

ARMY READY TO ACT SHOULD HUN DECELINE TREATY

Yankee Boys Ready for Action; Expect to Move on Berlin or to New York Within Short Time.

COBLENZ, Monday, May 26, (AP)—General Fayolle, commander of two French armies, arrived here today for a hurried conference with Lieutenant General Hunter Liggett, regarding the emergency plans of the allies in the event the Germans refuse to sign the terms of peace.

The activity among the troops within the bridgehead area has been more marked during the last few days than at any time since they reached the Rhine. The American doughboys are preparing for action, some of them saying that in the end there is a great probability of moving in the direction of Brandenburg gate, Berlin, or toward the state of liberty in New York harbor.

ARIZONA HAS FINE TIMES

Little Unemployment and Everybody Busy at Profitable Work in the State.

PHOENIX, Ariz., (AP)—There is less unemployment in Arizona than in any state in the Union, and there is a great demand for skilled labor in this state for many months past.

The above information was given to the Associated Press today by a responsible official, who has made a comprehensive study of labor employment and living conditions, not only in Arizona, but throughout the country.

Many Thrown Out. — Despite the fact that from 7500 to 10,000 men have been thrown out of employment in this state since the copper companies commenced curtailing production following the signing of the armistice, there is still a demand for mine workers. A further stated that this demand is slightly greater than the supply.

Copper Companies Rich. — The copper companies, it is said, which are estimated to represent from 65 to 70 per cent of the assessed valuation of the state gradually are becoming readjusted to post war conditions. The pendulum of employment, which swung to the extreme minimum with the signing of the armistice, is stated to be slowly coming back and this, in part, is held responsible for a drought for skilled help. Of common labor there is reported to be a supply equal to, if not greater than the demand.

Has Drawn from Texas. — Hereafter Arizona cotton fields have drawn heavily on Texas for labor, and have been fairly well supplied from that state, particularly as the drought cut down the demand there. This year, however, Texas is said to be expected to garner a bumper cotton crop and it is feared that the Lone Star state, not only will not send hands, but reach into Arizona for more.

The statement has been made by men closely identified with the Salt River valley cotton industry that, unless conditions change, there will be a shortage of labor running from 3000 hands upward.

In every other branch of agriculture the same thing is found, and it is daily being called in vain on the government and other employment bureaus for help.

In the northern portion of the state, there is reported a steady demand for help which is meeting with a fair supply.

The building trades, electricians, engineers and other branches of the industry all tell of fair conditions with considerable work on hand and more in prospect.

Living costs throughout the state are asserted to be 75 per cent higher than before the outbreak of hostilities in Europe. Figures taken from a survey in July, 1918, show that at that time the necessities of life jumped 43 per cent above normal pre-war prices. Since July, 1918, they are said to have gone from 10 to 12 1/2 per cent higher.

ARMY GREAT SCHOOL FOR ITS MEMBERSHIP

Extensive Plans Formulated to Further the Interests of Soldiers and Country.

PARIS. — (Correspondence of the Associated Press) — A great new educational regime for army will come into being in the United States in the near future if the present plans of government officials, army officers and prominent civilian educators stand.

Hon. Undersecretary. — Briefly, it is proposed to make Uncle Sam's standing army a huge university in which the young men of the country will receive not only physical and military training, but also will be given opportunities to acquire academic and vocational learning which might be beyond their reach in civil life.

Wonderful Work Done. — Few of the army educators in France realized the great work they were doing when they started. The avidity with which the enlisted men and his officer have seized upon the proffered opportunities has astounded them.

With this object lesson before it, the army has been inspired to carry on this work at home in the standing force.

Under the new system all subjects would be taught, from A, B, C's for the illiterate, up through perhaps the first steps in higher mathematics.

Made Physically Perfect. — There would be military training, of course, and the soldiers would be made as nearly physically perfect as possible.

Help the Uneducated. — Probably the man who would profit most would be the one who had acquired either the education or had been forced to leave school at an early age.

Remain Several Years. — It is believed by educators that many poor youths will devote not only one year to the army but will remain several years, in order to acquire at least some higher education.

