Declare Best Interests of Philippines and United States Will Be Conserved by Granting Request in Petition.

PLEDGE GIVEN THAT THEY WILL ALWAYS BE FRIENDS

Declare That It is First Time a Race Without Grievances Has Asked for Severance of Political Relations.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Final and immediate solution of the Philippine question was asked of congress in a memorial presented by the Philippine mission today at a joint session of the senate committee on the Philippines and the house committee on the insular affairs. The mission is officially representing the Philippine legislature and people. "It is for the best interest both of the United States and the Philippines," said the memorial, "that the independence of the latter country be recognized and established at this time.

"Such a step will insure the maintenance of a firm and lasting friendship between the two peoples and will foster the free development of their commercial relations in the future; it will place on a high level the honor of America by the fulfillment of her repeated promises to grant freedom to the Filipino people, and thus perpetuate in the hearts of the American people sentiments of gratitude and affection which they now entertain towards the American people.

"For the first time in the history of colonial relations a subject and alien race come to ask severance of their political connection with the sovereign nation without recounting any act of injustice done to them and demanding reparation therefor; but rather with a feeling of gratitude and affection, and with the object and for the purpose of strengthening the bonds of political and material union which have bound the two peoples together in an endeavor to establish the reign of justice, democracy and peace in the world."

COBLENZ IS THE CAPITAL OF THE RHINE REPUBLIC

Committee Representing Three Former States of German Empire Declare Their Autonomy and Set Forth Plans.

PARIS, (AP)—Coblenz will be the capital of the new Rhine republic, which was proclaimed yesterday in several Rhine cities. The new government and national assembly will meet there, but the provisional government will sit at Wiesbaden. Portions of the proclamation have been telegraphed to the Echo de Paris from Metz by Maurice Barres. One significant section follows:

"We declare the autonomous Rhenish republic to be founded in the bosom of Germany. It is a pacific republic which is composed of the Rhine province, Old Nassau, Rhenish Hesse and the Palatinate. The foundation rests on the following bases:

- "1. The frontiers will remain the same, including Birkfeld.
- "2. Changes in frontiers can be made only with the approval of other nations interested as established by a plebiscite.
- "3. The provisional government of the Rhenish republic is exercised by the undersigned delegates of the people.
- "4. Election for the Rhenish national assembly will be held without delay according to the methods of the German national assembly.

"Coblenz is to be the capital of the new government and the national assembly will meet there. The provisional government will sit at Wiesbaden. Local authorities will continue to exercise control for the time being. The provisional government will take the place of the central government and the Prussian, Bavarian and Hessian governments.

Science Advancement Object of Meeting

American Sure Democratic Science of America Will Excel That of Germany.

PASADENA, Cal., (AP)—An interesting and significant feature of the meeting of the Pacific Division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science to be held at Pasadena, June 19, 20, 21 and 22, will be a symposium on "Scientific Education in a Democracy" arranged under sponsorship presented by a speaker of distinction.

"Discussing plans for this, a scientist arranging the program said: "The experience of the war has served to bring science into the foreground. Seized upon and exploited by a mediocrity on the one hand and the aggrandizement of the destruction of liberty and democracy, it was used before long that science is after all common property, and flourishes best where greatest freedom exists."

Need Only Mobilization It was presently found that our scientific resources only needed to be mobilized and co-ordinated to vastly excel the vaunted science of Germany, where every effort in research was under the surveillance of the state and directed to serve the purpose of a military oligarchy. The winning of the war was distinctly a triumph of science, and a demonstration of democracy. "Science has ever been fighting against restraint. The very essence of scientific progress is freedom, freedom of thought and of individual freedom to grow and expand. The greatest influence in this world today that promises to utterly destroy tyranny and autocracy wherever found is science. True, the maintenance of a democracy lies in the encouragement that is given to scientific research for its own sake, every real extension of liberty must come.

Promotion of Research "The promotion of research and the dissemination of scientific information should then be the chief concern of a democratic government for through these means the minds of the people will reach their problems and come into their heritage."

GOLD MINING TO GET HELP

Mining Bureau of Golden State Will Aid as Much as Possible.

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Gold mining in California, which passed through hard days during the war owing to the greater cost of production and the fact that this state did not experience the advanced prices offered for other metals, will be aided in every possible way by the California State Mining Bureau.

Permanent headquarters will be established for field assistants at Auburn, Placer county, and at Redding, Shasta county, all the factories of the bureau will be placed at the disposal of miners to aid them in solving their problems.

War Helped Others. War conditions did much to quicken mining in practically all states used in the production of ammunition and war munitions, thus stimulating an interest in the development of the state's resources in many minerals which heretofore have been more or less dormant or neglected.

The aid of the bureau will be accorded not only to the gold mining interests but also to the producers of the various other metals.

FINE RECORDS ON THE COAST

Struggle Between Universities for Championship Interesting Sporting Event.

SEATTLE, (AP)—More than a hundred athletes rated among the best on the Pacific coast and representing seven universities met here today in the annual Pacific coast conference track and field meet. Few ventured any predictions as to the winner of the meet and betting on the result was negligible. Only in the case of a number of individual performers who were expected to win their respective events was there any attempt made at picking the winner.

The institutions represented by teams were the University of California, Stanford College, the University of Washington, the Washington State college, the University of Oregon, the Oregon Agricultural college and the University of Idaho.

Predictions Before Game Prior to the meet it was generally expected that the struggle would be between the two California institutions, the University of Oregon and the University of Washington. In their dual meet Oregon defeated the University of Washington by a scant margin and the same result obtained in the win of Stanford over the University of California.

Further Steps Withheld Until Morris Reaches Omsk and Describes Situation There.

PARIS, (AP)—Until Roland S. Because of slow communication over the trans-Siberian route, it is probable that it will be another week before Mr. Morris reaches Omsk.

BOILING POINTS V.S. GRAVITY TESTS

Boiling points are the only real test of gasolene value in a motor fuel. The old gravity test tells little about the carburetting and combustive qualities of gasoline.

You could mix a low gravity test Kerosene with an extra high gravity test casing head gasoline and get better than the average gasoline gravity test. But it would make poor motor fuel. The light ends would go off first, through your carburetor, leaving nothing but the heavy, sluggish ends. You would have no intermediate combustion or power points. It would be just as safe as a ladder with several missing rungs or a stairway with several steps out of the center of it.

Because combustion, which means power, starts with the low boiling point and must have medium boiling points as well as high ones, to insure perfect combustion. If it misses one-link, your power chain is broken.

