U. S. MARINES LAND AT FUME SAYS DISPATCH

Navy Department Has No Advice Concerning Reported Occurrence, But Avers American Has Authority

D'ANNUNZIO ADDS TO HIS FORCES DESPITE BLOCK

General Badoglio's Ultimatum Requiring Evacuation of City is Modified to Extend Time Limit 48 Hours

ROME, (AP)—American Marines have been landed at Buccari, a small town on an arm of the Gulf of Quarnero, about ten miles south of Fiume, says a dispatch to the Messaggero. One American ship is in Fiume harbor, according to advice, but the anchorage is considerable distance from the city.

General Badoglio's ultimatum to the D'Annunzio soldiers, giving them until Friday night to leave Fiume is said to have been modified so that the time limit would expire last night, an additional 48 hours being given. Fiume is closely invested, but in spite of this fact numbers of volunteers have joined the forces of Captain Gabriele D'Annunzio.

HEADQUARTERS AT LONDON HAS NO CONFIRMATION

LONDON, (AP)—American navy headquarters here, which is in direct communication with Adriatic ports, has no confirmation of the report from Rome last night that American marines have been landed at Buccari, Fiume. Naval authorities here are not inclined to credit the report so far as known, there being no reason for the United States to interfere. The fact that an American ship is in the harbor of Fiume is of no significance in the opinion of naval officers.

AUTHORITY OF ACTION VESTED IN COMMANDER

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Landing of a party of American Marines at Buccari, near Fiume, reported last night in dispatches from Rome, undoubtedly will be by order of Rear Admiral Phillip Andrew, commander of the Mediterranean squadron, as the navy department here has not yet learned early today that it received no advice on the subject. Officials said Admiral Andrew without question had authority to order a landing party in the harbor of Fiume if the interests were endangered by the attempted forcible annexation of Fiume to Italy by the D'Annunzio forces.

D'ANNUNZIO EXTENDING ZONE OF OCCUPATION

PARIS, (AP)—Troops under Gabriele D'Annunzio, the insurgent Italian commander at Fiume, have begun extending their zone of occupation into Jugoslavia territory, according to the Jugoslavian delegation in Paris. They penetrated seven miles into Jugoslavia on Saturday, occupying the heights at

ASSAILS WILSON LEAGUE POLICY

Senator Reed, Democrat, Says President Would Surrender Sovereignty

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senators in the senate today assailed the business nations. Senator Reed, Democrat, Michigan, declared that while Washington fought to establish "the nation's" right to the business world, it was in fact, "the nation's" right to the business world. "Woodrow Wilson consents with the representatives of kings to transfer the sovereignty of Washington gained to a league which will eliminate it."

Senator Reed added, "When America renounces the right to 'stick her nose in the business of other nations' she gives the right to thirty-one alien states to stick their 31 alien noses into the business of America. The man who is willing to do any act or semblance of nations that the American people ought to disclaim. American citizenship and honor will be lost if they are to have mind America's business for her."

McAndrews Declares for Army of 300,000 Men "at the Utmost"

First of Pershing's High Officer Before Committee Advises Out

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Recommendations for a regular army of 300,000 men "at the utmost" as opposed to the war department's proposal for 500,000 were made to the house military committee today by Major General J. W. McAndrews, former chief of staff, American Expeditionary force and first of General Pershing's high officers to appear before the committee. General McAndrews also spent much of his three months training for 10-year-old youth.

GIVES REASONS AGAINST TREATY

Senator Thomas, Democrat, Tells Why He Cannot Vote for Ratification

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator Thomas, Democrat, in a letter to the Colorado democratic state committee, which he placed in the congressional record today, announced that he could not vote for ratification of the peace treaty in its present form because of objections to the league of nations covenant. He did not state whether he would support amendments or reservations.

Opponents League Structure

Severe criticism of the league structure was made by Senator Thomas, who replied to a letter asking for his view of the opposition to the treaty. "I am not in any way a foe of office," he said, "but I am in favor of this treaty in its present form," wrote Senator Thomas. He said the treaty was a "savior's treaty" with imposition of hard terms, and that "Germany deserves its punishment and much more, but the treaty nevertheless is fraught with a deadly danger of future wars."

Falls to Measure Up

Senator Thomas cited the fundamental principles enunciated by President Wilson in many addresses for a league and added: "The language in one or two very important particulars fails to measure up to the president's requirements for a successful covenant. It does not embrace half the world's population."

