

LABOR AT WORK IN SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 11.—At noon today Seattle tooted its whistles and switched its civic gear into "high" again as the five days' sympathetic strike of workmen came to an official close.

Business Resumed
The majority of labor that had remained out until then, went back to its job.

Every One Believed
There was an almost audible sigh of relief as wanted activities were resumed.

Markets, shops, groceries, theaters—all places of commerce and amusement, combined to restore the interrupted social and industrial life of the harried northwestern metropolis.

Speed Up Everything
And traffic cops began to function again.

"Speed up" was the word everywhere.

Calculated by strike leaders to be as dramatic a display as they had, regarded the general sympathetic walkout in support of shipyard workers wage demands, thousands of laborers and clerks appeared at their employment simultaneously.

They ended the most portentous undertaking of American industrial life, began at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, February 6, characterized by Mayor Hanson and civic organizations as an "abortive attempt to start a revolution" and by the strike monitors as a "convincing demonstration of labor's solidarity."

DECLARES PRESS IS TROUBLESOME

Reports of Moving the Conference Causes Much Comment in French Circles

PARIS, Feb. 11.—Reports circulated yesterday that the peace conference might be moved from Paris because of obstructive tactics from the French press, caused much comment today. Amazement was expressed in certain French circles that such a thing could be contemplated.

While Premier Clemenceau subscribed to the league of nations, French newspapers continue their propaganda for a peace settlement on strategic lines. The press is alleged to be pursuing other courses that are highly embarrassing to the conference.

WILSON WANTS NO FOSS MADE OVER ARRIVAL

President Is Willing to Lead a Parade for the Soldiers but Wants No Ovation for Himself

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—President Wilson has called a request to Secretary Tamm that no ovation be arranged in his honor on his return to the United States.

The president stated that he will come direct to Washington after landing at an Atlantic port. No definite date for sailing has been decided upon, the president stated.

Belief is that the president's vessel will dock either at New York or Hampton Roads, but in either case, it was stated, the president will go quietly to Washington where a mass of executive business awaits him.

Will March for Soldiers
The president signified his willingness to march at the head of a parade for returning soldiers in Washington on his return but emphasized that the demonstration be in honor of the fighters and not for him.

The president's cable indicated that he intends to spend practically all the time between his arrival and adjournment of congress in executive offices and that any speaking trip throughout the country giving details of the peace conference must wait until after that.

Many bills pushed through the closing hours of congress demand his attention.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE IN BUILDING TRADES CALLED SYM LABOR CHIEF

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—A sympathetic strike, involving thousands of workers employed on contracts of the Building Trades Employers' Association throughout the country, has been called for today, according to William Hutchison, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

The exact number of men scheduled to walk out cannot be estimated, but Detroit, New Orleans, Terre Haute, Cleveland, Chicago, Columbus and San Francisco are some of the cities that will be affected, Hutchison said.

The striking carpenters are seeking "a dollar a day" increase and have declared their willingness to submit their demand to the war labor court, Hutchison said. The employers have refused to deal with the workers either directly or indirectly while the strike is in progress, he stated.

MANY MILLIONS OF REVENUE TAX ALREADY SPENT

Urges Adoption of the Conference Report Immediately as This Money Must Be Paid Soon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Eight hundred million dollars of the tax to be raised under the six billion dollar revenue bill have already been spent, Senator Simmons told the senate today.

Simmons urged immediate adoption of the conference report on the tax bill because this $800,000,000 must be paid by March 15.

Republican filibuster tactics on the bill developed when the conference report was called up in the senate today.

Senator Simmons announced that he would move for night sessions beginning tomorrow if any attempt is made to maintain a filibuster.

NEW YORK HARBOR STRIKE COMES TO LABOR BOARD

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Consideration of the New York harbor strike case was taken up today at a meeting of the national war labor board.

Former President Taft on Ibaud M. Manly, joint chairman, conducted the hearing.

Unions involved at the hearing and which conducted the three day harbor strike were: The National Pilots' Union; Marine Engineers' Union; Harbor Unions; Maritime Engineers' Union; and Port and Terminal Workers' Union.

They demand an eight hour day and increase in pay.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—President Wilson has cabled his approval of the national budget system as proposed in the house by Chairman Sherley of the appropriations committee.

QUEENSTOWN, Feb. 11.—S. O. S. calls were received early today from the Steamer Kwarras of the Elder Dempster and company line, reported disabled four hundred miles southwest of the Scilly Islands. The Kwarras is a steel steamer of 5,816 tons, built in 1910.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—The hearing of a motion for a new trial for Victor Berger and four other convicted socialist leaders today was again postponed until February 20. The request for further continuance was made by attorneys for the defendants. None of the socialists were in court.

TERMS OF PEACE ARE UNDECIDED

Settlement Need Not Wait On League of Nations Formation Is Now Declared

PARIS, Feb. 11.—The peace settlement need not wait for establishment of the league of nations, inasmuch as it is the best method of determining the terms of peace, foreign Secretary Balfour declared in an interview with British and American correspondents.

Balfour said that no one could tell exactly when peace will be signed. Asked specifically if he thought it would be concluded by April 1 he replied that he believed that date was rather over-optimistic.

In reply to a question as to how Germany can pay indemnities if she is not allowed to recuperate her industry, he said that Germany's recuperation should not be at the expense of France and Belgium, but that "it is nobody's interest that Germany should become a derelict nation."

RADICAL IDEAS OF BOLSHEVIKI ARE EXPLAINED

Commercial Attache in Russia Tells Overman Committee of Work of the Leaders Among Germans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Russian Bolsheviki are opposed to any of the old established governments and seek to extend their own to the whole world, Dr. W. C. Huntington told the Overman committee of the senate.

Huntington said that while the Bolsheviki leaders accepted Germany money and were traitors to Russia and the allies, that they had no more sympathy with Germany's government than with any other.

Took German Money
"They were perfectly willing to take German money to gain their end," he explained. "They were traitors to the allies but they did not want Germany to win. Germany used them as a military instrument and when she had gained her ends she was willing to withdraw her troops and send them to the western front."

"Their objection to us are two-fold. First, we entered the war and they do not believe in war, and second, we are not a socialist government and do not appeal to them for that reason."

WAR LABOR BOARD MEETS

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—The national war labor board met in secret session here today with joint Chairman William H. Taft and Basil M. Manly attending.

Members denied the New York harbor strike was to be discussed.

SEATTLE IS COUNTING THE COST

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 11.—In the bustle to reorganize the dis-jointed industrial life after the stroke of 12 noon when the general strike here was scheduled to end, Seattle was beginning to count profit and loss on the five day sympathetic walkout that had affected in all more than 100,000 working people and had tied up the city.

None of the responsible men in the city administration nor in the commercial circles was taking "open shop" as an aftermath of the general strike.

Preliminary estimates of gains and losses to labor and industry in dollars and cents, although necessarily rough and more or less speculative, include:

Loss of four million dollars in output of manufactures—including ship production and based on the annual manufacture volume of $250,000,000 for Seattle.

Loss in wages for 70,000 workmen figured on $5 day average wage, approximately $3,750,000.

Heavy inroads on union strike benefit funds and on the city treasury due to emergency protective and other measures.

Cars Run on Schedule
The street cars regarded by many unionists as well as the general public as the visible sign of differences inside the ranks of the sympathetic strikers here, were operating on schedule this morning.

