Mr. Williams demanded that the Pennsylvania congressman be summoned before the senate committee, which is considering the comptroller's reappointment. Chairman McLean said Mr. McFadden had been asked to appear.

Comptroller Williams declared that he had "no deep indignation that any member of congress would make charges of that kind without the slightest ground or foundation for them and then, when the charges are before the committee, fail to appear."

The committee debated the request for more than an hour without acting.

The president wrote that he made the request because he considered it of so much importance to the business interests of the country that the United States be represented on the commission.

ARMY BUILDING CHAIN OF FORTS ALONG BORDER

Mexican Line from Pacific to Mouth of Rio Grande to Be Garrisoned by Detachments of Infantry and Cavalry.

EL PASO, Tex., (AP)—Like the chain of forts built in the days of the Indians to guard the Santa Fe trail and the southwest from raids by marauding bands of savages, the United States army is building permanent outposts along the Mexican border to prevent incursions by armed bands of Mexican bandits across the border. These will extend from the Pacific to the mouth of the Rio Grande at Brownsville, Tex., and will be garrisoned by detachments of infantry and cavalry from the southern department.

Construction in Progress
Construction work is in progress on these permanent outposts in the El Paso district, including the Big Bend sub-district of Texas and the sub-district of New Mexico. In the Big Bend where many Mexican raids have occurred these outposts will be built like the blockhouses of frontier days with trenches surrounding the low adobe and concrete buildings built in the form of a square with the best possible defensive protection. At Palvo, Ruidosa, Bedford, Glen Springs and Vado Piedra these outposts are being constructed, under the direction of Col. George Langhorne, commander of the sub-base. A cantonment also is being built at Marfa, Tex., 50 miles from the border, to serve as headquarters for the outposts.

In the El Paso district proper an outpost is being built at the Santa Fe street approach to the international bridge to Juarez. This will house the diamond cavalry brigade guards who inspect everything sent to Mexico. At Yuleta, Fabens, Fort Hancock and Sierra Blanca, Tex., similar buildings will be erected for the regular detachments guarding the forts from Mexico. All will be plastered with cement on the exterior and will have stables for cavalry horses, electric lighting systems, running water, shower baths and modern mess kitchens. A cantonment is being built of brick at Fort Bliss to house the regular troops for these outposts, which will include 110 men and four officers each.

Use Cantonment Materials
Outpost building along the New Mexican border will be constructed of lumber from Camp Coaly, N. M., and unused material purchased for other cantonments during the war. The headquarters will be located at Columbus, Neb. outposts. The Corner Ranch, Slaughter's Ranch and other strategic points along the New Mexico border. Each outpost will cost approximately $40,000 and will be built under the supervision of the El Paso division quartermaster's office.

Branch depots of the zone supply depot in El Paso will also be built along the border to supply these outposts and truck and pack trains organized to carry supplies, ordnance and forage for the isolated border outposts along the Rio Grande.

Crawford of Tulsa, Okla., has offered to guarantee the expense of the series if it is not a financial success.

"The series will give the fans of the Western league a world record of their own," President Terney said. "The trophy will be known as the Murphy cup."

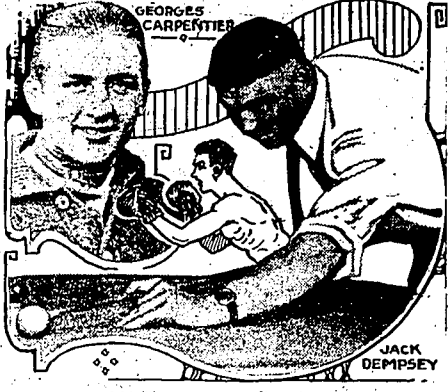

Angeles Feel Sure of 1919 Pennant
Los Angeles Club Expected to Maintain Present Grip and Run Off with Bunting.

