Occupation of Hungarian Capital is Effected in Spite of the Representations of Italian Representative of Allies

CONFERENCE DOES NOT INTEND TO INTERFERE

Troops Will Not Be Required to Withdraw Until New Government Has Strictly Confirmed Conditions of Armistice

BUDAPEST, (AP)—Buda pest was occupied today by Rumanian troops who came from the river Theiss in spite of representations made by Lieutenant Colonel Romanelli, the Italian representative of the allies at Vienna.

PEACE CONFERENCE WAITS
ARMISTICE CONFIRMATION

COPENHAGEN, (AP)—Premier Clemens, president of the peace conference, replying to a wireless message from the Italian military mission at Budapest, declares that the supreme council of the peace conference does not intend to interfere in the internal policy of the Hungarian government, and adds that Rumania will be asked to halt her forces on the line which has been reached and will not be asked to withdraw her troops to the line fixed on June 12 until the new government at Budapest has strictly confirmed the conditions of the armistice between Hungary and the allied powers, according to a Vienna dispatch received here.

The Italian commander, it is said, has a reply to Clemens stating that the new government is prepared to fall the armistice terms as speedily as possible and that it requests the allied and associated powers to lend support by each power sending one regiment to Budapest. It is suggested that this be done in such a manner that the movement of the troops should not partake of the nature of an intervention, but would be more of a voluntary demonstration.

A Budapest dispatch received here reports that the Rumanian command has notified the Hungarian military authorities that a Rumanian commission is on its way to Budapest to negotiate an armistice.

BELA KUN IS GRANTED
ASYLUM IN AUSTRIA

VIENNA, (AP)—Bela Kun, former dictator of Hungary, and his assistants have been granted asylum by Austria which has refused to extradite him to Hungary. KILLED BY VICTIM'S BROTHER

VIENNA, (AP)—Fiber Szamuel, one of the most prominent of the Hungarian communist leaders, was shot and killed Friday night while he was crossing the frontier near Ezerföld, by a guard whose brother, a farmer, Szamuel had executed. As he was being taken to the prison, he was the only enemy of the enemies of the proletariat.

The death of Szamuel was reported in a Copenhagen dispatch on Sunday, which said it was uncertain whether he had killed himself or was shot down by enemies who stopped him at the frontier. Szamuel was one of the triumvirate which recently was reported to have proclaimed a dictatorship in Budapest in opposition to the Bela Kun regime.

The employees of bus and tramway lines failed to report for work this morning. No notice of strike had been given but it is not believed that the movement was undertaken in sympathy with the policemen's strike.

Nation Wide Protest Move Gains Strength; Traffic Not Yet Hampered

CHICAGO, (AP)—Every round house worker in the United States may be asked to join the general strike of the federal railway shopmen's union, according to information given out today at the Chicago headquarters of the organization. Plans for asking the assistance of the sound, the shopmen were under consideration at a meeting of the union leaders.

L. W. Hawver, president of the Chicago council of the federal railway shopmen's union, said that within a week the strike will tie up both freight and passenger traffic in many sections for the reason that every locomotive has to be overhauled and repaired after every trip to be kept in good condition.

R. H. Ashton, regional director of railroads for the northwest region, said today that the strike thus far had not seriously interfered with either freight or passenger traffic. Reports from various sections of the union show the strike of shopmen is gaining hourly in numerical strength.

CAR REPAIR MEN ARE ORDERED BACK TO WORK

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (AP)—Railway car repair men who are on strike in that number of cities of the country were ordered today to return to work by Frank K. PROPOSES ARMY
OF 1,250,000
MEN FOR U. S.

Secretary Baker Transmits Bill Establishing Permanent Military Policy to Congress

UNIVERSITY SERVING TO FURNISH A RESERVE FORCE

No Ob. Existing Law with Regard to Organization of the National Guard and Relations to Regulars Suggested

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Maintenance of one field army with a strength of 1,250,000 men is proposed in a bill establishing a permanent military policy which was sent to congress today by Secretary Baker.

The active force of this army would be 510,000 regulars while the remainder would be young men who had taken a three months' military training course, who would be compulsory for all 19 year old youths. This reserve strength would be used to fill out the 20 infantry divisions and one cavalry division into which it is proposed to divide the regular army.

Youths to Be Registered. The plan for registering youths of 19 years is the same, with slight modifications, as applied during the war.

Exemption from training would be given only to members of the regular army and navy, honorably discharged soldiers and sailors, and members of the coast guard, marines actually employed in sea service and "persons permanently physically, mentally or morally unfit for any military service whatever."

Under such exemption clauses the average number of boys of 19 to be found qualified for training each year would be approximately 300,000. This number from the last annual class to have been trained would be held ready for immediate mobilization at all times.

Preserves Special Services

The plans were embodied in a bill which represents the policy of the war department and suggests in the long time military establishment. Under the measure all special services built up during the war would be maintained as separate branches except the chemical warfare service, which would be merged with the engineers' corps.

Seniority Promotion Abolished

Three months military training for youths of 19 would be made compulsory and promotion of officers by seniority would be abolished. Secretary Baker said the war had shown this system of promotion to be defective.

No change in the existing law with regard to the organization of the national guard and its relation to the regular army was suggested. Mr. Baker said it was assumed that the national defense act federalizing the guard would be retained in force.

Under the army's plan, youths would be subject to military service for two years after completing the course of military training and in the event of war the selective service act in force.

HIGH COST OF LIVING TAKES
PRECEDENCE AT WASHINGTONRAILROAD MEN
MEET DIRECTOR
IN CONFERENCE

Representatives of Two Million
Protesting Workers to Hear
Explanation of Plans for Meeting Conditions

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Four hundred and fifty thousand members of the Brotherhood of Railroad and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees today joined with other railway workers in demanding that unless something be done materially to reduce the cost of living or wages must be raised to give us immediate relief. The demands have been transmitted to the railroad administration.

Washington officials now in Washington are asked by Director Gronna to meet with him at noon today for a conference on the high cost of living.

Besides the chiefs of the engineers and railway trainmen who already have made demands for increased wages to meet high living costs, it was expected that the heads of the other two brotherhoods and the organizations of the shopmen and clerks would attend the meeting. Thus a majority of the 3,000,000 railroad workers would be represented.

Mr. Hines expected to explain his plan to have congress create a commission to go into all phases of railroad costs. This plan was proposed to congress last week by the president.

As chairman of the committee appointed by Attorney General Palmer's conference on means to reduce the cost of living, Mr. Hines is in close touch with plans under consideration to bring about a normal level of prices and relieve the distress of the average citizen.

It was said today that the director general devoted the whole of Sunday to considering the cost of living problem, going over many suggestions made by Assistant Secretary Leffingwell and Consulting Engineer, the other two members of the committee.

A report to the conference will be made tomorrow at the second meeting of cabinet members and other officials called together by Mr. Palmer and recommended to be transmitted soon to President Wilson.

Price of Pies
Up in Chicago

CHICAGO, (AP)—Chicago manufacturers of pies increased the price of their product to retail prices today. The price of what is known in the trade as special pies was raised from 30 to 35 cents while the price of extra special pies, which are made from fresh fruits, was increased from 35 to 40 cents each.

