SAYS PACT IS AIM TO SCRAP CONSTITUTION

Senator Fall Leads Attack on League of Nations Calling Forth Defense from Rhode Island Democrat.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The league of nations was attacked in the senate Monday by Senator Fall, republican, New Mexico, as a proposal to scrap the American constitution, and was defended by Senator Gerry, democrat, of Rhode Island, as a necessity to protect American rights.

Mr. Fall, a member of the foreign relations committee, described the treaty with Germany as "not a treaty of peace, but a treaty of alliance," and asserted he could not vote to ratify it without violating his oath of office.

Treaty in Europe's Appeal. Mr. Gerry who recently returned from a tour of European countries, said the treaty represented the appeal of the millions of Europe for American cooperation in bringing a new day of peace.

By ratifying the treaty and league of nations covenant, said Senator Fall, "we make a scrap of paper of the declaration of independence and brand its signers as traitors."

Give U. S. War Aims. "We went to war with Germany because of specific acts of war of Germany against us; we indulged with President Wilson in the hope that peace might bring conditions which would make for the betterment of mankind and render war less likely to occur."

"I will to attain these objects, go as far as my sense of my obligations to the people of the United States and to their aid my government, and will vote to bind this country to abide the decisions upon international questions, not affecting our national honor or the Monroe doctrine or municipal government, as a naturalization. I would agree to an additional limitation of sovereignty in enforcing such decree by blockade or other means, to be decided by but I could not vote to allow even that court to declare war for us, nor to exercise the powers which its decisions by our agreement should be executed."

"The president holds no commission from the people entitling him to form or join in creating any other government. Attempt to ratify such act by the senate would, in my judgment, be a violation of the senatorial oath duty."

Borah Resents Tactics. Reading a letter which he said had been sent to agents of the league urging the senate to ratify the treaty, Senator Borah said:

"Yet these people are determined that they shall be no popular vote upon this proposition while they organize for the purpose of having certain influential gentlemen come here to confer with senators and create a false impression."

Question of Authenticity. Senator Hitchcock, democrat, Nebraska, interrupted to say that the average subscription received by the league to enforce peace had been $33 and that it was composed of 6576 members. He read a statement which he said the league had prepared in anticipation of an attack against it in the senate. This statement said the largest subscription was $25,000 and the next $5000 while only 133 subscriptions were for $1000 or more.

Senator Borah, in reply, said if the statement read by Senator Hitchcock set forth that only two subscriptions were for $55,000 or more, the error evidently was made intentionally by the league as the bulletin by the league as the bulletin prepared by it and read by him undoubtedly was correct.

ULLMANN AGAIN LETTISH RULER

Resume Control from Usuper Backed by German Support.

PARIS, (AP)—After sitting in refuge in an old boat in Libau harbor since April 16, Premier Ullmann, formerly an American University professor, landed triumphantly with his cabinet at Libau on June 27, and resumed control of the Lettish government from which he had been displaced by a man named Neodra, who usurped the premiership with German support and who is now under guard in a Libau hotel. The description of Ullmann's return to power is given in a dispatch received by Herbert Hoover, head of the inter-allied relief organization.

British and French officers joined in the celebration in honor of Premier Ullmann's return. As the dilapidated craft approached the city, bands played on the decks and the crowd along the path with flowers as the old officials made their way to a gaily decorated stand from which Premier Ullmann delivered an address. He thanked the allies for the support given Lettia and said that the United States through the American relief administration had saved thousands of Lettia from starving.

OFFICERS BRAND MUTINY REPORTS AS PURE 'BUNK'

Misunderstanding Between Sergeant and One Private Sole Basis for Stories of Insurrection in Archangel.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Reports of a mutiny on the Archangel front last March among members of the 330th infantry were vehemently denied today by Major J. Brooks Nichols of Detroit, and Capt. H. G. Winslow of Madison, Wis., commanding Company I, the unit said to have been involved. Both officers returned on the transport Von Steuben which brought back the first complete units to return from service in the Archangel sector.

