

LONDON PAPERS PRAISE LEAGUE CONSTITUTION

British Are Pleased Over the Successful Accomplishment of So Great a Benefit to Humanity

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The constitution of the league of nations received endorsement of the London morning newspapers today.

"The draft goes deeper into the cause of war and will do more for their removal than any one expected," declared The Times. "It is the most important international document ever published."

"It is the greatest scheme ever formulated for the maintenance of peace," in the opinion of The News.

To Benefit Politics
"We hope the draft means the opening of a new era of political life," said The Mail. "It is a noble effort to achieve a great ideal."

"We are hopeful that the constitution is a satisfactory rendering of the conclusions to which the allies are coming," The Chronicle said.

"If the league does not give an effectual means for preventing war, it at least gives what we hope and trust will be a solid alliance of the five great powers which is most noteworthy in the cause of peace," said The Post.

"It is pregnant with good for the peace and prosperity of the world," declared The Express. "Its modified form indicates that President Wilson has learned a good deal since he came to Europe."

BUSINESS MEN CENSURE PROPOSED LEGISLATION

Bills to Require Bond Against Loss From Factory Builders Meets With Opposition

BOISE, Feb. 15.—Promotion of all agricultural enterprises of the state would be materially affected by the passage by the senate and the approval signing by the governor of House Bill No. 69 by Hail according to business men of Boise.

The measure provides that a bond must be given by any man interested in the building of factories that directly affect the agricultural interests of the state against loss to those who subscribe for stock in the concerns.

"It would absolutely stifle any development along these lines," the banker here yesterday. "In the first place no business is absolutely sure of paying when it is organized. In fact, most businesses are not highly successful. The prospects of a company may be the best in the world and through some market condition of mismanagement they become failures. It would be impossible for men organizing a business that would come under this law to get a bond, for it would not at any time be a good risk. If he could give a personal bond, he would not be willing to sell stock in the concern, which would leave him sure of his money. The passage of this law will preclude any chance of investment by outside interests in the state where they expect to get any additional capital."

It is believed here, after a survey of the senate, that there is a defeat facing the measure when it gets in the upper house.

FARMERETTE OF 73 IS MICHIGAN'S CHAMPION

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Feb. 15.—Michigan boasts of being the home of the champion farmerette in the country and it is ready to back her claim.

Experience was her only tutor. She is Mrs. Anna Simonson, 73 years old, owner of a large farm and one who jumped into overalls and got behind the plow when farm help became scarce. She is planning to work the farm this year.

Here is a table of her accomplishments for last season:

- Worked 20 acres of her farm;
- Shocked and hauled in five acres of corn, eight acres of rye, two acres of oats, and cultivated a two-acre truck garden;
- Cared for an orchard and several acres of berries;
- Raised 300 chickens, made eight pounds of butter daily, cared for five head of cattle and besides did the repair work, sewed, cooked, cleaned house and did all the other domestic work and farm chores.

BILL IS PROPOSED TO REVISE INHERITANCE LAW

BOISE, Feb. 15.—For the past two years it has been impossible under the Idaho law for anyone to will their money to any except the children of either husband or wife or both and to the parents of each.

This will be corrected with the making into a law of a bill by the judiciary committee of the senate which made its appearance in that body Thursday. In the case of the death of either the husband or wife the estate goes to the surviving member. The other half goes to pay the testamentary debts and the residue to the children or parents. According to the measure the one-half can be given to a stranger who the owner of the property wills it to.

WOULD VEST DEVELOPMENT OF WATERPOWER IN STATE

BOISE, Feb. 15.—Another constitutional amendment is asked by a member of the legislature when Representative Greenwood, non-partisan from Minidoka, becomes the sponsor for a resolution in the house to allow the state to acquire water power of the state for development.

In his measure he would also have the state control the water power. It is believed the amendment if adopted would make possible the taking away from individual owners or corporations properties that they now own.

