CALL ON WILSON TO SETTLE WIRE TROUBLE PLAN

Announcement Made Today in National Meeting of Federation of Labor by Percy Thomas, Deputy President.

TELEPHONE OPERATORS STRIKE IN CALIFORNIA

Go Out Notwithstanding Order Issued by International Union - Movement Declared Illegal by Union Officials.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Probability that the telegraph strike attention would be placed before President Wilson in a telegram from the American Federation of Labor in convention at Atlantic City, was announced here today by Percy Thomas, deputy international president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union.

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Telephone operators, linemen, electric workers throughout California went on strike at 8 a. m., union officials here asserted. All the principal cities in the state are affected.

Admits System Crippled Telephone company officials admitted that the system was crippled, and that there were long delays in connections after seven o'clock, the hour when the strike was called.

Operators' officials announced that some of their number were staying at their post to answer hospital, newspaper and other emergency calls. Many of the telephone employees put into effect notwithstanding an order issued by international union officials to postpone action following cessation of the workers by Postmaster General Burleson.

Many Are Out Union officials estimated more than 5,000 girl operators and 1,000 male employees are directly affected in northern and central California.

In southern California a strike was called yesterday of the telephone craft, affecting, it was said, more than 3,000. The telephone operators are demanding increased pay better housing conditions, discontinuance of alleged discrimination by employing officials against workers active in union affairs.

President of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, has declared the strikes in California illegal and without sanction of international officials. Difficulties Mentioned SURINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Official report of the strike of telephone operators in a number of California cities and towns had not been received at this office by Secretary Charles P. Ford of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers this morning. Mr. Ford attributed the action of the operators to the Pacific coast telephone companies' relative to working conditions.

"There have been difficulties existing between the operators and the office of the companies since last September, and the managers evidently refuse to settle the issues involved," said Mr. Ford.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND HANGING AT STAIRWAY

Coroner Deems Death of Mrs. Charles W. Arthur of Buhl, a Case of Suicide; Daughter Makes Discovery.

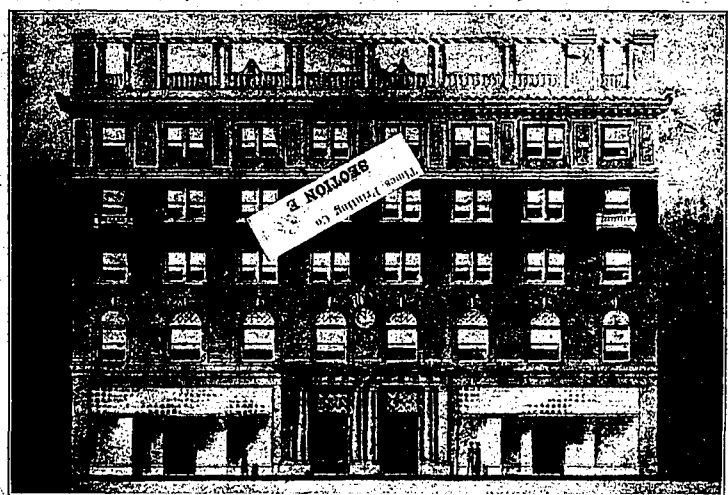

Hanging by the neck from a sheet suspended from the top of the stairway leading into the basement at her home, four miles north of Buhl, the body of Mrs. Charles W. Arthur, aged 33 years, was discovered at about 6 o'clock Monday evening by her little daughter, who with two other children are left motherless by the death.

Coroner P. J. Grossman and Deputy Sheriff E. L. Sherman of Buhl, were called to the Arthur home, but the coroner's inquest was not deemed necessary, the case being regarded as one of suicide. The body was removed to a Buhl undertaking establishment.

In Health a Move Dependent residence from long continued ill health is believed to have been the motive for the rash act. There had been nothing in Mrs. Arthur's demeanor to indicate her intention to end her own life. The husband of this neighboring farm had spent some time in the afternoon with her, leaving at about 5 o'clock. Except that she was very quiet and not talking, there was nothing unusual in her conduct at that time. The husband and children were in the fields at the time. The body was discovered on this return, the little girl preceding the others by a few moments.

GERMAN TREATY TEXT CAUSES DEEP GLOOM TO SETTLE IN WEIMER

Officials Privately Express Bitterness at Terms - Signing Declared to Be Highly Improbable; Opinion in Paris Is Generally That Pact Will Be Rejected; One Optimistic.

ALLIES PREPARED TO MAKE ANOTHER CONCESSION SHOULD PACT BE SIGNED

LONDON, (AP)—Seven members of the German cabinet favor signing the amended peace terms while the other seven are opposed to signing, a Berlin dispatch from Berlin says.

WEIMER, (AP)—The new allied terms reached here late last night and the first apparent effect upon the German leaders who remained awake to wait for the terms was that of depression. A report passed rapidly through the old castle where the government heads are residing temporarily that the signing of the peace terms by Germany was highly improbable.

No one would talk for publication but every official and every member of the foreign office available expressed the deepest pessimism and resentment at the alleged cruelty of the terms.

The Germans were especially indignant over a report that a French mob had stoned the hapless German delegate at Versailles.

MORE CONCESSIONS PARIS—Among the concessions contemplated for Germany in case she signs the peace treaty, it was learned today, is the use of thirty per cent of her merchant ships for two years. Other such concessions would be permission for her to dispose of her gold reserve and to purchase the obsolete arms necessary for equipping her own iron troops.

One is Content PARIS, (AP)—The majority of the members of the peace conference believe Germany will accept the new treaty, according to Marcel Hutin, of the Echo de Paris, who made a canvass of a number of the leading personalities of the peace making body. Only one of these, the delegate M. Herriot, declared, expressed the opinion that the Germans would accept the revised treaty. This member, however, is one whose opinion, the German writer says, holds in the greatest esteem.

Must Yield to Conditions The delegate in question, M. Hutin explained, based his opinion that the Germans will sign the treaty on the fact that they have knowledge that at yesterday's meeting of the council of four a complete agreement was reached on the consequences which would follow Germany's refusal of the peace proposals and the national assembly, the delegate pointed out, that orders had been given for an allied force of 600,000 men supported by heavy artillery of lightning devastating power, to begin an advance on the morning of June 24. Confronted by such realities, which alone count with them, the German government and the national assembly at the same time, the delegate's opinion, would decide to sign the treaty.

Word Reaches Berlin BERLIN, (AP)—Berlin was advised by telephone this evening that Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau had received the allied reply to the German counter proposals and would leave for Weimar at 8 o'clock. The news that the entente had replied to Germany was made public here late tonight.

The German delegates are due to arrive in Weimar on Tuesday afternoon. The minor members of the delegation (Continued on page eight)

Stops will be made at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Indianapolis, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Fargo, Bismarck, and several other cities.

Winnipeg Strike Heads Placed Under Arrest

WINNIPEG, June 17—Ten strike leaders were arrested in their homes here early today and transported in automobiles to some place in the country, presumably Stormy Mountain, by government police officials. CARRANZA AMBASSADOR DENOUNCES ACT AS VIOLATION OF TERRITORY

GENERAL CANDIDO AGUILAR REPRIMANDS ACTION OF AMERICANS CROSSING RIVER

WASHINGTON, (AP)—"The government and people of Mexico consider as a violation of Mexican sovereignty the crossing of United States soldiers into Mexican territory," General Candido Aguilar, confidential ambassador of President Carranza, declared today in a formal statement issued at the Mexican embassy.

