Six Dirigibles to Ply Between Liverpool, New York and Australia in Accordance with Plans

LONDON, (AP)—The proposed Liverpool-Australia-New York air service will be an enormous undertaking. The problem of supplying the necessary dirigible airships is but one of the items to be considered. They cost about $1,750,000 each to construct. At least six of these huge craft will be necessary to maintain these two services with any degree of regularity.

There are also to be considered the problems of suitable landing grounds and mooring-posts; the intention of the Great Northern Aerial syndicate being that aerodromes will be provided at the more important stations while mooring posts will serve as second-class stops or halts.

Aerodromes for dirigibles are required only at every 2,000 miles and it is now possible for an airship to be moored to or released from a mooring tower in any wind up to 40 miles an hour; yet the total financial backing considered necessary for such an undertaking is in the neighborhood of $10,000,000.

The mooring out station for airships which is in the form of a high tower enclosing an elevator shaft by which passengers and cargo will be taken up and down from the dirigible to 150 feet high. With a revolving head the airship can be rigidly attached to this tower by the nose, will ride clear of the ground in all weathers, and will swing with the direction of the wind.

Each of these towers will be provided with hoisting winch and rope by which the dirigible will be hauled up to the mooring post; also a supply base of hydrogen, fuel, and water ballast.

IRISH QUESTION DEBATE CENTER

Senator Walsh Starts Sharp Discussion by Calling Up His Resolution

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Treaty debate in the senate shifted back to the Irish question Saturday, Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, starting a sharp discussion of the subject by calling up his resolution to declare that the United States should be free of the question of Irish freedom before the league of nations as soon as it becomes a member.

Senator Walsh declared the United States would be responding to the overwhelming sentiment of the American people if it declared in the league for Irish independence.

Danah's Suggestions
Senator Penrose, republican, Pennsylvania, asked whether the United States could not do more for Ireland if it had six votes, like the British empire, in the league assembly and Senator Walsh replied in the negative, declaring if action were taken the decision must be unanimous. He also denied a suggestion by Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, that to present such a plea to the league would be in violation of Great Britain's territorial integrity as guaranteed by article ten.

Senator Lenroot also argued that if the Irish question could come within the league's jurisdiction, then the league could consider also the question of immigration, tariff and other matters regarded as purely internal.

Senator Walsh assured the senate his resolution was offered in the spirit of hostility either to Great Britain or Ireland but in the hope that it might aid in a solution of their difficulties.

Senator Penrose said the Walsh resolution was the "crowning, most insistent effort yet to 'bunko' the Irish."

Attacks Hitchcock Record
Senator Brandegee attacked the war record of Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the administration leader, referring to the latter's advocacy of an embargo and expressions of sympathy for Germany prior to America's entrance into the war.

HANDWRITING MAY SPELL CONVICTION OR LIBERTY

Experts at Work on Specimens of Penmanship to Determine Guilt or Innocence of Suspect

SACRAMENTO, Cal., (AP)—A twist of the letter "e" or the stroke of a "t" in the signature of a man charged with the slaying of Mrs. Ethel McGowan, formerly waitress in a Sacramento hotel, whose trial on a charge of sending a letter to Governor Stephens threatening to destroy the capitol will begin tomorrow in the superior court here.

Handwriting experts have been summoned by the prosecution to show similarities which are alleged to exist between the shaping of letters in the note to Governor Stephens, and in a letter acknowledged by Mrs. McGowan as her own.

The letter to Governor Stephens received December 17, 1918, said: "Will blow up Capitol if $500 not paid. Put under ink well on writing desk Land Hotel at 5 sharp."

"O O of C." In a letter written by Mrs. McGowan before witnesses said the word "capitol" is misspelled in the same manner as appeared in the "O O of C." letter and these documents were part of the evidence placed before the Sacramento county grand jury when an indictment was returned.

Mrs. McGowan was in Cheyenne, Wyoming, as an employee of the United States department of the interior when she heard of the indictment. She came at once to Sacramento and was released on $100 to await hearing.

Mrs. McGowan's husband, Thomas McGowan, had been an employe of one of the state departments as special investigator in connection with damage to the governor's mansion in 1917 by an explosion.

