Famous Norwegian Explorer Gives Canadian Parliament Program for Reclaiming Wastes of Northern Territory

WOULD MAKE UNFRIED AREAS PRODUCE FOOD

Wool, Meat and Milk Could Be Made Chief Articles of Trade Among Eskimos and for All the Country Says Stefansson

OTTAWA, Ont., (AP)—A plan for converting the Arctic and sub-Arctic regions of Canada into a great wool, milk and meat producing area was presented to the Canadian senate and house of commons today by Vilhjalms Stefansson, Norwegian explorer of the Canadian Arctic.

Stefansson's ideas were recently placed before Arthur Meighen, minister of the interior, and it was thought advisable to have the explorer address parliament. His project involves introducing large herds of reindeer and domesticating and developing great herds of muskoxen. Both animals would furnish milk and meat supplies and the musk ox would afford also a wool supply.

Help in Food Shortage

The Canadian north, Mr. Stefansson said, could be utilized to help solve present and future food shortages and development of his project would expedite opening of mineral and other resources of the north.

"About twenty years ago," Mr. Stefansson continued, "the American government introduced 1,280 domestic reindeer into Arctic Alaska. The sole aim was to give a possibility of economic independence to the Eskimo. One of those who expected the enterprise to succeed even dreamed of its present magnitude or the meaning it would have for Alaska today or for the world tomorrow. "The Eskimo, as the statistics have increased at the rate of doubling in three years. But the few animals that are in the hands of white men are found to double in number every two years."

Support Millions of Animals

In due time, Mr. Stefansson said, Arctic Alaska will support more than seven million reindeer, producing as much meat yearly as fourteen million sheep or seven times the present production of Canada. The Americans now realize, he declared, that they had made a mistake in starting the industry on such a small scale and he warned that Canada should not make the same mistake.

Some committees reported a tendency on the part of many citizens not to subscribe unless last indications were of small popular subscriptions were urgently needed, in answer to which the treasury said the time had come when "small subscriptions are urgently needed."

BARNES TALKS ON PRICES TO MARKET HEADS

POWER TO ACT IN MATTER IS CONFERRED ON BOARD

CHICAGO, (AP)—Julius H. Barnes, national wheat administrator, said in an address today to members of the Chicago board of trade, that the act establishing the food administration gave authority to control trading in foodstuffs on exchanges to the extent of prohibiting future trading of wheat. He said that act "will be in effect" and "it is the duty of every patriotic citizen to demonstrate abuse should arise."

Indicates Speculation

Mr. Barnes questioned frankly whether a fluctuation in crop prices such as took place in Chicago yesterday—a rapid break of ten or twelve cents followed by a quick reaction of five or six cents—was not a clear indication of speculation on so large a scale that it was overbalancing legitimate transactions.

A contract will be called May 15 at New York among representatives of millers, bakers, grain trade associations, which certain trade agreements will be entered into, Mr. Barnes asserted. He added that if the price of wheat did not sharply reflect the real situation in regard to supplies, the United States must shortly return to the 1917 policy of selling wheat in quantities of thirty days supply to be held on hand. He did not want to do so, however, he said.

There has been no intimation from Paris that the Germans were demanding immediate action or that any of the delegates had left.

Meanwhile the league of nations has proceeded further with its organization. At the meeting of the organization committee, Mr. Barnes said, the French foreign minister, was elected chairman of the provisional organization. At the same time Sir Eric Drummond assumed his duties as acting secretary general.

Soviets on Verge of Collapse

The power of the soviet government in Budapest seems to be crumbling rapidly. Czech troops are said to be only twenty miles away.

The advance of anti-Bolshevik forces rapidly closing in from the south, east, north and west, the Bolshevik government of Russia also appears to be in a desperate straits. Finnish troops operating east of Lake Ladoga have cut off the retreat of soviet forces further north and have severed all communications between Moscow and the Kola peninsula.

Antiques Seized

Many members of the board presently today know the grain district personally, but to more he was a stranger. When he was asked what figure appeared, a whisper went around:

"Why, he's young, isn't he?"

Mr. Barnes, it was admitted, is the biggest figure in the grain trade of the world by reason of his position, and the traders noted his young look and his healthy crop of light brown hair with surprise and interest.

BODIES OF MEN FOUND IN BRUSH

Before the agreement drafted him by Sheriff Joseph C. Tolbert and Deputy Sheriff W. A. Kwon and himself, and phases of his speech indicated that he sympathized with the feelings of those who had been hit. Nevertheless, he began his speech with "half the world is closed and the phrase it, business must be tempered with sentiment. To one who, like himself, had visited Belgium, the sentiment came overwhelmingly."

Belgians in Enforced Idleness Unable Subsist—Start a Strike.

BRUSSELS, (AP)—During the German occupation a certain amount was doled out by the Comité National to the unemployed Belgians to keep from starvation and incidentally to prevent them from working for the Germans. Since the armistice it has been continued because there is no work available.

PICKING THE PRESIDENT

Political bees are beginning to buzz for the 1920 presidency and already party leaders are looking over the available timber within their ranks while favorites and dark horses trot by in endless lines. These include former President William Howard Taft as a candidate for the Republican nomination, with President Wilson a possible opponent on the Democratic ticket. This is the first of a series on "Picking the President," which this paper will publish within the next few weeks.

