River Gives Up Bodies of Drowned Boys

Mystery Surrounding Disappearance of Herbert Bourdette, 16, and Harold Bourdette, 7, Is Cleared Up.

Within a period of 12 hours discovery was made at the foot of Sheverson Falls at the north side of the river of the bodies of two boys, son of C. O. Bourdette, and his uncle, Herbert Bourdette, 16, son of H. W. Bourdette, missing since Sunday, June 15, when they were last seen on the bridge.

The body of the younger boy was noticed floating in an eddy below the falls at about 4:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon and had drifted ashore a short time later.

At about 10 o'clock Sunday morning the body of the older boy rose to the surface in about the same location and was noticed by a man fishing there.

There had been no dynamiting done since Wednesday and the bodies rose of their own volition.

Coroner P. J. Grossman was called to take charge of the remains which were turned over to the J. E. DeWitt undertaking establishment.

Funeral services for the younger boy were held Sunday afternoon and were conducted by W. A. DeWitt, pastor of the Catholic church. Funeral services for the older boy will be held at 6 o'clock this afternoon at the DeWitt chapel.

Discovery of the bodies confirms the opinion reached when the boys were missed that in attempting to cross a narrow channel back to the mainland, they had fallen into the current and were dashed over the waterfall.

Senate Rests in the Fight on the Treaty

Issues of Controversy Delayed Until Later Date by Taft Understanding.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The story senate fight over the league of nations which has raged virtually without interruption since the extra session began five weeks ago appears to have reached its final stage as the leaders on both sides realized their forces for the final struggle over the covenant's ratification.

With abandonment of the plan to call up today Senator Knox's resolution on the subject, there appeared little likelihood that issues of the controversy would appear on the surface of senate procedure during the coming week, and perhaps not until the treaty is submitted for ratification early in July.

As a consequence of these maneuvers the league issues seem assured of remaining uppermost in the minds of senators despite the lack of actual settlements of both sides are expected to find an outlet in an occasional outburst of senate debate.

ALIENS CATCHED AMONG THE STRIKERS WILL BE DEPORTED. WINNPEG, (AP)—It was officially announced that all aliens breasting caught participating in demonstrations against the guardians of the peace will be taken into custody and placed in an internment camp.

Our power of resistance is broken and there is no means of averting this treaty. The treaty itself, however, does give us a handle which we cannot allow to slip. It is a real realization of a better future. The treaty is a promise of June 1919 that the treaty can be revised from time to time and adapted to new conditions. This is the only way in which the treaty can be revised from time to time and adapted to new conditions.

Premier Bauer concluded by expressing his faith in the German people and that their realization of a better future. He said they were faced with years of labor for the foreign account, but owed it to their descendants to hold the treaty together.

Safeguard Liberty. They must safeguard our new liberty," he said. "There must be a will to work and a discipline in all ranks of society. There are no millions of slaves to our nation. Even a world revolution cannot rid us of the malady from which we are wearing away. Only by a revolution of our moral consciousness can we succeed in raising ourselves out of our night into a better future."

TELEPHONE IN THIRD ARMY IS NEARLY PERFECT

COBLENZ.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—At the time the Americans began withdrawing from Germany the United States army had perfected one of the finest telephone systems in Europe. From the headquarters of the Third Army in Coblenz fifty long distance lines radiate in all directions. It is possible for the commanding general to sit in his office and talk with American officers in London, Berlin, Vienna, Rotterdam, Brussels, Antwerp, Paris and various other points in France.

The army of occupation has a telephone system closely resembling the best commercial system in the United States. On the top floor of the headquarters building in Coblenz a nine position switchboard was installed soon after the Americans reached the Rhine. Scattered throughout Coblenz are twenty private branch exchanges of the various units of headquarters. Connected to this system are four hundred and "subscribers" in addition to the fifty long distance lines.

Direct Line Connection.

Within the German occupied area there has been established by the signal corps under the direction of Major Parker Hitt, chief signal officer, a network of wires connecting the various units of the Third Army. Direct lines connect with all the corps and divisions, approximately 16,000 miles of wire being in service.

This extensive plant has not, however, been built by the Third army but consists almost altogether of the German lines taken over by the signal corps and arranged to meet the needs of the army. Sufficient circuits were left, however, for the American population to carry on their business.

Thousands Call Daily.

More than 15,000 calls are registered daily on the Coblenz switchboard. With the establishment of exchange in Coblenz it was necessary to employ operators who could speak English, French and German. The fifteen operators on duty at Coblenz are all women. The women's telephone corps and have been in the service more than a year. The chief operator, Miss Helen Cook, was a former operator of the American Telephone & Telegraph company in New York. Previous to joining the American Expeditionary Force, she spent six years as an instructor for the Bell system in Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis, Omaha, Cleveland, Detroit and Memphis.

The word "Doodlebug" is the code name of the Third army switchboard in Coblenz. The corps and divisions assigned them during the war. On the back of a twenty page telephone directory issued by the chief of staff, the "Doodlebug" has been reproduced in the shape of a bug made up of a combination of letters, figures and symbols.

All the apparatus, including switchboards, telephone-instruments and in fact everything excepting the wires, in the American installation is to be taken out when the Americans in France say goodbye to the Rhine and start for France and home.

OCEAN LIFE TO GET MORE STUDY

Scientists in National Meeting Consider Subject of Its Productivity.

