Union Representatives Plan to Break the Strike Through the Withdrawal of Part of the Forces

OLSHEVIK MOVEMENT IS BELIEVED CRUSHED

Business Is Again Resuming Activities and Many of the Sympathizers are Returning to Work

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 10.—While three signal blazes, the strike termination signal agreed upon by publishers, were blown at 1:15 p. m. today, the strike conference was reported still in session and official word of the walkout had not been given. Unconfirmed reports are that the sympathetic general strike will be called off at noon tomorrow.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 10.—When the general strike committee of 350 representatives of local unions met this morning, conservative members planned to break the strike through withdrawing some of the lead demonstrators.

Declares Spirit Broken
Mayor Ole Hanson had issued a statement declaring the back bone of the strike broken. He demanded that the strike leaders be prosecuted. "The revolution has failed," he said. "The government should now arrest, try and punish all leaders in this conspiracy. No skim milk policy should be followed. The city authorities have quailed this revolution. The mayor declares, "all city and public utilities are operating 100 per cent." He said all street cars were running and that all schools and theaters would open today.

Revolution Falls
The citizens committee issued a statement declaring Seattle had defeated an attempt at a Bolshevik revolution. "Today the sympathetic strike is disintegrating," the statement said. "Street cars are operating all over the city; public buildings are open and an aroused community is determined that a small percentage of alien Bolsheviks, who gained temporary control of the leadership of union labor shall no longer block the wheels of industry."

Reports Conflicting
The big strike committee, after a session lasting over fourteen hours, decided early Sunday morning that the strike should go on. The Union Record, the union organ, announced the action was unanimous. Other sources said the vote was 7 to 45 against the motion to call off the strike. Some of the unions considered most likely to withdraw from the strike are the barbers' union and the carmen's union. The union of janitors of public schools returned to work today.

Business generally attempted a normal resumption of activity following the mayor's threat to "shoot on sight."

SENATE DEFEATS WOMAN SUFFRAGE

For the Fourth Time This Amendment Meets a Setback

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—For the fourth time the United States Senate today defeated the resolution to submit a woman suffrage constitutional amendment to the states.

Just before the Senate took up the suffrage question, Anne Martin, Nevada, suffragist, filed with Senator Pomeroy, chairman of the privilege and elections committee, a resolution backing up her claim that Senator Clegg cost more than the law allows. Henderson defeated Miss Martin.

Bitter Disappointment
The vote proved a bitter disappointment to suffragists who had counted on President Wilson and other Democratic leaders to swing southern democrats in line.

Not one of those who the suffragists pinned their hopes, voted for suffrage. Today's vote was 55 for suffrage and 29 against it. But as the ayes did not have two-thirds of the vote cast they were defeated.

The vote last October was 53 for suffrage to 31 against it.

Would Have Typos Censor All Strike Press Dispatches

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 10.—Phoenix today has a soldiers' and workers' council as the latest addition to its labor organizations. It was formed at a mass meeting held here yesterday. Its first official act was the passage of a resolution favoring censorship by the typographical union of all matter regarding union labor sent to newspaper composing rooms for publication.

The council demanded the release of all "political and industrial prisoners" and of all prisoners of war, and immediate withdrawal of American troops from Russia.

About a dozen soldiers and sailors in uniform attended. Four members of the lower house of the Arizona legislature spoke in favor of the movement. Several other state officials were present.

GERMANS WOULD USE SPARTACAN MOVEMENT AS CLUB UPON ALLIES

Extreme Socialist Wing of People to Be Employed as Means of Forcing Modified Terms of Peace Upon Balance of Powers—Existing Government Threatens Resignation Unless "Reasonable" View Is Taken at Peace Table

PARIS, Feb. 10.—"I believe a reconciliation of the peoples of the central powers and entente can be effected only if a peace of right and justice is made," declared Count Brockdorff-Rantzau, German foreign secretary in an interview with the Weimar correspondent of the Matin. "You want to take from us the results of 50 years' work in Alsace-Lorraine."

"We seek only an equitable peace. The huge majority of the German people cherish no thought of revenge. One has the impression, however, that France is trying to profit from the armistice negotiations by making it appear we admitted the justice of its terms."

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
WEIMAR, Germany, Feb. 9.—(Delayed)—The German government may attempt to use the Spartacans as a weapon to force the allies into making terms of the peace settlement less severe, according to reports in circulation here today.

Government officials openly declare they will refuse to sign the treaty if its provisions "are unreasonable." They intimated that the government would resign, turning the country over to the radical elements, which they believed would immediately create a chaotic condition.

What It Would Mean
Germany would thus not only be unable to pay any indemnities, but in the belief of government officials, would menace the rest of Europe with the threat of the Spartacan movement spreading. This condition, some German argue, would be no worse than the "commercial slavery" they foresee from the peace settlement. The mental attitude of the military class in Germany has developed during the last two months from one of absolute depression to defiance and general condemnation of the entente. The change has been wrought, it is said, by the lack of sympathy in the entente countries for the present economic, social and political conditions in Germany.

Old Ideas Still in Vogue
Germans who still retain the old militaristic ideals are confident that in case the government should turn the committee over to the Spartacans, the allies would not attempt to occupy the remainder of Germany for some time.

As one Pan-German is reported to have said: "The world is sick of war; there is unrest everywhere, and the entente can't take Germany, anyway."

The foreign office is seized upon everything possible to protest the allies, as part of the general resistance. Count Benstock has joined the democrats and become the government's principal advisor on foreign affairs.

Bernstock Makes Charges
He publicly accuses France of changing the boundaries of Lorraine.

"It is very evident," he said, recently, "that France proposes, if possible to seize the purely German Saar basin. The government of Germany has protested against arbitrary change in the Lorraine frontier, yet Clemenceau persists in claiming the Saar basin."

Spirit of Defiance
This same sentiment was evident in Chancellor Ebert's speech before the national assembly condemning the "seizure of Alsace-Lorraine and the illegal repatriation of German war prisoners, while Edward David, president of the assembly showed the same

LAWYER DENIES BRIBERY CHARGE

Armour Counsel Declares He Never Tried to Bribe Henny

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Branding Francis J. Henny's charge as a "vicious, dishonorable and unprofessional falsehood," Levy Mayer, counsel for Armour and company today denied that he had tried to bribe Henny at a recent session of the senate at the packers' inquiry.

Henny last week testified that Mayor at a recent session of the investigators had offered him more law business than he could handle if he would join forces with the packers instead of opposing them.

Mayor put all the vigor at his command into his denial today. Henny was not in the room at the time, but entered a little later.

FLAMES OF DISCONTENT ARE SPREADING APACE

Trouble Makers Are Being Sent Out of America

Two Carloads of Foreign Disturbers are Enroute to Ports of Embarkation

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Two heavily guarded carloads of foreign disturbers were enroute to an Atlantic port today for deportation. The men were largely from coast cities, where they have been held for various periods, awaiting ocean transportation.

