

WANTS OPINION OF LABOR MEN ON IMMIGRATION

Administration Senators Would Like Views of Gompers on Possibility of Oriental Peoples Coming to America

BY L. E. MARTIN WASHINGTON, March 25.—Senator Gompers may be expected to call attention to the subject of immigration in his opinion, the league of nations constitution now provides a loop hole through which free immigration of orientals may become legal.

To Prevent Race Equality Phelan, a strong administration democrat and league advocate, appealed to Borah to do everything in his power to prevent insertion of a clause which would give a loop hole by which oriental peoples will possess equality with the white race in the United States.

Gompers' Opinion Gompers is to be asked, it is said, whether he interprets the covenant in this respect as he interprets it will be possible under its present form, for Japan to force a decision by the league of the right of her subjects to enter the United States on an equality with white citizens.

Opposition Gompers is to be asked, it is said, whether he interprets the covenant in this respect as he interprets it will be possible under its present form, for Japan to force a decision by the league of the right of her subjects to enter the United States on an equality with white citizens.

Three Methods Senator Borah today explained what, in his opinion, the methods are by which Japan could force action on immigration.

Articles 12, 13, 15 and 16 of the proposed covenant provide for arbitration of "major disputes between nations," said Borah, "there is no exception or exclusion of any specific question, hence arbitration can be made to cover immigration, as well as any other matter."

Under article 11, war or a threat of war is declared to be a matter of concern to the league, which reserves the right to take any action it may see fit. Suppose immigration of Japanese into the United States should be made the subject of a controversy which might bring the two countries to the verge of an open rupture, then the league could have the power to force arbitration on the question.

The third method is the one by which Japan probably would first approach the question. Article 24 provides that the executive council may make any treaty, subject to the ratification of the league which may in any way threaten the league's stability or the world's peace.

The Hungarian Revolution to Date

LONDON, March 25.—While the peace delegates are discussing an identical adjustment of central European events, the moving in the west there is little to be nothing left for them to do but to hurry. This typifies the spirit of comment here today on the latest developments in Hungary and Germany. The morning papers are frankly signed at the tendency toward a Bolshevistic bloc in eastern and central Europe, leaving the continent divided against itself.

The Times points out that the league of nations is not responsible for the delay in settling a peace settlement, the league being the only concrete production of the conference so far, and the most workable method of carrying out the terms of the treaty. The Times believes the real cause of lack of organization in the conference is the failure to eliminate non-essentials.

FRENCH PARLEY OVER PLANS TO GREAT BUFFER

State of Chaos Reigns at Peace Table Over Refusal of Member to Give Up Cherished Scheme of Border Protection

PARIS, March 25—The peace conference began what was supposed to be the last week of its work on the preliminary peace treaty with everything apparently in a state of chaos. It seemed as though the delegates had nothing to show for their many weeks of hard work except the increased accumulation of unsolved problems.

If the situation is half as bad as its surface indications, it seems certain the conference will not wind up its work on the treaty this week or for several weeks. But members of the American delegation pointed out that the situation is similar to that of the closing days of congress, a state legislature or a national convention—when it appears impossible that the work will be completed, yet it is always finished.

French Holding Firm

There is a tendency to feel, too, that hereafter the British and Americans will cut the Gordian knots in the peace settlement by the direct method of laying down a program of settlement and enforcing by their economic financial and political domination.

For instance, the Rhine question appeared insoluble today. The French were still holding out for territorial acquisitions on the left bank. Various compromises have been suggested, rejected and renewed. The most notable of these is the creation of buffer states by establishing independence of the Rhinish provinces. If no scheme consistent with the principle of self-determination and so achieved, the problem is expected to be terminated by a flat American and British declaration somewhat to this effect:

Must Accept Offer
"You have tried and we have helped you to work out a plan. The territorial guarantees which will not violate the principles underlying the armistice. Our attempts have ended in failure. Therefore, you must accept simply the guarantee offered under the league of nations."

Few here doubt the ability of Great Britain and the United States to enforce the solution above suggested. The Anglo-American delegates are expected to take the same attitude toward Italy and Japan. As a result, while there appears to be no objection to the French proposal, the question is always possible to fasten the lid on international bickering and sign a treaty covering all necessary points in line with the armistice provisions.

LEADERS OPPOSE SHOP STEWARDS

LONDON, March 6—(By Mail)—Organized labor leaders in a vigorous movement as a serious menace to the principle of collective bargaining for wages, war which trade unionists stand for.

The extremism which many of the leaders of the shop steward movement profess is the greatest danger to organized labor today. It will be the hardest obstacle same labor leaders will have to overcome during the next 10 years in England.

Dr. Phillips suggested the possibility of the shop steward principle being adopted by labor later on as a method of settling purely local questions. She did not think the present union leaders would ever subscribe to the aims of the men who are leading the shop steward disturbances. In fact, she did not think the strikers themselves would carry the thing through if it came to an actual strike.

The danger in the shop steward movement lies not so much in their peculiar theory of trade unionism, but in the bolshevist tendencies of its leaders. Dr. Phillips said: "They are going to make the work of the same trade union leader extremely difficult. They are fanning class hatred."

Bramley pointed out that "the trade union theories of the shop steward movement and organized labor all are diametrically opposed."

Organized labor stands for collective bargaining, while the shop stewards favor exactly the opposite, he said. "We believe wage matters can be handled more effectively on a local basis. They want to take up each dispute locally."

"The shop steward principle might succeed in other matters of a purely local character—matters pertaining to a certain plant or district, such as certain sanitary conditions in the plant or certain minor personal injuries of subordinates."

