MINEOLA, N. Y., (AP)—Three aviators who were killed, four of the sixty-two originally entered planes had been put definitely out of the running and the status of several others remained unknown today when the army's great transcontinental air race over a 5,400 mile course between Minneapolis and San Francisco, was resumed.

Began to Start Again Undismayed by the fate that befell their comrades yesterday on the first day of the great speed-endurance reliability test, pilots scattered over the course from Mineola as far east as Chicago, and from San Francisco east to Salt Lake City.

Undismayed by the fate that befell their comrades yesterday on the first day of the great speed-endurance reliability test, pilots scattered over the course from Mineola as far east as Chicago, and from San Francisco east to Salt Lake City. They to-day up with the dawn eager to start the second day's grueling test. Given flying weather as good as that of yesterday, the leading planes from the east and those from the west should cross trails shortly after noon. Yesterday Lieut. B. W. Maynard, the "flying ace" who led his group to the first lap covered the first 840 miles that separate Mineola and Chicago at a two mile a minute rate of speed. The other flyers from San Francisco covered the 818 miles from San Francisco to Salt Lake City. Thus the leading flyers from east and west covered a total of 1,458 miles and were separated this morning by only 1,922 miles.

On Casualty List The men killed yesterday were Major D. H. Cray and his observer, Sergeant Virgil Thomas, who met almost instant death in a crash at Salt Lake City, and Sergeant W. H. Levitt, observer for Colonel Ina Herald Brandt, whose plane crashed at Deposit, N. Y. Colonel Brandt was slightly injured.

Two other planes put definitely out of the race were those of Air Commodore L. E. O. Charlton, British aviation attaché in the United States, Lieut. D. B. Ghish, Commodore Charlton's plane flew to Quito, E. Y., while Lieutenants Ghish's crashed in flames at Chandler, N. Y. Lieutenant Ghish had as passenger Captain De Levergne, participant attaché of the French military base the only other non-American participant in the race. All the remaining contestants are American arm-aviators.

The aviator Lieut. J. C. Williams, who left Mineola at 10:18 a. m. yesterday, had not been heard from this morning and some fear was felt for his safety. Three Forced Landings Three contestants who were obliged to make forced landings yesterday, hoped to get back in the running. They are Lieutenant Ross Kirkpatrick, who descended at Vernon, N. Y.; Lieut. R. L. Mangan, who landed at Glendale, N. Y.; and Lieut. Will R. Taylor, who landed at Nicholson, Pa. Five additional entrants were scheduled.

ARBITRATION AT ONCE OF STEEL STRIKE IS CONFEREES PROPOSAL

Representatives of Public Suggest Immediate Industrial Truce to Continue Three Months and Creation of Arbitration Board by President and Congress, while Labor's Spokesmen Would Take Early Action in Progressing Struggle

WASHINGTON, (AP)—An immediate industrial truce to continue three months, creation of an arbitration board by the president and congress, and immediate arbitration of the nation-wide steel strike were among proposals made today to the industrial conference here. The first two were presented by representatives of the public and the last by the labor group.

Mr. Gompers' board for arbitration of the steel strike would be composed of six members, two to be appointed by each of the three groups in the conference. Mr. Gompers also presented a resolution embodying eleven fundamental principles, which, he emphasized, had the approval of the labor group, including the representatives of the four railroad brotherhoods. They were:

- Right of wage-earners to organize.
- Right of collective bargaining.
- Right of wage-earners to be represented by representatives of their own choosing in negotiations with employers.
- Freedom of speech, of the press, and of assemblies.
- Right of employers to organize.
- Minimum eight hour day with one day of rest in each week, and with a half holiday on Saturday, Sundays, and overtime discouraged.
- Payment of a living wage.
- Women to receive the same pay as men for equal work.
- Prohibition of labor for children under 16 years of age.
- A national conference board was proposed to provide for the systematic review of industrial relations.

Conditions, the board to consist of an equal number of representatives of employers and workers. Prohibition of all immigration for at least two years after the declaration of peace and at such times thereafter as there may be an abnormal condition of unemployment. A plan for adjustment of labor disputes in the plants was slowly being prepared by the public group. It would provide for joint boards of employers and employees in each of the industries. A general board appointed by the president to adjust appeals from these boards; and, in event the general board failed to arrive at a unanimous decision, for an umpire to be selected either by unanimous choice of the general board, or by lot from a standing list of twenty persons named by the president.

It is understood that the plan would not interfere with any system of joint wage conferences now in existence, unless or until they failed to arrive at such a conference made a strike or lockout imminent.

Explains Delay of Capital A resolution classifying the battles involved in consideration of problems in the plant is being prepared by Paul L. Felsa, of the public group. It provided that the two general divisions should be as follows:

- Union labor, government employees, public utilities employees, employees of organizations and general unorganized labor in one group and capitalists, managers, government representatives, farmers, and the general public in the other.

Explaining why the group representing capital did not have any proposals to submit, Chairman Wheeler said the interests represented were not homogeneous; had never met together before and had been unable to get their proposals in shape for presentation to-day.

Employers Prepare Proposals After being in session an hour and a half, the conference adjourned until this afternoon. Meantime the committee of fifteen will consider resolutions of the labor group and the employers group will attempt to prepare proposals acceptable to all elements of the group for submission to the conference.

CHILE ATTACKS HIGH COSTS OF LIVING PROBLEM

South American Country Endeavors to Relieve Pressure by Stabilizing Rate of Exchange

SANTIAGO, CHILE.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The Chilean government is endeavoring to relieve the pressure of the high cost of living by stabilizing the rate of exchange. It has proposed the adoption of a gold standard and that Chilean currency should be made convertible at sight. This would be attended by the organization of a central bank to act in the same way as the Federal Reserve Bank of the United States. It is argued that this would put the economical resources of the country on a steady financial basis and eliminate the private speculation in gold which is felt to have much influence on the present exchange rates.