The bakers declare that the high cost of labor, fuel and other materials made it necessary to increase the price.

Many restaurant keepers, increased the price of pie to their patrons while others served smaller portions.

UNIONS REJECT
WILSON'S PLAN

Disapprove Proposed Settlement and Demand Immediate Increase Grant

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Officials of the six big railway shopmen's unions today rejected President Wilson's plan for settlement of railway wage problems and asked the immediate granting of increases averaging approximately 25 per cent which were demanded last January.

Declaring that many thousand shopmen already have walked out on unauthorized strike, the union officials said if there was further delay in granting the demands, the situation would get beyond their control.

Expect Assurance of Haste.

The executive council of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor went into conference with President Wilson last night.

It was said the union officials expected to receive some assurance that the government would hasten its steps toward relieving the high cost of living or allowing adequate increase in wages to offset the growth in price.

Brotherhood's Demands.

The brotherhood demands are retroactive to January 1, 1910, and include a 40-cent advance, overtime at 20 per cent an hour increase in wages. The railroad administration was asked to grant the workers hearing and to make a definite reply immediately.

The Mexican authorities promised to investigate, but so far as is known here, none of the bandits has been captured.

Dr. and Mrs. Sturgis now are en route from Mexico to St. Louis and will be invited to testify before the home committee on traveling relations between the United States and Mexico. Mrs. Keenright died while a prisoner and Dr. Sturgis and his wife were not released until last February.

SENATORS GIVE THEIR VIEWS ON WHEAT PROBLEM

Gronna Has No Remedy But Declares Increase of Wages and Decrease of Working Hours is Not a Panacea

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Discussion of the high cost of living was resumed in the senate today. Chairman Gronna of the general committee, announced that he had called a committee meeting tomorrow to discuss measures to reduce the cost of living. He said he had no remedy to offer, but declared that increase of wages and decrease of working hours was not a panacea nor would government ownership or control of utilization solve the problem.

Wheat Price Factor.

Relation of the price of wheat to the cost of living was debated by several senators. Mr. Gronna denied that the government's wheat price guarantee causes undue prices for bread. It was supported by Senators Kellogg and Nelson, republicans of Minnesota, who said wheat was being sold far above the government's guarantee at the principal terminals.

The three senators predicted that this year's crop would be lower than government estimate.

Senator Gronna declared that farmers and all dealers in food products "never made higher profits" than they did under the food administration's plan during the war.

What Is Barnes Doing?

Senator Wiley, democrat, of Arkansas asked if the government grain corporation was not now manipulating the price.

"What is this man Barnes doing?" he asked.

"Mr. Barnes has been criticized in all the wheat states," Senator Gronna answered, "for hoarding down the price. He has made every possible effort to reduce prices."

Senator Smith said if there was profiteering, the Sherman act afforded an opportunity to break it up. He added that extravagance by most persons was one cause of present conditions.

PREDICTS DIRE OUTLOOK WITH DESPAIR SPASM

British Labor Leader Tells International Socialist Conference Civilization Remnants May Be Annihilated

LUCERNE, Switzerland, (AP)—Before the winter sets in there will be a terrible spasm of rage and disorder among the peoples of Europe in which the final remains of civilization may be totally annihilated, was predicted by Arthur Henderson, the British labor leader, at the opening session of the international socialist conference here yesterday.

German Expectations

The remarks of Mr. Henderson who was the principal British labor leader present, followed those of Otto Weyl, of the majority element of the German socialists, it was declared. German workmen expected from the socialist the end of a real league of nations. He characterized the league organized in Paris, without Germany and Russia as members, as a "mere ploy."

Referring to the peace treaty, Mr. Henderson declared the principal points of it ought to be subjected to immediate and thorough revision.

Condemnation of support of Admiral Kolchak, head of the all-Russian government at Omsk, by the entire nation, was expressed by James Ramsay MacDonald, of the British socialists, and Marcel Cachin, of the French socialists. Both the speakers demanded that an energetic attitude be adopted by socialists toward the nations, particularly on this point.

Would Settle War Blame

Emil Vandervelde, the Belgian socialist, gave his opinion that it would be impossible to reconstitute the international socialist organization until the question of war responsibility was settled. He further declared that in his view it would be impossible to merge the second and third international socialist organs, for the reason that while the second aimed at a revolution by the minority element among the peoples in conformity with democratic principles, the third was for immediate revolution by the minority.

PALPABLY BAD IN FILER PLAY

Paul Has the Game from Opening Bell and Scorekeeper, in Disgrace, Quits Job

FILER (Special)—So palpably was Filer's playing against Paul yesterday that the crowd left the park before the conflict was over. The official scorekeeper, after a vain attempt to keep pace with the rapid-fire order of Paul's playing, got disgusted with the job and tore up the details of play, so that as far as Filer is concerned, there is no official score of the contest. It was Paul's game from the start, with Filer having never a look in. Seated in the bleachers were the local batters, while Big Alexander was a mark for the visitors. At the finish the score, and it is to relate, was 18 to nothing for Paul. What hits Filer got were so few as to be almost imperceptible as the score.

Sepoy Preparedness

In the Madras presidency in the first half of the last century secret boys—sons of old soldiers—were kept with each Sepoy regiment, clothed, drilled and fed and enlisted as soldiers when they attained the age of sixteen. The system had something to recommend it, as the state got a trained youth as a soldier instead of a country bumpkin who had all his training to learn.

Guard the Thoughts

A man can never do anything at variance with his nature. He carries within him the germ of his most exceptional action; and if we wise people make fools of ourselves on any particular occasion we must endure the legitimate conclusion that we carry a few grains of folly to our cure of wisdom.—George Eliot.

Walking Downstairs

It is not so difficult to walk downstairs as to walk up, as everybody knows. Why not try it? It takes very little longer time and they call for the elevator for descending passengers could be reduced by a half at least if we were a bit thoughtful. The saving in current and fuel would be remarkable.

The Eagle of Napoleon

Napoleon revived the ancient symbol of the Caesars. The Napoleonic eagle itself was eight inches in height and nine inches across the wings. It stood on a brass base three inches square, and weighed three and one-half pounds. Modern colors are as nothing compared to the old ones, as difficult to hide as the big drum.

Atrocious, Indeed

One of the most famous—as well as one of the worst—puns of history was perpetrated by King James I of England, when Sir Walter Raleigh, whom for political reasons he disliked, was presented to him. Said the king, fixing Raleigh with his cold-cough eye, "Rawly! Rawly! True enough, for I think of thee very Rawly, mon!"

OUTCLASSED IN ALL DEPARTMENTS GREYS LOSE ENCOUNTER TO BURLEY

Twin Falls is Smothered by Steady and Smashing Attack of Invading Professional Force which Batters its Way against All Defense and Locks Up Tilt 11 to 4—Bell's Pitching Loses Lustre in Face of Bad Fielding Smothered under the avalanche of blows and scores, and outclassed in all departments of play the Twin Falls team yesterday fell before the perfect attack of the invading league leaders, Burley. The count at the finish was 11 to 4, the domestic end of the count being more or less of a gratuitous variety. After the initiatory inning there never was any doubt in the minds of the assemblage as to who would finally win that game. It was writ in large letters everywhere—BURLEY. In pitching, catching, infield and outfield defense the enemy was superior, with a finished form of attack that smashed its way through the defenders' bulwarks as though there were no obstacles in the way.

