British Minister Would Lend All-Factions But the Bolshevik Any Economic Assistance

LABOR AND WOMEN HAVE PLACE AT PEACE TABLE

Wilson Declares Over a Billion People are Represented at the Conference and Must Be Considered

By FRED A. FERBOUSON PARIS, Feb. 17.—The Russian situation was again the foremost question before the peace conference today. The tentative date for the joint meeting at Prinikopis expired Saturday without anything definite having been accomplished.

Presents New Plan Winston Churchill, who holds the war portfolio in the new British ministry, has come forward with a new plan for solving the Russian problem.

As a result of this France, with a small population, is forced to maintain a larger army than her less threatened associates. Therefore, he contends, the league ought to make some provision to cover up this economic strain.

LABOR HOLIDAY FOR UNION MEN

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Movers, teamsters, bookbinders and milk wagon drivers today were among the union councils voting to join the "general labor holiday" called by the Chicago Federation of Labor for April 1, municipal election day.

The holiday, which, according to Morton L. Johnson, secretary of the labor party, was voted to give union men a chance to pick the polls in the interest of John Fitzpatrick, labor candidate for mayor, and his running mate.

A General Affair "The holiday will be a unique affair," declared Johnson. "We will simply lay down our tools for one day and pick them up the next. Indications are that 200,000 or more workers will not work that day."

WILL STAND BY THE DECISIONS OF THE LEAGUE

France Will Adhere to the Verdict Whether It Is Favorable to Her Wishes or Not Is Now Reported

BY WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMMS. PARIS, Feb. 17.—France will abide by the decision of the peace conference regarding the league of nations, whether that decision is for or against the league, it was learned on high authority today.

The United Press is in a position to set aside completely rumors that the French insist on inserting certain clauses in the league constitution before they accept it. The French already had approved the covenant as read by President Wilson before the general peace congress Friday.

The point made by Senator Bourgeois is that France is the most menaced nation in the world and that the Germans are, figuratively still at the door of the French capital.

Proportionate Navy Forces As a result of this France, with a small population, is forced to maintain a larger army than her less threatened associates.

He also believes that machinery for instant military action should be formed as part of the league instead of leaving a program to be drawn up after any trouble starts.

RADICAL LEADER CAUSES GREAT UPROAR BY BOLD STATEMENT TO ASSEMBLY

Openly Accuses the Ebert Government of the Murder of Liebknecht—Admits Receiving Money From Russia to Purchase Food for Spartacans

BY FRANK J. TAYLOR WEIMAR, Feb. 15.—(delayed)—Hugo Haase, radical leader, threw the national assembly into an uproar today when he declared that the workmen's and soldiers' councils would continue in existence until the social-democratic centrist coalition demonstrates its intention to socialize the new republic.

Scores of delegates leaped to their feet and clamored for recognition. Others joined in a chorus of denunciation of Haase's statement without the formality of obtaining recognition from Chairman Fehrenbach. Order was finally restored but other outbursts occurred as Haase continued his speech.

BLAMES FRANCE FOR ACTION OF RUSSIAN FORCES

Declaration Says that Conservative Elements Were Influenced Not to Accept Peace Proposal

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Failure of the allies' plan to bring about a conference of the rival Russian factions to date is due to the influence of France which has inspired the conservative forces in Russia to refuse to participate in the proposed Prince's Island discussions.

One more step has thus been taken to continue the division of sentiment between Russia and the western democracies and to encourage the Germans to plot for a future Russo-German alliance. Neither the French statesmen who have so strongly criticized the Prince's Islands meeting nor the conservative Russians who have rejected the idea, have made any counter proposals.

This solution has been proposed exclusively in the interest of Russia's foreign creditors and those domestic factions that cannot find support for their doctrines with Russia itself. Neither America nor Great Britain will consent to declaring war upon Russia for such purposes as these.

Will Renew Efforts A renewed effort, therefore, will have to be made to bring about an understanding between the western nations and the Bolsheviks or the policy of isolating Russia must be continued. The latter alternative is the most fruitful attitude the western powers could assume for Germany's benefit.

Now continental Europe can oppose an alliance of this character has not been explained by the statesmen of France. If such a union of forces is permitted to occur, it will be one of the most stupendous diplomatic blunders in modern history, probably making another war inevitable.

The American position is secure, they agreed, and casualties have been light. The American units, they said, have not been so close to the fighting as any great extent, but as an armed camp "loyal Russians" are doing the fighting, one of the men said.

PRESIDENT WILL EXPLAIN DRAFT

Shows Deep Interest in the Wireless-Messages Concerning Comment

ABOARD THE U. S. S. GEORGE WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—(delayed)—President Wilson displayed the deepest interest today in American comment on the league of nations, received by wireless. He devoted considerable time to studying the varying degrees of approval and disapproval, especially that emanating from Washington.

The American people will be made acquainted with the president's attitude in connection with the league. It can be stated on highest authority. He is prepared to clear up all doubt regarding application of the league's principles to the Monroe Doctrine.

The president attended the ship's movies last night and spent today in the seclusion of his cabin until church time, when he attended divine services. The George Washington was making good time. A heavy rain was falling today but the sea was comparatively smooth.

