Congressman From California Is Now in Europe to Get First Hand Information on Military Systems of Countries

PARIS, March 21.—[I think that we should have a committee on general investigation of the war.] Congressman Julius Kahn of California told today...

Investigate Reports "I intend to also fully investigate the reports that American soldiers were needlessly sacrificed in some of the closing drives of the war," said Kahn.

While in Europe, Kahn will confer with General John J. Pershing. He plans to make an extensive study of the out battle lines around Chateau Thierry.

"I find a strong sentiment among the American forces from the front in favor of universal military training."

"I am convinced that a standing army of 250,000—or perhaps even 200,000—will be sufficient for the United States if proper universal training is adopted."

OUTBREAKS ARE INVESTIGATED BY COMMISSION

Recent Spartan Trouble Is Being Probed by a Special Committee—Advocates Selling Hohenzollern Property

BERNE, March 21.—The Prussian diet, ending its debate Wednesday, decided to appoint a special commission of 21 members to investigate fully the recent Spartan outbreaks, a Wolff agency dispatch from Berlin reported.

Independent socialists suggested in their arguments that Germany seize and sell all the Hohenzollern property, turning the proceeds over to the workers. No definite action was taken regarding the proposal.

"I protest against Minister Hoffmann's criticism of the Kaiser," heathily declared Colonel Reinhard during the debate. "Wilhelm's retirement to Holland is a move inspired only by his patriotism, feeling that his elimination would bring a better peace for Germany."

England on Eve of Big Upheaval in Labor Circles

Climax Will Come with Vote Tonight on Question of General Strike

LONDON, March 21.—Great Britain is facing the greatest labor crisis in her history. The climax will be reached tonight when the triple alliance—miners, railway men and transport workers—meet to decide whether a general strike shall be called tomorrow.

While the government has offered some concessions to railway men and miners, labor leaders declare it must do still more. Unless every demand of the "triple alliance" is met, the British industrial and commercial catastrophe, they say.

Many labor leaders state a belief that Premier Lloyd George is fully aware of the danger of the situation and is personally inclined to sympathize with the workers. They doubt, though, whether he has the support of the whole government.

His efforts to embroil Mexico and Japan in war with the United States as a German agent were exposed before the United States severed relations with the central powers.

Delay of Peace Responsible for Labor Troubles

Present Crisis in England Is Laid to Paris Conference Being Slow With Terms

PARIS, March 21.—Delay in signing the peace treaty with Germany is largely responsible for the present labor troubles in England, Premier Lloyd George declared today, discussing the labor situation. LOWER PRICES IN STEEL ARE AGREED UPON

Decision Is Reached After Stormy Conference Lasting for Two Days—Reductions Show Considerable Drop

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Lower steel prices are expected today as a result of agreement between the industrial board of the department of commerce and fifteen steel kings. The agreement follows a two day conference here.

New prices announced thus far show a reduction of from 25 to 35 per cent from the prices agreed upon by the war industries board and steel industry for the last quarter of 1918. They also show a drop of 14 to 15 per cent below the prices the steel interests put into practice since the war industry board's control ceased.

Revised Price List

A complete schedule of the revised steel prices is being withheld until after a conference of the industrial board and the steel kings with Attorney General Palmer. At this time, a definite opinion will be sought as to whether any part of the new agreement with the steel interests can be construed as a violation of anti-trust laws.

Agreement regarding lowered steel prices is the result of the industrial board's first effort to bring down and stabilize war prices. Its success indicates there will be little difficulty encountered in lower prices of other commodities by similar methods.

Will Maintain Rates

Coincident with the lowering of steel prices the steel interests are understood to have entered into a gentlemen's agreement to maintain the steel price during 1919, so the world's business will go ahead and not waiting in hope of further steel price reduction. Steel men have also promised to make no change in the price of some mills where there are contracts between employers and employees providing the sliding scale, according to Elbert H. Gary, spokesman of the steel men.

RELATIVES ARE DISSATISFIED WITH RESULTS

Brother of Dead Woman Thinks Apathy of Army Officials May Be Due to Desire to Shield Some One Responsible

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., March 21.—Alleging that army officers are far from diligent in their efforts to locate the persons responsible for the death of Inez Reed, army nurse, relatives of the dead woman today are considering an appeal to the war department for an investigation.