BILL REMAINS BUREAU

BOISE, Feb. 15.—Trying to get his measure out of the wastebasket to which place it had been consigned by the reference committee Representative Harrison of Clearwater failed in the house Thursday to get the bill printed that would make the county officers run on a non-partisan ticket. The house voted against it with only league members favoring.

RETURN OF TROOPS FROM FRANCE TO BE EXPEDITED

Twenty-Five Vessels Are to Be Added to Transports Now Bringing Men Home

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Twenty-five vessels are being fitted out at New York to join the American cruiser and transport force engaged in bringing the troops back home.

This was revealed today in a list of vessels comprising the force under Vice-Admiral Gleaves with their scheduled sailing time. No explanation has been offered for the fact that transport officials last month predicted a monthly flow of 900,000 troops from then on, while Chief of Staff March last week estimated only 100,000 would be returned in February. It is assumed that addition of the 25 extra vessels will permit reaching or passing of the 200,000.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT AS POLICE COMMISSIONER

Some letters which Theodore Roosevelt wrote when he was police commissioner in New York in 1895 have recently been published for the first time. They were addressed to his first wife, Mrs. Coville, at that time living in England, and strikingly reveal the tremendous character of the struggle he was waging for decency against the forces of corruption.

"In the New York political world just at present" (he wrote after he had been eight months in office) "every man's hand is against every man's hand. I am not only a politician and every editor; and I live in a world of small intrigue. . . . I work—and fight—from dawn until dusk, almost; and the difficulties, the resistance and lukewarm support of my counter, give me hours of profound depression; but at bottom I know the work has been well worth doing and that I have done it as well as it could be done, and what I must care for is its intensely practical, workaday character; it is a grimy struggle, but a vital one."

Two weeks later he was writing:

"All day I strive to push matters along; to keep on my feet; to refuse and refusing to obey his orders; not to be drawn into a personal quarrel with Platt; not to let my colleagues split either with me or with the reformers; to keep with the department; to keep weeding out the bad men; to attend to the thousand complaints, well as I founders of the city; to improve discipline, and to build up the detective bureau and develop leaders; and so on and so on."

Gradually it began to dawn upon the minds of the people of the city that the man who had been so despised more and more efficient than it had been at any previous time in its history. But the politicians of both parties continued to fight him hammer and tongs.

"There is nothing of the purple in it," (he wrote of his work in June, 1896). "It is as grimy as all work for municipal reform over here must be. It is a constant struggle, and it is unconsciously arduous, disheartening, and irritating, beyond almost all other work of the kind. . . . I have to contend with the hostility of the political machines; I have to contend with the folly of the reformers and the indifference of decent citizens. The work itself is hard, worrying, and often very disagreeable. The police deal with vile and hideous vices; and it is not to be done on a rose-water basis. The actual fighting, with any of my varied tasks, I do not much mind; I take it as part of the day's work; but there is much that is painful. But fight after fight is won, and its very memory vanishes.

"The battle for decent government must be won by just such interminable, grimy, dreary, painful months of marching and striking, mostly inelusive; the 'glorious days' of striking victory, are few and far between, and never take place at all unless there is plenty of this disagreeable, preliminary work."

All men who are struggling for better government in American cities will find encouragement and inspiration in these words written by a great fighter in the midst of a great fight.

HOW THE KAISER TRIED TO FLAUNT ROOSEVELT

Not until after Colonel Roosevelt's death has the interesting fact been brought to light, that in the great war the Kaiser deliberately tried to persuade Roosevelt that etiquette demanded that Roosevelt cease his opposition to Germany.

About a month after the war started, in September, 1914, the Kaiser sent a special envoy to Oyster Bay to wait upon Colonel Roosevelt. The colonel received him formally in the trophy room. The envoy clicked his heels and bowed and said:

"Mr. Roosevelt, his majesty the German emperor, sends you his cordial greetings and asks me to tell you that he remembers your visit to Berlin with the greatest pleasure and trusts that the cordial reception which you received there will always remain fresh in your memory as it does in his."