PASADENA, Cal., (AP)—What science did to win the world war and plans for the exploration of the North Pacific ocean were among the subjects discussed by the Pacific division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science which met here today for a two day session. The members of the Pacific division number about 1600, including a large percentage of the active scientists and educators in this region. Various societies affiliated with the parent organization will participate at all sessions.

More adequate means of disseminating information as to the aims and objects of science will be discussed. It is understood sentiment will be expressed urging the government to give the most open and complete support possible to this dissemination of information.

North Pacific Study

The problem of the organic fertility of the North Pacific ocean was the subject of an address by Ellis L. Michael, biologist for the biological research, La Jolla, California.

He said, "The ocean, like the land, has its plants, its plant eating animals, and its carnivorous animals, but the vast majority of them all are microscopic. Destruction of this plant life would make the ocean lifeless, for all marine animals depend finally upon this life for food. Most of the minute plants and animals pass their lives upon or near the surface of the sea, and their carcasses sink to the ocean floor, where, becoming intermixed with mud, they form organic ooze—the final food of all bottom dwelling animals.

More is Atlantic

"Certain facts indicate that, though the absolute quantity of minute life is enormous in the North Pacific ocean, it is somewhat less than in the North Atlantic ocean. If this is true, the production of North Pacific, in food and other articles useful to man, would be correspondingly less. Investigations carried on through international cooperation, are needed to determine whether and if so to what extent this is true. With such co-operation, over long periods of time, it should be possible also to ascertain the causes of variation in quantity of minute life and to predict the productivity of sea areas with an accuracy comparable to weather forecasts.

There will be a symposium on "Scientific Education in a Democracy." Speakers of note will contribute to the elucidation of this subject and science will be considered in its various relation to the public.

ALBANIA WANTS ONLY LIBERTY

It wants neither mandates nor protectorates but simply self-government. The simple mountaineers trust the soldiers of no nation and the presence of foreign uniforms in their mountain fastnesses serves only to lead them into revolt against the invader.

The only uniform which is welcomed in the American, Albanians associate that of the American Red Cross. It is that of an army officer of the Hoover food mission or the American Red Cross, with charity and the helping hand. They put the broadest interpretation upon the entry of their American Red Cross, into their country and see in it a sign that America will back them up in their claims for independence.

Harvest Abundant.

The harvest of 1921 fortunately was very abundant in Albania and thus the country escaped a serious shortage of food. However, the need of medical help and of clothing is universal. The mountain people have practically speaking no doctors and no medicines. When they are taken sick they lie down on the dirt floors of their houses and are covered with blankets of their own. There either to recover or die. Tuberculosis and malaria are the commonest diseases. There is much malnutrition from inadequate feeding especially among the children.

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—"Jimmy" Britt, former lightweight pugilist, is one of those who has gone on record as favoring Dempsey in his championship heavyweight bout against Jess Willard, the champion at Toledo on independence day.

"Dempsey is the harder hitter of the two," said Britt. "Willard has passed the fighting age and he never was a man to pull off his opponents in a hurry. Willard is bound to tire early in the fight and to become more tired as the fight goes on. Unless he gets off Dempsey at the start, I can't see that he has a chance."

YANKEE MACHINE FOR MACEDONIA

Large Contingent of Agricultural Implements Arrives in Salonika.

SALONIKI, (P)—Large consignments of American agricultural machinery has been unloaded here for uses in Macedonia. The motor plows are badly needed on account of the dearth of horses and oxen which the Bulgars carried off with them. In the last six months the American Red Cross has been instructing Greeks and Serbs in the use of modern farm machinery and American methods of soil improvement and now farmers are being given the opportunity to buy implements at advantageous prices.

King Alexander of Greece is much interested in American farming machinery. Recently a very large consignment of agricultural machinery and implements arrived in Athens from America. The consignment comprised all classes of power machinery, a considerable number of motor plows. King Alexander viewed these plows at the Athens Botanical Gardens. At his request two or three of them were set to work in an adjacent field, attracting first to last his special attention. Later these American machines and implements were exhibited at the exposition, the large exhibition building in which they were used during the war as a hospital. There they were visited by landowners, farmers and the general public.

Motor Plows Galore

The Greek government shipped a number of these motor plows and other implements to Eastern Macedonia and Thessaly to be used for the spring cultivation. In addition to these thousands of ordinary American plows are being shipped into Macedonia. To pull these plows the Bulgarians finally agreed after much discussion to deliver seven hundred draught animals per week to the Greeks in recompense for the tons of thousands of animals taken by the Bulgarian army in Thrace during the war.

Owing to the fact that farmers in the Near East cultivate only small tracts, small size American machinery is in greater demand than the heavier machines, with the possible exception of harvesters. Only large owners can afford the large plowing tractors.

The American Red Cross has brought in about 300 American farm wagons and later these wagons and the many small American automobiles now being used in the Near East will be sold to the farmers. The Near East is in the greatest need of means of transportation and farming machinery and Americans are now meeting this demand.

Jeffries stated he intended his line to carry both freight and passengers, but the former would make up the bulk of the business. His machines will carry milk and garden produce, the champion said.

Also the boxer asked for a permit to drive, saying that he might want "to sit in on a pinch."

Stop right there, please. The very fact that your business IS different is the reason you CAN advertise.

If all stores were exactly alike, advertising would be a difficult problem.

The question is not, "Can I use advertising?" It is, CAN I SURVIVE WITHOUT ADVERTISING?

COMPETITION is growing keener.

Business men are feeling today more than ever the tremendous business building power of publicity. They are talking about their merchandise and their service to thousands of people daily through their newspaper advertisements.

