

LEAGUE DRAFT IS SIMILAR TO AMERICAN PLAN

Constitution of the Organization Promises to Follow the Idea of the United States

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE IS A GUIDING FACTOR

Disputes of the Nations Will Be Heard by the Body Before Any Action is Taken By Them

By WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMMS (Copyright 1919 by the United Press)

PARI, Feb. 8.—Organization of the league of nations, as favored this far by the committee preparing the draft, promises to be similar to the constitution of the United States, according to an outline given today by Professor Ferdinand Larnaud, one of the French members of the committee.

Executive Committee An executive committee will lead the league, instead of a president, and its power will exceed those of the American magistrature. Under the committee come the judicial and legislative branches. The executive and judicial bodies will sit permanently, while the legislative will gather annually unless specially convoked.

Limit Armaments Limited armament for all member nations has been approved. Larnaud said land and sea forces will be controlled by the league, except in the case of domestic matters.

Settle Disputes Disputing nations will be summoned before the league tribunal. At the event a nation refuses to abide by the judiciary's ruling and ignores all other attempts at affecting a settlement, it is planned to allow the disputants to fight. Apparently, the opinion is held that by the time the judiciary hands down its findings sufficient arms will have been given the trouble by the newspapers so that public opinion and other moral weights inevitably will prevent actual war.

Tacoma Car Men Resume Work on All City Lines

International Falls to Endorse General Strike and Operatives Return

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 8.—Street cars of the Tacoma railway and power company and municipal lines were operating on full schedule again today. The men went back to work early this morning after a day of idleness during which there was general complaint at the order which called them off their jobs yesterday.

The union car men issued a statement saying: "The international will not endorse a general strike and does not recognize the central labor council as having any authority to call us out against our own vote."

The return to work of the street car men, along with the reputation of the central labor council's order, will go far toward having the general strike, in the belief of many persons here today.

AIM MEMORIAL AT NON-CITIZEN WAR SLACKERS

House Committee on State Affairs, Would Deport All Aliens Who Claimed Exemption on Grounds of Nationality

(Special to The News)

BOISE, Ida., Feb. 8.—Deportation of all aliens who claimed exemption from military service on the ground of non-citizenship is urged upon congress in a memorial introduced in the house this morning by the state affairs committee.

Approval of the senate was placed on the measure carving Caribou county from Bannock. Witty of Bannock effected an amendment which will enable citizens of one section of the proposed county to vote on districts at 1920 election.

Favors Municipal Ownership A measure providing for condemnation of water works and electric light plants for municipal use was approved by senate committee of the whole, which also agreed to the bill exempting teachers from provisions of workmen's compensation act.

Would Raise Salaries In the house the following bills of importance were started Friday:

Provision would be made for investigation of the water resources of the state and appropriating $20,000 therefor; another would provide for construction of a new road in Elmore county to the Arrow Rock reservoir deadwaters and appropriates $3,000 therefor.

The legislators do not think they can meet the high cost of living in $5 per day. In a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment, the house judiciary committee asks for an increase to $10 per day while another joint resolution asks that the supreme court of the state be given constitutional authority over the public utilities commission.

The senate has a new bill affecting bankers. Should it pass a notary in a bank acting as an officer or employee could not attest papers of that bank.

SIX THOUSAND BUTTE MINERS JOIN IN SECOND GREAT GENERAL STRIKE

BUTTE SITUATION IN CHARGE OF WORKERS' COUNCIL SAY LEADERS

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 8.—Six thousand of the eight thousand miners here are striking today, union leaders say. Labor leaders claim all will be out by Sunday.

Plans are under way for a general strike in Butte.

Members of various unions in mass meetings last night left it to the workers' council to call and handle the proposed universal walkout in protest against the reduction of a dollar a day in the pay of the miners of this district, which became effective Friday. Union leaders say their men are "bitter and determined."

The workers' council is composed of delegates—L. W. W. and Socialists, from a few of the radical unions. The mass meeting voted to allow the council to handle the strike of the metal mine workers.

The workers' council tonight will ask the metal trades to go on a sympathetic strike.

LONDON SUBWAY STRIKERS WILL RESUME DUTIES

Electrical Workers and Union Men Vote to Return to Their Posts But General Strike Pending

LONDON, Feb. 8.—An armistice apparently has been effected today in the industrial war being waged in Great Britain.

While the subway strike was called off and all electrical workers were back at their posts, announcement was made that a mass meeting of trade unions would be held tomorrow to decide whether there shall be a nation wide general strike.

Agreement Reached

Rival tube unions reached an agreement with government representatives shortly before dawn today. A settlement was thought to have been made Thursday night but the agreement was repudiated by some of the factions of the subway organizations, necessitating a new conference last night. This resulted in the tube workers deciding to return to work today enabling thousands of other workers who had been forced to sleep in their places of business or take their chance with makeshift transportation or walk, to resume their normal methods of travel. One of the factors resulting in partial accession to the tube workers' demands was the threat of Alfred Smith, representing the motor bus drivers, to call them out if the government persisted in running army motor lorries for passenger service.

Waters Still Out

The return to work of the electrical employees relieved a tense situation resulting from the government's threat to fine or imprison anyone who interfered with the city's power or light service. The waiters were still on strike, however, affecting all the first class hotels, restaurants and clubs in London.

IDAHO WEATHER

Possibly rain or snow today and tomorrow.

NO SLIGHTEST INDICATION OF LABOR BREAK

Strike Will Continue 'Until Demands of Shipyard Workers Granted Declares Official Union Spokesman

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 8.—There is not the slightest indication of a break in labor's ranks. The strike will go on until the demands of the shipyard workers are granted. We are prepared to feed the entire city if necessary for an indefinite period."

This statement was made at 8 a. m. today by E. B. Ault, publisher of the Union Record and official spokesman for the 70,000 strikers, who for the first time in his long, had up an American city in a general strike.

At 8 o'clock this morning there was not the slightest indication of a return to work by any of the strikers," said Ault. "The various committees are reaching out in every direction for a settlement as they have been since the strike started—and for many weeks prior."

Last night was one of the quietest ever experienced in the city.

