Anti-Bolshevik Press Expresses Disgust over Suggestion Made by Premier Lloyd-George for Attempt at Peace

BALTIC STATES LIKELY TO INVITE THE SOVIET

Question for Esthonia Not of Peace But Cessation of Hostilities to Save Existence, Prime Minister Declares

HELSINKI, (P)—Opinion in political circles here is that the Baltic states and Poland at the conference being held at Dorpat will reach an agreement to invite the Bolsheviks to send representatives to Dorpat on Nov. 10 to discuss with them the question of peace.

It is considered unlikely that Finland will enter into the negotiations at the present time.

"For Esthonia it is not a question of peace with the Bolsheviks, but a cessation of hostilities in order to save our existence," said Premier Strandmann, the Esthonian prime minister, in an interview today.

"We cannot fight indefinitely," Mr. Strandmann continued. "Our financial and economic condition will not permit this. Our military supplies are exhausted, those from England having ceased, and Esthonia and the other border states have no reason to fight longer."

LONDON, (P)—Great Britain has no intention of opening peace negotiations with Lenin and his associates.

Mr. Bonar Law made this statement in answering questions with reference to Premier Lloyd George's speech at the Guild hall on Saturday, in which he was supposed to have hinted of an attempt to negotiate peace with the Bolsheviks in Russia. He declared that the premier had simply expressed the hope that there would be some method of achieving peace with Russia.

LONDON, (P)—Premier Lloyd George's hint in his Guild hall speech Saturday night of an attempt to negotiate peace with the Bolsheviks in Russia has created a stir here.

The Daily Mail says the idea of "shaking hands with a scoundrel," and generally denounces the suggestion, which, it says, caused great amazement in political circles.

The Daily News, which is antagonistic to the premier, and strongly in favor of making peace with the Bolsheviks, accuses Mr. Lloyd George of inconsistency and insincerity.

Poincare to Talk on Effect of Pact

PARIS, (P)—Considerable importance is attached by the press to the visit of Poincare to England. According to Marcel Hutin, writing in the Echo de Paris, the president and Foreign Minister Poincare, will accompany him, will discuss with Premier Lloyd George and Earl Curzon, British foreign minister, questions relating to putting the peace treaty into effect, taking into account new dispositions by the United States.

The Russian problem, according to the writer, especially in view of the recent utterances of Premier Lloyd George, also will be the subject of discussion.

Argues for League as the Lesser Risk

STOCKHOLM, (P)—In an address Sunday in which he sketched the government's policy, Premier Eden advocated that Sweden enter the league of nations. He said the organization was not perfect and that joining it would mean serious duties and perhaps risks for Sweden, but that the risk of being left outside the league would be still greater.

GENEVA, (P)—Talaat Bey, former grand vizier of Turkey, has succeeded in entering Switzerland under an assumed name, according to the Tribune, which adds that he proposes establishing a center in the country for Young Turkey propaganda.

GENEVA, (P)—The revolution predicted in Switzerland by the socialists for November 7 failed to materialize. The second anniversary of Bolshevik accession to power in Russia passed off quietly. Meetings were held in many towns, but the police were not obliged to interfere and not a single arrest was made.

ADVANCE OF BOLSHIEVIK ALONG TIUMEAN SLOWER

Siberian First Army Holds the Eetz River Against Soviet Forces

OMSK, (P)—The advance of the Bolsheviks has been slowed somewhat astride the Tiumean railway, the Siberian first army holding at present the Eetz river from Malishinko on the north to the front of Galishanov-Kozakova-Dabenski-Petrovovsk.

Petrovovsk was first entered by Bolshevik troops which crossed a ford in the Ishim river and appeared in the rear of the Siberian outposts. The Siberians stoutly resisted the Bolsheviks and held the town for some hours, but were finally forced to evacuate it. The bridge over the Ishim river is intact. A column of Orenburg Cossacks is reported to be approaching Petrovovsk from the northwest for the purpose of attacking the right flank of the Bolshevik forces.