A. U. H. Jackson, head of the Seattle, Washington, office of the immigration department, was in charge of the party. The passengers, he said were permitted to wave red flags and sing foreign songs all they desired.

Immigration officials here were told the men had not been ejected officially with the general strike at Seattle. Deportation came at this time only as a coincidence.

TACOMA STRIKE IS NOW BROKEN

Trouble in Sound City Breathes Its Last Gasp and Workers Go Back to Duties

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 10.—The abiding committee announced this afternoon that the walkout probably would be over within forty-eight hours. A proposition to that end has been referred to the unions for vote.

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 10.—The attempt at general strike in Tacoma—faredoomed—offspring of shipyard strike leaders—breathed its last at 8 o'clock today after four days of disunion that threatened to split the ranks of organized labor wide open.

Workers in all unions not affiliated with the metal trades union, who were ordered out last week, returned to their jobs.

Fulfilled Mission
Acting independently of Seattle, the general strike committee Sunday afternoon passed a resolution for all these crafts to return to work, declaring that the general strike has fulfilled its mission in showing the solidarity of labor."

The failure of the attempted general strike left the shipyard strike as it was before the general walkout was ordered by the central labor council last Wednesday night. The strike committee will await joint action with the Seattle metal trades toward a possible settlement.

Members of metal trades unions who are not shipyard workers and who are not employed in contract shop tied up with the shipyards, are released from the strike order. Sheet metal workers are locked out.

BOLSHIEVISM REPORT
CAPTURE OF TOWN

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 10.—Russian Bolshiev forces have captured Windau, according to a dispatch from Berlin today. The German troops fled in a panic.

Windau is a Russian port on the Baltic, 100 miles northwest of Mitau.

STRIKERS HAPPY OVER OUTCOME OF PROPOSED WALKOUT AT BUTTE

Car Men Quit; Engineers Expected to Go Out During Day—Returned Soldiers Don Uniforms and Assist Strikers in Picketing Mines—Butte Army and Navy League Vote Heavily in Favor of General Strike

SUNDAY GIVEN UP TO MASS MEETINGS WHICH EXTEND FAR INTO THE NIGHT

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 10.—United States troops drove returned soldiers and strikers at the point of the bayonet from the I. W. W. hall this morning. Two men and women were slightly hurt by bayonet thrusts.

It is alleged the strikers and returned service men were singing German songs. The sheriff and county attorney told the ejected crowd to return to the hall and continue their meeting. No arrests were made.

The stoppage of transportation here this morning was effected by pickets who persuaded the crews to take their cars to the barns. Teamsters met this afternoon to conduct a strike vote.

Most of the unions have selected delegates to the workers', soldiers' and sailors' council which claim to control the local situation. Five hundred returned soldiers are picketing the mines today. Five hundred strikers are assisting in the picketing.

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 10.—Mayor Maloney announced this morning that owing to lack of funds in the city treasury he would lay off all firemen and policemen at noon. The street car men at 7 a. m. took their cars to the barns. If the mayor follows out his threat regarding the police the city will be left with only the protection of United States troops at a time when it is threatened with a general strike similar to the one at Seattle.

May Strike Today
It is believed that efforts to get the engines away will succeed during the day. The strikers are confident they are confident the strike will soon become general. They say a few days must be allowed to permit all the unions to vote.

Returned soldiers who donned their uniforms are picketing the mines. This action on their part is "the talk of the town."

Overwhelmingly for Strike
The Butte Army and Navy League voted 80 to 30 Sunday afternoon in favor of a general strike.

Mass meetings were held all day Sunday, extending far into the night. There has been no disorder here so far.

One hundred United States troops arrived in Butte Sunday from San Francisco to strengthen the company which has been on duty here.

Protection Guaranteed
The commander of the United States army forces here today issued a proclamation guaranteeing protection to all miners who wish to work. Only a few engineers are now working in the mines. The Industrial Workers of the World have intimidated the military in the formation of companies. Picketing of the mines still is going on.

"The mining companies are leading a crusade to lower the cost of living in Butte."

Trouble was precipitated here when the copper mines announced a reduction of 10 per day in wages last week. The miners struck shortly afterwards.

RADICAL HEAD OF STRIKE IS DRAFT EVADER

Russian Leader of Textile Workers Is Arrested and Charged With Failing to Register

LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 10.—Imo Kaplan, secretary of the general committee of the striking textile workers here, was arrested today by city and state police, charged with evading the draft law by failing to register. He was held for federal authorities.

Kaplan, who is a Russian, with radical ideas, assumed leadership of the strike last week.

Shortly after 7:30 o'clock this morning more than 1,000 strikers gathered at the mill and attempted to close the gates to prevent entrance of workers. The police interfered and the strikers charged them, throwing stones and sticks.

A corps of police which was ordered to disperse the mob, used their clubs until a squad of mounted men rode into the ranks of the strikers, knocking them in all directions.

WAGE SCALE FOR SHIPBUILDER IS GIVEN IN FULL

Department of Labor Publishes Award of Adjustment Board With Conclusions to All Parts of Country

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The full text of the uniform national wage scale for shipbuilding workers in all parts of the country, as awarded by the shipbuilding wage adjustment board on October 24, 1918, is published in the December number of the Monthly Labor Review, just issued by the department of labor.

For wage-adjustment purposes the shipyards were placed in two divisions, one including those of the Atlantic coast, gulf, and great lakes districts, and the other including those of the Pacific coast. The new scale provides for an increase over existing wages, the basic crafts being granted a rate of 80 cents an hour, as compared with an existing rate of 65-58 cents on the Pacific coast and 70 cents on the Atlantic coast.

Pacific Awards Retroactive

The award affecting Pacific coast shipyards is retroactive to August 1, 1918; the other award is effective as of October 1, 1918.

The rates are based on cost of living figures supplied by the United States bureau of labor statistics, which indicate an average increase of 20 per cent on the Pacific coast from October, 1917, to October, 1918, and of 26 per cent in the other shipbuilding centers from December, 1917, to August, 1918. The 80-cent rate, however, does not apply to laborers or to every class of skilled mechanics.

In each district the board increased the rates for the laborers and helpers "upon whom the burden of rising costs of living falls most heavily, as much or more than is required by a strict application of increase in cost of living reported by the bureau of labor statistics." In the case of certain skilled trades also, the board did not deem it "necessary or wise to apply this entire increase in the cost of living to occupations already above the base rate of the scale for skilled trades."

Provides for Readjustment

Important features of the awards are provisions for (1) semi-annual (Apr. 1 and Oct. 1) adjustment of wages on the basis of changes in the cost of living as determined for the board by the bureau of labor statistics; (2) reorganization of shop committees, representing both workers and employes, to settle yard grievances; and (3) guarantee of the continuation of open-shop conditions where now prevailing and of the right of workmen to join unions without company interference or discrimination.

