

IRISH QUESTION THE POLICY OF UNITED STATES

"What Will Wilson Do About Ireland" Is the Uppermost Thought in the Minds of the World Statesmen Today

DUBLIN, March 10.—(Will Wilson do anything about Ireland?) is the question uppermost in the minds of the Irish politicians, particularly the Sinn Feiners, today.

That the republicans have been bitterly disappointed at President Wilson's silence to their appeals. On the other hand, the few surviving Irish nationalist politicians of any importance in the president's action some hope for the revival of their party.

Nationalist Sentiment

John Dillon, leader of the nationalists, said:

"The day is not far distant when the country will awaken to the great mistake made by the majority of nationalists at the recent elections in voting for the republicans and it will fall back to the reactionary or constitutional policy pursued so long by the late John Bullman."

The Sinn Feiners, however, have not lost hope of Wilson's intervention. They are led by James Boland, M. P., acting leader of the Sinn Fein during the imprisonment of the leaders.

"We realize the very difficult position President Wilson is in," Boland declared, "but we cannot believe he will turn down Ireland's claim at the peace conference. We are satisfied that American opinion is behind it."

GREAT BRITAIN STUDIES LEAGUE

The Millions of the Supporters of New Organization Will Discuss Articles

LONDON, March 10.—The league of nations covenant will continue to be discussed by the millions of its supporters here tomorrow.

The discussion will take place at a conference of delegates of various leagues of nations societies from ten countries.

Would amend Constitution

"Resolutions will be drafted, aiming to amend, clarify and strengthen the constitution. These resolutions will be presented to the cabinet in the form of recommendations. It is planned to have the program completed before President Wilson arrives in Paris."

Premier Venizelos to Greece, premier Panitch of Serbia and several other officials of the peace conference will attend. The American representatives will be Arthur Hays Sulzberger, Hamilton Holt and Mrs. Fanny E. Andrews.

"The meeting probably will take up the action of the covenant with which France already has declared she is dissatisfied," said "United Press."

Security Guarantees

"We want to see France's security guaranteed, but not to the extent of formulating laws which would automatically send the United States to war in case some member of the league were attacked, or would force America to maintain permanently a large army force on the frontier of freedom."

"We may try to clarify the covenant regarding some of the objections raised by American senators, especially the clause covering a nation undertaking to go to war. This might be subject to several interpretations and we hope to make it clear."

"The meeting was held in London instead of Paris for the purpose of getting away from the peace conference and the atmosphere of officialdom. We wanted a new environment which would give us a broader version. There was no friction with the French. That is evident from the fact that Senator Bourgeois will attend the meetings."

MAY NOT NEED RELIEF WORK

Statement of Hoover Is Contrasted by Many to Mean Work Is Unnecessary

WASHINGTON, March 10.—American relief work in Europe and the near east will not be necessary after July 1, food administration officials here said today.

In his interpretation of Herbert Hoover's reported injunction to quit work at that time, harvests in the various countries will be able to provide the necessities after that time it is believed. Congressional action makes the $100,000,000 appropriation for this work end June 30, but reports from Hoover indicate the shortage of food in the countries now being helped is rapidly being relieved.

Debs today in a formal statement on the occasion of his conviction on an espionage charge, by the supreme court. "I told the court when I was convicted that the law was despotic and have not changed my mind in the least. EDUCATORS ASK SENATORS FOR A JOINT DEBATE

Board of Education Request a Presentation of the Views of Legislators on the League of Nations

WASHINGTON, March 10.—At the invitation of the Newark, N. J., board of education Senators Knox and Hitchcock will engage in a joint debate on the league of nations in Newark early in April, it was announced today.

Advocate Substitute Plan

Knox is the advocate of a substitute plan, the chief feature of which is an international code to be administered by an international court. Hitchcock favors the constitution as drafted. Senator Frelinghuysen, New Jersey, today re-entailed the league fight, issuing a statement in which he said that the question is not the abstract one whether it is law or not, but whether an international agreement which will prevent wars, but the concrete proposition of whether the proposed league is so nearly perfect that no attempt should be made to amend or even to criticize it.

Disapproves Secret Treaties

"Under the proposed league, secret treaties may be made up to the time of the adoption and may remain secret after its adoption. I do not favor secret treaties."

Förlinghuysen declared with other critics of the league that American traffic, immigration and other domestic policies in it have made the subject of league action. He urged radical amendment of the compact.

FLAMES OF REVOLUTION STILL RAGE WITH UNABATED FURY OVER BERLIN

Reported Capture of Suburban Police Station Results in Liberation of All Prisoners and Cold-blooded Murder of Sixty Detectives

BERLIN, March 9.—(Delayed)—The Spartacan revolution was flaming up in Berlin again today.