SOVIET CHIEF TORTURER ESCAPES DENIKINE ARMY

"Gorilla of the Red's" Fools the Hope of Avenging Cossacks at Soumy

SOUMY, Southern Russia, (AP)—This Russian White Russian volunteer army, but the hope of the Cossacks that with it they would capture the notorious Svyenko, called "the Gorilla of the Red's," was not realized. Three days before the city fell he had been ordered to Moscow by Trotsky.

To the American and Cross men who are engaged in relief work in the rear of Denikine's advancing army, the story of Svyenko was told on the first day of their arrival in Khar'kov. Evidence of Svyenko's madness met them on all sides.

Svyenko was a carpenter of Khar'kov, who was made chief torturer and executioner in that city of 800,000 people, for the six months of the Red administration. It is alleged that he organized a band of Chinese torturers and devised extreme cruelties.

At the fall of Khar'kov he was sent to Soumy where he continued his work of terrorism.

The fact that he was known to be in Soumy inspired the Cossacks with a special eagerness to capture the place, but on arrival here, they found that he had fled to Moscow, where he has followed at Khar'kov and Soumy.

QUEER FREAK SENT ELLER UP

Rise of the Beds' Star Twirler Came Through Unusual Series of Circumstances

NEW YORK, (Special)—There is not a big league club in the country that wouldn't like to have Hod Eller, pitching star of the Cincinnati club, on its payroll today. Yet few of the fans are aware of the route by which Eller rose to the majors, nor of the baseball tangle that L. R. Blackman, then secretary of the Moline club, one of the Three I leagues, unraveled for the young star back in the fall of 1916.

Eller and Barza of the Giants were pitching stars of the Moline and Davenport teams of the Three I, respectively, in 1916, hooking up in many a pitching duel with Moline finally winning a pennant. Eller was sold conditionally in the fall to the White Sox. He went on the spring training trip with the White Sox.

The night of April 30, 1916, Clarence Bowland, then manager of the Sox, called the secretary of the Moline club by phone.

"Eller isn't ready yet, but we'll give you $500 for him," he said.

"The contract calls for $2500 or Eller back by May 1. You couldn't have him for $2400. Put him on the train or send us the $2500."

So Eller returned to the Moline club for the 1916 season. But he was an officer in the state militia at Danville, Ill., and he was called home when trouble broke out on the Mexican border. When he finally rejoined the team there was trouble over his salary for the time that he was gone and he finally joined the Henry, Ill., Grays, a strong semipro club. He was suspended by Moline.

Cincinnati had two exhibition games scheduled with the Henry Grays that fall. Moline protested the playing of these games under the rules, which prohibit one club in organized baseball meeting any team outside organized baseball that harbors a player suspended by any other club in organized baseball.

The Henry Grays dropped Eller and Garry Hermann had then to play the games or be liable for failure to fulfill his contract. Eller was then called to Moline.

"Here's your chance to break into the big league," he was told. "Christy Mathewson knows pitchers. We want to sign you for a new contract for next season. Then we'll lift your suspension so that you can play in the exhibition at Henry. Go out there and show Mathewson what you've got and it's a cinch Cincinnati will draft you."

Hod went to Henry and he pitched against the Beds. Matty claimed him

KING ALFONSO IN PARIS

Spanish Monarch in Route to England Received by Officials in France

PARIS, (AP)—King Alfonso, who left Madrid last night for a brief visit to Paris on his way to England, reached here at 10:20 o'clock this morning. He was received by Stephen Pichon, the French foreign minister, and by representatives of the premier and the minister of interior.

Commenting upon the visit of King Alfonso to Paris, this morning's newspapers point out that Spain, having a seat in the executive council of the society of nations can no longer be considered neutral and must assume an important role in the world's affairs.

"This role," says the Echo de Paris, "accords with the echo history of Spain, threads of which King Alfonso is on the point of reuniting in the course of his forthcoming visit to South America."

Although the Spanish monarch comes to France incognito, this morning's newspapers agree in attaching great political importance to his visit. They say Alfonso is to pave the way for early negotiations "which the gravity of the economic and social crisis renders imperative."

