

OPPOSITION TO LEAGUE DRAFT GROWS STRONG

Severe Criticism Is Showed Upon Both the League Plans and the President By the Washington Senator

ASSAILS CONSTITUTION AS BEING BOLSHEVISTIC

Declares Peace-At-Any-Price Pacifists and I. W. W. Are Both Working to the Same End Along Different Roads

BY L. C. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Senator Poindexter, Washington, today attacked the league of nations constitution. "A frightful compact, a fatal covenant," which will steal away American national sovereignty and make this nation part of a great international society, was the description of the document given the senate by Poindexter.

Sees End of Policy

Opening discussion of the league, Poindexter said it marks the end of our traditional policy of "mind your own business" which we have applied to ourselves and to other nations alike.

Points of Criticism

Analyzing the constitution, article by article, he declared:

"That the constitution, as drafted, proposes a world government modeled along lines of the Russian soviet government."

"That it is part of the same internationalism which the I. W. W. and the Bolshevik are striving for."

"That instead of bringing perpetual peace it will sow discord and strife from which armed men will profit."

"That unless it is submitted to the Americans in a political campaign for their approval or disapproval, popular government in the United States will disappear."

Scores the President

Poindexter criticized President Wilson's efforts to keep congress from discussing the league in advance of his return, and charged that propaganda agents are at work spreading the administration's views.

"The matters contained in the proposed constitution are the most momentous in their effect on the people and the government of the United States since the civil war," said Poindexter. "But before the busy world, whose destinies are to be controlled, and changed by the proposed constitution, we are requested not to make it the subject of debate in congress until the president can again speak in its behalf."

Both Roads Lead to Same Place

"In mentioning various organizations, such as the League of Nations, the Society of Free Nations, and other internationalists employing an ex-president of the United States as one of their chief lecturers, and inducing members of the cabinet to keep busy in their behalf."

"There is an internationalism of the elite and an internationalism of the proletariat in the world. There is internationalism at the top and internationalism at the bottom and both are moving forward through different means and methods to the same destination. Germany is supporting the socialists and peace-at-any-price pacifists are approaching by one road. The Industrial Workers of the World and their Bolshevik allies throughout the world are approaching upon another. Both

TROOPS OCCUPY PUBLIC PLACES

Government Forces Take Possession of Several Important Points About City

ZURICH, Feb. 19.—The government troops, anticipating a Spartacan attack, have occupied the railroad station and postoffice at Weimar and have posted artillery and mine throwers at strategic points about the city. It was reported in dispatches received here today.

Severe fighting is said to have broken out between the Spartacans and government volunteer troops in Westphalia, while hostilities seem to be imminent in the Rhine district. The fighting in Westphalia apparently centers around Becklinhouse, Dorsten and Gelsenkirchen. At Dorsten, government troops captured the postoffice.

The Spartacans looted several shops and homes in Gelsenkirchen, employing hand grenades to smash in the doors. Heavy losses were reported to have been suffered by both sides in these three towns.

Revolutionaries are holding open air meetings, exhorting the people to make war on the government. The Spartacans are reported to be entreaching themselves at Dusseldorf and Oberhausen (six miles west of Essen).

Spartacans Take Entire District and Start Strike

Sanguinary Fighting Is Going on in Streets of Several Cities Between Forces

BASLE, Feb. 19.—The entire Ruhr District was reported today to be in the hands of the Spartacans. Sanguinary street fighting is going on in several cities, the government is said to have concentrated thirty thousand troops with artillery and mine throwers. The Spartacans are reported to have been completely defeated in Dorsten, Westphalia. The Spartacans are said to have forced a general strike in Muehlheim.

BORAH PROPOSES A DRAFT CHANGE

Idaho Senator Would Have the Constitution Amended to Preserve the Monroe Doctrine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Senator Borah, Idaho, in an open letter to former President Taft today asked advocates of the proposed league of nations if they would offer an amendment in the Paris constitution draft reserving the right of the United States to preserve the Monroe Doctrine intact. "Will you and other friends and advocates of the league endorse an exception or reservation clause to be attached to this proposed constitution in the language of the reserved league of nations? The Hague convention of 1907?" Borah wrote.

The reservation referred to provides that the United States shall not be obliged to depart from its traditional policy of non-interference with affairs of other nations or its attitude toward purely American questions.

Borah's proposed draft is vague on the subject, and urged that the reservation be inserted in the constitution.

NOTE FOREIGN STRIKE

Operators on the Pacific Coast Would Make Walk-Out a General Affair

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Feb. 19.—Telephone operators on the Pacific coast was learned from a reliable source, have voted favoring a general strike.

The vote represents 10,000 operators and 64 locals.

L. C. Becker, international vice-president of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, has left for Springfield, Illinois with the vote. He refused to state the result of the vote before leaving.

The committee to which the sessions will continue after the Germans are called in, is problematical, though the delegates are hopeful of affecting the peace settlement by June, allowing for delays that possibly may be necessitated by the Germans desiring to refer certain questions to their government.

In the meantime, discussion of boundaries of the new Germany, which is concerned, will continue, but it is not necessary that an agreement will have been reached before the preliminary peace is presented.

Financing Responsibility The committee on responsibility for the war was reported today to be encountering difficulties in considering the case of the former Kaiser, as there is no precedent for such a proceeding. The question of possible extradition for instance, necessitates the closest examination. There is no desire to take action that might possibly result in Wilhelm being cast in the role of a martyr.

The old strategic boundary idea has again bobbed up through presentations of Serbia's claims.

Territory Claims The Serbs want a stretch of territory fifteen to thirty kilometers wide along the Bulgarian frontier, claiming it is necessary for protection of an important railway line.

IDAHO WEATHER Probably rain or snow tonight and Thursday.

BASLE, Feb. 19.—Captain Von Selow, naval representative on the German armistice commission, has resigned because of the severity of the new conditions, it was reported in a Berlin dispatch today.

DEFINITE PEACE TERMS ARE NOW BEING PLANNED

Conferees Are Hoping to Have the Outline Ready for President Wilson upon His Return to France

ARMISTICE CONDITIONS MAY BE USED AS BASIS

Probable Length of the Session After Calling in the Germans Depends on Their Delegates Present

BY FRED S. FERGUSON

PARIS, Feb. 19.—American, British, French and Italian delegates discussed the program for a preliminary peace with the intention of having the outline completed soon after President Wilson's return to Paris. Belief was expressed that the pact might be ready for final discussion by the middle of April.

Fix Boundaries

The terms would include delineation of German boundaries, definite establishment of her military, naval and air status and fixation of the amount of reparation and of the method of payment.

