

FALSE REPORTS MAKING TROUBLE SAYS CARRANZA

Mexican President in Message to Congress 'Blames Dis- grunted Oil Operators for Exaggerated Policy Tales

MEXICO CITY, (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Study of President Carranza's message to congress on Sept. 1 brings into prominence several sections of the address which were overlooked.

One of the longest sections was contributed by the department of commerce and industry, which has charge of petroleum and mining matters. Lengthy reference is made to the differences of opinion existing between the Mexican government and the petroleum companies as to their respective rights and the direct charge is made that a group of disgruntled companies has established "an office outside Mexico for the special purpose of spreading false and exaggerated statements concerning the policies of the Mexican government in respect to petroleum."

Not all petroleum companies are open to this charge, says the message.

Proposes Financial Changes

A new banking law providing for a bank of issue and materially changing the entire financial system will be submitted to congress, according to the message.

According to a statement prepared by the department of the treasury the government in the past ten months has received revenues totalling 135,301,000 pesos, and it is estimated that total revenues for the year will aggregate 182,000,000 pesos. Estimates for the first nine months of the year indicate a gain over a similar period last year of more than 18,000,000 pesos.

"The campaign against the enemies of order has continued with success," says a portion of the message dealing with the department of war. "In this assurance can be given that only a few unimportant groups of bandits are operating in some states of the republic. They are constantly being hunted and beaten by federal forces and their auxiliaries."

Members of congress showed most interest in that part of the message dealing with the relations with the United States. When the president added to Mexico's unwillingness to be in the league of nations and her determination not to recognize the Monroe Doctrine, senators and deputies applauded loudly.

Gives Congress Free Reins

There is every evidence that the present congress intends to take some definite stand on the petroleum question. The senate has before it a report by its special committee which recommends vital amendments to Article Twenty-seven, under which the petroleum industry would be nationalized. The authors of this report, Sen. X. F. and Adalberto Rias, have announced that they are going to push the measure with vigor. Meanwhile President Carranza has intimated that he is going to let congress do the matter as it will.

Bears in Park Hold Up Newspaper Man

LOS ANGELES, Cal., (P)—Joseph Blothen, publisher of the Seattle (Wash.) Times, was held up in Yosemite Park recently. The hold-up was accomplished by a bear with its cubs who stood in the middle of the narrow road and refused to budge while Mr. Blothen was motoring through the valley. The newspaperman took advantage of the situation to photograph the animals, but his day's schedule was upset by the delay.

Milk in London to Soar to High Price

LONDON (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Milk is going to cost 25 cents a quart in London during the coming winter, according to an estimate of the Ministry of Food. This according to the Ministry, is expected to be resisted by the producers, who do not believe the price is high enough. Infant mortality is expected to increase with the price of milk.

Temper Too Extensive Grounds for Divorce

LONDON, (P)—"Bad temper is not a ground for a separation—if it were, half the population of the world would be separated at the present time," declared Magistrate Lankester in Thames Court when a woman applied for a writ of separation from her husband declaring he had "an awful temper."

STEEL CORPORATION ASKS ANTI-TRUST CASE DECISION

WASHINGTON, (P)—In an supplemental brief filed Saturday the United States Steel corporation asked the supreme court to decide the pending anti-trust case brought by the government under the Sherman act on the basis of the situation in the steel industry growing out of the year instead of upon conditions twenty years ago. The case is to be argued soon after the court reconvenes October 6.

The corporation pointed out that in 1901 it produced 50.1 per cent of the steel while in 1919 its production was only 45.7 per cent and said that despite its failure to have the suit decided before the war the corporation had proceeded to expend enormous sums of money enlarging its plants, which enabled it to meet "every requirement of the government in the end of the war."

GERMANS GUARD COAL SUPPLIES

Close Cafes Early and Restrict Theaters in the Use of Light

BERLIN (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—To conserve Herli's coal supply a move will be made to change the closing hours for cafes and restaurants from 11:30 p. m. to an earlier hour not yet decided upon. The theatres and restaurants will be restricted in their use of light and Berlin will have to expect a material restriction even before the winter so that coal can be saved.

The railroad service also will be materially restricted. Sleeping cars and dining cars will probably be entirely abolished owing to the increasing shortage of locomotives.

Germany is now short of 650 locomotives, while fourteen thousands cars are due to France.

There seems no lack of raw materials to the railroad founders, but the workmen cannot or will not deliver their peace-time quality of quantity of labor. A locomotive in production could be built in a week by 115 workmen. Now 213 workmen are necessary to build one.

The emergency workers of Greater Berlin have published an appeal to the miners of Germany urging increased production since they say a catastrophe threatens Berlin through lack of coal, which makes it impossible to produce building materials, notably cement.

Waterways are being used in all possible cases as a substitute for steam transportation.