LABOR LEADERS PREDICT CONTINUED COAL STRIKE

Declare International Officers of United Mine Workers of America Meeting at Indianapolis, Will Not Rescind Strike Order as Directed by Federal Judge Anderson, Regardless of Consequences; Injunction Proceedings Called Autocratic in Extreme

A. F. OF L. PROMISES SUPPORT AND SOLICITS ENDORSEMENT OF WALKOUT

WASHINGTON, (P)—Labor leaders predicted today that international officers of the United Mine Workers of America, meeting at Indianapolis, would not call off the strike as directed by Federal Judge Anderson, whatever the consequences may be.

Holding that the action of the government in injunction proceedings against striking bituminous coal miners is "so autocratic as to stagger the human mind," the executive council of the American Federation of Labor said last night in a statement issued that the miners' walkout was justified, promised for the strike the entire support of organized labor and asked aid and indorsement for it from the general public.

The Lever act, under which the government acted in the court proceedings never was enacted to apply to workers, the council asserted, and its use against the miners was classed as "an injustice not only to workers, but to all liberty-loving Americans."

The council, in its statement, presented at length the history of the negotiations which led up to and precipitated the coal strike, declaring "that the officers of the United Mine Workers did everything in their power to avert this great industrial struggle."

MINERS' COMMITTEE GIVES NO INFORMATION OF ACTION

INDIANAPOLIS, (P)—The general committee of the United Mine Workers of America, which met here today to take action on the mandatory injunction of Federal Judge Anderson demanding that the strike order be rescinded before 4 p. m. tomorrow, was still in session at 1 o'clock this afternoon and no intimation of what the action of the committee would be was given out.

MIDDLE WEST IN GRIP OF STORM COMMUNICATION LINES CRIPPLED

Trains from East, West and North into Denver from Three to Five Hours Behind Schedule as Result of Blizzard Following Twelve Hours' Snowfall over Wide District; Heavy Loss of Livestock Feared when Mercury Drops Suddenly Below Zero

CHICAGO, (P)—Sweeping eastward, a severe blizzard is raging today over the Mississippi valley states, crippling the telegraph and train services. Western Minnesota, Colorado, North and South Dakota and Nebraska were in the grip of the storm.

DENVER, Colo., (P)—Telegraphic and telephonic service out of Denver is seriously crippled by storms today. Trains from the east, west and north are from three to five hours behind schedule as the result of a blizzard that followed twelve hours of heavy snowfall over a wide district.

Eight miles of poles of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company were reported down east of North Platte, Neb. That company has a wire outlet to the south only. The Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies' wires were working to the east and these companies also had limited service to the west.

A heavy loss of livestock on ranges in the northern part of Colorado is feared, as the blizzard struck that part of the state without warning. The snow covered with snow to an average depth of a foot. Kansas and Nebraska also reported heavy snow and high winds. The mercury dropped below zero in several parts of the storm area.

The leading theater in Denver gave its ticket money back last night because the company scheduled to appear was snowbound somewhere in Nebraska. The fuel situation in several places is causing anxiety.

SOUTHERN ALBERTA IN GRIP OF ANOTHER STORM

LETHBRIDGE, Alberta, (P)—Southern Alberta is in the grip of another storm today. Winter weather has been continuous since October 21, nearly twenty inches of snow having fallen. Sunday was the first day since the storm started that it thawed, and this resulted in a heavy dust on the snow, making the outlook for feed for the stock worse than ever. Hay is arriving at southern Alberta points somewhat more freely in the past few days.

EVIDENCE LINKS MCKAIG UP WITH SOCIALIST IDEA

Nonpartisan League Leader in Idaho, Sueing Former Governor and Newspaper for Libel, Reveals Associations

BOISE, (Special.)—Out of the mass of testimony, published in more or less detail by the Boise dailies, many of the high lights may have been brought to light in the case of Ray McKaig against former Governor Gooding and the State.

In this case McKaig sued for $50,000 alleging that the defendants libeled him in the publication for an advertisement during the campaign of 1918 in which McKaig was connected with the notorious Kate O'Hare, socialist, convicted for seditious utterances and active during the war.

The charge was made in the advertisement that McKaig was present during the trial of the O'Hare woman and that he had encouraged her and her sister, and expressing the hope that she would come out all right, or worse, during the trial.

McKaig denied this but in his cross-examination he admitted he was present at the trial and although a total stranger to Kate O'Hare went up to her in the court room, gave a greeting from a socialist leader in Idaho, Russell Macey of Boise, and expressed the wish that she would be able to disprove the charges.

