HAPSBUURG RULE IN HUNGARY TO BE ABBREVIATED

Peace Council Expects to Hear of Resignation of Archduke Joseph in Few Days After Refusal to Deal with Him

NEW CABINET FORMATION IN BUDAPEST REPORTED

Protests of Peasantry Prompt Removal of Bela Kun and Other Communist Leaders from One Prison to Another

PARIS, (AP)—The supreme council of the peace council expects to hear of the resignation of Archduke Joseph as head of the Hungarian government within a few days. Apparently the council is of the opinion that it is not necessary to take any more drastic steps than those outlined in the instructions sent to the international military mission in Budapest on Tuesday or Wednesday for delivery to the Hungarian government.

ARCHDUKE JOSEPH MAY BE MADE COMMANDER IN CHIEF

VIENNA, (AP)—Formation of a new Hungarian cabinet and probable designation of Archduke Joseph as commander-in-chief of the Hungarian army were reported Wednesday in government circles.

Baron Sigismund Jerezy minister of the interior, according to Budapest advices has been asked to form a new cabinet.

New Prison for Kun

The Austrian government, because of the protests of the peasantry, has removed Bela Kun, Dr. Landner and Herr Pohl, Hungarian communists, from the short lived cabinet of M. Lovassy, would be minister of foreign affairs in the new ministry.

Maygars Kill Five

Five persons have been killed by Magyar troops in the frontier village of Wolfen, according to reports reaching here. A festival was in progress when the Maygars rode in and ordered a band to play the Hungarian national anthem. When the band refused the Maygars fired through the windows into a crowd in a dance hall.

THOMAS ATTACKS LABOR PROVISION

Colorado Senator Sees Inadequacy to Cope with Evils and Threat of Danger

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The labor provisions of the peace treaty fail to cope with threatening labor evils and point toward a program which may disturb the domestic peace of the United States, Senator Thomas, democrat, Colorado, declared in a speech today in the senate. He expressed grave doubt whether that section of the treaty could be accepted under the constitution.

Class Favoritism Menace

"Luncheon as organized labor correctly speak of itself as class," said the Colorado senator. "It is entirely appropriate to say that by including this program in the treaty, distinct recognition and separate organization are given to a class. To enthrone a class, whether by revolution or by treaty, is but to estrange other classes. It may be possible to reach the goal of uniformity in the conditions of labor, but I question whether it can be done otherwise than by making the standard the lowest and leveling down to it."

Paints Gloomier Future

Painting a gloomy picture of labor conditions in this country and declaring that organized labor was employing methods which threaten the nation's political and social existence, Senator Thomas declared that the most serious matter that should concern legislators

SHANTUNG DEAL WAS CHOICE BETWEEN TWO EVILS, WITNESS AVERS

E. T. Williams, Formerly State Department's Expert on Far Eastern Affairs, Says Wilson Asked Opinion on Less Injurious Course—Transfer of German Rights in China to Japan or Insistence on Execution of Nippon's 21 Demands of 1915

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A first hand story of the negotiations which resulted in the treaty provision giving Japanese control in Shantung province, China was told to the senate foreign relations committee today by Prof. E. T. Williams, formerly the state department's expert on Far Eastern affairs. Williams acted as a technical adviser to the American peace negotiators.

Professor Williams said he had "objected very strongly" to the Shantung settlement, but that his resignation from the peace commission had not been due to his opposition.

RAIL STRIKE ON IN CALIFORNIA

Almost Complete Paralysis of Transportation Exists when Workers Walk Out

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—A general and almost complete paralysis of transportation in Southern California existed today. Strikes in progress on the Pacific Electric and Los Angeles railway systems were supplemented by a strike out of members of the four great rail brotherhoods, who quit their jobs on the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Salt Lake lines.

No Cause Announced

No cause for the walkout of railroad men has been announced. The strike began general last night. The switchmen employed at the yards of the three companies quit first and were followed by some of the engineers, firemen and conductors. The latter in several instances walked off their trains at way stations, leaving their passengers to reach their destinations as best they could.

According to T. H. Williams, assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific, trains were departing on time today. He said, however, that many freight trains were tied up.

Strikes Cause Wreck

The strike came as a surprise to the railroad companies. It was said that a copy of an order from Warren S. Stone of the Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers had been found ordering a general strike.

Williams said that while numerous trains had left their runs last night, there seemed to be a normal number reporting today and the trains were being sent out.

Officials of the Salt Lake and Santa Fe lines were today making various reports according to reports from their officers, but it was said that both roads expected to move passenger trains and possibly some freight.

RAINFALL ONLY CAN STOP FIRES

Uncontrolled Blazes Destroying Much Timber in Montana and North Idaho

MISSOULA, MONT., (AP)—Uncontrolled fires in every forest in central and western Montana and northern Idaho are destroying much valuable timber and threatening ranchers and stock men, without hope of stopping the flames unless rain falls heavily. The federal forest service announced yesterday.

Coeur d'Alene Loss Heavy

Eighty-two thousand dollars worth of white pine timber in easily accessible country on Steamboat creek, Coeur d'Alene forest, was totally destroyed by the flames Wednesday. There are other bad fires in this forest.

The situation in the Kootenai forest is more favorable although the Callahan creek blazes are advancing down hill toward valuable timber with little prospect of being stopped.

The Riggle and Castle bluffs blazes in the Selway forest are burning great stands of timber worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Situation in Montana

Several dangerous fires are raging on the Jefferson forest, central Montana, the 5,000 acre "bonanza blaze" being especially threatening. It is shifting rapidly with the wind. The Don Creek blazes in the Helena forest have been checked on its most dangerous side, while the Unimville fire is advancing over a front of 6 miles.

In the Bitter Root forest all efforts to check the flames have been unsuccessful. The situation in the vicinity of Missoula is improved, the flames which swept the Battleship valley having been entrenched.

SOVIET FORCES FORCED TO FLEE BY POLISH

Polish Administer Defeat Bolsheviki; Capture Fortress of Rovno after Hard Fight on New Line

UKRAINIANS TAKE ODESSA AND PURSUE RUSS REDS

Naval Detachments from Black Sea Fleet, Dispatched in Great Haste to Oppose Victors, Desert

COPENHAGEN, (AP)—Polish troops have administered a crushing defeat on the Bolsheviki and the soviet forces are being pursued everywhere, the Polish general staff at Warsaw announced yesterday.