TAFT PRAISES PRESIDENT FOR LEAGUE DRAFT

France Will Adhere to the Verdict Whether It Is Favorable to Her Wishes or Not—Is Now Reported

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 17.—President Wilson is to be warmly congratulated for having the league of nations take the substantial form it does," declared ex-President William Howard Taft, who arrived here last night to attend the northwestern congress for a league of nations.

"Borah and Poindexter and the others who believe their integrity to depend impossible hypotheses against the league. You can destroy the constitution of the United States by impossible hypotheses.

Ex-president Taft said:

"I have already expressed myself as being in favor of the league, though I have not been on three points on which I would like to see it go further.

"I would have been glad had there been a clause in the league making it obligatory on the powers to furnish the troops and military forces.

"As it is, such military forces are only voluntary. General Smuts' plan for the league would use the boycott as a means of forcing powers to obey its decisions, but I would like to see military force lack of its decisions."

BALKANS PRESENT WORK FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Bulgarian Minister Thinks His Country Should Be Special Consideration of League

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—"The league of nations must take the Balkans out of European politics," declared Stephen Panaretoff, Bulgarian minister, in his address to the league of nations at the Hotel Utah today.

"The Balkans have been the pivot of the European powers. They have been willing tools. The league of nations must make them really independent. This will remove the direct cause of the great war and the source of the world's miseries."

Bulgaria eagerly awaits admission to the league after her liability as an associate of the central powers in the war has been justly weighed, the envoy stated.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—American coal miners increased the 1918 production of coal 34,000,000 tons over 1917, Secretary of the Interior Lane stated today in praising their work during the war.

"The 1918 production of 685,200,000 tons was the largest in the nation's history and this was a tremendous factor in bringing the war to a speedy close," Lane said.

Casualties during the year totaled 2,575, but deaths due to the explosion of gas and coal dust were decreased 233 from 1917.

Clayton gave figures which showed about 2,500,000 illiterates in the United States in 1910 when the last census was taken.

He estimated this figure had now increased to five million.

GERMANY STATES HER PEACE TERMS

National Assembly Is Given Outline of the Foreign Policy to Be Pursued

By FRANK J. TAYLOR.
WEIMAR, Feb. 14. (Delayed).—We are defeated but not crushed; the will to work is still within," declared Foreign Minister Brockdorff-Rantzau in addressing the national assembly today.

He made the following points, indicative of Germany's foreign policy:

Germany must be admitted to the league of nations.
A plebiscite must be held in Alsace-Lorraine.
German colonies must be returned, though she is willing to bargain regarding their exchange.

Germany, while refusing to pay the costs of the war for her enemies, is willing to repair civilian losses "due to the blunders of the bureaucratic system."

Germany will welcome a union with Austria.
Boundaries must be settled impartially.

Brockdorff-Rantzau proved to be the most impressive speaker yet to be heard by the assembly. The house was completely won over by his views and unanimously voted confidence in him.

DAKOTA PREPARES SOLDIERS' HOMES

A "Back to the Land" Movement Starts With Return of the Service Men

BISMARCK, N. D., Feb. 17.—North Dakota's first actual step in the "back to the soil" movement for returned soldiers and sailors has been accomplished in senate approval of a bill establishing a home builders association.

The state industrial commission under the plan will be in a position to purchase and improve property for qualified applicants upon deposit of 20 per cent of the value of the project. Payments will be under the amortization plan.

The senate also approved a bill creating state elevators and flour mill associations, while the house approved the administration measure for a $2,000,000 bond issue to capitalize a state-owned and operated bank.

The home builders' bill, state elevator and flour mill measures now go to the house while the bank bond issue measure goes to the senate.

LEADERS AWAIT AN EXPLANATION

Discussion of the League Draft Is Delayed Until Arrival of the President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Ex-President Taft's endorsement of the league of nations constitution made its presence here today as likely to have considerable weight with republican senators. The main point of difference here was as to whether the covenant will cause surrender of some of America's sovereignty. While some contended that the league constitution tends to bring upon the national constitution, there was little disposition to criticize openly.

The president's appeal to curb discussion until he arrives, and confides in the inwardness of the document to foreign relations committee members served to stop much of the talk. While there was no positive assurance that discussion of the league would be entirely stilled in congress, administration members were disposed to heed the president's request, while the republican members showed a tendency to get the nation's verdict rather thoroughly before turning on either approval or condemnation.

Three Transports Bring Many Troops

Storms Were Encountered by Most of Them and They Were Delayed

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Feb. 17.—Three transports arrived Saturday bringing nearly six thousand troops from France.

The Pastores, a week overdue, came in unexpectedly during the night. The Madawaska and the Antigon were the others.

All the ships ran into rough weather. Troops arriving are from every state in the union, although most of them are from mid-west states.

Men on the Pastores say the ship ran into three storms.

High waves dashed against the ship and she was able to make little or no headway. Most of the troops were seasick.

The Pastores had on board a detachment of the 327th field artillery, men from Michigan, Ohio and Illinois. She brought back also a casual company of 158 men and officers and a medical detachment of fifty-three men.

