GREAT CHANGES MAY BE RESULT OF BIG STRIKES

Socialism of All Industries Is Expected By British Leaders and Shop Stewards Councils

THINKS LENINE GROUP LOOKS VERY PEACEFUL

Hopes to Establish Revolutionary Committee Similar to Those in Force in Russia at Present

By EDWIN HULLINGER
LONDON, Feb. 3.—The present strikes in Great Britain are the first step toward socialization of all industries, and establishment of revolutionary committees like those in Russia, William Z. Watson, member of the Shop Stewards' national administrative council, declared today.

Watson frankly admitted the shop stewards' sympathy with Bolshevik philosophy and declared they hope to participate in the international revolutionary congress to be called by Premier Lenine.

"The shop stewards hope to establish revolutionary committees like those in Russia," said Watson.

"Socialist strikes are the first step toward socialization of British industries and their control by the workers. We sympathize with Bolshevik philosophy and hope to enter the international revolutionary congress to be called by Lenine."

"I believe America misunderstands the import regulations which are effective March 1," said B. E. Hathorn, controller of the department of import regulations of the board of trade.

"It is not intended as an embargo, but as a resumption of wartime control to enable the government to keep tabs on the character of imports until British industries return to peace conditions and the government works out a permanent trade policy."

"There is every reason to believe that American products will be admitted on a ration basis under the license system. We are now considering the quantity which will be permitted. For instance the government probably will grant a certain ration for importation of American boots and shoes or automobiles, such as 50 or 60 per cent of the 1918 importation."

"I must say emphatically that there is no discrimination against American manufacturers, as the regulations will apply to all nations."

Uses Hypnotism On Young Girl To Forge Check

Strange Story Is Told By Orphan Who Is Charged With Forgery

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The police are searching for a modern Evengill, who, by hypnotic influence, forced a young girl to pass checks he had forged. The girl, Norma McLeod, 20, was released by Judge Crane after she had told her weird story. She was arrested last November for passing a forged check for $150.

DO NOT INTEND A DIRECT BLOW AT AMERICANS

Great Britain Declares She Does Not Mean to Discriminate in Favor of Any One Nation By Her Regulations

LONDON, Feb. 3.—The new British import regulations are not intended as a discrimination against the United States, inasmuch as they apply to all nations, The United Press was officially informed.

"I believe America misunderstands the import regulations which are effective March 1," said B. E. Hathorn, controller of the department of import regulations of the board of trade.

"It is not intended as an embargo, but as a resumption of wartime control to enable the government to keep tabs on the character of imports until British industries return to peace conditions and the government works out a permanent trade policy."

"There is every reason to believe that American products will be admitted on a ration basis under the license system. We are now considering the quantity which will be permitted. For instance the government probably will grant a certain ration for importation of American boots and shoes or automobiles, such as 50 or 60 per cent of the 1918 importation."

"I must say emphatically that there is no discrimination against American manufacturers, as the regulations will apply to all nations."

BILL CREATING JEROME COUNTY THROUGH HOUSE

Legislators Approve Proposition of Subtracting Territory From Lincoln, Gooding and Minidoka

ANOTHER NONPARTISAN PLAN IS PUT TO SLEEP

Indefinite Postponement Is Fate Met By Senator Booth's Scheme for Election of Commissioners

(Special to The News)
BOISE, Feb. 3.—With eighteen negative votes, the bill creating Jerome county of Lincoln, Gooding and Minidoka counties was passed in the Idaho house of representatives this morning after a fight which has lasted through the entire session. It had previously passed the senate.

Indefinite postponement was the fate met this morning in the senate of the bill by Senator Booth which would have made county commissioners elected from separate districts. The reference committee first ordered that the measure be not printed and when Booth sought to have the committee's action changed by the senate the postponement resulted.

Against the action of the senate hit a Booth measure when the upper body did another of his bills. This time it was the bill that would tax unused electric power and on the vote, but four senators, all of them non-partisans, voted with the man from Lewis.

The senate this morning passed the Whitcomb bill to allow district courts to take strictly agricultural lands outside city limits when the piece is five acres or more.

Quick action met a house memorial this morning in which the congress is asked to legislate to reclaim 2,000,000 acres in Idaho. This would include the Brunese, Sunnyside and Dubois projects and several minor plans.

Two additional judges are asked for the supreme court in the state in a bill in the house by the judiciary committee and two tuberculosis hospitals are suggested in another new measure.

That women doing men's work should be paid the same wages as men is the subject of the women members of the house, Mrs. Carrie Harpur White and Dr. Emma Drake. They are the authors of a bill in the lower body with these provisions.

DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE OF DAMNING CHARACTER IS IN HANDS OF BELGIANS

Complete Records of German General Staff Show Detailed Plans for Destruction of Belgian Machinery Which Could Not Be Carried Away—Capture of Evidence Is Interesting Story

WOULD HAVE SPLIT BELGIUM INTO TWO SEPARATE GERMAN PROVINCES

PARIS, Feb. 3.—The Belgian government has in its possession what are believed to be complete documents of the German general staff relating to Belgium, including the details for Germany's annexation of the country and instructions for carrying off and destroying machinery. The story of the capture of the documents, one of the most unique of the war, together with what their examination has revealed so far, reached here today from authoritative Belgian sources.

The papers filled an entire freight car. In the rush of evacuation, after the armistice was signed, this particular car was run on a sidetrack by mistake. As soon as its absence was discovered, the general staff naturally ordered a quick and complete search for it. They chose to direct the search, a lowly civilian official, in the person of the head of the "bureau de depot." His most exciting work heretofore had been to get the last grain of barley from the Belgian fields. The persistence and anxiety displayed in this search led Belgian officials to assign a special service operative to track him. When the car was finally located on an isolated siding, the Belgians arrested the German and seized the car.

WILSON WANTS TO FINISH UP LEAGUE PLANS

President Is Anxious for Consummation of Program This Week and Is Planning a Publicity Campaign

(By FRED S. TERBORG)
PARIS, Feb. 3.—President Wilson today began his drive for consummation of the league of nations program before the end of the week.

Refreshed by a day of complete rest, the president, following his address on the subject of the league before the chamber of deputies this afternoon, was to confer with the special committee which is working on details of the league's "fourteen points."

The president was escorted last night to the Hotel Cordon Rouge to be taken up on the definite action of the league upon which several tentative agreements have already been reached. Paul Deschanel, president of the chamber, was selected to greet President Wilson in the presence of President Poincaré, Premier Clemenceau and other celebrities. The situation was similar to that of an address before a joint session of the American congress, as members of the French Senate sat with the deputies. The president was escorted last night to the chamber by a detachment of the republican guards.

Working on League Plans.
The president is working in the closest intimacy with Lord Cecil and General Smuts on the draft of the constitution which provides for a permanent organization to meet regularly and to have the machinery for arbitration and economic penalizations. Complete agreement on the frame work is generally anticipated before premier Lloyd George leaves for London at the end of the week.

President Wilson met with the peace bureau this morning. The Balkan situation was discussed with particular reference to Greece's political and territorial claims. Premier Venizelos was the principal speaker.

Considerable Publicity Idea.
The president has under consideration plans for reporting progress of the peace conference regularly to congress in the future. Reports from the United States indicate there is need of explaining the details of various problems being worked out as an understanding is obvious. The tone of congressional debates is liable to result in misapprehension by the other delegates here.

When Wilson arrives in the United States three weeks hence—he is expected to call February 14—he expects sufficient progress to have been made for a comprehensive report to congress. Colonel House is recovering rapidly and is expected to take full part in the peace work this week.

NAMES CROWDER AS LEGAL HEAD IN DEPARTMENT

Reappointment Was Considered Doubtful By Friends But President Wilson Ignored Politics and Feuds

By CARL D. GREGG
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Major-General Enoch Crowder will be reappointed. It was believed today when it was learned on reliable authority that President Wilson will again name him for the post.

Crowder's friends were doubtful as to his reappointment until today. Some of them claimed that he would automatically go out of the service if not reappointed before February 15. They feared that what amounted to had blood between him and Chief of Staff March would operate to sidetrack him.

Many Obstacles in Way.
They declared privately that many obstacles had been put in the way of the man, who made the draft-marine an admitted success. They claimed, too, that a report from the Chief of Staff still lay against Crowder's record. Whether or not this is true, the war department has refused to allow his record to be made public. Secretary of War Baker and Chief of Staff March have consistently declined to discuss the report, while Crowder's friends have accused Baker privately of failing to act to clear the record after promising to do so.

MUST EXTEND ROAD CONTROL OR ELSE QUIT

Director General of Railroads Lays Down Ultimatum on Subject of Federal Operation of Lines of Country

WOULD COMPROMISE ON THREE YEAR EXTENSION

Walker D. Hines Tells Senate Interstate Commerce Committee That Present Situation Is Intolerable

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Government railroad control must be extended for at least three years or be shelved at once. That is the ultimatum laid down today by Walker D. Hines, director general of railroads.