It is pointed out in this connection that McKaig's interest in this total stranger was unusual under his own admission and considering the character of the charges against her and the fact that she had been a leading factor in the national socialist convention at St. Louis in formulating and securing the adoption of resolutions condemning the United States for conducting a war against Germany.

His Loyalty to Townley
During the trial, although McKaig undertook an ordeal it appears he was not inclined toward socialism, he openly declared his loyalty to Townley, head of the Non-partisan league, of which McKaig is a leader in Idaho, expressing the belief that Townley was loyal and denouncing the verdict of the jury that found Townley, too, guilty of seditious activities during the war.

McKaig had used the name of Roosevelt many times in his campaign for the Non-partisan league. His indignation was called to the fact that Roosevelt had roundly condemned Townley against the charges of which he had been convicted, which summarized the accusation of Roosevelt.

McKaig and Kate O'Hare
McKaig in his admissions denied he had knowledge of the fact that Kate O'Hare had said the mothers of American soldiers were no better than cows and that she had said that the American soldiers were fit only to fertilize the soil of France, but a Mrs. Evans, brought from North Dakota as a McKaig witness, who went with McKaig and others to the O'Hare woman's trial, said on cross-examination that she had learned the truth of these statements before McKaig went up to the O'Hare woman during the trial.

McKaig, however, refused to admit that he knew of the seditious statement charged against the O'Hare woman, although widely published.

Operations of Socialists
The Non-partisan league organizers in Idaho were gone into. These, it appears, had mostly been employed by McKaig or on his recommendation and he worked with practically all of them. He testified that one of those with whom he admitted he had worked in

WOMEN'S ONLY NEWSPAPER SUSPENDS PUBLICATION

Inhabitants of Northwest Corner of Continent Will Receive No Regular News Report

NOME, Alaska. (AP)—Trappers, miners and others of this far northwestern corner of the continent who for years have looked to Nome for their news of the outside world will receive no regular news report this winter, on the Nougat, Nome's only newspaper, has decided to suspend publication.

For some time the Nougat has been the only newspaper in this part of the world, and for more than a year it has been the only paper here receiving a daily news report. Fairbanks, Alaska, nearly 1,000 miles away, will be the source of news for this part of the country.

NOME, once one of the largest gold camps of the north, at one time supported several newspapers. This year so many people are leaving in the last steamer that a newspaper would not pay.

PLAN GREATER HONEY OUTPUT

Idaho University Established Apiary Extension—Many Enroll

BOISE, (Special).—More than 1,000,000 pounds of annual honey production in Idaho are represented by the 79 persons who were registered for the beekeeping short course offered by the University of Idaho extension division and the United States bureau of entomology here, for the week just past. This estimate was made by the extension division, on the basis of registration figures.

This 1,000,000 pounds of honey, which represents only a fraction of the annual honey production of southern Idaho and eastern Oregon, would be worth nearly a quarter of a million dollars, P. E. Burrill, secretary of the Idaho-Oregon Honey Growers association, states that this year's crop of members of that association will amount to six or seven cars of honey, and about 30 cars of extracted honey, the total value of which would be a little over $235,000, for somewhat more than 1,000,000 pounds. This does not include the crop of eastern or northern Idaho, or of independent producers in the Boise and Payette valleys.

One man, who took the short course, registered that he was obtaining an annual crop of 200,000 pounds from 2,000 hives. The register indicated that the average was about six pounds to the colony.

The lecturers at this short course were E. F. Phillips, apiculturist of the United States bureau of entomology, U. S. Department of Agriculture; A. P. Sturtevant, in charge of bee disease investigation. They went from Boise to Yakima, Wash., to conduct a similar course. They will do a few weeks' work in California, and a week's work in Texas, returning to Washington, D. C., at about Christmas time.

WINTER BRINGING TESTS FOR GERMAN EXISTENCE

All Depends on Whether Soul of People is Healthy, Says Assembly Head

FREIBURG, (AP)—If Germany safely passes through the winter the nation will be saved, in the opinion of Herr Fehrenbach, president of the national assembly, who expressed this view in an address before the Catholic celebration here.

"It all depends on whether the soul of the people is still healthy," he declared.