Strength vs. Weakness

From start to finish this was a case of strength and class against departmental weakness and sometimes entire failure to grasp and take advantage of opportunities to turn the foe. This latter was most marked in the disposition of infielders to shut plays at home that would have checked scores, by stopping a runner at a first base take chance at the plate. On at least two occasions scores were permitted to count when by better work and judgment use of the arm those counts could have been prevented.

Manager Christian, at the last moment found himself in a bit of trouble when the pitcher he had depended to help him failed to arrive, being detained on the other side of a score. "Red" Bell was impressed into service and did tenuous service against the inviolable "Red" looked nearly as good as his professional opponent, but his excellent twirling was marred by repeated support. This was so bad at times that the opposition had no difficulty gathering scores. For instance, in the ninth inning the score was 10 to 1, the next three rounds, setting down the attacking forces without hit or run in those periods. The persistence of the invaders, however, was not to be denied, and in the eighth three hits, a base on balls and a sacrifice yielded three more runs.

Burley Shows Class

Burley started hot in the second showing up the Greys, amassing three runs by goad, solid smothering of the ball to all corners of the yard. In the fourth they assembled two more, these being the gleaming from two single and an error. Bell was a communique to all corners of the yard, in the fourth they assembled two more, these being the gleaming from two single and an error. Bell was a communique to all corners of the yard, in the fourth they assembled two more, these being the gleaming from two single and an error.

While it was easy for the foe to pile up scores, luck was against the home folks, who, though hitting the ball hard and often, found no holes or weak spots in the defense of the opposition. That is none to speak of. Jones who was on the hill for Burley, had about all that he expected of a pitcher in a league company, and he used his stuff to advantage. He was not quite as steady as Bell, but the locals could not reach him when he mounted anything.

Jones Stars

Jones showed class from the start, holding the ambitious Greys hitless and runless for four complete rounds. A couple of good hits, after two men were gone in the fifth, gave them their initial count, but they failed to take ad-

CURSORY COMMENT CONCERNING CONTEST

Zing!

The score represents just about the difference in the playing abilities of the two teams.

Twin Falls is not in the Burley class, and fans of this enterprising city might as well realize that condition now.

The time for platitudes, or, in the vernacular of the grandstand composite, for kidding, is past. If Twin Falls is to make a showing the rest of the way the people must come through and pay for a real team.

There were no plays too hard for the opposition while the same plays by the locals were either jammed or failed in the making.

Jones passed Hart three times, but fanned him the last time at bat.

Curtz and Perkins, stars of the opposition, are both former Union Association players. Perkins was one of the backstop stars of the association and has done a lot of high class work in other leagues since that organization ceased to exist. Besides being a good catcher on this league, he has more baseball brains than all of the rest of the catchers in the league together.

Clear Neumann pulled the brightest play of the game when in the third inning he raced into foul territory after Perkins' pop fly and plucked the ball off an auto radiator with one hand.

Either Watson is afraid Patton can not hold a thrown ball at the plate or he does not understand the playing out-of the game. On two occasions he pegged to first to head off a batter when the play at the plate would have stopped a score if properly made.

Bell's pitching was almost as good as that of Jones, but the latter was a scolded support both in the field and back of the plate. Patton does not rank with Perkins as supporting element for a pitcher.

Unthinking fans censured the management of the club for advertising a new pitcher and not presenting him. The fact is the new pitcher, Ambrose, was on his way to Twin Falls for yesterday's game and would have arrived at noon, but was detained by a wrecked train the other side of American Falls.

Thompson refused fly shagger who was ordered to report back to Twin Falls after playing one game with Rupert, fanned ignominiously three out of four times at bat. The first time he forced a man at second on a roller.

We are told Thompson has traipsed to bat 31 successive times for Twin Falls without making a hit of any proportions.

The absence of Ambrose and Lindstrom yesterday compelled Manager Christian to beat the brush and get an outfielder to help out. He found a little chap named Lindville, who filled in at right while Hart went to left.

Lindville should have been out at the plate a full step in the seventh inning, and was out on the throw in, but Perkins dropped the pill as he tagged the runner.

But the best game yesterday wasn't a marker to what happened to Filer at the hands of Paul.

Buhl Unable to Stand Against Rupert's Classy Playing—Score is 7 to 1

RUPERT (Special)—Buhl had no chance at all against the superb play of the Rupert club yesterday and was almost helpless against Rube Evans' pitching. The score was 7 to 1. Foot, who started in the box for Buhl, was wild and ineffective and was taken out in the second frame in favor of Oliver, who went the rest of the distance in fair shape. Off Foot three runs were counted in the opener and two in each of the third and fifth innings off Oliver. Buhl's lone marker was made in the sixth, and was a gift for charity reasons.

Herzog Becomes Cub by Exchange

Veteran Infielder Disposed of by Braves for Leslie Mann and Infielder Pick

CHICAGO—Charles (Buck) Herzog, star infielder of the Boston National league club today became a member of the Chicago National league team as the result of a deal by which Leslie Mann and Charles Pick, infielders, are exchanged for the eastern player. Herzog will report to the Chicago team tomorrow. He formerly played with the New York and Cincinnati teams before going to Boston. Pick joined the Chicago club last season from the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast league.

Mann was formerly with the Boston Nationals and went to the Chicago club of the Federal league. When that organization was disbanded and the baseball peace pact was signed in 1916, he was signed by the Chicago Nationals.

PACIFIC FLEET CROWNS EFFORT LONG STANDING

Division of Navy and Dispatch of Armada to West Coast
Marks Successful Close of Campaign for Protection

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Division of the United States navy and dispatch to this coast of the Pacific fleet marks the need of a long campaign that has been waged by officials and citizens of Pacific states for years, for the "adequate naval protection."

The Pacific coast attitude had been that great possibility of attack meant the Pacific states unless the nation sent westward a large fleet.

Islands Source of Danger.
Active campaigning for a big Pacific naval force began with the close of the Spanish-American war. It was urged that the Philippines and other Pacific islands possessed by the United States should be protected. Governors, congressional representatives and other officials made strong representations in the months following that war for increased naval strength on the Pacific.

After the building of the Panama canal many men in public life asserted that in case of attack from the Pacific, destruction of the canal the largest part of the country's naval force would be kept away from the Pacific for a long period during which the Pacific states would be open to invasion.

Work as a Unit.
Public men and newspapers of the Pacific Coast were practically a unit for naval expansion and ultimate station of a large force here. Plans for curtailing naval expansion with the signing of the armistice in some quarters were countered by many insistent demands from this coast that the full building program be continued.

The announcement of Secretary Daniels that the navy was to be divided and approximately 200 ships stationed in the Pacific was hailed with delight.

CALLS ON CARRANZA'S AGENT TO REFUTE FACT

National Association for Protection of American Rights in Mexico Defies

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The National Association for the Protection of American rights in Mexico issued a statement Saturday and sent a copy of it to the state department protesting against statements made by President Carranza of Mexico in an interview to the Associated Press. The protest follows:

"The statement is the old protestation of the Carranza government that confiscation is not intended by the constitution, decrees and proposed laws of Mexico, against which the foreign offices of the United States, Great Britain, France and Holland have protested as confiscatory. It is merely a denial that tricky legislation depriving legal owners of oil lands honestly acquired and made valuable, constitutes confiscation. The attitude of the American government in this matter is sufficient refutation of the statements attributed to President Carranza.