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—While no certainty is considered one of the prime charms of baseball there are many who are predicting that, unless the unusual happens, the pennant emblem of the Pacific coast baseball championship, will repose in the city of Los Angeles at the close of the season.

With the results of only a couple of series on the wrong side of the ledger since the opening of the season, the Angeles have consistently maintained their lead. This is so substantial that its nearest rival will have to enjoy a wonderful winning streak in order to materially cut it down.

"THE BOY OF HIM" IN NEW CHAMPION

GEORGES CARPENTIER and JACK DEMPSEY. "The boy of him" was proved in champion Jack Dempsey the morning of July 5—less than twenty-four hours after he had dethroned the great Jess Willard in less than nine minutes of actual fighting. For Dempsey with all his new honor and vision of wealth, turned to his boyish habit—and wanted to "shoot a game" of pool. Here he is—not a tank to show of his battle. This has resulted in the entry of dogs owned by screen performers internationally known. Many of the animals are almost as familiar to the patrons of the movie theatres as the actors themselves as they have participated in many of the reels filmed.

John Bradshaw, who has had charge of many bench shows both in this country and abroad, will be in charge. American Kennel club rules will prevail.

CHICAGO. (AP)—"Who is the best fielding umpire in the National league?" is a question which is asked, and fans here say that this honor undoubtedly should go to Frank Quigley. As a general rule the average arbiter

Brief Sport Bits

The Giants are widening the gap between N. Y. and Cincinnati. That is, of course, in the percentage.

It took the lowly Dodgers to crack Leathe's string of victories. The Cincinnati twister lost Saturday's game 2 to 1.

A sports story concerning Olin O'Mara, Brooklyn infielder, says the star shortstop won his spurs in the St. Louis "rolley game" in 1910 and graduated to Hamball in the Central States when here he played in 1911, 1912 and 1913.

This is quite according to the records with a single exception. O'Mara was with the Missouri club of the Union association a part of 1911, being let out by Bill Joyce, then owner of the team. He believed in playing the game according to the rules and systems. Bill, himself, once one of the great players of the game, only knew how to play baseball of 20 years before. O'Mara was only a kid when he was with Missoula.

Georges Carpentier, European fight champion demonstrated Saturday that he is still better than a third-rater. Georges whipped Old Dick Smith of England, having the better of the argument throughout. Smith was KO'd in the eighth.

Carpentier and Joe Beckett, present English heavyweight champion, are now matched for a title bout for the European crown. The winner of this argument may be matched against Dempsey, world's champ.

Lee Fohl has quit the Cleveland club as manager and the job has been turned over to Triis-Specker.

Fohl has been in bad with the press and this has ever since he released Terry Turner a short time back.

Eighty-two prizes and trophies, valued at $3,000, have been hung up to be awarded winners at the dog show to be held in Santa Barbara August 7 and 8.

And some picture actress' pampered sun-faced pupils will get the big end of the $2,000.

Dog shows ain't no sport, now, says Stan Studley, sugarbush sage and baseball flyover, says "that if all the male folks here 'hev constituted themselves' y'allways to movie actresses bull pups and poodles, had been conscripted in times o' war the American army in France would have been a bull lot bigger, and this country at large a bull lot better."

Anglers have been told, are having rare sport whipping the low stream this summer. We sort of enjoy the sport ourselves when we get a chance.

But we do kinda hate to write and print an effusion about a big fish a fellow caught an' take out our satisfaction in glorifying the other fellow's prowess, or good luck.

When Mike Gibbons and Mike O'Dowd come together at Minneapolis in their proposed ten round match on September 1, St. Paul and Minneapolis will be fictitiously represented in the ring.

This bout should settle a long mooted question as to which town has the better boxers.

Both Mike are claimants of the middleweight championship.

And so it comes to pass that Jimmy Wille was feloniously awarded the decision over Pal Moore in London the other night.

That is according to cable reports sent across since the fracas. Twice over there. No American is satisfied with decisions against him on the other side, and no Britisher is satisfied with what he gets on this side.

