GERMAN PREMIER PLEADS FOR DUE THOUGHT ON PACT

Warns Assembly Against Premature Action Without Considering Treaty and the Consequences Involved.

SHOULD APPROACH THE SOLUTION WITH OPEN MIND

Feeling Against Signing Increases in Germany and Much Bitterness is Expressed; People Growing Sullen.

WEIMAR, (AP)—Philly Scheidemann, the head of the German cabinet, in speaking to the peace commission of the national assembly here today, declared that the allied reply to the German counter proposals without the complete text did not yet permit of final judgment and that premature judgment would be a mistake.

No New Charge
"There is nothing new in the general accusations made against the German people," said the premier, "but we must note with regret that the allies have rejected the proposal for the establishment of a neutral tribunal which alone could impartially examine these accusations. It is also lamentable that the whole nation should be charged with the offenses and crimes alleged, according to the second section of the treaty, which is to constitute justification for the heavy conditions which, according to the second section of the German people, are to be imposed on the German people."

Little Hope for Conciliation
"The justification put forward for the projected settlement of affairs in the east permits of little hope that we can reckon for substantial conciliation in detailed matters," said the premier, "but he holds hope for the remaining territorial questions, many points regarding which and also those regarding financial and economic questions referred to in the covering note are still quite obscure."

Mentions Obstacles
"In view of the obstacles at present," the premier said, "and the fact that all the material is not yet to hand, it is therefore not possible to conclude the treaty. Only the final and complete text of the enemy's answer can furnish a basis for deliberations between the government and the peace committee."

The German nation, the national assembly and the government are confronted with the most momentous decision. It is, therefore, their duty, whatever as individuals they may think of the peace question to approach this decision with an entirely open mind. The German nation must be aware that the nation is confronted with very hard times."

Deplors Lack of Protection

Herr Scheidemann deplors the absence of adequate protection for the German delegates at their departure from Versailles. He said a protest had been made, but that the government would reserve its attitude until an official report had been received. He continued his remarks until late in the day. The peace commission began deliberating on the contents answer to the allied terms. A meeting of the cabinet members and other dignitaries stayed up all night to read the allied terms without delay. Indignation is said to be increasing in Weimar.

German Grow Implicable

COPENHAGEN, (AP)—The amended peace terms have aroused a sentiment of growing implacability in Germany, and armed intervention has been regarded as inevitable, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Politikon. It is reported that Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the head of the peace delegation and Matthias Erzberger, the chairman of the armistice commission, have reconciled their differences. The correspondent says that if the report is true, the reconciliation will have an important bearing on the acceptance or non-acceptance of the terms. The socialist Vorwarts of Berlin says it expects a reopening of hostilities as soon as the armistice expires. The Fremdenblatt of Hamburg says it believes that the allied terms have caused great excitement in eastern Germany.

They indulged in firing through the windows, however, and this aroused the castle troops. It was apparently the intention of the party to seize President Ebert, Premier Scheidemann and Gustave Noske, the minister of defense.

DAKOTA MEMBER IN THE SENATE DEFENDS LEAGUE

McCumber Says Pact Is Satisfactory and Foes Are Carrying on Campaign of Distortion Against It.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Declaring opponents of the league of nations have conducted a campaign of misrepresentation and distortion, Senator McCumber of North Dakota, republican member of the foreign relations committee, told the senate today that the league covenant offered the only prospect of preventing future and more terrible wars.

He upheld the league as entirely consistent with the American constitution and devoid of any ability to entangle dangerously or curtail American interests. "That some terms of the covenant are vague, I know," continued the senator, "and some portions are objectionable from a technical standpoint. But that it imposes on us any obligation or burden that is not equally borne by every other nation I most emphatically deny. It is regrettable that the mighty power of ignorance is used to defame and distort the true meaning of an instrument, the most important that ever appeared to the heart of the soul of man."

FACTORY MEN AND WORKERS TRY OUT PLAN

Industrial Democracy by Mutual Consent Tried Out in Five Cities and Reported to Be Successful.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Manufacturers and union labor leaders all over the United States are busy working with interest and sympathy the experiment in industrial democracy which is now being conducted in five cities—Port Wayne, Ind.; Shelton, Conn.; Cleveland, O.; Paterson, N. J., and Brooklyn, N. Y. and which, it is believed by some of them, will scotch if it does not prevent Bolshevism in industrial centers where it is put into effect.

