PROMISES TO CONSIDER FLAG FOR WORLD LEAGUE Congress Waits for President's Statements Expected to Clarify Big Issues of Shanting Settlement and Reservations

Declaring that "the idea that the treaty and the league of nations will bring about permanent world peace was largely illusory," Senator Thomas said he would advise the senate tomorrow on one phase of the treaty—the effect it might have on the peace of the world.

HUGHES POINTS OUT NECESSARY COURSE OF TREATY RATIFICATION Former Republican Presidential Nominee Suggests Reservations to League of Nations Covenant; Feels Certain Pact Will Fail in Senate as It Stands and Expresses Hope that this May Not Happen

WASHINGTON, (P)—A number of reservations to the league of nations covenant have been suggested by Charles Evans Hughes of New York, in an opinion transmitted under date of July 24 to Senator Frederic Hale of Maine. The opinion, as shown by the correspondence made public here today, was sought by the senator in a letter of July 18.

Last Tuesday morning the men refused to leave their cells when ordered to work, representatives among the prisoners demanding better sanitary conditions, the right to submit to President Wilson a plea for amnesty and the return of two men recently transferred from the military barracks to another federal prison.

BLINDS ONLY BATTERERS In case of ratification with reservations, the other parties to the treaty would be notified, he continued. After outlining his opinions on various articles of the covenant, Mr. Hughes wrote that reservations and interpretations might be in some such form as the following:

First: That whenever two years notice of withdrawal from the league of nations shall have been given, as provided in article 17 of the covenant, the power giving the notice shall cease to be a member of the league or subject to the obligations of the covenant of the league, as therein specified in the notice, until withdrawal by such change or finding of the non-fulfillment of any international obligation or of Reservations would be ineffectual unless they contained a full and complete statement of ratification, Mr. Hughes said. "If the senate should adopt reservations by a majority vote," the letter continued, "I assume that these will be made a part of the

SAYS GERMANS DISTORT TRUTH

Former French Premier Gives Version of Peace Overtures in 1917

PARIS, (AP)—A "distortion of the truth" was the characterization applied today by Alexandre Ribot to the recent statement by Matthias Erzberger, the German finance minister, declaring that Great Britain and France made peace overtures to Germany through the Vatican in 1917, which Germany rejected. M. Ribot was French premier and foreign minister, at the time in question. The former premier explained the occurrence as follows:

"On June 11, August, 1917, suggested proposals to serve as a basis for overtures to Germany. France and Great Britain both declined the proposals. The political knowledge was made to the pope but nothing more. The British minister to the Vatican, in his own name, pointed out that the proposals did not contain sufficient guarantees for Belgium. Cardinal Gasparri, the papal secretary of state, M. Ribot continued, seized upon this to telegraph Germany for explanations of the subject of Belgium. It was an attempt to start a conversation. M. Ribot declared, but the British government cut it off short."

PORTLANDERS AT HOME ON WATER BUNGALOWS

Colonies of Houseboats Make Interesting Spectacle Along the River

PORTLAND, Ore.—(AP)—Hundreds of white-painted bungalows, built on floating logs or platforms, are being driven in the bed of the Willamette river some distance from the shore, furnishing all-year-round homes for perhaps five hundred Portlanders and making an attractive sight. The bungalows, within three or four miles from the center of Portland. The houseboats are in groups of from 10 to 100, are reached by floating walkways also built on logs, leading from the shore and along the rear of the houses, gangplanks connect the individual homes with the float.

All Modern Conveniences. Telephone and electric lighting wires, gas pipes and city water mains extend along the float and are connected with each houseboat. Many of these river dwellers "call the comforts of home," including running water from mountain streams so that river water need not be used for drinking and cooking. Gas stoves, refrigerators, and heating and air conditioning are included in the list of modern conveniences. A rubber garden hose connected with the float along the float.

Gray aluminum window boxes and hanging baskets adorn the front porches or decks of these dwellings, which have their fronts toward the middle of the river and are pointed toward the nearest shore. The decks are furnished with porch screens, hammocks, swings and artistic furniture. The interiors of the bungalows are luxurious and often include a living and dining room, one or two bedrooms, a bathroom and kitchen. From three to five rooms is the average interior arrangement.

Some Elaborate Bathouses

In some cases one half of the floating home is fashioned into a bathhouse in which the owner parks his motor car. There are one or two two-story houseboats, in which the motor boat occupies the lower "floor." Canoes are customary adjuncts to the homes, as swimming, rowing and fishing are unappreciated among the popular pastimes in summer.