They state that in the two weeks since the identity of the body found in a canyon near San Mateo was established, the army investigators detailed on the case have apparently accomplished nothing. Arthur Reed, a brother of the dead woman, is making a private investigation to determine whether the army investigators' apathy is due to lack of interest in the case or to a desire to cover men in military clothes who might be connected either with the girl's betrayal or her death as a result of an illegal operation.

For several days, police have been awaiting announcement from the presidential investigators of the dead girl's effects from Fort Riley, Kansas, where she was stationed. Although there is reason to believe the trunk may contain clues leading to the solution of the mystery surrounding the girl's death, police say, army officers have not investigated the trunk's non-arrival.

FATE RULES AT WRESTLING BOUT

Second Attempt of Two Noted Mat Stars Ends in Victory for Speedy Contestant

BOISE, Idaho, March 21.—For the second time in two weeks, the hand in the game, and in the most sensational, speedy wrestling contest ever seen in Boise, snatched a possible victory from the grasp of the champion, Ed Santel, the Finney theater Thursday night. De Court, after throwing Santel once in 27 minutes, was obliged to forfeit the second fall and the match, which was being a dispirited vertebrae while in the throes of a Santel head scissors at the end of an even hour's scintillating mat work. In a previous match, De Court won the first fall in 24 minutes, then had to keep away from wrestling some months as a result of a broken shoulder. Otto M. Jones, state game warden, refereed the match, which was brilliant and featured throughout by science, skill and super-human displays of strength by both men.

De Court was the clearest, strongest, quickest, witted, cleanest and the flashiest mat man who ever appeared in Boise.

ACCOMPLICE IN MURDER CASE IS NOW IN CUSTODY

Husband of Poisoned Woman Surrenders Self to Police Ending Search of Several Days by State Authorities

SEATTLE, Wash., March 21.—Ruth Garrison, charged with poisoning Mrs. Grace Elizabeth Stora, will be arraigned on first degree murder charges before Judge Boyd Tallman in Superior Court at 1:30 p. m. today.

The man she loved—Dudley M. Stora—is in the city jail, but has not been permitted to see the girl charged with killing his wife by placing strychnine in a fruit cocktail while the two had lunch together in the El Marcho Tea Rooms Tuesday afternoon.

Shortly after 7 o'clock last night Stora entered the police station and surrounded himself, ending a search that began Wednesday morning when he failed to arrive on the train from Wenatchee. Previous to his surrender he telephoned Deputy Prosecutor John D. Carmody that he was in town and ready to give himself up.

Surrenders to Police

Apparently ill at ease, he walked into the detective office, where he was held by James Doom, acting night captain, until the arrival of Carmody and Captain of Detectives Charles Tennant. Ostensibly keyed up to a high nervous pitch, he walked about the room, examining the pictures on the walls, sniffing the books on the table and once even combed his hair before a small mirror.

The fact that he had not sent his wife money while he was living in Okanogan he explained by saying he had left her quite a little sum and because she was living with her father he thought that she could get along.

Questioned about living with the Garrison girl at Okanogan, he declared that he had never sent for her to come to him; that the first time she came he received a letter one Friday morning stating that she was coming on a night train.

"There was nothing to do but meet her," she stayed four or five days that time," he said.

In Okanogan, he said, he and the Garrison girl corresponded constantly, but his wife received no letters from him.

"The second time Ruth came," he said, "I didn't know she was in town. I went to the movies about 7:30 o'clock. The train got in at 8:30. It was around ten when I got home and Ruth was in my room. She left that time because she got a letter from her sister telling her that the family would take action against me if she didn't answer."

Refuses to Answer

Questioned about the intimate love of the girl, he refused to answer. He would not compare his affection for his wife with that for the girl who gave her all for him.

"Did you care more for your wife than you did for the girl?" was asked.

"I don't care to answer that question," replied Stora.

"You left your wife here when you went to Okanogan, didn't you?"

"Yes."

"Why didn't you take her with you?"

"We couldn't get a decent place to live in."

"Didn't Miss Garrison find a place to live while she was there?"