He proposed a three year extension period as a compromise because of bitter opposition to even the recent five year recommendation of William G. McAdoo. In any event, Hines declared, when he faced the senate interstate commerce committee today, the present 21 month limit on government operation is intolerable. He had in mind the resolution introduced by Senator Cummings to prevent return of railroads to private control unless that limit expires.

Against Federal Ownership.
Hines came out frankly against government ownership but earnestly appealed for adoption of a three-year period. He favors private operation by a few companies under a profit guarantee and strict governmental supervision. "It is a three year extension would accomplish a great deal to remove the difficulties which are inherent in the 21 months' plan," Hines told the senate committee. "Even three years would segregate and spread out and in part eliminate the maintenance and the technological factors which under the 21 months' plan promise to converge so as to do the maximum damage to the public service."

After Next Election.
"Also the three year extension would give opportunity for legislation immediately following instead of immediately preceding the presidential election. "But," he added, "I believe the five year extension would be much better because it would give added stability."

Hines, realizing that this plan faces widespread opposition among both parties in congress, argued from every possible angle for its adoption. "Unless a reasonable extension shall be granted it will be contrary to the public interest to hold the railroads for the full 21 months," Hines declared.

Choice of Two Courses.
"We had better terminate the control and go back promptly to the old system or we should extend the control long enough to admit of an adequate opportunity to adopt a radical and new system which will really bring about a permanent solution."

Official reports at the railroad administration are that unless congress votes an extension, a proclamation will be issued in March turning the roads back about March 30.

COUNCIL HOLDS MASS MEETING

Public Gathering of Union Labor Men and I. W. W. Is Largely Attended

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 3.—The second mass meeting of the Tacoma soldiers' and workmen's council packed two halls to overflowing last night. Three thousand union labor men and women, members of the I. W. W. and a sprinkling of soldiers in uniform attended.

Russian Bolshevism was openly advocated and cheered. The writings of Nicholas Lenine, premier of the Russian soviet government, in many forms were circulated. The audience joined in singing the I. W. W. song, "Hold the fort."

Peaceful overthrow of the present form of government in the United States and the taking over of government and industries by the working class was urged by most of the speakers, who included union men, I. W. W. representatives, socialists and soldiers.

FINDS PLAN TO RETURN KAISER

Plot Is Discovered By Americans to Reinstate the Former Emperor

By WEBB MILLER
AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS IN GERMANY, Feb. 3.—(Delayed)—A plot to take up settlement in Germany behind the former kaiser has been unearthed by the American military secret service, it was announced today.

A number of supporters of the old regime were discovered circulating petitions, assuring Wilhelm that his people still maintain confidence in him. Many signatures had been obtained in various parts of the region occupied by the third army. The American authorities are investigating to determine who is back of the movement, which apparently is widespread and probably originated in Berlin.

American military officials have ascertained that the present strength of the German army shows that the organization and staff of all pre-war regiments is being maintained, except those of Alsace and Lorraine, although some of these regiments have been reduced to a thousand men.

ASKS HELP OF PRESIDENT TO STOP MEASURE

Opponents of the Immigration Bill Depend on Wilson in Their Effort to Defeat Its Passage

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Opponents of the Burnett four-year immigrant restriction bill are depending on the aid of President Wilson in their effort to defeat the measure.

While no congressman has yet had any direct expression from the president on the bill, its opponents today pointed out that all previous stands taken by the president on immigration questions would, if followed now, put him on their side.

Vetted Other Measures

The president twice vetoed a literacy test measure and immigration restriction not nearly so drastic as the one now proposed.

In addition to this, Representatives Stiegel and Sulzby, who are leading the fight on the bill, believe the president's position of "internationalism" will cause him to come out against bearing immigrants even before he leaves Europe.

If the house rules committee acts favorably on the bill next Tuesday an effort will be started at once to have the president come out against the bill either in a letter or a statement.

Falling in this, those fighting the bill are confident that the president will veto it when he gets back to this country and the situation is laid before him.

Noted Speaker Says Jews are Idealists

Declares the Israelitic Nation Is Too Scattered to Gather Again

PARIS, Feb. 3.—Georges Carpentier, nationalistic Zionist Jew, voiced here by Dr. Martin of the University of Pennsylvania, distinguished orientalist was the cause of hot discussion here today.

Speaking at the Sinai Temple, Dr. Jastrow declared "The modern concept of Zionism is based largely on liberal belief, of biblical prophecies and upon sentiment. There is today no real Jewish nation, and we Jews may as well reconcile ourselves to that fact."

"The Orthodox Jew still believes his people will inhabit Zion, prays for it and hopes for it—but it is sheer sentiment, devoid of practical application."