A constant downstream current of two miles per hour in summer and four or five in winter, carries off garbage and impurities. Waste matter is thrown overboard from the rear of the houseboat and is not carried to mid-stream but sinks in a few feet and flows toward the bank. The Willamette is from a quarter to a half mile wide above Portland.

Root Beer Made at Home Sometimes is Possessed of Kick

Dean of Philadelphia College of Pharmacy Makes Interesting Discovery

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Root beer made at home may not always be as innocuous as the name suggests, says H. L. Wall, dean of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, reveals the public to look out for the kick. The home brew, he finds, has an alcoholic content of 1.77 per cent.

"It will not make you feel the 'kickiness,'" he said, "but it may provide some exhilaration."

"I was surprised recently," declared Professor L. M. Wall, "to notice a frog catching a little of the frothy effluvia from glasses of home-made root beer. It became interested and began an analysis of some of the beverages. The result was surprising. I found that the alcoholic content was much greater than I had supposed."

"I discovered that after standing five days, the beverage contained 53 percent alcohol, after ten days the percentage had risen to 1.76 and after six or seven days had climbed to 1.77. The alcohol came from a natural fermentation."

Moonshiners Find a Rough Road

"Most of man's best laid plans—those made before July first—were very fast being uncovered and wrecked. The word 'moonshine' no longer means mountains and feds. It can mean a lot in a sky scraper—or a sub basement under a florist shop, as federal agents are proving. In every state, city and town—illicit moonshiners still are being contacted. Here is a more elaborate brass-coin still, as it is a raid at Chicago. Federal agents are examining it."

SAYS HUN-MILITARISTS PASSED UP PEACE OFFERS

German Minister Declares Return of National Party Would Be Ruinous

WEIMAR, (AP)—During a discussion Friday in the national assembly here of Germany's foreign policy, Matthias Erzberger, the minister of finance, made an attack upon the national party, declaring that its return to power would involve in the ruin of Germany.

Here Erzberger went into the political history of Germany in the war period, declaring that for four years the nation had not had a political government, but a military dictatorship, her misfortune being that her military leaders would not permit any one to speak that they desired to repress.

There were several occasions, he declared, when it would have been possible to make peace. The first, he said, was in 1916, through President Wilson, but ambassador von Botsch of returning from Washington shortly afterward, was not heard in high quarters, and the desire of President Wilson to bring about peace was brought to naught by the submarine warfare.

In 1917, again, the finance minister declared, peace also was possible. Austria, he said, recognized that she was done for and at the end of the summer notified Germany that Austria help was not to be further counted upon.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS LAW REPEAL TO BE REPORTED

Opponents of Measure Lifted Off Agriculture Appropriations Bill

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Chairman Cannon of the senate interstate commerce committee announced today that the separate house bill, proposing repeal of the daylight saving law would be reported this week. Opponents of the repeal legislation believe that President Wilson will veto the separate house bill for the same reason that he disapproved the other appeal to the agricultural bill, and that the veto cannot be overridden.

LABOR PARTY MAY STAND FOR DRY LAW'S REPEAL

Proponents of Movement Arrange for Convention at Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio, (AP)—Delegates from ten states representing more than 2,000,000 organized workers will meet here after Labor Day to organize the American Labor party. It has been announced by local proponents of the movement. The convention may also decide whether to nominate a national ticket in 1920.

An effort will be made to insert a plank in the platform calling for the repeal of the federal prohibition amendment, it is said. Other policies to be included in the platform may follow recommendations in resolutions adopted by the American Federation of Labor convention.

Delegates from Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Washington, Oregon, Montana, New York and Ohio are expected to attend the convention.

LONDON LABOR TO HAVE SPLENDID NEW BUILDING

LONDON, (AP)—Representatives of the principal labor organizations have taken steps for the erection in London of a building intended to be the finest headquarters of any democratic movement to be found in the world as Arthur Henderson, labor leader, explained to the meeting which launched the project.

It is to be erected in Westminster district near Parliament, and will contain the headquarters of the Trade Union Congress, the British Labor Party (which is a political party with an organization distinct from the Trade Unions), and the cooperative trading bodies, which are powerful in the industrial centers.

There are to be committee rooms, offices for the staffs, reference library, reading rooms, hotel and restaurant. It is proposed to establish a permanent exhibition of cooperative products.