This was in the face of the plea made yesterday afternoon by the general strike committee that all union men who had gone back to work do so again until noon today. A number of other crafts remained at work although the number was in dispute.

This gave the strike situation today the aspect of having resolved itself into a clash as to tactics and policy among the various elements of the strikers.

Plan of Leaders
Seattle watched only today to see whether the "solidarity of labor" would again tie up the city.

The plan of those who engineered the sympathetic strike of 40,000 union men was to have the city as a functionless this morning as it was the first two days of the strike and then to march the workers back to their jobs at noon today with their ranks unbroken.

Since a good share of the paralysis during the early hours of the strike was due to fear of rioting, it was certain that Seattle would not present this morning the abnormal appearance it did last week.

Some of the unions, apparently had refused to walk out again. Among these was the street car union. Its executive committee ordered the men to remain at work this morning.

The musicians union, however, acted last night, and the musicians walked out after their jobs at noon today.

Several large theaters were forced to refund entrance fees to their audiences.

Police Armed with Rifles
Police armed with rifles and night sticks, and U. S. regulars still guarded the streets.

The perfect order for orderliness of the strikers was unbroken.

Major-General Morris, commander of the western department, late yesterday received a committee of labor leaders. They outlined labor's attitude explained their reasons for the sympathetic strike and said their following were loyal Americans.

The general strike was called in sympathy with thirty thousand striking ship workers who refused to accept the Macy award. The ship workers strike will not end with the sympathy strike.

This was the first general strike in America's history. An estimated seventy thousand men were out.

Suffrage Matter May Come Before Peace Delegates

President Wilson Announces that He Favors Special Committee for Question

PARIS, Feb. 11.—President Wilson, addressing a delegation of international woman suffrage representatives, announced that he favored establishment of a special committee to take up the problems concerning women in connection with the peace settlement. He indicated that a similar American delegation would advocate such a plan in the peace conference.

BOTTE STILL HAS POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS; NO STREET CARS

Twelve Thousand Men Out On General Strike—Soldiers Use Bayonet to Break Up Crowds of Peace Disturbers and Agitators—Mayor Withdraws Threat to Discharge City Employees

BUTTE, Mont., Feb. 11.—With 12,000 men out on what approximates a general strike, Butte still had a police force and fire department today.

Mayor Maloney's threat to discharge all members of both departments at noon yesterday was withdrawn following a conference with Major A. M. Jones, commanding the troops stationed here. The mayor had announced he would discharge the employees because the city treasury had no money to pay them.

Street Cars Stop
Street cars are not running. The mines are practically closed down.

On several occasions troops of soldiers used the bayonets to break up gatherings.

ENGLISH KING GIVES REPORT TO PARLIAMENT

Informal Speech From the Throne Praises the Spirit Now Existing Between America and Great Britain

STRONGLY FAVORS THE PLANS OF THE LEAGUE
Urges that the Government Fulfill Their Pledges to the Trade Unions and Avoid Trouble

LONDON, Feb. 11.—King George, speaking from the throne informally, opening parliament shortly after noon today, expressed his desire that the understanding between Great Britain and the United States should increase, and that the two countries will "act together in the future."

Expression of Good Will
"It has given great pleasure to receive President Wilson," said the king. "The enthusiastic welcome accorded him is proof of the good will of all sections of my people feel toward the United States. I earnestly desire to increase this understanding, and for my country and the United States will act together in the future."

He also urged a bill "preventing unfair competition by the sale of imported goods below the selling price where they are produced."

Colonial Questions
He recommended introduction in the house of commons of a bill for constitutional reform in India.

Regarding the Irish situation, he said: "The position in Ireland has caused me great anxiety. I earnestly hope that conditions soon will improve sufficiently to make possible a durable settlement."

MAY NOT RENEW THE ARMISTICE

Member of the Armistice Commission Says the Germans Will Not Stand Victory

TURIN, Feb. 11.—Msthis Erzberger, member of the German armistice, declared in an interview at Weimer that Germany would not renew the armistice if the new provisions are "too severe," according to dispatches received here.

"If the new conditions of the armistice are too severe we will not sign them and will thus remain in a state of neither peace nor war," Erzberger is quoted as saying.

The supreme war council in Paris is now discussing recommendations made by Marshal Foch for more drastic military terms to insure Germany carrying out certain terms of the present armistice, which she is alleged to have evaded.

The armistice is scheduled to be renewed at Treves, February 17.

WILSON PLANS TO LEAVE FOR AMERICA SOON

Preparation Made for Presidential Party to Start Sunday on the Return Trip to the United States

BY ROBERT J. BENDER
 PARIS, Feb. 11.—President Wilson planned today to leave Friday for Great Britain to sailing for the United States. There was a possibility, however, that his steamer might not leave before Sunday. The president's party, it was learned, will include Earl Reading, French Ambassador Jusserand, Italian Ambassador Colloredo and Franklin Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy.

Constitution Ready
 The reprint of the league of nations constitution which was completed and approved yesterday, was to be read at today's session of the committee of which Wilson is chairman. During the afternoon the president was to meet the supreme war council when Belgian delegates were to discuss the systematic plans of the Germans to destroy Belgian industries. The matter will be referred to the supreme economic council for handling in connection with the indemnities and armistice provisions. The war council was also expected to consider Marshal Foch's plan for further military demonstrations such as occupation of other strategic points, to insure compliance with the armistice. The president will attend a benefit performance at the opera tonight.

FRENCH CENSOR DOES NOT LIKE THE LATE NEWS

Peace Conference Report Is Disapproved by Official Who Cuts Out Two American Papers

PARIS, Feb. 11.—The French censor showed his disapproval of the report that the peace conference might be removed from Paris by deleting comment on the Paris editions of two American newspapers.

The Paris edition of the New York Herald appeared this morning with a big double column white space on the first page. A column article in the Paris edition of the Chicago Tribune, was also deleted, save for two paragraphs relating to the league of nations.

Foreign Secretary Balfour, replying to correspondent's questions regarding the alleged threat to move the peace conference, said it was conceivable that the press of a large city, by keeping up certain propaganda, might create an unhealthy atmosphere that would interfere with the work of the conference and render its removal to a neutral country desirable. But if such a situation were created, he said, he thought it could be adjusted.

REPUBLICAN FORCES WIN BIG VICTORY

Monarchists are Given a Severe Defeat by the Portuguese Loyal Troops

PARIS, Feb. 11.—Complete victory for the Portuguese republican forces within a short time was forecast in diplomatic circles here today.

Strong republican forces are gathering in the northern provinces where the monarchists still hold out, while the blockade on the sea ports controlled by the royalists is stiffening. The government at Lisbon considers there are enough troops already in the field to handle the situation without calling on the expeditionary forces which General Rozadas placed at the country's disposal. War Minister Cortereal has already left Lisbon for the front. President Castro and other members of the cabinet are expected to follow soon.

Yankees Will Go To School In England

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(By mail)—British universities are preparing to receive as students hundreds of American boys who discontinued their college courses to go to war.

The students will be received under a plan formulated by government authorities in consultation with America's army officials.

More than 250,000 American boys are continuing their studies at American schools established behind the lines in France. The number of schools is to be increased to 3,000.

The warzone schools were established and are being operated under direction of the Y. M. C. A. which registered more than 47,000 teachers in the U. S. fighting forces.

