WILSON AGAIN CONFERES WITH G. O. P. SOLONS

Continues Pleading Case of the Treaty Acceptance Without Reservations with Republican Senators

OPPOSITION DEVELOPS TO FRENCH ALLIANCE
Opponents Headed by Borah Declare Proposed Policy Contradicts American Traditions More Than Article Ten

PARIS, (AP)—A disposition to delay final action on ratification of the German peace treaty until the Franco-American military treaty was indicated today by those in touch with the situation, as representing the majority view of the chamber of deputies peace treaty committee.

BRUSSELS, (AP)—The foreign affairs committee of the Belgian chamber of deputies Tuesday passed favorably upon the question of the ratification of the peace treaty with Germany.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator Dillingham, of Vermont, first of the republican senators to see President Wilson today, when he resumed his discussion of the treaty with members of the senate majority, announced on leaving the White House that he expected to vote for the treaty with reservations. Senator Dillingham said he had a very "satisfactory and delightful talk" with Wilson, who answered frankly many questions concerning the negotiations at Paris, including the Shantung question.

President Wilson did not indicate to the senator that he would make a public statement concerning Shantung.

Harding Denies Conversion
Senator Harding of Ohio, a republican member of the foreign relations committee, also conferred with the president. Upon leaving the White House he declared this statement: "The president especially emphasized the embarrassments and delays which would result from reservations on the part of the United States in carrying out a course which will justify like action by the other of the signatories of the treaty."

Senator Harding denied that he had become "converted" to the present program of ratification of the treaty without reservations.

Outline Pact Opposition
Informal discussion among senators today developed that opposition to the special defensive treaty with France is likely to be centered along two general lines. One is the question of the "entangling alliances" and that it subverts the constitutional right of congress to determine questions of war or peace.

Although the president has taken the position that the treaty is not properly an alliance, Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, and others maintain that it has all the force of the alliances which have been common in European nations. In the view of this group, the treaty will be even more in contradiction of American traditions than article 10 of the league of nations covenant.

CONVICTED MURDERER OF MOTHER TAKES OWN LIFE

Roy Emerson Escapes from the Guards when Car Breaks Down; Hangs Self

KELLERTON, Ia., (AP)—Roy Emerson, of Creston, Ia., recently convicted of murdering his mother, early today escaped from guards who were taking him to the Ringgold county jail at Mt. Airy, and committed suicide by hanging himself under a highway bridge two miles northeast of here. He used his belt and a piece of barbed wire for a rope.

Emerson, accused of beating his mother to death with an iron brace and throwing her body down an elevator shaft in their unmaking establishment at Creston last May, was convicted of second degree murder at Mount Airy on July 25. His appeal was released on $15,000 bail pending appeal of his case to the supreme court. Last night the convicted murderer was re-arrested and under guard returned back to Creston in an automobile.

When near Kellerton the machine broke down and while repairs were being made Emerson escaped. Search parties found Emerson's fifteen foot dangling from a girder. He had been dead only a few minutes.

IDAHO WEATHER.
Tonight and Thursday fair and cool.

S. coast guard cutter Aqueduct which was accompanying the submarine. The G-2 was engaged in experimenting with depth bombs, and it sank apparently without warning. The hull has been located and salvage operations will follow.

BULGARIA GROWS RESTLESS OVER PEACE PROSPECT

Confidence of Enemy in Friendship of United States and Great Britain Voiced with Less Certainty

SOFIA, Bulgaria, (AP)—An atmosphere of uneasiness is discernible here with regard to the outcome of the mission in Paris of the Bulgarian peace delegate Bulgaria's claims to the Aegean in her aspirations as to Macedonia are still in the fore in discussion of peace terms, and despite the hints of possible territorial losses, which have caused concern, there appears to be a feeling here that the peace negotiations will be determined independently of Bulgaria's participation in the war against the allies.

Prominent spokesmen here express strong desire to see peace brought about through the visit of the British and American delegations, together with the hope, as one of them said, that the terms would be "something we can swallow." The United States and Great Britain are alluded to as friendly, but the belief in this friendship is voiced with less certainty than previously.

GERMAN TRADES UNIONS CONFESS WRONGS IN WAR

Samuel Gompers Breaks Down Hun Arrogant Attitude Displayed at International Congress of Laborers

AMERICAN PRESCRIBES PENITENCE FOR TEUTON
Assembly Adopts Resolution Declaring Bosch Workers Opponents of the War and Armaments

AMSTERDAM, (AP)—The work of the International Trades Union congress on Tuesday was hindered by a protracted discussion in committee of the old international organization regarding the German declaration of the stand of German trade unionists during the war. The Germans generally maintained an arrogant attitude until Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, told them plainly that if it were thought it would be impossible for workers of other countries to retain relations with them in the future. The German delegates thereupon somewhat relaxed.

Commander Sassenbach Stand
The committee on its return reported as follows: "That the statement of Herr Sassenbach (German socialist) be incorporated in full; that the regrets expressed therein be registered; that the German delegation confine frankly and openly the spirit of Sassenbach's declaration; that if the avowal be frank, open and satisfactory, the conference will proceed to the order of the day; that if unsatisfactory freedom of action be reserved."

Against all expectations, the congress adopted the report without debate after Sassenbach in a few words confirmed the German declaration. The congress then proceeded to form a new international.

The position of the various nations in the various places the British and American delegates in an unfair situation. They reported together more than 8,000,000 workers among the 17,000,000 workers represented at the congress, but have only 100,000 of the total 97,777 which may be cast on motions.

NEGROES CALL FOR TROOPS TO END RACE WAREFARE IN CHICAGO

Diminishing Evidence of Mob Spirit Encourage State and City Officials; Practically Every Member of Illinois National Guard Mobilized and Waiting Developments.

COMPARATIVE CALM COMES AT DAWN AFTER NIGHT OF BITTER FIGHTING

CHICAGO, (AP)—A conference of fifty negro ministers, professional men, social workers and business men, after investigating the causes of the Chicago race riots, issued a report today calling upon Governor Lowden to detail state troops to end the disturbances. "The race riots are the inevitable result of the friction and had feeling due to the indifference of the public officials to the bombing of houses occupied by negroes in certain sections of the South side," the report reads.

CHICAGO, (AP)—A white woman shot a negro in the side on South Wabash street this afternoon. She escaped unharmed.

No Serious Outbreaks
CHICAGO, (AP)—Comparative calm marked this morning's situation in the Chicago mobs. No serious outbreaks had been reported, the sporadic fights were few and mostly between individuals and in only one instance were police compelled to shoot. In that case a negro was killed while resisting search by two policemen.

Governor Frank O. Lowden and other state and city officials were plainly encouraged by the diminishing evidence of mob spirit. Although practically every militiaman in the state was either in the city or enroute here, it was indicated that they will probably not be called to active duty in the streets.

Believe Crisis Passed.
"I believe that we have passed the crisis," said Governor Lowden. Of course the troops will remain as long as there is possibility of danger and their services are at the command of the city authorities.

The mayor, however, said that the mayor and the chief of police are right in refraining from asking for soldiers. Sending the troops into the trouble districts might mean "the antagonism" and "the killing" of "the negroes" which drawn fresh trouble might break out.

Check Death Lists.
With the hull in rioting the police took stock. They checked the coroner's official death list of 26 and said it was complete. They also found that the list of injuries reported to them had increased to 235. One policeman, John H. Simpson, a negro, was killed and upwards of thirty were hurt in the three night outbreaks.

