AIRSHIP PUSHERS ON IN ATLANTIC CROSSING TRIP

Giant Dirigible Is Reported This Morning in Mid-ocean Approximately Half Way to Newfoundland.

COMPLETION OF FLIGHT ON FRIDAY IS EXPECTED

Continues Progress Over Fog in Due West Course; Traverses Four Longitudinal Degrees in Four Hours.

LONDON, (AP)—The British air ministry announced today that it is expected the dirigible R-34, in mid-ocean on her Atlantic flight, to reach St. Johns, N. F., on Friday morning, and Hazelhurst field, Long Island early on Saturday morning.

LONDON, (AP)—The air ministry received a report from the British dirigible R-34 at 11 o'clock this morning, Greenwich time, giving the position of the craft as 32 degrees 30 minutes north and 53 degrees west. This is approximately half way to Newfoundland.

Warship Reports Conditions. The British warship Renown stationed in mid-Atlantic reported at 6:15 o'clock this morning that the barometer was steady, the wind was blowing about four miles an hour from the north west, the sky was clear and visibility good.

The report from the giant airship R-34 to the air ministry at 11 o'clock Greenwich time (8 o'clock New York time) showed that she was continuing her progress in an almost due westerly course. At 9 o'clock Greenwich time her position was 32 degrees 50 minutes north latitude and 52 degrees 30 minutes west longitude. The report said the airship was cruising above fog.

Cross Longitudinal Lines. The giant airship continued her progress today at 10 o'clock Greenwich time (8 o'clock New York time) reported her position as 32 degrees 50 minutes north latitude 34 degrees west longitude. This position is about 100 miles west of four degrees since her report at 8:11 o'clock Greenwich time.

St. Johns Station Hears Signals.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., (AP)—The wireless station here reports having heard signals last night from the dirigible which it was well and that the dirigible was continuing her westward journey. The position of the ship was not reported.

ORDERS OUT IN U. S. MILITARY

War Department Directs Reduction of Army to 233,308 Men.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Orders for the demobilization of the army by September 30 to the peace time strength of 233,308 officers and men issued today by the war department.

By that date all officers of the regular army must be returned to their permanent grades and officers holding commissions only for the emergency, including applicants for permanent appointments must be discharged.

Announcement that the army would be reduced to less than 240,000 officers and men by September 30 was accepted here today and L. Robb, her of a box containing money and Liberty bonds, said to have amounted to several thousand dollars. The robbery occurred on the corridor outside the bond company office.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., (AP)—Robbers bound and gagged Miss Lillian Berkeley, secretary of the Valley Bond company here today and robbed her of a box containing money and Liberty bonds, said to have amounted to several thousand dollars. The robbery occurred on the corridor outside the bond company office.

GERMAN MOBILIZATION ON RHINE FRONT SIGNAL FOR U. S. INTERVENTION

Americans and British Bound by Paris Agreement to Come Immediately to Aid of France in Event of Unprovoked Aggression Against Her by Teutons.

PARIS, (AP)—The texts of the agreements between France and the United States and France and Great Britain were given out by the foreign office late Wednesday night. The agreement with the United States cites articles of the peace treaty prohibiting Germany from fortifying either the right or left bank of the Rhine or assembling forces within thirty miles east of the Rhine and provides, in case these provisions do not assure France proper security and protection, United States is bound to come immediately to the aid of France if any unprovoked act of aggression is made against her by Germany.

League Must Approve. It is provided that the treaty shall be submitted to the council of the league of nations which shall decide whether to recognize it as an engagement in conformity with the league covenant and also provide that the treaty shall be submitted to the United States senate and the French parliament for approval.

World Peace Motive. The text of the treaty follows: "Considering that the United States of America and the government of the French republic are equally animated by a desire to maintain the peace of the world, so happily restored by the treaty signed at Versailles on June 28, 1919, which put an end to the war begun by the aggression of the German empire and terminated by the defeat of this power, and."

"Considering that the United States of America and the government of the French republic, fully convinced that an unprovoked aggression directed by Germany against France would not only violate at the same time the letter and spirit of the Versailles treaty to which the United States and France are parties, thus exposing France anew to the intolerable burden of unprovoked war but that such aggression on the part of Germany would constitute an act repugnant to the treaty at Versailles as being against all the powers signatory to the treaty and calculated to trouble the peace of the world, involving inevitably and directly the safety of Europe and indirectly the entire world as"

LLOYD-GEORGE TELLS BRITISH COMMONS OF CONFERENCE RULINGS

Terrible Terms of Peace Treaty Are Justified by Atrocities and Consequences of Teuton Success Would Have Been More Dreadful.

GERMAN EAGLE WITH WINGS CLIPPED POWERLESS NOW TO DISTURB PEACE

LONDON, (AP)—The former German emperor will soon be placed on trial. Premier Lloyd-George made this announcement in the house of commons today in his report on the peace negotiations.

The premier declared that the tribunal which would try the former emperor would sit in London. German officers who had committed appalling infamies, the premier added, would also be placed on trial.

The German army, the premier said, was at present inadequate to disturb the peace of the neighbors of the neighbors of Germany. The terms of the treaty with Germany in some respects were terrible, the premier said, but terrible were the deeds which justified it and all more terrible would have been the consequences if Germany had succeeded.

Limit Polish Rule. Mr. Lloyd George declared that the British delegation has taken a stand resolutely opposing any attempt to put a predominantly German population under Polish rule.

Introduces Two Bills. There was a very large attendance of members and spectators present in the house of commons today and the premier's statement. Both the floor of the house and the galleries were crowded. John W. Davis, the American ambassador, was among the diplomats present.

The premier began by introducing two bills, one to ratify those parts of the general peace treaty which involve changes in domestic law and particularly those which concern commercial and financial obligations and the second a bill to obtain approval of the separate treaty whereby Great Britain and the United States agree to protect France against unprovoked aggression by Germany.

Prohibition Adds to Water Consumption

NEW YORK, (AP)—As an evidence that New York has accepted prohibition with care and that its citizens, for one reason or another, were exceptionally thirsty July 1, the chief statistician of the water department has announced today that 23,000,000 more gallons of water were consumed on the birthday of the great drought than on July 30.

After delivering a brief address, he will leave for Washington.

BURLESON HAS SEEN NO STRIKE

Postmaster General Says Telegraphers Protest Failed at Onset.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Postmaster General Burleson today issued this statement in connection with the termination of the strike of commercial telegraphers: "The truth is there has been no strike. It failed from the moment it was called because the operators respecting the broad policy of the wire control board relating to employees and recognizing the strikers were not permissible during the period of governmental control refused to respect the order to strike. This attempt at a strike through the justice of the postmaster general in his attitude assumed at the beginning of governmental control, that all employees were to be treated with absolute justice and that regardless of whether they did or did not belong to labor organizations, and that no discrimination was to be practiced among those who belonged to such organizations and that they would be fully protected in their rights so to do."

TAKE TO AIR IN WILIA PURSUIT

Mexican Bombing Planes Practice Preparatory to Entering Field.

CHIHUAHUA CITY, (AP)—Airplane patrols from the main mail line will be established between here and Juarez, it was announced today. Fourteen airplanes built in Mexico City under the supervision of Italian engineers are flying here and will leave soon for American border. Many are bombing planes and have been practicing dropping bombs near here preparatory to taking the field against the Villa rebels. These have been formed into scout patrols and ordered to drop bombs on Villa's men wherever located.

Official reports of the Villa Ahumada battle June 23 gave mail line losses as 14 killed, 12 wounded. Colonel Ortiz, commanding the 7th regiment, was killed in action. General Manuel D'Alvarez is preparing to take the field in person in command of his troops. No excitement was caused here by the American expedition after Villa. American gold and silver is being accepted here for the Mexican government and bank notes of American issue are at most at par.

More was a native of Alabama and his home was at Livingston, Texas.

KEYMEN'S HEAD TELLS STORY OF STRIKE CAUSES

President of Commercial Telegraphers' Union, Directing Members to Resume Work, Issues Statement.