"The men who are now at the head of the government are probably not all highly educated individuals but it must be said of them that they are fully conscious of their responsibility and are diligently striving to lead us out of our present misery. They are fully as wise as many a former chancellor and royal minister."

BUCKINGHAM PALACE TO HOUSE FRENCH EXECUTIVE

King and Queen of England to Pay Special Courtesy to Visiting Head of Republic

LONDON, (AP)—When President Poincare of France pays his visit to the King and Queen of England he will occupy the famous Belgian rooms in Buckingham palace, a courtesy which in itself is recognition of M. Poincare's position as head of one of the great powers. These rooms were assigned to President and Mrs. Wilson when they were guests of the British sovereign.

This apartment was arranged, decorated and furnished in 1903 by Queen Victoria for the presentation of her uncle, King Leopold, and his second wife, daughter of Louis Philippe, would visit London frequently. As time passed it became the custom for the Belgian rooms to be occupied by any sovereign or prince who were guests at the palace.

SWITZERLAND'S INCOME FROM TOURISTS DECLINES

GENEVA, (AP)—Switzerland's annual income from tourists, which before the war amounted to $200,000,000, has dropped to about $200,000 since the war. This is attributed to restrictions on visitors resulting from an attempt to exclude Bolshevick sympathizers and pro-Germans. One Swiss paper says: "We don't want ex-kings and ex-emperors, but our former honest clientele."

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, Eng. (AP)—The nation that smokes perishes, declares R. E. Mowbray, honorary statistician to the British Anti-Tobacco and Anti-Nicotine League of Manchester.

In the year 1917, he says, the British people smoked 152,216,700 pounds of tobacco, costing the smokers approximately $487,600,000. Pipes and other appliances came to $22,684,000 making a total for the year of more than $510,000,000.

The following year the amount increased to 164,836,800 pounds smoked, valued at $603,705,500 with pipes and appliances costing $23,200,700.

From these figures it would appear that the consumption of tobacco in 1918 increased over 1917 by 12,623,100 pounds, or 8.20 per cent, and the extra cost was $17,074,500, or 34.37 per cent. The total expenditure for the two years was $1,212,450,000, a figure which leads Mr. Mowbray to exclaim:

"Has the nation gone mad over tobacco?" He continues, "It is not doing—what effect will it have on the future generations?"

The query is answered by the late Sir W. B. Richardson as follows: "If a community of youths of both sexes, whose prognoses were finely formed and powerful, were to be trained to the early practice of smoking and if marriage were to be confined to the smokers, an apparently new and a physically inferior race of men and women would be bred." Mr. Mowbray calls on the medical profession to "this formidable danger to the nation and warn women especially as to the injurious effects of tobacco smoking."

TUESDAY'S VICTORY CELEBRATION TO EQUAL JULY 4 OBSERVANCES

Elaborate Plans Complete for Appropriate Commemoration of First Annual Armistice Day—American Legion Has Charge, Aided by Individual and Associated Patriots of District

Vieng with the holiday in celebration of the nation's first commemoration of the signing of the armistice bringing to a virtual close the greatest of all nation wars.

Tuesday, November 11, which is tomorrow, has been set apart by the appropriate observance of this, one of the greatest of all days in our history. The country at large, together with many of the countries of Europe, will participate in this glorious event. The day is planned to equal in extent of celebration the nation's program of celebrating each July 4, the breaking of the fetters that bonded America with England by the signing of the declaration of independence.

Locally the program is in charge of the American Legion, men who had to do with delivering the final punch that led to the routing of the Hun barons on the battlefronts of France and Belgium a year ago. The legion will be assisted by all other patriotic bodies in Twin Falls, aided and supported by citizenry at large.

Tomorrow is Armistice Day, and it is to mean in the celebration all that the word itself implies. It is the first celebration of the sort ever held—a milestone in the career of the country and the world. It is to be a celebration of Americanism. The commemoration opens with early day and will not close until the last minutes of the day have struck.

The program includes all the "specialties" ever a feature of such occasions. Americanism is to be the watchword of the day, and as all people participate in the celebration of July 4, so are all people who compose the true and loyal American expected to lay aside their working tools tomorrow and join in the festive occasion. There must be no "slackers."

