

LEGISLATORS BEST FRIENDS OF DIVISIONS

Measures for Creation of New Counties, Although Opposed by Outside Interests, Receive Favorable Action So Far

ADMINISTRATION BILL TO PASS WITH CHANGES

Survey of Members of Lower House Brings Conviction That Governor's Plan Will Go Through

(Special to The News)

BOISE, Feb. 1.—It seems certain now that the Jerome county bill will pass the house when that measure comes before the lower body Monday morning on third reading. A bitter fight lasting through the entire present session has marked the progress of the bill which would create a new county out of parts of Gooding, Lincoln and Minidoka.

County division measures, while meeting much opposition from interested parties, have received favorable action so far by the legislature. The only bill of the kind which did not have trouble during the session, however, has been the Clark county bill which has gone through both houses and is now on the desk of Governor Davis.

The third bill is that of Caribou county and this, too, is slated for passage in the senate when it comes up. It was introduced by Representative Whitcomb of Banrock and would take the eastern part of this county and make Soda Springs the county of the new unit.

House for Consolidation

It is also certain that Governor Davis' consolidation bill will meet a favorable result in the house. A survey of members brings the conviction that it will pass the lower house when news of the provisions is notified.

The sections which will feel the surgeon's knife are:

Public utilities commission left in present form.
The industrial accident board in present form and the provisions for handling the fish and game funds of the state.
Neither senate nor house met this morning, having adjourned yesterday until Monday.

MAY WITHDRAW ALLIED TROOPS

United States and Great Britain Have Asked France to Agree to Proposal

By LOWELL MELLETT

PARIS, Feb. 1.—The United States supported by Great Britain, has submitted to France proposal for immediate withdrawal of all troops from it, which was learned from authoritative sources today.

This move was made in conformity with unofficial information obtained by American agents that President Lenin and Foreign Minister Tchitcherine will accept the proposal for a joint conference at Prinkipos, providing that the allied forces are flat withdrawn.

The British, in fact, are understood to be planning recall of their own troops by March whether the United States and France take similar action or not. British military officials are expected to hold that withdrawal is urgent as Archangel soon will be ice-locked and exit will then be impossible. The French are considering the proposal but have not yet given any intimation of their intentions.

Days Conference Probable

While no official response has been received to the wireless invitation of the associated powers, American agents conferring with Lenin representatives have informed the American delegation that both Lenin and Tchitcherine are amenable to the plan for holding a joint conference, the only stipulation being withdrawal of allied troops from Russian soil before the meeting is held.

A complicating feature, however, is the fact that War Minister Trotsky and some of his supporters oppose any proposal for withdrawal of the allied forces holding their present position in Russia serves to increase revolutionary spirit, not only in Russia, but in other countries.

HOUSE PASSES BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The house today passed the agricultural appropriation bill carrying approximately $31,000,000.

American Losses Through Mexican Bandits Growing

Claims are Being Passed Upon to Establish the Indemnity to Be Paid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—American losses through revolution and border banditry in Mexico are being passed upon and damages established by the indemnity commission of the Carranza government at Mexico City, it was announced at the Mexican embassy here today.

More than 40,000 separate claims amounting to $250,000,000 have been filed with the commission by Mexicans and foreigners, covering the entire revolutionary period, it was stated.

Accuses Lieutenant Of Accepting Bribe

Evidence is Being Considered to Show That Officer Got Large Sum

ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 1.—Brigadier-General C. H. Barth, commander at Camp Grant, today, considered with Captain Edward A. Smith, intelligence department a mass of evidence gathered by enlisted men against Lieutenant Wiley H. Dohner, tending to show he accepted bribes from enlisted men for securing their discharge and that he "sat in" at the company mess several weeks without reimbursing the mess fund.

Dohner, camp authorities said, will be prosecuted as soon as it is decided whether that should be by civil or military channels.

Dohner received a total of $600 from enlisted men who were anxious to leave the service, authorities said. The evidence showed. Dohner was believed to be in Detroit, Michigan. He was recently given honorable discharge from the army.

FIGURES REACH ABOVE MILLION IN DISCHARGES

General March Gives Totals of Casualties By Divisions With Present Reports Ninety-five Per Cent Complete

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Demobilization has passed the million mark. There have been discharged from American camps and from the overseas forces 953,412 men and 61,237 officers, Chief of Staff March announced today.

Total of men ordered for demobilization is 1,396,000, including 1,243,000 in the United States.

Total returned from overseas is now 152,000. Honorable discharge of 33 general officers so as to keep pace with demobilization has been ordered by March. The regular return to their regular rank in the army establishment, while the national guard officers are sent back to civil life.

Officers going into the reserve now total 10,708 from the domestic establishment, while 4,293 in this country have applied for transfer into the reserve. Nearly 2,500 officers have been ordered from Washington since the armistice.

Totals Given
Casualty totals, about 95 per cent complete, with the slightly wounded omitted, were presented by March for 30 combat divisions.

With the field signal battalions and trains omitted, the total battle deaths, missing and prisoners, was 53,792, as follows:

Divisions
1st, 5948; 2nd, 2,536; 3rd, 617; 4th, 2,068; 5th, 2,504; 6th, 1,217; 7th, 3,262; 8th, 2,267; 9th, 2,194; 10th, 3,890; 11th, 1,117; 12th, 1,772; 13th, 3,213; 14th, 1,171; 15th, 1,733; 16th, 869; 17th, 1,230; 18th, 2,950; 19th, 3,692; 20th, 1,825; 21st, 2,880; 22nd, 1,355; 23rd, 787; 24th, 1,692; 25th, 66; 26th, 1,625; 27th, 1,535; 28th, 1,702; 29th, 311; 30th, 499.

The statement explained that there will be some changes in the figures due mainly to decreases in missing in action and corresponding increases in other totals. The total figures for missing are now reduced to about 10,000.

PRESIDENT MAY FIND SECOND FRENCH TRIP TO BE UNNECESSARY

Progress of Peace Conference in Marked Contrast to Conditions of Past Few Days—Various Factions Show Strong Tendency to Get Together in Interests of World Harmony

PIVOTAL VICTORIES ALREADY WON DETAILS ONLY TO BE WORKED OUT

By ROBERT J. BENDER

PARIS, Feb. 1.—The peace conference has developed so marked a tendency to accept practical application of the fourteen principles, and to speed up its work that the belief was expressed today that President Wilson may find a second trip to France unnecessary. Whether the president will return after his departure for the United States, two weeks hence, is known to depend not only upon disposition of the conference's policy after he has withdrawn from the councils and their inclination to work along the general lines of the American program.

Just six weeks after his arrival in France the president felt confident today that the pivotal work had already been won, and that further action by the conference will be in strict adherence to the broad principles included in the armistice terms. Within a few days the delegates will have accomplished the framing of a constitution for the league of nations, in conformity with the principle of no annexations, the president believes. This, in his opinion, will be one of the most vital accomplishments of the peace settlement.

Wilson is advocating systematization of the peace work to the utmost, in order to have the handling of all details. The plan for reference of each great problem to a special committee is now known to have been adopted largely at his suggestion. It developed today that he also is urging that more committees be created to take care of the lesser questions, leaving the peace bureau free to concentrate attention only the broader lines of the settlement and to make decisions on the findings of the committees.

With all these committees functioning simultaneously, a pace could be maintained that would bring the signing of the treaty several weeks earlier than was believed possible. The policy of his intensive work for ten hours a day, a tiling on the president. The last few days, during which he fought consistently against the policy of spoliation, were particularly trying. Despite the fact that he is feeling younger, as hard as at any time since he assumed office, the president continues to urge a "hurry up" policy and find means for carrying it out.

Special Committee Goes Into Session to Formulate Plans for Submission to the Peace Conference

PARIS, Feb. 1.—International labor legislation was formally taken up today when the special committee handling that portion of the peace settlement went into session at the French ministry of labor offices shortly before noon.

At the same time it was announced that the committee on reparations and damages will meet at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the French ministry of finance offices. Final determination of the program, which will be submitted to the peace congress for ratification, was expected to be reached at the next meeting of this committee, scheduled for 4:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Country May Face Huge National Debt

Declares the United States is Headed for the Rocks of Insolvency

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The United States is "headed directly for the rocks of national insolvency," Senator Thomas, Colorado, declared today to the senate.

"Congress is surely indifferent," added Thomas, "and goes ahead satisfying the demands of constituents for appropriations."

If no money grants by congress must cease, Thomas warned, if disaster is to be avoided. Revolution of bankruptcy, he declared, lies ahead unless economy is practiced.

Senator Weeks, echoing Thomas' sentiments, recalled the $750,000,000 navy program as an "astounding proposition which should not be imposed on this country."

Senator King declared the arguments for a big navy and army "are the same which drove Germany and made it a nation of militarists."