Radical forces were making a desperate stand in the northern portion of the city on the very site of the hardest fighting of the revolution of 1918.

While government troops were seeking to stamp out the last vestige of resistance in the city, Spartacans made a sudden raid on the police station in Lichtenburg, a suburb. They captured the building, liberated all the prisoners, they are reported to have bound sixty detectives hand and foot and murdered them in cold blood.

The general strike was subsiding in Berlin and central Germany, but new strikes were starting up in the Rhineland and Silesia. Railway connection between Berlin and Weimar was again broken through refusal of the railway men to resume work until they are paid back wages for the time they were on strike.

WIRE SYSTEMS TO BE PRIVATE

Government Control of the Telephone and Telegraph Is in No Sense Permanent

NEW YORK, March 10.—Government control of telephone and telegraph systems is in no sense permanent and the property is to be returned after a limited period, according to Theo. N. Vail, president of the Bell system in its annual report made public today.

Public ownership is not desirable, according to Vail, and there is no longer any extensive conviction in the minds of the public that there can be effective competition in the electric transmission of intelligence.

The Bell system now operates 10,000,000 telephones and has a wire mileage in the United States of 23,281,325 miles.

The net earnings of the Bell system during the last year were $54,293,016, which amount $35,229,688 in 8 per cent dividends was paid out to shareholders. The amount of stock owned by 112,000 increased more than 25,000 during the year.

The capital obligations of the concern outstanding in the hands of the public at the end of the year were $991,074,284.

NEW INTERESTS IN LOCAL BANK

Officers of Pocatello Institution Take Stock in Idaho State Bank

The sale of a substantial block of the stock of the Idaho State Bank to E. J. Merrill, president, and D. B. Pingree, cashier of the Stockgrowers' Bank & Trust company of Pocatello, was announced today by Mr. Merrill who arrived here Sunday with Mr. Pingree and who is to remain here this week closing the deal.

"Mr. Merrill stated that no changes in the directorate of the Idaho State bank are contemplated at the present time, and that Lieutenant Leo P. Bracken, son of the late F. F. Bracken, one of the founders of the institution, who was recently elected vice president will remain with the bank in that capacity."

The transaction means, Mr. Merrill stated, that the interests of the Pocatello company will be allied with the local stockholders to result in the extension of the activities of the local institution. The Stockgrowers' Bank & Trust company was organized at Pocatello three years ago. Its deposits have increased in that time to $1,250,000.

The same interests are also prominently identified with the banking business in Pocatello.

NAME MEN TO CLEAN HOUSE WITH MEXICO

Prediction Offered that Disclosures of an Unpleasant Nature Will Likely Follow Proposed Probe

NEW YORK, March 10.—The truth about Mexico, in order that the United States may adopt some definite policy regarding the future relations with the southern republic is the object of hearings before the Mexican committee of the council on foreign relations which are to be held immediately.

"We are going to have a clean sweep," Mark Omond, Frontis, manager, announced today. "We want to learn the truth about Mexico and our citizens there. Our intention is to rip things open, to get the sunlight in. All indications are that some very unpleasant things are going to be disclosed, both for the Mexican government and for private interests operating there. It is our hope that American citizens are being deprived of their rights, their property confiscated and their persons outraged by responsible or irresponsible authorities in Mexico, we want to know it. On the other hand, if American interests or any other interests are favoring revolution there we want to know that also."

Expect Interesting Disclosures

The Mexican committee which includes Mayor Ole Hanson, Seattle; Judge John Lindley, Denver; John K. Paul, Boston; Alton S. Parker, New York; and others, will begin their hearings next week here. It is planned that one member will devote several hours each day to hearing testimony.

"The clock is about ready to strike in Mexico," Frontis declared. "We have learned from absolutely reliable sources that large amounts of ammunition, arms and war material are being shipped across the border into Mexico, despite the embargo."

Inability to Secure Guns

"The hull of the past four years has been due entirely to the inability of the military to secure arms and munitions. The situation is such that it cannot be overlooked. Consequently the fireworks are scheduled to begin soon."

The committee has selected as its greatest care from persons in whom both the United States and Mexico has confidence, will make their findings known to the foreign relations committee of the United States senate. The state department will also be furnished with copies of testimony given.

Friendly Relations

"We are not trying to embarrass the administration in any way," Frontis stated. "We are going to do our best to work in harmony and cooperation with and to establish friendly relations with Mexico. No member of the committee, so far as we know, has a single dollar invested in Mexico or any other country. The state department will also be furnished with copies of testimony given."