A DIGRE OF VICTORY.

(By Captain Louis Dunaway)
 Lift not thy trumpet, to the sky
 Nor the bugle-battalions nor by banners blare
 But over hollows full of old wire go Where, among the dregs of war, the long-dead lie
 With wasted iron that the guns passed by
 When they went eastward like a tide at flow
 There blow thy trumpet that the dead
 may know
 Who waited for thy coming, Victory.
 It is not we that have deserved thy wrath,
 They waited there among the towers
 of steel
 The sleep mud turned under the ther-
 mid's breath,
 And winter cracked the bones that
 no man heeds;
 Hundreds of nights flamed by, 'ho
 seasons passed.
 And thou hast come to them at last
 at last!

As on the battle line, when brought face to face with an allied bayonet,
 the German promptly put up his hands and shouted "Kamarad!" so now, facing retribution, he howls about "Severely" and declaims against the danger of "pushing us too far!"
 The "yellow streak" in German
 "Kultur" is evidently the woodall else being-veneer. Like the leaders of the Confederacy, he talked big about victory or death—the dying to be "in the last ditch," but very unlike our Southern brethren, who fought very aggy they possessed absolutely to a frazzle, and then suddenly fled in the open field, at the moment the tide of warfare turned obviously against them, the Hun put up his bloody hands and begged to be allowed to go home and rest!

The latest order in mechanical engineering, the construction of a huge steel freighter vessel, registering nine thousand tons, squarely in two, and then turning each half upon its side, in order to take it from the great lakes through the Welland Canal and into the ocean.

Commenting on a program stating that the former kaiser has a severe cold in the head, the "Star" thinks it evidently extended from the foot.

A number of leading republican journals are protesting in advance, against the election of James R. Mann, representative from a Chicago district with a large German element, as speaker upon organization of the next house.
 It is perfectly certain that in the latter war, both before and after the United States became a participant, Mann's Americanism was nowhere near up to par. He publicly declared, as late as 1915, "I am neutral, I think we ought to maintain peace at all hazards." He revolted for the McLemore resolution, and his sins of omission were greater than those of commission. In his own district at the November election, his majority fell from 21,417 in 1916 to 11, 294, almost fifty per cent; and this in spite of a republican tidal wave. Burden of the republicans in the next congress can find some one more worthy of reward by leadership than James R. Mann with the double N!

The Sunday "Statesman" says that Idaho's two women legislators are "so popular, both in the legislative halls and in the city, that they have hardly any time to themselves." Also that "Dr. Drake and Mrs. White, her colleague, are responsible for a number of bills along the line of reform legislation for women and children."

 The Idaho legislature is still incubating its bill to materially amend our primary election laws in the direction of confining votes much more strictly within party lines. It is not impossible that the best place to amputate the tail of that dog would be right behind the cars.

A bill prescribing eight hours instead of nine as a day's work for women, and sponsored by Dr. Emma Drake of Pay-cite and Mrs. White, of this county, was passed by the house Saturday.

Senator Severus of this county on Saturday in the course of a strong argument against the Nelson bill, providing for the condemnation of public utilities for municipal ownership and use, discounted Senator Borah's statistics as to the variance between prices for power generated at Niagara upon the two sides of the river, and very pertinently called attention to the bur-denous taxes so often resulting from the granting of low rates under public ownership. For example, he compared Boise's tax average of $38 per family with the average of $179 in Seattle, where public ownership of utilities obtains.

Pending the passage of the postoffice appropriation bill in the senate, which carries a total of four hundred millions, one-half of which is to be devoted to the construction of the $40,000,000 available this year, Senator Kenyon of Iowa, delivered a philippic on "wasteful governmental expenditure." The senator has caused enough "hot" articles, beyond any doubt, but money in good roads is not wanted.

France feted and kowtowed the president of the United States world-without-child, but has been led to offer
 very sharp, and as it seems, justifiable, criticism of the attitude assumed by Mr. Woodrow Wilson in the peace conference—especially as to his astounding proposition to "recognize the (Russian) revolution without reservation," and to clasp hands with the "Treaty assassin" and his allies in some sort of a sub-peace conference.
 The "Echo de Paris" characterizes the proposition as "insane"; the "Gaulois" calls it "perilous"; while "L'Ac-tion Francaise" only sees it as "reducible." Some of the more extended comments are inclined to be bitter, as witness the following by Gustave Herve, in "La Vermeil":

The sermons Wilson has addressed to the different Russian parties are the same he addressed with evangelical patience to the belligerents in the great war for two years before deciding to take part in the quarrel. If Lenin refuses the conciliation offered, he will put himself in a bad position, and then without scruples the good judge of international peace will draw his powerful sword and annihilate the demon who has refused his olive branch. This method has the great drawback of prolonging the suffering of the patient. What blood and suffering might have been saved if Wilson had not waited nearly three years before taking the side of the victims in the war against his executioner!

But the most severe arraignment of all in connection with this matter was recently made in the senate of the United States by Senator Harding, of the great state of Ohio—himself being recognized as one of the leaders in that body. In the course of a carefully prepared speech with not only the senate
 but the whole country as auditors, Senator Harding said:

"I do not hesitate to say that I think the world today, trembling
 under the menace of Bolshevism, owes a large part of that growing menace to the policies and utterances of the chief executive of the United States."
 These be serious words. Think you upon them!

A "STRIKE" STRUCK!

It is probably fortunate that the first demonstration of Bolshevism influence in this country should be made at Seattle, and at this time. This for the reason that Seattle has in the saddle a chief executive who is one hundred per cent American, if his name is Ole Hanson, and for the further reason that chief executive who is one hundred per cent American, if his name is Ole Hanson; and for the further reason there are several thousand United States soldiers within a few hours of that city.
 The United States has always been and still is the laboring man's paradise. Not only were there offered here unexampled opportunities to rise from employed to employer; but nowhere else in the world were working hours
 so short, wages so large or privileges so many and liberal. In the ship yards at Seattle, where the present strike is reputed to have originated, men were working shorter hours than ever before and receiving for each week's labor an amount that would have paid for a month two years ago. Now, however, although the war is over and the pressure under which no wage was deemed too great is entirely removed,
 these men demand still shorter hours or greater wage, and not only "walk out" when their demands are demurred at, but secure a "sympathetic strike" least defensible of all—by which all the public utilities, and therefore the business and social life of the city, are absolutely paralyzed.
 This situation, grave enough at the best, is made more serious from maneuvres and incitements, intended to be kept out of sight, but of which enough is known to justify a senator of the United States, sitting in his place in the senate, solemnly to declare that these strikers on the northwest coast are "conducting an experiment in Russian Bolshevism;" that the assuming of governmental functions by them was in view; and that the time had come when party differences should be abandoned in the maintenance of the basic principles upon which our government was founded.
 Senator Thomas is not an alarmist and did not make these astonishing statements without warrant. With this in mind, all true Americans will welcome the stance taken by Mayor Hanson, which while recognizing the conditions to be as indicated by Senator Thomas, meets them boldly and cour-ageously with the drawn sword of law and order. Listen to Mayor Hanson:

The time has come for every person to show his Americanism. Do not say daily that without fault, but has been led to offer it that you have food, transportation, light, water and gas, and all necessities. . . .
 Strikers have not take over governmental functions in Seattle and will not be allowed to do so,
 despite their published statements.
 Any man who attempts to take over control of government functions here will be shot on sight!
 All that, under the circumstances,
 has a wonderfully healthy and reasoning sound—especially when we know that the suggestion of Mayor Hanson, authority has been given for the use of United States soldiers as necessary, that demobilization has been stopped and that Major General Morrison, the department commander, has gone from San Francisco to take the situation in hand.