"As to his statement that the petroleum companies have set out to engineer ill feeling—they are doing this through the medium of some sections of the American press, which are disseminating facts to suit their own ends," the association hereby asks Manuel Carpio, the official propagandist of the Carranza government in the United States, who is thoroughly aware of all statements made, to point out any misstatement in connection with the oil controversy in the American press which has fallen under President Carranza's charge of unreliability."

WHITE BOOK SHEDS LIGHT ON LAST DAYS OF WAR AMONG HUN LEADERS

BERLIN, (AP)—The former German emperor's statement on October 27, 1918, that he had reached an unfavorable determination to sue for a separate peace within 24 hours and to demand an immediate armistice, is one of the many revelations in Weimar Thursday.

Conscience Becomes Active.
The former emperor's decision to seek peace immediately according to documents in the White book, he considered necessary because he believed the people both unable and unwilling to continue the war. The former German ruler's conscience was said to forbid him to permit further bloodshed.

More than a month earlier, in September, according to documents, General Ludendorff heard that Bulgaria had offered to sign a separate peace. In the official discussion of a direct appeal to the United States it was agreed that Washington should be designated as the center of peace negotiations, as a matter of politeness. Austria was consulted by telephone regarding the proposed appeal.

On October 1, Field Marshal von Hindenburg telegraphed to Vice Chancellor Friedrich von Payer, stating that if Prince Max of Baden should form a government he would agree to the appeal for peace being delayed until the next morning, but he insisted that the peace offer be sent immediately if there were any doubts about the formation of the Max government.

Anticipate Break.
On the same day General Groener reported that General Ludendorff had declared that he would not be satisfied that the formation of a new government should not be awaited and that a break in the military line was possible at any minute, and that then any peace offer obtained would be unacceptable. General Groener said it was his impression General Ludendorff had lost his nerve completely.

Prince Max immediately inquired if von Hindenburg was unable to hold the front. He received an answer that the army stood by its demand for an immediate peace offer.

Prince Max Holds Out.
Prince Max will hold the matter of peace over prematurely, but other members of the cabinet sided with General Ludendorff and maintained the military verdict must be adhered to because if the situation should be made worse by President Wilson's answer the army would seek to lodge responsibility.

MAN FLEET WITH MEN FROM WEST IS SLOGAN

Intensive Recruiting Campaign to Be Launched at All the Ports Touched

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—"Man the Pacific fleet with western men," will be the slogan of the intensive recruiting campaign to be launched at every port visited by the fleet upon its arrival on this coast.

Men will be enlisted at any time pay for two, three or four year terms. The shorter term is expected to be especially attractive to young boys just completing their schooling. To those and all who enlist will be given opportunity it has been announced, to choose the ship they wish to join. Frequent maneuvers in the Pacific at frequent intervals also is expected to lure many.

Manning the ships with western men, it was said, will tend to keep individual ships permanently stationed in western waters, as the desire of the men and officers will be to have their ships based at home ports.

In this connection some navy men look to see some ships almost completely manned by officers and crew from an individual city or district at which it would have its base. In the past many times ships have been transferred from one base to another because a preponderance of crew and officers lived at a certain port or base.

BANK OF NORTH DAKOTA OPEN TO LIMITED DEALS

Nonpartisan League Industrial Program is Being Put Into Operation — Directors Express Confidence

FARGO, N. D., (AP)—The industrial program of the National Nonpartisan League, which was endorsed by the voters of North Dakota at a special referendum election on June 24, is being put into operation.

The bank of North Dakota, in which all state, county and municipal funds are to be deposited under the new law, is in operation, but has not yet really made loans and handle deposits on a big scale.

One-Fifth of Bonds Sold.

The bank now employs twenty persons with an annual payroll of $50,000. The bank's resources will be more than $31,000,000. Public funds totaling $21,000,000 have been reported and there are state bonds of $10,000,000. Only about $100,000 worth of bank bonds have been sold in the state, but the bank officials explain this by saying investors held off pending the outcome of the referendum. The bank had planned to sell $200,000 worth of bonds.

When the institution is in full operation a statement similar to those from the federal reserve banks will be issued monthly outlining conditions over the state. J. B. Waters, formerly state bank examiner, is head of the bank, and F. W. Calkins, for 30 years a North Dakota banker, is director general.

The bank will provide funds for carrying out the industrial program, and an industrial commission will control the state-owned industries to be established.

Other Experiments Pending.
The Home Building association, which will provide funds for persons desiring to build homes, is expected to be in operation soon. The Mill and Elevator association in charge of the league's wheat marketing and distributing system, has been inspecting mills and elevators with a view to purchasing two or three to start the experiment. The state is not expected to start an extensive building program for several months.

"Those directing the work express confidence that every phase of the program will meet with success, despite strong opposition which they say is being offered by league opponents."

CHICAGO'S LESSON

Truth of the statement of Governor Frank O. Lowden that "If Chicago would avoid race disturbances the laws must be enforced with equal impartiality against both races," is apparent as to brand the remark a trifle out but for the inference it carries that enforcement of the laws has not always been impartial in Illinois. Unless such were the case, it must be assumed, the governor would hardly have called attention to the necessity for impartiality at this time.

Discreet results of heading the law to make it, "a respecter of persons," might well be exemplified in the recent disgraceful scenes that have been staged in Chicago, regardless of whether or not this occasioned these disturbances.

Only a thin crust still separates Chicago from the molten lava. The presence of state troops admittedly is responsible for the existing semblance to peace there. The lesson that Chicago must learn and apply to restore permanent peace is one that ought to be studied and applied in its relations to similar problems existing elsewhere; not only in communities where there may be friction between races, but between interests of whatever nature.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

(Billings, Mont.) Gazette. Those who regard The Associated Press as a dispassionate medium honestly without ability to lead a pleasing shade of color in its accounts charged their minds when they read Saturday's story of the departure of the new Pacific fleet's vanguard from eastern waters. We do not know who wrote the yarn; we only know it was a highly pretty story and it has ever been the privilege of the Billings Gazette to publish.

The Associated Press cares only for facts. News facts, as a rule, are tinted with the language of literature without prejudicial effect one way or another on the reader. But occasionally there comes a story, or a statement that can be so composed as to take its place in the category of really fine writing. Written without phrases almost photographic in their vividness, the story of the sailing of the fleet would have been ordinary and worthy of no particular note in an inland town like Billings. But written in well chosen and graphic style it became a thing of interest here and everywhere. American newspaper readers have come to a better appreciation of The Associated Press since the world went to war in 1914. The service is constantly improving, constantly broadening, always ready to handle any situation that might arise.

Not Referred to Penning Secretary Baker said in a letter accompanying the bill that the plan had not yet been referred to General Pershing but that it could be used as the basis for hearings which the senate military committee is to have before drafting legislation establishing a permanent military policy.

