LEAGUE MEET WAITS NOT FOR RATIFICATION

Clemenceau Says Wilson Will Convoke Conference Regard- less of American Attitude Toward Peace Treaty

FRENCH DEPUTIES ASK HASTENED DISARMAMENT

Criticism of Conference Work is Modified with View to Showing United States Val- ue Set on Acceptance

PARIS, (AP)—Deputy Andre L. Fèvre's motion asking the government to open negotiations to have a rider added to the Versailles treaty which would render the disarmament of Germany effective, was discussed in the chamber of deputies Friday. M. Lefevre cited a statement by General von Seeckt, the German commander whose men are yet under arms, making trouble in the Baltic provinces, and expressed his regret that Germany was not disarmed at the moment of the armistice.

Quotes General Bliss

M. Franklin-Bouillon interrupted him by saying, "I have not heard it from General Bliss himself, but I have certain information that this general, who represented America at Versailles proposed on October 24, 1918, that the German army should be disarmed before it entered Germany. Why was not this proposition accepted? Why was the German army allowed to return home with flags flying?"

Suggests Interdiction

M. Lefevre finally withdrew his motion in favor of one "laying the government to reach an understanding with the allied and associated powers with a view to the execution of measures of the league of nations of Germany and her allies effective by the interdiction of certain manufactures of war and other necessary measures."

Wilson's Position

Wilson's position was made known by the premier Clemenceau, who remarked that this was merely a modification in form, as President Wilson should convene a meeting of the league of nations by which the United States did not ratify the treaty.

BLOCKADE AT FIUME IS PARTIALLY LIFTED

ROME, (AP)—Orders that the blockade of Fiume be lifted have been issued by the government, and Italian authorities in the vicinity of Fiume have received an order to allow mail and consular traffic to pass, according to the Epoca. Foreign Rulers' Gifts to Wilson Not Worth Much

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Gifts received by President Wilson while in Europe were of "very insignificant value," Secretary Tamm said today in announcing that he had prepared and would submit today an answer to the resolution of Representative Robinson, republican, Illinois, asking the president to state what were valued at a million dollars.

CONDITION OF WILSON BETTER

More Favorable Bulletin is Issued by President's Physician

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Wilson's condition was more favorable today, the president having had a good night's rest, said a bulletin issued at 10:50 o'clock this morning by Dr. Grayson.

Two Specialists who have examined the president before were summoned to Washington today. They were Dr. E. X. Deereun, neurologist, and Dr. George De Schweinitz, an eye specialist, both of Philadelphia. They were to have a consultation with Dr. Grayson and Drs. Stitt and Huffin of this city, who have been assisting the president's physician.

Examination of the president's eyes by Dr. De Schweinitz disclosed that his eyesight was as good as it was at the last examination six months ago. Admiral Grayson left the White House at 1:30 p. m. He said he was satisfied with both the result of the consultation and the examination conducted by the eye specialist. The president was resting comfortably, he said, and there was no change in his condition over that disclosed in the forenoon bulletin.

LABOR WILL DISREGARD ANTI-STRIKE MEASURE EVEN IF HELD CONSTITUTIONAL. GOMPERS SAYS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Opposing any anti-strike legislation in the railroad re-organization law, President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, told the house interstate commerce committee today that workers would not obey it even though it were held constitutional by the supreme court.

Answering Representative Webster, republican, Washington, Gompers said in such a situation he would "remain silent and make a test before the people," instead of advising and counseling obedience of the law. He insisted, however, that he could not perceive of the court holding such a law valid because, he said, it would impose "involuntary servitude."

By appeal to the people, Mr. Gompers explained that he would seek to have the court opinion, "reversed by the next congress."

FEATURE DAY AT COUNTY SHOW MAKES FOR RECORD ATTENDANCE

Twin Falls City Well Represented at Friday's Session of the Fair, with Children from Every Place Special Guests of Management—Flier Furnishes Thrills—Close Tonight

FAIR FEATURES TODAY

The 1919 Twin Falls county fair closes tonight. Strong racing card and air flights feature this afternoon's program. All exhibits will remain on the ground until this evening. It is everybody's day, with service men guests of the management.

Taking advantage of temporary betterment of weather conditions, approximately 10,000 adults and children attended the Twin Falls county fair yesterday. This sum total includes the few hundred surplus men who have been guests of the fair board every day of the exposition. In addition, less than 1000 automobiles passed the gate during the day.

It was Twin Falls and Children's day, sure enough, the county set day particularly well represented from early in the session to the closing display of the fireworks. Kids thronged and unaccompanied fled into the grounds from the moment the barriers were raised to patronage. They saw it all, and comprised an important factor in the success of the one big day of the fair.

GERMANY USED STAGE CURRENCY PALMER CHARGES

Attorney General Makes Interesting Revelations in Address Before Missouri Bar Association Meeting

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (AP)—How Germany conducted her operations in Rumania by compensating the private owners "in worthless stage money" was revealed by Attorney General Palmer in an address before the Missouri bar association here today. Extracts from the official report of General von Mackensen, commander of the German forces in Rumania, carrying out the scheme, by which practically all mineral and other properties in Rumania owned or controlled by the country at war with Germany were confiscated, were read by the attorney general. These, he said, constituted "very striking evidence that Germany has not told the truth with respect to the treatment of American property."