EL PASO, Texas, (AP)—Francisco Villa and his rebel command is believed to be heading toward Casas Grandes, 25 miles southwest of Juarez. Before he attacked Juarez, Villa announced his intention of establishing his base at Casas Grandes and since he was driven away from the border, it is believed here he will go there where the grass and water are good and establish a camp for his men who are completely exhausted from the Juarez battle and the pursuit by American cavalry.

General Cabell announced today that every effort had been made to get the news of the American expedition to Americans in the interior of Mexico in order that they might be informed and be on their guard. He expressed the opinion that those in the danger zone will go into the larger towns and said he did not expect a large number of Americans to be killed if Villa starts an anti-American campaign.

Opinion Is Divided. Opinion on that part of the border is divided as to what Villa's attitude will be. Many Americans, including those having interests in Mexico, are strongly against the punitive expedition of Sunday night, saying that this would make it impossible for Americans to own and operate enterprises in Mexico for the next ten years without constant danger of being killed. Others, including several who own or are interested in Mexican holdings, take the opinion that the expedition will strengthen Carranza's position and has materially assisted him in handling the situation in the north.

BOLSHEVIKI HIT BY FEDERATION

Labor Meeting Goes on Record Against Recognition of Soviet Russia.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., (AP)—Organized labor struck a blow at the Bolshevik elements in its midst when the American Federation of Labor, in convention here, adopted a resolution today denouncing the American labor's recognition of Soviet Russia.

This memorial, voted for after the radical element had attempted to have adopted resolutions calling for the withdrawal of troops from Russia and the lifting of the blockade in Russian waters, expressed the convention's "well considered conviction" that while the troops ought to be withdrawn as soon as possible, "we refuse endorsement of the soviet or any other form of government until the people of Russia by a constituent or other form of national assembly establish a true democratic government."

Junta Urges Villa to Respect Our Rights

EL PASO, Tex., (AP)—Three men from the Villa junta here sent south from the border last night with letters from prominent Mexican politicians here urging him to make no campaign of reprisals against American property and lives in Mexico, it was announced at the junta today.

EL PASO, Tex., (AP)—Every border city, town and hamlet along the Rio Grande in this district is being guarded by detachments of American troops by General Erwin to prevent the possibility of a Villa raid across the border in retaliation for the expedition against Villa's forces in Mexico.

IRRIGATION DITCHES SAVED VILLA ARMY.

EL PASO, Texas, (AP)—Irrigated lowlands in the bend of the Rio Grande. Irrigation ditches and the swamps probably prevented the American cavalry troops from overtaking and capturing a large number of Villa's rebel army and men yesterday following the attack on Villa's camp eight miles from Juarez.

From unofficial reports received at Juarez here today it was shown that Col. S. H. Tompkins' cavalry forces were able to approach to within a short distance of the Villa camp without being discovered. The prisoners captured and brought back to Fort Bliss were probably outposts for this camp and this permitted the Americans to advance through the fields without being discovered as the rebels were eating corn that grew first.

San Like Rabbits. When the Americans opened fire the rebels made little effort to resist but ran for their horses and galloped away, scattering over the plain like a covey of quail, the American officer said. It was then that the barrier of the irrigated fields and ditches was encountered.

The lowland lying within the bend of the river is irrigated from the Rio Grande with a series of irrigation ditches. These were banked of water and it was possible to cross them only at foot bridges or on pontoons stretched across them.

BURLESON ORDER APPLIES TO ALL THE DEPARTMENT

Chairman McCarthy of Federation Committee Construes Latest Ruling of Postmaster General.

ATLANTIC CITY, (AP)—Postmaster General Burleson's order granting the right of collective bargaining to electrical and telephone workers signing up on Saturday averted a nationwide strike, applies to all other employees under the postoffice department, including telegraph operators and postal employees, according to a report made Monday to the convention of the American Federation of Labor by P. H. McCarthy, chairman of the committee that went to Washington under direction of the convention.

Sharp Discussion

This declaration resulted in a sharp debate by delegates. It started with E. P. Gaynor of the letter carriers asking if Postmaster General Burleson's order applied exclusively to telephone employees, and added that he could see no reason why all postal employees should not be given the same rights as had been granted employees of the telephone system.

Johns Wanted Information

John Lewis, vice-president of the mine workers, asked what effect the postmaster general's action would have upon the existing strike of commercial telegraphers. Mr. McCarthy said that while the telegraph strike was not discussed during the conference with Postmaster General Burleson, the committee was convinced that the questions involved in the telegraphers strike as well as any other that might arise would have to be dealt with in accordance with the order issued Saturday by Mr. Burleson.

Thomas Flattery of the postal employees secured the floor and announced that he had his suspicions regarding the sudden conversion of the postmaster general to the principle of collective bargaining.

"The concession to the electrical workers is very singular," he continued. "Mr. Burleson apparently trying to save his face at the eleventh hour in the wire situation. But I wish to remind this convention that the postmaster general will have wire employees under him only a few weeks longer. The regular postoffice employees will, unless Postmaster General Burleson is removed from office, be under him for some time to come."

The late King Charles' bronze horse which supports the greater part of the statue's weight has cracked. Repairs which will cost $1,000 are in progress. The statue is one of the finest in London.

"While there is nothing which will add much information to the art of aviation as a result of the flight," he continued, "it was a wonderful, nerve-racking thing to attempt, and a magnificent achievement. I have much admiration and respect for the men who attempted the feat in the face of such odds. It required a machine built of the best material, but above all, staunch determination and unflinching courage. They made the attempt at the right time."

HAWAIIANS RESENT OUTSIDE REFLECTIONS

Ignorance Shows by Many Americans Causes Publication of Facts About Islands.

HONOLULU, T. H., (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Letters received here by public officials indicate that in many sections of the United States there exists a surprising ignorance as to the real status of Hawaii.

Seeks Self Determination

One large mainland paper recently speculated as to the possibility of Hawaii seeking "self determination," apparently not knowing that Hawaii is intensely American, despite its cosmopolitan population, and that its people are extremely proud of the fact that the territory has "come over the top" in every liberty loan campaign and war charity drive.

A pupil in a public school in a Nebraskan town, evidently at the instigation of his teacher, recently wrote a letter for delivery to "some scholar of Hawaii" describing the game of baseball, his home, and relating the fact that he had his meat cooked before eating it, and asking for a description of simple, native life in the paradise of the Pacific.

Little Knowledge of Islands

Stories of similar stories might be told, all emphasizing the fact that many Americans have little knowledge of this American territory, 2,000 miles out in the tropical Pacific.

It is apparent that a misleading conception of Hawaii has been drawn by many from popular songs and light literature.

Honolulu, with a white population of approximately 25,000, has more than 5000 automobiles, excellent street car service, electric lights, automatic telephones, country clubs, golf links and all the other social refinements.

Wear American Suits

While it is true that many ducky beauties take daily dips at Waikiki beach, they wear made-in-America bathing suits instead of gaudy little dance-the-fox-trot instead of the hula, and spend their spare hours playing golf at the country clubs or driving their cars over the scenic roads of Oahu instead of stumping skulches beneath palm trees for the entertainment of white beachcombers and tourists.

Hawaii is in the tropics and 2000 miles from San Francisco but is a very American part of the United States and the only movement known here could be interpreted as a desire for "self-determination," in an occasional suggestion that statehood should be sought.