FRENCH CHAMPION WILL NOT FIGHT BIG AMERICAN

Refuses to Consider Match With Willard When He Can Get Easier Money

PARIS, Feb. 3.—Georges Carpentier, French heavyweight champion, effectively put the question on talk of matching him with Jess Willard when he declared today that he can make enough money without fighting a man of Willard's size. He said he had no negotiations with Tex Rickard regarding a fight with Jess.

"Anyway," he asked, "why should I tackle Willard when I can pick up plenty of money in Europe by boxing men of my own weight?"

At present Carpentier weighs 180 and is in the finest physical condition, owing to his rigorous work in connection with his instructorship at the French army school of physical training. "He is matched to fight Dick Smith, British heavyweight, at Strasbourg, April 7. After that he will again take on Bombardeur Wells, the British champion, who he knocked out in their last meeting."

Idaho Falls Men Secure Thoroughbred Imported Belgian Stallion at Cost of $4,000

IDAHO FALLS.—A record price for horse-flesh in Idaho was paid this week says the Idaho Falls post, when Herman Wasserman and Martin Brothers of Idaho Falls paid $5,000 for the grand two-year-old Belgian stallion, Paul DeLaveny. This is the highest price ever paid for a stallion in the state of Idaho, and goes to show that the state has enterprising farmers who are lovers of good horses and believe there is a great future for them, and that they can be raised here good enough for foreign countries.

H. E. Metz, well known horse importer, who sold the stallion, has shipped several hundred head to Idaho and claims that in his 40 years of importing he has never owned one as good.

Relics of Aztecan Era.

Near Phoenix, within the Salt river valley, are to be found seven communal settlements of the same pre-Aztecan era, with central buildings that were far larger than that at Casa Grande, a writer in the Christian Science Monitor states. To the northward and northeast every river valley contains evidence of the passage of at least a portion of these peoples, for some reason leaving their cities and seeking the mountains and the upper plateaus.

Relics of Thousands.

The destruction wrought on all but the hardest wood by the white ant, or termite, is not surprising when a few facts are known of its prolific character. A nest some six feet in height, was found in the tropics, and about one foot below the level of the ground was a conical mound of hard earth. Inside this dwelt the queen mother.

After careful observation she was found to lay 9,120 eggs in an hour. She is known to be unable to lay eggs unless her cell, her only function being to lay eggs.

INTEREST IS SHOWN IN KINDERGARTENS

War Turns Public Attention to Necessity for Care and Education of Children

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Special interest is being shown this winter in legislation to promote the extension of Kindergarten, child care.

During the past year the United States bureau of education has urged civic organizations and women's clubs to work for more Kindergarten as a vital wartime necessity to care for the children whose parents were both busy in the prosecution of the war.

It becomes daily more apparent that the care of the children of the alien is a problem second in importance to none; and as the Kindergarten is known to be a vital Americanizing agency, the interest in this department is receiving special attention at this time.

Word has been received that efforts are being made to secure Kindergarten legislation this winter in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas and Arizona.

The most popular model is the law in force in California under which its Kindergartens have more than 100,000 children.

President Polanco said when opening the peace congress, "But justice is not inert, it does not submit to injustice."

Is it not just to provide for only a small proportion of our children an educational advantage which all are entitled to receive? How awake to the privilege of aiding this movement are invited to write for information to the Kindergarten Extension Division of the United States Bureau of Education or the National Kindergarten Association—both located at 8 West 40th St., New York.

IN PRIORITY LIST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The third sixth and eighth balloon companies and the 308th ammunition train have been placed in priority.

Be Specific.

For business purposes, for social purposes, for any purposes in life, a rule that should admit of no exceptions is: "Be specific in everything you say." Don't take for granted that vague, general statements will properly convey your meaning. General statements, please remember, leave wide room for inference, and there is always the liability that a wrong inference will be drawn.

Intelligent Dog.

The family doctor was making a professional call one afternoon, when Johnny, who happened to be the patient on this occasion, suddenly gave a shudder just as the physician had completed his examination and remarked in a half confidential whisper, "Say, just look at my dorky! I guess he knows you're a doctor, all right. He's got his tongue out."

Hired Hessians.

The half German king, George III of England, employed about 30,000 troops from 50 different German states, especially from Hesse, against the colonists, before the United States was a nation. The reason was that the war was very unpopular, few men enlisted and the government dared not conscript Englishmen to fight their brothers in America.

African Trees.

