SENATOR REED MAKES ATTACK AGAINST DRAFT

Immediately After Reading the Speech of Washington the Senate Enters a Hot Debate on the League

CALLS IT EXPERIMENT IN INTERNATIONALISM

Declares that Great Britain Will Dominate the Organization and Monarchies Will Rule

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The reading of Washington's farewell warning against "entangling alliances" was followed today in the senate with a speech by Senator Reed, attacking the league of nations.

Reed declared that under the proposed league constitution the American government will become "a government partly by the people and partly by kings and emperors."

Reed's speech was the first of a series of attacks on the league which he has been making since he returned from his mission to Europe last November. Reed said that he now affirms and shall undertake to show that the text of the league constitution, as submitted, embraces every evil he predicted, and that it carries into many other iniquities.

Reed said that the control of the league from the first will inevitably be in European and Asiatic nations having no interest in common and who may have common antagonism against the United States.

Expert Thinks Crime Plotted in German Army

Assassination of Kurt Eisner Believed Due to Latter's outspoken Criticism of Hunns

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The assassination of Kurt Eisner by a member of the German nobility is a revolutionary reversal of the historic roles of the social classes in Europe and is probably a crime plotted in the German army. Eisner recently had made strong denunciatory speeches concerning Germany's responsibility for the war and the part played by the militarists in bringing the German people to their present level of woe. In this Eisner has been almost alone. Since the signing of the armistice, Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, who likewise blamed militarism for Germany's downfall, were killed by soldiers under circumstances akin to assassination. The only other German of prominence who has persistently held the militarists up to scorn is Maximilian Harden. He has so limited a following in Germany and such extensive audiences outside Germany that it is to Germany's advantage to let him write that he wishes and give him a false impression to the world of German achievement.

But when popular leaders in Germany set out to denounce the army as the source of German desolation, their lives are forfeited. The Bavarian minister of the interior, Auer, and the war minister, Rosenhaupt, who have also been shot, were among Eisner's chief supporters in his effort to make Germany a republic. The supreme responsibility of the militarist for the socialist defeat. It is therefore practically certain that they, too, were marked by the army for destruction.

BOLSHEVISM IN HIGH PLACES IS ROUNDLY SCORED

Jones of Washington Tells Senate that Best Way to Make Headway is to Start at the Top

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Bolshevism exists in "high places as well as among the masses," Senator Jones, Washington, today declared, in a speech urging adherence to the old doctrines of Americanism.

"We denounce Bolshevism and say that the way to meet it is to shoot it, but the best way is to adjust differences and correct injustice with genuine Americanism and a firm adherence to the basic principles of the government of our fathers," he declared.

"We hear much denunciation of Bolshevism today. I do not defend it, I abhor what I conceive its essence to be. We cannot make headway against Bolshevism in the masses, however, until we get rid of it in high places. The best antidote for it is for intense respect for law and an ardent love for our institutions and principles of government and a faithful adherence to them by those in authority."

Scores President's Action

President Wilson's appeal to the senate for ratification and his interference in the Mooney case were declared by Jones to be contrary to the true spirit of American government.

"The president of the United States did not intend it so, but he brought our institutions into contempt and struck a deadly blow at the vital of the republic when he used the influence of his high office to control the execution of a state in the discharge of his duty under an act to be passed by the laws of the state," he said.

"Mooney may have been innocent. I do not know. He had been convicted, however, of a most heinous crime under the laws of the state of California, one of the most enlightened states in the Union."

Praises Seattle Mayor

Jones praised the action taken by Mayor Hanson of Seattle in handling the great strike in that city, calling him "the right man in the right place."

Declaring that the "public press is the greatest agency for good or evil in the country," Jones said, "some of our greatest papers seem to forget the foundation stones upon which this republic rests."

"They are justifying the suspicion that they or their columns were and are dominated by selfish financial and corrupt interests and they are doing more to promote Bolshevism and undermine Americanism than any other agency in the land," he asserted.

Praise for Taft

Jones also denounced critics of prohibition who are unwilling to accept the federal amendment calling for a home dry country. He praised the Five thousand delegates from all sections of the United States crowded into the second regiment armory to hear Reverend Maguire speak.

