The troops ordered the immediate cessation of hostilities, the release of all prisoners held by the communists, hold in the city and the delivery of arms. The casualties in the rioting are estimated to have been twenty killed and 150 to 200 wounded.

On the surface the situation is quieter today. The banks are open, the official offices are doing their work, city transportation systems are operating.

The authorities, however, have not reestablished their control. The movement against the Spartacans is certain that the Hamburg disorders were inspired they were said to be the beginning of generally chaotic conditions planned by the Spartacans, and extending throughout the country. The authorities here said they expected that the Spartacan element would attempt an uprising here tomorrow.

Commission of Twelve Blames Profiteers.

HAMBURG. (AP)—The commission of twelve now in session here, has issued a statement regarding disorders there which reads: "Again blood has flown in Hamburg. Out of spontaneous disgust at shameful conditions of food shortage, there has grown a stormy movement of protest which the Hamburg government thought to choke in blood. It was voluntary submission of food shufflers to Hamburg, with conjunction with the Hamburg police brought about the bath of blood.

"Throughout all Germany in the last few days there has been spontaneous tumults that have not been political in character but have been born of desperation on the part of starving people who are unable to obtain the most unobtainable, horrible foodstuffs sold in order to pay those who retained their

Birds, Dogs and Cats Get Drunk on London Docks

More Port Wine in British Capital Than Beer in Whole Country.

LONDON. (AP)—The London docks were literally running with port, says a reporter of a London paper. "Thousands upon thousands of dogs, cats and birds of all kinds are reported to be drunk and filled the sheds. There is more port in London today than there is beer in the whole of England. Some of the cats were warped and leaping. The quays and streets around the sheds ran red with port. Birds, dogs and cats were having the time of their lives." The reporter saw at least a dozen drunk, lying on their sides or their backs beside rivulets of wine.

Shippers with ships in the outer docks loaded with wine complained that the quays were so crowded with port that they had no place to unload their cargoes. And other wine ships from Spain and Portugal were on the way.

We cannot now defend our former war lord with our backs to the entente, the magnanimity of the Dutch to spare us this final and most humiliating disgrace.'"

FIGHTING FOR PROLETARIAT DICTATORSHIP

BE LA KUN RECOMMENDS MORE HARSH MEASURES

BERNE. (AP)—A counter revolution movement in Hungary during which a monitor on the Danube was seized by the anti-government forces, had been put down, according to advices to the Vienna correspondent bureau from Budapest.

The messages indicate that the counter revolutionary movement developed Tuesday. The officers who took possession of the monitor used the vessel's guns for bombarding the soviet headquarters, while numbers of their supporters on the banks of the river, it is declared, were fired for the cause of royalty. There was considerable rifle and revolver firing during which numerous persons were wounded.

Says Weakness to Blame

A Budapest dispatch to the bureau filed on Thursday stated that the movement had been quelled and order restored. In referring to the outbreak Bela Kun, the soviet foreign minister, is quoted as recommending harsher measures to the central executive committee.

"The present weakness of the dictatorship is responsible for these troubles," he declared. "The bourgeoisie must be crushed without mercy. To proclaim kindness and leniency would be to shake the confidence of the proletariat. We do not want equality, but the dictatorship of the proletariat."

HAGUE DENIES FORMER CROWN PRINCE FLEES

THE HAGUE. (AP)—Frederick William Hohenzollern, the former German crown prince, who fled to Holland to Germany had been reported, was still at his residence on the island of Wieringen in the Zuylzer Zee this morning, it was officially announced here this afternoon.

The fact that the former crown prince was still at Wieringen was disclosed by an official investigation made by the Dutch minister of the interior.

Thursday's report of the escape of the former crown prince from his imprisonment in Holland, was based on the available advice, came from British official sources in Paris. The accuracy of the news apparently was accepted without question in peace conference circles.

Expected to Live on Silesian Estates.

LONDON. (AP)—After peace is signed it will return to Germany to live on any estates in Silesia and perform his duties of a land owner, said the former crown prince in an interview last night.

The prince is also quoted as declaring that "East Prussia and Silesia will never consent to be governed by Poland. There will be another war in ten years."

Council Will Remind of Consequences.

PARIS. (AP)—As the hours have passed without further details of the escape from Holland of Frederick William Hohenzollern, some in the peace conference circles are to the accuracy of the advice. The Paris newspapers today in some cases reflect the attitude of the peace conference, the affair may turn out to have been a simple lark by the ex-crown prince in the Dutch territory.

It is pointed out also that he had no particular reason to flee Dutch soil with the peace treaty not providing for his extradition and that on the other hand, by entering Germany he might be listed with the personalities whose delivery the entente will ask.

