CHOOSE BETWEEN ANARCHISM AND WORLD ALLIANCE

Must Decide Between Sane Internationalism and a More Radical One, Declares Senator Hitchcock

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Internationalism has come, or is coming, and the world must choose between a sane internationalism or an anarchic one, Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, declared today in a speech to the senate on the league of nations.

Answers Questions

The president's position on provisions about which debate has centered were made plain in answer to questions asked him by his guests, they said today.

The president did not take up the league constitution, article by article and explain it, nor did he make a speech. He invited questions and then answered them.

Guests Talk Freely. In view of the president's evident desire that congress and the people get all possible information concerning the workings of the league and the attending the dinner and conference talked freely today.

President's Interpretation. The president's interpretation, as it appeared to the committee members is given herewith.

Monroe Doctrine. The proposed league extends the Monroe Doctrine to the entire world and this would strengthen instead of weaken or destroy this traditional American policy.

Mandatory. The provision for states mandatory to supervise, guide and guard former colonies of Germany or her allies does not compel any nation to assume the task of mandatory against its will.

In this connection the president stated, according to committee members, that numerous requests have been made that the United States set a mandatory in the case of a number of countries.

Such work, the president is quoted as saying, "He indicated that it was not if this country does become a mandatory, Armenia is likely to be the object of our care."

The mandatory plan was adopted, committee members quoted the president as saying because of the obvious difficulties of outright annexations.

Disarmament. Effective disarmament, in the president's view, as stated by members depends upon (1) the good faith and honor of nations of the league and (2) enforcement of the provision against the general private manufacture of arms, munitions and war materials.

Each nation is the judge of the program necessary to insure its own safety and it is here, in the president's view, that unless absolute good faith is shown, disarmament will be completely ineffective. But the provision limiting production of war material will in his opinion, go far to aid disarmament by preventing the equipping of a huge arm or super-army.

Nothing in the constitution, he is quoted as saying, prevents the training of any number of men, but they do not constitute an army unless armed and equipped.

The president impressed his hearers with the fact that once the program for any nation has been ratified that nation cannot of its own motion increase the program without flying into the face of its solemn pledge as a league member.

Great Britain's Form. The British empire will have five votes in the full league but only one in the executive council. Each of Britain's self-governing colonial possessions will get a separate vote in the full league, but the executive council alone will have one vote in the council. This disposed, in the view of administration senators, of the arguments that British power would be increased out of all proportion by creation of the league under the proposed constitution.

Ireland. For the present, Ireland will not have a vote in the full league.

HOLDS CONGRESS OF CAPITAL AND LABOR DELEGATES

Makes an Attempt to Work Out a Program to Avert Threat to Industrial Welfare of the Nation

LONDON, Feb. 27.—The first national congress of capital and labor was called in Central Hall today, in an attempt to work out a program that will avert threatened industrial warfare. The labor representatives in the congress are members of regular trades unions. While the meeting was going on, miners' representatives were holding a conference to determine the exact date of their strike which already has been voted by a referendum. The miners were said to be dislodged, although a majority of them were understood to favor calling the strike on the original date, March 15.

Delays Decision
Their executives were delaying decision, hoping to persuade them to postpone the strike to March 22, thus allowing the parliamentary investigating committee to present its report on the mine situation.

Premier Lloyd George has promised that the commission will report by March 20. The capital-labor congress will comprise 800 delegates representing two million workers. Lloyd George will deliver the principal address. The congress will take up a legal minimum wage, maximum working week, the establishment of Whitley councils (workers' committees) for the purpose of adjusting disputes, and the desirability of the government assisting the regular unions against the "rebels". A committee is expected to be appointed to inquire into these questions and report to the congress later.

Milk and Cream to Fill Some Empty Vats in Breweries

Product of Dairy Instead of Bottled Beer to Be Sent Out.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27.—Milk and cream will fill some of the empty vats in breweries of Pennsylvania and other states, according to reports received by the department of labor. In place of bottled beer, bottled milk will be sent out and ice cream will be produced instead of stout ale.

In the course of the nation-wide survey now being made by the department, through the division of public works and construction development of this information and education service, interesting facts have been brought out concerning alterations contemplated for brewery plants whose regular occupation has been legislated out of existence. These plants as a usual thing are well equipped and centrally located. They represent a large investment in building and machinery and in the adjustments following the war they can be readily utilized for peace-time industries.

In Pennsylvania where remodeling plans appear to have begun without delay, a brewery will soon manufacture wholesale quantities of ice cream. In recent years the demand for what used to be more or less of a luxury has become so general that it may now be classed among the staple foods, and the adaptation of a brewery to the production of freezing cream is believed to offer an opportunity for profit.

One of the large brewing plants in eastern Pennsylvania is being turned into a milk products factory, for which its arrangement is said to be well adapted. Repairs have been planned for other large structures, in some of which even the machinery can be used to a certain extent. As a natural result of the cutting off of alcoholic drinks, mineral waters will be more in demand, and the bottling works in one plant have been turned over to the owners of the output of a famous spring.

MAY CREATE A DIVIDING STATE

Peace Conference Is Discussing Feasibility of Putting Buffer Between France and Huns

By FRED S. FERGUSON

PARIS, Feb. 27.—Creation of a "buffer state" between France and Germany by making the Rhineland provinces self-governing, was discussed by the peace delegates today.

This project, which is still in a tentative state, was introduced during debate on the adjustment of the boundaries of enemy countries. France, being the only country not protected from Germany by a natural barrier, is still clinging to the idea that the Rhine should constitute its eastern frontier. The proposition for establishment of a "buffer state" was presented as a compromise. This arrangement, if understood, would be temporary, the new state being permitted to decide its own future by a plebiscite as soon as Germany has made full reparations.