The fortress of Rovno, in Volhynia, northeast of Duhno, has been captured by the Poles after hard fighting.

East of Minsk the Poles have reached the line of the Dnieper-Doroshyn. Apparently the Poles are advancing north and south of the Pripiet marshes, east of Brest-Litovsk. Thumen is 40 miles east of Minsk. Rovno is one of the triangle of fortresses in southern Volhynia. The other two, Lutsk and Dubno, have been captured by the Poles within the last few weeks.

UKRAINIAN MISSION ANNOUNCES INCREASES

LONDON, (AP)—Ukrainian troops have captured a message, it is announced by the Ukrainian mission.

The capture was effected after severe fighting. Bolsheviki naval detachments from the Black Sea fleet, who were dispatched in great haste to oppose the Ukrainians, deserted.

The soviet army on the right bank of the Dnieper river, the announcement was, was fleeing before the forces of General Simon Petliura, Ukrainian commander in chief.

British authorities here said they had not received confirmation of these successes, but they regarded the Ukrainian report as trustworthy.

SERIOUS CHARGE MADE AGAINST FARM LABORER

Rancher Starr Says Annis, with Gun, Made Him Sign a Check for $300.

Because he wanted to make a trip east, J. R. Annis, aged 20, compelled W. S. Starr at the point of a pistol to write in his favor a check for $300. The check, the rancher said, was made at the State Bank where Starr accompanied Annis, according to a statement made to county officials by Starr, who is a farmer near Kimberly.

The charge was made early yesterday afternoon, but details were withheld until the arrest of Annis at Eden in the evening, and the recovery of the money. Annis is now in possession of Sheriff A. N. Sprague.

Makes Denial

Annis who is locked up in the county jail, said he was a stationer in the sheriff's office and the allegation that there was even the spirit of highwayman or highway robbery in the act which gave him $300 of Farmer Starr's money. He declares the entire transaction was a matter of charity on the part of Starr toward a man in need of money.

The farmer's account of the adventure sounds like anything but a prosaic or charitable affair, having more the earmarks of a thrilling movie picture.

In the course of the events of yesterday afternoon Starr says Annis, who formerly assisted him in his farm work, called at the Starr ranch yesterday and told him he had been asked to help him if he had a blank check with him as he wanted to discharge an obligation in town. I told him I had not, but that if he would help him, I would drive back home and get my check book. To this he demurred and said he would get a check in town. Evidently he was not to be helped.

Starr this morning made the following brief statement to a News man at the court house.

Starr's Statement

"The boy acted nervous and seemed ill as he had said he was. I was sorry for him and sympathized with him. As we were talking he asked me if I had a blank check with me as he wanted to discharge an obligation in town. I told him I had not, but that if he would help him, I would drive back home and get my check book. To this he demurred and said he would get a check in town. Evidently he was not to be helped."

U. S. TROOPS IN MEXICO TO REMAIN WHILE EXPEDITION CONTINUES ON HOT TRAIL

Major General Dickman, Commander of Southern Department, Announces Policy of Punitive Forces to Be Carried Out, if Possible, Until Last of Bandits is Hunted Down; Expects Orders Any Minute from Washington to Withdraw

CALLS DEMURRER OF MEXICANS TO PURSUIT "USUAL FALL PROTEST"

MARFA, TEX., (AP)—As long as the American punitive expedition continues to follow a hot trail, it will remain in Mexico, unless orders to the contrary are received from the war department, Major General Joseph T. Dickman, commander of the southern department, announced here today.

General Dickman Did Not Seem Concerned over Protest of the Mexican Government against the Presence of the Punitive Expedition, Saying that it was "the usual fall protest."

General Dickman did not seem concerned over the protest of the Mexican government against the presence of the punitive expedition, saying that it was "the usual fall protest."

Advise to War Department "I telegraphed the war department last night that the troops are still on the trail of the bandits," General Dickman said. "As long as we are able to follow them, the punitive expedition will continue. If we lose the trail and are unable to pick them up after a reasonable time and find the hunting no longer good, we will order the troops out."

General Dickman had high praise for the Eighth and Fifth cavalry and for the way that Colonel George T. Langhorne has conducted the campaign.

"I appreciate the value of the different methods of operating in Mexico," he said. "It is necessary to keep the troops together and to radiate from some selected base in pursuit of bandits, and then to reconcentrate at night."

Expected to Be Called Off

"If the troops could stay in Mexico as long as was desired, the best plan would be to infest the whole region with soldiers and hunt the bandits down like rabbits. As this cannot be done since we are unable to be ordered out any minute by orders from Washington, it is better to keep together as much as possible and to radiate from some selected base in pursuit of bandits."

"This is also a measure of safety. If attacked by force it is possible for the troops to fight their way out. It would be a considerable force of Mexicans to stop 300 brave Americans who are good shots."

General Dickman said he would report to headquarters at Fort San Houston, San Antonio, Texas, unless something occurred in the meantime to cause him to change plans.

Modifies Order to Matlack

General Dickman explained in detail his position regarding the failure of Captain Leonard P. Matlack to pay the entire amount of the ransom to the bandits. Last night the general announced that he had modified his original view of the affair since hearing Matlack's explanation of the situation. Matlack overheard two of the Mexican bandits discussing a plan to ambush and kill both Matlack and Lieutenant Paul H. Davis, the captive aviator. The last ransom payment had been made.

This fact, General Dickman stated, has put an entirely different light on the matter.

Mr. position was that the promise of the great government should be kept at all costs," said the general today. "I do not think that Captain Matlack fully realized this fact, since he told me that he did not know the payment of the ransom was authorized by the government, but thought it was raised by cattle men."

"He was in some danger of being cut off by Lieutenant Davis, but he did a very brave thing to go two miles into Mexico alone at night to rescue the aviators, and it is appreciated."

"As I stated to Washington in my telegram, if we did not keep our promise, we would furnish excuse for treachery in the future, which situation would have been avoided by negotiations should Americans again be picked up under similar conditions. It is possible to have another case like that of Lieutenants Peterson and Davis at any time. Any day an aviator may be captured."

FOUR BANDITS ARE KILLED BY U. S. SOLDIERS

Mexican Outlaws Fight Desperately When Surrounded in Blockhouse by American Troops; Two Escape

MARFA, TEX., (AP)—Four Mexican bandits were killed by American troops in Mexico yesterday, Captain Leonard Matlack, who arrived here by airplane last night, reported. They were surrounded in a blockhouse and the Mexicans had constructed in a mountain pass.

