GERMANS WOULD TRADE POTASH FOR U. S. COAL

Syndicate Renews Negotiations with America Looking Toward Agreement

BERLIN, (AP)—The German Potash Syndicate is negotiating with America again, says the North German Gazette which believes it will be able to reach an agreement in regard to the exchange of potash for American coal. The negotiations took place between the Germans and Americans last spring but failed, says the paper, because American officials thought it could rely on its own potash for potash and that the German officials, whereupon Germany sold her output, which was intended for the United States, to Sweden.

Negotiations, says the Berlin paper, have now been resumed to enable the German potash mines, of which 120 are crippled through lack of coal while others have only 25 per cent enough fuel, to buy American coal with their own potash and to sell potash to America at dollar rates.

Other negotiations are also under way between Germany and Holland for milk and dairy products in exchange for potash.

Federal Attorneys Prepare to Make Use of Evidence Against Alleged Violators of Strike Injunction Gathered by Secret Service Agents

THREATENED INDUSTRIAL PARALYSIS MENACES WAGE EARNING THOUSANDS

INDIANAPOLIS, (AP)—Information charging eighty-four international and district officers of the United Mine Workers of America with criminal contempt of court for alleged violation of the injunction issued here by United States District Judge A. B. Anderson, was filed this afternoon. Clashes returnable Tuesday in the case of defendants in this jurisdiction, were issued and arrests will be made as soon as possible.

Judge Anderson fixed the bonds in each case at $10,000. Defendants living outside this federal court district will be served as soon as possible, according to Dan W. Simms, special United States district attorney in charge of enforcement of the injunction, and removal of proceedings will be instituted at once for their return to Indianapolis on the contempt citations.

Defendants in Indiana include Acting President John L. Lewis, Secretary-Treasurer William Green, both of whom are in Indianapolis, and Edward Hart and William Mohr of Terre Haute, president and secretary respectively of District No. 11 of the United Mine Workers. The proceedings are against the national officers and the district officers who are charged with enforcement of the original injunction proceedings.

It has become known that a mass of evidence against alleged violators of the strike injunction has been collected by agents of the department of justice and that proceedings will be instituted immediately. Government attorneys take the position that statements made by individual miners which might be viewed as encouragement of the strike or agreement by any two members to refrain from work constitute a violation of the injunction.

No mines are operating in Indiana.

MINERS OPERATORS GATHER AT CAPITAL TO MAKE PLANS

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Mine operators from all parts of the country gathered here today to work out details of the 14 per cent wage increase suggested by the government for bituminous coal miners.

It was said that the findings of the central field committee probably would be submitted to the administrator Garfield for ratification, but that several days would be needed to work out problems presented.

Continued in official circles was made although production figures available showed no increase in daily tonnage. This is now estimated semi-officially at better than 40 per cent normal.

In the central district, however, hardly a pound of coal is being produced, except by wagon mines and a strip pit or two, operators said.

FURTHER DISRUPTION OF INDUSTRY IS IN PROSPECT

CHICAGO, (AP)—Further disruption of national industry, because of the fuel shortage brought about by the strike of bituminous coal miners was in prospect today. Regional directors of railroads had authority to suspend passenger trains and to suspend mail service at non-unionized and many additional manufacturing plants throughout the country faced shutdowns.

State executives, who under appeal from their constituents for aid, usually have sought ways and means for replenishing the rapidly dwindling fuel supply, today virtually without encouragement as regarded increased production. Only in isolated instances were there reports of a change of front on the part of the miners. Generally the workers obstinately adhered to their demands for a return to the terms of the mines until better terms than the 14 per cent wage increase decreed by the government were forthcoming.

Slight Easy of Slope

A slight ray of hope, however, was found in optimistic reports from operators of the district embracing south-eastern Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia that the lackening of the strike here had begun to bring a return to work of miners at one Missouri mine with the statement that they as Americans could not see their neighbors suffer.

On the other hand, cutting off of electric advertising and other non-essential use of power and fuel, with the added prospect of further curtailment of industry brought to the general public a rather gloomy outlook. It was estimated that with reductions of working staffs already made or threatened should the strike not be broken immediately, the number of employees thrown out of work soon would surpass several times over the approximately 400,000 mine workers involved in the walkout.