Second to None as Soldiers.
"I have heard more 'bunk' about this mutiny than could be written in a dozen books," declared Major Nichols. "The incident which gave rise to the rumors was a misunderstanding between a sergeant and one private. The men of the 330th are the best disciplined and most courageous of any outfit I know, and all my officers could desire. They are second to none as soldiers."

COBLENZ, (AP)—Robert Minor, the American newspaper correspondent and customist, was today given a copy of the charges under which he has been detained here by American army authorities. The charges were not made public.

Minor's father telegraphed his son from San Antonio, Texas, not to spare expense in arranging for his defense.

Recommended and Approved by Cooking Authorities

COOKING authorities unanimously endorse the HUGHES ELECTRIC RANGE. The chef in the kitchen of the large hotel or restaurant smiles his approval of the range that is operated cleanly and scientifically, giving the same results today as yesterday—and this under all manner of conditions—as compared to the coal or gas range with its noxious fumes and soot, its laborious fire building and ash removing, its wasteful heating and inefficiency.

The housewife is elated with its countless merits. No more dirty, grimy kitchen, no more gas fumes and intense (misdirected) heat. The oven thermometer at all times assures her of the progress of her baking and roasting. And to think, heat at the turn of a switch!—good clean heat—applied precisely to the place where needed! Then, too, the immense saving in fuel, food, time and labor are momentous subjects of merit at all times.

The domestic science expert also does her bit toward the cause of better cooking by educating the young novice in her charge to cook the Twentieth Century way, doing away with useless waste. Call on us and we will be more than glad to demonstrate, without obligation to you, the superiority of the HUGHES ELECTRIC RANGE over the coal or gas range in use in your home.

THE WORLD'S PROBLEM

It is improbable that a more able argument for the league of nations could be evolved than was presented last evening at Chautauqua here by Ida M. Tarbell...

Certainly no more comprehensive report on the aims and purposes of the proposed league of nations and the circumstances under which its constitution was drafted has been made available in Twin Falls through any channel whatsoever.

It is unquestionably the duty of every American citizen, as Miss Tarbell declared, to carefully investigate and study the league of nations question, and no better point at which to begin such a study has yet been afforded than in Miss Tarbell's lecture and arguments in favor of acceptance of the proposed national rearrangement.

But no citizen is justified in concluding his study of the issue at the point where Miss Tarbell left it.

It is the absolute fact that except for the statements of propagandists, either for or against the proposed league of nations, we know nothing positively concerning the actual provisions of its articles of incorporation or the probable effect of their adoption.

To either accept or reject the proposition on the basis alone of these statements can be interpreted only as an admission of inability or indisposition for independent thinking.

Necessity for further study of the question is perhaps best shown in Miss Tarbell's statements that the draft of the league pact has been brought into being in rather less than five months' time; that during this period of incubation the authors were constantly interrupted by requirement for adapting its provisions to actual and unforeseen conditions as they arose between nations of widely different ideas, standards and traditions; that after the pact had been submitted manifold alterations and amendments to the draft were deemed advisable, and that even now the overall result is no better than the composition of an organization not without its "blacklegs."

No argument can be pressed against any attempt to establish world peace and make war less likely insofar as the provisions of such attempt actually do make the desired result probable, but there can be no valid objection to effort through constructive criticism to strengthen those provisions which are deemed most likely to produce this result, and to avoid other steps that might defeat the purpose sought internally.

"Black sheep" in whatever company will bear watching, and it is not improbable that popular investigation and study of authentic propositions of the proposed world league may bring about an elimination or at least a cutting of whatever "blacklegs" are to be detected in its provisions.

The problem is not one to be solved by an exclusive circle, nor are the results of anybody's study of it to be despised. It is notable in this connection that the most material contribution to the present pact, according to Miss Tarbell, were made by a South African, General Jan Christian Smuts, one of the delegates representing the Union of South Africa.

TEACHER UNION TABOOS STRIKE

President Explains Pedagogues Are Servants of the State.

SAN DIEGO, CAL., (AP)—The teachers' organization, recently formed by the public school teachers of San Diego may eventually affiliate with the American Federation of Labor, but it can never call a strike, or make demands as do other unions of the federation...