The awards made were first submitted to, and approved by, the conference of national labor adjusting agencies. The award applying to the Atlantic coast, Gulf, and Great Lakes shipyards, and that affecting the Pacific coast shipyards are substantially the same.

Reason for Uniformity

The principal characteristic of the decision is that they establish uniform national wage rates for practically all of skilled trades. The board adopted these uniform national rates because experience has convinced them that by this means only can they put a stop to that shifting of employes from yard to yard and district to district which continues to be a chief obstacle to efficient ship production and which causes enormous losses, both to workers and the government. This decision is in complete accord with the urgent requests of representatives of both employes and workers.

Added arguments for uniform national rates are that citizens working for the government and on ships in a navy essentially government work—work that they should all be treated alike; that there are no longer any marked differences in the cost of living between different sections; and that the federal employment service, rather than divergent wage rates with their unsettling tendencies, should be relied upon to effect whatever shifting of wage earners is necessary to the carrying out of the war program.

Based on Living Costs

From the evidence submitted to the board by the bureau of labor statistics, in reference to the increase in the cost of living in the five-Pacific coast shipbuilding centers and in 10 Atlantic coast, Gulf, and Great Lakes shipbuilding centers, they concluded as follows: (a) The average increase in the cost of living on the Pacific coast from October, 1917, to October, 1918, was 20 per cent.

(b) Applying this average increase to the basic daily wage of $5.25 established by our previous decision, the new basic wage for the $5.25 crafts would be $6.30, or 78 cents an hour.

(c) The average increase in the cost of living in the shipbuilding centers of the Atlantic coast, Gulf, and Great Lakes for the eight months from December, 1917, to August, 1918, was 26 per cent. In the absence of statistics for the precise period, February to October, since our first decision for these western shipyards was rendered, we assume that the increase for these eight months was the same as for the overlapping eight months covered by the bureau's investigation, that is, 15 per cent.

(d) Adding 15 per cent to the basic hourly rate of 70 cents would make the new rate 80 1/2 cents.

(e) In the interest of uniformity and to comply with the unanimous request of the international and local representatives of labor who appeared before us for a national wage scale, we have made the basic hourly wage rate for the principal skilled crafts 80 cents.

CIVIL SERVICE MAKING BID FOR SERVICE MEN

Names Representatives to Assist Discharged Soldiers and Sailors in Applying for Positions

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.—The United States civil service commission is perfecting arrangements whereby men who are about to be discharged from the army or navy may receive first-hand information concerning opportunities for employment in the federal civil service. The commission has received authority from the secretary of war and the secretary of the navy to appoint its representatives at all establishments where discharged men are assembled in considerable numbers. These representatives are now being appointed. They will be prepared to inform the men fully concerning positions which are open, to supply them with application blanks, to assist them, if necessary, with the execution of their applications, and to advise them relative to civil service matters generally.

It is the plan of the civil service commission to entrust this work to educational directors of welfare organizations already operating at the camps, cantonments, etc. The representatives of the commission who are appointed from the personnel of these welfare organizations will have the benefit of the advice and assistance of the commission's local boards of examiners at nearby cities, in addition to the instruction received from the commission.

ENGLISH LABOR TROUBLE QUIETS

Subway Strike Settlement Brings Conditions Back to Nearly Normal

LONDON, Feb. 10.—With transportation in the London district again normal, as a result of settlement of the subway strike, Great Britain faced the possibility of a nation-wide walk-out of electricians. The national executive committee of the electricians' union at Manchester ordered a general ballot on the question of striking a forty-hour week. It affects 30,000 electricians.

Situation Unchanged

The situation in Belfast is unchanged, but the Irish labor congress, at a special session in Dublin, decided to demand a forty-hour week and fifty to one hundred per cent wage increases, with a minimum weekly wage of $13.

Before acting on these demands, it is necessary that the workers must approve them. They have been given three weeks to do so.

Strikers Return

Strikers in Glasgow are reported to be gradually returning to work. The London tube strike, it was estimated today, resulted in the loss of millions of dollars in wages through inability of men and women to get to their work.

CIVILIAN MOB ATTACKS GOVERNMENT TROOPS

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—(Delayed)—A mob of 400 civilians attacked government troops which were searching for arms in one of the poorer districts of Berlin today. They had overpowered and disarmed the troops when help arrived. The mob then used the captured weapons on the reinforcements but the latter's fusillade dispersed the rioters. Five persons were killed and a dozen wounded. Continuation of the search revealed many weapons.

ALLIES EXPECT PROMPT ACTION IN EVACUATION

Definite Principle of Non-Intervention in Russia is Now Being Considered By the Conference

By LOWELL MELLETT

PARIS, Feb. 10.—The associated powers are expected within a few days to proclaim formally the principle of non-intervention in Russia, militarily or politically, it was learned from a reliable source today. It is possible that further in this connection the will carry out their intention to not draw as rapidly as possible the troops now on Russian territory.

This is the outcome of the Anglo-American representations made to France 10 days ago. Advice from northern Russia indicate it will be impossible to get boats to Archangel for several weeks as that port is tightly frozen in. The allies do not desire to withdraw their forces from Archangel while their troops are still on the Arctangel front as that would leave the latter exposed to an attack from the west.

Expedite Evacuation

The British, however, are understood to be mobilizing a large fleet of ice crushers and operations in the meantime, even local offensive movements will be designated solely to expedite evacuation.

Before the joint conference convenes at Harbin, Japan it is believed that an understanding will be reached by the soviet government and the associated powers regarding cessation of hostilities since this would be acceptable under present conditions to both sides.

SAYS GERMANY CAN'T RESUME WAR AND LIVE

Byron W. Pape, in Letter to Father Here, Gives Experiences and Views in Traversing Region Around Verdun

Germany will be wiped out if she attempts to start the war over again, according to Byron W. Pape, a member of the American First Army, expressing this opinion in a letter written on November 21 from Souilly, France, to his father, M. H. Pape, of Twin Falls. Following are excerpts from the letter:

Cautious Marks Proceedings

"The Allied generals, of course, are not letting the Germans 'put anything over,' but at that, considering the conditions, Germany got some pretty good terms when she signed the armistice. Her army has been allowed to withdraw in good order, taking the best guns and equipment with her. Of course, due to the armistice, we have her flanks, which could not fight, and we have recovered a vast amount of territory without losing a man, but, on the other hand, there was a probability of the American armies cutting the line of communication of the German armies, and in connection with the British and the French, capturing a million or more German soldiers, which would have meant unconditional surrender.