The plan has been suggested and is said to meet with favor for abolition of conscription in Germany for a period of ten years with simultaneous reduction of her fleet. This not only would be expected to have a good effect in Germany where every emergency could be met on rehabilitation and the peaceful pursuits, but other nations might find the conscription in unnecessary and would lose the "war habit."

New Armistice Conditions

Further reduction of her navy and the surrender of all submarines. Must Turn Over U-Boats

More than a score of U-boats, which have been partially built since the armistice was signed, will have to be turned over to the allies. These craft are said to have been constructed solely through fear of the government of discharging the employees of the submarine works and adding to the discontent attendant on unemployment. There is a growing sentiment for complete abolition of the submarine as a weapon of warfare, the Americans taking the view that it is a force that cannot be controlled and if used is bound to be piratical.

To Call in Germans

The length to which the sessions will continue after the Germans are called in, is problematical, though the delegates are hopeful of affecting the peace settlement by June, allowing for delays that possibly may be necessitated by the Germans desiring to refer certain questions to their government.

In the meantime, discussion of boundaries of the new Germany, which is concerned, will continue, but it is not necessary that an agreement will have been reached before the preliminary peace is presented.

NEW TROUBLES OF REVOLUTION FACE GERMANY

Organized by the Workmen Themselves

Wide Area Affected

A new revolution has broken out in Germany, it was indicated in dispatches received from various sources today.

Reports from Basle and Zurich said that sanguinary fighting is under way between Spartacans and government forces in Westphalia, and that the entire Ruhr District is in the hands of the Spartacans, and that fighting is expected hourly in the Rhine region. The revolutionists are said to have been defeated at Dorsten, Westphalia. The government has concentrated 30,000 troops in that district. The Spartacans are entreaching themselves in Dusseldorf and Oberhausen, in the Rhine valley.

A Berlin dispatch said that Spartacans were defeated in two attempts Saturday to storm the Most-bell prison and Frei Karl Badeck, Russian Bolshevik emissary.

BY FRANK J. TAYLOR

WEIMAR, Feb. 18.—(Delayed).—The real revolution threatens to break out in Germany at any hour. This movement is not political, but economic and it is being organized by the workmen themselves.

For the past three days delegates from the workers' council of the Essen region have been serving ultimatum upon the new German cabinet, insisting upon socialization of industries, minimum wages higher than the present maximum, recognition of all workmen's councils and abolition of capitalism. The workers' program borders on communism, but they have declared against violent methods "unless absolutely necessary."

Workmen Disatisfied

More than half the cabinet members are devoting their entire time to dealing with the workmen's representatives who are headed by Theodor Will, of the Chancellor's cabinet, insisting on attempting to compromise, promising socialization "as soon as possible." This does not satisfy the distrustful workmen, who are utilizing every hour of their leisure to organize themselves, to extend their organization, to increase their supplies and infect government troops with the spirit of non-resistance against the workers when the break comes.

Could Raise Army

The correspondent interviewed Will who is a clear minded, practical labor leader, about 40 years of age.

"We do not want violence, we simply demand fulfillment of the revolution, which so far has not been revolution merely a change in government," said Will. "The same upper classes which ruled before are gaining control of the republic. If the cabinet refuses our demands, I have authority to start a general strike in the Krupp and other factories and shut the mines and rail ways within a forty-eight hour period. Thirty thousand armed workmen are organized under my command in central Germany alone. The Berlin and Hamburg regions are equally organized and armed. Dusseldorf, Essen, Leipzig and other cities are under control of the Workmen's Councils."

ASSAILANT'S FIRE RAINS ON CAR; TIGER OF FRANCE STRUCK IN ARM

Six of the Eight Shots Lodge in Auto, Two Penetrating Glass Door—One Bullet Finds Mark—Police and Prisoner Badly Mauled By Infuriated Mob Bent on Capture of Eighteen-Year-Old Attacker

GREAT STATESMAN WALKS UNASSISTED INTO HOME—WOUND BELIEVED SLIGHT

PARIS, Feb. 19.—Georges Clemenceau, Premier of France, was shot and slightly wounded by a man named Cottin, as he entered a motor car in front of his residence this morning. His assailant was arrested. "It is nothing," was the Tiger's only comment after he had walked back into the house unassisted.

The assailant, who refused to make any statement regarding his motive, is about eighteen years old. He is a French civilian and is said to live in Compiègne.

EXPENDITURES OF FUNDS MAY BE CURTAILED

May Be Governed

Deficiency Appropriation

In the past it has been the custom of state departments to spend what money was considered necessary, and thereby create deficiencies which the legislature would have to cover by deficiency appropriations. The present legislature has passed a half million dollars in warrants of this kind.

Under the Givens bill contracts made creating deficiencies are declared void and the law allowing them is repealed. A misdemeanor would be committed by the officer and he could be ousted and kept from holding an office for a four year period under its terms.

New Judicial District

Insistent demands from the portion of Idaho affected have brought again to the fore the question of a new judicial district to be made up of Clark, Jefferson and Bonneville counties.

A report of a special executive committee which visited the state institutions at St. Anthony, Blackfoot and Nampa and which reported to the senate and house this morning.

"As the Blackfoot institution has been conducted," said Senator Robertson on the upper house floor, "there should be a sign over its door 'Al Ze Who Kater Here Leave Hope Behind.'"

May Remove Asylum

Removal of the Nampa institution for the feeble minded to Blackfoot as soon as possible and an attack on the conduct of the Blackfoot asylum features a report of a special executive committee which visited the state institutions at St. Anthony, Blackfoot and Nampa and which reported to the senate and house this morning.

"As the Blackfoot institution has been conducted," said Senator Robertson on the upper house floor, "there should be a sign over its door 'Al Ze Who Kater Here Leave Hope Behind.'"

He charged that more time had been given to the farm than had been given to the effort in getting patients well.

The report praised the management of the St. Anthony industrial school and stated that the only need there was more buildings. Instead of appropriating money for the Nampa institution, the legislature should be made for Blackfoot and buildings placed there in close proximity to the asylum which would allow both to be run by the same hand.

President Poincare, members of the cabinet, foreign diplomats and Marshal Foch, who hurried to the premier's residence, remained in a room near the one in which Clemenceau was resting.

News Spreads Rapidly

News of the attack on Clemenceau spread rapidly through the city. There were excited comments on the boulevards, in the cafes and public buildings.

The foreign peace delegates hastened to inquire regarding the premier's condition. Reports circulated were that the assailant was a Russian.