UTAH'S SOLONS IN SESSION TO CUT EXPENSES

State Legislature Convenes to Take Action Against Alleged Profiteers and to Ratify Suffrage

SALT LAKE CITY, (AP)—Utah's legislature convened in special session at noon today for the specific purpose of providing an appropriation which will enable the attorney general of the state to enforce existing laws to prevent combinations of the disposition of cold storage products, and to consider and ratify or reject the proposed amendment to the national constitution which would extend suffrage to women.

The proposed legislation which is expected to affect the high costs of foodstuffs in Utah will come as a direct result of the recent governors' conference. It is predicted that the legislation sought will be passed without delay.

National average is certain to find almost unanimous support in this state, one of the first in the union to grant the vote to women. Women have held legislative office in Utah for many years and virtually every member of the legislature is pledged to vote in favor of the amendment to the national constitution.

Governor Simon Bamberger's proclamation provides for the consideration of other important subjects, but specific legislation is scheduled only to the alleged profiteering and to approve national suffrage.

Pumpernickel.
Pumpernickel is the rye bread used by the Westphalian peasants, which in some other parts of Germany is regarded as a great delicacy. The loaves are sometimes 60 pounds in weight. The name is said to have originated in the saying of a French cavalry soldier, who rejected the bread with disgust, saying it was only "bon pain Nicholas"—that is, fit or good for Nicholas, his horse.

Of Course Paul Wasn't Mad.
Paul and Billy live in the country. There are two girls in the family also. Their aunts in town are fond of sending them things. One package contained nothing for Paul or Billy. Paul wrote to his grandmother, "What's the matter with my aunts? They sent a package out here and there wasn't a thing for Billy or me in it, and Billy's pretty mad about it."

Thriving Table Leg.
Among the furnishings of a South Carolina home, says Popular Mechanics magazine, is a small white table that is the talk of the neighborhood. Although it has been kept indoors and far from any moisture ever since it was built and properly painted, several months ago, one leg is now the proud parent of four leafy sprouts, which thrive in their strange surroundings.

She Wanted Progress.
"No, sah. Ah don't neber ride on dem things," said an old colored lady looking in on the merry-go-round. "Why, de other day I seen white table with a dollah's worth an' git off at the very same place he got on at, an' I sez to him: 'Rastus, I sez, 'yo' spent yo' money, but what yo' been?'"—Boston Transcript.

Tattoo Removal.
Various methods for removing tattooing are employed, the best of which consists in going over the tattoo marks with a strong solution of tannin, using the tattooing needle, then rubbing with silver nitrate solution. Nitric acid, salicylic acid and glycerine, chloroform and a mixture of pepsin, glycerine, hydrochloric acid and water are other substances used for this purpose.

WESTERN UNIVERSITY MAY CALL GOLF SPORT

Leland Stanford Folks Thinking of Putting Links Game on Calendar

BERKELEY, Cal. (AP)—Golf may be included in the list of recognized sports at the University of California and at Stanford University this college year. A challenge has already been received by the University of California from Stanford and application has been made to the authorities here for recognition of golf and official sanction of the proposed match.

Fitzgerald Marx, who made a good showing in the northern California golf championship tourney, is negotiating for use of the Claremont course at Oakland, across the bay from San Francisco, by the University of California players.

Frank LeBannon of Cincinnati, a member of the Los Angeles Country club, Cecil Putnam and John Levison are among those mentioned for the California team.

Qua Schwartz, who fought his way to the semi-finals in the state golf tournament at Del Monte last month, is in the fore rank of Stanford golfers. Another prominent golfer is put together at Stanford where fall quarter opens October 1 in Robert Paulson of Medford, Ore., once a member of the Waverly Country club at Portland, Ore.

BRIEF SPORT BITS
Johnny Evers says the Reds will win.

While we would not say Johnny is a "nut," we might direct attention to his prediction concerning the Cubs in the 1920 series with the White Sox.

It took the Trojan second baseman of the Cubs a long time after that series to explain just how the dope happened to go "awry."

Evidently Johnny is still strong for his first love, the National League.

Anyway Evers will probably spend considerable time after the 1919 series is over telling just how wrong was the dope that went wrong instead of his choice of teams.

Sam Smiley, seagorush ago, says: "Effen then that laundries would put as much time washing a man's shirt as they do striking him, without wooding the buttons, they'd have a pasteboard in it I'd 'preciate it more."

"Cravvy" Cravath has earned his spurs as manager this year and, as a reward, will have the Phillies again next season.

Also Percy Houghton, former president of the Boston National League club, predicts victory for the Reds.

You see how the birds of a feather stick together—betting on a dark horse, and losing, is their long and wrong suit.

Football is forming a flivver wedge to ram baseball off the 1919 map.

Grand Circuit Races

COLUMBUS, O., (AP)—Grand circuit racing for Ohio was closed for the year Sunday after the small program consisting of three class trotting races, was completed.