Bandits Fight Desperately

The bandits fought desperately when they found they were trapped, and two escaped.

When the American troops approached the blockhouse with the intention of searching it for hidden bandits, the Mexicans opened fire from loopholes. The fire was returned and the blockhouse, charged by the American cavalry troops.

"Three of the four Mexicans killed have been identified as Jesus Janir, Francisco Janir and Jose Romero. The identity of the fourth bandit has not yet been ascertained."

Leader Not Among Dead

All four of the men are known to Captain Matlack as bandits operating along the Big Bend border for years.

The two men who escaped were pursued, but the trail was lost in the mountain canyons.

It is known that Jesus Reuter, the leader of the outfit, had captured Lieutenant Harold G. Peterson and Paul H. Davis, American aviators, was not among the dead.

Captain Matlack said he passed a column of 200 Carranza troops on the border Wednesday. The Carranza commander, Matlack reported, asked where the American troops were going. When he was informed that the Americans were pursuing bandits, who he said were American aviators, the Carranza commander waved his hand and said: "Go ahead." No effort was made to hinder the punitive expedition.

SEARCH FOR MISSING AVIATORS GOES ON; RUMORED DISCOVERY IS MISTAKE

SAN DIEGO, CAL., (AP)—Lieutenant R. R. Fox of Rockwell field misunderstood a conversation in the office of Colonel Hanson, field commandant today and notified Miss Georgia Wetherby, that her brother, Lieut. P. E. Wetherby of Weiser, Idaho and Lieutenant C. H. Connolly, of San Diego, missing aviators, had been found by a Mexican cavalry patrol.

Colonel Hanson later declared no word had been received at Rockwell field concerning either pilot.

Two aviators in addition to the machines now out in search for the missing aviators are being held at Rockwell field to start wherever they may be required in the search. Every machine is supplied with ammunition and crews are standing by in readiness for instant leave.

WORK OF YANK RAILROAD MEN IS LIKE MAGIC

American Engineers Labor 17 Hours a Day in Pursuit of Retreating Bolshevik; Prisoners Taken Mystified

SOROKA, RUSSIAN LAYLAND, (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Pushing forward daily into territory of the Bolsheviks and often under fire, the American railroad troops on the Murman front in two months transformed 75 miles of dynamited and burned bridges and railway, wrecked and abandoned by retreating Bolshevik, into a workable railway which they manned, operated and maintained.

To the troops the British command gives much of the credit of the seventy-five mile advance toward Petrozavodsk. In the contingent were 30 officers and 475 men, comprising the 14th and 16th companies of railway troops as a special battalion under Major E. E. MacFarland, Kansas City, and every kind of railroad from a superintendent to a section hand.

Prisoners Suspect Miracle.
The Yanks worked so fast in fact that the Bolsheviks according to prisoners taken, believed that they had miraculous machines for a trucking and adjustable bridge which they dropped in as they went along. It was all done by a gang under Captain C.
J. Jones, of Paterson, N. J., who in Arctic and Latin American wars is nicknamed "Hurricane Jones".

The men worked fourteen hours daily with the enemy right ahead and the British artillery right behind pouring in ammunition. There were also battles and skirmishes in many small sidings where on several occasions the constructors and also the train's crews were under fire.

Surrounded by Enemy.
On May 19, while building a bridge under shrapnel fire, the Yanks were surrounded by Bolsheviks skipping through the woods and dynamiting the bridge three times in the rear. On the way back to repair the bridge the Yanks were again attacked at a change but managed to escape.

The ship, detachment under Captain C. E. McMillan, of South America and Panama, formerly from Omaha, had to transform junk pile equipment into workable rolling stock. Then the Yanks, under Captain H.
G. Odell, former assistant and superintendent at Santa Fe, built and operated an eight mile street railway in Murmansk. Under Lieutenant Chas.
Tuttle, they operated and manned an armored train.

Railroad men who formerly drew high pay in Boston, or the railroads shared in making those railway enterprises a Yankee success.

WILSON NOT AWARE OF TROUBLE IN COSTA RICA

Replies to Senator La Follette Explains Failure of U. S. with References to South American Country

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The senate was informed Thursday by President Wilson that the United States government was not aware of any armed interference by Nicaragua in Costa Rica affairs and that the state department repeatedly had urged Nicaraguan officials not to make any such interference. The president's message was in response to a letter from Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin.

Answering another part of the same resolution with reference to why Costa Rica "was not permitted" to sign the peace treaty, though she had declared war on Germany, the president said the Tinoco government in Costa Rica, having never been recognized by the United States, was considered "legally nonexistent," and therefore not to be treated as a belligerent.

ing in its own meeting place to cover up laziness and inefficiency of members of the cabinet."

"The thick hide of food manipulators cannot be pierced by political shafts of rhetoric hurled from high places," he said. "Prison fines will do no good, unless they bring their alleged dead sense of concern for fellow men."

DECREASE IN VALUE OF FOREIGN MONEY TO UNDERMINE HIGH COSTS

CHICAGO, (AP)—The decrease in value of foreign money has caused a large curtailment of exports from Chicago, according to local bankers and this condition of the foreign export and money market, it was said, would tend to reduce the price of commodities here.

"A very large curtailment in foreign exports has been caused by the advanced value of the dollar in Great Britain and France," Arthur Reynolds, vice president of the Continental and Commercial National bank, explained.
"The value of the pound sterling is so low that it takes considerable percentage above par for foreign buyers to purchase commodities they formerly bought when there was not such a large difference in the exchange."

The value of the British pound sterling has fallen from $4.80 to $4.32 the point touched yesterday, it was explained. Chicago banks lost between $400,000 and $600,000 yesterday in the drop of English money, according to published reports in Chicago newspapers today. This loss, it was said, is the difference in the value of drafts at the time they were deposited by American exporters and their value when paid by foreign importers.

Mr. Reynolds stated that any reduction in exports from the United States would tend to reduce prices here.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Right of strike would be denied railroad employees under legislation proposed by the Illinois Manufacturers association and presented by Charles Ploz, of Chicago before the house interstate commerce committee Thursday. Provision would be made, however, for an arbitration board, whose findings would be subject only to final appeal to the interstate commerce commission.
The rights of the public are paramount and therefore interruptions in transportation by strikes or lockouts must not be permitted," declared Mr.
Ploz. The interstate commerce commission would set up the arbitration board of six members, equally representing the employees, the public and the rail management. The board's findings would be considered by the interstate commerce commission.