Trade Balance Adverses

The rise of sterling exchange is attributed in part to an adverse balance of trade against Chile in 1918 to the amount of about $7,000,000. This difference has to be paid in gold, consequently, the peso declines in value.

Chileans have been forced by the increased cost of living like the rest of the world and there have been public demonstrations, meetings of labor and congresses in which the conditions of exports of foodstuffs and upon providing work for the unemployed.

Many Workers Idle

Nitrates which is the main stay of Chile's industry, has been out of the market for several months owing to the slump in the demand resulting from the ending of the war and the scarcity of freight capacity. Chile has thousands of workers out of employment. To meet this labor situation the government proposed measures providing for the expenditure of several millions dollars in the construction of highways and railroads.

She has anti-aircraft guns and torpedoes, and is so divided that any two of her main compartments may be flooded without endangering the vessel. She has anti-aircraft guns and burns oil fuel only.

BRITISH MINERS WANT NATION TO TAKE OVER MINE

Strike Leader to Head Deputation to Call on Lloyd George to Urge Complete Nationalization

LONDON, (P)—A deputation of British miners will call on Premier Lloyd George to urge complete nationalization of mines. The deputation consists of members of the parliament, members of the trades union congress, which met recently in Glasgow, and members of the executive committee of the miners federation. J. H. Thomas, secretary of the national union of railwaymen and leader of the recent strike, will head the deputation as the new chairman of the parliamentary committee.

Accords With Resolutions

This step was taken in accordance with a resolution adopted at the recent trades union congress at Glasgow, which pledged the congress to co-operate with the miners federation in compelling the government to accept the majority report submitted by the coal commission headed by Sir John Sankey. Premier Lloyd George, before parliament adjourned, announced the government's decision not to accept the majority report, which recommended shorter hours, higher wages and a reform in the ownership system and suggested nationalization, but said the government would merely nationalize minerals, with a sort of joint control of the industry.

Compulsion Attempt Expected

If Mr. Lloyd George reiterates this decision today and refuses to accept nationalization, it is assumed he will have a special trades union congress will be convened to decide upon the form of action to be taken by the miners to compel acquiescence in their demands.

Red Cross Finds Multitude of Ragged, Hungry Children in Vladimir

WARSAW, (P)—On their entry into the district of Vladimir, just freed from the enemy by the victorious advance of General Haller's troops, American Red Cross officers found a population of 200,000 children practically foodless and in clothing that was little better than rags.

Of the 50,000 children in Vladimir, it was reported that 5,000 were complete orphans, having neither father nor mother. To care for such a large number there is but one orphan asylum capable of accommodating 100 children.

As a temporary measure the Red Cross has sent several cars of supplies to Vladimir. Another train was dispatched to the Halybly districts, where the conditions of the population are equally severe. Here were found eighty villages on the old German Russian battle line. Many of them had been totally destroyed. Refugees from Russia augmented the normal population, and to take care of them the Red Cross sent to Halybly eighty bales of clothing.

BULLET STOPS DISBURSURE OF GERMAN POLICY

Leader of Independent Socialists Shot Shortly Before Expected to Reveal Details of Bolshevist Hoax

BERLIN, (AP)—Rogge Hsase, leader of the independent socialists, was shot today only a quarter of an hour before he expected to make a sensational disclosure to the national assembly in session with the government. The Russian and the tolerant attitude of Berlin toward the "west-Russian anti-Bolshevist government," the establishment of which was the result of a hoax perpetrated by an individual posing as the representative of New York banking house. This fact gave currency to a rumor that the attempt against Hsase's life had a political origin; but a cross-examination of Voss, his assailant, indicates that he was actuated by motives of personal revenge.

Anti-Bolshevist Hoax
A group of anti-Bolshevist Russians had organized a government here to take possession of the Russian territories between the frontiers of Poland, Petrograd and Moscow whenever the fortunes of war should place them in a position to do so. It has been estimated by an individual, posing as the accredited representative of a New York banking house, into signing a document in which the American banking house agreed to advance to the Russians $30,000,000 marks in return for raw products, commercial concessions, timberlands and mineral rights in various sections of Russia.

Pseudo American Agent
The "American agent," calling himself Dr. Moschell, now appears to have been a Bolshevik agent who had interested in endeavoring to establish the active presence in Berlin of an official Russian anti-Bolshevist organization.

Independent socialist leaders are reported to have been working with the Bolshevik representatives in this scheme. The hoax was discovered by the Russian representatives when the promised millions were not forthcoming.

POKING MOVES FOR PEACE IN CIVIL STRIFE

Northern Delegation Named to Take Up with Southern Faction Negotiations Broken Off Last Spring

SHANGHAI.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—A definite move to bring about peace between the Northern and Southern factions in China was made this month when the Peking government appointed Wang Yi-tang, a former minister of finance, to head a Northern peace delegation to take up again with the Southern representatives the negotiations that were broken off last spring. At that time the North rejected eight demands made by the South and so brought to an end the Shanghai peace conference.

Eight Demands Made
The eight demands of the Canton government comprised:
1. Abrogate all secret treaties with Japan.
2. Punish the officials who negotiated the secret Japanese treaties.
3. Dismiss military and civil governors of provinces who had violated certain laws.

Rehband the Northern defense army. Rescind the mandate of 1917 by which the old Parliament—the body that removed to Canton and there met up the Southern government—was declared to be dissolved.
Recognize President Hsu Shih-chang only as provisional president.