"The bill as drawn," said Secretary Baker "provides for a system of universal training for a very brief period applicable to all male citizens with suitable provision for exemptions and deferments."

It does not, however, provide for any reserve obligation since it is unnecessary with a system of universal service in time of emergency.

Steel and Iron. Steel is a kind of iron which can easily be hammered out into extremely strong and can be made extremely hard by being heated and then cooled quickly. It is different from ordinary iron because of the amount of carbon in it. Wrought iron contains less carbon than steel and so it cannot be made so hard; cast iron contains more and so is brittle.

CHAPTER XII.

Young George paid his respects to his grandfather the following morning, having been occupied with various affairs and engagements on Sunday night after the Major's bedtime; and topics concerned with building or excavations were not introduced into the conversation, which was a cheerful one until George lightly mentioned some plans of his. He spoke of his desire to extend his proclivity in driving; in fact, he entertained the ambition to drive a four-hander. However, as the Major said nothing, and merely sat still, looking surprised, George went on to say that he did not propose to "go in for coming first" at the start; he thought it would be better to begin with a tandem. He was sure Pendenis could be trained to work as a leader; and all that one needed to buy at present, he said, would be "comparatively inexpensive" horse trap, and the harness, of course, and a good buy to match Pendenis. He did not care for a special groom; one of the stablemen would do.

At this point the Major decided to speak. "You say one of the stablemen would do?" he inquired, his widened eyes remaining fixed upon his grandson. "The Major," he said, "is all there in just at present. George. Old fat Tom does it all."

"Oh, that will be all right, sir. My mother can lend me her man." "Can she?" The old gentleman smiled faintly. "I wonder." He paused.

"Whether you mightn't care to go to law school somewhere perhaps. I'd be glad to set aside a sum that would see you through."

This senile divergence from the topic in hand surprised George painfully. "I have no interest whatever in the law," he said. "I don't care for it, and the idea of being a professional man has never appealed to me. I was speaking of driving a tandem."

"I know you were," said the Major quietly. George looked hurt. "I beg your pardon. Of course if the idea doesn't appeal to you—And he rose to go. The Major ran a tremulous hand through his hair, sighing deeply. "I don't like to refuse you anything, George," he said. "I don't know that I often have refused you whatever you wanted—on reason."

"You've always been more than generous, sir," George interrupted quickly. "And if the idea of a tandem doesn't appeal to you, why—of course—And he waved his hand, looking at the clock.

The Major's distress became obvious. "George, I'd like to, but—But I've an idea tandems are dangerous to drive, and your mother might be anxious. She—"

"No, sir; I think not. She felt it would be rather a good thing—help to keep me out in the open air. But it perhaps your finance—"

"Oh, it isn't that so much," the old gentleman laughed uncomfortably. "I guess we could still afford a new horse or two, if need be."

"I thought you said—"

The Major waved his hand slightly. "Oh, a few retrenchments where things were useless. And if you want this thing so very much—"

"It's not important enough to bother about, really, of course."

"Well, let's wait till autumn, then," said the Major in a tone of relief.

The Idea of Being a Professional Man Has Never Appealed to Me.

"We'll see about it in the autumn, if you're still in the mind for it then. You remember it, it along in September or October. We'll see what can be done." He rubbed his hands cheerfully. "We'll see what can be done about it then, George. We'll see."

paper—here she imperfectly repressed a tendency to laugh—"papa looks as if he were either going to explode or utter loud sob!" Eugene commanded his features, however, and they resumed their customary apprehensiveness. "I used to write verses," he said—"if you remember." Isabel interrupted gently. "I remember." "I don't recall that I've written any for twenty years or so," he continued. "But I'm almost thinking I could do it again, to thank you for making a factory visit into such a kind celebration."

"Gracious!" Lucy whispered, giggling. "Aren't they sentimental!" "People that age—always are," George returned. "They get sentimental over anything at all. Factories or restaurants, it doesn't matter what!" And both of them were seized with fits of laughter, which they managed to cover under the general movement of departure, as Isabel had risen to go.

Outside, upon the crowded street George helped Lucy into his runabout and drove off, waving triumphantly and laughing at Eugene, who was struggling with the engine of his car, in the tonnet of which Isabel and Fanny had established themselves. "Looks like a hand-and-grip man grinding away for pennies," said George, as the runabout turned the corner into National avenue. "I'll still take a horse, any day."

He was not so cocksure half an hour later, on an open road, when a silver whistle whined behind him, and before the sound had died away Eugene's car, coming from behind with what seemed fairly like one long leap, went by the runabout and dwindled almost instantaneously in perspective, with a lace handkerchief in a black-gloved hand.

Isabel had a bright idea. "George! Instead of a tandem wouldn't it interest you to get one of Eugene's automobiles?" "I don't think so. They're fast enough, of course. In fact, running one of those things is getting to be quite on the cards for sport, and people go all over the country in 'em. But there's dirty things, and they keep getting out of order, so that you're always lying down on your back in the mud and—"

"Oh, no," she interrupted eagerly. "Haven't you noticed? The way they make them now you can get out of most of the machinery from the top. I do think you'd be interested, dear."

George remained indifferent. "Possibly—but I hardly think so. I know a lot of good people are really taking them up, but still—"

"But still what?" she said as he paused.

"But still—well, I suppose I'm a little old-fashioned and fastidious. But I'm afraid being a sort of engine driver never will appeal to me. Mother. It's exciting, and I'd like that part of it, but still it doesn't seem to me precisely the thing a gentleman ought to do. Too much overall and monkey wrenches and greases. No, I believe I'd rather wait for September and a tandem, mother."

Nevertheless George sometimes consented to sit in an automobile, while waiting for September; and he frequently went driving in one of Eugene's cars with Lucy and her father. He even allowed himself to be escorted with his mother and Fanny through the growing factory, which was now, as the foreman of the paint shop informed the visitors, "turning out a car and a quarter a day."

From the factory Eugene took them to lunch at a new restaurant. Just opened in the town, a place which surprised Isabel with its metropolitan air, and though George made fun of her, in a whisper, she offered everything the tribute of pleased exclamations; and her gayety helped Eugene's to make the little occasion almost a festive one.

George's count disappeared in spite of himself, and he laughed to see his mother in such spirits. "I didn't know mineral waters could go to a person's head," he said. "Or perhaps it's this place. It might pay to have a new restaurant opened somewhere in town every time you get the blues."

"No," Isabel said, "what makes me laugh so much at nothing is Eugene's factory. Wouldn't anybody be delighted to see an old friend take an idea out of the air like that—an idea that most people laughed at him for—wouldn't any old friend of his be happy to see how he'd made his idea into such a splendid, humming thing as that factory—all shiny steel, clicking, buzzing away, and with all those workmen, such unsleazy-looking men and yet so intelligent looking? It's beautiful to see such a thing," she said. "It makes us all happy, dear old Eugene."

And with a brave gesture she stretched out her hand to him across the small table. He took it quickly, giving her a look in which his laughter tried to remain but vanished before a gratitude threatening to become emotional in spite of him. Isabel, however, turned instantly to Fanny. "Give him your hand, Fanny," she said gaily; and as Fanny mechanically obeyed, "There! That's right. If brother George were here, Eugene would have his three oldest and best friends congratulating him all at once. We know what brother George thinks about it, though. It's just beautiful, Eugene."

