

SIMILAR IDEAS SHOW IN I. W. W. AND BOLSHEVIKI

Former Russian Missionary Says He is a "Christian Socialist" and Gives Many Facts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Bolshevism in Russia probably would have failed had it not received strong backing in New York's East Side, Dr. G. A. Simons, former Russian missionary, told the senate propaganda committee.

Simons returned last October from Russia where he served in Petrograd for several years as a clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Simons said large numbers of former residents of the east side were now in Petrograd, actively engaged in the Bolsheviki movement. Raymond Robbins, of the American Red Cross, was favored by at least one Bolsheviki leader as ambassador to Russia, Simons testified.

Explains Work

"Sergius Zoran, commissariat of Russia's wire system, regarded Robbins as one of the greatest Americans and truly representative of the people, while Ambassador Francis was considered as a representative of the capitalists," Simons explained.

Simons praised the work of Francis and his staff.

Simons said he was a "christian socialist."

He said he regarded the Bolsheviki and the I. W. W. Movement "identical."

Oppose Bolsheviki

Ninety per cent of the Russian peasantry is opposed to the Bolsheviki movement, and a very large percentage of the working men," he added.

Referring to the activities of Albert Rhys Williams in Russia, the witness said:

"He helped the soviet in the embarrasment of the American embassy and consulate in Petrograd."

Williams defended the soviet at a recent meeting in a local theatre, which was denounced by the senate. He is expected to testify later.

THREE ROADS BILLS WIN CONSIDERATION

Measures to Limit Loads to Be Hauled and Requiring Diminishing of Lights Aparent

BOISE, Feb. 13.—Three road bills received the attention of the committee of the whole in the house Tuesday afternoon; all of them having been introduced by the committee on roads, bridges and ferries.

The first would limit the amount of load to be hauled on a wagon or motor truck per inch of tire width and would also limit the total amount of load which may be hauled on a public highway. Another feature of this bill is that it allows a protrusion of only one-fourth inch beyond the traction surface of the tire.

Still another road bill is known as the "Laws of the Road for the State." This is said to be uniform with laws passed by other states.

TANKS FOR COMMERCE IS SUGGESTED

LONDON, Jan. 30 (By Mail).—The tanks are going after civilian jobs in the army of reconstruction.

The tank idea, developed in war from the American farm tractor, is not going to be abandoned in peace. Engineers are at work on designs for commercial high-speed tanks, or trucks with tank treads, and manufacture of these machines probably will keep the war tank factories running.

The advantages of the caterpillar tread, used in tanks, include less wear and tear on roads, greater mud-navigating powers, and great hill-climbing ability, it is claimed.

BONDED WAREHOUSE IS LEGISLATORS' PROBLEM

Long Debate Greets Measure When It Reaches Committee of Whole in Idaho House

BOISE, Feb. 13.—Whether Idaho will have a bonded warehouse law or not is a question which the house and senate will soon have to settle. A long debate greeted House Bill No. 55, known as the "Bonded Warehouse Law" when it reached the committee of the whole in the house Tuesday afternoon. Representative Robbins of Bligham county strenuously opposed the measure as did Carpenter of Nez Perce. The contention of the former is that the bill, because of its requirements of a bond from potato warehouses, would work a particular hardship on the potato industry in southeastern Idaho. His contention is that it would produce higher rents and that inspection of diseased potatoes was practically impossible.

Representative Hall of Ouedia, the sponsor of the bill, explained to the house that warehouse receipts were not sufficiently good security last year to allow owners of grain to store it and then negotiate the receipts.

Under the terms of the bill warehouses where grain, leguminous seeds, hay, potatoes fruit and wool were stored would have to give a bond to the state to guarantee the producer against loss.

The measure has the endorsement of the administration, it is said. It provides a penalty of $50 per day for any warehouse operating without a license, allows the department of agriculture to employ inspectors and forces the warehouse to take any product specified which is in a suitable condition for warehousing, should a request be made for storage.

Amendments to the bill provide that the bureau of farm-markets determine the size and acceptability of the bond.