"Determining what shall be reasonable control by the interstate commerce commission of water rates, as proposed by the Eel-Lumiere bill, was opposed by the association because "rigid regulations by the interstate commission would eventually tend to strangle developments" of water transportation.

Meats in Storage Not "Hoarded"

Live stock is a seasonal crop—like cereals and grains.

It is "ripe" and is marketed in larger quantities in certain months. This causes a natural oversupply at one time and a natural shortage at another.

During the time of oversupply Swift & Company places some of the meat in cold storage, against the season of short production.

This is a necessity in order that the nation's ration of meat—58,000,000 pounds every day in the year—may be forthcoming as the consumer requires it.

This is not hoarding, not price manipulation, not market control. It is mere common sense.

United States Bureau of Markets' figures of stocks of frozen and cured meats July 1 are being used as a basis for Department of Justice investigations in many cities. When properly analyzed, based on Swift & Company's stocks,
these figures show:

62 per cent (approximate) is pork and beef cuts, etc., cured and in process of curing. It takes 30 to 90 days in pickle or salt to complete the curing process.

12 per cent is frozen pork, of which more than three-quarters is to be cured in the next few months.

7 per cent is lamb. This is a normal supply and only four-fifths of a pound per capita, and much of it will have to go to supply European needs.

19 per cent is frozen beef and lamb, and miscellaneous meats, part of which is owned by the Government and was intended chiefly for over-seas shipment. If this were all diverted to domestic trade channels it would be only 3 1/2 lbs. per capita—a 5 days' supply.

100%

From this it will be seen that "meats in storage" represent unfinished goods in process of curing and the working supply necessary to assure the consumer a steady flow of finished product.

Brief Sport Bits

The Pittsburgh club of the National league has bought First baseman Charles Grimm from the Little Rock.

This is Grimm's second trip to the majors, having failed to make the bill on the former occasion.

Big Bill Dell, twirling for Vernon yesterday, allowed Portland only four hits, as against seven made by his own club. He lost the game, though, on bunched blows.

Francis Outmet didn't stay amateur champion of the national links long. He won the tag Wednesday and lost it yesterday. He was beaten by J. Wood Platt of Philadelphia, after putting up a bad game all day long.

The race between the Detroit Tigers for leadership in the American league, and the battle being staged by the White Sox to retain the lead, is one of the thrills of the baseball season.

May the best team win.

Sam Smiley, agricultural sage, says: "City folks go to the country to meet the country folks and find the country folks have gone to the city to see the city folks."

We've read somewhere a story designed to prove that all baseball stars never come back.

Old Cy Falkenberg, formerly a star in the big circles, later with the Indianapolis club, last spring signed with the Seattle club, and now twirling for Oakland, beat his former Tillamook teammates 6 to 0, letting the Seattle men down without a hit.

A considerable stunt for one of the real oldtimers, and also another nail in Bill Clymer's managerial coffin.

President Ryan of the Pacific Coast league, has just issued a ruling against the every ball. His intention is so strict that it bars rubbing the pill against any part of the uniform glove or in the dirt.

Jack Britton, welterweight champion of this country, has just received an offer to meet Johnny Hasham, British welter champion.

Britton mixed with Mike O'Dowd in an eight-round encounter at Newark, N. J., and after he gets through with that battle will probably not feel inclined to consider another for some time. Mike is a real rough customer, and considerably heavier than Jack.

If Manager George Hart gets the flinger he is after for the Sunday game, Bull fans, and such enthusiasts as care to traipse from here to host for the Greys, will see some race mound operations.

Amst. add-tions.—There's Chief Bender, an Indian twirler who, with Old Eddie Plank, won pennants and world's championships for Connie Mack and his Athletics. The aged warrior of the diamond, this year, has been reusing the Richmond club of the Virginia league, and has been taking a regular turn in the box. He is the league's leading twirler, and is now wanted by the Reds to round out Morison's staff. Bender will join after the close of his own season.

By the way, Bender has twirled 23 games this season and has won 21. Thus far this week he has pitched three times, winning all starts.

Can he beat it?

Elimination Battles Provide Entertainment for Men of Pacific Fleet

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. (AP)—As the Pacific fleet moves up the California coast, elimination boxing bouts, preparatory to the championship events in the seven pugilistic classes which will be held here during fleet week, are being fought out.

Prepare for Championships

These preliminary bouts are held in accordance with arrangements made by Lieutenant Harvey L. ("Heinie") Miller, district athletic officer, who has returned after a conference with fleet athletic officers in the south.

Sailor Joe Kelly of the New Mexico, who has held the Atlantic Fleet welterweight title for several years, is one of the stars who will be seen in action at the all-fleet boxing tournament for the "Jayne" victory trophy. Kelly plans to meet the best welter of the coast.

Another two fluted boxer whose terrific right upper cut won him the lightweight championship of the all-fleet grand fleet at London, Freddie Burrows of the New Mexico, will appear here. The "Shoemaker" victory trophy will be awarded to the lightweight winner.

Gartner Wears Belt

Jack Gartner of the New York, winner of the grand fleet middleweight belt, will meet the leading contestant in his class for the Fulton trophy. Miller, district athletic officer, holder of the grand fleet lightweight championship, will be entered in both heavyweight and light heavyweight events for which the Holman and Fulton belts are offered. He weighs 175 pounds.

Helmo Meiers of the New Mexico and half a dozen other likely featherweights are battling for the finals in their class for which the Coontz trophy is offered. Dozens of bantams are out for the Wiley trophy.

Grand Circuit Races

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.—Edward F. Geers took the lion's share of honors at the second day of the grand circuit yesterday, driving four of the five winners on the program, and in one of his victories piloting Goldie Tohl to a clean cut, straight heat triumph over Frank Dewey and Samuels. The veteran reinman accounted for "the Vassar", 2:10 pace, $3,000 purse; "The Liberty", 2:16 trot for 3 year olds, which he won with Moly Knight, and two Breeders' club events, the 2 year old and 3 year old tracs, Duetto and Wiki Wiki were the winners.