Miss Bealey recently attracted attention when she appeared before a meeting of San Diego girl telephone operators and urged them to organize, and cited the organization of the school teachers as an instance of the need of organization.

"The words 'strike' and 'demand' are not allowed in any teachers' association affiliated with the American Federation of Labor," Miss Bealey explained. "Because the members are the teachers of the children of the country. They are servants of the state, and can neither make demands, nor call strikes."

Neither have teachers anything to do with the minimum and maximum wage, Miss Bealey stated as this is handled by the United States bureau of education. Likewise, she said, there could be no closed shop for the union of teachers, because the teachers' organization is one peculiar in the Federation of Labor, in that the teachers are the instructors of the young nation.

The membership of the lay teachers of this city in the new organization is 1,000 per cent, and the formation of the local association is merely a part of a nation wide movement, according to Miss Bealey.

PORTO RICA TO RETURN MONEY

Will Reimburse Government for Most of Sum Spent on Harbor.

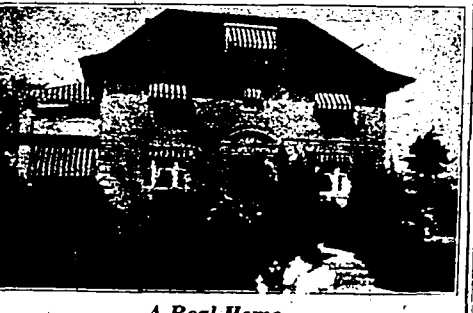

SAN JUAN, P. R., (AP)—Governor Yager has approved the joint resolution passed by the legislature providing that the insular government will reimburse the federal government to the extent of 70 per cent of money expended in the harbor improvement provided that this sum does not exceed $1,200,000 and provision is made that the refunding is not to commence until after the work has been completed.

This act was made necessary owing to the fact that the expenses of dredging the harbor and reclaiming the low lands along the shore will probably cost double the amount estimated four years ago.

When in Washington, two months ago, Governor Yager was assured that the federal government would undertake the dredging work as soon as possible after the insular government provided for meeting the increased expenses of the work.

SERVICE MEN'S DAY AND MOTHER'S DINNER

Twin Falls Will Be Thrown Open to Men of War Branches July 3rd.

(BY CAPT. LONGLEY)

All the "home folks" have all the time regretted that the drifting in of returning service men, one at a time, has prevented any demonstration of the warmth of feeling toward them and joy at their safe return which has possessed their hearts. The very first opportunity for anything of that kind came last Friday and was improved as well as possible. But here were only some seventy men out of several hundred; and when it was announced by the management of the Elks Roundup that Thursday, July 3, would be "Soldiers' Day," and that all doors and gates, including those of the local picture shows and dancing pavilions, would be opened freely to all wearers of the uniform of the War Mothers' association proposed to add a dinner of real home eats, including chicken fixens and cake with sugar on it.

This dinner will be served in the basement of the M. E. church at 12 o'clock noon, and provision made for at least five hundred. The honor guests are asked to assemble in the west end of the city park opposite the M. E. church to which they may adjourn not to be precluded at, nor even talked to, but to be entertained by a large choir of young ladies and by some of our best soloists.

The War Mothers who are giving this dinner will be much pleased if their soldier-guests should wear their uniforms; but every service man will be heartily welcomed, uniform or no uniform.

Most any one will realize what a pleasure it is to doff a distinctive dress, or uniform, worn constantly and under compulsion for months and years. It is not that the boys are ashamed of it, by any means, but just a concrete recognition of the new one-you-please order of things consequent upon discharge from the service. However, there is evidently an undercurrent of feeling among them that perhaps they should respond to this friendly demonstration from their own people by wearing for this one day at least enough uniform to serve for identification.

HOGS PRICES SOAR TO HIGHEST KNOWN PRICE

Export Demand for Packing House Products Boosts Record Mark.

CHICAGO, (AP)—Hogs today commanded the highest price ever known, $27.5 a hundredweight. The previous topmost July record was last year, $19.40. Today's strength in the hog market was ascribed chiefly to export demand for packing house products.