No Fear of Martial Law "We do not fear martial law. It is inconceivable that the government will back up the hysterical declarations of a rattle-brain mayor, who is apparently spilling for a riot. We do not believe the United States government can be used in this day and age to force men to work who are striking for a principle."

The strike will go on until the demands of the shipyard workers are granted. There is not the slightest indication of a break in our ranks and we are prepared to feed the entire city if necessary for an indefinite period."

HEAVY CASUALTIES RESULT OF FIGHTING

Many Buildings are Badly Damaged in Clash of Government Troops and Republicans

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—(Delayed)—Casualties in the fighting between Spartans and government troops in Bremen yesterday were heavy, according to reports received here today. Many buildings were badly damaged by artillery. Most of the Spartans leaders are said to have escaped. The government has obtained complete control of the city.

Miners in the Essen district resumed their strike today. Twenty thousand are idle.

Eight Persons Die As Result of Fire

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 8.—Eight persons are known to be dead in Platteville, Wisconsin, fifty miles from here, while a fire that has already destroyed two business blocks is threatening the entire main street.

One of the big state normal schools is located at Platteville. The school of mines is also located there.

FORMER PRESIDENT HAS NOTHING TO SAY

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 8.—William Howard Taft, joint chairman of the war labor board, declined to comment on the general strike at Seattle in an interview here today.

SEATTLE RESUMING NORMAL AIR BUT SETTLEMENT NOT YET MADE

Stores Beginning to Open Up and Streets of City Take on Appearance of Business Activity—Thousands Return to Work But Original Strike Still in Effect

MAYOR HANSON SAYS STRIKE BROKEN

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 8.—"The strike is broken," Mayor Hanson declared at 9:15 a. m. today.

Municipal street cars had begun running on regular schedule he said, and preparations were under way to run cars on the Puget Sound Traction company's line.

At noon today resumption of business was going forward slowly in downtown streets of Seattle with no reported interference, although there had been no settlement by agreement in the general strike at that hour.

MAYOR DECLARES TROUBLE ENDED

Seattle Executive Issues Strong Statement on Strike Situation

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 8.—As business was resuming in Seattle today and general conditions settling toward normal, Mayor Ole Hanson issued the following statement:

By OLE HANSON (Mayor of Seattle)

Two years ago 15,000 workmen were employed in the industries of Seattle. There are now 25,000. The unions have admitted to their ranks under the stress of war conditions every Bolshevik and I. W. W. who desired to join. These men have secured control of many labor organizations. The conservative members have shown their yellow streak by allowing the foes of our organized government to run their unions and their affairs.

When the shipyard strike was called, the men went out, unwilling in most instances, although there is a feeling that the lower paid men were not getting sufficient wage when figured on the present cost of living.

Then the radicals having read of the revolution in Petrograd and tried to duplicate the initial steps of the same here. They wanted to run our light plant and all industries, believing that we would surrender because of economic pressure and suffering of our people. They had forgotten the lesson Germany acquired when they tried the policy of ruthlessness.

Everything is activity in Seattle this morning. Every municipal car is running. Our light plant has never shut down one minute. Neither has our water plant. Gathered together in Seattle is Joe Ettore, of Lawrence, Massachusetts, a famous Mucky McDonald and men of his stripe from all over the country. Gathered here are hundreds and thousands of Russian Bolsheviks, who have arrived here during the past two years. These scoundrels want to take possession of our America government and try to duplicate the anarchy of Russia.

This is a test of unionism or I. W. W.ism. If any one owes higher allegiance to any organization than they do to this country, they are traitors and should be treated as such. That is all there is to it. This is a time for union men to stand up and be counted. This is a time when every American must forget all other allegiances and stand by the government.

The unions of the nation are on trial. They are either American Federation of Labor loyalists or Bolshevik traitors.

This morning the strike is broken. Business is resuming. Strikers are returning to work. Our city no longer lies prostrate. Ninety per cent of Seattle stands firm for Americanism. The other 10 per cent will be driven from this community.

Few Restaurants Opening Up

Some restaurants had opened and others were planning to give the first number of shippers were beginning to number of shipplers were beginning to drift into stores along the main avenues. Orderly crowds walked the streets. A few municipal cars were running under guard.

Latest advices received by Police Chief Warren were that Major-General Morrison, commander of the western department of the army, who will be in charge of the troops under discretionary power, would arrive in Seattle at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Chief Warren stated that General Morrison would at once take charge of 500 soldiers who had arrived at Fort Jackson from Camp Lewis earlier in the day.

Settlement May Come

Settlement of the general strike by agreement seemed not improbable today. No official answer from the strike leaders had been made to Mayor Hanson's ultimatum that he would resume essential industries unless the sympathetic list was relieved, but rumors that some members of the strike committee favored such action was given credence at the mayor's office.

A small infiltration into shops and stores was begun by business men before noon.

Won't Affect Original Strike

Termination of the general strike would not, it was believed, affect the organized workers. It was to back these for better wages that the 40,000 other organized workers of Seattle walked out.

"The strike is broken," declared Mayor Hanson this morning.

Municipal street cars began running on regular schedule during the morning and similar preparations were under way by the Puget Sound traction company's lines.

Municipal Jitney System

"In the meantime," the mayor announced, "we will inaugurate a system of municipal jitneys. Everyone who has an automobile is invited to operate a jitney car today. Business is going to resume fully."

Every union man employed in the city fighting department had returned to his job.

Two meetings of the mayor with strike conferees and representatives of civic organizations, late last night had failed to bring about any definite agreement, it was stated.

There was difficulty in determining to what extent traffic had been resumed on the municipal street car line.

Statements Conflict

At 11 a. m. Thomas Murphy, superintendent of public utilities, said six cars were operating on the city lines and that each had two soldiers aboard.

E. B. Ault, spokesman for the strikers, said at 12:15 p. m. that cars number 318 and 102 were the only ones running on the city lines. The police and guards were the only passengers, he said. This date, he said, had been verified by two checkers.

All trains and boats are leaving Seattle on regular schedules, according to steamship and railroad officials here.

The Pacific Steamship company's steamer Governor departed for California ports on time yesterday.