Pay With Bogus Money
The German government, Mr. Palmer said, decided to "purchase" what it desired to take from Rumania and authorized the issuance of notes by a German bank which were established as legal tender by military order. These notes as placed in circulation in exchange for perfectly good commodities were "accepted" by the deposit of German marks at the reichsbank in Berlin. But the deposits, the attorney general said, never left Berlin, and the scheme contemplated that Rumanians should be forced to assume the new currency and thus release the deposits to the German purchasers who made them.

It was in this worthless stage money, Mr. Palmer said, "that the consideration for American properties was payable, and as a consequence Germany obtained such properties for nothing."

Mr. Palmer recalled that such transactions were expressly ratified in the Bucharest treaty, which Rumania ratified, however, when the changing fortunes of war made it possible.

Protects American Interests
In view of the treatment of American property in Rumania and the uncertainty as to what the Germans really have done to American properties in Germany, it was this country's obvious duty when the treaty of peace came to be written, Mr. Palmer said, "to afford to American interests every protection that could reasonably be expected." The provisions of the treaty, he said, guaranteed this protection in the fullest measure.

MEDICAL STORES ARE RECAPTURED

Rumanians Regain American Red Cross Supplies Taken by Austro-Hungarians

BUDAPEST, (AP)—Thousands of tons of American medical supplies, captured in Rumania by the Hungarian army in 1917-1918, and recaptured by the Rumanians upon their occupation of Budapest, will soon be on their way to Bucharest, the Rumanian capital.

The supplies, consisting of a trainload of huge cases, were shipped via Vladivostok in 1910, this being the only route then open to Rumania. Many of these supplies belonged to the American Red Cross, which was driven out of Rumania by the Austro-Hungarian invasion of 1917. The remainder were sold to the Rumanian army by American drug firms.

Despite the fact that the typhus was raging in Rumania at the time and these supplies were desperately needed by the civilian population, the Austro-Hungarians loaded every case, particularly American instruments and hospital goods, on their "booby trains" which left Bucharest almost daily. Together with these supplies went the equipment of every hospital and pharmacy in Rumania, the population being left to get along as best it could.

Upon the discovery of these supplies in warehouses in Budapest, the part that belonged to the American Red Cross was immediately turned over to it by the Rumanian army. Captain Melvin M. Knight, an American Red Cross man, of Worcester, Mass., who was with the Rumanian army, became custodian. They are now being shipped back to Bucharest.

HOLLAND ENTERS UPON RECLAMATION PROJECT

Land Covered by Zuyder Zee to Be Drained, Fulfilling Dutch Dreams of Seventy Years

AMSTERDAM, (AP)—Holland at last has begun work on its long-projected plan for reclaiming the land covered by Zuyder Zee. This will mark the fulfillment of a Dutch dream of 70 years.

The scheme aims at recovering for "tilage and pasture about 800 square miles (about 1/3 of the sea) 700 years ago with a loss, it is said, of 80,000 lives. The remaining 500 square miles of channel between the reclaimed portions of land will be turned into a fresh water lake for the River IJssel, a branch of the Rhine, and protected against the sea by a dyke 183 miles long between the Island of Wieringen and Flamm, on the coast of Friesland.

The reclaimed land will consist of four "polders" surrounding the lake. They are expected eventually to support a living of nearly 250,000 persons. The work is to be spread over 20 years and will cost about $100,000,000. During the last three generations the Dutch have added to their territory by reclamation 2,900 square miles.

ALASKA YIELDS PAINT MATERIAL

Discovery of Enormous Deposit of Red Ochre Made by Prospectors

NOME, Alaska, (AP)—Near the head of Norton Sound, where it has been known only to Eskimos, it is believed, two prospectors who have just returned to Nome, Alaska, have discovered an enormous deposit of the clay like substance known as red ochre and valuable for its paint making qualities.

For generations some of the natives told the prospectors, the ochre has been used by people of their tribes for coloring purposes, and from points as far away as the Almones natives came to get supplies of the valued soft rock. The rock of clay like material is dark red in color and may easily be ground or shaved with a knife. Experiments proved it could be quickly made into paint.

The prospectors also discovered what is believed to be a big vein of chromite in a prominent chamber of a large cliff seven miles from Norton Sound, which apparently had been a mine of perhaps prehistoric origin. Inquiries of aged natives failed to elicit information as to any mines having been seen in the district engaged in mining or prospecting and developed the fact that the opening of the cliff was only recently revealed by a slide. Debris partially covering the entrance to the cliff chamber was cleared away by the prospectors and a tunnel about fifty feet long was discovered. This tunnel apparently had been driven into what is believed to be a ledge of iron ore ten feet wide in its thickest portion. Near its mouth the subterranean chamber had been timbered.