On Heels of Hunns

"If I looked for some time as if I were going to leave for home without even seeing where the Germans had been and what they had done, but, thanks to good luck, I have had a very good sight-seeing trip, away up past where they had been fighting, and right on the heels of the Germans who were withdrawing toward Germany. All along the route we traveled were immense graveyards located at the edge of small villages. We passed aviation field, material and ammunition dumps and camps, garrisons, trucks and railroad tracks going both ways all loaded with supplies of war, but even with all the activity one would be unable to imagine what war is really like without going over the territory where there had been fighting.

Cathedral as Target

"Within a couple of hours drive we passed over the moat and through the city wall that entirely surrounds the city of Verdun. On every side the buildings were just one mass of rubble and in line with the cathedral from the German side there was nothing but piles of brick and stone left. These piles at one time had been three and four story buildings. It appeared as if the Germans had used the cathedral as a target. While I was wondering how it was possible for one to live in such a place while the shelling was going on, a buddy with me explained that the quarters underground were extensive enough to accommodate fifty or seventy-five thousand men.

Word Picture of Battlefield

"Due to the traffic control and besides being in a hurry we were unable to stop in Verdun, but just in passing through I saw some of the 'hell hole' idea of what a hell hole it must have been under fire. Just on the outskirts of Verdun in the battleground, which is simply a network of trenches and barbed wire entanglements. All around were small mounds of dirt that were probably thrown up by shells or else, possibly, were machine gun nests or dugouts. For the next five or six miles after leaving Verdun we passed through several villages that were literally blown down with not as much as two walls of any one house still standing. It seemed hard to realize that in this very same territory we have seen the battle in all history had been fought. Everything looks desolate. Some of the trees were still standing with one or two branches that had not been shot off still remaining.

Building Roads to Rhine

"A little further on the labor battalion, made up mostly of American negroes, were rebuilding the roads that had been under shell fire and were building the railroad toward Germany. We passed over a camouflaged road, of which you have, no doubt, seen pictures. All along the road on every little hill were machine gun nests, and until one was right up to them, it was impossible to tell that there was anything there, as the dirt on top of them had been leveled off even with the surface.

Trail of the Invaders

"We stopped at one small village that had been occupied by the Germans for four years. It certainly had marks of the treatment the villagers had received at the hands of the Germans. I talked with one French peasant woman who showed me that they had practically torn down her adobe barn just to get the wood framework to make tables and chairs with. Guns, gas masks, and other equipment were strewn all around, and it looked as if they had left in a hurry. We passed two big gasoline trollers, with the finest and largest gasoline motors I have ever seen. They were evidently abandoned by the boche because they were too slow to get out of the way or because they took up too much room on the road. Before being abandoned they were stripped of their magnetes and carburetors so that the allies would be unable to use them. A remarkable procession of all nationalities returning from Germany. Some were pulling their baggage, some were carrying it and others were pushing it in wheelbarrows. It was a remarkable procession. They were dressed in all kinds of uniforms. An Italian might have an old French blouse and American breeches with an American blanket tied around his shoulders for an overcoat. As a general thing they looked as though they had had enough to eat to keep them in a fair physical condition. One Italian who had been in the United States and who could speak some English, told me they were fed on one piece of bread, a bowl of soup, and a cup of coffee at each meal every day.

What Wins in War

"We stayed in Longuyon all night in a depot in the barracks which had been occupied by the Germans. It was fitted with tables, chairs, stoves and other conveniences and there were champagne bottles strewn all around. It was evident that they had a pretty soft time, and a good deal easier than we had it, but of course, that is not what wins the war, as the American doughboys have showed them.

"While in Longuyon I saw three high German officers wearing white bands on their sleeves, who had been in conference evidently with American officers in reference with the turning over of their guns. We also saw a great number of big German guns that already had been turned over, with more coming in every minute. Some of them were so big that they were being towed with two or three five ton trucks to each gun.

Perishing Stands High

"On our return trip over the same territory we saw the president of France and his staff in one small village, talking to the inhabitants. Soon after we passed General Pershing and had the pleasure of having our salute returned by him. He certainly is a snappy soldier and has the good will of every American soldier in the American expeditionary force. A little farther on we passed General Lignott, the commanding general of the First Army.

Rumors and More Rumors

"In the army nobody but the ones higher up, knows exactly what is going to happen until it actually does happen, but we have a great many rumors. Lately, according to these reports, we have been transferred into the Third Army, which is the army of occupation, or else have been transferred back again or else our train is waiting to take us to Brest or some other seaport where we will take ship for home, or probably some of us will go to our original organizations, or maybe the whole bunch will stay over here for a hundred years and rebuild France. "Some of the men who have better jobs here than they had at home are not overly anxious to leave, but as a whole, both officers and men think and talk nothing else.

Ware! That Suit May Be a Dress

Woman can no longer be criticized for "staring" at the various frocks worn at afternoon functions. It now takes an observer, says Fashion Art, to tell when a suit is a suit and not a dress. The dress on the extreme right, with its waistcoat of beige, is an example. The other two afternoon frocks are of navy blue cloth; that on the left, faced with gray satin and that in the center having a turned-up, stitched satin cuffs on both tunic and skirt.

Corporal Ross J. Pettijohn of Twin Falls, Lately Returned From France, Says Homecoming Men Suffer

If the people of the United States knew how their relatives in the military service are being treated in camps at ports of embarkation in France, "there would be something doing," according to Corporal Ross J. Pettijohn, of Twin Falls, a member of Battery A, 55th artillery regiment, who has been stationed since his recent return from France at Camp Dix, New Jersey. Year's Service Gets Old.

"My views in this matter are set out in the letter under date of February 1 from Camp Dix received last week by his parents, from which the following excerpts are taken.

"In the U. S. at last. And it does seem good, but it will be a great deal better when I am free, white and twenty-one again. I have been on duty all the time for over a year and it gets mighty old. Never a minute to call my own. We left Rouvray, France, December 24, and had a very merry Christmas on board box cars with cold corned beef and hard tack for dinner. Stand In Mud For Meals.

We arrived in Brest in the afternoon of the twenty-eighth and went into camp about four or five miles out at Camp Pontancoen. We called it Camp Pontoon. It rained all the time we were there. (Until the fifteenth of January.) We lived in tents which leaked like cheeseholes and the mud was knee-deep. We lined up by regiments to eat and stool in the mud while doing so. Besides that, the regiment had to perform extraordinarily hard labor in the rain and the men always slept with their clothes off to dry them out as there was no fire.

We endured far more discomfort than on our worst position on the firing line and the men were nearly all sick when we left. This treatment was not for any offense but the regular thing for all troops embarking at that port. No liberty was allowed and any man on the road not with an officer was arrested by the military police.

Calls It Death Camp

"German prisoners never have been so brutally treated as all American soldiers are being treated right now in that death camp. We had men die of pneumonia and there were rumors of hundreds of deaths there every week. If people of the United States knew how their relatives are being treated there would be something doing.