Bloodshed is always to be deprecated and most of all that flowing from a clash between the citizens of a nation and its soldiers. But sometimes a few can only be abated by the surgeon's lancet; and if the lesson that anarchy will not be tolerated in this country can be taught in no other way, why the Seattle experiment can and will furnish the example if they persist.

BATTLE OVER NAVY PROGRAM GETS HOT

Measure Is in Danger of Absolute De- feat Through a Combina- tion of Forces

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—A combina- tion of forces today had the ad- ministration's big navy program in a precarious position in the house.

Majority leaders, who put the full strength of their organization behind the measure, the minute it seemed in danger, predicted however, that the big navy would go through today with a score or more of votes to spare.

The battle which began in the house late yesterday and continued today broke after republican leader Mann succeeded in having the provisions for a new three year naval building program ruled out of the naval appropri- ation bill on a technical point of order.

ANNUAL BUDGET FOR BANDMEN IS RAISED EASILY

Manager W. R. Priebe Tells Local Musicians of Subscription Raised to Give Twin Falls Bigger and Better Band

Citizens of Twin Falls have subscribed over $2,000 during the past few days to the budget of the Twin Falls band, and the goal of $2,000 has been reached without any difficulty. Manager W. R. Priebe assured the bandmen at their regular meeting Monday evening of rehearsal.

In return for this subscription, Mr. Priebe told the bandmen, Twin Falls expects a bigger and better band than it has ever had, and it is the purpose of the bandmen to see that no one of the subscribers has cause for disappointment in this respect.

Wealth of Talent Here

Bandmen from among the ranks of returning service men and from elsewhere, are arriving here daily. Mr. Priebe states that the class of instrumentation, drawn from a wealth of available material, will be higher than had been anticipated, he predicts.

On account of the appearance here of the allied war veterans band two days next, week, local bandmen have abandoned their last class of instrumentation in the immediate future, but may give an opportunity to the public to hear them at their best at a dance or similar occasion soon.

The bandmen's program for the season includes the giving of a series of 15 open air concerts in Twin Falls before the furnishing of music for the Decoration day observance in May.

MAE MARCH SCORES IN THE RACING STRAIN

Famous Star Has Best Role of Her Career in Pictures to Be Shown Here Soon

"Another 'Polly of the Circus'?" That was the exclamation of one of New York's most prominent showmen following a private screening of Mae March's newest Goldwyn picture, "The Racing Strain." And Goldwyn is firm in the belief that the millions who were enthralled by Margaret Mayo's "classic of the big top" will find the new Goldwyn-Mae March production no less appealing and entertaining.

"The Racing Strain," a romance of Kentucky and Saratoga, was written expressly to suit the peculiar talents of the vicious star by Tex Charvato, author of Geraldine Ferrar's first Goldwyn production, "The Turn of the Wheel," and of "Peck's Bad Girl," Mabel Normand's recent comedy triumph.

A home race exceeding in picturesque and thrills the stirring contest in "Polly of the Circus," is one of the glowing features in "The Racing Strain." The event was staged at Saratoga and evidences the fidelity to detail, the elaborateness and the wealth of realism that stamps "The Racing Strain" as one of the greatest photography treats of the year.

TAX ON UNDEVELOPED WATER POWER KILLED

Claim Is Made That Measure Was Not Introduced in Good Faith but to Fool the Farmer

BOISE, Ida., Feb. 11.—The senate killed by indefinite postponement the bill by Booth to tax water power companies on undeveloped power. The measure, it was charged, was not introduced in good faith, but as part of an underhanded league to bring schemes to further "fool the farmer."

It was pointed out that the power companies, like all other business institutions, were anxious to sell all their output possible but that they could not produce more than there was a reasonable demand for.

It was also shown that the present available power was in excess of the demand.

The farmers in the legislature small-ly of the bill, as they recognized it as not only being obstructive to Idaho industrial advancement but as having the foundation for a socialist plot to tax all undeveloped resources, even unused farm lands, as high as that under cultivation.

JURY INSTRUCTED TO FIND FOR DEFENDANT

Star Witness for State Fails to Deliver the Goods at Eleventh Hour, Is Humored at Court House

On motion of the prosecuting attorney after a jury had been empaneled for the trial in district court here on Monday morning, the case of Crum Wolf, 2-month accused of the illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, was dismissed and the jury was instructed by Judge W. A. Babcock to return a verdict of not guilty. It was stated that a witness upon whose testimony the prosecution had relied principally in the case appeared at the eleventh hour to be lacking in the information it was expected he would give.

FOUR AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION FAVORED

Session Recommends Change in Law to Permit of Higher Pay and Longer Senatorial Terms

BOISE, Ida., Feb. 11.—Four joint resolutions have been introduced in the legislature asking for constitutional amendments covering the following: increase in pay for the legislators from five dollars to ten dollars a day; increase in terms of state senators from two to four years; extension of the power of the supreme court of the state so it may have jurisdiction of appeal from the decision of the public utilities commission; empowering of the state board of equalization to meet in special session to correct errors and omission and assessment of property.

The senate will be reached to the purchase of government, state or improvement district bonds by city treasurers with municipal funds; and a measure by which twenty or more may form a highway district and the bill which would allow the majority of a road district to disorganize a district.

The house has passed the Gudmundsen bill which allows independent school districts to issue enough bonds to pay off their outstanding indebtedness before September 1 this year and the measure by Senator which increases legal bonds issue of municipalities to ten per cent of assessed valuation. The latter measure had previously passed the senate. It will largely increase municipal building it is believed.

The first of the big appropriation measures reached the house late Friday when the committees on judiciary and state affairs asked for a hundred thousand dollars to construct new wings on the state capital building.

W. P. Gutrie, attorney for Williams, Monday filed notice of appeal in the case and District Judge W. A. Babcock issued a certificate of probable cause for appeal and an order for bail bond. Fixed the amount of the bail to be furnished pending the outcome of the appeal at $500. The bond was furnished.

MANY NEW BILLS COME TO SENATE

Primary Law Is Sure to be Passed With Only Two Amendments to It

BOISE, Idaho, Feb. 11.—That the new primary law will pass the senate at this time is certain. The bill will have two amendments, both of considerable importance. They were adopted Monday afternoon by the committee of the whole. One changes the date of the primary to the fourth Tuesday in August while the other makes more stringent the rules governing delegates to the primary.

While no discussion was had in the senate the latter amendment which adds the words "quote" who do not correctly represent the principles of the party to which they are accredited—quote is believed to be of far reaching importance because of the construction which may be put upon it by county central committees.

Would Eliminate League

It is also believed it will serve to conveniently eliminate members of the non-partisan league who would otherwise qualify as democrats two years from now because they will by that time have technically become members of the party under the other terms of the bill. After having passed, the bill allowing court reporters to retain all fees met death in the senate Monday afternoon, while Robertson's herd district measure providing that only freeholders could sign petitions, went the indefinite postponement route.