GERMANY WILL NOT AGREE TO PEACE TERMS

Notifies Paris Conference of Decision Not to Sign Protocol as Condition for Putting the Treaty in Effect

COUNCIL PROTESTS AT INCREASING ARMAMENT

Attitude of Late Enemy Seems to Confirm Reports of Sharp Domestic Reaction within Last Fortnight

PARIS, (AP)—Germany is willing to sign the protocol putting the peace treaty into effect, the moment certain clauses objectionable to her in the protocol are eliminated, Baron Kurt von Lermer, head of the German delegation to the Associated Press this afternoon.

PARIS, (AP)—Germany has decided not to sign the protocol presented to her by the allies as a condition for putting the peace treaty into effect, the peace conference has been notified.

It was learned today that Baron Kurt von Lermer, head of the German delegation here, called on Secretary Dattania of the conference on Monday and told him that Germany had made such a decision.

Situation Transformed

This attitude is taken as confirming reports of a sharp reaction in Germany within the last fortnight. Observers on German developments have expressed the view that there has been a complete transformation of the situation in Germany due to the failure of the United States senate to ratify the peace treaty.

These observers declare that while the vast majority of the Germans, before the senate's adjournment, desired the peace treaty ratified as soon as possible, they are now supporting the government's attitude in resisting the demand for a league of nations as a condition for the German fleet at Scapa Flow, recompense for which was provided in the protocol.

THE QUESTION UPON WHICH THE GERMAN REPRESENTATIVES HERE, HOWEVER, APPEAR MOST SENSITIVE, IS THE INSISTENCE UPON THE PART OF THE ALLIES FOR THE PROSECUTION OF THE COMMISSION OF CRIMES IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM.

Thus far it is stated, no indications have reached Paris as to the purpose of the commission of crimes in France and Belgium.

Protests Treaty Violation

The supreme council today addressed a protest against the German attitude against the increase of Germany's armament, contrary to the provisions of the peace treaty.

FAMILIES OF DEPORTED ANARCHISTS TO GO WITH THEM TO SOVIET RUSSIA

NEW YORK, (AP)—Families of an anarchist are to be deported with them to Soviet Russia, according to a telegram received today by Harry Weinberger, counsel for Alexander Berkensday and Emma Goldman, from Anthony Caminetti, commissioner general of immigration.

They represent any alien ordered deported to Russia who has a family file your application for family to accompany such alien and the same will be given consideration in the message. The government will deport them to Soviet Russia at the earliest practicable date.

Caminnetti's telegram, the attorney said, also made it clear the radicals would be delivered to red guards in Russia when deported, and not to the hostile white guards.

Weinberger's renewed request for a stay of the surrender of Berkensday and Goldman till Monday was refused today by the department of labor and he said they would be surrendered at the time ordered. Berkensday was expected to arrive here today from Chicago with Miss Goldman following him. Weinberger said today he would institute habeas corpus proceedings in both cases immediately after they had been surrendered.

MAP REFORM TO HELP TO SOLVE WORLD PROBLEM

Originator of New Method of Recording Graphical Statistics Sees Large Usefulness for Invention

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. (AP)—Flyers in the proposed 1920 world-airing derby will not travel by Mercator's projection but by a "butterfly" map devised by B. J. S. Cahill of Oakland, Cal., which has just been adopted by Major Charles J. Olden, executive secretary of the Aero Club of America, now on his way to the Far East and who gave the map his approval before leaving here.

Mr. Cahill, who is the originator of San Francisco's $12,000,000 "civic center" plan, said that as an aviator using the Mercator projection as a guide, would go 1,000 miles out of his way in a trip from Panama to Yokohama. "If the North Pole were on an island a mile wide," he said, "it would appear on Mercator's projection to be 25,000 miles wide, or nearly the total circumference of the earth at the equator."

Works Years on Drawings

The inventor of the new map, who worked on his drawings fifteen years, said that "an impartial, rational world geography is essential to world peace." "He said that Mercator's projection which was originally devised by the Belgian cartographer as a guide for the sailing of ships, distorted the earth as it receded from the equator." "This, for instance, made it appear as if South America were much smaller than North America when as a matter of fact, he said, they were about the same area."

The Cahill map is as though an actual sphere had been cut and flattened; its appearance somewhat resembling the outspread wings of a butterfly.

A nation looking unduly expanded "the map may easily be made to develop a sort of geographical 'big-headedness,' inducing an overbearing diplomacy. A nation whose territory is so unduly exaggerated on the map in common use may well come to exaggerate its resources, its economic strength and even its virtues and so regard an atmosphere anything but conducive to mutual good will and consequent world peace."