BODY OF SEVEN MAY GUIDE THE WORLD AFFAIRS

Executive Committee of the League of Nations Is Reported as Accepted Officially By the Conference

By FRED S. FEEGUSON
PARIS, Feb. 7.—(Delayed)—The initial governing body of the league of nations will be an executive committee of seven—one representative for each of the five great powers and two for the other countries. It was learned from a reliable source today.

This agreement is said to have been contained in one of the twenty-two articles of the constitution, half of which are officially accepted by the special committee on the league of nations. It would indicate that the minor powers lost their contention for larger representation on the executive committee.

Must Show Contrition
Another agreement understood to have been reached in that the central powers must make full reparation for all past offenses before they would be admitted to the league.

The two or three individual plans for the framework of the league have now been merged into a single composite draft upon which the committee is centering all its efforts. The remaining articles, which are believed to include comparatively minor problems, have all been agreed to on principle.

Draft Ready Soon
With continued progress at the two sessions scheduled for today and a meeting for tomorrow night, it was believed the draft would be ready for presentation to the general peace conference early next week.

The committee working on internationalization of water ways will get down to business next week. One of its first subjects will be the question of whether the Rhine is to be an open waterway or placed under a commission similar to that which will control the Danube.

Herr Fehrenbach, former president of the reichstag, Conrad Haetmann and Herr Dietrich, were elected vice presidents.

The dispatch does not make clear what is meant by the "constituent government." It may mean the important commission appointed to draw up the constitution of the new republic or the provisional government which will replace the Ebert cabinet until the people elect a new government.

SHIPBUILDERS' STRIKE FAILS TO MATERIALIZE
Skilled Laborers of the California District Changed Plans

LONG BEACH, Calif., Feb. 8.—Although the metal trades council has announced the result of the recent strike vote affecting 8,000 skilled shipbuilders in this district, would be made public last night, there was a change of plan at the last moment and no official statement as to the result of the balloting is forthcoming. It is a safe guess, however, that the strike proposal failed. Some on the inside say it was beaten nine to one.

Following a meeting held in this city last night, union labor officials said there would be no announcement of the result of the vote before the coming week.

Spartacans, aided by the soldiers' council, planned a simultaneous coup in Berlin and Weimar for Thursday. The plan failed in Weimar, but the above dispatch would indicate that the soldiers won a small success in Berlin.

BOILERMAKERS LEAD STRIKES

Two Thousand Workers are Already Out and General Walkout Considered

OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 8.—Complete stoppage of all the local shipyards by the imminent today following announcement of the strike vote of the Oakland boilermakers.

The craft voted 1,414 to 900 upon a general strike of all boilermakers. Two thousand boilermakers, representing four crafts, are already out. If they remain on strike the ship yards will automatically be forced to close within a day or so.

Final decision upon the general strike rests with the Pacific coast district council of boilermakers, which meets in Portland on Monday.

The boilermakers wish to enforce their demands for a minimum wage scale of $5 per day for mechanics, $7 per day for specialists and helpers and $6 per day for laborers.

The wage demand is the original demand made at the time the union was asked to accept the Macy award. The Oakland local of boilermakers has never accepted the Macy scale.

Polls Taken Show Favorably for the Women's Resolution to Pass

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Final polls on woman's suffrage were being taken in the senate today by pros and cons.

These polls showed, according to suffrage leaders that the necessary two-thirds will be obtained Monday when the suffrage resolution is called up by Senator Jones, New Mexico.

Antis polls show a slight lead over the vote shy.

FIND BODY IN WATERS OF BAY

Peculiar Story of Telegraph Operator May Be True

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—The body of an unknown man was found floating in the bay last night. It tended to substantiate the story of Peter J. Delaney, telegraph operator of Detroit and Buffalo, who had told the police he had pushed a man off the pier during the night.

Delaney said he and the man, whose name he had forgotten, had argued over the Seattle strike.

"He tried to push me in and I bent him to it," said Delaney. He said the other man was also a telegrapher.

VOTES AGAINST STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Feb. 8.—After Frank G. Miller, secretary of the Iron Trades council, had denounced the Seattle strike as illegal and John E. M'ADOO MAKES FINE BEGINNING

Former Director General of Railroads Has Good Prospects

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 8.—William G. McAdoo who resigned as secretary of the treasury in order to rehabilitate his private fortunes as an attorney, has a good start on the road, it is believed here.

His first clients, the United Artists Corporation, composed of leading movie stars, are paying him a salary generally accepted as being in six figures.

First reports were that it is $100,000 annually but now it is placed as high as $250,000.

"That's a secret," was the only answer Douglas Fairbanks of the United Artists would make when asked about McAdoo's salary. Others were just as reticent. McAdoo also doesn't discuss the matter.

But it is considered certain he's increased his salary as cabinet officer at least a half dozen times.

NEW PRIMARY LAW'S PASSAGE IS INDICATED

Support Aroused for Bill in Present Form, After Its Provisions are Looked Over, Points to Adoption

BOISE, Feb. 8.—That the senate will pass direct primary law as amended by the special committee is the belief here. But the house may use part of the work of the senate committee.

The point which is receiving attack from certain house members is the provision that county conventions select the delegates to the state conventions. Some members would have this changed to allow the election of the delegates by the same primary that nominated the county officers.

One opponent of the measure as it now stands says he believes the state would take a step backward if it had a law that would allow the old-time manipulation of county conventions in order to favor certain candidates for state offices.

On the other hand the support which has been aroused, now that its provisions have been looked over, indicates that final passage will await it in almost the form it now has.

LITTLE DEVELOPED BY INVESTIGATION

Illegal Expenditure of Funds Seems to Be Only Positive Fact Brought Out in Inquiry

BOISE, Feb. 8.—The investigation of the use of the militia funds by Governor Alexander and his adjutant general C. S. Moody, has developed nothing positive as yet excepting as to a few items of illegal expenditure of funds. With reference to them, Mr. Alexander and General Moody have already pleaded guilty by reimbursing the state. They also deposited with the state over $300 to cover these items. It is said that a larger amount will have to be paid in to cover the total misuse of funds.