SPARTACIDES DENOUNCED BY THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT

BERLIN, (P)—The radical Spartacist danger and the consistent working of communists for the adoption of the soviet system all over Germany was such that the occupation of Leipzig by government troops was necessary for the safety of the country, says an official statement issued to offset criticism from radical quarters and bitter opposition by Leipzig independents. The statement blames the radical press for veiling and distorting facts, encouraging nation wide unrest and defending the murder of the Saxon minister Nowring. It announces that troops will be withdrawn and severe measures relaxed as soon as order is established. The classified columns solve a wide range of pressing problems for you.

Put Today's Prosperity Into a Home

America today is a nation of great Prosperity. Money is plentiful and prices are accordingly high as is always the case during such periods

You, who are living in rented houses, are deliberately withholding from yourselves a portion of your rightful share of these general good times. Rents are higher today than ever before in the history of the country. Such being the case, you are helping your landlord become richer when you could as easily be paying these abnormal rents to yourself.

Take advantage of these extraordinary good times and build yourself a home. Materials are plentiful, labor is plentiful and in comparison with the price of other commodities you will find that the cost of building has really advanced very little. Statistics show that while rents are from twenty-five to fifty percent above normal, building costs have advanced only ten to fifteen percent. You are actually losing money each day you delay building.

In erecting your own home you are building your own best savings bank. And in building a home, you will always have the knowledge that, come what may, you have an asset with which to meet all emergencies. You have also supplied yourself with a reason for saving, a tangible objective which serves as a check to unreasonable spending and makes it easy to save.

Statistics compiled by the Equitable Life Assurance Company show that eighty percent of the adult population leave no estate whatsoever at death. Stop a minute and think what would happen to your family if accident or death should overtake you and your earnings should cease. Would your family be homeless or safe and secure in a home of their own.

In building your own home you are doing your real duty by your wife and little ones. A home means not only present comfort and happiness and security for your family but also it is a safeguard against future misfortune.

For the present comfort and safety of your family—for their future welfare—for your own financial betterment—plan now to build your home.

In connection with the subject of building let us quote the following opinion as stated by a well-known publisher:

"For those contemplating building it would be decidedly a short-sighted policy to delay. Building materials are a trifle high at present, it is true, but against this are the tremendously high rents that generally prevail. The small amount you would lose by building now would be more than offset by what you would gain in the matter of rents."

OBEDYING THE KAISER

The explanation given today by Admiral von Reuter of the German navy that he sank the fleet Saturday in compliance with orders from the kaiser, given at the time that the war started, shows where the heart of German militarists lies and proves conclusively that the peace conference in Paris did well to guard against the possibility of such men again getting control of Germany.

It is a state of mind which cannot be changed in a moment or with one reverse. It is not surprising, therefore, to learn from the dispatches today that American military have discovered a movement toward a military dictatorship, that the Kreuz Zeitung of Berlin takes the same view and that the independent socialist paper, Die Fribolit is convinced, that the reactionists are preparing to strike.

There are those in this country and in all allied countries who have expressed the thought that Germany is penitent and that confidence should be shown in her and that Christian charity should impel the associated powers to extend forgiveness rather than impose chastisement.

These people fail to take into account the fact that Germany is not penitent. As theologians would say she has not shown true contrition. Her regrets do not spring from any feeling that she has offended the Eternal Right; neither does her sorrow partake of any higher or supernatural character. She is sorry that she failed. She is deeply pained because to the extent of her ability she is called on to make recompense for the losses she has inflicted on others.

That this sort of sorrow may ultimately lead to a higher sort of regret while she "chews the thistle of sorrow and regret," and "digs up" the indignities. Such experiences make for introspection. But at present Germany has not reached that stage of spiritual regeneration as to be beyond the possibility of backsliding.

If any doubt should exist on that score, the reflection that the admiral left in charge of the navy by the present republican government, admits that he still acts under orders of the exiled kaiser should dispel it.

Germany may stay on probation long enough to prove that her conversion is real, and as restitution is one of the evidences of sincerity, the more good grace she shows while paying the indemnity, the more quickly will the rest of the world assume that the spirit of grace and truth is working within her.

Equal to the Occasion

"Speaking of accommodating hotel managers," said a traveler, "the best I ever met was at a provincial town where I reached the hotel late in the evening. Just before I retired I heard a scamping under the bed, and saw a couple of large rats just escaping. I at once complained at the office. The manager was as serene as a summer breeze. He told me that all rats were dead. 'Houses' take a rat to mean it at once'."

Doomed to Wretchedness

Let a man choose what condition he will, and let him accumulate around him all the good and gratifications he seemingly calculated to make him happy in it; if that man is left at any time without occupation or amusement, and reflects on what he is, the meager, scanty felicity of his present lot will not be long in coming to him. He will turn away from the good and gratifications of his house; and unless his occupation calls him out of himself, he is inevitably wretched.—Pascal.

DEATH FOLLOWS TORNAADO'S PATH IN MINNESOTA

The greatest loss of life took place at the Grand hotel, a three story building. Thirty-five persons are believed to have been killed when the hotel was smashed by the twister. More than 500 guests were in the building. Special relief trains from St. Paul and Minneapolis arrived at Fergus Falls at 6 o'clock this morning.

