DITCHRIDERS CONFRONTED BY MURDER CHARGE

E. L. Van Ripper Succumbs to Injury Said to Have Been Inflicted with Deadly Weapon in Hands of H. F. Grosvenor.

ALLEGED ASSAILANT IS WAITING OFFICIAL MOVE

Fatality Results from Altercation Over Water Supply; Deceased a Well-known Pioneer of Buhl District.

E. L. Van Ripper, a Buhl district farmer, is dead and H. F. Grosvenor, a ditch rider, faces a charge of murder. Grosvenor is in the county jail, where he has not since last Saturday.

Heavy Weapon Used

According to information in the hands of the county authorities, including the district prosecutor, Van Ripper was struck across the side of the head by Grosvenor who is said to have used a heavy wood hook or pole with the end of the hook pointed. The blow inflicted caused a fracture of the skull resulting in cerebral hemorrhage. Van Ripper is said to have been unconscious when picked up and never regained a lucid condition at any time except for very brief periods.

The altercation is said to have been the culmination of a long-running quarrel between the rancher and the ditch rider, the former claiming that Grosvenor persistently discriminated against him in the regulation of water supply from the late fall of 1917 to Van Ripper farm. It is related that the men had quarreled frequently on this score, the tension becoming more acute as the shortage of water in the main canal became general.

Takes Case Up

It is stated that Van Ripper has on several occasions appealed to the principal officials of the ditch company in an effort to have his complaint investigated and for the purpose of procuring better regulation of water. On one or two occasions it is remarked, officers for the matter of fact, have been sent out to the Van Ripper place to investigate, and due to these investigations the supply to the Van Ripper place was increased.

When Blow Was Struck

The farmer is said to have attempted to prove by pointing to the erosion mark in his feed ditch that his supply had been below the amount to which he was entitled, and it is at this point that the ditch rider is claimed to have resorted to the use of the wood hook.

Grosvenor Was Immediately Placed in County Jail without Bail pending the Outcome of Van Ripper's Injuries. It is Well Understood that a charge of murder against Grosvenor is being lodged against the ditch rider by the district attorney.

Van Ripper was one of the largest and most substantial farmers in the Buhl district.

ERZBERGER IS ARRANGING TO PAY INDEMNITY

German Minister of Finance Tells National Assembly Budget Must Be Divided Between Home and War Funds

SOON TO SUBMIT BUDGET OF 20 BILION MARKS

Terrible Burden of Debt Must Be Borne to Remove Dangerously Large Floating Indebtedness.

BERLIN. (AP)—Germany is quickly to return to peace time financial system said Math Erzberger, vice-chancellor and minister of finance, speaking at Weimar before the German national assembly today. The empire's needs must be divided between home and war needs and indemnities, he said. The year's expenditures confronting us will amount to about 17,500 million marks, he said. He received in the hard path of economy and therefore have given out the watchword that from October 1, 1919, there shall be no more war funds. The war finance system shall cease and a regular budget system must be re-established.

Hard Measures Impending

After filing the returns to the empire from taxation measures prior to and during the war and estimating the revenue to be derived from new tax bills, Herr Erzberger said: "There still remains a sum of over ten billion marks to be covered."

"The ministry of finance has almost completed the drafting of two important bills levying new taxes which I intend to submit to the assembly in the parliamentary recess," he continued. "These call for a large single levy on property and a large tax on both turnover and on the profits of business. The money for the payment of indemnities must be obtained by some other way. In the interim new bills will be introduced to submit to the national assembly with the final object of covering this deficit."

Hard Path of Economy

"The burdens of taxation will reach an absolutely terrible height. A floating debt of 22,000,000,000 marks is a constant danger and the removal of this debt is one of our most urgent tasks. There are two ways in which to do it—either by conversion into a funded loan or its extinction by big levies on a heavy property tax. I do not indulge the hope that these two ways will immediately yield the entire liquid amount of 22,000,000,000 marks. It is the duty of propertyed people, not only to slow to a state of compulsion but to achieve an inward conviction as to the necessity of giving up all riches and all that is superfluous."

"Changes in the system of taxation will be speedily submitted to the national assembly and this reform will follow after the completion of the whole work."

"Herr Erzberger concluded by asking that taxation bills be disposed of before a recess is taken, adding: "The war takes our riches. The world has denied us international justice. All the more passionately and energetically, however, will we work for the homeland again and, flourishing in the future, contribute our share and labor upon the poor but just German."

PARIS. —The German national assembly in Weimar today adopted the resolution ratifying the peace treaty, according to advisers published here today.

The resolution reads: "The peace treaty signed on June 28, 1919, as well as the protocol, annexed and special agreements on military occupation of the Rhineland are hereby ratified. This law becomes effective from the date of its promulgation."

Blockade To Be Raised

Ratification of the peace treaty by the German national assembly removes all doubt of the acceptance of the terms by Germany.

The national assembly by ratifying the treaty makes it possible for the allied and associated powers to raise the blockade. Official notification was sent Germany June 29 that the blockade would be raised when the treaty was ratified. Placing this condition on the raising of the blockade was looked upon in peace conference circles as a sure plan for securing speedy ratification by Germany.

The council of five on Monday decided to lift the commercial censorship on communications with Germany simultaneously with the removal of the blockade.

Ebert Must Sign Resolution

Proclamation of the resolution ratifying the treaty is dependent upon the signing of the resolution by President Ebert.

When three of the principal allied powers, in addition to Germany, have ratified the treaty it becomes effective for those who have ratified it. After Germany and the three allied powers have ratified it the treaty will come into force for each other power on the day when it notifies the peace conference secretary of its ratification.

Assembly First to Act

The German national assembly is the first to act in the matter. Its representatives signal, the treaty is adopted a ratifying resolution. The treaty has been laid before the British, French and Belgian parliaments and will be placed before the senate of the United States tomorrow by President Wilson.