"I don't know that we couldn't get a job. Besides I didn't know if my job was to be permanent or not. I left her here with her mother until I found out what I was going to do over there."

"If you had been able to rent a house over there you would have taken her with you, wouldn't you?"

"Think so."

"You still love your wife, don't you?"

"I don't care to answer that question."

When questioned as to his intentions

with the girl, he said:

"I don't know. It's too deep for me."

"You had her so wildly in love with you that she would follow you anywhere?"

"I can't say."

"Did you invite her to come to Okanogan, or did she come of her own accord?"

"I don't know."

"Did you try to get her to leave that town?"

"No."

"Do you know why she came back to Seattle? Was it your suggestion?"

"No."

No Charges Placed Yet

Stora is 27 years old. He was born in Missouri but has lived here since the early 90's when his parents moved here. He worked in the sheriff's office for the past three years as mechanic in the county garage. Then he went to a local shipyard but when the strike came he went to Okanogan.

His appearance last night at the station created a sensation. He was known by a great many of the police officials, either by sight or by name and most of them recognized him.

While no charges have been placed against him he was ordered held for investigation last night. The order was given by Prosecutor Carmody and Captain Tennant after their examination of Stora.

Prosecuting Attorney, W. C. Gresham, of Okanogan county, has drawn up an information against Stora charging him with abduction.

HOG PRICES RISE WITH LIFTING OF EMBARGO

Quotations Advance to $17 per Ogdon Markets—Upward Trend General

OGDEN, March 21.—Following the lifting of the embargo on pork shipments and the elimination of the government control for the price of hogs, there has been a noticeable advance in the market quotations for hogs at the various stock yards. The Ogden markets have advanced so that $17 is now the quotation.

This advance was predicted by Ogden livestock men before the embargo was lifted and is taken as confirmation of the further view that high quotations for hogs will continue. Under the foot and shipping agreement reached with Germany, great shipments of pork products are to be made to that country. Following the arrangements for similar shipments to Great Britain, France, Italy, Jugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, as well as some of the neutral countries, the European demand promises to be tremendous. America has, comparatively, but slight surplus of hogs. The world condition, with the law of supply and demand operating on all the markets, must bring advanced prices.

The time has arrived when the farmers of the intermountain country must make their definite plans for all spring and summer work and attention to the livestock men and meat packers, they can make no more successful arrangement than to enlarge the livestock business by raising more hogs. In connection with this, the old theory that the farmer gets both profits when he raises grain and feeds that grain to hogs is pointed out—only both profits are certain to be larger this year. An increase in the price of hogs during the period that during the next two years there will not be enough hogs to supply the demand even though there is the greatest interest in stimulating this industry—and every few days news of the international food situation brings confirmation of that opinion.

REPORT REVEALS INCREASING USE OF IDAHO POWER

Preliminary Figures on Idaho Stations Are Made Public Showing Addition of 18 Establishments in Five Years

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—Preliminary figures of the forthcoming quinquennial report on the central electric light and power stations of the state of Idaho have been given out by Director Sam L. Rogers of the bureau of the census, department of commerce. They were prepared under the supervision of Eugene F. Hartley, chief statistician for manufactures.

The statistics relate to the years ending December 31, 1917, 1912 and 1907, and cover both commercial and municipal plants. They do not, however, cover electric plants operated by factories, hotels, etc., which generate current for their own consumption; those operated by the federal government and state institutions; and those that were idle or in course of construction.

Increases All Along.

Increases are shown in nearly all important items for both five-year periods covered by the report but the increases from 1907 to 1912 were in most cases both absolutely and relatively greater than those for the preceding five years. This condition is due to the fact that since the census of 1912 extensive combinations have been made in the electric systems of the states of Idaho and Utah, as a result of which a small increase in Idaho during the five-year period 1912-17 is accompanied by a very great increase in Utah. Considering the two states as a whole, the differences between the rates of increase for 1907-12 and for 1912-17 would be much less pronounced than in the case for either state alone.

Eighteen New Establishments.