ST. PAUL, (AP)—Reports regarding the tornado which struck Fergus Falls, received this forenoon at the state military department by telephone from Wadon, about 75 miles from Fergus Falls, saying that the casualties report 200 dead and several hundred injured had not been changed. Was Last Polish King

In 1795 on the 11th of April, Stanislas Poniatowski, the last king of Poland, died. Poniatowski ascended the Polish throne in 1764. The condition of Poland required a strong man on the throne to keep the country from ruin, and Stanislas lacked the necessary strength and statesmanship. Russia, Prussia and Austria divided this kingdom among them and the deposed king retired to Petruscov on a pension, where he died in 1798.

Lake of Sulphate

A lake near Biggar, Saskatchewan, and about three hundred miles northwest of Regina, has been found to be saturated with sodium sulphate, and the deposit under the lake and along the shore is nearly 97 per cent pure sulphate. The mineral is used extensively in the manufacture of sulphuric acid, in photography and other industrial purposes. The lake occupies an area of about two hundred acres. The edge is muddy, but on borings about half of mirabilite crystals is found.

Peanut Oil

The peanut oil, which is used as a substitute for other oil, is receiving special attention from growers who find this the most profitable feature of the industry. About 40,000,000 bushels a year are used in the production of peanut oil, each bushel weighing 30 pounds, usually yielding about a gallon.

KAISER GIVES ORDER SENDING THE FLEET DOWN

Admiral von Reuter Explains Action of Seamen by Saying That Orders Were to Prevent Capture of Ships.

LONDON, (AP)—Although reports have stated that six Germans were killed and ten wounded when the boats of the German fleet in Scapa Flow were fired upon, subsequent to the scuttling of the German fleet, the Daily Mail says that at least 100 men have been drowned and that some possibly have reached the Orkney Islands.

Admiral Gave Command

Admiral von Reuter, commander of the surrendered German fleet, says he issued an order to sink the ships, the Daily Mail adds, and did so because at the beginning of the war the German emperor directed that if German warships should fall into the enemy's hands, "he says that he believed, from newspaper reports, that the armistice had been signed."

Action Was Quick

From the behavior of the ships, according to "The Mail," it was evident the sailors had been ordered to sink a surprisingly short time the vessels, big and small, began to settle down. Every effort was made by the British navy to beach the sinking ships, and in case of destruction, to prevent success was achieved. By one o'clock in the afternoon however, what an hour before had been a stately fleet riding calmly at anchor was an array of reeling, rocking battleships the doom of which was written in their movements. The waters of Scapa Flow were dotted with smoke, and the air was filled with dramatic suddenness scuffed the question of the disposition of the interned ships.

The flagship was towed alongside of H. M. S. Victorious by a drifter, German officers in the boat ordered their men to cheer. They responded with three hearty cheers. Cheers of every description followed fast on the side of the warship, each towing boatloads of Germans who were taken aboard the H. M. S. Victorious, the decks lit, which soon became crowded with men and bundles.

A German officer who came aboard with a sword and seemed to make an impressive ceremony by landing, ordered to an officer who had been in command of a division of interned destroyers.

Denies Being Bolshevik

"We are not Bolsheviks," he said. "Peace was signed today." He had orders and had carried them out. The armistice had been extended until Monday and there was an almost continuous feel clicking and rattling as the British officers of various ships greeted each other coming aboard. The Germans were ready for the event as was apparent from the amount of the gear they had on hand. They were getting under the weight of bundles bigger than themselves, the salvage representing everything from banjos to port logs. Both the officers and men seemed very anxious that none of their ships should be saved.

Flags Come Down

One officer, who wore the iron cross, pointed to the stars and said: "See how the German navy goes down with its flag flying." Such however, was not the case, as British seamen had boarded most of the German ships and pulled down the flags before the vessels went under.

Eyes Witness Tells Story

The sailor who witnessed an eye witness of the sinking of the fleet who says that he witnessed naval activities at Scapa Flow for many years and by his impressive sight, but the most imposing of them was the same compared with Saturday's staggering spectacle. Toward noon one of the German battleships was reported in a sinking condition and almost simultaneously each German ship hoisted the German ensign at the masthead, the most of them showing also the red flag at their foremast. The great number of ships seemed to leave the ships and it was soon evident that a concerted plan of

ALLIES READY TO ENFORCE ALL THEIR DEMANDS

Declination to Grant Even Two Days More Shows Complete Preparation to Use Military Machine to Overrun Country.

PARIS, (AP)—The fact that the Germans asked only 48 hours delay and yet were refused was regarded in peace conference circles as indicating the intention of the allies to push matters to an immediate conclusion. The great allied military machine was ready to move on the strike of the hour of the expiration of the time limit.

Americans at Bridgehead

COBLENZ, (AP)—American soldiers concentrated in the Coblenz bridgehead awaiting orders received news regarding the German national assembly's vote for peace at Weimar through extra editions of German newspapers today. The bare facts regarding the vote were published in one sheet extra. The Germans in Coblenz were apparently excited by the news. New and stringent police regulations were put into force by the American military authorities.

Tip to Authors

A youthful aspirant, applied to a successful author for advice as to how to succeed in literature. "You need indubitable perseverance, a typewriter and a mango," was the reply. "Do you mean I had better take in washing?" asked the aspirant. "Nonsense! You need the mango to take the creases out of your manuscript. Mangle them well, and then, unless the editors have burned them with cigarettes, no one can tell they have been out before."

"I promised Mr. Lane that I would try and see if the hotel couldn't run a 'conservation kitchen,' so now I'm cook, sir, you see."