The official death list of 26 included a dozen whites and fourteen negroes. Of these all have been identified, except one white man and three negroes. No scores of other whites and negroes, however, have been hurt, some in the actual fighting.

Few Blacks Working.
A few negroes went to work today. The most seriously affected district was the stockyards, where only half the working force reported despite heavy police guards along the chief thoroughfares leading to the yards. The negroes evidently kept under cover, as almost none appeared on the streets and the railroads reported that there had been no work.

Ludendorff Blames Wilhelm for Scheme to Retain Belgium

German Newspapers Publish Details of Teuton Plan of Subjugation

BERLIN, (AP)—Responsibility for the crown council's decision in 1917 that Belgium territory must be held, was placed upon the former German emperor by General Ludendorff in a communication published Tuesday by the Deutsche Tageszeitung.

General Ludendorff's letter said that Gen. Hindenburg merely stated the military situation and stated what measures they believed necessary to protect the German empire from economic ruin. The former German emperor, General Ludendorff, decided the question.

An outline of what military authorities would do to have considered the necessary "economic unity" with Belgium, also was published by the National Zeitung. This outline contemplated the "economic unity" of Belgium, the system to Belgium, the levying of imperial taxes on monopolies there, German control of Belgian taxation, trade representation and the division of the income tax.

DISTURBANCES IN CHICAGO REFLECT IN STOCK MARKET
CHICAGO, (AP)—Big redactions in the listing of stock here today reflected knowledge by rural shippers that owing to race riots and labor difficulties the packing houses would be greatly hampered. Aerials of hope in the stock market were also cut by the fact that only 13,000, about one third of a normal supply. Owing to this curtailment, prices which yesterday were cut $1.25 a hundredweight in some cases began to rally.

REFERENDUM IS BRIGHT SPOT IN CHICAGO STRIKE

Carman's Union Members to Vote Again on Tie-Up; Company Officials Make No Effort to Run Cars

CHICAGO, (AP)—W. D. Mahon, international president of the street car employes union, upon his arrival in Chicago today took personal charge of the strike of 16,000 surface line and elevated road employes and promised to do everything in his power to settle the dispute without unnecessary delay.

Mr. Mahon's first action was to send a letter to the officials and members of the executive committee of the local unions calling a conference at 8 o'clock this afternoon. He said he wanted to learn from the local leaders every detail of the strike and the reasons which resulted in the calling of the strike. He declined to discuss the situation until after he had obtained this information.

It is believed that Mahon will urge the union to take a referendum vote on the compromise offer of the transportation lines granting a maximum scale of 65 cents an hour to the employes of surface lines and 67 cents to the elevated road men, with an 8-hour day and time and a half for overtime.

CHICAGO, (AP)—Strike-bound Chicago found hope today in a compromise offer that chief of the surface aid elevated men's unions planned a referendum vote of the entire union membership to determine whether a strike vote taken at Monday night mass meeting should be sustained. The union membership is 16,000. The attendance at the meeting where the strike vote passed over protest of the leaders was 4,000. A referendum vote of four hours may pass before the referendum vote can be completed.

Tie Up Still Complete
Meanwhile the tie-up on the second day of the strike was as complete as on yesterday. No cars could be made to run with the aid of strike breakers.

Working Obedience
Working Obedience found its way to business today. The various methods brought into use. Traffic was greatly restricted.

Notices were issued calling on automobile drivers to avoid peddlars by conveying them in the direction in which the driver was brought a "stopping Chicago" notices and "stopping" notices, the officials said.

Thomas Aid Workers
All the big mercantile establishments gave notice through the public press of increased telephone facilities and urged their customers to try their shopping by telephone.

Excursion trains entering the city have brought into use its entire passenger equipment and ran additional trains to accommodate the suburban population.

Railroads running west of the city were asked to make a stop at Aurora, Ill., the early morning hours of every day. The Aurora, Elgin and Chicago Electric railway sending traffic from western suburbs to the transit depot.

CONGRESSMAN CALL FOR SALE OF ARMY FOOT SURPLUS
WASHINGTON, (AP)—After an all day wrangle the House Tuesday night adopted a resolution directing the chief of its war investigating committee, Secretary Baker, to place on sale without delay surplus and products of the war department and valued at $120,000,000.

FORMER SOLDIER WITNESSES TELL OF DELIBERATE DESTRUCTION OF AMERICAN PLANES UNDER ORDERS
The vicinity to prevent photographs being taken, according to the witnesses, who estimated that the salvaged parts were worth about $150,000 each. Some of the machines had been sold, and some had been found in the hands of the early morning hours of every day. The Aurora, Elgin and Chicago Electric railway sending traffic from western suburbs to the transit depot.

Alfred T. Borer, who was a first sergeant in the first pursuit group, told the committee that while he was at Columbus-Belle in May, he witnessed the work of destruction. "I was in the camp to return home, he said, the work of destruction was still going on and he saw the ruins of a number of planes.

Austrian Minister Discerns Troubles

PARIS, (AP)—A dispatch from Vienna says that Dr. Karl Renner in a letter to President Ebert of German Austria outlining his policy of acceptance of the foreign ministry, says that German Austria's struggle for future existence is proving much more difficult than even pessimists expected. Austria, he asserts, can only surrender itself peacefully to the league of nations.

TURK ATROCITY EVADES CHARGE OF BLOODSHED

Officials Decimate Black Sea Coast Greeks by Parboiling Victims - and Turning Them Out to Die of Pneumonia

NEW YORK, (AP)—Charges that the Turkish officials decimated the Greek population along the Black Sea coast, 250,000 men, women and children living between Sinope and Ordu, without the shedding of blood but by "parboiling" the victims in Turkish baths and turning them half dead out to die of pneumonia or other ills in the snow of an Anatolian winter, are made in a letter from Dr. George E. White, representative of the Near East committee for relief in the Near East, made public here today.

Death Methods Varied
Sinope was the birthplace of the philosopher Diogenes, Dr. White recalls, and Ordu, just to the west, a coast which is still preserved in memory of the Argonauts and the Golden Fleece. The letter, written to Professor J. P. Xenides, secretary of the Greek Relief Committee here, describes the new method of ridding the land of its inhabitants, which it was said, was somewhat different from that employed by the Turks against the Armenians.

The first of the victims led to the Turks, according to Dr. White, were committed in the winters of 1916 and 1917 when orders were issued for the deportation of the Greeks along the Black Sea coast. The victims were crowded into the steam rooms of the baths in Ordu under the pretense of "sanitary regulations" and after being tortured for hours were turned out to die in the snow almost naked and without lodging or food. Their garments, which had been taken from them for fumigation, were lost, robbed or stolen. Most of the victims, it is said, and surviving contracted pneumonia and other pulmonary diseases and "died in swarms" on the way to exile, the letter declared.

All Settlements Burned
Dr. White said that in the province of Bursa, where there were about 25,000 village Greeks, less than 15,000 survive and every Greek settlement has been burned. The number of orphans, including some Armenian and Turkish children in the same district, it was said, aggregated 60,000. Since the armistice, the doctor wrote, many of the deportees have been returning to their ruined homes.

Brief Sport Bits

Split double-enders were the rule in the major leagues yesterday. Cleveland and Philadelphia divided two, so did Pittsburg and New York, and Boston and Cincinnati.