REVOLUTION IS PREDICTED

Illinois Congressman Says Bolshevism Must Be Stamped Out at Once

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 13.—Speaking before the Lincoln Day joint session of the Illinois state legislature here today, Congressman William Rodenburg warned that unless Bolshevism is stamped out quickly, it will break up the country in a storm of revolution.

Following a tribute to Lincoln and Illinois soldiers, Rodenburg said:

"Blind is the man who does not realize that a spirit of discontent is already abroad in the land. A feeling of rebellious unrest is manifesting itself, not only in Europe but in the United States."

Rodenburg declared that recently in Washington and within a stone's throw of the White House a large audience applauded the statement that the Bolshevists stood for a higher and better civilization than did the United States. Springfield, Lincoln's home, held no general observance of his day.

(Easy Terms)

The amount of acreage available is very limited. It lies beautifully level, practically ready for immediate putting to crop. The soil is a black silt, exceptionally rich, no hardpan, no gumbo, no alkali. It is easy to work and produces wonderful grain and alfalfa crops, and is excellent for almost all kinds of fruits. The water supply is in excess of all needs. Every 80 acres has its own well, and its own electrically operated pumping plant. These are included in the cost of the land ($175 an acre).

Climatic conditions are ideal. There are no severe extremes of heat or cold. As a farming opportunity it would be difficult to conceive of anything more ideal. For the farmer who is looking for a place to cast his anchor for the future—to make his home and settle down to comfort and plenty, we know of no opportunity in America that is comparable to Capay Grant.

ARTILLERYMEN OF IDAHO WIN FULSOME PRAISE

Reports at Washington are that Shooting of 146th is Superior to That of Other Regiments at St. Mihiel

That reports at Washington are that the One Hundred Forty-sixth artillery regiment, of which the Twin Falls unit, Company D, of the Second Idaho regiment headquarters company, has had the most brilliant fighting record of that the shooting was pronounced better than that of any of the new artillery regiments that fought in wiping out the St. Mihiel salient, is the statement of Ashmun Brown, a correspondent at the national capital for the Spokane Spokesman-Review, in an article dealing with the results of troops from the Pacific northwest published in that paper under date of February 11.

Succeeds Colonel Patch.

The correspondent notes that the present commander of this regiment is Lieutenant Colonel Paul Weyrauch of Walla Walla, Wash. It is regarded as probable that Lieutenant Colonel Weyrauch is the successor in the command of Lieutenant Colonel Patch, Payette, who commanded the regiment throughout its period of fighting at the front from July 10 until the signing of the armistice, and who has been appointed by Governor Davis to succeed John W. Graham, president of the state public utility commission, resigned.

The article is as follows: "An announcement was made at the war department today that the 116th engineers of the 41st or Sunset division with the 40 officers and 1,342 men, sailed from Great Britain 5 on the battleship Kansas and will reach Newport News February 16. Four companies, A, B, C and D and the headquarters and medical detachment of the 116th ammunition train with 23 officers and 525 men are on the same ship. All go to Camp Dix, N. J., first.

Includes Idaho and Oregon Men.

The engineer regiment includes in its membership all of what was the Second battalion of the Second Idaho infantry and a battalion of Oregon engineers. It is understood that this outfit did not suffer so much through having its ranks depleted for replacement purposes as did the infantry regiments of the Pacific northwest in national guard division. This there probably of the more numerous northwesters in the units returning. I have learned that the three artillery regiments of that division have been retained in service virtually intact, never having gone into replacement duty like the infantry. They are the 146th, 147th and 148th regiments of field artillery. The 146th, now commanded by Lieut. Col. Paul Weyrauch of Walla Walla, is with the army of occupation on the Rhine.

Men from Eastern Washington.

The first battalion of the Second Idaho infantry and the complete battalion of the Washington national guard field artillery raised in eastern Washington early in 1917, which went out under command of Weyrauch, then a major. Reports reach me that it has had a brilliant fighting record and that its shooting was pronounced better than that of any of the new artillery regiments that fought in wiping out the St. Mihiel salient, is the statement of Ashmun Brown, a correspondent at the national capital for the Spokane Spokesman-Review, in an article dealing with the results of troops from the Pacific northwest published in that paper under date of February 11.

