

LEAGUE DEBATE TAKES ON NEW ASPECT TODAY

With the Possibility of the Organization Becoming a Part of the Peace Treaty, the Senators Arouse

OPPONENTS DECLARE THEY CAN DEFEAT THE FLANS

Discussions, Pro and Con, are Starting Over the Proposed Incorporation Into Terms of the League Draft

BY L. C. MARTIN
WASHINGTON, March 12.—Following word from Paris that the peace treaty is nearly complete, with many leading articles contingent upon a league of nations, a new phase in the debate about the league took a new turn today.

Opponents of the idea will try to find out if the treaty application of the league if it is embodied in the peace covenant when it comes up for ratification, Senator Reed declared today.

At the same time, Chairman Cummings of the democratic national committee in a statement on the subject declared:

Do Not Understand Problems
"The ill-considered talk about a 'peace treaty' first and a league of nations afterwards is purely and only with those who do not understand the problems involved. Such a policy would postpone an effective league for generations and it would reduce the treaty to a mere scrap of paper to be torn to tatters the moment international interests came into conflict with each other."

Predicts Failure
Senator Reed speaks for the "bitter enders", predicted, however, that efforts to make the senate "swallow" the league plan so as to interweave it with the peace settlement through cannot be achieved without the other will fail. There is no way, Reed declared, that the two can be conjoined so that it will be impossible to separate them.

"We can ratify the peace treaty as amended," said Reed.
"We can amend by striking out objectionable clauses such as that concerning the Monroe doctrine or American sovereignty. This will be done in my opinion, because within ninety days this country will be ablaze with opposition to the league."

May Render It Impotent
Other opposition senators believe the senate could render the league, as now proposed, impotent by adding to the peace treaty if the league were embodied in a provision expressly stating that "nothing herein shall be binding on the United States if it conflicts," etc., and then specifying the Monroe doctrine and other American policies.

Anti-League senators expect radical amendment of the proposed constitutional amendment in an effort to "take the wind out of their sails," they said today. They regard Taft's suggestions of amendment, as inspired by President Wilson.

Preparing a Battle
They are, therefore, preparing to battle in the senate to the very end for complete defeat of any league plan in connection with the peace treaty. This does not apply to all senators opposing the present draft of the league charter, but it does represent the views of the vast majority of the opponents.

Preparations are being made by them for the invasion of the middlewest and far west, mass meetings having been planned for Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, and many other points, though dates are not yet fixed.

Urges Support for President
Meanwhile Chairman Cummings of the democratic national committee today further suggests an unimpeachable political alignment in 1920, pledging all Americans regardless of their old party affiliations to support President Wilson in his efforts to securing a "peace treaty that will make future wars impossible."

He contrasted the attitude of Taft with that of certain senators who are unfriendly to the league," said Cummings, "those who frankly and openly oppose it and those who oppose it covertly." The former, possessing a genuine kind of obstinate courage, are bold and defiant in their attitude; the latter, less courageous, but probably more astute, suggest an unimpeachable political alignment in 1920, pledging all Americans regardless of their old party affiliations to support President Wilson in his efforts to securing a "peace treaty that will make future wars impossible."

Criticized Senators Lodge, Fenrose and Knox in their fight against the league, declaring they have united in a "round robin" announcement only because, first, of a certain dislike for the league, and second, by a fixed purpose to embarrass the president and to weaken his influence at home and abroad. It is predicted if they were successful in their fight, it would throw the peace conference into confusion, destroy all hope of establishing a league of nations and postpone peace and demobilization indefinitely.

STREET CAR TRAFFIC TIED BY STRIKERS

Car Employes are in Fight to Finish With Railway Companies

NEWARK, N. J., March 12.—With street car traffic in Newark, Patterson, Elizabeth, Jersey City and 137 smaller municipalities completely tied up today, striking street car employes are aligned for a finish fight against the railway companies.

The tie-up has virtually stopped all traffic on car lines, only 12 cars out of 553 being in operation in Newark. Public sentiment is in sympathy with the strikers and few persons used them.

HIGH PRICES ARE DELAYING WORK

Many Cities Give this as the Reason for Not Resuming Necessary Building

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Fifty-seven out of 72 cities investigated by the labor department show a pressing demand for the immediate resumption of building.

Questionnaires were sent out to city officials and most of them gave the reason for the present delay in resuming building as the high prices of material and labor. "Some blamed it on the inability to obtain loans."

"Ohio, Indiana and Illinois show a shortage in dwellings with an occasional demand for schools and factories," the department says.
"The major percentage of the shortage in Colorado, California, Utah and Washington is for more homes. In the south and southwest there is a demand for business buildings, this being noticeable in Texas and Louisiana. Tacoma, Washington, was the only city reporting no delay on account of wages, material, prices and available capital. Tacoma's obstacle was inclement weather and subsequent reports from Washington indicate preparations for an unusual building activity there this spring."

OVER FOURTH OF SALES RAISED BY THE WOMEN

Success of Fourth Liberty Loan Was Largely Due to the Eager Workers

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12.—Women of the twelfth reserve district sold more than a fourth of the fourth liberty loan bonds disposed of in the seven states and two territories of the district. Mrs. A. S. Baldwin, chairman of the women's liberty loan committee today announced that women sold $110,400 in bonds, or 27 per cent of the district quota.

Lincoln county, Oregon, women held the district workers. Their bond sales were more than double the county's quota.

Nevada women made the best state percentage. They are credited with selling 48 per cent of the bonds sold there. Other district sales percentages by women are: Arizona, 45 per cent; Oregon, 38 per cent; Utah, 34 per cent; California, 27 per cent; Idaho, 24 per cent, and Washington, 19 per cent.