Edgie Clette, star twirler for the White Sox, took the beating of his life; being outwitted yesterday. The Yankees walloped him for a mess of hits and another mess of runs in the early rounds of the game.

It was a foregone conclusion that the Salt Lake Bees would beat Seattle yesterday, because the Tillamacs just now have the weakest club of the season in the Pacific Coast league. With average luck the Bees should race through the series without losing more than one game.

At that the Seattle club out-batted the Bees 9 to 6, but also made five errors while Hor's men were rumpling away to a steady gait behind Cliff Markle's twirling.

BELGIUM ASKS RECTIFICATION OF OLD ERROR

Rector Emeritus of University of Louvain, Reviews Treaties Under Which Holland Gained Territory Now in Dispute

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A commission representing seven powers met in Paris on Tuesday to consider the demands of Belgium for reconsideration of the treaties of 1814 by which Holland annexed the territory on the south bank of the Scheldt river and the southern part of Dutch Limburg, an elongated strip of land between Belgium and Germany, says a Belgian official announcement issued here.

In view of this meeting, the Belgian official information service has made public a statement by Dr. A. Hebbelynek, rector emeritus of the University of Louvain, reviewing the treaties under which Holland obtained possession of the disputed territory and setting forth arguments in favor of Belgium's claims.

Points to Treaty Futility

Dr. Hebbelynek, who is now in New York, declares that "the contention of Belgium is that, both for the safeguard of its military security in the north and for its economical development, it must have absolute control of the southern half of the river Scheldt, which implies possession of its left bank."

Belgium, says Dr. Hebbelynek, was compelled by the treaty of 1839 to recognize Holland's sovereignty over this territory now known as Dutch Flanders. In return Belgium was to be protected by treaties of neutrality the fulfillment of which, he says, was demonstrated in 1914 when Germany called them "mere scraps of paper," and invaded Belgium.

Antwerp's Predicament

"The experiences of 1914," continues Dr. Hebbelynek, "have made clear that unless Antwerp can even in time of war maintain its free access to the sea, unhampered by the quibbles of a neutral neighbor, the position of Antwerp is rendered indefensible for any length of time. The peril is made all the more acute by the fact that Antwerp is the only seaport available in Belgium for big ships such as army and ammunition transports."

"From the economical point of view it is an absolute necessity that Belgium obtain the right to manage without hindrance as a sovereign and independent power, the whole water system not only of the Scheldt river from Antwerp to the sea but also of the low lying lands of northern Flanders and of the ship canal from Ghent to the Scheldt river at Terneuzen."

Endless Trouble Arises

He asserts that endless trouble arises from the manner in which Dutch government officials carry out the agreement over the use of the small harbor of Terneuzen, an outlet of the ship canal from Ghent to the sea through Dutch territory.

Expanding Belgium's claims to the southern part of Dutch Limburg, Dr. Hebbelynek asserts that Holland's possession of this territory "lays the northeastern frontier of Belgium open to all attacks because the Dutch government recognizes the impossibility of defending Limburg against an invader coming from the east."

This fact, he adds, compelled Holland to let a whole German army march through Limburg into Germany with its plunder carried by Belgium in November, 1917. The rector of Louvain also points out that Belgium needs a ship canal across Dutch Limburg in order to tap the enormous coal fields of Westphalia.

Seeks Reconsideration

"Belgium," he concludes, "does not want to grab territory from Holland. It only craves a reconsideration of the intricate arrangements of 1618 to 1839 in the light of modern principles."

He points out that Holland should be satisfied by obtaining from Germany the provinces of Ostfriesland and Cleve which, he says, are largely inhabited by Dutch speaking people.

Cooperative Shipping Pays

Members of the farm bureau of Jasper county, Ark., who have formed a livestock shipping association, shipped their first load of live stock the first week of June. The load consisted of 74 hogs, consigned to different farmers. The hogs netted them $19.74 home weights. One of the shippers with 23 hogs was offered $14.50 a hundredweight for his hogs by a local buyer, or $60 less than he received.

Mystical Thirteen

In the Indian Pantheon there are 13 Buddhas; the apex of an Indian or Chinese pagoda is crowned with 13 mystical disks. The sacred seven preserved in the Temple of Atsumi, in Japan, has 13 objects of mystery forming its hill. When playing whist and many other games of cards each player has 13 cards and the pack is made up of four suits of 13 each.

Diamonds of Many Colors

Touten Petitions for Naturalization in Neutral Nations Numerous

PARIS, (AP)—A warning voice on the dangers of German infiltration by devious ways comes from Luxembourg. According to the Journal of Esch, of 42 petitions now before the Luxembourg chamber for naturalization, 38 come from Prussian subjects, several of whom have been identified as having been conscripted, more or less, with acts of frightfulness during the war. None of them, the Esch paper affirms would have dreamt of changing his nationality had the Germans won.

Reports from Switzerland indicate that Germans will try to peacefully enter France under the guise of Swiss citizenship. According to a message from the Associated Press correspondence in Switzerland the other day, fully one hundred thousand Germans and Austrians are waiting on the border line between Basle and Constance for admittance into Switzerland, but the federal authorities are keeping a strict watch on these would-be immigrants.

IDAHOO STOCK MAY GO TO GREENER PASTURES

University Extension Division Plans to Send Cattle to Wet Middle States

BOISE, Ida.—Plans by which sheep and cattle crowded out of Idaho by dry weather, to the possible number of 500,000 sheep and 35,000 cattle will be collected from the drought-stricken counties and distributed to pastures and ranges in the middle west and south, have been announced by E. F. Binohart, field animal husbandman of the University of Idaho extension division and the federal animal husbandry service, who has just returned from Salt Lake and St. Paul conferences, where the plan of routing the western drought situation was devised.

The expected 500,000 and 52,000 excesses of sheep and cattle shipments over those of normal years are based on stockmen's estimates that shipments will be 20 per cent greater than normal, unless the situation is saved by fall rains, which will help stock owners in getting their animals from the forest reserves to the pasture lots.

Three outlets are possible for western cattle and sheep which cannot be fed in their own states. They can be taken into the cattlemen's land of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota; they can be placed on the pastures of Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma, or they can go on to the ranges of New Mexico and Texas.

The cut-over lands of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota, according to Mr. Binohart, are waist-high with grass that is going to waste and which can be fed in large measure, free of charge, owing to the fact that large corporations, which own the land, are anxious for it to be cleared off.

Texas is reported to have much extra range this year, on account of rain, providing feed for cattle in great excess of cattle that were fed there last year.

WILHELM CONCERNED FOR CHAPEL WHERE HE ONCE PRAYED

LONDON, (AP)—The Berlin newspapers say that the former German emperor has written to the archbishop of Posen, asking him to preserve the protestant chapel at Posen castle for protestant services. The former monarch said that it would be unbearable to him to have Roman Catholic services celebrated in the chapel, into which he had put his whole soul and in which he prayed for victory for Germany.

MALNUTRITION BLAMED FOR CHILDREN'S BLINDNESS

WARSAW, Poland, (AP)—The abnormal number of children born blind in this country during the past three years despite the fact that their parents were healthy is due mainly to the malnutrition of mothers, according to a report issued today by the American Red Cross.

The increasing amount of blindness among children at birth was thought at first to herald the advent of some new disease. But investigation by American experts proved that the fabled condition of the mothers reacted on the eyesight of their infants.