Anyhow, Wille is flyweight and bantamweight and pro maybe featherweight champion of the boxing world by "virtue of the decision rendered" rather night.

Wille lost a decision to Moore some months ago, but it was claimed at the time that he was out of condition. The lad weighs normally 90 pounds when in trim. Moore weighs about 108 lbs.

MEXICAN TRADE FIELD ALLURING TO AMERICANS

Restoration of Normal Conditions in Southern Republic Will Swell Export Current, Consul Ortiz Says.

DENVER, Colo., (AP)—Mexico's trade with the United States will amount to $1,000,000,000 a year when normal conditions are restored south of the Rio Grande, according to A. J. Ortiz, consul for Mexico at Denver, with jurisdiction over Colorado, Montana and Wyoming. Mr. Ortiz, who is a native born American of Spanish ancestry, has been in the consular service here for eighteen years, during which time he has made a close study of the trade relations between the two countries.

Adopt American Standard.

"Fully 50,000 Mexicans have entered the United States during the last two years, said Mr. Ortiz. "Many of them have returned to their native land; many more intend to do so eventually. When these immigrants repatriate themselves they will carry with them some of the American standards of living. They will want American goods to satisfy these new standards; they will spread similar tastes to their fellow countrymen; and the United States will have a trade monopoly of immense value."

"Mexico is already entering upon her period of reconstruction. She needs steel for her railroads, machinery for her mines and agricultural implements for her farms. Already a number of friendly manufacturers have established branch factories in Mexico.

Disclaims Antagonism.

"Unfortunately, political conditions follow the border are still such as to retard the economic development of Mexico. But I am confident that the period of readjustment is at hand, and that conditions will soon be stabilized. When that time comes, America will see that there is no antagonism against her on the part of any classes in Mexico."

SHEEPMEN ARE URGED TO HELP FIGHT FIRES

President of Wool Growers Points Out Duty of Grazers in the Present Crisis.

(Special to the News.)
BOISE.—An urgent appeal has been addressed to all sheepmen in the forest districts of Idaho to assist not only in preventing fires, but in checking them when they are in progress. The appeal is made by Hugh Sprunt of the Idaho Wool Growers' association. Mr. Sprunt has addressed the following circular letter to all persons in the sheep-raising business.

"Sheepmen are urgently requested to place at the disposal of the federal and state authorities whatever equipment in the way of hoses, pack equipment and camp outfits which they can spare, in the endeavor now being made to control forest fires now raging in central Idaho.

"Pack outfits are especially needed for fire fighters outfitting from Casper, Hager and Salmon.

"The heavy crew of men will be taken by trucks to near the Greyhound mines, in the Cape Horn district, but from there to the fires sulphur had flatbed trucks considerable packing will have to be done.

"Stockmen in the Stanley basin country are notified that assistance is urgently needed and to place all horses and equipment at the disposal of the forest authorities, who will place them where needed."

BIG MONEY HARVEST PROMISED FROM SPUDS

Caldwell Growers Expect to Fill Their Offers from Banner Potato Yields.

(Special to the News.)
CALDWELL.—With a bumper crop in sight, and a top price on the market, Caldwell farmers look forward, with keen anticipation to reaping a harvest of gold when the potato crop is disposed of. This district has never known a potato yield equal to the one promised this year.

The two cents a pound mark has already been passed and it is reported in the Parma section bids have reached as high as $2.65 with indications of going higher. In Caldwell $2.25 has been offered to certain local growers by parties from Idaho Falls. The foregoing prices were quoted f. o. b. loading point.

Men in touch with the situation declare that Canyon county's crop will be around 1800 carloads and possibly more than that. The early estimates of 2000 carloads have been reduced because of the fact of the crop being injured by a threatening water shortage.

PAYING ENGLAND FOR WAR WARES NO SMALL TASK

American Officers and Enlisted Men Hasten Closing Up Proceedings with Homecoming Prospect in View.

