa

Hidden Still is Suspected When Two Men are Captured With Sour Mash

SIoux CITY, Ia., Jan. 28.—Moonshiners in Tennessee and the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia have nothing on secret distillers along the Missouri river bottoms in Iowa, it reports and suspicions of revenue and state officers are correct.

Shoriff Jones and a posse of deputies in Woodbury county have placed Bob Boyd and Charles Tilton under arrest as suspects in moonshine activities near Salix, a short distance south of Sioux City.

The men were arrested Monday night in a shanty. Two barrels of sour mash they had in their possession were confiscated by the officers.

Further search was being prosecuted today for a still, which the authorities were positive several have been conducting.

Demand is Not Great One But Still It Does

Near Beer is Not So Popular as the Real Stuff But Answers to Necessity

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 28.—Announcement from Washington today that the ban on the manufacture of the near beer, was about to be lifted was received with joy by Milwaukee brewers who see an opportunity to keep a considerable part of the plants engaged.

Speaking for the Wisconsin Brewers' association, W. W. Austin, its counsel, said:

"The announcement is an important one. The demand for near beer is not as great as that for the other, but its manufacture will undoubtedly reach considerable proportions. I presume the brewers who manufacture near beer will be able to keep parts of their plants operating."

Japanese Minister Thinks Siberian Road Should Not Be Under One Power

TOKIO, Jan. 28.—(Delayed)—Foreign Minister Uchida today in the house of peers defended the government in its stand for inter-allied control of the Siberian railways.

In answering the government's severe critics, Uchida declared he did not believe the lines should be under control of a single power. He defended the government's action in abjuring control with the United States and Great Britain.

"I do not believe control of these railroads should be vested in a single power," he said.

"Russia's promise to the Okumura cabinet does not give Japan vested rights in the Chinese eastern nor the Changhai-Sungari line."

RUSSIANS GAIN NOTHING BY THE ALLIED RETREAT

No Military Importance is Attached to the Withdrawal of the Allied-American Forces on the Archangel Front

By J. W. T. MASON
NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Shooting of the American flag along the Archangel front because of attacks by the Bolshevik army is a matter of no military importance and has no effect upon the original reason for the presence of American soldiers in that area.

Primary Reason

The Americans were sent to Archangel after the Bolsheviks had made a separate peace with Germany for the purpose of preventing military stores at this entrance port into Russia from falling into German possession. The Archangel populace, acting under the principle of self-government, prescribed by the Bolsheviks themselves, welcomed the Americans and have been cooperating with them. Since the American landing, uprisings of the Archangel populace have caused the allied troops to move southward, far from the port for the purpose of establishing order. The Russian troops who have compelled a slight American retreat are a representative of the resentment prevailing among the Bolsheviks at foreign efforts to interfere with international Russian affairs.

No Military Advantage

There is not a sufficient allied force along the Archangel front to engage in a serious offensive operation and strategic retreat is the only alternative left. There is no military advantage to be gained by extending the area of occupation in that part of Russia. The town of Shenkursk, evacuated by the Americans, is 40 miles east of Petrograd and is quite isolated as far as the old battle front in western Russia is concerned. The Divya river, where the Americans are operating, is not the Divya river along which the Biga operations were conducted by the Germans. There are two Russian rivers of great extent in this section. One is 450 to 500 miles east of Petrograd, while the Biga Divya is 300 miles southwest of Petrograd. The Americans along the former river are thus cut off from any communication with the outside world except by means of the Arctic sea.

WOULD BRING GUARD BILL FROM LEGISLATURE

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 28.—The fight which started in the senate yesterday to recall from the house the bill which passed the senate last week creating the volunteer home guard, will be resumed in the legislature today.

Former Attorney-General Williams made a special trip from Camp Lewis to Salem to voice his opposition. He contended the bill would give the Bolsheviks and I. W. W. opportunity to organize home guard companies, and that the state would be unable to stop them.

GERMAN COLONIES ARE PRINCIPAL SUBJECT OF DELEGATES' DISCUSSION

Indications Point to Retention of Marshall Islands By Japan—Australia, New Zealand and South Africa Will Likely Receive Title to Similar Territory Seized During War

LEAGUE OF NATIONS TRUSTEESHIP IS FAVORED BY CERTAIN OF THE ALLIES

By FRED S. FERUSON
PARIS, Jan. 28.—German colonies again formed the principal subject of discussion when the League of Nations met today.

Japan's claims to the Marshall group of Pacific islands were understood to have received special attention. It was reported Great Britain favored Japanese retention of these islands which were seized from Germany. In return for this support it was believed that Japan might back up the claims of Australia, New Zealand and South Africa to German colonies now held by them.

No Auto-Bolshy Tactics

All the delegates apparently were agreed that the colonies cannot revert to Germany on an auto-bolshy status, but the majority appeared to favor their administration by the league of nations, under a trusteeship of the nature most liberally interpreted. The American plan had not been disclosed, but it was believed it would coincide with the league of nations idea of ultimate self-determination. Some delegates held the opinion that President Wilson would wait until all the other representatives had presented their proposals before he did in the case of the league of nations and the Russian situation, and then come forward with a program which would receive instant approval.