KENTUCKY DISTILLERS INVADE BRITISH ISLES

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (AP)—Exportation of Kentucky whiskey has begun as a result of the lifting of embargoes in the British Isles, according to dealers here. Large shipments from warehouses throughout the state are being made to England, Ireland, and Scotland, exports so far having exceeded 20,000 barrels, according to reports.

The distillers are represented as desirous of disposing of the big Kentucky holdings before constitutional prohibitions in January halt exportation.

WHEAT FUTURES TRADING IS BANNED IN CANADA

WINNIPEG, (AP)—Trading in wheat futures was ordered discontinued by the council of the grain exchange a few minutes after the opening of the Winnipeg market Tuesday.

Post war trading in wheat was resumed in Canada nine days ago. Since that time the not advanced of the government's fixed war price has been 21c. It is understood that action was taken upon the suggestion of George E. Foster, minister of commerce. An official statement will be issued later.

FINDING AN ISSUE

While framers of political issues in this country are anxiously scanning an acid prospect in respect to the general elections of 1920, the present transitional stage of British industrial and political life are replete with agitations

Not many of these agitations, however, can be transplanted to the soil of the United States.

Nationalization of the mines, railways and other essential industries, one of the principal political issues in the Empire, might have served as a very excellent campaign issue in the United States but for the recent and continuing unhappy experiment in this direction born of war conditions in this country.

Abandonment of the old British free trade system for protection—involving the question open to endless discussion whether British commercial prosperity has been because of free trade or have

The most promising candidate among English political issues for transplantation to the American arena is perhaps that which made there to clear off the debt by a heavy levy on capital, together with the demand for higher wages and shorter working hours for all in the organized industries, and government support for all persons laid out of work

This suggestion is not altogether a new one in the western hemisphere and some halfway already has been made along these lines by certain insensate.
The subject looms big as a political consideration, and, besides, there is a good deal to be said on either side of the question.

SOMEbody MADE A DISCOVERY

Governor S. V. Stewart of Montana has ordered an investigation by the state efficiency and trade commission into the retail prices of food and clothing in Butte with a view to remedying an acute situation reported to exist in that city.

This is according to an Associated Press dispatch sent out from Helena, carrying the additional information that as soon as higher wages were granted miners of Butte recently, merchants as promptly began a revision of retail prices on commodities to get the money back.

While this system may be deemed an important discovery by Governor Stewart of Montana, it is one that has been known to exist, in that state, a long, long time. In 1916 a switchmen's strike was called in Montana, the switchmen demanding 15 per cent increase. Thirty-two men were involved, they compromised the strike on a basis of about five per cent raise. But the retail dealers had, as soon as the official demands of the workers were made known, increased the prices of cessary commodities to cover the entire 15 per cent asked. The entire population of the town paid the increased cost of necessities, while only a few men enjoyed the advantage of the 15 per cent increase. Later railroad telegraphers, seeking recognition of their order, submitted a demand to the road management asking from five fifteen per cent increase for telegraphers. The question was submitted arbitration, the workers accepting a compromise recognition of the telegraphers' order and a small increase in salary for terminal operators.

May this not be one of the chief causes everywhere of the steady increase in cost of living over the advanced in wages paid the workmen?

The Magnificent Ambergsons BOOTH TARKINGTON

She kept her eyes upon his white face for a few strained moments, then reigning her nerve, looked away and shrugged her shoulders.

"You weren't intended to hear what I've been saying, George," she said quietly. "But since you seem—"

"Yes, I did."
"Did you shrug your shoulders again. After all, I don't know but it's just as well, in the long run."
He walked up to where she sat. "You
—you—" he said thickly. "It seems—it seems to me you're—you're pretty common!"

Ol' Bronson had risen from his chair in great distress. "Your aunt was talking nonsense because she's planned over a business matter," George said. "She doesn't mean what she said, and neither she nor anyone else gives the slightest credit to such foolishness—no one in the world!"

George gulped, and wet lines showed suddenly along his lower eyelids.
"They—they'd better not!" he said,
then stalked out of the room, and out of the house.

Ten minutes later, George Amberg-son, somewhat in the semblance of an angry person plunging out of the Mansion, found a pale nephew waiting to accost him.

"I haven't time to talk, George!"
"Yes, you have. You'd better!"
"What's the matter, then?"
His namesake drew him away from the vicinity of the house.

"What's the matter with you?"
"Amelia says, in there. She says my mother's on your side about this division of the property because you're Eugene Morgan's best friend. She said—" George paused to swallow.

"She said she felt it."
"Of course she felt it," said his uncle, and laughed shortly. "If it's because of anything Amelia's been saying, I don't blame you! What else did she say?"
George swallowed again, as with nausea, but under his uncle's encouragement he was able to be explicit.

"She said my mother wanted you to be friendly to her about Eugene Morgan."
"Amelia's a chatterbox."
"Amelia's an idiot!"
"Amelia's an idiot," George repeated
wretchedly. "She said there was talk.
She said—"

"Look here, young fellow! Amberg-son laughed good-naturedly. "There probably is some harmless talk about the way your Aunt Fanny goes after poor Eugene, and I've no doubt I've shouted her saying a lot of mean, laughing at him, twenty-odd years ago, before he left here. Well, we can't blame the poor thing if she's got her hopes up again, and I don't know that I blame her, myself, for using your mother the way she does."

"How do you mean?"
"Ambergson put his hand on George's shoulder. "You like to tease Fanny,"
he said. "But I wouldn't tease her about this, if I were you. Fanny hasn't got much in her life. In fact, I don't know of anything much that Fanny has, except her feeling about Eugene.
She's always been a better of me, funny to you is pretty much life-and-death to her, I suspect. Now, I'll not deny that Eugene Morgan is attracted to your mother. He is; and that's another case of 'always was'; but I know him, and he's a knight, George—a knight, perhaps if you're with Don Quixote!" And I think your mother likes him better than she likes any man outside her own family, and that he interests her more than anybody else—and always has. And that's all there is to it, except—"

the first night of George's vacation—that with a evening which she had had counted on for a vacation for "settling things" between them. "Almost compelled," she meant. And George, discontented with the "almost," but consented that she seemed glad to wear a sapphire locket with a tiny photograph of George Ambergson inside it, found some reason to wonder for "settling things" at the final instant of their parting. For, after declining to let him kiss her "good-by," as if his desire for such a ceremony were the most preposterous absurdity in the world, she had leaned suddenly close to him and left upon his cheek the veriest feather-soft of a fairy's wing.

"No. It must keep on being almost.
"Isn't almost pretty pleasant? You know well enough that I care for you.
I did from the first minute I saw you,
and I'm pretty sure you know it—I'm afraid you do. I'm afraid you always knew it. But it's such a nuisance when it scares me. It means a good deal to a lot of people besides you and me, and that scares me, too. I shouldn't be a bit surprised to find myself an old lady, some day, still thinking of you—while you'd be away and away with somebody else perhaps, and I'd forgetful aged spot!" "Lucy Morgan," you'd say, when you saw my obituary.
"Lucy Morgan? Let me see: I seem to remember the name. Didn't I know some Lucy Morgan or other, once upon a time? Then—you'd shake your big white head and stroke your long white beard, distinguished as that would be,
and long white beard and you'd say, 'No,
I don't seem to remember any Lucy
Morgan; I wonder what made me think I did?' And poor me! I'd be deep in the ground, wondering if you'd heard about it and what you were saying!
Good-by for today. Don't worry too hard."