Among the annual labors are the smooth caterpillars. Naked and unarmored, their extreme vulnerability places them at the mercy of numerous parasites; but many families of them are remarkable for making little sheaths or garments for the protection of their bodies, notably the silk-worm, than whom the lilies of the field are not more gorgeously arrayed.

READ EXPLAINS HAWKER SPEECH

American Birdman Says Operator on Sopwith Intended to Defend British Admiralty

BREST, (AP)—Commander J. H. Tower, Lieut. Com. A. C. Read, Lieut. Com. P. N. L. Bellinger, and Com. Holden B. Richardson, whose exploits figured in the trans-Atlantic cruise of the United States naval seaplanes NC-4, NC-5 and NC-4, were enthusiastic when they read of the successful negotiation of the Atlantic by Capt. John Alcock. The time made by the Vickers-Vimy biplane driven by Captain Alcock surprised these experienced aviators, and they remarked that conditions for the flight must have been perfect. They commented more at length on the matter today.

Explains Hawker Address

Referring to the reported statement of Henry G. Hawker, whose Sopwith plane fell into the Atlantic when he was attempting a flight from New Foundland to Ireland, that "it was easy to cross the Atlantic with a warship every twenty yards," Lieut. Com. Commander Read said he believed Hawker merely desired to relieve the British admiralty of criticism for not having patrolled his course.

GREAT LAKES SHIPYARD PRODUCTION IS IMMENSE

More Than Five Hundred Vessels Produced for Nation Since War Began.

DETROIT, (AP)—When the shipbuilding program for 1919 is completed in November, the yards of the Great Lakes will have turned out complete 530 vessels since September, 1917, when construction for the government was started. Of this number 447 will be cargo carriers, and the remainder tugs, including 38 of the seagoing type, 150 feet long.

The lake yards were going at top speed when the armistice was signed in November, 1918. It was during this month that a record was established by completion of 28 ships. Between the signing of navigation approximately 400,000 deadweight tons of shipping was produced in the lake district.

MOVEMENT INTO MEXICO SCORED

El Paso Mayor and New York Congressman Denounce Administration Action.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Crossing of the American troops at El Paso to disperse the Villistas forces was criticized in the House today by Representative Gould, Republican, of New York, who declared such activities constituted "a tactless military offensive between the United States and Mexico of which congress had not been apprised."

Mr. Gould declared more Americans had been killed in Mexico during the Carranza regime than during any similar period since the Mexican revolution began.

"I hold no brief for any faction in Mexico," said Mr. Gould, "but I do hold a brief for every one of the 800 old Americans who abandoned by their own government have been murdered in Mexico since 1910."

Davis Opposed

EL PASO, (AP)—Mayor Charles Davis of El Paso, issued a statement this afternoon saying he regretted the expedition to Juarez last night because of the bad effect it would have upon the situation in Mexico where Americans owned large interests in districts frequented by Villa.

FACT MEETS ALL WILSON POINTS

Clemenceau in Delivering Reply to Germans Says Agreement Is Complete.

PARIS, (AP)—The reply of the allied powers to the German proposal last evening to the delegation, declared that it cannot be disputed the allied statesman have never expressed a desire for any other peace than one which would undo the wrongs of 1914, vindicate justice and international right and reconstruct the political foundations of Europe which would give liberty to all its peoples and therefore the prospect of a lasting peace.

The German claim of a contradiction between the terms of the treaty and President Wilson's promise of justice to the German people is met by a quotation demanding the destruction of every arbitrary power everywhere that was separately, secretly, and of its single choice disturb the peace of the world.

Discusses Territory

If, similarly, it says, the Germans claim contradiction in the territorial claims, it must be borne in mind that this is not the result of any purpose to act unjustly toward Germany, but rather of the fact that an enormous amount of German territory consisted of districts unjustly appropriated by her in the past.

The economic obligations are answered by the statement that Germany's economic condition is intact and in no wise crippled by a devastation like that brought upon the allied people. The German contention that the nations have been bartered about is declared to be similarly confounded, as every territorial settlement has been reached after most careful and broad consideration of racial, religious and linguistic factors.

Must Prove Character

Germany's complaint that she has not been invited to join the league of nations, it says, cannot find justification in any of President Wilson's declarations, for he carefully laid down that such admission was possible only after Germany had proved her character.

With regard to the league of nations it is stated the allied and associated powers have never had the intention of definitely excluding Germany or any other power from membership and that every country which has joined the league has proved its stability and its desire to observe international obligations will be supported in its demands for admission.

European Clauses

Part three deals with European clauses. It says the territories of Euphrates and Malabar have continued in close relation with Belgium and the reunion of these territories with Belgium seems justified. The German woods in Trusmian Moresnet are awarded to Belgium in partial compensation for the destruction of Belgian forests.

The reply says the plebiscite in northern Schleswig promised by Germany has never been carried out and the people concerned. The territory as far as the Eider and the Schlei is to be evacuated by the Germans and administered on the spot and with the end of 15 years will be free to choose its own sovereignty.

How Pleasure Comes

If you want knowledge, you must toll for it; and if pleasure, you must toll for it. Toll is the law. Pleasure comes through toll, and not by self-indulgence and indolence. When one gets to love work, his life is a happy one.—Knutson.

Why Spinners

The reason that unmarried ladies are called spinners is that formerly women were prohibited from unweaving their own complete set of web lines. If the same rule prevailed today what a falling off there would be in the marriage rate!

Changes in Terms

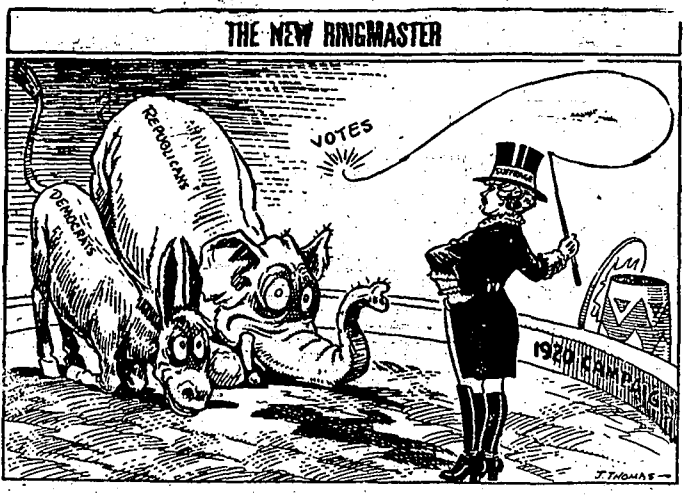

PARIS, (AP)—The final reply of the allied powers to the German conditions of peace handed to the Germans at Versailles May 7 delivered to the German delegation last evening was made public today after a delay of one month. The reply is in two parts—a general covering letter and serial discussions of the general counter proposals. The changes include a plebiscite with safeguards, with guarantees of coal from that territory.

Frontier rectifications in west Prussia. Omission of the third zone in the Schleswig plebiscite. Temporary increase of the German army from 100,000 to 200,000 men. Declaration of the intention to submit within a month a signature a list of those accused of violation of the laws and customs of war.

Offer to co-operate with a German committee with sufficient authority to receive suggestions for discharging the obligation.

Certain detailed modifications in the financial, economic and postal and waterways clauses, including abolition of the proposed Kiel canal commission. Assurance of membership in the league of nations in the early future if Germany fulfills her obligations.

The covering letter is from M. Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, president of the German delegation.

DUBLIN HONORS GREAT AIRMEN

Tumultuous Welcome at Irish Capital for Alcock and Brown After Long Trip.

