CANDIDATES FOR CHICAGO OFFICE ROUNDING VOTES

Three Principals Are Working Hard in an Effort to Gain the Majority at Lake City Election

CHICAGO, March 31.—The three major candidates for mayor of Chicago today were spending the last hours of the campaign in rounding up the "lost vote" which wisecracks believed will be the deciding factor.

While all managers claimed pluralities from 7,000 to 100,000 votes few outside the candidates' camps ventured guesses.

The candidacy of John Fitzpatrick, labor nominee, was an admitted puzzling factor. Mayor managers agreed that if he should surprise the city by pulling what many claim he will—60,000 votes—any one of the "big three" may be upset.

Mayor William Hale Thompson, republican nominee for re-election; Robert M. Sullivan, democrat; and Mayday Howard, independent, will show their campaign with theatre speeches tonight. The windup today was expected to turn the downtown district into a ballroom.

Sixty labor unions were reported to have voted to quit work tomorrow to patrol polling places in the interest of their candidates.

FOOD SUPPLIES ARE PRINCIPAL EXPORT SOURCE

Edibles Instead of Munitions Form Main Part of Cargo Leaving America for Foreign Consumption

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Food stuffs instead of dynamic munitions are the main part of American exports to Europe these days.

Whereas, in 1917 exports of explosives to Europe from the United States totalled $100,000,000, the value of foodstuffs and other commodities shipped to Europe today amount to $1,000,000,000.

Wheat and wheat flour, corn and corn meal, and other foodstuffs are the principal items being shipped to Europe.

Wheat is the most important export commodity, constituting 32 per cent of American exports. Raw wool and food animals total only eight per cent, despite the enormous general food shipments to Europe.

INSPECTOR YACHT IN EASTERN SHIPYARD

NEW YORK, March 31.—Sir Thomas Elliott went to Brooklyn today to inspect the yacht, Shamrock IV, which has been lying in a shipyard there ever since the outbreak of the war in 1914.

Sir Thomas arrived here yesterday on the Aquitania. He will spend some time making plans for the next race in 1920.

Sir Thomas said he probably would bring his newest Shamrock over next spring to engage in trial races with the Challenger.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Nation-wide prohibition is unbiblical and unchristian, declared Rev. Baker P. Lee of Los Angeles here today. Lee approves the closing of saloons, but states the bone-dry amendment will make the state of man worse than at present.

"I cannot think of anything more ridiculous and autocratic than taking from man and woman the right to drink light wines and beer," said Lee. "The prohibition movement is a political one, pure and simple, rather than one that affects the morals of the country. I oppose prohibition from a common sense standpoint."

The closing date probably will be set for next Saturday, according to some of the employers. This will throw 60,000 men out of employment.

ABOUT A PROGRAM

Radical Branch of Political Group Outlines Measures to Be Demanded

CLEVELAND, O., March 31.—Cleveland's socialist party today was lined up with the Russian Bolsheviks and German Spartacists. At a meeting here today it adopted a program providing for:

Establishment of a proletarian dictatorship and overthrow of capitalism.

Organization of workmen and soldiers' councils to take over the government.

Direct mass action instead of present political methods.

Election of socialists for the purpose of "Obstruction only."

Propaganda for revolutionary industrial unionism.

A well-organizational socialist party with the Bolsheviks, the Spartacists, and other Left Wing groups as members.

The meeting was secret. Six hundred members with paid-up membership cards were admitted. They included girls and women with children in their arms.

BERNSTORFF ESSAYS PART OF DEMOCRAT

By FRANK J. TAYLOR

BERLIN, March 30.—Count Bernstorff has joined the ranks of the democrats. He admits he has joined the party and the party admits he has been taken into the fold, though no statement came out officially.

Bernstorff's fluctuation into the democratic party came out in an unconscious and amusing way. In the early days of the revolution, in December, he spoke of "the democrats" and "the socialists."

By the end of January Bernstorff spoke unambiguously of adhering to "we democrats." On inquiry he stated he had joined the democrats and took part in their councils.

Joining the democrats has established Bernstorff's solidarity with the government, since the democrats are in coalition with the majority socialists.

Bernstorff was mentioned among the first of the "democrats" to get a seat in the new cabinet. He is in good favor with Germans generally, who appreciate his ability, but are dubious as to the way his presence in the government will be taken by the allied countries, especially America.