AMERICAN WOMEN SEEING LONDON ALASKA BUILDS MILES OF ROADS

Ladies Insist on Having Proper Chaperone in Trips Around City.

LONDON, (AP)—The chaperone is reappearing in London, after more than four years of absence because of the war. American women, the society leaders say, are responsible, because they want to see London, and independent and self-reliant as they are, they do not want to see it without the assurance they will be well chaperoned.

The chaperone, once a well established institution in England, lost her calling when women went in for war work. Many a young girl who had never ventured from home without the guiding hand of a chaperone took to driving an automobile, with others were installed in the "Wance," the "Raffie," or some one of the many other women's organizations which had to do with the prosecution of the war. These vigorous young women had no use for chaperones.

The American women who want chaperones also are workers, Red Cross, Young Women's Christian Association, and others who are here. They, too, are self-reliant and independent, but when they doff their uniforms and go out to see London or spend a part of their very little leisure time in the gaieties of the city, they feel they ought to subscribe to the conventions.

VILLA ADOPTS CUSTOMS AND MANNERS OF WORLD

JUAREZ, Mexico, (AP)—Francisco Villa is adopting the ways of civilization. A snapshot received here from Moctezuma, Chihuahua show Villa wearing a "hotted shirt" and a necktie. The picture was taken when Villa visited the plaza at Moctezuma last month. The shirt was not such a surprise to those who knew Villa as he has worn them on very special occasions in the past. But the necktie was an entirely new affection for the rebel leader. Villa always said he never would wear a tie, and as taken when Villa was captured by the Mexican army, they were invented by the devil as an instrument of torture," he said.

The presence of General Felipe Angeles with Villa is thought to have accomplished this change. General Angeles is careful of his dress, even in the field, and is shown in the picture with Villa wearing a starched collar, tailored clothes and custom-made shoes.

Sugar Supply Short in German Country

Soldiers and Workers Said to Have Confiscated Much of It.

BERLIN, (AP)—The sugar famine from which Germany is now suffering is a mystery perplexing German housewives, as sugar, owing to the best root industry, has been a common staple ever during the war. Because of the sugar shortage the nation's supply of many staple goods seems to be completely exhausted.

Political and industrial disturbances are blamed for the restricted output of beet sugar. The factories have been shut down altogether or are running on short hours.

Large quantities of sugar are said to have disappeared mysteriously or to have been confiscated by local soldiers and workmen's councils.

HAS OLD LANDMARK.
JUAREZ, Mex., (AP)—Chihuahua Juarez has one of the oldest swimming holes on the American continent. It is the acequia madre (the mother canal) which irrigates the Juarez valley and furnishes the route of the town with an ideal swimming place where it ripples under the cottonwood trees from Rio Grande intake to the valleys farms. Hundreds of naked Mexican boys may be seen sporting in the muddy waters of the canal on warm spring days. The acequia also serves as a municipal laundry for the housewives of Juarez who do their weekly wash on stones beside the canal which have been worn smooth with many washings.

SOLDIERS SEND MANY GIFTS TO FOLKS AT HOME

Souvenirs of All Kinds Are Being Received from Army of Occupation Since Signing of Armistice.

COBLENZ, (AP)—Soldiers of the American army of occupation in the region of Coblenz have been sending home more souvenirs recently than at any previous time since the Americans have reached the Rhine. At first those souvenirs consisted of German helmets, trench crosses, bayonets and other articles of war used by the defeated army, but of late the soldiers have been buying German steins and other articles made of pottery.

Within the American area of the east bank of the Rhine there are several pottery plants which have been working overtime during the past few weeks turning out souvenirs for the soldiers. All kinds of pottery plates are made, bearing the soldier's name and unit while he watches the process of manufacture. At the American postoffice in Coblenz officers estimate that about 60 small stacks of souvenirs are shipped to the United States every day.

How High Will Meat Prices Go?

Swift & Company does not know whether prices will go higher or lower.

It depends upon country-wide and world conditions that Swift & Company cannot control and cannot foresee.

All the world needs meat, and only a small part of the world is raising live stock. So live stock is dear now, and meat prices must keep pace.

Competition will continue to keep the "spread" low so that the price you pay for meat will be as close as possible to what must be paid for live stock.

Our profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound, is no greater when prices are high than when they are low.

WORKMEN MAKE NEW LEGS FOR GREEK CRIPPLES

American Red Cross Supplies Enable Shops to Produce Limbs Which Are Much Superior to Old Methods.

ATHENS — (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The Balkan Commission of the American Red Cross has brought to Athens an American superintendent and assistants with supplies in the rough for making artificial legs. At a Greek workshop in Athens American workmen are making American artificial limbs and are instructing Greek workmen in the art.

The American workmen have taken temporary charge of the school for the mutilated of the Greek army until a Greek superintendent and Greek workmen can be trained to take over the plant. The artificial legs will be fitted and given to Greek soldiers. It is the intention of the Greek government to see that every soldier who needs one is provided with an American artificial leg.