No Claims Presented

Details by French government officials regarding alleged claims to the Saar valley have taken the form of a declaration that no claims have been presented. The French officials' position in the matter today was asserted in some quarters today that the French proposition as it was presented to the peace delegates will provide for control of the Saar valley during the period the Lens coal district remains useless because of German vandalism. The center is dependent upon Lens coal fields and it will be impossible to resume work on a normal scale until the mines are reopened. This, according to experts, may be several years hence. The French, it is understood, also plan to have the benefit of certain agricultural lands within the present German border pending restoration of the Somme valley which was engaged barren by the Germans. All who have seen the Lens district and the Somme valley sympathize instantly with such a proposal, yet there is a marked hesitancy against placing any foreign population under the rule of another, as would be the case since the Saar valley is entirely German.

Banking Problems Up

Another question which will have an important bearing on restoring actual banking control of that port, waterways and railways committee. Belgium's success in obtaining representation on all the committees possibly will satisfy her demands but it is likely the other of the smaller nations will again bring up the subject of fuller representation.

Industrial War to Benefit Soldiers

Strikes Have Seriously Affected Many Industries and Still Spreading

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The industrial war which has broken out in Great Britain and Ireland is the beginning of a fight in the interests of demobilized soldiers, labor officials declared today. They declared that the strike is in any way connected with Bolshevism.

The strike situation which resulted in paralyzation of shipbuilding and seriously affected other industries, was unchanged early today, though it was believed the trouble would be attended later through sympathetic walkouts. Nearly 200,000 men were on strike in various parts of the country.

Want Fuller Representation

Chinese demands for representation on the special committees have been met through appointments on the league of nations committee of that port, waterways and railways committee. Belgium's success in obtaining representation on all the committees possibly will satisfy her demands but it is likely the other of the smaller nations will again bring up the subject of fuller representation.

OPPOSITION TO ADMINISTRATION MEASURE FAILS

Reconstruction Urged Byingham County Republican is Voted Down in Senate—Bill Goes to House

COMMITTEE WILL CALL ALEXANDER WHEN READY

Former Governor Wants to Be Heard in Investigation of Adjutant General's Department Asked By Davis

(Special to The News)
BOISE, Jan. 28.—The way was paved in the legislature this afternoon for following up the probe into the adjutant general's department giving to the state affairs committee the privilege of incurring traveling expense, employment of clerks and summoning of witnesses in an investigation of other departments where investigation is deemed necessary.

The senate named as its committee to investigate the adjutant general's department, Senator Ralph G. Nelson, Kootenai, and Senator W. H. Witty, Blaine, both Republicans. The house named as the committee for the same purpose, Representatives Raymond L. Davis, Ada, and Albert H. Westerman, Latah, Republicans, and H. H. Hoff, Bear Lake, Democrat.

ROISE, Jan. 28.—Opposition to the administration consolidation bill failed this morning to show enough votes to carry the measure. The measure, reconsidered by the senate, Senator Lee, who yesterday registered his disapproval of the "precipitate" methods of the majority, was the one who moved for the re-consideration. The vote was 29 to 12 against him.

Senator Bradley was the only senator voting against re-consideration. The bill will now be sent to the house. In speaking for re-consideration, Senator Bradley said that the sweeping changes might be made in the house and that even men who were outwardly for the bill had in mind the extraction of some of its teeth.

Bank Register's Objection

So read a letter from a bank at Blackfoot in which the claim was made that the banking department's function would be exercised by clerks under the supervision of the bank and said he was asking for more time to straighten out such matters.

The Rotary club of Boise asked the senate this morning to memorialize congress to change the name of the Panama canal to Roosevelt canal. The senate affairs committee of the senate this morning refused to recommend to the upper body what action to take on the proposal of Senator Pettibone asking the auditor to furnish each member with a statement of the assets and liabilities of the state at the end of the fiscal years 1916-17, 18.

Alexander Would be Called

Chairman Yeaman of the state affairs committee in the hands of which the Moody investigation is placed, informed Senator Thrallkill this morning that former Governor Alexander would be called before the committee to testify when the committee sees fit.

The sarcastic reference was brought out by the report that the state senator of conversation he had with the former governor in which the latter had asked that he be called.

If a bill by Mason of Payette should become a law it would add a section to the road district laws which would permit a "disorganization" of the state by petition to the county commissioners.

Creates Caribou County

The bill creating Caribou county passed the house this morning by a vote of forty-eight to fifteen. The passage of the bill followed sharp debate.

RUSSIAN REPORT CREDITS ALLIES WITH GOOD WORK

Expeditionary Forces are Slowly Falling Back But are Holding Off the Bolshevik Attacks During Their Retreat

By CARL D. GROAT
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Further official reports from the Shenkursk front, where a small force of Americans, British and Russians is fighting superior numbers of Bolsheviks, were expected by officials here today.

The troops on the Shenkursk front south of Archangel have the situation well in hand, according to the latest information received by Chief of Staff March.

Withstanding Assaults

An orderly retirement toward Archangel is apparently under way. Official dispatches from London reported that the American and allied soldiers were driven out of the town of Shenkursk. However, they appear able to hold off the Bolshevik assaults while slowly falling back. The weather is very cold.