The use of the militia funds by the former governor for traveling and other expenses that, it is claimed, should have been paid out of his own pocket is attempted to be explained on the ground that there was not sufficient funds elsewhere to cover that expense and that the militia appropriation, being practically untouched, was regarded as being of legal availability.

Sharp Watch Is Kept by American Officials for Evidence of German Treachery

By WEBB MILLER
AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS IN GERMANY, Feb. 6.—(Delayed).—American army officials continue to watch sharply for evidences of German propaganda among the troops and are imposing heavy fines upon every violator.

A catholic priest was fined 10,000 marks ($2,500) for reading propaganda matter in his church. Another German was fined 2,000 marks for cursing and abusing the French before American soldiers.

Ten million marks ($2,500,000) was received today as part of the German government's payment of the expenses of the army of occupation. It was announced that 20,000,000 marks more were being sent.

DISABD CHARTY IDEA

BOISE, Feb. 8.—The massacre of several bills, before they got started, paving the way for soldier relief is believed to be because of the feeling of legislators that the practical benefits for those returning from camps can be best received by co-operation with the government and by the carrying through of a program of public improvement by the state in the building of roads and public buildings.

This idea received an impetus yesterday in the passage of a bill by Featherstone and Givens in the house, to empower the state to make contracts with the federal government and other states for the reclamation of lands and the building of public improvements.

IDAHO SOLDIER AT ST. MIHIEL FEELS REPAID

Murrel Stansbury Relates His Experiences at American Army Headquarters Wrested From Germans in Letter

Under the triangle of the Y. M. C. A. and the inscription "Le Payer du Soldat, union Franco-Americaine," Mr. and Mrs. C. Stansbury of Bergin, have received from their son, Private Murrel Z. Stansbury, a letter written December 30 at St. Mihiel, from which the following are excerpts:

"The place we are in is quite French, although the Germans have been here for some time. They say they have been here for the last four years. This is one of the first towns the Germans took and it seemed almost impossible to take it back from them, but the Yankees showed them it could be done and done in a hurry.

Yankoes Break Hold

"The Germans had a strong fort on one of the hills just back of the town and the French couldn't get it from them. This is the place where the Americans made their first drive and got them on the run. The town is pretty badly shot but enough was left to house quite a number of soldiers. We are living in the old court house, as we would call it. It was once a fine building, but the shells played the deuce with it. Our particular room is the amjor general's office. We have a little stove and our bunks fixed so that we can keep warm and comfortable.

Meets Commanding Officer

"This town is the headquarters for the second army, and a lot of the big men are here. I got acquainted with the commander on the street the day we landed. I was coming down the street and saluted him with my mess-kit in my hand. He stopped me and 'dawled me out.' He asked me if we had any razors in our part of the army and advised me to shave. We had been traveling for seven days in box cars and we couldn't shave. When I told him, real snappy, how it was, he smiled and said he would excuse me this time, but not to let it happen again.

A Bonus of Service

"A lot of the fellows around here have a little more thought for a fellow than some of those who have had it easy all of the time. You can see in their faces and tone a lot of difference from the others.

"It may be the middle of the summer before I get home, but this trip has been worth thousands of dollars to me and many people would pay more to see not half as much."

ANTONZIRING LEAN.

The house was on fire, and as the staircase was in flames before the blaze was discovered, the occupants had to seek some other means of escape.

Next day the companion to an elderly lady was reading to her the newspaper report of the fire, which stated that no servant escaped, down a water pipe at the back of the house.

Whereupon the old lady, astonished at this statement, exclaimed: "But how thin the poor man must have been!"—Chicago News.

AMERICA FOR AMERICANS

The action of the Idaho legislature in adopting Senator John D. Robertson's bill making it a felony to hoist, carry or display a red flag or other emblem of Anarchy, will be endorsed by every loyal citizen of the state and nation who believes with the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt that there should be in this country only one flag and one language.

It is in order now for the Idaho lawmakers to follow the lead of Washington and some other states in the adoption of a measure to abolish the study of the German language from our public schools. No adequate excuse ever "in" school. No adequate excuse ever has existed for the introduction of the study of German into our curriculum. It is of service and value to not one in one hundred pupils who are instructed in it, and it unfolds no treasures of literature or science that would suffer in translation into the English language.

If a foreign language must be taught in our schools, then let it be Spanish, which is the language of the southern hemisphere, or French, which is so thoroughly established that, reports tell us, many of the sessions incidental to the peace-conference are carried on in that tongue. At least some more satisfactory reason must be found than can be educed for the language of the enemy.

Another thing, and one perhaps more essential than either the eradication of the red flag or the elimination of the enemy tongue, is the necessity for greater caution and care-being used in the selection of the text-books in our schools. A cursory examination of some of the text-books heretofore used in American schools will reveal the trail of the propagandist.

Determined and felonious warfare must be waged against foreign grafts on the development of American ideals wherever they are to be found.

America must be made safe for Americans.

We hear mostly about mother love, but there really is a good deal about father love, too; that deserves occasional mention before the funeral.

THE WEST Men look to the East for the rising things. For the light of a rising sun; But they look to the West, the Crimison West. For the things that are done, are done The eastward sun is a now made hope From the dark of the night distilled; But the westward sun is sunset sun; The sun of a hope fulfilled!

So out of the East they have always The cradle that saw the birth Of all the heart-warm hopes of man, For out of the East, a Christ arose And out of the East there groaned The dearest dream and the dearest dream, That ever a prophet dreamed.

Yes, into the West they go With the dream child of the East And find the hopes, they hoped of old Are a hundred-fold increased. For there in the East we dream our dream. Of the things we hope to do, And here in the West, the Crimison West, The dreams of the East come true. —Douglas Malloch.

BORSHING THE TREES

To take up the matter of the alleged mutilation under guise of "trimming" of the trees along the streets and in the parks of our city is quite useless now after the work is completed. We say "alleged" mutilation because that is what most of our townspeople are inclined to call it, while the man who secured the job from the city officials assured them that he knew what to do and how to do it, so that he is not likely to admit that anything like mutilation has taken place.

