EUROPE STILL REQUIRES HELP

Hoover Says Outside Aid is Needed for Poor in All the Countries

PARIS, (AP)—There is still room for private charity for the assistance of Europe, Herbert Hoover declared as he asked during his testimony before the congressional subcommittee today, such a need yet existed. That is in all countries always need help on their governments, Mr. Hoover intimated, and most of the European governments now are unable to meet their needs. Consequently, aid to help was imperative, he considered, especially for children, between 50,000 and 4,000,000 of whom the American relief administration has been feeding and who now will be fed through the private organizations assisting it.

Asked if the United States government should not support this work of aiding the children, Mr. Hoover replied he would be glad for help from sources as he believed child welfare work was the most important of his line.

Discussing the relief of central Europe through a plan for the United States guaranteeing three billion or four billion dollars worth of credits, he had suggested, Mr. Hoover urged that if such credits were granted the United States should retain the right to direct what countries should receive them.

The government is being asked to give British cars at least a twenty-five per cent preference over those of foreign manufacture.

HAZZ ON ITS LAST LEGS DANCING MASTER ASSERTS

Englishman Believes Old Waltz is Coming Back; Fox Trot Popular Because Simple

LONDON, (AP)—The "jazz" is metaphorically, if not literally, on its last legs, in the opinion of Charles Albert, secretary of the Imperial society of Dance Teachers, who has a reputation for that he believed the old waltz was coming back.

"The Fox Trot," he said, "is only popular because it consists almost entirely of simple walk movements, forward, backward, sideways and slithering. Therefore it is easy. The tango steps were difficult," he said. "A man might practice it all his life and then not be a good waltzer. A good waltzer must be born. It demands swing, gait and limberness."

Sensible View of Health.

If a sound mind and rational habits do so much to keep the body sound, and if nature could not cure most of our curable ills, life is a fairer deal for all of us than it has sometimes seemed. Of course, it is not so easy as it sounds to put fear and worry, harrowing love affairs and destructive emotions—hated and envied—out of mind. But if this is done we must do it ourselves. Doctors cannot do it for us, and realization that the matter of health is largely in our own hands must contribute to the wisest ordering of life.—Chicago Daily News.

Rowland Came Close to Being Red's Manager

Fat Moran, manager of the Reds, is very much in the limelight today, and here is the real story of how he landed his job: Garry Herrmann, supposed to be a smart business man, needed a new manager. Instead of selecting a man himself he telegraphed to every other National league president, asking which would be the better manager—Clarence Rowland or Fat Moran. The answers were unanimous and read "Rowland." A manager of another club in that league happened to talk to Herrmann about that time and Garry asked him about the men.

Herrmann took that manager's advice and he is not sorry today.

System in Dentistry Reduces the Cost

By DR. PARKER
Founder and Executive Head of the E. R. Parker System

THINGS done by system cost less than things done piecemeal.

The reason you can send a letter across the continent for 2 cents is because of system in the postoffice.

By employing the E. R. Parker System, Registered Dentists do dental work that is good, dependable, satisfactory and moderate in price.

It is a System founded upon every new advancement in the profession and upon the combined skill of several dentists working together.

Prices under the Parker System are based upon the cost of materials and the time consumed in doing the work, to which is added a fair profit.

The prices are often smaller than you expect, because the System plan saves much time, and the saving made is shared with the patient.

Examinations are made without charge. Why not find out what your teeth need and how little the price will be for having the necessary work done?

CALLS FOR COUNT OF CHIEF OF STAFF AIDES

Senate Adopts Chamberlain's Resolution Asking Secretary of War for Information

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Baker is asked in a resolution adopted Wednesday by the senate for information as to the number of commissioned officers and civilians together with their pay now attached to the office of the chief of staff in Washington. A window placard, "For rent," also not cost anything a cent. But to rent upon it to find you a tenant may be a very costly policy.

You Never Grow Tired of a Hot Spot Chalmers

Things only half good you soon tire of. But you never tire of a great painting like Whistler's portrait of his mother, nor a fine animal like your friend: a well bred dog.

But never once do you get a "torrent of vibration" when the power stream is turned on. That's one reason why you like it so well.

A Chalmers car of today possesses the same fascination. It's a "creature of steel" that seems to have a heart and a mind.

Hot Spot and Ram-horn do the trick. They "predigest" the gas and feed the engine's cylinders a well nigh perfect fuel. That is 90% of it. The other 10 is that "feel" which only a ride behind the wheel can justly describe.

It's so willing and so quick to answer your every request. It's so gentle as you run along at snail's pace, and yet so savage, so eager the moment you open the throttle.