The final item seems about to be charged to the war as the cause of trouble—namely—"Royal divorces"—Former Empress Zita, of Austria, and Crown Princess Cacilie, of Germany, are the women predominant from a long line of Italian and French kings or ruling nobles she always considered herself an Italian princess. Now her royal Carl is reported to consider divorcing her on the ground that she assisted Italian victories. Report was current that the ex-crown Princess of Germany contemplated divorce. Now comes rumor that the ex-royal prince, from his prison in Austria, says he may divorce his wife—but for what reason, no one can imagine. Here are the "women" and the "royal families."

Opening of New Bank House Is Occasion for Social Feasting for Rock Creek People

(Special to the News.) ROCK CREEK, Sergt. Robert Gray arrived Monday from Camp Lewis, where he received his discharge, February 6. Sergeant Gray enlisted at Fort Douglas early in June, 1917. He was assigned to the Twentieth infantry and in the summer of 1918 was moved to Camp Funston, Kansas, as the first leg of a journey overseas. At Camp Funston he was rejected for overseas duty because of an injury to his foot several years ago and which the drilling had aggravated to such an extent as to confine him to the post hospital for some time. In September he was sent to San Francisco and transferred to the Thirtieth infantry of the national guards, in which capacity he has served since, until a few weeks ago when a number of men were sent to Camp Lewis for demobilization. He was promoted to the rank of corporal early in September and to sergeant a short time before his discharge.

The cowboys of the Shoosles ranch gave a genuine old fashioned house-warming at their new bank house Saturday evening. The house, a log structure, of two rooms, each twenty feet square, was comfortably filled with dancers who enjoyed a merry evening. At midnight refreshments were served at the old quarters by George Scott, the social cook for the outfit. After refreshments the company returned to the new house, where they continued to dance until the "we sma' hours" of the morning.

Wes Hyde completed the moving of his house to his own lot Thursday. Ten horses were used and as the recent snow had made the ground very slippery no difficulty was experienced.

Utah State Federation Head Proposes Special Conference Before Peace Meet

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 13.—Utah, Idaho and Wyoming club women may hold a special conference preceding the sessions of the Congress of the League of Nations, February 21, at Salt Lake. The women are scheduled to meet some time during the spring to discuss the problems of reconstruction and it is thought that time and travel could be spared by holding the sessions before the first time meeting of the congress. Mrs. E. O. Leatherstock, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs for Utah, is now in communication with Idaho and Wyoming federation leaders concerning the possibilities of holding such a session.

A community song service featuring a being prepared for the annual meeting of the congress on February 25 under the direction of Prof. Squire Coop of Salt Lake and under the auspices of the Salt Lake Oratorical society. The big tabernacle organ and patriotic airs will be features of this musical program.

Word has been received from Gov. Robert D. Carey of Wyoming to the effect that he is appointing delegates from his state to the congress. Gov. Simon Bamberger of Utah is making similar appointments, the managers of the legislature each being privileged to name citizens from their districts for these appointments. In all nine congresses to be held in the United States, it is expected that 30,000 delegates will be in attendance. This means about 3,000 for the Mountain congress or 1,000 from each state.

STUDENT BASKET BALL TEAM SCHEDULES GAMES

Contest Against Shoshone High School Squad on Local Floor First of Season

The high school athletes are hard at work on the gymnasium floor and indications point to a good team with several weeks more training. The squad numbers forty-five men and practice is held in two sections after school and in the evening. Three men, Neuman, Glasgow and Carter remain of last year's seven of the varsity team and competition for the vacant places is keen. The new men showing up best at the present time are Taylor, Hertz, Reed and Micklewait and Leney for guards, Krenigle and E. Parsons for forwards, Ayotte for center.

A practice game between the varsity squads and the All Stars town team composed of high school alumni Monday night showed little difference in the calibre of the two teams at present. The first game of the present basketball season will be staged in the high school gymnasium Friday night with the Shoshone high school. The Shoshone team has had practice for several months and is probably in very good condition for the contest.