WITH THE CANADIANS

IDAHO WEATHER
Rain or snow tonight and Thursday.

STARTS INQUIRY IN BOOZE CASE AT COURT HOUSE

Prosecuting Attorney F. L. Stephan Institutes Inquisition Upon Matter of Alleged Illegal Disposition of Liquor.

Witnesses Stick to Their First Stories
J. N. Jensen, Auto Salesman, Denies Truth of Testimony of P. D. Kingsbury and F. Hicks as to His Statement

An inquisition upon alleged illegal disposition of liquor in Twin Falls county instituted by Prosecuting Attorney Frank L. Stephan and held this morning in the probate court rooms before Justice of the Peace W. S. Mallory, brought out the controversy under the charge of Percy D. Kingsbury and Frank Hicks, farmers, that they had been told by J. N. Jensen, automobile salesman, with Harry J. Kingsbury, that Jensen secured a drink in the county court house, and a flat denial on the part of Jensen as to the truth of these statements.

The witnesses called at the inquisition were Harry J. Kingsbury of the Kingsbury Printing company; Percy D. Kingsbury, his brother; Frank Hicks and J. N. Jensen.
Percy Kingsbury testified that his brother had related to him some time ago the story that was repeated by Percy Kingsbury and corroborated in material respects by Frank Hicks on the witness stand.

Says Drink Was Costly
Percy Kingsbury stated that he with his little daughter and Hicks were with Jensen on the morning of the day on which Jensen is alleged to have procured a drink in the county court house. Jensen was instructing him in driving a car which he had just purchased; that Jensen had said that he had been out with a drink had been drinking the night before and that it had cost them $75 to get drunk; that Jensen made some excuse for stopping at the court house; that Jensen returned from the court house with a few minutes past three o'clock the car was again in motion Jensen had stated that he had had secured a drink in the court house. He testified that Jensen had not stated from whom he had obtained a drink or what he had had to drink, but said that Jensen had told him that he had hesitated about, asking for a drink and had, about in the hall until some one had beckoned to him to enter a hotel where the drink had been had.

Says He Overheard
Frank Hicks testified that he was seated in the back seat of the car; that as they neared the court house Jensen had said that he would stop and use the telephone there; that when Jensen returned he said that he had had a drink. He also testified that Jensen had said that the night before he had been drinking.

Admits Only Part of Story
A flat denial of the statements of Kingsbury and Hicks in every particular of the alleged conversation except in respect to the possibility that he had heard Jensen had been drinking the night before was entered by Jensen in his testimony. He said that he had stopped at the court house on the morning in question, but that it was for the purpose of filling a defective tire and securing an automobile license. He did not recall which. He said that he was selling some property at about that time and might have visited the recorder's office to file certain papers or that he might have called at the treasurer's office to pay taxes on this property.

He was a frequent caller at the recorder's office he said, to secure automobile licenses for cars which he had sold, and he might have been on such a mission on this occasion. He might, he suggested, ascertain by reference to his

GREAT LEADERS, PAST AND PRESENT, AS LINED UP ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Presidential candidates, past, present and future, have so lined upon the league of nations that no matter what American public opinion decides, the major parties will have a candidate who stood for that very thing.

Among the Democrats
President favors ratification of his league of nations' plan without amendment.
"Bryans" favors a league of nations which safeguards the Monroe Doctrine, gives the United States more votes and each nation the right to reject the council's decrees.
While Champ Clark has not made public his opinion, his opponents credit him with intimating that the present league of nations plan has little chance of adoption.

Among the Republicans
Former President Taft favors adoption of the present covenant unamended if necessary, amended slightly if possible.
Republican senatorial leader Lodge favors a league which would preserve the Monroe Doctrine and maintain the sovereignty of the United States.
Senator Knox has offered a substitute plan which would declare war in international crime and establish a court to administer an international code.
Senator Harding signed the "round robin" as opposed to the "Wilson" covenant.

SPARTACANS ARE THREATENING AN OUTBREAK AGAIN

After Taking Refuge in Railway Station, Their Capture by Government Forces Seems Imminent

BY FRANK J. TAYLOR
BERLIN, March 12.—(Delayed)—Berlin was menaced by Spartans today. Government troops after desperate fighting, captured the greater part of the suburb of Lichtenberg. Most of the Spartans fled from there to the southern part of the city proper. Strongly reinforced by recruits they entrenched themselves. From their new positions their artillery now endangers a large portion of the city.

Capture Seems Imminent
Meanwhile the insurgent forces remaining in Lichtenberg fell back to the railway station, where they organized a few defenses. Detachment of a large part of the government forces to combat the Spartans in the southern section of the city rendered the capture of the Lichtenberg station a serious problem.

The government's position was made increasingly difficult by public demand that use of artillery and airplanes be stopped. Their fear that resistance to this demand might turn the people against the government, it seemed, that War Minister Noske would concede.

While fighting gained in intensity, the center of Berlin was the scene of a number of dances in dance halls being crowded to capacity.

MANY CHANGES MAY BE MADE

Amendments are Proposed for the League Construction by Society in Convention

LONDON, March 12.—The league of nations societies in convention here today considered amendments proposed by the French for greater guarantees of security. These consisted of proposals for fixing the limitation of armaments and providing a permanent body to enforce and prepare military measures necessary to assure the fulfillment of obligations in case of aggression.