DUBLIN, (AP)—A tumultuous welcome was given Captain Alcock and Lieutenant Brown on their arrival here tonight. When their train entered the Broadstone station, cheering crowds fairly mobbed the fliers' car, dragging them out and carrying them to waiting automobiles. Alcock looked remarkably well and was buoyant spirits.

"I am due for a reaction from the strain and excitement of the flight; it is a long time coming," he said.

Lieutenant Brown seemed greatly fatigued and frankly admitted it.

The Flying Boat

The outstanding question of the flight impressed on Captain Alcock, as he remarked to the correspondent, is that the airplane in its present state of development is not the type of machine for a trans-Atlantic voyage.

"The next time over," he said, "it will be in a flying boat. I foresee for the flying boat a great future, both as a passenger and commerce carrier."

Lieutenant Brown remarked that the longest gain was that marine aviation is entirely applicable to airplanes.

"There is little element of luck either in the success of the NC-4 or our flight," he declared.

How Pleasure Comes

If you want knowledge, you must toll for it; and if pleasure, you must toll for it. Toll is the law. Pleasure comes through toll, and not by self-indulgence and indolence. When one gets to love work, his life is a happy one.—Knutson.

Why Spinners

The reason that unmarried ladies are called spinners is that formerly women were prohibited from unweaving their own complete set of web lines. If the same rule prevailed today what a falling off there would be in the marriage rate!

Changes in Terms

PARIS, (AP)—The final reply of the allied powers to the German conditions of peace handed to the Germans at Versailles May 7 delivered to the German delegation last evening was made public today after a delay of one month. The reply is in two parts—a general covering letter and serial discussions of the general counter proposals. The changes include a plebiscite with safeguards, with guarantees of coal from that territory.

Frontier rectifications in west Prussia. Omission of the third zone in the Schleswig plebiscite. Temporary increase of the German army from 100,000 to 200,000 men. Declaration of the intention to submit within a month a signature a list of those accused of violation of the laws and customs of war.

Offer to co-operate with a German committee with sufficient authority to receive suggestions for discharging the obligation.

Certain detailed modifications in the financial, economic and postal and waterways clauses, including abolition of the proposed Kiel canal commission. Assurance of membership in the league of nations in the early future if Germany fulfills her obligations.

The covering letter is from M. Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, president of the German delegation.

SWEDISH RADICALS WANT REIGN OF BOLSHEVIKI

Demand Soviet Plan of Organization Wing of Socialists Oppose Idea.

STOCKHOLM, (AP)—The congress of independent socialists yesterday adopted resolutions favoring Bolshevik measures.

The parliamentary members of the party vainly protested against the resolution and gave warning against any attempt at proletarian dictatorship. It is expected that the independent socialist members of the Swedish parliament will secede from the organization.

CAMPAIGN FOR DORMITORY

Gooding College Trustees Authorize Raising of $150,000 for Improvement.

GOODING.—Besides strengthening the teaching force and the respective departments of the school in many ways, the trustees of Gooding college have authorized a campaign for $150,000 to build and equip a boys' dormitory, this year.

The school now has splendid quarters for the girls and for recreation work, but an increase of over 300 per cent in enrollment has already filled these. The soldier boys are returning and it must be remembered that Idaho, according to its population, sent more men to the front than any other state in the Union. Hence the school must have a new building or fail to do its share in the work of the reconstruction period.

Perfume Their Dead

Natives of Torres Strait islands, to the north of Queensland, have some peculiar burial customs. One is the custom of perfuming the bodies with clove perfume, the remainder being corked in the bottle and left on the grave. In some cases a cheap stone is set on the grave and this ceremony is usually marked by a three-days' gorge on the part of the relatives of the departed. The yams and turtle being shaken down to make room for more by vigorous dancing and singing.

REORGANIZE BUHL BANK

West End People Take Over Interests of A. B. Wilson and E. A. Milner

BUHL.—The Farmers National Bank was reorganized last Friday evening by the West End people and a new set of directors was elected, consisting of A. E. Klies, W. R. Hatfield, Thron Olsen, and A. G. Constant. A. E. Klies was elected president, W. R. Hatfield, vice-president, and J. C. Hamilton, cashier.

All of the stock formerly held by Asher B. Wilson of Twin Falls, and E. A. Milner of Buhl, has been transferred to Buhl people. All of the stockholders in this bank are now citizens of Buhl. J. O. Hamilton made a deal last winter whereby he took over the stock formerly held by Asher B. Wilson, and has since reorganized the bank and placed the stock with local people, largely among the farmers of Buhl.

REFUGEE TELLS A PITIFUL STORY OF PERSECUTION

Awful Slaughter Among People of Armenia by Turkish and Circassian Soldiers; Men, Women and Children Killed.

NEW YORK, (AP)—One of the most pitiful stories of savagery practiced by Turks or Circassians upon the Armenians deported during the war from their homes into the country of the Arabs is told by Victoria Yashahidien, a girl of eighteen years. Her story has been made public here by the American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief. The girl was the daughter of a well-to-do merchant who had a shop in Constantinople and another at Novahar, Turkey, where the family lived.

In her narrative to a British physician she tells how her father and four brothers were deported and that her father died while on the journey, from a blow inflicted by a gendarme. Carrying her little fortune of 2,000 pounds in gold they were marched south to the vicinity of Deir-Es-Zor (probably on the "Euphrates river"). There they found a great congregation of refugees, said to number 7,000 families.

While at Deir Es Zor, Murad or Suvar, the girl said, twenty Armenian priests were taken and the refugees, bound together, sent away and killed. In the river at Suvar she saw one hundred bodies of men, women and children, some with their heads off.

After collecting a ransom, the Mutesarrif ordered the men of the refugees brought before him "to sign a paper." The next day she said she saw the Circassians shoot the three hundred of them. Then Mutesarrif Zaki Bey ordered nine of the bodies of the Armenians placed in the road and drove his carriage over them. He announced he would kill all the male refugees over two years old. Up to that time her brother had escaped death by bribery but he was taken away with others and he never saw him since.

She declared also that she saw Armenians killed by driving wooden staves through them, that two were killed in various ways in the Arab tent, eventually the Circassians began to kill all the women and children with their knives. Her description of this massacre is too awful to be told for she gives details of the cruel manner in which it was accomplished.

Separated from Mother

Afterward Victoria was separated from her mother and sent to the tent of an Arab where she remained for two weeks. In that period, she said, she saw two hundred small boys from Muekemek brought through Deir Es Zor to Shaddadieh and saw these children kill in various ways in the Arab tent, eventually the Circassians began to kill all the women and children with their knives. Her description of this massacre is too awful to be told for she gives details of the cruel manner in which it was accomplished.

Cut This Out and Take It With You

A man often forgets the exact name of the article he wishes to purchase, and as a last resort takes something else instead. That is always disappointing and unsatisfactory. WILSON HOPES TO START HOME WITHIN A WEEK

President Will Carry Fight for League into Territory of Its Opponent in Swing Around the Circle.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Wilson hopes to leave Paris for Washington on June 24 or 25 if the Germans sign the peace treaty.

Immediately after his arrival in Washington the president will address congress. After clearing up pressing official business he will start on his "swing around the circle" early in July.

It was said at the White House today that the president expected to spend three weeks on his speaking tour, explaining the peace treaty and league of nations covenant. The itinerary has not been announced but he expects to visit the principal cities over the country.