Conoco Gasoline has the complete chain of boiling points required for dependable power. Look for the Continental Soldier.

COAL SHORTAGE PREDICTED BY ASSOCIATION

Grave Consequences Feared Unless Lost Production Should Be Made Up; Shortage Expected.

CHICAGO, (P)—A warning that America faces a possible coal shortage more serious than that of eighteen months ago was sounded today by a special committee of the National Coal Association, whose membership produces approximately seventy-five per cent of the country's bituminous coal.

The committee, headed by F. S. Peabody of Chicago, pointed to the production decrease of 50,000,000 tons from January 1 to May 10 as compared with a year ago, declared there are grave dangers of a labor shortage, and urged that consumers place their orders now and thus set the idle mines in full swing again.

"A situation alive with possibilities of the gravest consequences confronts the people with respect to their coal supply for the coming fall and winter," says the statement. "The association regards the prospect with such misgivings that it would be remiss in its plain duty if it failed to call attention publicly to the facts."

Production Falls Down
"Ever since the armistice was signed production of bituminous coal has fallen far below the tonnage necessary to maintain at the country's normal needs are to be met. Official returns to the United States geological survey show that from January 1 to May 10 the output of all the mines in the country dropped twenty-five per cent below production during the corresponding period last year, or approximately 50,000,000 tons. The mines are now producing coal at the rate of 8,000,000 tons a week. They should be producing 11,000,000 tons if the people are to have enough coal."

"Unless the lost production is made up, at least in large part, domestic consumers will be unable to obtain sufficient fuel next winter, the transportation agencies will be crippled, public utilities generally will have to curtail their activities, industries will run on part time and all the distress due to the coal shortage of 1913 will be repeated, perhaps even aggravated and intensified."

Hard to Make Up
"It would be extremely difficult, if not impossible, to make up the tonnage already lost if the mines were all to start working full time tomorrow. Already there is a shortage of labor in certain coal fields, in others there is every indication that there soon will be a labor shortage, and the industry generally faces the loss of 40,000 foreign-born employees who have made their plans to return to Europe as soon as they can get passage. Many already have gone back, and there will not be men to take their places, for immigration is restricted and the tide of trans-Atlantic travel will soon as peace is signed, will flow strongly to Europe. In addition, the industry faces the loss of thousands of men who are seeking and obtaining less hazardous work and at more regular working time."

"The entire cause is failure of the public to keep the mines going full time by placing its orders for coal. The mines are now working half-time and quarter-time."

Stocks Largely Gone
"Stocks accumulated during the fall of last year have been almost depleted, and within a few days every body will be trying to place orders. It would be a physical impossibility for the mines to produce sufficient coal in the short time then remaining before the cold weather to meet the demand. Fuel Administrator Garfield has urged the public to place its orders now. The National Coal Association emphatically endorses this advice. For the man who longer delays in arranging for his coal supply for next fall and winter stands in grave danger of not getting it."

Mexican Editors Get Free Ride from the Carranza Government

MEXICO CITY, Mex., (P)—The responsible heads of three minor daily newspapers in Mexico City and one leading morning daily, the A. B. PARIS, (P)—No longer will it be necessary to serve a liquor in a cup in French cafes, when the hours fixed by law for meals have passed. The device limiting serving of intoxicants to fixed meal hours has been annulled for male civilians, and the substitute of using a cup which the representatives of law and order always carefully avoided noting, will now be needed only for women and minors, and for soldiers in uniform. A French writer says the soldiers have been allowed to take, Tahire, Doussant and Vaux but may not take brandy or whiskey.

Build a Home as a Plan for Saving Get the Prosperity Habit

The best savings bank in all the world is your own home! The best way to accumulate wealth, to get ahead in the world and become independent, is to build a home for yourself and then regularly and methodically pay your money into it.

In building a home you are supplied with a reason for saving—a tangible objective which makes it easy to save and serves as a check to unreasonable spending. Putting your money into a home promotes a sensible and systematic method of living and keeps always before you the real evidence that each dollar laid away is not only a dollar saved, but a dollar invested in something from which you will realize a lifetime of good.

You, who are renters, could build yourselves a home and pay for it with exactly the same money each month that now goes into your rental. Then, in a few years, instead of having nothing, you would have a home, paying dividends to yourself and all of yours, not only in actual cash from rental saved, but dividends of happiness and contentment.

In building your own home you not only provide yourself with a sensible method of saving, but you are doing your duty toward your wife and little ones. A home is the natural birthright of your children. It means not only present comfort and happiness and security but is a safeguard against future misfortune—a secure abiding place for your little ones for the years to come.

No man really wants to go through life dependent for the shelter of himself and his loved ones upon his daily work. Yet this is really the case among so many renters. What would happen if your earnings should cease—perhaps forever? Would your family be homeless—or safe and secure in a home of their own?

For the present comfort and safety of your family it is your business to begin saving today. For their future welfare it is right that you come to the full realization of the actual danger of useless spending. And the surest, safest, best way to save is to begin building your home at once!

Build now! Nothing can be gained by waiting. Authorities are agreed that you can build as economically now as at any time in the future that can yet be foreseen.

For any further information you may desire on any subject pertaining to locations, materials, furnishings, furnishings, equipments, costs, information as to architects, contractors, etc.—call at the Building Information Office. Not a thing to sell, but a great deal to give away!

GROWING MEXICAN INEFFICIENCY

Mexican editors at the capital who criticized the government are to be given a free trip with military escort throughout the disordered part of that troubled nation...

It would not be surprising to hear later that these men were shot by bandits or otherwise disposed of while making the trip...

Mexican efficiency has slumped a great deal in this respect since the late Don Porfirio Diaz was president.

At that time such a roundabout way of converting an editor to the views of the powers at the capital was unheard of...

The only indication that the present regime is endeavoring to maintain the proud traditions of the nation is the statement in the dispatch that the journalists are detained for transportation by the military authorities.

Even at that Carranza shows a degree of efficiency in dealing with protesting and criticizing editors which our own Burleson cannot begin to emulate.

GETTING TOGETHER

Was it waste whether between nations or between classes within any particular nation. Should war cease between the several countries of the earth, the energies devoted to strife and to preparation for strife could be concentrated on overcoming the obstacles of nature.

Should war between classes cease within civilized nations the same principle would operate and the machinery used for the purpose of tearing down could be utilized for constructive purposes.