Explaining the object of the meeting as a move to assist Ireland in her fight for freedom, Dr. Maguire recalled the principles for which America fought and declared the object of the convention in keeping with President Wilson's views.

Dr. Patrick McCarran, envoy of the provisional government of Ireland denied that any scheme is afoot to "promote Ireland down the throat of President Wilson," as some delegates charged.

Washington Day exercises were participated in by the delegates.

A reception and ball will feature the gathering tonight.

Ninety localities in the Ruhr valley are held by the Spartacans and the center is said to be getting beyond control of the government, despite the fact that most of the soldiers' councils are co-operating with Military Governor Noske.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Feb. 22.—Dr. Mary Walker, famous as the woman who was authorized by congress to wear masculine clothes, died here last night. She was 87 years old. Death was caused by a general breakdown. Recently she had been in failing health and spent much of her time at her farm, Bunkerhill, six miles from Oswego, where she died.

Dr. Walker was noted for her habit of wearing a tall hat, frock coat, trousers, waist coat and men's shoes. She advocated this dress reform, contending that all women should attire themselves similarly. Dr. Walker was one of the earliest active campaigners for woman suffrage. She was a democrat.

Dr. Walker steadfastly refused to mention the name of her husband in Oswego. Dr. Walker graduated from Syracuse, Ohio, two years later. She practiced medicine in several parts of the United States and in all parts of the world. She visited Washington in behalf of voters for women which she advocated in a conservative way. SAYS YANKEES PREFER GIRLS FROM AMERICA

Returned Soldier Tells Why the Men from the United States Like the Home Girls Best of All

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 22.—Listen, girls, the Yanks don't like the French girls.

Corp. Daniel E. Dunning, member of the 340th field artillery, who recently returned from the other side, is authority for the statement. Here's what he says:

"I have been a lot of kidding about the American boys and what they think of the mademoiselles—but I'm going to give you the straight dope. The Yanks don't like them! You see the article can't talk English, and that's one reason. But the main reason is that they're so darn stupid!

"They don't realize that they embarrass the boys with their invitations and their sure-fo. They like the Yanks and they like to be around with them all the time—and if they find out a fellow's address it's good night!

"One day ten girls followed our sergeant home, and that poor guy was sure uncomfortable before the process was ended.

"The girls don't care a whop about our officers, and they're not particularly strong on the French side. They prefer the 'simple solitaires' as they put it.

The private may be responsible for that, though, for they tell the girls that the fellow wearing stripes haven't any sense. They told them that the non-coms have been ordered to wear them to distinguish them from men with brains.

Corporal Dunning says the American boys were treated royally by the French who are "the salt of the earth."

Whether the president calls a special session of congress is also understood to depend on the situation at home, but it now appears that a special session is unlikely before he returns from his second trip.

WASHINGTON

The American people and some other friendly nations today celebrating the birthday anniversary of George Washington—first commander of the American army and first president of the United States, are doing honor to the memory of one whose services to the nation were such as to give to him undisputed right to the title of the Father of His Country, and to the appropriation expressed in the phrase, "First in war; first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

It may be that this nation has so far progressed that it now should disregard the admonition so earnestly urged by Washington in his farewell address against its becoming involved in entangling alliances with European peoples and policies, and that America has a world of responsibility which it cannot escape; through any other course; but this fact, if it is a fact, ought not to detract from his glory of his character and achievements.

It is probable that there are elements in his character that will endure yet for generations to come preserving for the Father of His Country a relatively eminent possession in the hearts of his countrymen's descendants, and it is possible, too, that there is to be found among his precepts some advice that may yet serve as an admonition and guide to his country for some time to come.

So long as there are those who reverence native integrity and rude honesty and the willingness to sacrifice for the attainment of ideals, it is safe to say that the life and character of George Washington will not be permitted to fall into obscurity, and so long as there remain those to whom being an American signifies something, he will remain secure in the position he has occupied for a century and a half.