Would Meet Opponents

The president has made known a desire that his audiences during his tour be composed largely of opponents of the league of nations plan rather than its supporters. He also has informed White House officials that he might discuss the league covenant in public addresses during his visit in Belgium this week. When the president arrives in Washington he will present the revised draft of the peace treaty to the senate and will discuss the treaty and league covenant in an address to a joint session of the senate and house.

Ancient Medium of Exchange

Among some ancient tribes oxen and sheep served as a medium of exchange, ten sheep being reckoned equivalent to one ox. The Latin word for money is pecunia, and it is derived from the pecus (cattle), showing that pecunia (money) meant property in cattle.

Take Plenty of PIERCE'S Pork and Beans on Your Outings

On your little jaunts to the canyon and country, take Pierce's Pork and Beans. They're delicious when served cold; or they are very easy to heat. No need to tip out the beans, just place the can, unopened, in a pail or larger can of water, set the pail on the camp fire and let the water boil.

AND BE SURE THAT YOU HAVE PLENTY. The satisfying meatiness of the beans, the tempting flavor of the ripe tomato sauce, the choice strips of finest pork, make generous helpings popular. You'll find that you don't know beans 'till you've tasted Pierce's.

Try Pierce's Hamlet. It can be served in a variety of ways.

WELCOME G. A. B.

The people of Twin Falls city and county may well feel honored at the presence within their gates of the district meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic, the passing remnant of that great force that fought for the preservation of the Union during four long years, and won; and will fully carry out the wishes of Mayor Eldridge in this respect.

The match down the "Long, Long, Trail" should be made pleasurable for the old boys, the last of whom will within a relatively few years be camped on the eternal shores, leaving memories that will be cherished by mankind until time shall be no more.

It is but just to add, what the members of the Grand Army would be first to concede, that during the great war as well as during the Spanish-American war, the men who fought on the other side during the years of civil strife, were equally enthusiastic for the maintenance of the honor of the flag of their common country.

Welcome, thrice welcome to the Grand Army of the Republic!

A GRATIFYING CONDITION.

One of the most gratifying results of the present war, for technically the war continues until the treaty is ratified, is the fact that the whole world today respects and loves the American soldier. This is due to the high motives which induced the United States to enter the struggle and to the fact that the conduct of our boys has invariably been such as to give the lie to any imputation that our intentions differed from our professions.

From Montenegro the Associated Press correspondent today sends a story containing the following paragraphs, showing that these wild mountaineers share the same opinion as other and more cultured peoples, regarding our boys:

The American doughboys who are bringing American food into Montenegro for the food mission and the American Red Cross Balkan commission are well liked and trusted by the Montenegrins who suspect the motives of the troops of other nations in the country.

The Montenegro, however, is much like the Kentucky mountaineer of old. He dislikes intrusion of any sort and shot has been fired at the numerous power stations which operate the cable tramway by which the American food is swung through the air from Cattaro to Cetinje. The instinct of the Montenegrins to preserve their aloofness from the world dies hard.

The hills about are full of revolutionists who are scheming to put King Nicholas back on the throne of Montenegro. The Royalists and Nationalists of Montenegro do not take kindly to the idea of their little country's inclusion in the Jugo-Slav state.

NIGHTMARE FRIGHTENED OFF.

Those who love to get the "creeps" next Japan should acquire Lower California, or a considerable part thereof, and conduct an invasion of the United States from there will probably feel quite disgusted at the following dispatch from Mexico City today:

"Under the constitution, only 364 square kilometers of the 158,000 in Lower California can be owned directly by foreigners, according to a statement by the department of commerce and industry. Because of the geographical configuration of the territory the provision of the constitution, which denies foreigners the right to own land within 100 kilometers of the frontier and within fifty kilometers of the seashore, only a few parcels are left for anybody but Mexicans.

It will be seen that no land can be owned by foreigners within fifty kilometers of the sea shore, and this applies to all of Mexico under the new constitution, so that it would be hard for any other nation to acquire a suitable harbor.

The Japanese have their full share of ambition and pugnacity, but the Mexican scare has always been a myth, without a particle of evidence to sustain it.

Some years ago a vessel connected with a small Japanese fleet of light cruisers ran onto a bar in Magdalena bay and it took the rest of the fleet some days to get her off and going. An enterprising correspondent for a noted journalist whose string of payrahs have sometimes been classed as "yellow" drew on his imagination to the extent of sending in a story of an alleged Mexican concession to Japan for a naval station. The yarn when officially denied had more lives than a bot-tailed wild cat, and comes up occasionally yet.

Umbrella Improvement.

It is of little things which make for perfection, we are told. An inventor has perfected a device which certainly shows a taste for perfection. No one is unfamiliar with the strip of tape with a notch which is used snugly to wind up closed umbrellas. When the material is open this device of tape fastenings on the umbrella in a way that undoubtedly is offensive to the dignity of some. The inventor in question has made an invention which provides means of staying away the pendant from the interior of the opened umbrella by means of a snapping device.

Good Manners.

Good manners, which give color to life, are of greater importance than laws, which are but one of their manifestations. The law touches us here and there, but manners are about us everywhere, pervading society, like the air we breathe. Good manners, as we call them, are neither more nor less than good behavior, consisting of courtesy and kindness.—Samuel Smiles.

Books That Profit.

There are hundreds of books, each one of which, if read, really, really assimilated by the person to whom it happens to appeal, will enable that person quite unconsciously to furnish himself with ammunition which he will find of use in the battle of life.—Roosevelt.

Cleaning an Umbrella.

To clean an umbrella place a table-spoonful of sugar in a basin, pour over it half a pint of water and stir till dissolved. Then open the umbrella and, starting from the ferrule, sponge each spoke down to the point. Leave the umbrella open till dry.

BRITISH RIOTS AGAINST DARK RACES PERSIST

Government Will Deport Extra Men Called by War as Soon as Practicable Owing to Opposition of Miners.

LONDON, (AP)—In consequence of riots at Liverpool, Cardiff and elsewhere, in which colored men have participated, the British government has decided to repatriate at the earliest possible moment all aliens who came to England during the war, according to the Daily Mail. The bulk of these are Chinese.

Many negroes who are in England are British subjects and cannot be deported against their will, but an attempt will be made to induce them to go by offering free passage and money.

PROHIBITION IN THE COMMITTEE

Efforts to Allow Beer and Wine Up to Two and Three-Quarters Per Cent Is Turned Down.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—By a vote of 10 to 3 the house judiciary committee refused today to adopt a motion of Representative Igoe, Democrat, Missouri, to amend the war time prohibition law so as to affect light wines and beer. Joining Mr. Igoe in supporting the motion were representatives Gask, Democrat, Ohio, and Clanson, Republican, Wisconsin.

The committee, which is considering a bill by Chairman Volstead for enforcement of national prohibition, approved the section defining intoxicating liquor as that containing one-half of one per cent of alcohol after amending it so as to name specifically as intoxicants alcohol, brandy, whiskey, rum, gin, beer, ale, portier and wine.

The section, as amended, reads: "That the word liquor or the phrase intoxicating liquors shall be construed to include alcohol, brandy, whiskey, rum, gin, beer, ale, portier and wine, and in addition thereto any spirituous, vinous, malt or fermented liquor, Hignil and compounds whether unadulterated, proprietary, patented or not and by whatever name called, containing one-half of one per centum or more of alcohol by volume which are potable and capable of being used as a beverage."

Vegetable Wax.

A Japanese industry which has made remarkable progress in recent years is that concerned with the extraction of vegetable wax, which is coming into greater demand on foreign markets.