GOMPERS AVERS AGREEMENT ON PEACE NEEDED

Normal Industrial Conditions Can Only Come When Definite Terms are Agreed On, Says A. F. L. Head

SAYS FACTS DISPROVE VICIOUS CIRCLE IDEA

High Wages Result Invariably in Constructive Changes Beneficial to Workers and More Production

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—Normal industrial conditions can come only when definite peace terms have been agreed to by the leading nations of the world, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared today to the annual session of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, meeting here. Mr. Gompers' address was the first of the convention as he could not attend in person.

Urges Ratification

Urging prompt ratification of the treaty as an absolute necessity, Mr. Gompers said: "That treaty is not perfect; but it is our only constructive suggestion for dealing with some of the things which cause us to be in this position."

Discusses "Two Fallacies"

"Two fallacies have been so frequently repeated as to be accepted by general readers and hearers. It is said that requests for increased wages necessitate an increase in prices which increases cost of living and in return results in more wage demands—a vicious circle which leads to no progress. High wages have invariably resulted in constructive changes, beneficial to workers and have resulted in increased production."

"The second misstatement used to the discredit of wage earners is that the demand for higher wages is restricted by an organized labor movement and by limitation of hours of work. In many industries production is below pre-war volume. This is not due to labor, but to the manner in which management and high costs of raw materials. Wage earners as well as employers are anxious to end this period."

PRELIMINARY SKIRMISH ON IN BIG INDUSTRIAL BATTLE

Conflicting Claims by Leaders on Opposing Sides Early Feature of Great Struggle Involving a Half Million Wage Earners; Walkout General Outside of Pittsburgh, Foster Declares; Gary Refuses to Make Any Comment on Situation

35,000 BETHLEHEM STEEL COMPANY EMPLOYEES DECLARE FOR CONFERENCE

(By the Associated Press)

The preliminary skirmish in the great industrial struggle which opened today between the labor unions and the United States Steel corporation, which directly or indirectly affects a half million wage earners, produced the usual conflicting claims by the generals on the various sides.

Big Centers Most Affected In the great state centers of the struggle, the Chicago and Pittsburgh districts, many thousands of workers obeyed the strike order, but early reports stated that comparatively few plants had been completely closed. At a large number of the outlying points officials of smaller plants reported they were operating at normal capacity.

Elbert M. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the steel corporation, refused to make any comment on the situation. Secretary Foster of the steel workers' union issued a statement expressing satisfaction with the outlook and claiming that reports from outside the Pittsburgh district showed that the situation was satisfactory.

An important feature of the situation was the announcement by representatives of the 35,000 workers employed by the Bethlehem Steel company that they would not join the strike pending an attempt to obtain a conference with the company officials.

Some of the blast furnaces in the Pittsburgh district have been closed, although admittedly with forces reduced from 15 per cent to 66 per cent in the Chicago district. Including Gary and Annunzio, about 90,000 steel workers are employed, similar conditions were reported.

15,000 Out in Cleveland

At Cleveland the union leaders claimed that 15,000 men were out and that 10 mills of the American Steel and Wire company, employing 9,000 men, were closed down. At Ohio's second greatest steel center, Youngstown, the strike leaders also claimed that the great majority of the workers had struck, and at Steubenville, where three plants of the Carnegie Steel company are located, it was announced that the workers had struck and that operations were in full swing.

Normal Outside Big Points

Outside the great pivotal states of Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania normal conditions were reported nearly everywhere with a few important exceptions. At Youngstown, where the great independent plant of the Lukens Steel company is located, the union chiefs claimed that 70 per cent of the workers had obeyed the strike call. At Wheeling, W. Va., it was reported that 4,000 men were idle and the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company's plant at Pueblo, Colo., was closed down when its 2,000 employees walked out.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., (AP)—"We are away in good shape at most of our plants in and about Pittsburgh this morning," said a representative of the Carnegie Steel company when asked for a statement on the effect of the steel workers' strike which was into effect today. "We are agreeably surprised at the showing made" was the announcement of the Carnegie Steel secretary of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers who is in charge of the Pittsburgh district.

The Carnegie Steel company did not issue formal statements but gave out for publication information which was announced, came to the office here from superintendents of various plants.

MINERS DEFINE ATTITUDE UPON STEEL STRIKE

Committee Reports Substitute Resolution Committing Organization to Assistance Countenanced by Law

CLEVELAND, O., (AP)—There will be no sympathetic strikers by the United Mine Workers of America, in behalf of the steel strikers by whom called out. This was made clear today when the committee to which was referred the resolution, pleading the miners to refuse to furnish coal for any purpose which might endanger the success of the steel strike, reported, instead, a substitute committing the organization to use such measures as can legally be employed to give practical aid to the striking steel workers.