Nevertheless, the council of four, the newspapers state, has decided to call the attention of the Dutch government to the serious consequences which might follow the former crown prince's escape, should it be confirmed that he has fled, and to ask that the watch be kept on the frontier which will be increased in vigilance.

ALLIED DELEGATES FEAR SIGNING OF PEACE WILL NOT RELIEVE SITUATION

Arrangements Proceed for German Acceptance of Treaty at 3 O'Clock Saturday Afternoon; Hun Envoys on Their Way from Berlin to Versailles to Meet Victors' Terms.

LACKING PROVISION AS TO TIME OF RATIFICATION MAY BREED TROUBLE

(By Associated Press) Dr. Hermann Mueller, German foreign minister, and Dr. Johannes Bell, minister of the colonies, are on their way from Berlin to Versailles to sign the treaty of peace, having passed through Cologne this morning. Arrangements are proceeding for the signing of the treaty at three o'clock Saturday afternoon. Notwithstanding the probability that the formal signing of the treaty seems near to accomplishment, Paris reports intimate that there is a feeling among the allied delegates that the signing may not bring to a close the tense situation between the allies and Germans. A bad impression as to the stability of the present German government has been created in Paris. It is pointed out that there is no provision in the treaty as to when Germany must ratify the document and it is feared there may be vexatious delays before peace is actually restored.

FIRST GREETERS OF 146TH MEN AT POGATELLO

(Special to The News.) POGATELLO. (AP)—In marked contrast to celebrations upon the arrival of troops in many instances over the west, but breathing an air of sincerity and earnestness which sold as words could not the arrival of the 146th field artillery detachment at Pocatello shortly after noon and were received by a dozen. Here they met the first field artillery greeters this morning and who, finding that trains permitted had come on to this point the sooner to meet their contingent.

Words Are Few

There was little of the demonstrative in the greeting accorded the boys but in the matter of whole-souled sincerity and real feeling there was nothing lacking. E. J. Ostrander was among the first on the ground, C. E. Booth was a close competitor with George Bailey, Dan Bawn, Let Wright, J. H. Wise, W. M. Dow and Major C. M. Booth of Pocatello, formerly of Twin Falls in the van guard. Here they met the first field artillery greeters this morning and who, finding that trains permitted had come on to this point the sooner to meet their contingent.

DECLARES PEACE ENTAILS SPREAD OF CLASS WARS

BUDAPEST, (AP)—"The allied policy toward Hungary should be one of non-interference in our internal affairs and the allies also should raise the blockade," Bela Kun, foreign minister of the present Hungarian government, told the Associated Press correspondent today in discussing assertions that Hungary had been interfering with the affairs of the Austrian republic.

Minister Kun also expressed confidence that communism would succeed in Hungary.

Says Austria Deceives.
Resuming his discussion of the reported friction with the Austrian republic, he said:

"It is altogether untrue. Austria is seeking to deceive the public so that it may continue the domination of Hapsburg capitalism. It is also untrue that we bought guns and rifles from the Italians.

"Our policy is peace. Premier Lenin is not dictating our internal policy. We are merely following his ideas that principles should be altered to meet changing circumstances."

"You, communism will succeed here," he said in answer to a question. "We are in a period of transition, going back toward socialism."

Asked if Hungarians wanted communism, he said:

"The majority is passive, but the minority is active. Anyway, it is impossible for us to work under capitalism even with the letter pat."

Predicts German Revolution.
"I know the Germans will sign the peace treaty and I am glad of it, for it means a revolution in Germany. After such a peace capitalism will be incapable of organizing production there. Nor would it pay, politically, to try to do so. Peace will bring class war and revolutions in other countries."

Asked if Lenin is the greatest man in the world, he said:

PICORD NAMED REFEREE FOR HEAVYWEIGHT BOUT

TOLEDO, O., (AP)—Ollie Picord, official referee of the Toledo boxing commission, will be the third man in the ring when Jess Williams and Jack Dempsey meet in their heavyweight championship contest here July 4.

Fox Rickard, promoter of the contest and Major A. J. Drexel Biddle, a wealthy sportsman, were selected to serve with Picord as judges of the contest. Jack Skelly, a veteran ring official of Yonkers, N. Y., was chosen alternate referee and W. Warren Barbour of New York official timekeeper.

Appointment of these officials was made by Premier Rickard today upon the receipt of a telegram from Adam Empe, secretary of the army, navy and civilian board of boxing control which undertook the duty of making the selections. Major Biddle is president of the boxing control board.

The announcement that Rickard and Biddle had been named, judges caused a sensation. Picord's selection as referee had been forecast, but the names of Rickard and Biddle had scarcely been associated with the official question.