Before the United States entered the great war, $10.25 was the net price for hogs in July.

WILLIAM STORK DRIVEN AWAY

Villagers of Armerongen Draw Peculiar Conclusion from a Strange Incident.

AMERONGEN.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The people of Amerongen, old fashioned in their ideas, have been given recently what they regard as a token of the future of Germany.

Two storks every year make their nest on a tower of Amerongen Castle, where the former German emperor is staying. This year the female stork returned alone and built her nest. Soon came three male storks but all were beaten off with violent peckings. Two days later a lone male stork arrived and his too was accorded a hostile reception. However, he hovered about perseveringly and fought off a fourth. The combat was watched with intense interest both by the occupants of the castle, among them the two Hohenzollerns. Next day the male stork shared the nest with the female on the nest, from which the eggs had been ejected. The two birds appeared quite happy.

Peasant Draw Conclusion

Superstitious villagers compare the non-appearance of the male stork after the winter absence with the disappearance of the erstwhile emperor from Germany after the war. The first woovers of the widowed female stork are likened to the various parties which tried to fill the place of the former imperial ruler and were rejected. The persevering male stork is taken as the emblem of the German people determined to become their own rulers. The last fight of the male storks is said to represent the struggle of the German nation to shake off Bismarck. The rejection of the eggs from the nest is assumed to mean the casting out of all that belonged to the old imperial system of rule while the happy outcome of contented family life in the nest is likened on as the portents of the happy future of Germany.

ROUNDUP CAMP NEARS FINISH

Arrangements About Completed for Reception of Visitors; Accommodations Needed

"There isn't much left to be done to guarantee unqualified success of the Elks' Roundup and what there is at present undone, will be completed today and tomorrow, then for the big hurrah."

So spoke Merlin G. Batley, Roundup secretary, today while discussing the coming festival. He told of completion of track and field plans, of the near finishing of the stands, and of the work progressing on roofing the new section of the stands with an immense canvass. "It's going to be great," he concluded.

Devoted Service

To Secretary Batley, C. R. Adams, and in fact, the entire staff of executives employed by the Elks as a committee, or series of committees, is due unstinted praise for the unflinching effort they have advanced in preparing for the coming festival period. These men have devotedly and cheerfully donated their time and services to the enterprise which promises so much entertainment for thousands of thousands as well as visitors from neighboring states. To these men must be given all praise and acclaim for the success of the holiday scheme, which is the most pretentious ever held within the borders of this state, according to the best of authorities.

The Workers

Following are the committees employed on the Roundup:

Executive Committee: C. J. Hahn, C. D. Thomas, L. T. Wright, J. E. Davies, H. R. Grant.

Secretary: Merlin G. Batley.
 Treasurer: C. J. Hahn.
 Finance: L. T. Wright, H. R. Grant, C. R. Adams, C. C. Graybeal, A. L. McE.

Concessions: C. D. Thomas, Herman Dolan, Frank Mattison.
 Accommodations: V. H. Ormsby, C. S. Martin, Stuart Taylor.

Parade: C. T. Macaulay, Allen Fieber, W. H. Friebe, C. D. Thomas.
 Music: T. J. Woods, Asher B. Wilson, C. A. Robinson.

Appeal to People

While the preparation committees are nearing the end of their troubles the accommodations committee is just finding its greatest grief. Early indications are that there will be such an extraordinary demand for lodging and food that the furthest limit of the city to provide these will be taxed to the utmost.

The accommodations committee has therefore issued an urgent appeal for the assignment with it of all available housing space in Twin Falls, to be used for the comfort of visitors. In the appeal the committee tells of the great need for temporary lodgings in private homes. These quarters must be registered with the committee immediately. The board will send the person assigned to the lodging with a card of instruction. This card will be sort of guarantee for the lodger, but it is requested that all rent be collected in advance.

Persons who attend the Roundup in their own vehicles are urged to arrange to return to their homes at night, this assisting materially in relieving the congestion in town. The committee also requests that residents permit the liberal use of their laws and hydrants for visitors.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I will discontinue practice for the present in Twin Falls county, August 1, 1919. So those who have treatments paid for will please come in during July and take them.