CHICAGO, (AP)—The strike of telegraphers which began June 11 was called off at noon Wednesday by S. J. Koenekamp, president of the Commercial Telegraphers Union of America, after he had conferred with other officials of the union.

A statement addressed to the members of the organization by President Koenekamp read in part: "When the present strike was declared against the telegraph companies under control of the wire administration it was understood that it would not be made an endurance contest. The strike was to be the final protest against the unfair and unjust treatment we have received since August 1916, at the hands of the wire administration."

Calls It Gallant Struggle
"We realized that in order to make this protest effective it would be necessary to make the strike sufficiently acute to compel action. This does not seem possible now either through the efforts or the efforts of others we relied upon to help us. This is the view taken by many who are vitally interested in the success of the strike and they agreed with me that to submit the proposition to a vote of the membership would result in serious delay and demoralization. Acting upon this conclusion and with a view to serving the best interests I hereby declare the strike at an end and you are instructed to work without further delay. You have made a gallant struggle for your rights as American workmen and women."

"You have sought a minimum of the things which the present government administration says you should enjoy. You have not only been denied these rights but governmental agencies have been used to prevent you getting them by exercising your own economic strength."

"We find that sending telegrams from city to city in suitcases is now permissible although Western Union officials were arrested for doing so a year ago. We find that telegrams are being mailed without restriction. The telegraph officials say the government is losing the strike losses, thereby adding this factor to our opposing forces."

Bureaucracy Added Misfortune
"We are doubly unfortunate in having to deal with a government representative in the person of Mr. Burleson who will yield no concession to the workers unless it is forced from him and in not being able to muster enough strength within our own ranks to compel him to give us a square deal. Despite all of his high sounding words, the fact remains that his minions have fought us and aided the telegraph companies at every turn and his party must take the blame."

"The future however, is not without hope. The principles for which we contend are going to prevail in the end. They must prevail because they are right. The union will continue its fight for the elemental rights of individual freedom. We urge you as a loyal member to continue to do your part. The C. T. U. A. will not surrender. Some reorganization of the union may be necessary but our motto is to breathe in 1922 will never be fulfilled."

Plans for Reorganization
It was announced that a meeting of the executive committee of the reorganization would be called in a few days to consider plans of reorganization."

EMPLOYERS OF STRIKING TELEGRAPHERS GIVE REINSTATEMENT TERMS

NEW YORK, (AP)—Edward Reynolds, vice president and general manager of the Postal company announced after he was informed that the strikers had been called off that those strikers who wished to return to work must agree "though they had to risk finding their places filled."

At the offices of the Western Union it was said that men who had been reinstated would have their claims passed upon by a committee of employers.

GOVERNMENT IS TO PAY SILVER MARKET PRICES

Buyers White Metal as Present Only When It Is Found in Gold Bullion Purchased by Officers.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Government assay offices have been instructed by Director of the Mint Baker to buy many market prices hereafter for silver found in gold bullion purchased by the office. Before July 1, the government paid a dollar an ounce for such silver, although the open market rose as high as $1.15 after the embargo was lifted.

The government is not in the market for silver at the present, but says all the silver separated in refining plants. The market rate was not paid hitherto as it was desired to wait until the new fiscal year began.

BIG FIGHT IN COFFEE INDUSTRY DEATH'S VICTIM

NEW YORK, (AP)—Charles E. Lipman, a prominent figure in the copper industry of the United States, died at his home here Wednesday. Mr. Lipman, who was 67 years of age, was engaged with the mining interests of the Ingrenheim brothers, was born in California in 1867. He is survived by his wife, a sister and two brothers. His elder brother, Fred Lipman, is a banker in San Francisco.

MOTION PICTURE PROBE PROCEEDS

Operators Who Made Government Pay Bill May Go to Jail

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Chairman Graham of the special house committee investigating war department expenditures, announced today that in investigating the extent to which motion pictures made by private concerns for advertising purposes have been circulated at government expense the committee "has obtained information which should result in several persons, at least, being sent to jail."

"Information that the committee intended to investigate motion picture activities has inadvertently leaked out," said Mr. Graham, "but I do not believe that those who are guilty will have time to 'cover up' before we get after them."

Chairman Graham said the committee had obtained a large amount of "incriminating evidence" which would be disclosed as soon as meetings were resumed next week.

ANNOUNCE WELCOME PLANS

Citizens' Committee Headed by Mayor to Meet Wilson in Gotham

NEW YORK, (AP)—The citizens' committee headed by Mayor John F. Hylan, which will welcome President Wilson on his expected arrival from France next Monday, has tonight announced that the George Washington, on board the battleship Pennsylvania, Admiral Wilson's flagship off Sandy Hook, it was announced today. The Pennsylvania will head a flotilla of warships which will steam down the bay to meet the George Washington. The president will board the battleship, on which he will be in charge of the fleet. The flotilla will include a number of destroyers, a cruiser, a battleship and a fleet of auxiliary vessels. On landing he will be met by a guard of honor composed of soldiers, sailors and marines. An automobile procession will be formed to escort Mr. Wilson either to his hotel or to Carnegie hall, depending on the time of his arrival.

EXPERT STREET CRIER WILL SELL THE NEWS

Champion Newsboy of United States Comes to Exemplify His Art.

To attend the Roundup and assist newspaper circulation in this city Frank E. Bain, American champion newsboy, reached Twin Falls yesterday. Mr. Bain will do special street sales work for The News while in Twin Falls.

One of Bain's chief features of stock-in-trade is a voice of a peculiarly resonant quality, reaching far and wide as well as considerably distance up. It is not vainly inclined but has a reaching power and dulcet quality that attracts attention. He possesses, too, a vocabulary that makes him popular with his customers. His street-crying papers is unique, albeit pleasing and attractive.

Bain came to Twin Falls from East Lake where he piled his specialized vocation last week. He has been a war service-overseas and was at Chateau Thierry, Verdun, St. Mihiel, Chemin des Dames, and participated in many other important engagements with the American expeditionary forces. He was a member of the famed Yankee division with company A of the 104th infantry.

During his war experience Bain was hit in the leg by a Hun bullet, and also suffered from gassing. The latter, however, has not affected the quality of his newspaper-crying voice. He has sold papers to every city in the United States. In addition to disposing of local papers Bain will offer for sale patriotic emblems and specialties.

REIGN OF REDS LIKE A SCOURGE OVER RUSSIANS

Heart-rending Scenes Attend Return of Villagers to Homes for Months Occupied by Bolshevik Forces.

BIELEBEL, European Russia, (AP)—The reign of the Bolsheviks passed over the people of Bielebel like a scourge. The Bolsheviks occupied Bielebel several months.

The correspondent of the Associated Press visited the town within a fortnight after the evacuation. The people were just returning to their domestic and governmental affairs. Refugees were returning to view the wreck of their homes. They were veritable wrecks. For the Bolsheviks had occupied all vacated houses and had carried away or destroyed most of their contents. An elderly judge of the district court, Professor Paul Blumenthal, who left upon the approach of the Bolsheviks, was so overcome with grief over the fate of his native town that he wept.

Tangled Heap of Bodies
Many persons had disappeared and it was well known that many had been murdered. The corpses of victims are being discovered. The correspondent followed a stream of men, women and children which flowed out across the fields toward the edge of a scrubby wood. There under a overhanging bank on the edge of a gravel pit they were lying, a tangled heap of bodies, apparently as they fell or had been thrown into a common grave.

The bodies were mostly those of the young or middle aged workmen. From each the boots and most of the outer clothing had been removed. Some of the skulls were crushed or others the faces were disfigured as though by gunshot at close range.

The crowd on the bank above the graves was an attentive one. The crowd made way for a group of Americans including Consul Embry, from Omaha, and two correspondents, and watched with interest while they photographed the victims.

A wicker dressed woman and a little girl walked into the pit to get a better look at the figure of a blond young girl which lay partly uncovered close under the bank.

