

SCIENTISTS TO COOPERATE IN WAR ON DISEASE

Business Men and Noted Specialists Meet in France to Study Wars and Means of Combatting Contagion

CANNES, France, April 2.—Fifty leading scientists and business men of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan today opened an international congress which will prepare a program for united action in combating disease.

Dr. Roux, director of the pasteur institute, was elected president of the congress; Dr. Macchierra, of Italy, vice-president, and Dr. William H. Welch of Baltimore, chairman of the executive committee.

Other speakers expressed the conviction that practical means of carrying out the plans of the congress will be found in the Red Cross societies.

CABINET WILL DISCUSS PLAN TO CUT PRICES

Return to Pre-War Competitive Conditions in Trade Arouses Controversy Between Railroad, Industrial Board and Coal Men

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Return to pre-war conditions in the business of coal for the national railroads may result from the three cornered controversy from the railroad administration, industrial board and the coal operators over the cost price reduction question.

After the government took control of the roads, the policy was adopted of distributing the railroads into price classes in order to stimulate production. The result was, officials say, that in many cases the railroads paid much higher prices than they would have paid if competition had been allowed.

Members of the cabinet who are in the capital together with the heads of all government purchasing bureaus will meet this afternoon to discuss the situation. The meeting was called by Secretary Glass, the ranking cabinet member.

CHICAGO PAPERS OFFER CRITICISM

City Election is Subject of Much Comment From Press, Which Does Not Favor Mayor

CHICAGO, April 2.—Commenting on the re-election of William Hale Thomson as mayor of Chicago, local newspapers said:

Daily News.—Winning as he did by a fluke, the mayor plainly has been repudiated by a large majority of the voters. Lack of ability to discharge the duties of the office has brought about the result. A minority mayor, he holds office not by virtue of any confidence still felt in him by the community.

LENINE SENDS MESSAGE TO CONFERENCE ASKING CESSATION OF WARFARE

Document in Hand of Peace Delegates Signed by Russian Premier. He Makes a Definite Proposal for His Government—American Agent Reports on Conditions Among People

PARIS, April 2.—There is now before the peace conference a definite and concrete proposal from the Russian government for cessation of hostilities. It bears Premier Lenin's signature.

There is also authoritative information that Karl Kautsky, German radical, is now in Moscow trying to arrange a formal alliance between Germany and Russia.

In the light of these two facts, the peace delegates are giving more thought to Russia than the daily official communiques indicate.

The reports made by William Bullitt, special agent of the American delegation, and Lincoln Stephens, writer, and private investigator, who is undergoing the greatest amount of investigation reported not only the latest but the most detailed and best information on actual conditions in Russia, as well as the attitude of Russian leaders.

The greatest secrecy surrounds the Lenin document, but it is known that it offers a way to end hostilities between the Russian and British governments, a Russian revolution, it is impossible to ascertain.

To Remove Danger The willingness of the delegates to give thoughtful consideration to the new proposition is believed to be the greatest factor in the negotiations, the most important of which is that it presents an apparent opportunity to break at the earliest possible moment the blockade of Russia and Hungary and with Germany, Rumania and Serbia in the offing. The conferees frankly admit they desire a proposition that would align the interests of those five countries. With Russia eliminated it is felt the keystone of the structure will be gone.

Another important factor is that the medical men are becoming greatly alarmed at possible spread of the typhus epidemic westward from Russia, comprising a vast area of territory, and that the health conditions there are such that the typhus epidemic is spreading rapidly.

Thirty of forty thousand of the estimated population of a million are now in hospitals. Seventy thousand are seriously ill in the homes, and from it is impossible to give more than a tenth of the amount of food they need. In addition there are 100,000 who are ill, but who are able to get to the city hospitals. Most of them have swollen limbs and other ailments brought on by the lack of food.

The death rate in Petrograd is 125 a day. There are four thousand cases of spotted typhus in the city, with 18 deaths daily. Typhus is increasing and cholera and the bubonic plague are expected to make their appearance this spring.

Only Children Not Hungry Children are the only part of the population who are not hungry. The children are fed in the schools or in private homes. During the last nine months thirty thousand children have been placed in small groups in requisitioned homes and arrangements have been made to care for more than 100,000 others by this system in the next three months.