Just as there is a movement toward making an attempt to make international war an exceedingly rare occurrence so there is within most civilized countries an effort to allay internal strife and thus bring about an era of understanding and of national and international peace.

A few years ago capital and labor were camped in two antagonistic armies between which a sort of truce or armistice existed, frequently broken.

That spirit is dying out. More and more capital is beginning to realize that constructive organization among workmen yields efficiency and loyal service and that employers can afford to pay more to workmen who are co-ordinating their efforts than to those who lack the discipline that unions give.

More and more labor is beginning to understand that a successful strike is a wasteful way to gain any end and that the strike should be the last resort.

That great general, the Duke of Wellington, is quoted as saying that there is nothing sadder than victory except defeat. The same might be said of struggle between classes. Hence, it is the part of British wisdom, no less than of Christianity and altruism for apparently divergent elements to get together and arrive at an understanding that is mutually beneficial.

The following, from the pen of a Boise correspondent, shows how far-reaching the idea is becoming:

A question of issuing bonds for a purpose connected with the enlargement of the capital was up in Boise and a meeting was held at the Commercial Club house.

"We want you to know that the laboring men of Boise are with you business men heart and soul on this matter," said Mr. Park.

"We want you to know that, while there are black sheep in every flock, and while we have unrepentant and radical members, that the rank and file of labor realize the necessity of working hand in hand with other classes.

"The league of nations comes to us after its principal members have been yoked with territory with their boundaries and their wildest dreams.

Referring to the abuses which followed the holy alliance, the California senator said it was organized for the same declared purposes and in the same 'ethereal and celestial language' as the league now proposed.

"If an American, with the purpose in view of protecting the Monroe doctrine, wrote this article, his affection for its topic and his allegiance feeble. It could not have been written with any other purpose than the destruction of the Monroe doctrine.

"It is absolutely clear that questions like immigration, those arising from the alien laws of California and similar matters will be within the jurisdiction of the league. TOKIO, (P)—(Correspondence)—Japanese appreciation of good points of American life, as expressed in a collection of personal comments published by the Jit Sugyo, a commercial. The following are representative extracts:

Dr. K. Miyake, "Japan has much to learn from America. The untimely war with which America entered the war, and the patriotism which her sons demonstrated on the firing front and behind it, are worthy of admiration."

Dr. T. Nakajima, "The Japanese are exclusive, cunning and intriguing. Long years of feudalism are to be blamed for this. In contrast with the Americans are downright by nature."

Mr. Furuya, Director of a trading company, "The Americans are outspoken. Their burning desire is to see themselves a great nation in accordance with their own conception of greatness."

Formed a Republic. "At the beginning of the revolution," he relates, "we formed a little republic of our own and ruled ourselves. We constituted an administrative committee, consisting of two conductors of whom I was one, four singers, two choruses and two orchestra artists, the members being chosen by vote."

"There were no intrigues, everybody having only the good of the theatre at heart, and the opera flourished both artistically and financially until hunger snatched our strength and beat us in the uneven fight."

RETURN ROADS EDITOR'S PLEA

Poll of Press Shows Great Majority in Favor of Turning Railroads Back.

NEW YORK, (P)—Public opinion is very strongly in favor of an early return of the railroads to their owners, as shown by the vote of nearly 6,000 editors of daily and weekly newspapers throughout the country.

The questionnaire was conducted by the Association of Railway Executives, and was completed before President Wilson received his present message to congress that the government would relinquish control of the railroads at the end of the year.

The four chief questions were as follows: 1. Does public opinion in your judgment favor the return of railroads to private ownership and operation as soon as this can properly be accomplished?

2. If so, is this opinion in part based on the desire to see competition in service and operation of railroads?

3. What is present sentiment in your community in regard to government ownership and operation of railroads?

4. What has been the feeling regarding the return of the railroads to private ownership and operation for five years?

On the first question, "Does public opinion in your judgment favor the return of railroads to private ownership and operation as soon as this can properly be accomplished?" 83 per cent voted yes, 11 per cent voted doubtful and 6 per cent expressed no opinion.

On the second question, "If so, is this opinion in part based on the desire to see competition in service and operation of railroads?" 72 per cent voted yes, 6 per cent voted no, with 5 and 14 per cent doubtful and blank respectively.

On the third question, "What is the present sentiment in your community on government ownership and operation of railroads?" 74 per cent estimated public sentiment as against government ownership, with 6 per cent doubtful and 4 per cent blank.

BURLEY PLAYERS WIN FROM LOCALS

Twin Falls Team Hits Tobaggon After Backstop is Put Out of Game.

When Patton, Twin Falls backstop, left the game in the first inning with a broken thumb, the game was being played again by Burley Sunday, started on the toboggon of defeat resulting in the loss of the contest by score of 9-2. Linn relieved Patton for the remaining and Humber, high school backstop, finished the game behind the bat.

Tadlock started the game on the mound for Twin Falls and pitched the beginning of the fifth by Thompson, and Oliver pitched the last two innings.

Twin Falls claimed 11 hits and Burley 12. Thompson and Beall were the heavy hitters for the locals, the former being credited with four and the latter with three.

Denman's stab of Bouge's grounder in the seventh period was the fielding sensation of the day.

The game was witnessed by a number of Twin Falls fans and a large crowd of Burley followers.

The following is the lineup:
Twin Falls—Singleton, cf; Denman, 3b; Watson, cf; Thompson, cf, p; cf; Whitel, 2b; Patton, out; Beall, 1b; Neuhok, 1b; Tadlock, Oliver and Thompson, p; Linn, c, cf.
Burley—Donkin, 2b; Koepfle, 2b; Crano, 1b; Bouge, cf; Adolph, cf; Cox, cf; Kutch, c; Jones, 1b; Stone, p.

BURLET WINS FROM FILER

FILER—Bupert staged a ninth inning rally in the game Sunday against Beall, putting over eight runs in that period and winning the game by score of 10-9.

BURL LOSES TO PAUL

PAUL—The Paul baseball team won from Burl in a close and interesting game played here Sunday by score of 3-2.

LOCAL MEN TO SELL LUMBER

New Institution, Capitalized at $25,000, to File Articles Today.

Articles of incorporation of a new lumber firm in the Twin Falls field probably will be filed today. The incorporators of the new enterprise are J. A. Keel, F. W. Wilkinson and M. A. Stronk, all of Twin Falls. The capital is to be $25,000. Frank M. Keel, former sheriff of Twin Falls, and now employed at Barley by the Beynolds Brothers company, has been retained in the position of manager for the new institution.