California Cotton Will Bring Results. — Large Profits Derived by Growers of Golden State; Soyas Beans Promising.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., (AP)—California cotton growers will receive approximately $29,000,000 for this season's crop, according to statements made here by cotton seed oil brokers, who have completed surveys of the Imperial valley and Palo Verde districts.

The crop is expected to yield about 1,250,000 bales of lint cotton, with a market value of more than $15,000,000. In addition to the yield of cotton seed is expected to be about 65,000 tons, valued at a value of about $1,000,000.

Oil pressed from this season's run of cotton seed will total approximately 18,000,000 pounds and will be utilized in substitutes for lard and butter, as well as in a host of other fields.

The prospective enlargement of the acreage devoted to soy beans is very promising, according to Dr. George E. Clemens, head of the agricultural department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The profit on these products has not been estimated as yet, nor has that on the 32,000 tons of wheat and durum wheat expected to result from the coming crop. The rake and meal will be sold to stock interests in California, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico.

The acreage planted next year to cotton seed are said to be excellent.

WOMEN LEAVE FOR HARVEST

Start for Nebraska from Headquarters of National Woman's Land Army.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Three young women, the first of the army of female farm workers, who expect to aid in the production of a record crop, have started for the west, according to announcement from headquarters of the National Woman's Land Army.

Are Already Employed. — They have been employed by the owner of a ranch in Nevada, Miss Myrtle Marshall in a stenographer; Miss Sampson, an English girl, was clerking in a business house before joining the land army; and Miss Schroeder also was a clerk.

LAND TENURE OF BOHEMIA IS DISPUTED

Demand Made That Large Estates Be Taken Over by State and Divided Among Poorer Classes Under Some Plan.

PRAHA (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—There is a heated controversy throughout Bohemia over the question of dividing up the great estates held by the landowning magnates of this section of Czecho-Slovakia. The greater part of the land in Bohemia is in the hands of those large landowners and there is a widespread demand to have the estates taken over by the state and in some way put in the hands of the poorer classes.

Reform Commission. — One of the first acts of the new government was to appoint a commission to study the estates for reform in land owning. The commission now has reported recommending that the great estates should be bought by the state and that no land owners should be allowed to hold more than a few acres.

No Metal Shortage. — According to the letters there appears to be no shortage in Germany of metals such as steel, iron, zinc and tin, and there are enormous stocks of machinery of various kinds on hand.

Great Leather Supply. — Shoemakers throughout the American occupied area recently have been buying leather scraps from the Third United States Army, this leather having been abandoned by the German army after the armistice.

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—"Poor" or "fair" with a few ratings as "good" are the reports that come from the various fishing streams of California. In general it may be said that conditions have improved in the last week or ten days and it is predicted that this improvement will continue.

The good fishing is reported from the McCloud, Pitt and Sacramento rivers where good trout catches have been made with salmon spawners as the most successful bait.

LABOR IN NORTH IDAHO FOUND IN FINE CONDITION

Little Trouble in Handling Situation; Many Men Waiting for Opportunity to Work on New Road Extensions.

SPOKANE, Wash., (P)—With wages from 65 to 70 per cent higher than before the war, the labor situation in eastern Washington and northern Idaho is in excellent condition, with the supply about equal to the demand, it is declared by E. A. Hunter, superintendent of the federal employment service here. Mr. Hunter, whose office here supplies timber workers for the camps and mills in this section, says for the Coeur d'Alene mines, farm laborers for the wheat ranches and workers for construction work and miscellaneous activities, has it as part of his duties to keep in touch with the pulse of the labor market and inform the government of conditions.

Trouble in the Woods.
It is only in the woods that there is any disarrangement in the labor market, Mr. Hunter said, and this is due, not to a shortage of labor nor to a surplus of workers, but rather to a surplus of strife among rival organizations of mill and timber men. For this reason the "turn-over" of labor is far in excess of what the conditions in this field justify, he declared.

Problem of the Soldier.
The problem of the returning soldier is not proving to be any problem at all in this section, Mr. Hunter declared. The worst of this difficulty presented itself several months ago, he said, shortly after the signing of the armistice, and now has readjusted itself.