Supplies Limbs to Soldiers

An artificial limb weighs only four pounds and now being supplied to hundreds of mutilated soldiers who formerly had crude peg legs and cumbersome twenty-pound artificial limbs of another pattern. The joy of the workmen being able to do more work more easily is daily expressed in the American Red Cross workshops by dancing about on their new legs with expressions of gratitude which, if it were not so pitiful, would be amusing.

As a corollary part of this work, the American Red Cross also is supporting a school for the education of the mutilated. At this school the disabled are being taught useful trades of all kinds including tailoring, shoemaking, carpentering, metal working, bakery and photography and typing. For this latter work a large number of American typewriters with Greek characters are needed.

CHURCHES UNITE FOR BIG LOAN

One Thousand Organizations Join in Subscribing for Victory Issue.

NEW YORK—An offer from the Second Baptist church of St. Louis, Mo. to join 999 other churches in an underwriting plan for $100,000 to meet any possible deficit in the $6,000,000 Victory campaign was received here tonight by Dr. Fred F. Haggard, director of national committees of Northern Baptist Laymen, the organization in charge of the drive.

Dr. William C. Bittling of the Second Baptist church in St. Louis telegraphed Dr. Haggard that church had subscribed $7100 and that the dragons had voted $1000 additional to the campaign. This church alone has taken one-half of the state allotment.

Shows Unity of Purpose.

"Expressing in this life of the St. Louis church," said Dr. Haggard, "because it shows that there is unity between the Baptists of the north and the south. For in St. Louis there are many southern Baptists who are anxious to aid the northern laymen to the present movement."

In attempting to raise $6,000,000 to insure spiritual democracy at home and for reconstruction work abroad, we realize that we have started a task greater than any ever begun in the history of the denomination.

"Some states have not yet made up their allotments. In the New England territory, for instance, the drive is lagging. We hope to get some wonderful returns from that vicinity in the near future."

"We are going to continue this campaign until the northern Baptist convention which will open in June at May 21. And we expect that the drive will be a success."

RETURN OF ITALIANS TO PARIS PLEASES ALLIES

Any Attempts of Germans to Cause Dissension Is Nipped in the Bud.

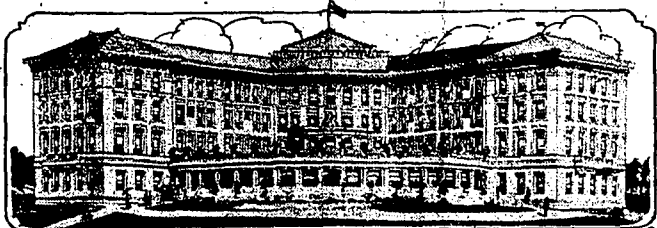

PARIS, (AP)—The newspapers generally express satisfaction with the decision of the Italian delegates to present Wednesday when the peace treaty is delivered to the Germans. They look upon the action of the Italians as a sign of solidarity between the allies and point out that the return of the Italians will baffle any German maneuvers to cause dissension among the five great powers. The belief is held that Italy will help in finding ways and means for a satisfactory solution of the Adriatic problem.

The newspapers also are pleased over the solution of the Belgian question, observing that a peace which did not repair the losses of Belgium would be unacceptable.

FRANCE ATTENDS CONFERENCE

ONE OF UNCLE SAM'S HAVENS FOR HIS DISABLED WARRIORS

Disabled soldiers and sailors, patients of the Bureau of War Sick Insurance, are being given the best of care by the government. FIRST SOLDIER OF COUNTY TO RECEIVE HONOR CROSS FROM "TIGER OF FRANCE"

Sergeant Archie W. Howell, Who Reached Chateau Thierry in Ninety Days After Induction Into the United States Marine Service Tells Something About His Experiences.

SPENDS TWENTY HOURS IN DUGOUT WITH DEAD AND WOUNDED COMRADES

(By C. L. Longley)

On the 26th day of November, 1917, seven lucky young Americans who had listened to their country's call and enlisted with Sergeant McCracken for the marine service quietly left the hall for the rendezvous at Maro Island, California. This was before the day of organized demonstration, and, aside from the relatives of each probably not a dozen people knew of the outgoing—save through an interested glance at a casual mention in the local paper.

Sgt. Archie W. Howell

And it was just as quietly that one of those young men, Sergeant Archie W. Howell, returned a few weeks ago to his former home at Rogerswood and resumed his old work-a-day duties on the farm. Yet in these sixteen months he has twice crossed the Atlantic, had seen all the vicissitudes of army life from concentration camp to hospital, had participated in two of the fiercest of the final acts of the war drama, and some things he has seen that would sicken a sergeant's chevrons, the cord of the French Legion of Honor and the Croix de Guerre—the latter having been pinned upon his breast by the "Tiger of France," Clemenceau himself, who bestowed a kiss upon each bronzed cheek by way of emphasis.

It is unaccountable, save upon the bible dictum that "one shall be taken and the other left," how diverse was the experience of different recruits who went to cantonments at the same time and under the same circumstances—some getting to France and the fighting front almost at once, while others "champed the bit" until the home camps for months, and even years.

Aside from luck or chance, there does not seem to be any explanation of this, any more than of many other vagaries in Mr. Baker's operation. However, the fortunate for after short intervals of uneventful stay at Maro Island, ninety days landed him at Brest, France, and ten more into the midst of the sanguinary struggle of Chateau Thierry.