What if any modifications the Canton government has expressed a willingness to make in its demands had not been clearly defined.
Extra Negotiations
Late in August it was learned that private negotiations to withdraw troops had been in progress between military leaders of the two factions. They apparently sought to hold a peace conference of their own at Nanking. Since the Peking government has appointed a peace delegate, the opinion has been advanced that this military conference may not be held.
The great masses of people in China have recent concern with the strife which has been disrupting the country.

Shantung Award Unties
Whatever division might have existed between the masses of people in the North and the South, was swept away by announcement from Peking that the city of Tsin-tung in the North formerly held by the Germans in the province of Shantung had been awarded to the Japanese. The whole country, North and South, saw that no action to avert the consequences of the Shantung decision could be taken with China divided against itself and this wave of popular sentiment grew into an important factor for the restoration of internal peace.

A Peking despatch of September 25 stated that the Southern delegation had refused to meet Wang Yi-tang and that attempts to resume the conference between Northern and Southern delegations were likely to meet with failure. Mention of hostilities was therefore avoided.

GOLLENS WOODEN IN WORLD TITLES

Box Second Backer in Sixth Big Series—Makes Great Record

Any player who can show a batting average of .301 for twenty-six world series games, show twenty-one errorless games in this long stretch, and claim the address of distinction of having led both teams in base running during three series and tied for the lead in others, must be classed as the greatest world's series player in the history of baseball.
His name is Eddie Collins, captain and second baseman of the Chicago White Sox who has represented the American league in the 1919 tussel with the Cincinnati Reds. Collins is great in his profession even without a set of ball figures to prove it, but the figures add to his testimony and make the record unanimous. Back in 1913 John McGraw, whose Giants were defeated by the Yankees, ranked that Collins was as great a ball player as he ever had seen. Eddie was then with the Athletics, and his generalship and playing made McGraw grudgingly admit that October day almost six years ago, Collins has been performing in a way that has vindicated the judgment of the New York manager.

Sixth Big Show for Eddie
The series which opened last Wednesday in the sixth for Collins, who helped the Sox win their fourth title in Philadelphia between 1910 and 1914, later being sold to the White Sox, where his work helped Rowland to a championship title, and to the Sox to a pennant this year. Collins is generally rated as the best field general now playing baseball in the two major leagues. He leads the White Sox in the outfield and gives the Chicago pitchers advice whenever a tight situation develops. He thinks fast, moves with precision in judgment, and once on the bases he gives an outgoing team as much worry as Ty Cobb.
In his five world's series to date Collins has batted over 400 times. In 1907, 1910, 1913 and 1915 against the Cubs, 421 in 1913 against the Giants, and 409 in 1917 against the Giants. He missed the 300 class in 1911 by the slimmest of margins, as he would have given him a batting mark of .333 for his twenty-one times at bat. Collins not only six hits and finished with .301, Frank Baker's .268 for four world's series to top mark for any hitter over an extended stretch of play.
Collins led his club in runs and runs in all his series. Collins has made 157 chances and has made six mistakes.

Also Star Fielder
As a fielder's work of Collins has stood out strongly as his stick-work. He made one error in five games against the Giants he batted for before the end of the season, in the six games. He made his last world's series error in the second game of the third clash with the Giants, and since that time he has made no mistakes, tallying in thirteen consecutive world's series games—three against the Giants in 1913, four against the Braves in 1914, and six against the Giants in 1917. In his twenty-six games involving the world's title, Collins has handled 157 chances and has made six mistakes.
Collins enjoys the distinction of having made more hits, scored more runs, and stolen more bases in world's series games than any other player. In all these accomplishments his wonderful record in the field, his value as a field general, and his demoralizing force against opposing teams when at bat on the bases, and it is easy to understand why he ranks at the head of the field.
Collins's Record
The complete batting, fielding, and base running record of Collins in world's series games is as follows:

EARLY IDAHO APPLES SELL WELL IN GOTHAM

Generally Off Color Stuff Brings Fancy Returns in New York Market

Idaho Jonathan and Ben Davis, Orchard Run, faced and filled pack, early this month, about the New York market at a fancy price of $2.55 per box. The car contained 610 boxes of Jonathan and 58 boxes of Ben Davis. These apples were generally deficient in color and small in size, being among the first shipments out of the state to meet the New York market. The apples were generally graded under the supervision of state inspectors.
Another car of Orchard Run Jonathan and Ben Davis, Extra Fancy, Fancy and C. grades sold for $2.25 per box on the same market October 2nd.

BALL CAP SETS WEL ON PRINCELY HEAD

"The boy of him" shows in a way that America can best understand as the prince of Wales does a baseball cap smiles, plays and a "regular" good time. Up at Calgary, Canada, the entertainment committee had the right idea to interest the prince. The "Flurry" staged a game with the Edmonton Vets and here's the prince joining in, as pictured by The Canadian Pacific cameraman.

Much Loved Ruth Might Start Harem

BABE RUTH, the demon slugger of the Red Sox, is on a still hunt for the blinbo who first said, "Gee, it must be great to be a hero!" Babe is a hero, there is no doubt about that, but the popularity also brings quite a good bit of unpopularity. That's the rub. Babe has received more letters this season than he has in all his life. Here is one picked at random:
"Dear Babe: If you can love the way you play baseball I should like to know you. I hope I am not too forward about this, but when I see an attractive chap like you I believe in going after him. I live at _____ Will you call me up? Just call for Hazel."
And to think that Ruth already is married.

Brief Bits of Sport

Well, anyhow it looks a lot better.