Eleven officials of the company were named in the information. The immediately following filing of the suit, United States Judge W. H. S. U. S. AVIATORS ARE PERMITTED TO VIEW R-34

Comprehensive Description of Giant Atlantic Crossing Dirigible Is Given by American Army Officer.

MINNEAPOLIS, N. Y. (AP)—Officers of the United States army and navy aviation sections have been permitted to inspect the giant dirigible R-34 and Captain Samuel T. Moore of the balloon section, who contains an engine, the Associated Press representative description of the first lighter-than-air ship to cross the Atlantic.

Over all the R-34 is 640 feet in length with four gas gondolas suspended from the cigar-shaped envelope. The forward gondola is occupied by the navigator and pilots and at all parts of the ship are controlled by means of speaking tubes and bell signals.

In the rear of the forward gondola is the wireless room which also holds one of the ship's engines. The two side gondolas each contain an engine and are only large enough for two men to work. The rear car holds two engines.

Deck Inside Big Bag

While the gondolas can be seen by visitors to the field, little or nothing has been allowed to filter out concerning the inside of the big bag. Inside the bag is the deck of the ship, 25 feet in length and 10 feet in width except at its middle where it widens out into a compartment eight feet in width. The deck is supported by a dining saloon, the officers and crew as a dining saloon.

The hydrogen gas—the lifting power of the ship—is carried in eighteen compartments at the top of the bag and are of gold heater skin, which is common language is nothing more than the blimps of intakes of calve.

Use of Water Ballast

When ready to start on a flight the final inflation of the dirigible is made. This operation takes place usually at the minimum temperature of the air when the greatest quantity of hydrogen gas can be put into the bag. The expansion of gas in the bags is aided by releasing water ballast at the rate of ten per cent of water in 30 degrees of rising temperature. Also ten per cent of water ballast is released in each 2,500 feet of altitude.

When the R-34 leaves the ground it is permitted to rise to its equilibrium, or about as high as can be reached its equilibrium the engines are started and the flight begins. The fuel—gasoline and oil—is carried in 81 tanks. Sixteen of these tanks are fixed to the frame work of the bag structure and the others are known as sliding tanks and can be discarded as they are needed.

The water ballast is carried in canvas bags of two types. There are eight emergency bags, four forward and four aft, which are emptied in emergency because they cannot be controlled. Six other water bags are controlled by levers and their contents can be released or secured. The water ballast contents are sufficient to prevent freezing in high altitude.

The dining saloon contains three tables capable of being raised to the upper framework where-foot in use. The saloon is large enough to permit half of the crew to eat at a time. The food is cooked by appliances attached to the cabin framework.

The crew sleep in light hammocks at the sides of the deck extending out over the bag proper, and in case a sleeper falls from his net there is nothing to prevent him falling through the bag.

All members of the crew wear rubber-soled shoes to prevent the possibility of striking a spark which would mean damage and possible disaster to the bag.

WILSON CERTAIN PEOPLE APPROVE NATION'S LEAGUE

President Declares His Welcome Gives "Immediate Assurance" but Plans for His Speaking Tour Continues.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Refreshed after a night's rest, the first he has spent at the White House, in four months, President Wilson early today began what promised to be one of the busiest days of his career as chief executive of the United States. In addition to the vast amount of routine work which had accumulated during his long stay at the peace conference at Paris and which included the signing of a number of important appropriation measures passed recently by congress, the president had planned conferences throughout the day with congress leaders and members of his cabinet and executive staff. It also was expected that if time was available later, in the day the members of the senate foreign relations committee would be received at the White House for a conference on the peace treaty.

Senate Speech Completed.

The speech he plans to deliver before the senate Thursday was completed before he landed at New York yesterday from the George Washington and the chief matter in connection with the league of nations to be discussed today was the proposed speaking tour which he hopes to be able to leave Washington about the middle of next week. The itinerary of the trip has not yet been completed.

The return of the president and his party to the capital last night was marked by one of the greatest demonstrations in point of the number of those participating that ever greeted a president on his return from a trip. District officials familiar with landing big crowds stated that the throng that greeted the presidential party at the Union station and along Pennsylvania avenue at fully 100,000.

The ceremonies of welcome were brief. Responding to an address of welcome from the head of a committee of citizens of Columbia citizens Mr. Wilson said he came home content that the people of the United States were for the league of nations. The unexpected was because he said was particularly pleasing because he felt it was "immediate assurance" of his feeling.

It was after midnight when Mr. and Mrs. Wilson reached the White House.

LINCOLN, Neb., (AP)—The moderate use of liquor as a beverage by householders in Nebraska is punishable before the prohibition law went into effect is legal, according to a decision handed down by the Nebraska supreme court today which reversed the judgment of the district court of Richardson county in the case of the state against Paul Hempel of Falls City, May, 1917, for having a large amount of liquor in his possession, and the district court fined him $100 and costs. WAR DEPARTMENT PROBE PROCEEDS

Witness Tells Committee French Bought Billion and Half Value for Three Hundred Million.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—C. W. Haro, director of the war department, told a sub-committee of the house war investigating committee Tuesday that difficulties in determining the size of the army and obtaining use of men and equipment for handling the stocks caused five months delay in placing surplus army food stocks on sale. These stocks now include $50,000,000 worth of meat and $100,000,000 worth of canned vegetables.

Mr. Haro was the first witness called by the sub-committee which is authorized to investigate war-time expenditures of the war department. The French government having offered only $300,000,000 for American army equipment in France costing $1,500,000,000, the war department has ordered a sales organization for disposal of the property to be formed in France. Director of Sales Haro told a special house committee investigating war department expenditures abroad.

London Reporter Investigating U. S. Sees Mostly Gloom

Counts Floorwalkers and Policemen Among Most Downcast in Appearance.

LONDON, (AP)—Having read in an American paper of a campaign launched over there to promote cheerfulness, a London reporter made a tour to see if such a campaign would help this side of the Atlantic. "The word 'charm' was the upshot of his impressions. A superficial investigation in the city," he writes, "revealed the presence of a surprising number of people who appeared to be in the possession of their position." The most gloomy looking were restaurant floorwalkers, underground lift attendants, shop assistants, porters, foreign news, film, gatekeepers, tram conductors, messengers in government offices, theater booking office clerks, jewelers, teashop waitresses, railway porters and sentries out on duty.