At 2 p. m., nor at any time afterward, the German battle front was supposed to be six miles away, but was really less than a mile, as the Germans had been coming at will and had gotten far ahead of their artillery.

The 6th and 23rd regiments of regular infantry and the 2nd regiment of engineers, as well as another regiment of marines participated during the progress of the fight; but from Howell's viewpoint the first advance, begun at three o'clock next morning, was made by the 6th marines and the engineers, and never did stop, long at a time, for sixteen days, during which five or six placements were sent to take the place of the five thousand six hundred killed and wounded. On June 6th the sixth regiment was relieved, but was called back without getting into rest camp and stayed through.

Howell's citation and battle cross decoration came from an incident which that part of the line was held by a terrific machine gun fire from a "nest" in an old church. Upon call, a lieutenant and eighteen men volunteered to "go after it, and he fully believes it!

Howell, "How did you make your way there?" was asked. "Well," replied the sergeant, "we just went at it on the run, yelling like mad as we hit the ground! They didn't seem to like us a bit." But they took the church, albeit over half the detachment was down, and found six machine guns there, with what had been a full complement of men! "We called it 'Shot-up Thierry,'" he added.

The record made by the marines in this sub-campaign caused them to be used as "shock troops" hereafterward; and that made here and later brought the 6th regiment ten citations and an award by the French of the cord of the Legion of Honor to its entire membership. On July 17th the 6th made a 32 mile hike, arriving at 11 p. m. and joining next morning in the great Solomons drive. Sergeant Howell thinks the barrage laid down that morning on their front from 4 to 8 o'clock by 252 cannon of all calibers, was the greatest and most exciting event within his experience, and says that when they finally advanced there was absolutely nothing but dead men and wreckage left in the middle of the road. They advanced six miles and entrenched on the ground being so billowed and torn up behind that two engineer regiments worth of all they and into the night to make it possible to bring up food and munitions to say nothing of artillery!

But the next advance found Howell waiting and ready for the final but in effort to hold the "Highland Line." It is too war-scale to attempt to follow the ensuing struggle—one of the most desperate and bloody of the entire war. But it was in the middle of it that Howell "got bit" by his own company, had captured a huge dugout, in which they found six hundred Germans. At Verzy they found an array of tanks and the 95th company captured them in another forward. The Germans used small, special projectiles, loaded with very high explosives, against the tanks, and it was a three piece fragment of one of these that caught him. Having surrendered his Springfield to his captain, Howell was at the time carrying a French-made gun known as the "Chauchat," which he had weighed 10 pounds, it is carried by a strap over the shoulder, uses a belt of cartridges and spits a perfect stream of bullets. Ben Howell, under this, with the rest of his load, he was struck in the left shoulder by the shell fragments, one of which bedded into the strap, another went along the length of the ribs and the third penetrated the chest cavity. In spite of what he could do with "first aid," he bled frightfully, but managed to get back to the aid station where he received his first aid. He doesn't know how it was accomplished. Here he found seventeen dead men and was so nearly dead himself that he had to be carried to the aid station. "Poor old Blackie," and so was left right there for twenty-four hours. He finally crawled out to the road, was taken to a hospital, where he was more dead than alive, from 5 p. m. to 11 a. m. Arriving at a field hospital, so many were before him that, without surgery, he had to wait for two days; until one p. m., when he was carried, with a trainload of wounded to Hosten. Here he was taken into a French hospital known as Auxiliary Hospital No. 1, where he received ordinary possible care and attention, both from surgeons and nurses—looking from the window of his room into the public square where the "Maid of Orleans" was executed. His name, here, by the way, was named Marie d'Arc. He says, this was called the best hospital in France, and he fully believes it!

From this time until October 22, when he embarked for home, Howell's was a hospital experience. He doesn't have a pleasant recollection of an American hospital, in which, as a convalescent he was imprisoned and severely punished for once ceasing over the mainoisy wall, topped with broken bottles. But to both the French and the English his hat is off, and the English "wance" have his unstinted and affectionate admiration!

As a convalescent "rascal" it was on the side that his troubles really began. Here the marines seem to be under the department of war, instead of the navy, which is bad luck for any one. About the first thing that happened was the loss of an N. C. rank as sergeant. Having been won on the battle line and conferred on the other side, he says that according to Baker's regulations it doesn't count here. There seemed to be delay and difficulty at every step; and to this day he has not succeeded in collecting his $60 bonus, although, as a last resort, he sent his discharge from here and received in return an affidavit which he declares he can't sign without perjuring. It is awarded by the French, but his military returned soldiers, he hasn't the kind of feelings toward the "high-ups" in army management, either on this side

TELLS AMUSING INCIDENT OF RED CROSS COMPANIES

Methods of Traveling a and Means of Obtaining Choice Food Is Related.

BALONKI — (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Some of the more amusing "human interest" incidents of the activities of the American Red Cross nurses and field workers during the repatriation of Greeks deported into Bulgaria during the war are related by Lieutenant A. S. Bedell, in charge of the American Red Cross relief stations in Macedonia and Bulgaria.