The men aboard the Madawaska had seen no service while those on the Pastores had fought in several of the biggest battles.

There were nearly 3,000 troops on the Madawaska, members of the 326th field artillery and the 47th coast artillery. The 326th trained at Camp Taylor and is composed of men from Illinois, Kentucky and other mid-western states.

The Antigon docked at noon. She had on board a large number of sick and wounded and several casual. The parties in the latter are men from every state and large city in the union.

League Congress Will Be Held In Salt Lake City

Many Noted Speakers Will Be at the Gathering in Utah's Capital City

SALT LAKE, Feb. 17.—Speakers at the coming league of nations congress to be held in the Salt Lake City next week will protest against the establishment of a "toothless baby league" according to word received at the regional congress headquarters by Regional Congress Manager Fred C. Graham. Alvan P. Ames, secretary of the committee on information of the league to reform peace writing to Mr. Graham, declares that there is no further need of interesting the American people in the mere establishment of a league. That he believes was already been done. The purpose of the congress speakers must now be to continue to show that the country favors a strong league of nations, because a cable from Paris shows that there is a great danger that a worthless league may be pinned off on the various nations—a mere reiteration of the Hague conventions. The league to enforce peace believes that American will not stand for this sort of a figure-head arrangement but will demand a league which will make and keep the world safe.

For Larger Delegations
The local congress management sent out today to various organizations a number of extra delegate appointment blanks supplementing those already sent. From national headquarters of the congress. This action was taken because of the many applications for a larger representation from various groups of citizens. It is urged that representatives or registrars to the appointments be returned to local headquarters of the Congress at the Hotel Utah, Salt Lake City, as quickly as possible in order that the handling of the mail for the congress can be facilitated and proper arrangements made for the reception of the delegates at the congress sessions.

Miss Ethel McKinney will arrive tomorrow from national congress headquarters to assist the local office in the registration of delegates.

A number of names have been added to the committee named by local club women to attend to the details of the luncheon which will be given by them February 22, in honor of Mrs. Philip North Moore.

FOOTWEAR COST NOT LIKELY TO DESCEND SOON

Allied Shoe and Leather Industry Makes Statement of Views on Situation—Says World is Bare of Raw Material.

Shoe prices will be reduced—some time, but not this year and shoes may not ever be as cheap again as they were prior to 1914; according to the conclusions reached at a recent conference of allied shoe and leather industry at the convention given by service committees of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

It is not reasonable to presume that prices on shoes or any other commodity will be reduced for some time to come, this body finds, but it discerns no occasion for disturbance of faith in the future.

In a statement to the allied trades the war service committee of the shoe manufacturing industry says:

Look for Big Exports. A careful survey of the situation develops the fact that the world is bare of leather and leather products, and that exports will be large as soon as shipping facilities and credit are available. Raw stock has been selling at maximum prices in this country and in foreign countries at a premium over the normal price. It is clear that shoe stocks are low throughout the world, and there is no surplus of finished leather or raw materials for civilian needs.

Shoe factories are sold ahead from four to five months. Agriculturalists are prosperous. High prices for their products are practically assured for 1919. Labor is receiving high wages and will continue to do so until a reasonable readjustment of commodity prices and the cost of living takes place. Revival of peace enterprises and construction on a large scale by the government and individuals will soon be realized. Our financial conditions are sound.

All of these facts strengthen our faith in the future.

Conservation Essential.

A continuation of the program of conservation on the part of dealers and manufacturers is essential in order to prevent higher prices and to provide for the urgent needs of European countries. The industry has wisely determined to use its efforts to continue the conservation program in force on merchandise delivered to dealers until June, 1919. Loyal co-operation and strict compliance, therefore, is the paramount duty of each and every one. Violation of the conservation program should be reported to the war industries board.

It seems that higher prices can only be prevented by pursuing a sane, non-speculative merchandising, and manufacturing policy.

With continued wise co-operation on the part of all the allied interests of the industry we believe we can look forward with confidence to a period of prosperity; and providing the above policies are faithfully carried out, the transition from war to peace conditions will be accomplished in an orderly manner, without disturbance of the industry.

WHY AN ARIZONA FAMILY STAYED WITH FARM HOME

Extension Worker Shows Tired Wife How to Lighten Her Labors and Make Life Cheerful—Ranch Takes on Different Atmosphere—Results Not Shown in Figures

Reduced to figures, the work of a home demonstration agent or a county agent does not always truly indicate the magnitude and the character of the extension work under the supervision of the U. S. department of agriculture and the state colleges. But big movements are made up of countless well done trifles.

"Helped 349 women retrim their hats, about 150 how to make fireless cookers." Nothing seems very epic in such an account from a home demonstration agent, and where imagination is lacking it appears like petty work for the United States government to foster. The big results, though real and important, are too intangible to be listed in any report, and they are often overlooked.

The actual assistance given to a family in western Arizona by the home demonstration agent was summarized as "Instrumental in installing a dish drainer in the D's home; helped Mrs. D. make some home-made furniture." The complete returns would show that by making a wife contented she enabled a man who was a born farmer to stay a food producer rather than to move to a nearby city and enter a field already crowded with workers.