Lucy leaned toward George and whispered, "Did you ever see anything so lovely?" "As what?" George inquired, not because he misunderstood but because he wished to prolong the pleasant obligations of whispering. "As your mother. Think of her doing that! She's a darling! And

PROSECUTOR OF DYNAMITERS IS VICTIM OF PLOT

Bomb Explosion Followed by Fire Wrecks Los Angeles Home, Injuring Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lawler

LOS ANGELES, Cal., (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lawler, both of whom were severely burned and otherwise injured by a fire following a bomb explosion at their home here yesterday were both resting easily today, having had a good night, according to the management of St. Vincent's hospital.

There were few overcast developments in the bomb explosion and no arrests. Mr. Lawler, formerly United States district attorney for southern California, and one time assistant United States attorney general, retired more easily last night than Mrs. Lawler.

The attending physicians believed that unless complications developed both would recover.

Big Rewards Posted.

Rewards aggregating $10,000 were offered last night by local interests, and it was announced by Mayor M. P. Saylor that he would ask the city council today to appropriate at least $10,000 additional as the city's share of the preferred reward. The county supervisors were also expected to act, and with the arrival of Governor William D. Stephens, due here today, it was felt that the state might take similar action.

The rewards posted yesterday were $5,000 offered by the Merchants and Manufacturers association, $10,000 by the Los Angeles Examiner, and $500 by Irvin Dingle, who was in federal employment when Mr. Lawler was United States district attorney here.

All day yesterday the ruins of the Lawler home were the magnet that drew curious thousands to view the scene of the explosion and fire. The house, which was a frame and brick structure with a shingled upper story and roof, showed plainly, according to Battalion Chief S. H. Hobbs of the fire department, that the flames had taken it from without. Hobbs said also that in his opinion some highly inflammable substance had been thrown violently over the outer wall by the first explosion.

Suspects Incriminated.

He said the first alarm came in at 2:30 a. m. and that the equipment from the nearest station was on the scene in five minutes and a half later. He said when he reached the home in advance of the first crash, it was a mass of flames shooting far above the roof, and that in his opinion such a quick spread of fire could not have occurred without incendiary aid.

The police and county officials are satisfied that the attempted murder of Mr. Lawler was prompted by revenge on the part of persons friendly to defendants in cases in which Mr. Lawler aided the prosecution. He assisted in the prosecution of the alleged dynamiters at Indianapolis a few years ago and previous to these cases he was special prosecutor here at the trial of the McNamara brothers, who were convicted of dynamiting the Los Angeles Times building.

Mr. Lawler served as United States district attorney here from 1905 to 1907, when he resigned to become assistant United States attorney general for the department of the interior, serving from May, 1909, to May, 1911. He resigned from that post also and returned to Los Angeles and entered the practice of law.

NOTATION CAUSES DROP OF PRICES ON EXCHANGE

CHICAGO, (AP)—Grain and provisions crashed heavily downward today in value. Selling was on a large scale, influenced chiefly by the widespread agitation against the high cost of living. Within an hour, corn prices dropped 5 1/2 cents to 2 cents a bushel, and pork $1.25 a barrel.

December delivery of corn, the principal option fell to $1.49 1/4 and January pork to $4.45.

In most all cases, the lowest prices of the day were current at the finish of trading. Nervousness among holders of corn was especially prevalent, and the December delivery showed a further loss since morning of a full cent, many of the last minute sales being at $1.45 1/4, about 25c under prices obtained less than a week ago.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE WILL NOT JOIN IN CRUSADE AGAINST TOBACCO HABIT

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel for the Anti-Saloon league of America, took issue today with the opinion by Ethel Root, William D. Guthrie and William L. Marbury, counsel for the United States Brewers' association, that the proposed law prohibiting enforcement met is unconstitutional. Mr. Wheeler also denied that the league forces intended to start an anti-tobacco campaign.

Denies Authority Lack.

"The authority of congress to enact the war prohibition law," Mr. Wheeler said, "rests on the provisions in the constitution which gives congress power to support the army and navy. The power and obligation extend through demobilization. The courts have so held. Congress evidently intended to prohibit all beer and wine in the original act. Some of the courts hold the act does this. Others hold differently. Congress is simply trying to make clear the intention of the original act."

"It is now well settled by the supreme court that if congress has power to enact a law, it also has the power to enact additional legislation to make the original act effective and enforceable. To define the term intoxicating liquor is necessary to make the act enforceable, especially where courts have defeated its purpose by construction."

Anti-Tobacco Scare Crow.

Referring to charges of the association opposed to national prohibition that the anti-tobacco league was actively aiding in a campaign of the W. C. T. U. against tobacco, Mr. Wheeler said:

"The anti-tobacco scare crow of the anti-prohibition association does not fool anyone. The anti-tobacco league forces have no intention to start this crusade. The liquor traffic is a public nuisance. The tobacco habit may be a private or personal bad habit, but it is not in the same class as intoxicating liquors."

Grains and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Big breaks in the price of corn resulted today from a decided broadening out of selling pressure. Most of the selling was on the part of owners discouraged by the general movement to reduce the cost of feedstuffs and other necessities. There was much other selling, however, by commission houses and speculators, with buyers hard to find. Opening quotations, which ranged from 3 1/4 to 1 1/4 lower with September $1.80 to 1.82 and December $1.51 to 1.54, were followed by sharp further setbacks that soon amounted to as much as 8 cents in September and 6 cents in December.

Throughout the rest of the day, the market fluctuated rather wildly, but showed no sign of any enduring rally. Crop news was ignored. Prices closed hurried, 1 1/2c to 7c set lower, with September $1.79 to 1.79 1/2 and December $1.48 1/4 to 1.48 3/4.

At the close pork was off more than $2 a barrel and lard about 2 cents a pound. The selling was chiefly of a stopless character.

Why Boiling Points are the best Test of Gasoline

You get the power to run your engine from the combustion of your gasoline—its vaporizing or conversion into gas.

Your gasoline begins to vaporize at its lowest boiling point and continues to do so at each succeeding higher boiling point.

If it only has low and high boiling points and no connecting links of vaporizing or boiling points, then you have a broken power chain. Like a stairway minus several steps between the top and bottom steps.

You can only find the continuous chain of boiling points necessary for easy starting, smooth acceleration, power and speed, from a straight-distilled gasoline.

Conoco Gasoline is just that and nothing else.

CONTEMPLATE CHURCH UNION

Baptist and Christian Congregations Considering Plans of Consolidation

For the purpose of considering questions looking to the consolidation of the two churches in Twin Falls, Baptist and Christian congregations plan a series of joint meetings to be held from August 18 to 24. The first meetings will be held in the Baptist church from Monday to Wednesday evenings and in the Christian church from Thursday to Saturday evenings. The assemblies will be addressed by the pastors of each of the churches.

Well Considered.
The proposition of consolidation of the two churches is one that has been under consideration some time and is suggested primarily because neither church has a sufficiently commodious or suitable building in which to hold regular church meetings. A letter was first made by a committee of the Christian church to the Baptists on July 13, and a response was made by the latter July 27.