Try it just once, and you are sure to join the ranks of friends of the Hot Spot Chalmers.

Brief Sport Bits

Mickey King, Australian battler, is a "staller." State boxing commissioners have decreed it. We had done some wondering how Frank Barriera, Canadian middleweight, came to defeat him Monday. An inquisitive fight fan—have a hunch it isn't a lady—wants to know what big battle drew the most money through the gate.

The records show the Willard-Dempsey affair to have been the source of most cash emolument, in that he total receipts were $432,522. The next best was the Johnson-Willard bout in Cuba, netting $270,755 through the turnstile. In the Willard-Dempsey hostilities the fighters got $127,500, while in the Havana scrap the principals got $121,000.

Speaking of Rheinland here are the names of the infield of the Cincinnati Reds: Groh, 3b; Kopf, ss; Bath, 2b; Daubert, 1b. Of course that isn't batting a perfect average in the Germania league, but it is near it.

At that Jake Daubert might be of German ancestry for his folks came from Alavae-Lorraine. They used to spell it "Aubert." For the rest of the infield notes there should be no second guess needed as to lineage. Eddie Costello and Claude Williams, are not only the best twirlers in the American league but the poorest hitters. Two very notable distinctions.

What is needed is agreement on a new plain and equitable rules of the game.

Senator Underwood, speaking today in the senate, in reference to the transportation problem, has pointed out the primary steps that must be taken for a determination of such rules.

"If you want a final and just solution of such a controversy," he says, "you are practically driven to leaving the decision to a governmental commission that has full and ample opportunity to investigate the rate of wage, the earning power of the transportation companies, the cost of living, the burden that rests on the shipping public, and to determine: First, what is a fair, just and living wage for the men; second, how far this charge can be placed on the capital of the corporation without breaking it down; third, how far an increased charge for labor, interest or supplies can be handed down to the public without doing injustice to the shipper and traveler and without becoming a menace to the development of industry."

"Men will not strike against the best determinations of the government," the Alabama senator said, and it is that statement he struck the keynote of the situation.

It is only fair play that is to be sought—fair play for everybody concerned, and since we are all of us pretty much concerned, it is evident that it is the business of the government, which is the agent of all of us, to bring about the condition most favorable to fair play.

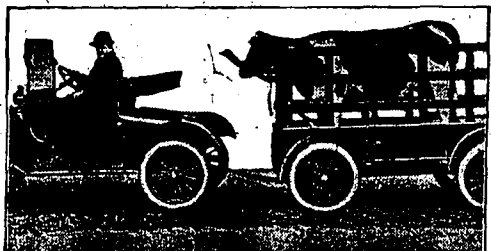

Application of the procedure laid down by the Alabama senator to existing economic problems in general, or alone to the transportation problem, might be attended with generally good results.

Acceptance of this suggestion does not, or should not imply the continuing operation of the proposed governmental commission after its work of determining the proper balance between the interests involved is finished.

Maintenance of this balance should be simply a matter of adherence to certain rules and ratios established by this commission, and public sentiment, which is to be dependent upon to secure the acceptance of the verdict rendered by it as final, is likewise to be dependent upon to compel the continuing operation of this verdict.

We are all of us just now too much in the dark in respect to the other fellow's business, and darkness breeds discontent, unrest and bolshevism. The present need is for more light, and Senator Underwood's proposal or any other that will shed light to reveal facts and dispel groundless fears and prejudices, is to be welcomed. Out of this revelation must come a new conception of things upon which lasting appreciation and sympathy can be built up and under these circumstances the making of new rules for the game and the willingness to abide by these rules will follow naturally.

Going to Market Quickly and Comfortably.

MOTORTRUCK FEES DIFFER

No General Understanding Throughout the Country as to Rate to Be Paid.

At the beginning of 1919 there were still 22 states in which motortrucks were registered at the same rate as pleasure cars.

Though there were only scattered Italian settlements there, he declared, Italy wanted Fiumo for strategic and military purposes.

"I'd rather have everybody on my side," he continued, "than be accused to the teeth."

Referring to criticism that the treaty violated American traditions, Mr. Wilson said he was proud that he, too, belonged to the "old revolutionary school" and that he was following the purposes of the vision which the fathers had seen.

"This treaty is an attempt to right the wrongs of Europe," said the president, "and in my humble opinion it is a measurable success."

He used the word "measurable" he added, because racial lines were not always distinct and could not be drawn with absolute precision on a map.

"This was why," he said, some of the boundary lines were left to be decided later by the people themselves. The treaty he declared, was "shot through with the American principle of the choice of the governed."