Had Poor Accommodations

"On the trip out of Bulgaria we had the iron bed and two camp cots. One Red Cross man slept on a crate of binoculars, the bed being frequently in the night, bringing discord from the time but despite our protests at his noisy means of sleeping, he declared he had a 'rattling good bed.'"

Traded Sugar for Chicken

"When chicken was wanted for dinner one of the party would go out with half a cup of sugar in hand, wander about the village until he saw a 'like-ly' chicken, which he would thereupon purchase. The native woman who made the most outcry was presumed to be the owner and usually was glad to accept the half cup of sugar in exchange. Our much maligned nation's 'bully beef' proved to be acceptable also."

Bartering was the order of the day at all stations. A slice of bread would obtain three shins, fill a large water jar or attract a carriage of supplies. During our last afternoon on the Aegean sea, we had the use of a horse and wagon all afternoon. In order to return borrowed furniture, for the payment of one of the men, we had to turn over a horse and wagon all afternoon. Perhaps, in the ordinary course of things, you had not intended to make a trip to a particular store today. Yet such a trip may be highly desirable—a little thrift journey. See the ads.

UNKNOWN MEN DRAG LEADER FROM HOTEL

Strike Organizers Are Beaten and Left in Lopsided Spot Outside of City by Gang of Masked Persons.

LAWRENCE, Mass., (AP)—Anthony Capararo, a member of the textile committee, reported to the police that that he and Nathan Clinman, who had been an organizer for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, were dragged from their hotel here shortly after midnight by a gang of two masked men and taken to a lonely spot in West Andover and severely beaten.

Found in Dazed Condition

Capararo several hours later by his way to a house in Andover where physician attended him. The Lowell police sent word that they had found Clinman wandering about the street in that city in a dazed condition. Police investigators in Andover later reported finding a mask and a pair of trousers near the spot where Capararo claimed the assault occurred.

According to Capararo he was compelled at the point of revolvers to lead his hotel room and enter an automobile without being allowed time to dress. Capararo said, and while being driven toward West Andover both were beaten, punched and kicked. After reaching an isolated place they were taken from the machine, Capararo said, and again beaten.

He became unconscious and when he came to himself about 4 a. m., Clinman was nowhere about.

POTATOES ARE A LUXURY

JUAREZ, Mex., (AP)—A baked potato costs 25 cents in the El Paso hotels. In Juarez they may be bought for a few centavos a pound and baked over charcoal stoves. Mexican potatoes are grown by Chinese gardeners in the Madrid district of western Chihuahua, shipped here and then reshipped to Central Mexico. They sell here for less than half the price of American potatoes in El Paso but the export duty prohibits their shipment to the United States.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

But for the fact that weather conditions last fall favored the transportation of supplies to the advancing lines of the allies fighting men, the Russian people at this time probably would not have the opportunity of subscribing for Victory Bonds.

There was no evidence, in Lille at that time of any lack of provisions or of materials," he says. "On the contrary, citizens of Lille in general appeared to be better fed and more comfortably provided for than did the citizens of Paris."

There is something of satisfaction in any situation however disagreeable in the thought of how much worse it might have been.

An appreciation of this circumstance in respect to the issues of the present war as related by a man in a position of unusual advantage to see and determine them, can find no better avenue of expression than in investment in bonds of the Victory issue.

There is a difference between not succeeding and failing. The one is final; the other is only a temporary setback.

WAS IT A BLUFF?

The revised attitude of the Italians relative to the disposition of the Port of Fiume, accompanied by the protest of the Austrians regarding the disposition of part of Tyrol arouses suspicion that the Italian government may have been making a bluff in regard to the disputed city in order to secure the Tyrolese territory without too much opposition.

Certainly the interest of Italy in Fiume seems to be of recent origin, since she expressly eliminated that city when driving as hard a bargain as possible with the other allies before declaring war.

The inhabitants of Fiume, which is a Croatian city, apparently never took any part in the movement in evidence on the eastern coast of the Adriatic, to become united with Italy.

In his notable work "Why Italy Entered the Great War," the famous Italian writer, Luigi Carnovoli, goes into the "Irridentist" movement in great detail, mentioning leaders who fought to break the hold of Austria on the eastern shore of the Adriatic sea, but in no place in his exhaustive work is the name of an inhabitant of Fiume mentioned, and the map run to show the natural boundaries of Italy leaves the port in question outside such boundaries.

The Italians now claim that the inhabitants of Fiume are mostly Italian, and during the recent fighting there are reported to be returning to the city.

However, the impartial work "The Stakes of War," published last year by Lethrop Stoddard, M. A., Ph. D. (a noted writer on international subjects), and Glenn Frank, B. A., a lecturer on similar matters, under a sub-head, "Different Races in Croatia-Slavonia," says: "Except for a small Magyar population, mostly in the Port of Fiume, the population is solidly Yugo-Slav. Of these 75 per cent are Croats, 25 per cent Serbs."

The alleged philistine taken in the city under Italian auspices is far from conclusive, since it should have been taken under the management of the allied powers if intended to be really convincing. France and England have been quietly opposing the increased demand ever since made.

Italy in making a sudden demand for something expressly excluded from the terms "nominated in the bond" was in a position to push claims for all the conditions set up therein, and seems in the way of getting them, and will probably secure valuable concessions regarding the port in controversy.