Perhaps that oral flaying Kid Gleason administered before Monday's soufflé had some like to know you.
Sim Smiley wants to repeat his white-hot about slips and tips, but this column has been barred to that stuff until after the Sox clean up.
They are having another little world series joust on the Pacific Coast, too. The St. Paul winner of the American Association gonfion, and the Vernon Tigers, the best club in the Coast league, are battling for supremacy.
No, sire, we have no grouch against wrestling as a sport; but we will go the limit in an effort to chase out the commercialism and put the game back on a sound sporting footing.
We might add, too, and that to the advantage of the game, that wrestling is not entirely crowd, but we do claim that as a sport it is being well "fixed."
After Friday's victory by the Sox confidence was restored and heavy betting was resumed. One Boston man bet $15,000 against $10,000 that the Sox would win the flag.
And there is poor old Detroit—Gone a whole decade without winning a flagpole flapper.

GRIZZLIES TO MEET BURLEY'S SAGE HENS

Nazfinger Pledged to Redeem His Eleven for Defeat of Last Week

The Burley high school eleven come to Twin Falls tomorrow for a game with Nazfinger's Grizzlies. The "Sage" best is said to comprise one of the sturdiest grid aggregations in this district, and is coming primed for victory.
The Grizzlies' sublimely poignant defeat last week at Rupert, the stinging smart of which is still felt where it hurts most. Since that whaling, however, Nazfinger has been attending to his proteges in a manner that sounds like the homilies delivered by "Kid" Gleason early this week when the "Sage" took a high school aggregation on the ball lot. Just how much this oral stinging is going to affect the players of the grizzly-gang cannot be guessed, but the confident thing will be a different tale told tomorrow.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Vernon won the first game of the western minor league championship series here yesterday from St. Paul, 7 to 1. Eric hitting and losing playing featured the contest.
Though hit freely, Fineran for the Tigers was effective in the pinches. Fineran, a left hander, started for the Saints but in attempting to field Muevel's line drive in the fifth inning was injured and was relieved by Williams.

RUPERT.—Lyman Lundy and Fred Brown, both well known young business men of Rupert, Friday purchased the business of the Jensen Real Estate company.
The new firm will be known as Lundy and Brown. N. J. Jensen, former owner, will remain with the new firm a short time and will devote his time to his life insurance business. Rain at Rupert Damages Alfalfa

Third-Cutting is Down When Storms Arrive—Damage Results
RUPERT. (Special).—Heavy rains last week has caught much of the third cutting of alfalfa down and has done considerable damage.
The third cutting is probably the heaviest ever grown on the project and it is estimated that half of it was on the ground when the rain came.
Friday and Saturday turned out fair and warm and it is believed that but little of the hay will winter.

One of the simplest of nature's barometers is a spider's web. When there is a prospect of wind or rain the spider shortens the filaments by which its web is sustained and leaves it in this state as long as the weather is variable. If it elongates its threads, it is a sign of fine, calm weather.

Poison Saves Elmora County Crop of Wheat

The hired man on a fairly large dry farm was the off-poison mixer for his community in the Elmora County campaign against ground squirrels. He was cutting his crop of wheat with a combine, according to the University of Idaho Extension Division, when the county agent approached him. "What were you saving this year as a result of your treating for squirrels?" asked the agent. "The crop," replied the hired man.

HAY PRICES HOLD UP BUT MARKET IS WEAK

Demand for Alfalfa Perceptibly Slackened All Over the Country
With very few exceptions, the hay market reports no improvement in the demand, and as a result of which, if weakness seems to prevail throughout the most of them, though prices do not yet appear to be affected and it is generally felt that this condition will not show any material improvement until colder weather makes its appearance.
The appeared to be more or less uncertainty in the situation in the Great Falls, Mont., market on a very light demand, with the movement practically at a standstill for Nebraska alfalfa, offered at $25.00, Minnesota at $32.00, and No. 1 alfalfa at $30.00.
Spokane reports a continued weakness on an unimproved demand and very light trading except for alfalfa, with prices as follows: No. 1 alfalfa, $27.00 and No. 2 Timothy at $35.00.
The situation at Seattle remains practically unchanged, with buyers persistently holding off and sellers seemingly induced to make concessions. Prices show no material change as follows: No. 1 alfalfa $25.00 and No. 2 Timothy $35.00.
Alfalfa was reported in good demand with sellers holding firm for that commodity on the Portland market, while other varieties were very slow and inclined toward a weaker tendency. Oregon Timothy, apparently due to the fact that Idaho and other nearby points were taking all that was being offered. Offerings of No. 1 alfalfa were at $23.50-25.00; valley Timothy $28.50-30.25 and Veitch and Ort at $24.00-24.50.

LATE 1919 SPUD CROP BELOW THE LAST YEAR

The late commercial potato crop now for the first time receives a separate report by the bureau of crop estimates, United States Department of Agriculture. For the date of September 1, the condition of this crop indicates a yield of 15,200,000, or considerably above the estimate for the same month last year, 14,604,000 carloads.
Late potatoes raised for local supply and all other late potatoes not entering distribution by carloads are not included in these estimates. One carload equals 700 bushels.
In nearly every state the production of the late commercial crop of potatoes falls below that of last year. Pennsylvania is a prominent exception, with a gain of 1,000 carloads over last year, and set that state produces this year less than 6 per cent of the total of all States. Maine has a prospect of 24,408 carloads, Minnesota 10,500, Wisconsin 20,800, Michigan 10,275, Colorado 10,000, New York 9,370, Pennsylvania 6,980, and Idaho 6,640 carloads.