Milk is difficult to get. There is no canned milk in the city. The government has discontinued passenger traffic until April 15, and only sixty or a hundred cartloads of food to be brought into Petrograd daily.

Beyond the written document, Lenin is said to be ready to assure self government for all former Russian territories which desire to break away from the soviet government. It is understood that he will also promise the allies to abstain from propaganda work in the allied countries, taking the view that the

Road Construction Plans Largest in Country's History

Millions of Dollars Are to Be Expended on Highway Building for Mayton

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The big road building campaign in the history of the United States is beginning under direction of the department of agriculture, Secretary Houston said today. Plans to spend $435,000,000 entirely on the highways are being worked out. Half of this money has been appropriated by the federal government and half will be furnished by the states.

Approximately 415,000 men will be given employment. Wages will run up to $100,000,000. Road workers received from $2.50 to $3.00 last year. More will be demanded this year. It is expected.

Metal of German Guns to Be Used for Logan Medals

Owing to Obstinate Character of Canon Material They Do Not Melt Rapidly

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—German cannon are objecting to being melted into medals for use in the coming Victory Liberty loan campaign.

A telegram received by C. A. Farnsworth, publicity director of the Victory Loan committee, from the Seattle Manufacturing company, Waterbury, Conn., says:

"It will be impossible to hurry production of the 3000 medals which you will award to 'loan' workers, as we have found it very difficult to arrange for the manufacture of these medals in this country. The metal used in the metal used in German cannon.

The coming Victory loan in Twin Falls will be conducted under the direction of an executive and advisory committee of three members who will employ a campaign manager, in charge of the campaign. Frank P. Drake, president of the California metal trades association.

Drake denies that any local shipyard employers have conceded the Saturday half holiday desired by the machinists, as intimated last night in a telegram received from James O'Connell, president of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor.

The telegram which was addressed to the local machinists' union, says the workers would receive the Saturday half holiday effective this week, if they would return to work.

Drake is quoted as saying, "I do not believe any shipbuilder from the San Francisco Bay district made any such proposal as is contained in the telegram from O'Connell to the machinists."

Employers met last night to decide on the date set for the closing of all Bay City shipyards. The result of the meeting was not announced.

William H. Eldridge Announces Probable Erection of 50-Foot Structure at Shoshone and First Avenue East—Woolworth Interest Now Negotiating for Location in Boyd Building

SERIES OF IMPORTANT TRANSACTIONS ARE PUT THROUGH ALMOST OVER NIGHT

The erection of a four story store and office building by William H. Eldridge on his two 25 foot lots on the corner of Shoshone and First street east, the enlargement of the Boyd building on Main street to make room for a store to be established by the Woolworth interests here and the possible entry of a Boise firm into the local ranks in the building now occupied by the Eldridge store, are prominent features of a series of real estate transactions and business changes which have developed here almost over night.

MEXICAN LAND LEASE MAY BE FALSE ALARM

State Department Officials Believe It Is Only a "Feeler" Sent Out to Get American Opinion on Proposed Deal

WASHINGTON, April 2.—That the Mexico City report of land concessions granted by the Mexican government in lower California to Japanese interests, may have been sent out as a "feeler" was the belief of officials and diplomats here today.

State department officials were of the opinion that no deal had been consummated between Mexican and Japanese interests in lower California because the department had received no reports of any kind bearing on it. It was pointed out today that had any deal been consummated in Mexico, it would be embarrassing to the United States, the department would have learned of it.

Absence of such a report led officials today to believe the lower California concessions were a "feeler" sent out to get the final closing of any deal with these people. Should such a deal be made it will involve extensive alterations and litigation as to the title to the land which has received a proposition from the Woolworth interests and it is under consideration at this time.

Means Extensive Improvements While Dr. Boyd did not care to go into details it is understood that the improvements which his plans will consist of an enlargement of the building to occupy all the ground clear back to the alley and the possible addition of another story. Those who have been keeping in touch with the situation point to the notice to vacate given the Twin Falls cafe as evidence of the fact that the deal with the Woolworth company has advanced to a point which renders the entry of these people into the local business field a foregone conclusion.

Move Not Unanticipated The official statement of W. H. Eldridge to erect and occupy his own building on Shoshone street brings into culmination a move which for a number of years has not been unanticipated. This step has been taken at a point which renders the entry of these people into the local business field a foregone conclusion.