The number of stations increased from 38 in 1912 to 46 in 1917. The actual number of new establishments added since 1912 was 18, of which 11 were commercial and four municipal, but, as the result of a number of combinations in the commercial systems and of various other changes, a net increase of only eight establishments, five of which are municipal, is shown by the figures. In 1917, the total income, 93 per cent of which was for electric service, amounted to $2,368,619, the percentages of increase being 26.7 and 22.1, respectively. The total horsepower in Idaho during the period 1912-17 and 1907-12, respectively.

The total expenses were $1,947,657, the percentages of increase for the later and earlier five-year periods being 26.7 and 22.1, respectively. The total horsepower in Idaho during the period 1912-17 and 1907-12, respectively.

The total dynamo capacity, 37,103 kilowatts, shows an increase of 4 per cent as compared with 1912, the rate of increase during the preceding five-year period being 30.5 per cent. The amount of carbon government being 145,307,290 kilowatt hours, representing an increase of 25.5 per cent over 1912, as against 1,109.5 per cent for the period 1907-12. The number of arc arc lamp decreases from 1309 in 1912 to 924 in 1917, or by 16.7 per cent, while the incandescent lamps increased in number from 3886 to 6863, or 76.6 per cent.

WHY NOT A TWIN FALLS COUNTY AUTO CLUB?

Time was, a few years ago, when a very successful, if short lived automobile association flourished in these parts. Today there are at least four times as many cars in the county as there were a few years ago.

cent of all the automobile owners were town dwellers, it is a question today if there are not more cars owned in the country than in all the towns of the county put together.

An auto club would be a logical and a good thing.

There is food for reflection in the fact that over 23,000 persons, 23,872, to be exact, voted in an informal poll conducted by a Portland, Oregon, newspaper, in favor of a League of Nations, as against 137, voting against such League.

The figures bear out the view of the great bulk of all the people everywhere. Of this there can be little room for question. A world understanding with respect to war, is today the most desirable thing to which mankind may look forward, and a League of Nations is the only thing which gives promise of bringing this about.

Figured down to a common sense basis and stripped of legal verbiage, what this part of the world wants is a League of Nations so constituted as to prevent war, while at the same time leaving intact to America the advantage of America's isolation and precluding at all times any possibility whatever of the United States being compelled to maintain armed troops outside of the confines of America or to take a military part in the settlement of quarrels arising throughout the old world.

If this sort of a League of Nations can be devised, and to date no good reason has developed as to why it should not, the people of America have nothing to fear. Probably this is about the average American's idea of a League of Nations. In all probability it was the idea of ninety per cent of the men and women who voted in favor of the proposition at Portland.

COMMENT, BY AND LARGE

Pertinent paragraphs on current events, official acts and the general trend of events, at home and abroad. Edited by Captain C. L. Longley.

THE SUCKER LIST

In the ultimate interest of the soon-to-be-forced Liberty or Victory loan, as well as of holders of former issues, the division of information of the federal trade commission has sent to the newspapers of the country a circular letter containing some rather startling facts, as well as persuasive argument.

For instance: The bureau of the U. S. treasury department, charged with keeping accurate tabs on such matters, officially states that the promotion and promoters of wild-cat investment schemes have never been so active or more successful than today, and that the American people are being lured by trying to worthless stock schemes at the rate of over a half billion of dollars per annum—for which they will receive in return nothing but thin air.

"The fakir is after them. Thousands of 'salesmen' carefully drilled in the gentle art of 'selling on the first call' and getting out of town, are abroad. They will tell you you were a patriot, a real citizen, to have bought Liberty bonds. However, you've made your sacrifice, the war's over now—and really 4-4-4 per cent is no return at all in peace times—let us exchange your bonds for this exceptional offering positively guaranteed to bring in anywhere from 10 to 500 per cent in dividends before the year's out—as soon as the oil well in Kansas, the mine shaft completed, or the property developed, or the like.

"That is the brand of the stock swindler, today; that he is 'willing'—as an accommodation to you, you understand—to 'accept' your good Liberty bonds in 'exchange' for his worthless stuff."

THE LODGE-LOWELL DEBATE As the wisest and fairest solution of any mooted question can only be reached by the fullest possible understanding, and discussion and consideration of every phase thereof, all patriotic citizens should hail the manner in which the details of the present covenant for a league of nations is being brought before the public. The voice of many able men are being heard upon the subject, pro and con; but up to the present moment the chief attention will be attracted by the debate between Senator Cabot Lodge and Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard university.