Intervention Opposed

Officers here are becoming more and more convinced of the futility of maintaining the Archangel expedition. Having returned to the opinion of the people in this country and abroad, particularly the working classes, they are beginning to believe that the allies and the United States would do well to withdraw unless they intend real intervention.

Promises Early Demobilizations

All Troops Except Police Forces to Return From France in Six Months

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Within six months all of America's soldiers who are now in France will have been returned to the United States except those left for joint police work with the adjutant general's chief of staff, told the senate military affairs committee.

March said there are 1,800,000 American troops abroad. As soon as German ships for which Edward Hurley is negotiating are available, the troops will come home at the rate of 300,000 a month, March said.

He also told the committee that by March 1 the 785,000 men remaining in the camps in the United States would be demobilized except for the few needed to care for the cantonments.

WILSON VIEWS FAMOUS RUINS OF WAR ZONE

The President Hears the Story of American Daring and Bravery at Chateau-Thierry and Neighboring Towns

By ROBERT J. BENDER PARIS, Jan. 28.—President Wilson resumed work on the peace settlement today with the little cemeteries, miles of desolated country; pieces of ruined villages, fresh in his mind.

"No one can put into words the impressions I have received in the midst of such scenes of desolation and ruin," he declared after leaving the skeleton of the famous Rheims cathedral yesterday.

Spends Day in War Zone President and Mrs. Wilson spent the entire day in the devastated area. They left Paris in an automobile early in the morning, took luncheon at Chateau-Thierry and returned from Rheims by train in the evening.

Snow fell most of the time. Old trenches stretched out in thin, white lines across the country. Abandoned camouflage dropped in funeral wreaths beside the roads. Piles of abandoned materials hid their marital identity under a mantle of white.

The president walked by the side of Cardinal Leon, he remarked, "It's beautiful, even though it's a ruin." The cardinal presented to him an intact circular center piece from one of the cathedral's priceless stained glass windows.

Later the party walked in the streets adjoining the cathedral which were bordered by the wrecks of what were once dwellings. They then motored through the entire city.

Conscientious Objectors Get Parting Gifts

Leavenworth Prison Opens Doors to Free Men Who Would Not Wear Khaki

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Jan. 28.—With pockets bulging with $400 to $500 in back pay and without a black mark against them, the first group of 113 conscientious objectors released from federal prison here went their way to freedom.

Some refused the new suits offered them. Garments of the barracks satisfied them. It was said some intended to refuse their back pay and allotments.

"Child of God" was the signature of one objector on release papers. Officers permitted it to stand.

The men gathered from all sections of the country, had been restored to duty and immediately discharged.

Discharge entitled them to back pay and clothing.

Essays Humor in Note to Coroner Woman Poet and Fictionist, Suicide, Leaves Rington Comment as Life Ebbs

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Jan. 28.—Nita Pearson, poet and fiction writer, tried humor in her final work—a note to the coroner.

Her dead body was found in a gully-filled room in her apartment. She determined yesterday afternoon at four o'clock to die. She wrote four death notes. The one to the coroner was written at 10:30—more than six hours after she severed an artery with a knife.

"All I don't know about arteries would fill a book," she wrote, then she added: "The joke is on me. I always heard that cutting arteries would bring almost instant death. It has been six hours since I severed an artery. I tied profusely for while. But I've figured out that at this rate I'll live a month."

She complained she need not have hurried her death preparations so "I could have gone about it more leisurely," she wrote. "I guess I'll try to try again; this is too good to let go now; this is too good to let go now; this is too good to let go now."

A motive for the suicide has not been found. Miss Pearson came here from New York in 1912.

Baseball Chair Is Waiting Occupant Will Diposess Present Incumbent a Soon as Foundation Can Be Found

By H. C. HAMILTON NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Information reached the United Press today which forebadowed retirement of Garry Herrman as chairman of the national commission. It has been learned that votes in both the American and National leagues were so strongly set against the president of the Reds when the joint meeting was held here this month that his ousting then was believed to be only a matter of hours.

The only present bar to his immediate dispossession of the high seat in the league world is the game is so that the committee named by the two leagues so far has failed to find a man capable of filling the place. It may be said, however, that men now are under consideration whose long association with the game fits them for the place at once, and who would have no objection to accepting the language of the agreement under which the two major league operate. Among these is said to be I. E. Barnhorst, a Chicago sports writer.

Wants Power of Wilson Reduced Iowa Senator Introduces Bill to Curtail Presidential Ability to Return Roads

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Senator Cummins, Iowa, today introduced a bill to take away President Wilson's powers to turn the railroads back to their private owners at any time he sees fit. The measure provides that government bonds held for twenty-one months after the proclamation of peace unless congress directs otherwise. In the railroad control law the president was made the judge of the length of time the government should retain the roads with the provision that the period should not exceed twenty-one months after the end of the war.

Cummins' bill is intended to give congress time to find a solution of the railroad problem. It has become apparent that nothing can be done at this session. President Wilson was prepared to turn the lines back on July 1.

NEAR BEER MAY BE SUBSTITUTE

Restrictions on Manufacture of Beverage Have Been Lifted by Proclamation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Restrictions on manufacture of near beer have been removed.