Walter R. Cox drove McGregor the Great to a straight heat win in the other $3,000 event, "The Toughkeepie", with Hollyrod, Naami, second and Joseph Guy third. Mariendale, the Murphy entry, behaved badly and was never a contender.

Times: "The Toughkeepie", 2:30 1-2; "The Vassar", 2:02 1-2; Three year old trot "The Breeders' club", 2:20 1-4; 2 year old trot "The Broad-ers' Club", 2:12 1-2; "The Liberty", 2:07 1-2.

THE FARMER'S CASE

While farmers are getting higher prices for the products they sell than they received in 1914 or at the beginning of the war, they are also paying higher prices for the things they buy, and it is of special concern to know just how they have fared in the general price movement of things sold in relation to things bought.

Nobody who has given the subject any consideration at all is going to accuse the farmer of profiteering and the recognition is very general of the fact that the farmer not only works harder and for longer hours for what he gets than almost any other factor in the economic scheme of things, but that if he makes as little as seven per cent annually on his investment he is one prone to look with a certain degree of equanimity upon the swollen dividends of other less essential industries.

The farmer can by no manner of means be justly charged with an intentional part in the boosting of living costs; but if evidence were lacking to clear him of the charge of unduly sharing in inflated profits, which charge sometimes emanates from unthinking ones and from unthinking ones only, the comparison of just how the farmer has fared in the general price movement, made possible by recent investigation of the Bureau of Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture, is to be commended in the premises.

In 1915 farmers received three per cent less than in 1914 for crops and livestock in their composite price, but they paid nine per cent more in the composite price of the many articles they bought, this investigation shows. The list of articles bought used for this purpose contains 85 items of textiles and garments, lumber, wood products, agricultural implements and machinery, metal products, coal, petroleum products, foods, fertilizers, household furnishings and other farm and family supplies.

Relative loss in the second year of the war also was suffered by farmers. What they sold in crops and livestock advanced in joint price, it is true, but only by 12 per cent, while what they bought advanced 21 per cent.

In the next year, 1917, the relative character of these price movements was reversed and the farmer faced prosperity instead of disaster, since the price that he received for crops and livestock gained 74 per cent upon 1914, while he paid 49 per cent more in the composite price of his purchases.

War time is a period of rapid changes in prices and of sudden and often painful maladjustments.

Although the farmer lost ground in 1915 and 1916 in comparison with 1914, and regained the lost ground in 1917 and gained much more, he lost his relative lead in 1918 and found himself where he started in 1914 in the comparison of price of crops and livestock with that of things bought. The advance of price received in 1918 above 1914 was 97 per cent, and that of the price paid was 96 per cent, or substantially the same.

Grains and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Less bullish sentiment was reflected today in the corn market, prices being moderately higher at the outset and increasing somewhat in the early trading, the distant months showing relatively greater strength. Offerings were rather limited and found ready purchasers. Recessionary feeling, weak and fractional, with a higher stock market and increased prices for live hogs were contributing factors. Opening figures unchanged to 1 1/2c higher with September at $1.38 to 1.35 1/2 and December $1.45 3/4 to 1.46 1/2.

Sentiment later was somewhat mixed and profit taking prevented the bulls from maintaining the best prices. The early trading, the close was sagged under pressure. The close was weak, unchanged to 1/2c lower, September showing the greatest decline. Final figures were September $1.34 to 1.44 1/4 and December $1.44 3/4 to 1.44 7/8.

Oats moved up with corn, commission houses being buyers. Speculations were in more narrow limits than in the major grain but a strong undertone was observed in the early trading. Opening prices were 1 1/4 to 1 1/2c higher, all deliveries sharing in the advance, with September at 73 3/4 and December 74 1/4 to 75 3/8.

Provisions started 10 to 15c higher, influenced by the live hog advance. Offerings were light and trade was moderate. Pork showed the greatest advance.

The provisions generally held their strength through the session, all products except January lard finishing above yesterday's final figures. Closing prices were from the lower to 55c higher.

PEOPLE WISH TO PAY HIGH PRICE FOR WITNESS AVERS

St. Louis Meat Dealer Defends Retail Meat and Grocery Business; Says Workers are Worst Offenders

WASHINGTON, (AP)—People ought to be satisfied with present food prices, there isn't any profiteering in the retail meat and grocery business, and consumers want to pay high prices, Thomas Dunn, at St. Louis meat dealer told the senate agriculture committee today at the hearing on legislation to control the packing industry.

"Retailers are hard working people, taking themselves what other people won't use," Dunn said. "There is not a retail food price in the country."

"Everybody knows about food prices. Your wives and daughters can't be fooled into paying more."

"Well do you think they are satisfied with present food prices?" asked Senator Kenyon, republican, Iowa.

Workers Demand Best.

"If they are not they ought to be," Dunn told him. "The trouble is they want to pay more. They tell me they get finer cuts of meat by paying fifty cents more a pound at certain shops. I can show you places where things like canned goods vary several cents a can in St. Louis, and you find the man who changes the most with the price."

"They rather like high prices, then," Senator Kenyon continued.

"They do. The working people are the worst offenders. They absolutely won't have anything but the best. The only good this investigation can do is to make these people think, and get the food ideas about food out of their heads."

The five big packers are not monopolizing anything, or "robbing anybody" and need no regulation, Dunn said.

"Well, if the five should get 100 per cent of the business," Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi put in, "would you want them regulated?"

"Oh, that's all stuff," Dunn exclaimed. "You want to do business on facts, not on 'ifs' and 'buts'."

Looks at Farmer's End.

"I understand most of this committee are farmers," Dunn continued, "I want to learn something. A bull calf's carcass costs $70 and it takes it five years ago. What I want to know is, who gets that extra $70. The farmer? I'm the gink that pays them $70, and I'd like to know."

"It isn't the packer, I'm sure, because I've seen his books, and because if they were getting it Rockefeller and all these rich men would put the foot-lights on them. They are in and go into packing."

Dunn's own conclusion about it, he said, was that the farmer got the $70.

fall, break his arm or leg and be at the mercy of whatever band of Mexicans that found him."

General Dickman held a long conference with Paul Probst, an engineer attached to this district, regarding the roads, funds and passes into Mexico. The commander told Probst how transportation was handled in France and how many of its problems had been solved there. Because of the distance of the troops now operating in Mexico it is necessary to arrange for and repair roads and trails so that Liberty trucks may ply between the Rio Grande and the expeditionary force.