Long Sentences.

In "Les Miserables" Victor Hugo has one sentence of a hundred lines, and earlier in the book, in one of the chapters descriptive of Waterloo, there are over 50 lines without a full stop. England's record is held by the foreign enactment act, one section of which reaches its six hundredth word.

"ALIMON" BY FLORA HANDY.

Addie Drew was the most popular lass at Ports Harbor, and especially was she liked by Bennie Brandon, manager of the dry goods store of Hogskins & Smith; Addie was a jolly girl, and wherever she appeared the "Come along" was always surrounded by a bevy of young folks, and usually, if there were any of the masculine sex among the crowd, Bennie would stand glaring out of one of the big plate-glass windows at them. He had been walking home with Addie for a year now, and she was considerably in the contrary to the "Come along."

Then appeared the scene of a city-bred young gentleman. He had been on the stage and in a circus; he could dance on his head, hands, or feet, and at a party, during dancing, he could call out "Alimon left or right" in such a way that he won the admiration of everybody, though no one knew what "Alimon" meant, and everyone around here knew it; Bennie went on. "Look, this winter how he ran when Bob Leavitt got in the lake and called for help! He ran home fast as his bow-legs could carry him and left one fellow to get Bob out alone." "And so you mean that you're a fish?" "Bob out?" Mattie asked, with a smiling wink at Lem.

Bennie kicked the footstool away from the chair wheys he sat. "He's a coward, that's all!" he declared. "A rascally coward!" "Why don't you prove it to be Addie?" "You mean you'll have to do," Lem said in his slow, deep drawl. "If I could!" Bennie exclaimed, his eyes flashing. "Oh!" cried Mattie. "I have it, Bennie. Where is that bearskin you dressed up in New Year's as a Call-thumpkin? Can't you put that on and dance, then? What good was New Year's and never saw you in it, and Addie did. It wouldn't frighten her and it is moonlight tonight."

"When they come from the concert, you could wait until they got to the lonely corner at the foot of the lane, and then growl like you did New Year's, when what good was it, give, though! And that will prove to Addie what a coward he is, for he wouldn't go very fast; you could chase him."

They all laughed. "By Jove, I will," Bennie said; "you see I can't leave the store, and take her around to all these corners, and she won't like it, like it, but that can't be helped. I have to tend to business. Say, there'll be fun tonight, though, Mattie—you've a head on you like a brick! Lem, you've got one fine girl there, and if it wasn't for Addie—" "You go now," growled Lem. "You'll be dressing up as a bear too," Bennie went on laughing. During a lull in the concert Mattie whispered to Lem: "I told Addie Bennie was going to dress as a bear and scare Ralph Durkin, and she laughs!" "You've got her on!" Lem asked scornfully. "Well," Mattie sighed, "you see she has been altogether too friendly with that new fellow, and it will show who she cares most for. If she tells Ralph about it, why she cares most for him; if she don't tell him, why she cares most for me!" "U-mph," commented Lem, "that scan is not to be compared with Benjamin; she will be a fool, but then I think you did right." Ralph was nearing the lane with Addie, and bending low he said: "You are the fairest girl I ever met." Addie laughed and answered gaily: "Really, Mr. Durkin, you are a great fatterer."

Then all of a sudden a terrible noise arrested their attention. Ralph stopped still in the road. Standing over the broken wall in the clear moonlight, sat a horrible monster bear, his white teeth gleaming in a snarl and emitting hair-raising growls. "What—what," choked Ralph, "Y-e-s-o-w," he yelled. "Help—run for your life—it's a bear!" And quitting the acton to the word, he did run.

Addie stood in the road and screeched with laughter, and along the road farther there were suppressed giggles from a couple hid behind a tree. To help Ralph in his sprinting, she gave a word of encouragement, and the city chap yelled in his fear. Laughing now, and with the bear's head thrown back, Bennie came back to Addie.

"Isn't he brave, huh?" he grinned. "I'll wager he don't stop going all night." Then the strong fur arms came down to the floor in the embrace. "Bennie," laughed Addie, "you haven't got anything on you for bug-ging." "No," Bennie answered, his blue eyes twinkling with merriment. "You has a real bear got anything on a Call-thumpkin for scaring a coward?"

GREAT FLEET FOR PACIFIC

All Six of New Battle Cruisers Will Go to the Western Ocean Service.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—All six of the high speed battle cruisers under construction for the navy, probably will be assigned to the reorganized Pacific fleet. Navy officers believe that the characteristics of these vessels render them peculiarly suitable to conditions in the Pacific and anticipate that they will be grouped as a special division of the Pacific fleet.

Plans for division of the main force of the navy into two approximately equal fleets for the Atlantic and Pacific respectively, are now being prepared for submission to Admiral Benson, chief of naval operations, on his return this week from Paris. The battle cruisers will not be ready for service for two years or more.

New Docks Needed.

There are now no dry docks of sufficient size on the Pacific to care for them. While they are to be modified so as to increase their draft and other protection somewhat, with a resultant decrease in speed below the original design, they will retain their main batteries of ten 16-inch guns each, and tonnage of more than 25,000 displacement. The ships are regarded as the most powerful of their type ever designed and no nation has as yet projected similar vessels.

Conquer Fear. It is an everlasting duty, the duty of being brave. Victory is still elusive. The first duty of a man is still that of conquering fear. We must get rid of fear; we cannot get rid of it. A man shall and must be valiant—he must march forward. Now and always the completeness of his victory over fear will determine how much of a man he is.

Death. Death is nothing more or less than sleeping back into your own subconscious mind and so becoming greater and finer and more active—more useful, too—and with greater powers than we ever had in our limited imperfect bodies. Life is nothing but an episode in our universal life. Death is just a change of direction, then, really; that's all.—From "The Promise of Air," by Algron Blackwood.

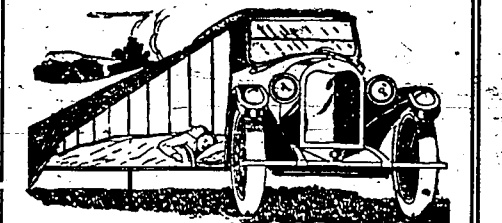

On Life's Journey. I do not say we ought to be happier as we grow older, but we ought to be calmer, knowing better what life is, and looking forward to another, which we believe to be a reality (though we cannot tell what it means).—Exchange.

FORHIS We have taken over the Highway Service Station, formerly owned by F. C. Sanders. All obligations incurred by the former manager are to be settled by him.

HUNT FAILS TO REVEAL BODIES

Search for Boys Lost at Shoshone Falls Continues Unavailing.

Search that has been continued now for nearly 48 hours has so far failed to reveal any trace of Herbert Bourdette, 16, and his nephew, Harold Bourdette, last seen late Sunday afternoon on the rocks exposed by low water near the brink of Shoshone falls, who are believed to have fallen into the stream and drowned.

The search has been confined to the water, just below the falls. Several charges of dynamite have been exploded in the water at this point in the hope of bringing the bodies to the surface. The most generally accepted theory is that the bodies have been drawn back under the base of the falls by the action of the current.

To reach the point where the boys were last observed by their parents on a picnic to the falls Sunday, it is necessary to leap from a higher rock to a lower one over a distance of between three and four feet through which the stream, about 60 feet back of the brink of the falls, runs swiftly as a mill race. The return is rendered difficult by reason of the necessity for leaping from a lower to a higher point across the intervening chain. The race of the higher rock also is practically perpendicular.