The chief objection to these amendments comes from the Americans. According to one of the American delegation they are agreeable to giving the French guarantees so long as they do not make demands which interfere with the United States' constitution. They wish to preserve the right for the American congress to decide when the United States shall make war.

THIRTIETH DIVISION HAS STARTED FOR THIS SIDE

Transport Planned to Bring Home General Units of Organization

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The thirtieth division has started home, it was learned at the war department today. The transport Flitland sailed from New Nazaire March 10 for Newport News, official cables said. The units aboard are:
Headquarters 55th artillery brigade; battery A, first battalion headquarters of 115th field artillery; 115th machine gun battalion complete; detachment of 14th machine gun battalion; 115th artillery complete.

URGERS FOOD SHIPMENT
PARIS, March 12.—General Harries, head of the American mission to Berlin, told the peace delegates today that unless Germany receives supplies at once, it is doubtful whether the present government can withstand another revolution. He came here to urge that food shipments be hurried.

MAY ADMIT THE IRISH LEADER

De Valera Must Present Satisfactory Passports Before Entering America

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Immigration officials today stated that Edward De Valera, fugitive Sinn Fein president, would be admitted to the United States only if he presents satisfactory passports. This is necessary under the war restrictions, they stated.

England undoubtedly would refuse to issue the passport and in case De Valera should be smuggled into the United States, it would be the duty of the American government under international law to apprehend him and turn him over to British authorities just as is done with stowaways, officials stated. Sinn Fein leader in Ireland, told Ralph F. Couch, United Press staff correspondent, who interviewed De Valera in hiding there that De Valera intended to flee to the United States as soon as his interview appeared in print. It was the purpose of the Sinn Fein, they said, to smuggle De Valera out of Ireland and into this country.

Russian Woman Does Not Like Statement

Famous as Leader of Revolution, She Takes Exception to Testimony

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Malama Catherine Brezhnevskaya, known as the "Little Grandmother of the Russian Revolution," took an exception to the testimony of Colonel Robins' investigation of Bolsheviks a letter assailing Raymond Robins' statement concerning the treatment of Czech-Slovak soldiers toward Bolshevik prisoners.

The portion of Colonel Robins' testimony to which Malama Brezhnevskaya took exception related to alleged cruelties by Czech-Slovak soldiers toward Bolshevik prisoners.

Germany Will Need Centuries to Retrieve

Ludendorff Declares that Fallen Country Can Not Regain Supremacy for Years

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Germany will need a century or longer to regain supremacy in Europe declared General Ludendorff in a Berlin interview Tuesday. He told the Senator Greenman of the senate sub-committee investigating Bolshevism a letter assailing Raymond Robins' statement concerning the treatment of Czech-Slovak soldiers toward Bolshevik prisoners.

STOCK INDUSTRY TO BE ORGANIZED

Packers, Livestock Producers and Commission Men Have Decided to Unite Forces

CHICAGO, March 12.—Formation of an organization representative of packers, live stock producers and commission men was announced here today. The purpose of the organization is to be to work toward stabilization of receipts, the adjustment of grievances and the betterment of the live stock industry to the end that most products may be offered the public at the lowest possible cost.

The agreement, termed by packing house representatives as "epochal" was reached at a conference attended by growers and packers from eight different states. The organization to be called the "conference committee of the live stock industry" will comprise ten producers, ten packing representatives, one man from the bureau of markets and two commission men. Headquarters will be Chicago. Committees will operate in live stock centers.

FUGITIVE LEADER OF IRISH PEOPLE STATES OPINION

The Famous De Valera Risks His Liberty to Tell the World What He Thinks of Cause of Ireland

QUOTES FROM WILSON'S FOURTEEN PEACE POINTS
Declares the Supreme Right of Any Nation to Its Independence and Self-Determination

NEW YORK, March 12.—Edward De Valera, fugitive Sinn Fein leader, who escaped from Lincoln prison in England and is being hunted by the British government, has been found and interviewed by the United Press staff correspondent.

De Valera who will probably be named president of Ireland in event of revolution there, was located near Dublin by Ralph F. Couch, of the United Press. Couch, a cap pulled down over his eyes so he could not see, was led to the rebel leader's hiding place where De Valera gave the interview. Later the correspondent secured a signed statement in which the Sinn Fein chief predicted violence and bloodshed in Ireland if the peace conference does not act to prevent it.

With De Valera's statement and the interview and with much first hand knowledge about actual conditions in Ireland, the editor of the United Press is striving for safe information in New York and to interferences by the censors.

By RALPH F. COUCH
DUBLIN, Feb. 24.—"Violence will be the only alternative remaining to Irish patriots if the peace conference at Paris fails to take steps to extend self-determination to Ireland." Edward De Valera, fugitive president of the revolutionary Sinn Fein party, made this prediction to me Wednesday ago at a secret midnight interview.

"This means something like continued revolution until Ireland's rights are recognized," he said. His black eyes, when he said it, his big jaw squared. He spoke quietly. Nevertheless, he was emphatic.

Leader's History
De Valera, American born, son of an Irish mother and Spanish father, is the soul of the Irish revolutionary movement. British secret police have been hunting him ever since his romantic escape 11 days ago from Lincoln jail on the eve of the Easter rebellion. I am told that only five persons in the United Kingdom know he was hiding within a few miles of Dublin. Not far from where we met, there were thousands of English of English soldiers. Dublin swarms with them as does all Ireland. These troops, untrained, fully equipped and armed, guard every public building and the most important railroad stations. Their presence has created a tense feeling, many continually fear clashes between soldiers and civilians.