A wonderful tree, known as the shea, is beginning to attract commercial attention in western Africa. It supplies the natives not only with nuts, which they highly prize, but with a butter that may become an article of commercial importance. It is already exported to Europe, where makers of artificial butter find use for it.

Satisfied With Little Food.

In the Edinburgh (Scotland) zoo there is a crocodile that comes with a rat or a piece of horseflesh every fortnight. There is, in an anecdote which arrived more than a year ago and has since steadily refused to take food of any kind, an example of abatement surprised, however, by an Indian python which during its 12 months stay has not voluntarily taken food.

STOCKMEN ADVISE TO GROW MORE HOGS

Markets of World are Open to Products of Intermountain Country—Demand Large

OGDEN, Feb. 3.—With the minimum basic price for hogs retained for the month of February, no upward or downward change being provided, livestock men believe that farmers and livestock raisers of the entire country will continue the policy of finishing their hogs before they ship them to the packing plants, realizing that it is finishing there in the very best profit.

Grain prices have lowered somewhat in the weeks since the armistice was signed and there are prospects of further reductions in all grain excepting wheat. As the price for hogs, as well as for cattle and sheep, has been maintained at the former figures, the profit for the livestock raiser is relatively better.

Meat products from Ogden, as well as other packing centers of the country, are now being shipped to many European lands. The markets of the world are open to the meats of this country. This demand can not be satisfied by the shipments of one week, one month, or one year. Until the depleted herds of European stocks are re-established, America must supply this meat. Under the great law of supply and demand, this will mean continuation of good prices for livestock.

Stockmen in various lands, together with grain planting this year, will solve the cereal problem and through this same law of supply and demand, cause a price reduction for grain foods. The result will be that the farmer who feeds his stock with his crops will reap the double harvest of profit.

With this in view, livestock men declare, farmers should arrange their plans so as to raise even more cattle, sheep and hogs—particularly the latter, this year.

IDLE HANDS

There is a world of truth in the adage that Satan finds mischief for idle hands to do, and in the period following the war the fewer idle hands there are, the better it will be for everybody concerned.

Essential justice demands that the returning service man shall be reinstated in the position which he left when he put on the uniform.

There is enough of necessary public work to be done to furnish work for every returning soldier, and that amount of work is necessary whether it is done by service men or by men who have filled their positions during the war in other industries.

No argument can be found against prosecution of public works such as the building of a necessary system of roads in this district.

JOB LOT MEMORIALS

The Idaho House of Representatives on Friday passed by a unanimous vote a bill introduced into that body only a few days previously, known as House Bill No. 46, and described by the following title:

"An act creating a commission to decide upon a uniform style and design of memorial to be erected at each county seat in the state of Idaho, to the memory of the deceased soldiers, sailors and marines from the state of Idaho, who lost their lives in the late war with Germany and her allies, making an appropriation therefor, providing the amount to be contributed by each county desiring to receive a portion of such appropriation, and declaring an emergency."

The body of this most novel and unique legislative vagary provides that three commissioners, to serve without pay other than expenses, to aggregate not exceeding $500, shall be appointed by the governor and shall convene, six days after appointment, at Boise jections to holding our soldier boys in Europe indefinitely for the settlement of any boundary questions or the pacification of any disturbed internal conditions. In the matter of securing the full and proper acceptance and discharge of the conditions imposed by the armistice between the Germanic alliance and the victors, America will assume her just and fair share of responsibility; but otherwise, it looks as though Europe would have to police her own back yards.

Marshal Foch's claim that the Rhine must be taken for "the natural barrier that will protect civilization" is powerfully convincing to the lay mind, however, it may appeal to the wisdom of the peace conference.

Nation-wide prohibition, by constitutional provision—the eighteenth amendment—is now an accomplished fact. According to figures apparently accepted by the press, this will wipe out 292 breweries, 231 distilleries and 300,000 saloons, upset invested capital to the extent of $1,294,000,000 and throws 749,418 people out of work.

The "conscientious objector" to service in the army or navy of his country was usually a pacifist sneak and was so regarded by all the real soldiers, sailors and marines who lost their lives in the late war with Germany and her allies. Also that each county in the state which will provide a site and appropriate a thousand dollars for the purpose, shall be entitled to draw another thousand from the fifty thousand carried by this bill, and to expend the two thousands in buying one of the job-lot monuments, which shall have been fixed upon by the commission and, presumably, ordered by the governor, so to speak.

In the first place, what county or community would care to honor its martyred braves in precisely the same stereotyped style and manner as forty-eight others—even at the grossly reduced price of two thousand per honor—a sum of money that will hardly buy a distinctive name-stone for a country cemetery.