Harry Stokes drove Jesse Y won the 2:11 trot with her and performed something that Cox was unable to do all years—win a race with her. Hickory Bill and Roxanna Moore also were heat winners in this event before Jesse Y came through and stepped out in front in the deciding heat. Beat time 2:03 1/4.

The 2:13 trot also was a split heat affair. Zomlotite, winner of the first mile, seemed to tire in the stretch hereafter and breaks there cost her the chance to repeat. Ed H. captured this race. Beat time 2:03 1/4.

The 2:13 trot had Dou Todd as a winner. In this race the judges took down the name of Blaine Bismond after the first heat, but Erving could do no better. Ervin was then permitted to again take the mount in the third heat when Blaine Bismond and Hickory Bill became new 2:10 trotters. When Jesse Y won the third heat of the 2:11 trot, a $2.00 ticket in the mutuels paid $59 to its holder.

COLUMBUS, O., (AP)—Tommy Murphy, who has led all drivers in winning races in the present grand circuit meeting, had another big afternoon of it yesterday when he won two of the four heats of the program.

Plans Complete for Bay Counties Tourney Week of October 4

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—The leading tennis players of Northern California will clash at Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, in the Bay Counties championship tourney which will open Oct. 4 and continue each week end for several weeks.

Merrysa Griffin, the 18-year-old lad who defeated Robert Kinsey for the single championship last year, will not defend his title this year, it is announced.

However, Tovis Martin and Wilton Smith, the junior players who took the doubles championship, will appear. They will probably face Robert and Howard Kinney, Wallace Bates and Holland Roberts, Bowie Dietrick and Van Dyke St. Johns, and Axel Graven and Edward Levy, the University of California players.

Paint spilled on a doorstep is most unpleasant, and is often rather difficult to remove. It is probably the only solvent that will become soft and can be washed off with soap and water. Then use cold water. Paint which has been left on for some time will yield to this treatment.

Charles of London, paid $9,000, the top price, for a set of four allegorical tapestries, Italian, of the sixteenth century; $6,500 for an Italian Renaissance tapestry, "Harvesting," and $5,000 for an Italian Renaissance hunting tapestry.

ITALY DEMANDS FUME BE MADE AN ITALIAN CITY

Italy expressing doubt as to whether the government really intended bringing the question of the disposition of the treaties up on Wednesday.

The belief seemed rather to be that the chamber would be dissolved for the building of a new government.

The vicinity of the chamber was occupied by police and troops while the body was in session, and groups that attempted demonstrations for or against the government were dispersed.

Sunday's debate was opened by Deputy Turati, leader of the official socialists. The deputy attacked those who he said, for the years had ignored the fact that Fiume was Italian and had sanctioned its going to the Croatians.

He believed, however, that Fiume would be better placed as the capital of an autonomous state than otherwise.

Condemns D'Annunzio Raid: Deputy Turati denounced those who were attacking American intervention, after Italy had called American troops to the aid of the Italian government.

After making war upon Germany and Austria, he said, Italy had called American troops to the aid of the Italian government against Jugoslavia, but which of the American banks will supply us with the funds?

socialists, even the mildest among us," he continued, "if Italy chooses a choice between militarism and Bolshevism will not hesitate to choose the latter. The solution of the present difficulties cannot be found in the parliament, but in the people.

Likewise, the peace treaty must be discussed by the people. All this can be accomplished through a national assembly. Count Soderini, Catholic deputy, supported the plan of proclaiming Fiume Italian.

At the same time he condemned what he characterized as a "dangerous adventure" and the necessity of reestablishing army discipline.

TROOPS PAROLED ON MAHAR SCENES OF RACE RIOTS

wrecked county court house, which the mob besieged in their effort to secure the negro, and none save those who had business in the building were permitted to enter.

At police headquarters it was stated that the mob had not yet arrested any of the leaders of the riot, but were making every effort to apprehend them.

The county's court house building, one of the finest structures in the city, was badly damaged both by fire and by attacks upon it by the mob. Practically every window in the place was smashed by bullets and stones during the attack by the rioters before the lynching of the negro occurred.

Pistols and other firearms were used freely during the fight by officers and rioters.

Commissioners in Conference: City Commissioners went into conference with a score of citizens today and ordered immediate preparations to be made for the coming of the rioters.

The commissioners expressed belief that the trouble is past, but said they felt every precaution should be taken to prevent it from springing up again.

One of the first orders was to mobilize the police commissioner to enroll not less than 500 special police officers.

A meeting of the county's organization of citizens and citizens was to be held this afternoon when volunteers for special police duty will be asked.

Arrangements are being made to secure arms and ammunition from the state arsenal at Lincoln.

Federal troops from Camp Funston are also scheduled to join with the other forces ahead here.

Before Brown was taken by the mob while the prisoners of the jail were on the roof of the burning court house, the negro prisoners attempted to rush him over the cornice of the building to the crowd below, according to Sheriff Michael Clark.