Risks His Liberty
"De Valera is risking his liberty in permitting this interview," said the Sinn Fein leader who arranged it. "But the Sinn Fein is willing to take the chance in hope that he will be able to get across to the American people a message from the Irish republican government."

Quotes President Wilson
De Valera quoted from President Wilson's 14 points to prove that Ireland has the right of self-determination. "The right of self-determination will be taken in Ireland until the peace conference shows conclusively that self-determination is not to be granted, he said. "Black eyes, black nose, black hair, but I'll try to give the American people the reasons why we feel we must have it."

Undertook Huge Task
"It's a big job we've undertaken, gaining complete independence for Ireland. In the message I'm to write for you, I'll try to give the American people the reasons why we feel we must have it."

REVIEW OF THE WORK ACCOMPLISHED BY THE RECENT LEGISLATURE

A Summary of the Measures of the Fifteenth Session of the Idaho Lawmakers Shows a Vast Program of Reconstruction Mapped Out

BOISE, March 12.—When the fifteenth session of the Idaho legislature adjourned this afternoon at 6:30 p. m. Saturday a post-war, reconstruction program on a huge proportion had been carried out almost in its entirety.

Beginning with the adoption of a law which reorganized and centralized all of the departments of state government and ending with the passage of measures which will provide a budget system to simplify and stabilize expenditures, the legislature accorded itself the place in Idaho history as the body which came nearest to carrying out party pledges and a carefully thought out program of development, approved by members of both parties than any of its predecessors.

Plans to Eliminate Inefficiency.

Nine commissioners will be designated to carry on state work heretofore handled by 48 departments, thereby eliminating overlapping effort, confusion and inefficiency. There will be direct responsibility and no chance to "pass the buck."

A new primary law was enacted which does not impair the principle of the old law but makes possible more careful selections, eliminates a source of public aggravation, reduces the cost and prevents the theft of political parties.

Safety of the public from anarchistic disturbances and attendant violence is assured by the establishment of a state constabulary, which may be used in emergencies as a state police.

This measure was passed in a non-political law, only the members of the Non-Partisan league opposing it in the legislature. Their action again emphasizes their sympathy with forces of disorder, it was pointed out on the floor.

Many Changes Made.

A purchasing system which eliminates unfair practices in allowing contracts is a feature of the session.

The bonded farmer law will insure the farmer that his hard earned produce will not be lost through the manipulation of speculators.

The farmers are also allowed payment for stock killed by the state on account of rabies.

Another law is a blow to middlemen who rob farmers on their produce shipments. Combinations to force down prices will be prevented and the method of returning to the act will be prosecuted.

Good Roads Will be an Actuality in Idaho—at last. The legislature made provision by direct taxation on enough money to meet the federal government's appropriations for the next two years. This was necessitated because the limit of bonded indebtedness by legislative action had been reached.

The great road program, and especially in 1921-22, will be carried out if the people approve a constitutional amendment authorizing a bond issue.

The new capital building will be completed, a constitutional amendment will be voted on to increase the membership of the supreme court, and reclamation work will be facilitated in the health of returning soldiers.

While the consolidation of departments measure known as Senate Bill No. 19 and its subsidiary measures marks the top place in the achievement of the gubernatorial program, there are a number of other measures which came as the direct result of carefully arranged plans of the majority legislators.

Governor Suggests

In a number of instances Governor Davis in his message made suggestions which were not contained in the party platform and practically all of these have been made into laws.

For instance, he suggested a careful study of taxation problems and this has been taken care of in one of the laws enacted as has a reorganization of the fish and game department.

When the senate passed House Bill No. 46, providing for a uniform type of medals for soldiers who died during the war with Germany, it made provision for state aid to every county in a suitable recognition of the dead heroes, but the greatest achievement of the legislature in recognition of soldiers was the splendid bill of constructive program which became an actuality with the final passage of several bills on the closing day.

Pro-Americanism Bills

Passage of the red flag bill, providing for education of foreigners, and curtailing of the law against criminal syndicalism, are particularly notable features in the legislation which was passed to carry out the promise of Pro-Americanism.

In Governor Davis' message, he suggested proper appropriations for a geological survey, educational aid, the Lewiston Normal, soldiers' home, capital building, and state highways, although in no instance is it recorded that these suggestions were not carried out to the full.

It has long been an interesting question as to the proper method of legislation along the lines of conservation would be. This legislature just adjourned passed a joint resolution which would provide for the state development of water power.

A new code was adopted, and three laws passed which would be uniform with many states in the union, all of which were suggested in the message.

The various bills passed, summarized, and classified according to subject, are as follows:

BOUNDARIES MAY BE DECIDED ON BY CONFERENCE

With Many Phases of the Peace Treaty Complete, the Question of Determining Divisions Comes Next

BY FRED S. FERGUSON
PARIS, March 12.—The peace treaty with Germany may be completed this week if the present schedule of the supreme war council is maintained.

Final consideration was to be given the military and air terms today. Discussion of Germany's eastern boundary is expected to be finished tomorrow. Her western frontier is to be taken up Friday when President Wilson is expected to participate in the discussion. On Saturday reparations and financial assistance for Germany will be settled.

Disposition of all scheduled business will, of course, mean completion of the terms for the preliminary treaty. The next step will be calling in the German delegates for submission of the draft. The plan for establishment of a new "buffer state" composed of the Rhineland provinces, is expected to permit the rapid progress in determination of Germany's western boundary, probably on Friday, the day it is taken up.