TAKES AMERICA TO TASK FOR INDIFFERENCE

British Newspaper Proclaims Duty of United States to Accept Large Mandatory Responsibilities

LONDON, (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—"If mankind is to move forward in step, America, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, each in their own sphere, must contribute their stream of effort and illumination to the common pool," says the Round Table in discussing the responsibility of the nations for the future of the world.

"What that means in practice we cannot now do more than mention," the editor continues. "That it means the acceptance of large mandatory responsibilities by America goes without saying. A nation of 100,000,000 possessed of far greater wealth than any other nation in the world cannot sit idly by and see the world grope and grovel to the full stature of national manhood.

Open to Criticism
"America had better open to the charge of selfish indifference to anything but her own interests by the slowness with which she recognized her duty in the war, and the consequent conservative and unassuming which she made for the cause of human freedom.

"She is now showing a similar readiness to do her share in practical responsibility for the unfortunate peoples not yet able to stand alone, and consequently leave them to be exploited, and in some cases massacred, by peoples in no way qualified to have control of them. America will doubtless rise rapidly to a sense of her responsibilities. But it is urgent that she should not delay.

GERMANS CAUSE POTTERS ALARM
British Trade Decries Appearance of Teuton Made Article at Low Price

LONDON, Eng., (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The British pottery trade has taken alarm at the appearance of German china in the streets of the pottery district at prices which manufacturing potters declare they cannot approach. Even in this city, with its important pottery industry, German ware is being offered at below the cost of local manufacture.

These German goods, it is stated, are being represented as of Dutch manufacture but a member of the English China Manufacturers Association said that no such china was manufactured in Holland.

The price of the German goods is fully 50 per cent under the cost of local production and this in London, the real home of English china.

"If it is true, as has often been said, that Germany has been accumulating vast stocks of manufactured goods during the war, it is possible that she has been passing them over the Dutch border in exchange for butter and cheese. In that case the prospect of wholesale "dumping" from that quarter, added to the certainty of severe German competition in home and overseas markets, will create a serious situation for the English china manufacturer."

DANCING CREDITED FOR ENGLISH GIRLS' BEAUTY

Excell Brothers in Grace Because Fond of Terpsichorean Pursuits, Medical Officer Declares

LONDON, (AP)—London girls are graceful and generally walk better than their brothers because they are fond of dancing, according to the medical officer of the London County Council.

"Teaching of dancing in the public schools has no doubt greatly helped, if it has not saved the situation in regard to the physical development of London girls," said the medical officer. "Particularly noticeable is the much better arching instep of the girls in comparison with their own brothers and with country children generally.

"The relative absence of flat-foot type brought about is the foundation of that grace of carriage which the typical London girl of the elementary schools exhibits in the country schools no dancing is taught, nor do the children there enjoy these outdoor stimuli to an interest in dancing which are characteristic of London life."

CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES WILL NET $3,500,000 ENTRANCE RECEIPTS

Games Played Under the Direction of National Commission for World's Championships at End of Present Schedule, Will Have Brought Tremendous Fortune Through Sale of Tickets

CHICAGO, (AP)—What the world sports means in dollars and cents to the baseball fraternity can be exemplified by the statement that before the present series is completed the gate receipts for such contests played under the jurisdiction of the national commission will reach the impressive total of more than $3,500,000.

The battle for the championship is the logical climax for each season's pennant races and the fact that close to two million spectators have paid almost three and a half million dollars to witness such contests places the stamp of public approval on the play beyond cavil.

During the past fourteen seasons the attendance totalled 1,915,494 and as 78 games were played in these series the average attendance has been very close to 25,000 per game.

Further delving into the figures show that the club owners have profited to a greater extent than the players for the sums divided among the competing clubs and the leagues during the past fourteen seasons.

SIX BIG TEAMS READY FOR GUN

Bunch of Western Football Conference Gridders Lined Up for Start Today

CHICAGO, (AP)—Six western conference football teams today were ready for their first games of the 1914 season. One other will test its strength for the second time this year and three, Illinois, Northwestern and Chicago, have no games scheduled.

Iowa's contest with their old foe, Nebraska, at Iowa City, is regarded as the hardest conference game. Former years has seen this battle staged later, but because of its schedule Iowa had to take the game early or abandon it.

The other games in which conference teams will engage are: Michigan vs. Case at Ann Arbor; Wisconsin vs. Ripon at Madison; North Dakota vs. Minnesota at Grand Forks; Ohio State vs. Ohio Wesleyan at Columbus; and Purdue vs. Franklin at LaFayette.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., (AP)—The University of Minnesota football team will open its 1914 season this afternoon at Northshore field with the University of North Dakota as its opponent.

Three or four of the Minnesota regulars probably will be kept out of the line-up today.

A MENACE AND ITS CURE
The recent trouble in Omaha was unquestionably fattered by the I. W. W.

This is the opinion of Major General Wood, who has had charge of the military and police forces patrolling the city since the riots Sunday.