RESUME DELIBERATIONS VERSAILLES. (AP)—The inter-allied and German economic delegates resumed their deliberations at the Trianon palace hotel at 10:30 o'clock this morning under the chairmanship of Major Ekhrantz of France. A half hour later the French financial delegate, M. De Leteroye, drove up for conference with Herz Wambach and Melehar of the German delegation.

ALLIED SHIPS APPEAR. (AP)—The first of the allied river flotilla reached the fighting front near the junction of the Vaga and Divina rivers last night. The Bolsheviks shelled the allied positions on the Vaga river, and sections of the front are reported quiet.

Don't Worry. Rise above small things. The woman who lets small things worry her will be completely undone the first time the money she has really big problem. It is debilitating to your mental and nervous condition, not to mention your physical condition, to worry. But you can meet them or bludge them with all your might or adjust them—and after that you "ex-just" worry," but not just you—change.

Relative Value of Milk. The fat globules of goats' milk are so small that cream rises very slowly. This quality, however, gives to the milk a uniform richness not possessed by cows' milk. There are now several condensed milk factories using goats' milk, which is condensed and sold for infant feeding. Many thousands of infants are compelled to live during their infancy on milk from the goat, and it is not the best food for their stomachs.

Humor in the Classroom. Ethel, who was ten years old, was studied by her reader, and learned that fish are placed in brine before they are dried and prepared for sale. After explaining that brine is very salt water, the teacher asked why the fish were placed in it. Ethel's face was illumined with sudden understanding, and she promptly replied: "Because they are used to salt water."

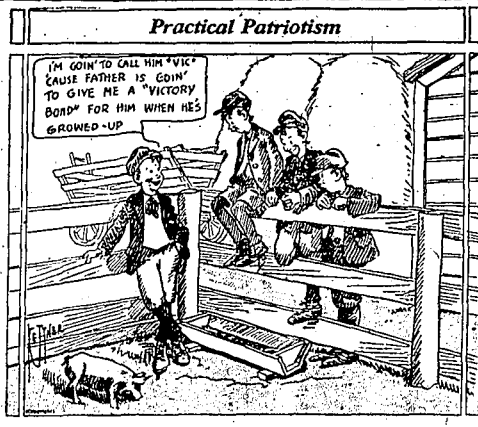

Permanent Colors. Ancient Egyptians had a marvelous knowledge of colors, and they understood fully permanent colors would last. The Egyptian pigment the ground colors are as good as ever they were. The Egyptians worked their outlines in lampblack, used clay for their whites, ferruginous earth for their reds, ochres for their yellows, and for greens they used perhaps green jawser or mixed blue carbonate of copper with ochre. All these colors are permanent.

CHINESE WANT POSITION WITH OTHER ALLIES

Several Not Included Among Powers Designated to Sit in Conference at Versailles and Some Are Piqued.

PARIS, (AP)—The Chinese delegation to the peace conference has appealed to President Wilson to intercede with the conference officials to have China included among the powers permitted to attend the presentation of the peace treaty to the Germans at Versailles tomorrow. The name of China is not on the list of the thirteen states so privileged. The official list of the countries to be represented are: The United States, Great Britain and her dominions, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Brazil, Serbia, Greece, Poland, Portugal, Rumania and Czechoslovakia.

Several Also Excluded. It will be noted that both China and Siam are omitted from this list, as likewise are seven of the Latin-American states which actually declared war upon Germany.

The list was drawn on the theory that only those of the powers which had rendered efficient aid in prosecuting the war were to attend the ceremony. The allies will be permitted to position outside the palace as the time the ceremony takes place, but the Chinese and other participants in the war are not willing to attend unless they are allowed representation within the hall.

"Women" Vs. "Ladies." The nuances of the English language seem to be as well understood by the person who advertised for "An aged woman to care for an elderly lady," as by the southern dandy who, presenting himself at the door of a fine mansion, announced: "It's lookin' fo' do cullud lady what works to' de white woman at dis house."—Springfield Union.

Knew She Would Be Asked. Tillie was leaning to go over to her little chum's house, when she suddenly turned in the door and called to her mother, "Mamma, has baby brother got any teeth yet?" When asked why she wished to know, she replied, "So I can tell Mabel's mother. She always asks me if he has any teeth yet when I goes over to play with Mabel."

Got Fat on Poor Food. A recruit at one of the southern camps wrote a long letter home, which he started by telling how rotten the food was, and that he didn't get enough to eat. Near the end of the letter, about page fifteen, he told the folks how fat he was getting, having gained ten pounds in about a month.

CHINESE PRESS SCORES SHANTUNG SETTLEMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—The Chinese Press Association of America, after a meeting here announced the following telegram was sent today to the Chinese peace delegates at Paris: "Shantung, Kiao-Chau decision detrimental to China's interest, is travesty of justice. Refuse signature." The association sent the following telegram to President Wilson: "Council three decision Shantung-Kiao-Chau settlement indirect violation principles you propounded. We appeal for reconsideration."