PARIS, March 10.—The preliminary terms of the preliminary treaty, it was learned today, probably will include a clause requiring Germany to turn over all official property responsible for war crimes, to be tried by an international tribunal established in the Belgian occupied zone. While the responsibility committee is not expected to complete its report for several days, it is understood a decision has practically been reached in this regard.

Regarding the former Kaiser, the committee is expected to find that he cannot be legally extradited, also it will be difficult to determine his personal responsibility for the crimes charged against him. A suggestion has been however, that the Germans themselves write to obtain his removal from Holland to the Belgian zone as an alternative, it is understood an international indictment will be published, branding Wilhelm as the world's greatest criminal, and a charge being limited to this historical document.

Crowder Reports to Secretary of War that Work Will Proceed Immediately

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Investigation of court martial during the war has been ordered, Judge Advocate General Crowder in a letter to Secretary of War Baker has stated that the inspector general of the army will proceed with the work immediately.

To Ease Families

Crowder writing to Crowder, stated that while he is confident the faults set forth in recent criticisms do not exist. An investigation is necessary to reassure families of the men who wear court martial. Crowder in his letter to Baker charged that Ansell had obtained appointments as acting advocate general from the chief of staff without the knowledge of the chief of staff, and that he had either of Crowder or Baker. Crowder was conducting the selective draft.

WAR PRICES ARE DOOMED TO FALL

Government Is Expected to Take First Step This Week to Lower Costs

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The government this week expects to take its first direct step to bring down war prices.

Through the newly organized industrial board an effort will be made to realize a big reduction in the price of iron and steel. There will be a conference here Wednesday of a committee of steel and iron men, recently appointed by the industry and headed by Judge E. H. Gary of the United States Steel corporation.

To Agree on Price

The plan is to have the steel men and the board agree on prices at which iron and steel will be sold and the industry has agreed to cooperate in reducing prices to relieve the present business situation. The price of pig iron, the basis of the industry probably will be the first to be reduced and the board plans to fix a price that will stand for some time so as to assure confidence among steel and iron business projects.

The prices of food, textiles and building materials will be taken up after steel and iron problem is settled.

NEW CALAMITY SEEMS RISING FOR GERMANY

Common Talk in Streets of the Cities Is That the Food Supply Is Giving Out Very Rapidly

BY FRANK J. TAYLOR
BERLIN, March 8.—(Delayed)—The revolution appeared tonight to have got beyond control of its leaders. Although the general strike was officially called off yesterday afternoon, following a compromise agreement with the government, fighting was still going in several parts of the city.

A strong minority, accusing the strike leaders of treachery in placing the hands of the government, was demanding complete overthrow of the cabinet and turning the country over to control of the soviet. This movement has been fostered by fear of hunger, as well as money and propaganda alleged to be furnished by Russia.

To Stamp Out Terrorism

Labor leaders are now trying to separate the workers in political demands from Spartacus terrorism and violence with which the radical element of the workmen is closely connected. It was sympathy with the workers rather than a demand for general revolution that soldiers of the republican guard to break with the government. These men never had been dependable supporters of the cabinet but were assigned to patrol the region around the Alexanderplatz last Sunday. Although the government brought in volunteer troops from the provinces, this provoked jealousy among the Spartacus followers who sought trouble. Rival detachments met while patrolling. Abusive words led to shooting. This was the signal for the thousand guards to revolt and begin a warfare which wrecked an important business district and caused the heaviest casualties, which Berlin has experienced so far. It is unofficially estimated that five hundred persons have been killed and one thousand wounded, including many women and children.

Leaders Accept Compromise

Minister Noske's iron hand was really the determining factor in ending the strike leaders to accept a compromise with the government, as they feared terrorism by the radical element which had more than once threatened to strike would lead the cabinet to declare a military dictatorship. The Spartacus among the workmen, however, refused to recognize the authority of the government and are still going on strike.

A New Revolution

With the radicals preaching a new revolution and promising fear in causing the determining factor in ending the strike completely in May and that everyone will starve unless peace comes and the battle of life and death between the bourgeoisie and the proletariat is bitter and increasing. The general lack of confidence is provoking a startling irresponsibility and disregard for business and public goods and the business dejectedly, ignoring dangers on all sides.

Ideal Bolshevik Plot

White the fighting was at its height with airplanes of both sides battling overhead and machine gun and machine gun fire and rifle bullets sweeping streets, men and women a block away from the scene of the battle appeared to be unaware of anything but ordinary. The fighting tonight was limited to a series of guerrilla warfare, with the radicals remaining in isolated streets and buildings. But rebellion seemed to be in the very atmosphere and it was feared the continued fighting might again set the whole city seething with revolution.