Concerned With Own Problem There solution points out that as the miners are about to draft an economic program in their own behalf which may tax their resources to the limit it would be unwise to commit themselves to any more definite plan of action for the steel workers. The convention further adopted resolutions demanding the immediate recall of all American troops from Russia (which was greeted with very hearty applause) self-determination and the right of self government for the people of Ireland and all other small nationalities capable of self government, and the defeat of the Communists. Labor Party Favored The resolution, asking the organization of a labor party, representative of and under control of the workers of hand and brain of the United States was adopted and the convention instructed its officers to call a conference of all workers of the United States to take action towards launching a nation labor party. Representatives of the co-operative movement, the non-partisan leagues and farmers organizations will be invited to the conference.

Committee Holds French Treaty Constitutional Proposed Pact Declared Compatible with Organic Law of America

WASHINGTON, (AP)—By unanimous vote of the six members present, the senate judiciary committee decided today that the proposed treaty guaranteeing the rights of the citizens of the United States to France in the event of an unprovoked attack by Germany was constitutional. Twelve members were absent and their votes were not cast. Under the vote of the committee six members constituted a quorum. The vote was on a resolution that Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, introduced. The committee's opinion on the constitutionality of the treaty was announced recently by the committee. The pact would be constitutional.

STRIKE EXERTS LITTLE ADVERSE INFLUENCE OVER STOCK MARKET

New York, (AP)—The steel strike exerted little adverse influence over the stock market at the opening of today's trading in New York. The market was steady to firm, although at least disturbed by an important issue, opening mostly at gains which extended from half a point in United States Steel to one point in Bethlehem and three for Crucible. Reactions in the first half hour cancelled most of these gains, however.

Stocks dependent upon the steel industry, such as American Locomotive, were steady to firm, although the motor group was inclined to advance. Trading was comparatively quiet with no indications of urgent action. Combinations, however, were very small coverages for out of accounts.

PREDICTS ERA OF CONFUSION WITHIN ASIA

Government Leader in House of Lords Comments on Situation in Eastern Hemisphere at Close of World War

LONDON, (AP)—Great Britain's treaty with Persia does not constitute a protectorate of the latter country in any way, the only object of the agreement being to ensure Persia an opportunity to work out her destiny as an independent country, said Earl Curzon, government leader in the house of lords at a dinner given here Friday in honor of the foreign minister of Persia. The speaker admitted there had been misunderstandings in the treaty but said there was no ground for suspicion.

Forecasts Chaos

An "era of chaos and confusion in Asia" would result if Earl Curzon, who declared it would be some time before stability is restored in regions formerly dominated by Russia and Turkey.

When we speak of the independence of Persia," Earl Curzon said, "I contend that the independence of Persia is a British as well as a Persian interest. Indeed, it is British because it is its independence. We do not want Persia to be a mere buffer against our enemies. We want her to be a bulwark for the peace of the world and I can assure our guests that we do not fear upon that point. We shall respect the independence of his country."

"I see it stated in some quarters that this agreement is a betrayal or deliberate neglect of the league of nations. Articles ten and twenty of the covenant are supposed in some sense to have been ignored by us. Conforms to Government."

"I would say emphatically, on behalf of my government, after a conversation with His Highness this afternoon, that both his government and mine accept unreservedly articles ten and twenty of the covenant of the league of nations and that we see in them nothing inconsistent with what we have done. On the contrary, as soon as the treaty of peace is ratified and as soon as the council of the league of nations comes into effective existence, it is the intention of his government and mine to communicate the agreement to the council of the league with a full explanation and defense of its contents."

"If I attempt to forecast the future nothing seems to me in this era of confusion and chaos to be certain than that a time of great trouble and unforeseen development lies before the continent of Asia. I doubt very much whether as a result of the war we shall succeed in pacifying Europe but whether we do or not, I am quite certain we shall not for some time secure stability in Asia. The break up of the two great empires of Russia and Turkey has left a vacuum in this area which it will take a great deal to fill with orderly settled elements."

New President Outlines Purposes of His Administration of Government

LIMA, PERU, (AP)—Outlining the program of the new Peruvian government, President Augusto Leguia, who took office after the flight of President Jose Pardo y Foyat last July, said to the Associated Press that the first matters to be considered would be lowering the cost of living, encouraging industry, building new roads, fostering irrigation projects, building up maritime traffic, attracting foreign capital to Peru and developing all phases of national life.

President Leguia declared the government was well established adding that the administrative officials would be solemnly inducted into office September 24.