Within the next 60 days, it is stated, buildings will be completed on lots at the corner of Fourth avenue and Second street south, which have been held by the incorporators and the new institution will be introduced to the Twin Falls public.

MORE ROOM PROVIDED FOR FAIR EXHIBITS

Commissioners Approve Plans for Erection of Agricultural Hall, New Barn and Sale Pavilion at Filer.

In order to provide for exhibits at the Twin Falls county fair at Filer, September 30-October 3, which according to present prospects will exceed in extent the array at any previous event of the kind in the county, the county fair board with the consent of the county commissioners, has completed plans for the erection at a cost of about $2,000 of an agricultural hall to accommodate exhibits in heretofore displayed in tents; for building of another livestock barn and affording 200 feet additional stall room, and for a stock judging and sale pavilion.

Many Exhibits in Sight
These are plans of the fair management made known here Tuesday by J. M. Markel, secretary of the fair board, meeting in conference with the county commissioners.

"More exhibits are in prospect at the present time for the fair than there were last year two days before the opening day," Mr. Markel said. "The prospect for large and varied exhibits of livestock is especially favorable."

In this connection Mr. Markel said that he had been advised by O. P. Henderson, secretary of the Idaho state fair, to attend to the best agricultural exhibitions, that practically all of the breeders with whom he had been in communication planned to exhibit at the Twin Falls county fair. The state fair in Boise is slated for the week before the Twin Falls county fair, and the Lewiston stock show for a later date.

BOARD OPENS BIDS ON NEW NURSES' HOME

Commissioners Are Considering Proposals of Contractors for Construction of County Hospital Adjunct.

The county commissioners this afternoon opened bids on the construction of a nurses' home as an adjunct to the county general hospital. The cost of the building which is to be brick, similar in design to the main hospital building, as estimated by the architect, Capt. E. H. Gatos is around $25,000.

Elements of Plans.

The proposed nurses' home is to be 40x20 feet in size with two stories and basement, to be situated to the west of the hospital building.

The basement is to provide accommodations for the laundry plant, laundry, store rooms and eight bed rooms. On the first floor there are to be six bed rooms, two living rooms, library and the superintendent's suite.

The second floor will be given over entirely to bed rooms of which there are to be ten.

Large sleeping porches are to be built off either floor at both ends of the building.

To Relieve Congestions.

A principle purpose of construction of the nurses' home at this time is to relieve congestions in the hospital building resulting from increasing demands of patients for accommodation together with the fact that no provision outside the hospital for employees of the institution is available.

In proceeding with plans for building the nurses' home at this time the county commissioners are taking up a project entered upon by the preceding board of supervisors because of the conditions and restrictions on building.

WAGERED AUTO CASE FOR TRIAL

Attorney for Possessor of Car Bet and Lost Ready to Go.

Among the cases in district court in which attorneys have signified their readiness to proceed to trial is the case of Minnie L. Hays against C. A. Robinson and others, an action brought to recover possession of an automobile wagered and lost by J. W. Hays, husband of the plaintiff, on the results of the general election last fall. Sweeley & Sweeley, attorneys for the defendant, filed the note of issue. The case is to be tried before a jury.

Other cases in which similar steps were taken Saturday by the attorneys named are the following:

N. E. Gear against J. H. Glander, by Sweeley and Sweeley for the plaintiff.

Joseph F. Groh against Roy Mercer, by Hazel & Benoit for the plaintiff.

Ben Chadwick against W. R. Summers, by Hazel & Benoit for the plaintiff.

The foregoing cases are to be tried before a jury, and the following are to be determined by the court, according to the notes of issue:

Frederick Reed, executor, against R. V. Davis and others, by Sweeley & Sweeley, for the plaintiff.

Allen Fender against J. H. Stees, by Sweeley & Sweeley for the plaintiff.

Fred Osborne against Martin Olson, by Sweeley & Sweeley for the plaintiff.

APPEALS ON QUESTION OF WAGES TO HIGHER COURT

Fred Osborne, Dissatisfied with Judgment of Magistrate, Takes Case to District Court.

An appeal from Justice of the Peace W. S. Mallory's court in the case of Fred Osborne against Martin Olson, was taken to the district court by the defendant. In this case Osborne sued for wages during a part of the month of November, 1918, claiming that he had been employed by Olson as a sheepherder at $90 a month. The defendant denied that he had previously been made by Osborne for wages and alleged that Osborne was negligent and inefficient as an employe and further that because of Osborne's failure to perform certain work Osborne owed him $50. The magistrate rendered judgment for the plaintiff except as to attorneys' fees.

WORLD FED BY SEA IN FUTURE

Scientists Gather to Consider Provision for Billions of Inhabitants of Earth.

PASADENA, Cal. (AP)—With food prices soaring now how will the world be fed when war ends and science stifles plagues, epidemics and disease and the population grows from its present 1,675,000,000 to billions? Herbert C. Hoover if busy now making the world food supply stretch around, but food for the future billions will be discussed here June 19 to 22 when about four hundred world renowned scientists will gather.

This is but one of the problems to be discussed by the members of the Pacific Division for the American Association for the Advancement of Science at its session here. Their answer to the food question will be: "Go to Sea."

They will have a projected exploration of the North Pacific ocean, from whence they claim, may come, more food than the world has ever before heard of.

Program is Outlined.

Speaking of this, one of the scientists arranging the program, said: "Very little is known of the resources of the Pacific ocean or of any ocean, for that matter. When it is stated that the organic productiveness of the ocean very probably exceeds that of the land, the significance of scientific exploration in this field, becomes apparent."

"In the vision of the scientist, the ocean, that great force of life in this planet, may yet prove to be our main reliance for food and sustenance."

"When the population of the world, freed by science from the ravages of disease and wars, shall continue to increase even more rapidly than it has hitherto and the limits of agriculture have been reached, we may yet find in the world's oceans the final impulse that will carry civilization to its goal. This indeed is visionary. We shall at least through this projected exploration extend the boundaries of human knowledge and add greatly to the wealth of man."

"This subject is of vital interest to the peoples of the Pacific area, and it is proposed to set forth the possibilities of undertaking in this symposium under eight headings or topics. Specialists qualified by experience will present the problems involved in the attempt to be gained through investigations in their respective fields."

Idaho is Represented.

There will be representatives in attendance from Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, Alaska, British Columbia, Mexico, Hawaii, and the Philippines. The membership of the association's Pacific Division, comprising 1,450 included in addition to noted scientists, men of affairs, manufacturers, agriculturists, ornamentalists and many from other walks of life.