And since it is the duty of General Wood as a means of preventing further disorders to inquire diligently into the causes of the outbreak, his opinion is one that must be given weight.

Whether an organization of dues-paying, red-card-carrying members known as Industrial Workers of the World is wholly responsible or whether the disorders are to be laid at the door of those who sympathize with the views of such membership does not greatly matter except in particular reference to the affair at Omaha.

The important thing in the statement made by General Wood is that the tenets of I. W. W. constitute a very real danger to American institutions and ideals. This menace, having appeared in Omaha, is to be expected in similar disturbances elsewhere and it comes as no great surprise to learn that back of the race riots of this week in Arkansas lies an I. W. W. propagandist.

In dealing with this menace it is essential that a clear understanding of what constitutes I. W. W. is had. Perhaps there could be no better text devised than submission of views once capused and now partially recanted by a secretary of the striking steel workers who appeared yesterday before the senate investigating committee.

The individual reaction upon submission of these views would indicate plainly the I. W. W., whether he carries a red card or not.

These are some of the "text" propositions:
"The state is a meddling capitalistic institution and violence in strikes and calm acceptance of bloodshed as necessary to the forwarding of the revolutionary cause is to be advocated.

"The syndicalist worker will not be held back from direct action by the capitalistic code of ethics, duty, honor, patriotism.

"Government as we know it will shrivel up and die.
"Industries now in the hands of the state, municipalities and the nation will be given completely over to the workers in them."

General Wood voiced only the best judgment of Americans when he said, "These disturbances are becoming too frequent in America," and his suggestions for betterment will be generally endorsed. He advised:
"Good citizenship will counteract these foreign influences, and to teach good citizenship foreign language should be eliminated from the grade schools. The constitution should be drilled into the young American. Economics should be taught in the high schools and the relation between capital and labor should be clearly understood.

"Public opinion should compel timid officials to act in stopping the spread of un-American influence in a community. There will be no red flag where there are brave public officials."

WILSON GIVEN PART OF BLAME FOR PROSPECTIVE RISE IN SUGAR PRICE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Failure of the president to authorize purchase of the sugar crop for 1920 makes it practically certain that sugar prices will increase after next January 1, a senate sub-committee was told Friday by George A. Zahra, president of the sugar equalization board, and W. A. Glasgow, counsel for the food administration.

The president has been advised that "the situation is not bright for 1920 and refiners notified that control of the market probably would end after December 31.

At the hearing the committee planned to take up after it the day legislation designed to meet what Chairman McNary characterized as a "desperate situation." There apparently was doubt in the minds of the committee men, however, whether they could do more than continue the sugar equalization board, which would automatically cease to function after December 31 unless continued by congress.

Mr. Zahra said he did not anticipate any increase in price this year. The present apparent shortage, he said, was the result of an abnormal demand complicated to some extent by the effect of the recent marine strike.

Today's Markets

Grain and Provisions
CHICAGO, (AP)—Fresh weakness developed in the corn market today as a result of news from Argentina and of uncertainty created by ill-health of President Wilson. Selling, however, was not aggressive, and a rally occurred on account of an advance which the one market speculation hour and influence of active demand from the seaboard.

On the upturn, shorts in corn covered freely. Opening prices, which ranged from 1.12 1/2 to 1.12 3/4 and May 1.12 3/4 to 1.21; were followed by a rise in some cases to above yesterday's finish.

Flour prices of country offerings opened as a bullish factor later. The market closed firm, 1-4 to 1-1/4 net net higher, with December 1.24 to 1.24 1/4 and May 1.25 to 1.25 1/4.

Indications of big export business in oats gave the oat market strength at most from the outset. After opening 2 1/2c off, it advanced, including December at 70 1/2c, the market worked a little and then jumped rapidly upward.

Provisions lacked support. "Hope of European business, though, kept land relatively firm.

WHITE MAP WILL MEAN WOMAN'S FREEDOM

"Darkness" is lifting for the American woman. At least on this map, where every white state means that commonwealth has ratified national federal suffrage. Up to the present time sixteen states have ratified the national amendment. Thirty-six states are necessary in making the measure a law.

where we camped, lulled to sleep by its murmuring.
From here to Santa Maria, the valley discovered in 1760 by Don Gnapar. This valley produces 500,000 sacks annually of the little white bean. Here were large old fields, too. Then back to the beach where we got a glimpse of San Miguel Island where John Cabrillo first landed. He it was who discovered California in 1542.