REFREE SELECTION IS IN WAY OF SETTLEMENT

Willard Plans to Take Day Off and Gives Everybody a Rest.

TOLEDO, O., (AP)—With the arrival of Major A. J. Drezel Blidde today, the much discussed question of selecting a referee for the fight between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey between the Fourth of July, is expected to be settled here tonight. A campaign has been in progress among Toledo sports in the interest of Ollie Peacor, official referee of the Toledo boxing commission, whose appointment as third man in the ring has been openly resented. The consensus of opinion seems to be that two judges will be named. The boxing board has expressed preference to this manner of deciding the contest, and as neither Willard nor Dempsey has made any objection, the plan may receive its first American tryout in the heavyweight championship contest. The referee would be called upon to render a decision only in case of a disagreement between the two judges.

WILSON PRAISES BELGIAN PEOPLE

President Says Americans Understand What Freedom Means to Inhabitants.

BRUSSELS, (P)—At a reception in his honor Thursday night at the hotel De Ville by Burgomaster Max and the city officials, President Wilson spoke in part as follows:

"I feel welcomed today by those whom I would fain believe to be my friends and the friends of the American people, as the American people are certainly your friends. They are your friends in a very deep and true sense. They understand what Belgian liberty signifies. They understand what Belgium's suffering signifies; and it is, I believe, one of their deepest ambitions to satisfy the duty of friendship as toward the Belgian people."

"It has been one of my pleasures on this trip to be accompanied by my fellow countryman, Mr. Herbert Hoover, who I know has had his heart written on his heart throughout this war and whose pleasure it is as being together to go, as in going about the country, to see and to hear healthy children and robust men and women whom he could properly believe were saved by the food which came from America. I believe that I have the privilege of speaking his thoughts (and of the words of Mr. Hoover is that he is too modest to speak for himself and therefore I am proud to share with him some of your welcome."

"I am accompanied by other colleagues with whom I have been in counsel throughout the war and whose thoughts I can tell you have been constantly upon the methods by which Belgium could be helped; whose thoughts now is upon that subject, whose hope is that some method will be worked out as I had the privilege of saying to your parliament today, by which systematic help soon can be rendered to Belgium."

"I bring you the warm greeting of the people of America. I am sure I express their wish when I say, long live the prosperity of Brussels and of Belgium and of her king and her queen."

BRITISH SWEEPING RED FLEET FROM THE SEAS

Report Received That Cruiser Slava and Battleship Andrei Pervovanni Are Down.

HELINGSFORS, (P)—British warships on Wednesday evening torpedoed the Bolshevik armored cruiser Slava, which sank immediately.

The only Russian warship bearing the name of Slava to be found in available lists was sunk by the German squadron on October 17, 1917, in the Gulf of Riga. It seems probable, however, that some other craft was given the name of the Slava, which was entered in the Russian admiralty reports as a battleship.

A report received on Friday stated that the Russian cruiser Oleg had been sunk on Wednesday by a British submarine.

The jury in district court here in the trial of the case of George Eliopoulos against the Amalgamated Sugar company this morning was taken to the sugar factory, here where the accident occurred as a result of which Eliopoulos lost the sight of one eye and for which he is suing the sugar company for $10,000 damages. The complaint is based on the allegation that the defendant failed to provide adequate light and that in the semi-darkness a fellow workman struck Eliopoulos in the eye with a plank. The defendant's agent of attorneys in the case will be reached this afternoon.

JOHN BARRYMORE EATS FOOD VISION

Why Big Scene Falls to Show in 'Here Comes the Bride.' While John Barrymore's latest picture, 'Here Comes the Bride,' was being filmed, John Stuart Robertson, the director, wished to do a scene showing Mr. Barrymore in a hungry state where he could see a vision of food floating over his head. It was only eleven o'clock in the morning and the director said to Mr. Barrymore, 'What particular dish of food would most appeal to you?' Mr. Barrymore answered offhand, 'Bacon and eggs.'

Later a waiter appeared from the hotel across the street bearing a tray upon which rested a plate of delicious bacon and eggs. He Young, the photographer, was planning to photograph it a little later, but Mr. Barrymore beat him to it and the vision was consumed before it could be visualized on the screen.

Mr. Barrymore explained that he thought Mr. Robertson was buying him his breakfast. 'Here Comes the Bride' will be shown at the Idaho theatre Monday and Tuesday, Fair Binney, a charming actress, is the leading woman.

DEFER AWARD ON ROAD BILLS

Twin Falls Highway District Receives Proposals on Hollister Work.

Two bids for the construction of about eight miles of gravelled highway east of Hollister—the first stretch of road building provided for in the district's program—were opened Saturday by the commissioners of the Twin Falls highway district, but action as regards acceptance of either bid was deferred until Saturday next. In the meantime the commissioners expect to re-visit the section through which the road is to be built. The bidders represented in the bidding Saturday were William Hawkins of Twin Falls, and W. J. Walter of Buhl.

Seek Federal Aid.

In pursuance of action taken Saturday by the commissioners, application will be made through the state highway department for federal aid in the improvement of post roads included in the district road building program. Lt. Col. D. P. Olson, state highway auditor, here last week, explained the steps to be taken in making application for such aid and stated that since the application of this nature from Idaho had been turned down heretofore he saw no reason why federal aid should not be secured to the Twin Falls district.

When appropriated through federal aid for the improvement of post roads in this district will be used either for extending the present program to include more post roads or for a better class of material. W. L. Johnson, district director of highways, has stated.