New Brand Books

A complete revision of the state brand book is asked for in a new senate bill. The expense of the revision will be paid by an assessment of one dollar for each brand, and stock men must renew their brand each five years. Senator McMurray is determined that the unskilled automobile mechanic be held responsible for the quality of his work. Examination and license would be necessary for automobile mechanics under his new bill introduced Monday while a lengthy debate occurred during the afternoon session over his measure to make garages give two thousand dollar bond.

CALL SPECIAL BOND ELECTION

IDAHO FALLS: Idaho—Bonnyville county commissioners at their recent meeting passed a resolution calling for a special bond election of the county for the purpose of erecting a court house at a cost not to exceed $225,000. The question will be submitted to the voters at noon on plans and specifications of the building have been approved. About two years ago a similar bond issue was voted on, but failed to carry by a small margin. Over $15,000 in rents have been paid to owners of buildings in Idaho Falls during the last eight years for quarters for county officers.

BUY MATERIAL FOR AUXILIARY WATER DELIVERY

Engineer Carl E. Painter Carries Out Instructions of City Council Relative to Providing Emergency Water Supply

Material for the construction of an auxiliary water supply line to provide for Twin Falls domestic supply and fire protection in the event of accident on the siphon conveying the supply across Rock creek canyon was purchased in Salt Lake this week by Carl E. Painter, supervising engineer for Burns & McDonough, consulting engineers, whose recommendations for the new municipal waterworks system here are being carried into effect.

Bond Money to Spare

The building of this auxiliary structure, which was authorized at the last meeting of the city council, will involve an expenditure of approximately $9,000. It was not practically begun in the original plans for the new system, but the cost will be defrayed from the proceeds of the sale of bonds issued in the amount of $75,000 for the installation of the system, and there will still be between $15,000 and $18,000 to spare, Mr. Painter states.

The structure is known technically as a "h'panas." In accordance with plans submitted by Mr. Painter and adopted by the council, it will be built of wood-lath pipe, 10 inches in diameter, to be carried across the canyon upon the trestle now in place in the vicinity of the Shoshone street bridge where it is used to carry one of the supply mains now serving the city.

Congress Talks of Aid to Heroes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Congressmen have been introducing bills to aid discharged American soldiers ever since the armistice was signed. If a tenth of these bills had passed the soldiers would be well looked after. But to date, only one has gone through the house. It allowed enlisted men to retain their uniforms and overcoats, giving them a month's pay as a bonus and five cents a mile as a transportation charge.

A dozen or more bills have been introduced covering the pay bonus. They range from one month to six.

Among the hundred or more pending relief measures are those: To exempt military hospitals in Kentucky for discharged soldiers.

To furnish uniforms and equipment to officers in the navy at cost.

To provide hospitals for discharged soldiers and sailors at marine hospitals and Fort Stanton, N. M.

To authorize payment of allowances under war risk insurance out of pay when payments have been discontinued.

To lift restrictions of the homestead law touching soldiers.

Authority to pay salaries of members of congress discharged from the army.

Authority to grant furloughs to enlisted men to work on farms.

To extend use of national rehabilitation fund and authorize acceptance of gifts.

To make effective recommendations for promotions which had not been carried out when the armistice was signed.

Granting increase in rank to certain officers of the army, navy and marine corps who served overseas.

SENATE PASSES FOUR MEASURES

Long Session on Last Friday Accomplishes Much in Clearing Away Business

BOISE, Feb. 11.—The Senate held a long session Friday afternoon when it passed four measures. Hereafter, should the bill pass the house, city treasurers can invest their funds in government bonds and improvement district bonds. This was one of the measures passed by the senate today. Senator Lee of Bligham county championed the measure pointing out that cities often had large amounts in sinking funds which would draw a greater rate of interest if invested in bonds rather than deposited in banks. There was no independent school districts. The bill making it a felony to display a red flag or emblem of anarchy was again passed by the upper body with the house amendment which provides that any act of disloyalty to the state of Idaho will come under the terms of the act. The house passed the bill providing independent school districts power to issue funding bonds to take up outstanding indebtedness and two minor measures, one providing for the control of disease and the other appropriating $750 for the creation of a uniform state law commission.

LATAH COUNTY PLANNING EXTENSIVE ROAD BUILDING

MOSCOW, Ida.—Latah county is planning an area of road building never before attempted. Three road districts with a total mileage of about seventy miles are being formed and elections to elect the commissioners have been called. One district has a total of thirty-seven miles of road which is planned to grade and hard surface. This district covers one of the richest farming sections of Latah county. The land owners of the district have petitioned the county commissioners to form the district and the date and places for holding the election have been fixed. There seems to be no doubt that the proposition will carry for it claimed that a large majority of the land owners of the district signed the petitions.

Another district is in the Cedar Creek ridge neighborhood, where 85 per cent of the land owners signed the petition for a road district to be formed for the purpose of building a hard-surfaced route to Kendrick, the nearest railroad point.

A third district runs from Moscow to Genesee, through Thora Creek precinct, via Genesee and connects with the Lewiston highway a few miles beyond Genesee. A portion of this road, from the state line running toward Genesee, has already been graded and hard surfaced.

THE ENGLISH CROWD Mayor Hyman explodes a bombshell in the ranks of his opponents. They belong to the "English crowd" in this city, a crowd that while the war was in progress tried to get him to do unpalatable things—or, at least, things of which he does not speak. One of them, we hear, it whispered, was to sell the American Navy to King George for thirty cents. This prepares us for the utter wickedness of the motive behind the "hisxy protest" against the appointment of Hearst on the committee to welcome the returning soldiers.

CONGRESS STUDIES BOLSHEVIKI WORK First Witness Will Be Heard by the Overman Committee Today On Edificence WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—Congress today took up its study of Bolshevism. Dr. William C. Huntington was in Russia as commercial attaché at Petrograd and Moscow. Get some INFORMATION about it—what it will cost, where it may be bought to best advantage—through reading the ads.

ANOTHER DISCOVERY New York Times The Germans have made another discovery. They are always making them, though a trifle late. This one is that President Wilson is not the best friend they've got on earth. He is not in favor of giving them back their colonies. Isn't that frightful! And he is also agreeing that they must pay for the damage they have wrought—make reparation, pay huge indemnities. Was there ever such a scoundrel! After leading the Germans to believe that he would be their ardent champion at the Peace Conference, here he is passing the most awful sentence upon them. It is enough to destroy German faith in human nature. And there is certain to be an outburst in the German press on the subject of Wilson's deceit and villainous conduct. But is it not, after all, an imaginary Wilson of their own credulous creating who is now falling the Germans? All through the war they were confident of things after things that proved in the end not to be so. They were simply continuing the process in delusion of power. If they fancied that Wilson would be minded to spare them one iota of the punishment they deserve.

INSECT PRODUCTS OF VALUE

Many Small Creatures Make Contributions to the Country's Wealth of No Insignificant Amount.