Berlin seems ripe for Bolshevism unless the Weimar government is strengthened by the allies.

KOREA DEMANDS INDEPENDENCE

Announces Her Intention of Presenting Her Claim to Paris Peace Conference

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—Korea will demand recognition of her independence from Japan at the Paris peace conference, according to a telegram received by Korean nationalists here today. This followed by a few hours a cablegram saying: Korea issued a declaration of independence March 1, the declaration being taken by the Korean national independence union in the principal Korean cities.

News of the declaration was withheld owing to Japanese control of wireless and cable lines, according to local Korean representatives, who received their cable advice from the union's representative in Shanghai.

Two Koreans, Dr. Syngman Rhee and Dr. Henry Chung, are in Washington endeavoring to get passports for a trip to the Paris peace conference, according to C. H. Ahn, head of the local branch of the Korean union. Three party delegates are believed en route to Paris from Korea.

QUEER DISEASE CLAIMS VICTIMS

Illness Resembling the African "Sleeping Sickness" Is Found in Chicago

CHICAGO, March 10.—The first case of a queer disease resembling sleeping sickness was reported here today. The death certificate of Joseph Pelham gave the cause of death as "lethargic encephalitis."

Fifteen cases of the mysterious disease have been reported in Chicago. One of the special interest was that of Miss Lydia Gray, Evanston, in a comatose state for the last eighteen days. A consultation was to be held today.

The real sleeping sickness exists only in Africa, since it is carried by the tsetse fly which does not exist here. Another proof that this is not sleeping sickness is that the disease is always fatal while recovery from lethargic encephalitis is the rule, Robertson said.

DISCUSS LEAGUE FROM ALL SIDES AND VIEWPOINTS

Congressmen Receive So Many Letters From All Parts of Nation on League They Are Unable to Read Them

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The American people are responding eagerly to President Wilson's invitation to discuss the league of nations.

While congressmen have not yet received a tremendous number of letters, putting in the memory of men now in congress recalled the present avalanche of mail at their offices.

Realize Importance
Senators haven't been able to read the subject, they said today. But what letters have been read show one thing clearly—that the country realizes the great importance of the question.

First, those favorably for the league, as now proposed, 1,023. Second, those for the league, with qualifications, 1,240.

Third, those expressing an opinion but asking information, 261. Fourth, those, unqualifiedly against the league in its present form, 1,750.

Many Approve Heartily

More than half the letters in the first class came from professional and business men. Clergymen, scholars, educators, lawyers, writers, men and women alike—and many big business men, apparently approve very heartily of the draft of the league constitution as it now stands. The rest of the letters in the first class their approval on faith in President Wilson. It may be significant that most of the letters in this class came from the east, New England and the south.

West is Conservative

The vast bulk of the other three classes came from the middle and far west. Through the "class two" letters in the strain, "we want an end to war, but we don't want to see the world in a state of anarchy."

The proposed league would enmesh the United States too deeply in foreign affairs. The Monroe doctrine, American sovereignty and all the other objections already urged were entered in these letters. Many of them complained that the league would be a "trap" for the United States.

Women Want Information

Class three, the smallest, came largely from school teachers and women generally. Men generally have made up their minds rather thoroughly on the league. The information asked was chiefly about the lines of the objections raised against the league in the senate.

Class four contained some bitter letters. In them President Wilson was vigorously assailed, senators ridiculed, the league was applauded and in a number of them more or less thinly veiled threats were made against the government if the league compact is ratified. Most of the letters of this class, however, struck the same note: "let us prevent war forever."

Scores of the letters offered suggestions for a policy of complete American isolation, maintained by force if necessary. Most of the letters of this class, however, struck the same note: "let us prevent war forever."

There was a disposition to feel that both the police and soldiers were at fault. The former in exceeding their authority and the latter in taking matters into their own hands. Clubs were wielded and several on both sides were injured. Military police were called. After two hours' intermittent fighting, order was restored.

FOOD MEN WILL RESIGN PLACE

Hoover Declares Board of Administrators Face Personal Problems

PARIS, March 10.—Herbert Hoover, discussing the world crop situation indicated that he and other members of the food administration would resign in July because of the necessity of earning a living.

"These problems will need to be solved by someone else," he said, in referring to questions of price fixing and food distribution, "because neither myself nor most of the men in the food administration will be able to continue in the service of the government after July. We also must earn a living."

WOULD REMOVE BLOCKADE FROM GERMAN PORTS

Supreme Council Recognizes Necessity of Feeding the German People to Suppress Revolution

PARIS, March 10.—The supreme economic commission is expected to resume conferences with the Germans at Brussels immediately.