George immediately seized pen and paper, pliantly but vigorously requesting Lucy not to imagine him with a beard, distinguished or otherwise, even in the extremities of age. Then,
after inscribing his protest in the matter of this visioned beard, he concluded his missive in a tone mollified to tenderness, and proceeded to read a letter from his mother which had reached him simultaneously with the one he wrote. Isabel wrote as cheerfully where she had just arrived with her husband:

"I think your father looks better already, darling, though we've been here only a few hours. It may be we've found just the place to build him up."
The doctors said they hoped it would prove to be so. If it is in any way worth the long struggle we had with him to get him to give up and come.
I'm afraid that in my anxiety to get him to do what the doctors wanted him to, I wasn't able to buck up Brother-George as I should in his difficulty with Sydney and Amelia. Oh, so sorry!
George didn't get more than I've ever seen him—they're not what they wanted, and they're sailing before long. I hear, to live in Florence. Father said he couldn't stand the constant per-suing—I'm afraid the work he used was 'niggling.' I can't understand people looking for trouble. George and I they may be Ambergsons, but they're vulgar! I'm afraid almost agree with him. At least, I think they were inconsiderate."

"We plan to stay six weeks if the place agrees with him. It does really seem to already! He's not called in the last few days, but he's waiting. Don't smoke too hard, darling boy."

"Devotely, your mother."
"ISABEL."

But she did not keep her husband-
there for the six weeks she anticipated.
She did not keep him anywhere that long. Three weeks after writing this letter, she wrote him, suddenly, to George that they were leaving for home at once; and four days later,
when he and a friend came whistling
into his study, from lunch at the club, he found another telegram upon his desk.

He read it twice before he comprehended its import.
" Papa left us at ten this morning,
dearest."

"MOTHER!"
The friend saw the change in his face. "Not bad news?"
George lifted utterly dumfounded
eyes from the yellow paper.

"My father," he said weakly. "She says—she says he's dead. I've got to go home."

His Uncle George and the Major met him at the station when he arrived—the first time the Major had ever come to meet his grandson. The old gentleman sat in a chair in the entrance (which still needed paint) at the entrance to the station, but he got out and advanced to grasp George's hand tremulously, when the latter appeared.

"Poor fellow!" he said, and patted him repeatedly upon the shoulder. "Poor fellow!"
George noticed that the Major's tremulousness did not disappear, as they drove up the street, and that he seemed much feebler than during the summer. Principally, however, George was concerned with his own emotion,
and he was glad to find the emotion,
and the anxious sympathy of his grandfather and his uncle made him feel hypocritical. He was not grief-stricken; but he felt that he ought to be, and with a secret shame, concealed his calmness beneath an affectation of collapse.

But when he was taken into the room where lay what was left of Wilbur Alnafer, George had no longer to pretend; his grief was sufficient. It needed only the sight of that forever hazy remembrance of the quiet man who had been always one of the best of his son's life—so quiet a part that George had seldom been conclusively aware that his father was indeed a part of his life. At the Turin lay there, his very quietness was what was most like like; and suddenly it struck George hard. And in that unexpected, racking grief of his son, Wilbur Alnafer became more vividly George's father than he had ever been in life.

When George left the room, his arm was about his black-robed mother, his

"I'm All Right Again, Mother," He Said Awkwardly.

shoulders were still shaken with sobs.
He leaned upon his mother; she gently comforted him; and presently he recovered his composure and became self-conscious enough to wonder if he had not been making an unmanly display of himself. "I'm all right again, mother," he said awkwardly. "Don't worry about me; you'd better go to the room, or something; you look pretty pale."

Isabel did look pretty pale, but not gloriously pale, as Fanny did. Fanny's grief was overwhelming; she stayed in her room, and George did not see her until the next day, a few minutes before the funeral, when her haggard face appalled him.

POLK CONVEYS WILSON'S VIEW

New Head of American Peace Delegation Imparts Presidential Decisions

PARIS, (AP)—(Havas) Frank L. Polk, American assistant secretary of state, who arrived here yesterday to become head of the American peace delegation, was quoted today by several newspapers as being optimistic regarding the ratification of the German peace treaty by the United States senate.

The terms to be presented to the Bulgarians which is here awaiting the completion of the treaty, were said to be the principal object of Mr. Polk's attention, but it was added, he was understood not to have brought with him President Wilson's decision on the disposition of Thrace.

The president's decision on other problems, especially the mandates for Turkey or Armenia, the Hungarian situation and the Russian question, the newspapers said, probably will be made known by Mr. Polk.

It is the impression in peace conference circles that the United States will not accept any mandates and that Great Britain probably will assume mandates for Constantinople and Turkey.

RESIDENCE BUILDING HERE ABOVE NORMAL

Twin Falls Outfoots the Entire Country in Matter of Home Construction

Although reports of general conditions the country over indicate a sub-normal degree of building Twin Falls city has established a higher mark for general construction in the present season.

This record is indicated in the number of permits already issued for the building of residences inside the corporate limits of the town. These number approximately 100, and mean the addition of at least $300,000 to the taxable property of the city.

Included in this estimate is one apartment house, which is in cost not less than $75,000 and will furnish housing accommodations for 25 families.

Outside of this apartment house there are no particularly large residential structures being built, the remainder of the permits covering chiefly family homes of the bungalow or cottage type. It is estimated that there are now about 50 such in course of construction, in various sections of town, with a similar number either completed and occupied, or ready for service.

In the expressed opinion of persons whose judgment in matters such as this is usually accurate that residence building progress in Twin Falls will continue unabated indefinitely, with a much bigger rush next spring, when the entire country will, it is expected, be nearer a prebellum basis than at present.

START BACKFIRE TO SAVE TOWNS

St. Regis Still in Danger; New Blazes Threaten Sandpoint and Newport.

SPOKANE, (AP)—Increasingly threatening forest fire conditions in the Lolo national forest on the Montana-Idaho state line, in the Clear Fork of the Selway and in the Selway and Nez Perce national forests in northern Idaho, were reported to the United States district forest service Tuesday. So dangerous did the situation appear there that a separate fire fighting organization has been formed.

Little effort can be made at present to extinguish the flames in the Selway forest, it was stated, and considerable damage may be caused before the fire's progress is halted. Meanwhile reinforcements are being sent to the forest.

The town of St. Regis, Mont., was still in danger and one firing was started late Tuesday as a precaution against the possible high winds. The Kootenai, Idaho, forest, has a 10,000 acre fire on Big Creek and 130 men are fighting it. The Hughes Creek fire was declared to be the worst blaze in the Bitter Root forest.

NEGROES CALL FOR TROOPS TO END RACE WARFARE

unfriendly exodus of negroes from the city.

Reports that the 75,000 southern negroes who came to Chicago to get the high wages, had begun to drift south again, were scouted by railroad men.

Bitter Fight at Night.

Bitter fighting last night between whites and negroes spread throughout all parts of Chicago, the serious casualties being more numerous than at any similar period in the racial war. The city authorities made no call for troops and in the absence of such request Governor Frank O. Lowden could not order the soldiers to take charge, although with the arrival today of two more regiments, 8,000 well armed men were resting on their arms.