There was a strong movement to send him as a peace delegate, which was held back only by apprehension over his reputation or "legitimacy." Bernstorff sent out from Berlin and then branded as a "mistake" that Bernstorff had been appointed as a peace delegate. The Germans were eagerly for the reaction from the allied press.

TRANSPORTS BRING HOME SEVERAL THOUSAND MEN

Troops for Camp Sherman Arrive in New York Harbor With Many Others

NEW YORK, March 31.—The following transports arrived here today:

Maui Siboney and Alaskan. The latter is scheduled to arrive this afternoon.

Returning on the Maui was Brig. Gen. Sanford B. Stansbery, commanding the 73rd infantry brigade headquarters and commander of the 140th infantry, 65 officers and 2,617 men, the majority of whom were from Camp Sherman.

Other organizations were casual companies 1226 New Jersey, 1227 South Carolina, 1228 Illinois and 792 Kenton of the 140th infantry, 65 officers and 2,617 men, the majority of whom were from Camp Sherman.

Other organizations were casual companies 1226 New Jersey, 1227 South Carolina, 1228 Illinois and 792 Kenton of the 140th infantry, 65 officers and 2,617 men, the majority of whom were from Camp Sherman.

On the Alaskan were the 84th infantry, field and staff, second and third battalion headquarters company, supply company, motor detachment, medical detachment and companies E, F, G, H, I, K, L, and M, 40 officers and 2,981 men, and casual companies 904 and 911.

There were 3,397 officers and men on the Siboney of the following organization: 303rd infantry, headquarters, 2nd battalion supply company and companies F, G and H, 39 officers and 801 men; 364th infantry, field and staff headquarters third battalion, ordnance and medical detachments, headquarters and companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, K, L, M, and N, 21 officers and 2,469 men; casual companies number 912 New York; special companies 618 and 619, St. Nazaire convalescent detachment No. 130 and 2 casual officers.

The Culgona has 104 men for the following casual companies, 282 Arkansas, 283 Texas, 274 North Carolina, 289 scattered, 292 Texas, 298 Pennsylvania.

The French liner La Lorraine arrived today with 860 passengers, including 200 officers and 660 men of the following casual companies: 2481 regular, 2477 scattered, 2478 South Carolina, 2480 Nebraska, and 2481 scattered; special casual company 2474 for discharge and four casual officers.

Aboard the Maui was Brig. Gen. Stanford B. Stansbery, in command of the 73rd infantry, headquarters and staff of the 73rd division. With the general was his son, Carroll J. Stansbery, a private and orderly to his father. General Stansbery went across with the Ohio troops but they were transferred to the 73rd division and finished the war with the 78th division as a brigade commander.

The majority of the returning Ohio troops on the Maui are from Cincinnati and Canton. All are from the 37th division and have seen service since

They were mobilized probably in a week or two.

The other organizations arriving on the Aquitania went to Camp Mills, Dix and Utton to be "cleaned up" before going to their initial camps.

They were 85th division headquarters headquarters troops; 160th field artillery; 160th infantry brigade headquarters and staff; 160th field artillery detachment; 124th ammunition train detachment; 135th field artillery detachment; 124th engineers' detachment; 147th infantry companies F, G, H, I, K, L, M.; 140th infantry, medical, and camp detachments; 347th infantry, field and staff; 92nd base hospital; 40th base hospital unit, two casual companies and 98 casual officers.

Germany Hopes to Settle With Little Trouble

Danzig Question Is Not Expected to Cause a Break Between Allies and Berlin Officials

By FRANK J. TAYLOR

BERLIN, March 30.—(Delayed).—Hope grow in official circles here today that the Danzig question would be settled without a break with the allies. The newspapers approve the proposal for further negotiations with the allies regarding their demand that Polish troops be permitted to land at Danzig. Marshal Foch is said to have extended the invitation for a plenipotentiary to meet him at Spa to discuss this matter. The strike at Essen is increasing. More than 40,000 workers, under Spartacus leadership are demanding a general strike throughout central Europe.

SPRING FASHION SAYS CAPES ARE NEW AND NOVEL

Latest Thing in Cloaks Is Not a Cloak but a Cape Declares the Exacting Mistress of Latest Wear

By MARGARET ROBE.
You can't escape a cape, my dear. The fashion is on. Even I. She made herself some swaggy ones. Of all the choicest leavers. And when the leaves began to fall, she snapped them up. And blouses are wanted. When with the apple caught. Her mantle and her delectable now. The fashion is on. Even I. Though just a trifle thicker are. Their fabrics, I should say.