LAND BOARD DIRECTS A PROJECT INVESTIGATION

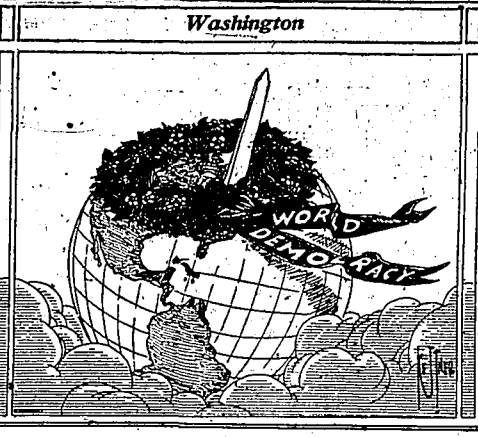

Sends State Engineer to Salmon on Tract to Report on Maintenance and Completion

(Special to The News) HOLLISTER—At the request of the state land board, the state engineer, together with W. O. Swendson, engineer, will visit the Twin Falls Salmon River project during the coming week, to investigate and report their findings, having in mind the project made at the recent hearing on the proposed maintenance budget for the coming year.

While on the ground they will examine the contemplated work, and an effort will be made to determine whether it is a proper construction charge or one to be met from the maintenance fund.

An examination of the project as a whole will also be made which will furnish the board with sufficient information upon which to determine its action upon the petition of the construction company of works as completed.

COMMENT, BY AND LARGE

Pertinent paragraphs on current events, official acts and the general trend of events, at home and abroad. Edited by Captain C. L. Longley.

Germany affected to think she would not sign the extension of the armistice, providing as it did some new and untried conditions. But when Marshall Foch set the hour and minute on which the opportunity for signing would expire, she got inside the time limit, although the marshal had not stated what would happen in case of failure.

The death, in Boise, on Sunday last, of Mr. F. O. Horn, removes a figure long prominent among western anglers and one well known in the Twin Falls country as having had charge of the construction of the Minnedoka dam and that of the Salmon river. The Statesman gives Mr. Horn's age at last year. His death followed a stroke of paralysis on Tuesday of last week.

House bill No. 220, being the act "Providing for the improvement of Shoshone Falls Tangle and Making an Appropriation Thereof"—to quote the title does not seem to have found any active opposition as yet. This may be only because of its extreme youth; but it will be a long time before any treatment at any stage, and the indications thus far are entirely favorable.

What is the matter with the congressional committee on the road building? Although federal aid has been available since 1917, and congress has appropriated fifty-eight million for that purpose, advantage has been taken only in the states of Arkansas, California and Washington, and that only to an extent of constructing fifteen and seven-tenths miles altogether.

It certainly sounds strangely to hear of a German leader telling his people how they are hated and mistreated by the allies. But that is just what was recently done by Kurt Blum, the Bavarian premier, who denounces an entire change in German governmental leadership, declaring that the allies have been holding it up in a friendly committee while continuing and deepening efforts to be sure put forth to win enough votes to secure its passage in the house.

When the cat's away... The proponents of house bill No. 53, which is the wholly vicious general enabling act, have been holding it up in a friendly committee while continuing and deepening efforts to be sure put forth to win enough votes to secure its passage in the house.

Reformed State Government... Governor Davis on Wednesday affixed his signature to what has been called the Administration bill, and which, thus becoming the law of the land, will revolutionize the conduct of state affairs generally in the most radical sort of way.

Jerome Plans Memorial Service For Soldiers... JEROME, Feb. 22—Memorial services for Jerome's soldier dead in the great war will be held next Sunday under the auspices of the Jerome Association.

Rev. L. H. Roberts of the Presbyterian church will have charge of the meeting and make the opening address with Rev. W. A. Moore of the Christian church of Twin Falls, as speaker of the day.

The program will include orchestra music as well as vocal music by a choir of local singers.

HOW A UTAH GIRL WORKED TO HELP BACK UP HER COUSINS "OVER THERE"

"I am going to take the first prize in growing next from the boys at the Utah State fair in 1916," is the challenge of S. Ethel Lyngberg, a 16-year-old member of a boys' and girls' club at Salt Lake county, Utah, conducted under the auspices of the United States department of agriculture and the state agricultural college. It looks as if her prediction may come true for already this industrious young woman has made a rather remarkable record—She began her club work at the age of 11, and in the following year her exhibits took first prize in the grade school, first prize at the high school, and second prize at the state fair.