Major Biddle was noted as an amateur boxer and has been prominently identified with all amateur sports.

Picord will be in complete charge of the bouts while they are in progress. If the contest results in a knockout he will have sole charge of the counting. If the contest goes the 12 round limit, the two judges will attempt to decide the winner, and if they fail to agree Picord will cast the deciding vote.

Writers of Rome Refuse All Tips

Patrons Instead Pay 20 Per Cent "Service" Charge Added to Bill.

ROME, (AP)—Rome writers refuse to accept tips from patrons. Tips are rigorously suppressed and nothing can induce the writers to violate the practice. Their insistence on keeping to the regulations, however, is not motivated by altruistic tendencies, for one of the Rome writers' "14 points" is that 20 per cent must be added to the total of the bill for service.

An American, one of the latest arrivals in Rome, who is attached to the American embassy here, was paying his bill recently when, on leaving a tip of 30 cents for the waiter, he was astonished to find the waiter handling the money back to him. The American immediately concluded that the tip was not considered sufficient and that it was therefore scorned. He was watching into his pocket to reinforce his gratuity when someone speaking English told him of the Roman rule.

Therewith he pocketed the tip and walked out.

Large posters have been placed in the restaurants and tea rooms, bearing the action of the writers. On the whole, the practice seems to have satisfied the patrons, who feel that they have, at last been spared the annoyance of the invariably disgruntled waiter.

BRITISH LABOR WOULD SOFTEN PATH OF HUNS

Conference Calls for Speedy Admission of Germany Into the League and Revision of "Harsh Provisions."

SOUTHPORT, England, (AP)—The British labor party conference adopted a resolution calling for the speedy admission of Germany to the league of nations and the immediate revision by the league of the "harsh provisions of the treaty which are not consistent with the statements made on behalf of the allied governments when the armistice was made."

There was only one dissenting vote. The resolution was introduced by J. Ramsay MacDonald. He said he agreed that if Germany had won the war the peace terms she would have made would have been far more severe. He declared Germany must bear the burden of her actions but that her punishment should not be in the form of revenge.

John R. Clynes, former foot minister, who seconded the resolution, said Germany should be punished through reparations and indemnities because the annexation of territory would leave behind it a sense of wrong.

Another resolution adopted protested against the lack in the peace treaty of any adequate control of raw material and food.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Seventy per cent of the soldiers discharged since the armistice, have positions awaiting them, Col. Arthur Woods, assistant to the secretary of war, who is in charge of obtaining employment for discharged servicemen, announced today.

"Enlisted men are being discharged at the rate of from 90,000 to 70,000 a week," Colonel Woods said, "and only a comparatively small percentage are unable either to return to their old positions or to obtain new positions through the various agencies."

Colonel Woods again emphasized the fact that one of the difficulties is the unusual demand among discharged servicemen for clerical labor, and the reluctance of the average man to perform farm labor.

RURAL VOTES TWO TO ONE FOR LEAGUE LAWS

North Dakota Cities Declare Against Nonpartisan Legislation Which is Likely to Be Sustained by Country Districts.

FARGO, N. D., (AP)—With the vote of the larger cities apparently against the seven laws submitted to the North Dakota voters for a referendum ballot, interest centered today with the returns from the rural districts. The laws passed by the Nonpartisan league majority in the state legislature last winter and referred to the elector yesterday constituted the principal program of the Nonpartisan league.

Four hundred and twenty-seven precincts out of 2856 precincts in the state reported this morning, give 12,049 votes for the Nonpartisan laws and 21,588 votes against the laws. This is largely a city vote, and represents about one-fourth of the total vote cast.

The rural vote is running about two to one for the league laws which, average, if maintained, will give the Nonpartisan laws a majority of fifteen thousand.

Industrial Bill Keynotes.
The industrial commission bill provides for a commission which would control the state-owned industries authorized by bills introduced. The bill also provides for carrying out the general program. COBLENZ, (AP)—Captain Bachhaus, assigned by the German army to duty to Coblenz, was fined 1,000 marks today for refusing to salute a lieutenant. The lieutenant contended the war was over, and that, anyway, the regulations do not call for his saluting officers of lower grade.

RITCHIE IS OUT OF GAME

Former Lightweight Boxing Champion Will Meet No Second Raters.

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Friends of former lightweight boxing champion, Willie Ritchie, are glad that the little fighter has no idea of following in the footsteps of some of his predecessors by fighting second and third raters in his declining days as a boxer. Ritchie was thrifty in the days of his prosperity and is comfortably fixed. He said recently:

"I would not go into the ring again unless I was paid a good round sum for doing so, and no one appreciates better than I do that, no promoter is going to offer me anything like what would be required for the reason that I know I am no longer a drawing card, as a boxer."