LONDON. (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—American army and navy officers who are trying to close up the war financial transactions between the United States and Great Britain, hope to have their task completed by September 1. If that end is reached the majority of the 75 army officers and 200 men now here will be sent home and the navy force will be reduced to a few experts to tie the last remaining strings.

War Bills Heavy.

The magnitude of the task will be appreciated when it is known that the army alone bought 2,000,000 tons of equipment and supplies here and shipped them to France, while the navy had large forces of ships which were constantly purchasing things from British warehouses.

Another element in the situation is the slow and deliberate manner in which the British render their bills. One such bill received at army headquarters today amounted to $150,000 for supplies for the American troops in northern Russia.

It frequently happens that errors occur, but they are quickly found and adjusted without friction, as in the case of a bill which reached the American naval headquarters here the other day. It carried the expenses of an entertainment given to the officers of an American battalion by the officers of a British squadron with which it had been working. The bill had been placed in the American package by the error of some clerk. The American paymaster in charge tactfully returned it without comment, and some one in the British office probably spent an unneeded half hour.

Civilian Clerks Leaving.

Civilian clerks are being released as quickly as possible, and the 7000 still at work expect to be gone in two months.

American Red Cross activities also are being closed up with all possible speed, and it is possible the London force will be reduced to a few expert accountants and stenographers by August 1. They too are paying bills, but one canteen and one hospital are still in operation.

BEAR RIVER WATER AT LOWEST STAGE

No Record in History of State When This Stream Has Shown So Light a Flow.

BOISE.—(Special)—In the south eastern section of the state through which Bear river flows, the stream is practically dry, according to W. G. Swendson, state commissioner of reclamation, who has just returned from the district mentioned.

At Montpelier the commissioner says, only 10 second feet of water was flowing in the Bear river. This is the lowest ever known, the low water mark prior being 200 second feet. Crops in the Bear River country are looking dubious, and are suffering from want of water, the commissioner feels.

Prior to his visit at Montpelier Commissioner Swendson called at the Idaho Irrigation company's project at Richfield. He said sufficient water remaining in the Magic Dam reservoir on Wood river to provide two runs of four-day duration when enough water would be turned loose to mature potatoes and other vegetable crops.

Grain, except that which was planted late, will mature, he declared.

Land Department Has Big Increase

Business This Year Looms Large Over That Conducted in Period of 1918.

BOISE.—(Special to the News)—In the six months ending June 30 collections of the state land department amounted to $1,023,788.17 as against $787,255.68 in the same period in 1918. A report to this effect has just been submitted to Governor D. W. Davis by C. A. Elmer, commissioner of public investments.

Interest earned on investments for the period in 1919 covered by the report totaled $161,946.55. That is an increase of $102,984.99 over the earnings of $58,961.56 for the same period in 1918.

CONOCO GASOLINE

Explaining Boiling Points in Gasoline

As with any other liquid, the boiling point of gasoline is the temperature at which it vaporizes.

The value of gasoline depends on its having a continuity of boiling or vaporizing points ranging from a low one to a high one and with sufficient intermediate ones.

Because it is from this vaporizing of your gasoline that you get the necessary connected links in your power chain—from a quick, easy start gradually extending itself to take care of any demand for mileage or power.

Take out one link and this chain is broken.

Only a straight-distilled gasoline has this continuous chain of boiling power points. Mixtures always have missing links.

Conoco Gasoline is a straight-distilled motor fuel with an unbroken chain of boiling points—power points, low for easy starting, medium for quick acceleration, and high for mileage and power.

CHAPTER IX.—The hero of the fete, with the darkness still best upon his eyes, reached the top of the second flight of stairs...

The stairway was drafty; the steps were narrow and uncomfortable; no older person would have remained in such a place. Moreover, these two young people were strangers to each other...

George murmured a friendly enough good night without pausing. Ordinarily he was not ashamed of the Minifers; he seldom thought about them at all...