In one county of western Arizona the home demonstration agent told her little audience composed of wives of ranchers: "If any of you would like me to come to your home and talk over your individual problems, I would be very glad to go." There was a pause. The extension worker was new in that county. It was quite evident that most of them felt their individual problems were not the kind which could be solved by outside help. Finally, a discouraged-looking little woman, perhaps feeling that she had tramped the place where she was willing to try anything, listlessly said she would be glad to see the speaker the next day.

Under a burning sun the agent drove her little machine through thick dust to a dilapidated, ramshackle shack. Worn out in working against too heavy odds, with little knowledge of housework and no conveniences, the woman had lost all ambition to improve her home, and her husband was, too busy with farm work. "Everything was at sixes and sevens, and swarms of flies added the last depressing touch.

Practical Housekeeping Needed. The dish washing, which the home demonstration agent's coming had interrupted, was resumed. Anxious to help, the agent hesitated—so cold and slimy was the dish water, and so nauseating the half-washed dishes, which were to be dried on a wet and non-toe clean towel. Feeling some apology was necessary, Mrs. D. confessed she had not meant trying to make things habitable. All she did, day after day, was cook, wash dishes, and mind the baby. Her husband had promised not to rent the ranch again, but to move into town in the spring, and she said she was enduring until that time came.

"Of all the tasks she outlined, she said while fishing another plate, out of the semi-liquid water, dish washing held first rank. The agent thought it a perfectly justifiable hatred because of the way her hostess did it. The visitor, asked if she had ever tried using a hot water, placing the dishes in a wire drainer, pouring scalding water over them, and then placing the drainer in the open window for the sunshine to dry the dishes.

"No, and I'm not going to spend a dollar on a dish drainer when I am going to town in the spring," was the reply.

A Way Ready at Hand.

"But you could use that wire waste basket," persisted the agent. "You need your minutes for other things. Suppose you time yourself when you do the dishes your way the next time, and then the time after that follow my suggestions and see how many minutes you can save."

The next day, with new interest in her voice, the rancher's wife telephoned the agent she had found she could save at least ten minutes at each dish washing by using the new way.

That was the beginning. The housewife began to demonstrate to her neighbors this easy way of drying dishes. And she was willing to listen to whatever else might be suggested.

any time and they should have about 27 inches of tape with the hooks and eye attached, which can be gotten at any notion center.

For the stuffing there should be provided either wool, curled hair, cotton, or chamois padding, sawdust or old rags, whatever seems to be the most convenient and cheapest material procurable in the community, but enough to fill them properly.

Miss Ellwell will bring the patterns so that the women need not provide these.

LAWMAKER SAYS WATER TRANSFER LIMIT NECESSARY

Representative Carl J. Miller of Twin Falls County Explains Provisions of His Bill to Regulate Shifting of Rights.

Proposed legislation which, if adopted, according to the author, will go a long way toward safeguarding the interests of every water user in the Twin Falls county is house bill No. 127 by Representative Carl J. Miller of Twin Falls county, to prohibit the transfer of any Carey act water rights except to and by persons within the county and in cases where, for any reason, the directors of the operating company decline to make such transfer, to provide for an appeal by the applicant to the commissioner of reclamation.

Recourse Was in Court.

The old law permitted the transfer of water rights of Carey act projects to lands lying outside of the original Carey act segregation and also provided that in case the directors of the operating company refused to grant a transfer to an applicant and appeal to the county engineer, Mr. Miller says, if the engineer saw fit to order the transfer the directors had to comply or defend their action in the courts.

Provisions of Bill.

Provisions of the proposed legislation in this regard as taken from Mr. Miller's bill are as follows:

The owners of any land to which a water right has been made appurtenant pursuant to the provisions or operation of the act of congress of the United States known as the Carey act may transfer such water right, in whole or in part, to other land owned by him * * * and lying within the same irrigation apportionment or segregation * * * and may, by sale or by lease for a period not exceeding one year, transfer such water right or any portion thereof to another for use upon or in connection with any such other lands, in the manner and on the conditions set forth in this chapter.

Up to Commissioner.

If the board of directors of the corporation operating the Carey act system shall refuse its consent to the transfer of such water right, a written application for permission to make the same, showing the description of the land from which and of the land to which it is proposed to transfer such water right and the amount of the water to be so transferred and the reasons for such transfer, shall be referred * * * to the commissioner of reclamation * * * who shall promptly make investigation of the matter and determine whether and to what extent the canal system and the other water users thereunder shall be affected or prejudiced if such transfer is allowed.

If said commissioner of reclamation * * * finds that such transfer of water right, in the manner and to the extent applied for, will not be prejudicial to said corporation or to the other water users under said irrigation system he shall issue his certificate approving the transfer, the same to be in duplicate, one part of which shall be filed with the secretary of such corporation and the other shall be delivered to the persons applying for such transfer, and recorded in connection with the instrument of conveyance or lease, and if he finds that such transfer should be made only upon certain terms and conditions, then he shall prescribe and specify the terms and conditions, upon which the transfer shall be allowed, and if they are complied with to his satisfaction, he shall issue his certificate to that effect, the same being in duplicate as herein provided.

Must Give Reason.