Don't Wait to Do Good Deeds. The good deeds we would do are brightened and made more prolific of beneficial results if we carry them out while the enthusiasm of our generous impulses is upon us. Have we not all experienced the warm desire to succeed; postponed to a more convenient time (for us)—then drenched for days until we finally drag ourselves to an accomplishment that makes of kindness a pitiful treadmill and bestows no sweet graciousness upon the recipient, who faintly feels the irksomeness of our beneficence?

World's Famous Streets. A certain difference of opinion appears to exist as to which is the most beautiful street in the world. Among those "in the running" may be mentioned: Princes street, Edinburgh, from which the city received her nickname of the "Athens of the North"; the Via X. September, Genoa; Sackville street, Dublin; the Avenida Central and the Plaza Mayo, both in Buenos Aires; the High street, Belfast; and the Unter den Linden, Berlin.

Glasses for Appearance Sake. "Miss Bessie, if you are going to town today, I wish you would buy my sister, who lives in the north, a pair of glasses." "Why, Annie," replied the young lady addressed, "I could not get your sister a pair of glasses. She must have her sight tested so that the glasses may be suitable." "Oh," said Annie reassuringly, "she writes me that what fits my nose fits her nose!"

Not the Right Time. A certain man was angry one night and began to swear in the presence of his wife. The latter, thinking she might shame him into quitting, decided to imitate him and swore furiously, using the same oaths that he did. He looked at her in amazement for a few minutes and then remarked, "Well, you have the same words but you haven't got the right time."—Exchange.

NAMES NEW GOVERNOR. SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—John H. Calhoun, deputy governor of the Federal Reserve Bank for the twelfth district, was today named as governor of the bank by the board of directors to succeed the late James Kennedy Lynch.

AT THE IDAHO. Mickey never fails to be a suspender of the overall that partly clad her little figure. She lifted her eyes to Minnie Ha Ha—those wonderfully expressive dark eyes, which could mirror pain, sorrow, love, laughter, every emotion of humankind.

"I don't want to be sent away, Minnie," she said, dully, her pretty head drooping. The Indian woman stolidly puffed at her corn-cob pipe, her broad, ugly face immobile. Only her twinkling eyes betrayed her feeling.

"But I don't want to leave my mountains!" in a fretful, Minnie. Oh, you rascal! The last remark was not directed at Minnie Ha Ha, but to a saucy squirrel who had suddenly crawled from one of her overhauled logs.

Mickey leaped to her feet and dashed in pursuit of the bushy-tailed rascal, her hair streaming behind her. A wild, free, untrammelled girl—nature's own—and now they were going to send her to the confining, prisoned city.

"Heep um!" muttered Minnie Ha Ha, shaking out her hair. But little Mickey was taken away just the same—to the home of a hypocritical aunt, who thought she was an heiress and who set her to work as a "slavery" when she got informed to the contrary.

They couldn't down this little girl, however. She emerged triumphant from her, shaking out her same mischievous, lovable, wonderful Mickey—unforgettable Mickey.

Herbert Thornhill saw her and loved her. This will sweet, shy child, so complex despite her simplicity, attracted him as no other girl ever had, and he set out to woo her and help her escape her enemies—and even Mickey had their.

It is the film sensation of the hour, the pictured story of "Mickey," which opened at the Idaho theatre last night, and will remain today and tomorrow.

LEADER HINTS AT CAUSE OF RUSSIAN DISTRUST

Head of New Government Praises Efforts of British and Gives Out Suggestions

MOSCOW, (AP)—Admiral Kolchak, head of the all-Russian government, in an interview with the correspondent at Omsk April 26, expressed deep gratitude to the British for their assistance in Siberia but he hinted that Russia had recently begun to be disappointed over the situation of Japan and America. He stated that American representatives in Siberia had at times supported the soviet government.

"I am working my hardest for the good of Russia," he added, "and I hope to succeed, but if I fail I will go under willingly for the sake of my work. This in itself would be proof that Russia had not yet reached the stage of lawful self-government."

HOLD LEGATION AGAINST FORCE OF COMMUNISTS

Hungarians Opposed to Bela Kun and His Allies Are Still in Possession of Money and Buildings.

VIENNA, (AP)—The Hungarian legation here was still occupied today by Hungarians opposed to the communist government in spite of protests from Bela Kun, the communist foreign minister, threatening retaliation against the German-Austrian ministry in Budapest unless the Austrians drove the anti-communists from the legation and returned the money which was confiscated there. It is said that 150,000 crowns for use in communist propaganda were found in the building.

The 16 Hungarians in possession of the legation who are armed, refused admission to all comers including the Vienna police.

The Vienna newspapers are making much of the incident and declare that the money taken from the legation is in the possession of Colonel Cunningham, the British military representative here.

This report, however, is denied in British circles.

The clerk serves also as municipal employment agent, and his combined salary in the three positions amounts to $2400, which amount also was fixed as the salary of the superintendent of waterworks and of the city engineer who under the terms of the ordinance recently adopted reassigning duties of municipal officers and fixing their salaries, serves also as streets commissioner.

J. J. Pilger, who was appointed to the place of superintendent of waterworks, has served for two years past as commissioner of streets and of waterworks.

E. V. Berg, who in addition to the duties of city engineer, assumes the work of streets commissioner, will remove his offices to the city building.