Returning Troops Parade Streets of Large Eastern City

Department Will Adhere to Principle Not to Detain Men Over 48 Hours

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Parades of returning troops in the large cities probably will continue, except where they would involve detention of men in excess of 48 hours in the country.

Officials at the department today said they would adhere to the policy announced recently by General March who said that troops could not be held at a camp or in a city for more than 48 hours against their will. This is not intended, it was stated to prevent parades of welcome, in larger cities where elaborate plans are being made. Those organizations which have drawn their men from that vicinity will be allowed to march. All that is intended is to prevent troops from staying in the country being held for complete divisional parades.

DEMOCRATS DO NOT WANT NEW TARIFF BILLS

Party Announces Intention to Fight Any Measure Tending to Impose Duties Owing to Rapidly Changing Conditions

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The house democrats will oppose tariff legislation at the coming extra session of congress, leaders indicated today. Representative Kitchin of North Carolina, rank-and-file member of the next house ways and means committee, announced today that democrats might co-operate with republicans in framing a substitute for the present Underwood tariff law, with the understanding that he does not believe a new tariff either necessary or possible at this time.

"If the democrats controlled the next session, I am sure there would be no general tariff revision," Kitchin said today.

Rapid Change of Conditions

"I do not believe that a tariff can be framed at this time that will stand up. Conditions are changing so swiftly that thirty days after a tariff was enacted it might be found inapplicable to the new conditions."

Asked concerning the proposal of several democrats to levy a tariff for revenue on non-fire articles, such as tea and coffee, Kitchin declared he believed the money could be raised in some other way, that would prove less burdensome to the consumer.

Kitchin's declaration against tariff legislation, coupled with the intention of house republican leaders to re-enact protectionist schedules makes it practically certain that the tariff question will be before congress and the country with its old time vigor during the next session.

Inability of Opposition

The democratic negative program is based on the belief that republicans will be unable to frame a tariff bill that will please all elements of the party.

Kitchin and other democrats are counting on western congressmen refusing to vote for high duties on manufactured articles, while the consuming class will be equally loath to vote higher duties on things the west want protected.

If this condition can be brought about, democratic leaders believe they can get enough votes to dissuade republicans to knock out some of the principal schedules proposed if not defeat the whole bill.

If the bill passes, democrats say, the president will veto it.

SEN Unsettled

Republicans have not decided just when they will begin work on a new tariff, but it will probably be soon after convening of the next congress.

Chairman Farnley will call the ways and means committee together soon after the next congress meets to fix a date for beginning hearings.

Today is committed to a new tariff and a return to the protectionist principles on the ground that industries, paying higher wages than ever before, demand protection from foreign goods.

Fordney and other leaders declare democrats will fail if they hope to defeat a tariff on a republican split. Republicans also believe there is no certainty of a presidential veto of a tariff which they say business demands.

MINERS DENY REPORT OF SYMPATHETIC STRIKE

Headquarters of United Workers Declare There Will Be No Walkout of Their Body

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 2.—Headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America today denied there will be a strike of the miners in compliance with a call by Eugene V. Debs, which he said yesterday at Akron, Ohio, will be issued May 1. Debs threatened all working men would strike on that date because the supreme court refused to grant him a writ ordering the release of a man who was convicted under the espionage act. He said the strike will begin on the day he enters the penitentiary and will continue until he is released. He added that it will start with Indiana miners.

Word from Terre Haute today was that district officials of the mine workers knew nothing of the Debs call.

Preserving Flowers.

A method of preserving the natural colors of flowers consists in dusting salicylic acid on the plants as they lie in the press and removing it with a brush when the flowers are quite dry. Red colors in particular are well preserved by this agent. Another method of applying the same preservative is to use a solution of one part of salicylic in fourteen of alcohol by means of blotting paper or cotton wool soaked in it and placed above and below the flowers. Powdered boracic acid yields nearly as good results.

WARNS GERMANY AGAINST TRICKS

Foch Makes It Plain to Delegates at Spa that Allies Will Stand for No Pranks

BY WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMMS
PARIS, April 2.—Final decisions upon the most important questions before the peace conference will be reached before Saturday, according to the belief expressed in certain official quarters today.