In a volume called "Woman," consisting of some admirable truths, many sociological and psychological vagaries, Mr. Vance Thompson declares that the marriage name of each wedded couple should be, and in his belief, soon will be, "an equally balanced composite name—that of the husband and wife." As an example he says: "When Mr. Lancaster-York, the name of that family will be Lancaster-York." That isn't so awfully bad; but how about it when Mr. Lancaster-York marries Miss Cunningham-Dillingham; and when Lancaster-York-Cunningham-Dillingham shall attack a young lady with an equally lengthy polysyllabic name? In fact, with this as a good many of Mr. Thompson's propositions, the reduction of absurdities is distressingly near.

sharpest and most frequent of his critics was Col. George Harvey, then editor of "Harper's Weekly"—usually along the lead left, by the "big stick." This makes specially impressive the following from Mr. Harvey's pen of today: "Among all the tributes paid to Theodore Roosevelt, none has been more noteworthy or more appropriate than that of the Huns, who are surprising in their denunciation of him as their arch-enemy. That is what he was, and it is one of his noblest titles to grateful fame. The world scarcely yet realizes how great a part he played in arousing the soul of the American nation to a realization of the peril which confronted it, and to the necessity of putting forth every atom of both physical and spiritual strength against the Blood Beast. PATTEBSON, N. J., Feb. 3.—More than 25,000 silk mill workers went on strike here today, according to unofficial estimates, following refusal of the employers to meet demand for a 47-hour week. It is believed thousands of them will follow the example of those already out, as the mill owners may close the plants rather than grant the strikers' original request was for a 44-hour week, but they decided to arbitrate with the employers and an agreement was reached on the 47-hour weekly basis.

Bruges' Sacred Relic

In Bruges, Belgium, is a reminder of the past, the chapel of the Holy Blood, built by Theoderic, a distinguished crusader, who on his return from the holy land, brought with him, so the legend says, some drops of the holy blood of the Savior, which had been preserved by Joseph of Arimathea. Whether the legend is true or not, the church of Saint Sang, with its gilded, leaden canopy, bears testimony to the belief of the people of that time.

Denaturing Alcohol

Alcohol is denatured by the addition hereto of an element which renders it unfit to drink, and which may not be removed from the spirit by any process short of destruction. WAR ORPHANS OF FRANCE MAKE CHRISTMAS REAL FOR FIGHTERS

Rollo Crater of Army Medical Detachment, Enroute Home, Tells of Appreciation of Little Folks Treated Like Princesses and Princesses by American Soldiers, Book of Defense for Children.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Crater, who were advised Sunday evening that their son, Rollo Crater, a member of the medical detachment with the 110th engineers regiment, had landed at Newport News on his way home, received from him recently a letter describing the part played by French war orphans in making the observance of Christmas a real and happy one for the American fighting men. Following is his letter:

December 26, 1915. It sure seemed like a strange Christmas yesterday, so far from home and in such a muddy, rainy place as this. It seemed a little blue on the start, but the fact that there were so many of us in the same situation helped quite a little—misdry loves company, you know; and then the sun came out and shone as though it was paid for it and we had a splendid good time after all. When I saw the great crowd of little French orphans that they brought up here to Y. M. C. A. No. 1 for their Christmas treat. I sure felt ashamed of myself for the time I had wasted in feeling sorry for myself and got in and helped all I could to show them a good time.

There was a great occasion for those little orphans, 2,500 of them. They can trucks and loaded in and helped can trucks and loaded I hand helped out by American soldiers. The road in front of the "Y" was crowded with traffic and there was some danger to it. The little boys from the trucks, but the boys formed a living wall around them while they were being loaded and unloaded and if any of the little ones got separated from their sisters or pressed in the crowd or excited by the uproar of horns and shouting they began to cry, some of the soldiers were quick to pick them up and comfort them and straighten out their little worries. The Y. M. C. A. was all decorated with holly and there was a Christmas tree and a real Santa Claus and all kinds of toys and candy till you couldn't rest. When they started giving out presents, most of the soldiers carried French war orphans on their shoulders and got them all the candy they could find and treated them generally like the little princesses and princesses that they really were, and oh how they did appreciate it all!