LET'S DO THIS

The News has taken occasion many times to refer to the conditions which confront the average man from the country, driving into town for a few hours shopping, in respect of the facilities which the city offers in the way of a place for him to tie his team.

During the rainy weather of the past few days the condition of the public hitching racks has been little short of disgraceful. Variable lakes of water from two to six inches deep overlay the most of the service, out of which rise miniature islands with mountainous peaks, over which buggy wheels jar and crank and horses flounder.

The man with an auto need not care. He parks his machine on the paved public streets, but the farmer or the farmer's wife who drives to town behind horse or team is surely not inclined to think well of his or her civic welcome.

Twin Falls is properly ambitious in the direction of a city library, a community center, an occasional new church or a frequent enlargement of her public school system. All this is right and proper in every way. But why neglect the little expensating things which could be fixed up at the expense of a few hundred dollars and maintained for a few months?

HOMESICKNESS ONLY ATTACKS GUNNERS FEAR

Member of Twin Falls Unit With Army in Germany Tells of Efforts Made to Make Endurance

Under date of January 10 from Grenzhausen, near Coblenz, Germany, a member of the One Hundred Forty-sixth artillery regiment which includes the Twin Falls unit of the Second Idaho regiment, writes concerning the conditions in Germany and the efforts of the American soldiers to overcome attacks of homesickness, the following:

Great Chance for Fraud. "Today is election day in Germany, but aside from putting on extra guards, it seems much the same as other days. However, in the interior, I understand there is more excitement. This would be an ideal place for Philadelphia, as each party has a separate voting place and one so disposed could wander from place to place and vote as the spirit moved him.

Beetle conditions here are not nearly as bad as we had pictured them. The people seem to have plenty to eat and with the exception of soap and fats and white flour, they do not seem to be in want. However, I don't think they have much reserve on hand and probably will run short before the winter is over.

Democracy Puzzles Dentsch

"Last night I went to the opera in Coblenz. A major general with his two stars sat just in front of me. 'Tin chicken' flanked him on either side and single stars and gold and silver leaves were scattered all over the terrain. In fact, sergeant-majors were considerably outranked, and the German people don't understand such a thing as a way of doing things. The German officers always reserved a bunch of seats (without paying for them) and the ordinary buck soldiers were conspicuous only by their absence. However, with us, anyone who has the price (five marks, or about 65 cents at the present rate) and is lucky enough to get a seat is just as sure of a good time as the other fellow with all of his decorations. The opera was the Rusticness, and the music was exceptionally good, although I hardly got the drift of their remarks, as they all sang Dentsch.

Soldiers Turn Actors

"We are getting up a regimental troupe to put on shows. Each regiment has one, and they go from place to place and perform. It adds to the fun, we have boxing and wrestling matches, and they are trying to put all the enjoyment in life possible to cheer the fellows up, as homesickness is becoming a prevalent malady now that the active fighting is over and the boys have a chance to think.

While on the front it was a matter of hours and anybody was too busy to think, but now the time of waiting and sitting on the lid is the hardest part of it all.

STATE WITNESS IS NOW FACING PERJURY CHARGE

Joe Smith Makes Affidavit Denying Truth of Testimony Which Convicted C. H. Williams of Whiskey Sale Charge

Joe Smith, principle witness for the state in the trial in district court which resulted last Saturday in the conviction Saturday of C. H. Williams on a charge of illegal distilling liquor, is today a prisoner in the county jail pending an investigation of circumstances that may result in a charge of perjury being filed against him.

In his testimony during the trial Smith stated that he had purchased whiskey from Williams giving a marked bill in payment for it.

Names Another Vendor. The sheriff's office Tuesday came into possession of a few moments after it was executed, of an affidavit signed by Smith, wherein he denies having purchased whiskey from Williams but alleges the fact to be that he bought the whiskey in evidence during the Williams trial from one Bryan Willis to whom he gave the marked bill, and that the bill passed through Willis' hands coming eventually into Williams' possession.

Smith has been identified as the maker of this affidavit by James S. Keel, notary public before whom it was executed at about 11 o'clock Tuesday forenoon.