In this country is Mission Santa Lucia and Purisima Concepcion, very historic and interesting. From here to Santa Barbara, a lovely city, the home of millions. Here we stopped a few days and visited Santa Barbara mission in a wonderful state of preservation, where still dwell the fathers in the sacred monastery. From here to Ventura where we saw the mission there of olden days. This was a beautiful drive, first in the hills and then on the very edge of the ocean. In these hills were beans and beans, wherever a furrow could be turned. At Carpinteria we saw the oldest grape vines in the world. In 1890 it produced 10 tons. At Colton we again entered the mountains, a wonderful drive through Topanga canyon to the sea to Santa Monica. On this drive we saw the Triangle Studios, a unique and interesting. In San Pedro we saw the great Pacific fleet and captured German submarines. Then to Los Angeles. Here is the San Gabriel mission. Here are the old vestments brought from Spain and many old relics. Here is the famous mission play which we enjoyed. We visited the Goldenway Studios at Culver City and saw the pictures made at Universal City. Also visited the famous Busch gardens, patrial farm and other interesting places. At Exposition Park we saw the skeletons of the Mastodons; huge monsters that roared here years ago, now extinct. We spent another day driving over Los Angeles. They had a lovely auto park where we camped under the acycanoras. Here also we visited Ramona's home. In San Diego we visited her marriage home. California is full of history and ro-manance and the pens of Helen Hunt Jackson, Harold Bell Wright, John Muir and Jack London and Bret Hart have made spots immortal. You expect to see their characters when you visit those spots, their descriptions are so true to life.

We visited the aviation grounds where Admiral Rodman unfurled the Trans-Pacific flight pennant, today. We drove to the Camulos Ranch, made famous by Helen Hunt Jackson in the story of Ramona. The daughter of the lady who entertained Helen Hunt Jackson on her visit there, entertained us. She was the granddaughter of the Spanish senora of early Spanish days. It is preserved intact as told in the story. She showed us the little chapel the mended altar cloth, just as it is!

GRAVEST LABOR CRISIS FRONTS BRITISH EMPIRE

All Efforts to Bridge Chasm Between Government and National Union of Railwaymen Fail; Hope Not Abandoned

LONDON, (AP)—All efforts to bridge the chasm between the government and the National Union of Railwaymen so far have broken down. The union has refused to consider a proposition of Premier Lloyd George for a seven days truce for the adjustment of matters, and a congress of all the trades unions in Great Britain will meet Tuesday to consider the union which has arisen out of the great railroad strike.

Efforts Unabated
Efforts of trade unionist mediators to find some way for bringing the government and leaders of the national union of railway men together have not been abated in spite of the breach in negotiations. Fourteen chosen delegates met today at the headquarters of the transport workers federation for the purpose of formulating further proposals. It is expected they will approach Premier Lloyd George on Monday and then place their propositions before the trades congress to be held Tuesday.

Face Gravest Crisis
Never in the history of the British empire have the people faced a more grave labor crisis. Latest developments in the controversy seem to indicate that the government and the union have settled down to a protracted struggle. The government has appealed to the people to form a "citizens' army" to all in the work of maintaining the food supply of the country while union leaders who have been in conference here have started for big labor centers throughout the British Isles to engage in a vigorous campaign.

In the meantime some improvement in railroad service is reported. Pending the outcome of the Tuesday meeting of all trade unions in Great Britain the executive committee of the vehicle workers federation will not call a strike of bus, tram and taxi drivers.

Thomas Denies Ambition
In an article contributed to the Daily News today refuting an accusation that he is animated by personal ambitions, James Henry Thomas, secretary of the railwaymen's union, declares that he thrice declined offers to become a member of the British cabinet.

Mr. Thomas warns the country that if other trades unions join the strike it may result in a clash which cannot be averted unless moderate influence may avail to save the country from a violent and bloody revolution.

LEAGUE MEET WAYS NOT FOR RATIFICATION

The meeting of the League of Nations in Washington under the presidency of Mr. Wilson should be the earliest possible moment. Owing to the hope that this society to be born and to facilitate the solution of international problems facing all nations, the first week of the coming November will propose the invitation of the greatest possible number of statesmen whose names were associated with the creation of the society of nations. Undoubtedly there would be only a small amount of current business to transact at the program which we have this capital advantage: It would put in action the society, which still exists only on paper.

Wilson Best Qualified

Finally, don't you think it would be a great advantage for the ex-officio members of the society of nations to be enabled to exchange views on the general direction in which it be pursued? No man is better qualified than President Wilson to remind the peoples at the opening of the first assembly that the society of nations will have prestige and influence in times of peace only if it succeeds in maintaining and developing the feeling of international solidarity from which it was born during the war at the call of Mr. Wilson. I myself shall be happy to second him in this task.

GEORGES CLEMENCEAU

"I, S.—I have written a similar letter to Premier Lloyd George."
A Characterization.
She was a woman of experience at least if not of wisdom, with strong passions, but with a not ungenerous heart; outspoken from the knowledge of her "great possessions," perhaps as much as from a natural frankness; a warm friend and not a very bitter enemy; and at the bottom of it all with a certain simplicity of character, of which her love of flowers was an example.—James Payne.

Too Good for Daily Use

We must have a weak spot or two in a character before we can love it much. People that do not laugh or cry, or take care of anything that is good for them, or use anything but dictionary words, are admirable subjects for biographies. But we don't care most for those flat-pattern flowers that press best in the herbarium.—O. W. Holmes.

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

THE "SEA-GOING" RAILROAD.