The food administration announced today it had been advised that President Wilson, January 23, signed a proclamation lifting the ban.

"This proclamation, however," the food administration warned, "cannot become effective until the seal of the United States is attached thereto by the department of state, and no one can safely act on this information until the proclamation has become effective."

The proclamation said nothing concerning the manufacture of beer, however, or other malt beverages. The manufacture of beer and near beer ceased December 1 by presidential proclamation.

Date, therefore, on which the proclamation becomes effective, will depend on the length of time the document is in transit from France.

NEW YORK SENATOR AN ADVOCATE OF BUILDING

Declares Construction Is Essential Before Normal Conditions Can Be Restored

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—"Construction is an essential industry and, therefore, a prerequisite to all normal business development," declared Senator William A. Calder of New York in an address before the recent meeting of the National Federation of Construction Industries at Atlantic City.

The increasing shortage of buildings of all types, he pointed out, constitutes a potential demand for construction. Such adverse conditions as the cost of labor and materials and the timidity of investment capital are offset, he believed, by the necessity for immediate housing for a large percentage of the population who are suffering not only by the high cost of living induced by the building shortage but also in efficiency and morale, and by the encouragement which the government is giving building.

Government construction, however, the senator said, alone can constitute but a small proportion of normal building and will not bring the industry back to its usual position in the life of the community. It is necessary, he asserted, to encourage private building, which, as rapidly as possible, shall take over surplus labor and material and establish the industry on a sound economic basis.

Senator Calder declared that at present there is little or no shortage of labor, and he warned his hearers that the country will remain in a state of arrested development unless the building industry not only resumes normal activity but also in the next two or three years produces an additional amount of construction equal to that which has been deferred during the war.

The division of public works and construction development has been formed in the department of labor to assist in the revival of building.

DISCERNING RUIN IF GOVERNMENT CONTROL FAILS

McAdoo Argues Future of Nations Waterways Absolutely Dependent Upon Federal Operation of Railroads

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Jan. 25.—The future of the nation's waterways is "absolutely dependent" upon government operation of waterways and railroads as a "co-ordinated and articulated system."

This word was sent to Albert Kroll of the Cincinnati, Ohio, chamber of commerce by William G. McAdoo, the former secretary of the treasury and director general of railroads.

"It seems to me futile to expend great sums of money on the development of our inland waterways unless our government adopts an intelligent policy about railroad control," McAdoo added. His telegram was sent in declining an invitation to attend an inland waterway meeting at Danfocno, Ohio.

McAdoo declared that unless a long period of government railway control is provided, the government cannot efficiently develop the waterways.

Fears Competition

"If the railroads are returned to private control," McAdoo said, "the cut-throat competition of the railroads under private control, with the partially developed waterways, will effectively destroy water transportation as a business and the people's investment in these facilities will continue to be of little value."

McAdoo declared the government should control the railroads for five years and during that time should develop waterways, build up existing water routes and "prove their worth as a part of the great American transportation system."

"I also feel that the government should control the railroads and the inland waterways for a period of five years so that we may, in return, be co-ordinated with our government merchant marine," he declared.

He urged that the subject of railroad control be looked at "from the standpoint of the selfish interests of private owners, private steamship owners, private shippers, private investors or any other single class."

TRAVELS MANY MILES TO TESTIFY IN TRIAL

H. T. Jernigan, special accountant of the department of justice testified that 11 agents sold 5,801 contracts for a total of $678,010 from January 1 to November 1, 1917, and that 65,000 acres of land were sold though there were only 41,000 acres in the section.

Living Cost May Be Reconstructed In Many Markets

Big Slump Is Expected in Several Commodities, Especially in Imports

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—Action of food administration officials in Washington today in setting the February hog price was eagerly awaited here today. It was expected to demonstrate whether or not reconstruction in the cost of living is to take place.

There was belief here that the price of $17.50 would be maintained, at least through a sliding scale. At the same time, grain markets were nervous, ready to jump which ever way the livestock markets point.

First official action here today towards reconstruction of the cost of living in the subpage of fifteen, but for merchants. The retailers were to explain why produce prices had not followed wholesale prices in a decline.

Meantime Chicago got first word of a chance that other prices may tumble. Albert Levy, New York, arranging display for the Manufacturers and Importers' association of America, said every one of 20,000 articles there would be reduced, some 75 per cent. The display ranged from hair pins to seat skins.

Unemployed Returned Soldiers Want Work

Organization in New York Will Stage Demonstration to Demand Jobs

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—One thousand unemployed, discharged soldiers, and marines planned to stage a demonstration before the city hall this afternoon for the purpose of demanding of Mayor Hylan and the aldermen that they "take immediate steps to provide them with suitable jobs."

Arrangements for the demonstration were made by the newly organized soldiers, sailors and marines' protective association. Officials of the association declared that it had been organized to get the returning fighter a "square deal."

Approximately 100 soldiers, sailors and marines attended a meeting of the association held last night in the People's House, which became riotous and was dispersed by military police and naval guards.