Williams came with Smith to the office of the notary bringing with him the affidavit to which Smith affixed his signature.

Former Officer Takes Cue. The affidavit was executed in the presence of several other persons, among whom was V. H. Ormsby, a former deputy sheriff and probation officer now associated with J. S. Keel in the real estate business. Ormsby was somewhat familiar with the Williams case, and communicated with the sheriff's office in respect to the making of the affidavit. Smith was arrested a few moments later by City Police Officer William Taylor.

Records of the sheriff's office show that Smith was a prisoner in the county jail on a charge of being drunk shortly before he made the alleged purchase of whiskey with the marked bill furnished to him by the sheriff's office.

Pleaded an Alibi. Defense at the trial was that he had been in company with other persons whose testimony was introduced, at the time of the alleged sale of whiskey to Smith, and that the marked bill had come into his possession through making change at the request of another person.

Williams, through his attorney, W. P. Guthrie, Monday filed an appeal to the supreme court from judgment pronounced by the district court fixing his sentence at three months' imprisonment in the county jail and payment of $300 fine.

WELL KNOWN YOUNG COUPLE ARE MARRIED

Miss Nina J. Nelson Becomes Bride of John Steele Gourley With Pretty Ceremony

A marriage of more than usual interest to Twin Falls people was that of Miss Nina J. Nelson and John Steele Gourley which took place at the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. L. Cartney in Ellet on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The couple took their place unattended, before Rev. Asher H. Brand of the First Presbyterian church of Twin Falls. The music previous to the ceremony was played by Raleigh Drake on the cello. The bride and groom entered the room to the strains of the Nocturne from Chopin. The ring service was pronounced by the minister.

After the marriage service the hostess served an elaborate bridal dinner at tables decorated with huge bouquets of pink roses. The places were marked by hand painted place cards, each with a personal note which were painted by Miss Simonds. The house was profusely decorated in California paper and pink roses.

The bride wore a charming creation of white Swiss embroidered in blue of a delicate shade. This was worn over a slip of white messaline. She carried an enormous bouquet of pink roses, tied loosely with tulle. The bride's going-away suit was of brown, with a hat to match, which was most becoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Gourley will spend their honeymoon in Salt Lake and will be at home at their ranch near Filer.

The guests were Miss Margaret Gourley, sister of the groom, Jeanne Shinn, Dr. and Mrs. T. L. Cartney, Mrs. Mosley, Arthur Bean of Filer, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Schmidt of Buhl and Misses Brittonarte Wolfe, Lucille, Houghtaling, Geneva Stafford, Alberta Simonds and Mr. and Mrs. Wright Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bercombe and Mr. George Simonds of Twin Falls.

Mrs. Gourley before her marriage, was deputy in the office of Miss Brittonarte Wolf and has lived in Idaho for a number of years, coming here as a teacher.

Accused of Owning Boozes—Lannis Neilson and J. P. Larson of Buhl were arraigned Thursday morning before Probate Judge O. P. Duvall on charges of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. Says Dog Killed Had Not Rabies

Dr. H. E. Groome Diagnoses Case of Afflicted Canine As One of Paralysis

Dr. Herbert R. Groome, veterinarian of the Twin Falls Veterinary hospital, denies that the dog killed Saturday on Fourth avenue west by a deputy health officer, was suffering from rabies, but asserts the fact to be that the canine in question was the victim of partial paralysis. In his hospital, Dr. Groome has a great many canine patients and his practice is one giving to him a considerable familiarity with the ills of dogs. He is anxious that the report of the killing of a mad dog in Twin Falls shall be corrected to avoid a state of hysteria that might develop and result in the needless killing of sound and defenseless dogs.

DECLARES STRIKE STARTS REVOLUTION

"Labor," said the strikers' official organ, "will not only SHUT DOWN industries; Labor will RE-OPEN under the management of the appropriate trades such industries as are needed to preserve the public health and peace."
If the strike continues, labor may be forced to open mines and more industries under its own management.