TRACING MAGNETIC POLE CURVES QUEST OF SHIP

Noted Non-Magnetic Vessel Carnegie Leaves Washington on Fifth and Probably Last Trip

WASHINGTON. (AP)—With enough provisions aboard to last two years and outfitted for a voyage of 6,500 miles, the noted non-magnetic ship "Carnegie" was ready today to leave Washington on its last of tracing through the long seas of the South Atlantic and Pacific oceans the devious curves which the magnetic pole has been making by the compass to follow. This is the fifth and probably the last trip of the Carnegie on that errand, which has already taken her through 200,000 miles of ocean during the last ten years, and has resulted in much information that is incorporated in the magnetic charts which sailors use. She was built by the Carnegie Institute especially for the work and has neither steel or iron in her hull or fittings.
Captain James P. Ault commands a crew of 17 men who will sail her on the present voyage. Tex H. F. Johnson, magnetician, on the scientific staff, is his second in command.

AS BETWEEN THIEVES

As between thieves there is small room for choice, and so today Senator Nelson, republican of Minnesota, speaking in the senate "for a lasting peace" scores no point at all for unconditional ratification of the treaty and covenant of the league of nations when he declares that "except for the war Germany would have retained her hold on Shantung, and as between her and Japan I cannot see why any of us should prefer Germany."

Senator Nelson's speech, as reported, is for the most part beside the question at issue, like so much of the talk to be heard today from the highest and lowest quarters in respect to the problem with which the senate is wrestling. There is no question as to whether or not the treaty and covenant will be ratified. The only question is as to what reservations, if any, America shall declare for in her acceptance of the propositions. Neither Senator Nelson or any other person can stir up an argument over the desirability of "a lasting peace." There may be, and is very serious question as to whether the league of nations is the medium through which this end is to be attained, but for by far the most part Americans are in favor of giving it a trial.

In respect to the Shantung award alone Senator Nelson seems to have come even close to the issue. Developing his argument a little farther Senator Nelson might take a stand alongside that of the president who declares that the Shantung award is not satisfactory but that the league will give us a chance to protest against it.

The question that arises in many minds at this juncture is why should America today give her endorsement to this deal by unequal ratification of the treaty and then as soon as the league is in operation come forward with a protest against this very same deal.

How much consideration is a protest in such circumstances likely to receive from the other members of the league? At least, if the foreign relations committee amendment to the treaty giving Shantung back to China cannot be adopted, some sort of expression should be made at the time of ratification of American dissatisfaction with the deal.

PREDISPOSED

There is little of the element of surprise in the reports that the ranks of the Russian Bolsheviks have been swelled by accessions from among the forces of General Von Der Goltz, the German commander whose evident disposition to remain in the Baltic provinces is occasioning exasperation on the part of the allied peace conference and embarrassment to the new German government.

The fear has been expressed by many officers who are familiar with the situation that a considerable number of Von der Goltz's troops may slip into Bolshevikism, as they are for the most part men whose properties and employment have been ruined by the war and they have sought the Baltic provinces as a pioneer country where they could re-establish their fortunes.

Many of these soldiers are Germans who were expelled from Alsace-Lorraine, and there are numerous seafaring men without the prospect of employment because of the lack of Germany of a merchant marine. Consequently they are feeble, desperate and eager for any adventure and ready to follow any bold leader.

and WITHOUT PURPOSE—there you have the essential elements that make for recruits to the ignis fatuus of Bolshevism.

It would be well to bear in mind these predisposing conditions when considering means of allaying this social, industrial and political disorder.

MAYNARD LEADS AERIAL VOYAGE LEAVING OMAHA

Makes Trip from Des Moines over Distance of 118 Miles in One Hour and Fourteen Minutes

used to enter the race at Mincola today.

MAYNARD LEAVES CHICAGO; WEATHERY CONDITIONS BETTER

CHICAGO, (AP)—Lt. Belvin W. Maynard, leader in the 5,400 mile twin transcontinental flight race, took the air from Ashburn field here at 7:00 o'clock this morning. He headed for Rock Island, Ill., 155 miles away. At 9:45 a. m., Captain Houg, commander at Ashburn field, sent a message to Bryan field, Ohio, to start all westbound airplanes from that point as soon as they were ready, as weather conditions in Chicago had sufficiently improved to make flying safe.

Captain H. C. Dwyon, in plane No. 47, who left Bryan field, Ohio, at 9:51 a. m., today arrived at Ashburn field, Chicago, at 11:40 a. m.
Major H. J. Miller in plane No. 27, who left Bryan field, Ohio, at 10:51 a. m., arrived at Ashburn field at 12:32 p. m. He directed over his field for 20 minutes before landing.

SETS OUT IN WORK IN WAKE OF MAYNARD

BYRAN, O., (AP)—Spurred on by the news that Lt. B. W. Maynard had already left Rock Island, Ill., in the plane of Capt. W. C. Houg, C. G. Brayton, in a De Havilland 4, left here on his western dash at 9:51 a. m. in a drizzling rain with heavy clouds hanging low. Neither Major H. J. Miller, or Major L. B. Webster, both driving De Havillands, were willing to take the air under conditions prevailing here. The field at Bryan is soggy.

HEAD WEATHER DELAYS START FROM CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, O., (AP)—A drizzling rain, low visibility and unfavorable wind conditions have kept the flight scheduled for daylight—BRYETAIN four of the eight army airplanes which landed at Glenn L. Martin field here yesterday in the fourth leg of the transcontinental air dash. The other four arrivals yesterday continued westward.

Lt. Alex Pearson, Jr., driving machine No. 9, was the first to reach Glenn Martin field here from Buffalo this morning, landing at 9:07 a. m. during a heavy downpour of rain. At that time the four machines that had been waiting at night west since daylight were still here.