The originator of the plan John H. Letch, an efficiency engineer, started it among 800 employees of a Port Wayne piano factory. Its basis was the constitution of the United States. The factory was administered by a council, a house of representatives and a cabinet corresponding to the aids and advisors of the president. Its success is said to have been immediate and permanent. Yale university, the National Council of Defense and the National Association of Manufacturers are said to be a few of the bodies that are investigating the merits of the plan.

In Silk Corporation.
R. Edmund David, head of a silk manufacturing corporation in Paterson, N. J., who was instrumental in introducing the system in his factory in that city about a year ago, expressed today the keenest satisfaction at the results attained and said he hoped, ultimately, to establish similar working conditions in four other of his mills in York, Reading, Scranton and Beaver-ton, Pa. The Paterson manufacturer, however, said the new system should not be considered a "panacea" or adaptable to all kinds and sizes of industrial establishments.

"Its outstanding feature" said Mr. David, "is the strengthening of the worker's right to a voice in the determination of matters which are of vital interest to him which lends additional strength to his position as a self-government invariably carries with it."

Explained the system.
"Industrial democracy, or constitutionalism in industry," he said, "was first explained to the workers. A broad and adequate knowledge of the system which was to guide management and workers. The knowledge of this business office were justice, on operation, economy and energy. Its capacity was seen in the policy as the supreme law of the establishments, has never failed to suggest a solution when troublesome questions arise."

In proof of the system's practicability Mr. David pointed to the fact that last winter, when almost every other silk mill in Paterson was closed as the result of a strike, the David mill was not affected but maintained full production and was kept in constant operation as by members of one contented and harmonious family.

Have House and Senate.
Explaining the operation of the plan Mr. David said the cabinet consists of the executive officers of the company chosen by directors of the corporation. It has the power of veto and may initiate "legislation" as well as make suggestions to the senate and house.

Neither the senate or the house obligated to adopt the cabinet's recommendations and when they do they have the power to amend them. The cabinet, therefore, instead of issuing orders, is merely a part of the democratic control of the whole plant.

"The senate," explained Mr. David, "is composed of the foremen and department heads. It may initiate legislation which, before going to the house for approval, must be accepted by the house.

Elected by Secret Vote.
"The house is elected by a secret vote, all the workers in the mill, one representative for every twenty workers. The house meets weekly on company time. Much of the legislative work is done by committees appointed by the presidents of the senate and house.

"There is a review board to which a discharged worker may appeal his case, and a board of appeals giving each worker an opportunity for the redress of grievances, real or fancied, at the hands of a department head."

Every two weeks a "dividend" is paid to each worker who has scored a certain number of points in efficiency, economy, punctuality and regularity of work.

UNIVERSITY AMONG TROOPS WAS SUCCESS

Columbia Professor Would Make Whole United States Army Great School.

BEAUNE, (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Belief that the American Expeditionary Force university here has shown that it is feasible to make the United States army a great school for America is expressed by John Erakine, professor of English in Columbia university. Dr. Erakine is one of the three members of the recently created educational corps of the American expeditionary force.

The great university is nearing its close for the troops soon must be returned to America but Dr. Erakine regards it as a laboratory which has demonstrated the possibility of universal training in America with the United States army as the medium.

Significant Experiment.
"The A. E. F. university seems to me a significant experiment from the point of view of education in the United States," said Dr. Erakine.

"I have been fascinated with the idea that we might introduce into our national life a system of universal training not yet attempted—a system which should be compulsory for all men who enter our army physically fit to be soldiers, who should serve as an annual inventory of our national resources physically, mentally and morally. The university might serve as a model for the training camps which would be a part of such a system. A student would be under military discipline and would enjoy all advantages of the well administered military camp but he would pursue whatever subjects he might desire, in his leisure, in life might cause him to desire, from brick-laying to university study.

