PEACE SEGRECY CRITICIZED BY IDAHO SENATOR

American Delegation Is Severely Scored for Its Part in the Conference Behind Closed Doors

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Senator Borah yesterday renewed his criticism before the senate of secrecy at the peace conference.

Referring to cable dispatches concerning a private conversation between Colonel House and General Smuts over disposition of German colonies, Borah said:

"The American delegation at the peace conference has not only succeeded in conducting the peace campaign behind closed doors, but it is now engaged in privacy in confirming and sustaining secret agreements regarding the disposition of territory by the allies."

Borah quoted recent public statements of Premier Hughes and Acting Premier Watt of Australia regarding the South Pacific Islands held by Germany at the beginning of the war.

"Australia has her own Monroe doctrine to safeguard her interests," said Borah. "If we interfere with Australia's Monroe doctrine or Japan's, or any other nation's, how long would it be before they interfere with ours?"

"I am opposed therefore, to the United States assuming responsibility for any of Germany's pre-war possessions under the league of nations or any other government."

Borah declared that England is already prepared to saddle the United States with the entire Russian problem as well as supervision of part of Mexico.

America Gave Her Best to World War

Campaign Is Started to Check the Spread of Disease Now Prevalent

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 31.—War has been declared by the United States government against vice diseases and the battle was carried to the state senate floor here by army and public health officers. Its plain terms they warned that the race is menaced by decay, and outlined a campaign that will be carried on in every state.

This legislature is asked to quarantine the men and women who spread vice disease, establish an industrial home for the unfortunate women and send the men who live on their earnings to the pen.

"We may not know for forty years who really won the world war," declared Major Van Patten of the United States public health service, for the best blood went to the battle fronts, and many diseased were left behind to fester the coming generation."

ADVISE RUSSIA TO ACT QUICKLY

Soviet Delegate Thinks Wilson Is the Man to Trust With Their Future

PARIS, Jan. 31.—"Put your faith in President Wilson," is the gist of the message which M. Longuet, unofficial representative of the Russian soviet government, will send to the Bolsheviks.

Longuet, who is editor of the socialist newspaper Populaire, was asked by Russian Foreign Minister Tchitcherin to investigate the proposal of the associated powers for a joint conference on Prinkipos Island.

It is learned that Longuet has proposed to tell the soviet that Wilson is making a genuine fight for the peoples of the world and that he will succeed in just the degree that the peoples support his effort. He will advise the Bolsheviks to agree to the conference.

WEALTHY MAN IS GERMAN FRIEND

Millionaire Is Charged With Seditious Utterances and Espionage

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 31.—That Henry Albers, millionaire, declared he would be willing to spend his fortune to defeat the United States; that no Yank could whip a German; that he'd like to destroy America, are some of the many seditious utterances with which the defendant was charged in federal court by witnesses for the government yesterday afternoon.

Albers is on trial for alleged violation of the espionage act.

Judson A. Mead, an oil prospector of Los Angeles, was one of the witnesses of the prosecution. He testified he was traveling on a train October 8, 1918, when the defendant made unpatriotic remarks.

Mead concluded his testimony by saying Albers' statements incensed him very much and that he "felt like pulling his wool."

The defense will base its case on the contention the defendant was intoxicated and that the utterances of a man under the influence of liquor should be judged by the "intent" back of them.

WASHINGTON GOVERNOR IN CRITICAL CONDITION

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 31.—The condition of Governor Lister so precarious that "it may become necessary for him to be relieved of his duties for his own safety," according to a statement issued this afternoon by his physician.

Awaits President's Return From Europe

Secretary of War May Go to Paris to Act as Proxy for America's Leader

PARIS, Jan. 31.—Secretary Baker will come to Paris in February, according to authoritative information.

President Wilson, it is generally understood, will return to the United States about February 15. The above dispatch would indicate that Baker may have been selected to act as the President's proxy at the peace conference.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Secretary of War Baker's engagements ran up to and including February 15 and it was said at his office today that he probably will not leave for Europe until after President Wilson's return about February 24.