The body was perfectly preserved by the cold and lay with arms bare and crossed as though the girl might have been sleeping. The face, which was disfigured, was that of an intelligent, pretty girl. Toward dusk the body was removed by relatives who had come from the town who had been abducted by the Bolshevik commissar when Ufa was evacuated. Close by was the body of another woman.

CHARTS OCEAN FOR AIRMEN

Meteorologist Favors Pacific Over Atlantic for Aerial Cruises.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., (AP)—Dr. Ford A. Carpenter, meteorologist, in charge of the United States weather bureau here, is preparing a weather chart of the Pacific ocean to be used by the Pacific Aero club in mapping a proposed aerial route from Venice, Cal., to Sydney, Australia.

Dr. Carpenter undertook the work at the suggestion of Thomas H. Ince, who has offered $50,000 to the first aviator to fly across the Pacific ocean.

Dr. Carpenter is author of "The Aviator and the Weather Bureau," and is said to be the first scientific weather observer to make a systematic study of the meteorological conditions in actual flight.

"I believe that weather conditions are better on the Pacific ocean for an airplane cruise than at the Atlantic," Dr. Carpenter said. "There is less fog and the difference in day and night temperatures is not so radical."

WEDDINGS WAIT ON RATIFICATION

Yanks Must Postpone Marriages to German Brides, Judge Advocate Holds

COBLENZ, (AP)—Marriages between American soldiers and German women are forbidden by the army regulations pending ratification of the peace treaty by the United States and Germany.

The regulations prohibit the American forces on the Rhine from handing down a decision declaring that marriages under present conditions are illegal on the ground that the United States technically is still at war with Germany.

At army headquarters however, inquiries continue to be received from soldiers who desire to marry. Since Saturday there have been so many reports with reference to the fraternization order that headquarters has issued a memorandum on the question of fraternization. The order says:

"The attention of all officers and enlisted men is called to the fact that no order has been issued authorizing in any way modifying the rules and regulations concerning fraternization and other dealings with or treatment of the civil population of the occupied area. All commands are instructed to see that the order received the widest publicity.

TUNNELING CHANNELED BRITISHER'S JOB

A tunnel under the English channel has been a British-French dream for many centuries, but the German submarines and the world war did more to prod the European engineers into action than any other event. Sir A. Bell, M. P., was one of the Britishers who has taken of his coat for the job. It is estimated the tunnel will cost twenty million and take five years to construct.

Many persons had disappeared and it was well known that many had been murdered. The corpses of victims are being discovered. The correspondent followed a stream of men, women and children which flowed out across the fields toward the edge of a scrubby wood. There under a overhanging bank on the edge of a gravel pit they were lying, a tangled heap of bodies, apparently as they fell or had been thrown into a common grave.

DENIES LABOR IS COMMODITY

Railroad Administration Official Addresses Workers' Session.

DENVER, Colo., (AP)—The labor force of the world, as a result of the war, have been "invested with a new dignity and power" and "labor never will consent to be relegated to the subordinate position it occupied in the past," according to statements made Wednesday by W. F. Borland, chief of the safety division of the United States railroad administration, addressing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

"The old economic system which teaches that labor is a commodity to be bought and sold in obedience to an alleged law of the market is in a state of flux," declared Mr. Borland. He warned the delegates that "the old forces are making a fight for their winning privileges."

Action taken by the convention today provides for the addition of two vice presidents to the brotherhood's list of officials.

MURDER IS FIRST ACT

When the Bolsheviks entered Bielebel the governments of the town was taken over by a Revolutionary Committee of Communists. They formed a "Committee of Investigation" under the presidency of one Velt, a Left. One of the first acts of this committee was to show the present of the former local county zemstvo, as a counter revolutionary. The latter was ill at the time and had to be carried out to his death in a chair. Twenty men were shot and in addition many Mohammedan priests. A member of the investigating committee boasted that he shot one priest because he was too long over his prayers, while the committeemen waited to take him.

High school boys and girls and the priests were compelled to clean the streets. Women of the "intelligentsia" were made to clean the floors and walls of barracks occupied by Bolshevik troops.

Eme. Koshnevkoff, owner of the most imposing residence in the town, was arrested. After a month in jail he was released. It developed that all they had against the woman was that on a previous occasion of evacuation she had fled to the Bolsheviks that some of them narrowly escaped capture by the "Whites" because of carrying over the dinner.

OPPONENTS OF NATION'S PACT CHANGE PLANS

Indications Point to Opening Fight on Treaty Ratification Without Formal Advance Declaration in Senate.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—With the beginning today of a week's recess of congress, it seemed assured that senate opponents of the league of nations would abandon any plan for a formal senate declaration on the subject before the fight for actual ratification of the treaty begins.

Until the recess plan was suggested, it had been the apparent purpose of opposition leaders to make an effort as soon as the appropriation bills were passed, to bring some senate action in advance of presentation of the treaty. For this purpose, it was said the opposition would press the resolution of Senator Knox, republican, Pennsylvania, to serve notice of unwillingness to accept the league covenant as an inseparable part of the treaty, and that of Senator Fall, republican, of New Mexico, to declare a state of peace with Germany. Resolutions of Old Age.

It now is expected however, that the treaty will be presented as soon as the recess is over, and that both of these resolutions will be considered and then to have outlived their usefulness. Present indications are that from now on it will be a straight out and out fight over qualified ratification.

Although many senators left the capital today, some of the leaders remained actively at work on plans for the ratification fight. In general the opposition lines are the same as those of the ratification reservationists suggested by Elihu Root, while the president's supporters were preparing for a struggle to secure acceptance of the covenant without the alteration of a single provision.

RUSSIANS MAKE CHANGE IN GARB AND VIEWPOINT

Former Bolshevik Prisoners Put on Khaki Uniform of Government Forces and Fight Former Associates.

ARCHANGEL, (AP)—The khaki uniforms of the British type that have been adopted by the North Russian government for its soldiers have now, with only a very few exceptions, replaced the dozen or more varieties of fancy military dress that were common in the early days of the fighting against the Bolsheviks on this front last September.

This little matter of standardizing the uniforms typifies the efforts that have been made to organize a Russian army in the north. Only three units now are out of khaki—the British foreign legion, Russians who wear the French light blue and the Polish legion, also wearing light blue and with strange four-cornered peaked caps.

Cossacks Give Up Old Colors. Even the Cossack troops have had to give up their gaudy colors and flaming-striped trousers for the khaki. The Slav-Britanic legion officers wear the British uniforms of "plims" and "g" as grade markings, but the other Russian officers wear the old Russian shoulder stripes on British cut coats with the Sam Browne belt.

A striking contrast to the well-uniformed government troops are the Bolshevik prisoners who are brought in, from time to time, to Archangel. Most of them are without uniforms, but all, wearing their peasant clothes, which some have queer mixtures of the dress of half the nations of the world.

Many former Bolshevik prisoners have changed their dress and their politics, for the khaki, and now are fighting against the Bolsheviks. One entire battalion of former Bolshevik prisoners, officered by an English colonel and known as "Dyer's Battalion," has done excellent work.

Hundreds of Boys in Khaki. Hundreds of boys are in khaki in Archangel. General Gernot, General Miller announced that an "educational battalion" of boys from the ages of 12 to 18 years, was to be formed, to include boys guilty of actions deserving imprisonment, runaways, homeless boys, and boys whose parents would like to have them brought up in an atmosphere of military discipline.

In honor of General Edmund Ironside, the British commander-in-chief, his battalion will be known as "General Ironside's educational battalion for children," and will be dressed and fed at the expense of the British government.

TRANSPORT BRINGS TROOPS

Wilhelmina with 1801 Men from St. Nazaire Docks at New York.

NEW YORK, (AP)—The transport Wilhelmina arrived today from St. Nazaire with 1801 troops, including 38 officers and 1537 men of the first pioneer infantry. The infantry units included headquarters and medical detachments of the first and second battalions, ordnance detachment, supply and headquarters companies, and Companies A to F, inclusive. Other troops on board were two officers and 12 men of the first museum unit, photograph division; 67 prisoners and scattered casuals.