The second flyer to land here this morning was Captain J. O. Donaldson, machine number 30, who landed in a S. E. 5 at 9:23 from Buffalo.

Lieutenant Pearson and Sergeant Royal Atkinson in machine No. 8, had a narrow escape from injury when their plane stalled on the soggy field when they landed.

Lt. B. G. Newman, driving machine No. 104, the third to reach here from Buffalo this morning, made a safe landing at 9:57 a. m.

New York Central railroad officials say that four fliers have landed at Fairview, Penna., and two more at Erie. The next route from Buffalo to Cleveland, because of rain. All landed safely.

Lt. H. D. Norris, machine No. 37, who made a forced landing at Wickliffe, ten miles east of town, then returned here and landed at Glenn Martin field where he secured a new propeller. He will fly from Wickliffe to the landing field as soon as repairs are made.

Words was inclined to think that Lt. J. F. Bonieta, driving machine No. 32 may have fallen into Lake Erie as he was having trouble when Norris left his home town. Lt. Bonieta also was reported to have left Buffalo at the same time and had been flying together. Wireless messages have been sent from Glenn Martin field to all stations.

CLEVELAND, O., (AP)—

CLEVELAND, O., (AP)—Captain J. O. Donaldson, driving machine number 50, who landed here from Buffalo this morning, is the first flyer for Bryan, Ohio, the first aviator to leave here today.

FLYERS FROM WESTERN COAST LEAVE SALT LAKE

VETERAN AVIATOR IS FORCED DOWN BY STORM

BUFFALO, (AP)—Col. C. C. Sturm, said to be the oldest flier in the world, was forced down by the storm at 9:15 a. m. between Rochester and Buffalo. He is out of the contest. Of this, the airplane, checking Curtiss field, thirteen have been held up by unfavorable weather conditions.

RAZING PLANE LANDS WITH WRECK IN MUD

Horton, the occupants, escaped injury when the plane, De Havilland 4, struck once on landing. The plane was badly damaged.

ANOTHER PLANE LOSES BEARING AND IS WRECKED

HAZELTON, PA., (AP)—Airplane No. 33, which the contest flier lost by bearing this afternoon and came down on a farm at Hudsonville, near here. The machine was wrecked and is being dismantled. Neither of the two occupants was hurt. Their names were not learned.

MINNEOLA, N. Y., (AP)—Airplane number 23, which made a forced landing on the morning of Oct. 8, this morning was piloted by Lt. Norman H. Langley and carried Sergeant Hawkins Clowder as passenger.

GREEN RIVER ELIMINATED AS STOP FOR AIR RACERS

SALT LAKE CITY, (AP)—Green River, Wyo., has been eliminated as a stop for existing fliers in the transcontinental airplane derby, it became known here early today, when the commander of the control stop at Rawlins, Wyo., notified fliers here to prepare for the reception of six aviators who had left here up to 8:50 o'clock a. m.
The landing field at Green River had been found in bad condition, it became known, and it was decided to have machines fly direct to Rawlins.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

On German Soil.

In the City Square of Geneva, military headquarters of the allied military forces, an ancient cross surmounted monument marks the city's center of traffic. For this reason American Red Cross officials converted it, as shown by this picture, into a directory of all Red Cross activities in the city.

"Poor Man's Weather Glass."

The figures of which the leaves of the horse-chestnut are made up keep flat and fanlike so long as the fine weather is likely to continue. With the coming of rain, however, they droop, as if to offer less resistance to the weather. The scarlet pimples are known in England as the poor man's weather-glass, and opens its flowers only when the weather is fair.

The Crow Family.

The crow family is placed by ornithologists at the head of the bird world as being more highly organized than any other. Linnæus gave the post of honor to the eagle, because of their kindly quality of rapacity, but two great authorities, Professor Forster and Professor Newton, agreed in assigning the highest place to the crow.

Territory Taken From Spain.

At the close of the war with Spain the American government obtained possession of Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines, agreeing to pay Spain $20,000,000 and give Spanish ships special trade privileges in the Philippines for ten years. Neither statehood nor citizenship was promised to any of the islands taken over and they are governed as territorial possessions.

Sought Trees for Protection.

Tree-dwellers are fond among savages in various parts of the world. According to the scientists the first habitations of mankind were in the trees, the most adequate protection against the many enemies of the early type of man. It was only in the later period of man's evolution that he was strong enough to hold his own on the ground.

ORDERS JAPS TO GO-OPERATE WITH AMERICA

Nipponese Commander Orders His Forces to Work Effectively with United States in Siberian Operations

TOKIO, (AP)—Orders have been issued by General Oki, commanding Japanese forces in eastern Siberia, directing his troops to cooperate actively with the American authorities in the operation of the Trans-Siberian railroad. This is a result of strong representations made by the United States to the Japanese government claiming that in sections guarded by Japanese troops the lives and property of Americans have not been adequately protected. In the event that cooperation by the Japanese troops could not be secured, it is said, the note hinted American forces would be withdrawn from Siberia and the reason for the step would be made public at Washington.

Hints of Misunderstanding
Reports state the American note was very frank in discussing the situation in Siberia, and to have expressed the fear, by inference, that the policy of Japan there might be open to criticism as being opposed to the "new idea of international cooperation." It is understood a copy of the note of the Washington government, which was delivered in September, has been forwarded to Great Britain and France and probably Italy and China.

Japanese Minimize Gravity
Japanese officials seemed inclined to minimize the gravity of the situation and declare they had not been supporting General Bennetoff, anti-Bolshevik leader, whose activities have occasioned concern in allied circles. They are said to be expressing the belief that the question is open to orally and amicable adjustment.