Baker originally planned to go to France in January on what he termed war department business, though it had been rumored he would be made a member of the peace commission upon the president's return.

PACKERS LIABLE TO PROSECUTION

Testimony Now Does Not Give Immunity From Further Usage of the Law

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Testimony of packers before the senate agricultural committee will not entitle them to immunity from prosecution on trust charges by the department of justice.

The committee in executive session has reached this decision.

Louis P. Swift had been asked as to alleged collusion between packers at Fort Worth, Texas.

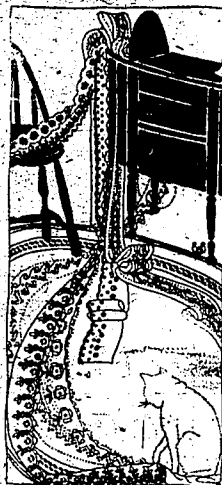

Senator Gore objected to permitting Swift to answer until it was certain that testimony now will not entitle the packers to claim immunity should justice department officials decide to prosecute.

After consultation with his attorney, Swift said he would waive claims to immunity in case his testimony might later be used against him. The committee told Swift he was free at any time to refuse to answer any questions on the ground that it might tend to subject him to subsequent prosecution.

THE WAGE SCALE

Admittedly there are better methods of arriving at wage scales than the arbitrary setting of the figure by the employer, but, lacking an organization of employees with which to...

The decision of the committee is proof, in the first place, that farmer employers are not going to be the first to reduce wages in the readjustment period following the war, and their action goes to show, further, in view of present indications of a food surplus...

A more important effect of the decision, perhaps, is the stabilizing effect that it will have in respect to the farm labor situation generally during the coming season. Because of this decision it is entirely probable that the difficulties incident to farm labor employment here two years ago, existing under circumstances of labor supply that are likely to be duplicated this year, will be avoided, and the work is likely to be done this year at least as satisfactorily to all concerned as it was last year with a considerably smaller labor supply.

It is to be borne in mind always in considering the various phases of this problem, that facts and not theories are to be dealt with. Ideals are of little growth and until they are attained, the best at hand must be worked with.

That the first step toward bringing about a condition where the farm employee shall have a voice, through his own organization, in fixing the price which he shall be paid for his labor has had its inception with the farm employers of this county. It is a revolutionary incident that is not to be overlooked in passing judgment on the action taken this year by these farm employers in fixing a wage scale.

Still in Ruining For the Presidency

Neither Candidate Has Withdrawn From the Race in the League Elections

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 31.—Neither Mayor Tom Fairweather, owner of the Des Moines franchise nor John Savage of Kansas City have withdrawn from the race for the presidency of the Western League.

This was a report of Fairweather when shown a statement from Omaha that he and Savage would withdraw from the race in favor of Al. Tarnsey, former president of the Three Eye League.

According to reliable sources this afternoon Tarnsey will have little chance of landing the presidency at the league meeting in St. Joseph, Mo., February 2nd.

England will keep a million men about one of four of her levees—as an army of occupation. Those having been longest in service will be discharged.

Barleson says the initiative for commandeering the telegraph lines came from the president, and not from himself.

The rapid decline in food prices, especially in milk products, reported from New York, will not shock the average consumer. He will wonder, however, if the "high freight rate" will keep prices up out here.

The $100,000 famine relief bill has been sent to the European head of our government for signature. And this reminds that war contracts and industries, which only await that signal to be stopped, are costing some $300,000 per day.

It is evident that the secretary of war did not familiarize himself with the work that was being done by the bureau of military intelligence.

Such was the drastic comment made by Senator Overman, the democratic chairman of a senate investigating committee, over a very pertinent denial from Secretary Baker that one Stevenson, who has been a star witness before that committee, was "ever an official or employe of the military intelligence service."

It is a trifle disconcerting to read that out of $50,000 appropriated for the state national guard, or militia expense by the 1917 legislature, only $7,089.38 remains unexpended.