WITHOUT JURISDICTION OVER SOLDIERS' FARES

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The interstate commerce commission today held that it was without jurisdiction to pass on the propriety of classifications and regulations governing passenger fares which apply exclusively to a class of travelers over whom the president, as commander in chief of the army and navy, has supreme authority. Complaint brought by William E. Golden, of Chicago, attacking the order giving reduced fares to men in uniform was dismissed.

FISH HARVESTING DAYS COME AGAIN IN ALASKA

War on Finny Tribes of North Pacific to Be Waged All Summer by Fishermen and Cannermen.

JUNEAU, Alaska, (AP)—Fish harvesting days have come again in Alaska. By the middle of July, when the season will be on in full blast, the scores of fisheries and salteries, which dot Inlets and river mouths all the way from Kotlikan to Nome, will be employing between 18,000 and 20,000 people, it is expected.

War on the finny tribes of the north Pacific will be waged all summer by the fishermen and cannermen. This year's pack is expected to equal the pack of last year, which was worth over $50,000,000, according to an estimate made by the territorial bureau of publicity here.

CARRANZA BARS DUELING

LAREDO, Tex., (AP)—President Carranza of Mexico has ordered that steps be taken to prevent a scheduled duel to death between Juan Barragan, his chief of staff, and Rafael Nieto, prominent in official circles, according to the El Pormenor at Monterrey. Duelling is prohibited by Mexican law.

Don't Let Your House Grow Old

A house is as old as its condition.

The age of a house is not reckoned in years. Many houses, within your knowledge, built only ten years are spoken of and thought of as old houses. They look like old houses, are valued as old houses, bring the rentals of old houses and are worth old-house prices when sold.

It is good business from the standpoint of dollars and cents to keep your property in first class repair. The amount you will save in depreciation will far more than offset the amount spent on these necessary repairs.

It is good business, from the standpoint of self-respect and community standing, to keep your house looking like the home of a prosperous, established family. Such a home, by its very air of prosperity, stability and permanency, will bring you the respect and esteem of your associates and give you a sense of responsibility which comes of being an approved, established part of your community.

If your house needs repairs, NOW is the time to make them. It is conceded that to carry out these repairs under present conditions the cost may be from ten to fifteen percent more than it would have been five years ago. But all authorities are agreed that present prices will probably continue until some indefinite time in the future.

In the meantime your leaking roof may cause decaying timbers, crumbling plaster, and ruined papers, paints and stains. For lack of a coat of paint your weather-boarding, porches and fences may be seriously damaged. For lack of mended plumbing, pipes may leak, causing your home to become damp and unhealthful, and perhaps bring illness to your family.

But by taking care of all these things—by using a little thought and a little money at the right time—you keep your home always comfortable and attractive, and make it a pleasant place in which to live. By such care you add materially to the value of your property. Every dollar put into repairs is a dollar invested which aids in making your house that much more desirable and therefore that much more valuable. Improved property which is kept improved is always salable at a profit. It is recognized as valid collateral in any business transaction, and serves as a stable security in case of emergency.

Since you are gaining nothing in delay why don't you begin making those necessary repairs today? For any information you may desire as to materials, finishings, equipments, costs, information as to architects, contractors, etc.—call at our Building Information Office. AMERICA'S POSITION.

It is hard to see how or where the United States, if the treaty as drawn at Versailles is ratified by the senate, could avoid responsibility in connection with the supplementary pact which binds her to spring to the assistance of France in the event of unprovoked act of aggression against France on the part of Germany.

Great Britain is very apt to enter into a similar agreement. But the example of Great Britain is not the prompting motive in this case. A treaty is law. A law becomes law only when it contains provision for its enforcement. In the absence of other means of enforcement of the Versailles treaty, the supplementary pact provides the essential principle to make the treaty law.

The United States has shared thus far in the making of the Versailles treaty. If she accepts this treaty, she must accept analog with the supplementary pact. There can be no other conclusion.

At some future date the league of nations or some other more comprehensive alliance may relieve the United States, Great Britain and France of the brunt of the treaty enforcement burden. But for a long time, it must be confessed, present indications point to the necessity for these three nations to bear the "white man's burden" practically alone, while the league of nations, if it is formed, functions chiefly as an academic body, filling a sphere of surpassing usefulness in attainment of the ultimate world peace in that capacity.

The bright spot in the situation is the fact that strict enforcement of important provisions of the Versailles treaty will keep German military power at a low ebb and reduce to a minimum the chances for a call upon American armed assistance to put down acts of aggression on her part.

A GROWING INDUSTRY.

An industry which has developed by leaps and bounds during the past few years is the stealing of autos. In the smaller cities and more sparsely settled sections this is not as noticeable as in the more congested parts of the country but this form of theft has grown to alarming proportions throughout the United States as a whole.

One of the remedies proposed is the enactment of a federal law, which shall provide for a federal certificate of registration without which no car could be sold, permanent numbering of every part of any consequences and a penalty clause sufficiently potent to cause the average thief to stop, look and listen for some little time before taking possession of auto or truck property not his own.

As matters now stand, the difference in the laws as between states makes it far too easy to do the stealing in one state and the disposing of the property in another. With a federal law in effect this particular weakness would be eliminated for all time. There can be no doubt as to the steady gain in this kind of crime or as to the necessity of some sort of action designed to put a stop to it.

The public in general and patrons of the wires in particular would be perhaps the most competent judges as to the accuracy of Postmaster General Burleson's declaration that there has been no strike of the commercial telegraphers at all.

RICHEST REDMAN IN THE SERVICE IS IN FAVOR OF A LASTING PEACE

LOS ANGELES, Cal. (AP)—Joe Mills, the richest Indian in the service of America in the world war, has had enough of fighting and favors a lasting peace. He saw 18 months service including participation in the memorable engagement at Chateau Thierry, where Mills stopped a German machine gun bullet. "He still carries his arm in a sling as the result of the wound. Mills is in Los Angeles to "rest up to get the memories of the European fighting out of my mind," as he puts it. Mills said from earliest childhood he had heard the old men of his tribe— he is of the Ojagés—tell of the glories of war and he thought soldiering would be a good adventure.

Admits He Stole Water from Canal

L. A. Schroeder of Clover Pays fine of $75 for Tapping Flow of Irrigating Stream. On charge of stealing water from an irrigating canal L. A. Schroeder, a farmer of the Clover district, was arraigned this morning before Judge O. P. Duval, in the probate court, and entered a plea of guilty. A fine of $75 was imposed, and paid after some demurrals on the part of the defendant. Schroeder, who is entitled to a certain percentage of water from the supply source, tapped the canal to procure further supply. He had no excuse to offer the court for his act except that his crops needed the water.

Simultaneously with the arrest of Schroeder, yesterday Carl (German) and Louis Ulrich, both farmers in the Clover district, were taken in charge on charges similar to that preferred by the prosecuting attorney against Schroeder. The latter two denied guilt and will be tried by Judge Duval on Friday, July 11. Warrants, it is said, have been issued against a number of other farmers in the Clover and other sections and are now in the process of service, all on charge of water larceny.

STORM BATTERED VESSEL MAKES HER WAY TO PORT

Schooner Docks at Honolulu 75 Days Overdue; Provisions Exhausted. HONOLULU, (AP)—The small schooner or Luka arrived here Tuesday from Suva, capital of the Fiji group, 75 days overdue and with her supplies and water nearly exhausted and her master ill.

A typhoon struck the Luka soon after she left Suva, disabled her rigging and forced her from her course. She touched Jaluit Island in the Marshall group and made temporary repairs. Leaving the island the vessel encountered adverse winds and was forced to a wide detour around the Hawaiian group, sailing 5000 miles more than the distance ordinarily to be covered.

When the Luka arrived here her meat and flour was exhausted and she carried but little water in her casks. Heavy seas of the ship's master and crew was caused by lack of provisions, but it was said all will recover.