Newly Opened Twin Falls Station Takes Initial Applications.

Preference for the motor transport service was expressed by all four applicants presenting themselves for enlistment Saturday at the auxiliary United States army recruiting station opened last week in the Addison T. Smith building on Shoshone street south.

The applicants were Manlius A. Bennett, Ralph A. Joyner, Clifton C. E. Talma and Samuel Roberts, all of Twin Falls.

Appeal is being made by the army recruiting station for men for service overseas to relieve the army of occupation.

The United States army are wanted for every trade, and in every branch of service. They may choose any part of the world in which to serve—China, Siberia, Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Alaska and Panamarch.

Men between the ages of 18 and 40 are needed in the air service, construction division and tank corps as expert and apprentice tradesmen.

After six months and enlistments are for three years, without reserve period. Previous service men may enlist for one year of service in the United States but all foreign service is for a period of three years.

KIMBERLY PUPILS RAISE FLAG WITH CEREMONIES

Boy Scouts Take Part in Exercises Held in Event of First Display of Purchase from Donations.

(Special to The News). KIMBERLY—Pupils of the Kimberly grade schools last Thursday celebrated the raising of a 10 by 15 foot all-wool flag which was purchased with their donations amounting to $24. The Boy Scouts ceremony was used in which Rev. G. E. Mangen, scout master, and the Kimberly Boy Scouts participated.

After a short drill by the scouts, Mr. Mangen spoke briefly emphasizing the idea of keeping the flag clean by living clean lives. The Star-Spangled Banner was then sung while the flag was raised by two sixth grade girls, Bessie Lee and closed by singing of patriotic songs and Katherine Wilson. The exercises were short talk by the principal, Miss Airlin Wood.

DECLARES PROSECUTION WAS WITHOUT MALICE

E. R. Dooley Denies Claim of John Balsch to Damages for Alleged Injury to Reputation.

The answer of the defendant in the case of John Balsch against E. R. Dooley, wherein recovery of $1000 for alleged injury to good name and reputation is sought, was filed Saturday in district court by Sweeley & Sweeley. The present litigation in this case is an outgrowth of a criminal prosecution instituted by Dooley on November 20, 1918, at which time Dooley believed that Balsch had stolen a hog owned by him. In his answer Dooley states that he acted in the matter on the advice of Prosecuting Attorney Frank L. Stephan, and that the prosecution was instituted without malice.

SIBERIAN WINTER IS THE COLDEST EVER

Terrific Sufferings on the Part of Those Exposed to Unusual Rigors.

VLADEVOSTOK — (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Americans who spent the winter in Omsk, the headquarters of the Kolchak anti-Bolshevik government, say the winter was the coldest in the history of western Siberia and caused great suffering among hundreds of thousands of refugees from European Russia who have found temporary shelter in Moscow and other Siberian centers. They say that 500 persons were frozen to death in Tomsk and that thousands suffered from frost and hunger. The temperature often reached 57 to 60 degrees below zero. Fortunately, little wind blew across the tundra, but when the wind did blow the cold was intolerable.

Penetrated Everything.

The stoutest fur coat could not stop it from penetrating to the marrow. As if by magic, the streets became deserted, Americans often had their cheeks and noses frozen and their hands, despite woolen gloves and mittens, were always stiff and aching. Reckless exposure of the ears was always dangerous, sometimes resulting in the lobes freezing and falling off at the slightest touch.

Still Felt Buoyant.

Despite the terrible cold, the visitor there feels buoyant and strong and usually feels like doing an extraordinary amount of work. The exceeding dryness of the atmosphere, the Siberian said, is conducive to long life and a sure cure for tuberculosis. Despite the rigors of the climate the people often live to be 80 or 90 years old. Nevertheless, the average American who had to spend the winter in the Omsk district as did some of the assistants of John P. Stevens, the American engineer in charge of the great Siberian railway suffered severely.

LAND SETTLEMENT INSPIRES RUSSIAN

Plan of Americans Appeals to Minister of the All-Russian Government.

OMSK, Siberia, (AP)—(Correspondence) The American system of settling farmers upon government land by distributing it among them either free or at nominal cost has inspired N. Petroff, the Minister of Agriculture of the All-Russian, or anti-Bolshevik government, to formulate a similar plan for dividing Russian land among the peasants.

"The Minister told the American Press correspondent that he was convinced that this plan would be most advantageous and that the development of the land must be left exclusively to the peasants. Small land-holders, he said, must have a chance to extend their possessions of land on their merits as farmers."

Minister Petroff declared that any program of rebuilding the Russian nation must satisfy the demands of the farmers and that the only feasible way of doing this was by lease and purchase.

The project has drawn up provides for a special set fund to buy up land and distribute it among the peasants, both those now absolutely without land and those who have at present an inadequate area.

NIPPONESE LIVES ARE SHAKEN TO FOUNDATION

Spirit of Unrest Abroad; Economic Discussion Diverging Folks from Old Ideas.

TOKIO, (AP)—The spirit of unrest is stirring the minds of the Japanese people, says the Jiji, which has the most conservative and most thoughtfully edited newspaper, in a warning to the authorities. "The war thoughts radiating from Paris are having contradictory effects here, democracy being preached side by side with very old fashioned caste ideas, so that the people do not know where to look for the guiding post. "In economics everybody is at one in feeling the pressure of the hardships of living. There is every indication that the labor element of this country will not rest content with its present lot."

The British Kingdom. Great Britain includes England, Scotland and Wales. It is called Great Britain in distinction from Brittany (Brittany, Lesser Britain). In the union with Scotland in 1707, Great Britain became the official name of the British kingdom, and so continues until the union with Ireland in 1801. Since then the form has been Great Britain and Ireland.

GINGERBREAD FAIR HITS PARISIANS

Whirl-If-Girls Ride Out More Than Formerly at Such Festivities.

PARIS, (AP)—The coming of the armistice has allowed Paris to have its pleasure fairs again after they had been suppressed during the hostilities. The celebrated "Gingerbread Fair" was the first to be held and attracted thousands as it has done since its institution nearly a thousand years ago. Biding Good More

An unpleasant surprise was in store for the lovers of merry-go-rounds, which used to cost two cents a ride before the war and four on Saturdays, nights and Sunday. The humiliated, and most out of date affair which offered mere wooden horses or pigs to ride on, was replaced by a modern and more interesting one. A suspended airplane required a franc and a half, or 30 cents. These offered in prices (to the French mind) did not prevent brisk business, for even the French seem to have lost their keen sense of the value of money.