Roosevelt did not click his heels together, but he did click his teeth in a way that he had when he was about to utter something which was intended to end discussion.

"Tell his majesty from me that I thank him for his cordial message and that I remember my visit to Berlin with the greatest pleasure, precisely with the same pleasure that I remember a similar visit which I paid at the same time to the king and queen of the Belgians."

BASES CLAIMS FOR NEW TRIAL ON AFFIDAVITS

Sworn Statement of Witness Whose Testimony Convicted Williams of Booze Sale Is Exhibited

With affidavits attached tending to establish the accuracy of the defendant, a motion for a new trial in the case of C. H. Williams, who was convicted last Saturday by a jury in district court of illegal sale of whiskey, was filed Friday by his attorney, W. P. Outhrie.

The affidavits are those of Joseph Smith, who was the principle witness for the state in the trial of Williams, and of Charles D. Clapp, a juror, a witness for the defendant.

Says He Swore Falsely.

Smith's affidavit is in effect a denial of his testimony at the trial when he said that he had purchased the bottles introduced in evidence from Williams giving a marked ten dollar bill in payment for it. In his affidavit he says he purchased the whiskey not from Williams but from Bryant Willis of Rogerson, and that he gave the marked bill to Chickering who passed it on to Williams whom he persuaded to give him change for the bill.

Chickering's affidavit sets out substantially the same circumstances as are related in the Smith affidavit.

Claims for Rehearing.

The motion for new trial is based on the claims that the jury received evidence out of the court other than that received from evidence at the trial; that the jury was guilty of misconduct by which fair and due consideration was prevented; that the verdict was decided by means other than the fair expression of the opinion on the part of all the jurors; and that the judge directed the jurors in regard to the law; that the verdict was contrary to the law and the evidence; that now evidence material to the defendant has been discovered, which could not, by reasonable diligence have been discovered and produced at the trial.

HERE WAS A MAN

Words cannot adequately express the feelings of the community who read the story of the death of W. A. (Bill) Donohue of Cokato, Minn., for it lays bare the unselfish character of a real man, a 100 per cent American.

During the darkest days of the war when democracy's foundation seemed threatened "Bill" Donohue was placed in Class 4 by his draft board as he was a married man. However he did not feel that it was his duty to remain at home, so with the consent of his wife, as brave a woman as ever lived, he dropped his work as editor of the Cokato Enterprise and went to the marine camp May 1918. In the middle of August, Private Donohue was on his way to France.

Meanwhile his wife courageously carried on the home fires burning, and saw that the Enterprise went out on time. Word was received that on November 1, 1918, this splendid young American died in a hospital in Farnborough, France from wounds received in action while fighting the Huns with the 48th company, Fifth regiment of the marines.

SAYS STATE AID CONTINGENT ON BILL'S PASSAGE

H. C. Allen, Highway Engineer, Meets With Twin Falls District Commissioners and Explains the Situation

The ability of the state highway commission to assist financially in the carrying into effect of the program of road building which the commissioners of the Twin Falls highway district will submit shortly is dependent upon the adoption by the state legislature of a bill providing for a state tax of two mills for road purposes, H. C. Allen, state highway engineer, told the commissioners at their meeting here Friday afternoon.

Appropriations Pyramid.

If this bill is passed, Mr. Allen said, there will be available from the state to the district approximately $35,000. This amount would be made available upon the appropriation by the district of $70,000 to be expended with the state money upon state highways within the district, and there would be available, in addition, from the federal government the sum of $100,000 for road purposes.

Mr. Allen stated that the passage of the two mills levy bill would make available to Twin Falls county a total of $75,000. Of this amount, he stated, $12,000 would go to the Buhl highway district; approximately $8,000 to the state highway district; $7,000 to the construction of a bridge over the high line canal east of Murtaugh; $3,000 to a bridge over Salmon river west of Buhl, and $10,000 to a bridge over Snake river at Owsley's ferry north of Buhl.