Keep Sweet. Losing the temper takes all the sweet, pure feeling out of life. One may get up in the morning with a clean heart, full of love, and start out as happy as a bird, and the moment he is crossed and gives way to temper the clean feeling vanishes; and a load as heavy as lead is rolled upon the heart. Be the master of your temper and you hold the key to joy and contentment.

Astounded Daddy. June is having some difficulty in settling upon the proper title for her father. The other day she was playing with one of his collars when she tore it. Just then she heard him coming upstairs, and rushing to the top step called in distressed tones: "Oh, daddy, I have torn my hubble's collar!"

Country's Dark Days. The saying, "not worth a continental," came from the fact that the continental currency, issued by the continental congress, was worthless, or nearly so, during the revolution and after. As the continental congress had no power to levy taxes it was unable to redeem its promises to pay. Besides, the country was flooded with counterfeiters which could not be detected.

PORTO RICAN TEACHERS THREATEN TO STRIKE

Say That They Will Walk Out Unless Their Salaries Are Increased.

SAN JUAN (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Porto Rico is threatened with a strike of 2,500 school teachers as the legislature makes provisions for an increase in teachers' salaries. The teachers are expected to refuse to sign contracts for the next school year at the present scale of salaries.

Francisco Vicenty, president of the Teachers' Association started the strike campaign last week.

Commissioner of Education Paul G. Miller put the question of raising funds to pay teachers adequate salaries squarely up to the legislature.

"If the legislature takes the view that there is no money in the treasury with which to pay teachers, the answer is that the legislature is the only agency that has the power to raise money."

Bural teachers are receiving $40; the graded teachers $60; principal and the teachers of English $75 a month. This is far from what they should receive for their services in view of the high cost of living and especially in view of the fact that Porto Rico has been highly prosperous in recent years.

"On the other hand teachers' salaries were materially reduced by the legislature in 1914. Bural teachers have since received an increase of $2 a month which is insignificant."

I have been a great deal happier since I have been thinking about what is easy and pleasant, and being discontented because I could not have my own will.—George Elliot.

Steel and Iron

Steel is a kind of iron which can usually be hammered out, thin without cracking and can be made extremely hard by being heated and then cooled quickly. It is different from ordinary iron because of the amount of carbon in it. Wrought iron contains less carbon than steel and so it cannot be made so hard; cast iron contains more and so is brittle.

Evidently No Lover of Cards

It is very wonderful to see persons of the best sense passing hours together in shuffling and dividing a pack of cards with no conversation but in different figures. TREATY HISTORY COVERS PERIOD OF FIVE MONTHS

Many Issues Raised During Long Discussion in Regard to Terms of Covenant of Peace Agreed Upon

WEIMAR, (AP)—It is officially announced that Germany will sign the peace treaty.

The peace treaty of Versailles is the fruit of about five months of conferences in which delegations from thirty-two allied countries and Germany participated. These thirty-two nations, the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, were represented in the peace conferences at Paris by five delegates each while the delegations of other nations and British commissions were composed of from one to three men.

The representatives of the United States were President Wilson, Secretary of State Robert Lansing, Henry White, formerly American ambassador at Rome and Paris, Colonel Edward M. House and General Tasker H. Bliss.

At first a supreme council or a council of ten was organized so as to include two representatives each from Great Britain, France, the United States, Italy and Japan. Subsequently this council was decided to be replaced by a council of four, composed of President Wilson and Premiers Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Orlando; and a council of five ministers.

The conference of the allied delegations convened officially on January 18 to draw up the terms to be submitted when completed to the German delegation. President Wilson arrived in France on December 13 and had visited England, Italy and parts of France.

Try to Settle Russia. One of the first acts of the conference was to send a proposal to all Russian factions to meet on the Princes' Islands to endeavor to compose the Russian internal situation but this plan was rejected by the Russian factions which were disputing over territory in different sections of Europe.

The treaty by the peace conference contains the conflicts of the world. The first step toward the actual drafting of the treaty occurred on January 24 when the conference agreed to the plan for organization of a league of nations and committees were appointed to draw up a covenant. By January 30 the conference had adopted the plan of governing colonies and backward nations through mandates issued to various nations subject to the direction and approval of the league of nations.

The covenant of the league of nations was completed on February 14. On the following day President Wilson left France for the United States. He returned to France arriving there on March 23. In his absence the council of ten had continued its work despite an attempt to assassinate Premier Clemenceau.

Labor Legislation. A report of the international labor legislative committee was adopted April 11. Reparation demands to be made on Germany were approved April 14 and the Germans were invited on April 16 to send their delegation to Versailles to sign the treaty.

The peace conference next considered the treaty with Austria. The Italian delegation insisted upon obtaining control of the former Austrian city of Fiume but on April 23 President Wilson gave out a statement that Fiume could not be given to Italy. On the same day Premier Orlando returned to Rome and for more than a week thereafter the Italian delegates were absent but returned on May 7 in time to participate in the conference with the German delegates.

A revised covenant of the league of nations intended to conform in respect to the Monroe Doctrine to objection raised in America was adopted by the peace conference on April 25. Grava was selected as the seat of the league. Shantung was disposed of on April 30 when the council of three voted to give it over to the Japanese on the grounds that it would be given later to the Chinese.