It was understood, as a matter of course, that Senator Lodge would attack and Dr. Lowell defend the Willing Covenant. No surprise, when he began the debate, upon his part, by repeating such a declaration. But that the champion of the president's scheme should begin his defense by saying, "The covenant of Paris is very defective in its drafting," was indeed a surprise. And when he came to add, listen in his argument, referring to the league that has been presented to the people of the United States, "I hope from my heart it will be amended and that we shall have a league in proper form, properly prepared," it really did not seem as if there was much left for the senator and himself to debate about.

That the two alleged disputants were in reality very close together will appear, after reading the above, from Senator Lodge's statement that, "The only question of a practical nature is whether the league that has been drafted will tend to secure the peace of the world, as it stands, and whether it is just and fair to the people of the United States." Senator Lodge answers both these questions in the negative, with reasons; and Dr. Lowell is evidently not prepared to affirm them.

And now they are criticizing small War Secretary Baker from a new angle, claiming that one-legged soldier patients in a government hospital have had to wash their own clothing, and that Mr. Baker said, in apology, that there was no appropriation for laundry work. Oh, my!

The Villa audits have just made a twelve-day campaign of killing and

SPEAKERS FROM AMONG STUDENTS IN PRELIMINARY

Nine Out of 16 Contestants in Try-Out Qualify for Place in Final High School Declamation Contests

From among 16 students taking part in the preliminary local declamation contest at the high school Thursday, nine were selected by a board of judges composed of members of the faculty to participate in the local final contest to take place in two weeks for the purpose of qualifying three speakers to represent the school in the state declamation contest in Blackfoot during the last week in April. Three speakers were chosen from each of the three classes, oratorical, dramatic and humorous. In the final contest one speaker from each of the three classes is to be chosen.

Winners of Preliminary

There was no contest in the oratorical class, and the three entrants, Frances Ellis, Theodore Keniston and Waldemar Bead, all will take part in the final contest.

Out of seven entrants in the dramatic class, the winners in the preliminary were Thelma Banks, Dorothy Kenworthy and Inez Puckett.

In the humorous class, Alice Lyons, Ida Hogg and Loyce Lee were chosen to take part in the final contest.

Other entrants in the dramatic class in the preliminary contest were Isa Brown, Dorothy McCarty, Cecile Slater, Bessie Thomas, Burton Van Tassel, and in the humorous class, Marjorie League.

The students taking part in the preliminary contest had had practically no training for their part. Those who judge the winners will be taken in charge at once by Miss Ida A. Brown, instructor in public speaking, and drilled thoroughly for the final contest. Miss Merlyna Walker gave several piano numbers during the evening of the preliminary contest. Several patrons of the school were in attendance.

ATTEMPT TO MIX BOOZE AND COAL IS FORESTALLED

Unnamed Twin Falls Citizen Is Prisoner at Pocatello Charged With Illegal Transportation of Liquor

An unnamed citizen of Twin Falls, to whom a carload of coal was consigned from Wyoming, is a prisoner at Pocatello, according to word received today by the sheriff's office, because he manifested extraordinary interest in the shipment, and was apprehended on Thursday by officers at Pocatello while in the act of removing surplus coal from the car in which 15 cases of whiskey, worth at retail prices about $1,500, were concealed.

The arrest comes as a result of intelligence ferreted out by Sheriff A. N. Sprague and Deputy Sheriff P. O. Horrigan and communicated by them to the Pocatello officials. The information gained by the local officers is somewhat fragmentary and no hint as to the identity of the alleged owner of the booze cargo is given in word received by the sheriff's office from Pocatello.

Elizabeth, you adorable girl:

It is more than nice of you to be planning an announcement luncheon for me and I know it will be a memorable occasion for you have written ten whole pages about it—four about the decorations, two about the music, one about the invitations and three about what the Dearest Lad would probably term "the cats."