"The Tiger" was born in 1841 during the reign of Louis Philippe. He became a fighting republican. He Fires Eight Shots In All As Clemenceau was seating himself at his luncheon, Cottin suddenly sprang forward and fired eight shots from a pistol. Six of these hit the front of the car. Two bullets penetrated the glass door, one striking the premier on the inner side of the right arm near the shoulder, inflicting a flesh wound. A policeman grabbed Cottin. Another shot him in the back of the head.

Derogating the wound was in the right shoulder or blade and that no fever had developed. Clemenceau was struck by three bullets but only one took effect. The other two passed through his heavy overcoat.

Emile Cottin, the assailant, who had maintained silence since the shooting, finally declared this afternoon that he was "a French individual anarchist" and that he considered Clemenceau "an enemy of the working class."

Walks in Unassisted

Clemenceau, refusing offers of assistance, walked back into his house.

A few minutes later a telephone call was sent to Colonel House announcing that the premier's wound would prevent him from keeping an engagement which he had at the Crillon Hotel this morning with House and Foreign Secretary Balfour.

Hubert Clemenceau, the premier's brother, stated that the wound was not serious, and that the danger of infection would be from possible infection.

The first foreign official to call at the premier's residence to inquire about his condition were Premier Venizelos of Greece and Ambassador De Leon of Spain.

Is Well Known Anarchist

Cottin was later said to be a well known anarchist. Clemenceau was reported to attach no political significance to the attack.

Captain Andre Tardieu, commissioner of Franco-American relations, said that he had seen the bullet lodged in Clemenceau's shoulder it passed through the fleshy part of his neck but did not sever any arteries.

Official Statement Issued

The following official statement regarding the attempted assassination of the premier was issued today:

"Premier Clemenceau was in his automobile in the Boulevard de Lesseps when a man fired seven shots at him. The premier was struck in the shoulder. Several bullets entered the clothing of the two drivers but they were not wounded."

Dr. Gramset, after an examination, stated that the premier was not seriously wounded."

The physicians will conduct a more thorough examination of the premier's wounds this afternoon, it was announced.

News Spreads Rapidly

News of the attack on Clemenceau spread rapidly through the city. There were excited comments on the boulevards, in the cafes and public buildings.

The foreign peace delegates hastened to inquire regarding the premier's condition. Reports circulated were that the assailant was a Russian.

OFFICIALS ARE INVESTIGATING IRREGULARITIES

Navy Department Is Awaiting a Report from Rear Admiral Usher on the Alleged Bribery Charge

PROBE SHOWS EVIDENCE OF MANY FAVORITISMS

Slackers Were Given Jobs So that They Would Not Be Called from This Country, Is One Assertion

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The navy department was still waiting today for a report from Rear Admiral Usher on the investigation of alleged bribery in the third naval district of New York.

Many irregularities "That bombproof" jobs have been sold and other irregularities existed, it is said to have been revealed in the probe.

The exact number of arrests or detention had not been announced, but it was anticipated that the department would be in a position soon to make public additional details.

Many Charges At present the evidence tends to show that "Bombproof" jobs were sold so that slackers would not have to go to sea, or so that they could devote a good portion of their time to their New York business.

Discharges were granted early to certain favored men. Severe Punishment Any officer convicted by court martial will undoubtedly be given stiff sentences, it was said today that Secretary Daniels will incur in heavy punishment for all who have been implicated.

The berths affected were in the naval reserve and it is claimed that a number of them were assured of safety by payment of liberal sums. How extensive the traffic was is not indicated here.

CONGESTION AT SEVERAL IMPORTANT COAST POINTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Lack of ship for transoceanic movement has resulted in congested conditions at several important ports on both Atlantic and Pacific coasts, according to reports made public by the United States shipping board today.

More than one million tons of cargo await vessels to move it. And the amount is increasing daily, reports to the shipping board show.

Wants More Ships Chairman Hurley is conferring again with war and navy department officials relative to releasing more ships. The situation is acute, Hurley said.

The war department is employing approximately 2,500,000 tons of shipping which normally would be used in the transporting traffic. This represents exactly half of the tonnage they used when war transportation was at its peak, Hurley said.

The Hoover committee has been notified it can obtain no more ships for relief work from this side. Shipping board officials said it had been made plain to the Hoover representatives that Great Britain or some other allied powers must furnish the ships which the commission believes it must have.

FARM LABORERS ARE SUBJECT OF A BILL

Proposes Measure to Give Agricultural Workers Rates in Traveling to Positions.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Under a bill introduced by Senate Asst. J. Gronum, of North Dakota, agricultural laborers under the direction and control of the department of labor, will be able to travel on a reduced rate of one cent per mile if the bill becomes a law.

The bill provides that these laborers must be engaged in the "planting, cultivating and harvesting of farm crops, and the care of live stock," and that they must be traveling under the direction and control of the United States employment service of the department of labor.

In submitting the bill, Senator Gronum accompanied it with a statement, in which he said: "To restore peace in the world we must provide the people with food and we must provide for labor at reasonable wages. Many towns and cities of this country are reporting large and increasing numbers of unemployed."

An unquestioned shortage of farm labor for 1919 will prevent farmers from producing normal crops of this food year. The farm labor needs for this year are so serious that the farms in this country can furnish homes and employment for at least 2,000,000 men during the days of business reconstruction.

At present prices of crops on the farms and present excessive cost of railroad transportation, farmers cannot compete for labor, and transient farm labor cannot profitably travel to the sections where most needed.

"Many reports show that the unemployment problem is the most serious in the history of this country. One cent railroad rate prevails in Canada and is a material inducement in attracting labor to the farms, and has resulted in drawing thousands of skilled American farm laborers to the Canadian fields. This is not class legislation because of the fundamental purposes of first, relieving the towns and cities of an increasing number of unemployed; and second, the production and harvesting of increased crops which must result in benefits to all concerned. Should the bill fail this session it will be introduced in the next congress."

AMERICAN FLAG GIVEN QUEEN

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE SHOW MANY ARE IDLE

Figures Given in Oregon Cities Show a Marked Increase in Number Out of Work.

PORTLAND, Feb. 19.—The United States employment service reports 15,500 men out of employment in Oregon reports which were furnished by nine superintendents of the employment service who are located in different cities of the state and examiners who are connected with the Portland office.

This latest figure shows an increase of 2,500 men out of employment compared with the figure announced ten days ago. The main reason is the decrease in forces at the local shipyards and the increasing number of returned soldiers and sailors.

Whitford P. Smith, federal state employment director, believes that the apex of the unemployment period has been reached, and expects the number of idle men to decrease steadily from this date.