The writer freely confesses to no technical knowledge of how shade trees should be trimmed in order to promote health and longevity, as well as beauty and symmetry. But just the same his uneducated judgment fully agrees with that of many citizens who are free to emphatically declare that the city shade trees here under consideration have been absolutely ruined in appearance if not otherwise, by the indiscriminate and awful slashing to which they have been subjected. But some his uneducated judgment fully agrees with that of many citizens who are free to emphatically declare that the city shade trees here under consideration have been absolutely ruined in appearance if not otherwise, by the indiscriminate and awful slashing to which they have been subjected.

Another declared that the beauty, especially of an elm, chiefly consisted in the long, graceful sweep and curve of its untruly growing branches. And this objector forth declares to credit to Dr. Miller, dean of the school of forestry at the State University, for some real authority in the premises, and received the following letter in reply: "Moscow, Idaho, Jan. 23, 1919.

"Dear Sir: Your letter of Jan. 21 has been received and carefully noted. I would advise strongly against top pruning those fine shade trees, though I cannot improve on your argument against such practice. A tree to come into its own, must have a chance to develop its crown naturally and unhampered and this cannot be the case if the tips of the branches are cut back. Moreover, the vitality of the tree is reduced in this way and it becomes more susceptible to fungus and insect attack. No, just let the trees develop as they are and give them a chance to show how really ornamental they can become if nature is permitted to have her own way.

"Very truly yours, "F. G. MILLER, "Dean School of Forestry."

Governor Allen of Kansas, brings the serious accusation against the war department of having juggled with the figures of casualties sustained by our forces in France with intention of keeping the truth from the American public, at least. "The war department is evasive and vague," says Governor Allen, proceeding to quote figures which in his opinion were intended to be taken as complete, while in fact they were only partial. While it is to be hoped that the charge be not proven true; at least, that the figures given, if partial were only so because, at the time, none more complete were available. It has been frequently remarked that the casualties given seemed abnormally small for the character of fighting described; the numbers engaged and the protracted campaign. But it is hardly believable that General Pershing and his staff would deliberately attempt repression or deceit. If anything of the kind has been done, it will be found somewhere around the secretary of war, whose wild statements regarding many matters of preparation, especially including aeroplanes, sadly impugned either his knowledge or his veracity, or both!

It seems strange that, while the legislature was assisting municipalities to secure needed public improvements by increasing the bonding limit from six to ten per cent of the assessed valuation, it should not have extended similar relief to school districts, many of which need it just as badly. The Twin Falls independent has more than once been seriously embarrassed by the restriction of the old law, which was passed upon the assumption of assessment at full cash valuation—the practice of assessing at such a low rate of such value reducing the actual bonding limit to three, instead of six per cent. The Piler independent district has recently been in difficulty from the same cause, being obliged three times to reduce the size of the contemplated work, and halting in order to get within their limited resources; and now that it is completed, it is inadequate for the actual needs of the district.

"Aim High," and "Hit Your Wagon to a Star," used to be favorite injunctions from instructors during the old school days, of course, of course, that no great achievement will ever be realized without high aims and ideals in thinking of the magnificent scheme of making a memorial park at Shoshone Falls, when three hundred acres have already been dedicated by the state to park purposes, and connecting it with this city by a file driveway that shall make the Shoshone the most beautiful return, many people will be prone to see only the difficulties in the way of an undertaking of such great magnitude. It is much wiser and better, however, for everyone to think of the grand results that are possible, and so strive for all to unite in bending every effort and energy toward its consummation. "Nothing venture nothing win."

An imposing delegation of grain dealers appeared before the house agricultural committee Monday to urge that the government at once assume and sell to the public the Government price of $2.25 a bushel for the 1910 wheat crop and let it go to consumers at the world market price, which they estimate at about $1.25. The grain dealing witnesses thought this plan would cost the government about a billion and a quarter, but believed it much better than to attempt to maintain an artificial price. This looks very right and reasonable to an outsider in such matters. It would, at least, relieve the millers, who are threatening to cease making flour altogether unless some sure relief is given them against paying government prices for wheat and receiving market prices for the flour.

If the bill for an act recently introduced into the Idaho legislature whereby a fraction of any county is authorized to divorce itself without allowing the remainder thereof any vote or voice in the matter is correctly called "An Enabling Act," it is because it is intended to enable the minority to relinquish the majority—a thing abhorrent to the rightly educated democratic mind.

The fact that in these United States a total of over twenty-four million men—24,234,021, to be exact—were enrolled for military duty under the selective service law should prove very suggestive to any ambitious rascal who, like William the Damned, thinks or affects to think that we are negligible as a military nation. The first bill introduced by the first woman to sit in the New York legisla-

"Feeding the World." That the United States is now actually "feeding the world" is a conclusion to be drawn from statistics recently issued in a bulletin from the National City Bank of New York. The total value of foodstuffs sent out of this country in the year just ended amounted, according to this compilation, to over $2,000,000,000 against an average of less than $600,000,000 per annum before the war of the average, that is, "As a matter of fact, the value of foodstuffs exported from the country in the decade preceding the war averaged only $450,000,000 per annum and never in any year reached as much as $600,000,000. In the calendar year 1915, however, the first full year of the war, it amounted to $1,012,000,000; in 1916 it was $1,105,000,000; in 1917, $1,315,000,000, and in 1918 amounted to $2,000,000,000. The official figures of exports to foreign countries in 1918 give us a total of over $1,900,000,000, but to this must be added the amount sent on Government vessels and not included in the official reports of the custom houses, plus those sent to our own colonies not classed as exports. Only then do we get the grand total amounting to over $2,000,000,000 per annum."

Among the hot-footed advocates of government ownership for railroads comes, as might be expected, Mr. William Jennings Bryan, who declares that the fearful adverse financial showing made by the figures at the present time is not a fair test for the reason that this test has been made during war and especially because it "has been made by railroad officials who are themselves opposed to government ownership and anxious to return to private ownership."

"In other words," says the New York Herald in apt reply, "since there has been a rather striking failure with operation in the hands of the trained and expert railroad men of the country, the conduct of the railroads should be turned over to the long haired and shallow brained politicians who are shouting for government ownership."

"That, of course, would be fine for the politicians, especially the 'deserving' ones," among them, but what would it mean for the railroads and the country?"