STORM SURVIVORS EXIST 11 DAYS WITHOUT WATER

Unsurpassed Story of Devastation and Human Suffering Comes from Island in Florida Straits

MIAMI, FLA., (AP)—Eleven days without food or water, twelve survivors of the recent hurricane huddled in a lighthouse on North Elbow Cay, a small island in the Florida Straits, which was swept clean of every vestige of human habitation during the storm, were located yesterday by a submarine chaser which brought back a story of devastation and human suffering unsurpassed by any that has come from the storm area.

Huge waves sweeping over the island carried away supplies containing the bodies of former inhabitants, it was reported, swept all livestock into the sea and destroyed other food supplies, leaving the inhabitants, whose only hope of survival lay in the impracticability of the lighthouse in which they gathered, absolutely destitute.

BRITISH STYLES BECOME INCREASINGLY LUXURIOUS

Latest Instance of Trend is the Dictum Umbrella and Hand Bag Must Match

LONDON, (AP)—Correspondence of The Associated Press.—The trappings which the fashionable Englishwoman must have are becoming more luxurious almost every week, the latest instance being the dictum that umbrella and handbag must match.

Tortoise-shell and ivory fittings are the favorite choice for silk umbrellas and bags and, with ivory, beetle-green silk is liked for its old-world effect.

Both ivory and tortoise-shell are costly, which may account for their popularity, but ivory is the higher priced. An umbrella fitted with a solid stick, surmounted by a ball, will cost $50 and a bag as much more. Both umbrellas and bags, as a rule, finished with the owner's initials, at an additional cost of $7.50.

In the country and at the seaside, costume covered smushies, with handbags to match, are popular. The smushies are dromedaries, and are patterned with Chinese garden, pagoda, large bird and flower effects. Bags, sometimes enough to carry a stethoscope, buttoning suit, needlework, knitting or crochet, and even a light luncheon, accompany the smushado, the wearer slipping the composition bracelet around her left wrist.

LEIGE, (AP)—One of the humorous incidents of this city which are being described is that of the arrest by German police of a negro on the complaint that it had roared with the bores. According to the story the parrot was kept prisoner for a number of days. The man, who owned it finally convinced the German authorities that the parrot could not pronounce "B" and the bird was released.

PREFERS DEATH WITH HUSBAND

Wife of Soldier at Corpsus Christi Deliberately Casts Aside Life Belt

CORPUS CHRISTI, TEXAS, (AP)—Romance and dramatic thrills, rivaling tales of the "movies" are found in the experiences of many of last Sunday's storm survivors only not being recounted as entertainment is retold, with points where they were rescued.

There is romance and pathos, too, in the passing of some of the storm victims as in the case of the death of Captain and Mrs. B. M. Egeland, not far from the army rest camp site, where Captain Egeland was in command.

With two soldiers, Captain Egeland and his wife had started wading through the rapidly rising water, Mrs. Egeland wearing the only life belt available, according to accounts given by persons declared to have been near.

Captain Egeland, when the water got beyond their depth, was so fatigued he was unable to keep afloat, and seeing his plight, his wife threw away her life preserver, placed her arms about him and together they were swept out into the bay.

Both bodies have been recovered, and two officers left today for Sinton, Texas, to disinter that of Mrs. Egeland, which will be sent to her home in Webster, South Dakota.

MINE WORKERS PRESCRIBE HOSTILE ORGANIZATIONS

Chamber of Commerce of U. S. Put in Same Category with the I. W. W.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, (AP)—The convention of the United Mine Workers of America Saturday elected the Chamber of Commerce of the United States with the Industrial Workers of the World and other syndicalist organizations as hostile to the cause of organized labor and adopted an amendment to the constitution forbidding members of the United Mine Workers to join any and every such organization.

President Lewis stated that the intent of the amendment was to bar membership in local chambers of commerce as well as in the national organization.

One of the chief charges brought against the national body was its endorsement of the Rockefeller industrial plan now employed to regulate the relations of employers and miners in certain mines in Colorado against which the United Mine Workers are waging a vigorous opposition.

The amendment, the original aim of which was more effective means to combat Bolshevik efforts to gain control or a foothold in the miners' organization was like all moves against the radicals, by a very large majority.

INTOXICATING QUALITY FINAL TEST OF DRINKS

Court in Porto Rico Holds Percentage of Alcohol Not Conclusive

SAN JUAN, P. R., (AP)—(Continued from page 1.)—The final test regarding the sale of alcoholic drinks in Porto Rico will be to their intoxicating qualities and not as to the percentage of alcohol contained, according to a decision just handed down by Judge Hamilton in the Federal Court here.

The decision was in the case brought by the United States district attorney against the Porto Rico Brewing company for the sale of a certain 12 percent alcohol as authorized by the legislature following the prohibition vote in 1917.