LEAGUE DEBATE OLD SAYS BORAH

Idaho Senator Waits Chance to Vote Against Treaty as a Whole

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, in a speech in the senate Friday regarding former President Taft's suggestion for adoption of the League of Nations, said the former president had taken the opposition to the treaty was largely the result of President Wilson's partisan course last fall and during the peace negotiations. The real debate in the senate of a league of nations, Mr. Borah said, had begun two and a half years ago, and he and other senators had taken the same positions they take now.

"I am opposed to any interpretations, reservations or amendments in this treaty," Senator Borah said, "and I hope the opportunity will be presented for me to vote against it as a whole."

"When the fathers submitted the constitution to the States there were men who thought they could make reservations. Virginia, New York, Rhode Island and others did put in constructive reservations, but when the time came to invoke these reservations the powers constraining them paid no attention to them whatever."

"And would you put your interpretations into this ratification and then turn over the power to construe them to nine men sitting at Geneva?"

Saving Cash in South America is Difficult

SANTA FE, N. M., (AP)—Saving money is a harder task in South America than in the United States, despite the higher salaries paid there, says Eugene Lujan, of Santa Fe, who recently resigned his position as clerk of the American Legation at La Paz, Bolivia.

In a letter to his father, who is assistant secretary of state of New Mexico, young Lujan points out that, though one can earn more in South America than in North America, the cost of living is higher. Shoes which sell for $5 in the United States cost $12 in Bolivia. Bread and room amount to $80 a month, laundry at least $12, and everything else in proportion.

"Although Spanish is the official language," Lujan writes, "there are many dialects, for the population is considerably mixed. We have the Aztecs, who are pure Indians, the Cholos, or half-breeds, the Bolivians, the English, the French and the Germans."

JANITOR IS ACCUSED OF LITTLE GIRL'S MURDER

Thomas Fitzgerald, Confessed Slayer of Janet Wilkinson, Six Years Old, Faces Formal Charge

CHICAGO, (AP)—Formal charges of murder were filed today against Thomas Fitzgerald, who yesterday confessed to the police in the presence of three witnesses that he killed Janet Wilkinson, six years old, who had been missing since last Tuesday. After pleading the confession Fitzgerald took the police to the vicinity of the Wilkinson family flat, had often seen the girl and last Tuesday offered her candy. After entering her into his rooms he told the police that he strangled her to stop her cries.

"Before I knew what I was doing, I had my hands about her throat, and had strangled her," said Fitzgerald. He had been classed by the police as a Mormon.

Fitzgerald spent the entire night last night, having been grilled by the police constantly since last Wednesday when he was arrested on suspicion of murdering the child.

MOTHER ADMITS GUILT AS SLAYER OF CHILD

Sentence of One Year's Imprisonment Pronounced on Mrs. Gladys Dunn

PITTSFIELD, Mass., (AP)—Mrs. Gladys C. Dunn, on trial in the superior court here for second degree murder for the shooting of her son, Joseph, July 18, August 11, 1918, pleaded guilty to manslaughter today and was sentenced to six months in jail.

Mrs. Dunn withdrew her plea of not guilty to the indictment at the suggestion of her husband, J. Allan Dunn, her attorneys and friends, who feared a jury verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity," resulting in her incarceration in a state hospital for the criminally insane, might prove fatal to her in a short time because of her nervous temperament.

Mrs. Dunn, who is the wife of J. Allan Dunn of New York, an author, killed her son at his summer home in Lenox, last August. The boy was two and one-half years of age.

The parents had quarreled it appeared in evidence and the wife, in anger, said she pushed to her room, obtained a revolver there and, according to the statement of her counsel in his opening address, held it to her head. When her husband called to her she turned and discharged the revolver. The child was killed. Mrs. Dunn said she had intended to shoot herself.

Mrs. Dunn is a native of Niles, Calif., daughter of a wealthy San Francisco banker. Her father is Gladys Josephine Miller-Laffer-Dunn, who she has been three married, the first time to Lieut. Wilson Eric Madden, whom she divorced for cruelty; the second time to Henry Anson Laffer, whom she likewise divorced for cruelty in July 1913. She married Dunn in September, 1913 in California.

day with nearly a dozen senators and representatives and expected to discuss the peace treaty and his own functioning at some time. Senators who were to visit the White House were Thomas of Colorado, Smith of Arizona, and Johnson of South Dakota, all democrats.

Representative Hudspeth of Texas, who in an address in the house last week urged military intervention in Mexico, and former Speaker Clark were among the representatives who were to see the president.