The new plan mapped out by the supreme war council, will, it is believed, be readily accepted by the enemy. This provides:

New Provisions

First, partial removal of the economic blockade, permitting Germany to export such commodities as coal and potatoes.

Second, establishment of neutral credits by Germany.

Third, use of Germany's gold reserve if money raised by other means falls short of the amount needed.

No Back Down for Allied

This program constitutes no back down by the allies. It fits in completely with additional terms included in the armistice during January. Increasingly serious conditions in Germany threatening the present government urgently need immediate allied decision or details imperative.

In return for enactment of this program which will enable the Germans to purchase enough food to last until the next harvest is available in August, the enemy will be required to turn over the entire German merchant fleet. This fleet which will be used largely in shipping American and Australian soldiers will bring back food supplies on their return trips.

A report was circulated today that Rear-Admiral Welmsly will preside at the coming sessions of the economic council of which Bernard Baruch and Thomas Lamont are the American members.

Must Send Food

Foreign Minister Pichon in his weekly conference with correspondents, said the allies recognized the necessity for sending supplies into Germany knowing that hunger would bring disorder and not adversely to the allies' own interest. He said the allies took the position that they were ready to supply food and find the necessary credits but that the Germans must first declare themselves ready to carry out the terms of the armistice and hand over their fleet.

Pichon said the union of Germany and Germany cannot be accomplished until it is ratified by the peace conference. This, he said, was doubtful.

The conference is making such rapid progress, according to Pichon, that definite plans for the peace conference will be ready earlier than seemed possible two weeks ago.

Proposed Roads in Twin Falls Highway District

The commissioners of the Highway District have been working over the road proposition and particularly as to the location of the roads to be improved for the past month, and the map showing the classification and location of the roads is the result of their work.—adv.

THE two foremost questions regarding the proposed highway bond issue in everyone's mind are "Who is going to spend the money?" and "How much will this bond issue cost me individually?"

Answering the first question, the board of highway commissioners consists of C. B. Channel, of Twin Falls, A. E. Larson, of Hollister, and J. M. Steelsmith, of Kimberly, who were appointed by Governor Alexander, and serve for four years, without pay, except that they are allowed their expenses while coming to meetings for which a bill of 10 cents per mile. To date, the total warrants charged to the commissioners' expense account do not amount to $500 in all. Stuart H. Taylor, secretary treasurer, in charge of records and finance, draws $500.00 per month for his services. The road director, W. L. Johnson, in charge of all construction and maintenance of roads and bridges, gets a salary of $200.00 per month. The office force at present consists of one office man at $125.00 per month, a draughtsman at $35.00 per week, and an engineer at $35.00 per week. A large percentage of the engineering work now being done, of course, is in connection with the bond issue, and the laying out of a permanent system of highways. If the bonds do not carry, this force will be materially reduced. If the bonds carry, it will, of course, be necessary to have some additional office help and a number of engineers, foremen, inspectors, etc.

The money received by the highway district is divided among all banks within the highway district and will be apportioned to such banks on a basis of the valuation of the particular section, as nearly as possible. The Twin Falls banks may have a larger share than this because they will be used for checking accounts. All banks who receive money of the highway district will pay 2 1/2 per cent interest on daily balances in such funds.

A strict account is kept of the disbursements—all moneys spent being divided into 10 principal accounts known as equipment and plant, salaries, commissioners expenses, office expense, including engineering and legal expenses, road maintenance, road construction, bridge maintenance, bridge construction, autos and trucks and state highway. These heads are again divided as to labor and materials used so that exact information can be given at any time as to where the money goes and what for. This same plan of classification will be followed out with the bond money.

Answering the second question as to individual cost:

The Twin Falls highway district includes in its boundaries 199,942 acres of tillable land. If the whole bond issue was charged directly to the land it would only amount to $6.50 per acre. This would be further reduced by the property in the town of the district which is not included in the acreage. Are not good roads worth $6.50 per acre to any farmer on the tract?

Then taking into consideration the assessed valuation of the town and villages in the Twin Falls highway district which amounts to about $5,000, or one-third of the total assessed valuation of the district, this cost per acre will be reduced to about $4.50.

Those bonds will probably draw 5 or 5 1/2 per cent interest per annum. Figuring 5 1/2 per cent on annual interest charge will be $68,790.00. The county assessor figures that the Twin Falls highway district's share of the auto tax collected in the county will be $33,000. This applied to this interest charge (which would be proper) would leave a balance of $35,790 to be raised by taxes.