Judge Hamilton ruled that the district attorney must prove that the drink is intoxicating. Many tests of the beer have reported to have been made by local authorities to ascertain whether it intoxicates.

Government occupancy of warehouses is given as the principle reason for the congestion.

THE WHITE HOUSE.

THE home of the president of the United States, generally known as the White House, first became famous as such when it was painted white to cover the marks of fire after being partially burned by the British in 1814.

The building was first occupied by President John Adams, during the summer of 1800. It is two stories and basement, and contains 31 rooms.

CONFUSING THE ISSUE

Some time since Theodore Roosevelt proposed a possible international arrangement under which war might be made less likely. Senator Lodge, now chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, also offered some such similar advice.

Today President Wilson is quoting these men in support of his arguments for the unreserved acceptance of the league of nations covenant. He implies that this covenant embodies precisely the ideas of these men in respect to the establishment of an order making for peace, and that it embodies nothing else than their original ideas. And so he undertakes to inspire a variety of emotions, all calculated to be favorable to the adoption of the covenant as it stands.

Unhappily for the United States and for the world the voice of Theodore Roosevelt is stilled. Senator Lodge is now a leader in the fight against—not a league of nations—but against some of the propositions advanced in the covenant now urged by Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson would make it appear that Senator Lodge for political considerations, perhaps, has abandoned his original prescription for world peace. It does not follow, however, unless the text of the covenant is identical with the proposal put forth by Senator Lodge—which it is not—that Senator Lodge has altered his opinions one iota.

As a matter of fact, there is justification for the opinion that Senator Lodge, along with the great majority of Americans, is in favor of the league of nations proposal, not as an ideal creation, because no stretch of the imagination can make it that, but because it holds forth a promise in the right direction.

It is to be remembered always that the fight which Mr. Wilson has chosen to carry to the country, is not for the most part, raging over the acceptance or rejection of the league of nations idea.

The issue is the acceptance or rejection of American reservations to the text of the covenant—reservations, which, it is asserted, are necessary to give America an even break with the rest of the world under the proposed arrangement.

It has become so evident as to be stated as the fact that Mr. Wilson, in his progressing speaking tour, is not expounding or explaining the proposed agreement, but that he has committed himself to the position to be expected of an attorney paid to present only one side of the case.

It is manifest that judgment on the covenant based entirely on the later statements of Mr. Wilson is not more approximate to the whole and exact truth than is a judgment based wholly on the statements of the most radical of its opponents.

Most conclusive evidence of this situation is to be found in the contrasted statements of Mr. Wilson himself. Before setting out on his tour he said quite frankly that the covenant was not a guarantee against war but that it would make war less likely. In his first address on this tour he said that the ratification of the covenant would mean that American soldiers would never have to cross the seas again.

And proponents of the covenant as it stands, very largely, accept the president's later statement at full face value.

It is here that danger lies as well for Mr. Wilson's personal place in history as for the future of the United States.

There can be no quarrel with an American decision to embrace the covenant as it stands, provided that decision is grounded in intelligent understanding of the provisions of the covenant itself, irrespective of anybody's say so.

The trouble is that full knowledge of the covenant is not as general as it should be, and the tour of the president thus far has failed to better the situation in this respect.

Today's Markets

Grain and Provisions... CHICAGO, (AP)—Corn prices moved upward today as a result of covering by shorts who took the position that the bearish effects of the steel strike had been discounted beforehand. The strength of prices in the hog market and in Wall Street tended also to lift corn values. Trade was not large. Opening figures, which ranged from the same as Saturday's close to 1.8 higher, with December $1.22 5/8 to 1.25 and May $1.21 to 1.21 1/2, were followed by a slight reaction and then by a substantial upturn all around. Later there was persistent buying for commission houses. Offerings were light and further gains ensued. The market closed strong, 3 to 3 1/2 net higher, with December $1.25 5/8 to $1.25 3/4 and May $1.23 5/8 to $1.23 7/8. Oats ascended with corn. After opening unchanged to 1/2c higher, including December at 69c, the market sagged a little, and then rose higher than at first. Provisions were governed by the action of grain and hogs. Initial prices, though, showed weakness owing to considerable scattered selling. No important setbacks took place in the later dealings.

This plan was submitted to President Wilson on September 17 and is awaiting his decision. France and Great Britain have approved of the plan and the Jugo-Slavs are reported to be favorable to it, although awaiting the American decision before giving their reply. LAUGHED AT TIME'S PASSAGE

Blue Delft Saucer, Long Sunk in Ocean, Benefited by Century's Immersion in Ocean.