Can Place All That Come.
"We are having no trouble now in placing all the returning soldiers who are seeking employment," he said. "The fact is, few of them are hunting for work. Shortly after the signing of the armistice, we were receiving, on the cards we sent to the men from this section requests for jobs, with two or three preferences marked. Now these cards are coming back, some of them from France, with the notation across their face, 'Don't need any help in getting a job' or 'Have a job waiting for me.'"

Many Were Killed.
"The fact is, that most of the men who are now returning had worked themselves into business somewhere or were skilled in some trade. The man who has a regular trade or occupation is never long out of a job. It was the high school students and graduates, discharged from the officers' training camps shortly after the armistice was signed, who presented the greatest difficulty. Few of those have ever had practical experience of any sort, and yet they expected to get desirable employment at good wages."

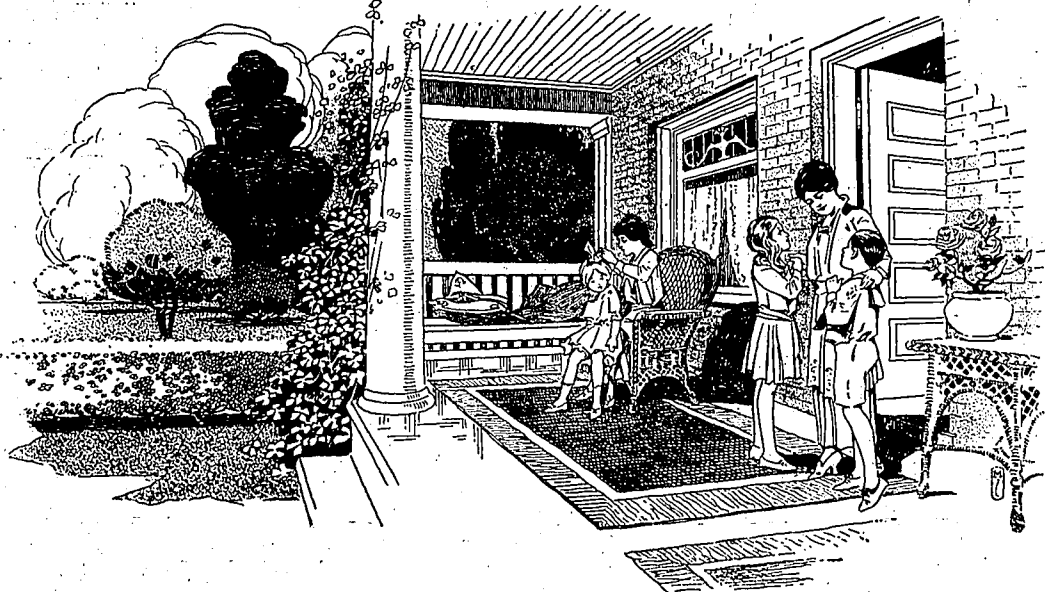

Absorbed by Market.
"Returning soldiers are being absorbed by the labor market as fast as they get back. For instance, during a recent week we had applications in this office for 35 soldiers, for jobs, and placed 32 of them in part for the fact that we had 37 applications, and placed all of them, besides four others from the preceding week. That, I believe, represents the general labor situation as well."

The absence of war industries in this section and the fact that women are giving up their war-time jobs to returning soldiers are believed by Mr. Hunter to be responsible in part for the lack of a surplus of labor here.

Demand for Miners.
While there is a big demand for mine labor from the Coeur d'Alene district of Idaho that cannot be supplied, Mr. Hunter said this is due to the low wages being offered. When common labor receives $4 a day for outside work men will not work in the mines for $4.25 a day, he said. He predicted that wages in this district will be advanced shortly to $5.25 a day for miners, and said that then the men who have been working on roads or at other employment will return to the mines, and the demand will be satisfied.

Another instance of labor waiting for the sort it wants is offered in the case of contemplated road construction work, Mr. Hunter said. An immense amount of road construction will be done this summer by the county, state and federal governments, he predicted, and said there are 600 to 700 men now in this city, waiting for this work to open to get the sort of employment they desire.