RADICAL MOVE WORRIES JAPS

Tokio Police Make Search for "Dangerous Thought" Propagandists.

TOKIO, (AP)—Japanese authorities are disturbed over an effort to start a socialist movement of an extreme nature in this country. Several secret meetings have been held at which the speakers have proclaimed radical doctrines. The police are actively engaged in the search of "dangerous thought" propagandists. Recently postcards propagating radical socialist principles have been sent from Tokyo to party officers and members of army divisions. Domestic searches were carried out in all directions, but very few copies of the postcards were seized. Mr. Homma, chief secretary of the Metropolitan police board, declared that so far there is no indication of Bolshevism or nihilism having been introduced in Japan.

Wife and Kiddies Waiting Return of Alaskan Explorer

Prof. Griggs Leaves Family at Kodiak; Heads Party Entering Crater.

KODIAK, Alaska, (AP)—Here at Kodiak, a village not many miles from Mount Katmai, Alaska's greatest volcano, Mrs. R. F. Griggs, with her three children, and two dogs, will be waiting until a launch comes across the Shelikoff Straits from the mainland with her husband, Professor Griggs of the Ohio State University, who is exploring "Katai" crater, "The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes."

Mrs. Griggs ventured this far with her husband, but no farther. She does not expect to hear anything from the professor until he returns late in the summer. Yesterday he and his party sailed from here on a launch for Katmai Bay, on the mainland, near the volcano. As the Katmai is wild and uninhabited the explorer will be completely out of touch with the outside world unless he sends a messenger back over the straits.

Professor Griggs is heading a national geographic society party in the task of exploring the crater. Several years ago he headed a similar party to the Katmai crater, but the announcement that Katmai's crater was the largest in the world.

Several days ago the advance guard of the expedition landed at Katmai river and made preparations for the arrival of the rest of the party. Another group landed at Nannek and went into the Katmai territory from the west side. A moving picture man went with Dr. Griggs.

Although Katmai at present is far from any traveled routes and is very inaccessible, it is believed that some day it will be known and visited as one of the scenic wonders of the world.

Before Professor Griggs left Kodiak he delivered an illustrated lecture here and told a crowded hall of whites and natives of the wonders that lay just across the straits on the mainland.

After the lecture he returned to the light for the meeting and fish barrels served as seats for some of the spectators.

BOMBY, (AP)—Discharged members of the American Expeditionary Force of Italian extraction have been begging Consul Francis Keene's office here recently, requesting passage back to the United States on the grounds of being Italian State citizens and of having served in the United States Army. The employees of the office attending to the lot of these discharged soldiers immediately demanded to see their discharge papers. After examining it they indicated to the men that they have waived the responsibility of the government in providing transportation when they received their discharges for there is one clause on the back of the paper which clearly explains that procedure. "Oh," reply the men, "but my commanding officer did not explain that to me when I asked for a discharge."

WELCOME

Twin Falls today is more than proud to do honor to her returning soldiers of the One Hundred Forty-sixth field artillery regiment, coming home after two year's absence during which they had a not unimportant part in defeating the unshy ambitions of the Huns, and it is with a spirit of gratitude and thanksgiving that the occasion is made one for welcoming all Twin Falls survivors, some of whom have been privileged to serve as conspicuously as the men returning today and all of whom have been equally ready to respond to the call for such service.

Tomorrow the genuineness of the welcome will be put to the test, and the readiness with which the returned hero finds the welcome he is most concerned about—his job—will prove to him the fullest measure of our appreciation of his service and sacrifice.

And what was the measure of the service rendered by the men returning today?

Hear this quotation from the Long Range Sniper, the weekly newspaper, published by the men themselves "with the army of occupation in Germany: "According to accurate figures furnished by Colonel P. H. Worcester, commanding the Sixty-sixth field artillery brigade, the One Hundred Forty-sixth and the One Hundred Forty-eighth field artillery regiments, making up the brigade, fired 53 per cent of all the G. P. F. ammunition expended on all fronts by all regiments of the A. E. F. From figures available showing the cost of these big shells, over $13,000,000 was hurled from the talking ends of the 48 ft. P. F. guns of the brigade, all of which proves the need of Liberty Loans.

Statistics are not at hand, and would hardly be available, showing the damage these thousands of shells did, but from the daily reports of prisoners, batteries put out of action, and other missions performed as ordered, the world was made a great deal safer for doughboys as well as for Democracy. The three days following July 14, at the Marne during which the Americans in the line wrote one of the most brilliant pages in military annals, were days of all the horrors that a modern war offered. The guns of the brigade fired continuously; fired until they were too hot to fire more; men cooled them and continued firing; fired until the gun crews were exhausted, new crews taking their places and fired again and again.