Threat Not Strike
It was not a strike. Not simply a protest. It was a threat. A challenge. A revolutionary dictum.
A leaflet bearing the signature of the Metal Workers' union reads:
"Since the products and industries of the world are ours by right, since through their proper organization we can manage both more efficiently and with justice to all—and we're ready, if the mass of labor in this affair believe it was not being smart toward overthrow of established government, it is because they didn't apply plain logic to the situation and don't comprehend what overthrow of government consists of."
True, there were no flashing guns, no bombs, no killings.
Violence Not Needed
Revolution, I repeat, need not need violence.
The general strike, as practiced in Seattle, is of itself the weapon of revolution, all the more dangerous because quiet.
To succeed, it must suspend everything. Stop the entire life stream of a community. And that means danger, disease, death. It means stopping by the violence of intimidation, every governmental agency for the protection and preservation of life as well as liberty.
That is to say, it puts government out of operation.
Thousands of those supporting the strike didn't understand this until they saw what a monster, what a frankenstein, they were expected to help create.
When they did comprehend, the revolt died.

Period of Tie-up Indefinite
Tremendously significant if the fact that the tie-up is to be enforced for 24 hours, but for an indefinite time. This was to create chaos, terror, the foundation for turning of industry by mass action, not to demonstrate labor's solidarity, which no one in Seattle is disputing.
Violence cannot long be kept out of a situation such as Seattle's faced for four days of terrible tension. Forces such as these, once set in motion, cannot long be controlled, either by vigilance or by words. They are bigger events than their directors. They rear the red frankenstein that destroys its creators with the rest of us.
The revolt failed because 90 per cent of the workers came to their senses and refused to follow further their false and anarchistic leaders and prophets.

New County Agent Here to Begin Work

House Exercised Over Military Probe

low employers of women to make them work overtime, for which they will be paid, the house this morning reconsidered for passage the eight-hour basic-day bill for women in Idaho, a measure introduced by and sponsored by Mrs. Carrie Harper, White of Twin Falls.
Opponents of the bill believe that they have scored a victory in the adoption of the emergency provision to the measure, for they say employers can in this way defeat the idea of working women for more than forty-eight hours per week by having an "emergency."
The house passed the Gough bill making it necessary to isolate cases of Spanish influenza and the measure for a new schedule of fees for probate judges.

Oppose Teachers' Institutes
A long debate in the senate this morning failed to settle the question of teachers' institutes in this state. The Porter bill was the vehicle which furnished the cause of the debate. It would make it necessary to hold institutes in the summer months in order to save five days of the school year for the pupils.
Vigorous opposition to teachers' institutes in general has developed as this bill has been discussed. Senator Walker has introduced a measure to abolish them. It was decided by the upper body to send both bills to the educational committee where a hearing will be held this evening with all interested parties in attendance.
Another county division bill passed this morning when the measure by Senator Nash providing an enabling act to allow part of Omeida county to be placed in Franklin, was passed after a bitter cross fire between the senators from the two counties.

PEERLESS

The Loafing Range

Two-Power-Range EIGHT

The Sporting Range

Peerless Closed Cars and the Double Power-Range

Closed cars that bear the name Peerless have ever been notable among the finest coaches built. This season's models are no exception, in fact, in many respects surpass previous Peerless attainments.
The coach bodies—Coupe—Sedan and Sedan-Limousine—are Peerless built by workmen who have made coach building an art—many of whom worked on the first Peerless Limousines that set the standard by which the fine Closed Cars of that day were judged.
The most distinctive advantage offered in any motor car today—two distinctly separate power ranges—gives the Peerless owner a contrasting performance that is especially desirable in Closed Cars.
In ordinary driving the thrifty "loafing" range gives a soft, smooth, easy performance that is a delight.
And its "sporting" range is instantly available to "pick up" these heavier bodies and lift them out of traffic jams, ahead of other cars—even those with the lighter open bodies.
And as a matter of fact, it is of importance to note that the Peerless Closed Cars are lighter than most open body models of cars of like class.
Let the Peerless dealer show you the luxurious Peerless Closed models—and demonstrate the special advantage they have in their Two-Power-Range.