Foch's Plan

Foch, it is believed, has won over the "Big Four" to his ideas regarding the Rhine question, along lines recently forecasted—elimination of all military works on the left bank and within a zone of fifty kilometers (31 miles) on the right bank. An agreement seems to have been reached that France shall have the right to exploit the entire Saar valley as compensation for destruction of coal fields in northern France. The Saar region probably will be controlled under special regulations to be incorporated in the final treaty.

Cold, Dry Air Healthful

Cold, dry air is generally considered healthy and stimulating by medical authorities. Metabolic processes are active, and if the body is properly protected against excessive heat loss, sensations of well-being are dominant. There is little exact physiological evidence bearing on this condition. Physicians indicate that Germany is more in the mood to sign the treaty than even four days ago. It is believed Foch will increase this inclination.

Mouth Decorations.

It is amazing how ideas of beauty vary with latitude. In Japan, the professional beauty loves to appear with golden teeth, in India she prefers them stained red, but in certain parts of Sumatra no lady who respected herself would consent to have any front teeth at all. They are removed the moment they appear, and strictly suppressed they should try again.

Prefer Irregular Lines.

The straight line is an abomination to the Chinese. They endeavor to avoid it in their streets and buildings, and have banished it completely where country roads gather and converge. They will always substitute a curve wherever possible, or they will torture it with a zigzag. To the Chinese mind the straight line is suggestive of death and denous.

Queen of Hearts.

The name, Queen of Hearts, was given in the low countries to Elizabeth, daughter of James I and the unfortunate queen of Bohemia. When her fortune was at the lowest ebb she never lost her dignity of spirit, and poverty and distress only rendered her the more an object of admiration.

GENERAL STRIKE SPREADS AMONG GERMAN PEOPLE

Clashes Between Workers and Troops Have Resulted in Several Casualties—Storming Food Shops

BY FRANK J. TAYLOR
BERLIN, April 1.—(Delayed)—The general strike is spreading through Germany, clashes have occurred between workers and troops in various cities, resulting in casualties.

Proclaims Siege

The government has proclaimed a state of siege in the whole Rhineland, involving the 50,000 miners on strike there. The situation in that region endangers food shipments and the coal supply and may even affect payments to the allies for maintenance of the army of occupation.

Storm Food Shops

During the riots in Frankfurt mobs stormed several food shops. Three persons were killed and many wounded by rifle and machine gun fire. The mobs then attacked the police station and a number of hotels. A sailor was dragged from the station and lynched. His body was thrown into the river. Government troops now control the city.

TELLS OF RIOT AMONG GERMANS

Press Correspondent Relates Incidents Occurring During Recent Uprising.

BY FRANK J. TAYLOR
BERLIN, March 10 (By Mail).—Bolsheviks' recent struggle in Berlin was in many ways like an American Indian war carried on in a modern city, if you can imagine that. The Spartacus group went on the war path after the fashion of prairie tribes in America three generations ago. In their fighting the Spartacus showed about the same degree of civilization as did the Indians.

To understand how such a warfare could take place in a modern city one has to realize that Berlin was harbored many convicts released from prison by the terms of the earlier revolution. Most of these desperadoes are not political victims, but were jailed for killing and robbing. Since they had everything to gain and nothing to lose by the Bolshevik movement, they leaped themselves with the Spartacus group, and for good pay were ready to commit any outrage prescribed. The Bolsheviks were simply wild men in riot.

After the government's volunteer army had defeated the organized Spartacus resistance, trouble did not stop. Spartacus lurked in hundreds of buildings, more or less hidden from justice. From roofs, behind chimneys, from attics and windows, they sniped at government guards and even civilians with no chance of accomplishing anything other than killing.

In the course of a day's work you would run into three or four possibly half dozen of these outbreaks, or street fights, as they were reported in the papers. At the first shots, crowds would dive into doorways. The incident ended with a few shots from the government troops to restore public confidence and the crowd went on about its business. Berlin's population soon became accustomed to the outbreaks. Not infrequently huge crowds would gather to watch movements of the government troops against the Spartacus, and persistently struck around to see the show. Hundreds were injured, solely due to curiosity.