Joint Committee.
Members of the joint committee having negotiations in charge are: A. Holmgren, W. W. P. Smith, W. J. C. Sanger, Mrs. J. C. Beatty and Conrad L. Owen for the Baptists.

Just Once.
Edward had trouble with the new boy in the neighborhood, and always got the worst of it, having had black eyes at different times. Soon after this the new boy was ill, and the teacher told the pupils of her class to remember the sick boy in their prayers, as it would be a long time before he would be strong again. Edward replied that he would, but he was heard to say, "Just let me meet him once before he gets good and strong."

Art of Coloring Glass.
It is probable that the coloring of glass, and particularly the garnet tint and the ruby hue, as some authorities would have us believe, originated in Bohemia. This color-garnet is obtained by alloying or fusing an extremely minute quantity of gold with the other ingredients—silica, soda, lime, iron oxide and alumina. The first coloring of glass is colorless, but on reheating it develops its soft, rich appearance.—New York World.

First Post Offices in Maine.
In 1776 the first post offices in Maine were established at Kennebec, Falmouth and Bath. The mails were carried by carriers on foot or on horseback and the average weight of mail did not amount to five pounds at each office. The rates were high, 4¢, 12¢, 18¢, 25 and 37¢ cents, according to the distance the letter had to be carried, and double the rate when the letter was one more than one sheet of paper.

Amusements for Employees.
The secret of having thoughtful care for the amusement of employees is a new discovery. It has been in use for more than a generation by one of the most successful department store proprietors now in this country. The "Bon Marche" also introduced the idea in Paris years ago. New York merchants arrange picnics and dances for their woman and man clerks.

Meaning of Style.
Style is that intangible something which enables one of the youngest and prettier neighbor women to wear her boudoir cap in a way to set off every line of her figure.—Ohio State Journal.

ENGINE BRAKE BURNS OUT ON SAWTOOTH'S PERILOUS GRADE

Former Twin Falls Newspaper Man Tells of a Hair-Raising Adventure Down Steep Declivity of Mountain Train toward Wood River—Fishing Trip is Subject of Interesting Letter

In an interesting account of a fishing and country sightseeing trip in the Salmon river, Lost river and Wood river countries, written for The News, George D. Wheeler, formerly a newspaper advertising man of Twin Falls and now proprietor of the Wood River Times-News-Miner at Halley, tells of a perilous descent in an automobile of the Sawtooth mountain from Twin Creek summit toward Wood River, which was struck at Ketchikan.

With the steepest portion of the grade ahead, and with all possible precautionary measures taken to prevent a runaway, brakes set and emergency brakes applied the engine brake burned out and to prevent disaster the machine had to be thrust into the embankment, Mr. Wheeler says. His account of the trip follows:

"We went over Galena Summit and on down the Salmon river to Stanley from there we continued to follow the Salmon past the Sunbeam Inn and on to Clayton. At Clayton we left the Salmon and crossed over, 38 miles to Lost River. We touched Lost river at night and followed the river clear to its head, making little side trips to the head of the north fork of Lost River, Wild Horse, etc.

"From the head of Lost River we crossed over the Trail Creek summit and hit Wood river at Ketchikan. This Trail Creek summit is surely a bear. No car has ever crossed it from the Wood River side. It is very steep, and a matter of fact in some places it hangs over a little. We were traveling in a Ford and just before we started down we tightened up all the brakes and let her over with the emergency set tight, in low gear and the spark cut off, at that we found a continual necessity for use of the engine brake. Probably half way down, with the steepest part of the grade before us the engine brake was completely burned out. We turned her nose into the bank and latched a small part of the Sawtooth national forest on behind and at that we strained the speed limits the rest of the way down.

"This is an old toll road and very much resembles the Blue Lakes Grade as the canyon drops off below, in some instances sheer for many feet and in others the steep hill side is a mass of broken, ragged rock. The road itself is filled, in places, on the high side by shale and larger rocks, the result of sheep travel, this condition makes the trip as a whole quite interesting, especially in those numerous places where the running board hangs over the edge of the precipice.

"Taken as a whole the trip was a glorious one. One experiences all the thrills known to man—from that quiet restful sensation that only the big trees, green canyons and massive mountains give you, to the excitement you have to resist your past life and wonder what kind of a showing you can make to Saint Peter.

"We found fishing very poor. As a matter of fact the fishing in Wood River and Trail creek equalled any we found in Salmon river or Lost river. "The first run of salmon (steel heads) is on in Salmon river."

GRAND JURY TO QUIZ RIOTERS

Count Shows 33 Dead and Over 400 Hurt in the Chicago Race Warfare

CHICAGO, (AP) — After the calmest night in the "black belt" for more than a week work was begun today of selecting a grand jury before which will come the cases of white men and negroes who are accused of participating in the race riots which caused the death of 20 negroes and 13 whites, and the injury of hundreds.

The coroner has fixed the number of dead at thirty-three and the city health commissioner has found that 300 people injured in the riots were treated in hospitals. He expressed the opinion, however, that perhaps four hundred or more who were injured in the riots never reported at hospitals.

The state troops had little to do during the night in the riot zone, but much excitement was caused early today by persistent reports of a large gathering of the second regiment, that a crowd of five hundred men was gathered at South Ashland avenue and West 50th street. When a company of troops reached the scene the crowd had vanished.

Several thousand negroes who expected to return to work in the stockyards today, must wait until the unrest caused by the disturbances in the district has subsided. After announcing that the colored men would return to work today, superintendents of all the large packing plants decided that it would be prudent to hold the negroes at their homes for an indefinite period.

German City Becomes Headquarters when Offices in Paris Close

COBLENZ, (AP) — Coblenz will become the headquarters of the American forces in Europe when American grand headquarters in Paris are closed about August 20, it became known today when General Pershing arrived here on his final tour of the battlefields. Antwerp will be the base port for the American contingent that is to remain on the Rhine indefinitely.

General Pershing and his staff are expected to leave for Brest about September 1. It was said to be probable that the composite regiment of picked men that marched in the Paris and London Victory parades will sail with the American commander in chief.

General Pershing arrived here yesterday and spent the afternoon with Major General Henry T. Allen. They discussed the personnel of the permanent garrison that is to remain here after the departure of the third division next week and the third division the middle of August. General Pershing said the area to be occupied by the Americans on the Rhine has not been determined by the inter-allied council, but that a decision is expected soon.

The French have virtually completed plans to take over the districts to be evacuated by American units. General Pershing spent the day visiting the first division which is on the east bank of the Rhine and is preparing to turn over the bridgehead proper to the French about August 15.

been restored in the danger zone. Negroes there, but let it be remembered that it is only because of the presence of the troops. The conditions which produced the race riots must be removed. The state is working and has been working for some time upon a plan which it is hoped will bring about a better understanding between the two races. So far it has been difficult to get the public to realize the necessity of this and but little progress has been made. Now, however, with the memory of the awful riots of last week in our minds, with an overwhelming disaster so narrowly averted, we ought to be willing to give our attention to removing the causes of this unhappy situation. I invite the co-operation of all public bodies in Chicago in working out the problem.

Housing Affected Problem
"A great city like Chicago must provide food and ample housing conditions for its workers, both colored and white. If it would avoid race disturbances, the laws must be enforced with equal impartiality against both races. If favors for political reasons are shown either race, both races are bound to suffer."