What He Wanted. Bobby had been given three cents to spend as he and his younger brother saw fit. Having heard much garden talk, and being attracted by a display of garden seeds, he came home with three packages of vegetable seeds, eager to get them planted at once. Hearing something about the proposed planting of some flower seeds, he insisted on planting his, saying to his mother as a stout argument: "Mother, we don't want flower seeds; we want eating seeds."

Silly Jamie. The other day Jamie came running into the house crying at the top of his voice. He was followed by Jane, who explained by saying: "Mother, I'm ashamed of Jamie—he's so unbrave, crying 'cause a little dog chased him."

EARTH TREMBLES AGAIN IN ITALY

Recurrent Quakes Crumble Buildings but Cause No Life Loss. BORGO SAN LORENZO, ITALY, (AP)—Several new earth tremors occurred in the Mugello valley Wednesday but there was no loss of life. Several buildings cracked by the earthquake of Sunday, fell into ruins.

People Fear Return. The inhabitants of the valley are living in tents as far as possible, being afraid to return to their homes and the possibility of being buried under falling walls. The deaths in the Mugello section Sunday were not as numerous as at first reported. The number of dead will not reach 100.

Concerning casualties on the other side of the Apennines in the Romagna section there is little information as it is almost impossible to reach there because of lack of transportation and the damage caused by the earthquake Sunday.

Still Seeking Dead. In the smaller villages, survivors of families continue to dig in the ruins for relatives believed to be buried there.

The damage done by the earthquake on Sunday at Fiorentino, where there were several violent tremors, was terrific but the situation there has been relieved to some extent. Homes and churches were wrecked and many persons were injured though no deaths as yet have been reported.

Second Game Won by Visiting Team

Filer Takes Advantage of Twins' Errors and Snatches Morning Tilt by One Score

Twin Falls lost the second game of the three-tilt series with Filer this morning, the final result of the game being 5 to 6. Both teams made numerous bobbles, but the visitors were able to take advantage of the foe when the latter slipped. Batteries performed at the local were woefully weak during the first portion of the onslaught, requiring a change in the middle of the game.

The result: R. H. E. Filer..... 6 6 6 Twin Falls..... 5 7 6 Batteries—Filer—Miller and LeChance; Twin Falls—Oliver, Bell and Hanak, Patton.

The second game will be staged at 4:30 this afternoon, according to late announcement.

Alleged Whiskey Runners Arrested

Two Buhl Residents, Taken by Sheriff's Men, Said to Have Supply of Intoxicants.

Extraordinary efforts were made by the sheriff's department and the police officers to prevent bootlegging during the progress of the three day celebration, according to Sheriff A. N. Sprague and Chief of Police William Taylor, who have already engaged the services of competent men to seek out violators of the prohibition law.

Carrying out this program of vigilance W. D. Rex and E. D. King, both of Buhl, were placed in custody by members of the sheriff's force last night on charge of having a quantity of spirituous liquor in their possession. It is said the men possessed no less than five cases of whiskey when they were taken up.

J. A. Champton, claiming Twin Falls as his abiding place, was picked up by the police on charge of carrying concealed liquor.

WIDESPREAD DROUGHT MAKES LABOR SURPLUS

Farm Bureau Reports More Applications for Employment Than Calls for Help.

During the past week the demand for labor at the farm bureau has been according to officials, letting up to some extent and there are more men applying for work. There seems to be, at this time, more surplus help than at any other time during the season. From all indications there will be no serious labor shortage in this county.

A great deal of this is due to the fact that some of the dry farming districts of this state are suffering a severe drought, which makes less call for men in these sections. This same condition is true of Montana and Wyoming. The large part of the dry farming sections of these two states is already considered a failure as no rain has fallen over a large area of these states during the spring and they have a very high winter moisture. Ordinarily at this time of year there would be a big demand for labor in these states but now, those in charge of employment offices in Billings and other points tell us, the dry farmers who usually hire men are looking for work themselves.

The records of the Farm Bureau Office show that from April 28th to June 28th inclusive, the large majority of which were sent out to jobs on farms. At the Buhl office for three weeks ending June 27th and ending June 28th, 138 men applied for work and most of them were sent out to places on farms.

ALL IMPOUNDED WATER HAS BEEN DELIVERED

Canal Company Now Dependent Upon Natural Flow of Snake River; Supply Out Short.

"We delivered the last water from our storage system yesterday and from this time until the storage supply is replenished, we will be dependent entirely upon the natural flow taken from the Snake river at the Milner dam."

This statement was made today by Secretary W. O. Taylor of the Snake River Canal Company. Mr. Taylor added that the present flow is only 1700 second feet, which is sufficient to supply patrons of the company between 25 and 30 per cent of the normal amount of water they are entitled to.

"Our reports indicate little prospect of increasing the water supply in the near future," Mr. Taylor declared, "there being no snow in the mountains and no rain reported in the upper reaches of the Snake river."

While farmers in the Twin Falls tract are anxious about the water situation, few of them are hoping for rain in heavy downpours as such rains would lodge much of their crops and render them practically valueless. They must depend upon irrigation for the salvation of crops.

Helpful Sympathy.

She was slowly recovering from a long illness, but still too weak for the trip downtown to a hairdresser for the much-needed shampoo. At last a maid was found who would come to the house. During the drying process she made the starting bit of conversation with the gray hairs. The conversationalist was so intense that the maid, striving to control, said: "Law, lady, what if you had to wear one of them transmigrations on your head?"

Great Writer's Mysterious Case.

One of the famous cases of the world was that of Balzac. It gave him, according to some of his observant contemporaries, "a rapture of self-satisfied vanity. It was as big as a drum major's staff, and was ablaze with rubies, diamonds, emeralds and sapphires. On it was a huge gold knob containing a lock of hair of a lady admirer. Balzac carried it in public without that stick and all the jewels that he bought or had presented to him he put into the case."

Seemed in Distress.

One Saturday morning Kermit's mother was baking pies. She asked Kermit to go open the oven door and see if the pies were getting too brown. As he happened the oven was quite hot and the juice was bubbling out of the top of the pies while the crust was heating up and down. Kermit opened the oven door and said: "No, they're not too brown, but they're beautiful awful hair."

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM CLOSES CHAUTAUQU

Successful Series of Tent Engagements Will Finish with Apollo Concert Company

The 1919 Twin Falls chautauqua this evening plays to its last audience of the season. After tonight's performance the big top will be folded and moved away.

The season from the standpoint of attendance and programs, has been eminently successful. True it is the schedule has presented some rather mediocre programs, but, taken as a whole, the Chautauqua has been pleasing and an entertaining diversion. The musical numbers have been better than average, while some of the lectures had been of a high order. There has been some extraordinary quality in several "entertainer" sketches, and some not so good. The whole, though, has been worth while and attendance has been particularly generous.

The real disappointment of the season was founded in the failure of "Private" Pent to be present yesterday for his lecture. The Canadian soldier was taken ill on the road here and is at present in a hospital for attention. His place was taken on last night's program by W. L. Mellinger who spoke in the afternoon on Mexican matters. With Mr. Mellinger the Reglers featured the Wednesday program at the Chautauqua, the day being fraught with lots of hearty entertainment.

The closing performance of the outdoor program include afternoon and evening programs, with the Apollo Concert company featuring the junior chautauquans are staging a program especially prepared by them. Henry Warren floor will give an illustrated lecture this evening, using for his subject, "Closing Days of the War."

Peculiar Feeling.

CASTLEFORD FARMERS PLAN BIG FEED MILL

Grinding of Alfalfa Meal Proposed as a Means of Getting Best Feeding Results

(Special to The News.)

CASTLEFORD.—For the purpose of considering the feasibility of erecting an alfalfa meal mill at this place a large number of farmers of the Castleford district gathered here last night. The consensus of opinion that the operation of such a mill would be of immense benefit to the community, at large and plans for erection are to be made forthwith.

The decision to install an alfalfa meal mill here was the result of concerted action of many prominent farmers and feeders who, having in mind the greater feed value of alfalfa and the threatened shortage of hay as a 1919 crop, wish to get all the value out of this crop as a stock feeding medium.