The Nonpartisan league is fathering a bill recently introduced into the North Dakota legislature providing for the establishment of a state-owned bank. The proposed financial institution is to be called the Bank of North Dakota, and is to be provided with a capital of two millions of dollars by the sale of state bonds. This is going back about eighty years, at which time several states went into that sort of financial experiment—with dire disaster in each and every case, so far as can now be recalled. The bonds issued by the state of Mississippi, somewhere about 1840 to 1850, have not been redeemed to this good day and the state has never fully recovered from the stigma of having repudiated them. A five million bond issue is also proposed from the same source for state-owned terminal elevators and flour mills; and provisions are made for a state industrial commission which will manage the bank as well as the other enterprises and industries. This is putting the state into business with a vengeance; but it should not be forgotten that the poor taxpayer must stand behind the bonds.

VERDICT ACQUITS DITCH RIDER OF ASSAULT CHARGE

Jury in District Court Declares Frank Dolan Not Guilty of Punishable Offense in Shooting Fred W. Berger

A jury in district court here at 9:30 o'clock Friday evening, after three and one-half hours deliberation, returned its verdict declaring Frank Dolan, ditcher for the Salmon River Canal company, not guilty of making an assault on Fred W. Berger, a ditcher, on a thrust at Dolan, who was seated in an automobile, before Dolan drew a revolver and shot him in the abdomen. The trouble was an outgrowth of a dispute of the terms of a lease under which Dolan held lands owned by Berger, and involved the responsibility for the burning of weeds on the place in which work Berger was engaged when the shooting occurred.

The trial occupied nearly two and one-half days' time. Judge E. A. Walters and Shad L. Holgin appeared as attorneys for Dolan, and the prosecution was conducted by Prosecuting Attorney Frank L. Stephan, assisted by E. W. Larson.

CHILDREN ALONE IN HOME SWEEP BY FIRE

Blaze of Accidental Origin Breaks Out in Kitchen During Mother's Absence—Little Ones Escape

In the momentary absence of Mrs. Carl Pearson, her two children, aged about 5 and 7 years, were left alone in their home, a three-roomed cottage at 124 Tenth avenue east, at about 8 o'clock Friday evening when fire of accidental origin broke out in the kitchen. The interior of the building was swept by the flames before the blaze was extinguished by the fire department, but the children escaped unharmed. I. A. Appell, owner of the property, estimates the damage at about $600, which is partially covered by insurance.

SHERIFF LANDS A SECOND BOGUE CHECK PASSES

RUPERT.—Albert Brent, 18, who pleaded guilty of passing bad checks on four Rupert concerns, and who was taken to Twin Falls Monday to appear before Judge Babcock, was sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of from one to fourteen years. Brent, says the Missoula County Patriot.

While returning from Twin Falls with Brent, Sheriff Hollenbeck was notified at Burley of another check artist named John White, who had passed a bad check on a store in Burley for $8.00. The young man had succeeded in evading the Burley officers and had walked to Heyburn, where he purchased a ticket for Pocatello. On entering the train he was arrested by the sheriff and brought to jail here. Later the boy's father settled the account and this being his first offense, he was released.

Destroyed Builders' Bills

Nobody ever will know how much money the publishers of the Twin Falls News under the reign of its builder, Louis XIV. Louis became badly scared when he received the bills, because he had heard a good deal of some disturbers who were whispering that even a king had no right to spend so much money for a palace to house his friends when the nation over which he ruled was starving. So Louis did what many a purchaser of expensive hats has done since—tore up the bills and burned them before anybody could look them over.

Shakespeare Stands Alone

Admitting to the fullest that the present age cannot forestall the judgment of posterity, it seems unlikely that a copy of the work of any contemporary dramatist will ever sell for $28,000. Such a thing happened recently in the case of four Shakespeare folios; but Shakespeare was Shakespeare, even when his contemporaries took him as a matter of course, and since then the judgment of time has made him a standard by which the enduring genius of later playwrights can be reasonably estimated.

GIVES FIGURES ON DISCHARGES UP TO PRESENT

General March Announces the Increase in Transportation of Men From Overseas Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—American troop shipments from France will be increased to 100,000 during February. Chief of Staff March announced today. This is an increase of 50,000 over January.

To further increase the shipments General March has ordered conversion of fifty-one cargo vessels to transports. In addition, it is expected the several German ships will be added soon to the fleet bringing home the Yanks, according to cables from Chairman Burley of the shipping board.

Troops shipped from France up to February 1 numbered 236,824, March stated.

Demobilization Figures

Demobilization of this country is characterized as being on the "home stretch."

Total discharges to date number 1,100,820, including 67,639 officers and 1,033,181 enlisted—more number 1,443,000, including men already discharged.

Some Casualties

The number of American soldiers missing in action has been cut from approximately 100,000 to 7,268 and reported from General Pershing show that from 100 to 200 men a day previously reported missing, are being accounted for.

General March stated it is expected to cut down this list to a comparatively small figure.

Total casualties of the first division was 8284, divided as follows: Killed in action, 2,303; died of wounds, 1,050; missing, 1,789; prisoner, 106.

Second division, total 5,260, including killed in action, 2,710; died of wounds, 1,329; missing, 1,067; prisoner, 148.

Brest Is Busy Place

Fifty-one per cent of all troops coming from France passed through the dock at Brest since the start of the General March said. It is planned to make this camp the largest military center in the world.

"At present the Brest camp has a capacity of 60,000 men and this will be increased to 100,000," March said.

Begins Serving Sentence

Clarence Snow of Hansen, who pleaded guilty to the theft December 1 of 12 sacks of clover seed worth $800 from Chas. Franks of Hansen, and who was sentenced in district court to serve a term of from one to 15 years in the state penitentiary, was taken Friday evening to Boise to enter upon the serving of his sentence.

Pren Moore, Poultry Husbandman, Conducts Demonstrations and Lectures

An assemblage of 125 persons, in which there were 101 boys and girls of the eighth grade of the schools at Tiller Thursday witnessed a demonstration conducted by Pren Moore, poultry husbandman of the state university extension department. Mr. Moore pointed out the strong and weak points in the individual fowls in nine pens of 127 birds representing several breeds; and explained how the birds should be prepared for show purposes.