We have many insect products of no small value. Most familiar are honey and wax from the bee. There is also a Chinese bug which secretes a kind of grease on various trees. This hardens into wax, and is collected, melted and purified, when it becomes white and glossy in appearance, and when mixed with oil can be made into candles. The cochineal, a scale insect living on cacti in the American tropics, besides having medicinal qualities, yields the two dyes called carmine and lake. While nowadays most dyes are chemically made, the natural dye of the cochineal is employed in coloring soldiers' uniforms, as it stands the weather better than commercial dyes. The pupae of a Mexican black fly which swarms in great quantities near Lake Texcos are used as fertilizer. No enlargement is needed on the work of the precious silkworm—a native of China which is now spread here and there. Its silkworm is obtained by melting lac, the resinous substance produced by an East Indian scale insect and deposited in a crust on twigs to contain the insect and its eggs. The export value of lac from Indian ports in one year has risen as high as $3,000,000. Lac has also been used to make dyes, but while the lac industry is a growing one, the employment of lac in making dyes has probably had its day. The best lac is obtained from Sengal and the central province of India. It is also used as a preservative for books. It is also an ingredient of lithographic ink, in electrical work and in the manufacture of gramophone records.

SPRING FESTIVAL IN CHINA

Beginning of the Year is a Time of Rejoicing Throughout the Whole Country.

In the United States one knows that spring has come when he sees boys playing marbles and flying kites. In China, says the Christian Science Monitor, there are regular spring-playing days in all parts of the country. In fact, that all the people have a part in it and which are especially interesting for children. Just when the spring festival comes depends on the moon. It is the beginning of the year in China, and in the first moon the magistrates and other important persons in the town go out in a procession, "to meet the spring."

It is at the lantern festival, the 15th of the first month, that the children have the best time. Brightly colored lanterns are everywhere, at the doors of shops and houses, and carried in processions. Bundles of evergreen are also placed above the doors, and there is an abundance of "moon cakes," little round sweet rice cakes. The boys dress up in all sorts of fantastic clothes, sing, dance and give little plays. They wear masks of animals and of human faces. Companies of them go about through the streets of their villages, and from one village to another. Now and then a group of maskers will be seen on high stilts. There is a very pretty dance when every dancer carries a lighted lantern. This is called the lantern dance.

Explaining "Mishpach" Mishpach or Migneh is the name of several towns in Palestine. The name is derived from a verb of the ancient Hebrew signifying to look or watch out. The word occurs in several places in the Old Testament. The first mention is the most significant. Jacob and his prospective father-in-law, Laban, met on a slope of Mt. Gilead and entered into a covenant. Laban had several times violated his agreement as to the wages he was paying Jacob, and Jacob demanded a fair deal. When they came to an agreement they raised a monument of stones, which Laban declared should be called "Gilead, and Mishpach." "This heap shall be a witness between me and thee this day. The Lord watch between me and thee, when we are absent, one from the presence of the other, as when I am benedicted by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor.

Recruiting Fish.

The rescue of fish is one of the activities of the bureau of fisheries. It is an important work, but the nature and importance of it are little understood by persons outside of the regions in which it is carried on. While the bureau conserves fish, propagates and distributes fish and labors to educate mankind on the subject of fish, it also rescues fish. In times of flood, when streams and rivers swell beyond their banks and overflow wide stretches of land, myriads of minnow and foot fish are carried along with the water. The flood passes, the rivers subside into their normal courses and the fish are left inland to perish as the flood-water evaporates or seeps into the land. Gangs of men under the guidance of the fisheries bureau gather the fish from these overflow lakes, which are often of great extent, and cast them loose in the streams or rivers.

NEW CURRENCY COMPTROLLER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—Republican members of the senate banking and currency committee today succeeded in forcing an executive session on the nomination of John Skilton Williams to be controller of the currency. Old City of Timagd. Timagd is an ancient Roman city, forgotten and buried on the slopes of the Aures mountains.

In recent years, however, the city has been partially restored and excavated by French architects and archaeologists. The columns of the facade of the capitol have been re-erected; the sand cleared from the mosaic floors of the ruined baths, whose colors are fresh and bright as in the old days of Roman splendor.

ROBINSON'S

Truthful Advertising

THERE seems to be a growing tendency on the part of the better class of merchants to omit exaggeration and mis-statements in their advertising, and I believe that the purchasing public is becoming more and more impressed with the idea of looking to stores whose advertisements are truthful to supply their wants.

It is unfortunate that there are still merchants who not only make use of exaggerated statements in their advertisements, but really make misstatements.

The New York Tribune, one of the leading newspapers of the country, has inaugurated a campaign for truthful advertising and will not accept advertisements from those who are not reliable or are given to misstatements in their advertising.

Special care and thought is given to have all advertising for this store truthful and all statements absolutely correct, and the same policy is followed in connection with the selling of goods in the store.

Common Heather Dying Out. In the case of such a plant as the common heather of England and Scotland, found growing wild in Nova Scotia, it is a matter of curious interest to determine whether it is native to the soil or has been introduced from Europe. Lawson decided that the plant had its home here. There was a time, it is thought, when the plant was abundant in our northern lands, and its present rare occurrence marks a dying out of the species on this side of the ocean. Its vigorous growth in Europe is due to the circumstance that there it is a young plant on virgin soil.

LEADERS WISH TO JOIN ALL FORCES

Would Like a Harmonious Program on the New Primary Law Now in Legislature

BOISE, Feb. 11.—Efforts are being made by majority leaders in the state legislature to get together their forces on a harmonious program for the enactment of a new state primary law. Several caucuses have been held within the past two days but no decision has yet been reached relative to several suggested amendments.

It is certain however that at least one change will be made. This would take the primary date from July to the third week in August, the theory being that a campaign lasting from July until November is too long and expensive.

Each time the bill has been brought before the senate it has been retaining its place on the calendar but no discussion of its sections or general principle has been allowed. It is the belief however of majority members that some definite action will be taken at the first of the week after the members have had the over Sunday time to thresh it out among themselves.

INTERMOUNTAIN STATES HAVE A PEACE MEETING

Salt Lake City is Selected as Place to Hold the Congress to Indorse the League of Nations

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 11.—The joint headquarters for the league of nations congress received from the national headquarters an announcement of what a league of nations should mean to the civilized world. The ideas which follow will be brought up for consideration at the coming Mountain congress February 21 and 22 in this city.

The league of nations should be established to prevent war and promote the liberty and progress of the whole world. The charter members should be the United States and the other nations associated in winning the war. The league should be formed at the peace congress. Unless it is established then it is but a mere pipe dream. Its functions should be judicial, administrative, legislative and executive; its weapons, moral, diplomatic, economic and military. It should ensure peace by eliminating dissension; by deciding controversies by peaceable means; and by uniting the potential forces of all nations in a common menace against any nation that seeks to upset the peace of the world. The advantages of membership in the league, both economically and from the point of view of security should be made so clear that all nations will desire to be members of it.

For this purpose it is necessary to create—for the decision of justifiable questions, an impartial tribunal whose jurisdiction should not depend upon the assent of the parties to the controversy; provision to be made for enforcing its decision; for questions that are not decided in their character, a council of conciliation as mediator, which shall hear, consider, and make recommendations; and failing acquiescence by the parties concerned, the league shall determine what action, if any, shall be taken; an administrative organization for the conduct of affairs of common interest, the protection and care of backward regions and internationalized places and such matters as have been jointly administered before and during the war; a representative congress to formulate and codify rules of international law, to inspect the work of administrative bodies and to consider any matter affecting the tranquility of the world or the progress or betterment of human relations; an executive body able to speak with authority in the name of the nations represented and to act in case the peace of the world is endangered; and the representation of the different nations in the organs of the league should be in proportion to the responsibilities and obligations they assume. All treaties of the league should at once be made public. This victory program is offered for consideration and endorsement of all organizations and individuals interested in the problems of international reconstruction.