They were prevented from doing so the sheriff said by white prisoners who struggled with the negroes and prevented them from carrying out their purpose.

The mob, reports show, was composed for the most part of young men and boys, many of them novices in the line of looting.

Criticism was heard in the city that there was a lack of leadership in the organization of the forces combating the mob.

It has not been any real leadership of the police and deputies the whole thing could have been stopped, J. E. Davidson, vice-president of the city's labor company, was quoted as saying.

During all the time the mob was at work a twelve year old boy scout stationed himself at a prominent corner of the city.

He stayed on the job all night and well into the morning. Mayor Smith was making a desperate effort to persuade the mob to refrain from its work, when he was taken by its members in their attempt to hang him.

When he regained consciousness at the hospital his first question was: "What did they do with the colored man?"

He was not told. While the mayor was in better condition at night, the mob was unable to capture a coherent story of the mob's attack on him.

He had been on the roof of the court house and had just come down to ask the mob to stop their law when he was seized. During the attack he lost his watch, but he is to receive another tomorrow, his birthday anniversary, as a gift from his wife and daughter.

Blacks Advised to Take Care: As the day progressed efforts to prevent new disorders went forward rapidly. Negro welfare workers advised members of their race to remain at home today, as a precaution against the possibility of further trouble.

Yesterday's riot, the second in this city in the past 30 years, is the outgrowth of racial feeling existing from recent attacks on white women by negroes.

The preceding riot was in October, twenty-eight years ago, when a mob of negroes accused of attacking a white girl.

All negro prisoners held in jail here were secretly taken by railroad train to the penitentiary today.

Among the prisoners was a negro named George White, who is awaiting trial on a charge of assaulting Besnier Group, a white girl.

Defends Work in Paris: Former Premier Orlando addressed the chamber in defense of his work at the peace conference. He said that up to the time he left Paris, France and England had declared they were ready to stand by the pact of London (the secret treaty of 1915 which promised Italy boundaries in conformity with her broadest nationalistic aspirations, except that it did not assign Fiume to her).

President Wilson, however, opposed such recognition, Signor Orlando said.

The former premier denied that when President Wilson visited Rome he revealed his ideas regarding Italy's aspirations to him (Orlando). There was no foundation either to the story, declared the speaker, that he had begged President Wilson not to divulge his views not to mention them before the Italian parliament.

"Certainly when I saw President Wilson in Rome," continued Signor Orlando, "he was anxious to learn his views on Italian questions but his respondent answered that he did not think that was the opportune moment to speak of them."

A speaker interrupted to say: "But President Wilson spoke of his ideas to Bisolati in Milan."

The ex-premier continued: "President Wilson denied that without his documents, which he had left in Paris he did not feel inclined to discuss Italian aspirations."

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

THE CROOKEDEST RAILROAD IN THE WORLD.

The Mount Tamapala and Mulr Woods railway runs from Mill Valley, California, to the top of Mount Tamapala—the guardian of our famous Golden Gate, the entrance to San Francisco Bay. This miniature railway is but 20 miles long. The longest piece of straight track is 413 feet. It contains 281 curves. In one place the track parallels itself five times in a little more than 300 feet—forming an almost perfect double bow-knot. So crooked is this line that if all the curves were continuous, they would make 42 complete circles. It is one of the most wonderful pieces of engineering on the American continent.

The curious looking, oil-burning locomotive squirms its way tall first, pushing the train up the tortuous track, on a grade averaging six feet in the hundred, to the summit, 2,592 feet above the valley below.

The reason for it all is, of course, the view from the top of this peak which stands on the very edge of the world.

reaching sweep, commands a panorama of mountains, forest, bay, island, city and sea, lying between the Sierra mountains and the Pacific ocean which, 'tis said, is not surpassed from the summit of any other mountain peak in this world.

Worth mentioning in passing, too, is the fact that the government recording station here, shows more sunshine per day than any other recording station in this country.

The return trip is made by gravity—the train coasting all the way down.

AMERICAN MOVE UPON DALMATIA DEBATE THEME

"When did we go to war with Italy?" the Senate Lodge asked.

"We didn't," replied the Nebraska senator.

"Yes, but it was Italians we drove out," rejoined Senator Lodge.

Necessitated by Insurrection: Senator Hillecock declared the landing of American sailors had been necessitated by the fact that the Italians were virtually in insurrection.

Senator Moses, an abolitionist, New Hampshire, asked whether Senator Hillecock whose home is in Omaha, thought the situation in that city was any worse than the situation in Italy.

Senator Hillecock replied that the situation in Italy was such as to require the landing of Italian marines in order to restore order.

Referring to this country is capable of taking care of the situation," was the reply.

of the steel works was running with full forces, he said, except the tin plate mill where 50 of the workmen failed to report for work.