A favorable feature of the Oregon situation is the fact that there are practically no idle men in the rural districts of the state. The majority of the unemployed are in Portland.

New Government Securities Take Different Form

House Ways and Means Committee Meets to Draw Up Draft of Short Term Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The house ways and means committee met today to draw up the rough draft of a bill that will introduce a new form of government securities to the American public.

The committee wants to get the bill through congress as quickly as possible in order to give the treasury time to prepare for its "note drive" which Secretary Glass says will begin April 1.

It is the opinion of congressmen that the new securities will require a form of publicity different from that which helped sell bonds.

DEMANDS PLACE ON COUNCIL OF NATION LEAGUE

The Balkan Confederation Now Insists on a Permanent Position on the Executive Board of the Nations

BY HENRY WOOD PARIS, Feb. 19.—The Balkan confederation will demand permanent representation on the executive council on the league of nations along with the five great powers. It was learned from an authoritative source today.

A Balkan Policy This group, comprising Greece, Serbia, Rumania and Czechoslovakia, was organized by Premier Venizelos for defensive purposes. Balkan policy and especially enforcement of peace in southeastern Europe, it is now known that Venizelos during discussions of the league of nations urged adoption of a clause permitting defensive alliances.

Although the commission refused to insert such clause in the draft, it did not prohibit such alliances, providing in Article XXIII for the registration of such treaties.

Defensive Alliances The confederation as a result, is planning on being the first group to submit a plan for registration and at the same time demanding that one of the four places on the executive council which remain unfilled be assigned to a delegate representing all the Balkans.

C. with four bars and the Croix De Guerre with a palm.

South Has Serious Shortage of Labor

Farm Workers Will Be in Great Demand in the Southern States Coming Season

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The south will face a serious shortage in agricultural labor during the coming season, according to present indications, officials of the federal employment service stated today.

The reason for this shortage, while other sections of the country are overflowing with labor, is that a majority of the negroes who shouldered a gun are refusing to go back to the cotton fields. The lure of higher wages in the northern industrial centers is attracting them, although there is already an over-supply of labor in these places. Many others came north because of the high wages for war work.

William Chroh Osborn Tells Amusing Incident of Colonel Roosevelt's Boyhood.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—In a letter to the Roosevelt Permanent National Thompson is chairman, and which from its national headquarters at 1 Madison avenue is collecting funds for a national memorial to Theodore Roosevelt, William Church Osborn, the well known New York lawyer and former chairman of the New York democratic state committee, tells an amusing story of Theodore Roosevelt's boyhood.

"When he was about 16, or perhaps a little younger," writes Mr. Osborn, "he and my brother, Frederick S. Osborn, were mutually interested in collecting birds, and he visited my brother at Garrison, N. Y., on a collecting expedition, one week-end. The boys were returning from a glorious day on which they had collected every known variety of birds and animals, and found their storage places entirely filled, when T. R. ran across a particularly interesting frog. For lack of a better place to keep it, he put it on his head, slapping down his hat as a cage. As the boys walked down the highway they met a carriage driving leisurely along the road in which were seated the Governor and Mrs. Hamilton Fish, ar. Being polite boys, they naturally uncovered the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Fish, and to the great joy of the latter the frog hopped off T. R.'s head. There was a wild scramble for its recapture, and Governor Fish was instantly frogged. Theodore Roosevelt, aged 16, a frog was of vastly greater importance than the bird or animal he had collected."

Accounts of 13 Minnesota Institutions Which Were Closed Taken Over

Whether Wynn will be charged formally in connection with the alleged fraudulent dealing in securities affecting all the banks, was unknown early today.

SENATORS PLAN THE DEFEAT OF WORLD LEAGUE

Will Launch a Campaign on Purpose to Oppose the Passage of the Constitution of the League of Nations

BY I. C. MARTIN WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Senator Poindexter of Washington, planned today to launch in the senate a campaign frankly aimed at defeat of the league of nations plan as outlined in the constitution agreed to in Paris.

Poindexter exercised great care in preparation of the speech, which he planned to deliver regardless of President Wilson's wish that discussion in congress be refrained from until his arrival.

Bitter Discussion Expected Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the foreign relations committee, indicated early today Poindexter's refusal to abide by the president's wish probably would form the basis of the discussion. In his present temper, senators were believed to display intense bitterness if the debate became general and prolonged and if they gave rise to thoughts they have expressed privately.

The senate foreign relations and the house foreign affairs committees held a joint session today, at which the league was discussed. The purpose of the meeting, however, was to decide whether to send a delegation to Paris March to attend the inter-parliamentary union, at the invitation of France.

NAVAL OFFICERS TAKE BRIBE FROM SLACKERS

Two Are Arrested Charged With Irregularities in the Draft Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Two naval officers are under arrest and a number of other naval men are under surveillance today in the investigation into alleged irregularities at headquarters of the third naval district here. It is charged that civilians who wanted to avoid being drafted, bribed certain officials to let them enlist as seamen in their own offices, only reporting occasionally at headquarters. Lieutenant Benj. Davis, a medical examiner, is known to be serving three years imprisonment, having been convicted of accepting from Joseph Whitehead of the naval intelligence department a bribe of $500 in marked money.

Another navy lieutenant is understood to be confined aboard the training ship Granite State, awaiting trial. Special investigators have been sent here from Washington and Admiral Usher, commandant of the district, is doing everything possible to aid in the inquiry.

WITHDRAWAL OF ALLIED TROOPS IS NOW CERTAIN

This Move Ends the Expectation of Any Intervention in Russian Affairs from the Peace Conference

BY J. W. T. MABON
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Withdrawal of the American and British troops from Archangel and Murmansk, will bring to an end expectations of an army being sent to Russia by direction of the peace conference to subdue the Bolsheviks and establish a more conservative government at Moscow.

France Wants Campaign

The frequent references to intervention made by French Foreign Minister Fichon indicate that France has been exercising all the pressure in her power to persuade America and Great Britain to use Archangel and Murmansk for base for a major campaign in Russia. With the withdrawal of the troops it will be possible to strike into Russia from the Baltic coast, but there would be a large military advantage in having the two northern entries into Russia if a Baltic campaign were contemplated. Petrograd could then be threatened from the north and west simultaneously and easier progress would result.

Strengthen League's Position

The retirement of the Americans and British from Northern Russia will strengthen the position of Trotsky and Lenin among the Russian people, according to all precedents of the Russian situation. Every development which the Bolsheviks could emphasize as advantageous to their newly organized republic has increased the prestige of the Moscow government. The withdrawal of the Americans and British is due to political reasons and not a military defeat but Trotsky and Lenin will doubtless not let this fact remain there, making military capital out of the incident.