VICTORY DRIVE IS TURNED OVER TO SERVICE MEN

Other Agencies Fail in Attempt to Put Twin Falls Over Top and Returned Fighters Step in to Fill the Gap.

Twin Falls will not finish the Victory bond campaign with its present record of less than 50 per cent of its quota of $466,208 subscribed if the returned soldiers, sailors and marines of this community can help it.

Registering duplicates last evening over the meager results of the drive made here yesterday with the arrival of the whippet tank, the service men went in a frame of mind to be stirred to action by a telegram received by J. F. Martin, a director of the United Service Men's association, from Monte B. Gwinn, state Victory Loan chairman, appealing to returned soldiers, sailors and marines to lend their efforts toward putting over the Victory bond campaign in this county.

Assembly Sound.

As a result of informal conferences among the service men, a meeting has been arranged to be held at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning in the office of Captain E. M. Sweeley, a director of the Service Men's association, with preliminary plans for the service men's drive will be mapped out. This meeting is to be followed in the evening with a general meeting and a service men's returned soldiers, sailors and marines when the results of the preliminary skirmishes of the day will be reported and the clean up planned.

The service men entering this campaign are in no mood to listen to feeble excuses. They are going after results and they intend to get them, adopting whatever means to secure results which they may consider necessary. An excess of contribution made or intended to be made to any other fund especially will draw the wrath of the service men, it is stated.

Why Drive Failed.

In explanation of the drive made in Twin Falls with small results yesterday, C. D. Thomas, chairman of the county Victory Loan committee, said this morning, "A few good citizens got out and worked and raised $27,000. We expected the business men at least 100 strong to put on the drive and reach the goal. They didn't do it. That is all there is to it."

OFFICERS SUSPECT BOYS OF RECENT HOUSEBREAKS

Evident Purpose to Secure Cash in Three Cases Gives Clue.

Youthful housebreakers are suspected by the sheriff's office of guilt in a number of cases of burglary reported recently in Twin Falls. According to reports received by the sheriff's office, the boys were interested last night and on Saturday night. In each case the object sought by the intruders seemed to be securing of cash and other articles of value were left untouched although in the case at least of the entrance of the E. L. Cutler home on Poplar avenue last night, the house was thoroughly ransacked. The latter family has been away for several days on a trip to California. Entrance was gained by the intruders using a skeleton key after cutting through a screen door.

W. M. Peairs at the corner of Addison avenue and Lilly street reported at 2:30 o'clock this morning hearing rattling in a house. Nothing was disturbed however. Entrance of the home of E. L. Turner on Tenth avenue north on Saturday night was reported to the sheriff's office.

Household manual including the subject home appears best for intelligence, industry, practical knowledge and determination. The store ads are great helps.

Precedent Curbs Lower Classmen's Class Colors War

Seniors and Juniors Call Off Strife and Fresh and Soph Stage Quite Affair.

Owing to the heavy demands made upon the time of the conscientious Seniors and their rivals the Juniors, class fights have been called off for this year. On Monday the Freshmen and Sophomores who have not had their turn in the scrap came out in their colors, purple and white for the Fresh and blue and gold for the Sophs. The decision of their seniors stopped any spirit of class rivalry that may have been seeking expression and the day went on as usual save for the wearing of the colors.

Jose Gomez, 19, charged with burglary in the second degree, and Antonio Montez, 27, charged with petit larceny, were arraigned this morning before Probate Judge O. E. Davis. Montez pleaded guilty to the theft of a coat and vest from the Toggery. On recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney Frank L. Stephan, pronouncing of judgment was deferred.

Gomez, who is to be represented by Attorney E. V. Larson, pleaded guilty and asked for setting of his preliminary examination at an early date as possible. The court advised that the hearing might be reached this afternoon.

According to the statements of salesman of both the Toggery and Idaho Department store, Gomez and Montez entered their stores together, one making small purchases while the other made away with the clothing which was found in their possession. Avoids Payment of Fine or for Bond

J. O'Neil, Alleged I. W. W. Takes Departure Under Court Sentence.

Avoiding alike suggestions that he subscribe for a Victory Bond and payment of a fine of $55 assessed against him Monday by Police Judge W. A. Minnick, J. O'Neil, said to have been active as a member of the I. W. W., seems to have taken his departure from Twin Falls to other pastures. O'Neil and Willard Ward were arrested on Monday on charges of fighting. It developed in the hearing that O'Neil had been solicited to buy a Victory Bond and that he replied with remarks derogatory to the government. Ward pleaded inability to hear such remarks without show of forcible resentment. He was released. In pronouncing judgment on O'Neil the magistrate called attention to the fact that the amount of the fine, exclusive of costs involved, was the price of a Victory Bond.

CONDITION OF RAILROADS IS MADE PUBLIC

Earnings and Expenditures of Transportation Systems for Months of March and February Are Compared.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The government's loss in operating the railroads for the first three months of this year was $130,000,000 according to earnings figures of the so-called class J, or the larger roads, reported to the interstate commerce commission and compiled by the bureau of railway economics. During this period the railroads earned for the government $40,000,000 while the government was obliged under the railroad control act to pay the companies $170,000,000.

Net revenues were $29,574,000, of which only $10,244,000 represented net operating income which goes to offset the government's payment to the companies.