ALL DEPARTMENTS OF READING PLANT WORKING

TEST OF STRENGTH IS EXPECTED AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, (P)—A test of strength between steel mills and striking workmen was expected to develop today through Chicago district, following the announcement that an attempt would be made to operate a number of plants which were closed by the strike.

Union leaders put out many additional notices asking strikers with instructions to endeavor to prevent the return of men to the mills. Chiefs of police and sheriffs in districts where steel mills are located are being ordered to serve officers to be prepared for any emergency.

Mill officials stated today that they looked for a considerable number of men to return to work.

On the other hand union leaders said their ranks were not only unbroken but that they had made gains.

Union officials said that less than fifty new men appeared for work at the Illinois Steel company plant this morning. Twenty workmen gained entrance to the plant by appearing with picket banners. Official union pickets thinking they were recruits did not molest them. At a signal the gates were opened and the men went into the plant.

J. M. Rogan, secretary of the Amalgamated Iron and Steel workers, said that four foremen and one superintendent had joined the strikers today, having appeared at union headquarters and signed the strikers' lists.

The rail mill at the plant was closed today. A few men were seen at the mill. Rogan said the total number of workers in the mill, including those who gained entrance by the picket line, would not exceed two hundred and fifty.

CLASSES WILSON WITH SOCIALISTS

Secretary of Labor is Called Radical at Bankers' Association Meet

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Secretary of Labor Wilson was classified with the socialists by Ralph Ingalls, of New York, in an address before the convention of the American Bankers' association here today.

Mr. Ingalls also denounced as socialist the Mendell soldier land settlement bill, activities of the United States housing corporation, the federal farm loan system and the United States reclamation service.

"Poiled in their attempt to have the government supply the one million new buildings said to be needed each year by the country," he said, "the socialists hope to effect the same thing through the federal building loan bill recently introduced by Congressman John J. Nolan," declared the speaker.

Mr. Ingalls asserted that if the housing corporation ceased activities which the armistice was signed its expenditures here would be $20,000,000, whereas by continuing it to the end of the year $110,000,000 appropriated for it. Instead of being rented to government employees, the corporation is leasing homes to anybody, Mr. Ingalls accused.

He declared the real object of the Mendell bill was to enlarge the functions of the United States housing service and extend its scope over the entire country, "thus realizing one of the most cherished ambitions of the socialists."

"The nationalization of the land, the socialists' first aim, has made remarkable headway," he concluded.

PRINCE OF WALES TO DOUBLE BACK TRAIL

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—The Prince of Wales after spending eight days in Vancouver and on Vancouver Island, left the Pacific coast today on his return journey to the east.

His first stop was to be Victoria, by the prince today was at New Westminster, B. C., where he was scheduled to open a fair. On his drive to New Westminster he received a warm and welcome from residents of South Vancouver, Burnaby and other towns along the route.

"Henry" and "Harry." While I know one Harry who was so christened with disregard for the more dignified Henry and there may be other instances of the kind, there seems to be little doubt that the latter is the parent of the former name. England has always called its King Henry "Harry." During the reign of Henry VI, who succeeded to the throne in 1422, there was a piece of money coined called the Harry noble, and in the time of Henry VIII there was a tiny coin named the Harry grant. "In Jerusalem said Harry die," said Henry IV. —Chicago Daily News.

Billy Old Superstitions. In the highlands of Scotland it is taken as a terribly unlucky sign if a dog should run between the bride and groom on their wedding day, and brides still tell the tale of their wedding and decorate the brides for the occasion, says the Philadelphia North American.

In parts of England and Scotland there exists an ancient custom for which no one seems to know the reason, by which part of the wedding cake is broken over the head of the bride and the guests all scramble for a piece.

"Mother Shipton" Hoax. Mother Shipton was reputed an English prophetess of the time of Henry VIII. She was first heard from in 1641, when "The Prophecie of Mother Shipton" was published anonymously in London. In 1802 Charles Hindley republished a life of Mother Shipton, originally published by Richard Head, (London, 1634). He added some doggerel of his own and wound up with the prophecy that the world would come to an end in 1881. In 1873 Mr. Hindley acknowledged that the verses were a hoax.

As Nature Arranges Them. If you want to color beautifully, color as best pleases you at quiet times, not so as to catch the eye, nor to look as if it were clever or difficult to color in that way, but so that the color may be pleasant to you when you are happy and thoughtful. Look much at the morning and evening sky, and much at simple flowers—dog-rose, wood hyacinth, violets, poppies, thistles, heather and such—like—as nature arranges them to the woods and fields.—Bucklin.

Fair Play Imperative. "Dutiness is business" is motto all workers should keep before them. They should demand their rights, but should remember that those in authority have rights also, and are entitled to fair, honest treatment from the people they employ. Therefore, one must be respectful, non-talking and kindly to their associates. The employee who swerves from this code is not playing fair with employer and certainly should keep silent on the question of equal rights.—Exchange.