MARTIAL LAW IS NOW PROCLAIMED

With Advances of Spartacans From the East This Step Becomes Vital

PARIS, March 12.—Martial law was proclaimed in the provinces of West Prussia, Brieux, Thorn and Kalin, owing to the advance of Spartacans forces from the east, according to dispatches here today.

The dispatch would indicate that the Spartacans are advancing upon the districts referred to from Russian Poland. Thorn is situated on the Vistula River just inside the Russo-German boundary. Brieux is 20 miles northeast of Thorn and Kalin 25 miles north. From the wording of the dispatch, it would seem that the Russo-German boundary in the direction of the Russian Bolsheviks or that the name has been applied to the Bolsheviks themselves.

He fills the place vacated through the resignation of former Attorney General Gregory. He is a fighting Quaker.

BOISE RECTOR COMES TO THE PARISH HERE

Reverend Keyzer Recently Received His Appointment to the Twin-Falls St. Edward's Parish

BOISE, March 11.—Rev. Remi Stephen Keyzer, for several years rector and assistant rector of St. John's cathedral, Boise, recently appointed pastor of St. Edward's parish at Twin Falls, left for his new home Monday of this week. By his work at the cathedral parish and his close association with the late Bishop Glorieux and Bishop Cullen of Idaho, he is one of the best known and most highly respected of the Catholic clergy in Idaho. He takes with him to his new work the best wishes of the members of the cathedral congregation and Boiseites generally.

Father Keyzer was born in Boisleduc, Holland, December 26, 1860, attended the Christian Brothers school in that city and later the diocesan seminary at Astoria, Oregon. In 1881 he was a student at the American college at Louvain, Belgium, where he completed his theological studies. He was ordained for the priesthood on December 29, 1890.

Father Keyzer came to Idaho in 1891, arriving in Boise in October of that year, and on November 9, 1891, he was assigned to the mission in the Couer d'Alene mining district, with Wallace as his residence. He remained at Wallace until May 3, 1897, and during his service in that part of Idaho under his direction the church at Mullan was completed and churches built at Wallace and Wardner.

In August, 1897, he was appointed professor of dogmatic theology at the American college at Louvain, Belgium, which remained one year, returning to Wallace, in October, 1898. In December, 1898, he was appointed pastor of St. Mary's parish at Genesee, Idaho, in which capacity he served until September, 1907, and during his pastorate the church at Genesee was enlarged, a parish residence and school built, and a church erected at Thorn-creek.

In September, 1907, Father Keyzer returned to Boise as rector of St. John's cathedral, and has served as rector and assistant pastor of the cathedral parish for more than eleven years, and by his zeal, piety and unswerving attention to his pastoral duties he has endeared himself to everyone.

In 1898 Father Keyzer was appointed to serve as episcopus for the diocese of Boise, which covers the state of Idaho, and he still fills that office. From 1907 until the present time he has been chancellor of the diocese of Boise.

Immediately following the death of Bishop Glorieux Father Keyzer was appointed by Archbishop Christie to serve as administrator of the diocese. His duties in that office expired with the installation of Rev. Daniel M. Gorman, May 15, 1918.

In addition to having had the advantage of a liberal education, and being the master of several languages, Father Keyzer has also been a devoted musician, having written several masses, and especially to the composition of church music, having written several masses, and solemn masses, as well as offertories and other musical compositions.

Due to his convalescence from a recent illness Father Keyzer has been a few of his many friends and associates, but he leaves all these behind to call on him in his new home in Twin Falls. As a token of love and respect Father Keyzer was presented by the members of St. John's congregation with a handsome silver chalice for use in his parish residence.

Villistas are reported to have made a bold attempt to attack Castro's train. But the federal leader has at least a regiment of troops, armored cars and machine guns to defend his movement toward his destination.

Labor Takes Its Place in World Affairs

True, honest organized labor has lost nothing through the war. Instead it has gained. It has taken its place in world affairs from which it will never be displaced. Here is placed one reason why that is so. It is the labor leaders of the world in session at Paris—and the conference at Berno, Switzerland in so. It is the labor leaders of the world in session at Paris—and the conference at Berno, Switzerland in so. It is the labor leaders of the world in session at Paris—and the conference at Berno, Switzerland in so. American labor leader is indicated by arrow. CONTESTS CHARGE OF INSUFFICIENT POWER

Government Declares that It Has the Right to Chase the Freight Rates

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Briefs were filed in the supreme court today by the government contesting the decisions of Skinner and Eddy, shipbuilders, Seattle, Washington, that the freight rates on iron and steel, once reduced cannot be increased by the interstate commerce commission.

At the beginning of the war the commission authorized the charging of a lower rate to coast cities from eastern points, because of competition through the Panama Canal. As a second hearing the commission increased the rates so as to reduce the amount of discrimination in favor of coast cities.

The shipbuilding corporation contends that the only lawful way for the government to comply with the order was to reduce the rates to intermediate points instead of increasing the rates to coast cities.