Disconcert becomes absolutely painful when we reflect that about $35,000 of the missing cash was expended during the year 1918—at which time the entire military establishment of the state of Idaho consisted of Adjutant General Moody and his office attaches.

FARM BUREAU IS FOR CONTINUING ITS WAGE SCALE

County Executive Committee Votes to Adhere to Price Set for Labor Last Year During Coming Season

The Twin Falls county farm bureau executive committee at its meeting here Thursday afternoon went on record in favor of the continuance this year of the $3 per day maximum farm labor wage scale; appointed Charles H. Bohrer, of Weiser, formerly assessor of Washington county, to be the county agent in the stead of Donald McLean.

W. F. Alworth, president of the state and county farm bureau organizations presiding at this meeting, asked for an expression of the committee in respect to continuation of the farm wage scale in order, he said, that he might be advised as to the attitudes in this county when meeting with other county farm bureau organizations at the convening of the annual meeting of the state organization which he will do within the next 30 days, he said.

General March, the efficient chief of staff of the United States army, has gone on record as of opinion that a standing force of at least 500,000 men should be retained. That is a figure that would have frightened many good people four years ago, but it certainly does not seem extravagant at the present time.

The effort to overthrow the Portuguese republic by royalists seems to have been defeated at the point of the bayonet.

The Paris peace conference on Saturday and resolutions favoring a league of nations of some kind. The smaller nations demurred, but acquiesced when assured their rights would be safeguarded.

Colonel House has recovered from his late illness and is now on the job at the peace conference. "Now let the battle begin."

A rather startling bill, emanating from the department of food administration, is in the hands of the congressional agricultural committees. It provides an appropriation of $1,250,000,000 to enable the government to carry out its guarantee to the farmer of $2.20 per bushel for the 1919 crop of wheat.

Charles H. Bohrer, chosen as county agent to succeed Donald McLean, was in attendance and was introduced to the committee after Mr. McLean's resignation had been accepted.

Mr. McLean was appointed by the chairman to fill a vacant position on the executive committee of the county farm bureau, and is to serve hereafter as the director having charge of range conditions and delegate at large.

Mr. Bohrer responded briefly to his own qualifications for the position which he aspired, adding that he had been persuaded to enter the work of the farm bureau by H. W. Mochbaum, state leader of county agents.

Those who spoke in support of the appropriation were President W. F. Alworth, Director J. C. W. Jones, general manager of the Twin Falls County company; Director E. H. Schildman, Filer; Mrs. J. C. Porterfield, director of boys' and girls' clubs department; Mrs. M. J. Sweeley, president of the Idaho State Federation of Women's clubs; Mrs. E. C. Greenwood, county chairman of the council of defense women's committee; R. H. Stevenson, editor of the Twin Falls Chronicle; and Mrs. W. F. Alworth.

The appropriation asked for is for the maintenance of the farm bureau organization. The directors expect to meet the expense of the organization during the coming year from their own resources to the extent of $1,450.

SOLONS DEBATE PROVISIONS OF COMPENSATION

Strong Pleas Made for Inclusion of Farm Workers Under Terms of Liability Law—No Chance for Repeal

(Special to The News) BOISE, Jan. 31.—Among many of the legislators, the debate held in the senate Wednesday in which the members of the upper house also their views on the exclusion of agricultural labor from the workman's compensation act, the subject of the present state for "either a repeal of the law or the possibilities of its being either amended to include agriculture or its repeal in its entirety is a big one.

For the first time since the session started, members are pulling from the inner recesses of their desks, petitions and letters which have before been hidden from the public. These documents show a widespread demand on the part of business men throughout the state for "either a repeal of the law or a new addition of the farming industry to those who must now carry insurance. However, the preponderance is in favor of the repeal of the statute.

But there is no chance for a repeal. No political party would for a moment take the responsibility on its shoulders of having eliminated the law from the statute book. Even the bitter opponents among the business men in the legislature sit quietly when talk of a repeal is going on. On the other hand the debate yesterday brought out one salient point—there will be a bitter fight made to out the agricultural interests out of the occupied dignitaries. None of the senators or representatives except they are farmers, can see why the latter should not come under the law. "It is class legislation," say the business men.