WATCH CREATION OF FLORA

Botanists Intensely Interested in Nature's Work on Volcano Island in Bombon Lake, Luzon.

The destruction of vegetation in interested regions is a matter of great importance to botanists, who are making increasing efforts to observe the creation of the new flora taking the place of the old. Volcano Island, in Bombon Lake, Luzon, was chiefly covered by grasses and small trees before the eruption of the Taal volcano in 1911, but the eruption destroyed all plant life except a few clumps of bamboo, and a few bananas in the northern part of the island. In a report on the vegetation W. H. Brown, E. D. Verrett and H. S. Yates note that in six years 23 vascular plants had been recorded, the chief species being a few grasses. Of the total, 54 per cent were probably introduced by birds, about 20 per cent by the wind and about 10 per cent by the water—a difference showing from that of the more exposed island of Krmakton. In the case of the more sheltered island the number of birds was small. The growth of vegetation in Volcano Island is still sparse—a condition attributed to lack of proper soil and the ground's small amount of water and high proportion of sulphates.

No Jazz There. A dance given at Albert hall recently in London and patronized by all the nobility, including Queen Mary and Queen Alexandra, had upon its program fox-trots and other dances of the kind so popular before the war, but no "jazz." English dancing is being danced, but that the dancers do not take kindly to this latest American dance, although American dances are as a general thing very popular. The "Peace Valse" is the newest English dance and is said to have been originated for three minutes when the first notes of the waltz were played.

A DOUBLE WEDDING

It was not the fault of Milly, for there was a sharp curve at the next corner and she could not very well discern that a noiseless automobile was rounding the circle. All her attention was bestowed upon herself, and with a gasp she had just arrived on the main street of the village home to visit a cousin in the city. She was on the way to her town. There had been a heavy rain earlier in the day and the roadway was wet and slippery and its not holes were full of muddy water and slime.

In her new-fitting new dress, dazzling white shoes and stockings and her dainty hat, Milly was about to fair a sight to view as one would meet in a day's journey. She suggested just what she was—a lovely country flower in building bloom. Her sparkling eyes and joyous face told that every moment she made responded to a happy heart. A proud one, too, for this was the first real outfit, all new, that Milly had ever possessed. It represented her very money of a whole season.

In the front of the heavy automobile above the charmingly-dimpled cheeks as Milly passed at the curb and arrested the forbidding roadway. Then her eyes picked out a possible carefully selected tip-toe route which might land her across without soiling her spotless attire.

"Toot-toot!"

"With a quiver and a shiver, Milly drew back, but too late. Gracefully the warning automobile rounded the curve. Milly was out of all danger of a collision, but the front wheel of the machine landed in a deep rut.

"Splash!"

In consternation Milly glanced down, first rubbing her face the grimy water that had splattered up. Her slippers were dotted with specks and splashes of mud. One stocking had been soaked and spangled. It was like a streaked brush full of black paint thrown at a fair canvas and blotting out all its beauty in a flash. Milly tottered across the sidewalk, sank to a doorstep and the tears fell like rain.

Where now the joy of meeting and surprising her cousin, promouncing along a real city street?

The chauffeur of the stylish automobile had come to a halt at a sharp word from a young man in the rear seat. He turned to a lady older than himself, but resembling him and evidently his sister. The former opened the auto door and started toward the forlorn little victim of the mishap. At once the lady followed him.

"My dear child," spoke Helen Blund, placing a compassionate hand on the shoulder of Milly, "this is indeed dreadful! Such a pretty dress! But we will soon remedy the damage we have wrought. Help her to the auto, Dayton, get us home at once!"

"Oh, it was not your fault, miss! You were, I am sure, to the city," uttered Milly, brokenly and ingenuously. So dismal was her plight in her own estimation, however, that she was all absorbed in it and was in the automobile before she realized it, and Miss Blund was wiping the spots from her pretty face with her handkerchief, while her brother wondered that no such artless wild rose face had come into his life before.

Milly was charmed with the stately but warm-hearted Helena Blund, who took her to her room at the hotel and called in the services of maid and laundress to make Milly almost presentable again.

"You will do very well, dear, until morning," Miss Blund assured her. "Then I shall call for you and we will duplicate your damaged outfit from top to bottom."

"I understand, no, no," answered Milly indignantly. "Why, I can wash in the slippers and unless you look close you can hardly notice the splashes on the dress. You have been too kind already," but Miss Blund not only took Milly to her cousin's home in the automobile, but called on the cousin and her mother, who shopping experience that filled her un-sophisticated light heart with delight.

Milly was seated in Miss Blund's bedroom when for the first time she observed a framed photograph.

"Why, Miss Blund," she exclaimed, "I know what that is!"

Miss Blund uttered a gasp and turned pale. "A fancied resemblance, dear, I think," she murmured in an unsteady tone.