It is presumed that the younger lad fell in the attempt to leap the gap and that the older youth was dragged into the current in an attempt to save him.

TELEGRAPHERS DENY REQUEST TO QUIT STRIKE

Denounce Effort of Association of Western Union Employees to Have Them Accept Regular Commercial Business.

CHICAGO, (AP)—Negotiations between the Western Union Employees and the Order of Railway Telegraphers to have the latter organization rescind its order against handling commercial business on railroad wires were brought to an abrupt end today and announcement made that the order will continue in force.

E. J. Munton, head of the railway telegraphers, some of whom have been instructed to refuse commercial business while the nation wide strike of commercial telegraphers is in progress, in discontinuing negotiations for a settlement charged that the association was leading itself wholly to the officers of the Western Union.

Denounced as Anticratic.
"The so-called machinations of any corporation could not parallel the anticratic tenor of your communication," was the reply of the association, which represents sixty per cent of all Western Union employees, according to officers.

Meanwhile plans for extending the strike were going forward at general strike headquarters here, where it was claimed more than twenty-five trade and labor councils now have pledged support to the strikers in addition to the Order of Railway Telegraphers, the American Train Dispatchers association, and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engine Men.

Chief interest for the time centers in the coming action of the American Federation of Labor convention on the resolution requesting interpretation by Postmaster General Burleson as to how the order granting electrical workers the right of collective bargaining applies to telegraphers.

Commercial companies here said conditions throughout the country were practically normal today.

MEAT EATING UNDERMINES RACE SAYS FRUITARIAN

Human Beings Lose Vitality When They Devour Flesh, He Declares.

LONDON, (AP)—Meat eating is injurious to the vitality of the race, Dr. Josiah Field, a London physician, told the Fruitarian Society the other day.

"In every country," he went on, "where meat eating is a national habit the birth rate has decreased in the last fifty years. On the other hand, in countries like Bulgaria, Rumania and Serbia, where meat is not a national dietary, the birth rate is high and increasing."

Experiments showed, he said, that meat eating produced sterility. Eggs laid by hens fed on meat were not as healthy as they should be because hens were overtaken with egg-producing food such as fish, blood and meat. He said that in his hospital he was told that the eggs used were laid by fowls which fed naturally on grain or in the fields.

Love's Security

By BERTHA R. McDONALD

(Copyright, 1913, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"I always told your mother that she was a little fool to marry a man old enough to be her father!" exploded Jane Portsmouth.

"But, Aunt Jane, father and mother were very happy. I'll tell you."

"Happy enough—yes—but the difference in their ages made him abler and abler her from all sense of responsibility, until now, when he's gone, the two of you are left with next door to nothing and neither of you any more fitted to earn a living than a butterfly."

"Please don't say that. I know mother isn't strong, but I am and I'm going to find some way to keep the wolf from the door, too."

"Don't worry about the wolf. You can see your house and come and live here with me. I'll tell you. But, why don't you set your cap for the young doctor that's just bought your father's office?"

"Don't ever mention such a thing to me again, auntie! I'm not going to marry anybody, and besides, if I were to set my cap for Doctor Danforth and he should find out he'd be taking me out of sheer pity, I'm sure."

"There, little girl, I didn't mean to be hard, but I would so like to see you nicely settled, and that doctor man certainly is charming."

Neither of them heard the approach of the visitor who now appeared and coughed to attract their attention.

"Oh, good morning, Doctor Danforth," greeted Miss Portsmouth. "I was just congratulating Niece Beth on the good regards into which her father's business has fallen. Will you have a chair?"

"No, thank you, Miss Portsmouth," replied the young man, openly admiring Beth; "I've only a moment. I called to ask about Doctor Longstreet's office safe."

"What is it you wish to know?"

"Your father's safe—do you wish it sent to your home?"

"The safe was included in the purchase of the office, and I went through the contents before I turned it over. I bid you good morning."

She called past the astonished pair down the flower-bordered path toward the gate and Doctor Danforth was about to speak to Miss Portsmouth, when a frightened cry caused them to turn just as Beth flattered into a senseless heap, beside the path.

The young doctor flew down the path, and lifting the limp figure in his strong, young arms, bore her tenderly into the house. Cool water quickly revived her, but an examination and the discovery that her ankle was really broken sent her promptly into another faint, which lasted until her Aunt Jane had made her comfortable in the little guest chamber off the porch. While the regained consciousness this time Doctor Danforth was sitting beside her with one of her hands in his.

"Home—I must go home to mother," she moaned.

"You might here for a few days. Your foot turned on one of the cobblestones in the walk and your ankle has been broken. Miss Portsmouth has telephoned your mother and I am going to bring her over this evening in my runabout."

"It's necessary to trouble you, Mother can come over with Joe Mead when he goes to the station for the mail."

"Please don't be unkind, Miss Longstreet. It really doesn't seem like you, and my heartiest wish is to be of some service to you and your mother."

"I didn't mean to seem ungrateful, or rude, but I—"

In another moment she was sobbing among the pillows, and while the man longed to stay and comfort her, the physician knew it was best to leave her alone and to be supported quietly through the door to the porch, just as Aunt Jane came in to take his place. While he was drawing on his gloves he heard her cry out hysterically.

"He'll think I did this purposely—he'll—think I'm setting my cap for him, like all the rest of the silly girls in town."

The man on the porch smiled and thought, "How I wish she would!"

Beth's ankle kept her at her aunt's feet almost a month, and during that time she was under Doctor Danforth's constant care and attention. Gradually, day by day, he managed to penetrate the reserve behind which she had entrenched herself, and then one day when he was talking her for a few days into the country, he asked her to marry him.

"But, doctor—Ned—I can't marry anybody. Mother and I haven't a cent. If dear old dad hadn't lost what he had put up to protect mother and me, things might have been different, for I do like you."

"What did your father lose, and how?"

"Oh, some papers—stocks—securities—bonds and things. I guess whatever they were he had the papers out on his case a month, and during that time she called on while he was on the colored man who took care of the place 'straightened up.' When daddy came back the papers were gone. We questioned Jackson, but he swore he put everything back into the safe, and there you are. My mother was too ignorant of their value to take them, so

Ancient Gambling Games.
It is known that from the earliest Roman times the games of ball and tessera were played with dice, but their invention has been attributed by the Grecian poets and sophists to Palamedes, who in 1244, B. C., joined the Greeks in their expedition against Troy, which, by some writers, Palamedes is said to have been slain by an arrow from the bow of Paris. In addition to the invention of dice, Palamedes is said to have invented light-houses, measures, scales, the discus, the alphabet and the art of regulating sentinels.

Cosmetic Art.
From the looks of some of the women when it turns cold, it would be a proposition to sell different shades of powder for hot, warm, cool and cold weather. They say that they sell different shades for day and night—white for the daytime and blue for use under artificial light, so, why not for different degrees of temperature as well? However, probably some bright genius has already thought this up and patented his compound and it may not be well advertised as yet.—Ort.

Eyelids Oysters.
The oyster has a gland-sized stomach, which is connected with the mouth by a short gullet; two pairs of gills for breathing, an intestine, a dark green liver, a two-chambered heart and an elementary nervous system, but its muscles, ears, nose and eye. It also lacks the footlike appendage that many mollusks possess for the reason that it has no need of an organ of locomotion.