It was Senator Orme of Fremont, a stock raiser, who precipitated the big debate at the state house. Even the industry, exempted because he claimed that its interests were parallel to those of the agriculturalist.

Senator Mason of Shoshone, representing the biggest mining county in the state, takes the position that all workers should come under the protection of the act. He said the floor yesterday that 1,600 men employed in one mine for a period of four years, but one death from accident had occurred, and he defied the agricultural interests represented in the senate to produce a record such as that.

It is believed that the Porter bill, over which the contention started, will pass the senate with the probable amendment which will strike out "agricultural pursuits" in the list of exemptions.

Minidoka Representative Refuses to Let Pet Measure Remain a Corpse

(Special to The News) BOISE, Jan. 31.—Speaker Riger and Representative Young were the only republicans to vote in favor of the initiative member, which would place in the hands of the people the power to initiate amendments to the state constitution. The resolution by Representative Greenwood of Minidoka, which asked the sanction of the legislature of the initiative power, was killed in the reference committee and the resulting vote was on the adoption of the committee report.

Greenwood refused to allow the principle to remain a corpse and immediately introduced a second measure to allow electors at large the power to enact laws.

COUNTY BAR IS FAVORABLE TO NEW DISTRICT

Endorses Proposed Legislation and Recommends Repeal of Law Holding Court at Pocatello and Coeur d'Alene

The Twin Falls County Bar association, at a called meeting held Thursday afternoon in the district court rooms here, adopted resolutions favoring the division of the fourth judicial district into two new districts; and recommending the repeal of the present law providing for terms of the supreme court hold in Pocatello and Coeur d'Alene.

A committee was named composed of M. J. Seveloy, Ehad L. Hodgkin and H. C. Hazel, to draft a statement of the specific reasons urged by the association for the repeal of the law, to be presented to the legislative judiciary committee and members of the Twin Falls county legislature.

The arguments advanced in discussions for the repeal of the law were that confining sessions of the supreme court to meeting places at Boise and Lewiston would facilitate the discharge of business before the court, and would overcome objections to the presentation of cases before the court at Pocatello or at Coeur d'Alene, where there are no large law libraries such as are to be found in the other two cities.

Move Starts Here

Division of the fourth judicial district was deemed advisable by the members of the association, who, at a previous meeting, instructed Mr. J. Seveloy their delegate to the meeting of the Idaho State Bar association meeting held in Boise recently, to present there the view held here in this respect. Since that time a bill has been introduced into the legislature providing for this division by the creation of a new judicial district to include the counties of Twin Falls, Cassia, Minidoka, Latah and Gooding. The effect of the proposed division would be to retain the counties of Blaine, Elmore and Camas in the fourth judicial district. It is regarded as probable that a new district judge would be appointed in each district, should the bill be adopted.

WORK MUST BE OBTAINED FOR IDLE QUICKLY

Present Situation Not Alarming But at the Rate of Demobilization Country Will Soon Be Flooded

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Congress must legislate at once to provide work for the unemployed. If the spread of Bolshevism in the United States is to be stopped, Secretary of Labor Wilson declared yesterday.

"Abnormal profits must be eliminated before we can get back to normal," said Wilson. "But those making them are afraid to reduce prices. Individually they are afraid the reduction of prices will cause the bottom to drop out of business. Collectively they are afraid to agree to reduce for fear of running foul of the anti-trust law."

The department of commerce, Wilson said, is now trying to remove the business nervousness, which, he said, is causing business men to hold off from a return to normal peace activities "until prices of material and labor get to the lowest working basis."

This holding-off, Wilson asserted, will be only temporary, and when it ends, the unemployment problem also will end.

No Cause for Alarm

"Unemployment today is not alarming so far as the number of men out of work is concerned," said Wilson. "But it is a condition showing the need of some buffer employment to tide us over. It is the tendency which is now alarming."