Reception at Philadelphia

"But we finally were allowed to leave and boarded the English transport, H. M. S. Haverford on the fourth and left port the fifteenth of January. We had a good voyage except that it took fifteen days to reach Philadelphia, where we were given a grand reception. We put on a short parade and took a train for Camp Dix, New Jersey.

"I have no idea when I will be discharged or where. There seems to be no plan worked out to discharge troops. The paper work and red tape obscures everything else.

"I must get to work now. Will, of course, be out that way as soon as possible."

A MORAL VICTORY

Wherever the storm forces gather in the world of labor, there will be found the Mucky McDonaids, the Joe Eilers and the rest of the vast brood whose living is exacted from the troubles of labor and whose business on earth is to make sure that labor has plenty of troubles.

Indications now lend strength to the belief that the general strike inaugurated in Seattle and Tacoma was not a bona fide labor movement. Certain labor organizations have chosen to disregard the mandates of the leaders, others who went out have returned to work claiming that trickery was used to induce the walkouts in the first place.

A sympathy strike is a poor vehicle upon which to carry public opinion and public approval, and without these two, no strike can succeed.

Captain Peter W. McRoberts, of Twin Falls, has several years' command of the Twin Falls unit of the Second Idaho Regiment, landed Sunday in New York from France, according to a telegram received here by Mrs. McRoberts.

Seattle's mayor puts the entire strike trouble down to an outbreak of Simon pure Bolshevism, the inference being that the general strike was planned and worked out by a handful of unscrupulous leaders who succeeded in fooling labor into the acceptance of a state of facts which existed only in the imagination of the agitators.

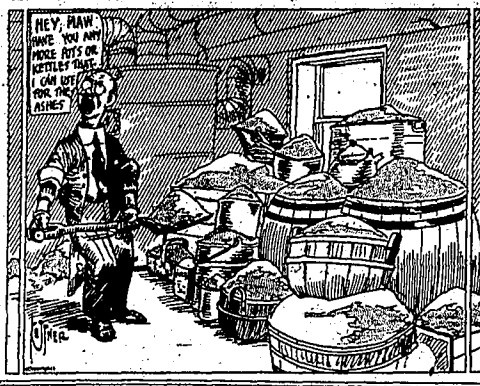

American labor asks nothing at the hands of Mucky McDonald because Mucky McDonald and his ilk have nothing to give by which American labor can in any way profit.

The ship yards strike is, of course, still unsettled. But the breaking up of the situation which has existed in Puget Sound cities for the past week as a result of the so-called sympathy strike can only be accepted as a triumph for good government, clean Americanism and a moral responsibility which is founded on principles of justice and fairness on the part of the people as a whole, both within and without the ranks of organized labor.

PROSPECTIVE AMERICANS

Across the vision of most Americans in the consideration of demands that laws must be put up, at least for a time, against unrestricted immigration, there is apt to come the damning circumstance of the Hun officers who are said to have confided in an American and his purpose to come to America as soon

CARIBOU COUNTY IS NOW CREATED

Amendment Would Alter the Boundaries of Proposed Area of District

BOISE, Feb. 10.—Falling to get over an amendment to alter the Caribou county division bill by taking out 125 square miles of contested territory in the northwest corner of the proposed county, Senator Witt of Hannock, did succeed in having an enabling act rider attached to the bill which will give the people in the contested territory a right to detach themselves from the new county if they so desire in the general election of 1920.

In the meantime Caribou county will be created. That is certain from the vote in the committee of the whole. The procedure of establishing a new county and giving the contested area residents an opportunity to withdraw is a novel one. This however was the only scheme which the opponents of Caribou county were able to arrange in order to get any kind of a vote by the people.

The original Witt amendment to alter the boundaries was voted down by 22 to 14, which is an indicative registration of the probable final vote on the measure. It had been believed that the final vote might be reached today but the adoption of the enabling act feature made this impossible.

HAS NEW IDEA FOR SETTLING SALMON CASES

T. K. Hackman Files Petition for Intervenor in Caldwell Case in Federal District Court to Involve All Interests

The first step in an attempt to bring about an adjudication and settlement of the problems and difficulties of the Salmon River project in pursuance of a procedure that seems to open up an entirely new line of attack was made by Turner K. Hackman of Twin Falls, as attorney for Robert Rayl and other settlers of the project, when he filed today in the federal district court in Boise a petition for intervention in the case of A. E. Caldwell and others against the Salmon River Land & Water company and others.

Would Call for Sale It is the purpose of the inventor, if they are successful, in bringing into execution the proposals of their petition, to oust the Salmon River Canal company from delivering water to the owners of 5095 acres of desert lands and of 1092 acres of patented and script lands susceptible of irrigation under the system, and to bring about, under the terms of the deed of transfer, which the irrigation works and the water contracts were turned over to the Commonwealth Trust company, as trustee, by the Salmon River Land & Water company, the defendant construction company, a declaration to the effect that the company is not a going concern, that it is in default in respect to payments due to bondholders, and on this account trustees should be instructed by the court to sell so much as is necessary of the irrigation works and water contracts to satisfy the claims of the bondholders.

Put Expense on Trustee The bringing about of such a situation, the petitioners believe, would result in the calling in of all of the settlers by the trustee to be parties to the adjudication. It is estimated that the expense involved in this bringing together all of the landholders in the action would amount to about $35,000. Each procedure, it is stated, has been deemed impossible of attainment on their own account in the previous considerations of the landholders because of the expense involved, the possibility also of a loss on the part of the holders of bonds, of the series maturing prior to 1913, of principal and interest amounting to about $600,000 on account of the operation of the statute of limitations is hinted at in the petition.

Introduce New Evidence It is stated that in the petition, the deed of trust under which the irrigation works and water contracts were conveyed by the defendant construction company to the trustee, is placed in evidence for the consideration of the court for the first time in the history of Salmon River project litigation.

Would Include All Interests It is pointed out by the attorney for the petitioners that if they are successful in their purpose, all parties as interest in the Salmon River project, including the bondholders, the construction company, the operation company and the landholders may be brought in to court in one general action, as a result of which, they are hopeful, a satisfactory solution of the problems and issues may be brought about with a minimum of delay.

The petition in question is addressed to Judge Frank S. Dietrich of the federal district court in Boise, and the petitioners named are Robert Rayl, L. E. Kirkman, J. M. Kirkman, H. Crookham, William Graham, E. A. Griffin, E. Ingraham, J. S. Fuller, William Thibault, A. A. Bickford, Robert G. Benson, H. B. Ackerman, William Wark, H. L. Stewart, R. C. Boulders, and H. Crays.