Outs Conference Hopes

The added authority which seems inevitable, that Lenin and Trotsky will now cumulate, suggests that the discomfiture of the Princes' Islands conference will not work vital harm to the Bolsheviks. The renewal of negotiations for the conference may be facilitated by the American and Great Britain have arranged to make. With hope of intervention in Russia now gone and with Bolshevik leaders doubting reconstruction of the Russian Empire, military successes, it seems hopeless to await a time for a Russian conference from which the Bolshevik element can be eliminated.

INSCRIPTION ON FISH'S TAIL

Mystery to Natives of Zanibar, Though Scientists Say It is Nothing Much Out of the Ordinary.

A strange fish was recently caught at Zanibar with Arabic characters upon its tail. The fish was not one of a large haul, but was caught by a sledge fisherman, who brought it to the fish market. There it remained for some time, having no purchaser, as it was a strange fish and one that had never been seen before in these waters. Finally an Italian of the sea called "Meme" purchased it and, on the strange markings being noticed, it was taken to a widely-known Arab scholar, who, deciphered the inscription. It was afterward taken to the sultan, who also recognized the wording.

That night 3,000 rupees was offered for the fish and refused, and on the following day 5,000 rupees was refused, according to Scientific American. The original price paid for the fish was 5 pice (about 3 cents) and the sultan eventually decided to have it preserved. For this purpose it was taken to the government laboratory, where it was treated with formaline. It has since been placed on public exhibition.

There are two distinct inscriptions on the tail, one on each side. On the one it reads "Lallah Allah" ("There is no God but Allah") and on the other "Shani Allah" ("A warning sent from Allah"). There is no suspicion of anything in the nature of a fake about the matter and the mystery is so complete that no explanation of the strange phenomenon is forthcoming. The Arabic lettering is perfectly plain and the discovery has caused wonderment throughout the Mohang-medan community of Zanibar.

Christmas Gifts.

The custom of giving Christmas gifts is not traceable to its beginnings. The Encyclopedia Britannica says that "in Britain the 25th of December was a festival long before the conversion to Christianity, for Bede (de temp. rat. ch. 13) relates that "the ancient peoples of Angl began the year on the 25th of December." The custom also prevailed in the Germanic countries.

F. C. HORN DIES FROM PARALYSIS

Prominent Consulting Engineer Succumbs to Stroke, To Be Buried at Chicago

BOISE, Feb. 19.—Frank Churchill Horn, prominent engineer who has lived in Boise for the past 15 years, died Sunday morning at a local hospital after having suffered a stroke of paralysis at his office in the Boise City National Bank building Tuesday morning, says the Idaho Statesman.

Mr. Horn is well known throughout the country for his prominent work in engineering and construction. He was born in Macomb, Ill., January 9, 1861, and progressed in his engineering work until in 1890 he was in charge of the construction of the regulating work of the Chicago Drainage canal. He was working in Chicago at engineering corporations until 1910. His first work in Idaho was as an assistant engineer on the construction of the Swan Falls power plant on the Snake river.

He was at work in Denver for about four years establishing a good water supply for that city. He aided in building the gravity filtration beds at Platte Canyon to purify Denver water, and later built Lake Cheesman masonry dam to conserve water for the supply of Denver.

Employed on Irrigation Works.

In 1905 he was employed by the U. S. reclamation service to build Minidoka dam, Boise river dam and upper and lower Deer Flat dams which created the Lake Lowell reservoir. Among his other engineering works in this state are the following enterprises: Salmon river dam for the Twin Falls Salmon River Land & Water company; Joseph North Snake river dam; Indian Cove irrigation system; designed Eagle Cove irrigation system; and reported on various other projects.

"Antelope dam and Bully Creek dam in Oregon were both designed by him. He also invented a pneumatic system for placing concrete in large units. He was a member of the A. A. S., the American Soc. C. E. and the National Geographic society.

The body is at the Schreiber & Silen-faden funeral parlors and services will be conducted Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by the Rev. David Jones. The body will then be taken to Chicago for interment. Mr. Horn is survived by two brothers and a sister.

GOVERNMENT OFFERS AID FOR STATE ROADS

Six Million Will Be Given If Idaho Will Raise a Similar Amount

BOISE, Feb. 19.—There will be available for construction of good roads in Idaho about $6,000,000 from the federal government during the next three years if Idaho shall put up a similar amount.

That sum is in addition to federal allotments amounting to $900,000 for the present year. The new government arrangement means that Idaho will have to appropriate around $4,000,000 for the coming two years. The exact amount for the present year is $1,700,000, but the government total will be increased 50 per cent after this year and the state allotments will grow correspondingly.

Will Increase Taxes

As Idaho has reached the limit of bonded indebtedness so far as any large additional bond issues are concerned it will be necessary to raise this road money by direct taxation.

Men from all over the state have been here during the past week at conventions representing every industry and class in Idaho and they declared that the necessity for good roads in Idaho and the benefits of increased values and improved marketing facilities for the farmers, to say nothing of other considerations, are so generally recognized and appreciated that the public will gladly pay the increased taxation which, in any event, will not create a burden.

However, all arguments merge into this: Idaho wants federal aid in abundance in building permanent highways and it will have to meet the government on a fair, fifty basis, and it will have to be done by taxation.

AN INTERESTING EXPERIMENT

With the policies of state socialism looming large in American political programs and enjoying a larger degree of favor generally than they have in modern times outside of Germany, it is fortunate indeed that the United States has its North Dakota.

Whether the undertaking be state monopoly of the channels of finance, government ownership of public utilities or, as is proposed by the British labor party, government ownership of the land, the difference is in degree and not in kind, and the experiment in one or another of these undertakings is mostly likely to disclose the advantages or disadvantages of the whole scheme of socialism.

In respect to its undertakings with the state bank and state owned mills, elevators and terminals, North Dakota is becoming a sort of national experiment station, and fortunately is so regarded both by those under whose auspices and direction the experiment is being conducted and by citizens of other states.

PREMIER CLEMENCEAU HIT BY AN ASSASSIN'S BULLET

Napoleon III's reign, as a boy he preached republicanism to the peasants about his birth place in Vendee, southwestern France, which was then a royalist center. He was often greeted with pitchforks.

Visits Many Cities

After studying medicine, Clemenceau went to England and later to the United States where he visited every city of importance and studied political institutions. He speaks English fluently.

Clemenceau, returned to France, was named for minister at 30. Then he was elected to the chamber of deputies. As an anti-imperialist he there fought France's participation in the British-English campaign in China. He came back of taking British gold for letting England have a free hand and lost his seat in the chamber.