"It has interested me exceedingly to observe, as I have advanced the idea that the army should be transformed into an instrument for education, that the idea has met with intelligent response from the experienced officers of the regular army.

Drive Out Illiteracy.
"The university has come to mean for many of us here the hope that our most chivalrous soldiers, our best educated scientists, our citizens with the largest imagination may agree on a program of universal training which will quickly drive out illiteracy and all diseases that are avoidable, and will fit men and women to take a worthy part in the peace time business of our country.

"If we should so organize the United States that we should be prepared to resist attack in time of war, and we should also be prepared, as far as is humanly possible, against prejudices and ignorances which tend to drive nations into war."

CANADIAN SOLDIERS IN SERIOUS AND FATAL RIOT

Attack on Police Station Results in Death; Other Troops Dissatisfied.

LONDON, (AP)—Unrest among Canadian soldiers in England because of continued postponement of home-ward sailings culminated last night by an attack on the Canadian 40th division police station. Several policemen were wounded, one so seriously that he died later. The purpose of the attack was to release a Canadian soldier who had been arrested.

Much Trouble Experienced.
During the last few days there has been trouble in the Canadian camp at Whitley where the soldiers burned huts and did other damage, according to reports. There is much sympathy for the Canadians who repeatedly have been given dates for home-ward sailings, only to be told that further postponement was necessary owing to strikes of dock workers at Liverpool and other ports, or to lack of transport.

The unrest has not been confined to the Canadians. There also have been protests by Australians and New Zealanders.

Mexican Government Holds "Rebel" Property

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—The government is holding and administering at present, according to published statements authorized by the treasury department, only the property belonging to those connected with the coup d'etat that resulted in the overthrow and death of President Francisco Madero, including Felix Diaz, Manuel Mondragon, Victoriano Huerta, Aureliano Blanquet and others. What other property is being held, it is declared, the government wishes to return but has been unable to because the owners are facing pressing charges and have emigrated from the country without leaving representatives.

KNOX ASSAILS LEAGUE SYSTEM

Pennsylvania Senator Opens Bitter Debate That Will Occupy Entire Week.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The senate fight over the league of nations entered a new phase with the beginning of the debate on the resolution of Senator Knox, republican, of Pennsylvania, a former secretary of state, proposing that the senate formally express unwillingness to accept the league covenant as it now is if approved with the terms of peace.

The debate is expected to last for many days and to develop some of the bitterest passages yet produced by the treaty fight. League supporters before the debate began claimed they had enough votes to defeat the measure.

Denies Partisanship.
The former secretary of state replied to charges that the republican was making a partisan issue of the league and argued that more time should be allowed the American people to consider it.

Senator Knox declared the Monroe doctrine provision inserted in the revised covenant of the league would wipe out that doctrine. "It is hard to speak calmly of such a perversion as this," said Senator Knox. "It is hard to conceive of any man so conditioned in Americanism as to sanction such a monstrous perversion. Never before has the Monroe doctrine been a more measure of spineless pacifism. It has until now been a strong means of self protection and self preservation."

New Interpretation.
"It was aimed to keep monarchy from this hemisphere; kings, princes and emperors were to have no place on this side of the world. But under the new doctrine, if Mexico should ever agree to allow Japan a strip of her western territory; if Guatemala should make an alliance with Great Britain, or Brazil with Germany, or Argentina with Italy, or if they should grant to them regions or strips of territory or concessions or zones of influence, how could we say that 'a regional understanding for securing the maintenance of peace' had been violated. Would not the answer be, no hostile activity has occurred, none is contemplated, and none will occur unless a quarrel, America, undertake or threaten to undertake. And, if we did threaten them, no matter how great the menace to our own existence they might ultimately prove, we should merely bring us within the restraining hand of the whole league itself."

Asks for Time.
In asking that the people have time in which to study the league plan, Senator Knox said the United States "saved the liberties of Europe and in order to insure them for the future we" have acquired in our associates abundance of the gigantic spoils of the common victory. "I will say further, if to stand for the rights of the senate as a co-equal part of the treaty-making power is a manifestation of partisanship, then I am a partisan; if to demand that the people of the United States shall have a right to make up their own minds as to whether or not we shall put ourselves under the domination of the balance of the world; if to regard our free institutions as the greatest instrumentalities of government which the world now possesses and therefore worthy of preservation over all others which exist in the world; if to love my own country and our own people with my whole heart and soul above and beyond all other countries and peoples of the world—if these things are manifestations of partisanship, then, thank God, I am a partisan."