PROMOTER'S FAVOR RESTS SOMEWHERE IN THE EAST

Richard Refuses to Consider Proposals of Western Cities for Coming Bout. BY TOM LEWIS NEW YORK, March 12.—"Better tea rounds in New York than twenty rounds in Reno." This, in substance is the slogan of Tex Rickard, promoter of the Willard Dempsey championship contest who has just breezed into New York fresh from the oil fields of the southwest. Rickard would not admit that the west is definitely yearning for the combat, but he did confess a strong liking for the east. "I'm not jumping at a place to hold the fight," Rickard told a flock of newspapermen who bombarded him at the Eltmore, "but I'll be honest about this thing. I'd rather promote 10 or 12 rounds in the east than to go in for the 20 round stuff in the west. But there are a bunch of places; and there is plenty of time." "But how are you betting?" Tex was asked. He laughed. "That's a puzzle," he said. "I'll admit I haven't figured it out," but he added, significantly, "I'll predict that Dempsey will go into the ring on July 4 on even money choice. Think not? Well, I know that's something that never has happened in a championship contest, but they are mighty strong for Jack out there in the attack." Here the wily promoter opened up and contributed this bit of information: "I'd rather bet my money that the fight won't go ten rounds than to wager that it would go over ten." "Why?" he was asked. "Dempsey's speed," he said, incidentally. "That's what makes me feel that way." "Get some INFORMATION about it—what it will cost, where it may be fought," he said, "to get advantage through this thing. I'd rather promote 10 or 12 rounds in the east than to go in for the 20 round stuff in the west. But there are a bunch of places; and there is plenty of time."

A CITIZEN'S DUTY

There is perhaps no more common trait among ordinary men than that of disinclination to inform against his neighbors; and yet when the reputation of the community, and more than that—the correction of possible evil is at stake, no more essential duty is to be performed by the man who is to be classed as a good citizen than that of laying information as to wrongdoing before the proper officials. It is not in strict justice, to be held against Mr. Harry J. Kingsbury, the first witness called by Prosecuting Attorney Frank L. Stephan in an inquisition to unravel a report of illegal disposition of intoxicating liquor at the court house, that he did not first advise the officers of the situation as he understood it before relating it somewhat indiscriminately. Mr. Kingsbury has been a resident of Twin Falls for some ten years and is a citizen held in generally high regard. It is unlikely, however, that Mr. Kingsbury or any other laymen would have been cognizant of the provisions of the law permitting him to place his understanding in the hands of the officials of the regularly elected investigating—and as a possible basis for prosecution. Mr. Kingsbury is not, according to his own statement, a signer of the petition asking for the convening of a grand jury in this county to probe violations of the liquor laws and other suspected wrongdoing. The service rendered by Mr. Kingsbury as an instrument in the unraveling of an alleged wrongdoing—at least a specific instance of alleged violation of the law—is one, however, of so great value probably as to largely outweigh and counterbalance any benefit that could come from the investigations of a grand jury. He, at least, has come into the open with his accusations and is in no wise to be charged with attempt to shift his full responsibility of a citizen. His example is one to be commended to every one who, in signing a petition for a grand jury, has sufficient reason to believe that the provisions of the law are being violated here. There can be no question but that if Mr. Kingsbury's example in this matter were followed by every other good citizen, similarly disposed, all of the beneficial effects of the convening of a grand jury would be attained without the considerable item of expense and with a minimum of the disagreeable features that the grand jury proceeding is bound to entail.

ACTOR DOESN'T KNOW OF WEDDING TODAY

LOS ANGELES, March 12.—Douglas Fairbanks doesn't know that his recently divorced wife, Betty Bully Fairbanks, is to be married today. At least that's what John Fairbanks, the film favorite's brother says. "Doug has been out on location in the mountains, 29 miles from the nearest telephone, for a week," John Fairbanks said, "and he doesn't know a thing about the wedding or anything else which has happened since he was away." No Friends Like Old Friends. Esteem of great powers, or available qualities newly discovered, may embroder a day or week, but a friendship of twenty years is interwoven with the texture of life. A friend may be found and lost, but an old friend can never be found, in nature has provided that he cannot easily be lost.—Samuel Johnson. Advertise it in the Classified columns of The News. ## TOWN WENT DRY WHEN HE APPLIED MATCH

Tom Mix, "Trimmed" in a Poker Game, Laid Lawless Texas Settlement in Ashes

Tom Mix, daredevil star of "Fame and Fortune", to be shown for the first time at the Idaho theatre, commencing Wednesday, tells an interesting story of his last poke in a lawless community in southwestern Texas.

Mix, who had spent many weary weeks on the cattle ranges, came into town for relaxation, and what could be more natural for him to do than to hook change. Buying chips from a dealer, started in a game of "draw".

According to the good good hands, but if he would have three queens full of tens, some one else in the game would have three aces full of kings.

This kept going for some considerable time until Tom's chips were gone. It then dawned on Mix that he was being "trimmed" for his "six shooter".

Mix reached for his "six shooter". He found he had left it behind. He left the game and went for the gun.

The "dealer", fearing trouble, in a breathing word up the game and left for parts unknown. When Mix arrived on the scene bent on vengeance, he found the place empty, even to the bartender.

Contented of his revenge, Tom piled all the saloon furniture and gambling paraphernalia in the middle of the floor, and set a match to it. The fire consumed the saloon was a thing of the past.

They never had a chance before fire gave it.

FARM BUREAU OF STATE ENDORSES SCALE OF WAGES

Votes to Lend Assistance Where Desired, to Beet Growers' Organizations — Alworth Is Re-Elected President

The Idaho State Farm Bureau, at its second annual meeting convened Saturday in Pocatello by W. F. Alworth of Twin Falls, who was re-elected president for the organization at that time, went on record as endorsing the same farm labor wage scale that was adopted last year at the meeting in Gooding as being a fair and equitable wage, and voted to extend its activities in respect to the cause of the sugar beet grower to the extent of lending its assistance, where it was desired, in the organization of growers' associations.