Internationalism's Wide Scope

All problems of international cooperation by sea and land are baffling and misleading on Mercator's chart, says Mr. Cahill, but simple and obvious on the "butterfly" map, a further aid to mutual knowledge and understanding.

"Internationalism is an abstract and occasional thing, but destined in the future to be the keynote of all human endeavor, plays an important part in the science of statistics and meteorology," said Mr. Cahill. "Graphical statistics are self-contradictory and ludicrous on Mercator's chart and as for indicating the progress of high and low pressure rings in weather charts, the ever changing scale on Mercator's was simply bewildering to the forecaster who had to use them. The new map, by showing all lands in their true proportion and form, he declares, would help materially in solving peacefully problems dealing with the world as a whole."

DEATH OF SMALL COINS ATTRIBUTED TO HOARDERS

LONDON, (AP)—The death of bronze coinage with which London is now faced is attributable to the approach of Christmas when many hoarders who cost a few cents are bought. Shopkeepers with no banking account are in the habit of hoarding the coppers until after Christmas.

An official at the mint said that they were pouring out more coins than ever before, but that seems to make no difference for the demand is constantly growing.

WAR'S COST TO TURKEY SMALL

Bonded Indebtedness of Empire Increased by New Loan of 'Eighty Million

CONSTANTINOPLE, (AP)—The war debt of the Ottoman empire is said by experts to have increased less than that of any other nation. Her bonded indebtedness was increased by only one new loan of about $80,000,000, adding to this other increases in obligations such as home military regulations and advances from Austria and Germany, her war expenses ran to only $600,000,000. Consequently, allowing for various offsets, her postwar indebtedness amounts to about $1,000,000,000.

This would make it appear that Turkey "ran the war on a shoe string," financially as compared to Great Britain with her $40,000,000,000 war debt, or France with $30,000,000,000, and the United States with $25,000,000,000. Italy, with possibly $15,000,000,000. It will be recalled that on paper the Ottoman empire mobilized nearly 4,000,000 men, yet she escaped with something like the war expenses of a country like little Rumania or Bulgaria.

The record of the Turkish war indebtedness is unique. The empire met her war costs by requisitions and printing in Germany 155,000,000 Turkish paper pounds, or normally about $80,000,000 but this, according to the experts, cannot be considered a government liability.

It is not a financial burden as it bears no interest, and also the proper administrative body of the peace conference can at will have it cancelled. Turkey's paper money, it is claimed, has not depreciated as much as that of her allies. Counterfeiters do not seem to have operated here extensively, due to the lack of Bolshevism and good printing presses. In Mesopotamia Turkish paper money is refused since the British occupy, which the Turks do not consider fair since the paper money was issued for the whole of the Ottoman empire which made war as a whole.

The amount of Turkey's war reparation is yet to be determined.

ZIONISTS IN CELEBRATION

Observe Anniversary of British Declaration for Jewish National Home

LONDON, (AP)—Two years ago the British government issued a declaration of policy in favor of the establishment of a Jewish national home in Palestine, and Zionists here have just held a celebration to mark the anniversary. Baron Rothschild presided and read a letter from Lord Curzon, the foreign minister, giving assurance that there had been no change in the government's policy. Lord Rothschild said that they were much nearer their goal than before, and he felt sure that they would see the establishment of their desired home, because it was the will of an overwhelming number of their Jewish brethren and was also the desire of the rest of the world.

The meeting adopted a resolution, moved by Herbert Samuel, member of parliament, reaffirming "the unshakable will of the Jewish people to re-establish their national home in Palestine."

BRITON'S PACES GET "ONCE OVER" FROM OPPONENT

Jack Sharkey Pulls Down Derby and Sneaks into Wildo's Training Camp

BY RAY PEARSON
CHICAGO, (AP)—One peek at Jimmy Wildo, British flyweight champion, stripped for action gives the impression that he might be a mighty shifty young man with the padded mitts, but once "Tommy" started boxing, he looks even smaller in his street togs than in ring tights.

Wildo was here for a matinee to show the Chicago fans who will see the ringside in Milwaukee next Saturday night when he battles Jack Sharkey of New York how he looks in action. His paces consisted of the usual floor work, pulling, slipping, and shadow boxing and rope skipping. Then with the gym filled to capacity, he climbed through the ropes and proceeded to demonstrate with his sparring partner, Al Thompson of Philadelphia, that he carries the stuff.

"It Might Not Last"
Thompson isn't in Wildo's class as to weight. He is a 133 pounder and is a protégé of Anthony Drezel Biddle, the Philadelphia sportsman. He has been made a member of the Wildo training entourage and the flyweight champ likes the plan of having a sparring partner than himself.