"Magna Charta of Labor" the treaty also contains, the president continued, "the Magna Charta of labor," which would set up an international labor organization.

The labor section, Mr. Wilson said, provided what should have been provided long ago. It fulfilled the timely realization of statesmen, he said, that there could be no good government or peace unless the people themselves were satisfied.

Regulation of labor conditions the world over and by similar provisions like those to regulate the opium trade and extend the Red Cross, Mr. Wilson said the treaty "draws the noble impulses of the world together and makes a team of them."

MOTORTRUCK FEES DIFFER

No General Understanding Throughout the Country as to Rate to Be Paid.

The failure of railroads to keep pace with the expansion of the short-haul business; the development of the producing areas adjoining the larger cities in proportion to the production demands asked of them; and the up-building of the motortruck manufacturing activities, as well as the recent war emergency crisis, have popularized this method of moving farm produce to market.

First Make Study of Conditions. Pioneers have made mistakes which should teach valuable lessons for their successors.

There are several sources of information which may be helpful to the man contemplating the purchase of a motortruck.

Previous personal experience of the operator is exceedingly valuable. Experiences of other operators may often be secured for the asking.

Information thus offered is usually an honest attempt to aid buyers, but almost invariably there is too much generalization to make such figures a very valuable basis of estimation.

Many cost statements issued by truck companies do not take into consideration the varying classes of highways over which trucks run, variations in the load, total monthly or yearly mileage and other important factors.

A bulletin recently issued by the United States department of agriculture's bureau of markets, "Motor Transportation for Rural Districts," will aid the prospective operator. It will be sent free on request.

local conditions and the prospects for the development of a profitable and permanent hauling business in their communities. They neglect to inventory such critical conditions as the volume of farm products produced along the proposed routes, the volume of miscellaneous hauling supplementary to regular loads; the competition of other carriers and the character of the highways over which the trucks must run.

A motortruck route established in a sparsely-settled or nonproductive region is bound to fail. At least a potential supply of commodities must be available for hauling if there is to be sufficient business to make the route a paying one.

A region devoted to the production of a few staple crops which move to market during a comparatively brief season, will not provide business for permanent route. For successful operation a reasonably dependable tonnage is essential throughout the year.

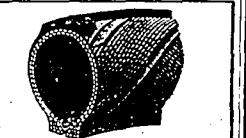

NEW AUTO TIRE FINDS FAVOR

Claimed by Those Who Have Used It to Last Longer Than the Ordinary Make.

Manufacturers of automobile tires are keeping right to the front in the motor car industry. Buying new tires to replace the old ones is one of the chiefest sources of expense in the ownership and operation of an automobile.

Even the lighter weight cars the tire cost per mile of travel is equal to, if not greater, than the cost of fuel and oil; with the heavy weight, high-priced cars using the larger sizes of tires, the tire cost per mile is often considerably more than is the cost of fuel and oil. Heretofore the outer casings of tires have been made up of a combination of woven canvas fabric and hard rubber. During the past five years there has come onto the market a new type of casing known as the "cord" tire, which is rapidly gaining favor with motorists, as they claim it is longer lived than is the canvas fabric casing. In this new tire, instead of using a woven canvas fabric as a foundation, there is used a series of strong cotton cords or string. The claim is that these cords will not break as readily under the varying strains of country road usage as will the woven fabric. If one realizes that when the fabric is worn or rotted out the tire is useless, he will see the importance of having this foundation material of the very best which is available and which can be used.—Farming Business.

SAFETY FIRST

First, assume that you must look out for yourself and the other fellow, too. Don't rely wholly on the other fellow doing the right thing, and you'll be on your guard if he does the wrong thing, and ready for the emergency.

Do not cut the corners in turning. First, look to your right side of the street and look both ways before you make the turn.

Put out a hand as a guide to the car following or approaching.

In passing a slower moving vehicle, pass it on your left, but in passing a street car always keep to the right.

Do not follow another vehicle too closely. It might stop suddenly.

Dim your lights when approaching another auto on the road.

Use common sense at all times and you'll save trouble for yourself and the other fellow.

OBSTRUCTION IN FUEL PIPE

Various Causes for This Annoying Trouble, but the Remedy is a Simple Matter.

Sometimes the vacuum tank of a fuel system remains dry when there is plenty of gasoline in the main tank. Generally this is due to foreign matter blocking the way into the pipe between the two tanks and obstructing the passage of the liquid. When this is the case the simplest remedy consists in filling the float chamber of the carburetor with gasoline—usually drawn from the main tank—and then making the engine. This will clear out the pipe line by suction nine times out of ten and the vacuum tank will begin operating again.

Sometimes it is necessary to speed up the engine somewhat in order to loosen the obstruction.