"Surely we shall work out a permanent solution of this problem if we will take it in hand now and approach it in a sense of justice."

Six Barrels of Kraut Figure in Appeal to Court

PRESBOTT, Ariz. (AP) — Six barrels of sauer kraut, intended for the soldiers at Fort Whipple Barracks, near here, after worrying their way through the justice court, now will feature an appeal to the superior court. The six barrels of kraut, valued at $170.80, were prepared for the barracks, last January. The plaintiff declares they were returned. The pickled cabbage went from bad to worse. A jury in the justice court awarded the owner damages for the kraut, but he wants payment for his containers and the case goes to the superior court.

ENGLAND'S NAVY IS CELEBRATED

Pageant on Thames Marks the Fifth Anniversary of Fleet Mobilization

LONDON, (AP) — The important role played by the British sea services during the great war was commemorated today by a naval pageant on the Thames, the day marking the fifth anniversary of the historic mobilization of the British fleet. Plans for the event, while giving recognition to the allied and associated powers, laid stress on the fact that this was a purely British occasion.

Days when the Thames was the "king's highway" and when the people of London used boats just as their descendants of today use taxicabs were recalled by the appearance of King George's royal barge. This craft was built more than two hundred years ago for Queen Mary and King William and was richly ornamented with crimson and gold.

In planning the celebration efforts were made to symbolize the development of Great Britain's naval power and typify the connection between the navy and the mercantile marine.

Grateful Enjoyment.

Suffering is not necessarily a blessing in disguise. Sometimes it is simply an undisguised evil, an evil that we have no right to be carrying about with us. Self-denial for its own sake is only a foolish refusal of pleasures that we might thankfully enjoy. Courage and faith when trouble comes are more our duty than the great enjoyment of our blessings when the days are bright.

Italian Philosopher-Martyr.

February 17 is the anniversary of the burning in Rome, in 1000, of the Italian philosopher, Giordano Bruno. He was subjected to continual and terrible persecution for seven years prior to his death, in the hope that he would recant. In 1889 a monument was erected to him under papal protest at the place where he perished at the stake.

How a Crab Grows.

The crab's equivalent to the internal bones of animals is its tough outer shell, which does not grow. The baby crab is forced to get rid of this tough confining person. So it breaks itself loose internally and then splits its old protective home across the extreme back ridge, creeping out in that way.

OHIO'S RIVAL FAVORITE SONS POSE TOGETHER

It is not often that one state's "Favorite sons" of different political parties pose together for a picture. But that is what Ohio's two Senators did at Washington both mentioned in their respective parties as logical candidates for the 1920 presidential nominations. Senator Denison, at the left is a Democrat, and Senator Harding, right, a Republican.

National Anthem.

"The Star-Spangled Banner" is now regarded as our national anthem; that of England, "God Save the King"; France, "The Marseillaise." The other allies apparently have no distinguishing title for their national airs. The national air of Italy is known to us simply as the "Italian National Hymn" and that of Portugal as the "National Air of Portugal," etc.

IDAHO'S APPLES A BUMPER CROP

Bureau of Estimates Report Tells of 500 Cars More Than in 1917

The apple crop outlook for Idaho is more promising this year than for many years past, and about equal to the bumper crop of 1917, according to a recently released commercial apple crop report of the federal bureau of estimates.

The report says the outlook in Idaho indicates 500 cars in excess of the bumper crop of 1917, or some 4000 cars. Last year's production was only about 300 cars. The bureau estimates that the estimated at about 2500 cars, the Boise valley district 500 cars, Twin Falls district 400 cars, and Lewiston district 300 cars. New acreage coming into bearing and greater care of bearing trees are responsible for the very heavy crop promised this year.

New York Losses

A sharp decline in the condition of the New York apple crop during June is the principal feature of the report. The condition of the commercial apple as a whole indicates 24,453,000 barrels as compared with 25,744,000 barrels in 1916. New York state now promises less than one-third of last year's production.

Conditions in the western states, or boxed apple region, continue favorable. The principal feature of the report is the condition of the Rocky mountains promises the largest crop in its history. The total production of boxed apples, forecasted in 1917, is 1,000,000 boxes as compared with the 2,000,000 box crop in 1916 and the 2,500,000 box crop of 1917. The quality and size of the fruit is generally reported as excellent. Washington will probably lead all states in commercial production by a large margin the outlook being some 14,625,000 boxes.

The middle west, particularly Missouri, shows an increase over 1916.

The New England states have very good prospects, while the middle Atlantic regions, including Pennsylvania, Maryland, the Virginias, New Jersey and Delaware, have on the whole about 20 per cent less than last year.

SENATORS GIVE THEIR VIEWS ON VEED PROBLEM

Senator Smith, republican, of Utah, told the senate wheat and flour prices could not be blamed on the present administration. He pointed out that "President Wilson has not done anything to raise the price of wheat. It is the market that has done it."

Senator Sherman, republican, of Illinois, said the meat packers were not responsible for high meat prices.

The increase in price of meat comes after they leave the refrigerator car," said he.

Smoot Detects Causes

Senator Smoot, republican, of Utah, declared inflation of currency and exorbitant profit in food distribution were responsible for high living costs.

Urging that the people "lose their heads" over the situation, Senator Smoot said:

"I look forward to trouble, not only in this country, but all the world, unless a change comes within a reasonable time."

Senator Borah, republican, of Idaho, said it would be no task to find the profiteer.

"We know where the profiteer is," he said. "And he will be the next four years as he has been the last four."

Senator Reed, democrat, of Missouri, declared:

"If we can't feed ourselves we ought not try to feed the world. There is a plan on foot to organize a gigantic corporation to finance and feed Europe, and our government is going to undertake the plan. We are to drain this country of its money and its goods at the very time our people are clamoring for relief."

MORE ELECTRICAL POWER FOR SNAKE RIVER VALLEY

Company Completes Plans for Harnessing Thousand Springs To Get Energy

Aiming to add to the power generated in this district the Idaho Power company has completed plans for harnessing the waters of Thousand Springs, located 15 miles west and slightly north of Twin Falls. The plans contemplate generating of 5000 horsepower from the springs. The plant will be located on the Snake river, but will have nothing to do with the flow of that stream.

This morning H. B. Kugel, district manager of the Idaho Power company, said the company had been considering additions to its power generating facilities for some time and had been working on plans for a mine near Thousand Springs. He explained that supervision of the plant installation will be in charge of his office.

According to reports from power company headquarters at Boise a force of men will be set to work at the power site by October 1, and that orders have been placed with manufacturers of the machinery necessary to make the plant one of the best in this section.

The surveys necessary to prepare all plans and specifications in connection with the new plant have been completed, and by October 1 the company will have a large crew of men at work at Thousand Springs for the purpose of completing the building, and the machinery as soon as it is shipped, it is understood. The manufacturers of the machinery have promised shipment in plenty of time so that the entire plant will be finished and in operation prior to the beginning of the 1920 pumping season.

This development assures all power users in the territory served by the Idaho Power company an adequate supply of power for next year. The normal growth in the use of electric power in this territory is approximately 50 per cent a year, and this installation will take care of the ordinary growth during a two-year period.