"Not only," he says, "was observed to be suffering from 'soul sickness.' Assistants in most shops, an American tourist in the city, was surprised to find the agent of a customer as a flippant intrusion on their meditation."

ARE-RE-MAKING DISABLED YANKS

Civil Service and Vocationalists Co-operate to Make Over Crippled Veterans.

United States soldiers, sailors, and marines who are injured in the service of their country are receiving special consideration at the hands of the United States civil service commission. The commission is now working in co-operation, according to advices from Washington, with the civil service commission in making application for examination of disabled veterans. The physical condition is such that he would not ordinarily be accepted, his case is referred to the federal board for vocational education. The federal board is the one that decides on the cases who promptly goes out after the man and offers him the services of the board's organization for special training. If he is not fit for the work for which he has applied, or for some other employment if it does not seem practicable to train him for the work for which he made application to the civil service commission, the federal board will have referred to the federal board by the civil service commission.

Under a recent amendment of the civil service rules, made on the recommendation of the civil service commission, the commission may waive the established physical requirements in favor of a disabled and honorably discharged veteran. The waiver is given the certification of the federal board for vocational education that he has been specially trained for and has passed a practical test demonstrating his physical ability to perform the duties of the class of positions in which employment is sought.

OKLAHOMA STATE HELPS TICK FIGHT

An outbreak which threatened to delay the final extermination of the tick fever tick in Oklahoma is believed to have been averted when the Oklahoma state legislature recently appropriated $100,000 to aid the work in those areas where progress of the pest is noticeable. Through this help it is believed that several of the counties unable to complete tick eradication on their own are placed this year or next year in the territory freed from the tick and from the federal restrictions against the movement of cattle from tick-infested territory. According to recent reports to the Bureau of animal industry of the United States department of agriculture, systematic tick eradication work is being carried on in Pittsburg, Coal, Letlow, Carter and Latimer counties, and the infested portions of Muskogee and Love counties. The reports indicate that public as well as official sentiment is being developed in the state against the parasite which has impeded the development of profitable live stock raising and balanced farming. Buying opportunities are not for the tick fever. The stores advertise their offerings.

GERMANS LEAVE HEALTH IN WAKE

OSTEND, Belgium, (AP)—After nearly five years of war, Ostend is now a desolate and almost uninhabitable under present conditions, with the Casino reopening of the famous Casino. A few months ago the great saloons of the Casino were a scene of devastation and wanton destruction. The buildings escaped the bombardment that transformed so many of the beautiful hotels and villas along the Digue into heaps of rubble and twisted metal. The glass has repaired all the damage thus occasioned, but the Germans had plundered and defiled the saloons. Every sign of anything taken away, beautiful interiors were slashed and torn by German bayonets and every mirror in the halls was removed. Together with his copper cable in the saloons and the beautiful copper staircase. Not content with robbing the Germans left the whole place in a state that would have shamed any nation inhabiting a stable. But since then a miracle has been wrought, and but for the fact that some of the more valuable fittings are at present out of temporary repairs, the impression there is no evidence of the war as far as the Casino is concerned.

"PROSPECTING" FOR "STRIKE" IN ABANDONED MINE DISCLOSES BOZZE

ELY, Nev., (AP)—The romance surrounding the life of the miner and prospectors has frequently been responsible for stories of mines which yielded fortunes in the precious metals and which suddenly stopped production because of loss of the ledge or vein carrying the riches. The "Black Mule" mine in Spring Valley, about 15 miles from here, is one of these mines which gave up a fortune after having been abandoned.

The fortune, however, was not in gold or silver or other precious metal, but in liquor—red liquor—which now commands a price that is fast approaching the figure—per ton rate—that "high grade" used to command in Nevada's early mining days. Patron Talks Too Much. The "Black Mule" was a producer of rich ore in the early days of White Pine county mining activities. Every high grade and drift was worked out, however, and the shaft has been hoisted up for years. A man said to be a resident of Ely recently talked too much and as a result talked too much. The rumors of a mining "strike" in the talk spread and with it the "Black Mule" that were rumored. The rumors of the location of the new "strike."

Dethroned Monarch Saws His 4000th Log After Reading Trial Clause in Treaty.

AMERONGEN, (AP)—The former German emperor displayed marked irritation after reading the clause of the peace treaty in which the allies announced their intention of putting him on trial on charges of violation of international morality and of the sanctity of treaties. For several hours after he had read the clause to one of the castle of Amerongen, the emperor was approached him. He sat in a chair before the main entrance to the castle entirely alone and apparently in deep thought while the former empress, Augusta Victoria, and the members of his suite walked in the grounds occasionally gazing in his direction. Nervous for Day. Next day he seemed to be in a state of nervous tension, but frequently calmed his sawing and walked away leaving those who assist him to continue the work alone. Later, however, he resumed with increased energy, so that he was able to cut 4000 logs, which he was forced to take to his bed for some days in order to recover from a chill caught while perspiring at the other end of the saw. Subsequently the dull life at the castle resumed its ordinary dullness and since the first display of annoyance Count Hohenloher has shown few signs of being much affected by the conditions of the peace treaty. Makes Fuel for Whites. The former emperor has "sawn his 4000th log" and it is asserted by some of his retainers that he intends to bring the number up to 10,000. The logs which now form a large heap are placed in piles to dry in preparation for use as fuel in the castle next winter.

DEBATE RAGES OVER ADMITTING WOMEN PRIESTS

Clergymen Join with Laymen and Women in Hooting or Cheering During Arguments on Question in London House

LONDON, (AP)—Excitement attended a debate in a public meeting held the other day in Church House, Westminster, the headquarters of Church of England, over the question whether women should be admitted to the priesthood. The principal debaters were Miss Maude Royden, a leader of the movement for women clergy, and the Rev. Dr. Gore, a staunch opponent of the scheme.