For ten years Clemenceau's adventures thought him politically dead, but he was merely preparing for re-entry into the arena. He founded two or three newspapers, wrote several books and then quite suddenly came back. This time he was elected to the senate.

In Trying Times

Clemenceau was premier at the time of the Casa Blanca affair between Germany and France when, for a long time, he was expected to be in the line. He had insisted upon an apology from France and the latter, as Germany and everybody knew, was in no position for war. But Clemenceau sent back this message: "Well there will be no apology." And there was none.

The premier met with but one serious defeat in politics, and that was administered by President Poincare. It is said Clemenceau will never forgive Poincare for winning the presidency over the Clemenceau candidate, M. Pams.

CONFLICT OF NEWS

After the peace plenaries got under way, Clemenceau greeted an apparent, if an embarrassing situation by telling the chamber of deputies he was in favor of retention of the "balance of power" situation, at precisely the same time President Wilson was telling the British in Manchester that the "balance of power" must give way to the league of nations. It has since developed that Clemenceau merely was seeking to obtain guarantees for France's future security against aggression.

Wilson Notified

News of the attack on Clemenceau was flashed to President Wilson by wireless.

All the American peace delegates expressed their regret and appreciation of the premier's qualities. They called at the residence during the day. All conferences were cancelled.

General anxiety was expressed, despite the statement that the wound was not serious.

"I am a French individual anarchist," declared Cottin, Premier Clemenceau's assailant, this afternoon.

"I consider Clemenceau an enemy to the working class."

TROUBLES OF REVOLUTION FACE THE GERMANS

Could Take Spartacus Measures

"We are not Spartacus nor communists. We are simply workmen demanding a genuine revolution. I have talked with most of the cabinet members. They are simply trying to put us off. I told Moske (military governor) what would happen if they ordered the troops out against us. He stormed and tore his hair. He knows we have the majority of his troops with us. Inside of a day we can tie up all means of communication in Germany."

Scheidemann blames the new armistice terms for the present situation.

"Suppression of Bolshevism depends on whether we are able to provide the country with sufficient food," said the chancellor.

"Only after this is done can the new cabinet take up its duties of rebuilding the nation's economic life. Socialization can be applied to only such industries as mines and electrical systems. We cannot socialize where productivity will be decreased and individual initiative lessened."

"Everything depends on our connections with the world's markets enabling the lowering of both food prices and abnormal wages."

WARRIOR MUSICIANS SEARCH FOR LODGINGS EMPHASIZES SITUATION

Lack in Twin Falls of Adequate Accommodations for Transient Guests is Pointed Out by Observant Commentator as Hurdle on Prosperity of City, But One Affording a Great Opportunity for Enterprise.

Up until six o'clock last evening only six of the several members of the Allied War Veterans' band giving concert here Tuesday evening, had found accommodation in Twin Falls hotels.

The other warrior musicians at that hour were pursuing an apparently vain search for quarters for the approaching night, competing in that undertaking with many who had come here to hear their music and tales of fighting.

"Of course, most of our guests do not have to endure chilly blasts against bare knees as do our Scotch laddies in their kilts," one observant commentator on the situation remarked last evening, "but nothing in prospect but a bare street on a cold night will not make a favorable impression on the traveling public visiting Twin Falls."

"The lodging problem for the transient guest in Twin Falls is becoming a very serious one. Our hotels have no adequate accommodations for the average daily trade and when an unusual event in the city causes the presence of a large crowd they have no place to stay. "This last week the Rogerson and Perrine have turned people away every day, and more than that they could tell them of no place to stay. On Tuesday with the people coming to hear the concert there was no attempt made to house people, or to recommend lodgings, since even the emergency rooms were full. "If this were a temporary condition slight attention need be given it, but it happens to a few visitors every day. Towns are judged by the transient business man and woman by the hotels and they spread the reputation of those accommodations wherever they go whether it is a place to avoid or stay in. The traveling man has nothing good to say of a place he can't find a bed in, even though the rush of business occasions that lack, and the prospective member of the community can't judge the town when he has no place of even decent comfort to stay. "The prices of building materials have doubtless kept builders out, but with the war over and as result more and more people moving west Twin Falls can't miss her share in the new men and new wealth that is pouring into southern Idaho simply because we have no place to house people here for a night or a year, for the real estate problem is as baffling as the hotel problem. "Some public minded group of men looking for an excellent opportunity to make money could make it on a level of the right sort—even the present hotel men grant that."

MARCH 8 IS DATE OF ELECTION ON FILER DISTRICT

County Commissioners Authorize Publication of Notice Providing for Expression of Opinion of Persons Affected

The county commissioners this morning authorized the publication of a notice calling an election March 8 at Filer on the creation of the proposed Filer highway district. The proposed district will include approximately 44,000 acres of land and will be the third highway district in the county. Its creation will remove all administration of roads from the hands of the county commissioners.

The original petition for creation of the district was filed about a year ago. The matter has been involved in litigation since that time because of the desire of certain persons at first included within its boundaries to be included in the Twin Falls district. A compromise was reached by which these persons were permitted to withdraw from the Filer district and their attorney secured the dismissal of their appeal in the district court permitting the commissioners to call the election.

JURY SAYS COMMISSION IS NOT OWING TO DEALER

Verdict Against D. M. Denton Real Estate & Trust Company Is Returned

A jury of eight members in district court Tuesday declared in its verdict that the D. M. Denton Real Estate & Trust company, Twin Falls, was not entitled to recover from F. L. Cogswell commission in the sum of $543 claimed or in any other amount for alleged agency in the sale last October of 80 acres of farm land south of Kimberly.

The defendant Cogswell claimed that, although he had listed the property sold with the Denton company and other dealers, it had been sold by himself to a person not in contact with him through the Denton company. The plaintiff Denton company alleged that its agent, F. L. Keller, had shown the purchaser the Cogswell land among other properties on an automobile trip across the surrounding vicinity. The plaintiff's testimony was disputed by the purchaser and other witnesses for the defendant.

T. K. Hackman represented the plaintiff Denton company in this action, and Captain E. M. Sweeley appeared for Cogswell.

Relieves Comrade of Responsibility for Booze Found

Lannis Nielson Takes Whole Blame for Presence of Cache Unearthed by Officer.

Entire responsibility for the presence on December 9 last on the Nielson farm near Buhl of 60 pints of whiskey unearthed there by Deputy Sheriff E. R. Sherman, was taken by Lannis Nielson Tuesday in probate court here when he with James F. Larson, was arraigned on a complaint charging them jointly with the illegal possession of this alcoholic cache. Nielson not only relieved Larson of complicity in this offense but also of another based on the alleged illegal transportation of this whiskey which Larson was charged individually.