Some saw such a happy and excited bunch of youngsters as they were. It was only when the fun was all over and they were all worn out with the excitement and lost in the crowd and waiting in the dark for the trucks to come that a lot of them cried even with their arms full of gifts. Then here was the tragedy, that for most of those there were no mothers there, only fathers, and no fathers, although the soldiers did all they could to comfort them. They needed the love and care of a father and mother and though the world might give them everything else it couldn't give them that. Not that they all cried, many were as sweet as angels and could be tried to comfort the others. They were the most lovable lot of children I well dressed too, and well groomed, in orphanages! I held a lot of them in my arms when they cried and cheered them, but when they were all gone I went away by myself, you will understand. The price we pay! If we had had that the father of only one child like that it would still be the saddest thing in all the world, but there are so many orphans. France is in mourning. Little is said about victory. It almost seems as if there were none left to boast. No doubt in a year or two, the load of grief that now weighs on the French will gradually be lifted and men will laugh again and women smile, but now it seems as though even the sun is a little darkened. There is a feeling of suspense in the air, as though the world were waiting, but for what? Perhaps it is for the final conclusion of peace and the return of the armies and the resumption of all the normal activities of life. But will anything ever be the same again? Many things will be changed for the better, our outlook on life will be broader. Even among our common soldiers there is talk of such big things as "world citizenship." We are awakening to our responsibilities. Out of the agony of war is being born a new friendliness toward all the "little people" of the world, both nations and individuals. I am proud to be an American citizen, chiefly because America defended Belgium and France, and proud to be an American soldier chiefly because the average American soldier over here, whatever his faults is a regular rock of defense for the children who cluster around him. Wherever you go you run into little French orphan boys in complete American uniforms made by the American soldiers who are caring for them temporarily. French children have unbounded confidence in American soldiers and ask and give little "souvenirs" with the utmost freedom. The little chap gave me a one centime piece and wouldn't take anything at all in exchange for it. It was his "widow's mite."

I suppose that in scores of American camps little French orphans got their first glimpse of "Santa Claus" this Christmas and I know that it is due to the contributions of the folks back home that many of these little victims of the "Great War" will survive its horrors and receive the education that they by some means shall be able to restore France, rebuild the vast plain, refill the trenches, plow the land and fill it with happy homes once more. In the short time I have been here I have learned to love France next to my own country. We have so much in common, two great democracies, pioneers on the frontiers of civilization. What a loss to the world if France had been destroyed! What a victory that France and Belgium still live, unbroken in spirit, having lost nothing that time will not ultimately replace and having gained such glory as will shine in the faces of their children forever. Every French boy is a soldier by inheritance and the honor won by his father is a heritage which can never be taken away. We expect to sail in a very few days now, almost, certainly within a week. I still hope to get home before this letter does. We'll have some great time, believe me! I can't wait to get home. Lots of love, BOLLO. Pvt. Rollo N. Crater, A. P. O. 701, A. E. P., Camp No. 1, Barracks B 9, Embankment Camp, St. Nazaire, France. P. S.—I don't know myself how much of this address is necessary.

"Yanks Doodle." The tune, or jingle, is very old and the author or authors were of the dim long ago. The tune under different names can be found among the peasant dances and nursery rhymes of England long before 1000. In Ireland in those days it was a jig tune; in Spain a sword dance; in Holland a song of labor and nursery rhyme; in Germany a folk song; and in Poland a folk song and dance.

Charles Carroll. Charles Carroll was the last survivor of the 57 men who signed our Declaration of Independence. He lived until 1822, having reached his ninety-fifth year. He was the most eminent of the four men from Maryland, and was of Irish descent, the first member of the family to come to this country being also named Charles Carroll, who left England in 1689.

Separating Photograph From Mount. When a photograph is pulled away from its mount, after being sufficiently soaked in water, the surface of the print may be injured by the bending. Notes Instead of Calls. The note of sympathy for sick persons has taken the place of the call. It is proper and kind to send a note expressing regret for a friend's illness had suggesting one would like to call when the invalid is convalescent. All messages written or sent to the sick should be brief and cheerful.—Biddy Bye.

Caribou. Those Alaska caribou, so numerous that they make river navigation difficult, are a reminder of the days in the West when one couldn't see the sun for the flights of wild pigeons that obscured the sky. These were the good old days.—Oregonian.

Job for a Statistician. Some day a clever statistician may publish some appalling figures showing how much time is wasted at railroad depots by folks who arrive on time for trains that are late.—Des Moines Register.

Room-in Morocco. With an area equal to that of Texas, two-thirds of it tillable, Morocco has less than 10 per cent of its soil under even the rudest cultivation.