Clergymen joined with laymen and women in hooting, cheering, according to the side who took.

Dr. Gore's proposition was "To admit women to the priest's hood." The Rev. Mr. Magee declared, "I would be a revolution, not an evolution. They cannot have a revolution of that character until the whole church has set its seal upon it and God has approved of it."

Hissing and cries of "shame" greeted his discussion of the moral rot which likely to be introduced into the church if the latter were admitted. "You cannot get away from the sex question," he said. "We are made as we are, and that fact remains."

Amid applause from his friends he said he believed the granting of the priesthood to women would make her false to her master and false to her sex.

Miss Women Church's Heads "Women," argued Miss Royden, "desire women as priests, and their admission to the priesthood would make it much easier for women to get help from the church."

After quoting the New Testament to show that the commission of the priesthood was given to men and women alike in the "Upper Room" at Jerusalem, she continued:

"The head of the Church of England has never always been a man. Elizabeth, Queen Anne and Queen Victoria were all supreme heads of the church."

"No, No," shouted many voices. "It is a sorry if you don't like it," Miss Royden told the protesting element, "but it is so."

Argues Sex No Bar She went on to affirm that the fundamental differences between men and women were not a bar to women's entry into the priest hood. "Women," she concluded, "desire to conform more nearly to the ideal laid down by Christ. He laid down nothing and suggested nothing that divided men and women in the vocation of priesthood. No vote was taken on the subject."

BIRDS PROVE EFFICIENT AID TO FOREST SERVICE

Pigeons Demonstrate Value as Means of Communication in Oregon Reserves.

BEND, Ore., (AP)—Pigeons brought to Bend by the forest service are demonstrating their value as a means of communication between points not connected by telephone. William Sproat of the Des Chutes National forest reported after a trip to East Lake where he carried on a series of tests with the birds. Six carriers were taken to the lake and released at intervals, time being kept on the flights. The birds took from 40 to 60 minutes each, averaging close to a mile a minute. When a smoke forest fire was located by Sproat and the news was sent into headquarters by carrier pigeon before it could be transmitted by telephone by the fire lookout.

NEW STANDARDS SPELL DOOM OF FAMOUS FLEET

Twelve Battleships, Authors of Many Bright Pages in American Navy Annals, to Be Broken Up and Sold for Junk or Used for Targets, Officials Decide.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Decision of the navy department to break up and sell for scrap the twelve oldest and obsolete battleships marks the passing of a fleet of vessels long identified with many of the most glorious achievements of the new American navy. They wrote many bright pages in the country's naval history during their years of active and four of them have participated actively in two wars. The doomed ships, including the famous old Spanish-American war sloop, the USS Oregon, the Oregon, Iowa, Indiana and Massachusetts and the more modern but hardly less famous Kentucky, Keokuk, Alabama, Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio, Missouri and Maine, are to be broken up, the most if not the most powerful battleship fleet in the world more than 15 years ago.

In War with Spain.

Efficient among the achievements of these famous old fighting craft is the part they played in the Spanish-American war. The Oregon, which had been commissioned at San Francisco in July, 1893, was at Mare Island yard in 1898 when the Spanish fleet was ordered to the United States at war with Spain. On March 6, 1898, the famous old ship cleared the Golden Gate, bound for the West Indies, on what proved to be the most epoch-making battleship voyage ever undertaken. With decks stripped for action and gun crews at their stations the Oregon glided down the coast to the west coast of South America and arrived at Key West on May 26, nearly 14,000 miles voyage in 68 cruising days. Capt. C. E. Clark, the Oregon's commanding officer, was ordered to take his ship to Santiago and there join the blockading squadron which was awaiting battle with the Spanish fleet.

In the Iowa, Massachusetts and Indiana, sister ships of the Oregon, were attached to the north Atlantic fleet and had already arrived off Cuba, the Massachusetts being part of the famous fighting squadron under command of Commodore Schley.

Humble Spanish Sea Power.

The Oregon, already famous throughout the world for her glorious and successful voyage to join the American fleet in the battle of Santiago, had gained greater glory in the action off Santiago de Cuba on Sunday, July 3, 1898, when Spanish sea power was forever humbled and the liberation of the island of Cuba assured. In that historic sea fight the Oregon ran the Vizcaya, pride of the Spanish fleet, ashore after riddling her craft with hits from her eight 13-inch guns and then engaged in a running fight with the Colon which surrendered after having been cut off from the open sea by the Oregon and forced to head for the beach. A Cuban cutter, one of the Oregon's thirteen inch guns was the last shot fired during the battle.

Both the Indiana and the Iowa participated in the battle at Santiago. The Massachusetts, having gone to Guantanamo to coal on the day of the engagement. The crew of the Massachusetts, much disappointed at having missed the fight, gained revenge the next night when that vessel and the old battleship, Texas, engaged and sunk the Spanish cruiser Reina Mercedes as that vessel attempted to escape from the harbor at Santiago.

Convoys Troops to Cuba.

The Massachusetts was the flagship of the naval vessels in charge of conveying American troops from Cuba to Porto Rico for the Porto Rican campaign. After the battle of Santiago she remained the San Marcos, and was a target for later battleships at Tanager sound in Chesapeake Bay. After the Spanish American war the Oregon returned to the west coast where the glorious old ship, then in the height of her fame, was received with triumphant demonstrations. She remained there on duty with the Pacific fleet until a decade ago, her usefulness gone, she was placed in reserve commission.

The Iowa, Massachusetts and Indiana participated in the battle of Manila Bay, the victor's fleet after the Spanish-American war and remained on duty in home waters for many years. After the Oregon had been placed in reserve the three sister ships were for several years used as training vessels and conveyed the midshipmen from the Naval Academy abroad each summer for a cruise. Finally they were removed to the docks in navy yards, apparently to rust away.

Carry Flag to World Class.