More than four-fifths of the Spartacus prisoners captured in the uprising were deficient, either mentally or physically. Fewer than five per cent were sane, and few were sane in the eyes of the government. The Spartacus are weak, mostly from under nourishment and some chronically, and they are not in a condition to be responsible for their acts, and should not be at large.

The German provisional government is inclined to accept the views of the scientists and will keep this in mind in the trials and punishment of the law-breakers.

Revolutionary outbreaks in Berlin drop upon the city like lightning. It is impossible to foresee them. They just happen, when the situation seems entirely unaccounting to them.

Berlin's revolution is different from others in that there is no united demand for any one thing. There are as many demands as there are Germans in Berlin, and some people have more than one. Until agitation begins their work is practically no action.

There is no clean-cut issue which unites Berlin into parties. A strong royalist attempt to regain the government would probably unite Berlin and save the revolution. The majority stands on the sidelines, watching agitators toss the revolution up and down, to no one's gain and Germany's danger.

Germany's lack of leaders has been one of the most outstanding features of the revolution. In the hour when Germany needs big men, none has been found.—The situation seems to be brought about by the old system, when leaders, as soon as they were recognized as such, were hustled into the Junker party.... They became Junker leaders and most of the men capable of governing were in the party.

The result is that Germany finds herself with second rate men trying to construct the new republic. They have continually showed lack of force and quality of leadership, and the people no longer have confidence. Still no one moves, and the great middle class in life, while politicians struggle with the radical group which wants to overturn the entire order of society.

Occupation of Berlin

Occupation of Berlin by allied troops has changed steadily from a dread to a hope, perhaps, that English and American troops would take the place of allied troops. For some reason, opinion has turned against the French and the majority of Germans would rather see Berlin sink into chaos than have the French help if you can believe what Berliners tell you.

The populace and the middle class, as well as a number of intellectuals, and the commercial people, want American and English troops here. The change of opinion is probably due to lack of confidence in the government. Troops from Hindenburg at the front are the only hope from within Germany. So far the front troops have done their duty until women and children among the sightseers mingled with the fighters, when the front troops retired, refusing to endanger women and children. Propaganda usually demoralizes government troops soon after they arrive, so that probably the largest portion of Berlin feels the only dependable troops to bring order are outsiders.

It is surprising to find the majority of the revolutionaries, especially the sailors, in favor of occupation. "We will welcome Americans and English," they tell you. "We're waiting for them. We want order, too, but it can never come without either a dictator or else outside help. We have no leaders now that we can follow."

The opinion that a dictator could restore order and enable the working out of a government is quite universal, but no men loom up as possibilities worthy of consideration, except Hindenburg. Hindenburg has never mixed into politics, and men in Berlin who know him

SINN FEINERS LIKE 'EM OLD

LONDON, March 18 (By Mail).—Sinn Feiners show a remarkably anti-luxurious taste in firearms.

While the noble lord was away from home, Sinn Feiners raided the mansion and got away with every ancient weapon they found hanging on the walls.

THE VICTORY LOAN

In all human likelihood there will be less trouble in putting over the Victory Loan than there was in any of the foregoing bond issues.

The decision of the State Committee to adhere to the assessment plan in the matter of fixing the amount of a man's contribution may be questioned in some quarters.

As before, stated there should be less trouble in raising Twin Falls County's quota now than heretofore.

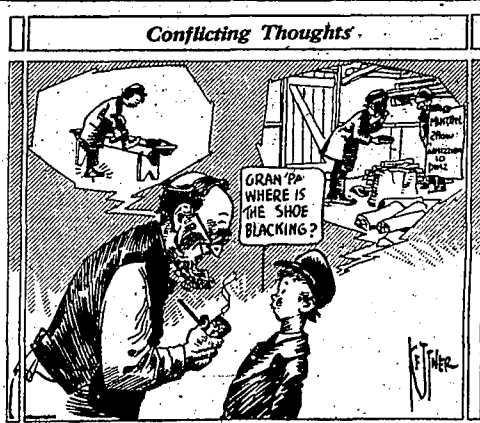

THE MAN WHO DOESN'T KNOW. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred when a firm or a business goes broke the trouble is directly traceable to the fact that the owner, or the firm, "didn't know."

In the case of most business failures the end comes suddenly. Things move along smoothly enough on the surface.