THE REVOLUTION

Now that the smoke has cleared away it is possible to obtain a better perspective of the events of the past few weeks at Seattle.

While the theory that the sympathetic strike was an inept attempt to star a revolution which was to spread gradually over the whole country may seem a little far fetched, there are a number of points now coming to light which shed a peculiar light on the openly announced plans of the strike leaders.

In the matter of some of these plans, openly announced during the progress of the strike, the germ of Bolshevism was obviously present.

Industry was to be tied up and industry was to be reopened when the strikers should decree and under the management of workmen's committees.

The official organ of the movement, makes this statement, openly and plainly. In theory there is nothing more genuinely Bolshevistic in Russia itself.

The rank and file of labor would of course have none of it, hence the collapse of the strike. In the bustle and excitement of the hour, labor was blindfolded and led into the fray by the little handful of unscrupulous leaders who are always ready to lead their services in the cause of labor's unrest.

But labor turned just as soon as the great body of loyal Americans who compose American labor saw through the plans of the leaders.

It is not to be wondered at that good men were deceived into acquiescing in a program which upon analysis would not stand the light of day.

The fact of the matter is that the whole world is in a turmoil, new and untried theories are being advocated on every hand, fresh thought emanating from every conceivable source is being constantly poured into the cauldron of public opinion.

A sort of reform madness has gripped the people. The end of course must come in a gradual return to the basis of common sense principles.

George Horace Lorimer, a keen student of world conditions, and an authority on American government contributes this bit in the Saturday Evening Post:

This is the greatest era of puff, puff and poison that the world has ever seen. The old family doctor hasn't a chance; nobody but a quack can prescribe nowadays.

But sensible people learned long ago that there is no health in the patent-medicine bottle; no way to a sound body except through sane living, simple exercise and hard work.

Throw the bottles out of the window—it won't hurt it you throw out a few of the quacks with them—and let's all go back to work.

Meanwhile, young Professor This and old Doctor That should not be allowed to offer, as safe and pleasant tonics, compounds that create a depraved appetite in credulous takers.

And one can always know that the habit for the stuff has been formed when the patient begins to babble about the "revolution."

The final end and aim of every revolution—the only lasting result that can be gained from one—is the ballot. If Americans have not the simple common sense to use it wisely and to elect honest leaders who will pass honest laws—not for any one class but for all classes—how can they possibly expect anything good to come from self-elected leaders who selfishly seize power for themselves and a small group of followers?

The answer is that the men who advocate the sort of practical Bolshevism that is of work in Russia today, and they are almost all unnaturalized foreigners, do not want honest leaders or honest laws—they want a chance to loot.

Anything except miracles that the majority really wishes for in this country it can have at the next election. But let no one imagine that the old, simple, fundamental laws of life and health can be repealed, even at the polls.

Eventually labor will clear its ranks of this sort of thing. Labor does not need Bolshevistic leadership or anything else that it cannot get within its own membership.

It does not choose for itself to be led by men with Russian surnames or pro-German sympathies. And we are inclined to the belief that the next "revolution" which this country will see will be the uprising of labor as a whole against this sort of leadership.

Many Articles of the Constitution Cover the Situation Very Thoroughly

Following are the remaining articles of the draft for the league of nations which President Wilson read to the peace conference in Paris yesterday:

Court of Justice. Article XIV: The executive council shall formulate plans for the establishment of a permanent court of international justice and this court shall, when established be competent to hear and determine any matter which the parties recognized as subject for submission to for arbitration under the following article.

Send Quorrels to Secretary. Article XV: If there should arise between states—members of the league—any dispute likely to lead to rupture which is not submitted to arbitration as above, the high contracting parties agree that they will refer the matter to the executive council; either party to the dispute may give notice of the existence of the dispute to the secretary-general who shall make all necessary arrangements for a full investigation and consideration thereof. For this purpose the parties agree to communicate to the secretary-general as promptly as possible statements of their case, with all the relevant papers, and the executive council may forthwith direct the publication thereof.