"If I didn't have a big boy to fight me last night," was Wildo's expression of his opinion after the workout. The bout with Thompson was limited to three rounds. In one of them Wildo showed that he can elude his right hand, for he dropped Thompson to the canvas. Jimmy also showed that he slips a mean clip with his left hand. One thing that could not escape notice is that he is a long armed young man. He seems to have a greater reach than most boys of his weight.

Uses Spread Foot Stance
As to style, it can be put down that he does not box at all like American boxers. He uses a spread foot stance and leans forward to attack. The position he adopts enables him to shift his head easily, although he showed that he can move his feet rapidly enough when necessary. His style also enables him to defend without changing positions.

Wildo did not show all that he can do in the ring by a long ways in the workout. There was a reason, and that reason could be spotted among the crowd. A little fellow about ten pounds heavier than himself, with a derby hat pulled down to his ears, was watching with eager eyes to see what the Britisher did with the gloves. The highly concerned young man was Jack Sharkey, whom Wildo is to meet in his first American appearance at Milwaukee's DeCember 6.

Sharkey Must Weigh 116
Sharkey landed in Chicago many hours sooner than scheduled and slipped into the gym before the workout. It wasn't long before the "gang" got onto the fact he was there, and Wildo also was aware of it shortly.

Other developments of the day in connection with the approaching international fuss were the setting of the prices and a decision on the exact weight that Sharkey must take for the contest. The original articles called for Sharkey to weigh in at 116 pounds at 3 o'clock, but after a lengthy confab, in which Fredont Borcher of the Cream City Athletic club took part, Sharkey and his manager, Joe Wagner,

STRONGEST POLO TEAM REPRESENTS DEL MONTE CLUB

Players Picked to Carry Yellow and Red of the Championship Class

DEL MONTE, Cal. (AP)—Del Monte will be represented this coming polo season with the strongest team that was ever collected on the Pacific coast, if not in the entire country, according to S. E. Moore, manager of the Del Monte Polo club. The players named to carry the yellow and red colors are Tom Driscoll, No. 1; Eric Pealoy, No. 2; Hugh Drury, No. 3; Col. George Nutting, back.

So confident is Moore of the team's success in the Del Monte tournament, Feb. 1 to 10 and March 27 to April 10, and other events that are scheduled in California this winter and spring, that he is already proceeding with plans to send the aggregation next summer to strive for the national championship and the other stellar honors.

The Del Monte club will have a 24 goal team. Driscoll is rated at five, Pealoy five, Drury eight and Nutting six. It will likely be called upon to concede liberal handicaps to all opponents this winter.

Tom Driscoll, who saw months of service in France as an officer in the U. S. Army, is one of the few top-notch southerners left in the polo game, expert at the art of dribbling the ball, which makes him a most desirable No. 1 forward.

Eric Pealoy is an all-round athlete, a former Stanford man. He is only a youngster, but he is a veteran, as he first appeared in polo tournament play when a lad fourteen years of age. His rating was raised this season by the Polo association from three to five.

Hugh Drury, captain, is one of the best-known veterans of polo in this country. For years he has played the game in every corner of the globe. He will play No. 3.

Colonel George Nutting is a newcomer on the Pacific coast. A scion of an old English family, he selected the army for his career. He played the game in India for fourteen years and in many other parts of the world. He came to this country in 1909, 1900 men that England sent to France. Twice he was invalided and finally finished a colonel in the British aviation service. Col. Nutting has always played back.

Several eastern teams are coming from the east to participate in the California winter and spring polo season, and it is expected that Great Britain, Canada, Mexico, Honolulu and possibly Australia will be represented.

The California polo season opens at Del Monte with the invitation tournament in February and there will be tournament play at San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Coronado and possibly Los Angeles early in the return to Del Monte in March and April.

WESTERN ELEVEN PICKS HAMILTON FOR CAPTAIN

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—Fred Hamilton of Chehalis, Wash., left tackle on this season's Washington State college football team, and a junior in the college, was elected captain of the team at a meeting of lettermen yesterday.

Eleven other lettermen, ten of them to new men, were awarded by the athletic council of the college at a meeting. The council voted to retain the services of Coach Gus Welch next season.

agreed to weigh in at 7 o'clock instead of 8 o'clock.

Top price for a ticket to the show will be $9, plus war tax, instead of $10, without war tax, as planned at first. This will make the ticket cost the purchaser $8.50. The other seats will sell for $7.50, $3 and $1.