WOMEN MAKE FOR SUCCESS.

The success of the veterans and of the Pythians now in session in this city must to a great degree be attributed to the presence of the members of the organizations of women here at the same time.

The brunt of the Civil war, like the brunt of every war fell on the women at home. The men, out in the field, suffering hardships and privations had at least action to break the monotony of existence. They could see the effect of their work. But the women at home anticipating and realizing in their hearts every discomfort felt by the men in the field could not see in any tangible way the effect of the silent moral forces which they were bringing to bear to sustain their fathers, brothers and lovers who were actively engaged at the front. The clothing and good things to eat made by loving hands, were, indeed, more tangible, but after all, much as they did to strengthen the physical man they did more as visible symbols of the sympathy and affection of those at home, to help the soldiers maintain an optimistic spirit in days of trial, depression and temporary defeat.

It is a singular thing, but while womanhood has been lauded in an abstract way, ever since the days when the mothers of those stern, brave but disagreeable people, the Spartans, sent their sons to fight for their country, it is only at the present time that thought has come into the minds of and work of woman during war indicates a character that entitled her to a character that entitled her to help participate in the management of the nations which she helps so effectively to preserve.

Certainly no less than to the men who fought—and who are today banded together in the Grand Army of the Republic, should credit go to the W. R. C. and the Ladies of the G. A. R. for patriotism and sacrifice.

And along the same line, nothing in the story of Damon and Pythias is more affecting than the unostentatious devotion lavished so continuously by wives, mothers, sweethearts and sisters, that it is accepted as a matter of course, and is never fully appreciated.

LABOR'S WISE STAND.

In turning down the resolution asking the administration to recognize the Bolshevik government of Russia the American Federation convention acted wisely and well, as it also did in refusing to break all contracts by ordering a nation-wide strike in behalf of the complete pardon of Tom Mooney. It has been argued in favor of granting recognition to the Bolsheviks that they constitute the de facto government of Russia and are, therefore, entitled to have such fact acknowledged by other nations. This is wholly incorrect. No obligation rests on any nation to formally recognize any particular government, any more than a legal obligation rests on any individual to do business with or to meet socially any other individual.

The Hays administration refused recognition to Diaz government in Mexico for more than a year after it was established, and to the Blanco government in Venezuela for more than a year and a half after it came into power. In both cases recognition was withheld because it was doubted whether the administration was the outcome of usurpation, or of a real movement on the part of the people in countries named.

Both Diaz and Blanco convinced the American government of the fact that they were the real representatives of the people, and so recognition was extended. A more recent precedent is the refusal of the Wilson administration to recognize Huerta in Mexico on the same ground, coupled by the additional objection that he came into power as a result of assassination under circumstances that indicated his probable acquiescence if not active participation. On both counts indicated above the Bolsheviks are guilty and should have recognition denied them.

The Bolsheviks are not the representatives of the Russian masses. Their leaders admitted to Ambassador Francis that the unorganized peasant masses constituting the majority of the people, were their greatest enemies. They came into power first by overthrowing the Kerensky government and later by disbanding by force the assembly composed of the duly elected representatives of the Russian people. They are opposed to regular labor organizations such as we have in this country. They are opposed to parliamentary socialists who wish to bring about a new system by legal political agitation. They are avowedly opposed to giving everyone an open show; they say that this would be contrary to their doctrine of the dictatorship of the proletariat. So they suppress free press, free speech, free religious worship and free right of assembly by force, and drive out elected representatives of the majority at the point of the bayonet because they do not agree to allow a single class, and that the majority, to dictate. That murder and assassination are their ordinary weapons is unquestioned.

Under the precedents cited above the government which they established is not entitled to recognition, and the majority of the laborers did well to emphatically put the stamp of disapproval on any resolution asking that they be recognized by the United States.