USES LOCAL BOARDS TO REACH "BLEESSEES"

Federal Board for Vocational Education Seeks to Reach Wounded Men With Information of Plan

In an effort to secure the widest possible publicity to the work of the federal board for the vocational education of service men, Provost Marshal General F. H. Crowder has approved a plan for outlining the assistance of the local draft boards throughout the country.

The letter received Saturday by the local board for Twin Falls county from the director of the federal board for vocational training, which is explanatory of the purpose of the plan, is as follows:

The federal board for vocational education is extremely anxious that every disabled officer, soldier, sailor and marine be informed of the provision which the federal government has made for re-education.

As it is quite possible that some disabled men have been discharged from the service and gone to their homes without being fully acquainted with the opportunities offered, the federal board has decided to ask the assistance of the clerks of the local boards.

With this in view we are sending you herewith 25 copies of an addressed postcard with the request that you fill out and mail one of these cards to us in the case of any disabled man who comes to your attention. More cards will be sent upon request.

The federal board feels that there is no government agency more closely in touch with the homes of the men of the service than the local boards, and realizing the importance of utilizing every agency possible to gain touch with disabled men, the board feels justified in asking the clerks of the local boards to perform this voluntary patriotic service.

ROAD BUILDERS GIVE ATTENTION TO COST FIGURE

Commissioners of Twin Falls Highway District Expect to Have Program of Construction Ready Soon

In continuance of their effort to determine upon a program of road building for the district that can be carried out during the coming season at an expense that can be reasonably met, the commissioners of the Twin Falls highway district met here Saturday afternoon to consider estimates of cost, worked out by W. L. Johnson, district supervisor of highways, of building a system of roads already tentatively decided upon.

It was announced after adjournment of the meeting that the estimates of cost probably would be completed during the present week and that the commissioners at their meeting on Saturday next probably will be in position to enter into a discussion as to the legal procedure incident to the calling of a bond election for the carrying out of the program.

Get Ready for Bonding

The commissioners were advised that the assessed valuation of property in the district for the purpose of the tax levy of 3 1/2 mills which already has been made and for the purpose of bonding the district, is $14,571,937.67. It will be possible under the law for the district to issue bonds up to 10 per cent of this valuation.

Statement of County Assessor George Wilcox

to the commissioners is that between $30,000 and $35,000 will be coming to the district as its share of the motor vehicle license fees collected in the county during the coming year.

JEROME HOSPITAL PLAN TAKES TANGIBLE FORM

Organization Committee Plans to Incorporate Institution for $50,000—Name Is Selected

JEROME—On Monday evening, the citizens who met the week before and determined to undertake the building of a local hospital in Jerome again met with several others interested in the undertaking, says the North Star. The meeting was for the purpose of hearing the reports of committees appointed at the previous meeting and for an exchange of suggestions.

The meeting was an animated one and considerable substantial progress was made. After discussion with the organization committee it was decided to incorporate the hospital as a non-profit sharing organization with capital stock of $50,000 at a par value of $50 per share. Messrs. Barclay and Zug of the committee expect to be able to bring in a final report at the next meeting.

Messrs. Armstrong and Bremer of the finance committee met and after discussion a motion was passed authorizing subscriptions to the amount of $35,000 and the committee expressed the belief that subscriptions to this amount could be secured.

Dr. Schmersahl and R. W. Williamson of the grounds committee said that three possible sites were under consideration on ground still owned by the company, but that it would likely be another week before a definite proposition could be submitted. An expression asked for indicated that the meeting preferred a plot of ground that would reasonably accommodate such a building as it is possible to finance instead of a plot consisting of a whole block.

A. Anderson and O. L. Thoresen of the plans committee stated they had visited Twin Falls and reported that they had visited Twin Falls and reported that they recommended a two-story and basement building of brick. No plans had been secured, but since the meeting had designated the amount of money expected to be spent at this time, they would take steps to secure plans in conformity therewith.

During the meeting the name selected was Jerome Hospital association. There was a lively interest manifested in the project and it was agreed to adjourn to meet again on Monday evening of next week, at Wilburn & Hartshorn's office and further perfect the details.

Editor's Joke.

A budding author sent a humorous paragraph to the editor of a daily paper. Not finding it printed within a reasonable time or hearing from the editorial department, he wrote to inquire about it. "I sent you a joke about ten days ago. I have heard nothing respecting its safe receipt and should be glad to hear whether you have seen it." The editor's reply was as follows: "Your joke arrived safely, but up to the present we have not seen it."

The Sun and Flowers.

In flowers of the common nasturtium the low sun of the early morning developed yellow coloring matter, the middle sun brought out the reds and the midday sun stimulated the violets, blues and purples, according to observations by R. E. Rawson, in a report to the Royal Microscopical society.

Ink Stains.

To remove black ink stains, the article should be washed immediately in several waters and then in milk, letting it soak in the milk for several hours; the stain will disappear. Washing the article immediately in vinegar and water, and then in soap and water, will remove all ordinary ink stains.

Novel Experiences.

Did you ever chance to see a woodchuck, a bottle fly, a stone fence, a cat, a bed spring, a mill race, corn pick up its ears or a potato wipe its eyes? Or have you ever had the novel experience of hearing a birch bark, a pillow tick, or a tree top hum? asks Gas Logic.

Really "Quake Doctors."

A quake doctor is not a goose, but was originally a "quake doctor." The quake was called the quake and the uneducated persons who served as doctors in certain parts of England used to charm the quake away; hence arose the expression.

Probably of Some Age.

Clarence was always doing things that brought exclamations of surprise from his mother. This seemed to puzzle, the little fellow. One day he asked: "How old will I have to be, mother, before I quit doing things that you are surprised at?"

Initial Step to Victory.

"There is a courage which is only another name for faith. Many a battle is lost before the soldier leaves his tent. The first step to victory is to believe that the battle need not be lost at all."—Rev. High Church, M. A.

Oldtime Fire Alarms.

Fire alarms came into use in medieval times. It was the custom in many of the towns to have a watchman stationed on a high building whose duty it was to look for fires. As soon as he saw one he gave warning by blowing a horn, firing a gun or ringing a bell.

Drawing the Line.

"The fresh young man who always wants to start something," remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "draws the line when it comes to the morning fire in the stove."—Yonkers Statesman.

Retribution.

When the man who invented the slide trombone grew old and crippled and could not get away, retribution hounded him in the form of a neighbor who practiced on one of the blamed things every night. An evil deed is always repaid with an evil deed.

Biblical "Prophecy."

The numerous "prophecies" of the Bible were not persons who foretold the future, but in the original the word means story writer. It will be found by a short examination that this is true.

The "Seven Seas."

The phrase "seven seas" is just a general reference to the ocean. A man said to have traveled the "seven seas" is one who has been much on the waters of the globe.

Tempering the wind to the shorn wolf is not scriptural, not even proverbial doctrine. Let any reader make the application for himself.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Velocity of Light.