LISTENER CLAIMS HE HEARD STATE SECRETS

Asserts That Emperors Charles and William Had Interesting Conversations Over Phones

VIENNA, (AP)—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The story of an eavesdropper who says he "latched in" on a telephone wire and overheard conversations between the former Emperor Charles of Austria and persons in Berlin just before hostilities ended is published by the Narodni Polykai. The eavesdropper was an electrician named Oceank, who claims to have tapped a private telephone wire between Vienna and Berlin.

Oceank declares that the conversations between the former Emperor Charles and Berlin were of a purport contrary to that given out to the public. The emperor, he said, always answered the telephone call as "Captain Kraus" but sometimes when he forgot, called himself "Karl." He was often heard to deliver a severe reprimand to some high staff officers.

The private wire was at the disposition of others than royalty and the eavesdropper, he said, always heard a voice from Berlin was frequently heard calling for the emperor. On another occasion somebody in Vienna called up Berlin asking for a picture of a well known German film director.

"We are concluding peace on the basis of the note just received in view of the hopeless situation," was Vienna's reply. Soon after the Vienna call up Berlin and informed some one of the contents of the Austria answer except President Wilson's points as a basis for peace. This was the last conversation reported over the wire, soon afterward it was cut by a telephone official in Prague.

FRANCE TO SPEND MUCH ON HER PUBLIC WORKS

Extensive Plans Formulated for the Building Up of the Country.

PARIS (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—France will spend about 4,000,000,000 francs on new public work, besides about 3,000,000,000 francs for the rebuilding of railroads in the devastated regions, the Associated Press was told today by M. Claveille, minister of public works.

"Our program," said the minister, "calls for the electrification of 5,200 miles of railroad, the building of 3,500 miles of local railroad lines and the construction of 6,000 miles of national roads and about 60,000 miles of other highways that were ruined by the intensive army traffic or destroyed by mining in the Eastern Gallies."

"The Germans tore up or blew up 2,000 miles of track on the northern railroad system and about 1,500 miles of the lines in the Eastern Gallies, along with 2,000 miles of telegraph and telephone wires," he said. These lines have already been restored in part.

"What remains to be done consists of the material required for the work at ten million tons."

M. Claveille explained that, although an army of roadworkers, reaching 78,000 men in 1918, has been employed repairing roadways in the army zone, they were worn almost as fast as they were restored.

PARIS BARS CLOSED BY REASON OF BIOT

PARIS, (AP)—All the bars, saloons, cafes and places that sell liquid refreshments in Bar-le-Duc decided to close for 24 hours because the authorities had refused their request to be allowed to sell at all hours to soldiers passing through the town. Many thousands of soldiers arrive and leave at all hours as the town is a center for military transport. The day chosen was that on which President Poincare, who was born in Bar-le-Duc, was to pay it a visit and make a speech.

Bar-le-Duc believes it has a good claim to special consideration as during the war the little town received 590 aerial bombs or torpedoes, as compared with 850 which were dropped on London.

A window placard, "For Rent," does not get it to find you a tenant may be a very costly policy.

Y. M. C. A. WORK IN SIBERIA IS GREAT

Organization Active in Improving Condition of Masses; International Hut Popular.

VLADIVOSTOK (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—"We are now giving a definite service to nine nationalities in Siberia," said G. S. Phelps, senior national secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Phelps, a Christiana association, speaking of the organization's work to the correspondent of the Associated Press. "These include Americans, Czechs, French, Russians, British, Hungarians, Rumanians and Chinese, but our chief work is among the soldiers of the United States and those of Czech-Slovakia."

Look After Officers. The Y. M. C. A. has been conducting about twenty clubs in Siberia and about thirty rolling canteens which are freight cars equipped to resemble comfortable clubs. It is continued.

"Although our principal work is with the troops, the civilians have not been neglected. We provide work for them at Vladivostok, Hainavsk, Harbin, but in Siberia are about thirty rolling canteens which are freight cars equipped to resemble comfortable clubs. It is continued.

"Our civilian work is very much appreciated by the Russians. At Hainavsk the mayor put one of the best buildings in the city at our disposal and appointed a citizens' committee to cooperate with our secretary. The physical and educational features of the Y. M. C. A. seem to especially appeal to them."

"A special piece of good luck for us was the turning over by the American committee on public information of the moving picture equipment, including studios, laboratories, machines and films. This addition to our resources will enable us to maintain a regular film and lecture service throughout all Siberia. Beginning with this month, we have 120,000 feet of carefully selected films arriving each month from America."

AMERICANS ARE FIRST

"Of course, our first responsibility is to the American expeditious force, assigned to which are twenty American secretaries. Through the cooperation of General Graves and his entire staff, we have been able to effect a fairly efficient organization. At the present time we are maintaining contact with 10 units of the American army. As the American units move westward to help guard the Siberian railway they bring their club car attached to their troops trains."

Mr. Phelps said in conclusion: "Perhaps, of all the services of the Y. M. C. A. in Siberia, the most regular are the entertainments given in the 'International Hut' at Vladivostok. It is our policy to have something going every day in the week. From two until eleven o'clock, there are entertainments in club band concerts, choruses, boxing contests, popular lectures, moving pictures and amateur shows. We try to make the 'doughboy' happy."

TEXAS CROP OF WHEAT IS IMMENSE

Millions of Acres in Lone Star State Now Producing Grain.

DALLAS, Tex., (AP)—The two million acres of Texas land now in wheat that are expected to produce a crop of 40,000,000 bushels, five times larger than any previous Texas wheat crop. The Texas growers, guaranteed a price of $2.28 a bushel, figure a total return of 491,000,000 in round figures, with a $10,000,000 reduction as the approximate cost of production.

Districts of west Texas and the Panhandle belt are recruiting a huge army for harvesting the crop within the next sixty days. For the first time in three years, the drought-stricken sections of west Texas have use for reapers.

Moving North. The reapers have already started on the southern edge of the grain belt and will continue moving north, county by county and state by state, until they reach Canada next fall.

Many districts were never before used for growing wheat, and some last fall, including tracts that formerly grew cotton.

What statisticians have figured out is that the Texas crop, reduced to bread would make 1,120,000,000 loaves, or 11,200,000,000 sandwiches.