Matlack Returns to Field

Captain Leonard F. Matlack of the Eighth cavalry, today returned in an airplane to the punitive expedition in Mexico to rejoin his troops in pursuit of bandits. He came here yesterday to confer with General Joseph T. Dickman, commander of the southern department.

While here Captain Matlack arranged for an assignment of additional scouts who are familiar with the country through which the expeditionary forces are operating. It is believed here there is considerable likelihood the remainder of the outlaw band will be found.

YOUNGER HAS BIG JOB

Writing his mother, Mrs. H. H. Newman, Charles Younger, formerly in the U. S. A. service, and later in the aerial service, tells of having recently returned to New York. He says he has been given charge of conducting the international airplane race between Toronto and New York on August 25. It is expected the Prince of Wales will start the race from Canada. The money is arranged for and the big airplane manufacture of the race program. There will be entries from Canada, the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy. Mr. Younger is now engaged in the sugar refinery business in New York, but expects to go to Italy this fall. Gilbert Younger, another son of Mrs. Newman, left last Wednesday for Milwaukee to enter an electrical engineering school.

MOTION PICTURE ACTORS

INJURED IN ACCIDENT

LOS ANGELES, CAL., (AP)—Twenty-six persons were injured, several of them very seriously, when a Van Nuys electric car crashed into a sightseeing car, carrying thirty motion picture actors.

A number of the injured were taken to the hospital.

AS AMBASSADOR TO ITALY

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Thomas Nelson Page, of Virginia, has formally resigned as ambassador to Italy. It was said today at the state department, so far as could be learned today his successor has not been selected.

a check book. He came back to the car, which I sat and said he would be back in a few minutes. I watched him go into the Idaho State bank and in a brief time he returned. We had already made arrangements that I should take him to Blue Lake, and we immediately started on the trip. At the toll gate explanation was made that Anna was employed at the lakes and we were permitted to go through without paying the toll.

Gun Enters Into Plot

"We had not proceeded far when Anna pulled out a gun and commanded me to stop the machine. Of course I readily complied, but argued with Anna that there was no necessity for assault. He cursed me and told me I had to make him a check for $300. I explained I had no check, and he produced his First National check. I told him then I had no account of money at that institution, and he, swearing excitedly, ordered me to fill out a blank for $300. This I did, telling him the while that the check would be of no value. He then talked of compromise, and ordered me to scratch out the title First National and make the check read Idaho State bank and to make the check for $200. This I did, tearing up the first. He got desperately angry then, and threatened to shoot me. Following instructions I then scratched out the figure on the back of the check and made it for $300, which he said was the least he needed to take. Anna then commanded me to turn around and return to Twin Falls.

Conceals Weapon

"At the toll gate Anna put the pistol back into his pocket, but kept his right hand on the weapon. The woman in charge let us pass without toll payment, and we went directly to the Idaho State bank, where, upon my instructions, Anna was paid the $300. My captor all this time kept the gun in his pocket, but had the muzzle pointed at me. He indicated the check with his left hand.

"As we left the Blue Lake grade he told me he wanted me to drive to Bull, where he had a nice place to look me up. He said I was going to be lucky as he had intended to push me over the grade into the canyon. After the money was paid over Anna said he had changed his mind about going to Bull and would go instead to Eden. We drove to Eden, he in the rear seat with the pistol pointed at me as I drove the car. Twice he shot the gun, once sending a bullet past my right ear, and another time on the other side of my head.

Plot Thickens

"After leaving Twin Falls Anna asked me how much gas I had and I told him the supply was short. He said we would buy some at Eden. Before reaching the latter place he told me he had decided to go to the north side of the lake, and that he was in the territory we would have to traverse and I determined to watch for a chance to attack him. I had given the man every assurance while we were in the orchard

Dispositions Are Sourced By "Fair" Weather

Fair and cool for tonight and Saturday, says the weather prognosticator in his daily guess. That "fair" was the word most acceptable to the majority of folks hereabouts goes without saying, but as much cannot be promised for the "fair" part of the prediction.

"Oldest inhabitants" of Twin Falls city and pioneers of the country round about, fail to recall a time in this district when "fair" weather was so little desired as at this moment. "A soaking rain would be the most acceptable Godsend ever visited on this country," said one of the pioneer business men of Twin Falls today. The rain is not needed to guarantee maturity of many crops now. In fact what water is supplied for irrigation is sufficient, but for the general benefit of dispositions and the country, too, rain is wanted badly.

Yesterday's high temperature in this district was 95 degrees, according to observations at the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey station at Eden, during the 24 hours ending at last sunset.

at Blue Lake that I would be tractable and not cause him trouble telling him too, that he was welcome to the $300 if it would help him go somewhere where he would not be known and enable him to lead a decent life. But the prospect of the trip through that sage startled me, for I believed my life to be in danger.

The Struggle

"The opportunity I sought came after we had replenished our gas supply at Eden. In my Buick car, the supply tank is in the front seat. While we filled up Anna kept the gun in his pocket and remained in the rear seat of the car. As I was reaching the cushion over the seat I jumped over the back, and alighted full on Anna, pinning his right arm down so that he could not use the gun. I called to the garage man to help me and while I clung to my man the garage employee got the pistol. Having subdued Anna we called for an officer and placed him in charge, telephoning Sheriff Sprague of the occurrence. The sheriff met us at the Hansen bridge and took charge of the prisoner on the way home."

Anna, it is stated in official circles, has been in trouble before, having once been charged with assault on a sheep man. He is said to be handy with a pistol, and of eccentric temperament and habit.

The prosecuting attorney expects to file a charge of robbery or assault with intent to kill against Anna.

SHANTUNG IDEAL WAS CHOICE BETWEEN TWO EVILS, WITNESS AVERS

that Lloyd George said he would bow only to the consideration that the 1915 treaty was executed.

"The President added that the war seemed to have been fought to establish the sanctity of treaties and while some of them were unenforceable it looked as though it would be necessary to recognize them."

President Sees Difficulties

The witness said he suggested that since the 1915 treaty was executed by force it ought not to be binding, but that the president replied Japan might not be willing to recognize that the treaty were made by force. Professor Williams then suggested that the treaty have a blanket provision that all German property in China should be turned over to China and that any rights taken from Germany by Japanese should be returned to China within one year.