Very respectfully,
 Dr. WYLY.

That extraordinary measures will be observed to maintain the strictest discipline in Twin Falls during the celebration, and in all time to come was the sentiment voiced at the meeting of the city council last night. Instant arrest has been ordered by the council of any and all violators of the terms of city ordinances.

SPEAKS IN FAVOR OF GREAT LEAGUE

Miss Tarbell Expresses Sentiments for World Combination for Lasting Peace.

Speaking on and for the league of nations Miss Jda Tarbell, publicist and journalist, at the Chautauque last night stressed the need of lasting world peace. She praised the league treaty as one of the biggest and most profound documents the world has ever devised, and stood firm in a plea for national ratification. She declared she could not conceive of the treaty's not being adopted as the world plan for peace.

Prior to the appearance of Miss Tarbell a musical was given by Mary Adol Hays, soprano, assisted by the local artists, a company of instrumental players, who appeared during the afternoon. The concert was simple, enjoyable and well received. Miss Hays sang a well and her assistants provided just as they are billed, "artists."

This so music day at the Chautauque, with Ginter's Czech Slovak band and Mme. Cafarelli occupying the stage afternoon and night. The musicians are well recommended to Chautauque audiences, and have been recipients of unstinted praise where they have previously appeared on the Chautauque circuit.

Tomorrow there will be the usual Junior Chautauque in the morning, music by the Requira and a lecture by W. L. Mellinger in the afternoon, and the Regniers with Private Pent in the evening. Private Pent should be a prime attraction, as he carries a message direct from the war zones of Europe. His subject is: "United States, Canada, and the Next War."

"AN EYE FOR AN EYE"

The picture has been taken from the play "L'Occident," written by the noted Belgian dramatist, Henri Kistemaecker, and adapted for the screen by Jean Mathis and Albert Capellani.

The story is a thrilling one of Oriental love and hate—depicting the two strongest motives in these fiery and passionate people of the East—where a human life means nothing in comparison with a traditional inheritance.

Hassounah, the beautiful Arabian girl, born and bred in the desert falls in love with a French naval officer whom she helps to escape from her tribe who intend to kill him. This brings the wrath of her people directly on the head of the girl and she is left to die in the blazing desert. The story is one of passionate hate and passionate love, and is more entrancing than any tale ever told. Be sure and see this wonderful actress in this tremendous production.

OFFICIAL CONDEMNNS JAY-WALKING HABIT

E. V. Berg Warns People to Use Caution as They Use Streets During Fete Period.

Stop! Look! Listen! Likewise watch your step!

It is A. W. Murray, a city official speaking. He warns in dulcet tones a certain appeal to those persons who are gathering in Twin Falls for the events that are to come.

Have a care! Be urbane. Look before you move, and don't move until you are sure you want to go to a definite place and have that place definitely fixed definitely in mind.

Go easy! Don't hurry! Be helpful and watch.

"I have a hunch that if the people do not use the sidewalks and adhere strictly to the minutest rules of caution and 'safety first,' we may have to record some accidents before the week is over," Mr. Murray warningly declares.

It is not that the street commission is ultra-pessimistic or that he is moved by fear that the people will not use their best judgment in moving with the expected throngs during the carnival overflow. He merely issues the warnings as warnings, and asks the people to ever be mindful of their own good.

Mr. Murray particularly warns against "jay-walking." This pedestrian fashion, one most prevalent in smaller places, being always dangerous, he points out.

It is dangerous because a man or woman, or child, will cut across a street at an unexpected place—a place not anticipated by a driver.

"Jay-walkers" pass over a crossing diagonally, thus endangering his personal safety most turns "on the square."

A "jay-walker" crosses the street anywhere and any time that his spirit moves, whether it is in the middle of a block or a third of the way.

A "jay-walker" uses the roadway instead of the sidewalk in his peregrinations, thus endangering his own personal safety and causing others who see him mental anguish and worry.

A "jay-walker" exposes himself to injury by moving vehicles and is a particular cause and anxiety to the traffic officials and other authorities.