Nielson was held by Judge Davall to answer in district court to the charge to which he pleaded guilty. Lannis Nielson is a son of Mike Nielson, proprietor of a motion picture theatre and pool room at Buhl, who was convicted of illegal possession of whiskey found in the theatre after he had been acquitted on a charge of possession of whiskey found in the pool hall, and who is now serving his sentence in the county jail.

We like to wait on Boys and in that same sentence is expressed the real reason why we sell so many Boys' Clothes. We've heard it said in clothing circles that the Boys' Department was the most nerve racking and poorest paying part of the store—which accounts for the limited selections and small attention given to what these stores regard as a necessary evil.

And it is because of this feeling in general that we've been able to capitally capitalize our personality and build up a big volume of Boys' Business, for we like Boys—Noise and Toys and everything else that goes with them.

FIGHTING MEN APPRECIATIVE OF HOMELAND

Cook-Elmo Kerr of Twin Falls Unit with Army of Occupation, Gives Views on Lessons Learned in Foreign Service.

Appreciation for the nation for which they fought has increased among American service men, and there will return the citizens of the United States, as well in civilian pursuits, according to Elmo Kerr of Twin Falls, a cook with headquarters company of the One Hundred Forty-sixth artillery regiment now with the army of occupation near Coblenz, Germany.

Best Opportunities Here.

In a letter under date of January 10 written from Groushausen, Germany, to L. C. Smith, Twin Falls, he says:

"It is a great lesson we are learning over here. We will know what a good life we have when we come home and learn to love a good many American ways that we despised before. We will be better men than when we first learned of the ways of other peoples and altogether we will put our shoulders to the wheel with more determination than ever. America is the best spot on the globe and we must live and thrive there now for no better inducements, for there are none better than we were accustomed to pass up and refuse at home."

Traces Moves at Front.

Tracing the movements of his regiment from the time it was sent to the front until the signing of the armistice, Cook Kerr says, "We left Clermont-Ferrand on July 7 bound for the front and on July 11 we pulled into position and started firing missiles at the enemy on the Chateau-Thierry sector at 11 o'clock in the morning. We were in the big fight here until the middle of August when we left there and went to the St. Mihiel sector in northern France and tossed over a few H. E.'s and gas shells to Heineke from our station at the village of Somme d'Isne. This was in September. The latter part of this month we moved again to the Verdun sector and opened up again. We fought on through the Argonne forest on the Argonne sector and the day the armistice was signed and fighting ceased along the line at the village of Montigny near Donau-Meuse, the principal town on this sector.

"After the armistice we pulled to the rear to Clermont-Ferrand where we were equipped and then moved toward the rear. We were in the rear for a part of the time. We were in the rear of the front line in the village of Groushausen, near Coblenz, one of the principal commercial cities along the Rhine River. Rhine Area Comfortable.

"A trolley runs from Coblenz to this village and it is about a thirty-minute ride from there. The boys get a chance every now and then to go to the city and take in the sights. I spent my Christmas in the kitchen of Coblenz's finest hotel-cooking up a feast for the officers of our regiment and had quite a good time.

"We are billeted out here in the many houses of Groushausen and have nice commodious quarters with the German people. They do our washing and keep the rooms in order for nothing, and we have everything we need. We even sleep in real beds with sheets and mattresses and white pillows. There is a washstand, writing table, stove and couch in my room.

"I get the New York Herald (Paris edition) every day to read besides numerous magazines and books which the good people back home send us through the Red Cross, and so we want for nothing in general.

Nearing Second Year Close.

"All the boys in the regiment are wearing two gold stripes on the left sleeve indicating one year's foreign service. We left New York on December 23, 1917, for the great turnout in France. On March 29 it was two years from the time we were ordered to mobilize to guard railways in northern Idaho.

"During the past two years we have seen many states and provinces and have traveled many miles by railroad, steamship and auto. We have been in four foreign countries, Canada, England, France and Germany, and will be in five when we return to the United States. We have seen many of the strange customs of many peoples besides a few real adventures in shot and shell, gas, clouds and fire. We will perhaps, speak a jargon of French, English, German and Italian, but to one but one of our own boys who was there can speak.

Health Conditions Good.

"When we first came to France we started speaking literally half French and American for a while but when we came to Germany, we spoke French, American and a little German, with now and then a touch of Italian or Spanish to fill in.

"The boys seem to be getting along fine here. There has been no really cold weather here and outside of an occasional rain or heavy fog, nothing of any importance happens to mar the otherwise fine weather. At present I know of no one on the sick list.

"For amusements we have band concerts and stag dances, boxing matches with now and then some light vaudeville by our own talent, thrown in to make things good. There are a few fellows like the 'Gladys' outfit, some Angles and Whites who are always doing something or other in the fun line to make things cheerful and not so monotonous."

HINDU'S EXPLANATION DECLARED DEFECTIVE

Delbar Singh's Story of How He Settled Account Is Controverted in Criminal Action Trial

Delbar Singh, on November 7 last gave to D. C. Cannon, proprietor of a pool room here a check drawn in the sum of $40. Because there were no funds in the bank on which it was drawn to Delbar's credit, the check in the course of time was returned to Cannon. These are the facts about which there is no dispute in the case of the State of Idaho against Delbar Singh, on a charge of drawing a check without funds to the credit of the check.

SALMON RIVER PROJECT SETTLERS PROTEST BILL

Representatives Tell Land Board Construction Claims are Included in Maintenance

Whether money expended by the Salmon River Canal company for repair of the check basin and for operation of the same should be charged against the settlers of the Salmon river project or assessed against the company's construction fund was a question upon which opposing views were presented Monday before the board of directors here. The amount involved is about $20,000, of which amount $20,000 is on account of expenditures made prior to the position of the company, arguing that the charge in question should be included against the maintenance assessment against the settlers was presented by G. M. Hall and J. C. Porterfield, general manager and watermaster for the company.

TRAINING LITTLE CHILDREN

Develops Right Relationships from the Start—Consideration, Unselfishness and Other Social Virtues Are Most Effectively Taught Little Children in a Group of Their Own Kind.

By MRS. RUTH HEPNER SWAINE

All kindergarten have one characteristic in common—the respect which the children show for the individual rights of others. Where many little children are gathered together, there must be governing laws and obedience to these laws.

In the ideal kindergarten these laws are more feelings than facts. The children grow to respect and obey them spontaneously, almost unconsciously. Thus, even when they are 4 and 5 years old, they can be led to a right relation toward their fellow-beings. Could anything be more important?