PLEASE TERMS TO AUSTRIANS

Outline Similar in Every Respect to Document Handed to Germans; Language Frequently Identical.

(Continued from page one) and associated powers have already recognized that the Czechoslovak state, in which are incorporated certain portions of the said monarchy, is a free, independent and allied state.

Whereas, the said powers have also recognized the union of certain portions of the said monarchy with the territory of the Kingdom of Serbia as a free, independent and allied state, under the name of the Serbian-Croatian state, and Regulate Dissolved Monarchy. Whereas, it is necessary, while restoring peace, to regulate the situation which has arisen from the dissolution of the said monarchy and the formation of the said states, and to establish the government of these countries on a firm foundation of justice and equality.

Finalities of Agreement. For this purpose the high contracting parties, duly named: Who, having communicated their full powers, have agreed as follows: From the coming into force of the present treaty the state of war will terminate.

"Austria is recognized as a new independent state under the name of the republic of Austria.

From that moment and subject to the provisions of this treaty official relations will exist between the allied and associated powers and the republic of Austria.

Washington Gets Treaty Summary

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The following official summary of the official Austrian peace terms was made available today in diplomatic circles here: The frontier facing Czechoslovakia follows the existing administrative boundaries formerly separating the republic of Austria from those of upper and lower Austria subject to certain minor rectifications, notably in the regions of Gmünd and Fuchsenberg.

The southern frontier facing Italy and Serbo-Croat-Slovene state is to be fixed by the principal allied and associated powers at a later date. In the case of Bleiburg crosses the Dravo just above its confluence with the Lavant and thence will pass north of the Dravo river to the Serbo-Croat-Slovene state; Marburg and Badkersburg, just to the north of which latter place it will join the Hungarian frontier.

The western and northern frontiers facing Bavaria, the western frontier facing Switzerland and the eastern frontier facing Hungary remain unchanged.

Political Clauses. The high contracting parties recognize and accept the frontiers of Bulgaria, Greece, Hungary, Poland, Rumania, the former Austro-Hungarian and the Czechoslovak state as at the present or as ultimately determined.

Austria renounces in favor of the principal allied and associated powers all her rights and titles over territories formerly belonging to her which though outside the new frontiers of Austria, have not been returned to any state undertaking to accept the settlement to be made in regard to these territories.

The Czechoslovak state: Austria recognizes the complete independence of the Czechoslovak state, including the autonomous territory south of the Carpathians in conformity with the action already taken by the principal allied and associated powers. The exact boundary between Austria and the new state is to be fixed by a field commission of seven members, five by the principal allied and associated powers and one each by Austria and Czechoslovakia.

Czechoslovakia agrees to embody in a treaty with the principal allied and associated powers provisions as may be deemed necessary to protect racial religious or linguistic minorities and to assure freedom of transit and equitable treatment for the commerce of other nations.

Serb-Croat State Recognized. The Serb-Croat-Slovene state: Austria similarly recognizes the complete independence of the Serb-Croat-Slovene state and renounces her rights and titles. A similarly appointed field commission, including a member named by the Serb-Croat-Slovene state is to fix the exact boundary. The question of the basin of Klagenfurt is reserved.

The Serb-Croat-Slovene state agrees to a similar treaty with the principal allied and associated powers for the protection of minorities and freedom of transit.

Rumania: Rumania agrees to a similar treaty for the protection of minorities and freedom of transit.

East-Lithuan Treaty Set Aside. Rumania: Austria is to recognize and accept the fact that the territory which formed part of the former Russian empire. She is to accept definitely the acquisition of the East-Lithuan territory and of all treaties or agreements of all kinds concluded since the revolution of November, 1917, with the exception of those which were concluded by the former Russian empire.

The allies reserve all the rights on the part of Russia for restitution, in accordance with the principles of the present treaty.

General arrangements: Austria is to consent to the assignment of the territory of 1918 by which she is to be substituted by a neutral state and her frontiers fixed and to accept in advance any convention with which the allies may determine to outline the Austria adheres to the abrogation of the neutrality of the grand duchy of Luxembourg and accepts in advance all international agreements as to be entered by the allied and associated powers. Austria accepts all arrangements made with Turkey and Bulgaria which refer to any rights, privileges or interests claimed in these countries by Austria or her nationals and not dealt with elsewhere. Austria accepts all arrangements made with Germany concerning the territories whose abandonment was imposed upon Denmark by the treaty of 1912.

Protection of Minorities. In a series of special clauses, Austria undertakes to bring her institutions into conformity with the principles of liberty and justice and to acknowledge the obligations for the protection of minorities over which the league of nations has jurisdiction. She assumes complete protection of life and liberty to all inhabitants of Austria without distinction of birth, nationality, language, race or religion, together with the right to free exercise of their religion. All Austrian nationals without distinction of race, language or religion are to be equal before the law. No restrictions are to be imposed on the free use of any language in private or public and reasonable facilities are to be given to Austrian nationals of non-German descent to use their language before the courts. Austrian nationals belonging to racial, religious or linguistic minorities are to enjoy the same protection as other Austrian nationals, except with regard to schools and other educational establishments and in districts where a considerable proportion of Austrian nationals of other races are to be given in schools for the instruction of children in their own language and an equitable share of the public funds is to be provided for that purpose. These provisions do not preclude the Austrian government from making the teaching of German obligatory. The same is to be provided for in her law as a bill of rights and provisions regarding them are to be under the protection of the league of nations.

Rights of Austria. Outside Europe, Austria renounces all rights, titles and privileges as her allies territories and undertakes to accept whatever measures are taken by the principal allied powers in relation thereto.

The clause as to Egypt, Morocco, China and Siam are identical after the necessary modifications with those of the German treaty. There is no need for so great detail.

Military Clause Reserved. Military, naval and air clauses: The military clause provides that all Austro-Hungarian warships, submarines and vessels of the Danube flotilla are to be finally surrendered to the principal allied and associated powers. Any specified auxiliary cruisers are to be dismantled and treated as merchant ships. All warships and submarines under construction in ports which belong or have belonged to Austria-Hungary shall be broken up, the salvage not to be used except for industrial purposes and not to be sold to foreign countries. The construction or acquisition of any submarine even for commercial purposes is forbidden. All naval arms, ammunition and equipment are to be turned over to Austria-Hungary at the date of the armistice shall be surrendered to the allies. The Austrian wireless stations at V. and W. are to be used for naval, military or political messages relating to Austria or her allies without the assent of the allied and associated powers during three months, but only for commercial messages under supervision. During the same period Austria is not to build any more high power wireless stations.