A mill, such as is proposed, will provide the farmers of this district a market for all the by-products, hullings, grain straw, bean straw and similar materials heretofore considered more or less waste matter. It will also guarantee a market for all the hay feeders of this district and the means of bringing scores of prominent stockmen of the country to this place to feed their stock.

A temporary board of directors for the mill company has been selected, and from this a committee will be chosen to investigate the mills of this sort in Idaho and Utah and seek information concerning the method of operation with an eye to the best results.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES TO MARK CELEBRATION

Buhl Church People Will Engage in Sacred Exercises in Grove July 4th.

(Special to The News.)

BUHL.—The Pentecostal church of the Nazarene at this place will celebrate July 4 by holding three religious services at Sandmeier's grove, three and a half miles east of the Burley corner.

The first service will be devoted to prayer and testimony and will be opened immediately upon arrival at the grove. After dinner there will be preaching followed by a baptismal session. All members of evangelical churches, regardless of denomination, are invited to participate in the services. Pastor F. B. Gowland will be in charge.

To Open Law Office.—Captain James W. Porter, who recently returned from service in France, expects to open an office for the practice of law in the Smith building. Captain Porter left the law business to enter the army at the entry of the United States in the European conflict.

Investigating Woods.—Paul A. Wenger, state district attorney, spent yesterday with County Agent C. H. Bohrer, of the farm bureau. Most of the time was consumed on work in connection with the investigation of the cause of the timber and other noxious weeds in this vicinity.

Joe Hager Coming Home.—Miss Zita Hager has a letter from her brother "Joe" Hager, saying he will be home very soon. The young man, who has been two years of service in the marine corps, is now at Key West, Fla. He has spent the greater part of his term of service in Cuba.

Home to Stay.—W. B. Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Wall, reached Twin Falls today from a discharge camp. The young man recently returned from France where he saw considerable active service prior to the signing of the armistice. He was with the 324th headquarters infantry of the 84th division.

Fined for Shooting.—A fine of $25 was imposed by Magistrate W. A. Minick last night on Roy West, who was accused by Ed Minnery of employing a gun to scare off hawking cats. A bullet from a weapon fired by Gramme West, a son of Roy West, destroyed the picture hanging on a wall.

Officers Coming Home.—Word reached Twin Falls that Lieutenant Theodore Bowen is on the way home and expects to reach here Saturday. Lieutenant Bowen, who was recently mustered out at Fort Monmouth, N. J., was unable to return with the rest of the Idaho service men on account of a rupturing of the war department.

To Conduct Clinics.—The Red Cross public health committee announces that by the middle of August it will be in position to place at the disposal of the community a trained nurse who will operate in connection with Mrs. Leo Graves, trained worker of Seattle. Mrs. Clinch has just returned from war work overseas.

Social Notes

Mrs. E. J. Jenkins was hostess for the Needlecraft club yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Foss was hostess to the Morningtide club Wednesday afternoon. Many guests were in attendance and at the close of the afternoon dainty refreshments were served.

WHISKEY IS CONTAINED IN NEWLY BOUGHT AUTO

Deputies Uncover 120 Pints of Booze When They Arrest Two Buhl Residents.

With 120 pints of whiskey in a new Ford automobile W. F. Fox and P. D. King, claiming Buhl as their home town, were arrested last night by deputies from the sheriff's office near the Hansen bridge. The men were arraigned in court this morning, but declined to enter a plea until after they have discussed their case with an attorney.

The arresting officers declare that the automobile contained five cases containing pint bottles of whiskey, four of the cases being full, while from the fifth a few bottles had been taken. King and Fox say they are laborers by occupation.

The probate court officials closed shop at noon today and will be closed all day tomorrow. Saturday will be a half holiday in this department. All public offices will be closed during the Fourth of July celebration.

After holding a brief session of business this morning City Clerk Minnick closed his office at the municipal building and will not open again for the transaction of business until Monday morning. Other offices in the building will be closed most of the time during the Roundup.

County Physician Refutes the Statements Derogatory to Twin Falls.

Speaking with respect to the general condition of public health in Twin Falls, Dr. C. C. McGinnis, refuting statements to the effect that contagious diseases are prevalent here, last night stated that the health of Twin Falls is far above normal and that there are no existing cases of contagion in the city limits.

"Diphtheria has been unknown here for a long time," the county physician states, adding that while there were a few isolated cases of contagion on the outskirts of town some time ago, drastic measures adopted by his department, and accompanying prophylactic action has succeeded in eradicating all disease.

TWIN FALLS OVERCOMES LEAD AND FLAYS FILERIFES 5 TO 4

In First Game of Exhibition Series Domestic Spot Visitors Fair Margin and Then Tear in and Win by One Counter—"Phat" Thompson's Curves Prove Pie for Hostiles.

Giving a rare exhibition of uphill battling, a spirit of never-say-quit and hitting in pinches the Twin Falls ball club yesterday afternoon overcame a lead of four runs and won from Filer 5 to 4. It was the first game of a three-ply series and the "Twins" earned the victory.

The conflict was an exemplification, in the first few frames at least, of how not to play the national game; that is as far as the locals were concerned. Pitching, that offered by "Phat" Thompson, was of a mediocre caliber, the competent, good yielding all the runs and the vulgar opposition-annexed and all the hits too, for that matter, besides inferring a wild pitch that counted a man from third base.

No Fun for "Phat."

"Phat" was a burden to himself and his club as a pitching proposition, and he willingly relinquished the scepter and his hillock position before a man had been retired in the fourth inning. In that chapter, Thompson gave his pitching opponent a two-base blow, and then he let Bergstrom on the path, and counting from third base on a wild error that would have been good if he had not been on the base, the grandstand interposed itself. It was at this juncture that Carson was sent for. The southpaw had been looking almost as ineffectually at first base as Thompson had been at the peak, and he showed no reluctance at exchanging the job for one with which he had more familiarity. From that time to the bitter end, he gave his son. Ace stopping the Filerifites with-out a hit or a run the rest of the way. He fanned a baker's dozen of the hostile performers.

The Pastings.

In the first inning the Filerifites gathered a two-ply blow off "Phat" Thompson. With one out Post, sturdy centerfielder for the guests, played a double into the exterior of the ball yard. It applied and he was on first, his confidence in arms failed to help him and he expired where he had alighted. "Was an ignominious death."

The opposition made up for lost time at the next inning, when the round guest's fast hopper for five blows which should have netted as many counts, but didn't. The guests took another two-ply blow, and the three runs on this occasion, it really seemed as though "Crabby" Captain Miller and his merry men had shot their bolt when they were let down with only one hit, a single at first, in the third inning. But they displayed an unmistakable degree of contempt for the first person's offerings in the next, the obese gent confronting him being out another two-ply. It was Filer who thus wanted to revel with the doughty flinger for the defenders. Then "Phat" let Bergstrom get to first, while attempting to check the mad flight of the lengthy checker of the visiting host to third. He failed to stop the long boy, who, a minute thereafter took advantage of "Phat's" nervousness and scored a wild pitch.

Thus ended the counting, for Ace Carson was more than an enigma from that point to the ultimate conclusion.

Boots and Nobbles.

For Twin Falls a lot might be said, especially as it applies to the last measure of the frolic. Of the first three mistakes can be said to be a host of errors, an extension of some of the enervations, and the less said the better. It was a case of nerves, boots and nobbles; errors of commission and more of omission; some of the latter near-tragedies more's the pity.

The "Twins" braced a lot after Carson went to the graded hump to lead them on. Cheered by his presence they began to hit and by dint of two healthy blows in the fourth they counted a run. Strange to say it was Doughty "Phat" Thompson who registered the first marker, and he did it stealing home. He scored again in the sixth and again in the eighth, in fact he came across with the majority of his team's tallies, thus making favor for himself again with the fans. He got a brace of blows, each for two tags that being a ground rule when the ball was cracked into the superstructure being erected by a bunt or sacrifice, and which superstructure flanks the entire outfield.

How They Won.