Plowed 60 Acres Herself... "Last year I plowed, leveled, and harrowed 30 acres and cut all father's hay, put up 300 quarts of fruit and made me plant everything myself, also do the weeding and hoeing. I raised an amount of garden truck and took it to town and sold it. The next year I did the same at the state fair school in Hunter when the boys and girls club. When I joined my father said I would have to learn to plow, so he bought me an eight-inch plow. It plowed about half an acre; then he allowed me to drive three horses with a sulky plow. I plowed 20 acres for him that year and mowed 33 acres of alfalfa hay—My sister ranked first in the county with her garden truck. I raised nine different kinds of tomatoes, six different kinds of peppers, cauliflower, cabbage and peas, and 72 different kinds of flowers. I took first prize in the garden and second prize at the state fair.

Helped Plant 1500 Fruit Trees... "The following spring we cleared a part of the land and planted 1500 fruit trees. We also engaged in truck farming that season. I, the oldest girl in the family, raised 100 chickens in every way I could. He always enjoyed in instructing me, and he explained every little question I asked him. He taught me how to plant small seeds by mixing them with sand, scattering it along the trench, and covering with a hoe. Also he taught me how to plant vegetables and how to cultivate. We raised an abundance of tomatoes, cucumbers, and cauliflower. I planted and also raised 1500 bushels of carrots and 200 bushels of potatoes.

"The next year I assisted again, and the following year—I was then 11 years

CONTRACT FOR CHILDREN'S AND RATIFIED AGAIN

Commissioners Regard Fulfillment of Obligation One of Pleasant Duties of Their Official Position

The county commissioners Friday renewed a contract to which the county has been a party for several years under which all children of the county who are under the age of 18 years and who are indigent, sick, dependent, poor, homeless, neglected, deserted or abused are cared for protected educationally and maintained by the Children's Home Finding and Aid Society of Idaho maintaining a children's home at Boise.

"There has never been a time in a good many years when there has not been a child in the county who is more from this county being cared for by the society, and in renewing this contract we feel that we are fulfilling one of the most necessary duties of our office as well as availing the county through ourselves of the advantages of a splendid work being done by the society," said one of the commissioners, and other members of the board acquiescing in his view.

Buckwheat is "ooming back" Buckwheat is a minor crop that, in the census record, reached its highest production in 1909, 575,000 bushels in 1909. Thereafter the crop dwindled to about one-half that quantity, but by 1917 it had recovered to 1,917,000 bushels, and this was approximately the census reported in 1910. By 1909 this crop had gained so as to reach a production of 1,489,000 bushels, and the estimate of the bureau of crop estimates for 1918 is 17,182,000 bushels, a restoration of the production before the Civil war.

SECOND DIVISION CHASED BOEHE IN BLOODY CONFLICT

Remarkable Record of Yankee Fighters Supplies Graphic Page in History of the Great War—Played Important Part in Nearly Every Major Engagement of Two Campaigns

By WEBB MILLER (United Press Staff Correspondent.) WITH THE THIRD ARMY ON THE front of the division was the battle that probably saved Paris; in the great counter-offensive that broke and rolled back the tide of invasion from the heart of France; in the action that pierced the German line in the Argonne; in the stroke that relieved Rheims—in each of these momentous struggles the Second American division was prominently featured. In coming years, when historians and military experts calmly and dispassionately unravel the tangled skein of events of the great war, they may find that the Second American division—or perhaps any single division in Europe.

The division landed in France in the early autumn of 1917. The officers were mostly experienced regular army officers. The regiment was made up of a nucleus of regulars and marines filled to full strength by men from every section of the United States but largely from the middle west.

By the time they moved up and went in with the French for six weeks training on the Meuse heights near Verdun. Outside of constant exciting patrolling activity and a few light skirmishes, the division was in the line for six weeks training on the Meuse heights near Verdun.

Then came the dark days of May and June. The German flood broke through the Champagne defenses and poured swiftly toward Paris. The whole world held its breath as the grey masses drew closer and closer to the capital of France. The Second was called upon to stand the test of the great battle of June 30. The orders reached headquarters.