To raise this amount would mean a levy of approximately 2 1/2 mills. This would mean a tax of $2.50 per $1,000 of your assessed valuation. If the whole amount of interest was raised by taxation, a 5 mill levy would more than cover.

Our assessed valuation this year is $1,000,000 more than last year, and there is no reason why it will not increase in the same proportion each future year. This increased valuation would bring in enough more each year so that our levy for interest could easily be cut.

Though, too, with hard surfaced roads, our maintenance charge would decrease by a large percentage. As a result of the installation of good roads, the levy for general road purpose will be cut, as not nearly so much money will be needed for upkeep.

At the end of ten years, the district will have to levy for a sinking fund to retire these bonds at the expiration of twenty years from date of issue. By that time, our auto license tax, which in all probability will increase each year, together with a levy not more than is now required to meet interest on bonds should care for this sinking fund, as the road improvements contemplated will no doubt increase land values and consequently assessed valuation to a point which ought to yield the necessary revenue. There is no doubt but that during the next ten years a considerable number of additional acres in the district will be under cultivation, and of course, we will benefit by the increased valuation of such lands.

State and Federal Aid to Twin Falls Highway District

One-half the cost of the construction and maintenance of the east and west state highway will be borne by the state and federal government.

The highway commission hopes to have the north and south highway designated, extending from the present east and west highways to the Nevada state line, and to receive state and federal aid on this road to an amount equal to 50 per cent of the cost of construction and maintenance.

Under the apportionment of state highway funds recently made by the state highway engineer the Twin Falls highway district will receive approximately $35,000.00, to aid in work on the state highway. This amount is all we will receive from the state direct, and if bonds are voted, the state will be able to secure from the federal government an additional amount equal to one-half of the cost of the construction and improvement on the state highway within this district.

EQUAL RIGHTS

Is there any good reason why, if an eight-hour day is a proper thing for men, it is not also a proper thing for women? We think not.

There are a good many plausible arguments offered in support of the contention that nine hours is a reasonable work day for women, but there is not one which does not fall to the ground when stacked up against the great fact that men as a whole work eight hours, and thereby earn a day's pay.

The man who advocates a nine-hour day for women should be asked to extend his own working day to conform—and if he hesitates for the fraction of a second he's lost. And most of him will hesitate.

A GRAND JURY

The carrying over of a political fight beyond the date of election is never good business. Any time that a candidate offers himself for public office in which office he would not be acceptable to the great bulk of all the people, irrespective of party affiliations, he should be eliminated from the ticket before the election, not afterwards.

The proposition of calling a grand jury in Twin Falls county is avowedly for the purpose of providing for an investigation of the conduct in office of Sheriff A. N. Sprague. Specifically, for an investigation of such conduct in connection with the trial of H. M. Sims. There is no basis of any kind for the belief that the outcome of the trial was in any manner affected by the part taken in the proceedings by Sheriff Sprague, if such had been the case the Court would have taken due cognizance of the fact and the proper steps for the elimination of any improper features, in the interests of justice, would have been taken. Those who do not agree with this view have a grievance against the Court rather than against the Sheriff's office.

In the matter of an investigation of the events surrounding the peace celebration of last November, perhaps the least said is the better. A majority of the celebrants were men who had sons in the fighting areas. To these men the signing of the armistice came as the biggest and most important message to be received during the whole course of their lives. It is difficult for all to comprehend fully the measure of relief and thanksgiving which was theirs when it at last became apparent that the strain was over, that every telegram to be received need no longer be regarded as a harbinger of grim death and that the weight of grief and apprehension worn so long in the interests of the highest and most unselfish emotion by which man is actuated might at last be laid aside—there was excuse in plenty for an outburst of emotion at the expense of cold, calm judgment. Men's hearts have run away with their heads before this and will again, and the men most intimately associated with the events of November eleven would be among the last to condone deliberate or any other kind of wrongdoing.

Is it the thought back of the grand jury petitioners that Twin Falls or its people will be in any manner benefitted by a general washing of dirty linen in the public view, not only locally but over the country?

Is it to be expected that the holding up of this city as a hub of criminality will improve the morals of any individual or bring the people as a whole into more favorable notice as a law-abiding and clean-minded community? For this is what a grand jury investigation presupposes—if it does not do these things it is of no permanent benefit to anyone.

If a majority, or any considerable number of the people want a grand jury called in Twin Falls county, by all means let's have one, but let's be very sure about just what we are asking for and just exactly what the cost and the benefit will amount to.

If this county is actually engaged in a wave of crime, if law and order no longer exist, if public confidence in public office holders is so shattered as to destroy the usefulness of such office holder or holders, a grand jury is the best of all ways to bring order out of chaos, but a grand jury is not a means of registering individual dissatisfaction with the verdict of a jury, no matter how keen in certain quarters this dissatisfaction may be, and it's no instrument at all with which to play politics.