Appearing at a joint session of the house and senate labor committees Wilson declared:

"I am not an alarmist and I do not expect a social revolution in this country, but that doesn't prevent me from seeing the true situation. Unless we meet the problem of Bolshevism as a strong prospect the Bolshevism of W. D. West action prophylactic will go a fool-hold in America."

Outlining a plan for providing what he called "buffer employment" to bridge the transition between war and peace period Wilson warmly endorsed the principle of Senator Kenyon's creating a public works board to stimulate federal, state and city work, and thus provide employment for demobilized soldiers, sailors and war workers.

LEVEL HEADS NEEDED TO CONTROL PEACE DEMONSTRATION

America Wins Third Victory

PARIS, Jan. 31.—American diplomacy today had won its third straight victory in the peace conference over reactionary opposition.

Official announcement that "satisfactory provisional agreements" had been reached regarding the disposition of "Senator Kenyon's" and occupied territories in Turkey and Asia means that the associated powers have accepted President Wilson's program for placing all disputed areas under administration of the league of nations with interested powers acting as trustees.

It was American pressure that swung the allies into line on the Russian proposal and American influence that resulted in unanimous adoption of the league of nations principle after some of the European nations had fought for retention of the old "balance of power."

Without fears

The victory was not without its scars, however, if the attitude of the Austrian delegates, following the unfavorable decision regarding their colonial claims, is a criterion. It was no secret today that the Australians, while admitting the principle of Wilson's plan for the realization of a vital principle, felt that the United States had failed to distinguish between measures that were essential to Australia's national safety and petty territorial ambitions.

The president during the course of a long conversation with Premier Hughes yesterday reiterated that America appreciated Australia's economic and political claims regarding the former German colonies. Yet the president failed to concede an inch of ground on the main issue.

Confidence in Wilson

Referring to this conversation an Australian delegate said: "I am convinced that if ours was the only case, President Wilson would have been with us."

The far reaching effect of the decision regarding Australia's specific claims may be judged by statement by Foreign Minister Giannini of Italy made to Hughes following the latter's presentation of Australia's case.

"You have stated our case regarding Malakka exactly," said Giannini.

RETAIL PRICES SHOW NO TRUCE

Wholesale Decline Is Not Reflected in Purchase of the Consumer

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—With almost three months elapsed since the signing of the armistice, high food prices today showed no inclination to allow the German lead in running up the white flag.

Assaults by big supplies, falling wholesale markets, and lack of demand had made no appreciable dent in the high cost front.

Wholesale prices continued falling here today, the last to show decline were lower in wholesale markets than yesterday.

Retailers refused, however, to change their signs. Comparison of retail prices last November and today showed:

	November	Today
Steaks	22@25c	22@25c
Roasts	22@22c	22@23c
Pork	17@22c	17@22c
Pork roasts	27@25c	27@25c
Potatoes, November, $1.00@2.50; today, $1.00@2.50.

Extra large shipments of dairy products with investigations promised among dealers in these lines has forced retailers to lower their prices. Butter sold over the counter at 52c, 14 to 30c lower than two weeks ago. Eggs dropped 14 to 20c, selling at 50c retail.

THE ECONOMY BAKING POWDER CALUMET

Calumet possesses the farthest-reaching baking powder economy. It is the most economical leavening agent. It saves in more ways — and makes more important savings than most other baking powders.

You save when you buy it. The price is moderate — it leaves you money over the cost of high-priced brands for purchase of other articles. Costs but little more than cheap powders — far more valuable in quality.

You save when you use it. Possesses twice the ordinary raising force — you use only half as much as is ordinarily required.

You save materials it is used with. Calumet never fails with any kind of recipe or with any kind of flour — always produces perfectly raised, delicious bakings.

You'll notice a great difference when you use Calumet. It produces light, sweet, wholesome, flaky bakings. You'll notice with some of the cheaper brands the bakings are soggy, heavy, dark in color and sometimes have a bitter taste.

Used by leading chefs and domestic scientists, and by more housewives than any other brand. Made in the world's largest and finest baking powder plant.

Best by test. A trial proves it.