Birth of Red Cross Idea
The suffering of soldiers in the Crimean war first directed the world's attention to the merit of systematic care for the wounded. In 1859 M. Henri Dunant was visiting Italy and witnessed the carnage of the battle of Solferino. He was so affected by the sight that he helped to care for the wounded. Out of his work grew the conference at Geneva, in 1863, and another in 1864. These conferences were the formal beginning of the Red Cross. The name and insignia were adopted. The American Red Cross was organized by Clara Barton in 1881.

Birds Foretell Weather Change.
Swallows are unerring in their instinct. If they are flying high, then an umbrella is not an immediate necessity. But when they are in search of their food, they skim along at a low altitude, it is safe to predict a downfall at no great period. The long-distance flyers, such as gulls and rooks, are well worth attention. They are not only weather-wise, but also common sense. They never venture far from home when bad weather is brewing.

Incompleteness.
How universal is the sense of incompleteness in human experience! Youth, maturity and even old age are ever reaching for the something else which they crave for the hour, which seems to be the essential need of the year while we occasionally meet natures who are bending every force of their working years to the end of attaining some great ambition, failing in which, life to them is but a fraction.—Robert Carroll.

United States Korean Treaty.
It was in 1882 that the first treaty with Korea was signed by the United States, and foreigners took up their residence with the exception at Changhai, the seaport of the capital, Seoul. Even with this foothold in the new country, the unwelcome visitors pushed their way but slowly into other parts of the kingdom, and as late as 1907 only a relatively small portion had been visited by white men.—National Geographic Magazine.

Loyalty Well Rewarded.
A Parisian with a sense of humor bequeathed 300 francs to each relative who abstained from attending his funeral. One poor relative insisted on following the deceased to the grave; and her loyalty was rewarded, for by a rodell to his will the deceased left the residue of his large fortune to those relatives who were prepared to sacrifice the 300 francs.

Ill and Nervous.
Nurses dislike the season of thunderstorms. "We are not afraid of lightning ourselves," a nurse in a woman's hospital told me, "but it has a harmful effect on the patients. Most sick people fear lightning. In cases of extreme weakness or nervousness a dozen flashes of blinding lightning render the patient to a state of utter prostration."

The Cult of Fashion.
Young lady at the theater to friend: "What do you think of this play?" "What? Why it's absurd! Three months are supposed to pass between the first and second acts, and the heroine's still got the same hat on!"

Theatre

The romantic and dramatic atmosphere of Monte Carlo supplies the environment of Geraldine Farrar's Golden Picture, "The Turn of the Wheel," at the Orpheum theater, commencing today. The only operator who has brought her high estate to the world of motion pictures and held it is provided by Goldwyn with a powerful drama.

Geraldine Farrar is Rosalie Dean, an American, who sees at the great gambling tables a young man feverishly watching the turn of the wheel. She cannot tell why she is attracted to him more than any man she has ever seen, but it explains why her sympathy goes to Marshall Grey when she sees his stakes swept away. Rosalie halts his hand when he is on the brink of suicide and her humane act brings the young man back to himself. They spend many wonderful days together, when an interruption comes in the form of detectives. Rosalie and Grey are arrested, she is charged with the murder of his divorced wife in New York. Rosalie has no trouble in establishing her identity and announces she will return to America with him. Grey will make no satisfactory explanation to his lawyer, nor to his elderly brother, whom he adores. This matter is had for Rosalie, but she is steadfast in getting at the truth. She becomes acquainted with Bertie, wife of Grey's brother, and at once distrusts her because of her intimacy with Wally Grey, whose reputation is not of the best. How she finally wrings a confession from the pair brings the play to a thrilling climax.

Baptized in a Balloon.
The child of a well-known member of the British parliament was recently christened in the crypt of the house if commoners. This is, in a sense, a reversal of the custom of baptism when christenings in crypts were by no means uncommon. In one recent case, in California, for instance, the ceremony was performed in a diving bell at the bottom of the sea. In another case the proud parents of the new arrival permitted a clergyman to baptize the child while up in a balloon.

Balancing Trade.
Where one country exports extensively to another and buys nothing from it the checks and drafts given in payment do not balance and it becomes necessary to ship gold or otherwise readjust accounts. This is expensive and makes it necessary to pay a premium in exchange. This premium is virtually an addition to prices paid. When it becomes too high purchases will be made in other markets. Thus will trade be lost unless it is balanced.

Have to Plead Out Truth.
You can draw your own conclusion from the fact that there isn't enough truth in existence to keep tongues of gossip constantly wagging.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS. Junior Red Cross.

Early in the participation of the United States in the world war, the American Red Cross perceived the value of mobilizing the children of the country and the Junior Red Cross was organized. Before the war ended nine million children were enrolled and helped in the war fund and membership campaigns, in chapter production of relief supplies and manufacturing furniture for the refugees whose homes and household goods were destroyed. Children everywhere in the United States responded to the call to service sounded by President Wilson as head of the American Red Cross. This photograph is that of an enthusiastic young Japanese member of the Junior Red Cross of Spokane, Wash., starting out on the ambitious undertaking of collecting "a mile of pennies" for war relief. A comprehensive peace program is now being worked out for the Junior Red Cross, which is being held intact.

POCATELLO (Special)—Residents of this city awoke this morning to find over an inch of snow covering the ground. This is the first snowfall of the season. The flakes disappeared rapidly under the warm rays of the sun.

Indian weather predictions on the coming winter vary widely. Many Indians predict the most severe winter in years, while as many more announce that the winter season will be short and very mild. A few are non-committal. Men returning from the hills say that the Indians in the Salmon river country are equally divided in their judgment as to weather conditions for the next few months.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS. In Serbia.