GUMMINGS MAKES TALK AT SAN FRANCISCO

Head of Democratic Organization Speaks at Reception, Assails Republican Critics

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Homer S. Cummings attacked republican critics of the administration at a reception given him by party leaders here last night, on his western tour in the interest of the democratic party.

Mr. Cummings and members of his party, which includes W. D. Jackson, Iowa, the national committee's director of finance; J. Bruce Krome, Montana, vice chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Brass, are touring the country in the interest of party organization.

Defends the League.

Mr. Cummings defended the league of nations covenant as the only definite means of keeping the world free from wars and termed it "the greatest document of human liberty ever prepared by the hand of man."

Replying to charges of republican critics that the league of nations covenant was too vague in its purposes, Mr. Cummings said history revealed critics of the left communitists, the Lord's prayer, Magna Charta and the constitution of the United States.

Ant Development.

Anti developed nothing remotely resembling industrial organization. Many unnecessary conclusions have been drawn from comparing neuter (undeveloped female) ant workers with the unmarried women of modern industry. A comparison with child labor would be truer, for ant workers are always "children" formed-stunted creatures, who have no economic opportunity to grow up—who are forced by family necessity to venture out for food before they reach full growth.

The Goodrich More Mileage Message

Goodrich is making the burliest, sturdiest, most lasting tires the rubber industry has ever seen; and Goodrich knows it. In every test of road-running to which tires can be put, Goodrich Tires have unfolded an endurance, an ability to take punishment, which has run into phenomenal mileage.

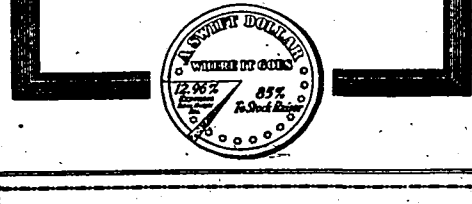

So Big And Yet So Small! Seen by itself, Swift & Company is one of the largest manufacturers and distributors of animal food products in the country.

Seen in relation to the total food business of the world, its size diminishes to small proportions. We handle only about 22 per cent of the total output of the hundreds of packing plants under federal inspection...

Our tanneries handle less than 15 per cent of the hides made into leather in the United States. Our soap factories make less than 10 per cent of the soap output of the nation.

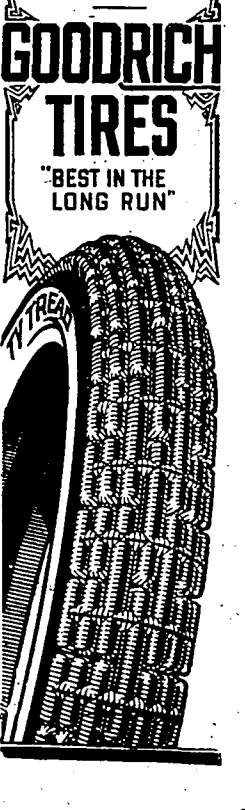

This is done in keen and open competition with every concern handling these products, and at a profit of a fraction of a cent per pound. In the meat packing industry there is no one dominant concern handling a large proportion of the output.

Swift & Company, U.S.A.

Garden Plants—Half Price Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday—If they last that long! We want to close up this plant season and do it quick, while there is yet time to plant anything we have for sale with a reasonable chance of such as tomatoes, egg plant, etc., setting ripe before frosts.

Remember that a Goodrich adjustment is a fair one. Goodrich knows the mileage is in its tires, and more, and to make you realize you lose money in being without Goodrich Tires, the new Goodrich adjustment is proclaimed broadcast.

RELIEF FELT IN EL PASO ABOUT MEN IN MEXICO

Arrival of Powerful Carranza Army at Critical Points Reassuring; Better Feeling Prevails on the Border.

EL PASO, Tex., (AP)—Reports relayed from Parral to Jiminer, Torreon and Laredo stating that 2,000 Yaqui Indians of General Manuel Dieguez's command had arrived there relieved the fears of the American companies operating in that district. This did not change the orders of the American Smelting and Refining company, however, to have their American employees in that camp come to the border. Another large operating company in the Parral district decided to leave their men there as long as the troops garrisoned the camp, officials here stating that they considered their men safer there than on the road to the border with Villa bands scattered over the country.