If said reclamation commissioner * * * decides against such transfer, then he shall make his written report, giving the reasons for such decision.

If any person or the board of directors of such Carey act corporation shall feel aggrieved at the decision of said * * * commissioner of reclamation * * * an appeal may be taken by such person or board to the district court of the county within which the land is situated from which it is proposed to transfer the water right by filing with the clerk of said court the written application so made to said * * * commissioner of reclamation * * * and his report thereon with a written statement of the appellant giving the reasons why such decision should not stand, and said court shall make determination of the matter, for which a jury trial may be had at the discretion of the court. The clerk of such court shall require the payment of a fee of $5 for the docketing of such appeal.

For his services in passing up an application for the transfer of a water right under this chapter and making his certificate or report based thereon * * * the commissioner of reclamation * * * shall be entitled to receive from the applicant the sum of $10 for each day or portion thereof necessarily required by him to do the work besides his actual and necessary expenses incurred in connection therewith, but shall receive no other compensation.

THE PROUD WAR RECORD OF TWIN FALLS COUNTY

It will seem incredible, most of all probably, to those who have lived here longest, that it was possible for this county, only a dozen years from the egg-bush, to have made the proud and prominent history of patriotic achievement written by it during the war years of 1917-18.

The War Power First, in the matter of furnishing man power. To one who has seen the young men, obeying with alacrity their country's call, assemble in royal bands, bid goodbye to relatives and friends...

So it was that we watched with proud and affectionate interest the assembling of companies "D" and "K" at the Second Idaho National Guard, and finally bade them farewell as with full ranks they left us for the camps of rendezvous at Boise.

Then came the organization of a hospital unit, to which this county contributed two officers and more than fifty men. Then recruiting began at large, and singly and in groups the boys from this county were joining the army in general, the navy, the marines, the aviation and other special branches of service...

The third stage of giving our sons to our country, and the most important and productive of all, was the selective draft—the one great initiative on the part of the war department. It was devised by General Crowder, and put into most successful operation by him after the pacific secretary of war had been named and chosen for duty.

Born of the deep daily need of a sense of an the voice of now, the incarnate spirit of the times, monarch of things that are.

My "cold type" burns with the fire blood of human action. I am fed by arteries of wire that girdle the earth. I drink from the cup of living joy and sorrow. I sleep not, rest not. I know no night, no day, no season. I know no death, yet I am born again with every man, with every moon, with every twilight.

I am the constant of kings, the partner of capital, the brother of toil. The inspiration of the hopeless, the right arm of the needy, the champion of the oppressed, the conscience of the criminal. I am the epitome of the world's cruelty and tragedy.

My responsibility is infinite. I speak and the world stops to listen. lutely even terms—aye, physical condition, dependents' and character of employment, being the only things that counted; under the most democratic of methods, the work of gathering man power had been done in a few days. Time after time were successive levies, in bodies of twenties, of fifties and of hundreds, as their date of induction arrived, followed to the station by throngs and sent away with cheers. The aggregate number of men furnished under all these methods is estimated by those best qualified to judge all the way from twelve to eighteen hundred—the intermediate figure of fifteen hundred being used for the purposes of this article.

The Money Power In the matter of raising money for war purposes of all kinds, Twin Falls county again stands forth pre-eminent. No matter whether the call was for charitable purposes, or for loan direct to the government, no quota was ever assigned that was not promptly met and exceeded. It will be astonishing, even to our own people who were familiar with the call at every stage, to know that this county actually raised, almost three and a quarter million of dollars for war purposes; but such is the case, and the following tabulation, showing the details, will not be without interest.

Table titled 'War Charities' and 'War Loans' listing various organizations and their contributions.

Total Liberty Loans $2,534,503 W. S. Stamps 432,000 Total for War Purposes $3,220,110 The comparative magnitude of this financial accomplishment is greatly enhanced by a study of a statement recently put out to all the county chairmen and others interested within the twelfth district by the federal reserve banks at San Francisco which was the Liberty Loan headquarters therein. The compilation referred to gives the exact figures for each county of each state in the district as to the quota, the amount raised, the percentage of the quota, number of individual subscribers, population of county in 1910, and per cent of subscribers to population. The following is an excerpt from that tabulation giving the figures indicated for eleven of the principal counties with reference to the fourth and last Liberty Loan:

Table comparing population and Liberty Loan statistics for various counties.

Studying this table and noting the fact that Bonner county, with a population slightly greater than that of Twin Falls, was assigned a quota of $200,000, while ours was $1,000,000; that Bligh county, with substantially the same population, was asked for but $50,000; that A. county, with over three times our number of people, drew a quota of $1,000,000, and observing the numerous other incongruities and inequalities that will appear, one is led to wonder how those quotas were arrived at and why it was that this county, apparently, at least, so much the worst of it. In the very first Army Red Cross drive this county was assigned a quota of $15,000. This amount was voluntarily raised by the local workers to $25,000; and they then went forth and raised $97,000—a burst of liberality that may have had something to do with the assignment of our subsequent large quotas. However that may be, the achievement gave us a courage and enthusiasm that would not permit failure thereafter. We were proud of it then and are proud of it still; and believe that the entire record of our county, as herein set forth, is proper cause for satisfaction and gratulation.