Call in Police to Suppress Idle Mob

Thousands of Unemployed are Pillaging Shops and Causing a Riot

VIENNA, Jan. 31 (delayed).—The strike police force was called out today to suppress a mob of thousands of unemployed who were pillaging shops while marching on the reichsrath buildings. Many arrests were made and the others dispersed. The people were urged by communist speakers, who urged them not to pay rent until they had been given work.

At a mass meeting held for the purpose of endorsing the league of nations, resolutions were passed in favor of neutralization of German-Austria and German-Bohemia under protection of the allies.

DIDN'T LIKE ACCENT
LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 1.—"He didn't like my southern drawl," was one of the charges made by Mrs. Maurine O. Kimball, formerly of Memphis, Tennessee, now wife of Thomas E. Kimball, prominent in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in a suit for divorce which she has on file here today.

PEACE BUREAU WILL SPEED UP LEAGUE PLANS

Plenary Session Postponed to Permit Catching Up in Work of Arranging Details of League of Nations

EARLY PRESENTATION OF PROGRAM ASSURED

German Colonial Question Believed Settled and More Harmonious Debate Anticipated in Near Future

By FRED S. FERGUSON

PARIS, Feb. 1.—The usual plenary session was postponed today to permit the peace bureau to speed up action on the framework for the league of nations.

President Wilson conferred with Lord Cecil and General Smuts until late today, comparing the American plan for the league of nations with their respective outlines, that the whole proposition may be put in shape for presentation to the peace congress next week.

The belief was expressed in certain quarters that demonstration of the practicability of the league, as evidenced in several recent decisions by the bureau, would hasten agreement on the details of its make up. The German colonial question was virtually settled in accordance with principles of the league. Previously, the bureau had acted in the capacity of an association of national in warning central and eastern European countries to consider war-torn areas disputed territories. The bureau assumed a similar capacity yesterday when it decided to send delegates to straighten out the argument between the Czechs and the Poles over possession of that rich industrial territory.

Old Situation Develops
A queer angle has developed in the relations of the Czechs and Poles in that their representatives, at the sitting at the same peace conference to arrange a treaty with a common enemy, yet there are outbreaks of fighting between their own troops over the question of readjustments of their own new boundaries. A temporary settlement of the allied condition will be followed by final settlement by the league of nations when the latter institution is formally established.

One Question Settled
Speculation as to whether the Philippine islands and the Panama canal will be considered in the internationalization of colonial possession and water ways was ended today when it was authoritatively stated that neither would be brought up as both are strictly American and free from any dispute. It was pointed out that the Monroe doctrine will not be disturbed as it will fit in automatically with the league of nations.

WANT RACE DISTINCTION ENTIRELY ABOLISHED

TOKIO, Jan. 31.—(Delayed)—Japanese statesmen and publicists today decided to call a mass meeting which shall demand that the league of nations abolish all race discriminations.

Forty members of both houses of the Japanese diet met with other politicians and publicists. They determined to call a national mass meeting.

STRIKE WILL BE SERIOUS MATTER

Nearly Half Million Railway Workers Will Walk Out Early Next Week

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Nearly a half million railway strike still strikes next week unless the government intervenes, the United Press was informed by labor leaders today. Such a strike would completely paralyze transportation in Great Britain and Ireland.

The walkout would affect more than 400,000 manual workers, including trainmen, engineers and switchmen, and 70,000 clerks, including telegraphers. The manual workers demand equal representation with employers on all railway managing boards and a wage advance of 10 shillings ($2.50) a week. The clerks want joint control of all promotions and shorter hours the day work holding a 28 hour week and the night workers a 24 hour week.

The manual workers, who are now controlled by the "Shop Stewards" which are generally regarded as constituting a soviet form of management, have already issued an ultimatum that they will strike February 9 unless their demands are granted. The clerks who are still represented by their regular union officials, are said to be prepared to walk out next week, however. If the clerks walk out, it seemed certain that the manual workers would take advantage of this to set the date of their own strike ahead and would walk simultaneously with the clerks.

WORLD NEWS EVENTS

ZURICH, Feb. 1.—German troops have attacked the Poles at several points along the eastern frontier, capturing Grunthal, Wunshein and Grossamokli, according to dispatches received here today. A great quantity of artillery and machine guns was seized.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 1.—Czech forces have occupied eastern Silesia which forms a part of Austria, after heavy fighting with the Poles, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Cologne Volkszeitung.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 1.—Workmen have revolted in Bremen and have decided to defend the city against government troops which are marching from Berlin, according to dispatches received here today. Hard fighting is expected.

GLASGOW, Feb. 1.—Troops were patrolling the streets today as the result of clashes between the Clyde shipyard strikers and the police. I. Shinwell, who became leader of the strikers after the arrest of Kirkwood, also has been taken in custody.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Fifty Germans and Austrians today were new American citizens, the first to be naturalized here since the entry of the country into war. Some of them could hardly speak English, but most of them insisted they believed America "the best country in the world."

AMERICA MUST HAVE AMPLE PROTECTION

Secretary of the Navy Declared That We Should Build Large Fleet

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1.—"Not in your day will there be any reduction of naval power," Secretary of the Navy Daniels made this prediction today in presenting the commissions to men of the last reserve class trained at the naval academy.

He was advocating construction of another three year navy building program.

In the course of his speech, he declared that "we shall not build against any nation because we have faith that the league of peace" will bring friendship among the nations. But he said the United States should have a navy big enough for self-protection.

BOILERMAKERS ARE OUT ON STRIKE IN FRISCO

Men Walk Out in Defiance of the Iron Trades Council's Order to Stay

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—One thousand boilermakers, working in shops outside of Alhambra, struck today. Ten plants had been tied up at noon.

The strike was called in defiance of the order of the Iron Trades Council last night that the men stay on the job.

The Iron trades will not aid the strikers and will take steps to have the boilermakers' union ousted from the council, it was predicted. The men are demanding the Macey award terms and back pay under the Macey agreement to August.

SAYS AMERICA IS FACING MANY BIG PROBLEMS

Possible Presidential Candidate Tells Republicans That the United States Has Had Enough of Internationalism

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Republican leaders, who are expected to be considering the availability of Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington as a presidential possibility in 1920, are understood today to have been impressed by Poindexter's address at a republican dinner last night in which he voiced a demand for "the re-assertion of the American spirit."

"It is time to call a halt to the doctrine of internationalism," he said, and expressed the fear that the proposed "league of nations would involve a 'strange, new doctrine,' which may cause this republic to 'drift away from its historical anchorage.'"

"The American people," Poindexter said, "are much more interested in their internal problems than in the disposition of the German colonies."

Wedded at Home

"We have many menacing and sinister questions here at home that take precedence over the future of Meesopotamia," he said, "and the president is now engaged in settling controversies that the allies could have settled. My opinion is that Great Britain and France should take the lands they rescued from the despotism of the Germans and the Turks."

"The true policy of the American government is to avoid permanent participation in the government of Europe. America is now a world power and must play its part in the affairs of the world, but its part is the leadership and hegemony of the new world."

Poindexter favored the United States contributing its share "to such a military force as may be necessary to stamp out with fire and sword Bolshevism in Europe, which is another name for anarchy and savagery."

Pleas Liquor Cause Of Disloyal Remarks

Man Who is Charged With Sedition Says That He was Only Intoxicated

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 1.—Yesterday the government was trying to prove Henry Albert was guilty of a violation of the espionage act.

Today the defense is attempting to prove the millionaire miller is a perditional drunkard.

The purpose is to show that the defendant was not responsible when he made the alleged sedition utterances that he was a victim of government agents who trapped him by getting him intoxicated.

The defense started its testimony late Thursday afternoon by calling Dr. E. A. Sommer, of Portland, to the stand. He testified that Albert was a perfect specimen of a man who was not an exemplary citizen when sober "and a fool when drunk."

A porter on the train on which Albert rode October 8, 1918, when he made alleged seditious statements that resulted in four of the seven counts in the indictment against him, testified Albert "very drunk."

The case is expected to be submitted to the jury some time tomorrow.

Bodies are Rescued From Wrecked Vessel

Ship Which was Stranded Last October Contains Many Corpses of Passengers

JUANA, Alaska, Feb. 1.—Work of rescuing bodies from the Princess Sophia which was lost with many lives in the Lynn canal off the Alaska coast October 26th, is proceeding rapidly.

Divers fear that if the rescue work is delayed life preservers, which are piled in the bow, near the state rooms and cabins, will become water-logged, allowing the bodies to sink and be washed through windows into deep water.

Marine Diver Jacobson reported the Sophia resting on a sandy bottom and intact. It can be salvaged, he said. Earlier reports were that the ship had broken up.