The act of a fishing smack off Eymouth, Berwickshire, England, brought to the top of the sea recently a long dead memory. A blue delft saucer, deeply incrustated with barnacles, lay among the floating fish in the net, and it bore a picture of one of the old British coasting and sailing vessels, with the words "Eclipse, Linn. and Edinburgh, Shipping Coy."

Now, the Eclipse was lost at sea 103 years ago. No one survived, no bodies were thrown up, no wreckage definitely identified with the lost schooner was ever washed against known shores.

Yet, over a century later, a china saucer is recovered! Its blue, according to reports, had taken on a wonderful deep shade, lined with green, and was very beautiful.

The London and Edinburgh Shipping company bought the relic for about $50 of our money and gave that sum to the British Red Cross. The saucer was sent to the British museum.

They are now conspiring with Germany, a country with whom we are technically at war," and added, "the statement is as false as it is infamous."

Change Prospect Visionary

Senator Reed discussed various provisions of the league covenant, said the membership would be composed of approximately "three dark-skinned men for each white man," and that from the first "a majority of the league will always vote for recognition."

Pointing out that it had long been the business of each state to have regard for its own interests, Senator Reed said that the man who imagined that membership in the league would change this century-old disposition "is a visionary indeed."

Boiling Points are the only real proof of Gasoline Goodness in a motor fuel

The gravity test is not a dependable or accurate way to judge gasoline. It tells nothing about combustion or carbureting qualities. And the real test of gasoline goodness is its combustibility and its even vaporization.

Both complete combustibility and uniform vaporization depend on an unbroken chain of low, medium and high boiling points. These are only found in a straight distilled gasoline. Mixtures of super-volatile casing head gasoline and sluggish kerosene lack the medium or intermediate combustion points and therefore vaporize unevenly and give carburetor trouble.

Con-O-co Gasoline has a complete, unbroken chain of boiling points. That is why it burns up completely and leaves no troublesome carbon deposit to foul spark plugs, clog piston rings or require frequent carburetor adjustments.

With Con-O-co Gasoline in the tank engines start promptly, pick up speed easily and develop the utmost power at the smallest gasoline cost per mile.

At filling time look for the Con-O-co Soldier Sign.

LEVEL AND FREE FROM ROCK

The land on this tract lies on the northeast slope. It is smooth, the contour is regular, it is free from rock, the soil is deep, there are no broken, irregular coulees cutting the surface, and but little leveling will be found necessary.

The slope is ideal for irrigation, barely enough to carry the water, thus avoiding the inclination to wash the soil. The soil is a deep lava ash, which has been deposited by the winds of the ages, the land sloping northeast. There are no lava crusts or hog-backs.

Bosworth Ranch Scene, Center of Project

MARKETING CONDITIONS

The tract lies just west of and adjoining the well-known Twin Falls project. The character of the soil is identical and the yield of products will be of the same general character and grade. Twin Falls marketing conditions will prevail, with this difference: This tract adjoins thousands of acres of open range, which gives unsurpassed market for hay and stock feed of all kinds right on the ranch. Not only will the ranchman who raises feed here be able to find range for his own stock, but he will have market for surplus at price not surpassed anywhere in the state.

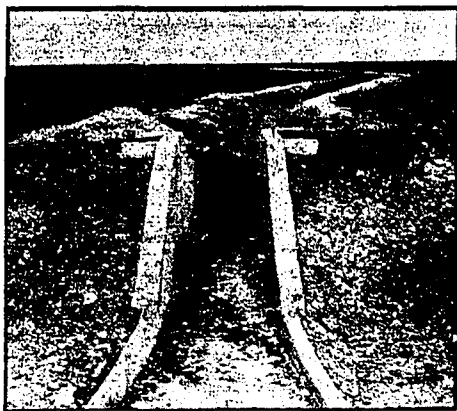

Water Ready for Cropping Next Year

Ditches are in on the entire tract, roads are graded on each section line, the great dam is nearing completion, and even as this is being written, water is being accumulated for the irrigation next year. No other Carey Act tract was ever thrown open in Idaho so completely ready for the farmer as this.

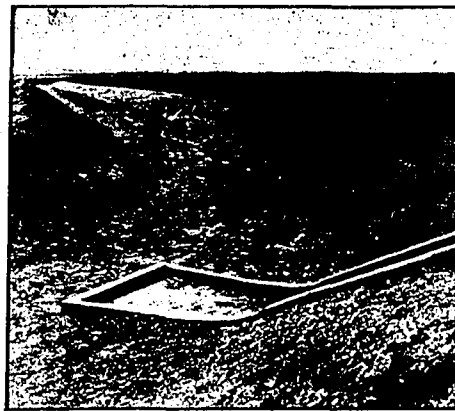

ROAD CONDITIONS

The project lies seven miles west of Castleford. A rock-surfaced road connects Castleford and Buhl with the project.