Throughout the night the division prepared feverishly for the move. The morning dawned bright and clear. In the early morning long columns of French motor cars—3900 of them—rumbled into the divisional area. The entire division of 27,000 men was to be sent to the front in a major rush to save Paris. Through the long, hot day the lines of crowded trucks tore along the dusty roads. As they passed scores of French villages, the occupants lined the streets and cheered fruitfully and threw flowers at the trucks. They knew the terrible significance of the coming battle.

four hours, owing to the difficulty of shortage in the first half of the transport. There was an ammunition train. The enemy shelled the whole area heavily. In one brigade area nearly 20,000 shells fell in twenty-four hours. During the month of continuous fighting that followed, the division had 24 officers, 1654 men and a large quantity of guns and material. Owing to the bitter nature of the fighting, the division was heavily and more heavily than in any other of the fighting casualties were 9777 of which 1290 were killed on the field and over 1500 severely wounded, and nearly 7000 slightly wounded, gassed and missing.

At first the hospital was inadequate to care for the stream of wounded. In one village the stretchers were laid out in the open, side by side, as they awaited treatment, until nearly an acre was covered by the rows of stretchers.

For five weeks the division held the road to Paris. The German drive was halted. Then the Second was withdrawn to the front. At this time France was preparing the counter-offensive that sent the German reeling back from the Paris salient. The Second was getting ready to take up its depleted ranks.

On July 18 the division was sent to the Verres Cotteret region. By night the marches through the forest the division was full of troops marching in the front. In the lanky darkness and driving rain the men were forced to march in single file, touching one another to avoid being scattered. The lines only a few minutes before the "H" hour, the Second attacked behind the tanks at the vital point of the Champagne salient. The line of stubborn resistance and heroic spirit of the men swept over the German positions. Many times the German artillery fired point-blank at the advancing Americans. But they fired on them. Most of the time rolled over them. Most of our losses occurred in the first few hours. The Ninth infantry lost 60 per cent of its men within three hours. As the officers fell others took their places until sometimes sergeants commanded battalions. After a terrific day of fighting the Second gained its objective. During the night the division brought up fresh divisions, and at dawn the Americans and French tore into them again. In severe fighting they gained the heights dominating all the region around Soissons.

In this battle the French and American divisions were under the command of General Mangin. At daybreak, after the armistice, Mangin declared that this battle was the decisive battle of the war.

The Second's casualties totaled 3342 men in the two weeks. One 481 were killed on the field. Among the killed, wounded and gassed were 154 officers. The captures included 66 officers, 2899 men and 100 machine guns. The next action of importance was the battle of St. Mihiel, America's first offensive effort as an army. To seven miles of fighting the division advanced more than five miles, capturing 1,551 casualties. Over 3,000 prisoners and 121 guns were taken.

JEROME COUNTY NOW ORGANIZED AS A NEW UNIT

Officers Qualify and Commissioners Organize—Judge H. F. Ensign Administers Oath Starting Machinery

Jerome county got in action the first of this week and its officers have qualified and are doing business, says the North Side News. The bill creating the county provides that the clerk of the district court qualify before the judge of the judicial district, and that the county commissioners be sworn in by the clerk of the district court. Hence it became necessary to start the machinery of the county through the district court on Monday, Oliver Hill, appointed clerk of the district court and ex-officio auditor and recorder, went to Gooding where district court was in session and took the oath of office before Judge H. F. Ensign.

Tuesday morning Anders Anderson and A. W. Atwood of Jerome, and C. O. Rolee of Hazelton, appointed commissioners, met in the county quarters at the council room of the town hall, and took the oath of office before Clerk Hill. The board was then ready for business.

Lack of Bonds Delays

Bonds of W. H. Hadwick, county assessor, G. L. Bagley, probate judge, and A. B. Barclay prosecuting attorney were approved by the board these officers having taken the oath of office before the sheriff, treasurer, superintendent, coroner and surveyor had not qualified on that day, the delay being caused by their bonds which were being secured through outside bonding companies, not having arrived. It is likely that these officials will have qualified and assumed office before this issue is published.

At the session Tuesday it appeared that it was very essential that the recorder and probate judge be speedily provided with offices, as business was then awaiting them, and there were almost hourly application for their services, especially in the case of the recorder.