Change Attitude
With the excitement of the battle of Juarez between Villa and Carranza troops and the subsequent expedition of American troops to Juarez subsided, a decided change in the attitude on both sides of the border is beginning to be apparent. The feeling of resentment which the Carranza officials and military officers in Juarez felt against the American troops at the time of the crossing is giving way to a more friendly feeling in spite of the reports of Carranza being spread in Juarez by Villa sympathizers. The prompt assurances of General Cabell that the troops would be withdrawn as soon as the Villa men were driven away from the border and the equally prompt withdrawal, caused a change in feeling among the officials in Juarez and friendly relations are being restored.

Shooting was Deliberate
When it became known that General Lerin had positive proof gathered by members of his staff that the Villa men were deliberately shooting into El Paso the officials changed to commendation and many telegrams were sent to Washington praising the prompt action of the district commander. It also became known today that the order to cross was received from General Cabell on June 10 and was only acted upon after positive proof of sniping had been obtained personally by Colonel Francis Glover, chief of staff, who was fired upon by snipers while investigating on the river front.

Lines are Down
Telegraph lines are down south of Juarez, the railroad is completely wrecked between Juarez and Chihuahua City and wagon roads are dangerous because of Villa's presence southeast of the Mexican town so that nothing can yet be learned of the developments to the south of the international boundary. American mining companies having American employees in isolated mining camps in the north have ordered their men to leave and make their way to the border by way of Torreon in order to avoid the Villa bands now believed to be roving over the country between Chihuahua City and the border.

But Few Answer
Efforts to warn the Americans have been made repeatedly since Sunday night but few replies have been received. One company received a message from its employees in Torreon, Chihuahua yesterday which had been relayed through Sonora to Nogales saying no news had been received there since June 9. Others found their messages delayed south of the border and only a comparatively few companies near Chihuahua City received replies stating everything was quiet and no danger was felt.

IRISH ESPISCOPALS REJECT SUFFRAGE IN THE CHURCH

Right of Women to Vote on Issues Denied After Warm Discussion.

DUBLIN, (AP)—The question of women's suffrage which government was keenly debated at the annual synod of the Protestant Episcopal church in Ireland and eventually was decided against the claims of the women. Since its disestablishment and severance from the Church of England the Irish Protestant church has been a democratically governed body; but only men have votes. The demand for women's suffrage was raised by the Bishop of Ossory, and supported by Judge Wakely mainly on the ground that women had shown their capacity during the war. It was strongly opposed by Dr. Bernard, bishop of Dublin, as well as by many representative laymen. On a vote of the whole synod the women suffrage advocates had a majority, but the constitution no bill can pass unless it has a majority of both orders separately, clergy and laity. The clergy provided a majority for women's suffrage but the lay vote showed a small majority against it. The proposition is certain to be renewed.

GERMAN PREMIER PLEADS FOR DUE THOUGHT ON PACT

Urges Signing
BERLIN, (AP)—Commenting on the allied reply to the German counter proposals to the terms of peace the Frankfort Gazette says: "Whatever we do will be terrible. Germany is in no position to refuse to sign the treaty when the signature is forced by an ultimatum. Let us resign ourselves to the inevitable and hope for a better future."

Allied Troops Ready
COBLENZ, (AP)—The concentration of troops preparatory to advancing further into Germany if the Germans refuse to sign the terms of peace will begin on Wednesday throughout all the occupied area. Orders to this effect were received today from Marshal Foch, commander in chief of the allied armies, and similar orders to all the allied forces on German soil.

Associated Press Summary
While sentiment in the German cabinet, according to a Weimar dispatch is almost unanimous against signing the treaty, officials in Germany has not officially committed itself on the amended peace conditions. Should the terms be signed it will be only on account of fear of possible chaos.

It is expected that the amended conditions will be laid before the national assembly today by the cabinet.

In the meantime, Marshal Foch, commander in chief of the allied armies, has issued orders that preparations be made for an advance eastward from the Rhine bridgeheads as soon as the German refusal to sign the allied terms, if that action should be taken. American forces are ready.