The velocity of light was obtained by the Danish astronomer Roemer in 1676, by observing the eclipses of Jupiter's moon. When the earth was nearest to Jupiter, the eclipse appeared about eight and one-half minutes too soon for the calculations, and when the earth was most remote from Jupiter, they were about eight and one-half minutes too late. Roemer concluded the reason to be that it required 17 minutes for light from the planet to traverse the diameter of the earth's orbit, which measured the difference of the distances of the earth from Jupiter. This calculation has since been verified, and proves that light travels about 186,000 miles a second.

Canadian Money Orders.

Canadian money orders are issued on blanks of various denominations, each with the amount of money for which the order is issued printed on the back. A lady living in Ontario, sending a bunch of 90-cent money orders to make up a remittance to a Boston firm, apologized thus: "I apologize for all these post office orders. It seems that the local postmaster got in a stock six years ago, and the 90-cent orders were the slowest to sell. He has no others on hand now."

Match Scratcher.

Save the strip of sandpaper that comes on the match boxes and tuck on a hunk of door with thin Swede tacks; or strips of sandpaper may be cut five inches long and three-eighths inch wide. Place a tack at each end and one in the middle. This will not interfere with opening and closing of door, and will save steps in running back to get another match.

Like Papa.

The family wags at breakfast, and among other things they had hard-boiled eggs. The bald-headed papa turned to his two-year-old child and said: "Elizabeth, how do you wish your egg this morning?" She looked at the egg and then at her father and said: "I des I'll take it bald-headed, papa."

Napoleon Who Never Religned.

Napoleon II never reigned. When Napoleon I abdicated he also resigned the right of succession for his son, known as the King of Rome. When Napoleon III crowned himself emperor of the French he took the style and title of Napoleon III, in order to establish the connection between himself and his uncle, the first Napoleon.

Why Delay?

"Take this medicine," said the young doctor. "If it doesn't cure you, come back in a few days and I shall give you something that will." The patient pocketed the dope reluctantly. In a few moments he returned. "If you don't mind, doc, I'll take some of that that will cure me right away."

Baker's Dozen.

Years ago when a heavy penalty was inflicted for short weight, it was customary for bakers to give a surplus number of loaves, called "loafbread," to avoid risk of fine. The thirteenth was known as the "vantage loaf." It is said.

Western Samoa.

German Samoa, of Western Samoa, as it is called since September, 1914, when British occupation took place, comprises the islands of Savaii and Upolu with the town of Apia as the head of the political and commercial life. The islands are the remains of a semi-submerged volcanic range, heavily clothed with tropical verdure which to a great extent prohibits agriculture or farming; hence the principal industries are the planting of coconuts, cacao and rubber.

Noted Colored Woman.

Sojourner Truth was a colored woman born in New York state, probably about the middle of the eighteenth century, as she was middle aged at the time of Washington's death, in 1799. That was not her real name, but she assumed it for reasons of her own. She was a slave all her life, but set free by an act of the New York legislature in 1827, abolishing slavery in that state. July 4, 1827. Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote a life of her.

Antiquity of Disease.

The antiquity of disease is shown by the recent discovery of Prof. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington. He found fossilized toxic, or poisonous bacteria, at the base of and far below the Cambrian rocks. These rocks had originally lain 38 miles below the earth's surface, but had been upheaved by some tremendous convulsion. They is an age of 30,000,000 years ago.

Household Work Savers.

Use plates of newspaper about the kitchen, spreading them on the floor when anything is likely to splatter. It is easier to gather them up than to clean up. If there is a kitchen range not in use in the summer time it is well to prevent dampness and rust. If the kitchen has but a gas range, then a good-sized waste basket should be kept and the papers disposed of in whatever way is best.

Restoring Gilt Frames.

To restore gilt frames take a soft brush and carefully free the frames of every particle of dust, then cover with the following mixture: The white of one egg and one-half ounce of chloride of potassa. Apply with a soft brush. Scientific American says: If you desire to cleanse gilt frames without tarnishing them, wash them in beer.

Good in Strawberry Wine.

Regarded, medicinally, strawberry wine is held to be superior to grape wine. Spanish doctors who have investigated the matter report that strawberry wine gives the greater strength to a weakened constitution. The strawberry wine industry is said to be assuming some importance in Spain.

Real Meaning of Expression.

"Don't care a fig" is one of the commonest of expressions, but it isn't correct and means, little, whereas the original has some real meaning: "Don't care a figo." The word figo is used by Shakespeare and is a Roman word meaning a contemptuous snapping of the fingers.

Contradictory Camel.

As far back as history records, camels have been domestic animals, but no one familiar with camels ever entertains the least affection for them. The poison of all other beasts is in the camel's food. It pines and wastes in fat meadows; but grows fat, powerful and savage, independent among alkali-crusted sands.

Greatness.

Greatness is the aggregation of minuteness; nor can its sublimity be felt truthfully by any mind unaccustomed to the affectionate watching of what is least.—Boskin.

Right Idea About Business.

The old idea, that business is getting the better of your neighbor is not only "bad business," but nonsense. Business is not getting the better of your neighbor, but of your neighbor—and yourself. If business is not mutually profitable, it is mutually destructive. My neighbor's prosperity helps mine and mine his. When that old pernicious notion is finally exploded, the millennium of business will be at hand, the era of universal peace between capital and labor.—Lord Leverhulme.

Famous Castle of Durnstain.

The walled towers of the castle of Durnstain, in which Richard of England was imprisoned, still rise by the Danube, and there is a Napoleonic legend that, as the French emperor rode by in his Wagner campaign, he paused to them with horror as a reminder of a barbarous incident. Seemingly his reverry was untroubled by any presentiment of the far happier fate in store for him.

Keeping Hands in Shape.

For the man who does the work about his own car and yet does not care to have hands look like a garage mechanic's, the following is valuable: Four ounces of grain alcohol, three ounces of glycerin and three ounces of water, shaken up in a bottle. If this liquid is applied to the hands before beginning work, a good washing with soap and water afterward removes all traces of the labor.

Edible Alarm Clock.

It was late in the afternoon when the Scotch minister arrived at the farmhouse. The housewife suggested that perhaps he would like a cup of tea before he began the "exercises." "Na, na," said he, "I ayk tak' my tea better when my work is done. You can put the pan on and leave the door ajar, an' I'll draw to a close in the prayer when I hear the haam bawin'."

One Cuttlefish Handicapped.

There is one unfortunate specimen of cuttlefish, Nautilus, which cannot produce the smokecloud, but all the other species are able to do so by the simple process of discharging the contents of their inkbags. The result is a dense, impenetrable cloud of sepia, under cover of which they have little difficulty in effecting their escape.

Another One Settled.