The death list at dawn had reached 27. An incorrect police report last night had sent it higher, but investigation showed that no one had been killed in a spectacular automobile crash and race fight at 35th and State streets. The authenticated deaths in last night's fighting were two, both negroes. One was killed in the Italian district of the west side and Ira Henry, 40, was shot dead when he wanted one of two policemen who sought to search him for weapons at 50th and State streets. In other instances whites and black slashed each other, with knives shot from ambush or ran down isolated members of the other race and beat them into insensibility. There was some looting of abandoned residences and stores in the South Side black belt and a number of small fires were ascribed to incendiarism.

More Guardsmen Summoned.

The ninth regiment from the southern part of the state and the Tenth from central Illinois rushed tonight to Chicago today to add their rifles and marching guns to the potential army already here.

The police struggle tonight to clear the rioters from the south side negro quarter and early last night apparently succeeded, only to find that the mob spirit had spread like plague to other sections. On the west side, Italians attacked negroes, and in one case paraded the corpse of a victim with gasoline. On the north side, fighting proceeded for several hours and in the residential districts known as Woodlawn and Englewood on the far north side fierce fighting took place.

Whites More Aggressive.

The whites again seemed to be more aggressive, the negroes having been converted to peace by sinner members of their race or cowed by the brutal beatings sustained by negroes. Bleeping car porters accepted an offer of the company to home them rather than go home and the jazz band concert at the municipal pier was called off because the negro musicians refused to perform.

Arms Plentiful.

The police have collected a veritable arsenal of weapons since the rioting began. But, despite their vigilance, arms and ammunition seemed to be plentiful.

To start the fourth day of warfare, Patrolman Walter Sullivan was probably fatally shot by a negro for whom he was searching in a vacant lot. As Sullivan fell, his partner John Keel, shot the negro dead. During the night fifteen other policemen were hit by bullets, and one or two may die.

Grand Jury to Investigate.

State's Attorney Hoyne announced that the August grand jury will investigate the race riots and attempt to fix responsibility for the outbreaks. Coroner Hoffman today resumed the taking of testimony in the inquest over the bodies of the victims.

One more victim was added to the tally of deaths caused by injuries received in the race riots. Berger Odman, white, 21 years, an employe of the Chicago Telephone company, was shot in the abdomen in a fight with negroes last night, dying this morning.

Wilson Will Review.

DEEP INTEREST IN CONFERENCE

Presbyterians of this Synod are Making Extraordinary Plans for Coming Meeting

Much interest is felt in the Presbyterian circles of the synod of Idaho in the summer conference that opens in Bellevue, next Tuesday night. The conference, which is built to meet the needs of all ages is headed by Dr. Verkuyl of Chicago, Presbyterian Sunday School expert. The Philadelphia board is sending out a man to direct the Young People's work.

Headed by Dr. O'Connell, and Silver Bay conference leader will give a course on Christian Americanization. Dr. Madolans was for several years the head of the Nassau County Civic Association.

A number of leaders from the state will have charge of various lines of work. Among those will be Professor and Mrs. M. G. Mitchell of Twin Falls.

Good Fishing Too. Wood river is noted for its good fishing. The scenery around Bellevue is generally attractive.

The little park along the river affords an excellent place to camp. Anyone who wishes can take his own tent and camping outfit and spend the week. An enrollment fee of all ages is levied to cover the expenses of the conference. Boarding is very reasonable. A room costs $3.50 per week. A tent furnished at $2.25 per week.

Head Broad Lines. While the conference is under Presbyterian auspices it will be conducted along broad lines. Anyone interested may attend. For reservations write at once to Rev. A. H. Brand, 919 E. 1st Avenue North, Enclosing the enrollment fee.

LEGION TO FURTHER RECLAMATION PLANS

Late War Veterans' Organization Takes Up Land Question For Service Men

Idaho's war veteran delegation, which attended the National American Legion camp held in St. Louis, Mo. 8, 9, 10 proposed a resolution calling on the government to appropriate moneys for reclamation projects and in order to effectuate the resolutions of the St. Louis meeting of the American Legion veterans of the world and development as a means of rehabilitating returning soldiers, a committee of three members of the national executive committee will make a thorough study of the subject of reclamation, swamp and cut-over timber lands in co-operation with the Secretary of the Interior.

This committee includes Luke Lea, former democratic senator from Tennessee, Thomas W. Miller, former republican congressman from Delaware, joint chairman of the Legion's executive committee and J. P. J. Herbert, of Massachusetts.

The aim of the committee is to obtain legislation whereby discharged soldiers and sailors may be enabled to establish homes for themselves and solve a place in the field of constructive national effort through some broad comprehensive plan for the reclamation of all lands susceptible of reclamation and production.

In this connection H. T. Cary, representing Secretary of the Interior Francis B. Lusk, appeared before the national executive committee of the American Legion to explain the provisions of the Mendenhall bill which he described as the best step toward reclamation. Pending the results of the study to be made by the committee of the American Legion, the secretary of the legion determines if the reclamation legislation for the future years, it will take the active part in its favor and support its adoption.

ORDINANCE NO. 262
An Ordinance regulating the sale and care of dairy products, prescribing the methods and duties to be observed, providing for the testing of dairy products and the examination of all cows for tuberculosis, and providing a penalty for the violation thereof, repealing Ordinance No. 224 of the City of Twin Falls, Idaho, passed and approved the 21st day of January, 1918.

Be it ordained by the mayor and council of the City of Twin Falls, Idaho:

Section 1. No person, firm or corporation shall have for sale, sell, deliver, offer for sale, or bring within the limits of the City of Twin Falls for human consumption, any unwholesome, filthy or adulterated milk; milk from cows that have been confined too closely in stables; milk from cows that have been fed, in whole or in part, on swill; milk from diseased cows or other animals; or any milk made from any such milk, or unwholesome butter or cheese.

Section 2. No milk or cream which has been watered, adulterated, reduced or changed in any respect by the addition of any other foreign substances, including coloring matter or preservatives; shall be brought into, held, kept, sold or offered for sale at any place in the City of Twin Falls. The term "adulterated" when used in this section shall be construed to mean:

(a) Whole milk containing more than eighty-nine per centum of water or containing less than eleven per centum of solids.

(b) Whole milk containing less than three per centum of fat.

(c) Whole milk containing in excess of 100,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter.

(d) Milk drawn from animals within thirty days before or within five days after parturition.

(e) Milk drawn from animals fed on any substance in a state of fermentation, or any other unwholesome food.

(f) Milk drawn from animals kept under crowded or unhealthful conditions.

(g) Whole milk from which any part of the cream has been removed, except in so far as the sale of skimmed milk is permitted under the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 3. No person, firm or corporation dealing in milk or cream, and no employee, servant or agent of such person, firm or corporation, shall sell, offer for sale, or bring within the limits of the City of Twin Falls, milk from which the cream has been removed, in whole or in part, unless sold as skimmed milk, and unless the milk appears in conspicuous place on the can or other receptacle from which the milk is sold, the words "Skimmed Milk", in letters one inch in height and one-half inch in width, and unless the milk contains not less than one per centum of solids or less than one-tenth of one per centum of fat shall be sold as skimmed milk.