But I think I will share a bit of the responsibility and have the place-cards made for you. Since your letter came, I have had portraits made at The Bisbee Studio, very small ones, just right for one leaf of the folding place-card, and Mr. Bisbee is printing miniature copies from one of the negatives he made of the Dearest Lad in his khaki uniform. Then Mrs. Bisbee suggested, when I told her about the ivy-covered old Trinity church, that I decide to have a sketch of it worked in as the cover page and an ivy border as an initial plate at the close.

Of course, I am delighted with it all, and while you have not sent me the complete list, I have ordered five dozen of the cards. That will just about include all the girls, and certainly our beloved class adviser, Miss Merriman, and the Dearest Lad's mother and my own.

I saw the finished place-cards for the first time this morning; they have the originality that is typical of Bisbee photographs and I know you will like them. Mrs. Bisbee was packing them all in a white box, dainty with seals and ribbon, when I left; I gave her your address so the cards will be mailed directly to you.

I haven't decided upon the details yet, but you and I have been bridesmaids together more than once in dear old Trinity; it seems that you should be in my own bridal procession. So, will you be my matron of honor, Elizabeth Dear? And the time will be June—"the month of the rings and the wedding bells."

Goodbye for now,

ROAD BUILDING BIG INDUSTRY OF NEXT BIENNIUM

No Time Is Wasted in Carrying Out Program Approved by Voters at Bond Election in Twin Falls District

Building of good roads will be a principle industry in the Twin Falls district during the next two years, that being the period of time required, in the estimation of W. L. Johnson, district supervisor of highways, for the completion of the road building program for which funds were provided by the approval at the election Tuesday of the $1,250,000 bond issue.

The main traveled roads, which are to be paved, will be improved as the first consideration, Mr. Johnson says. It is his purpose, if possible, to have roads leading from the several towns of the district for two miles in every direction completed by the opening of the spring of 1920. The heaviest traffic in the district passes over these roads which become impassible before other roads are seriously affected during the winter and spring months.

The work on other roads provided for in the program, however, will be neglected in the attainment of this consideration, and contracts for construction of roads throughout the system will be let as rapidly as possible.

Start for Hansen Span.

On the day following the election a survey party in charge of S. L. Johnson, was sent out from the highway offices here to begin setting stakes at intervals of 100 feet for the center or traverse line to be followed in building paved roads from the Hansen suspension bridge across Snake river south to Hansen and west to Twin Falls together with roads feeding into this line. This first party will be followed by another in charge of E. A. D. Bounds to establish a cross-section of the route.

Since the engineering work in connection with this section of roads is likely to be completed first, it is probable that contracts for construction will be among the first to be let, Mr. Johnson stated today. It is expected that the first contracts for construction will be awarded about June 1 and that the final construction will be completed by the end of the year.

Why Colds Are Dangerous.

You are often told to "beware of a cold," but why? We will tell you. Every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases. People who contract pneumonia first take cold. The longer a cold hangs on, the greater the danger, especially from the germ disease, as a cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of consumption, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. The quicker you get rid of your cold, the less the danger of contracting one of these diseases. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation as a cure for colds and can be depended upon. It is pleasant to take.—adv.

contract will be let not later than November 1.

From two to four other parties of surveyors will be sent into the field on other sections of the road from the highway offices as rapidly as engineers can be secured to take charge of the work.

Outlines Organization.

In planning his organization for carrying out the road building program, Mr. Johnson is dividing the work under four heads, as follows: office engineering, construction and quarry. The quarry department, which would have charge of the production of the crushed rock for use in road building, has not as yet been provided for definitely in the plan. To the construction department will be referred all matters relating to building of roads for which contracts were not let.

Carl E. Paetzer, supervising engineer for the Burns & McDonnell in the installation of the Twin Falls water supply system, who has been here in that capacity since May, 1918, has been named as superintendent of the engineering department.

Motor Truck Delivered.

Delivery was made Thursday to the highway district of a two-ton Garford motor truck, which will be used as a service truck in connection with maintenance and construction of roads.

APHIS' DISAPPEARANCE PUZZLES ENTOMOLOGIST

R. H. Smith Encounters Interesting Angle in His Investigation

The total disappearance since February 10 of myriads of clover aphids from the Twin Falls area, which has had under observation for several months in a situation that is puzzling R. H. Smith, entomologist of the University of Idaho, in charge of clover aphid control investigations here. Whether recent weather conditions alone have been responsible for the eradication of these insect pests in these instances is a question in regard to which Mr. Smith hesitates to make a positive statement since further observation of a third plot has revealed several of their family still remaining.