The brave and patriotic stand of Mayor Hanson of Seattle, with its quick and splendid result, is a new and striking example of the difference between having a real man in a position of executive importance and responsibility instead of a thing—the Mayor of Butte furnishing the other part of the illustration. In Seattle, where seven thousand men were involved, the strike is off and the ringleaders have been arrested and taken to the Atlantic seaboard for deportation. In Butte, with only a few thousands of strikers, things have gone from bad to worse and are still headed in that direction.

The secretary of the county fair, Mr. J. M. Markel, has made application to Congressman Addison J. Smith for a war trophy—presumably a pair of captured Hun cannon—to be placed in the fair grounds at Filer. Mr. Markel well thinks that something of this kind, to go together with a suitable flag pole from which to float old glory above all, where also belongs, would be a fine addition to the attractions of the fair grounds; and there is no doubt but that his request will be complied with in full measure. This is an opportunity for the cause of liberation of this character.

A friend somewhere near the age of the writer says in a late letter that "he thinks boys of the present generation grow up into rather higher ideals than when you and I were boys." He is probably right. At all events he joins together what he means by quoting from a letter received by the parents of a young aviator from Chicago who was killed in France, Oct. 14 last. The extract is not only remarkable for its high tone and spirit, but in the fact that, written shortly before the young man's martyrdom, it was received by his parents afterward. Pathetically, as well as almost prophetically the young soldier wrote: "You must not grieve; I shall be supremely happy; so must you—not that I have 'gone west' but that I have bought such a wonderful life at so small a price and have paid for it so gladly. So I have no fears and no regrets. I have only to thank God for such a wonderful opportunity to serve Him and the world."

William Whitman and Ben Dick, each 10 years of age, convicted of the theft of a .38-caliber revolver out of the overcoat pocket of Cecil Pomeroy in a bowling alley here, were sentenced Saturday to remain as guests under supervision of the county jail for the ensuing 30 days. Apprehension of the accused resulted from detective work on the part of Probation Officer John E. Ault, who signed the complaint. The gun was taken and cached in a cave, the location of which the youths were reluctant to reveal to the officer.

CONGREGATION PAYS TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT

Patriotic Services at Methodist Church Bring Together Audience Packed Auditorium and Galleries

The patriotic services at the Methodist Church on Sunday evening brought together a crowd of people that packed the auditorium and the galleries. Rev. Elmer Grant Keith gave a patriotic address on Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt. The choir and orchestra pleased the audience with music of a patriotic nature. Mrs. O. P. Duvall sang a solo and Wilton Peck sang "My Own United States" at the request of the pastor.

A Great Democrat

The pastor said in part: "When the great soul of Theodore Roosevelt winged its way to its place in the skies on January 6, 1910, this world lost from view the manly body of one of earth's greatest democrats."

Mr. Roosevelt was a good father, a faithful and honest man. I had him say in the great address in the Greek Theatre in Berkeley, Cal., that when one of his men on the ranch was about to put Mr. Roosevelt's brand on a stray animal, "You can have your time; a man that would steal for me would steal from me. He was fearless. He dared to speak his mind and to set forth his principles. He stood strenuously. He abolished the old Jacksonian doctrine that public offices were the spoils of politics. That they belong to the rich and the few."

"Roosevelt gave four sons for this great war—one Captain Quentin Roosevelt, who lost his life while fighting in mid-air. The grave of Captain Boy where lies the body of Theodore Roosevelt will ever be a mecca for pure Americans where everywhere among youths will be made in order to revive courage and strengthen the purposes of those who believe in the truest democracy."

Full Rounded Career

"Theodore Roosevelt, we greet thee! New York millionaire, student of Harvard, broncho buster, hunter of wild beasts, lover of nature, explorer, reformer, soldier, writer of history, journalist, governor of New York, president of the nation, friend and leader of the common people."

"Theodore Roosevelt, we greet thee! Warrior, leader, captain, civil service commissioner, police commissioner, secretary of the navy, lieutenant colonel and colonel of Rough Riders, vice-president, twenty-sixth president of the United States."

"Theodore Roosevelt, we greet thee! Lover of his country through good report and evil name; hero and god in the east, idolized in the west, recognized by all that whatever his errors of judgment, whatever his impetuosity of speech here was a man who was at heart a democrat. His mind was always open to their aspirations, his heart stretched out to their aid, his voice outspoken for their rights."

"Theodore Roosevelt, we greet thee! Author and advocate and exemplar of the strenuous living."

His View of Death

"When his son Quentin was killed in France, Theodore Roosevelt spoke of death, 'Only those are fit to live who do not fear to die and none are fit to die who have shrunk from the duties of life and the sorrows of life. Both lives have taken their part in the great adventure.'"

Resolutions adopted by the great Twin Falls audience at the Roosevelt service at the Methodist Church last night:

"Let it be written down that Theodore Roosevelt—a great man—is gone. We have assembled to testify to his worth and to be reverent to his memory. We would join in America's tribute to her true son, in the world's memorial to a valiant leader of mankind. He loved and served his fellow-men."