Suggestions for Home

A proposition was received from the owner to lease two rooms over the First National bank, at present unoccupied, at a rental of $25 per month, this to include heat. It is essential that the county have a place to accommodate all three offices temporarily.

Judge Bagley informed the board that so far as his office was concerned he had a desk, typewriter and a chair, and that he had a room in the office stored over in Gooding county which he was willing to use so long as he remained in office if the county would move to Jerome, and have safe and other cases there would have to be provided by the county. The board quickly accepted this offer.

Quarters in the town hall for the recorder and probate judge, temporarily, will likely be decided upon. Eventually and that within a few months, quarters for all the offices in one building will likely be secured on lease for a term of years.

Commissioners' Districts

Tuesday morning the board took up the matter of commissioner districts and districts were created as follows: District No. 1 to include that part of Jerome county north of the line taken from Gooding county south of a line running through Jerome on Main street; district No. 2 to include that part of old Lincoln county and the territory taken from Gooding county north of the same line, and district No. 3 to include the first segregation or the territory taken from Minidoka county. This territory will be defined as definitely described in the official minutes.

The two rooms in the Amusement hall building heretofore used by the law club was rented to the use of the farm agent and meetings of the farm bureau, at a rental of $12.50 per month. Commissioner Rolee and Attorney Eaton were assigned to go to Hazelton and investigate the matter of the transfer of records from Minidoka county to Jerome county. The delegation left yesterday afternoon.

Salaries Fixed

Salaries for the officers were fixed as follows, per year: Sheriff, $1800; clerk and ex-officio recorder and auditor, $1800; prosecuting attorney, $1500; superintendent, $1000; probate judge, $1200; assessor, $1000; treasurer, $1500. C. E. Sumner of Eden has been recommended for appointment as sheriff. Much of the time of the board has been taken up by agents representing various houses supplying such fixtures and records as will be needed but so far the board has made no purchases, but will take what time is necessary to ascertain just what is needed and where it can be best bought. Clerk Hill reports that on Tuesday, the opening day for business, thirty instruments were filed for record in his office.

GIVES ESSENTIALS FOR PROFITABLE SUGAR BEET GROWING IN MONTANA

Investigations by the United States department of agriculture have indicated that the growing of sugar beets cannot be profitable in the Billings region of Montana unless a yield of more than eight tons of beets an acre is produced. This is stated in a report of the investigations just published by the department of agriculture as Bulletin 725, "Labor, Investments and Cost of Growing Sugar Beets in the Billings Region of Montana in 1917."

It is also shown that each farmer should grow at least 20 acres for most economical production.

The average yield of the region devoted to sugar beets during the period investigated, amount of $11.70 after paying the cost of production.

SCHOOL BONDS DEFEATED: DECLARED NO ELECTION

JEROME, Feb. 22.—One of the largest votes ever cast at a school election held Saturday, 6,876 the Jerome County News, when the question of a bond issue for a new high school building was put before the voters. At the closing of the polls 476 votes were cast and when counted by the judges 314 were for the issuance of bonds and 160 votes against it. As it required a two-thirds majority to carry the bonds were defeated by four votes.

A canvass of the vote was taken and it was found that the ballot boxes contained 17 more votes than the total number of voters as was shown by the recording judge, and for this reason the election was declared no election.

Another election will be held as soon as possible.

BABEY CROP GREATER

Not until 1899, as far as is known, had barley become a crop of more than 100,000,000 bushels in this country. The production was then 130,000,000 bushels. This quantity was permanently exceeded in 1902 and thereafter, and by 1914 the crop reached 195,000,000 bushels. The production for 1917 and 1918 was 225,000,000 bushels to 229,000,000 bushels in 1915 but an unfavorable season forced it down to 182,000,000 bushels in 1916. Marketed gains followed to 212,000,000 bushels in 1917 and 225,000,000 bushels in 1918. For fermented and distilled liquors 34,000,000 bushels of barley were used in the fiscal year 1918.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach, accompanied by that flat, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food remains in the stomach, creating the distending gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any drugstore a few ounces of a natural Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after each meal will drive the gas wind and most right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, and prevent the formation and there is no sourness or flatulence. (Magnesia is powder or tablet form—never liquid or effervescent.) It is the best of all remedies to take and the best form of Magnesia is the one which is made of the thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no uneasy fear of indigestion.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach, accompanied by that flat, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food remains in the stomach, creating the distending gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any drugstore a few ounces of a natural Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after each meal will drive the gas wind and most right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, and prevent the formation and there is no sourness or flatulence. (Magnesia is powder or tablet form—never liquid or effervescent.) It is the best of all remedies to take and the best form of Magnesia is the one which is made of the thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no uneasy fear of indigestion.