"Yes, Edith, it is perfectly proper for a gentleman to remove his hat on entering a house. A great many husbands have become confused on this point, it appears, as they will often times remove their shoes on entering their homes, especially if the hour be rather late. This, of course, is a conservation measure of questionable value."—Indianapolis Star.

Indirect Action.

Said the almost philosopher, "It may sound like a paradox, but when a fellow has a weight lifted off his mind it makes his heart light."

ALBION NORMAL SCHOOL IS NOT TO BE REMOVED

Bill to Consolidate Two State Institutions at Pocatello Is Indefinitely Postponed as Result of Agreement

(Special to The News)
BOISE, Ida., Feb. 10.—Indefinite postponement in the fate met this morning in the house of the Albion normal removal bill which would have taken that school to Pocatello for consolidation with the technical institute there.

The result is said to come from an agreement on the part of the legislative members from the north to stop any talk of removal of any of the north's institutions and south members did not wish to jeopardize any of the interests of other bills.

The measure requiring the assessment of banks on the same basis as other business was passed by the senate this morning as was Senator Wedgwood's bill requiring irrigation projects to stop the sale of water when the supply is inadequate.

The house passed the Morgan bill which would levy 25 cents per $100 valuation for highway purposes, and the $50000 tax bill for the support of the state fair and livestock shows.

Gambling Bill Passes

After having been through the senate the bill making gambling a "moral nuisance," passed the house this morning, while the Bennett measure which would provide the residents could petition to be taken out of one school district and put in another was killed.

Representative Miller of Twin Falls

was the member responsible for the tabling of the Ada county annexation bill.

With both women of the house authors of the bill, voting against it, the measure that would require Governor Davis to put a woman on the state board of education was killed.

Committee on Differences

Strong efforts are being made today to get the senate and house together in a senate bill number 19, the consolidation measure. The senate failed this morning to concur in the house amendments and a joint committee is being formed to work out the differences.

It is believed the differences are technical.

The most important bill to be introduced this morning was started by Senator Witty who would allow groups of farmers to create power and irrigation districts and bond them for the purpose of erecting power houses and build lines, and also complete irrigation systems.

Another Appropriation Bill

came into the house hopper. It would take $119,456 out of the general fund to reclaim state lands within the Gem district.

RIO NAVY PROGRAM IS GIVEN REVERSE SETBACK

EMBARGO RELAXING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Relaxing its embargo ruling slightly, Great Britain has agreed that "a temporary expedient" importers can obtain one quarter of the quantity of American boots and shoes which they received in 1913. Consul-General Skinner at London so reported to the state department today.

SEVENTEENTH CROP MAY YET BE LOCUSTS

The 17-year locust in all his pesty crop destruction habits is scheduled for an American appearance again this year. The Department of Agriculture warns that the invasion this year may be one of the worst on record. Ares and hatched to the locusts will kill them off in droves. Theory has it that the locust eggs lie in the ground for 17 years before hatching—thus accounting for the long periods between appearances. South America comes forward with an idea which in time to come may mean the American farmers' seventeenth crop will be—locusts—and at a handsome profit. It is found that dead locusts' bodies consist quite largely of nitrogen and phosphoric acid. Therefore, soap, fertilizer and lubricating oils may yet be a by-product of a "locust year."

PEACING DE LUX WITH PRESIDENT WILSON

By ROBERT L. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Jan. 17.—(By Mail).—Traveling in France with the president of the United States on a first-time-in-history story presents many novel features for all concerned. Cruising about from the United States to Brest, from Brest to Paris, thence to Chaumont, back to Paris en route to Calais, whence the channel trip to Dover, thence to London, from London to Carlisle and Manchester, then retracing steps to Paris, and thence to Rome, Genoa, Milan, Turin and back again to Paris, affords its unique possibilities.

Upon landing at Brest it was discovered the French government had taken complete charge of transportation facilities. The president's party was split into divers bits and many were compelled to take a second train. Among those were Ambassador and Mrs. Collier of Italy and their party, who stood in the mud at the station at Brest for some time before they were told where they could get on the train.

When the president arrived at Murat Palace in Paris, his home, he discovered the lodgekeeper (a man in a little outer house who takes the name and pedigree of all prospective callers) in red short pants, black satin jacket and slippers with buckles on. As soon as there was time to give and execute an order, the man appeared in civilian garb.

On the trip back from Chaumont, the president entertained Jusserand among others as an informal dinner on the train. Meeting in the reception room of the president's car, a spirited exchange started as to who should go into the dinner first, the president, the ambassador, Mrs. Wilson or Mrs. Jusserand. After much bowing and "you firsts" the president finally said with a laugh: "Well, I'm too hungry to argue about it, I'll go in first and settle it."

The bathubs in Buckingham palace are deeper than those of any other place in the world. One can scarcely see over the top when sitting down in one of them.

While in Buckingham Palace, Admiral Grayson thoughtfully left his light burning in his living room after he retired into his bedroom. The servant assigned him, thinking Grayson was still up, maintained his position at the outer door throughout the night, and was still there in the morning when the admiral started out for a walk.

The church the president attended in Carlisle was so cold that the whole congregation kept overcoats on. The president removed his when he spoke.

A Long Wait

Today's defeat practically means that nation-wide enfranchisement of women must wait for a long time. It will be impossible to get another vote this session even were there any chance of converting the south, which thus has again blocked suffrage.

Next session the resolution will have to be put through the house again and this may prove rather difficult in spite of republican control, because of the many new members. However, suffrage leaders said immediately after the vote they will prepare to renew their campaign at the extra session.

Must Accept Responsibility

They also are determined, they declared, to make the democratic party accept full responsibility for today's defeat.

Members of the woman suffrage party bitterly condemned the Washington militants of the national women's party today, blaming their tactics in this city for refusal of some democrats to change their votes.

Unfavorable Impression

The burning of President Wilson's speeches in front of the White House and picketing which had several times caused rioting, was held by "regular" suffrage leaders to have created a distinctly unfavorable impression in congress which not only manifested itself today but will do so later unless the militants are curbed.

Up until the hour of voting, suffragists had hoped that Trammell of Florida, or Williams, of Mississippi, or perhaps Borah or Dillingham would either vote yes or be absent. But all were in their seats and voted without hesitation.

Much Disaffection

One of the bitterest meetings ever held in the labor temple occurred Sunday, conservatives and radicals clashing time and again over the settlement issue. The action of six unions in breaking away was resented by those who voted to continue the strike, the delegates of the latter complaining that this was playing into the hands of the employers.

Would Affect All Yards

A campaign to call strikes in every shipyard in the United States to "force the issue of our just demands in some manner," is contemplated by metal trades council officials, as a result of the breaking away of the unions affiliated with the central labor council.

Although they "hope it will soon be settled," shipyard men's delegates admit they are no nearer a settlement than when the shipyard strike was called.

Final Session Closed

Newboys will work today, according to the executive board.