COMPARES RELATIVE FORCES

LONDON, Feb. 1.—(British Admiralty Wireless)—Figures issued by the American army command regarding the comparative strength of the British and American forces in France at the time the armistice was signed need some amplification. Those figures showed that at that time there were 1,700,000 British troops in France and 1,900,000 American troops. The British figures include all their fighting men in France, but the American figures include not only their fighting strength but all troops in training and auxiliary services. British reserves of course, were being trained in this country and not in France.

ARTISTS AGREE ON BEAUTY TYPE

Famous Illustrators Give Style of Woman Who Will Meet the Requirements

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Here are the specifications for a perfect woman, as agreed upon by Howard Chandler Christy, Penryhn Stanluis and Harrison Fisher, famous illustrators, who will pick the prize beauty of New York at the Chu-Chin-Chow ball tonight.

Nose: A pug nose will ruin the face, Venus Christy declares. The nose chances of a woman with the body of a Boman or Greek or any other accepted style, but it must not be pug or hooked.

Chin: Strength is required in the chin, not unsculpting strength, but feminine strength. Crown prince chins will not pass muster, the judges agree.

EYES: They must have the lustre of intelligence.

HAIR: Thick and lustrous—any shade; natural shade, that is.

HEAD: It must sit with dignity on her shoulders.

TOBEO: The artists agreed that facial beauty alone would not make a winner. Every movement, graceful or otherwise, will be counted in the score, Stanluis declared.

LEMBDS (legs): They must not be too long for the body nor too short for the body. The same goes for the arms.

"A woman's limbs may be too long for her body and her head either small or large. She won't do," said Christy.

"Her nose may be pug her hair thick and lustrous, her chin weak, but her body perfect. She won't do."

"We will look for a woman who may be tall or short but whose limbs fit the length of her body, whose head sits with dignity, whose nose fits her facial composition, whose eyes have life and above all, whose face radiates intelligence."

Fenryhn Stanluis said: "A woman may win the golden apple even if her face is not so beautiful as some other. We will watch for a woman who combines grace and beauty in poise, carriage and movements when walking and dancing."

"There will be many beautiful women at the ball," said Harrison Fisher. "Of course, they may be of all sizes and shapes and the selection of a facial beauty will be difficult. Facial beauty alone does not make a winner."

MORE TROOPS RETURN

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Carrying 2,738 homecoming American troops the United States transport Minnekahda arrived here today from Brest. The Minnekahda had on board companies A, B, C, D, I, K, L, and M and staff headquarters company, machine gun company, supply company and medical detachment of the 32nd Infantry; 83rd Division Cadet, annual company No. 22 (Alabama); 142 casual officers and seven civilians. It was announced at the port of embarkation.

WHOLE COUNTRY WELCOMES BACK RETURNING MEN

Casual Troops Who Landed Today Represent Almost Every Section of the United States and Alaska

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—From Sitka Alaska, to Punta Gorda, Florida, and from East Port, Maine, to San Diego, California, and thousands of cities and towns between, came the offices and soldiers who marched off the transport Minnie today.

More than 97 per cent of the 4,231 men aboard were wounded. Less than 900 of those however, were under medical care when the ship arrived.

The returning troops were under command of Major M. B. Champion, Alexandria, Virginia. Officers of this staff on board included, Captain M. A. Mott, Los Angeles, who returned with a bride; Lieutenants W. F. Enright St. Joseph, Mo.; E. P. Murphy, Omaha, Neb.; W. M. Mayer, Chicago; and Captain Felix Beachamp, Sitka, Alaska.

Beachamp wore the Croix De Guiso and had been cited for individual heroism on the field.

Chateau-Thierry Men

One of the most interesting groups was the casual company of 19 marines from small sections who were at Chateau-Thierry when the Germans were halted. The marines were from the 1st and 6th regiments of the fourth brigade.

Captain F. A. Llewellyn of Portland, Ore., was aboard. He had been wounded three times.

Among men from the Pacific coast on board were the following, all of whom had been wounded:

From San Francisco—Sergeant Segurd Mickelson, Privates J. M. Meakel, J. J. Lee, J. M. Doran, Fred E. Selke, G. B. Andree, M. W. Griffin, J. J. Nolan, Frank Dittmar Chas. Ginzert and Jon. Hoffman.

From Los Angeles—Sergeant Chas. Tinley, Privates Mathias Honness, Earl G. Cook, R. K. Koll, P. S. Dunham, W. H. Smith, Private First Class C. B. G. Crook, Tulare; B. A. McBeth, Calipatria; Sonie Armstrong, Stockton; H. C. Verrege, Stockton; C. McBride, Fullerton; C. V. Howard and E. H. House, Long Beach; Victor Sataruo, A. Dougherty, J. J. Benfro, Bakersfield; F. L. Foster, Santa Monica, and Albert E. Greiner, San Pedro.

C. E. Prinz, Globe, Arizona, and Sergeant Leslie H. Becker, Tacoma, Washington, were with the California cauals.

DANIELS DECLARES THE PURCHASE WAS RIGHT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Answering Representative Mann, Secretary of the Navy Daniels today insisted he acted wisely in buying Marconi ship-to-shore wireless stations.

Mann held Daniels should be impeached for this purchase made without special authorization from congress.

Daniels replied to the press that his wireless extension was used and that judgment and that of other navy chiefs, and that the purchase was necessary and proper.

TEXTILE WORKERS FAVOR STRIKE TO ENFORCE DEMAND

LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 1.—Every department of the textile labor situation here today pointed to a strike on next Monday.

Although the employes of the American Woolen company mills up to early this afternoon had come to no decision on the offer of the company granting them 48 hour work week with 48 hour pay, an overwhelming majority of the 35,000 textile operatives had either voted for or are apparently in favor of a strike Monday to enforce their demands for 64-hour pay for 48 hours' work.

LEAGUE IS INVESTIGATED

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Wealthy Chicagoans connected with the Chicago chapter of the national security league were to appear before a congressional committee investigating the league here today. Chairman H. H. Merrick, head of the Chicago chapter, denied yesterday his was connected with that in New York. He declared questioning of congressional candidates regarding their war stand was proper because the congressmen were public servants.

ESTABLISHES NAVAL BASE

PARIS, Feb. 1.—America is establishing a naval base in Danzig, Germany, for the purpose of expediting and insuring the safety of Polish relief work, it was announced today. Similar bases will be established in the principal near eastern points to aid the Czech-Slovaks, Hungarians and other nationalities in that region.

LIFE INSURANCE IS A NEW FIELD FOR GOVERNMENT

Policies Will Be Changed Into Six Different Kinds in Conversion From War to Peace Times

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Provisions approximating old age pensions are to be included in the new government insurance policies, it was officially stated today. The policies into which the present war-time insurance may be converted number six ordinary life, twenty payment life, thirty payment life, twenty year endowment, thirty year endowment and endowment "age 65."

In each six of the policies classed are included which provide for the continued payment of allowances in event of total disability of the insured during the life of the policy. The policy holder will draw the regular allowance although payment of premium may have stopped, it is explained.

The policies are also planned to include participating dividend features, officials said. Reserves of the government bureau—if a proposed amendment to the insurance act passes congress—will be invested in government securities issued a fund upon which to draw "profit." It was indicated the reserves will be invested in bonds of the farm loan banks which at present are yielding about 4-2 per cent.

Death Awards Eight

Death awards since the government entered the insurance field were announced today at $4,069 aggregating $294,720,500. During the month of January, including estimate on the claims to be received today, the death awards totaled 10,999, amounting to $102,331,000, Colonel Henry D. Lindsay chief of the bureau, reported.

In allotments and allowances and incurred death claims disbursements of the bureau amounted to $383,130,007 since it began operation.

Practically all of the certificates for wartime insurance have "been pulled out," Lindsay said. Of the 1,450,000 certificates issued since the war began, 900,000 have been sent to the beneficiaries of the soldiers, sailors and marines who carry the insurance.

Insurance written by the government has reached the astounding total of $29,225,277,000—about $12,000,000,000 more than the combined insurance outstanding of all commercial life insurance companies in the United States. The average of insurance carried by men in the service is $7,750.

The bureau, however, is still writing insurance applications are coming in by the hundreds daily.

American Ace to Be Given Big Reception

Eddie Rickenbacker is Reported Aboard Transport Expected Today

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, famous ace of the American air forces, was nearing New York today aboard the White Star liner Adriatic, according to automobile dealers who have planned a great reception for the former automobile speed star. Rickenbacker will be entertained at a banquet at the Waldorf Monday night, if he arrives.

Captain "Jimmy" Moisaner, commander of the Rickenbacker in many of his flights, also is said to be aboard the big transport.

The Adriatic was expected to reach Ambrose Channel late this afternoon.

Fight Still on For Immigration Bill

Measure to Exclude Foreigners From America Is Having a Struggle for Life

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The battle to get the four-year immigration exclusion bill through this session of congress has been carried before the house rules committee today for a special rule providing for consideration of the measure in the house early next week.