Brief Bits of Sport

Jimmy Wildo, flyweight champion scrapper of the world, is only a snout, but a real prize-boxer, "he said."

Sam Smiley, sagebrush sage, says: "Pears to be easier to create some of these here college athletes' toes than their heads."

Ray Pearson, a Chicago boxing writer, louts Mel Coogan of Brooklyn as the lad who is to knock Benny Leonard from his perch.

But Mel ran into a circumstance in Milwaukee the other day, said circum- stance being Pinkey Mitchell, who, though good, does not claim to be the peer of the champion.

This cool is run by a guy who implores your help. "I know he need it."

In Chicago the other night Sam Clapham, British light-heavyweight scrapple champ, made the going so rough for Bill Demetral that the Greek quit after about 15 minutes of milling.

After Demetral cyclone Cyleto Burns was sent in against the Briton and was pinned to the mat in 19 minutes.

"Maybe these Britisher cousins of ours (them) have a champ of some sort up their sleeves after all."

Jimmy Wildo will get his first opportunity since coming to this country next Saturday night. The English fighting machine will tackle Jack Sharkey, who is about 15 pounds heavier than Jimmy.

But "the bigger they are the harder they fall," the late lamented Bob Fitzsimmons was wont to remark.

Ray Schick, Conkey's prize back- stop, has for seven straight years caught more than 100 games.

STARS MAY QUIT BUT GAME WILL CONTINUE GOING

Ball Players Appear to Forget that There is Always New Crop Coming Up

By L. E. Saborn
CHICAGO, (Special)—It is going to be a tough winter for the baseball fans who take seriously the output of the "Hot Stove league."

In addition to the wrangle between rival factions of the American league and the facing between the majors and minors over a new working agreement there is going to be a considerable exodus of star players from the national pastime into more essential pursuits—if you listen to the ball players.

The "spirit of unrest" pervaded the ranks of professional green diamond experts before the season of 1919 was half over. Having been held down in their salary demands by forecasts of an uncertain outlook last spring, then going the territories at the ball park whizzing merrily all the year, the players felt aggrieved. None of them stopped to think that even the clubs which did the best business this year failed to recoup the losses sustained during the lean years of the war. No consideration of that kind will restrain them from going after the big money for 1920.

Fans Should Keep Cool
Some club owners may not have all their players signed up until after the next championship season opens, and their patrons may be kept in awful nerve-racking suspense, intensified by almost daily press bulletins from the holdouts, but our advice to the fans is to keep cool and keep in mind invariably that the players will be in line eventually.

Take the case of Babe Ruth, first of the 1920 holdups. Babe is reputed to be getting easy coin just now posing for a set of movie reels which will commercialize his new home-run record. But Ruth's value as a movie actor will deteriorate greatly unless he continues to crack the ball over the fence next season. Imaginarily giving up to watch a film depicting the prowess of Buck Freeman, whose home run record Babe shattered. Freeman's name has been dropped even from Who's Who," and only a few of us veterans remember him.

Hight Top Mating Cool
True, Babe might turn cool minor league even if the black diamond dugger got twice as much as they demanded. But he could not earn as much underground as he was paid for his over-the-fence performances on the green diamond last year.

Even if a number of star players do quit the game and, in this age of professionalizing, find some other commercial pursuit in which they can earn as much as by playing baseball, the fans can comfort themselves with the knowledge that other stars soon will shine in their places.

No man ever was so great in baseball that he was missed for long. Baseball is greater than any one man or set of men. There was Mordecai Brown, the lion-hearted hero of the Cubs; there was Christy Mathewson, the Big Six of the Giants; there was Ed Walsh, king of spitballers; there was Hugh Wagner, sovereign of all the dominions "twixt second and third, and it has been years since the box scores have contained the name of "Thinker" Evers to Chance."

Game Goes on Just the Same
There are only a few of the stars of this generation of fans who have seen them and go and their names are still spoken reverently whenever two or more bugs gather, but the game went on without them and enjoyed this year one of the most prosperous seasons in its history.

Who or how many quit the spangled next year, there will be just as much baseball as the financial condition of the country will support in 1920; there will be just as many men on each roster as the clubs can afford to carry, and there will be just as much interest in the pennant races as their closest commands.

New Ones Soon Are Heroes
There are Cub fans who will tell you that Holpicher is just as good as Tinker over was. Down in Philadelphia they assert that Ed Griffin will be better than Stuffy McInnis at his greatest. The very best a retiring ball player can expect from the fans is to be used by them as a standard by which to gauge the new stars.