Statistics compiled by Bradstreet and R. G. Duns, as well as a host of tables and compilations from other sources, prove conclusively that the great bulk of all failures are among the kind of business men who regard the expense of a systematic audit of the affairs of the business from time to time as an unnecessary and unprofitable waste of money.

The public accountant of today is no longer the stony petrel of the business world. The sight of an outside man engaged in going over the books of a concern today is evidence of good, sound, common sense business ability on the part of the man who owns the books.

The accountant of today is a bigger and a broader gauge man than his forbears, he is not only an accountant, an expert on figures and a man who can make an electric adding machine give off a sound like unto a dozen New England alarm clocks.

a sure indication that business trouble had already arrived.

In the past, the accountant travelled hand in hand with the referee in bankruptcy. He was seldom in evidence until the case had become one of expert testimony for the benefit of creditors.

The modern accountant is a harbinger of prosperity in matters commercial, because more and more, modern business is beginning to realize that the time for expert advice and accurate knowledge of the trend of a man's business is right now, not after the filing of the first suit in foreclosure.

The accountant of today is a bigger and a broader gauge man than his forbears, he is not only an accountant, an expert on figures and a man who can make an electric adding machine give off a sound like unto a dozen New England alarm clocks.

Question of Voting Bonds to Meet Growing Needs of School System to Be Submitted to Twin Falls Voters.

The issuance of $150,000 worth of bonds of the Twin Falls independent school district to carry out a building program embodying the recommendations of Supt. H. G. Blue, Architect B. E. Morse and the building committee of the board of trustees, will be submitted to a vote of the electors of the district at a special election to be held on Saturday, April 12, in the high school building between the hour of 1 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, according to a notice of election made public by the board of trustees.

The proposed building is to be an addition to the present high school building, to provide for the housing of 500 more pupils to be enrolled in a junior high school comprising the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. The plans for the new building includes besides 48 class rooms, a winged room, large cafeteria, machine shops and forge room. It is to extend back to the present high school and along the full width of that structure. A light court in the center being provided to afford abundant light and ventilation facilities.

The proposed bonds are to bear interest at the rate of five and one-half per cent per annum. They will bear date of April 1, 1919, and will be payable in 20 years and redeemable as follows: On June 1, 1920, $10,000; on June 1 of each year thereafter, $15,000.

BANDMEN PLAN SEASON'S WORK

Decoration Day Probable Date of First Public Appearance This Season.

The Twin Falls band of 40 pieces, under the leadership of Manager R. Friese, will probably make its first public appearance on May 30 when it is to furnish music in connection with the observance here of Decoration day. The first of the weekly open-air band concerts will be given on the evening of the first Thursday in June, according to present arrangements, announced by Manager W. R. Friese.

At its meeting Monday night the band accepted the resignation of Richard Meyer as its present conductor and elected D. Thomas to fill the vacancy. Mr. Thomas was an organizer of the first band in Twin Falls, and served for three years as instructor for the high school band. He has taken an active part in the band again since the first of the year.

No difficulty is experienced in securing instrumentation for the band. Manager Friese states. Several pieces are being observed for members who will return from abroad with the regimental band of the First Cavalry, Sixth Field artillery, now with the army of occupation near Coblenz, Germany.

The bandmen are considering the suggestion that their new blue uniforms be reserved for "dress" occasions, and that a second uniform of olive drab be obtained for use on other occasions. It is pointed out that the latter material will not show dirt as readily as the blue, and that in it the band will have a presentable appearance under adverse conditions.

OFFICERS RECOVER ONE MORE SET OR HARNESS

Stolen Property Identified by Owners Is Found in Possession of Contractor Who Says He Bought It

The campaign of the sheriff's office against harness thefts in this county resulted Monday in the recovery of a set of harness at this morning's identification by Walker Brothers of Highland View, as their property which has been missing since Wednesday last. The harness was spotted by Deputy Sheriff P. O. Herriman in a meeting of F. D. Brown, a contractor employed in the grading of roads in this district. Brown stated to the officers that he had purchased the harness from a Mexican. It was generously marked with his initials. Old harness had been substituted for the new ones belonging to the set; one line had been changed and new bridles were added.

The loss of an expensive saddle, seen by the owner for the last time three days ago was reported to the sheriff's office Monday by L. G. Egbert of Kirkley.