Occasionally the cause of the trouble is the stoppage of the small air hole in the filler cap of the main fuel tank. This should be kept open to give play to the pressure of the atmosphere on the fuel.

That Morning Grouch. Moraine "grouchiness" is frequently nothing more than a product of the late, hour habit. So is a tendency to see the world at all times through smoked glasses. Prolong the hours of sleep and optimism may soon replace the pessimism deplorably in evidence in many about sleepers. And with the change in mood will come an increase in working power. For pessimists, are notoriously inefficient workers. If only because of the mental and physical demoralization which pessimism always involves in some degree.

WILSON PROMISES WAR'S END WITH TREATY RATIFICATION

can position and I was glad to fight for the treaty."

Italy, the president continued, had presented to the conference a contrary proposal in her request for Fiume.

Though there were only scattered Italian settlements there, he declared, Italy wanted Fiumo for strategic and military purposes.

"I'd rather have everybody on my side," he continued, "than be accused to the teeth."

Referring to criticism that the treaty violated American traditions, Mr. Wilson said he was proud that he, too, belonged to the "old revolutionary school" and that he was following the purposes of the vision which the fathers had seen.

"This treaty is an attempt to right the wrongs of Europe," said the president, "and in my humble opinion it is a measurable success."

"This was why," he said, some of the boundary lines were left to be decided later by the people themselves. The treaty he declared, was "shot through with the American principle of the choice of the governed."

"Magna Charta of Labor" the treaty also contains, the president continued, "the Magna Charta of labor," which would set up an international labor organization.

The labor section, Mr. Wilson said, provided what should have been provided long ago. It fulfilled the timely realization of statesmen, he said, that there could be no good government or peace unless the people themselves were satisfied.

Regulation of labor conditions the world over and by similar provisions like those to regulate the opium trade and extend the Red Cross, Mr. Wilson said the treaty "draws the noble impulses of the world together and makes a team of them."

"That's what's in this treaty," he continued. "Did anyone ever tell you that before?"

Crowds Extend Greeting

The president finished his address at 12:25.

Escorted by a battalion of the state troops and city officials, President Wilson was driven through the city to Memorial Hall immediately upon his arrival.

To greet him on his arrival were crowds somewhat reduced on account of the street car strike, but the president was cheered heartily as he proceeded, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and his party.

On arriving at the hall at 11:30 o'clock, the president received an ovation. The audience sang "Dixie" and then burst forth a cheer that rang through the hall.

The president's remarks were interrupted from time to time with applause. Every seat in the hall was filled and many persons were compelled to stand, lining the walls.

LONGER HOURS FOR STUDENTS

High School Pupils Ordered to Report for Classes Earlier Than Common

The first damper on the spirits of the students of the upper classes came yesterday in the form of a decree emanating from the principal's office, announcing that school hours in the future would be 8:50 a. m. to noon and 2:50 p. m. to 4 p. m. This edit conforms with the action of the North western Board of Education, in requiring eight 45-minute periods on each school day, these hours being essential to the granting of school credits. This schedule is identical with that of last spring, when it was necessary to re-learn time lost during the influenza epidemic.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Approximately fifty high school boys begin football practice this afternoon at the Lincoln field under the direction of E. P. Nafziger, football coach. Aspirants for class and varsity team honors met with the coach yesterday to discuss plans for the following season. While the varsity squad will be won by the graduation that May of three star men, there is no doubt but that new material will fill the holes and provide a line-up quite the equal, if not superior to the champion team of 1917.

Presence of class spirit is evidenced at the opening of school by the wearing of caps by the boys of the senior, junior and sophomore classes, the caps bearing class colors and numerals.

FATHER OF FIGHTERS IS DEPENDING ON WILSON

Citizen of Dennison, Ohio, Expresses Hope for War Prevention

On Grand President Wilson's Special Train, (B-2)—When the president stopped for a few minutes at Dennison, Ohio, a number of Red Cross workers and some town folk were at the station. The president came out on the platform of his car. He greeted the small crowd and chatted with the Red Cross workers for a moment.

An elderly, grey-haired man got in contact with the president just before the train pulled out of Dennison.

"I wish you success on your trip, he said. "It means a great deal to me. I lost two boys in the war and have only one left. I am looking to you to prevent future wars so he won't have to go."

Another man in the crowd reminded the president that Dennison had voted against him in the last presidential election, but would be for him in 1920.

"Oh, no," replied the president laughing and shrugging shoulders.

Weather Boss Acquires New Habit Change

HABIT is strong with the boss of the weather works. It rains every day now.