Every shot fired in this memorable battle," the Sniper says, "was fired with the mathematical skill that characterizes modern artillery directed with mathematical precision and each shot of the 48 big guns carried nearly 100 pounds of high explosive into the German lines, onto their roads, their concentration points, and onto the bridges that they threw up over the Marne. Battery after battery was engaged with German artillery, and invariably the American batteries were rewarded with the information that their targets were put out of action."

HUN HEART UNCHANGED.

In view of Germany's continuing disposition to regard her written agreements as "scraps of paper," and manifold evidences of treachery and bad faith on her part as well under the rule of the present government as under the regime of the kaiser, the story of the escape of the crown prince into the land of his nativity cannot occasion any great degree of surprise among those familiar with the Hun rule of conduct.

The allies will not be caught off their guard by whatever consequences that may result from the recalcitrancy of the former rulers of Germany. It is not to be doubted but that some explanation and excuse for the escape of the crown prince will be forthcoming. The Huns are notable excuse makers. They said that they thought Russia was mobilizing to crush Germany and they straightway crushed Belgium and assailed France.

They said that they thought passenger vessels were carrying contraband and they sent the Lusitania to the bottom with hundreds of innocent women and children on board.

They said that they thought Belgians were making their escape out of occupied territory and the murder of Edith Cavell became a fact.

German conduct in the war and afterward has proven the German nation a bully among nations. The blood boast, arrogant and conscienceless in victory, has run true to type and in defeat is becoming a coward, whining traitorous whelp.

There is hope for Germany but its future depends on an absolute regeneration from top to bottom. Acceptance of old German excuses and explanations cannot form the foundation upon which a new Germany can rise to a place on a level with civilized nations.

TWIN FALLS MAN IS PAID FOR SERVICE RECORD

Ray Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Brown of Twin Falls, a former high school football star, has been cited for distinguished service as a courier at the 146th field artillery regimental post of command, being the first Twin Falls man so far as reported, to win this distinction.

Private Brown has not yet received his release from the military service, being under treatment at the military hospital at Fort Douglas, Utah, for effects of a gas attack. He is spending several days here, however, on leave of absence, and will be among those welcoming home his companions—of the 14th this afternoon.

When advised this morning of the citation he had been awarded, Private Brown said, "I am entitled to it, every man in the outfit is. I did no more than any of the rest."

Displaying remarkable courage, which was dispatched June 14 from headquarters of the 60th field artillery brigade on board the U. S. S. Poorless, "Private Brown displayed conspicuous courage while on duty as courier at the regimental post of command displayed remarkable courage and coolness under fire while delivering messages to the command units of the regiment. On many occasions he volunteered for this service."

Pursuant to the provisions of general orders issued by headquarters of the American expeditionary force, each officer and enlisted man who is cited shall wear on the service ribbon a silver star in place of one of the bronze stars.

Sgt. Kenneth H. Brown the only Twin Falls man in the 146th killed in action, was the younger brother of Pvt. Ray Brown.

INDEPENDENCE DAY FETE TO BE INAUGURATED WITH A BIG DOWNTOWN PAGEANT

Church Organizations and Fraternal Societies Will Participate with Cowboys, Indians and Business Men in Grand Parade to Open Fourth of July Activities—Ancient and Modern Horse Races Are Added to Roundup Program.

THRILLING MOMENT IN CHARIOT RACE

Adding a new feature to the already long list of spectacular events scheduled for the Elks' Roundup during the coming week, the parade committee yesterday completed a plan for a grand patriotic parade to be held on the morning of Independence day. The pageant will formally inaugurate the activities of the day and will be participated in by fraternal orders, churches, Sunday schools, Indians, cowboys, cowgirls and business men of the city. The marchers will be headed by a band, and another band will be located in the marching order.

Announcement to this effect was officially made at Roundup headquarters late yesterday. The parade committee, which will be in charge of the marching order arrangements, is composed of C. T. Macaulay, Allen Fisher, W. E. Friebe and C. D. Thomas.

For the best personal company or float in the pageant prizes amounting in the aggregate to $600, will be awarded. Judges to make these awards will be chosen and announced early next week.

According to plans made up to the present time the parade is to form on Main avenue north, between Third and Fourth streets. Spaces are yet to be allotted to the participating floats. Participants must be in line promptly at 10 o'clock.