MAY CLOSE FLO HOSPITAL SOON

Three Days Pass with No New Cases of Malady Reported to Officer.

No new cases of Spanish influenza in Twin Falls county have been reported for three days, Dr. C. Q. McGinnis, county health officer, stated today. There are only two patients remaining in the emergency annex to the county general hospital recently re-opened to deal with the influenza situation here, and it is likely that the annex will be closed again at the end of this week unless new cases requiring attention develop.

This action was recommended to the county commissioners Tuesday by Dr. McGinnis and by Dr. Emma C. Crossland, who, as the representative of the Twin Falls County Red Cross chapter, has been placed in charge of the annex during the period of the epidemic.

ADMITS THEFT OF TWO TENTS

Mexican Suspected of Harness Stealing Confesses to Taking Canvas.

Luis Jaramillo, a Mexican, in custody here accused of complicity in recent thefts of harness, on Tuesday admitted his guilt of the theft on the night of March 21 of two tents which were discovered Monday evening by the sheriff's deputies in a Spanish rooming house and which were identified on the following day as their own property by L. E. Hough for Herbert Beard of Buhl, and Mrs. J. H. Rollins of Rosewater.

A check drawn by Charles Echevarria, proprietor of the rooming house, for $30, which Jaramillo said that he had received for the tents was recovered by the officers. Jaramillo said that he was with M. Lopez when he pilfered the tents. Lopez also is in custody as being one suspected of activity in the harness thefts. Jaramillo says that Lopez has nothing to do with stealing the tents. He professes to know nothing of the thefts of harness.

The tent identified by Hough was taken from Buhl and that identified by Mrs. Rollins from the vicinity of Road 70 north on the same night. Mrs. Rollins said that her tent had been spread over certain of her possessions put on the ground where she and her husband were camped, having come recently from Buhl to be employed in farm development work on the West End project.

MOLINE-UNIVERSAL TRACTOR

One Man Operates Both Tractor and Implement

With the Moline-Universal one man sitting on the seat of the Implement has absolute control over the entire outfit and does just as good or better work than with horses. Every farmer knows that any implement at work requires constant attention. The implement is the profit maker and unless it works properly there is no excuse for the operation of the entire outfit.

On other tractors, one man is required on the tractor and one man on the implement. Every farmer knows the saving of the extra man will pay for the tractor.

It Is Easy to Operate

So easy is the operation of the Moline-Universal that a woman or boy can handle it. It turns in a 16-foot circle and backs with the implement as readily as it goes forward. Through the operation of the differential brake, all heavy hand turning of the steering wheel is eliminated. This makes it ideal for work in small fields or getting into fence corners.

It Is the Best Tractor Money Can Buy

In design, construction and performance it is ideal. It will do a greater variety of work at less cost than any other tractor on the market. No automobile, no matter how expensive, is made better than the Moline-Universal Tractor. Every piece that goes into it is inspected and re-inspected for quality, workmanship and material.

IDAHO GUNNERS AND BAND MAY SET SAIL SOON

Twin Falls Members of 146th Artillery Regiment Discern Indications of Early Return—Thorp Makes Record.

Idahoans may have an early opportunity of hearing the regimental band of the One Hundred Forty-sixth Field artillery regiment and formerly of the Second Idaho regiment, which, under the direction of Lieut. J. E. H. of Twin Falls, achieved signal distinction on the Mexican border in 1916, to which it has added other laurels in France and in Germany where it has been an element of the army of occupation.

A Twin Falls member of this band writing under date of March 31 states that indications of the sailing of the regiment for the United States during the interval between April 15 and 30. This regiment, it is stated, is the only American garrison remaining with the army of occupation.

Paroling Inspects Guns.

Significance is attached also to the statement of the informant that General Forsberg was to inspect the guns of the regiment on March 12.

Other members of the regiment who letters have been received here recently also express the opinion that their date for departure, from Europe will come this month.

The One Hundred Forty-sixth Field artillery regiment is the one whose record has been best in the Twin Falls people not only because the Company D, the Twin Falls unit of the Idaho regiment with three other Idaho units is incorporated in it, but because its band includes leading its leader, a larger number of Twin Falls men.

Thorp Makes Great Record.