Later the expert advisers of the British, French and American delegations joined in a memorandum saying that transfer of the German Shantung rights to Japan would be the more desirable of the two courses suggested. Professor Williams and McCay, a British expert, joined in a memorandum saying China ought not be compelled to accept either alternative.

Fourteen Points Fail

"I asked the president," said Professor Williams, "whether the proposed settlement was not contrary to his fourteen points and said that unfortunately he did not think there was anything in the fourteen points exactly covering the case. Later I called attention to his Mount Vernon address which seemed to cover the matter."

"Did the president make any response?" asked Senator Johnson, republican, California.

"I only received a note from the president's secretary thanking me for the memorandum."

Two days later Professor Williams said he was informed of the decision taken, adding that Dr. S. K. Hays, the other American adviser on far eastern affairs had concurred in objecting, but that they did not file a protest after the decision was announced.

Tends Toward Strife

Asked whether his resignation was "due to any particular reason" the witness replied: "No. My leave of absence from the university of California was about to expire. I would have come home in any case."

In reply to a question as to what effect the Shantung decision might have in China, Professor Williams said:

"I felt it would cause a strong protest from China and was tending to stir rather than to pacify. I felt it was also injurious to our own interests as China had entered the war under our advice and that by the transfer of these rights to Japan we would lose prestige in the far east."

Calls Decision Unfortunate

"My own opinion is that the decision was an unfortunate one, that leased territory of Kiao Chow and the railways and mines of Shantung ordinarily would have gone to China at the conclusion of peace, but they had been taken from China by force and by an act of piracy."

"I haven't the slightest doubt that Japan will carry out her promise, but the promise is very unsatisfactory because when the 99 year lease expires she retains control of the port of Tsing-Tao so that there virtually will be nothing to hand back."

AGREEMENT STILL REMOTE

Dutch Reply to Belgium Boundary Claim Brings Settlement No Nearer

PARIS, (AP)—The reply of the Dutch government to the statement of Belgium in connection with the revision of the treaty of 1839 was placed before the commission charged with the revision Wednesday.

It is learned on good authority that an agreement in the case is as remote as ever. The viewpoint of the Dutch, it is said, is firmly against the desires of Belgium.

The situation may call for a rejoinder by the Belgians. In that case, it is forecast, they will appeal especially to the Americans on the ground that the situation of Belgium with Holland controlling both banks of the Scheldt is like that of the middle western United States when France held the mouth of the Mississippi.

CHAPTER XXII.

They found the job. It needed an apprenticeship of only six weeks, during which period George was to receive fifteen dollars a week; after that he would get twenty-eight. The settled the apartment question, and Fanny was presently established in a greater contentment than she had known for a long time.

On Sunday mornings Fanny went to church and George took long walks. He explored the new city, and found it hideous, especially in the early spring, before the leaves of the shade trees were out.

One of his Sunday walks, that spring, he made into a sour pilgrimage. It was a misty morning of belated snow slush, and suited him to a perfection of insensibility, as he stood before the great dripping department store which now occupied the big plot of ground where once had stood both the Amberson hotel and the Amberson opera house. From there he drifted to the old "Amberson block," but this was only a shadow. The old structure had not been replaced, but a cavernous entryway for trucks had been torn in its front, and upon the cornice, where the old separate metal letters had spelt "Amberson block," there was a long bill board sign: "Doogan Storage."

To spare himself, he went out National avenue and saw the piles of slush-covered wreckage where the mansion and his mother's home had been, and where the Major's ill-fated five "new" houses had stood; for these were down, too, to make room for the great telement already shaped in unending lines of foundation.

He turned away from the devastated site, thinking bitterly that the only Amberson mark still left upon the town was the name of the boulevard—Amberson boulevard. But he had reckoned without the city council of the new order, and by an unpleasant coincidence, while the thought was still in his mind, his eyes fell upon a metal oblong sign upon the lamp-post at the corner. There were two of these little signs upon the lamp-post, at an obtuse angle to each other, one to give passersby the name of National avenue, the other to acquaint them with Amberson boulevard. But the one upon which should have been stenciled "Amberson boulevard" exhibited the words "Tenth street."

George stared at it hard. Then he walked quickly along the boulevard to the next corner and looked at the little sign there. "Tenth street."

It had begun to rain, but George stood unheeding, staring at the little sign. "D— them!" he said finally, and turning up his coat collar, plodded back through the soggy streets toward "home."

The utilitarian impudence of the city authorities put a thought into his mind. A week earlier he had happened to stroll into the large parlor of the apartment house, finding it empty, and on the center table he noticed a large, red-bound, gilt-edged book, newly printed, bearing the title: "A Civic History," and beneath the title, the rubric, "Biographies of the 500 Most Prominent Citizens and Families in the History of the City." He had glanced at it absently, noting the title and subtitle, and wandered out of the room, thinking of other things and feeling no curiosity about the book. But he had thought of it several times since with a faint, vague uneasiness; and now when he entered the lobby he walked directly into the parlor where he had seen the book. The room was empty, as it always was on Sunday mornings, and the flamboyant volume was still upon the table—evidently a fixture as a sort of local Almanac to Gotham, for the enlightenment of tourists and boarders.

He turned to the index where the names of the five hundred Most Prominent Citizens and Families in the History of the City were arranged in alphabetical order, and ran his finger down the column of A's: "Abbott, Albert, Adams, Adams, Adam, Adler, Akers, Albertmeyer, Alexander, Allen, Ambrose, Ambluhl, Anderson, Andrews, Appenbach, Archer, Arszman, Ashcraft, Austin, Avey."

George's eyes remained for some time fixed on the title space between the columns of A's: "Abbott, Albert, Adams, Adams, Adam, Adler, Akers, Albertmeyer, Alexander, Allen, Ambrose, Ambluhl, Anderson, Andrews, Appenbach, Archer, Arszman, Ashcraft, Austin, Avey."

The elevator boy noticed nothing unusual about him and neither did Fanny, but he had ruined, an hour later. And yet something had happened—a thing which, years ago, had been the eager hope of many, many good citizens of the town. They had thought of it, longed for it, hoping acutely that they might live to see the day when it would come to pass. And now it had happened at last: George Minafer had got his come-uppance.