Tomorrow's program has many unique features. There will be a "chow" period, which the jule-feeding meet of two hundred men will be served. A military band will provide music during the day, songs of wartime predominating the concert and march programs. The birth and story of the growth of the American Legion will be the text of a paper by the poet historian, Dr. Harold McGrath, and there will be dancing throughout the afternoon and evening. The "chow" day in the city park.

Armistice day will be adopted by the Red Cross here as a general roundup day for the third membership campaign, Saturday was "Button" day in the big push; tomorrow is designated "Roundup" day. During the war the American Red Cross proved a prime factor in aiding our fighting men who fared forth with knapsack and gun to fight the battle of world freedom. This "roundup" will conclude a week's push for membership.

MISS DUNAWAY COMES FOR LYCEUM NUMBER

Tonight in the Lavering theatre the Miss Dunaway will present the second number of the season's Lyceum course. Miss Dunaway will appear in "Just Plain Judy," an adaptation of "Daddy Longlegs."

Miss Dunaway comes in the wake of notices tolling of immense success for the play interpreter wherever she has thus far appeared. She has been identified with the work a number of years and is recognized as one of the stars of the American platform in this line of artistry.

Of her appearance recently the "Macon, Georgia, Telegraph," says: "Miss Dunaway, in the Lyceum course, gave the story of 'The Lady' in the most fascinating way imaginable. She first came as the Soldier Girl. All of her bonhomie and all of her bright, happy moments, Miss Dunaway brought out before her audience—having them doubled with laughter on many occasions, furiously wiping away tears the next. Miss Dunaway is not only exceedingly clever, but has the most charming, irresistible little laugh ever heard in a feminine make-up. Miss Dunaway drew the third largest audience of the entire Lyceum course this year in Macon. Senator LaFollette and the Kneisel Quartet drawing larger audiences."

GOVERNMENT IS TRACING PROFITEER TO HIS LAIR

Officials sources procedure in determining whether excessive profiteering is taken.

LANCASHIRE, (AP)—According to Controller Hinds of the government, every effort is to be made to track the British profiteer to his lair. He took as an illustration a complaint that might be made against a tailor for overcharging for a suit of clothes. "The tailor," he said, "will be obliged to produce the material, and show what he had in store for the material and for labor. He may contend that he is not making an unreasonable profit, and it may be found that he is paying too much for his cloth. In that case the central committee, which is able to tell almost to a fraction of a penny the cost through all stages of manufacture, will see if the cloth is too dear. It will be the duty of the committee, in fact, to trace back every price to its source."

"THE MASQUERADER"

not in past seasons, BUT RIGHT NOW—THE SAME EXCELLENT COMPANY—THE ONE THAT HAS PRESENTED THIS ATTRACTION SINCE IT BEGAN—The same wonderful scenic equipment—with its double revolving stages—its three mechanical crews—its triple electrical equipment and inimitable resources that requires three mammoth cars to transport; will be seen in

TWIN FALLS WEDNESDAY, NOV. 19

WHEN NEGOTIATIONS BEGAN for this wonderful organization, the writer thoroughly investigated its merits and magnitude—for the very excellent reason that the terms demanded appeared—at first glance—to be almost prohibitive. I have, however, become thoroughly convinced Twin Falls and its vicinity, will sufficiently patronize this unusual amusement to warrant bringing MR. POST, HIS ORIGINAL CAST AND THREE CARS OF EQUIPMENT TO THE LAVERING THEATRE, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19.

THE STAGE OF THE LAVERING THEATRE IS LARGER THAN MOST STAGES THROUGHOUT THE WEST, and yet by actual measurement the stage had to be enlarged to accommodate this massive production, and only that is made available by removing every vestige of house scenery and equipment, in fact the Manager for Mr. Post made a special trip to this city and personally measured the stage to make certain of its adequate dimensions.

IT IS WITH PARDONABLE PERSONAL PRIDE that I can and do assure the amusement lovers of the valley of the unusualness of this production. Mail orders will be received and reserved in order of reception now. The usual and customary box office sale will open TUESDAY, AT 10 O'CLOCK.

PRICES — The same as Portland, San Francisco and all other cities will range from $1.00 to $2.50. I desire to state while there is still chance for the Theatre to make profit from this exceptional engagement, I feel certain amusement lovers will be amply rewarded by its continued and appreciated patronage.

Respectfully,
E. C. LAVERING