Fireless Cookers That Are Safe. Recently the national board of fire underwriters issued a caution against using wooden pans or tubs to make home-made fireless cookers. Clear Conscience.
Say, old fellow, don't carry the tin too far. Send the umbrella to No. 11, Fraternity Building. If the owner is not in just set it up beside the door. Or if you have that weak feeling are in fear of a tonic and want to climb the stailway, you can pitch the shower stick in at the low door entrance and return home, or at old place you like, carrying a clear conscience of one having done a good and worthy deed. Try it once.—Wchester Sun.
Wonderful Automatic Clock.
The dials of the world's largest personal clock, erected in the center of the new $100,000,000 wholesale terminal at Los Angeles, can be seen from any part of the 20 acres covered by the market place. The clock, which is 35 feet high, automatically operates its own lighting system, turns it on at sundown and shuts it off at daylight and winds and sets itself.
Remarkable Armistice.
One of the most remarkable armistices on modern record was concluded between Spain and the western republics of South America at Washington in 1871. It provided that there should be no renewal of hostilities between the contracting parties, except after three-years' notice, which was to be given through the United States government.
World's News Agencies.
The European news agencies, such as Reuters, Havas and Wolff's, are similar to the Associated Press in America and grew out of similar needs of co-operation of newspapers in obtaining news. Reuters' agency covers Europe generally, Havas agency is French and Wolff's German.
Good Reason.
"When a man hasn't a good reason for doing a thing, he has one very good reason for letting it alone," said Sir Walter Scott. The deed without a good reason back of it is like a house without a foundation—it is all wise in its beginning, or of much value when completed.
Had No Credentials.
A little boy who was used to seeing persons bring home-made bread or flowers to the sick, answered the door one day when his aunt was ill and came up to report: "A lady came and just said she was your aunt's day and she never brought flowers or anything."
Another American Triumph.
A European record for the most heavily laden freight train was established by a Russian railroad when an American locomotive hauled 2,300 feet long with a load of 4,000 tons.
Inch of Rain.
An inch of rain" refers to the marks on a standard rain gauge as used for record purposes by the United States weather bureau. A inch of rain means 100 tons of water distributed over one acre of land.
The Only Way.
"I understand you began life as an underdog," said a friend to a "tail of industry." "No," replied the millionaire; "some one has been making a fool of you. I began life as a infant."
Bad Boy!
Jessie came into the house carrying a dead bird in her hand. With tears in her eyes she said: "Oh, mother, see the poor bird; there was a baby boy outside and he gunned it."
Dangerous Symptom.
"I hear that Blicum is going to run for congress." "Really? I'm not surprised. When he was a boy they said his parents were awfully worried about him."—Life.
Utter or Utter.
The circle of Utton is a white rainbow or luminous ring sometimes seen in Alpine regions opposite the sun in foggy weather. It's an odd sight.
Optimistic Thought.
One hand opened in charity is worth a hundred folded in prayer.
Daily Thought.
Every one is the son of his works.—Cervantes.

DISAPPROVES PROPOSAL FOR WORLD LEAGUE

L. Hodgkin of Twin Falls, Takes Issue With Scheme of League to Enforce Peace By Military Force

Unwise, un-American and dangerous is the term employed by Sen. L. Hodgkin, chairman of the Republican committee, in voicing his disapproval of a plan to form a league of nations to use both economic and military power to preserve peace.

February 1, 1919. National Headquarters, League to Enforce Peace, New York City, N. Y.

In a communication of January 21, 1919, addressed to me, you say: "Will you help in this greatest crisis of history, to marshal public opinion behind America's real purpose in the world?"

In the literature enclosed, the purpose of the league is stated as follows: "The declared object of the league is to enforce peace, formed in Independence Hall Philadelphia on June 17, 1915, was that the United States should be a league of nations which should preserve both economic and military force to preserve peace in the world."

the sovereignty of the United States to a world state. Such a plan, if fastened upon this country, would destroy the pride, the individualism and the patriotism of this people. It would be impossible to maintain an army and navy composed of American citizens for the purpose of enforcing the decrees of such a league.

Can you not see that your plan would surrender to this world state, every thing which American citizens hold dear? Can you not see that your plan would destroy the Declaration of Independence and over-turn the constitution? It is not generally thought by those who live close to nature, work hard, think straight, love the constitution and mean to support it; that it is at all essential to good and wise government, to have the leadership of the super-mortalities of this country.

Failing in such leadership, the common people of this country, rather than be committed to such a program as you propose; rather than surrender their nationalism and their independence, will resort to the highest right known to a free people, that immutable right that God-given right, of revolution, when their government takes away from them the right of self determination; the right to determine when they will sacrifice their lives in war, and for what purposes they will do so.

Very respectfully, S. L. HODGKIN.

One Possibility. "Nothing could ever come between us, could it, dear?" She—"I can't think of a single thing, unless I should happen to become engaged to some other man before we get married."—Pearson's Weekly.