Representatives Sabbath, Illinois, and Siegel of New York, appeared before the rules committee in opposition to the measure.

The immigration bill depends on the rules committee's action.

PROSPECTS ARE NOT VERY GOOD FOR MISKE BOUT

Dempsey is Disgusted at the Way the Southern Promoters Kill Time and May Refuse to Sign the contract

By H. C. HAMILTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Jack Dempsey probably will not meet Billy Miske in a twenty-round bout at New Orleans. Jack Kearns, manager for the heavy weight star who is being considered as the logical man to meet Jess Willard, declared to The United Press today that New Orleans promoters have killed so much time and have handled things in such a foggy way that he has decided to let the match die unless the original agreement is carried out. Kearns declared he had received a message from the New Orleans men telling him that unless he immediately accepted terms offered all negotiations would be declared off, but the message wound up with the assertion that the Miske bout was all wrong with that Willard stuff.

Chances Unfavorable

Kearns came to the conclusion that the Louisiana club is dickering for the Willard fight and declined to even answer the telegram.

"Chances are," he said, "this Miske bout will not be held. I am expecting to hear from Rickard any day with regard to the big fight and the terms he presents probably will make it impossible for Dempsey to do any fighting before he meets Willard. That and the attitude of the New Orleans promoters practically makes it a cinch that Miske will have to wait."

Dempsey is on his way east from Salt Lake City where he went a few days ago to visit his mother who has been ill. When he reaches New York he will start on another theatrical tour for which he has been guaranteed $25,000 for a few weeks work.

QUARRELS OVER VICTORY ARISE

Italians and Serbs Each Claim They Beat the Austrians and Want Spoils

PARIS, Feb. 1.—The proverbial totem in respect has arisen here today between the Serbs and the Italians over who beat the Austrians, and as to whom the Austro-Hungarian fleet belongs.

Italians claimed that Serbian "intellectuals" addressed a manifesto to French politicians and others, charging the Italians with persecuting Jugoslavians in occupied territories, forming the League of the Jugoslavians, etc., declaring the Austrian defeat on the Piave and the resultant collapse of the empire was due principally to the Jugoslav revolution and claiming the Austrian navy, because it was largely built, paid for and manned "by Jugoslavians, who revolutionized and freed it."

Issue Manifesto

The Italian bureau of propaganda here issued a counter manifesto. It declared that the charges of persecution are based solely upon the arrest of a priest named Binohal, a notorious autophile. The cocktails which at first were authorized were later banned because they provoked disorders and made it possible for enemies of Italy to circulate freely through the occupied territories as did the Austrian ace, Binfield, according to the counter manifesto. Binfield, who led many night bombing raids on Venice, was able to walk freely through the streets of Trieste because he wore a Jugoslavian coat, it was charged.

The counter manifesto continues with the statement that the downfall of the Austrian empire was due to the military efforts of Italy, Serbia and Russia, the allied hunger blockade and finally, to the Italian victory on the Piave.

ROAD BUILDERS MAPPING OUT HIGHWAY PLANS

Commissioners of Twin Falls District Meet with Director to Prepare Program for Ratification at Bond Election

Commissioners of the Twin Falls highway district are to meet here today to begin the work of formulating a program for extensive road building in the district this year. The sessions are to continue until the program is completed. W. L. Johnson, district director of roads, is to meet with the commissioners to assist and advise them in reaching conclusions with respect to the program from copious field notes and information both local and general which he has been compiling for several months past.

State Roads to Figure

An essential feature of the program is to call for a bond issue to provide for funds needed, in addition to sums available from state and county taxes and motor vehicle taxes, to carry the plans to completion. It is probable that recommendation for the bond surfacing of the state highways extending through the district will be included in the program. Members of the board of highway district commissioners are G. B. Channell, Twin Falls; J. M. Steinhilber, Kimberly; and A. E. Larson, Hollister.

Epidemic Seems to Have Subsided Here

Emergency Hospital Remains Vacant for Week—No New Cases in Three Days

The influenza epidemic in Twin Falls seems to have subsided entirely in Twin Falls. In three days past there have been no new cases reported to the county health officer. The emergency annex to the county general hospital which was opened to care for influenza patients has been vacant during the past week, only the janitor remaining on the premises. The city on Friday dispensed with the services of G. W. Dean, city health officer, who had been employed in that capacity for about nine weeks.

LISTED UNDER BAHQ CASUALTY

Revisited by the appearance of his name constantly in the casualty lists, relatives and friends of Ernest Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Snyder, are wondering just what the young soldier's status is. Snyder's name has appeared under nearly every subdivision of the casualty list. First he was reported severely wounded. Then he was reported a prisoner. Next he was listed among the killed. Then his name was among those "provisionally reported missing in action, now slightly wounded."

After that he was supposed to have escaped from the Germans and interned in Stockholm. The latest is that he was discharged from a German hospital as a prisoner and returned to France. Snyder has written home regularly and the only hurt mentioned by him was that he was wounded slightly in one hand and one ear.

Idaho Representatives Boost Clearwater Highway Measure During Busy Day

(Special to The News)
BOISE, Feb. 1.—Asking congress to appropriate $500,000 to build a highway up the south fork of the Clearwater river, the House Thursday passed the joint memorial which had previously gone through the senate.

Providing for the relief of indigent soldiers and sailors and creating county relief commissioners, House Bill No. 17, by Bennett of Gooding, also passed the house.

Other bills to get through the lower body at a busy session, were: creation of a state bureau of mines and appropriating 30,000 therefor; authorizing court reporters to retain all fees; House Bill No. 34 amending the law relating to records from final judgment; a bill providing for lying-in hospitals; and House Bill No. 47 by City, authorizing county commissioners to bury soldiers and defray expenses where the families are without funds.

BOISE, Feb. 1.—Should the legislature pass the bill consolidating the Albion Normal and Idaho Technical institution, the name of the Pocatello school would be "The Idaho Technical Institute and Normal School." No great change would be made in the functions of the two schools. The state board of education and the regents of the University of Idaho would have charge. It is believed here that the bill will pass.

Flies Barber's Closing Hour

BOISE, Feb. 1.—It was Representative Thomas who introduced a bill on Thursday into the house providing for the closing of barber shops in all cities of the first class at seven o'clock.

Would Give Women Place

BOISE, Feb. 1.—Hereafter there will be one change would be made in the regents of the University of Idaho, should a bill by the women members of the house of representatives of Idaho pass through the legislative grid. Another measure by the feminine lawmakers provides for the segregation of sexes in the Idaho industrial training school, and House Bill No. 47, appropriation of $50,000 to provide cottages for the girls.

WOULD GIVE STATE A HAND

Representatives Propose Bill Providing for Work for the Returning Soldiers

BOISE, Feb. 1.—A concrete plan to provide useful employment in rural areas for soldiers and to cooperate with federal plans and the state of Idaho is the subject of an important measure introduced in the house yesterday by Representative Givens and Featherstone. A settlement board will be created on which the commissioner of public works, the commissioner of reclamation and the commissioner of agriculture will sit.

This board would have wide powers of co-operative effort and could lease lands, pass reclamation work and do many other things for the soldier men. The act says in part: "The board is authorized to contract with the United States for additional settlement and related purposes. For the purpose of general co-operation with the federal government hereunder and the board may also contract with other states, private corporations and individuals."

STRANGE CONFESSIONS LEAD TO ARREST OF DEBARTHED MAN

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—James B. Monroe, of St. Louis, who several days ago startled the police by "confessing" to killing Miss Josephine McDonald, spyater, here two weeks ago, today was in custody of the federal authorities, who will file charges of Mann Act violations.

Two days after Monroe's "confession," he denied he killed the woman, but as gibberish told of other infractions of the law. He probably will face trial at Dubuque, Iowa.

FAMOUS AGE EXPECTED

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The White Star liner Adriatic bearing a large number of returning American soldiers, will reach this port late this afternoon, according to a wireless message received by the line's office. Automobile men here, believing Captain Eddie Rickard, crack ace of the American air forces, to be aboard, have prepared a great reception for him.

WILL REPORT ON BILL

WARRIOR IN IDAHO ON SQUIRRELS SAVES MILLIONS

Farmers Co-operate with Biological Survey Eradicating Pests from Large Area and Saving Crops

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 1.—By combating ground squirrels Idaho farmers saved over $1,250,000 in crops during 1918. Twenty-two counties and 4,025 farmers co-operated with the biological survey of the United States department of agriculture in stamping out the squirrel pest, and as a result 277,751 more bushels of the rodents.

It is estimated that the ground squirrel eradication work in Idaho saved at least 5 per cent of the total crops of that state which formerly went to pay the yearly rodent tribute. As one farmer phrases it, "I used to consider that the squirrels had a mortgage on 25 per cent of my crops. They devoured one-fourth of all I produced. Now after I have cleared my farm of squirrels, I harvest and save 100 per cent of all the crops I grow."