AFFIRMS CONVICTION OF SOCIALIST LEADER

Supreme Court Upholds Decision of Guilt of Presidential Candidate

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The supreme court today affirmed the conviction of Eugene V. Debs, former socialist candidate for president, found guilty of violation of the espionage act in a speech at Canton, Ohio, last summer. At the same time the court upheld the espionage act, which Debs claimed, violated the constitutional right of free speech.

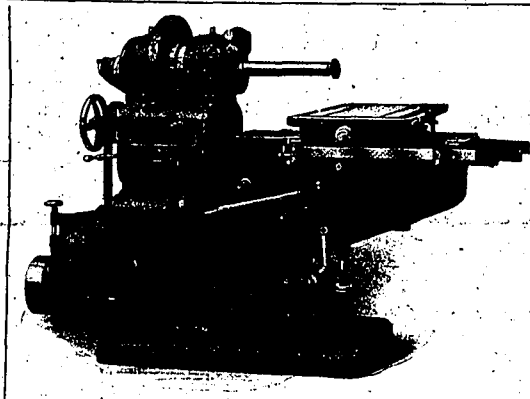

Along with the Debs case the court decided against Jacob Frohwerk, a writer for the Missouri Staats Zeitung, who was also indicted and sentenced under the espionage act.

Following a speech in Canton, Debs was indicted on ten counts and finally convicted on three. Federal Judge Westenhaver sentenced him to ten years in the McLeansville, West Virginia, prison.

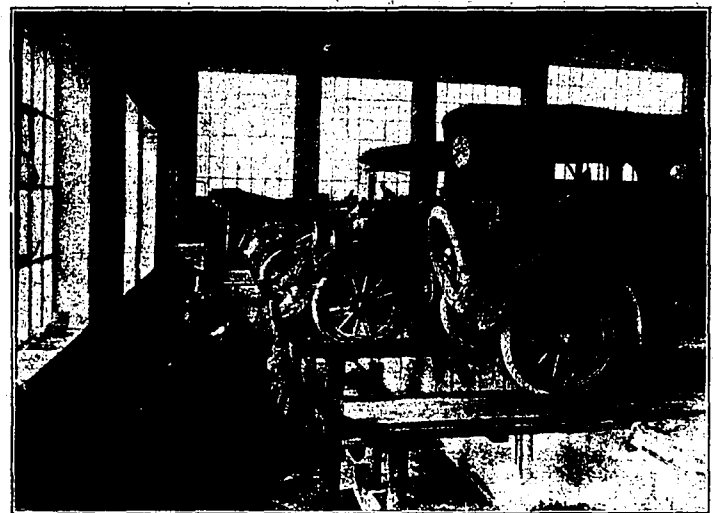

In his brief, filed with the supreme court, Debs emphasized that he wished to make his fight for freedom on the grounds that he had been denied his rights of free speech under the first amendment to the constitution. He also contended that by the introduction of the socialist platform and other utterances and writings outside of the Canton speech the government had tried him on his state of mind as well as his utterances. Frohwerk's offense was alleged to consist of publication of various articles which appeared in the Missouri Staats Zeitung.

Postoffice Solicitor Tells Investigation That Revolution Is Planned

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Radical elements in the United States are united in a plan to "overthrow the American government by a bloody revolution and set up a Bolshevik republic," according to a memorandum submitted today to the senate committee investigating Bolshevism by Solicitor Lamour of the postoffice department.

The memorandum said that for the first time the anarchists, I. W. W.'s and Bolsheviks have made common cause under the name of "Bolshevik" for this one purpose.

CASUALTY LISTS CONFIRM VISION OF MOTHER HERE

Reports Released Today Include Name of Genoris R. Bybee of Twin Falls Among Those Slightly Wounded

In a dream last fall Mrs. James A. Bybee of Twin Falls, mother of Pvt. Genoris R. Bybee, who served in action in France as a member of an artillery unit with the new division, saw a soldier with a deep wound over his right eye. She wrote to him telling him of her dream, insisting that he be photographed at once and send the picture to reassure her of safety. His reply was that he had indeed received a wound that left a scar over his right eye, and that he had been hit by a bit of rock hit by an exploding shell. Proudly she had told his parents that he had been sent to the hospital on account of slight illness.

The overseas casualty lists today include the name of Private Bybee among those who have been slightly wounded. His parents have received no official notice as to his being wounded, but they were advised recently by the adjutant general that his parents had been passed in action on November 9, two days before the armistice was signed. Private Bybee referred to his experience with the gas that killed his parents, with the statement that he was suffering from the itch.