"He loved generously, with natural friendliness, living close to life and finding it good. He served joyously with insatiable vigor, ever attacking the immediate and palpable wrong with the instant remedy."

"Thus he labored upon his generation. With word and action, clean, simple and direct, he harrowed and fertilized contemporary thought, sowed common-sensical, unpretentious, sound common-purposes, unrotted worldly notions, and made his day fruitful with healthy growth."

"His time shall be his monument. Let us therefore declare that which Theodore Roosevelt wrought in us: 'His courage—made us an immortal fire—kindled our hearts. His faith—steadfast as starlight—upheld our aspirations. His energy—radiant and unflinching—whipped away our lethargies. His conscience—audible and dynamic—thundered, and kept our souls awake."

"His omnivorous interest, his versatile faculties, his surpassing vigor of mind and body, humanized by homely habits and simple virtues, endeared him to men and women of every walk of

GIVES WITNESSES DRINK GROUNDS FOR RE-HEARING

Attorney for Bert Kelso, Convicted of Illegal Sale of Whiskey Calls for New Trial

On the grounds that the court erred in directing the prosecuting witness, Tom Dillon, "to partake of and sample the contents of a quart bottle of whiskey" than about to be introduced in evidence by the state over the objection of the defendant and that in so doing the court remarked as follows, in substance: "Let him have a drink; it cost him $8," E. V. Larsen, attorney for Bert Kelso, colored, who was convicted last week in district court here on a charge of illegal sale of liquor, Saturday filed a motion for a new trial.

It is argued in the motion for a new trial also that the verdict returned by the jury was contrary to law and the evidence.

Kelso was sentenced Saturday to serve two months imprisonment in the county jail and to pay a fine of $200.

He, inspired them with wholesome ambition, and refreshed their daily lives. "Student, soldier and statesman, a righteousness—his strenuous life is done; the quickening voice is still; the ministering hand is at rest. It is for us, who cherish his memory, to raise our voices in his words and lift our hands to carry on his work."

"Let us then resolve to preserve and to transmit our heritage from Theodore Roosevelt. Let us perpetuate the tradition of his character—exemplar of pure purpose, plain speech, and fearless action. Thus let us weave into the manhood of the future the clean, strong fibre of his soul."

Modified Form of Slavery.

There is no legal and formal slavery in any Christian country. It survives in a mild form in most Mohammedan countries. The pennage system of Latin-American countries is not much different from slavery, but rests upon a different theory. The moon is not supposed to be owned on property; he is supposed to be working to pay a debt which he owes the master.

Friendship.

No one is so poor as the person who is going through life without friends. Friendship for all around us are those who loved love and sympathy—those for whom we can make life less difficult. And that is what friendship means: spending oneself for those one loves and asking nothing in return. It is only he who is unwilling to love with out being loved who is likely to feel that there is no such thing as true friendship.

Assailing Heredity.

A man's instincts, intuitions, sensations and perceptions, and especially his habits, are all changed, improved and made to overcome his hereditary tendencies by the proper training of the muscles. With the impressions shot into the other senses, mentally and physically, impressions of the corrective, helpful, improving sort, there is no reason in the world why the hereditary nature of certain weak or unstable individuals cannot be aided and lifted out of their possibly unhappy state.

Fellow-Feeling.

As a well-known Scottish divine was entering a car he noticed that some of the passengers were trying to eject a drunken man. The minister promptly intervened in his behalf and soothed him into respectability for the rest of his journey. Before leaving, however, the disturber again muttered angry words to the other passengers; then, seizing the reverend doctor's hands, he exclaimed: "Good day my friend; I see you ken what it is to be drunk!"

Natural Lightning Conductor.

The astronomical observatory at Mount Etna does not need any tube the protection of a lightning rod. The observatory is near the summit of the volcano, and the stream of vapor constantly rising from the crater acts as a natural conductor, drawing the electricity out of the clouds, so that the lightning is seldom seen there.

City in Mountain.

In southern Tunisia is a mountain of considerable size called Doudrat, which once upon a time was an active volcano. Bubbles of volcanic gases made it a veritable hothouse of caves, which in these days are inhabited. In fact, the whole mountain is a city—a human ant-hill, densely populated.

Chinese as Rice Growers.

The Chinese introduced rice culture to Hawaii, and they are still the chief rice growers of the islands. They first planted sugar cane at the "Crossroads of the Pacific" and manufactured sugar, and when the Hawaiians began to cause the cultivation of taro it was the Chinese who became the taro planters.

Why Delay?

"Take this medicine," said the young doctor. "If it doesn't cure you, come back in a few days and I shall give you something that will." The patient pocketed the dose reluctantly. In a few moments he returned. "If you don't mind, doc, I'll take some of that that will cure me right away."

ROAD-BUILDING IS GOOD MEANS TO AID NATION

The Employment Problem is Being Met All Over the Country by Construction Work in Great Amounts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Immediate construction of hard surfaced roads throughout the country was urged by the labor department today as a means of relieving the unemployment situation.

Although $49,500,000 of government money is available to assist in the work only 45 miles of roads have been completed under the plan of the government, state and county sharing in the cost.

About $200,000,000 more soon will be appropriated, it is expected.