Air Clause. The air clauses are practically the same as in the German treaty except for the 100 airplanes and their personnel which Germany is allowed to retain until October to search for mines.

General: Austria agrees not to accept or send any military, naval or air mission to any foreign country, nor to allow Austrian nationals to enlist in the army, navy or air service of any foreign power.

The section on penalties is identical with the German treaty except for the omission of any provision similar to that calling for the trial of the ex-kaiser of Germany.

Other Reservations. The section on reparations is reserved. The financial clauses are reserved. Economic clauses are, except in certain details such as shipping, similar to those of the German treaty. Special provisions are added, however, for the former Austro-Hungarian nationals acquiring an allied nationality. Similar to those in the German treaty, relating to the inhabitants of Alsace-Lorraine, their contracts are maintained subject to cancellation by their governments. Austria undertakes to recognize any agreements or convention made by the allies to safeguard the interests of their nationals in any undertakings constituted under Austro-Hungarian law which operates in territories under the control of the former Austro-Hungarian empire and to transfer any necessary documents and information in regard to them.

Freedom of Transit. The clauses as to freedom of transit are the same in the Austrian as in the German treaty except for the omission of provisions affecting Germany alone and the insertion of specific clauses relating to Austria transit privileges through former Austro-Hungarian territory in order to assure her access to the Adriatic.

Necessities provisions are virtually identical with those of the German treaty. The treaty is to come into force when signed by Austria and three principal powers and to be effective for the individual states on the deposit of their specific ratifications.

RATE FIXING BY THE UNITED STATES IS OBTAINED (Continued from page one) proceedings brought by Kansas were dismissed.

Reversed Lower Courts. The court also said lower court decrees which held that under section 15 of the railroad control act here—excluding intrastate rates remained in effect as lawful police regulations.

The court held that the authority conferred by the constitution and the act were war powers conferred on the president and that the power of the federal government to regulate interstate commerce was not exclusive.

BUILDING REACHES HIGH MARK DURING LAST MONTH Total of Municipal Permits for May Is $272,300 as Against $285,850 for Entire Year of 1918.

Fishermen Leave Town for Streams When Season Opens

Fortunately Advised Anglers Seek Water Not too High or Muddy.

The opening of the fishing season on Sunday brought about a general exodus of Twin Falls fishermen to lakes and streams of the Idaho Panhandle. The streams of the Snake and Salmon rivers, Cottonwood and McCallen creeks and some of the other streams where the water was not too high and muddy were most successful to other anglers who well advised who tried the streams south and west of Rogerson, Wood River down to Magic dam or in Shoshone basin.

Among the fishermen whose success has been reported are Frank D. Johnson, who always catches them.

Outlining the services rendered by men of the forty colleges of Oxford and Cambridge, the Master writes that owing to the response for war service, the student life " dwindled to a thread."

ALLIES WILL TAKE FIRM STAND WITH HUN

French Press Confident Reply to Germany Will Refuse to Abate Demands.

PARIS, (AP)—The reply of the allied and associated governments to the German counter-proposal, the Echo de Paris declares will be handed to Count von Brockdorff-Rantau on Friday. It will constitute a refusal of the German proposal. The German proposal, per se, will be told they must either accept or refuse the allied conditions before June 22.

LONDON, (AP)—Count von Brockdorff-Rantau, when asked by a representative of the European press bureau whether the German counter-proposal would lead to negotiations according to a Berlin dispatch to the wireless press, said he had cured himself of the habit of believing in such things.

Southwell of Boise is being written 12,191 words on a postal card, as well as writing the Lord's prayer on a space covered by a dime, is given a page in the June number of the Field's Home Journal. This unusual work was done by Dr. Southwell in 1882, without the aid of a magnifying glass, and under the spur of an article which was a handwriting test performed by a Frenchman.

UNIVERSITIES LOSE IN WAR

Student Life Widdles to Thread in Oxford and Other Seats of Education.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The great universities of England, whose student bodies and teaching staffs were greatly depleted by service in the army or in government offices during the war are again filling with students and resuming normal life. This is shown by a letter received here by Lieutenant Colonel J. C. Fawcett of the British Embassy from A. L. Smith, Master of Balliol College, Oxford. New schools are being opened up at Oxford and plans for greater efficiency are being put into effect, he writes.

According to the Master of Balliol, Oxford lost approximately 12,000 of its ment to the war of 1914—the government service. Of these 2,394 were killed and 100 are missing. More than 4,000 won honors in the war including 18 Victoria crosses. The figures of Cambridge University would be about the same, the writer estimates.

Much Depleted. Outlining the services rendered by men of the forty colleges of Oxford and Cambridge, the Master writes that owing to the response for war service, the student life " dwindled to a thread."

He adds that "the importance of the response of these two older universities was that it filled up the gap between the destruction of the old Regular Army in the fighting of August and September of 1914 and the coming forward of the new Regular Army in the fighting of August and September of 1914 and the immediate response to the call of the "General Terms and Conditions" of the "Declaration of the Young Men's League" and "decisive answer" to "class" jealousy or "feeling" that the "war" was being made to bear the "burden."

"We doubted how many of the men would want to come back," continues the Master. "We are finding that it is applying to be taken back on a raft for shortened courses (lasting on an average of one and two-thirds years), and already the colleges are overfull."

The general tone and character of these men is described by Balliol's Master as remarkably high. There is quite as much life and cheerful activity as before the war and a great deal more seriousness of purpose. The Master rates not only a marked improvement in the strength of character shown by the returning students but that they have gained intellectually what they had lost in book knowledge and have more than made up for this loss by the power of coming to the point, and by a sense of reality about their work.

This, he concludes, shows that their previous university education was far too bookish and abstract in type and neglected too much the intellectual aspect of beginning things at the practical and concrete end. These returning men are not only keener to work, they work with more swiftness and efficiency than before they went out; for, as one of them said, that you had to do a lot of thinking in the trenches or else your number was soon up.

Oxford has made many concessions to these men which the Master regards as justified by the showing they now are making in their studies. Formerly nine terms' residence was required to obtain an Oxford degree, now the men who served in the army are excused from half this requirement and from some of the examination requirements. Those concessions will enable the majority of them to take their degree and go into the profession only a year or two later than would have been the case but for the war.

"In character and in general intellectual development they will be better men than they would have been under normal conditions and, in addition, they will have gained a hardy, if any, inferior," writes the Balliol Master.