In Bonnevillie County

In Bonnevillie county, Idaho, 114 of the farmers distributed 9,223 pounds of poisoned oats over 11,871 acres. As a direct and immediate result saved $41,208 worth of farm crops which otherwise would have been consumed by the squirrels. In the eradication campaign, one farmer in this county distributed poisoned bait over one of his fields and less than one hour later when he returned to the fields he counted 278 dead ground squirrels, 0 rabbits, and 10 rock chucks which had fallen prey to the deadly bait.

Use Strychnine Alkaloid

Idaho farmers formerly used strychnine sulphate prepared in a variety of ways to kill ground squirrels, but because this material proved unsatisfactory, the use of powdered strychnine (alkaloid) is now practical in the eradication campaigns. This poison acts very rapidly through the mouth and chock pouches instead of through the stomach. It is prepared by mixing 1 tablespoonful of strychnine with 1 cup of cold water and then stirring this combination into 1 1/2 pint of boiling water to make a thin clear paste. This 1 ounce of powdered strychnine (alkaloid) is mixed with 1 ounce of baking soda in a little water and stirred with the stick into a smooth, creamy mass, free of lumps. To 1 1/2 pint of heavy corn syrup, 1 tablespoonful of glycerine and one scant teaspoonful of escharin dissolved in a little warm water are stirred together. This solution is then spread over 15 quarts of oats and mixed thoroughly in order to coat each kernel. One quart of this poison is sufficient for 40 to 60 birds. The material—scattered one teaspoonful to a place—should be distributed along the clean, hard surfaces near the squirrel holes where it will not endanger live stock and where there is no chance for the rodents to waste the material by trampling over it. The bait should be placed in their holes, as would occur were the bait to be placed directly in their burrows.

Syrup Makes Palatable

The escharin and corn syrup are used to make the bait palatable, while the baking soda retards solution of the strychnine and thus aids the escharin in killing the squirrels. The mixture coats the poison evenly over the oat or barley grains and the glycerine prevents the poison from drying and dusting off the grain. Oats or barley are used because the ground squirrels for whom the bait is intended are particularly fond of these grains. This bait is much more effective than phosphate poison formerly used, because it is more effective and can be stored in quantity for comparatively long periods without deterioration.

Require Other Treatment

Columbian ground squirrels are not controlled by this method of eradication, as they haul out very carefully before eating them and hence avoid the poison. Therefore a special method of preparing bait for those squirrels is used so that as they haul the oats the poison flakes off in the rodents' mouths and kills them. The Columbian ground squirrel eats the wooded seeds of Idaho nuts, of Beech, hickory, etc.; it has longer ears and tail and is larger also than the ordinary ground squirrel. It also has an obscure brown-colored streak along the middle of its back, while the hind portions of its hips and thighs are a bright brownish-red.

The Columbian squirrel bait is prepared by combining in dry mixture, one ounce of powdered strychnine (alkaloid) and one ounce of baking soda, one teaspoonful of escharin and three tablespoonfuls of flour, adding a little cold water and stirring thoroughly to a smooth creamy paste. The mixture is distributed uniformly over 15 quarts of oats as in the former case, and the poison bait scattered as previously described. This poison should be used within ten to fourteen days after preparation, as otherwise the material will dust off the grain. If the poison was used in a tub of other meal, sprinkled with a little water, and mixed to moisten it before distribution.

Lawyers Who Continued to Interrupt the Case of Swift Told to Keep Silence

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Senator Norris threatened to throw the lawyers out of the room at the hearing before the senate agricultural committee.

Henry Veeder and John J. Healy, sitting in the rear of the room, objected to questions asked Louis F. Swift regarding alleged combination of the packers.

"If you don't stop interrupting here, you'll be put out of the room," Norris warned John J. Healy, assistant to Veeder.

Healy said that counsel for the committee, Healey, was reading argument into the record.

"I want to protest," Healy objected. "It is unfair."

SUPPORTED LEAGUE FOR PATRIOTIC REASONS

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Samuel Inault, millionaire Chicago utilities owner and chairman of the Illinois council of delegates, testified today before the congressional committee investigating the national security league that he advocated any direct relations with the Chicago branch of the league.

"I supported the league purely for patriotic reasons," declared Inault. "I contributed to it whenever I was called upon, but I gave very small amounts."

THINKS BILL WOULD CAUSE LABOR SHORTAGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Warning that the cutting off of immigration may result in a serious shortage of labor in this country, representatives Selgel, New York, today filed a minority report urging defeat of the Burnett bill barring the immigrant for four years. The report admits there may be some unemployment at present, but points out that this condition is "seasonal" and will pass away when industries have a chance to readjust themselves.

MAY TURN OVER ALL GERMAN RAILROADS

ZURICH, Feb. 1.—A proposition to turn over all German railways to the central government with proper indemnification for the confederated states, is being discussed by delegates to the national council in Weimar, which will open next month, according to dispatches here today.

Reports were received that Edward Bernstein, noted German socialist writer, is coming to Switzerland for the purpose of raising a loan for the German government.

WANTS PROFITS TO BE GUARANTEED SHAREHOLDERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Profits guaranteed by congress are demanded by owners of railroad stocks and bonds. S. Davies Wardfield, president of the national association of owners of railroad securities, told the senate interstate commerce committee today.

STAMPS WILL BE DENOMINATION LARGELY

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—War Savings Stamps of $100 denominations are to be offered for sale, according to announcement made here today by J. H. Puelicher, Detroit, director of war savings of the Seventh federal reserve districts.

The stamps, which will be about the size of a fourth Liberty bond, will sell for $98.50, if put on sale during February, the price increasing 20 cents each succeeding month until the end of the year, Puelicher said.

DEMPSEY MAY BE MATCH

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 1.—Jack Dempsey looks like the logical candidate for a champion fight with Jess Willard, Tex. Beard promoter said here today. Beard committed himself no further. In company with Willard he visited oil wells near here today.

The spring, as possible say the federal officials, as in this way the natural increase of young squirrels is eliminated. The poisoning campaign should be continued throughout the year until the section is free of these pests. The rodents will eat the poison baits at any time. Attention should be given to destroying the squirrels in all their haunts in pastures, uncultivated fields, fence rows, and roads as well as from the cultivated fields where complete extermination of the pests is sought.

ANCIENT STRONGARM MAN FOUNDED SPARTACUS

By CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Perhaps it's just as well to call them Sparta. Just when we were learning to give bolsheviks, and were learning to give it about as universal an application as we used to give to camouflage before that sorely tried word was officially outbanned by the Society for the Decent Bureaucracy of Hackney's Words, along came those Germans with their Sparta-kick and head, cheese, and sprung Spartacus on us.

That was right in line with their other unfair tactics, gas, flame throwers and gingerbread saloon-fruits.

But now that we have Spartacus with us, what are we going to do about it?

The Spartacus group was the name the Germans ultra-radicals adopted when they first hung out their shingle in the blood-letting business. But that sort of name never would do. So, we have the papers, in their exterritorial, alluding to them variously as Spartacides, Spartacuses, Spartacides and Spartacides made to the first-mentioned designation because it is very close to homicide, suicide, rigid, like occupations. There is not lacking a considerable party which claims that spartacism is all of that and more. But, the ending -cide, from the Latin, tends to kill, always kills whatever it is added to. Kills what it goes after, as it were. A homicide is a man-killer, a suicide is a self-killer and an insecticide is an insect-killer. So, a Spartacide would be a Spartacus-killer. And that isn't what we want to say at all.

In the same way, if Spartacuses might be accused of heaping profane imitative upon a Spartacus and all his works, and a Spartacus might be suspected of being a mere substitute for trying a can on one end of Spartacus, and you can see very easily how a Spartacide might be mixed up with an aristocrat.

Maybe it's just as well to call them Sparta, or just Sparta, and thereby avoid complications.

The sparta take their name from a certain Mr. Spartacus, whose initials have been lost somewhere in the shuffle. He started life as a modest shepherd in Traced, perhaps somewhere in what is now called the Balkans. There during the century just preceding the birth of Christ. Think of going back that far for somebody to name your political party after!

The young Mr. Spartacus, bring of keeping watches over his sheep, became a robber, cattle, the chronicles say. They do not specify whether he stuck up banks, checked hats, or headed a packing industry. Anyway, he was a robber.

A Roman army, in the course of one of its boundary-rectifying expeditions happened upon Spartacus and took him to Rome. The sport fans decided to watch Spartacus fight a match for a later recently imported from Asia, and for that purpose put him in a training camp for gladiators. He occupied as soon as he had learned the fundamentals of gladiating, and issued a declaration of independence, asserting that all slaves were thenceforth free. Whereupon every gladiator who had been put on an air refused to pull the cork or polish the car any more, and in short, started a revolt.