In fine a "jay-walker" is a nuisance and should not be tolerated in any community.

Don't be one!

BOOTLEGGING ON BORDER THRIVES

Sonora, Mexico, Prohibition Laws Are Dead Letter; Situation Troublesome.

EL PASO, Tex., (P)—Bootlegging has assumed widespread proportions in Agua Prieta, Sonora, Mexico, across the border from Douglas, Arizona, according to Americans who have investigated liquor conditions in the border state. Open saloons are prohibited by Sonora state laws, but little or no effort has been made by the authorities to curtail illicit liquor traffic, they say.

Cognizance of the situation has been taken by the authorities, however, to the extent that a bill has been introduced in the state chamber of deputies permitting the establishment of open saloons for the sale of light wines and beer under strict state supervision. The bill purports limiting the number of saloons in accordance with population and the payment of high state and municipal licenses.

Expect Saloons to Return Well informed Mexicans believe that saloons will return under the proposed law as they expect that while General P. Elias Gillet, military governor of Sonora, is an advocate of prohibition he would never prefer the legalizing of the liquor traffic with the consequent revenue to combating the increasing number of bootleggers.

The liquor situation in Agua Prieta is a troublesome one to the better ends of Sonora Mexicans and residents of Douglas and other border towns. It is pointed out that Agua Prieta offers easy access to any one in Douglas who desires to obtain liquor. At the present time certain Mexicans with a great show of friendly spirit Americans across the line to visit the bootleggers.

Rich Americans Objectives The Mexican policemen watch all visitors closely, and it is reported, make a practice of arresting Americans when their conduct becomes boisterous and robbing them of their money and other valuables. Should the American protest there is always the alternative of a real arrest and a prison sentence or a heavy fine. Some observers here say the reopening of the saloons will do much toward making a bad situation worse.

Loss of Appetite. As a general rule, there is nothing serious about a loss of appetite, and if you have a meal or only eat two meals a day for a few days you will soon have a relish for your meals when meal time comes. Bear in mind that at least five hours should always elapse between meals so as to give the food ample time to digest and the stomach a period of rest before a second meal is taken. Then if you eat no more than you crave and take a reasonable amount of outdoor exercise every day you will not need to worry about your appetite. When the loss of appetite is caused by constipation as is often the case, that should be corrected at once. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will do it, adv.

SCIENCE PLAYS PART IN FIGHT ARENA BUILDING

Elaborate Precautions Taken For Safety of Spectators at Heavyweight Championship Bout.

TOLEDO, O., (AP)—Thrusting its raw yellow skeleton skyward, the huge bowl-shaped arena, costing $150,000 and originally planned to seat 50,000 persons, is rapidly completing construction for the heavyweight championship contest between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey here July 4.

The arena is located in Bay View Park, municipally owned plot of about sixty acres in extent and roughly north four miles from the heart of the city. Before being turned over to Tex Rickard, promoter of the championship contest, the park had been used as a recreation center and the arena rests on the site of two baseball diamonds.

Compared with Reno Arena. Some idea of the immensity of the arena may be obtained from the fact that it is four times as large as the arena in which Jack Johnson battered Jim Jeffries to defeat in Reno, Nev., and capable of seating four times as many persons. Approximately 1,750,000 feet of lumber has been used in the structure. Not a bolt has been used in the entire building being held together by nails of which two carloads or 60,000 pounds have been used.

Precautions for safety have been taken. The construction of the arena was made of the ground to find out whether it could carry the great human weight which would rest upon it. The carrying capacity of the lumber and the tensile strength of the nails were determined and a margin allowed for safety.

Although the structure was originally planned for 50,000 persons, a load of 80,000 persons is being planned on the basis of the estimate, and, instead of allowing 175 pounds per person, as is done in ordinary construction for "live loads" an average of 200 pounds was taken. The arena will be a load of 8,000 tons, but to allow even a further amount of safety margin, construction was based upon a load of 10,000 tons.