DUBLIN, (AP)—One of the features of Dublin life, the Iveagh lodging house, has been closed permanently in consequence of a strike by the charwomen and women attendants. The institution was established by Lord Iveagh, the head of the brewing firm of Guinness, at a cost of 55,000 pounds, and accommodated over five hundred lodgers of the poorest class. It was not run for profit. In the strike the premises were picketed and prevented from obtaining supplies. The inmates were scattered among the already overcrowded tenements of Dublin, and many of them slept in the Phoenix Park.

The closing has caused great apprehension and a movement is on foot to secure the reopening of the lodging house before the winter.

Power on a Lean Mixture Requires a Complete Chain of Boiling Points in the Fuel

Con-O-co Gasoline makes motors lively, spry and powerful—because it burns up completely. It gives maximum power on a lean, quick-burning, clean-burning mixture that uses a high percentage of air.

The secret of Con-O-co economy and power is its unbroken chain of vaporizing or boiling points—low for quick ignition on the start, medium for strong, steady acceleration on the pick-up, high for mile-consuming power on the open road.

RUSSIAN LEPERS BENEFICIARIES

Representatives of American Red Cross Take Supplies to Forbidden Area

KISHINEV, Rumania, (AP)—The lepers of Brossa saw their first American cigars and received their first American shoes when two Red Cross men visited their ancient colony recently. Brossa is a village west of Odessa which was formerly an important Russian medical center for the care of leprosy.

Major Charles E. Spratt of New York City, and Major Lionel D. Hargis of San Francisco, brought with them to Brossa a supply of food, clothing and medicine. The cry of "Delanai! Delanai!" which means "Come here," did not deter the Americans who introduced themselves to the aged nuns in attendance. In a few minutes began the distribution of the American supplies from a Red Cross automobile.

Patients Stay at Distances

With nothing but their eyes showing through slits in their all-enveloping gowns, the lepers watched the proceedings at a respectful distance. Surgical dressings, antiseptics, bandages, American canned goods, several dozen shirts, pajamas and suits of underclothing with an assortment of shoes were spread before them.

"Which are the men?" Major Spratt asked the Mother Superior. A group of the shrouded figures moved forward.

"Do you smoke?" he asked them through an interpreter.

An eager chorus came from beneath the hoods.

"Then here you are! Light up!" and Major Spratt passed around a box of Havanas of his own stock.

Candy for Women

"And here's a box of Bouchart candy for the women," added Major Hargis.

As the Americans left the colony, the inmates ran after them crying out their thanks.

PRIMATE GUEST OF CHURCH MEET

Cardinal Mercier Appears Before Episcopal General Convention

DETROIT, MICH., (AP)—Cardinal Mercier, wearied from his long journey on his tour of the United States to thank the American people for the aid given Belgium, appeared before the triennial general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church here today.

It was feared that Cardinal Mercier might be unable to comply with the program outlined for the second day of his visit here. After a tiring day yesterday, when thousands of his countrymen and others welcomed him, it was stated by his physician that a visiting prelate was in need of rest.

Cardinal Mercier was officially received by the city today. In the afternoon he was taken to the Archer Hotel to receive from the university of Michigan the degree of doctor of laws.

The Episcopal convention, after receiving Cardinal Mercier, before the dinner upon what was expected to be its most momentous week. Most of the work preliminary to legislation has been completed and revision of the prayer book, consideration of the nationwide campaign on church extension and work on the three year budget will be finished. It is expected by the delegates. A place for the 1922 meeting will also be selected, both Philadelphia and Portland, Oregon, are being considered.

The convention will close Friday.

LADIES DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. The secret to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that this simple mixture was applied with "dip," faded or streaked appearance, wonderful effect.

But beware at home is tawny and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

KING HELPS IN HUNGRY RELIEF

Ruler of Rumania Comes to Assistance of Red Cross Workers in Gibiu

GIBIU, Rumania, (AP)—The picture of a king, with a linen duster covering his uniform, leading out soup and sugar to his hungry people is one that will live long in the memories of the girls on duty at the American Red Cross supply depot here.