Mr. Wister Cured of Indigestion.
"Some time ago when I had an attack of indigestion and everything looked gloomy to me, I received a free sample of Chamberlain's Tablets by mail. I gave them a trial and they were such a help to me that I bought a package, and I can truthfully say that I have not had a similar attack since," writes Wm. B. Wister, Douglassville, Pa.—adv.

If there were a better news service than the ASSOCIATED PRESS, The News would have it.

If for one moment the public verdict as to the superiority of ASSOCIATED PRESS news over all other forms of telegraphed news service, should seem to even waver, The News and the other Associated Press newspapers over the country would be the first to find it out.

There is but one ASSOCIATED PRESS, and The News is proud of its membership therein.

A newspaper does not merely "order" ASSOCIATED PRESS service—ASSOCIATED PRESS service is not sold to the highest bidder or indiscriminately to newspapers generally. The ASSOCIATED PRESS is an ASSOCIATION of newspaper publishers, and to this ASSOCIATION belong the leading publishers of America.

The membership of The Twin Falls News is one of the things which stamps The News with the hall-mark of success. The possession of Associated Press service may be regarded as a credit to The News and to the whole Twin Falls country, and—be it remembered—The News is the only afternoon newspaper in Idaho which gives to its readers the full leased wire day report of the ASSOCIATED PRESS.

There are plenty of news services, but only one ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Insects Preserved in Amber.

In a collection of red amber presented to the British museum, Prof. T. D. Cockerell has recognized an astonishing variety of insect forms, and has described not less than 31 new species, of which five are types of new genera. Most of them were found in a single block little larger than a man's fist, which was cut into half-inch slices, in every one of which the insects are densely crowded. The amber is from Miocene age beads of Burma, though perhaps washed from still older deposits, and nearly every large order of insects is represented, the family of ants being a notable exception.

Insects Preserved in Amber.

In a collection of red amber presented to the British museum, Prof. T. D. Cockerell has recognized an astonishing variety of insect forms, and has described not less than 31 new species, of which five are types of new genera. Most of them were found in a single block little larger than a man's fist, which was cut into half-inch slices, in every one of which the insects are densely crowded. The amber is from Miocene age beads of Burma, though perhaps washed from still older deposits, and nearly every large order of insects is represented, the family of ants being a notable exception.

God of the Lower World.

In one temple of Japan the image is a Japanese conception of the god of the lower world. The figure has an unusual history. An image maker, it is said, died. When he appeared before the lord of the other world, he was told that in his lifetime he had never represented the lord of the world properly and that he must return to earth and make a correct likeness. The figure is pointed out as the result of the order. It is so horrible with its red face and malevolent glare that the story seems plausible.

Art's Inspiration.

A famous artist, who had art classes, had forbidden smoking in his studio. One day, after being out for half an hour, he re-entered the studio suddenly and saw one student with a lighted cigarette in his fingers, which he tried to conceal. With an air of assumed playfulness the artist approached the offender and said: "A strange crayon you have there, my friend. May I ask what you propose to draw with that? 'Clouds' I replied the student.

He continued to smoke the blend, and meeting a friend who was in the trade, he gave him a sample, with the result that the first smoking mixture was soon before the public.

GERMAN TREATY CAUSES GLOOM

and expert attaches will come to this city direct from Versailles. BERLIN, (AP)—Newspapers here are still completely tied up by the strike of auxiliary workers in the mechanical departments. Greater Berlin has been without papers for 48 hours, with an prospect of an early settlement.

ante to Germany that she will receive fair treatment in securing mineral products from that region; modifications in the clauses relating to finances, economic and waterways of the treaty; permission for Germany to retain 200,000 men in its Army temporarily and a promise to furnish Germany within a month with a full list of prisoners of war who are to be tried for responsibility for the great conflict and violations of the laws of war.

Discusses Clauses Taking up the subject of penalties, the reply enters into discussion of the immediate cause of the war and says that the conflict was brought about through the "decision, deliberately taken at the summit of Berlin, Vienna and Budapest."

Refuse to Discuss The allied and associated powers refuse to enter into discussion of the principles underlying the reparations clauses but certain observations are made, especially as the German proposals are said to "present a view so distorted and incorrect as to raise a doubt if the clauses were calmly and carefully examined."

No Engine of Oppression It is pointed out that the commission is not an "engine of oppression" nor a device for interfering with Germany's sovereignty. It is business as usual, and Germany can pay and report in case Germany does not pay.

Details Given PARIS, (AP)—The detailed reply of the peace conference to the counter-proposals of the Germans, which was handed to the German delegation at Versailles Monday afternoon takes up in its order each of the objections made by the enemy to the provisions of the original peace treaty.

justice by peoples whose social well-being and economic prosperity have been gravely impaired by wrongs which it is beyond the almost power of Germany to repair.

Financial Section In the financial section of the reply it is stipulated that reparations must be made prior to the settlement of all German public debts, with such exceptions as the commission may approve. Germany must pay the expense of military occupation, as an essential guarantee of peace, and war material surrendered after the armistice cannot be credited against reparations.

The right is reserved to demand of Germany, under the provisions of the league of nations, as to the equality of trade conditions will be brought to effect when the world returns to normal, but in the meantime a transitional regime is essential to save certain allied states from a position of economic inferiority because of the damage done to their territory during the war. Reparation is impossible at present.

Consular Relations are not reciprocally established, owing to the war activity of Germany's consuls. Private property of Germans abroad may be justly used to meet reparations charges. The German proposals relative to aerial navigation have not been accepted.

It is pointed out that German objections to the clauses pertaining to ports and waterways are too general to permit of a detailed reply. The reply declares that until the transitional period expires and general conventions can be laid down, the provision of this section of the treaty must be enforced.

Guaranteed that one of the parties to that peace has proved that its promises are not worthy of faith. Military occupation by the allies will continue as a guarantee for the execution of the treaty. There also will be constituted, consisting of four members, representing Belgium, France, Great Britain and the United States, with executive powers and its members shall enjoy diplomatic privileges and immunities.

Germany Continue Civil Life The civilian administration shall remain in the hands of the German authorities under German law, except where it may be necessary for the commission to act. Germany will be responsible for the expenses of the high commission.

Bandit Secretary Is Shot by Federals

EL PASO, Tex., (AP)—Villa sources here today had a well grounded report that one of the chief Villa officers captured in Juarez during the battle and executed at Fort Hidalgo was Colonel Miguel Trillo, Villa's secretary. The Villistas were reported to be missing and was said to have been shot after Villa's correspondence was found in his possession.

This natural handicap gave the rebels an advance of thirty minutes. They were enabled to reach the foothills at considerable distance ahead of the American cavalry men although the latter had far superior mounts. The Villa rebels had their horses corralled beyond the irrigated ditches and did not encounter the same difficulty as the Americans.

No Official Statement

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—The Mexican government has nothing to give out for publication regarding the crossing of American troops from El Paso into Juarez according to a statement made tonight at the offices by General Juan Barragan, President Carranza's chief of staff.

The tone of official dispatches seemed to indicate that Mexican officials on the border accepted the American claim that the attack on the Villa forces by American troops was for the purpose of protecting American lives across the frontier.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—State department officials said today no protest against the sending of American troops into Mexico to disperse the Villistas attacking Juarez had been made on behalf of the Mexican government. Gen. Candido Aguilar, confidential ambassador of President Carranza, said Dr. Bojo called on him yesterday and was invited to the department yesterday and assured that the American forces would remain in Mexico only long enough to attain their object. This explanation, officials said, apparently was satisfactory to the Mexican representatives.