Germany Arrive. The German head of Count Brockdorff-Rantzau, arrived in Versailles and presented their credentials to the allied delegates on May 1. The peace treaty was presented to the Germans at Versailles on May 7, the anniversary of the sinking of the Lusitania, and an official summary of the treaty was made public that day. It was then announced that the United States and Great Britain had pledged aid to France against possible future German aggression. The manner in which the German received the treaty was described as insolent. Numerous German leaders declared they would not sign it and a week of mourning was decreed by the German government but the decree was virtually unheeded.

Germany Writes Notes. Thereafter the German delegates submitted various notes to the council of four asking for concessions or criticisms of the terms proposed in the treaty as submitted to them. On May 16 it was announced that the German treaty would become effective when ratified by Germany and three of the allied or associated powers.

The German reply to the first form of the peace treaty was presented to the allied delegates on May 23 and the treaty was approved by several German counterproposals.

Meanwhile the Austrian delegates had arrived at St. Germain and on June 2 the terms of the peace treaty were accepted as drawn by the allies was submitted to them.

WANT AMERICA AS MANDATORY

Everybody in Constantinople Expresses Hope That United States Will Take Control

PARIS, (AP)—The report that the United States has been urged to assume the mandate for Constantinople meets with general approval there, writes an agent of the Red Cross in the Turkish capital. There is a general feeling of relief at the prospect of a possible situation, he adds.

"Wherever an American wanders in Constantinople, Turks, Greeks and Armenians improve upon the visitor that America will be welcomed with open arms, that America will be trusted. At the Turkish foreign office, the smiling face of the American ambassador is the one to be seen. 'The American will come in and help us,' the Red Cross man continues.

Turk Appreciates American. "The Turk has been quick to appreciate what America has done for his country since the American flag, wherever one goes he sees American flags stuck into the bags of rice, of flour and over stacks of canned goods which the street merchants have for sale. The American uniform is not a rare sight in the streets or shops but wherever an American officer, Red Cross officer, or member of the Near East commission is recognized, Turks go out of their way to express their gratitude for America's prompt dispatch of food ships to Constantinople, which just before the armistice was in a bad way for food.

"At present four high commissioners, British, French, Italian and Greek are working independently in Constantinople and the two commissioners—British and French, are doing their best to co-operate but with success no one can say.

Divides Control. "The present divided control in Constantinople and the rumors constantly reaching the Turkish capital of dissensions among the allies in Paris are liable to encourage the Turks to believe that by playing one nation off against the other they can conduct themselves as they see fit.

"Part of the northern Asia Minor do not know of the armistice and the Turks are still terrorizing the Greek there.

"Turks are surprisingly familiar with the way the American government has treated Cuba and prominent Mussulmen believe that what has been done by America in the Philippines can be duplicated in Turkey.

"Howard H. H. of Chicago, has unloaded half a dozen ships, laden with food, clothes, shoes and agricultural implements. The American Red Cross also is helping the starving whether they be Greek, Turk or Armenian."

Self-Confident. Patience and gentleness are not easy virtues when one is troubled within and buffeted without by the day's news and demands. There are many times when the taking of a city might mean less to the individual soldier concerned than the conquest of his own spirit and tongue. There are tense days when a carping or unjust word falls on the spirit like a lighted match on tinder—wherefore we should be for ourselves, and to us no lighted matches at our fellows.

Our Country's Birth. Our country's independence dates from July 4, 1776, because the United States then declared its independence, and from that day on has maintained it. Great Britain acknowledged the independence of the United States by a preliminary treaty of peace dated November 30, 1782, and by the final or definite treaty dated September 3, 1783. This treaty was ratified by the continental congress January 14, 1784.

BANDITS KILL MANY ON TRAIN

Wreak Vengeance for Death of Chieftains; Claim to be Diaz Followers.

VERA CRUZ, Mex. — Correspondence of the Associated Press.—The death of seventy-five defenseless passengers was one phase of the revenge taken by the rebel bands under the nominal command of Felix Diaz for the death of Aureliano Blanquet and Francisco Alvarez.

A train on the Interoceanic line, bearing passengers armed only with instruments of labor, was dynamited between Pinar and Las Vigas, the great number of the passengers killed by rifle, fire and their bodies, together with the living wounded, burned when the train was fired.

Burn Part of Town. Within a few days a party of bandits, commanded by the Arriola brothers, burned a large part of the village of Tapocoyan causing an undetermined number of casualties. Another attack by Pedro Gabby, falsely reported killed, on the Alvarado railway near Salinas, claimed fifteen passengers and fifteen soldiers as victims.

The only military success registered was the attack on a military train near Tierra Blanca, on the Isthmus Railway, at a place known as David's Backbone, by forces under the rebel leader, Villagas and Lagros. The young General Ernesto Dumy, Major Gamba and fifty soldiers were killed. Dumy fighting to the last.

WIRE STRIKERS GET APPROVAL OF FEDERATION

National Body Goes on Record in Favor of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union; Prohibition Resolution Falls.

ATLANTIC CITY, (AP)—Endorsement of the commercial telegraphers' strike was unanimously voted today by the American Federation of Labor. The convention also went on record in favor of a forty-four hour week for labor generally and directed the executive council to work for that goal.

Defeat Prohibition. The convention turned down a resolution introduced by delegates from Seattle which would have put the American Federation of Labor on record as being in favor of prohibition.

A memorial was adopted urging labor unions to meet with and encourage the former soldiers, sailors and marines to "protect themselves against exploitation by unpatriotic employers."

Something to Worry About. Considering how late it is accomplished, one sometimes wonders if it is really worth a hungry elephant's time to eat so small a thing as a peanut.