Section 4. Except as otherwise provided herein, the provisions of this ordinance shall apply to and be binding upon hotels, cafes, restaurants, boarding houses, creameries and other public places where milk or cream is sold or sold to guests or patrons as a beverage. Provided, however, that in hotels, cafes, restaurants, boarding houses, creameries and other public places where milk or cream is sold or served as a beverage, it shall be the duty of the owner, keeper or person in charge thereof to keep conspicuously displayed in the room where such milk or cream is sold or served signs with the words "Skimmed Milk is Served Here" in letters not less than two inches in height and one inch in width.

Section 5. Any milk or cream found to be adulterated, or any skimmed milk which is held or offered for sale without the marks and notices herein prescribed, shall be subject to seizure and may be destroyed by the Health Officer.

Section 6. No adulterated cream shall be brought into, held, kept, sold or offered for sale in the City of Twin Falls. The word "cream" as used in this ordinance shall mean milk containing not less than eighteen per centum of the fatty portions of pure milk which rise to the surface when milk is left at rest, and is separated by other means. The term "adulterated cream" as used in this section, shall be held to mean any cream to which any foreign substance whatever shall have been added.

Section 7. The Health Officer shall be permitted to take at any time, and have examined or tested, samples of dairy products from any person, firm or corporation vending such products in the City of Twin Falls, and a record of the same shall be kept in his office. The examinations or tests shall be made by a reliable chemist registered under the laws of the State of Idaho. A sample shall also be taken at the same time and from the same receptacle and turned over to the person, firm or corporation from whom or which taken under the supervision of the Health Officer, and the said sample may be tested by a registered chemist designated by the person, firm or corporation from whom or which the sample is taken.

Section 8. Every person, firm or corporation shall have examined by a state or federal veterinarian at least once a year for tuberculosis, all cows from which milk or other dairy products made from such milk are sold or offered for sale by him, then or in the City of Twin Falls, the expense of such examinations to be borne by the person, firm or corporation for whom or which examination is taken. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or offer for sale in the City of Twin Falls any milk or other dairy products made from such milk from any cow not so tested, and the testing of cows from which milk or other dairy products made from such milk are sold in said city, shall be done within sixty (60) days from and after the passage and approval of this ordinance and every year thereafter. Cows added to the herd sixty (60) days thereafter shall be tested at the time they are added, and dairymen must notify the Health Officer of such additions.

Section 9. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in or carrying on the business of vending milk or cream shall deliver all milk or cream to family trade or individual customers in the City of Twin Falls in the regulation glass bottles or glass jars, with stoppers or covers in order to make the receptacles airtight.

Section 10. By the phrase "family trade" as used in this ordinance, shall mean the vending or delivery of milk or cream at residences or lodging houses for use in one or more families. This term is not meant to include the vending or delivery of milk or cream to hotels, cafes, restaurants, boarding houses, creameries or other public places where milk or cream is sold or served as a beverage.

Section 11. No milk or cream shall be sold the temperature of which is higher than fifty-five degrees Fahrenheit, or which contains an excess of 100,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter, or which shows a dark gray sediment at the bottom of any glass bottle, glass jar or other receptacle in which it is contained. The cooling of milk shall begin within thirty minutes after the milking.

Section 12. No person shall transfer any milk or cream intended for sale in the City of Twin Falls from one can, glass bottle, glass jar or other receptacle to another, on any street, alley or thoroughfare, or upon any delivery wagon or other vehicle, or in any exposed place, except a creamery or in the clean premises of a stationer, hotel, cafe, or other place where milk or cream is prepared or sold, shall be located less than fifty feet from any water closet, privy, vault, cesspool, barn or cow house, or any chicken yard or coop; and the milk house, building or other place wherein milk or cream intended for delivery to customers in the City of Twin Falls, is kept, handled or prepared for delivery, shall be a room which is not used for any other purpose.

Section 14. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in or carrying on the business of vending milk or cream in the City of Twin Falls, shall cause all pouring cans, dippers or other vessels used in the handling and vending of milk or cream, to be sterilized daily, and shall sterilize with boiling water or live steam each time they are used, and as soon as they are empty, all cans, bottles, jars and other receptacles used in and about the milking and sale of milk or cream, and shall keep all refrigerators or compartments in stores or other places where milk or cream is kept, stored or handled, in a scrupulous clean and sanitary condition, and free from the presence or vicinity of any vermin or living insect, to contaminate or injuriously affect the quality or sweetness of the milk or cream.

Section 15. The City Council of the City of Twin Falls, acting through any board or committee named by it, may make all necessary orders, rules and regulations, not in conflict with the regulations of the State of Idaho, for the operation and keeping of dairies, and the buildings, outhouses and other premises used for the housing and keeping of cows from which milk is drawn for sale in the City of Twin Falls, and all necessary orders, rules and regulations for the keeping and cooling of such milk, and for the keeping of such buildings, outhouses and other premises in a clean, healthful and sanitary condition; and every person, firm or corporation selling or offering for sale within the City of Twin Falls any milk or cream, shall be subject to such orders, rules and regulations, and the Health Officer shall at all times be permitted to inspect such premises. Whenever any dairy, stable or other buildings or premises are kept in violation of such orders, rules and regulations, or whenever there is a failure to observe such orders, rules and regulations in the operation of dairies and the sale of dairy products, the Health Officer shall enforce such orders, rules and regulations, and he is hereby empowered to seize and condemn such products.

Section 16. Every person, firm or corporation vending milk or cream to family trade individuals in the City of hotels, cafes, restaurants, boarding houses, or other public places of a like character where milk or cream is sold or served as a beverage in the City of Twin Falls, shall pay an annual license of One ($1.00) Dollar, and failure to comply with any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be construed to operate as a revocation of such license. Application for renewal of licenses shall be made to the Health Officer, and shall be accompanied by the certificate of the veterinarian covering the examination required by Section 8 of this ordinance. Applications for renewal of licenses shall be accompanied by new certificate from the examining veterinarian.

Section 17. The Health Officer shall present the application provided for in Section 16 to the City Council at the next regular meeting after the filing of such application, together with a report as to whether or not the applicant has complied with the requirements of this ordinance. The City Council shall, after such investigation as it sees fit to make, by resolution grant licenses to such applicants as may be entitled thereto under the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 18. It shall be the duty of the Health Officer to issue such licenses or licenses as are authorized by such resolution, which said license shall be numbered and signed by him, and a record thereof shall be kept in a book provided for that purpose, and said license shall be valid and effective for the period of one (1) year after the date of its issuance, and no longer.

Section 19. Any person, firm or corporation, directly or indirectly violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not in excess of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars, and every day that such person, firm or corporation shall continue to violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall constitute a distinct and separate offense.

The Most Valuable.

So, day by day, and week by week; so, month after month, and year after year, work on; and in that process gain strength and symmetry, and nerve and knowledge, that when success, patiently and bravely worked for, shall come, it may find you prepared to receive it and keep it. The development which you will get in this busy and patient labor will prove itself, in the end, the most valuable of your successes.—J. G. Holland.

The Chrysanthemum. It is believed that the first specimen of the chrysanthemum in Europe was reared at the Botanic gardens, London, in 1567. The flower's rise into favor was chiefly due to the Stoke Newington Chrysanthemum society, which held its first exhibition of blossoms in 1840 and served as a school of chrysanthemum culture for the world.

WHEAT GROWERS ASKED FOR HELP

Canal Company Manager Urges Diverting of Unneeded Water for Use on Orchards

An urgent appeal to water users for aid for the orchardists in this district is made in a public note by J. C. Wheeler, general manager of the Twin Falls canal company, who exhorts wheat growers to divert their streams from their own property and lend the water to fruit-growers whose orchards, Mr. Wheeler explains, are in dire need of moisture.