George danced well, and Miss Morgan seemed to float as part of the music, the very dove itself of "La Paloma." George became conscious of the queer-looking duck had been a real dancer in his day...

George danced well and Miss Morgan seemed to float. Strange feelings within him: an exaltation of soul, tender but indefinite, and seemingly located in the upper part of his diaphragm.

"Give me the next and the one after that," he said hurriedly, recovering some presence of mind. Just as the nearest applicant reached them, "And give me every third one the rest of the evening."

"Well, I want 'em!" George insisted. "Are you going to give me?" "Good gracious!" she laughed.

"The applicants flocked round her, urging contracts for what remained, but they did not dislodge George from her side, though he made it evident that they succeeded in annoying him; and presently he extracted her from an accumulating stage—she must have convulsed in the extraction and bore her off to sit beside him upon the stairway that led to the musicians' gallery...

"I can't possibly go," she said. "I'm going to sit in the cutter in front of the gate, wherever you're visiting, all afternoon, and if you try to go out with anybody else he's got to whip me before he gets you. And as she laughed—though she blushed a little, too—she continued, earnestly: "If you think I'm earnest, you're at liberty to make quite a big experiment."

"All right," said George. "The snow's fine for sleighing; I'll come for you in a cutter at ten minutes after two."

And their next number they did not dance, but went back to the gallery stairway, seeming to have reached an understanding without any verbal consultation that this suburb was again the place for them. "Well," said George coolly, when they were seated, "what did you say your name was?"

"Morgan." "Fanny name." "Everybody else's name always is." "I didn't mean it was really funny," George explained. "That's just one of my crowd's bits of horsing at college. We always say 'funny name.'"

"I don't really know myself." "What do you mean? You don't really know yourself?" "I mean I only know what they tell me. I believe them, of course, but believing isn't really knowing."

"What do you mean? Useful?" "Something you'd use later, in your business or profession?" "George answered, his hand impatiently. "I don't expect to go into any business or profession."

"Certainly not!" George was emphatic, being sincerely annoyed by a suggestion which showed how utterly she failed to comprehend the kind of person he was. "Why not?" she asked mildly.

"Just look at 'em!" he said, almost with bitterness, and he made a gesture presumably intended to indicate the business and professional men now dancing within range of vision.

THREE FACTORS PROMOTE OGDEN AS STOCK MARKET

OGDEN, Utah, (Special)—Three important factors entered into Ogden's prominence as a market center for livestock during the past week: First, the Ogden market for hogs took a skyward about with $2.75 per hundred as the price for first class finished hogs...

Each of these promises have an important result on the Ogden market and on livestock affairs of the Intermountain country. The price for hogs is a fulfillment of predictions frequently made by livestock men, who have told farmers not to sell their stock hogs, but to get them in shape for the market.

A TRANSPARENT MASK

It was a triumvirate of radical leaders that replaced Bela Kun at the head of the Budapest soviet government, according to dispatches to Vienna newspapers.

The peace conference at Paris early this month announced that it could not make peace with Bela Kun. Hope was inspired by the report of the overthrow of this notorious disciple of Lenin and Trotsky that an entity with which the peace makers might deal has risen to assume control of affairs in Hungary.

The situation now has the appearance of a "stall." Bela Kun giving place to a trio convinced that the allies are either too weak or unwilling to intervene forcibly, seems to have stepped into a secure place on the sidelines or rather, behind a masked figure, which he has set up to engage the allies' attention and confidence.

It looks as though conditions in Hungary must become worse before they can become better.

JUST POSSIBLE

According to a news dispatch from Tokio, Japan will make serious efforts to improve her navy by building seven submarines of 1,900 tons each. Several German submarines have fallen to Japan as a result of the peace arrangements and are expected to arrive in Japanese ports.

It is just possible that Japan is so thoroughly equipping herself in order to serve more effectively in the role of an armed avenger provided for in the league of nations covenant as a last resort in a serious case of infraction of the peace.