Roads on the tract have been laid out, graded to the center, all canals and laterals bridged, so that the home builder will settle on a tract with all roads built. This road construction has been thoroughly and systematically done under direction of skilled engineers. Each section line has been taken for a road, the grading has been thorough, sage brush has been cleared, dirt dragged to the center and drainage provided at the sides. The approach to all bridges and culverts across canal and laterals has been made to prevent humping, and the roads are really in splendid condition.

Concrete Setting for Steel Headgates

Concrete Out lot from Main Canal

THE WATER SUPPLY

The water supply for this project is derived from four streams which meander down from the mountains which mark the rugged border between Idaho and Nevada. A great dam across Cedar creek canyon will store the flood waters of winter, which will be available in addition to the flow of the four streams and their thousands of springs for the irrigation seasons. This dam is an earthen structure, with a series of concrete cores running through it. It is massive, substantial and designed to prevent any leakage of water stored, the concrete cores running far out into the lava walls of the canyon. A further safeguard is obtained in the method of taking water from the dam. Water is let out of the dam into Cedar creek, and is diverted into the distribution canal at a point about 5 miles below the dam.

Thus if there should be any leakage, it will not be lost but will be caught up in the stream before reaching the point of diversion. Water is carried in steel conduit set in concrete along the rugged lands bordering the stream until level land for canal construction is reached.

The canals are in, the ditches dug, the dam will be completed very shortly, water will be available for the coming spring. Inspection of the entire project is invited, particularly regarding the construction of the system which will store and deliver the water. The streams which will be diverted into Cedar creek are House creek, Devil creek and Deadwood creek.

The headgates are of the Burnham type, are constructed of steel and concrete, with patented measuring device, so that each water user may see for himself as often as he desires the flow of water he is receiving, without asking a water master.

MASS MEETING IS FOR BORAH

Crowd Hears Hackman on the League and Then Endorse State Representative

An audience of more than 500 persons yesterday afternoon listened to an address by Attorney T. K. Hackman in the city park yesterday afternoon. The speaker's theme was "The League of Nations."

At the conclusion of the speech S. P. Atherton introduced a resolution commending the address to the League of Nations which was passed unanimously. With the passage of a resolution of thanks to the speaker the meeting adjourned.

Mr. Hackman made an exception to many of the parts of the covenant as it now stands, declaring that in many instances it is in conflict with the constitution of the United States and urging its rejection by the people of this country on that ground.

The speaker spoke in favor of the amendments recommended by the Borah and Senator Johnson, declaring that unless the covenant is amended it cannot be ratified and that it will forever involve the United States in petty quarrels with Europe. "We have always been an independent nation; free to engage in war when we believed it advisable and tending toward world good. We must remain so in the name of humanity," Mr. Hackman announced in this connection.

The lawyer called attention to the fact that in disputes involving how the United States supreme court is appointed to. He said this is the best possible means of arriving at a definite conclusion, and declared himself favorable to a continuation of the constitutional law.

Mr. Hackman contended, among other things, that the United States should have increased representation in the League of Nations and that the league of nations as it now stands "we shall be putting the ax to the root of the tree of our own independent government," and also that we should let European and other nations settle their own disputes.

"The league constitution, as it now stands, requires us to engage in all the troubles embroiling other nations, and we compel us to conscript to the age of 18 years for the maintenance of an army in Europe," he explained. Mr. Hackman took issue with the president in his advocacy of suggestions favoring adoption of the pact in its present form, and concluded by declaring that the United States must favor the league on its own option when it goes to war.

Pumpkin Feels Frosty Touch of King Jack

THE first real frost of the season found a "pumpkin" last night, and even spread its icy fingers on pretty much everything else in the immediate vicinity. No damage of importance is announced, however, and the most susceptible of plants of being touched, and that only in a few places.

The low point reached by the thermometer last night according to local observers, was 40 degrees. For high the temperature did not quite reach 70. There was no rain in any portion of the district.

For tonight and tomorrow the weather depot in Boise predicts fair and warmer, thus suggesting that fear of damage by frost for the present is over.

Youth Returned By Judge Dwall

Wallace Fullmer, 17, Runaway, Found in Utah and Brought Back Here

Judge O. P. Dwall returned yesterday, from Salt Lake and Hepler, Utah, where he went early last week in quest of Wallace Fullmer, 17 years of age, who had left home without the consent of his parents. The boy returned with Judge Dwall. The young Fullmer, it is stated, left about three weeks ago and had been located at the home of a sister in Spring Glen, Utah. His parents reside on a farm near Twin Falls. The boy explains he left home because he wanted to find work for himself. The Fullmer family is quite large and the father says it is necessary that the son stay at home to help.