PERIODIC RELIGIOUS ATTACKS

Persons subject to periodic bilious attacks will observe that their appetite fails them just before an attack. That is, they do not really crave food but eat because it is meal time. If they will eat only a light meal and no meat, then take a little home is a mighty lot. The attack may be avoided.—adv.

ARE YOU INTERESTED?

Here is a bona fide example (name given at the News Office to anyone caring to inquire.) A Twin Falls man advertised for a servant, ordering that the ad be given three insertions. That same evening he called up the News Office, and his remarks ran something like this: "I want to tell you that your classified columns are altogether too efficient. I haven't seen today's News yet myself but my wife has had three applications for the position and has selected one of the applicants. You need not run the ad any more." "It did the work. Thanks."

News classified advertising will do as much for anyone desiring to get in touch with the great reading public for purposes of help, purchase, sale, barter or exchange. The Daily News is read by people who are in the market for the best the market affords, in every single line.

STUDY HOLDING OF CAMERA

Successful Work With the Instrument Depends Largely on Its Being in Proper Position.

Successful hand-camera work depends largely on the power to give slow shutter exposures with the camera held in the hand, and in this connection, the general rule is rarely given to the matter of "grip." It is not enough to hold the camera firmly against the chest or stomach. The best position must be found by trial, and this will vary with different individuals and different makes of camera. In general, it will be found that the most comfortable position is the stendest. At waist level the hands will be usually placed symmetrically on either side of the instrument, the right near the release, forward, and the other a little behind. When the camera is held at eye level, one hand is usually held rather under the instrument as a support, and the other grips the back or side, or with a folding type of camera both hands may grip the back. With the very small types, one hand often almost in front of the instrument and releases the shutter, whilst the other is used as a support. At eye level it is often a great assistance to a steady aim to press the back of the camera against the cheek. Just as the feel of a favorite gun gives confidence, so the use of the camera should be familiar, and regular a systemic practice with the unloaded camera will be a great help in this. Trial exposures should be given from time to time, and the resulting negatives carefully examined. At first fairly short exposures only should be given, to gain confidence, gradually increasing to longer speeds as the hand is trained and nerve is acquired.

FIRST RECORDED AIR FIGHT

Frenchmen, Rivale in Love, Had Strange and Fatal Duel More Than One Hundred Years Ago.

The first battle in the air and the strangest duel in the long history of the field of honor was fought 200 years ago near Paris. Two Frenchmen were ardent rivals for the affections of a woman, and so bitter did their quarrel become that only blood could wipe it out. Ordinary methods were too tame for the fiery spirits, so it was agreed that the duel should be fought from balloons. The cause of the trouble agreed to marry the victor.

When the selected day arrived the two fighters and their seconds repaired to the meeting place, only to find a great crowd assembled, for word of the strange encounter had spread broadcast. The principals, however, were undeterred. Two balloons, precisely alike, had been prepared, and into these they stepped. To each was handed a carefully loaded blunderbuss. The word was given and the moorings cut off. Slowly the balloons ascended slighted side by side. At the height of about half a mile, when the great bags were but 80 yards apart, the signal was given and both men opened fire. Soon one of the balloons collapsed and crashed to the ground. The record says the woman kept her promise and married the victor of the aerial battle.

Seven Measures Pass the Senate this Morning—Senator Seaver Introduces a New One

HOUSE, Ind., Feb. 11—A change in date of the payment of assessments in irrigation districts will result from the passage by the senate of the Nelson house bill this morning. It is designed to protect purchasers of irrigated land so they will know that water is paid for in the year to come.

Seven bills were passed by the senate at its morning session. Seaver Has Measure Senator Seaver, of Twin Falls, introduced a measure providing that no county officer can appoint as his deputy any other county officer or his deputy.

Providing a biennial assessment of real estate in the state of Idaho instead of annual in one of the important bills of the session which passed the house. The house also passed the bill which would require the closing of the banks in the state at 10 o'clock p. m. in all cities of the first class.

IDEAS HARD TO ERADICATE

Erroneous Geographical Notions That Have a Firm Hold on the Minds of Most People.

It is curious to note with what persistence people will adhere to current ideas without ever thinking that these ideas do not, under all circumstances, denote one and the same thing. As a matter of fact, the maximum heat is "between" North and South—viz, along the equator, and it is as cold at the South Pole as at the North Pole. Also the words North and South are as objective terms as East and West, and do not, to everyone, convey the same idea.

To make this clear, let us suppose that A stands at the North Pole and turning in the direction of the country from which he came, feels the wind blowing in his face. He would, of course, claim that this wind was southerly, and nobody would dare contradict him, for does not the wind come from Norway, which is south from the Pole? His companion, B, however, stands at a little distance further east; let us say 50 steps beyond the Pole, on the hemisphere on which America is situated, and just as emphatically assert that the wind is northern, as it blows from the North Pole, and the snowflakes carried by the wind are directed toward the North, but the South. There is no disputing; both are right and, although separated by a few steps only, the wind to A is north is to B south.

ENJOY SINGING IN CHORUS

Why Children Should Be Encouraged to Take Part in Exercises of Juvenile Glee Clubs.

Anyone who has watched a class of schoolchildren singing their songs to glee club, or the members of a juvenile glee club raising their voices in melodious harmony to sing a certain song, or enjoy expressing themselves musically. It is perhaps one of the few times when they begin to get an appreciation of what concerted action means in creating strength and power both for the individual as well as the group. You seldom get an entire stand up and sing alone, but place him among a large group of children and note the change in him—the change in his expression, his bearing and his whole attitude.

It is therefore a cause for much encouragement to hear the notes that people are growing interested in community choruses for children. The movement for groupings has become widespread and its good results have been appreciated by all who have taken an active part in it. The question naturally arises, then, why wait until a person is grown up before you let him take part in that which undeniably is beneficial to him? Why not give the child an opportunity to musically express himself before he has grown too self-conscious to do so freely?

Her Golden Circle

There are several theories as to the origin of the wedding ring. Here is one of them: Before the time of the pharaohs, the goldsmith who made a ring was made in the form of a ring, usually worn on the finger as a convenient method of carrying and safe keeping. The men and women, therefore, had all their gold or wealth made into rings, and for the majority of the pharaohs the ring to carry the plain gold bands of today. Thus, when the groom placed the ring on the bride's finger he meant exactly what the modern service makes him say—he did actually endow his bride with all his worldly goods.

HAVE ORGY OF CANNIBALISM

Chaotic Deluge of the Burying Beetles Regularly Take Place at Certain Seasons of the Year.

Here is a monstrous case of the most ghastly depravity mingled with supreme savagery. It is the Burying Beetle mingled with small birds, mammals and reptiles, not as stored food for itself, but for the sustenance of its offspring. In the confusion of a cage these undertakers will bury carcasses after carcasses, eating away anything, depositing their eggs with the game. They display most edifying industry and order until the proper season is over. Then they strike work and take themselves underground.