It was a busy afternoon, for the crowd of peasant-seeking food was uncounted. Large as the small number of American girls were, it was not to be expected the line moving. The heat was intense and the little group of workers who had been on their feet for hours seemed about to collapse when suddenly from the doorway came a man's voice saying:

"I am ready for work, girls. What can you give me to do?"

He bent over and kissed Miss Ruby M. Applebee, of Minneapolis, straightened up to see from whom had come this offer of much needed aid and held before her King Ferdinand of Rumania, who by this time had advanced into the room.

Kings meant little then when hungry people were to be fed, so Miss Applebee suggested that the king first try his hand at the market. When he came to a distributing agent for the American Red Cross almost wrecked the proceedings, for his subjects could not quite grasp the idea of their king standing behind a counter and passing out canned goods. Seeing the confusion that resulted, the king suggested to an aide that the peasants dispense with all formalities, but it is certain that for ages to come some empty can once contained an American food product will occupy the place of honor in many a Rumanian household.

"They shouldn't be working," said one American girl that evening, "when his wife, Queen Marie, is the hardest worker of the American Red Cross has here in Rumania!"

DEFENSE SYSTEM REFORM IS URGED IN AUSTRALIA

Concentrated Course of Citizen Force Training Advised by Cabinet

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA, (AP)—Important and far-reaching reforms in the defense system of Australia are advocated in a report now being considered by the federal cabinet. The report is the work of an advisory committee of experts several of whom held commands at or near the front during the war. The committee points out that with the world in its present condition of unrest, there is a real guarantee against war, and it emphasizes the vulnerable position of Australia.

It recommends a concentrated course of civic force training during perhaps three months in a year under conditions approximating those of war. It further recommends organization of the Commonwealth military forces on divisional lines and the formation of machine gun and other new units sufficient to constitute six infantry and two cavalry divisions; establishment of divisional headquarters and skilled skeleton staff; an air service; and development of arsenal activities to ensure a reserve stock of ammunition and to enable Australia to manufacture munitions.

Dr. Evans, the optician, is at his office in Twin Falls this week but will be away next week after October 19.

BANQUET TO PRECEDE SALE OF SHORTHORNS

O. A. McMaster Will Be Host to Association Members on Wednesday Night

As a preceding "jolly-up" to their shorthorn sale of Thursday C. A. McMaster and son Frank will Wednesday night entertain members of the Twin Falls and South Side Shorthorn Breeders' association at a banquet. The affair will be held in the Roberson hotel dining room at 8 o'clock, and will be preceded by a business session, beginning at 6:30.

The business meeting has been called for the purpose of perfecting arrangements for a breeders shorthorn sale in January. The banquet music will be provided by the Temple Male Quartet.

At the sale the Model Farms Stock ranch, owned and operated by McMaster and son, will offer some of the biggest of Shorthorn Scotch and Top Scotch cattle. Twenty-five Scotch cows and heifers, said to be the best this ranch ever offered for sale in the northwest, will be put up, as well as the same number of Scotch top cows, with calves at their side. Others that are to be fresh soon. In addition McMaster & Son will offer six of the best Scotch bulls.

"This is not a show herd, but as useful a lot of breeding animals, of high individual merit and blood lines as was ever offered for sale in the northwest," said O. A. McMaster, who will be in charge of the sale. He adds that persons seeking foundation stock to start a herd or build up one need look no further. The cows presented in this herd are from three to six years old, and weigh from 1300 to 1500 pounds.

Leading an added interest in the coming sale Mr. McMaster offers to buy the best Scotch cow or heifer at 20 to 50 cent per pound from the cows sold at this event when the calves reach 13 months age, providing of course, the owner desires to sell. McMaster also offers a premium of $200 for the best three bull calves, and the best three heifer calves shown at the Twin Falls county fair in 1920 from the cows disposed of at Thursday's auction. The premium money will be divided $50 each for the best bull or heifer calf; $30 each for the second best and $20 each for the third best.