The first plots, Mr. Smith states, were those in which there was abundance of vegetation, while the third plot was practically bare when the winter set in. He is inclined toward the opinion that water retained in the vegetation in the first plots during periods of alternate storm and fair weather proved the undoing of the insects residing there, while on the more open field the action of the weather was of lesser duration.

The situation is one, however, in which Mr. Smith, as a scientist is deeply interested and to which he is devoting careful study.

SERVICE CROSS IS WON BY MAN WHO GAVE LIFE

Corporal Frank Zilkkey of May, Idaho, Distinguishes Self by Fearless At- tacks on Nests in Argonne

Corp. Frank Zilkkey, deceased, of May, Idaho, a member of the Company D, 10th infantry, has been awarded the distinguished service cross for extraordinary heroism in action near the forest of Argonne, France, October 9, 1918, regarding which the official citation says:

After all the other members of his squad had been killed or wounded in advancing on a hostile machine gun, Corp. Zilkkey pressed forward alone in the face of direct fire from the gun, and by remarkable courage, captured both the gun and its crew. Upon his own initiative, he then started out alone to attack another gun and was killed.

The cross will be delivered to his mother, Mrs. J. J. Carr, at May.

Nativity of Peach Tree.

The peach tree is a native of Persia and China. It was brought to Italy by the Romans in the time of the Emperor Claudius, was cultivated in Europe as early as 1650 and brought to America about 1680. Its name is derived from Persico, its native country. The ancients regarded it with distrust, as according to Pliny they supposed the king of Persia had sent it into Egypt to poison the inhabitants with whom he was at war. The Chinese have traditions of a peach tree of knowledge and another of immortality.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE ARE JOINED IN WEDLOCK

Miss Thelma Conover Becomes Bride of Truman T. Greenhalgh With "Pretty Home Ceremony"

A wedding of more than usual interest was that of Miss Thelma Conover to Truman T. Greenhalgh on Thursday afternoon. The wedding took place at 2 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Conover. Rev. C. L. Owen of the Baptist church performed the ring service. The wedding party stood before an embankment of pink roses and amilax. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white charmeuse, made on simple lines. She carried an elaborate shower bouquet of bridal roses and fern. The bride's attendant, her sister, Mrs. Orley Laird, wore a dainty costume in pink georgette. Orley Laird was best man.

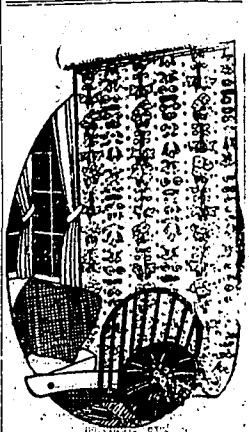

The bride's mother was charmingly gowned in delft blue georgette. The entire house was decorated in pink and white roses arranged in baskets. After the ceremony a luncheon of five courses was served. The luncheon table was most dainty and attractive with its decorations in pink and white sweet peas.

Only the immediate family and relatives were present at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Greenhalgh left for Salt Lake where they will spend an indefinite time. The bride's traveling suit was of blue. She wore a corsage bouquet of Cecil Bruner roses.

After their return from Salt Lake Mr. and Mrs. Greenhalgh will make their home in Twin Falls.

MRS. CHRISTENSEN GAINS 36 POUNDS

Health Was Completely Shattered When She Began Taking Tanlac.

"Just give me Tanlac and you may have all the other medicines," said Mrs. C. W. Christensen, residing at 1616 South 34th street, Tacoma, Washington.