NEW YORK, March 31.—The spring maid is all wrapped up in capes as voluminously as her predecessor Madame Winter. No matter how she tries she can't seem to get out from under the graceful folds. The only difference between the winter and spring models is that the heavy richness of fur, velvet and silks is replaced by the clinging lightness of serge, tulle, wool jersey or tricot.

If we follow old Omar's admonition and fling our winter garment of reticence in the fire, spring itself will only be to don another exactly similar in cut and style. Of course the spring capes have gone and novel touches to bring them up to date, such as embroidery, scarf catches ending in swishing tassels, patch pockets and button exerecences jutting out in bubbly folds.

A perfect jewel of a model is of pearl gray jersey with a deep soft cape collar edged in a wide band of black silk. The wide band also finishes the slashes for the arms and a wide lining of orange and black checkerboard smart shows free and unobscured when the wind blows.

A smart draped cape of black taffeta has one of the deep soft collars also which is edged with a wide fringe of long arrow taffeta ribbon loops, as if from the bottom of the cape.

Another young thing, closely resembling a man's shirt, is a cape with a wide, fringed collar and a wide, fringed band. It is a bright, light, younger sister to the man's shirt and a first cousin to the man's shirt.

Sort of a summer evolution of the cape are the new mid Victorian models which are all clinging to fair shoulders again with all the elusive grace and pliant charm of the clinging vine.

There is as much art and coquetry in gracefully managing a scarf as there is in manipulating a fan. They can't feast an up-to-date 1919 female, however. She can step as nifty from her workman uniform into the butterfly flutter of a ruffled organza as she can a chiffon scarf as if she were a man.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 31.—Coal has been mined in a small way in the Big Hole mountains, Teton county in Idaho, for many years, to supply the local demand. The coal is of excellent quality and the chief drawback to its wider use has been the remoteness of the mines from the railroad. During the war the greatly increased demand for fuel led to an increase of interest in this field and late in 1918 preparations were being made to build a railroad spur to the mines from the Teton valley branch of the Oregon Short Line railroad. When this track is completed Idaho may take a higher rating as a producer of coal.

WAR GETS CREDIT FOR OPENING IDAHO MINES

PACKER UNDERTAKES TO EXPLAIN VARIED PRICES

Argues That Preference of Consumer and Market Conditions Are Factors.

Why should a sirloin steak that cost the consumer only 28 cents a pound in Minneapolis, Minn., cost 35 cents a pound in Boston, 50 cents with wide variations between those prices? Consumers are asking this question in the wake of statistics just prepared by the United States department of labor.

The difference in price is explained by a representative of Armour and Company, in the following explanation: "The demand, or lack of demand for sirloin, which may or may not have been popular in certain localities; the quality of the meat in the style of trim and cut; and market conditions."

"Why take a sirloin steak as a header piece of the cost of beef," the meat packer asked, when it represents but one per cent of the total bill, while chuck steak runs from 25 to 27 cents a pound, not logical to select a sirloin steak, or any particular cut, as representative of meat prices. There are just as many necks as there are sirloins and both are in demand.

"Demand Affects Prices." "If the demand is chiefly for sirloin, that cut will bring 60 cents, according to the government figures, and other cuts, less popular, will bring 25 cents. If the demand is chiefly for round steak, or chuck, those cuts will be comparatively cheap in price and sirloin will be on the bargain counter. Sirloin may be a favorite in some circles and in other quarters passed by unappreciatively for Mr. Chuck.

"There are markets in New York, Jersey and other large cities, when Chicago and other large cities, when sirloin is comparatively cheap in price and round or chuck steak is relatively high. This is largely due to the increased use of these cheaper, but equally nutritious cuts of beef as a result of better understanding of food values on the part of the housewife.

"A butcher's selling grounds are governed by the cost of doing business, rent, labor, convenience to markets and so on. A market doing a large volume of business can sell at a lower margin price than one whose overhead represents a greater expense for each pound of meat.

BRITISH WANT TO SIDETRACK FRENCH DEMAND

Excessive Reparation is Asked by Clemenceau's People and Lloyd George Plans to Head Off Indemnity Question

PARIS, March 31.—When the "big four" resumed its sessions today the question of reparation was expected to be the principal subject of discussion. An effort was to be made to dispose of this problem which is understood to have been chiefly instrumental in delaying the peace work during the past week.