Both Dr. Phillips and Bramley believed that the extremist faction now leading the shop steward movement, has acted as a more serious and a factor in the trade union situation in England.

WIRELESS PHONE MAY SPAN OCEAN

NEW YORK, March 25—"Hello! Hello! Is this New York? Yes! Well, how's every little thing along Broadway?"

"Ah, hello, there, cousin! How's dear Old Lunnon?"

A telephonic conversation between London and New York? Yes, certainly. And at no very far distant date, either. At least, that's what the Marconi wireless experts are saying in New York. And they ought to know—for the experts have been making some very exhaustive experiments.

Roy A. Weagant, Marconi's chief engineer, announced shortly after the armistice was signed that his company would quite eliminate the interference of static electricity from radio-graphic currents. At first the scientific world was skeptical. They didn't think it could be done.

Nevertheless, Weagant was correct in his deductions, according to the Marconi company, and as a result plans already in the way for the installation of a wireless telephone system between New York and London.

Stations, or "strays," as they are known in the bewildering language of the wireless experts, are loose uncontrolled electrical elements. Weagant told the members of the New York Electrical Society, and these stations stray into the wireless messages sent through the air. They cause such din at times that the messages are drowned. He has discovered the natural cause of the trouble is that in a vertical path, Weagant added while the wave links of a radio message take a path parallel with the earth.

Weagant's discovery makes it possible to cancel the static going one way and the wireless wave going at right angles. In this way the two are kept from coming into contact. The static, if all of the trouble is thus eliminated, in commenting upon the discovery, Marconi officials said that the elimination of atmospheric interference perfectly arranged a miracle display for one that transatlantic telephony is a comparatively simple matter. As a result, the wireless telephone will soon come into the home, the experts maintain, and the human voice, speaking in New York, will quickly find an echo in London.

Why Colds Are Dangerous.

You are often told to "beware of a cold," but why? We will tell you: Every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases. People who contract pneumonia first take cold. The longer a cold hangs on, the greater the danger, especially from the germ disease, as a cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germ. Consumption, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. The quicker you get rid of your cold, the less the danger of contracting one of these diseases. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a sure cure for colds and can be depended upon. It is pleasant to take.—adv.

Miss Georgia Belle Elwell to Give Demonstration at High School in Response to Requests.

In response to the request of those not able to enter her classes, a public demonstration for home dressmakers will be given by Miss Georgia Belle Elwell, clothing specialist, university extension division, on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the auditorium of the Twin Falls high school.

Miss Elwell, by doing the actual work before her audience, how to measure the figure, and how to alter patterns to fit different figures; also how to use the dress form in home dressmaking. She will use dress forms and patterns and will remodel an old dress.

Charges Mayhem as Sequel to Fracas

Joe Buchannan Accused of W. C. Simmons of Damaging His Ear.

A warrant for the arrest of W. C. Simmons, accused by Joe Buchannan of the crime of mayhem as a sequel to the encounter between the men on Main avenue west Saturday evening, in which Buchannan's ear was damaged, after a preliminary examination by Judge O. F. Duval, Simmons pleaded not guilty to the charge and furnished bond in the sum of $1000 to secure his appearance at a preliminary examination on Monday next.

The suit is said to be the result of a verbal encounter between the men in a dance hall early in the evening. Both were arrested Monday morning by City Clerk W. A. Minnick, acting police judge, and paid fines of $5 each.

PROMISES TO MAKE OLD TIRES AS GOOD AS NEW

New Enterprise Enters Local Field to Save Motorists Money.

An institution which, it is claimed, will convert material seeming to be fit only for junk into automobile tires difficult to distinguish from the new product is promised for Twin Falls, by C. H. Brown, who arrived here recently from Nevada, Mo., and who is to be associated in the enterprise with his two sons, Alvin, H. W. Brown, now in duty with the army dental corps, and Howard C. Brown, now in the cast obtaining equipment for the shop, and with his son-in-law, A. L. Anchors, of Twin Falls.

The building adjoining the Studebaker Brothers company offices on Second street west, has been secured by the firm as the home for the institution, which will be ready for business as soon as equipment is received and installed. The rights for use of the equipment in Idaho has been secured by the firm.

C. H. Brown was for 23 years associated with the Thornton National bank at Nevada, Mo., and quit his position there as assistant cashier to embark in the enterprise here. He is accompanied here by his family and has purchased a residence on Fourth avenue north.

WAR GUILT AND PUNISHMENT IS FINALLY FIXED

Committee on Responsibility of Conflict Is Understood to Have Reached a Decision Regarding Perpetrators

PARIS, March 25.—The matter of providing economic safeguards to prevent Germany "capturing the world market" during an armistice, there is a strong likelihood that each nation will be left to look out for itself in this regard, it was learned from an authoritative source today.

Added to the questions which will be settled on the simple ground of principle, apparently is that of indemnities. Premier Lloyd George has been in frequent conversation with Lord Curzon and Lord Sumner, British financial experts. There is little belief in British circles now that the promoters' campaign promise to make Germany pay the cost of the war will be realized.

The committee on responsibility for the conflict is reported to have completed its work reaching conclusions as recently outlined—drawing up what practically amounts to an international indictment, affecting every offender from the former Kaiser down to the lowest private.

Plans for Trial
Contrary to the original plan, however, it is reported that the committee recommend that all offenders be tried in the countries in which their crimes were committed, except where there are no national laws fitting their cases.

A serious commentary was made recently by one of the committee members, the American member.