Today's Markets

NEW YORK, (AP)—Anticipating the early acceptance of the peace treaty by Germany, today's stock market opened with an impressive demonstration of strength, gains among favorite issues ranging from one to four points.

The scope of the early operations indicated an accession of buying orders for speculative interests, including considerable short covering. This was met by heavy selling which cancelled a large part of the rise before the end of the first half hour. The reaction affected United States Steel and other leaders from one to three points.

Lacking a more obvious reason, the early reversal was attributed to profit taking by traders who evidently deemed it advisable to forestall such selling as might follow formal announcement of the signing of the treaty. General Motors yielded the greatest part of its four point advance, but rallied on the strength of equipments. Other motors and oils were not especially responsive and Texas and Pacific suggested volatility on three-cent substantial rise. Before noon offerings became more extensive, creating greater impairment than in the first reaction. Call money opened at 4 per cent.

Whence "Dutch." The name Dutch is derived from Dialect meaning the vernacular, as distinguished from Latin. It is the same word as the German Deutsch. Dutch belongs to the Frankish division of the Low German, and is closely related to the Flemish, with which it is now practically identified in its written form. The Dutch language is one of the Germanic group of dialects, and is practically the same in its structure.

GERMANS WANT REQUEST GREAT MODIFICATIONS

(Continued from page one) of peace imposed upon Germany. It desires, however, in this solemn moment to express itself with unreserved clearness in order to meet in advance any accusations of untruthfulness that may be made by the allied powers. "The restrictions imposed, exceed the measure of that which Germany can in fact perform. The government of the Reich therefore feels bound to announce that it makes all reservations and declines all responsibility as regards the consequences, which may be threatened against Germany when, as it is bound to happen, the impossibility of carrying out the conditions come to life, even though Germany's capacity to fulfill them is stretched to the utmost.

Will Not Take Blame. "Germany further lays the greatest emphasis on the declaration that she cannot accept article 230 of the treaty of peace which requires Germany to assume herself to be the sole and only author of the war and she does not cover this article by her signature. It consequently remains the responsibility of the allied powers to assume the burden of the war which has just been laid at her door.

"Likewise, it is equally impossible for a German to reconcile it with his sense of honor to accept and execute articles 227 to 230, by which Germany is required to give up to the allied and associated powers for trial, individuals among the German people who are accused by the allied and associated powers for the breach of international law and of committing acts contrary to the customs of war.

Wants Colonies. "Further, the government of the Reich makes a distinct protest against the taking away of all the colonial possessions of Germany and the reasons given therefor, which permanently deny to Germany fitness for colonial activity, although the contrary is clearly established and irrefutable evidence to the effect is contained in the observations of the German peace delegation on the conditions of peace.

"The government of the Reich assumes that it is in accordance with the desires of the allied and associated governments that it has spoken openly both as regards what concerns its good will and also as regards its capacity to perform its obligations of the condition of constraint into which the German people are forced by the requirements of the allies—a condition of constraint such as has never been inflicted on a nation in a manner more crushing and more disastrous in its consequences—and relying on the express undertaking of the allied and associated governments that their memorandum of June 16, 1919, the German government believes itself to be entitled to address the following modest request to the allied and associated powers: The government of the Reich requests that the allied and associated powers will submit the treaty of peace to the high council of the powers as constituted by the league of nations, according to article four, for the purpose of submitting it to the consideration of the high council of the German plenipotentiaries as to enjoy the same rights and privileges as the representatives of the other contracting powers of the present treaty which impair the rights to self-determination of the German people in regard to the stipulation whereby the free economic development of Germany on a footing of equal rights is impeded.

Conditional Consent. "The government of the Reich publicly accordingly gives the declaration of its consent in accordance with article 231 of the treaty of peace of June 16, 1919, in the following form: "The government of the Reich is ready to sign the treaty of peace, without, however, recognizing thereby that the German people was the author of the war and without undertaking any responsibility for doing so, in accordance with article 231 of the treaty of peace of June 16, 1919.

The Weimar dispatch carrying the official announcement that Germany would sign the treaty was filed in Weimar at 4:08 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Apparently, it referred to the decision of the German government to sign the treaty with the reservations of which it gave notice to the allied powers and which the latter rejected. Paris advised this morning that the Germans made an appeal for an additional 48 hours to make known their decision regarding the signing of the treaty without any reservations. It was reported that the German government has not yet officially notified the peace conference that she would sign the treaty and accept all its terms.

If there were a better news service than the ASSOCIATED PRESS, The News would have it.

If for one moment the public verdict as to the superiority of ASSOCIATED PRESS news over all other forms of telegraphed news, service, should seem to even waver, The News and the other Associated Press newspapers over the country would be the first to find it out.

There is but one ASSOCIATED PRESS, and The News is proud of its membership therein.

A newspaper does not merely "order" ASSOCIATED PRESS service—ASSOCIATED PRESS service is not sold to the highest bidder or indiscriminately to newspapers generally. The ASSOCIATED PRESS is an ASSOCIATION of newspaper publishers, and to this ASSOCIATION belong the leading publishers of America.

The membership of The Twin Falls News is one of the things which stamps The News with the hall-mark of success. The possession of Associated Press service may be regarded as a credit to The News and to the whole Twin Falls country, and—be it remembered—The News is the only afternoon newspaper in Idaho which gives to its readers the full leased wire day report of the ASSOCIATED PRESS.

There are plenty of news services, but only one ASSOCIATED PRESS.