Premier Lloyd George, it was learned, was prepared to offer a substitute for the French plan presented last week which proposed that France's share of indemnities be $10,000,000,000. A prominent financial expert told the United Press today that the "big four" had obtained the advice of several financiers in this matter and that the "unofficial" French proposal had been headed off.

Ward Off French Plan. While the informer did not reveal the exact nature of the finances he indicated that President Wilson and Lloyd George felt that $10,000,000,000 was excessive, amounting to from 25 billion to 40 billion dollars as has been agreed on as the maximum of reparations. He added that the situation is not so serious as it is often reported to be. Reconciliation of the French viewpoint with that of the other allies was admitted to present difficulties, but the problem will be solved eventually, he said. France has insisted on Germany paying a large proportion of the cost of the war. If she does not agree to pay an amount as she indicated the French will force her to pay heavier and will resent it, according to French officials. On the other hand, the other allies contend there is no use in presenting a hard war bill which could not be collected.

Territorial Questions. The week is likely to see an effort made to further crystallize the work of the "big four" in an effort to increase the amount of reparations in addition to including France to accept a lower figure for reparation. The other allies will seek to reconcile the French claim to the Saar Valley with Wilson's position that no territory now fortified by Germany must become a French possession. As one Paris newspaper expressed it, agreement of the Saar Valley would be likely to create a new Alsace-Lorraine.

FLYWEIGHTS CLASH IN LONDON FOR BIG PURSE

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN

LONDON, March 31.—Jimmy Wilde, flyweight champion of the world, and promoter, two of Great Britain, clashed in a twenty-round bout here tonight with Joe Lynch, the New York bantamweight.

Lynch will weigh in at 118 pounds. Wilde was well under the weight. The purse is $15,000.

The bout, staged at the National Sports Club, was the biggest international scrap to be held in London for years. Eugene Corri, the famous referee, was selected as third man in the ring.

Wilde, a small and solemn-faced youngster, has smashed his way through to the top of the fly, bantam and featherweight classes in this country. His last two fights in the featherweight class, displayed of Tony Lee, the British champion, and his challenger, Joe Condon, via the knockout route.

Lynch is more or less an unknown quantity here. He gave the British a glimpse of his style when he captured a twenty-round decision from the British bantam champion, Tommy Noble, last January.

MINERS' WIVES THREATEN TO STRIKE

LONDON, March 31.—(By Mail).—A strike of wives and children of coal miners is proposed to implore the Lloyd George government with the necessity of keeping its prohibition principles of better housing conditions.

Agitators now are boosting the movement at neighborhood gatherings of miners' wives.

The wives are being urged to organize unions and abstain from all household duties, including cooking and cleaning, for a given period.

The women say most of them now work continuously 10 and 18 hours a day, keeping their homes. Few homes near the mines are equipped with even ordinary conveniences. In proof these figures are submitted:

Only 5 per cent of mine district dwellings have bath rooms or even hot water.

Less than 50 per cent have running water; most kitchens are without sinks, and water for all purposes often must be brought from wells yards away, paid for by all.

It is out of the question, the women say, for the usual miner's family to buy a plot of ground and build a property equipped with all.

They urge relief must come from owners who now are slow to build comfortable homes. It is urged that a strike of wives will force the government to erect model dwellings.

Officials refuse to discuss the agitation and brand a wives' strike as a "flighty proposal." Some politicians, recalling that women now have the ballot, have given it serious attention.

CHARLIE COMISKEY HAS 'SOME' GIANT

CHICAGO, March 31.—"There were giants in those days," was not written of baseball. But here's a giant that works for Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox.

Age, 70 years. Height, 108 feet ten inches. Weight, 4,770 pounds.

He's a composite of the 28 men now signed to earn dividends next summer for the "Big Boy."

Comiskey, one of the few men to salt his cash away in socks and make the fund grow, has this giant loaning his composite muscles and absorbing the higher branches of baseball learning from William "Kid" Gleason.

This monster baseball player of Comiskey's is nondescript. He bats right-handed 16 times then hops to the right side of the old dish for twelve tries.

Twenty-three times of twenty-eight he throws with his right hand, then comes up with five left-handed efforts.

For the most part he's married. Liberal deductions would indicate his composite wife let him have ten days' vacation in every month of 28 days (All this means only ten of Comiskey's men are happily or unhappily single.)

This bird bats 256 and fields 367, pretty fair averages for an all-around man.