COUNTY BILL IS CAUSE OF SOME GRAVE CHARGES

Most Exciting Session of the Legislature Caused By Accusations of "Booze Lobby" Over Division Measure

WOULD DIVIDE TWIN FALLS COUNTY AT THIS SESSION

Busy Morning for the House Means the Passage of Six Bills, Principal One Being that on State Prison Board

(Special to The News)

BOISE, Ida., Feb. 22.—Defeat of a house joint resolution this morning which would have provided for a vote on a constitutional amendment allowing the state to develop all or any of the unused water power of Idaho came as a victory for Representative Greenwood of Minidoka county.

The joint resolution was introduced by several members of the house. It was number 13 while Representative Greenwood claimed he had the identical resolution number 11, with the exception of a slight change in the wording and it should have precedence. The Greenwood resolution allowed the state to "develop" water power while the other resolution allowed the state to "promote the development." Greenwood asked why his resolution should be stricken and the other passed. He questioned the meaning of the wording of the other measure.

Asks Reconsideration

On a vote number 13 was defeated. Representative Givens changed his vote and will ask for a reconsideration. A short time later house bill 211 was passed. It is a companion measure to the defeated resolution and appropriates $10,000 to be used by the public utility commission in making a thorough survey of the power of the state and recommending state development to the next legislature.

The house passed six bills at a busy morning session. Among them was the senate measure abolishing the state prison board and the Nelson bill placing the power in the hands of county commissioners to repair trunk line highways in the state. The senate was not in session today.

Exciting Session

Charges of a booze lobby and the use of sums of money in creating new counties by the present legislature featured one of the most exciting sessions of the state law making body during the fifteenth session when the house in committee of the whole Friday afternoon defeated the Council-Gough bill which would establish a general enabling act for the division of counties.

Once during the afternoon the "lie" was passed when Gough charged Representative Johnson with being cognizant of the "booze" lobby and of being in with the lobby that was trying to defeat the bill. Johnson thereupon said that Gough was falsifying.

Would Divide Twin Falls County

Harrison of Shoshone later charged that Twin Falls and Owyhee counties both were being divided and his provisions and said the bill was being pushed through for this purpose.

Might Help at Home

Bitterness of elections at home would be stopped, thought Representative Johnson, by foregoing the enactment of the measure into a law. He said that the bitterness would be healed in years and would handicap the growth of certain localities where the fight was now on.

Johnson of Franklin said he had heard talk of the lobby but had never come in contact with it. He favored a general enabling act however and thought the measure should have careful consideration from the house members.

When Donnell, one of the sponsors of the bill, moved that debate be closed, he aroused the ire of Speaker Kiger who stated that the measure was one of the most important ever before the body and should have careful attention paid to every detail.

If the general enabling act is made a law it will not take away the power of the legislature to create counties. It is said. When Mrs. White of Twin Falls county asked the speaker what assurance there was that county division battles would not again come up he answered that members of the legislature would not stand for them. "That is no assurance of any legislature I ever saw," said Mrs. White.

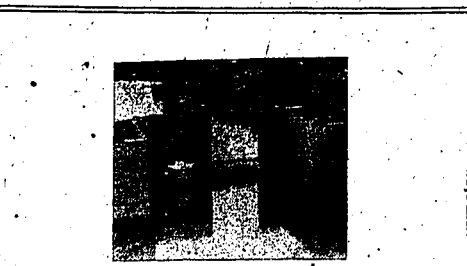

Amendments to the measure would set the valuation of counties which would be created from the present counties at $50,000,000 instead of $10,000,000 as the bill was originally drawn. It would require that 75 per cent of the interested voters should favor the division.