"Those who have not seen me since I began taking Tanlac," continued Mrs. Christensen, "would hardly know me on first sight. I have undergone such a change. Why, do you know I have actually gained thirty-six pounds. It hardly sounds reasonable, but it's the truth. I had suffered from nervousness and frequent dizzy spells for seven years, and my sleep was so broken, and I was so tired that I hardly felt like getting up in the mornings. My back felt like it would break in two. It hurt me so badly and my kidneys bothered me all the time. Everything I would eat tasted bad and my stomach was so upset that I could not eat more than one meal a day, and that was very light one. Besides all this, about eighteen months ago, I was in an automobile accident and have been almost a nervous wreck ever since. I thought my condition was bad enough before, but afterwards my health was completely shattered. The pains in my back were almost unbearable; my stomach got worse and I was in dreadful plight. I felt weak all the time and I had only ninety-eight pounds was hardly more than a frame—and was confined to my bed for several weeks.

"Finally a friend of my husband advised me to get me to try Tanlac, and my improvement commenced with the first bottle. I have been gaining in weight and strength ever since until now, but my troubles are not only gone, but I feel just as strong and well as I ever did. I eat just anything and enjoy it and nothing hurts me a particle. My nerves are strong and steady and I sleep so well that I am glad for night to come, and getting my fine comes so early for me in the mornings. Tanlac has certainly brought health and happiness to me and I can't say too much in its praise.

"Tanlac is sold in Twin Falls by City Pharmacy, in Rogerson by Thompson Drug Co., in Murching by Murching Drug Co., in Filer by A. B. Wood, in Buhl by C. D. Boring Brothers Co., and in Kimberly by A. L. Stowe—adv."

C. D. Thomas Asks 1000 Citizens to Give $100 Each to Fund to Commemorate County's Service Men

One thousand citizens of Twin Falls county are having in letters being mailed today by C. D. Thomas to contribute $100 or more each to a fund for the purpose of improving the Shoshone Falls state park and erecting in it a monument in commemoration of the service men from this county in the great war in accordance with plans determined upon to be carried into execution by the Shoshone Falls Park memorial association.

Mr. Thomas, who has been named by the association to take charge of the collection of this fund, is appealing to persons included in this list of potential subscribers of $100 to make this subscription as a suitable recognition of the services of the men who sacrificed so that you could live in peace and security.

The names of the donors of $100 to this fund are to be published daily, and a certificate showing the amount of the subscription is to be given each.

Asked Only Mailed by Mr. Thomas

The letter being mailed by Mr. Thomas is as follows:

You no doubt are aware of the plans that have been perfected for the building of a memorial to our honored soldier dead and a tribute to the living. These boys made a sacrifice, so that you could live in peace and security.

White they were fighting for you at $30.00 per month you were enjoying unrequited prosperity at home and doing your share to support the boys in the front line trenches.

The only thing these boys asked when they marched away was, that if they fell on the field of battle that they would not be forgotten.

Now it is your turn to do it. I do not doubt but what you are glad, so that we can erect a memorial so that these boys will be forgotten.

We are asking that one give at least $100 each. You can give as much more as you wish. If you are unable to give $100, you can give $50, $25, or $10. Enclosing your check for $100 or more, your name will be published in the paper on the honored list of the thousand men, these names to be published each day in the paper.

TRAINING ASSISTS LEGLESS TRAINMAN TO GOOD JOB

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—William H. Mitchell, 29, single, a former railway trainman who had lost both legs in an accident, has found a job at good pay in which, despite his handicap, he can do as well as other workmen.

After a short time the superintendent recommended that he be dismissed, on the ground that he was not making good. A training department had meantime been established in the plant, however, and the manager decided to place Mitchell in the school. The man, though intelligent, was not particularly rapid in his work. After a few weeks of training, however, he was able to carry on successfully several important mechanical processes, and within a short time he had doubled his normal day's output.

Mitchell declares that the training department proved his salvation. It not only saved him his job, but increased his pay and his opportunities.

FIRST PAPER MILL IN U. S.

The first paper mill in New England was established by Daniel Hochman, born in Boston 230 years ago. It was not the first of its kind on the continent, however, the pioneer mill for the manufacture of paper having been built in 1690 by William Rittinghouse at a point within the city limits of Philadelphia. The first paper mills in England were erected at Dartford in 1580. The French and the Dutch, however, were the first Europeans to manufacture paper. Papermaking machinery was invented by Louis Robert, who sold his model to Didot, the great printer, who perfected the apparatus, with the assistance of Fourdrinier. The latter obtained an English patent in 1801, and gradually the paper industry was revolutionized.