He had got it three times filled and running over. The city had rolled over his heart, burying it under, as it rolled over the Major's and buried it under. The city had rolled over the Ambersons and buried them under to the last vestige; and it mattered little that George guessed easily enough that most of the five hundred Most Prominent had paid something substantial "to defray the cost of steel engraving, etc."—the Five Hundred had had the final show of snot upon that heap of obscurity wherein the Ambersons were lost forever from sight and history. "Quicksilver in a nest of cracks!"

George Minafer had got his come-uppance, but the people who had so longed for it were not there to see it, and they never knew it. Those who were still living had forgotten all about it and all about him.

George had seen Eugene only once since their calamitous encounter. They had passed on opposite sides of the street, downtown; each had been aware that the other was aware of him, and yet each kept his eyes straight forward, and neither had shown a perceptible alteration of countenance. It seemed to George that he felt emanating from the outwardly impassible person of his mother's old friend a hate that was like a hot wind. At his mother's funeral and at the Major's he had been conscious that Eugene was there; though he had afterward no recollection of seeing him, and, while certain of his presence, was

A Great Remedy.
The merits of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy are well known and appreciated, but there is occasion ally a man who has no acquaintance with them and should read the following by F. H. uncertain how he knew of it. Fanny had not told him, for she understood George well enough not to speak to him of Eugene or Lucy. Nowadays Fanny almost never saw either of them and seldom thought of them—so they lay the way of time with life. She was passing middle age, when old instincts and longings grew thin and flatter out, as Fanny herself was thinning and flattening out; and she was settling down contentedly to her apartment-house intimacy.

The city was so big, now, that people disappeared into it unnoticed, and the disappearance of Fanny and her nephew was not exceptional. People no longer knew their neighbors as a matter of course; one lived for years next door to strangers—that sharpest of all the changes since the old days—and a friend would lose sight of a friend for a year, and not know it.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

You may learn something from the following by W. H. Ireland, a traveling salesman of Louisville, Ky. "In the summer of 1918 I had a severe attack of cholera morbus. I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and to take no substitutes. I took a double dose of it according to the directions and went to sleep. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train next stopping place, a well man."—Advt.

MOVIE WRITER HAS GAINED 28 POUNDS

Mrs. Cooper, Age 72, Says She Never Felt Better in Her Life—Tanlac Ends 25 Years' Trouble

"The past winter was the first one I have gone through in fifteen years without having La Grippe and I attribute it to the way Tanlac built me up," was the remarkable statement made by Mrs. T. A. Cooper, of 1147 Irota street, Los Angeles, in an interview, recently.

Mrs. Cooper, who is well known in the literary field, has been writing for some of the magazines for years. She also writes "Movie" stories and is at the present time writing a special story for one of our most popular screen actresses.

When asked if she was willing to make a statement regarding Tanlac medicine, Mrs. Cooper said: "Yes, indeed, and you may tell them that when I began taking the medicine I only weighed ninety-eight pounds; but that yes, advertising pays, but it must get the customer a day before the merchant can find his profit in it. The merchant who can sell it at a lower price will not neglect to tell you about it in his ad."

I now weigh one hundred and twenty-six, making an actual gain of twenty-eight pounds.

"For twenty-five years I have had catarrh in my head. Ten years ago the trouble reached my stomach and made me most miserable. I got so I could not eat at all without beating all up and suffering for hours. The gas would press on my heart and bring on such awful spells of palpitation that I would almost faint. I was so nervous the least noise would startle me and make me tremble like a leaf. I tried many different kinds of medicines but gradually got worse until I reached the point where I would not get around at all."

"I was almost a confirmed invalid for a long time and not until last fall when I got Tanlac was I able to find anything to help me. Well, almost from the time I began taking Tanlac I commenced to improve. Of course, when I found it was helping me I kept on taking it until now I can eat and drink just anything I want. The gas has left my stomach entirely and my nervous system is as good as ever, and while I am now seventy-two years of age I don't believe I ever felt stronger and better. The only medicine I keep in my house now is Tanlac and the Laxative Tablets that come with it. I consider it the finest treatment for stomach trouble and a run-down condition there is and I will be glad to tell anyone who cares to call me up what it has done for me and what I believe it will do for them."

Tanlac is sold in Twin Falls by City Pharmacy, in Rogerson by Thompson Drug Co., in Murtaugh by Murtaugh Drug Co., in Filer by A. B. Wood, in Bull by C. D. Boring Brothers Co., and in Kimberly by A. L. Stove.—adv.

COL. LONGLEY TAKES A WIFE

Well Known Twin Falls Resident Married to Mrs. Hatch of Helena at Pocatello

Coming as a complete surprise is the announcement of the marriage in Pocatello today of Charles Lawrence Longley of Twin Falls and Mrs. Carolyn Frances Hatch of Helena. The nuptial rite was performed by Archdeacon Howard Story of the Episcopal church this afternoon, the bride having come from Helena to meet the groom.

Charles L. Longley is best known in Twin Falls by the title "Colonel." He is well known here and has been connected with newspaper enterprises here some time. He is a member of the vestry of the Episcopal church and one of its wardens. Mrs. Emma Warren, County treasurer, is his daughter.

Of the bride the Independent of Helena, last Sunday has the following commentary:

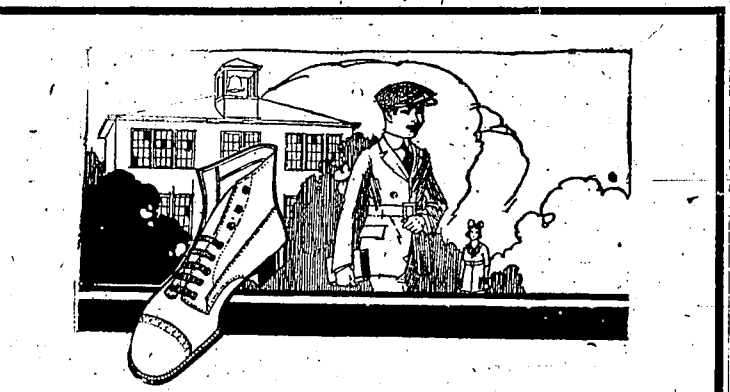

"Mrs. Hatch is one of the best known artists in Montana, and the closing of her studio will be a real loss to the people of Helena and the states of Montana. Mrs. Hatch will be much missed in the art and club life of Helena, as well as of the social life, in all of which she has been especially active during the years of her residence in the city."