Under leadership of Spartacus the slaves captured most of Southern Italy, and held out for nearly 3 years against the best forces the Roman government could ever gather. But at last they were beaten by an army under Lucullus, just as they were about to seize all the shipping board's ships and dash back to Traced. Spartacus died with his men, leading a charge.

Such was the gentleman whom the Germans have chosen as god-father of the revolution. Liebknecht, Liebknecht, Liebknecht, Liebknecht, Liebknecht, Liebknecht, or something like that, would sound so much better.

MUCK DAMAGE IS DONE BY CRITICAL EXPLOSION

NYAOK, N. Y., Feb. 1.—Three persons are known to have been killed and twenty-five injured in an explosion today in the plant of the Aniline Products company here. Several other persons are missing.

The cause of the explosion is unknown but it was stated by officials of the company that a new chemical composition blew up. A Japanese, who was fixing some colors, was torn to bits. The factory was destroyed. Officials estimated the loss at $1,000,000.

REAZOR DESERT FOR SLAYER OF IDAHO WOMAN

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Feb. 1.—Sheriff W. A. Shay left San Bernardino early today at the head of a posse, plunging into the desert east of here on the trail of "Indian Pete," wanted in Idaho for murder.

"Indian Pete" is accused of killing Mrs. Maude J. Douglas at St. Thomas, Idaho, and also of killing two Idaho prospectors named Hancock and Taylor near St. Thomas and chopping their bodies to pieces with an axe.

Word was received last night that he was traced to the desert east of San Bernardino, where he is believed to be in hiding.

ITALY'S RESTRICTIONS SEVERELY BLOW TO INDUSTRY

BOSTON, Feb. 1.—Italy's restrictions on importation of shoes and leather, announced today, is a blow to the industry in this country, not so much as it affects trade at the present time, but as it bears upon potential trade in the future.

This was the opinion of shoe and leather manufacturers of New England today. Thomas W. Anderson, secretary of the New England Shoe and Leather association, declared that shoe and leather interests were looking to Italy as a big buyer in the future. One company here has already established a branch in Rome.

ITALY ANNOUNCES SOME RESTRICTIONS ON IMPORTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Following Great Britain's lead in barring certain kinds of raw materials from import, the high commissioner for Italy has announced restrictions upon the importation of leather and shoes into Italy. The way trade board said today. "Imports of leather or of any kind of shoes from any foreign country and for account of private concerns," are prohibited by the order. It also announced that no authorization for the transportation of leather and shoes from country of origin will be given.

SEVERAL ARES INJURED TO CLASH WITH STRIKERS

GLASGOW, Feb. 1.—Several persons were injured today in clashes between striking shipworkers and the police. Batons were freely used when the police charged into the crowds. The disturbances grew until mounted police men were called and restored order. Many arrests were made.

Four thousand strikers in West Lothian district (northwest of Edinburgh) went on strike today for higher wages, a six-hour day and a five day week.

THE NEW PARTY

The formation of a new political party, namely, a national labor party, is in line with the trend of the times both at home and abroad.

One of Mr. Gompers' main objections appears to lie in the view that labor could never hope to elect a president.

The platform of the new party will undoubtedly be revised. As it now exists it is impossible as a vehicle upon which to ride into even a comparative victory.

Eventually cooler counsel will prevail, as it always does, and labor will propose a course of action which will not confine support of the party to its own members alone.

JERUSALEM, Jan. 1 (by mail).—The life of two periods, distant by many centuries, seems to flow along the roads that lead to this ancient city.

Altogether, with the present means of transport by rail, the great improvement in the water supply and the rapid introduction of European methods and customs, it may be hoped a year or two of peace will change this country into a real "land of milk and honey."

Lieutenant Bracken On His Way Home

Twin Falls Officer Lands at Vancouver on a Transport from Siberia

First Lieutenant Leo F. Bracken landed Friday in Vancouver from Siberia, according to a telegram received from him by his mother. He is expected to arrive in Twin Falls the first of next week.

Lieutenant Bracken has been on duty with the American forces in Siberia since last fall. Word received from him has been meager. Upon the death of his father, the late Mayor F. F. Bracken last November, steps were taken toward securing his discharge from the service which was ordered some weeks ago.

Mrs. Leo F. Bracken, who resumed her employment as a teacher at Enid, Oklahoma, after her husband embarked for Siberia, has resigned her position February 12 to join him here.

SERVICE MAKES AMERICANS OUT OF PETITIONERS

Carl Ivor Peterson and Jan Koster Become Citizens Upon Enlistment Under New Law—Others Pass Tests

The petitions of two residents of Twin Falls county for American citizenship were dismissed by Judge W. A. Babcock in district court here Saturday morning for the reason that both became citizens of the United States under the new naturalization laws when they entered the military service subsequent to the filing of the petitions.

Two Others Made Citizens

Two other applicants, Neil McKenzie of Buhl, a native of Scotland, and Carl Oscar Carlson of Buhl, a native of Sweden, passed the examination satisfactorily and were admitted to citizenship Saturday.

The case of Antille Fabron of Murtaugh a native of Switzerland, was dismissed without prejudice for the reason that one of his witnesses could not qualify as a witness touching upon the present residence in the United States.

Must Start Again

Richard A. Suber, formerly a resident of Burley, a subject of Great Britain, will have to file a new application if he desires to become a citizen of the United States, the court ruling Saturday that his case could not be continued further.

FURNISHES POINTS ON DETECTING OF POISONS

Farm Bureau Home Demonstration Department Identifies Potatoes and Botulism

Quoting from the address here during the week of the joint conference of Mrs. Alpha Holt, state university extension workers, the home demonstration department of the county farm bureau points out the difference in insect organisms that develop in canned vegetables and in canned meats, as follows:

Botulism is the poison that develops in defectively canned vegetables. Potatoes is the poison in defectively canned meats.

Either vegetables or meats that are opening, seem suspicious in any way should be destroyed without tasting, either by burning or burying, preferably with the container.

Four drops of the juice from the asparagus that caused the deaths in Boise recently, killed a rabbit.

Botulism is destroyed by heat. There fore all canned vegetables on opening should be heated to boiling point, even if they are to be used for salads in which case they may be cooled after ward.

Potatoes does not exist in a can of meat in which the jelly is intact. It jelly forms on most meats when can is not, although not on brains. If a jelly does form on meat and later the meat turns liquid, do not use the meat or taste it. A perfect jelly in good condition when the can is opened is the best guarantee against botulism.

REPORTS CONDITION OF UNEMPLOYMENT SERIOUS

Area Where There Is Surplus of Labor Over Demand Is Widening Rapidly—Shortage Decreasing

Telegraphic reports received by the United States employment service for the current week on conditions of employment and unemployment all over the country indicate that the general trend of the situation is becoming more serious. On December 10, 1918, twenty-five per cent of the cities reporting on shortage and surplus reported a shortage of labor, twenty and one-half per cent reported a surplus of labor, and sixty per cent reported that the supply about equalled the demand.

On December 3 there was reported a total shortage of labor of 34,000, and surplus totaling only 12,000. During the following eight weeks this shortage was reduced to 28,000; while the surplus reached the figure of 210,000. The rest of the people feel that the shortage of labor, surplus of both skilled and unskilled labor are indicated everywhere.

Irish Leader to Study Condition in Agriculture

Noted Man Arrives in America to Obtain First Hand Information

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Sir Horace Plunkett, Irish leader, started on a tour of the United States today to obtain first hand information on a number of things, he said. Sir Horace arrived last night on the White Star liner Adriatic.

Asked if he had come to the United States to agitate for the Irish question, he said he did not think that would be necessary, as everybody understood the situation.

"I am simply going out west to study the agricultural conditions. You know I have always been interested in American agriculture."

Noting a newspaper headline reading "Self-Determination of Small Nations Debated by Supreme War Council," Plunkett said with a smile, "I wonder if Ireland is one of those small nations?"

CERTIFICATES PAYABLE TO ORIGINAL OWNERS

Secretary of the Treasury Notices All to Withdraw From Offers to Buy War Savings Stamps

Notification to all persons to refrain from offers to buy war savings stamps or accept them in trade, recently issued by the secretary of the treasury, is the following which has been received by Postmaster M. A. Strouk:

The following quoted from a notice issued by the Secretary of the Treasury:

"My attention has been directed to the numerous offers made by unscrupulous persons through advertisements and in other ways to buy War Savings Certificate Stamps, and as a result of such offers, I am informed that owners of such securities have suffered material losses which could have been avoided by redemption of the War Savings Certificate Stamps at post offices, as provided by law.

"In order that the interests of the owners of War Savings Certificate Stamps of either series may be safeguarded, I hereby notify all persons to refrain from offers to buy War Savings Stamps or accept the same in trade."