Further juggling of the figures shows the average member of the White Sox squad in 27 1/2 years old, has been on the team 4.8 years, is 5 feet nine and one-half inches tall and weighs 170.0 pounds.

That's what "Commy" and Gleason have to work with this season.

AMERICANS AND JAPANESE HAVE DIFFERENT VIEWS

United States Soldiers Refuse to Aid Nipponese in Combatting Bolshevism in Chinese Territory

LONDON, March 31.—American troops refused to cooperate with the Japanese in fighting the Bolshevists near Biogostobanok, War Minister Tanaka declared in answering questions put in the Japanese house of representatives Wednesday, a Tokio dispatch reported today.

Biogostobanok is in the province of Amur, just inside the Chino-Siberian frontier, 600 miles northwest of Vladivostok.

Asked if the Americans' refusal to cooperate with the Japanese amounted to insubordination, Tanaka replied he understood that the orders of General Otsuki, allied commander in that region, are effective only when consistent with the principles of America's national policy. The American attitude, he said, probably was due to a difference between the Americans and Japanese as to what constitutes Bolshevism.

WOOL GROWERS TAKE STEPS TO STORE PRODUCT

Request Farm Bureau to Make Provision for Receiving Clips at Shipping Centers—Debate Rages on Subject Tags

Initial steps toward advancement of the interests of woolgrowers of Twin Falls county were taken at a meeting Saturday afternoon in the farm bureau offices here of about 20 participants, convened by G. F. Rinehart, field animal husbandman of the state university extension department.

The meeting adopted, after some discussion as to provision for limiting of tags, a motion offered by E. J. Hornbrook and seconded by J. A. Croun requesting the farm bureau to make provision for wool storage in Idaho in every Twin Falls shipping center where such facilities are available, and particularly at Buhl, Rogerson and Twin Falls and to advise woolgrowers through the press as to the arrangements made in this connection.

Makes Pooling Easy.

The motion further provided that growers should separate their wool into two general classifications as coarse and fine, sacking each grade separately and branding it with his own mark for identification.

Mr. Hornbrook pointed out that his motion did not provide for pooling the wool thus accumulated, but that pooling arrangement might be worked out if deemed advisable after the wool was stored.

In its original form the motion did not stipulate whether or not tags should be included in sacking the wool. D. F. Detweiler of Flor, offered an amendment to the motion for the inclusion of tags, which was accepted by the author and seconded of the motion, which was submitted and adopted with the motion.

Claims Out Made Regardless.

Discussion centered mainly about the question of grading wool. J. A. Croun argued that since deduction was made by buyers for tags whether they were included or not it would be inexpedient for the growers to leave tags in their sacks until such time as the services of an expert grader might be secured to the growers. D. F. Detweiler, T. E. Bell and others took the position that adoption of a higher standard of grading would prove the most satisfactory course in the long run for the growers. Mr. Rinehart also spoke at some length in support of this position.

GUES FORMER PARTNER FOR HIS DISBURSEMENT

Frank Burke of Buhl, Says Associate Evaded Payment of Firm's Debts.

In action instituted in district court here Saturday through his attorneys, Ostrom & Green, Frank Burke is suing for recovery from J. F. Lufner, formerly his partner in the dissolved Lufner Sheep company, of $4266.64, together with attorneys' fees amounting to $675 on account of his personal disbursements in discharging the obligations of the partnership. Lufner has left Buhl. His present whereabouts are unknown and service of summons in the case is to be made by publication.

The partnership, according to the complaint, was formed in December, 1916. It was dissolved in April, 1918, the understanding between the partners then being that the assets and obligations of the partnership should be shared equally between them. Burke says that he had to pay all of the bills against the firm enumerated in his complaint.

NAMPA BALL PARK TO BE NEW RESIDENCE SECTION

Purchasers of Two Vacant Blocks Plan to Begin Buildings at Once Residences for 17 Families.

NAMPA, Idaho.—To fill two vacant blocks with modern new homes in the next few months and thus furnish residences for 17 families is the ambition Eugene Emerson and A. H. Roberts, who yesterday completed a deal with the Dewey-Davis estate for the purchase of a block on Fifth street and Fourteenth avenue, known as the old ball park, says the Nampa Leader-Herald. They previously owned the full block south of the park.

They will build at once on this property 17 modern residences, filling the two whole blocks except four lots that have been used for camp meetings. These latter will be planted to shade trees and ornamental shrubs and used for camp meetings a few weeks each year, and for the rest of the time they will be open as a public park.