Unless the parade committee deems it expedient to make changes between the first and the day of the parade the following will be the lines of march for the pageant:

Line of March.
From east along Main avenue to Rhoads street; turn north following along the left side of Rhoads to Sixth avenue; turn and counter march back to Main avenue following that avenue east to the end of the paved section. Here the parade will disband.

According to plans perfected to date which are subject to any change the committee deems necessary, or sees fit to make, the parade order will be constituted as follows:

With a view to making the chariot, Roman and relay horse races a complete success animals especially adapted to this form of racing are being trained daily at Elks' track and racing. Secretary Merlin O. Batley, of the Roundup committee, announces that some of the best horses obtainable in this section of the country will be entered for these races.

PARENTS BLAMED FOR ILLITERACY OF CHILD

Judge Duvall Orders Anderson Godsey to Industrial Home to Be Educated.

Holding that the parents had wilfully withheld educational opportunities from him, Anderson Godsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Godsey of this city, was yesterday ordered committed to the state industrial school at St. Anthony. The order was made by Judge O. P. Duvall of the juvenile court.

The court's decision was rendered after Anderson Godsey had been examined in relation to alleged complicity in a cutting and shooting affray at a dance hall near Buhl on the morning of June 14, when Noah E. Pruitt was slain about the abdomen, and A. J. Godsey was beaten about the head with a "blunt weapon."

On the stand Anderson Godsey admitted he did not know his exact age, but said it was about 15. He also admitted he could neither read nor write. Later his mother swore that he was 19 years old, but in the course of her testimony modified the statement, saying he was between 16 and 17. She alleged she did not remember the year of the boy's birth, but thought he was born in the month of September. Excusing the boy's illiteracy and the fact that he had not passed the first grade in school, Mrs. Godsey said schooling conditions in Tennessee where she and her family resided before they moved to Idaho some months ago, did not make for higher education. She said it had been almost impossible to maintain even a minor degree of continuous school on account of lack of teachers. Juvenile officers proved that the Godseys had not taken advantage of school opportunities afforded in Tennessee.

The hearing of Anderson Godsey by the juvenile officers followed immediately after a preliminary trial of his father, A. J. Godsey, in the probate court chambers with Judge Duvall presiding. Godsey was up on a charge of assault. He was bound over to the district court for trial, his bond being fixed at $500. Finding, providing this he was restrained to the custody of the county sheriff.

COURT ACTION GROWS OUT OF DEAL FOR LAND

Claiming breach of contract in a transaction involving the transfer of land in the district court against Fred Delamri. Claim is made for $4250 in judgment as damages said to have been sustained by reason of failure to fulfill the contract.

Complainant declares that some time ago she entered into an agreement with the defendant for the purchase from him of 1.2 acres of land valued at $176 an acre. The agreement was according to the complaint, that the plaintiff was to deposit the sum of $2000 as first payment on the original sum, and that the remainder was to be secured by notes and bonds. Claim is made that the plaintiff fulfilled her part of the contract, but that the defendant has failed to deliver a deed of conveyance of the property.

MAIL CARRIER TELLS OF MEETING WANDERER

F. H. Higbee Believes He Saw and Spoke to J. J. Richmond Thursday Morning.

F. H. Higbee, a rural mail carrier, the last person reporting having seen an aged man answering the description of J. J. Richmond, newsdealer missing since last Sunday, in a statement addressed to The News, tells of meeting the man he believes to be Richmond. The latter, Mr. Higbee declared, when presenting the statement to The News, he met the supposed Mr. Richmond on the state highway near the county hospital early Wednesday morning. The statement, written by Mr. Higbee, follows:

"I have not told anyone that I saw J. J. Richmond, but I will tell again what I did tell. It is this: Wednesday morning as I was coming to town on the state highway I met an old man answering closely to the description of J. J. Richmond. I did not know his name, but he is the same man whom I have seen for years selling papers here in town.

"I did not know until I came into town yesterday morning that an old man was missing or I would have undoubtedly told this old man I met and if not convinced I was wrong would have brought him to town.

"I may be mistaken about this man being the missing one, but I do not believe it. No one that I know of has accounted for this man I saw. If he is not J. J. Richmond some of the searchers should have found or heard of some old man who so much resembles the description of the missing man. The man whom I saw has not been found nor accounted for, and I think there is possibility if not a probability of this man and the missing one being the same.

"I am not writing this because I do not like to misquote, for wild stories are always afloat in a case of this kind, but because I believe the man I saw is J. J. Richmond.

"F. H. HIGBEE."

CRUELTY IS CHARGE PREFERRED BY WIFE

Sylvia Marsden, Applying for Divorce, Says Husband Choked and Struck Her.