In pursuance of the foregoing, postmasters are directed not to pay War Savings Certificates to persons or firms known to be buying, or publicly offering to buy, War Savings Stamps or Certificates from the owners, unless positive evidence is submitted that the certificates were originally issued to the persons or firms presenting them for payment.

When consulted by owners of War Savings Stamps in regard to offers to purchase such stamps at less than current value, postmasters should invite their attention to the fact that War Savings Certificates may be cashed at money order offices after ten days written notice, and that this privilege should be pointed out at the need of the government for the proceeds of the War Savings Stamp issue is great, and the holders should be urged to retain their stamps until their necessities are urgent.

ONLY TWO NEW CASES OF INFLUENZA IN BURLEY

Health Conditions Throughout Cassia County are Improved—Some Theories Exploded

BURLEY—Only two new cases of influenza have appeared within the city of Burley since the city was lifted on January 22, and those are the only strict quarantine, says the Burley Bulletin. The situation is equally improved in the entire Burley district and all throughout the county.

It seems that the disease has had its run for the second period in this section. If we were to have the experience of other sections, we will see again, as that is the history of the influenza throughout England and France and in sections of our own country where it made its first appearance.

Practically all former theories as to how the disease is spread have been exploded. Masks have been discarded as a means of saving the contagion, and public gatherings are no longer considered a source of danger. A strict quarantine of the premises where the disease exists, followed by a thorough fumigation, seems to offer the best means of combating influenza at this time.

THE MOONEY CASE

A little more than half an hour after the start of the parade, the unexpected happened. Thirty feet from Market, on Stuart street, a short block from the parade's starting point, a bomb exploded. Six persons were killed or injured, four died, and more than forty others were injured and maimed. This was on Saturday afternoon.

That same afternoon a shabby individual, evidently a down-and-out, tried to climb over the ropes around the scene of the explosion, stating that he had a communication to make to the police sergeant, but the officer pushed him back. On Monday morning, before a reward had been offered, this same individual appeared at the special bomb bureau opened by the police department to trace down the perpetrators of the crime, and stated that a few minutes before the explosion he had seen a short man with a suitcase on the corner of Stuart and Market. The man, according to the down-and-out's statement, was acting queerly, moving his head from side to side as though it were on a pivot. The man put the suitcase down on the sidewalk close to the wall, walked to the door of the corner saloon, pushed it open and talked with another man who left the boss unperceived. The man then took out his watch with the clock on the tower of the Ferry building and separated from the others.

The man who made this statement was John McDonald, a trapeze performer, who had been a cripple for life by a fall, who was doing odd jobs, working in restaurants, and for a time meant that he had to stay in cheap lodging houses or the Salvation Army barracks. His story interested the officer in charge, Police Lieutenant Goff. Producing a number of photographs of known or suspected dynamites, he asked McDonald, examining one McDonald, according to the officer, picked out the photograph of Warren K. Billings, a young radical who had already been sent to the penitentiary for carrying a satchel full of dynamite on a Sacramento street-car, as the man who deposited the suitcase on the sidewalk.

When McDonald saw the photograph of Thomas J. Mooney, according to Lieutenant Goff, he identified it as a picture of the man who came out of the saloon and joined Billings, except that the man he had seen did not have the mustache he wore when the photograph was taken.

McDonald's statement thus led the police director to the two principal defendants. Four days after the explosion, Billings was apprehended in a hospital clinic, where he sought treatment for eczema, and two days thereafter, Thomas Mooney, his wife, Rosa, and Edward Nolan, their friend, together with Israel Weinberg, a Russian Jew, who has become a defector of a Henry bus, were placed in custody. The foundation was laid for the world-wide controversy over the Mooney case—Walter V. Woelke in the February Sunset.

INJURED OFFICER DIES

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 1.—Lieut. B. C. Spaulburg, one of five army officers injured in an automobile accident shortly after midnight, died at Fort Omaha hospital this morning. Another officer, whose name could not be learned, is said to have been probably fatally injured. A lieutenant named Davis is seriously injured. The other two officers escaped serious injury. The accident happened near the large service over near the city. Witnesses of the accident said the car was going at about fifty miles an hour.

SCHOOLS REOPEN WITH IMPROVED ATTENDANCE

Work is Arranged to Permit of Pupils of Burley Completing Courses in Shortened Year

BURLEY—The Burley schools opened Monday of this week, after being closed since the first of the year because of the influenza with a good attendance, says the Burley Bulletin.

There are about 1,000 children in the school at this time. This is about 80 per cent of the enrollment, and is much better than when school closed December 31 and 2 per cent better than it was during same week last year.

H. M. Broadbent, principal of the high school, has the Junior High school working on the supervised study plan. This plan provides for six hour periods for all junior high school classes. Half of the time is devoted to study and half to recitation. The study is directed and supervised by the teacher in charge. It is an excellent plan, and is working well. Teachers and pupils are both pleased with the arrangement.

During the vacation, a mailed course of study for each subject was written up by the teachers in the various departments. Courses are now being typewritten in the office. A printed course may be issued soon.

The programs of all the elementary school classes have been doubled up. Reading, arithmetic and geography will now recite twice a day instead of once a day as formerly. In this way most of the work of the grades for this term will be made up by the end of the year.

LIFTING OF BAN TO FOLLOW QUARANTINE

Business Men of Burley Welcome Repeal of Closing Order—Schools and Churches to Resume

BURLEY—After a week of strict quarantine, the lifting of the ban will be lifted on Saturday at midnight, says the Minidoka County Patriot.

The school board met this morning following the action of the health authorities, and decided to open schools Monday morning. The same conditions will govern before the last quarantine. A nurse will be in constant attendance and the pupils will be watched for any signs of the influenza.

Services will be held in the churches on Sunday, it is expected.

Conditions have greatly improved the past week, and few cases of influenza being reported, and it is believed the disease has been eradicated for the time being. Last week Burley lifted the ban, and shortly after the commissioners, acting as board of health, put on a stringent quarantine, guarding the bridges going into Cassia county and not allowing anyone to pass without a permit.

The business men of Burley will welcome the lifting of the ban as business in many lines has been affected. The Star theater will not open for some time, according to Manager Wilson, but the Mutual will put on a feature bill Monday night. Manager Wilson states that he will thoroughly disinfect the play house and use every endeavor to protect the health of the movie fans.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—The senate today passed a bill authorizing the war department to validate informal war contracts. The measure provides, for an appeal from the war department decisions on specific contracts to an appeal committee. The bill affects millions of dollars in war orders which were given by department officials but for which formal contracts never were signed.

GERMANS FEED YOURSELVES

There can be no peace in the world until the inhabitants of every part have their stomachs filled regularly with nourishing food. Hunger breeds desperation and desperation breeds anarchy. Look at Russia. The bread line, with bread lacking at both ends, was the main spring of the Russian revolution. So far the course of the revolution in Germany runs in a groove exactly parallel to the path taken by the Russian upheaval. Whether Germany drifts into the red whirlpool of chaos apparently depends upon the willingness of the allied nations to allow the import of food into Germany.

Hoover and the food administration have made it clear that they do not want a single American to save an ounce of wheat, meat or fat to feed Germany. Whatever food surplus the United States has available will be used by Britain, Belgium, France, Italy and the friendly neutrals. But there is in Argentina a large store of wheat with a new crop being harvested. There is also in Argentina a large store of German gold. Hoover proposes that the German ships lying idle in the Atlantic be employed to carry wheat and surplus wheat to Germany, the surplus being the German gold, improving the business in Argentina, creating a larger demand for American goods and at the same time enabling Germany to keep order and resume work. Without orderly productive work there can be no indemnity payments.

In other words Hoover proposes to let Germany buy food so that the way begin to work for the Allies. From the February Sunset.

WOODROW AND THE KING

Man is a queer creature. Apparently he loves to make him a fetish, crawl in front of it on his belly and beat his forehead in submission. Since the dawn of history man has made and unmade kings as easily as a child makes mud-pies. They have lifted one of their number on to the throne, worshipped him, trembled at his power, kissed his feet and, tiring of him, they have often killed him as the first in danger of a king's wrath. They have proved that king was common clay depending for their prerogatives solely upon the acquiescence of their equals, yet the worshipping of royal personages as though they were appointees of the deity has continued to this day.

Woodrow Wilson's grandfather was a humble subject of the mighty British king. Woodrow Wilson sat at the king's table, the elected representative of the richest, most powerful nation on earth. Woodrow Wilson addressed the king: "But he did not say 'Your majesty' or 'Your royal highness.' Knowing that the elected head of a hundred million occupied a more exalted position than the hereditary, titled and nominal ruler of forty million, and knowing the hollow emptiness of royal pomp and trappings, knowing the character of the common clay of which the kings are made, Woodrow Wilson declined by humble speech to give homage where none was due and smashed another precedent and addressed the king as plain 'sir' and 'you.' From the February Sunset.