In the meantime a later class of ships had been launched to add to the glory of the American naval power. The Keokuk, Kentucky, Illinois, Wisconsin, Maine, Missouri and Ohio, launched between 1898 and 1901 formed the nucleus of the great naval powers. These ships, designed and built for the world, carried the American flag into the ports of the world for many years and in 1907, when the mighty United States fleet left New York for the historic voyage to the Philippines, the Oregon in all lands the might and power of the American navy, they held their places their more modern sisters throughout that memorable voyage. Greeted with the same honors as the Oregon, the Oregon, America, the west coast of the United States, Australia, New Zealand, the islands of the Pacific, far eastern ports and points in the Mediterranean, the Oregon completed the most comprehensive cruise ever undertaken by so large a body of ships of war.

On the return of the fleet to this country the older ships were forced into the background by the newer navy and were sent to the back channels of the navy yards to join the Oregon, Iowa, Massachusetts and Indiana.

Old Navy Answers Call.

The entrance of the United States into the world war brought a demand for every ton of sea power the United States could command and again the old navy was called upon to defend the flag. All of the 12 old vessels were outfitting for modern fire control appliances were installed, new coats of "war paint" were applied to their time-worn sides and they were called out to join the fleet.

The Oregon saw service on the west coast throughout the war as a coast defense vessel and training ship for enlisted personnel. The Massachusetts, Iowa and Indiana were sent to the station ships at Newport, R. I., Norfolk, Va., and New York respectively and later were ordered south to join the main fighting force which already included the Keokuk, Kentucky and the remainder of the war the historic old ships took part in the operations of the United States fleet along the coast and rendered valuable service as training ships.

After the armistice the Iowa, Massachusetts and Indiana were sent to the navy yard at Philadelphia where their colors were hauled down for the last time and they were assigned to the preservation of ships. The Oregon sailed on a similar fate on the Pacific coast. The other ships of the Old Navy remained temporarily on duty, but their use as troop transporters, but their use will soon be relegated to the scrap heap.

Oregon May Be Museum

The Oregon has been offered to the state of Oregon for such use as the state may see fit to make of it as a training ship and naval historical museum, the only condition being that the commonwealth keep the old sea fighter in good condition as befits a time honored possession of glorious history. The first Massachusetts and Indiana may be broken up in order that the valuable metal components in them, particularly copper and bronze, may be utilized in the construction of more modern vessels. Several of the other old ships will be used for targets and the rest junked. "Three of our vessels famous forever in American naval annals, the Olympia, Admiral Buxton's flagship at Manila Bay, the New York, Rear Admiral Sampson's flagship and the Brooklyn, Rear Admiral Schley's flagship, also saw service during the world war and are still on active duty in various parts of the world. It is probable that in a very few years all of these historic ships will be placed out of commission for good. They will never, however, be scrapped in the opinion of naval officers."

Damage Done to Red River Valley Crops Is Reported Light

FARGO, N. D., (AP)—So material damage has been done to crops in the Red River valley and probably will not occur from the prevalence of black foot in the valley, according to Dean H. F. Bulley, of the North Dakota agricultural college.

"All of these dry winds of the past few days have tended toward the loosening of crop formation and toward the checking of the rust," Dean Bulley said.

BOTH LITIGANTS WERE RELUCTANT TO GO INTO WAR

Attorney for Henry Ford in Libel Suit Scores Point in Cross-examination of Editorial Writer.

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., (AP)—Tiffany Blake, chief editorial writer for the Chicago Daily Tribune, a witness in the Ford libel suit, was turned over to Attorney Alfred Lucking for cross-examination Tuesday. The Ford lawyer intimated that the reason the Tribune continued paying salaries of employees who went with the national guard to the Mexican border in 1914 was that, as the newspaper had been urging intervention for two or three years it regarded the mobilization as a sort of personal triumph.

Tribune Out Pay Bell

"I do not so understand," replied the witness to a question by the attorney. "But when the great war came the Tribune did not pay its employees who joined the colors?" persisted the lawyer.

"I believe that is true." "The Tribune argued against going to war with Germany in 1914?" "I think argued too strong a word. We were reluctant to go in, if I may suggest the word." "That's all right," nodded Mr. Lucking. "The Tribune had that right," added Mr. Lucking. "The Tribune had that right. It was reluctant to enter the war and so was Mr. Ford."

NEW YORK, (AP)—A copy of the memorandum setting forth alleged conditions in Tipperary county, Ireland, issued Monday at Dublin by the chief secretary for Ireland, in outlawing Sinn Fein organizations and Irish volunteers from Tipperary county has been received here from British sources in London.

The memorandum recites a series of lawless acts reported to British peace officers, and quotes from two documents said to have been seized by British authorities in Ireland. Quotations given from these two documents deal with an alleged "boycott" of police and measures to be taken against them.

FAVORS FEDERAL RULE OF RAILS

New Member of Interstate Commerce Commission Gives Views.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Better results in transportation can be obtained by maintaining and improving federal operation than by returning to "old methods in whatever guise," Joseph H. Eastman, member of the interstate commerce commission, declared Tuesday in a communication to the senate interstate commerce committee. He was not a member of commission when the commission's views on the railroad situation were given the committee last winter.

Mr. Eastman declared that federal control of the roads should continue so as to ensure necessary capital at low cost; to avoid unduly high rates; to solve the problem of the "loak" roads; to obtain the operating advantages which come from unification, and to promote right relations with labor.

otherwise credited, in this paper, and

PRINTING THE NEWS

It is an old fact that Nonpartisan League members and sympathizers have quite unable to depend upon their own newspapers for information as to the trend of events in North Dakota, such as far instance, the Townley and Gilbert trial now in progress. Even the outcome of the recent referendum election whereby backers of the league program sought a vote of endorsement for the League movement and received it in the slim of a resulting margin so narrow as to settle all question as to the growth of the League in that State, was either studiously ignored or trimmed to a point where it was scarcely recognizable.