Nor is the actual safety of the spectators the only thing which has been made to make it certain every ticket holder will get the seat to which his ticket entitles him. To take care of the big crowd, approximately 1,000 entrances, on each at the north, south, east and west side of the arena. At each of these will be four runways, one each for the $10, $15 and $25 seats, while the fourth will take care of the $30, $40, $50 and $60 holders. In order to obtain entrance it will be necessary to pass muster of three separate ticket inspectors to guard against anyone not holding a ticket slipping by.

Several hundred discharged soldiers, all having seen service in France, will act as ushers and guards at the arena. They will have complete blank cards have been engaged by Promoter Rickard in handling the ticket sales at the arena and at the downtown headquarters on the day of the contest.

Thirteen St. Louis Brewers Continue.

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Thirteen local breweries today continued the manufacture of beer containing 2.34 per cent alcohol, and the majority of saloons opened as usual, but sold only soft drinks. The two largest breweries here will not resume manufacture of beer unless it is decided they may legally do so, it was said.

SALMON TRACT CASE IN COURT

Attorney for Settlers Argues U. S. Commissioner's Report Is Final.

(Special to The News) BOISE.—The report of Clay Tallman, commissioner of the United States general land office, the Whiffen recommendations as to acreage and the notices of the canal company as to water supply this year all figured extensively in the proceedings in federal court here Monday and today in the continuance of the Tallman case in the matter of the adjudication of the rights of the settlers on the Salmon tract.

Robert Ball, A. E. Calloway, Ray Deane and a number of other settlers in attendance. The settlers are represented by J. R. Bothwell of Twin Falls, W. E. Sullivan of Boise and T. K. Hackman of Twin Falls as intervenors. For Ball, the company by Richards and Haugen of Boise.

Discussion Water Supply Monday was taken up with the evidence of settlers as to water conditions and the duty of water on the Salmon land, Rail, Elmer Ingraham and O. Z. Paulson being put on the stand by Hackman to bring out in detail the facts of the water supply. The water supply was insufficient for more than 25,000 acres. Judge Bothwell took the position that the Tallman report and the Whiffen recommendations were final as to the apportioning of acreage and that it would be necessary to affect some arrangement for the purchase of water rights on land outside the selection area, the company and receivership, to effect on all contracts within the final area to be watered.

The hearing will likely come to an end tonight.

CHICAGO WAGES TROUBLE CLEARS

Striking Municipal Clerks Return to Work with Increases in Pay.

CHICAGO, (AP)—Troubles of the city with its employees over wages seemed somewhat nearer solution today as the result of the council's action at midnight in raising the wages of all classes of city workers. In no instance were the various forces given what they demanded, but they went to work on the union scale of wages at all organized skilled and unskilled labor was received with approval.

The 400 clerks who went on strike yesterday, returned to their desks today, having been granted an increase in wages to 1,500 a year. The firemen and policemen received an increase from $1,500 a year to $1,800, their demand being $2,000. Street cleaners and garbage collectors were given a raise of 50 cents a day, their demand being for $1.

Speakers for the firemen and the policemen said meetings would be held today and tomorrow to decide on acceptance of the council increase.

Disillusioned.

A novelist who had learned that a certain book seller was a great admirer of his works resolved to enquire of the tradesman and introduce himself. Having done so, he noticed that the manager scrutinized him rather critically, but freely entered into conversation. When the novelist was about to depart he said: "Now you have met me, I suppose you will want to sell my books more than ever?" "Perhaps a trifle," was the answer. "But, all the same, I wish I had not seen you."

Worry is Twin of Fear.

Worry is a homeopathic or attenuated dose of fear, and fear as all know, is a powerful depressant of the circulation and nervous system. It is fear that paralyzes the mind, that is "choked" by a snake; it is fear that "strikes at the heart" of a child frightened by some real or fancied apparition or threat, predisposing to shock or collapse. It is harmful emotion. There is no doubt that a susceptible individual might be actually "bright-eyed to death."

Famous Balkan Tribe.

The Miridites are perhaps the most interesting tribe in the Balkans. They have remained Christians in spite of all the efforts of the Moslems. They claim their language is the purest of the peninsula and introduce many words of whose vocabulary is said to resemble classical Greek and Latin, and to be allied with them rather than derived from them. They have always been famed as the finest fighting men in Albania, a country in which many of their warriors were found, and there is no race in the world more independent.