To Publish Disputes. Where the efforts of the council lead to the settlement of the dispute, a statement shall be published indicating the nature of the dispute and the terms of settlement, together with such explanations as may be appropriate. If the dispute has not been settled, a report by the council shall be published, setting forth with all necessary facts and explanations the recommendations which the council think just and proper for the settlement of the dispute.

If the report is unanimously agreed to by the members of the council other than the parties to the dispute the high contracting parties agree that they will not go to war with any party which complies with the recommendations and that, if any party shall refuse so to comply, the council shall propose measures necessary to give effect to the recommendations. If no such report can be made it shall be the duty of the majority and the privilege of the minority to issue statements indicating what they believe to be the facts and containing the reasons which they consider to be just and proper.

Delegates to Act. The executive council may in any case under this article refer the dispute to the body of delegates. The dispute shall be so referred at the request made within 14 days after the submission of the dispute. In a case referred to the body of delegates the provisions of this article and of article XII relating to the action and powers of the executive council, shall apply to the action and powers of the body of delegates.

Article XVI: Should any of the high contracting parties break or disregard its covenants under article XII, it shall thereby have forfeited its right to have committed an act of war against all the other members of the league, which hereby undertakes immediately to submit to the severance of all trade or financial relations, the prohibition of all intercourse between their nationals and the nations of the covenant-breaking state, and the preventing and the prevention of all financial, commercial or personal intercourse between the nationals of the covenant-breaking state and the na-

TWIN FALLS WINNER OF FIRST GAME OF SEASON

High School Team Takes Initial Basketball Contest From Shoshone

The Twin Falls high school basketball team won from the Shoshone high school squad, 25-18, in the first game of the season played Friday evening on the floor of the school gymnasium.

The game was full of play. The score at the end of the first half was 12-7 in favor of Twin Falls. The play was around the locals' goal most of the time. The high school band was out in force to cheer on the game and three yell leaders held enthusiastic bands of the local players.

The game began with Twin Falls playing Oscar Newman and Roland Parsons, forwards; Ralph Glasgow, center; Clarence Taylor and Waldemar Reed, guards. Shoshone had St. Neumann and Ed. Christman for goal work, Lucius Stiff, center and Howe Helm and Charles Dunn, guards.

During the first five minutes play Shoshone succeeded in scoring the first basket and secured a free throw.

Of the baskets scored by Neumann, two. The best individual playing perhaps is to be credited to Glasgow, although all players put up a consistently good game. Shoshone made a strong effort and failed to score only a few of the baskets attempted by her forwards.

Time was called for Parsons but he remained in the game until the last five minutes when Walter Grangell took his position.

WAR ON FEATHERED PEST GETS RESULTS

Farm Bureau's Campaign Against English Sparrows Successful at Start

Demonstrations preliminary to the farm bureau's county wide campaign for the extermination of English sparrows have resulted already in the destruction of a large number of the feathered pests.

County Agent Donald McLean has conducted about 20 demonstrations throughout the county in the use of the poison employed to destroy the sparrows. All of these demonstrations have been well attended.

"The sparrows poisoning campaign is the most popular undertaking apparently in which the farm bureau has engaged," Mr. McLean said this morning.

It had been assumed at the opening of the campaign that it could be conducted successfully only after snowfall had covered up other sources of food supply for the sparrows. The results already attained in the early stages of the campaign indicate that under proper methods the sparrows can be induced to eat the poisoned grain regardless of the availability of other food.

A principle purpose of the demonstrations is to organize community poisoning campaigns. It does not pay to try to poison sparrows in one place alone, Mr. McLean advises, and poison will not be given out unless several farmers in a district become interested and work together with it.