KEY WEST is near the eastern terminus of the Panama canal, by almost 300 miles, than any other of our gulf ports. It is separated from the main land by the Florida keys—a more or less disconnected string of islands, composed largely of coral and limestone.

To reap the benefit of its strategic position, however, direct and quick transportation with the main land was necessary. A railroad was the answer. Its construction was considered impracticable and impossible. But there are men who will undertake anything. The late Henry M. Flagler furnished the funds and the work was begun in 1905. Men from many climes, material of many kinds and new methods of construction were called into service. The winds, waves, a torrid sun, many unknown and unknown factors had to be grappled with and solved. Even nature had to be overcome. The construction must be storm-proof.

From Homestead, where the extension begins, to Key West, it is 128 miles. Jumping from island to island are 11 miles of concrete arc viaducts and six miles of steel-bridges—one of which contains 213 spans. The construction of the line on the islands proper was comparatively simple. Joining the island by rail was the ticklish job.

Thanks to the genius, grit and untiring efforts of the engineers, one may now enjoy the heretofore unthinkable and unique experience of riding from Key West to Miami in about five hours on a train running on the most part, over water instead of on land.

REPUBLICANS CALL FOR PROMPT RATIFICATION

Adoption of Peace Treaty with Effective Reservations Favored in Massachusetts State Convention

BOSTON, (AP)—Prompt ratification of the treaty of peace without amendments, but with "unequivocal and effective reservations" was adopted in the platform offered at the republican state convention today. The reservations include such unequivocal and effective reservations as will make clear the unconditional right of the United States to withdraw from the league upon due notice, as will provide that the United States shall assume no obligation to employ American soldiers or sailors unless congress shall so direct, as will make it clear that no domestic questions, such as the tariff and immigration, will be taken from the control of the United States, and that the United States shall be sole judge as to the interpretation of the Monroe doctrine. The shunting provision of the treaty also was denounced.

A friend of mine performed a wedding ceremony for a young couple in our home town, after which the bridegroom took all the money out of his pocket, which was 75 cents, and turned to my friend, the minister, and said: "I will have to keep 50 cents of this to buy cigars for the boys," and handed him the 25 cents for the fee.—Chicago Tribune.

"which will not be rejected, but so ratified that the vital interests of the United States will be protected and its independence and sovereignty preserved."

"The league covenant should not be in the treaty," he said. "Months ago the treaty with Germany should have been made and ratified. Who is to blame for the delay? No one but the president. He and he alone insisted upon the two things being put together. If the world's heart is broken, he will break it. If the world's hope of peace shall die, he will kill it."

World Select Representatives

Senator Jones insisted that American representatives in the council and assembly of the league should be eventually elected by the people.

"The president tells the people the world will sink into chaos if the United States does not enter the league of nations," Senator Jones said.

"The danger to the covenant today comes from the president himself. He insists that the covenant must be accepted by the senate exactly as he has sent it to us. I know and his friends know and he ought to know that if reservations are not adopted the covenant will be rejected in its entirety. If the treaty is not ratified and the United States falls to enter the league of nations, Woodrow Wilson alone will prevent it."

IDAHO DOCKAGE RUNS VERY LOW

Systematic Grading is Big Aid to Better Results for the Farmers

Dockage is running low in Idaho grain this year, according to B. L. Sheehan, agronomist of the state university extension division, who is also the state grain inspector. In reporting the recent series of grain grading schools conducted in the southern and eastern parts of the state Mr. Sheehan said:

"A great deal of interest was shown and many points not clear to both the dealer and farmer in the grading of wheat were cleared up. Grading of sorghum, the 100 bushels, showed that the test weight per bushel was in most cases the determining factor in placing the grade."

"What produced on the dry lands is exceedingly light. In the irrigated sections, the grade will be considerably better than that of the dry lands. At present the moisture factor is negligible and tests made show an average content of between 8 and 10 per cent. No. 1 grain is allowed to contain 13.5 per cent of moisture."

"Dockage is also running low. In the dry land sections much shrivelled grain will be produced and in many cases this light grain will go through the fine mesh screen. The shrivelled grain. Such material should be reseeded in the hand sieves in order to reclaim as much as possible. Any shrivelled or cracked grain that can be recovered by aid of the hand sieves should not be considered a dockage, but should be returned to the cleaned wheat before the test weight and other grading factors are considered."

GIRL OF HIGH SCHOOL WINS RECORD SUCCESS

Jane Rees Proves Wonder Selling Lyceum Tickets—Bale Comes Monday

Devoting only a very few hours to the work, Miss Jane Rees, attendant in the Twin Falls high school, has made a splendid record in the sale of Lyceum tickets. Her record is being given in the Lyceum program which she herself a salesman of high order.

Miss Rees took up the proposition of the ticket committee, which imposed certain conditions for the reward for the achievement of success being pay at the rate of $1 per hour for this season.

The first lecture of the coming Lyceum course will be given in the Lyceum theatre next Monday night, with Fred G. Bale, presenting "The Fourth Line of Democracy."