Aside from the big program of road building, there is little construction work in sight, the employment superintendent said. Few buildings are going up and reclamation projects are still in so preliminary a state that they afford little prospect of offering employment soon, he declared.

Is Your House Your Home?

You Will Never Know the Real Happiness of Home Until You are a Home Owner!

You, Mr. Renter, in compelling your family to live in rented houses—this one now and another next year—not only deny yourself one of Life's greatest satisfactions—but deprive your children of their natural birthright!

Many of our dearest memories are those of our childhood home. Would you withhold from your little ones those same sacred, happy memories in after years? It is in the Home that your children first base their concept of life—of duty and industry and responsibility. Denying them a home of their own now robs them of these memories and the higher ideals, the saving influences, which would help carry them safely through life.

Too often the words of Failure are these; "I never had a chance!" You owe your children that chance—that opportunity to make good. You owe them your help, your support, your guidance. You owe them the safety and protection of a home, because it is in the owned home, in the home that is theirs, that the cardinal principles of life are most indelibly stamped.

A home that you own, by its very stability and permanency, will impress your family with that self-respect and responsibility which come through being an established part of a community. Children who live here today and elsewhere next year never acquire the home idea of steadfastness and constancy. Instead, they receive impulses to float and drift which may follow them all through life!

It is only right and fair to your family that you provide them the safety and protection of their own home! And the most satisfactory way to secure that home is to build it! It can then be made in accordance with your ideals and desires and to meet the needs of your family. It can be where you would have it and exactly what you would have it.

Build Now! There is no possible reason why you should longer deny yourself and your family the privileges of real life. Not a thing is to be gained by waiting. Authorities are agreed that you can build now as economically as at any time in the future that can yet be foreseen. For your own peace of mind—for the happiness and contentment and safety of your family—because of the debt you surely owe your little ones, do not delay.

For any information you may desire on any subject pertaining to locations, materials, plans, finishings, furnishings, equipments, costs, information concerning architects, contractors, etc.—call at the Building Information Office. Not a thing to sell, but a great deal to give away!

WILSON ELIMINATED.

The statement of President Wilson last night at the dinner given to President Pessoa of Brazil, that he rejoiced because his presidency was not ahead of him, ought to settle for all time the idea that he will again seek the position.

There are numerous reasons why he should not, aside from the fact that there is at present a great slump in his stock, such as has often befallen a president in the last half of his second term.

In the second place, his temperament, while permitting him on more than one occasion to show unusual powers as a practical manager, is speculative and idealistic to a degree.

Speaking of Shump, Jackson and Roosevelt escaped the selection in the middle of their second terms, while their immediate successors suffered temporary loss of prestige.

CONGRESS GIVES WILD CHEER FOR THE NG-4

Great Demonstration When Announcement of Progress Is Made in House.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Announcement that an American airplane was expected to complete a trans-Atlantic flight before sunset was the signal for the outburst of applause today in the House.

The NG-4, declared Representative Hoke, republican of New York, "is rushing toward Lisbon at 90 miles an hour. This presages the successful termination of preparations of the American navy to be the first to carry the flag across the sea in an airship designed by American engineers, constructed by American workmen, propelled by American engines and manned by American officers."

peace conference by Dr. Karl Renner, the Austrian chancellor and head of the peace delegation at St. Germain on May 9, the delay in the delivery of the conditions of peace to the Austrian representatives, was couched in courteous terms.

Representatives of the new state carved out of the former Hapsburg monarchy were given a hearing late yesterday before the committee on the proposed solution of the Austro-Hungarian financial problem under which they would be held responsible for their share of the pre-war debt.

The prime factor in the negotiations heretofore has been the fact that about three billion francs of the Austrian government debt is in the hands of the French government has promised to secure repayment to its nationals. Hence it has been anxious to distribute the burden of the debt in a way that would not result in the bankruptcy of the new Austria and Hungary.

OBJECTORS ARE BEING GIVEN THEIR FREEDOM

England Slowly Releasing Men Who Refused to Fight in Great War.