ADVISE SOVIETS TO ACCEPT OFFER

Unofficial Representative Says Russians Are Inclined to Agree on Meeting

PARIS, Jan. 25.—The Russian soviet government will be advised by its unofficial representative here to accept the proposal for a joint conference with the associated powers on the Island Prinkipos, it was learned today.

Jean Longuet, editor of the radical newspaper "Populaire," whom the soviet asked to investigate the proposal, declared in an interview that the Bolsheviks had more to gain than to lose by conversations with the associated powers, which would permit them to establish their claims and answer their enemies.

Bolsheviks' Blunt

Foreign Minister Pinchov, who bitterly opposed any form of recognition of the soviet government, the support of foreign press representatives at the quai d'Orsay yesterday.

"We have heard nothing from the Bolsheviks regarding the proposed conference," he said.

"The Prinkipos horizon is still very cloudy. The allies have no recognition of the Bolsheviks, they simply desired to hear them, the same as any other faction in Russia."

"I am very sanguine regarding the league of nations, a common text for the outline of which probably will be received by the allies soon."

REVERES DECISION IN BANK LEVY CONTEST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The supreme court today partly reversed rulings of California courts which held that the state had a right to levy a tax against the Bank of California for the stock it held in the D. O. Mills' National Bank and later levy on the same stock as part of the assets of the Bank of California.

The supreme court held that the Bank of California could be taxed as a stockholder in the Mills Bank and that taxing the same stock as a bank asset was in conflict with the national bank act.

ANNOUNCES ERROR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The war department announced that through an error on Saturday it appeared the 323rd infantry was coming home, but that instead the announcement should have been that the 323rd infantry, aboard the Minnehaha, is due in New York February 1. The 323rd infantry is not yet on priority.

TO FIND OTHER REVENUE MEANS SENATE TO KNOW WHY FORD LOST

Booze Does Not Constitute Only Source of Raising Money for the Government

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Loss of state revenues through abolition of the liquor industry will be made up for by personal property taxes and many other levies, according to facts gathered by the United Press today from a number of states.

The problem of finding a source of revenue to replace that derived from liquor, confuses many legislatures. In most states, however, the task of finding new money reservoirs has not yet been tackled.

Wisconsin now gets about $2,000,000 from her huge beer business. Personal property levies, it is predicted, will take the place of this and will raise a revenue of $7,000,000, thus outgoing booze.

Missouri legislators are talking about eliminating the state operating expenses with closer attention to land taxes. Minnesota probably will place an added charge on mine products, whiskey, fire arms, dogs—'or what have you?'

Income tax increases and personal property levies are favored in most of the other states which will be affected when booze dies.

The Capital's Fifth Avenue

Pennsylvania avenue in Washington is usually lined along the world's famous streets, but the Washingtonian this avenue has not half the importance and attractiveness of F street, the recognized parade ground of the fashionable on sunny afternoons. F street in Washington is an institution like the monument, the government clerk and band concerts in the park. It dates back far enough to tax the memory of Washington's few oldest inhabitants, but no records of its origin are filed in the city hall.

Ignored Body Evaporation

In a recent test, it is revealed a firing suit was invented. A thin metal or asbestos cover was lined with rubber. The wearer carried a small water tank on his back. By opening a small valve near his shoulder he could sprinkle his bare skin. The inventor wanted to test the suit by trying to prove his point. The sad part of it was that he was on the wrong track entirely. The suit made body evaporation nearly impossible, and that is really what counts.

Clever roustabout

A little fellow whose father is connected with a railroad has picked up many railroad phrases. One day while walking with his mother in a large station, the youngster rode about on his little cart. Suddenly a man blocked the little rider's way. The latter, lustily shouting "low bridge," passed safely between the man's legs.

REPUBLICANS FAIL TO HEAD OFF INVESTIGATION OF MICHIGAN ELECTION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Senate Republicans lost out in their fight on the Pomerois resolution for an investigation of the Ford-Newberry senatorial election in Michigan. Democrats voted to send the resolution to the committee on audits and control, after republicans had claimed the right to debate it at once.

Republicans planned a long assault on the resolution and hoped to kill it.

Newberry today filed with the senate an answer to Ford's charge of lavish expenditures and irregularities in the mounting of a bid.

Newberry made startling counter charges, among them being: "That democratic postmasters in Michigan had their carriers distribute Ford campaign literature ahead of other mail, and deliberately held up the other mail until Ford's campaign papers had been given out."

DEFINITION OF CASUALS IS GIVEN BY AUTHOR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—"A soldier who doesn't belong to any body—anything except the army—sometimes it is difficult to believe that he belongs to that—is a casual," according to definition of Peter B. Kyne, author, who today described the process of forming casual companies for return home.

"These companies are composed of 150 members from the same state, numbered and placed aboard transports after being carefully cleaned, shaved and re clothed at the bordaux embarkation camp. Casuals formerly belonged to some definite organization, but in most cases lost their outfits."

Spacious Building Is England's Choice Of War Memorials

Veterans' Association Plans Club With 1,000 Beds and Convalescent Home

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—War memorials in England are to take the form largely of spacious buildings, if the plans so far made may be taken as an indication of the general program. The United States department of labor has just received information regarding it.