The meeting was largely attended by the presidents of county farm bureau organizations and county agents, who composed its membership, from southern and southeastern Idaho, and by L. W. Flaherty, director of extension work; F. L. Williams, state leader of county agents; W. B. Kjosness, assistant state leader of county agents; A. A. Lyoun, state labor specialist; Dr. H. K. Kirt, state veterinarian; Dr. W. A. Sullivan, inspector in charge of the bureau of animal hog cholera control investigations in Idaho.

Deliberation is Thorough.
The decision of the organization in respect both to the farm labor wage scale and the beet growers cause was reached after long deliberation, the meeting itself lasting from 11 o'clock Saturday forenoon until midnight.

In respect to the wage scale the advocates of abolition of the scale as well as those favoring its adoption as an official action of the organization were heard. The decision is a compromise between the two sides of the last year's scale, as fair and equitable.

Organization of a committee to be known as the state board of control of the sugar beet division of the state farm bureau was advocated by the delegation from Bingham county which was armed with a resolution favoring the creation of such bodies in both the state and county farm bureau organizations which was adopted at a meeting of members of the farm bureau with officials of the Annapamated Sugar company and the Utah-Idaho Sugar company held in Twin Falls, January 1918.

Objection to the incorporation of the proposed organization in the farm bureau was based principally on the grounds that the activities of the growers' organizations would entail an expense prohibitive so far as the farm bureau was concerned.

The state farm bureau at the Pocatello meeting adopted a resolution which was advocated by permanent its organization which was effected at a meeting in Idaho Falls in January, 1918.

A program of work for the ensuing year providing for activities in the fields of livestock, crops, pest control and kindred subjects was adopted.

The "Straight and Narrow Way"

The "straight and narrow way" in fashions has surely arrived as those two dress models for spring plainly show. On the left the lines of ancient Athens fashions are revived, the shadow stitching on the bodice, the long flowing skirt, a dirndl in of silver cord. On the right, blue dumbois circles gracefully about the neck then knots itself into an embroidered sash.

Vedure on China's Great Wall. Trees and shrubbery planted in the soil that has been accumulating for hundreds of years on the great wall of China are in thriving condition, some of them having grown to a height of 12 to 15 feet. This method of beautifying the great wall was an outgrowth of the movement for the reforestation of the country started some time ago with government sanction under the direction of foreign experts. The driveway on the great wall is considered very much improved with the addition of trees.

SERVICE MEN ON GUARD AGAINST LOSS OF PAPERS

File Certificates of Discharge for Record in County Office Before Sending Originals to Washington

As a precaution against possible loss of their honorable discharge papers which they are sending to Washington with their applications for the $30 bonus made available by recent act of congress to each soldier, sailor, fireman or nurse enlisted in the military service; returned service men of this county are filing their certificates of discharge for record in the office of the county recorder.

The procedure is now in this county was recommended by the county recorder, C. C. Siggins, after some deliberation, has decided that the certificates should be copied in the miscellaneous records. The original discharge paper, of course, is returned to its owner after a copy is made of and filed in the recorder's office.

The advantage of the proceeding, as pointed out by some of the service men, is that in case of loss of the certificate through their own neglect or through possible mishap in the departments at Washington, a copy of the discharge is to be obtained more quickly upon application to the county recorder's office, than it could be obtained from the War Department where the records are all on file.

First on Record.

David H. Morgan, a private of the 142nd spruce squadron A. S. A. P., who enlisted February 19, 1918, and who was discharged at Vancouver Barracks, Wash., December 29, 1918, is the first service man of the county to file his discharge papers for record in the county office, having presented the certificate for this purpose on Monday.

Crow Has Earned Farmer's Hate.

Most commonly the crow is hated by the farmer because it pulls up the young corn to get the soft seed kernels at the root, and everywhere it to be seen the scarecrow in the newly planted corn fields. Later on the damage they do to the young crop can hardly be estimated. Because they peck the end of the young ears, allowing the water to enter the stalk and rot the corn.

January 9 is the anniversary of the first balloon ascension in this country. It was made in Philadelphia in 1793, and it is interesting in view of the rapid strides in aeronautics made in the past few years. Even twenty-five years ago the idea of a dirigible airship was largely a dream.

PEACE DELAYS MAY BE FATAL TO THE ALLIES

Joint Meeting of the American and Allied Nations' Press Clubs—Grave Warning Is Sounded to Hurry

ENTIRE WORLD MAY BE VICTIM OF ANARCHY

Foch Praises the Spirit of the Americans in the Great War and Is Wildly Cheered by Crowds

PARIS, March 12.—That peace will be concluded soon with the most complete and cordial understanding between America and the allies, was the keynote of a speech delivered at last night's meeting in the press club.

The principle speakers were Marshall Foch, Captain Tardieu, Secretary Lansing and Ambassador Shrap. Among the prominent officials present were General Pershing, Admiral Benson, Henry White, Col. House and Ambassador Jusserand.

Foch Praises America
Professions lead in the applause which greeted Foch's eulogy of American participation in the war. He turned to President Wilson and the American army was the occasion for a great outburst of cheering. His audience listened spellbound while he described how the Americans flung themselves into the fighting "thanks to which the tide was turned."

Lansing declared that "no time is to be lost if we are to save the world from a democratic anarchy as we saved it from the despotism of autocracy; we ought to—we must—make peace without delay."

He explained that it is not "out of pity for the Germans that this must be done but because we will be the chief sufferers if it is not done."

Must Pay Penalty
"Germany has suffered bitterly, is suffering bitterly and is entitled to suffer for what she has done," he said. "She has paid a fearful penalty for the crime of plunging the world into four years of blood and fire. Today starvation and want are the portion of the sternest and the vilest of her."