"Oh, no—no!" insisted Milly. "I have seen him often. He is the manager of the coal mine down our way. He does not go around much, but he plays an organ at the church. Oh, it is Allen Redfrow, surely!"

The lady led to a chair for support. She questioned Milly closely. There was awakened in her soul hope, for two years previous a favored sister, Helen Redfrow, had lost his fortune in a west mining strike and no match for the business woman he loved, and had gone away to lose himself in the great world outside.

Helen Blund loved him so dearly that within a month they were brought together again. Dayton Blund was an organist with Milly, that he asked her to join him in a double wedding.

Wideswake Mexicans

A Mexican citizen of Mazatlan recently had a very peculiar experience of 100 metres (about 247 acres), and so much more as may be necessary, at the railway station of Oso, state of Sinaloa, for the purpose of establishing an experimental farm to demonstrate the economic value which would result from the proper use of modern American agricultural machinery in the production of crops. It is the intention of the concessionaire to rent portions of the lands at a nominal cost to American manufacturers of agricultural machinery and implements, who may send experts to demonstrate the machinery with the view both to promoting sales of the American goods and to educating the people in the more modern farming methods.

SCHEME DIDN'T WORK RIGHT

Business Man's Pleasant Evening Nothing at All Like What He Planned It Should Be.

"Gosh," exclaimed the business man, "I had the disappointment of my life last night. Even this sunny morning can't take away the sting. For the past month I don't believe I have had one quiet, peaceful night at home—no sleep of perfect relaxation. It seemed longer, than that."

"Yesterday morning, with the thought that at the end of the day I would be free, my step to the office was more springy than usual. No business or social engagement did I have. It anyhow had attempted to rest anything in either line I would have said, 'Nothing doing. I am going to be busy,' and I would have finished the sentence to myself with 'at home.'"

"I felt like a lark all day. 'Nothing to do tonight,' I kept repeating to myself, 'nothing at all; absolute freedom. I will catch up on the magazines that have been accumulating. I will take up the book that I haven't looked into for so long that I have forgotten who the characters are. I will sit in my favorite soft, easy, sunken-in deep chair under the reading lamp. I will don my dressing gown and slippers. I will luxuriate all evening—a nice, quiet, long evening.'"

"I could hardly wait for dinner to be over. When it was, I immediately set about doing all that I had planned to do tonight. I kept relaxing, growing with comfort into my chair. My dog curled up at my feet, something he had not done for a month, too. I went to my reading. I read for an hour. And then, darn it all, I got so blamed sleepy that I couldn't hold my eyes open. I just had to go to bed. I hated to do it and I was thoroughly disgusted. But there was no help for it. And there you are; my glorious evening completely ruined because I was too sleepy to enjoy it."—Providence Journal.

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

ESTES-ROCKY MOUNTAIN NATIONAL PARK.

MANY years ago three Englishmen hunted a 'g' game in the Rocky mountains. They had hunted in Arabia, and South America, but as they stood on the continental divide in northern Colorado and looked down into Estes park it seemed to them a very paradise on earth. One of Colorado's most satisfying outing places ever since that time Uncle Sam, in 1873, proclaimed the Estes park and the territory immediately to the west a national park.

Only 70 miles from Denver, it is the most accessible to the largest number of people of any of our great national playgrounds. Here, at an average elevation of 7500 feet above sea level, is a pine-scented, snow-capped playground—a perfectly delightful refuge of peaceful grandeur, where one may be out every day from May to October in clear, bracing air, beneath a bright but scorchless sun and enjoy every night the cooling breeze that only the mountains can induce.

Long's Peak stands sentinel over the park, in which are lakes on which float ice cakes in August; masses of snow (glaciers) a mile long and hundreds of feet thick, supposed to be older than the pyramids of Egypt, always exposed to the sun, far away from their starting point, yet slower than a snail; moraines—great ridges formed by glaciers which moved through the park centuries ago; rock-walled canyons; magnificent forests of pine and aspen; streams of trout and streamers in broad valleys, carpeted with luxuriant wild flowers of many varieties, including the delicate columbine—the state flower of Colorado.

THE HIGHEST HIGHWAY IN THE WORLD.

PIKE'S PEAK is, without question, the most-talked-of, most-written-about and consequently most-famous mountain in America. Situating itself in the state of Colorado, the name "Monument of the Continent" for it has played an important part in the history and romance of our fascinating and wonderful West. Now its importance as a landmark, situated on the dividing line between the great plains of the east and the mountain kingdom on the west, has been further increased, because of the ability of the public to ascend it comfortably and quickly and enjoy the panoramic view of five or six states which is visible from its snow-clad summit, 14,100 feet high.

The most marvelous highway building achievement of the age is the construction of an automobile highway from Colorado Springs and Manitou to the summit of Pike's Peak. The engineers thought that conceived and the daring which executed the work of building this, the highest highway in the world, absolutely safe the average individual.