In the sixth Thompson was counted from second base on successive infield outs. It was in the eighth, however, that the locals brought up with the hostiles three hits, two singles by Watson and Singleton, and a double by Neuman, the latter immediately after Lind had filled the bases with a walk to Carson, giving Mercer's men two tallies. Carson was choked off at the Plate attempting to score.

With the scored tied in the ninth Patton clouted the pill for one base, (it might have been considered an error for one of the opposing infield, but 'tis better counted thus), and went to second because the thrown ball was not fielded at first base. He reached third on an out at first base, and scored when Bell rolled a grounder down to first base on which the latter was counted out. This finished the proceedings.

HUGGINS DELIVERS

CURSORY COMMENT CONCERNING CONTEST

By no stretch of imagination was "Phat" Thompson to be considered fleet of foot but he did steal home with the first run for the locals.

"Phat" didn't rest. Observing the eternal fitness of things, considering his own peculiar style of physical build he rolls rather than slides to bases.

Long Lind, opposition moundman, has a lousy swing with the bat. He hit into the outer stands in the fourth, but was rewarded only with a double.

Many changes of players were made during the contest but no announcements were called by the ump. Very annoying, what?

Perhaps the folks who support baseball in this town are not entitled to this courtesy.

Somebody ran for Whitzel in the first frame.

Somebody replaced Hart later in the game, and certain switches were made in the lineup when Carson went into the box for Thompson in the fourth.

In the first frame Hostile Peel miscalculated a blow into center field. He hurled a fence to get under the fielding gill, and then squarely muffed the ball. We are of a forgiving turn, however, and we gave the player credit for the leap with no charge for the muff. Thanks!

If "Phat" Thompson had been able to develop a burst of speed the "Twins" might have had a marker in the first. The round one's speed, however, is of the latest variety. "Phat" resembles the renowned Amos Ruso, except that Amos was a pitcher.

Hanson, of the vulgar opposition, hit a two-base infield fly in the third. Deuman, misjudged it.

Hart was pinched off third base in the third, all of the hostile performers having a hand in the demise.

This afternoon same teams at three o'clock.

Get it? Tough, tough the classified, with your "prospects." In trade parlance, you know, a prospect is a possible player.

The "possible buyers" of your property are "logical readers" of the classified.

BETTING ON BIG FIGHT OUTCOME IS VERY LIGHT

Dempsey Backers Now Ask Willard Men to Lay 8 to 10; Switch Does Not Put Much in Stakeholders' Hands.

TOLEDO, O., (AP)—Bunches governing the heavyweight championship contest between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey in the Rickard's stadium arena here tomorrow are to be officially interpreted at a meeting today attended by Ollie Peard, the referee; Richard W. Foster, president of the board of the contest, the boxers themselves, and Jack Kearns, manager of the challenger.

Peard, who was present at the meeting, Willard expressed himself as being willing to box under any rules but suggested that the contestants be permitted to box as long as an arm is free, to break at once at the command of the referee and to break clean.

World Separate Judges

Kearns who spoke for Dempsey said he intended to press the point that the odds should not be set together, but on opposite sides of the ring. He also said that he did not care how the rules were interpreted so long as each boxer and the referee agreed on what was to be expected.

Referring on the outcome of the bout has proved surprisingly light to date, notwithstanding the gathering of thousands of prospective spectators. It was estimated this morning by one of the foremost wagering commissioners that there was not much more than $10,000 in actual stakes in the hands of the bettors.

In some quarters sentiment appeared to be veering toward the champion for while Dempsey backers were willing to bet a small percentage of their two wags, they are now asking that Willard men lay 10 to 8. Even when these odds are granted the switch does not result in any large sums being turned over to the bookies.

Trains Bringing Fans

Every train arriving in Toledo is unloading its scores and hundreds of boxing fans and hundreds are making the trip here in motor cars. Once they arrive, a small percentage of them go directly to hotels and club rooms for which they made reservations a month ago and which they are privileged to occupy at the rate of $10 a night with one bed in a room. The other walk around the streets in frenzied search for accommodations, which are not to be found. Every hotel, every rooming house, every boarding and similar establishments are sold out for tonight. Thousands of visitors who will be unable to obtain hotel accommodations will sleep in rows in a vacant building which have been taken into huge dormitories. This minimum charge for a cot in a vacant building will be 75c. Hundreds of motor parties brought tents with them and pitched them along the roads on the outskirts of the city.

Training Grind Ends

With their training grind ended, Willard and his youthful challenger planned to spend today in complete rest. The champion planned to take a motor trip into the country this afternoon to escape the eyes of the curious and go to his only home, a hotel walk over the highways of the Mauney Bay shore district was the program for Dempsey this morning. Jack Kearns, manager of the challenger, planned to take him on a motor spin through the country this afternoon to keep his mind off the contest and also to avoid the crowds which have flocked to the challenger's camp in ever-increasing numbers.

FRENCH DUEL BLOODLESS

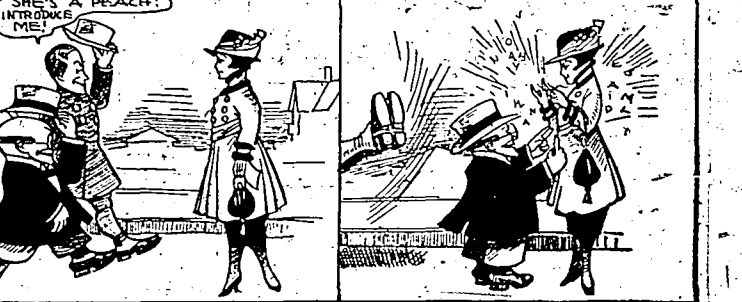

PARIS, (AP)—The first duel to be fought in France since the beginning of the war occurred at Bayonne when M. Harat, mayor and deputy, exchanged pistol shot with M. Gemmea, vice-president of the chamber of commerce, without result. This was one of the numerous affairs dating back a long time but held in suspense until the conclusion of peace. It is not expected, however, that there will be any more duels, time having settled many of these quarrels.

SAYS MAKING OF AMERICANS JOB OF U. S. SCHOOLS

Labor Department Official Tells National Educators' Association of Great Work to Be Discharged.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—More than 200,000 foreigners are given American citizenship courses in public school classes annually according to Raymond P. Crist, director of citizenship of the federal department of labor, who spoke before a group meeting at the National Education association's annual convention. He advocated extension of the federal plan of Americanization through wide use of school houses.

Bank and File Recognized

The rank and file of class room teachers were given an airing today for the first time in the association's history a kindergarten teacher and a rural teacher appeared on the program. Miss L. Blinn, kindergarten teacher of Minneapolis, said that children must learn democracy through practice from the kindergarten to the college. "The kindergarten respects children's rights, gives children a hearing and sets a democratic example for the rest of the school system," she said. "There are no sneak days and no strikes in the kindergarten."

Welfare Demands Better Pay

Marie Turner Harvey of the Porter rural school, Kirksville, Mo., in discussing rural school conditions said that public welfare "demands increased salaries for better training for rural teachers."

"The country school is entitled to a high class teacher as those employed in the cities," she said. "The rural population of the country will not be satisfied until the boys and girls of the rural schools are given every advantage now afforded the children of the more favored cities."

"Insidious foreign propaganda poisoning national ideals and secret armies must be combated by right types of democratic education," declared Guy Stanton Ford, Dean of the Graduate School of Education, and president of the section of the Committee on Public Information sent more than 40,000,000 educational pamphlets to Europe and throughout America to cultivate civiliza moral in war time.

National programs of physical and health education, Americanization, literacy and equal educational opportunities are subjects to be discussed tonight.

SCENE OF IMPENDING RAIL STRIKE IS QUIET

Neither Party Talks on Eve of Electricians Walkout at Spokane.

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—No move had been made early today by either party to the announced strike of electrical workers of the Spokane and Inland Empire railway company, set for three o'clock this afternoon, and P. E. Conners, receiver for the company, said nothing would be done after the hour set for the walkout. He said he had not arranged to obtain electrical current from the Washington Water Power company to operate street cars and interurban trains of the company. D. P. Reid, business agent of the electrical workers' union, called the strike in support of demands for back pay and increased wages under the government railroad administration scale.