Private Bybee is now a Conlie, France. He was to be returned to the United States with company No. 1, but was sent back from the embarkation point to the hospital for further treatment. He refers to the time that he was in the employment of the Red Cross. Word from him was received Friday by his parents.

Private Bybee came home in March, 1917, as a member of the Twin Falls unit of the Second Idaho regiment, with which he remained until, when it was aboard ship for Europe, he with some other officers and men were taken off the transport at Halifax and returned to the United States, embarking overseas at a later date.

BIG BOOM IN IDAHO OIL FIELD INDICATED

Officials of Oasis Company Return From Visit to Holdings—Report Other Drills
It is probable that three drilling rigs will be in operation this spring in Idaho oil fields in the Raft River basin, according to B. E. Pickett, president and Dr. Danley, general manager of the Oasis Oil company, with holdings in that district, who returned recently from a visit of inspection preparatory to beginning operations on their own account in that field.

While in the field Mr. Danley met with representatives of Ouelin and Salt Lake capitalists who stated that their principal expectation is to bring two drilling outfits into the field and start operations in the immediate future.
The Oasis company has over 200 acres in the Raft River field, the acreage being made upon the advice of W. R. Morris, a well known oil geologist, who determined upon the site at which drilling will be begun by the company within the next ninety days, and who is authority for the statement that there is every reason to believe that oil in commercial quantities will be struck at a depth of about 2500 feet.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at the Crosby chapel for Halbert Davis Bills of Hansen, who died Thursday morning at a local hospital, where he had been suffering from a long attack of appendicitis, were largely attended by his neighbors and friends. The services were conducted by W. A. Moore, minister of the First Christian church. Mrs. W. A. Moore sang "Jesus Calls Us O'er the Tumult" and "In the House of Many Mansions." The pallbearers chosen from among friends and neighbors of the deceased were the following: Frank Kennedy, O. L. Minnick, Merle Newton, J. E. Stubbs, Willis Sampson, James L. Barnes. POLICE START FIGHT AMONG MILITARY MEN

Civil and Army Officers of the Law Mix in a Free-for-all Scrap in the Streets of London

LONDON, March 18.—The riot in the Strand yesterday resulted primarily from London civil policemen attacking American military policemen, according to information obtained today.

When the civil officers arrested two Americans near the Y. M. C. A. Eagle Hut on a charge of gambling and started for Bow Street jail, several military policemen followed and asked that the prisoners be turned over to them for a trial. It was said an argument resulted which turned into a fight. The military policemen were clubbed and placed under arrest.

The news spread in the Eagle Hut. Several hundred American soldiers and sailors together with a few Canadian and Australian soldiers, started for the jail. The rioters charged into the main street, shouting a free for all fight ensued in which four American soldiers and sailors were severely injured and five policemen and several American soldiers were hurt. Mounted policemen were called out but the fighting continued for two hours. Order was finally restored through the intervention of additional military policemen who persuaded the soldiers and sailors to disperse. About fifteen Americans who had been arrested were later turned over to the American military authorities.

The Americans are greatly incensed, charging the London policemen were over-hasty in using their clubs against military policemen, who really were trying to clear the disturbance. The military authorities make the counter charge that the soldiers were attempting to storm the jail. All military policemen, soldiers and sailors were ordered to report to their respective headquarters. The navy and police officials were cooperating in an investigation.

Major Campbell of the American military police placed most of the blame for the riot on British policemen who attacked the military police. He said, however, it was "probably due to a misunderstanding, the British police having neglected to ascertain the status of the American police."

The British police declare the Americans were arrested under the law prohibiting gambling in the streets.

Colonel Mitchell, chief of staff at American headquarters said, "I greatly deplore the fact that there should be the slightest friction. Every effort will be made to maintain order among the Americans."

American headquarters said it was denied that Canadian soldiers had participated in the riot.

Two Canadians arrested in Bow Street were fined $10 each. A Highlander was bound over. The American and British army authorities will continue their investigation pending consultation with the American Embassy.

Despite denial at Canadian headquarters that dominion troops participated in yesterday's disturbance, photographs in the possession of the American authorities show that at least one American soldier was colonial troops and civilians.

Many Participated.—It was estimated today that fully 1,000 persons participated in the riot. As there were only 650 American soldiers in London, it would appear that many Britishers took part.

The corporal of the American military police who was seriously injured was still unconscious today.

The inspector at the Bow Street police station issued a formal denial of the rumor that his own clubbed American soldiers as they lay on the ground.