It is about 16 miles long, from 20 to 50 feet wide, smooth as a boulevard, and has a maximum grade of 10 1/2 per cent.

While this serpentine road turns and twists and winds and zigzags up to an elevation seldom reached in this world under any circumstances, the visitor is treated to indescribable views of infinite space and into immeasurable depths and receives a series of new thrills and sensations. Looking up, one may see cars moving in opposite directions on different levels of this road, yet both are going the same way—up.

LEGION'S BILL PASSES HOUSE

Incorporation of Veterans' Fraternity Recognized by the Nation

A bill incorporating the American Legion, passed by both the House and the Senate, has been signed by the president and now the American Legion, "an organization of soldiers, sailors and marines, members of the military establishment of the United States," is well on its way to complete formation under the charter from the national government.

After the St. Louis convention in May, which was attended by 1200 delegates from all states and territories of the nation, the men returned to their homes and began the work by holding a state convention where officers were elected, constitutions were adopted, and where a series of resolutions declaring the intentions and the opinion of the service men were passed and issued to the press and public at large.

Idaho service men held their convention early in the month of this year, and the preliminary organization was pushed with all possible speed.

It was not until dessert was brought in that he suddenly beheld his partner had been taking all the time; indeed, the young lady at his side had not said a single word during the progress of the meal. "I am afraid I have been boring you with this talk," he said in half apology. "Oh, no—not at all!" was the polite response. "Only, what is golf?"

Glory of a Nation. The true glory of a nation is an intelligent, honest, industrious people. The civilization of a people depends on their individual character, and a constitution which is not an outgrowth of this character is not worth the parchment on which it is written. # HALF CENTURY IS SPENT TOGETHER MR. AND MRS. PACKARD TO CELEBRATE

Golden Wedding Anniversary of Pioneer Couple Will Be Marked Tomorrow by Special Honors at Elks' Hall—Wore Prime Factors in Early Social Life of the Community

Tomorrow, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy Packard will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The Pioneer Bottlers are tendering them a reception in honor of the event at Elks Hall on Tuesday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock to which every friend of theirs is invited by the committee in charge.

MR. AND MRS. KENNEDY PACKARD

Pioneer couple who have reached fiftieth anniversary of marriage. Active in early social life of community

Mr. and Mrs. Packard were pioneers in the Twin Falls district, coming in the fall of 1864 from Boise. Entering at once into the pioneer spirit, their home was open house for social activities, especially along the line of literary and musical festivities and the fellowship they extended to new comers. Their vital interest in church and school progression made them potent factors in the early social life.

Pioneer association. Both Mr. and Mrs. Packard were found in early days where typhoid fever raged and food was scarce, in tents and covered wagons on Rock Creek. Mrs. Packard's work in associated charities has never ceased. For five years she has held the post of president of city charities and only those in close touch with her life, know the strength and time she has freely given to the cause of suffering humanity. An organizing agent of the Daughters of the Revolution, Mrs. Packard established Twin Falls chapter. Friends in the community are asked to greet these pioneer citizens on this anniversary. At the earnest solicitation of friends, Mrs. Packard has consented to wear the dress and veil she wore as a bride.

YOUTHFUL BURGLARS ARRAIGNED IN COURT

Three Boys Admit Stealing from Benoit Bottling Works—Woman Accused

Roy Large, aged 15, will probably go to the state industrial school for boys; William Neal, aged 16, and Leo Neal, aged 10, brothers, will be given an opportunity to make good on promise of reformation pledged to the court this morning.

The three boys have confessed to breaking into the Benoit Bottling works on Shoshone street last Friday night. A warrant is out for the arrest of a woman and another boy, the latter on charge of implication, the woman on charge of receiving stolen property.

The Large and Neal boys were arrested Saturday by George P. Huffman, sheriff's deputy, who, picking up a clue at the bottle works, traced the crime to the kids and later succeeded in locating much of the loot in the woman's home, part cached under a bed. Deputy Sheriff Huffman was aided in the search by Chief of Police William Taylor. The woman, whose name is given as Mrs. Kempton, had been residing at 410 Second avenue south. When first called upon Saturday by Chief Taylor she disclaimed knowledge of the crime. Later a search of her premises revealed considerable tobacco in various forms, part of a sack of sugar, chewing gum, and popcorn. She claimed, it is alleged by the officials, the merchandise had been sent her by her husband from some place in Utah. When the authorities called at the place later, she and her son, Leroy, were absent and the place locked. The goods were still in the house and were recovered.

At this morning's hearing of the Large and Neal boys facts were presented which seemed to prove the first-named to be wayward and more or less profligate, circumstances appearing to warrant immediate commitment to a place of supervised training. The other kids told of them and had retarded scholastic progress. These conditions the father agreed to remedy and the boys gave pledge of improved conduct.