It is probable that this subject will be dealt with in more interesting and exhaustive manner by Mr. Wheeler at a meeting of water-users to be held this evening, either in the headquarters of the company farm-bureau or in the city park.

Tells of Conditions.

In his public appeal, Mr. Wheeler makes the following enlightening statements:

There are about 6,000 acres of orchards on the Twin Falls tract; the fruit of which has made a good selling and promises a crop of 100 carloads of fruit. The water users will not grow more until the first of September; without a reasonable amount of attention to irrigation the loss may be enormous.

The fact that most of the orchards comprise from 75 to 100 per cent of the holdings of the owners leaves little chance for local fruit production.

There are about 100,000 acres of wheat on the project, 90 to 95 per cent of which will be laid by as far as irrigation is concerned, in a few days. The orchardists have had a hard sledding for several years, the present crop indicates a bountiful harvest.

The circumstances present a splendid opportunity for the wheat growers to offer the orchardists the use of their streams for 30 or 40 days by donation or for a consideration.

Effort Worth While.

"This may mean that in some cases a nurse crop of alfalfa or clover may suffer for a short time, but the value of the fruit crop on this project is well worth the effort, and the big thing is the opportunity to give the orchardists cooperation that is, after all, worth more to a community than we can estimate in dollars and cents.

"If wheat growers, orchardists, stock-growers, bean growers and potato growers can get together the canal management will be glad to discuss the details. Perhaps the Farm Bureau of the Canal Office may be able to clear a passage for those transferees. The Canal company can furnish printed transfer cards and the operation depends on the answers and the transfers to the best of its ability.

CEREAL CROP DISEASE HEADQUARTERS IS SMALL

Federal Investigator Finds Low Percentage of Smut in Twin Falls District

That the farming tract around Twin Falls is particularly free from crop diseases such as smut, is contained in an oral report made by J. W. Barber, of the cereal investigations bureau, connected with the agricultural department at Washington. The report was given C. H. Bohrer of the farm bureau, after Mr. Barber had made a day's investigation of disease conditions among cereal crops in this section yesterday.

The Twin Falls district is particularly free from smut and kindred diseases, which have been found particularly prevalent in the north end of the state. Mr. Barber said, adding that in his survey of this section he had found very slight infection in this section.

There is a small showing of loose smut, and I found two fields showing several smut, also some spot blight in barley, but nothing of an alarming nature," the expert explained.

Mr. Barber is one of a corps of experts in crop blight conditions and smut, sent out from the agricultural department at Washington to make a thorough canvass of the entire country from east to west and north boundary, to the Rio Grande to gather statistics on every crop disease and blight. The men all work in cooperation with state extension departments of agriculture. Mr. Barber has temporary headquarters at Moscow.

Some time ago, according to reports, the federal agricultural department became alarmed concerning the appearance of two distinct cereal crop diseases in eastern agricultural sections. These diseases were said to have had their origin in Australia, where considerable crop damage and loss has been caused. The diseases are said to have reached this country through the medium of natural transients, and the government is putting forth every effort to stamp them out before they become violent in this country.

Mr. Barber will conclude his investigations in this district today and from here will go into northern Utah.

Crash of Aircraft Through Roof Collects First Toll

The explosion and crash of the big dirigible machine through the skylight of the Illinois Savings and Trust Company at Chicago, resulting in 12 deaths and injuries to 28 other persons, marks an era in which railroad wrecks and boat catastrophes must make way with their limited fields of calamity. Bank clerks and girl stenographers working in the seeming security of the great marble structure were crushed and burned before they could realize danger was near, as the strapping plunged through the glass roof. These pictures show the Goodyear blimp before the explosion; the wrecked trust company after the fire; and pilot John Boettner of the air craft, who escaped by leaping with a parachute.

Alsike Seed Yields Heavy Crop to Acie.

Five hundred and thirty-five bushels of alsike seed from 58 acres of land is reported by Asher B. Wilson, grown west of Buhl. This is an average of nine and three-tenths bushels to the acre.

The seed was sown a year or two ago at 35 cents a pound or 32 cents in the district, making a net return of a little better than $11,000 for the crop. No sale has yet been made as it is quite likely that the price will go even higher.

Theatres

OUT OF THE FOG

"Out of the Fog," the screen masterpiece of which the great Nazimova is the star, will be specially shown at the Gem theatre today.

"Out of the Fog," is a story of life—the full penalty of her love—a girl whom death deprived of the father of her child before there was time for a marriage ceremony. Playing the role of this unhappy girl in the early part of the picture Nazimova, is next seen as Eve, the little daughter, grown to beautiful girlhood upon a lonely island in the tropic waters of the Caribbean Sea. Under the stern guardianship of her harsh and narrow uncle, who has never forgiven his sister for her unhappy love, the child is brought up without human companionship other than his own.

Dressed in boy's clothes, and roaming the lonely beach of the tiny island she grows to womanhood before she sees for the first time being from the outer world. One day, out of the fog, a yacht is stranded on the hidden shoals of the lonely light, and the owner, a powerful young American, comes to the island for help. Here romance begins and Nazimova is seen in her many fascinating and alluring moods. The play is one which gives this star every opportunity for her marvelous histrionic powers and she is ably supported by a carefully chosen cast.

RAIN IS EXTENSIVE IN SOUTHERN IDAHO

Storm Visits State and Does Considerable Damage at Hollister

Yesterday's rain, while covering an extensive area, was not particularly heavy in this immediate district, according to official and semi-official reports reaching Twin Falls today.

In town the rainfall was slightly more than a half inch, but at the official observatory of O. C. Koch six miles north east of town the precipitation was only three one-hundredths of an inch. Down Buhl way, it is reported, the fall was hardly sufficient to lay the dust.

Sound Hollister rain was followed by hail of a heavy character, considerable damage to crops being reported from that section. Ten farmers at least suffered, the damage being estimated at approximately $20,000. Wind, accompanying the storm, blew down a chautauque tent at Hollister, but did no particular damage. The chautauq fell about 40 minutes prior to the opening of the performance.

Temperatures yesterday were higher than the average for this period of the year. Ninety in the shade was the maximum, with 50 low during the preceding night. During the early portion of the day and, in fact, after the storm visitation, heavy humidity was the rule.

The barometer today is still in an agitated condition, bespeaking further storms. Each little cloud that passes over early this morning sheds, at few drops of rain, indicating that precipitation in the future will continue. The general weather prediction for tonight and Thursday is for fair and cool throughout the southern portion of Idaho, and in the southern section of the country generally.

The Screen's Most Wonderful Artist, in a play surrounded by the Mystery of the Sea and the Charm of Romance, entitled—

"OUT OF THE FOG"

Adapted from the Big Stage Success called "CEPTION SHOALS."

See this wonderful actress, the star of a thousand moods, presented in a new character, that of a young girl brought up by a half crazed grandfather and who knows nothing of books, or of human kind. Suddenly the light pierces the fog of her life and she breaks the four walls of the prison which bars her from happiness. A story of the sea, wonderfully beautiful in its settings among the fisher folks and the rockbound coasts of Maine. The play called "Ception Shoals" was regarded as the greatest success on the stage. A wonderful feature at Usual Prices 10c, 15c and 25c.