There are a number of Nonpartisan newspapers in Idaho, although probably not so many as there were last Spring and Summer. Even the Twin Falls Times, which is sufficiently nonpartisan to have its editor serve as intro-ducer of the editor of the Nonpartisan Free Press when the latter spoke in Twin Falls on July Fourth—the same Free Press whose editorials in defense of Debs' stand in opposition to certain features of the government's war program led to resolutions of condemnation of the articles in which its own stockholders joined—has been curiously reticent upon the subject of both, the election and the Townley trial, and this withstanding the fact that a number of owned Nonpartisan claim openly
to own stock in the Times.

No newspaper has anything to gain
by either suppressing or unduly emphasizing its news dispatches. The newspapers which deals in facts, in its news columns is the only newspaper worthy of the name. Papers which operate upon any other basis are merely pandering to one certain class of readers.
They are not newspapers but organs,
and as such are of interest only to the class from which they derive their support.

The News deals in news; news disseminated via the Associated Press, an association which is compelled to be fair by reason of the fact that it serves newspapers of as many different shades of public thought and public policy, almost as there are printing presses in the country.

Of course it should be borne in mind that the Associated Press, while the greatest of all news gathering organizations, is not the only one. One at least, of the others apparently does not regard Townley and his doings as being of any particular interest to anyone.

ITS FUNNY

In the current number of Harvey's Weekly, appears this sentence in one of the Harvey editorials: "Surely it is folly to fear that any other power will repeat that venture against us after our tremendous and successful exhibition of defensive prowess during the last two years."

The point comes in the tail of the sentence. So far as known this is the first time that Colonel Harvey has admitted that a single good thing could be honestly said in connection with any part of the program of America's conduct of the war. For the past two years Harvey's Weekly has devoted itself to the work of scientifically deaming every single feature of the government's war activities. His comment upon current events has been one hundred per cent criticism and fault finding. It is of course true that there was much to find fault with that many things were badly done and that some of the things done had been much better left undone. But that America ever actually put up a "tremendous and successful exhibition of defensive prowess"
none would suspect from anything

that has gone before from the Harvey fount.
Criticism is all right. To succeed every man should have lots of it, and from the rattle and fire of conflicting thought must emerge that compromise
of action which is most apt to be right.
But that particular sentence must have come hard from Harvey, taught through years to view events political only through the eyeglass of narrow partisanship and schooled to see only the faults
and never the virtues of political enemies.

Colonel Harvey is an interesting type of editor. He deals only in the things which he believes to be wrong and he deals with them in a style which will not permit of even an occasional flash of commendation for any feature which happens to be right.

The purely one-sided discussion of anything is almost a thing of the past in America.

SOME WHO KNOW

There are men in Twin Falls, lately returned from Germany, who will subscribe to the notion that the truth of President Wilson's declaration last evening that he was "the most homesick man in the American expeditionary forces" entitles him at least to a place in the memory of men along side that of Job of the scriptures.

time the September option went to a premium over July. Excellent weather conditions travel to the north, a temporary barrier to the advance, which was stimulated to a large extent by new record-breaking high prices on hogs.
Opening quotations ranged from 3.8
to 1.28 off July, with September $3.01
to 1.92 and December $1.60 to 1.67.
July, were followed by a sharp ascent all around to well above yesterday's finish.

July, in which there was only a light trade, mounted to nearly $2 a bushel, and that price in full was completed by the close of the day.
Free realizing by longs in September,
failed to affect the market to any important degree. The close was unchallenged, 3.86 off to 1.28 net advance with September $3.95 to 1.92, 7.8 and December $1.63 to 1.65.

Bullish crop advice gave independent strength to oats. After opening 1.66 off to 1.28 off July, with September $1.67
to 1.72 and December $1.40 to 1.45.
Provisions were lifted by the action of hogs and grain. Business, however, lacked animation.

DATE SET FOR DEPARTURE OF PACIFIC FLEET

Start from Hampton Roads to Be Made July 19, Navy Department Announces; Pearl Island to Be Base for Armada

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The newly organized Pacific fleet will sail from Hampton Roads for the west coast on Saturday, July 19. It was announced today by the navy department today that final arrangements were completed at a conference in New York yesterday between Secretary Daniels and Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander of the fleet.
Mr. Daniels said the fleet would be at San Diego between August 3 and
10. After stopping at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Puget Sound, a number of the ships probably will go to Hawaii for a short stay.

Daniels May Make Trip
Secretary Daniels has not decided definitely that he will accompany the fleet, but if he does not he will meet
it at San Diego and make the cruise northward on the Pacific coast and to Hawaii.

Many of the vessels of the Pacific fleet are now in Hampton Roads, while the others are at Alton, near Washington, where minor repairs are being completed. It is expected that the entire force will be concentrated at Hampton Roads by the middle of next week.

Base Improvements Planned

Secretary Daniels said his contemplated trip to Hawaii was in connection with recommendations which he will make to congress next fall for improvements at Pearl Harbor, the naval base in Hawaii. Dr. Daniels said the Pacific fleet would be based at Pearl Harbor much of the time and that very extensive improvements would be necessary there in order to care for the armada.

London Free From Floods

London, owing to its wise embankment schemes, is free from the peril
of floods, which annually menace
Paris. But it was not always so.
Stow tells many woe-filled tales of floods,
when "men did row wherries in the midst of Westminster hall" and great numbers of folk were drowned. The high tide of the river, however, that the floods had minor complications, since after such minor come "like handlocks by your hand as they float aloft
on the waves."

Useful Substitute.

Not least novel of substitutes is the use of iron in place of wool for filtering air for compressors and for cooling electric apparatus. The new filter is provided with long and cooked passages, in which dust particles are held up by the sharp turns and simple friction along the straighter portions of the route. The air is quite free from moisture. Little pressure is necessary, and the cleaning seems to be quite effective.

Good and Bad Effects of Tea.