The addition of these 17 residences to the many that are already building will help much to relieve the great scarcity of houses in the city at the present time, as well as being a decided improvement for the city.

INCLUDES TWIN FALLS IN PLANS FOR BASEBALL SEASON

BUHLBY—A movement is well under way to give Buhl a first class baseball team for the coming season, and to form a league including Buhl, Twin Falls, Burley, and other towns, says the Buhl Bulletin. The local fans have selected a board of directors consisting of William Miller, Dr. Toulson, E. F. Parke, Orville Higley and Roland Emmert with Mr. Miller as president, Dr. Toulson, secretary, and Ed Frank, manager of the team. The question of forming a league is being taken up with our neighboring cities and other matters are being arranged by the board.

MUNICIPAL MARKET PLAN NOW UP TO PRODUCERS

Experiment Is Given Every Opportunity to Try Out.

Regarding plans for a municipal market to be established this year in Twin Falls the current weekly bulletin of the Twin Falls county farm bureau says:

It felt that the experiment of the open market in Twin Falls for the direct exchange of perishable farm produce should be made at this time. A committee of men and women interested in this matter before the city council recently. The idea was favorably received and a committee appointed to secure the use of some convenient place for this purpose.

It is now up to the men and women who raise grain, stuff, fruit, vegetables, or who wish to sell dried chickens, butter, eggs, buttermilk, cottage cheese and other farm products to get together and put it through in good shape, to try it out and see if the open market is the best way of bringing the producer and consumer together. Backed in this way by the city government, wanted by town consumers as the simplest way of securing the choicest, freshest farm produce, and desired by the producers who have the stuff to sell as the simplest and easiest way to get the best prices in cash for their merchandise and quick sales—the open market experiment has now every chance to prove itself out.

OUTLINES BIG FIELD FOR FARM INVESTIGATORS

Director of State Farm Markets Proposes Many Questions for Consideration at Meeting in Twin Falls.

In reference to a proposed meeting of representative growers of the district with Miles Cannon, director of the state farm markets department, to be held in Twin Falls April 7, 8 and 9, Director Cannon has suggested the following subjects in addition to which other information, recommendations or suggestions that may be proposed locally, to be considered on this occasion:

1. Will compulsory state grading and inspection have a beneficial or detrimental effect on the producers of Idaho?
2. Is it a practical undertaking to harmonize state inspection under federal co-operation, with United States terminal inspection?
3. If so, should terminal inspection be suspended by federal authorities?
4. If not, should terminal inspection for terminal inspection?
5. Should grading and inspection from grower to shipper, if efficient and satisfactory, obviate the necessity of grading and inspecting the same in car lots or in other words, should the state grade and inspect farm produce after the shipment from the producer to the shipper?
6. If the producer and the dealer agree on dockage, weights and grades, should the state still grade and inspect?

Storage House Bonds.

7. In what amount should storage houses be bonded, basing the bond, of course, on capacity of warehouse?
8. Who should be responsible for warehouse employes? the warehouse owners or the state?
9. What percentage of insurance should a bond this company carry on farm produce as compared with its actual value?
10. How would you harmonize the cost of sacks as between an elevator receiving grain in bulk and a warehouse which receives in sacks?
11. Where there is only one warehouse company or individual at a siding, should this company have the right to refuse to store, thus forcing a grower to sell or handle his produce independently of the warehouse?
12. Would it be better the marketing of farm produce and enhance the grower's interests if all elevators and warehouses came under the law?
13. In the event any good reason why the farmer should not ship his own grain from storage warehouses and avail himself of the maximum of export price?
14. Should scales over which grain is stored or sold be tested by the state?
15. If a producer delivers, from day to day, his crop with the view of selling it at market price when delivery is completed, who, in this case, owns the produce during the time of delivery?
16. Should the elevator or warehouse man ship produce so delivered, before he became its owner or only after the same had been settled for?
17. Should a warehouse storage receipt be negotiable?
18. Should it contain the grade and record of inspection? or should it have the inspector's certificate attached?
19. What is a reasonable fee for inspecting a car of grain, potatoes, hay, fruit, etc?
20. What is a reasonable fee for inspecting a wagon load for immediate sale?
21. Should samplers and inspectors have a government license, if such licenses are issued on showing of proper qualifications?
22. Is a dealer entitled to profits or percentage on farm produce arising from dockage, weighing or under-grading?
23. Is the grower entitled to compensation for screenings taken from grain, such as barley, seeds and broken kernels, etc?
24. Should the United States in-

With Hosts and Hostesses

On Friday evening the Presbyterian choir gave a dinner in honor of Mrs. L. B. Savage who leaves today with Mr. Savage for American Falls. Mrs. Savage has been a faithful member of the choir for the past year. Rev. Asner H. Brand gave a short address of appreciation of Mrs. Savage's work. The guests numbered about 35, made up of the choir members and their wives or husbands, the music committee and the pastor.