WAYS CLEAR FOR CREATING FILER DISTRICT

Settlement Out of Court, is Reached in Respect to Third Highway District in County and Attorney is Called Off

After litigation involving the project since its inception a year ago, a settlement out of court was reached in respect to the proposed filer highway district, when a new petition asking for the calling of an election on the creation of the district was presented Friday by D. H. Davis of Filor, to the county commissioners, and G. M. Wells, attorney for M. A. Thomas and others who have stood in the way of the creation of the district, was instructed to dismiss the appeal in their behalf in the supreme court.

Prompt Action Enjoined.
T. E. Moore, chairman of the board of county commissioners, stated that the election probably would be called at an early date.

The proposed new district will include approximately 14,000 acres. It will be the third highway district in the county and its creation will remove all administration of roads from the hands of the county commissioners.

The desire of Mr. Thomas and other residents of a district of eight square miles to be included in the Twin Falls district rather than in the Filor district precipitated the litigation which has involved proceedings in respect to the Filor district heretofore.

Erwin Wins Those Wanting Out.
The Filor district as outlined in the petition presented Friday will include an area of eight miles square lying at the southeast corner of the district as previously contemplated, and a petition for inclusion of this area in the Twin Falls highway district is to be presented Monday.

After serving notice of their intention, Mr. Thomas and his associates last February after the commissioners had called the election on the creation of the Filor district, requested the district court from this order of the commissioners. The court dismissed the appeal and recourse was had in an appeal to the supreme court.

Announcements

The citizens of this community have a most excellent opportunity to see real service at night in an illustrated lecture at the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening. The problems of the reconstruction period now present in this country are old problems in many ways, and our people have not had their apostles and statesmen and our social workers intent on meeting America's needs, have had the way blazed for them by some of the best men who have had the vision and have followed its leading. The illustrated lecture on Sunday evening takes one all over the world and brings you back with a conviction and a determination. The slides are real art, beautiful and useful. A good, strong arc lantern adds to their beauty and usefulness. The hour is 7:30 o'clock.

Truants to Explain To Court Official
Laws Requiring Attendance at School to Be Enforced Rigorously Next Semester

The board of education in regular session Monday evening, authorized Superintendent Blue to enforce the truancy laws when the second semester opens Monday morning, February 24. The board of education has been lenient on the matter of absences from school since work was resumed on December 30. This attitude was due to the influenza situation. However, the laws governing the compulsory attendance of children in the public schools will be rigidly enforced when the new semester opens.

ERROR IN INITIAL IS PIVOT IN LITIGATION
Administrator of Estate Appeals to Supreme Court to Secure Contract Fulfillment

An appeal to the supreme court from the judgment of the district court has been taken by the plaintiff in the case of O. E. Carlson, administrator for the estate of John H. Paul, against W. H. Sample. In this case the defendant entered into a contract for the purchase of real estate property in Twin Falls, which the title was vested in the Paul estate. He refused to comply with the terms of the contract, for fulfillment of which the plaintiff brought suit, on the grounds that proceedings in probating the estate had been instituted under the name of John H. Paul, whereas, he said, the name should have been John M. Paul, the difference in the initial, according to his idea, making a cloud on the title conveyed in the administrative order's deed. His position was sustained by the district court and the contract ordered vacated.

Sergeant John H. Sinema Tells of Many Transfers Involving Artillery Unit

An answer to the questions why the Twin Falls men of the organization that was Company D of the Second Idaho regiment and is now headquarters company of the One Hundred Forty-sixth artillery regiment, has never been mentioned in relation to the part taken in the fighting overseas by our American army division seems to be given in a letter written under date of January 12 by Sgt. John H. Sinema, a member of that company, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Sinema, of Twin Falls. He says:

"Rumors are current that we are again due for a transfer. We have had rather more transfers than I would have preferred, but I suppose it was all for the best. When we arrived in France we were in the 23rd (the 23rd) division. When we went into action at Chateau Thierry we were changed to the Fifth army corps of the First army. In the St. Mihiel drive we were sent at the time Mrs. V. O. Sinema, in the Meuse and Argonne woods we were 'Army Artillery,' which means that we were in the First army and could be used anywhere—and, believe me, they used us. We were always near the 26th, 32nd and 42nd (Rainbow) divisions, and where you read of them you learn most of our history."