AMERICAN FLYER TELLS TALES OF THE BIG SCRAP

Wearing Many Decorations for Service the Famous Ace Is Given a Rousing Welcome to the United States

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—American flyers coming home from the war are going to take a greater interest in the news than they are running it. Captain Eddy Rickenbacker declared here today.

Rickenbacker arrived on the Adriatic. The American "ace of aces" wore also decorations of France, Britain and the United States. He has an official record of having downed twenty German planes.

Conductive to Thought
"It seems like a dream to have gone through that fighting hell," he said, "seeing so many men die—some of them your own pals. It makes a fellow realize what life means and what a fine country this is that men should fight so for it. It certainly has given me a new and broader vision. When I was being shot straight down to earth from a height of 5,000 or 6,000 feet to escape death, you're bound to begin to think."

"Personally, I feel I shall take a greater interest in this country and in who is going to run it. I will want to know whether this man that is best fitted to hold the position of president of the government. And this spirit I have found among thousands of men who have been fighting for it."

Plans Not Formed
American flyers did their best clean up work at St. Mihiel, Rickenbacker said.

"His plans are not yet made. He would rather remain in flying than go to the motor school, but he fears that post-war aviation will have little of the thrill of war-time flying. Rickenbacker, it was learned, sustained a broken arm during the battle of Chateau Thierry when he crashed earthward at 300 miles an hour. The sudden change in atmospheric pressure did the damage.

Major Rickenbacker's Work
Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, American ace, plans to devote his time to the greatest air force in the world. Commenting today on his experiences in the war, Rickenbacker declared that as soon as possible he is going to Washington to offer his services to the government for a responsible length of time and is thinking seriously of volunteering on a national tour to address the people, who, he said, do not know the difference between a bombing and a combat plane.

"America's future depends upon its air service," said Rickenbacker. "The biggest army and the biggest navy in the world would be useless in modern warfare without the largest air service."

Outlines Plan
Captain Rickenbacker declared America should be able to mobilize within twenty-four hours ten thousand aviators, with five high class planes for each man.

"Construction of air planes and control of the service should be separate," he continued. "It should dominate both the army and navy for the simple reason that air dominates the ocean and the earth."

"The American people must be aroused to these facts at once. The government deserves some criticism for not allowing more to be known of the great use of airplanes in the war. The mastery of airplanes has completely changed warfare."

THINK FIGHT FRAMED
DENVER, Colo., Feb. 1.—Flight promoters here believe it is all "framed" to hold the Willard-Dempsey championship ship battle on the fourth of July in New Orleans. However, if a change in plans is made, Denver promoters will be ready to stage the bout here, having obtained Governor Shoup's tentative approval.

Many Rats Destroyed
A club in Kent, England, destroyed 15,000 rats in three seasons at an insignificant cost. Women's municipal leagues in the United States have recently taken up the matter of rat eradication, notably in Baltimore and Boston.

Says Conference of Russians Is Not Practicable

Bolsheviks Cannot Be Arrested - Is Verdict of Noted Authority on Meeting

VLADIVOSTOK, Via TOKIO, Jan. 30 (dohney).—General Horvath, manager of the Chinese Eastern Railway, declared today the proposed conference of all Russian factions in the Prince's Islands, Sea of Marjome, is impracticable.

"We cannot trust the Bolsheviks to observe a truce, were one declared," he said. "The decision of the peace conference is impracticable."

Official estimate today of strength of the Bolshevik army on various fronts was 200,000, with reserves of over 300,000.

Horvath is a Russian, but does not speak authoritatively, it is believed, for any of the Russian factions.

CLAIMS ATHLETE IS NOT INDIAN

Man Who Got Exemption By His Alleged Parentage Is on Trial for Falsity

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 1.—William "Lone Star" Dietz, Pullman and Maro Island Marine Football coach, stands indicted today by the federal grand jury here on a charge of false registration under the draft.

Witnesses, who know Dietz as a boy, testified his mother's hair was flaxen and that his father spoke with a strong German accent. The father was formerly sheriff at Baraboo, Wisconsin.

The contention was that Dietz was not the Indian he claimed to be in his questionnaire, but was of German parentage.

The exemption claim under the Indian origin.

Several weeks ago J. C. Arrgall of local draft board number 2 brought the Dietz exemption claim into the limelight with a vigorous attack on the spirit of a man who will accept the government's claim that he is an Indian and claim exemption. This put the department of justice on the case and the accusations brought about the indictment.

Denies Charges
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 1.—"Here's nothing to it; it's a personal affair. Somebody fanned it on me. I'm being persecuted and they're trying to kill me in the public eye."

That was the statement of William (Lone Star) Dietz today when informed by the United Press that he had been indicted in Spokane for making a false draft registration.

"If they want the truth as to whether I'm an Indian they can look me up in the records of Piney Bluffs, Dakota, Indian reservation or at Carlyle where I played football," Dietz said.

The famous coach and athlete was unenthusiastic about the news he had been indicted.

Offered Services
"Before there was any draft I offered my services to the marines," Dietz said. "When I became coach of the Maro Island marines I did so because I wanted to work where I could do the most for Uncle Sam. That always was my attitude."

Dietz said it might be some one had mixed his record up with that of a cousin in Wisconsin.

"I have fourteen or fifteen cousins in Wisconsin," he said.

J. C. Arrgall of the Spokane draft board has been handling the case since we had some trouble in a hotel at Spokane one night. He accused me of talking too much sugar in my coffee. But somebody is going to pay for this."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Representatives of the copper and smelting works in Arizona, Montana and Utah, conferring with Secretary of Labor Wilson today, were urged to find other employment for the copper market again becomes normal. The representative said the situation was grave because large numbers of men attracted by the high wartime wages in the copper works are now unemployed.

THREE CHINESE ARE FOUND DEAD

High Caste Mongolians Meet With Mysterious End in Capital City

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—With its maniac-murderer mystery solved, the national capital was confronted today with a new mystery—by the slaying of three high-caste Chinese, belonging to the Chinese educational mission.

Solution of the city's maniac mystery came over night, with the arrest of a light-skinned negro, giving the name of James Jackson. He confessed he had attacked three women in their homes, shooting two and choking the third, afterward trying to take his own life. While Jackson was making his own confession, police were trying to run down the murderer of the Chinese.

Dr. Theodore B. Young, director of the mission and father of a new education scheme for China, was found dead in his home with two assistants, Ben Sen Wu and C. H. Hsio, students of George Washington University.

Whether robbery was the motive or whether the slaying was the outcome of some strange order 'found in something the police have not yet determined.

The three had been dead some time—probably since Wednesday.

Signs of a struggle were apparent and a revolver lay near one body. Dr. Wong was found in the sitting room of his quarters in a quiet Northwest Washington locality the other two lay dead in the basement.

FAMOUS FLYERS ARRIVE FROM BATTLEFIELDS OF FRANCE
NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Lieutenant A. R. Dray, Oakland, California, who was with the British royal flying corps and had been wounded twice in a battle with German flyers, 6,000 feet in the air, landed here today, from the White Star liner Adriatic.

Another western flyer was Lieutenant Douglas Campbell, San Jose, California, who wore a D. S. C. and Lieutenant Steve Johnstone, San Francisco.

Newark Declares Reform in Dance Gambol of Youth

No More Shivers to Be Permitted in New Jersey Dance Hall Is Decree

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 1.—And it came to pass that in the year of Our Lord, MCMXIX, the pure in heart of the city called Newark did promulgate an eleventh commandment, to-wit:

"Thou shalt dance only with thy feet; verily, the shimmy shiver is a thing of evil and shall be cast out beyond the pale of society!"

This great movement (reform) was builded upon the desire of the city patriars that the youths and maidens should confine their gambols to those innocent pleasures which are termed trotting of the fox and stepping ball.

The new commandment is written in the book of ordinances, and is effective on the morrow, when all shimmy shivering here ceaseth.

Reports Conflicting Regarding Bolsheviks

No Definite Acceptance of the Peace Offer Has Yet Reached the Allies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Reports that the Archangel government of Northern Russia would send delegates to the all-Russian conference at the Prince's Islands, were contained in the diplomatic messages received at the bureau here today. There was no confirmation from the state department.

Previous reports had been that the anti-Bolshevik government, situated at Archangel, would refuse to send delegates.

The Qma government in Siberia and eastern Russia has communicated with Paris regarding the conference, it is announced, making numerous inquiries and asking certain guarantees. The first action of both these republican governments was to flatly decline the proposed meeting with the Bolsheviki.

It was learned here yesterday that strong pressure was being exerted on the republican factions by the United States toward the acceptance of the proposition.