Speaking of Lecturer Bale and the message he carries an eastern critic said: "Mr. Bale is a courageous and earnest man for the things which make for a better community. He has a grippling lecture on fundamental things of the present hour. It is a fact lecture, not a sermon. He is a woman interested in tomorrow's citizenship and is eloquent in sound advice and hopeful incentive for old and young. It is one of the biggest lecture finds of recent years—real fire and energy, a clear thinker, a hard hitter."

BUTTER SHORTAGE DUE TO GOVERNMENT NEEDS

Prices in Coast Markets Advance Slightly Under the New Demand

It is apparent that the demand of the government the past few weeks is being met by the shortage of many butter in the Portland and San Francisco wholesale markets, and, as a result, prices have advanced slightly. The advance is such that under-grades were in plentiful supply.

Cuba extras were selling in jobbing lots at 65c on the Portland market, with the best of the western grades and other western markets were quoted as follows: Seattle—Sales in small lots to retailers, cubes 61c, Spokane—Sales in one lot to retailers, 61c. Salt Lake—Steady; sales in small lots to retailers, cubes 61 1/2c. Tacoma—Steady; sales to retailers, cube 61c.

ONION MARKET FIRM

The general tone of the market has been firm with most prices changing toward higher levels. Middle western red varieties was generally quoted at $3.10 to $3.20 f. o. b. shipping points and brought from $3.40 to $3.60 in the coasting markets. California Yellow stock advanced to a range of $2.40 to $2.50 f. o. b. shipping points. Total shipments for the week reached 1098 cars as against only 506 for the same period last year.

NEWCOMER AIRNOTIONS ABOUT HOUSE SHORTAGE IN THIS TOWN

Thinks Property Owners Fear Town Will Grow No More and Are Afraid to Construct More Dwellings—Selling Now at a Profit—Thinks It a Great Place, Though

(Contributed)

Mr. Newcomer stepped from the westward train into the heart of the city of Twin Falls.

The many cars parked on the streets and the number of apparently carefree men congregated at the "street corners at the intersection of Main and Shoshone bespoke a thrifty community.

On Mr. Newcomer's arrival at the hotel, the clerk greeted him affably but was sorry to inform him that every room in the hotel was taken and expressed doubt as to whether any accommodations could be found in the other hotels, but provisions had been made by the proprietor for such emergency. Mr. Newcomer gladly accepted the offer of a cot in the hall, and as he stepped back of the screen to undress thought to himself "I've found the town that will claim my corpse."

After an early breakfast he made inquiries concerning apartment houses and flats. The clerk at the hotel gave him the names and addresses of some five or six such places. A personal visit to each disclosed the fact that each had a waiting list long enough to fill the directory of a small city town, and he must wait to be called.

Next he scanned the "For Rent" columns of the local newspapers but by the time he had located the place of a man of the city and gotten to it in reality, he was met with the matter of fact reply, "It's rented."

He had never before in his life met defeat, but he would not do a thing, so then he set out for a tour of the town, up one street and down another in the hopes of spying a vacant house or window. Finally he chanced upon a little shack on an ally. The occupants were moving out and a shrewd little Irish handily of the kind that they are so common in the West, was checking them out. The despairing hunter, experiencing some of the feeling that a real buyer does when he spies the tracks of some wild animal fresh before him in the new fallen snow, approached the little woman almost reverently. It was with a feeling of awe that she told him the number of people she had promised to notify about the house being vacant, but inasmuch he was so urgently in need of a place to live in she would forget the others and let him rent the place for the small sum of $20.00 per month. Mr. Newcomer gladly paid over the money and she handed him a key to a place of refuge when Apollo, the god of the wind, might decide to let the good people of Twin Falls know that he still existed.

Mrs. Newcomer and their young son joined him in due time. A glimpse of her future home rubbed her of part of the happiness she was experiencing, or rather anticipating in being retained with her husband. She had been through the "alums" of the east but in only a few cases had she seen dirt piled up on paper on the walls (and everything else in harmony) than this place; it was heart sickening but they would have to put up with it until they could raise enough money to build a place, buy one, or get out of the town, but fearing lest Mr. Newcomer had not been thorough enough in his search—though he declared he had worn the sole out of a practically good $14 pair of shoes while hunting—a house, Mrs. Newcomer took up the quest with a better success.

After viewing the situation from various angles, Mrs. Newcomer aired her finding with her husband one evening:

"Steve," she said, "you may call it a woman's intuition, or what you like, but I believe I can tell you why this town isn't building up to meet the increased population.

"In the first place, this is a fine country, no doubt about that—just as fine as the western of men has made it possible for such a vast area of desert waste to literally blossom as a rose."

She would have raved on about the wonders of the country but her husband reminded her of the philosophic solution of the question.

"Then," she continued, "those who have made money here are evidently afraid the town will never become larger and are apparently afraid to invest in buildings, and as they know that those who want to dispose of their property right now before a slump or whatever they are anticipating comes are pessimistic. But this last idea brings in another complication. Just the other day I called on a few of the numerous real estate dealers—by the way, Steve, have you seen a place of this size before that could support so many real estate dealers? I'm sure I haven't; why some of them with the excellent experience they are getting, suggest renting, and other would brokers and speculators in the stock markets in the east."