And now a most frightful orgy begins, and the filthiness of food both above ground and stored with the eggs, which they will not touch, the undertakers begin mutually eating each other. One emerges to the surface with a leg missing, and otherwise in a most battered condition. Another appears a little better off. He has two legs left. This one throws himself on the first, tears him to pieces and eats him. Famine plays no part in the slaughter. It is time for them to die, perhaps, and not being able to die naturally, instinct drives the undertaker to tear and eat his fellow, heedless that he himself, in being torn to pieces and eaten by another. And so the horror goes on, one eating the limbs of another, and that other eating still another, until the tragedy is over, until next year—Exchange.

WHAT FASTING FEELS LIKE

University of Chicago Professor Has Made Public the Results of Investigations He Has Made.

In numerous descriptions of the experiences of man in the course of more or less prolonged fasting, one facet is the repeated assertion that after a brief initial period little or no hunger whatever is felt. Since it has been well-established that the sensation of hunger is induced by a certain type of tonic and peristaltic contractions of the empty or nearly empty stomach, it must be assumed either that these contractions are abolished as a fast proceeds or that the sensations are decidedly modified.

A professor of the University of Chicago has lately had an exceptional opportunity to investigate these questions. As the result of careful observations on many fasting prolonged intentional starvation, he found that during the 15 days' complete fast and the subsequent eight days of abstinence from food with daily ingestion of cotton fiber, the gastric hunger contractions of his subjects continued with practically normal rhythm and intensity; but the subjective sensations induced by the gastric contractions appeared to be somewhat weakened and tinged with an "element" of general epigastric distress or sick stomach.

Indian Names

The Indians up in the far North country call the beaver um-bick, says Dan Beard in Boys' Life, the boys scouts' magazine. By the way, when boy scouts lay out their council grounds at camp and divide it up as it should be, the north, east, south and west, east and west winds around the circle, they should remember that the Indian name for north is Quilew-nong, for south is Show-nah-nong, for east is Wah-nong, and for west is Gah-nah-nong.

Now, you know the Indian ceremony always begins with blowing the smoke of the pipe to the four winds, and then to the sky, which is O-que, and then to the earth, which is A-kee, and the warrior lights his pipe with Skoo-day, that is, with fire. But if he is to foretell, say, the Skoo-day he starts a fore-fire (two-neck means caroles).

To be a good scout, one must never be tow-neck; to be patriotic one must never be tow-neck.

Barriers' Wigs

Barriers' wigs first came into vogue about 200 years ago. Up to the time of the revolution judges and sergeants at law alone had any distinctive dress.

Under Queen Anne the queen's counselor adopted the court dress and silk gown which made up the mourning of the period, together with the full-bottomed wig, which was naturally worn by all persons of position.

Dangers for Game Fish

The great cause of the decline in fish life in streams is the pollution by sewage and for this there is neither pollution nor sewage. A writer in All Outdoors says it is true that a brook or river is a convenient place into which to throw refuse. The people of medieval cities thought the same of their streets, and they were right; they didn't get them better and installed the elements of hygiene into their minds. Such ignorant negligence was a sign of their uncivilization, yet, with all of our boasted civilization, we are but a step in advance when we convert our spitting and urinating into sewage sewers.

BUILT ON CORAL FOUNDATION

Keeling Island Group, in Indian Ocean, a Mass of Varying Colors Attractive to the Eye.

An oasis in the blue expanse of the Indian ocean is the Keeling Island group, built inch upon inch of coral. From far out at sea the ragged outline of the islands' coconut palms can be seen, now in fore-ice thickness, and now one the solitary palm silhouetted on the sky.

Many times this is all that the ship's passengers see of the islands, for only when the winds are low can a ship put in at the harbor. Ordinarily, heavy winds and the waves crashing against reef and beach make the islands a danger zone instead of a haven for mariners.

Parts of the islands are thick with matted underground, but below it all is the coral foundation in the form of sand and reefs of wonderful spreading formations. The shapes of the coral growth are fascinating in their variety. Little imagination is needed to see in them sandstone, oak trees, leaves and snow crystals. Some are solid rock, while others are as delicate as the outlines of brooding fireflies. The colors, too, are the most striking that have any suggestion of yellow, green and red.

In contrast to the paleos of the coral reefs, the inhabitants of the pools and sea dangle the onlooker with their scales of vivid red and green flashing through the clear water. Swiftdish and sharks make fishing and swimming hazardous.

The air is fanned by great flocks of birds of the eastern tropics who might easily claim ownership of the islands by reason of discovery by their ancestors. The birds long ago found the islands ideal for nesting and time has enlarged the colony, for there are few human beings to disturb the feathered owners.—Chicago Daily News.

SEES LITTLE IN ALHAMBRA

Writer Says Famous Building Expresses Mere Beauty, Without Any Sense of Power or Vigor.

The Alhambra is on the shoulder of a mountain. It overlooks the town, Dart Kennedy writes in the Wide World. It was built by the Moors, and I take it that it was built overlooking the town for the same reason. The ruling Moors lived there and they wished to be in a position to give the poring Moors "what for" when they became too critical. There is a lot of human nature in ruling people just as there is in ruled people. A beautiful picture in the Alhambra, as to the architecture, expressed decadence and weakness. There was nothing strong or massive about it. Whether a race expresses fully its character in architecture or not is not for me to say. To be able to give a reliable opinion as to the human mind, the living or the life that lasted through a couple of thousand years. But certainly the Alhambra did not suggest power and vigor. Beauty, yes, and also fancy, but nothing more.

But on the Cuesta de los Muertos (the hill of the dead), which was outside the actual palace of the Alhambra, were three massive square towers. They expressed strength. In them had lived—centuries, before the Mohammedan soldiers of the sun, these towers expressed manly life. They were there for the moonlight, for then they seemed to be in their strength and power some wiled effect.

Sappho

Sappho's fragments are redolent of flowers; her women were a "riched clammy" in the sunshine, and silver in the moonlight. We hear the full-breasted spring of the "herald of life" spring, the "Sappho" the breeze moves the apple boughs, the wind shakes the oak trees. Her allusions to the "hyacinth, darkening the ground" then through the forest of shepherds, the "flee, soft bloom of grass, trodden by the tender feet of Cretan women as they dance;" or the "golden peep growing on the shore"—all these seem inevitable to one who has seen the acres of bright flowers that brighten the slopes of the north of the Aegean coast.

In her Lesbian orchards the sweet quince-apple is still left hanging "solitary on the topmost bough upon its very end," and there is heard "cool murmuring through apple blossoms" while slumber flutters down the quivering leaves.—Francis G. Allison and Anna C. F. Allison.

Matter of 'Two Evils'

A Londoner whose business is coaching stage aspirants tells this one: "One day my work was interrupted by a wealthy girl of aristocratic family of about eighteen. She was wastefully dressed, but had obviously been crying. She said she was wishing to adopt the profession of the stage. Had she ever played in amateur productions? No. 'Were her parents prepared to pay the costs?' She had neither father nor mother. 'Well, what are you?' he inquired. Then she sobbed. She was a housemaid in the service of a crochety old lady. When the prospect of the staid life of a shopkeeper advised her to return to her parents, she refused to do so. 'I'd sooner go on the stage than stand her any longer!'

Perfectly Innocent Fox

"Willie, are you and Hoy in any mischief out there?" "Oh, no, ma," came the reply. "We're just a couple of officers in the gutter lot, to see how many times we can catch them before they break."—Boston Transcript.