LONDON.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Conscientious objectors in increasing numbers are being released from English prisons but there are still about 500 Quakers and other objectors to military service who are working out hard labor sentences.

More than 450 have been set free since April 8 when the five-man committee governing the release of objectors became effective. The order applies to those who have served sentences aggregating in length two or more years.

Altogether 6,255 men have resisted the British military service acts and 5,098 of them have been court-martialed. Since the armistice 240 men have been tried by military courts.

They contend that hostility to conscription is rapidly gaining ground and that the imprisoned "martyrs of opinion" evoke more sympathy than anger.

WAR RISK MAIL OF IMMENSE SIZE

Eighty Thousand Persons Write Daily Regarding Their Rights Under Law.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—More than a ton of incoming mail daily, and nearly as much outgoing mail, has made it necessary for the bureau of war risk insurance to build up a postal system of its own larger than is maintained by any single institution except the post-office in the United States.

Since the bureau has 18,000 employees and 38 divisions devoted to various phases of the bureau's work, the opening, reading, sorting and delivery of these letters to the proper divisions is a task requiring more than 100 employees.

Mail Receive Readily Mail is received every half hour, and most of it is opened by machinery and tied in bundles for delivery to the first set of readers.

each letter to ascertain to what division it should be sorted, check up to see that the envelope contains the check or bill which the letter may say it contains, and that the return address is on the letter as well as the envelope.

When letters give insufficient information upon which a reply may be based, a form setting forth all the necessary information is sent to the writer. Outgoing letters are sorted according to the states for which they are destined and tied in bundles and placed in separate sacks before leaving the bureau in order that they may be more rapidly handled in the federal post-office.

ADVISES FARMER TO BECOME HIS OWN MIDDLEMAN

Pren Moore, State Poultry Husbandman, Tells How to Control the Market and Get Better Prices for Eggs.

(By Pren Moore, State Poultry Husbandman.)

The opportunities of the farmer to control the price of eggs is unlimited. This may be accomplished by storing the eggs on the farm at that season when production is high, and by producing a strictly first class and marketing the eggs in a condition that will insure them going into the hands of the consumer fresh and wholesome.

There are a number of methods for storing eggs on the farm, one is the ordinary water glass method, another is lime water, another salt and then there are the patented preservatives that are on the market at this time.

For the patented methods, such as "Fresh Eggs Keep," "Flaming Egg Preserver," etc., it is necessary that eggs be kept in a dry place and as cool as possible. But the dry condition is more essential than the cool condition. Eggs stored in damp places are likely to mold. Eggs should be infertile when stored but if they are gathered promptly fertile eggs will keep perfectly if stored under proper conditions.

Producer Best Fitted.

It is necessary for someone to store eggs and there is no one better fitted for successful egg storage than the producer. He may market the eggs in the winter time when storage eggs are on the market and thus realize the increases in price that are usually enjoyed by the storage companies, and at the same time will have the effect of maintaining a high market condition at the time when egg production is the greatest.

If the farmers do not care to store their eggs and are determined to place them on the market it will pay to cooperate and ship in case lots to some distant market such as Spokane, Seattle, Butte or Portland. But it must always be borne in mind that in order to secure top prices it is absolutely necessary to ship a strictly first class article, which means eggs that are strictly fresh, uniform in size and very clean.

A Great Handicap.

The condition of eggs placed on the market is one of the greatest handicaps to the egg marketer. Farmers as a rule are not particular enough about the gathering and handling of their eggs. They do not insist on realizing that there are nowadays little boxes with a powerful light inside that shows at a glance the condition of the eggs. If eggs have spots on the yolk they are taken that, and what they do not be sent back to the farm where they were produced they have the effect of reducing the general market price of eggs.

Farmers need not depend upon local merchants, in fact they can do better. Merchants are in business to make money and are not going to pay any more for any product than is necessary and on the other hand it is perfectly legitimate and quite natural that they would protect themselves against loss. So it is up to the farmer to look out for his interests in the same manner as does the merchant.

IDAHO MOVES ON RAILROADS

Protest Made Against Raise in the Freight on Apples to Commerce Commission.