The most ambitious project proposed is that of the Veterans' Association, which is planning an "Imperial Memorial," to include creation and endowment of buildings for a "Veterans Club," with at least 1,000 bed rooms, and a convalescent home for discharged men. It is estimated that at least 1,000,000 pounds will be required to carry out the project on adequate preliminary lines.

Another important plan calls for the erection of an "Overseas Memorial," a vast hotel for the use of all men and women from the overseas possessions. It will be built in the heart of London.

Glasgow University proposed to erect a small chapel on the west side of the present buildings.

The Leys School Memorial Fund now exceeds 32,000 pounds, on which a first charge of 20,000 pounds has been laid for the foundation of an annual award leaving scholarships in memory of those who have fallen in the war. It is intended now to secure additional support to provide for erection of a memorial hall in honor of the part played in the war by the old boys of Ley. Designs for the building of an annual award have been made by the architect, Mr. Aston Webb. It would front on the Trumpington Road and would be a striking architectural landmark on the entrance into Cambridge.

Such plans for war memorials have been endorsed by leading interests, including the Architects' and Builders' Journal.

SOCIALISTS OF EUROPE ACCLAIM WILSON IDEAL

Swedish Radical Leader Disclaims Sympathy With Bolsheviks—Doubts Efficacy of Joint Conference

BERNE, Jan. 25.—(Delayed)—The allies must take advantage of their victory so as to convince Germany of its defeat, but the peace must be made rather than imperialistic leaders. Hjalmar Branting, Swedish social leader, in an interview here today.

Branting came here to attend the international labor and socialist congress, which will open formally next week.

"President Wilson's ideals are the banner for all European socialism," continued. "They are a guarantee of just and lasting peace."

"The condition of the workers in Germany is critical. Unless they get supplies enough to rebuild their industry there is danger of Bolshevism spreading throughout that country, reaching into France and England."

"I have no sympathy with the Russian Bolshevists. In Russia society completely reversed, with tyranny coming from the lowest class instead of the highest. Bolshevist tyranny is more barbarous than that of the Hohenzollerns. I doubt if the allies' proposal for a joint conference would result in a solution of the Russian problem."

SOURCE OF VAST REVENUE IS LOST IN PROHIBITION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—When Uncle Sam bids booze goodbye he loses a billion dollars a year in revenue. But Sam has got it all fixed today to get his billion just the same. He is going to take it out of excess profit and big incomes. He loses only a billion this year and that, he says, doesn't worry him any. The big taxer will not come in until July of the year. The reason the loss of the $500,000,000 is not considered serious at this time is that the sudden ending of the war cut the needs for taxes for $6,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000.

Even Beef, That Luxury of the Past Year, Is Going Into a Decline That Bids Fair to Become Popular

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Old man H. O. L. is due for some bumps, judging by the wholesale food prices have been going down at large city markets from the Atlantic coast to the Rockies.

In some cases retail prices are already tumbling, according to information obtained today from the leased wires of the bureau of markets department of agriculture.

From Denver to Boston, declines in wholesale prices are reported in butter and eggs, ranging up to eleven cents for butter and up to ten cents a dozen for eggs.

In some instances these decreases have already advanced to such a point that the retail prices are slow to respond.

NATION LEAGUE IS PRACTICALLY PROVIDED FOR

Entire Movement is One Hundred Per Cent Further Advanced Than Six Months Ago Declares World Student

By HAMILTON HOLT (Copyright 1914 by the United Press) PARIS, Jan. 28.—The league of nations is now a fact. We who have been working conscientiously to bring such a thing into being feel it is a 100 per cent further advanced than we dared to hope possible six months ago.

The meeting of the general peace conference at Versailles, in my opinion, the greatest political event since the birth of the United States of America.

First, the resolution setting forth the purpose of the league made clear that its initial purpose was the promotion of international co-operation.

Second, the league was to be a league of nations rather than a league of peoples.

Only One Danger Just one point of danger presents itself. That is the possibility of the league of nations being made a league of governments rather than a league of peoples.

BRINGS SUIT FOR FAILING TO PLOW

J. A. Schlichting, Former Lutheran Minister, Would Hold Tenant Responsible

Alleged failure of H. L. Stewart, as the tenant on his farm of 120 acres on the Salmon River project, to plow certain fields in the fall as required under the terms of the lease, is set up as the basis of a complaint filed in district court here Monday by J. A. Schlichting, of Rupert, formerly pastor of the Lutheran church here, to recover damages in the aggregate amount of $4,040.

As a second course of action Schlichting sets out that in the division of certain alfalfa seed between the tenant and himself, two sacks of seed worth $50 were coming to him, but that the tenant refused to deliver this seed.

Under the terms of the lease, according to the complaint 50 acres of land were to have been plowed last fall for the purpose of seeding this spring wheat.

Methods of dry farming are necessary in the premises, according to the complaint, because of the shortage of water supply for irrigation.

Schlichting figures his damage as a result of the alleged failure of the tenant to plow and properly summer fallow another field of 40 and this 50 acre field at $1,800 for the possible loss of 900 bushels of wheat worth $1,800.

He asks $240 for alleged failure on the part of the tenant to seed a field of 12 acres last season, and estimates his damage resulting from alleged failure to keep plows in the field at $1,000.