DAY IS DEVOTED TO SERVICE MEN

War Mothers Entertain Special for Men Who Served Country in War Time

With a prelude of music Service Day was opened in the City park this morning. The starting exercises were held at 11:30 o'clock and were composed of music and brief talks to the discharged soldiers. Immediately after the formal program the discharged men of service were provided with an elaborate dinner in the basement of the First Methodist church, the War Mothers society having charge of the festive occasion. The affair throughout held an informality, the service men dining in attire such as they saw fit to wear. Most, however, in deference to the wishes of the Mothers, donned the uniform of his particular grade of service. Mrs. T. H. Irwin, president of the War Mothers' Society, had charge of the dinner, the war mothers cooperating with the special committee chosen by Mayor W. H. Eldridge for the reception of home-coming army and navy men several days ago. A service uniform constitutes a pass to everything happening today, whether it be of an official, institutional or commercial proposition.

AT THE JUMP OFF.
They're off!
Powder Breech—Let 'er buck!
At 1 o'clock this afternoon the Twin Fall Elks' Roundup was officially inaugurated. The band assembled in the Roundup park and for thirty minutes regaled the crowds with inspiring selections. Then the celebration was on in earnest.
The crowd was all there, filling the expansive stands to a comfortable limit. It was a gay throng, too, and sang the gayety that comes from the beverage that cheers, the crowd was hilariously joyous.

The program of events for today is this afternoon and Saturday. The double bill for the other three days, excepting that there will be ball games the afternoon and no time will be permitted for the national sports. The club will be here for a brace of days Saturday.

Many Cowboys Signed.

The Roundup committee has signed more than the score cowboys for the Roundup. The riders include champions in all classes, as well as some of the rarest of riding comedians and burlesquers. Ten thousand people at Roundup park were placed on sale this morning. They went fast.
Tomorrow's events, which start at 10 a. m. will be more extensive than on the first and last days of the Roundup, this being the celebration of Independence day, as well as the wild west show. The day's features will get under way with a parade down street at 10 o'clock. All Elks are to meet at their club rooms at 9:30 to make preparations for joining the procession. The line of march has been staked out and the marching order arranged in detail. At that hour remains in the arrival of the hour and the participants.

Services at Stockade.

Every evening this week there will be services in the stockade.
One of the features of this end of the program will be the appearance of Harry Parks, an Orpheum vaudeville circuit baritone singer, and Mrs. E. J. Earl, a soprano singer of Salt Lake, who has recently come to Twin Falls to reside. This show starts after the singing, with a six-horse cowboy quadrille, a bucking burro and mules, and a riding bucking horse and a man doting the feat. Singing and a potpourri, Indian war dance by Umattilas in tribal and war costumes, educated mules, boys in trick riding, and a western trick riding, a startling novelty, steer bulldozging, singing. There will be dancing on the street near the stockade all evening, and the annual Mardi Gras carnival at the conclusion.

GERMAN MOBILIZATION ON FRONT SIGNAL FOR U. S. INTERVENTION

of the Rhine or on the right bank west of a line running fifty kilometers to the east of that river.
"XIII. In the area defined above the maintenance and the assembly of armed forces, either permanently or temporarily, and military maneuvers of any kind as well as a suspension of permanent works for mobilization are in the same way forbidden."
"Article XLIV. In case Germany violates in any manner the provisions of Articles XLIII and XLIII she shall be regarded as committing a hostile act against the powers signatory of the present treaty and as calculated to disturb the peace of the world."
"In case these stipulations should not assure immediately to France appropriate security and protection the United States will be bound to honor its commitments and to enter into force until the moment when the latter is ratified."
"Article III. The present treaty must be submitted to the council of the society of nations and must be recognized by the council as an engagement in conformity with the covenant of the society. It will remain in force until on demand of one of the parties to the treaty the council finds that the society itself assures sufficient protection."
"Article IV. The present treaty shall be submitted to the council of the society of nations and must be recognized by the council as an engagement in conformity with the covenant of the society. It will remain in force until on demand of one of the parties to the treaty of Versailles or as soon afterwards as possible."
Then follows the signatures of M. Clemenceau, M. Pichon, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lansing.

British Colonies To Say

The agreement between Great Britain and France corresponds with that between the United States and France, with an additional provision that the treaty imposes no obligation upon any of the dominions of the British Empire unless and until it be approved by the parliament of each dominion interested. This agreement is signed by M. Clemenceau, M. Pichon, David Lloyd George, British secretary of state for foreign affairs.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, (AP)—After advancing to new high prices for the season, corn today fell back as a result of forecasts that showers would be widespread. The initial strength was due to dry, hot weather and to another record breaking upturn in the hog market. Later a disposition to avoid open risks over the holidays became evident. Opening prices, which ranged from 1-1/2 to 1-3/8 higher with September $1.83 1/2 to $1.84 1/8 and December $1.82 1/2 to $1.83 1/2, was followed by a decline all around to below yesterday's finish.

Sharply higher quotations at Buenos Aires led subsequently to a fresh upturn. The market closed strong, 5/8 to 3/4 cent higher with September $1.84 3/4 to $1.84 7/8 and December $1.82 3/8 to $1.82 1/2.
Cais were governed mainly by the action of corn. After opening 1-1/4 to 1-1/2 a like advance, including September 71 1/4 to 71 3/4, the market underwent a moderate sag.
Wheat—unchanged with hogs. Trade, however, was light. Pork and ribs tended to new high figures for the season.

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—Corn: July $1.85; September $1.84 1/2 to $1.84 3/8 bid; December $1.82.
Butter—Packing 1-1/2 lower; 42 1/2-3; others unchanged.
Eggs—Unchanged; firsts 41¢; weights 32¢.
Poultry—Hens 1-1/2 higher; $7 1/2-3; others unchanged.

CHICAGO, (AP)—Butter: lower; creamery $20@22.
Eggs—Receipts 17,000 cases; unchanged.
Poultry—Alive, lower; fowls 25 1/2¢. Potatoes—Unsettled; arrivals 60 lbs. New, Bliss Triumph No. 3, $3.25@3.40 cwt. Irish Cobbles No. 1, $4.50@5.25 cwt.

SPINSTER-TEACHER PAYS FOR MURDERER'S BURIAL

Body of Convicted Wife Killer Cremated at Woman's Expense.

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—A woman said to be a Brooklyn music teacher, had paid a Hempstead undertaker $100. It became known today, for cremation of the body of Dr. Walter Keeno Wilkins, convicted wife murderer, who committed suicide in jail here.
Counsel for the convicted physician said the woman, a spinster, telephoned him and asked to permit burial of the body in Potter's field, saying "that would be terrible." She never had seen Wilkins. It was said, but had written him concerning letters and referred him to certain passages in the bible. Classified Ads are cheap—effective.

"Meats in Storage"

Every working day of the year 75,000,000 pounds of meat are required to supply home and export needs—and only 10 per cent of this is exported.

These facts must be kept in mind when considering the U. S. Bureau of Markets report that on June 1, 1919, there were 1,348,000,000 pounds of meats in cold storage. If the meat in storage was placed on the market it would only be 20 days' supply.

This meat is not artificially withheld from trade channels to maintain or advance prices.

Meats in storage consist of—

- 65 per cent (approximate) hams, bacon, etc., in process of curing. It takes 30 to 90 days in pickle or salt to complete the process.
- 10 per cent is frozen pork that is to be cured later in the year.
- 6 per cent is lard. This is only four-fifths of a pound per capita, and much of it will have to go to supply European needs.
- 19 per cent is frozen beef and lamb, part of which is owned by the Government and was intended chiefly for over-seas shipment. If this were all diverted to domestic trade channels, it would be only 1 1/2 lbs. per capita—a 3 days' supply.

From this it will be seen that "meats in storage" represent merely unfinished goods in process of curing and the working supply necessary to assure the consumer a steady flow of finished product.