Oh, yes, and she laughed as her husband again reminded her of her solution to the question. "Well, even of those real estate dealers was willing enough to sell a house but when I suggested renting, until such a time as they might effect a sale they would not listen to it. Now whether the property owners are to blame cannot be said, but I believe that they are, or whether the real estate dealers are loath to forego a prospective commission, I would not say for, surely, but in a heartless cold sunny day, we know our talking would bring us results in dollars and cents, would be as persevering as they are. But there is something about this that still puzzles me—it is almost unbelievable that such a band of energetic workers can act so advantageously without having entered upon a pact to stop at nothing short of a sale when once a piece of property is entrusted to their handling."

Mr. Newcomer lit his cigar and reflected. "Well, darling, he said, "whoever is responsible for present conditions, I am not prepared to say. However, I am making negotiations to buy a little home and in five or six years we will own it by paying a trifle more than we would for the rent of such a place; we might have come to a town where buying a home would be out of the question."

"That's the idea," Mrs. Newcomer rejoined. "Wouldn't some of those poor renters in New York or other large cities envy us to know that we won't have the question of landlord getting richer and tenant getting poorer staring us in the face?"

"And as soon as I get my dividends on my mining interests—in fact, I think I will sell out that mining stock my father turned over to me before his death and invest it in an apartment house in Twin Falls."

Mr. Newcomer thought that was a very good plan, and right then they decided to take a chance by boosting for Twin Falls, not only in glibbed words, but by investing something more substantial, thereby becoming useful citizens as well.

 If some one has been unkind to you be kind to others. The great law will bring him a harvest of what he has sown. We could just as well do something that would bring us a reward.

The Wonders of America
 By T. T. MAXEY

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK.

GLACIER is one of the newer of our great outdoor museums, or national parks, scattered throughout the 1,400-square miles of a jumble of mountains, glaciers, rivers, lakes and waterfalls which looks like "The Great Builder" had laid the odds and ends of his world making here in one discarded heap.

A newspaper man, called hard to reach the top of one of the skyland trails. Resting on a boulder and looking far out over the forests, across a flower-carpeted valley to a superbly beautiful mountain lake, he declared he had discovered "Wonder God" but when he made America's "The dominating feature of Glacier is its multitudinously carved mountains. It contains some of the most tremendous panoramas in the world. Some of its peaks remind one of cathedrals, others of forts and castles. The sun and winds of hundreds of years have thinned their summits with varying hues. Often their sides are covered with great, slow-moving glaciers—ice fields, some of which travel fully five inches in a year. Between or below them are splendid forests of pine. The mountains between these wooded patches are a riot of wild flowers. But the supreme beauty of this park is its mountain-hemmed, nitrorille lakes, fed by glacial streams which tumble down the mountain sides, often in tall, ribbonlike falls of great beauty. Add to this an occasional glimpse of a Swiss chalet, for the accommodation (of visitors) and you have an unbeatable combination for the true lover of the wild and the beautiful.

Flamingo Nearing Extinction.
 The flamingo's happy hunting ground used to be throughout Florida and many lovely members of its family could be met with in the other hot countries. Very few of them are left now, however, anywhere in this country and many bird lovers predict that in a few years more they will have been killed off until they will be extinct.

Gem Has Tragic History.

The "Regent" diamond, which is treasured in Paris, and is the queen of all French national gems, was picked up in 1701 at the Parthenon mines on the Kistna, by a slave, who, concealing it in a hole cut for its reception in his thigh, escaped with it to the coast. Here he sold it to an English shipper, who, instead of paying the small sum demanded, treacherously killed the slave.

And a woman, Miss P. A. Benson, is one of the bank officers, being deputy director in the farm loan department.

Wedding Ring Is Changed.

The wedding ring was not always plain as we see it today. It was frequently highly ornamented and wrought with various designs. But as other rings began to be worn the wedding ring was made conspicuously plain. This practice, however, was long in vogue of inscribing appropriate mottoes on rings. The ring may be said to be symbolic. It is of gold and symbolizes purity and refinement, whereas its rudimentary signifies "the round flange of mutual love and hearty affection."

Porcupine's Quills Not "Thrown."

The spine of a porcupine, in the usual position, is nearly flat, with their points directed backward, but when the animal is excited they are capable of being raised. The quills are loosely inserted in the skin and may, upon violently shaking, become detached, a circumstance which probably gave rise to the purely fabulous statement that the animal possesses the power of actually ejecting its quills like arrows or darts at an enemy.

Permanent Colors.

Ancient Egyptians had a marvelous knowledge of colors, and they understood fully what colors would last. In the Egyptian pyramids the ground colors are as good as ever they were. The Egyptians worked their outlines in lapis-lazuli, used clay for their whites, ferruginous earths for their reds, ochres for their yellows, and for green they used perhaps green jasper or mixed blue carbonate or copper with ochre. All these colors are permanent.