All children do not live near a kindergarten, but all children have playmates. In a certain mother will quickly establish the law of right relationships among the children who play in her home. Even a busy mother—and are not all mothers very busy?—can with a word now and then impart a feeling for the rights of others, and this, once gained, is never lost through life.

The kindergarten is the most democratic of institutions. The children feel no class distinctions—in fact, are none in the world of the three-year-old. My Philip plays as joyfully with the little fellow in the servant quarters next door as he does with the son of my best friend. The public school kindergarten is particularly interesting, because all classes mix freely and are entirely free from self-consciousness. Each little individual contributes his personal traits toward the making of the whole. A fault may serve as great purpose as a virtue, and both may serve as mirrors where the child sees himself. Under the guidance of the kindergarten he will see wisely.

Moreover, the children soon learn to love the calm of the kindergarten room and come readily under the influence of the ruling spirit—the denial of self for the good of the whole.

In your own garden, the back yard, there cannot be the close supervision that is given in the kindergarten, and elimination of selfishness becomes a necessity. If you are fortunate enough to live among your own kind, where all the children in your neighborhood are reared similarly, you will probably not have any serious problem. But if you live in a cosmopolitan neighborhood and there is an older child with decidedly wrong tendencies, the safest step is to encourage him to seek his older playmates. I would deny him my babies of 3 to 6. If the child comes to your gate who has had less of a chance than your own little ones.

Magnificent Screen Star in Biggest Hit of Career

Resplendent Kitty Gordon in "Adele," a Thrilling Romance Based on Adele Bleneau's Wonderful Novel, "The Nurse's Story"

"Adele" has been unanimously pronounced to be by far the best work the popular fashion-setting star has thus far contributed to the screen.

THE STAR

An international beauty and famous for the wealth of feminine adornment with which she throws herself on the stage, Kitty Gordon's name is in itself an unfailing magnet to thousands of worshippers at the shrine of Fashion. In her latest vehicle, Miss Gordon goes far beyond this recognized claim to popularity and brings to "Adele" historic and emotional powers that reveal her as a new and glorified Kitty Gordon with an artistic appeal unprecedented in any screen offering in which she has hitherto appeared and which is sure to add largely to the drawing power of this United star.

THE AUTHOR

"Adele" is closely based upon the romantic novel, "The Nurse's Story," written by Adele Bleneau, an American author. It is said to portray the actual experience of the author as a nurse in France. Miss Bleneau's book is one of the most thrilling and widely read writings of the present day and it itself provides a multitude of admirers who will be anxious to see enacted upon the screen the incidents which proved so thrilling to readers of the novel.

RAPID ACTION

From the moment of Adele's decision to cross to France, adventurous incidents crowd upon each other with bewildering speed, intertempered with which are periods of gripping suspense, culminating in the scene where Adele is faced with the Great Test which she decides how a young American girl will act in circumstances of the greatest peril in which she must sacrifice, it seems, either her dearest love or her loyalty to country.

THE PICTURE

"Adele" is the latest work of Kitty Gordon and is timely and appealing. The production was made under the direction of Wallace Worsley and under the personal supervision of Robert Brunton, whose name is a guarantee of masterly artistry and telling craftsmanship. Remarkably realistic effects abound in this superfeature. The scene depicting the interior of the French chateau is a triumph of artistic detail. The chateau itself cost an enormous sum to build specially for this production. The photography is beautifully perfect throughout.

MORE JURYMEN ARE REQUIRED IN SLANDER TRIAL

Judge Babcock Calls for Special Verdict in Case of Mounce Against Hyde After Panel is Exhausted

At 11 o'clock this morning after the original panel of jurors had been exhausted in attempt to secure a verdict in the trial in district court here of the case of A. V. Mounce against W. S. Hyde for recovery of $10,000 damages on account of alleged slander Judge W. A. Babcock ordered the summoning of a special venire of 10 more prospective jurors and court adjourned until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon to await their coming.

In this case Hyde is alleged to have said about Mounce that he was regarded in Buhl, where both principals reside and are engaged in the real estate business, as pro-German and that he was known there as the "second Kaiser." In his answer Hyde admits substantially the truth of the complaint and says that he will prove the accuracy of the statements attributed to him.

T. K. Hackman, E. M. Wolfe and J. F. Martin appear for Mounce; and Walters & Hodgins are the attorneys for the defendant.

lead to the same destination; and international and despotic government of the world. Both involve the surrender of nationality and the getting up of a centralized despotism. It must be a despotism because no government in whose direction is centered the ultimate control of the affairs of the whole world can be free.

Substantial Backing

"This movement is backed with great resources and ample funds. Such organizations as the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, endowed by a subject of Great Britain with resources second in the United States, is one of its most powerful supporters. These organizations are able to employ at high price influential lecturers, including even an ex-president of the United States. The founder of the society referred to is an open advocate of the retention of the United States with Great Britain and of the amalgamation of our government in the British Empire. The organization of a league to enforce peace is but an enlargement of this conception."

Speakers at Closing Meeting Plead for Reconciliation to Church Work

The Centenary convention closed last night with a large and enthusiastic meeting at the Methodist Episcopal church at which the entire team of workers made short addresses and Dr. Mollenburg gave a brilliant lecture on the responsibility of the Methodist church in its rich, capable and organized to do the work. From the standpoint of the message, it is timely and acceptable and is entirely adequate.

America Not Her Own

Dr. Northcott of Chicago spoke briefly and said, "America's answer to the world in the late war was that she is not her own. She gave herself freely for the cause of democracy. We are not our own. Many things remind us of that. Love says I am not my own. The object of love leads us to recognize ownership in the other person. It is a great thing to be owned by love, by country, but it is a greater thing to be owned by God. A soldier was in a Red Cross ambulance with both legs shot off and one arm gone, and one said to him, 'Well, my boy, you are in a bad way. The boy answered, 'Well, not so bad. I gave my life to my country and all that it took from me was my legs and one arm. Why not fill our lives with the same spirit for the church and the church's cause.'

One of the permanent services the church can render is the training of the children in the Sunday school for Christian citizenship.

Must Keep Her Soul

Dr. Johnson spoke on the Centenary and America and said America must keep her soul. Had America withheld herself from participation in the late world war, she would have lost her national soul and standing among the nations of the world. By going into this new movement the church will save her soul and place herself in a right attitude towards world conditions at the present time. America is the home base for foreign nations. As such she must bestir herself to provide the men and means for this propaganda. Much of the work in foreign countries and especially in the Orient, has been inaugurated by men who had been educated and Christianized in America.