The next plenary session of the peace conference, it was stated, today, probably will take place in the middle of next month, when all the special committees will be present with their reports. Especial progress is being made by the committees on reparations and responsibility for the war, it is understood.

URGES THREE-FOLD MEMORIAL TO T. R.

Dr. Lyman Abbott Suggests Sepulchre in France for Americans and Scholars

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—A threefold Roosevelt memorial—international, national and local—is suggested by Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of "The Outlook." In a letter given out by the Roosevelt Memorial Committee, the letter says:

"I beg to submit to you the following suggestions which have been made to me and which seem to me worthy of consideration:

"The purchase of ground for a cemetery in France for the sepulchre of American soldiers who have died abroad in fighting for the preservation of France and Belgium. I understand that Quentin Roosevelt will be buried in France. It seems to me desirable to exert whatever influence can properly be exerted to induce friends not to bring the bodies of the dead across the ocean for interment here. If that is not to be done, then it also seems to be desirable to have one spot in France which would be sacred to their memory. This would be an international memorial to Theodore Roosevelt.

"The suggestion has been made that a fund be raised for the erection and endowment of a college or a department in some existing college for instruction in those special branches deemed necessary for an efficient preparation for public service, including those ethical ideals on which Theodore Roosevelt laid such stress, both by his words and his deeds, in his public life. If this could be done in such a way as not only to memorialize Theodore Roosevelt, but to reproduce the influence of his life and character, it would seem to be the kind of memorial which would most appeal to him.

"I have thought that the committee might well make some suggestions which could be regarded by localities in different parts of the country and which would keep alive by some local memorial his name and influence. The Audubon society has organized for the purpose of erecting a fountain to his memory as a naturalist. I have wondered whether by combination with the Audubon society, suggestion could not be made of a fountain, similar if not uniform in character, which any city, town or village could put up by its own local contributions. Such a memorial would be peculiarly democratic, because it would emphasize the reverence in which Theodore Roosevelt's name is held in every locality in the country."

NEW CANDIDATE FOR SPEAKERSHIP

Republicans Will Meet to Choose Representative for House in Next Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Republican members of the next house of representatives meet tonight to choose the party's candidate for the speakership of the next congress.

While the formal election of a speaker does not occur until the sixty-sixth congress convenes, the man chosen tonight will get the majority party support and so will be practically certain of elevation to the speaker's chair.

Three Candidates
The three republican candidates for the house's highest office are Representative Freerick Gillett of Massachusetts; James E. Mann of Illinois; and Phil Campbell of Kansas, who entered the race only Monday.

All three are claiming election but electioneering by the three factions was continuing today without apparent abatement.

Conflicting claims of the three managers made any accurate forecast difficult today. The votes claimed by Mann and Gillett managers total more than the republican membership of the next house.

BOLSHEVIKI ARE PLANNING COMBINED OFFENSIVE SOON

Captured Orders Show They are Preparing for an Attack on All Fronts

LONDON, Feb. 27.—The Bolsheviks are planning a combined offensive on practically all fronts, it is revealed in captured orders of their supreme military command, a dispatch from Archangel reported today.

The attack is to start on the Archangel region and be extended rapidly to the western, southern and eastern front. Only the Murmansk and Finnish fronts will be excluded from the offensive and preparations will be made there for defensive fighting.

While these preparations are going on, the allies have successfully undertaken an offensive on the Murmansk front. Reports received from Archangel today said the allies had advanced more than twenty miles in that region, the Bolsheviks suffering heavy casualties.

Other dispatches say the head of the American Red cross mission in Russia, investigating alleged Bolshevik atrocities, had reported that the Bolsheviks had massacred hundreds of civilians. He is said to have cited one instance in Perm of an officer's shoulder straps being nailed to his shoulders. There have been several cases, he said, of priests being mutilated.

AUTHOR'S CONDITION IMPROVES

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—"Some-what improved," was the condition today of Charles E. Van Loan, humorist and author of "Washington for Dummies," who is recovering from a long illness in a hospital here suffering from chronic nephritis, according to George Wilson, editor in chief of the Saturday Evening Post.

Farmers! Get "Capay" Grant Land At $175.00 an Acre While You Can

The "Capay" country in the famous Sacramento Valley, California, is the farmer's paradise. It is a country of wonderful crops and is best with natural conditions which make life a joy. Here, California is at its best—in climate, in scenic beauty, in fertility of soil, in real opportunity.

Farmers who want to better their condition, who are ambitious and want to insure full reward for their labors are given an opportunity now to buy limited acreage in the fourth subdivision of the historic old "Capay" Grant at $175.00 an acre on easy terms. The water situation is ideal. You simply turn a switch any time, day or night, and you have all the water your land needs.

The land lies beautifully level, practically ready for immediate cropping. The soil is a deep, rich, black silt—no hardpan, no gumbo, no alkali. It produces bumper crops of barley, wheat and corn. It is wonderful for alfalfa and intensive gardening. Dairying and hog-raising are consequently very profitable here. Some of the finest orchards of California are in this immediate vicinity. The trees in the "Capay" country are remarkably healthy.

This land which has been held from subdivision until now is surrounded on all sides by prosperous, highly developed farming country. It is close to splendid country towns in every direction. It is only six hours from San Francisco. It has good roads, good schools, electricity for home uses—every advantage the heart can desire.

Although on the market only a few weeks, the greater part of this subdivision is already sold. It is undoubtedly the greatest land opportunity in California today. If you are interested in knowing more about it, act quick—fill out and mail the coupon today.