Wait for Statements The beginning today of the tenth week of senate debate on the peace treaty was accompanied by many evidences of expectancy that statements from President Wilson soon might clarify the two issues around which discussion has centered—Shantung and reservations.

Whether the president would express readiness to accept reservations or other qualifications not impeding the league covenant remained a subject of conjecture, but more than one republican senator who had seen him at the White House believed his mind will not be an uncompromising one for unreserved ratification.

The hope of developments regarding the Shantung provision was based on the president's diplomatic conversation with Japan to secure a public declaration of his future policy regarding the peninsula.

Treaty to be Shelved In the belief that it could complete at today's session the preliminary reading of the treaty, the foreign relations committee plans to lay the document aside for a short while tomorrow to permit action on the long-pending Colombian treaty.

The speech of Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, replying to the criticism of article ten of the league covenant, was the only one of which previous notice had been given for today in the senate.

Cynicism We are reminded that resentment, doubt and cynicism are easily made taken for the wisdom of millatogment that there is double reason to guard against them. Many a hurt soul fancies it is growing wise in the ways of the world when in truth it is only growing hard and bitter. An acquaintance with mankind does not mean merely learning humanity's mean side and being on guard against it; a wider study will bring a far different and more hopeful knowledge.

Forces Within Trials without discover forces within. Says Victor Hugo: "There are instincts for all the crises of life." A deep perplexity awakens a flash of insight; a bitter opposition sets the soul on fire; a brave peril opens our eyes to heroes and chivalry of the past; a terrible catastrophe evokes a heroism of which the sufferer had not thought himself capable.—W. L. Wattkinson.

Ancient Admonition Thoughtless persons who insist on talking during a musical performance, marring the pleasure of those who would listen to the music, we have always with us. It is curious to note that this particular pest was already noted more than 2,000 years ago. In the ancient book "Ecclesiastes" we read, "Speak, thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound judgment, and hinder not music."

PROHIBITION CONTRIBUTES TO NEW HIGH PRICE MARK OF STRAWBERRY

PHILADELPHIA, (Correspondence) (AP)—Prohibition indirectly produced an extraordinary condition in the strawberry market this year. Prices went higher than ever before because a Chicago packing house opened what was said to be the largest fruit preserving plant in the world in the heart of the strawberry district of Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland, producing the product of great berry production. Fruit actually will regard to want to meet the tremendous demand for ice cream and soft drinks produced by the "dry" period. Strawberries that "normally sold for from five to ten cents a quart were snapped up at from thirty to thirty-five cents. The price to the consumer never went below thirty cents this season. Strawberry syrup for flavoring soda water formerly sold at fifty-five cents a gallon is now quoted at $2.50 a gallon.

Farmers are elated. Many of them made an average of $1000 an acre on their strawberry crop and they are looking forward to big profits next year.

The packers, when the strawberry season was over, sent their employees to other work and closed the factory.

In referring to the peace terms signed by Germany, General Botha said they were generous and that in his opinion several clauses were superfluous and impracticable of fulfillment. But, he remarked, if Germany was convinced the allies that she honestly intended to carry out the terms, he was certain that the difficulties would be removed.

EXCHANGE OF WATER DISCUSSION'S THEME

Meeting is Called Wednesday for Consideration of Needs of Late Crop Farmers

For the purpose of discussing water questions as they relate to this district, and the needs of those farmers whose crops do not mature until late in the season, a meeting has been called for the farm bureau to be held on Wednesday evening of this week. The meeting is planned to be attended by both those farmers whose crops are now out of the way, and those who will require further water for their crops.

The call was given by Secretary of the meeting of the executive board of the farm bureau, J. C. Whelan, manager of the Twin Falls farm bureau, who is present at the meeting and has given his promise to attend Wednesday evening's session.

There are many phases of the water question to be discussed at the meeting, but the one of primary importance is that pertaining to the requirements of cultivated crops. At the present time there is a large deficit to all ranchers in the Twin Falls district 30 per cent of normal supply of water for irrigation. Wheat and similar grain crops are already made, and will need no more water this season. Stock alfalfa will require to be watered, but the principle call is for water on bean, potato and beet fields, as well as the orchards. A plan will be proposed to the ranchers who are about done with water to deliver their surplus to farms needing more irrigation in order to insure maturity of their crops.

In view of the Wednesday meeting it is well understood that the bureau headquarters will not accommodate the delegates the convention will be held in the city park.