Accusing her husband, O. W. Marsden, of cruelty in his treatment of her, Sylvia Marsden has appealed to the district court for a restraining order and bonds existing between the pair. She also asks an equitable partition between herself and husband of property rights, amounting in value to approximately $6,000, which the defendant is said to hold in his right. She also asks a restraining order preventing her husband from disposing of the property.

In the filed bill of particulars Mrs. Marsden says they were married in Blaine county, Idaho, on November 3, 1912, and that almost from the time of the ceremony the attitude of the husband toward the wife has been intolerable. Mrs. Marsden states she refused to accompany her to places of amusement and that he insulted her friends when they called upon her at her home. She further alleges that on June 20, this year, at Buhl, he choked and struck her. The defendant is said to be in the dry business at Buhl and that his income is about $200 monthly.

PUBLIC NOW TOLD ALL ABOUT TANLAC

Authorities Now Show Just What This Medicine Really Is.

In a recent issue of this paper an announcement was made that Tanlac now has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world, and that more than twelve million bottles had been sold during the past four years.

These are unusual figures, and the question naturally arises in the mind of the reader why this phenomenal success and why has this preparation so far outstripped all other medicines of its kind. It is only natural therefore that the manufacturers should offer some explanation to satisfy public interest.

In this first place, Tanlac is manufactured in one of the largest and most modernly equipped laboratories in this country. It is made of purely natural and complex with all medicinal and state pure food and drug laws. Altogether there are ten ingredients in Tanlac, each of which is of recognized therapeutic value.

Many of these ingredients have been individually known and used since civilization first began, and some of them have been used and prescribed by leading physicians everywhere, but until they were brought together in proper proportion and association as in the Tanlac formula, humanity had not known.

To referring to one of the more important ingredients of Tanlac, the Encyclopedia Britannica says: "It has long been the source of the most valuable tonic medicines that have ever been discovered." In referring to others of the general tonic drugs contained in Tanlac the 13th Edition of Potter's Therapeutics, a standard medical text book, states that "they improve general tone and strength of the entire system, including all organs and tissues."

This same well known authority in describing the physiological action of still another of the ingredients of Tanlac which is of value in treating what is commonly known as "a run-down condition" uses the following expression: "It is highly esteemed in cases of appetite failing, convalescence from acute disease."

There are certain other elements in Tanlac which because of their influence upon the appetite, digestion, assimilation and absorption, improve the nutrition and vitality of the body, and produce that state of general tonicity which is called health.

It is discussed in the ingredient of the Encyclopedia Britannica says: "It is one of the most efficient of that class of substances which act upon the stomach so as to invigorate digestion and thereby increase the general nutrition. It is used in dyspepsia, chlorosis, anemia and various other diseases in which the tone of the stomach and alimentary canal is deficient." Concerning still another ingredient this same standard authority says: "It causes dilation of the gastric blood vessels, increases secretion of the gastric juice, and causes greater activity in the movement of the muscular layers in the walls of the stomach. It also tends to lessen the sensibility of the stomach, and so may relieve gastric pain."

The United States Dispensary makes the following comment regarding another ingredient: "It may be used in all cases of pure debility of the digestive organs or when a general tonic impression is required. Dyspepsia, stomach hysteria, and intermittent fever are among the many affections in which it has proven useful."

There are certain other ingredients described in the dispensary and in other standard medical text books as having a beneficial action upon the organs of secretion, whose proper functioning results in the purification of the blood streams passing through them. In this manner objectionable and poisonous ingredients of the blood are removed, and the entire system is invigorated and vitalized.

Tanlac was designed primarily for the correction of disorders of the stomach, liver, and bowels. At the same time, however, it is a powerful reconstructive (tissue and body builder) for it naturally follows that any medicine that brings about proper assimilation of the food and the thorough elimination of the waste products must therefore have a far-reaching and most beneficial effect upon the entire system.

Although Tanlac's claims for supremacy are abundantly supported by the world's leading authorities, it is the people themselves who have really made Tanlac what it is. Millions upon millions have used it, and have told other millions what it has done for them. This is why Tanlac has become the real sensation of the drug trade in this country, and that is also why it is the most widely talked of medicine in the world today.

Tanlac is sold in Twin Falls by City Pharmacy, in Rogerson by Thompson Drug Co., in Murtaugh by Murtaugh Drug Co., in Filer by A. B. Wood, in Buhl by C. D. Borling Brothers Co., and in Kimberly by A. L. Stowe.—adv.

CLANGING BELLS WILL ANNOUNCE COMING OF VETS

Noisy Though Informal Greeting Will Be Given Returning Soldiers of the 146th Field Artillery.