The action of tea as a stimulant on the brain is well known. It causes a slight rise in the blood pressure, gives a flip to the heart, causes somewhat deeper breathing and restores for a spell waning muscular power. Its chief benefit is the retarding influence that it exerts upon digestion.

Diarrhea on Character.

In all lives there is a certain information of character, wrote Diarrail.
It comes from many causes, and from some which on the surface are apparently even trivial. But the result is the same; a sudden revelation to ourselves of our secret purposes and a recognition of our perhaps long-ago-wed but now masterful convictions.

WHEAT CROP IS CUT IN REPORT

Government Estimates Total Production at Point Showing Losses.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Wheat production prospects were put into heavily as a result of plant diseases and other conditions during June and a loss of 75,000,000 bushels from the June 1 estimate was indicated today in the department of agriculture's forecast
which placed the output at 1,101,000, 000 bushels. Winter wheat showed a loss of 53,000,000 bushels and spring wheat 21,000,000 bushels. The winter wheat crop, nevertheless, will be the largest ever grown.

Corn production was forecast at 2, 815,000,000 bushels, 13,000,000 bushels larger than last year's crop. The average is 4.2 per cent less than last year's.
White potato production estimated at 301,000,000 bushels, will be smaller than last year, but the sweet potato
crop estimated at 102,000,000 bushels, promises to be a record one. The oats
crop, estimated at 1,400,000,000 bushels,
is slightly smaller than last year, but larger than the five year average.

SISTER PROJECT HELPS TWIN FALLS DISTRICT

Mindoka Irrigation Company Loans Supply of Water to Meet Present Emergency

Joint action of the directors of the Mindoka project and those of the Twin Falls Canal company yesterday afternoon guarantees farmers on the Twin Falls tract 60 per cent of normal supply of water for irrigation beginning July 11. This means that irrigators in this district will receive more than the 30 per cent of normal flow awarded them on a recent decision of the irrigating company from this present time to the morning of July 10, and may extend beyond that date.

The new scheme is the result of the Mindoka project people's generous offer to provide the Twin Falls Canal company with a gross supply of 6,720 acre feet of water during the dates mentioned, on guarantee that this amount will be returned to the Mindoka project storage basin by August 25 of this year. The water is to be taken from the Mindoka project storage supply at Jackson lake, the project holding at this time more water at its command than present needs require.

The present flow in the Twin Falls canal is nearly 70 per cent of normal, due to the letting down of irrigation in the upper reaches of the Snake river during the holiday season. The gratuitous supply from the Mindoka project will practically continue the present flow until the morning of July 16.

It is the proposal of the Twin Falls Canal company not to restore in small quantities the 720 acre feet of water loaned but to shut down all distribution for an entire 24 hour period at the end of the time limit and return the gift in one body. This plan, however, has not been fully decided upon and will not be fixed as a definite scheme until a later meeting of the directors of the water company.

The present scheme of supply practically guarantees the Twin Falls tract a good wheat crop, and will provide ample watering for clover and a second crop of alfalfa, besides assuring a fairly full fall pasturing.

W. O. Taylor, secretary of the company.

No rain has fallen in any of the Snake river districts in the past 24 hours and rising temperatures are reported everywhere.

ROUNDUP BRINGS LODGE BIG LOSS

Disbursements, with Heavy War Tax, Are Away Over Receipts of Fete.

Successful though the Elks Roundup was from an entertainment point of view, and from the fact that it benefited Twin Falls materially in point of bringing to this city an immense throng for the celebration, and further, that it gave the city intensive publicity over a large field, it has proved more or less of a financial disaster to the Elks lodge. Thus far, with the check incomplete, the auditor shows a loss of more than $4000.

An effort has been made to complete an accurate check of the receipts and disbursements in connection with the operation of the Roundup so that an early report could be returned to the lodge. Bills and claims have come in slowly and are still being received at headquarters, showing an increase in expenditures daily.

This morning, when the checking committee had about decided that claims against the Elks were about all received, and the receipts about balanced, the disbursements attention was directed to the fact that the war tax of 10 per cent of the gross receipts had not been given in account. This item itself is approximately $4000.

To Demonstrate Canning.—The women of Poplar Hill will tomorrow hold a demonstration in vegetable canning using a pressure cooker. The demonstration will be held at the home of Mrs. Rowe with the county farm demonstrator, Miss Ludwig, in charge.

Testimony Complete.—Testimony in the H. H. Fredeheim versus Elsa Fredeheim divorce action has all been submitted and the court has taken the decision to be held in the afternoon. A decision will be announced in the course of the present term, it is understood.

Leave for Home.—Mr. and Mrs. Harley Barnhart, who have been here visiting at the J. D. Barnhart ranch on Addison avenue, yesterday left for Aron, Colo., where Mr. Barnhart will be employed as deputy county clerk. The young people were married late in June at Santa Ana, Cal. He has been in arctic service.

To Finish Water Delivery.—G. M. Hill, manager of the Salmon trust, who was in Twin Falls for a short time yesterday, reported that water delivery on that tract would be finished next week. Mr. Hill says some of the shops on the tract will be good, while others will be poor. Hay, he declares, is a short crop and if there is to be any fall pasturing there will have to be some cautious rains immediately.

The following permits to marry have been granted: To Jesse H. Simpson, aged 23, and Pearl Skelton, 19, both of Kayville, Utah.

Weather Forecasts.

United States weather forecasts are based on the general study of types of weather combined with the study of the series of the daily weather maps for a few days immediately preceding the period for which predictions are to be made. No forecast of weather is made for a period of advance longer than is warranted by the rapidity of atmospheric changes at that time. Many attitudes contain astronomical predictions, but they are not taken seriously.

The Wild Onion school teacher lectured on the United States a few nights ago to a large audience. In the course of his remarks he paid a glowing tribute to our country, and it is regretted that everybody in the United States were not present. Watch Is Stolen; Accusation Filed Wayfarers Are Suspected of Robbery in a Bunkhouse on Kimberly Ranch.