Worth Keeping in Mind. By all means adopt the two old-time slogans: "Have a time for everything and a place for everything." It hurts where they can be seen without eyes, and these twin suggestions will do a world of good and will be remembered long after any posters, which litter every place, have been torn down and consigned to the scrap heap.

N. P. LEAGUE WAR PROGRAM CITED

Prosecution to Introduce Two More Important Witnesses in Townley Trial.

JACKSON, Minn., (AP)—Shortly before a recess was taken until 9 a. m. tomorrow in the trial of A. C. Townley and Joseph Gilbert, on charges of conspiracy to commit disloyalty, Prosecution Attorney E. H. Nicholas announced that the state expected to complete its direct testimony tomorrow forenoon. Nicholas said the state will close its case with the testimony of two important witnesses.

War Program Admitted

The war program of the non-partisan league drawn up nearly two years ago in St. Paul, was introduced as evidence today at the trial.

The Minnesota supreme court, some time ago, decided that the words used in the pamphlet, which had been distributed by the non-partisan league were not in themselves disloyal. The prosecution in the present case argued that they would attempt to show that this pamphlet was one method used by the league to discourage aggressive participation in the war. Judge E. C. Dean ruled, after attorneys for the defense objected to the introduction of the pamphlet that the document had been referred to at the trial and that it might be admitted as a state exhibit.

After the pamphlet was introduced in evidence the state called J. A. Bayless, a Lakefield farmer, who testified regarding the speech Gilbert made at Lakefield in January, 1918. His testimony was about the same as that of a half dozen state witnesses who previously testified regarding the same meeting.

It was expected that a recess would be taken at noon until 4 p. m. so that some of the court officials may attend the funeral this afternoon of T. J. Knox, a local member of the bar.

CROPS OVER WIDE RANGE MENAGED

Water Shortage Jeopardizes Harvests Far Afield; Supply Is Minimized.

Crops on approximately 202,000 acres supplied by the Twin Falls Canal company, are jeopardized by shortage of water, according to W. O. Taylor, secretary of the company. Mr. Taylor has issued orders that the company will be bereft of a supply of impounded water after tomorrow, and the company will have to depend upon natural flow.

"We have never encountered a condition similar to this since the company has been providing water for irrigation purposes," Mr. Taylor declared today, adding that as far as records show there never has been an impoundable shortage of water as exists in this section today. He states that practically all of the water impounded in Jackson Lake has been consumed, with little prospect of replenishing the stock.

"We shall be able to furnish about 30 per cent of normal supply for some time," Mr. Taylor announced, but he is sufficient to protect growing crops, unless there is sufficient moisture now under the surface of the land to depend on. He expressed the belief that wheat and two crops of alfalfa are safe, but a third crop of hay is out of the question, while late wheat will probably not mature this year, but he has hopes for any crop, such as beans, beets and potatoes, too, are likely to suffer from the drought. Daily reports indicate the prospect of rain in the country contiguous to the upper reaches of the Snake river, and none at all in the lower end.

Grains and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—New advances took place in the corn market today owing largely to the fact that new liquidation in July contracts on the part of unlicensed dealers was at an end. The fact that hog values this morning had reached a new top record, tended also to lift the corn market. Besides assertions were current that the 1919 yield of corn in the United States would total but little if any more than domestic consumption in 1918, from growers ranging from 14 to 1 3/4c higher, with September 1.77 1/8 to 1.77 1/2 and December 1.55 to 1.55 1/4 were followed by moderate additional gains.

Butcher receipts received some impetus from belief on part of many dealers that beer manufacture would not be stopped, and that therefore barley continuing in demand from brewers would not tend to displace corn as a feed stuff. The close was unsettled 1 to 2 3/8 net higher.

Oats were firmer with corn. After closing at 14 1/2c, including September at 68 to 68 3/8c, the market continued to advance.

Provisions reflected the strength of hogs and grain, but, however, lack of volume. Subsequently commission houses became fair buyers and there were sharp resulting upturns.