CANAL COMPANY WINS BIG SUIT

Judge Dietrich Finds Against Damman in Seepage Water Case

A decision of secondary importance to the Twin Falls district in particular, and to the state of Idaho in general, has been rendered by Judge Dietrich of the federal court in the matter of the Twin Falls Canal company against Edwin Damman and others. The decision gives the canal company absolute right to control of all seepage and percolating water from its system.

This finding was handed down by Judge Dietrich after trial of an appeal issued by Edwin Damman, who contended against trial in the local district court, claiming jurisdictional rights.

Some time ago Damman filed an application with the state engineer for permission to use certain water which he claimed to be wild and independent of the canal company's right. The company objected. Damman by court injunction from using the water in controversy, and violated the provisions of the injunction, thus incurring a fine at the hands of the court. He then appealed to the federal court. Judge Dietrich stated, in the decision, that seepage or percolating water is not subject to appropriation but belongs to the settler for whose benefit it is brought in so long as the conveying and distributing system has use for it.

POTATO CROP TO BE SHORT

Spud Harvest Will Be Over 50,000,000 Bushels Below 1918

A forecast of the potato production in this year, as given by the United States Bureau of Crop estimates, indicates a total crop for the United States at 349,194,000 bushels, a decline of 8,995,000 bushels from the forecast of August 1.

The estimate of August showed a decline of crop production from July 1 of 8,929,000 bushels from the expectations of the middle of the year. The present estimate of 349,194,000 bushels is about 12 1/2 per cent short of the 1918 crop which, in the first figures of last December, was placed at 400,106,000 bushels.

FINNEY PURCHASES BRADLEY BUSINESS

New Concern Will Operate Tent, Awning and Trimming Industry Here

A deal has just been closed whereby T. E. Finney has purchased the business, tent and awning business and goodwill of A. L. Bradley of this city. The purchase was finished Saturday evening and the business turned over this morning.

The retirement of Mr. Bradley was caused by continued ill health compelling him to seek a lower altitude. Mr. Bradley enjoys the distinction of having been in business longer than any other business man in Twin Falls. This fall marks his sixteenth year, thirteen of which were spent in the present location.

Mr. Finney contemplates forming a corporation under the firm name of the Finney Harness and Trimming company, with John Wetekamp and Robert Hart the only other stockholders associated. Mr. Finney, who is at present manager of the Finney, will assume the management of the new concern also.

Mr. Wetekamp is well known as an expert harness maker. He will have charge of the harness department and will continue to build the high-class harness which built Mr. Bradley's business.

Mr. Hart is an expert automobile trimmer and tent and awning man. His years of experience and wide acquaintance on this tract will justify the intention of specializing in these two departments.

A three year lease of the present location has been taken. Additional stock will be added and needed improvements be made immediately.

RUPERTS BESTED IN SUNDAY TILT

Dick Davis Pitches Better Ball Than Ralph Stroud—Score is 2 to 1

The Burley baseball club yesterday won the first game of the state championship series with Rupert by a score of 2 to 1. Dick Davis pitched for the winners and Ralph Stroud, of the Salt Lake Bees, for Rupert.

The game was hotly contested throughout, with Burley showing better form in all departments. Davis had the edge over Stroud in pitching. The only score generated by the losers was a homerun by Thompson.

It is tough, through the classified ads, to get your prospect in to trade, but you know, a prospect is a possible buyer.

Only property which is undesirable or too high priced should ever be leased. Tenants are found through classified advertising for GOOD HOMES OR APARTMENTS, rightly priced.

The Printing business of the Twin Falls News is second only in importance to the publication of the Daily News.

In the program of activity which the News has mapped out for itself the Daily News must come first, but,

The printing business of the News, always of heavy volume, grows steadily day by day—

This was the reason why The News found it necessary to double its floor space. The growth of the printing and publishing business of the Twin Falls News could no longer be confined to the quarters of the past four years.

In speculating upon the reason for this growth one fact stands out with startling clearness. It is this:

The product of the Twin Falls News, both newspaper and printing, is Quality Product. It is never cheap, never hurried, never slighted, no matter how few the dollars of actual cost to the buyer.

News products in the way of printing, viz with the Daily Editions of the Daily News in point of quality and workmanship.

We give the utmost for the money that it is possible to give, and we invite and compete for business on this basis and on this basis only.