Complaint has been filed by District Prosecutor Frank Stephan against John Doe and Richard Roe, defendants whose identity at present is unknown, accusing petty larceny. The complaint results from charges made by Robert F. Handy, who alleges that he was robbed of a watch, the property of Walter Tucker.

Handy, who resides near Kimberly, alleges that while he was at work on the Tucker ranch two men entered a bunk house and after they were gone the loss of the watch was disclosed. Search of the neighborhood around Kimberly by attaches of the sheriff's office, failed to reveal the presence of the men accused.

PULLS GUN'S TRIGGER—LOADED—CHILD KILLED

Captain Pettijohn Loses Grandchild in Accidental Shooting at Buhl.

A very sad happening of some two weeks ago, that seems to have escaped adequate notice from the press, is called to attention by Captain D. H. Pettijohn, a well known resident of this city. It involved a fatality to his own granddaughter, a little girl of four years and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Chamberlain, who live some three miles southwest of Buhl. This little one, with children of a neighbor, were playing at the Chamberlain home, when the oldest of them, a boy of two, went into a shop, or outbuilding, where of course he had no business, found an old muzzle loading shot gun and bringing it out, pointed it at the other children.

In this case, as in so many others, the gun was loaded, and it did not take a number of shot penetrating the abdomen of the little Chamberlain girl. She was at once taken in an auto to Buhl, where the doctor did what he could, but there was no hope from the first and she died the next morning. Aside from his natural grief over such a happening, Captain Pettijohn is questioning whether it can be classed as an unavoidable accident or whether some responsibility does not attach somewhere on account of the rather peculiar circumstances of the case.

FIRE CONSUMES RANGER'S HOME

Mystery Blaze Responsible for Loss of Residence and Effects on National Forest.

While Forest Ranger W. F. Foster, who is stationed at the Leon Creek ranger station in the Challis national forest, was away fighting a forest fire six miles distant his dwelling, with everything in it, was destroyed by fire of mysterious origin, according to word coming from the Office of Forest Service. Mrs. Foster, too, was away at the time, visiting a neighboring ranch.

No one had been in the house for several days. The building was developed in flames before any attention was given of trouble. Not an article was saved, and as a result the ranger and his wife are left with only the clothing they wore when they left home.

It is reported that the sheepherders and campers are carelessly leaving fires burning for the wind to whip and scatter. The service rangers have been instructed to arrest every person found to be responsible for fires originating from this cause.

This Watches Not New.
The thin watches that have been fashioned for several years are not a new model. E. V. Bergeson of Round Brook, N. J., has a thin watch that is more than 100 years old. It is an open-face watch, three-eighths of an inch thick. The movement is one and three-quarters inches in diameter and the watch itself two inches. The movement is full plain, lever escapement and opens at the front. The case is beautifully made and of 18-carat gold. The watch is marked
"Micalet & Oigto, Malta."

To Improve Paint Work.
To put a varnish-like gloss on doors,
get half a pound of glue, put it into a saucpan with about a quart of water, and boil till dissolved. When the doors are washed, take a clean cloth, dip it in the glue, and rub all one way, being sure to go over the door to insure a smooth surface.

What Quadrille Means.
The word "quadrille" is derived from the position of the dancers, the French word "quadrille" meaning a little square. "Country dance" does not mean a rustic dance, but it is a corruption of the French term contra-dance, which relates to the position of the couples—opposite to each other.

Billions of Lead Pencils.
The world's product of lead pencils
probably amounts to nearly two thousand millions a year, half of which are made from American-grown cedar. The United States makes about 750,000,000 each year, or more than eight pencils for each of its inhabitants.

Clock of Long Service.
In the examination hall at Cam-
ton, Ohio, where under the old regime students sat for their military tests, is a water clock which has automatically recorded the time for 8,000 years.

Need for Both Law and Sword.
"In all government there must of necessity be both the law and the sword;
laws without arms would give us not liberty but licenselessness, and arms without laws would produce not subjection but slavery."—Colton.

"Pieces of Eight."
The piece of eight was the old Spanish plaster or peso, now called a dollar, thus known throughout the Spanish Main in days of piracy, because it was divided into eight parts. It was a silver coin worth $1.

Average Vocabulary.
The size of the average person's vocabulary has been estimated at about 5,000 words. Shakespeare's vocabulary has been computed variously as containing from 15,000 to 25,000 words, and it includes the root words and inflections. Milton's vocabulary has been estimated at 18,000; the Bible contains 5,674 Hebrew and Chaldean words and 5,674 Greek words.

Farmer's Good Work.
Some people find it impossible to do two things at the same time. The farmer often does four, and does them well—he walks, thinks, talks, and smiles all at once.

Death Valley.
Death valley is a narrow valley between the Panamint and Funeral mountains in California. It is traversed by the Amargosa river, which is usually a dry channel, though probably it was formerly full of water.
The level of the valley is covered with salt, supposed to have been brought by the torrents from the surrounding desert and left on the evaporation of the water. Death valley is considered to be the hottest and driest place in the united States. A temperature of 122 degrees has been observed.

Alexandria.
Alexandria, founded by the world
conqueror, Alexander the Great, is an Egyptian city that is eager to lose its connection with the faraway past and become completely modernized. Fate has favored this ambition, for the ven-erent Ptolemy Cleopatra knew have been eaten by fire and swept away by the sea. Alexandria is a city of trade and fashion, dominated by prosperous Europeans too deeply absorbed in the stock exchange to be even vaguely interested in the romantic side of their city.

United States of the World.
The day will come when we shall realize not only the brotherhood of individuals but the essential unity of all mankind. All are brothers; all children of the same father. The barriers which divide nations are artificial. I believe the time is at hand when these barriers will fall, like the walls of Jericho, before love's trumpet summons, when the banner of brotherhood and freedom will float forever over a new federation—the United States of the World.—Tolstoy.

Possession Begs Desire.
A man doesn't really know what money will do for him until he has a lot of it. That is why men want more as they get more. The same is true of knowledge, or fame, or friends, or religion.