The McMaster Shorthorn sale is but one of a series of similar auctions to be held in the Twin Falls district during the present month. The first sale will be held by H. H. Schilman at Ellettsville on the following day, after which buyers will travel east to Burley, where W. H. French & Son of Farmington, Iowa, will have 40-head to go through the sale. After that French also the Hampshire sheep offering of Mr. Rosenberger at Rupert will hold the attention of those interested in Hampshire at Rupert the day following. It will be a remarkable gathering of buyers and good stock. It is the first sale circuit ever planned in Idaho.

INTERESTING CASE IS FINALLY SETTLED

Verdict of Lower Court in Mortgage Action is Reversed by Supreme Trial

Judge Edward A. Walters has received word from the supreme court of the state of Idaho that the decision rendered by Judge Babcock of the local district court in the case brought by the Boise-Payette Lumber company against Harry A. McCornick had been reversed.

McCornick had a mortgage on the planing mill of John J. Pilgerdin and the Boise-Payette Lumber Co., attached the machinery in the mill for an unpaid bill due it. McCornick claimed the machinery went with his mortgage and Judge Babcock so decided.

The case was appealed to the supreme court and a reversal obtained as the supreme court held that the machinery in the planing mill was not covered by McCornick's mortgage, but should pass to the Boise-Payette Lumber company under its attachment.

This is the first time a question of such a nature has been raised in this state and the outcome of the suit was watched with interest by the legal profession as well as investment houses. The demand dollars was involved in the result.

Great Majestic Range Bargain Week

SPECIAL DEMONSTRATION AND BARGAIN SALE OF

Majestic Ranges

AT OUR STORE—ONE WEEK ONLY
STARTS TODAY, OCTOBER 20
CONTINUES TO OCTOBER 25
To Be Truly Economical There Should Be a Majestic in Your Kitchen

Economy is not merely spending the least money—buying a range at too low a price is indeed false economy.

The first cost is not the only cost—the little additional first cost of a Majestic is nothing compared with its economy of fuel, durability and satisfactory service.

Nearly a million Majestic Ranges, now economically, scientifically and satisfactorily serving millions and millions of people, civilians and soldiers, is proof positive of their superiority over all others.

There is only one best. The public has judged. The Majestic is recognized as the standard of all ranges. The construction, material, workmanship and beauty of this wonderful range is unequalled, and it embodies important features possessed by no other range.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY IS HERE—

At our store—during our Majestic Bargain Week. It's your chance to get acquainted with real facts about ranges. We assure you it will be worth your while to investigate.

THE BARGAIN

—AND IT'S WELL WORTH YOUR WHILE!

Through special arrangements with the manufacturers, and during this Bargain Week only, a beautiful, useful and substantial set of Cooking Ware will be given with every Majestic Range sold. This ware is good ware (not cheap ware)—it's worth a lot to you. Come and see for yourself.

AND REMEMBER—

The price of a Majestic Range this week will not be increased, and there will hardly be a great reduction for years to come, if ever, but there may be an increase soon.

Two New and Important Features

The Wonderful Unseen Riveting—

Yes, it's rivet-tight, just like the old Majestic, but the rivets clinch inside of nicked parts, leaving nickel smooth as glass, and there are no big, bulky bolt-heads on the inside. And, remember, rivets hold tight; bolts with only one or two threads holding are bound to work loose and cause no end of trouble. The Majestic is smooth inside and outside—it's a striking beauty—more than skin deep.

If you haven't a MAJESTIC, avail yourself of this opportunity to get acquainted with this wonderful range—know the inside of ranges.

Oh, Joy! Top Needs No Blacking

A smooth, highly polished cooking top, burnished blue, not only adds to the beauty of the Majestic, but absolutely eliminates the work, dirt and worry of trying to keep the range looking nice—just an occasional thin coat of paraffine retains its beautiful velvet blue color.

SHORT SUGAR CROP IN 1921

Abundant Beet Seed Required in 1920 to Forestall Impending Famine

Shortage of sugar-beet seed in the United States for the 1921 planting will be serious unless the beet sugar companies and seed growers in this country arrange immediately for the production of a large part of their sugar beet requirements for that year. This statement by the United States department of agriculture is based upon unofficial but reliable reports from representatives of beet sugar companies and seed growers in several producing countries of Europe.