FUGITIVE LEADER OF IRISH PEOPLE STATES OPINION

Coming to America
Sinn Fein leaders said today that by the time this is in print in America, De Valera will be on a ship bound for the United States. They plan to smuggle him out of Ireland. Meanwhile he flits about from hiding place to hiding place to elude the British agents and does the work of Sinn Fein government.

Takes All Precautions
Elaborate precautions were taken before I was permitted to see this former professor of mathematics, who was condemned to death for leading the fighting during the east rebellion.

I was told to be waiting at 8 p. m. the side entrance of my hotel. This entrance in a dark narrow street. Precisely at the hour fixed, a closed automobile halted at the curb. Leaving the motor running the chauffeur stepped out and whispered my name. I got in hurriedly. The inside of the machine was luxuriously upholstered.

In a corner of the seat was a young Irishman who was to be my guide. He was one of 70 Sinn Fein leaders (including De Valera) who were elected members of the British house of commons at the December elections. On his knees he held a thick, heavy cane, almost a club. He apologized, then searched me for weapons.

"We've a two hour drive ahead of us," he said as the automobile moved away from the hotel. In a few minutes we were out of Dublin, turning and twisting over country roads till all sense of direction was lost. We arrived eventually in the outskirts of a sleepy village. There we walked up and down while the Irishman frequently peered at his watch.

Not Allowed to See
Presently another automobile—it was without lights—drew up. My guide threw out the door for me and so I could see nothing, then pushed me into the car. For half an hour we drove at a rate that seemed very fast. We got out and I sought a garage. Then I felt that nervous tremor that is to be courted. My guide kept urging speed. A door slammed and I felt the warm air of a house. Up a heavily carpeted stair and through a doorway I stepped into a room.

"Now you can take the bandage from your eyes," he said. I was surprised to find myself in a big room, richly furnished in mahogany with tiled floor, carpets and velvet curtains tightly drawn over the tall windows. A softly shaded lamp stood on a grand piano in one corner.

He smiled broadly, shook hands with me and turned to whisper some directions to the guide. Then he talked. A maid in trim uniform appeared with a tray of sandwiches, coffee and cigars. De Valera discussed the chances of a revolution against two hundred thousand soldiers, who he said, "are occupying Ireland."

A half hour later, I was again speaking toward Dublin, the cap over my nose. De Valera, I was told, would soon be hurrying in another direction.

A half hour later, I was again speaking toward Dublin, the cap over my nose. De Valera, I was told, would soon be hurrying in another direction.

Chances of Revolution
He smiled broadly, shook hands with me and turned to whisper some directions to the guide. Then he talked. A maid in trim uniform appeared with a tray of sandwiches, coffee and cigars. De Valera discussed the chances of a revolution against two hundred thousand soldiers, who he said, "are occupying Ireland."

DRY DETROIT'S DAMPNESS DECREASES DAILY

Old John Boose is taking one of the worst whippings of his life as he is being kicked out of Michigan. Reversed court decisions, have resulted in whisky runners operating in a wholesale way between Toledo, Ohio, and Detroit, with the result that "boose" by the barrel went over the line. Detroit police have authority to confiscate, as this picture shows. Here is a room at police headquarters in Detroit, showing about $25,000 worth of booze gathered in one day's raids.

OLD SPEAKER IS DECLARED TO BE UNFIT FOR JOB

Younger Men of Both Parties are Trying to Get the Rut Out of the Houses of Congress and Install New System

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Party rivalry is smoldering on both the Democratic and Republican sides of the house of representatives.

Younger members of the parties are out to overturn their old leaders and put new blood into party politics.

A combination of northern and southern Democrats is after Champ Clark who has been the leader of house Democrats for a dozen years.

Make Room for Young Blood
They declare frankly that Clark should step aside for a younger man who is more in sympathy with the party policies as expressed through President Wilson. Representative Sanders, Louisiana, is head of the anti-Clark combination.

Representative Longworth, Ohio, is protesting against the Republican organization as effected in the last few days in the meeting of the Republican committee on committees.

Do Not Represent People
Longworth has risen day after day in the committee meetings and told his colleagues that the men they are choosing to head important committees are not the men who should have grown out of touch with the wishes of the people.

If Longworth takes his fight to the caucus against the committee choices, all of which have been made under the seniority rule, he is certain to gain some support.

Insurgents in both parties are asking a "new deal all around," to help the character of legislation and to further party chances in 1920, they say.

The men who are being attacked, however, declare privately that personal ambition rather than party ambitions are responsible for the party turmoil.

FOOD CONTINUES TO PILE UP IN STORAGE

Department of Agriculture Issues Statement of Stored Products March 1

WASHINGTON, March 12.—If the old fashioned law of supply and demand was in good working order today, chickens, meat, eggs and butter (certainly not the cheap kind).

Just listen to these department of agriculture figures:

Frozen poultry stocks in store March 1, 1919, 110,000,000 pounds, an increase of 93 per cent as compared with the same date a year ago.

Additional reports showed these increases over March 1, 1918:

Broilers 93.3 per cent.
Roasters 105.1 per cent.
Fowls 121.1 per cent.
Turkeys 2.9 per cent.

Miscellaneous 110.7 per cent.
But that isn't all.

Creamery butter in storage shows an increase of 30.9 per cent, while packing stock butter gained 51.2 per cent over the 1918 figure.

And while chickens were piling up in storage, eggs were keeping pace. Case eggs held March 1 had increased 23.1 per cent over a year ago. Frozen eggs, however, showed a decrease of 29.6 per cent.

Meats, too, joined the growing food hoards.