One Seat for Two Congressmen

When a candidate for office dies while the votes are being counted, does that nullify the victory of his opponent? Out of the frozen north of Alaska comes this question as two congressmen arrive in Washington with credentials for the office. James Wickersham, congressman from Alaska since 1909, had Charles Sulzer as opponent in 1918. While the votes were being counted in November, Sulzer died. The governor of Alaska ordered a special election. Wickersham claimed his election valid and went to Washington. He offered no opposition to George B. Grigsby at the special election and the latter was elected. Both have been given offices at the capital until the issue is decided.

Demand Comes from European Collectors of Reptiles and Menageries

LOS ANGELES, Cal., (AP)—"Jobbers" prices for reptiles, f. o. b., Los Angeles, more than 40 cents a pound (more than some cuts of beef); Gila monsters, $10 a dozen; and lizards, $3.00 a hundred.

"No more dangerous than driving an automobile," he declared. "Of course, you must be careful in handling the poisonous ones. But most of the reptiles people fear are not dangerous, at all."

Like almost everything else, the reptile market suffered because of the war, but now that it is ended, Mr. Weinberg says, the demand is likely to increase.

Employment for Boys. He and as many small boys as care to engage in the hunt search the hills and valleys of Southern California for the hundreds of things that crawl with legs, but he goes alone into the desert for rattlers and Gila monsters.

He keeps his stock in his backyard, where his wife handles the creatures and helps in their care as he teaches his boys how to handle them.

"Perfectly friendly and harmless," said Mr. Weinberg. "See how it kisses me."

A long rattlesnake, which had been soundly warned against, but stepped against the glass side of another box.

"He's a little nervous," said the reptile market man. "He hasn't been handled for some time."

He opened the box, tossed a handkerchief over the snake's head and quickly clasped the creature behind where its ears would have been had it had ears.

"It's a pretty good rattle," said Mr. Weinberg. "Worth two dollars, anyway."

Distance Leads Enchantment. He opened the box, tossed a handkerchief over the snake's head and quickly clasped the creature behind where its ears would have been had it had ears.

Plant to Be Drowned. One of the most terrible plants in existence is the Acaepales gigantea, which is common in Abyssinia, and grows also in Ceylon.

When cut, a milky sap exudes from the stem and leaves, and the least drop of this will cause total blindness if it comes in contact with the eyes.

A delightful song service was a feature of all the gatherings.

Makes Able Talk

There was a large gathering at the final meeting last night, where, at the conclusion of the song service, Mrs. Ida Smoot Dusenberry, who is a sister of Senator Reed Smoot, delivered a very thoughtful and scholarly address, the substance of which was that inasmuch as we are inevitably and irrevocably influenced by the people with whom and the things with which we come in contact, we must avoid evil associations or be contaminated by them. She deplored the tendency of mothers to form all their young boys and girls to form at the things with which we come in contact, we must avoid evil associations or be contaminated by them. Mercury Jumps Eleven Degrees In Single Day

Jumping to 93 degrees in the shade, the mercury for Sunday was 11 degrees higher here than on Saturday. The temperature fell during Saturday night to 43 degrees as against 49 for low on the preceding night.

The weather bureau man covering conditions throughout the state, predicts showers and cooler for tonight and tomorrow.

Local barometric conditions are troubled, supporting the prediction of the weather man, with broken clouds more or less obscuring the sun. There are reports of indications of coming rain, signaling more humidity than usual for these parts.

Reports from remote sections in the district tell of light showers, some of which were just sufficient to lay the dust, while others were of a more or less soaking nature.

What interesting is in general progress today, and reports indicate excellent condition of beets and beans. In some places it is said that they are out of danger from drought.

FIRE IS BELIEVED TO BE INCENDIARY

Lavering Hall Blaze Thought by Chief to Have Been Purposely Set

Fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, plus discovery by City Night Watchman Austin at 3:50 this morning in the Lavering dance pavilion on Second avenue and Second East streets. The blaze was extinguished by the fire department before much material damage was done to the building.

Fire Chief W. R. Worrell, speaking of the incident today, declared he had found ample evidence upon which to base the conclusion that the fire was set for malicious reasons. He admits, however, that no clue has been found tending to fix guilt upon anyone.

When Watchman Austin made his discovery the interior of the Lavering hall was illuminated with a blaze which poured into the building from an opening between the dance pavilion and the Lavering theater. Investigation showed that the flames came from a pile of rubbish, including a gunny sack, and considerable wood, about the size of ordinary kindling. The flames from this pile found draught into the building through a cold air duct. The floor of the building was damaged only slightly.