Homer G. Mills represents Schlichting in this action.

BUHL DISTRICT CLAIMS ITS RIGHT TO DEPOSIT

Answer in Suit Brought by Bond Company Denies Illegal Conduct—Takes Fling at Attorney

Claiming that the Hanchett Bond company failed and refused with the terms of a certain contract for the purchase of its bonds—under which it had deposited $2,000, and that by reason of this alleged fact the Buhl Highway district was entitled to the deposit and does not owe it either to the Hanchett company or its successors in interest is made in an answer filed on Monday in district court here in the case of the Municipal Securities Corporation as successor in interest to the Hanchett company, against the Buhl Highway district.

The answer further denies that one F. William Kraft, who is alleged to have reported adversely against the proposed purchase by the Hanchett company of the district bonds, made any bona fide investigation or advice that his opinion was rendered without regard to the legality or validity of the bonds.

The answer is signed by J. C. Fisch, secretary of the highway district commissioners, and was filed by Ostrom & Green, attorneys.

Lawyers Drop Out When Court Hears Foreign Linguists

Witnesses Disagree Over Interpretation of Testimony Bohemians Give

The trial of a lawsuit before Judge O. L. Duvall in probate court here on Monday pretty nearly got out of the hands of the opposing attorneys when for a time the proceedings were conducted in the Bohemian tongue, that being the language of the principals, and differences between the parties arose over the accuracy of the interpretations given.

The suit was instituted by F. W. Havleck, farmer, of Buhl, against Frank Jaska to collect $300.00 alleged to be due on account of money expended in his behalf during the early summer of last year. Jaska filed a counter complaint alleging that Havleck owed him $93.29 on account of wages due. The trial brought out that the differences arose from misunderstanding of an agreement under which Jaska and his wife entered Havleck's employment, Havleck claiming that they were to be paid $550 a year, and Jaska and his wife alleging that their wages were to be $550 for seven months. Judge Duvall rendered judgment for the defendant.

Reference to the Bohemian tongue was had when the testimony of Mrs. Jaska, who does not speak English, was introduced. Attempts to secure a disinterested interpreter failed, and the court permitted the woman's husband to act as interpreter. Havleck took exception to the accuracy of Jaska's testimony, and an eminent district attorney in the foreign tongue was precipitated forthwith.

E. V. Larson represented Havleck in this action, and E. M. Sweeley appeared for Jaska.

SERVICE MEN ADOPT PLAN OF ORGANIZATION

Returned Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Form Club to Serve as "Point of Contact" With Community

The organization in Twin Falls of soldiers, sailors and marines, who have worn the uniform since April 1, 1917, is to be known as the United States Service Men's club. Its affairs are to be conducted by an administrative committee of three members, acting with a committee of three men representing business men who have guaranteed the expenses of the organization during its first year. Direct charge over the organization is to be given into the hands of an officer to be chosen from among their numbers by the members, who is to serve for a term of sixty days with compensation.

Name Administrative Committee
These are salient features of the plan of organization adopted at a meeting Monday evening in the Parish hall of about fifty returned soldiers and sailors. The members of the administrative committee elected at that time, to serve for the ensuing six months, are Captain E. M. Sweeley, former mayor of Twin Falls; Lieutenant Carl L. DeLong and J. F. Martin. Election of a first sergeant was postponed until a later date to permit of the members becoming better acquainted with one another so that selection might be made of one best qualified to fill the position.

Guarantee Expenses
R. H. Stevenson, speaking at the meeting for the guarantors of the organization among the business men, stated that sufficient funds had been guaranteed to insure the continuance of the organization for a year. It was at his suggestion that the plan of organization submitted by the committee named at a prior meeting consisting of Captain Sweeley, Lieutenant DeLong and J. F. Martin, was amended to provide for the committee to represent guarantors taking the place of the suggestion that the administrative committee be composed of two service men and one civilian to be named by the county council of defense.

Captain Sweeley announced that the club would be opened during the week-end to serve as a meeting place for returned soldiers, sailors and marines, all of whom are to be considered members of the organization. There is to be no membership fee during the first year. The organization is regarded as one of a temporary nature, serving to form a "point of contact" between the returning service men and the community. Later, it was suggested, it might be superseded by a local organization of the national body that probably will be formed among service men of the great war.

Will Be Heard on Memorial

The service men at the Monday meeting voted to send delegates to the meeting to be held here February 4 including the supplies of the county council of defense for the purpose of deciding on the type of memorial to be erected here in honor of soldiers and sailors from this county in the great war, and designating the members of the administrative committee to be the delegates.

Builders Offer Assistance

A communication from the Twin Falls building trades council in recognizing the appointment of its delegates to attend the meeting of the service men's club and extend to it the council's expression of desire to render whatever assistance and service it might, was presented by G. W. Hodge, one of the delegates named, and received with appreciation. Other delegates from the council voted on motion offered by J. F. Martin, Mr. Hodge, himself a service man, told the club members that the building trades council regarded it as both a duty and a pleasure to assist the new organization in every way possible. Other delegates from the council were H. A. Graham and L. R. Pink.