On Wednesday evening the friends of Mrs. Clyde Anderson gave her a delightful surprise by coming in to spend the evening. The affair was given on the occasion of Mrs. Anderson's leaving for Oregon in the near future. The evening was spent in playing games and the guests ended the party by serving a delicious lunch. Among those present were Mesdames Shiffgen, Austin, Krenzel, Cress, Putnam, Carlson and Beck.

On Friday evening Mrs. H. O. Brown entertained at dinner in honor of Miss Crete Brown. The table had for its centerpiece a lovely bowl of pink and white sweet peas and the course were marked by dainty sweet pea place cards. The dinner at 6:30 was served in four courses. Those present were Mesdames Ernest Stoltz, Julia Wood and Helen and Allen Terhune.

On Friday evening Miss Pauline Terhune gave a dancing party at her home on Seventh avenue. The evening was spent in games and dancing. At the close of the party the hostess served a dainty lunch. Those present were Mesdames Ernest Stoltz, Julia Wood and Helen and Allen Terhune, Clarence Taylor, Edward Gore, Keith Moore, Ward Carter and Ernest Bell.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Marriage licenses were issued Saturday in Twin Falls to the following: Henry Roy Clark Hunt, Murtaugh, and Blodwen Rees, Twin Falls. Henry Toupin and Della Thurston, both of Twin Falls.

25. Should the certificate follow a car of grain to the mill of final destination, whether in the United States or Europe? Or should the miller, dealer or exporter be allowed to blend and mix regardless of original inspection?
26. Should the weight of a car of wheat or other product at point of original shipment agree with the weight of the same car at point of destination? If not, who should bear the loss?
27. Are you inclined to the view that industrial development, commercial prosperity, and the influx of new settlers and good citizenship in general, are stimulated by a well organized flouring and elevating industry that increases the profits of the grower to the maximum?
28. Will you designate such grades and rules of inspection for hay, potatoes and such other products as you section grows in quality?
29. Give your views as to the best means in detail of inspecting hay and potatoes.
30. It is appreciated, of course, that during the present year the government guarantees the price of wheat, but this does not diminish the grower's interest in fair and just grades, dockage and inspection.

HEAD OF WOMEN'S WORK IN OREGON VISITS HERE

Mrs. Jessie D. McComb Studies Carrying on Work Through Farm Bureau.

Mrs. Jessie D. McComb, director of home demonstration work in the state of Oregon, was here Saturday in attendance at a meeting of the county farm bureau executive committee. Mrs. McComb is spending some time in Idaho investigating the manner in which home demonstration work is carried on in this state in association with the farm bureau. In Oregon, the states, the home demonstration work is carried on independent of the farm bureau which is not as extensively organized in that state as in Idaho. Mrs. McComb was directed by Miss Amy Kelly, home demonstration director for Idaho, to the organizations of Twin Falls Canyon and a few other Idaho counties as being of the type conforming closely to the plan of the federal government.

The meeting of the committee was attended by all of the directors except those present being W. F. Alworth, Mrs. Carrie Harper White, Mrs. D. C. Brier, Frank DeKlotz, Mrs. J. C. Postevfield, J. L. Barnes and J. M. Pierce.

Pretty, isn't it?

There is no altar on earth which stirs in surly majesty with the altar of heaven. This altar is the south of the Chinese city of Peking, which Emperor Lung of the Ming dynasty reared in A. D. 1420, with its triple balustrades, stairs and platforms of pure white marble covered miraculously by its great circle enveloping a wide area in the midst of a vast inclosure. There the emperor knelt once a year.

Packing a Trunk

When packing an old trunk or box list each article, package or roll on a sheet of paper and fasten to the top of the box or trunk, or use a memorandum book for all, designating each receptacle. Then when wanting an article to use refer to the list, thereby saving time and trouble.