Situation Is Serious
The sugar-beet seed situation for 1921 is serious because of the limited production of sugar-beet seed in Europe as compared with former years, because of the increased activity in beet-sugar production in European countries, and because of the increased acreage planted to beets in this country in recent years. It is probable that several years will elapse before normal quantities of sugar-beet seed will be produced in European countries. American growers, therefore, must depend to a considerable extent upon home grown sugar-beet seed. There seems to be no good reason why this country should not produce its full requirement of sugar-beet seed annually. The domestic production of sugar-beet seed, now totaling millions of pounds, has demonstrated that sugar-beet seed of the highest quality may be produced in this country.

Little Seed for Import
Present indications are that there is sufficient sugar-beet seed, either imported or domestic, now in the hands of nearly all of the beet sugar companies in the United States to take care of the entire plantings of sugar beets in 1920, but there is very little foreign sugar-beet seed now available for importation, and that the foreign production in the immediate future will be limited. Since sugar-beet seed, stored under normal conditions will retain its vitality for several years, it would seem advisable for sugar companies to procure any sugar-beet seed of good quality now available and not more than two years old.

More U. S. Production
The domestic beet-sugar production is increasing rapidly. In 1918 about 6000 acres were planted to beet roots for seed in the United States. Unfortunately drought interfered with a normal production in some localities, but the resulting reduction in yield was local and temporary and is not expected to prevent or retard efforts being made to produce in this country a normal quantity of sugar-beet seed to meet the American requirements for 1921, and the years following.

In order to produce a crop of seed next year for 1921 planting it will be necessary to select the beet roots this fall, pit them so they will not freeze during the winter, and plant them as early as soil and weather conditions will permit in the spring. Information as to procedure may be obtained through the office of sugar plant investigation, bureau of industry, department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

SMALL DAMAGES ALLOWED
In the condemnation proceedings brought by the Idaho Farm Development company against Samuel C. Dunn, Martha Dunn and J. M. Braden, the commissioners have awarded damages amounting to $100 in favor of the latter three.

JURY DISAGREES
In the action involving possession of a shack, valued at $75, brought in the probate court Saturday afternoon, in which W. C. Hall was the plaintiff and Joseph Adamson, the defendant, the jury disagreed.

These Be Days of Melancholy; Th' Poet Saith

THEY are brown October days right enough, with all their leaves that still maintain with some tenacity a precarious hold on stem and branch, here to a stage beyond the gold that the poet strews about.
Walks are carpeted with an alcohol, shifting tapestry—would you say it just that way if you had your feet planted in the softness of the wind (pronounced as though it were your regular nocturnal obligation after kicking out the end, or as though you were about to start your tin Pezassa, manufactured in Detroit).
Anyway that's as far as the inspirational muse on this fair October day, that smells of nothing stronger than sweet apple cider, since the gods have banished any and all birds from the Brown October Ale of Robin Hood days.
There is not a flak (my, my!) that isn't very poetic, but they were going to say there is not an iota, jot, little, grain, scrap, whiff or particle (believe all the synonyms are there) of doubt that autumn is here and that the melancholy days for the many, what with living tottering perilously over the abyss of destruction from the peak of cool's high noon, and nothing in which to submerge the sorrow.
It was 54 degrees for high yesterday and 36 for low tonight, with a barracade promising of more of the same tonight and tomorrow.

THREE-QUARTERS OF MECHANICAL FORCE OUT OF EMPLOYMENT TODAY

Strike Order Affects Large Percentage of Mechanists Employed in Auto Shops—Many Men Refuse to Work, Others Are Dismissed by Operators—Departments to Be Closed.

At least 75 per cent of the auto mechanics and auto mechanists located in Twin Falls today are unemployed. The situation results either from voluntary refusal to work under house conditions, after refusal of operators to accept a union agreement, or by discharge from service.
Every shop in town is affected by the strike order, and a large number of the institutions are operating short-handed, some having closed their repair departments pending adjustment of the trouble. The Ford institution is the only one reporting a full working mechanical force today. It is understood picketing of all houses declining to meet the demands of the union will be started this afternoon.