With Hosts and Hostesses

The Home Service conference delegates entertained themselves at a 12 o'clock luncheon, served in the dining room of the Presbyterian church on Friday. The table was decorated with red hearts and other Valentine favors. Thirty of the conference participants were seated at the table. Mrs. W. O. Taylor accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. M. Robinson, sang several selections, which were enjoyed by the guests to the fullest extent. Mrs. T. H. Lewis acted as toastmistress for the occasion. Judge E. A. Walter was the first speaker. He emphasized the need for the workers in this field of Red Cross not to relax from their efforts, since the problems of the Home Service worker are really beginning with the boys returning without work or funds. The Home Service, he stated, must not stop its efforts one bit until the last boy is at home and started in his new way.

He was followed by Miss McEachron, who recited a poem, "Ruins."
Miss Van Wormer told of the "brushes" organization and its place in Home Service, and told something of what this local organization should be. Rev. A. C. Evans of Gooding in his talk gave his practical experiences with Home Service in Gooding during the influenza epidemic. The luncheon ended in the taking of a group picture of the delegates. No well planned with the whole affair were the guests that they could not have a similar one next week.
Next week will be the big week in this lecture course. Of especially general interest are the lectures Monday and Tuesday and Wednesday. Monday's lecture will be "Family Advisors and

Father's plans never do work out satisfactorily

Dr. Wyly's Chiropractic Sanitarium

"Where Sick Folks Get Well"

If in doubt of what we can do

READ THIS

If all the people of the Twin Falls tract and surrounding country could but know and realize the wonderful cures that are actually taking place at our Sanitarium at Twin Falls, Idaho, we would never be able to take care of them all.

At our Twin Falls Sanitarium alone, we are averaging 50 people a day, week in and week out. We have often said, "If we have one single dissatisfied patient, we are not aware of it."

We are treating all forms of Chronic Ailments, including appendicitis, diseases of women, stomach trouble, liver and kidney trouble, constipation, adenoids, piles, rheumatism, eye and ear trouble, etc.—we are getting fine results in them all.

If our success was confined alone to appendicitis and diseases of women the wonderful results we have had in these cases would be sufficient. If you are still in doubt as to our work, just come and spend two hours in our reception room and talk to our patients—THAT WILL CONVINCE EVEN THE MOST SKEPTICAL.

Appendicitis can be Cured without knife

Dr. Wyly and Dr. Telford, the famous Chiropractors of Twin Falls are simply doing wonders. Among other things, they have demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt that the dreaded knife is no longer necessary in the treatment of appendicitis. They have demonstrated to many and to their ENTIRE satisfaction that the powerful currents of electricity which they are capable of giving on their new high powered Electrical Machines, are removing the cause of the irritation in the appendix.

Is the Appendix of any Use in the Human Body?

Surely it is; for if it were not, an all-wise Creator would not have put it there. Science has proven that the appendix secretes a fluid, which it automatically pours out into the large bowel where it serves as a lubricant. I have never known of a single case where the appendix was removed but that the patient was not more or less constipated the rest of his life.

Appendicitis can be cured without removing the appendix because we get to the cause of the inflammation and remove the cause not the appendix.

Electrical Appliances

Diagram Showing Dependence of all Organs upon Spine and Spinal Nerves

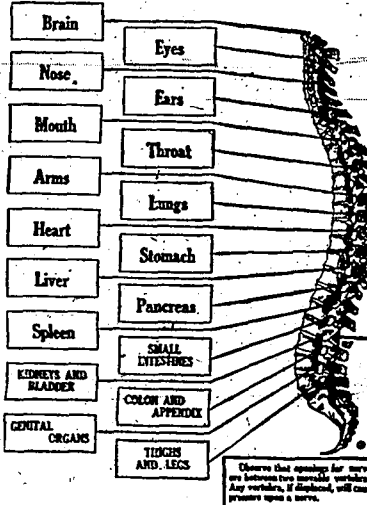

Work Wonders

We have equipped our Sanitarium with all the very latest and most up-to-date electrical appliances to be found. The wonderful results we are getting has astonished even our most enthusiastic friends.