INDEFINITE POSTPONEMENT

BOISE, Feb. 22.—Defeat of the eight hour day for women came as a surprise in the senate at this morning session. It was Senator Heiss of Lincoln county who made the motion to take the summary action.

Senator Yeaman of Bonneville county then presented a petition which he said contained the names of 600 women in southeast Idaho asking that the senate not act favorably on the measure because it would take them out of their positions in the seed houses. He also stated that proprietors of seed houses had stated they would ship their seeds in bulk if the measure passed. It was then indefinitely postponed.

Five Start in Speakership Race

Speculation is rife as to who will be the next speaker in the house of representatives of congress. It is a certainty that he will be a Republican as that party now rules the lower house. President Wilson is expected home from Europe the third week in February. He will call a special session of congress early in March in the attempt to get important war legislation through. Champ Clark of Missouri, the present speaker, will be the Democratic candidate. Mann of Illinois; Longworth and Fess, of Ohio, and Gillett, of Massachusetts, are Republican candidates. Mann and Longworth are conceded little chance. Fess and Gillett are leading but a possible "dark horse" may show up at the last moment to grab the plun.

IDAHOANS FAVOR LANE'S PROGRAM OF RECLAMATION

State Reclamation Association Is Formed to Further Measure Converting 3,000,000 Acres into Homes

Resolutions endorsing the Lane bill appropriating $100,000,000 for the reclamation of arid and swamp lands to private homes and employment for soldiers were adopted at a meeting Friday afternoon in Pocatello of 300 delegates representing 21 Idaho counties, at which meeting the Idaho reclamation association was organized. The representative from each county was formed to further reclamation work in the state. The resolution is to be sent to Secretary Land, Representative Anderson T. Smith and the Idaho legislature.

The proposal to have the project cover only the Snake River valley was withdrawn and the movement for a statewide bill. It is averred that with the project in operation more than three million acres of land can be placed under irrigation.

Addresses were made by Judge J. H. Anderson of Blackfoot, who has just returned from Washington and reported the attitude of congress toward the reclamation matter as favorable; Earl Engstrom of Boise on "Possibilities of Irrigation in Idaho"; V. S. Peet, superintendent of agriculture of the Union Pacific system, on "The West of More Productive Land for the Homesteader"; and State Food Administrator R. E. Bicknell of Boise, on "The Necessity for Intensive Production."

The officers of the association are: President S. E. Brady, Pocatello; first vice-president, A. O. Hana, Boise; second vice-president, E. M. Witsell, Dubois; third vice-president, Frank Gooding, Gooding; secretary, C. H. Southworth.

C. E. Teek of Buhl, was chosen as the executive committee member from Twin Falls county. This county was represented at the Pocatello meeting by delegations from Buhl, Rogerson, Kimberly, Hamon, Murtagh and Twin Falls. Members of the Twin Falls delegation included James McMillan, M. J. Sweeley, George F. Sprague, J. S. Keel, C. S. McMartin, A. L. Swim, L. E. Salladay, J. M. Maxwell.

BOLSHEVISM IN HIGH PLACES ROUNDLY SCORED

stand taken by former President Taft, in accepting the ruling, even though he had opposed national prohibition.

"Certain papers opposed prohibition," he declared. "That was their right. They may have been honest in this opposition. The time for argument, however, on war time prohibition on the constitutional amendment is passed. They both were adopted. There is no room now for a difference of opinion in this issue. One is law enforcement or one is against it. These papers are for enforcement or they are against it; they are for law or they are for anarchy; they are American or they are un-American."

"The vast majority of our people are law-abiding Americans and believe in law enforcement and if they openly and boldly stand by their convictions and principles, lawlessness and Bolshevism cannot thrive in this fair land of ours. I appeal for a real genuine Americanism."

Fruits Stand First

Fruits have the honor of being most widely diffused geographically, grown with the kindest care, and of being first used by man as food. They still enter largely into the regimen of the cultivated nations, and are the fattest of civilizations. The use of them is of such universal importance that we cannot subsist in any plenty or elegance without them. And everywhere beside the cultivated man grows the orchard, to intimate his remembrance in their excellence most befitting his race.—A. Bronson Alcott.