Yesterday's downpour, according to official men, was made by the home meteorologist, O. C. Koch who makes no pretense at prognostication, there by sticking to the facts of the argument, tells of 40-100 inch of precipitation on Wednesday, the biggest and best rain of the season. This brings the total rain for the week up to Wednesday sunset to 52-100 inch.

The state weatherworks director promises more water for the annual period of tomorrow but since that authority has not yet convinced us that he possesses especially erudite prolixities, little dependence will be placed in his guess.

Yesterday's maximum mercurial mark was 87, and low the night before 53. Rains stretched over the Twin Falls district some sections getting fair drenchings, while others only received short showers.

WARSAW. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Bare legs are the custom throughout these regions. ## PERSONALITIES ENTER RATIFICATION DEBATE

French Deputy Will Vote Against the Treaty; Holds Omnicent Responsibility for Failure

PARIS. (AP)—Debate in the chamber of deputies on the ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany was marked by personal attacks Wednesday when Deputy Franklin-Bouillon declared that he would vote against the treaty and held Premier Clemenceau personally responsible for the failure of France to obtain better guarantees in the treaty.

"It was a grave error," said Mr. Franklin-Bouillon, "to accept President Wilson's 'fourteen points' unreservedly and without discussion. The British were careful to take exception to the 'point' dealing with the freedom of the sea and Great Britain, America and Japan obtained entire satisfaction of all their claims."

Golden Moment is Now

Shake a barrel of apples and the sound comes from the top. And in this great industrial shake-up the mind of right heart and keen mind will find his chance. He who has not succeeded as well as he would have liked has now less cause or time than ever for the cavil of discontent or resistance to the advance of industrial progress. Now is the golden moment to apply heart and brain and muscle to the best opportunity at hand.—Charles Grant Miller, in the Christian Herald.

Grandmothers Vindicated

One grandmother used to hang a red flannel petticoat over the window of a small-pox patient's room, asserting that it hastened the cure, and also prevented "pitting." Scientists have now discovered that the red rays do actually exert a had effect on the bacteria which cause the disease, correspondingly good effect on the patient.

The Virgin Bow

The shape of the present bow dates from the end of the eighteenth century when F. Tourte changed it from the bow shape as its name indicates. It should be from 27 to 30 inches long and contain from 120 to 150 hairs which are drawn tight by the nut. The stick is generally of snakewood, or lancewood.

How Character is Revealed

The little things that we do without thinking are the things that tell what we really are. We may desire to possess a character that we have not yet attained, or we may pose for the kind of person we are not, but our unguarded movements betray us. What we are speaks more loudly than what we say.

ROAD DRAGGING GENERAL TODAY

Many Farmers are Taking Advantage of Wet Condition to Improve Highways

King drags and other road-fixing implements are the most prominent and fashionable turnouts seen on the country highways in the immediate vicinity of Twin Falls at present. Rains of the past few days have put the surface of the highways in fair condition for dragging, and, under the direction of the highway district department officials, a number of appliances have been set to work.

It is probable, according to highway district officials, that a dozen farmers today at work smoothing roads and repairing worn places. The roads are said to be in better condition now for working than at any time since spring, and it is expected that where effort is made the highways will be in fairly good shape after dragging and scraping operations.

This morning the surface slipperiness that marked roads traveled last evening, was not apparent, the mud having stiffened considerably, making marking a matter of considerable benefit.

At the Twin Falls rock quarry, established by the highway district operations are proceeding apace, with some of the heavy machinery for the crusher plant already received. It is expected the entire outfit will be here in a few days.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE TO MEET

Supreme Body of Idaho A. F. & A. M. will Gather Next Week in Burley

The annual meeting of the Grand Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Idaho, will be held in Burley three days next week. Plans are making for a considerable delegation of Blue lodge Masons to go from here. The convocation opens Tuesday morning.

Among those going from here will be Dr. H. A. Parrott, master of Twin Falls lodge No. 45; C. F. Green, senior warden and W. B. Amshury, junior warden. These, being the three principal officers of the local lodge, will have a voice in all the open deliberations of the Grand Lodge, and are authorized to vote on all floor matters. All past masters are entitled to a vote on regular questions brought before the convention. Dr. Parrott, who is a member of an important committee of the Grand Lodge, will leave here for Burley next Monday, the other delegates going the following day.

The Grand Lodge must elect officers for the coming year at this convocation. At present the body is without regular grand master, Andrew Lounsbury, who was elected for that office a year ago, having relinquished his gavel when death relieved him of the duties of the position last June. Archibald Cunningham, of Boise, was elected deputy grand master at the last election, and has been acting grand master since the death of Grand Master Lounsbury.