AN far back as the first winter of the war, the Red Cross sent to Serbia a sanitary commission that effectively checked the scourge of typhus, but after the United States entered the conflict, the Red Cross was able, in August, 1917, to send a full commission that carried on extensive relief operations among the suffering refugees of the tortured nation. Hospitals were established, the refugees fed, clothed and given medical attention, the army supplied with much needed dental treatment, farm machinery, and goods provided to help the Serbs to redeem their land to productivity, and, not least, measures undertaken for the succor of the children. The terrible condition into which these helpless victims of the war had fallen is well pictured by this photograph of a little Serbian girl wearing the rags and expression of hopeless dismay that were all she possessed, when the Red Cross came.

Obtain Off From Eggs.

The turtle living in the Orinoco lays eggs which are extraordinarily rich in oil. The Indians in British Guiana collect 25,000,000 yearly for making candles. The eggs of many sea birds are excellent eating. The best of the lot is said to be that of the "murre," a bird which is very common on the Labrador coast.

Proved Truth of Saying.

The saying, "United we stand, divided we fall," comes from one of Aesop's fables called "The Four Oxen and the Lion." Four oxen were attacked by a lion. They were safe when they turned their tails together, and presented their horns, but when they separated the lion killed them singly.

Contentious Never Popular.

The wise man in Israel has truly said: "A fool's lips enter into contention," and the contentious fool is as common a nuisance today as he was no doubt in the golden ages. Usually in proportion to their lack of actual knowledge do such persons presume to set themselves up as dictators to others.—Exchange.

The "White Feather"

The expression, "He showed the white feather," has its origin in reference to game cocks. Pure-bred game cocks have only red and black feathers, but crossbreeds have a white feather in the tail. The slightest impurity in strain is said to destroy the bird's pluck, hence the white feather is used to denote cowardice.

Soldiers Walked on Diamonds.

Two detachments of British troops literally walked on diamonds for a week or so during a trek they made in Southwest Africa during the war days. The march was through a famous gem field and at every halt the Diamonds sought for precious stones, many really valuable ones being found.

Old Bridge Stood for Centuries. The new London bridge was opened on August 1, 1891. This replaced the celebrated old bridge, built more than eight centuries before. It had 18 solid stone piers, with bulky stone arches and was covered from end to end with buildings. On the "bailor's gate," at one end, the heads of traitors were shown. It was removed on account of its obstruction to navigation.

MASONS MAKE NEW HISTORY

Degree and Social Session is Marked by Exceptional Musical Programs

Twin Falls Lodge No. 46, A. F. and A. M. made Masonic history when several hundred members of the craft gathered in the spacious hall last night for participation in one of the most interesting and important degree and social sessions the local lodge has, up to that time, engaged in.

The affair was begun at 4 o'clock with degree work, and was replete with features of salient interest and importance. Three candidates were raised to the final status of a Master Mason during the afternoon and evening, class being served midway in the ceremonies.

Of primary entertaining importance connected with the ceremonies was the attention paid to the musical programs during both the social and lodge periods. An orchestra provided an overture and special number while dinner was being served.

Plans are in the making for a short outside literary for the Temple quartet. There is a possibility that the organization will attend a musical booster banquet to be given in Buhl next Monday, when Governor Davis will be present.

Professional Enemies of Crocodile.

There are men whose business it is to catch crocodiles and who earn their living by that means. And whenever a human being has fallen a victim to a professional crocodile catcher, he is asked to help to destroy the murderer, and a large reward offered him. The majority of natives will not interfere with the reptiles, or take any part in their capture, probably fearing if they do anything of the kind they themselves may some time or other suffer for it by being attacked by a crocodile.

Opening of Panama Canal.

In 1914, on August 15, the Panama canal was formally opened to the world. The canal had been nine years in building. To Clean Diamonds.

Diamond dust is a fine dust produced from cutting diamonds. It is extensively used by jewelers, chiefly for cleaning diamonds. It may be prepared in any form, but is best with instructions for its use. Another quite satisfactory way to clean diamonds is to make a lather of soap, add a little ammonia and apply this cleansing preparation to the stones with a tooth brush.

Forgot Waiting Bride.

When Kenzie, the gifted tragedian, was married, he returned to the stage to play Hamlet on his wedding evening. Whether his mind became so absorbed in the character as to ignore all other matters of vital importance, he does not say, but he forgot his waiting bride and what had befallen him on that fateful day, and went off to his own room on the conclusion of the performance at the theater.

Flowers Foretell Rain.

The timely weather and all its varieties, including shamrock, are barometers. When rain is coming the leaves shut together like the shells of an oyster. For a day or two before rain comes their stems swell to an appreciable extent, and stiffen so that the leaves are borne more upright than usual. This stem swelling when rain is expected is a feature of many flowering grasses.

Paying tribute to the heroism, dauntless courage and terrific strength of George F. Huffman, deputy sheriff, Carl Olson and H. Wilson, desperadoes who recently broke jail here and were recaptured, today declared that had they not been armed with heavy weapons the officer would have overcome them both single-handed and without resort to the use of his gun.

"Huffman is a regular fighter," said Olson and H. Wilson, desperadoes who recently broke jail here and were recaptured, today declared that had they not been armed with heavy weapons the officer would have overcome them both single-handed and without resort to the use of his gun.

Used Heavy Weapons

"He fought us to a standstill," Wilson says. "I never encountered a man with such moxie as Huffman. He and I am convinced that had we not been pretty well armed we would never have got away. He battled both of us with his fists, and held his balls against the cell door while he called for help. I struck him across the knuckles and compelled him to let go his hold on the door. I used an iron bar from the mop bucket, opened the attack on Huffman which paved the way for their escape from jail a week ago.