Chief Worrell expresses the belief that a quantity of kerosene oil was used in the incendiary attempt. He says there was an unmistakable odor of oil when he was called to the premises this morning. There are many evidences supporting the incendiary theory about the scene of the fire, he avers.

Manager E. C. Lavering declares that there was no rubbish near the place where the fire was started when he was in the area way late yesterday. The actual damage to the place will not exceed $20.

POLICE CONTROL OTHOAGO RACE RIOT SITUATION

Race rioting last night in the "black belt" resulted in the death of two negroes and the injury or perhaps fifty or more whites and blacks, including four patrolmen.

Accounts of the origin of the trouble differ, but the version accepted by the police today is that the fighting started at the 29th street bathing beach, where the whites and colored people are accustomed to swim in Lake Michigan, although the two races are separated by an imaginary line. This version of the affair says that a negro boy on a raft crossed the boundary line and that white boys threw stones, knocking the colored lad into the water. He was drowned. A general fight developed between the races and riot calls brought several hundred police.

Attacks White Boy

Negroes asked the police to arrest a white boy and when he refused the negroes began to beat the white lad. Colored bathers from another beach at 25th street, attracted by the fighting, came in force to the rescue and soon stones and clubs were hurled in all directions, many people, both white and black being injured by the missiles.

After the fighting near the beach had been quelled, trouble broke out further west near the center of the colored district. John O'Brien, a policeman was attacked by a mob at 29th and State streets after he had tried to rescue a fellow policeman from a crowd of negroes. Several shots were fired in his direction and he was struck in the arm. He drew his revolver and fired into the crowd, killing one colored man being hit, one of whom died later in a hospital.

Drag Blacks From Car

After police reserves had dispersed the crowds in the thickly populated colored district, whites from other parts of the city dragged negroes from street cars and beat them severely in several instances during the night, but according to the police records, only today, only two fatalities resulted from the rioting.

Many shots were heard during the night and the police answered two riot calls early today, but their services were not required in other instances.

Promises Thorough Probe

Colonel Peter M. Hoffman, in opening the inquest over the unidentified negro boy who was drowned, yesterday's disturbance, announced he would make a thorough investigation of the entire affair.

YOUTH IS ACCUSED OF SHOOTING WOMAN

Buhl Authorities Say Lad Used Gun When He Was Refused Ride in Automobile

Juvenile Officer J. R. Ault was called to Buhl this morning to take charge of a couple of boys, one of whom is 13 or 14 years of age, one of whom is alleged to have shot at a passing automobile, inflicting injury to one of the occupants, a woman.

Merle information reaching town juvenile court from Buhl indicates that two boys were passing along a road near Buhl on Sunday apparently in quest of rabbits or squirrels. One of the boys fired a small rifle. It is said the lady hailed an auto and asked for a ride and when refused because the car was taken to the limit the lad with the rifle is declared to have shot, the missile passing through the back of the top and inflicting an injury on the head of a woman occupant of the car.

Both boys were taken into custody by Buhl authorities to be held for the juvenile officer.

POLICE CALLED; BURGLAR LEAVES

Surreptitious Visitor at Boyd Home Beats Hasty Retreat When Phone is Used

Burglars entered the Dr. T. O. Boyd home on Second avenue north yesterday evening, but were frightened away by the use of the telephone. The burglars left no trace.

The first indication that strangers were in the house was while Mrs. Boyd and daughter, Mrs. Lydia Keough, and the latter's two children, were visiting in the front part of the house, attention being attracted to noises in the kitchen. Later an ironing board put away in a closet off the kitchen, was knocked down, this so alarming the family that the police were called for.

When the chief of police arrived three minutes later the visitors had left the premises. Nothing was taken.

A marriage license has been issued to W. E. Sutherland, aged 21, and Folan Martin, aged 18, both of Buhl.

HARD TO HEAR IMPOSED FINE

Convicted Rancher Had Trouble with Hearing When Court Said "$200 Please"

"I'll fine you $200!" said the judge. "Don't hear yet!" exclaimed a prisoner as he placed a capacious and toughened hand back of one ear, in- viting a little more volume of tone. "I said I impose a fine of $200," the court shouted against the cupped hand. "I hear ye now, all right judge," replied the defendant, and he backed away from the bench with a posture that plainly indicated that he had heard too much the last time.

The colloquy took place in the probate court this morning when Judge O. P. Ditch pronounced sentence upon L. E. Daniels and J. A. King, ranchers who were found guilty of larceny of water from a canal. It was Rancher Daniels who first declared that he had heard the sentence. Both men paid their fines.