Lieutenant Thorp, according to word just received here, is one out of 250 military band leaders who took the examination overseas for officers' commissions; 40 who passed the examination; one out of nine and one of two national guardsmen who were subsequently commissioned. Of the band leaders who were commissioned, four were of the national army, two were national guardsmen, and three were of the regular army.

The fact that Lieutenant Thorp was successful in securing his commission has been of considerable advantage to his band.

Included in the band now under the leadership of Lieutenant Thorp are practically all of the men he brought back in 1916 from the Mexican border forming them the nucleus of a splendid organization of six months' experience.

Band Shows Popularity.

It was said of Lieutenant Thorp's band when it appeared in public concerts in Nogales, Ariz., where it was stationed in 1916, that it drew larger crowds than did any of the other eight bands of the regiment stationed there at the time. It is evident from reports received of the organization since it entered the service overseas, that its reputation has not suffered in a wider field of competition.

LIGHTED CHICKEN COOPS TO INCREASE EGG PRODUCTION

Prof. James E. Rice of the department of poultry husbandry, Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y., in a statement issued a few days after the meeting of the New York State Poultry associations in New York city, declared that tests carried on at Cornell during a period of forty-eight weeks, with more than 200 hens and pullets, have proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that lights in chicken coops have a direct effect on the production of eggs. The coops were kept lighted until nine o'clock every night throughout the test, and the egg totals showed that 100 hens and pullets in the lighted chicken house produced 135.20 more eggs than the same number of chickens in the unlighted coops.

The reason for the increased production of eggs by lighted coops was said by Professor Rice as being that the hens had more time in which to eat. There was no long wait between supper and breakfast for a large percentage that the same amount of feed was required by the busy layers as by the other hens, but the hens that had the artificially long day ate their food more slowly.

At wholesale prices, the increased number of eggs in the lighted coop during the period of the experiment amounted to $71.84. The same increase in the production of eggs for hens in lighted coops was placed at "one dozen or more" per year by Prof. Rice. Under this system the poultry man, it is said, has absolute control over the egg production, since the laying pullets stopped laying when the lights were turned off for a single day and began again when the lights went on. Prof. Rice explained that one reason for the increased profit on the eggs was because the hens continued laying through the late autumn and early winter, when the price of eggs is highest.

ADVISES IRRIGATION IN ADVANCE OF PLANTING

General Manager of Canal Company Makes Observations on Precipitation.

It will no doubt surprise many of the farmers in the Twin Falls project to learn that the total precipitation since January 1 and up to March 9 is only 17.76 inches, while the precipitation for the same period last year was about 1.90, says J. C. Wheeler, general manager of the Twin Falls Canal company. While the most of the moisture fell this year in February a month later than the maximum month (January) last year, and the rains this year have been slow and gentle, thus permitting the soil to absorb it all, yet it must be recognized that this small amount of moisture is only about half as much as is required for starting the crops and germinating spring sown seeds. Mr. Wheeler suggests the water users were so successful last year in irrigating before planting and getting an early start in all their irrigating and advises the same practice this season.

LAMB AND MUTTON.

The difference of a few cents in the cost of a pound of meat frequently determines whether that meat appears on the table in many households. Yet that difference of a few cents just as frequently is caused by the limited knowledge of the house wife of the meat which she desires.

Take the cost of mutton and lamb; it is regarded as high. But the average housewife who so regards it speaks only in terms of chops and hind quarters. The forequarter of mutton is just as plenty as the hind or mutton, but is cut into Barstow chops or made into a roast of unusual sweetness.

Butchers of sheep have paid more attention to raising a better flavored meat in the last few years, and their efforts show clearly in the resulting product.

Some objectors to lamb and mutton say that they cannot eat it because of the "woolly taste" and that they know of no way to remove it. That is merely a case of pulling the wool over your own eyes. If the fat, or tough outer membrane that covers the meat is removed, there will be no "woolly taste."

You are taking no chances when you order lamb. The healthfulness and strength-building qualities of this meat have long been recognized by physicians, who have prescribed its extensive use in the diet of convalescents.

These facts are worthy of your thoughtful consideration. They have long had that from the New England housewife, as is attested by her continued buying.

If you know what's advertised today you know what to buy today—where to find it—what it will cost.