Mrs. Glavin has been getting a 50 per cent egg production during the winter months and is now arranging a breeding pen of the best birds in her flock.

MOSCOW MAY INSTALL ITS OWN LIGHT PLANT

MOSCOW—The city may decide to install an electric light plant of its own in a committee has been appointed by the city council to take the matter up and ascertain the probable cost and probable income of such a plant. It is said that the city is now paying about $1,700 per year for pumping power and the increase proposed by the Washington Water Power company of Spokane would automatically add $300 per year. Warren Truitt, mayor of Moscow, stated that the city will protest the proposed increase in the rates and that City Attorney George G. Pickett has been instructed to prepare the protest which will be filed with the public utilities commission. The filing of the protest will automatically stop the proposed increase which would otherwise go into effect on February 20, and will call for a hearing—where evidence will be submitted by both sides and the commission will accept or reject the application upon the evidence shown.

AIR PRESSURE IN TIRES SHOULDN'T BE CHANGED

Expert on Subject Offers Advice for Benefit of Auto Users

"Should I increase the air pressure in my tires in winter?" Tire air pressure should remain the same winter and summer. This is the advice of G. J. Fitch, manager district service bureau of B. F. Goodrich Rubber company to thousands of American motorists who are in doubt as to the proper inflation to maintain during the cold winter months.

Many car owners labor under a false impression regarding the tire pressure. Regardless of the season of the year it is impossible to increase the pressure in pneumatic tires sufficiently to in any way injure them. Tires should not be pumped up hard in the winter months. Likewise pressures should not be reduced in summer because decreases cause the tires to bend more, create more friction and naturally to generate heat. Motorists are inclined to make a complicated matter of inflation. While too little pressure is extremely important and is undoubtedly the biggest cause of tire wear, determining the proper air pressure for tires is really a simple matter.

EXPERT DEMONSTRATES POULTRY POSSIBILITY

Pren Moore of University Extension Department Gives Hints on Success in Industry

A great deal of interest is being shown in the work of Pren Moore, poultry husbandman of the state university, now in charge in the county work arranged for him by Mrs. O. H. Brown in charge of women's farm held Tuesday evening at the Cedar Draw School house in spite of the bad weather. Mr. Moore talked on breeding, feeding and housing of farm flocks with a view to eliminating the non-producing fowls and securing the greatest profits from the flock. Mr. Moore is to return to the Cedar Draw District to give a demonstration in culling of flocks for breeding and for laying.

Mr. Moore examined two flocks in another part of the county for tuberculosis. He dissected three fowls in well advanced stages of this disease, showing the tuberculous nodules on the spleen, the liver and in one case in the intestines. The suspicious sign that these fowls showed, leading to this examination, was lameness, which is in most cases, baring accidents, an indication of tuberculosis.

Mr. Moore is to give talks and demonstrations in other parts of the county and will examine or cull flocks by request.

Mr. Donald McLean, county agent, is giving sparrow poison demonstrations also at these meetings.

ANYBODY CAN AFFORD to use the classified advertising columns for the express, as compared with the value of the result secured, is trivial. It would be worth a great deal to you to secure a position carrying a higher salary and better opportunities—and it would cost a trifling sum to you to find a desirable tenant for vacant property—or to find a purchaser for used articles of value—while the cost would not even momentarily embarrass you. MAY RETRENCH EXPENDITURES OF THE NATION

Republicans Would Install a Policy of Economy By Means of the New Budget System

By L. C. MARTIN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—A policy of governmental economy will come when Republicans take the reins in congress March 4, republican leaders declared today.

Progressives and standpatters are united on the need for economy. Both have concrete plans to bring it about.

Want Budget System

Progressives want a budget system adopted. This, they say, would put a check on "pork barrel" congressmen who increase appropriation bills for their own benefit; would reveal duplication of work of government business, making possible reduction of payrolls; put government accounting on a scientific basis.

Use Drastic Measures

Standpatters are not hostile to the principle of the budget system, but for political reasons would let it wait and by a series of drastic measures accomplish economical results otherwise.

These measures would save $500,000,000 a year in ordinary running expenses of the government, Senator Smoot, Utah, asserted.

CHARGE PACKER TRIED BRIBERY

Says Armour Counsel Offered Him Big Inducement to Work for Them

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Packers tried to bribe Francis J. Henry to work for them with offers of "more business than he could handle," he charged today at the senate packers' hearing.

Henry accused Levy Mayer, counsel for Armour and company, of trying to buy him at a recent session of the senate inquiry.

"I think such a man should be disbarred from practicing law," said Henry. "I make this charge now while Mayer is in the city. The offer was made at a previous hearing of this committee."

"I had asked Mayer regarding some phase of the hearing when he made the offer in a low tone."

"You work for my interests and I'll give you more business than you can handle," were his words.

Henry also said that Mayer included Frank P. Walsh, former member of the war labor board, in his offer.

"That's why I make this charge now when Mayer is in the city," said Henry.

Mayer will appear before the committee Monday to give his opinion on the Kendrick bill when he will be asked to give his explanation.

Henry charged that the packers fought the effort of the cattle growers to raise a fund in the interests of the Borland resolution asking for an investigation of the packers.

TELLS OF FIRST DAYS IN HISTORY OF STATE SHOSHONE FALLS PARK

Former-Senator M. J. Sweeley, Author of Measure Setting Aside Future Playground and President of Memorial Association to Improve it in Expression of County's Appreciation of Service Men, Traces Career of Undertaking

The session of the state legislature in 1909 which set aside 240 acres of land near Shoshone Falls as a state park, transferring an appropriation of $2,000 for the site school fund in the attainment of the purpose, also appropriated $15,000 for the creation of Hoyburn park in north Idaho, according to M. J. Sweeley, who as senator from Twin Falls county in that session secured the establishment of the Shoshone Falls park, and who was named Tuesday evening to be head of a memorial association instructed to carry out plans for the improvement of this park and creation in it of an appropriate monument to service men of the county.

Spends Funds for Road

The legislature in 1909 appropriated $2,000 for the improvement of the Shoshone Falls park. An equal sum was raised in the Twin Falls county for the whole amount was expended in building a scenic drive leading from the rimrock down the canyon walls to the falls, which was abandoned in 1910 when the county built a new grade to serve the same purpose.