Approximately sixty groeters, including the official welcoming committee, headed by Mayor W. H. Eldridge, relatives and personal friends, left at 6:15 this morning by train to meet homecoming members of headquarters company 146th field artillery at Minidoka. A part of the Twin Falls brass band accompanied the groeters on the trip. The soldiers and concomitant enthusiasts are due to arrive in Twin Falls shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon. The train bearing the party left Minidoka at 12:30 noon.

In the coterie of Idaho warriors, just mustered out of service at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, is Lieutenant J. G. Thorpe, bandmaster of the regiment. Lieutenant Thorpe is one of the military officers in charge of the homecoming expedition, which consists of about seventy-five men of the national guard of Idaho. These are principally residents of Twin Falls.

Formality Is Taboo
Upon the arrival of the train bearing the service men, committee and others this afternoon a demonstration will be held at the railroad station, where the band will be augmented by those members who were unable to accompany the party of groeters awaiting the train. A short band concert there will be no formal program of observance at the station and no attempt at a parade to the downtown district. Showboats from the depot to Main avenue has been closed to wheeled traffic of all sorts, and will be used only for the service men and greeting public. Ample preparations have been made for the care of every person in Twin Falls who will attend the homecoming ceremonial, and to safeguard them during the anticipated crush. The street leading from Main avenue has been brilliantly decorated with colorful decorations for the occasion, the national emblem, banners, bunting and the forming the feature part of the gala-time display.

When the train reaches Twin Falls Mayor Eldridge will lead the discharged service men to the street, and the crowd will then take over the business of formally greeting the men who did so great a share in vanquishing the hordes of the Hun and blazing a trail to the peace of the world and the establishment of universal justice and democracy.

A Noisy Welcome
Official arrival of the veterans in Twin Falls will be announced formally in the gay clanging of bells, shrieking of whistles, riotous honking of auto horns and through a score of other noisy vehicles of joyous demonstrations. City business will virtually be suspended from the moment of arrival until the throng disperses at Main avenue.

While today's demonstration will be shorn of every vestige of formality it is the plan to hold a ceremonial during the coming week when the men will be more formally received. This affair will be conducted in the city park on July 3, and will be known as "Service Men's Day." The day's events will be in charge of the mayor's special groeter committee, aided and assisted by the War Mothers' society, as a boys' dinner will be served on benches in the municipal park for the soldiers.

On July 4 the doors to all Chautauqua performers will be open to the free admission of every service man wearing a uniform. This latter announcement was officially made today by Karl Nott, chautauqua director.

TOWNLEY HEARS SELF CALLED A FRIEND OF REDS

JACKSON, Minn., (AP)—James E. Gillespie, a banker from Stillwater, Minn., testifying today at the trial of A. C. Townley and Joseph Gilbert, Nonpartisan league leaders, accused of seditious conspiracy, declared that Townley is a national speaker at Stillwater on February 19 of this year, denounced the red flag and declared that it was the emblem of the oppressed.

Townley was in court when Gillespie testified. The meeting took place the night before a special election to choose a state senator from the Stillwater district.

Russian Jew Calls Leader
"I do not remember a great deal of Townley's speech," testified Mr. Gillespie. "For some time I enjoyed it. Then he took a different turn. He said there was a bill in Minnesota to prohibit the use of the red flag and said he knew only one animal that took exception to the flag and that animal was enclosed in a fence. He said that the Russian administration was being carried on successfully and that that was their flag."

"At this point a Russian Jew, Isadore Lott, a respected resident of Stillwater, interrupted. Lott said he took exception to the red flag statement and declared that the American flag was good enough for him. Townley replied: 'Let them look at this man here. Is he a Russian Jew?'"

The mayor interrupted and said: "Yes, he is, but he is an American citizen. He has two boys in the war."

"Lott then said: 'How many boys have you in the war?'"
"Townley got off the platform and that ended the meeting."

Explain Reference as Joke
Gillespie was cross examined by O. Hoke, chief counsel for the defense. He sought to show that Townley referred to the red flag only in a humorous vein. Gillespie admitted that Townley did make humorous remarks in this connection but insisted that the nonpartisan league president also seemed to be serious in his discussion. Gillespie stated that he had been a close friend of George H. Sullivan, who opposed the nonpartisan league candidate in the special election.

Borah May Be Called.
Attorneys for the defense announced this afternoon that they had decided to subpoena W. B. Boliver, formerly of St. Paul, chairman of the federal trade commission, to testify regarding the war profits of several corporations and that they are considering calling Senator Borah of Idaho, former Representative Jonnetto Rankin of Montana, Senator McLaurin of North Dakota and George Creel, who heard Townley's address at St. Paul in 1917.