Show Little Concern
Auto sales houses, generally speaking, are making little attempt to keep their mechanical forces to the maximum, most of them displaying a disposition to close their repair departments for the winter. Explanation is made that from this time on repair business will probably be more or less light, and the only inconvenience through the closing will accrue to the riding public.
"We have six men out of sixteen, and two more will start work this afternoon. That force will enable us to catch up with what work we have produced in this country."

DRINKS EXTRACT; THEN JUNKS THE CHINAWARE

Dishwasher at Grill Makes Merry after Acquiring Riot-out Jag

In a desperate attempt to quench an insatiable and burning thirst, carried over from the days when prohibition was not a national institution of morality, Roy Scutcheff, booked as "pearl diver" on the sheriff's dock, drank all the viable supply of extracts in stock at the Grill cafe on Sunday. Then he fought the supply of chinaware and created as much havoc as the famed Taurus among the Havahand.
Scutcheff had been employed as dishwasher at the Grill, but is now on his way to pastures new, where he can have only pure water to slake his thirst. He has pledged to find work on a farm, and on November 15 is due to appear before the city magistrate to liquidate a fine of $37.50, imposed as a punishment for the Sabbath escapade.

MALT FERMENT FOUND IN RAID

Swain Again Arrested on Contraband Charge—Bottled Goods Taken

Swain is in jail again. He was arrested about three weeks since on charge of dispensing whiskey at a hot price per drink in the Grill cafe.
This time Swain is accused of bringing in from certain ingredients with a leavening of hops and such requisite natural elements for the real Pilseener.
Second Alleged Offense
Swain, after the alleged offense in the Grill cafe, obtained his release from bondage by posting $500 appearance money. His second fall from grace and rectitude occurred during the past 24 hours. He was found in a part of a house at 400 Main avenue south, surrounded, it is related by the police, by filled bottles of amber liquor, presumed to be of an intoxicating nature, while on a nearby bench was found a candy pail two thirds filled with a concoction in a high stage of fermentation, and around all the odor of a well regulated grogshop.
The bottled goods, amounting to 24 quarts, together with the malt ferment, were confiscated by the authorities, J. H. Swain being borne along in the tide of the raid.

Has Suspicious Appearance
The concoction in the pail is heavy of sliced lemon and corn meal, with some evidence of grape or apricot content, composing a sort of spiced fruit punch. The bottled goods were found in a suitcase and wooden box. Samples of this liquor and that discovered in the jail have been submitted to an expert for chemical analysis.
The place in which Swain was found with the forbidden juice is a four-room shack leased to Mrs. H. M. Farber, who occupies half of the house. The woman claims to have had no knowledge of any illicit vocation being engaged in about the premises.
Swain's initial arrest on a contraband charge was effected by the superintendent of state constabulary, who, it is alleged, was in the Grill cafe at the time Swain offered whiskey for sale at public auction.

Appeals Are Made
It is said that in some cases union men now unemployed have appealed for reinstatement, some asking to be restored to good standing now, and others petitioning for the right to reinstatement when the strike is adjusted.
There was a general paying off of union men at the garage last Saturday night, tools being distributed at the same time, an act said to be equivalent to discharge.
At union headquarters announcement is made that C. G. Edwards, organizer for the International Association of Machinists, will reach Twin Falls this afternoon from Butte, and will take charge of the strike situation, directing operations from headquarters.

LABOR UNREST IN EAST IS INJURING BUSINESS

Mayor Eldridge Tells of Unusual Trade Situation Through the Strikes
"Commercial conditions in the east are good in spots," says Mayor W. H. Eldridge, who returned Saturday from a long sojourn in Vermont.
The spotted condition of prosperity is due entirely to the labor situation in various districts, the mayor declares. He adds that the country's trade cannot be properly stabilized under the present situation of unrest, which brings about a decided lack of production.
Mayor Eldridge received Twin Falls papers during the entire time he was absent from the city, and believed he was keeping pace with the progress of the town through published accounts of business.
"I knew the business district all right, but I was almost lost in the maze of new buildings that have risen in my own section of town since I went away," he announces.