Also, in the treatment of the diseases peculiar to women, where until now, it was thought operations were the only remedy, our powerful Electricity has wrought—simply wonders.

Accommodations For Patients

We have nice clean sanitary beds and are prepared in every way to care for patients who are unable to come and go to and from our Sanitarium.

Organs that depend for nerves are between the marks. Any vertebra, if displaced, will cause trouble upon a nerve.

Free Consultation and Examination

Remember our consultations and examinations are free. It costs you nothing to consult with us. We give you a thorough and careful examination with absolutely no cost to you. If you or a loved one are suffering and have so far failed to get relief, it might be well to come in and talk with us and be examined. If we can't help you we will tell you so. We have built up our enormous practice here in this short year and a half upon ABSOLUTE HONESTY to our patients and friends and we do not intend to abandon that policy regardless of circumstances.

tion of sovereignty, complete independence of super-government of any sort, freedom of initiative in all matters affecting national interests and our rights to consider America first.

Chicago Approves The Constitution

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Chicago Evening Post: Extremists may be disappointed, but a vast majority of those who have hoped there would come from the deliberations of the commission a proposal for a new world order promising peace will greet this document with rejoicing.

Socialists Find Many Flaws in It

Milwaukee Leader (Socialist): "The proposed world constitution is a makeshift contrivance. There is not the faintest trace of democracy in it. It is a mere attempt to refer the international fight for the markets of the world to a committee of statesmen who might perhaps serve as a stepping stone to the kind of world organization we socialists want."

St. Louis Is Pleased With the Prospect

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15.—The St. Louis Globe Democrat: "It erects no super-structure. It demands the surrender of no material sovereignty. It creates no military power. It is, in brief, an agreement of cooperation for the preservation of peace and the promotion of universal welfare."

Will Be Indorsed By All Parties

CLEVELAND, Feb. 15.—The Cleveland Plaindealer: "It will receive vigorous approval from the people regardless of whatever political efforts may be made to harass President Wilson or discount his work."

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 15.—The Indiana Daily Times: "Today's World nation is a reality, although somewhat nebulous. After long and troublesome negotiations, the end of war actually is in sight."

Boston Globe: "It is the long heralded 'parliament of man, the federation of the world.'"

Boston Herald: "The world has waited more than twenty centuries for something like this."

General March Issues Statement On the Demobilization Situation to Date

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Total demobilization now stands at 1,103,310 men and 71,235 officers, General March said today.

A total of 1,201,000 men have been ordered demobilized and 305,000 have already embarked for home. Of the latter, 227,000 have actually landed in this country.

able army shipping to European food relief work. The army has now practically completed shipment of 276,000 tons of food to Rotterdam, Gibraltar, Constantinople, Constance, Black Sea. With unhampered speed up and reaching 68,000 for the first 10 days of February, the state department was advised by the Dutch foreign minister today that Holland will facilitate United States troop movement by way of the Rhine. Such troops will be transhipped at Rotterdam. Special regulations require the transports to fly only the commercial flag and that soldiers be not permitted to carry arms during the trip on the river.

Some of the arm shipping is being readjusted and turned back to useful employment other than military. Some cargo vessels have been remade into troop ships and a total of 56 have been ordered being completed so as to add a 13,000 monthly troop-carrying capacity to the present rate.

Battle death rate in the A. E. F. during the present war was 57 per 1000 against 25 per 1000 for the British.

In the civil war the northern forces lost in battle deaths 33 per 1000.

AMBASSADOR IS RECOVERING

T. H. Wick, former American ambassador to France, who was taken ill here shortly after his arrival from Cleveland, is practically recovered today. He had suffered a slight attack of heart trouble.