BOISE—The state of Idaho has formally moved against the United States railroad administration, Walker H. Hays, director general, and many federalized railroads under his control, including the Oregon Short Line, Saturday when it filed a complaint before the interstate commerce commission sharply increasing against the proposed increase in apple freight rates from Idaho to eastern points, held to be unjust, excessive, unreasonable and prejudicial. An order is prayed for directing the defendants to cease and desist from violating the act regulating commerce and to put into force and effect a just and reasonable rate.

Other defendants named in the complaint are: Acheson, Tostepa & Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, Boston & Albany, Chesapeake & Ohio, Chicago & Alton, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Chicago & Northwestern, Rock Island & Gulf, Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas, Colorado & Southern, Delaware, Indiana & West, Erie, Denver & Rio Grande, Erie, Fort Worth & Denver City, Great Northern, Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe, Illinois Central, Los Angeles & Salt Lake, Louisville & Nashville, Missouri Pacific, New York, New Haven & Hartford, Northern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Texas & New Orleans, Union Pacific and the Washakie Railroad company.

Terms of Complaint

The complaint sets forth that prior to June 25, 1918, the rates on green fruit in packages, also applies in packages and bulk, from points in Idaho to the various markets in the west were established. That on Nov. 24 of the same year the rates on apples were changed to $1.10 per hundredweight and that it is proposed to put a straight 25 per cent increase thereon.

Claim to be Unjust

It is set forth that the proposed rate is unjust, excessive, unreasonable, prejudicial, and discriminatory and disturbs the relationship that heretofore existed between competing markets and will add an unusual and unnecessary burden on the producers of Idaho by the collection of charges which are not needed by rail roads and the protection of the Pacific Northwestern Transportation company.

The state holds that the material and labor used for growing, producing and marketing fruits and vegetables and the products thereof have greatly increased in value during the past two years, while the prices charged and received by the growers for these commodities has remained stationary and the greater percent of the growers have actually operated at a loss under the old established rates during the last four or five years. It is held that the proposed increase will, if allowed to go into effect, increase these losses, diminish the quality and destroy the industry as well as deprive the people of "a necessary and nutritious food and cause an actual shrinkage in returns to the grower."

It is contended, further that while other products of the soil have, either had prices fixed by the government or increased in excess of values in normal times or through an extraordinary demand created by the war; the fruit and vegetable industry has had its consumption curtailed through the elimination of the foreign markets, resulting in proportionately lower returns to the producer than for years prior to the war.

WILLARD SLOW MOVING EAST

Tex Rickard Roasts Big Champion for Failing to Begin His Training on Time.

TOLEDO, O., (AP)—Falling to receive any official word from Jess Willard concerning his departure from Los Angeles, Tex Rickard, promoter of the heavyweight championship battle between Willard and Jack Dempsey here July Fourth, today telegraphed the champion requesting him to start for Toledo immediately. Rickard asked Willard to abandon his proposed stop for a day at his home in Lawrence, Kan.

"Willard agreed to be across five weeks in advance of the contest," Rickard said, "and that time is past. He asked for a few days in which to attend to personal affairs on the coast and I consented; but I think he has delayed his departure long enough. It is time that he should be on the ground and in training. I have requested him to be here Saturday."

PAUL DAVIS GETS JOB ON LAW ENFORCEMENT

Secretary of Recent Session of State Senate Lands Good Position.

BOISE—Paul Davis of Boise, secretary of the state during the session of the fifteen legislature, has been given an important assignment with the new state administration Saturday. He was appointed by Robert O. Jones, secretary of state and commissioner of law enforcement, to take charge of the license bureau of the law enforcement department. Mr. Davis takes up his new duties Monday.

Transferred to Law

On June 15 Dr. E. T. Bivler, former secretary of the state board of health, who was transferred to the law enforcement department to codify the laws, rules and regulations of the department, which relate to the various professions and to standardize examinations, will retire, his resignation going into effect at that time. Dr. Bivler has been appointed acting assistant surgeon of the United States public health service, war risk insurance branch and will take up his new duties on retiring from the law enforcement department.