Since that time, Mr. Sweeley points out, no attention has been paid either

SEATTLE RESUMING NORMAL AIR BUT STRIKE NOT YET ENDED

One thousand troops, armed with bayoneted rifles, hand grenades and machine guns are on guard here under command of Brigadier-General Hayden of Camp Lewis.

One conference yesterday and a three-hour conference which lasted until after midnight today failed to accomplish any sort of an agreement between Mayor Hanson's committee and the one representing the strikers.

The strikers are understood to have told the mayor that the sympathetic attitude which he would like to see in Seattle business men would agree to intercede with the shipping board and General Manager Piez of the board, asking higher wages for shipworkers.

Committee Refuses

Hanson's committee is said to have refused to agree to this taking the strike to the courts. The strikers returned to work under the Macy award before any mediation looking toward an amendment of the award is attempted.

The city remained quiet up to an early hour today. Few arrests had been made. Strike leaders proudly pointed to this as demonstrating that they intended to win their end through peaceful methods.

Thus far, Mayor Hanson's one attempt to break the strike has been a street rat, threading its lonely way from the center of the city to Ballard, a suburb. It has not been molested. It is heavily guarded.

Mayor's Commitment

Mayor Hanson has a reputation for vigorous action, and few doubt his determination to ask for martial law.

Striker Spokesman Heard

M. B. Ault, spokesman for the strikers, indicated today they would rely upon the solidarity of their ranks to thwart Mayor Hanson in his attempts to operate all essential industries beginning this morning.

Dr. Hanson, of which Ault is publisher, issued a bulletin last yesterday which stated that the soup kitchens had been increased to 21, and that they had fed 20,000 persons. These soup kitchens are operated by the strikers. Patrons who can show a union card are served for 25 cents. Others must pay 35 cents.

Hungry Lines Wait

The menu is best stew with bread and coffee. Long lines stood before some of these kitchens.

Today was generally regarded as the most critical period of the general strike.

TRAINING LITTLE CHILDREN

Be Kind, But Firm, in Your Insistence on the Right—Once Acquainted By This Motive a Child Will Become Considerate and Generous—Begin to Form Habit of Self-Reliance With Children When They are Little

By MRS. RUTH HEPFNER SWAINE
The child is a primitive little being. His desires are near the surface, and primarily very selfish. He wants all things for his own. He must also be first in everything, and if he is the biggest force in the play group, what more natural than that he should try to make everything conform to his wishes? But this child, if once acquainted by the right, becomes the most generous, the most considerate and the gentlest of little fellows. A few words, a firm but kind insistence on your part, and he knows the pleasure of giving up for others.

All children have their difficulties with one another, and sometimes, if one judges by the noise in the back yard, they are very big ones. A moment's wait will usually show whether it is wise to run and help the children readjust their little world. Do this only when necessary. Hold your breath behind the door, and see if happily they are not righting the situation themselves. Even the physical hurts need much less sympathy than the average mother is apt to bestow. Would we coddle our children into becoming physical cowards? From earliest babyhood begin to turn their attention when hurt to some new interest, and observe how quickly the pain is forgotten.

A strong conviction has grown out of the passing years of my motherhood that the greatest service a mother can do her child is to teach him self-reliance. If you begin with the baby, the habit forms easily and before you know it self-reliance has really become a habit with him. Hold yourself free from fear as he tries out his growing powers. Watch alertly, but wait. Let him try to reach that toy he wants, but secure for him the bright ball. Let him make all the moves he wants to, and if necessary, be there to catch him as he falls. Hand late long before you turn a child deliberately away from the thing he has set his heart on doing. Strong initiative is too glorious a characteristic to slip in the bud. Try for one day to stop and think before you deprive your child of the pleasure of simple achievement.

There are countless little tasks a child can do for himself to help mother. Each mother will think of many of these in the course of a day. Remember that in the child's world of new impressions the most true acts to us are, to him, the most delightful of plays.

Play is the vital employment of childhood. The art of playing alone, being friends with himself, is a foundation for self-reliance in greater things later in life. A child cannot be more than contented. So hesitate, dear mother, to interfere when your child is quietly employing himself in his own chosen way, even if it is only baby with his toys. Let the spell last as long as it will; the next will last longer. Soon your child of three will play hours by himself. The busy mother, often neglects this requisite.

Balsam Gum.

The gum of the balsam fir, Abies balsamea, is known commercially as Canada balsam, and is largely used in the manufacture of optical instruments and in various other ways about scientific laboratories. There is a constant market for it, the price varying with the quality and the supply. Some time ago a fair quality was worth 20 cents per pound.

Speciales on Potato.

A specialized potato has been lifted by an allotment holder on the Tredgar estate at Newport, Monmouth, England. The bridge of the spectacles rests across the middle of the potato, in which it is embedded. The glasses are unbroken, but the steel frame, also unbroken, has rusted.

Old University.

Cracow has the oldest university in the world, that of Prague, in central Europe. It was numbered among the students Copernicus, who originated and proved the remarkable theory that the earth revolved about the sun, and not contrariwise.

Good Ends Require Good Means.

Let no man turn aside, ever so slightly, from the broad path of honor, on the plausible pretense that he is justified by the goodness of his end. All good ends can be worked out by good means. Those that cannot, are bad; and may be counted so a once, and left alone. Charles Dickens in "Barnaby Rudge."

Willard STORAGE BATTERY SERVICE STATION

On the Wrong Track

Sometimes you hear a man say "Oh, you can't hurt the battery."

He forgets to add distilled water.

He steps too long on his starter instead of cleaning his spark plugs.

He puts in acid instead of having his battery charged.

He never has a Hydrometer test made.

And when his battery suddenly quits he can't realize that it has been gradually dying from neglect and abuse.

It's a fallacy to believe that you can neglect any battery without suffering the consequences.

The Bone-Dry Willard Battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation is made to give unusual service and long life, but it must be kept charged, and has to be supplied with pure water.

We test, repair and re-charge storage batteries, and always carry a full supply of battery parts, new batteries and rental batteries.