Council Marks Time
With President Wilson in Belgium and Premier Lloyd George at Verdun today and tomorrow, the council of five will mark time. The only peace conference body in session today was the council of foreign ministers. Final consideration of the Austrian terms is planned for Friday and it is believed that the Austrians will receive the full text of the terms Saturday.

Vienna Papers Publish
The Austrian reply to the fragmentary treaty submitted at St. Germain has been handed to the peace conference and is being translated for submission to the council of five. Vienna dispatches say that newspapers there are publishing a summary of the reply, which seems to consist largely of objections to the territorial clauses of the treaty.

GREAT DECREASE IN DRUNKENNESS REPORTED

BOMB OUTRAGE PERIOD IS YET FAR FROM END

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Further bomb outrages are expected by William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, who said today every precaution was being taken by police throughout the country to forestall the radicals.

All of the recent bomb outrages have been connected Mr. Flynn said, and were inspired by a purely domestic element, which virtually has been identified.

Danger July 4
Mr. Flynn said he could not say when the next bomb outrage might be undertaken. Some officials of the department of justice, however, expect the next movement by the radicals to be made on Independence day.

"We know the source from which these bomb operators have been coming," said Mr. Flynn. "It will take some time to clear the matter up, but it will be cleared up."

Investigation has shown, Mr. Flynn said, that two men were carrying bombs to the home of Attorney General E. A. Tamm, which was damaged recently, and that the premature explosion resulted from the fact that the presence of two persons on the street delayed the men in placing the infernal machine.

Identify Improves
The identity of the man killed by the premature explosion of the bomb has not been completely established, Mr. Flynn said. It is known that he was a New York man who was coming to Washington.

The man with him when the bomb went off was about 30 feet away and escaped injury.

"Of course not one of us would have written this covenant as it has come to us. But this covenant represents the deliberations of nations. It deals with complex situations. It comes to us as a compromise compact. And to secure the support of this country special concessions have been made to us. Our Monroe doctrine is by this instrument given a world sanction."

Only Against External Aggression
The members of the league undertake to preserve the territorial integrity only against external aggression. A community of land owners, where there is no other law to appeal to, may properly unite to protect the land of each and every one against the savagely inclined. It has been asserted and re-asserted in all the false attacks on this instrument that the United States would be compelled to help Great Britain preserve her domain against her own internal revolutions or rebellions.

Nothing could be more false. It is only against external aggression that the league assures its protection.

"The members of the league agree to the reduction of national armaments. We wave aloft the banners of sovereignty and independence as a safeguard to frighten those who do not stop to consider that every compact or treaty between nations that has ever been adopted is just as much as a surrender of our sovereignty as our national independence, as though the same treaty were made on bloc with all the nations. We have preached the reduction of armaments for years. Now, present to me, if you can, a better or a safer plan than that provided in this treaty, or else acknowledge frankly that you intend to conform our acts to our declarations."

Denies Disadvantage
Referring to the charges that the United States would be at a disadvantage in the league because it has only one vote, the speaker said the important decisions would be made in the council where the only vote would be one each for the five great powers with unanimous action required to effect a decision or to transfer consideration of a question to the assembly. Answering objections that Great Britain would have too many votes in the assembly, he continued:

"What would be the danger to us of having Canada, Australia and New Zealand, bloc of our blood and bone of our bone, made members of the assembly. You give black Haiti a vote, you give black Liberia vote. But you deny the great, independent commonwealth of Canada the right to raise her voice."

Would Involve Conspiracy

"But you say that the question of whether the matter complained of is a domestic one must be decided by the council. Naturally some one must decide that question. But remember that the verdict must state the affirmative outside the parties to the dispute, and that the whole world must wickedly, contrary to and in defiance of the provisions of the compact, conspire against the United States. And to carry out such a conspiracy each nation would commit an act of suicide by establishing a precedent that would compel it to surrender its own purely domestic powers to a world league."

Mr. McCumber also declared he personally would be opposed to leaving Germany out of the league fearing that action might lead to future divisions and jealousies.