Mr. Davis is well known over the state. He recently returned from St. Louis where he was a delegate to the national caucus of the World War Veterans' association.

WILSON GIVES HIS VIEWS ON A THIRD TERM

Declares He Is Glad Presidency Is Behind Him; Indicates Determination to Detire; Talks on League.

I think with the same political ambitions and principles to explore... I am particularly glad to have the opportunity of paying my respects to Mr. Deason. It is very delightful for one thing, if I may say so, to know that my presidency is a thing of the past and that his presidency is ahead of him.

Many Duties Imposed... American constitutions as a rule put so many duties on the highest sort upon the president and so much of the responsibility of affairs of state is centered upon him, that his years of office are apt to be years a little weighty in his anxiety, a little burdened with the sense of the obligation of speaking for his people, speaking what they really think, and endeavoring to accomplish what they really desire.

Delighted with Conditions... "And it is a delightful thought to believe that these conditions which have sprung up out of the soil of the American. I am not, of course, suggesting or believing that political liberty had its origin in the American home."

Own Peculiar Service... "If that is the world a peculiar service. If we originated great practices we must ourselves be worthy of them. I remember not long ago attending a very interesting meeting which was held in the interest of the Christian missionary effort in the world; I mean eliminating the rivalry between churches and agreeing that Christian missionaries should represent this, that or the other church, but represent the general Christian impulse and principle of the world."

Urged Pan-Americanism... "I will recall here to some of you an effort that I myself made some years ago, soon after I assumed the presidency of the United States, to do that very thing. I was urging that other states of America to unite with the United States in doing something which very clearly resembled a symphony with the present league of nations. I was ambitious to have the America do the thing first and set the example to the world."

Monroe Doctrine... "The United States upon a famous occasion warned the government of Europe that it would regard it as an unfriendly act if they tried to overturn free institutions in the western hemisphere and to substitute their own systems of government which at that time were inimical to those free institutions; but while the United States thus undertook of its own volition to be the champion of America against such aggression from Europe it did not give any conclusive assurance that it would ever itself be the aggressor. What I wanted to do in the proposals to which I have just referred was to offer to the

It has been fifty-one years since this brilliant little woman inspired and helped her great husband, General John A. Logan, U. S. A., and then commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, establish America's Memorial Day, on May 30. The order went forth from Logan's office in Washington, May 5, 1868. Since then our day of observance to the memory of fallen war heroes has found its place in foreign lands and this year France and England will place flowers on graves over there—lives given for humanity—while this nation bows its head for the heroes of all its wars—the crusaders who were given all—for freedom. Rounding out a career which has been a life of sacrifice Mrs. John A. Logan has just been decorated with the Belgian medal of Queen Elizabeth, by the king and queen for work as head of the Washington committee on Belgian relief.

Other American states our own bond that they were safe against any and any illicit ambitions we might entertain, as well as safe, so far as the power of the United States could make them safe against foreign nations.

"Of course I am sorry that happy consummation did not come, but after all, no doubt the impulse was contributed to by the fact that there was no sort of actual pledge in the part of all the self governing nations of the world that they will be friends to each other, not only that, but that they will take pains to secure each other's safety and independence and territorial integrity."

"Greatest Thing Ever"... "No greater thing has ever happened in the political world than that, and I am particularly grateful tonight to think of the hours I have had the pleasure of spending with Mr. Deason as a member, along with him, of the commission on the league of nations which prepared the covenant which was submitted to the conference. I have felt as I looked down the table and caught his eyes that he had the same American mind in regard to the business, and when I made suggestions or used arguments, that I felt were characteristically American, I would always catch sympathy in his eyes. When others perhaps did not catch the point at once, he always caught it, because though he was not bred to the same language he was bred to the same sense of national language and the same political thought and our ideas were the same."

Tribute to Brazil... "It is, therefore, with a real sense of communion and fellowship and of something more than neighborhood familiarity that I find myself in this congenial company and that I take my part joyfully in paying my tribute and extending my warmest best wishes to the great country of Brazil and to the gentleman who will rightly represent her in her presidential chair."