Many Projects Approved

The government has approved 700 road building projects, totaling 7,869 miles, and it is this work that the department is anxious to start at once. Only eight states have completed roads under the government plan, although it has been in force since 1917. Arkansas has built five miles; California seven; Louisiana four; Massachusetts fourteen; North Carolina eight; Vermont one; Washington four and West Virginia two.

Texas Leads

Texas, with seventy projects totaling 893 miles, leads in the number approved by the government.

Others have obtained government approval for the following mileage, the federal government's share of the money for the work being immediately available: Arizona 73, Michigan 170, Minnesota 509, Arkansas 118, Mississippi 283, Missouri 113, California 97, Montana 86, Nebraska 388, Colorado 184, Nevada 131, New Mexico 244, Idaho 156, North Dakota 437, Oklahoma 44, Illinois 195, Oregon 136, Texas 993, Indiana 30, Utah 237, Washington 76, Iowa 21, Wisconsin 59, Wisconsin 231, Kansas 203, Wyoming 156, Louisiana 129.

RECEPTION PLAN NOW UNDER WAY

No Radical Demonstration Will Be Tolerated at Greeting Tendered the President

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—The transport George Washington, bringing President Wilson from France, probably will reach Boston next Monday, in the opinion of naval officers here, who pointed out that the big liner's speed will be gauged by that of the naval vessels in the convoy.

The latest information is that the president will leave for Washington within twelve hours after his arrival, a fact which is being considered in plans for his reception.

The pier at which the presidential ship docks will be heavily guarded by police and it was stated today that, although radicals of the National Women's Party may try to stage a demonstration, steps will be taken to see that the executive party is not annoyed and that a radical demonstration will not be tolerated.

DETROIT IS NOT RUINED BY PROHIBITION MEASURE

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 17.—Detroit was the first of the "million" class cities to dry. The first of May, 1918, saw 1200 saloon licenses automatically canceled. While the war days and their abnormal activities have tended to obscure the direct concrete results of prohibition, my duties as police commissioner and mayor have shown me no permanent damage to the city's prosperity. On the contrary, I have before me the data to prove that the city has benefited enormously.

Petty crime in Detroit has been reduced by from 60 to 70 per cent. The House of Correction previously was overflowing and in need of expansion. Now the commissioners find their charges number only one-third of the former total.

The visiting members of the board of health report the improvement in home conditions as beyond their greatest expectations. Child welfare has received an impetus which millions of dollars in appropriations could not have effected.

Detroit merchants report a greater business from the working class than ever before, and the banks show a greatly increased number of depositors. There are those who believe that high wages in war plants have brought it about, but it is my personal opinion as a banker, manufacturer and city official that prohibition should have great credit with war wages. Collections also have been improved.

The manufacturers were told that prohibition would bring a labor shortage, but this has been disproven. Factory records show conclusively that the elimination of liquor has reduced tardiness, absence and accidents in the plants to say nothing of production increase.

The commissioner of health states that there is no increase in the number addicted to drugs.

No large hotels have gone out of business. While they felt a reaction for a time, they are gradually recuperating. The majority of the downtown cafes and saloons of good reputation have continued in operation. Several of the largest retain their cabarets although there are not on the lavish scale of former times. Most eating places have not been permanently affected.

The theatre business has been better than ever.

The best indication of the class which prohibition limits its greatest benefit among is given by the statement of the manager of a taxicab company. He says that his business was cut 60 per cent.

Detroit cannot trace the harm prohibition may have done, but it can sense the good effects and the greatest of these will not arrive until the present generation of children has been permitted to develop in homes un molested by John Bull.

ESTIMATE COST PAVING PROGRAM FOURTH MILLION

Intentional Ordinance to Provide for Extension Improvement in Twin Falls to Be Presented to City Council

At the regular meeting this evening of the city council there will be presented an intentional ordinance creating an improvement district for the purpose of installing in Twin Falls a quantity of street paving involving an estimated expenditure of between $250,000 and $300,000.

The program outlined in the ordinance included the paving of streets over a distance of about 73 blocks from Main avenue north and east with a quality of pavement similar to that already installed over a distance of about 31 blocks, and for installing a narrower pavement or one of cheaper material over a distance of about four miles within the city limits.

Provisions of Plan

It provides for continuation of pavement along Main avenue to the city limits at either end and the extension to the northeast end of the pavement on Shoshone street, besides the pavement of every avenue except eighth avenue and several streets in the north and east quarters of the city.

Use of the cheaper pavement is contemplated for the full length of Blue Lakes boulevard and of Addison avenue along the boundaries of the original townsite.

City Engineer E. V. Berg has prepared several estimates of the cost of the work, but no amount will be provided for in the ordinance until it is determined at this meeting just what amount of work will be undertaken.

Division of Costs

The bulk of the cost of the proposed extension of paving will be assessed against the owners of abutting property, and the city will defray the cost of paving only at street intersections. In some instances curbing will have to be installed.

Under the provision of a prior ordinance the cost of pavement on streets is assessed proportionately among the owners of lots fronting on avenues, so that owners of corner lots bear only a portion of the cost of pavement along the depth of their property.