H. H. Friedheim, a member of the building trades council, suggested the appointment by the club of a committee to attend the meeting Friday evening of the council, but no action was taken.

Presents Red Cross Plan

John Allen-Burns addressed the meeting on the advisability of service men taking their problems for solution to the Red Cross home service section, which, he said, has experienced great and valuable assistance both in the way of advice and financial aid.

A petition to be presented to the Idaho legislature asking for an appropriation for construction of a bridge across Snake river north of Buhl, on the state highway between Twin Falls and Boise, was circulated here Monday and was largely signed by local taxpayers.

The proposed bridge would be built near the location of Owsley's ferry which now transports travelers across the river at this point. The traffic across the ferry at this point is said to be the heaviest across the Snake at any point in its course.

FATE OF DANCE AGAIN BEFORE HEALTH BOARD

Commissioners Meeting With Other Authorities to Consider Advisability of Lifting Ban as Danger Diminishes

Whether or not the ban laid January 15 against public and private dances in Twin Falls county is to be lifted is one of the matters to come before the county commissioners meeting here this afternoon as the county board of health with Superintendent Hal G. Blue of the Twin Falls schools; A. L. Swinney, acting mayor, and Dr. C. Q. McGinnis, county health officer.

Indications are that the influenza epidemic, which was given as the reason for the closing order as against dances, is abating materially in the county. The emergency annex to the county hospital which was opened to accommodate influenza cases at the outbreak of the epidemic, has been without a patient for five days past and advisability of its closing on February 1 is being considered. New cases reported are mostly among residents of the rural districts and are said to be of a mild type of the disease.

Visit Bridge Site
The commissioners this morning paid a visit to the site of the Hansen rim-to-rim span across Snake river canyon, where extensive construction work is to be started in the near future.

Since Monday noon when they were taken in custody by Probation Officer John E. Ault, two Twin Falls boys, aged 14 and 15 years, have had opportunity at occupancy of quarters in the county jail to meditate without interruption on the advisability of continuing attendance at school. Complacencies of their truancy were lodged with the juvenile court by their teachers. Probation Judge Durall has decided to pursue a policy of letting the boys think the matter out for themselves and make known their facilities whenever they may be reached.

Hansen Man Receives Letter Telling of Terrible Conditions Surrounding Parents in the Stricken Land

Graphically descriptive of conditions which the American Committee for Relief in the Near East, in its campaign for $20,000,000, is seeking to ameliorate, a letter has been received by Mitchell Johns of Hansen, from his parents in Syria.

A translation of the letter follows: Kafarakap Mt. Lebanon, Syria, Nov. 3, 1918.

Dear Son Mitchell: How are you getting along? In regard to us, we are still alive, with the few people still left in town. We wish to thank you for the money you sent us. It was a great help to us but it was more help to the Turks. The money you sent us was taken by the Turks and almost worthless scrip given in stead, being worth on an average of 20 cents on a dollar, and often it was worth only fifteen per cent of its face value.

Our suffering has been and is yet very great. More than half of the people of this district have died of starvation, and the living have pined with all their possessions for food. What food there is so high that only the very wealthy can afford it. Animals that die are readily sold for food. I know of one man driven mad by the cries of his children for food, who cut flesh from his own body to feed them. I hear that others eat the flesh of dead human bodies. The offal of domestic animals is washed to obtain any undigested grain it may contain.

Zohba, which had a population of 400 before the war now has about 200. Other towns have suffered the same. Many being reduced to 25 per cent of its pre-war population.

This condition was brought on by the outrages of the Turks who have maliciously taken all of our food and money. One who sees the conditions here, even if his heart is as hard as a diamond, it would be pierced to the quick. I hope when you are able and conditions will permit, you will come and take us to America.

Lovingly,
Your Parents.

As He Understood It

John was trying to be unusually nice to a man who was visiting John's big sister, Clara. When things became dull inside, John invited the visitor out in the yard. Seeing one of his playmates, little John called him over, exclaiming: "Charlie, come on over and meet my sister's fiancé."

Protect Curtains

At the bottom of your bedroom curtains put small snaps, and up as far as you can reach put snap eyes. At night hook the bottom of the curtains up to prevent them from blowing out when the windows are opened. Do the same with the portieres when you are sweeping the floors or dusting.

Grave Insult

Mrs. Kawler—"Then you and young Mr. Sharp are not on speaking terms any more?" Mrs. Blunderby—"No, indeed. The last time I met him I told him my husband had locomotive status, and the young whippersnapper had the impudence to ask if he whistled at crossings."

Suffers in Silence

The average millionaire knows how unpopular it is to be rich, but he goes right along and endures the painful responsibilities of wealth, suffering the scorn and calumny of a cruel world in silence, and awaits his vindication beyond the grave.—Houston Post.

Mermalde Uniforms

Elizabeth was looking at a fairy book, when she espied some mermalde on a page that big sister had just turned over. She opened her big eyes and said, "Oh, sister, wait a minute. Let us see thy beauty uniforms."

Takes Out of School

Willie Silmsom—"My, but I thought you were a great deal bigger than you are." Featherstone—"What gave you such an idea, Willie?" "Why, sister said that all you did was to take up room."—Life.