There is no greater fallacy than the idea the real baseball rooters are attracted to games by star players. That may be true of the infrequent patron who wants to look at Ty Cobb or Ed Roush, just as all women, whether or not they know a note of music, want to hear Mary Garden or Galli-Curci.

But the fans whose coin really supports the national pastime go out to see a baseball game full of interest and pep, and if they can get that in a game for their money they care little who played in it.

A CLASSIFIED AD will serve you in solving the question of domestic help.

THIRTEEN BIKE TEAMS TIED IN LONG GRIND

Six-Day Track Affair in New York Featured by Close Riding

NEW YORK, (AP)—Thirteen teams were tied in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden at midnight last night, 36 hours after the contest began. Each had covered 924 miles and three laps, as compared with the record of 1,011 miles and 10 laps made by Goulet and Grandin in 1914. The French team of Therbergin and Ghardon was one lap behind the others. One pair, Carman and Lang, dropped out of the race.

Goulet and Madden led in the point score for the sprints with 123 points. Egg and Dupuy had 101; Bolo and Thomas 91 and McNamara and Magin 88, and Eaton and Kaiter 82. The sprinting hot points and prizes offered by spectators caused the riders to ease up at other periods of the race and fall far behind the records.

Jerome Keogh, Rochester, N. Y., defeated Charles Seebuck, of Hartford, Conn., 125 to 108, in one of the afternoon matches, and in the other Morris D. Pink, Philadelphia, won from Edward L. Ralph, Hightstown, N. J., 125 to 56.

DIVERGENT PATHS

Queer coincidence brings into prominence in the news dispatches of the day the names of two widely known men whose lives hitherto have crossed under memorable circumstances.

Widely different emotions are stirred by the announcement on the one hand of the death of Henry Clay Frick, and, on the other, of the decision of the department of justice to deport to soviet Russia, the anarchist, Alexander Berkman.

The career of Frick has formed one of the most fascinating chapters in the romance of industry in the United States. At ten, a boy on a farm in a family of ordinary means, he was, at sixty, a man of so many millions that his fortune, like those of Carnegie and Rockefeller, was largely a matter of guesswork, even to himself.

Fricks built up the greatest coke business in the world and acquired such vast interests in steel that he was also one of the principal magnates in that industry, and in rounding out his career he became known as one of the world's greatest collectors of master paintings.

Through the Homestead strike of 1892, Frick came into national prominence. Differences had arisen between the Carnegie Steel company and its employees over a wage scale, culminating in a strike involving thousands of men, the killing out of the national guard and the proclamation of martial law.

It was at this period that Frick narrowly escaped assassination—and the would-be assassin was Alexander Berkman. Berkman walked into Frick's office, drew a revolver and fired, the bullet lodging in Frick's neck. Frick was shot a second time and grappled with Berkman. During the encounter Frick was stabbed three times, but he, downed his assailant and held him until the police arrived. Berkman was tried and sent to the western penitentiary in Pittsburgh for twenty-one years.

Succeeding years will bring into true relief the real character of Frick, and his example is destined to rank along with those of Carnegie and Girard and Franklin as that of men who prospered owing to the utmost extent the advantages held out and guaranteed, by American equality of opportunity. Observers of his example will take new heart in appreciation of the width and breadth of American institutions which deny to no man what belongs to him within the law, by reason of his capability.

The name of Berkman is anathema. History does not preserve examples of his type except as anonymous foils for those characters and influences which truly make for advancement of civilization and the amelioration of the lot of men.

HIS NEW JOB

LET'S GO!

Chicago Herald and Examiner

PUT one hundred men on an island where fish is a staple article of sustenance. Twenty-five of the men catch fish. Twenty-five others gather fruit and vegetables. It is found that twenty-five men and twenty-five women eat what thus is gathered and prepared.

So long as everybody works there is plenty. All hands are happy.

Ten of the allotted fish catchers stop catching fish.

Ten more dry and hide part of the fish they catch.

Five continue to catch fish, but work only part of the day at it.

Poorer fish go into the community kitchen.

But the same number of men insist upon having the same amount of fish to eat as they had before.

The fifty men who formerly cleaned and cooked the fish have less to do owing to the underemployment of fish. But they continue to demand food.

Gradually greater burdens are laid upon the fruit and vegetable hunters. These insist upon a larger share of fish in return for their larger efforts in gathering fruit and vegetables. It is found that ten men and ten women eat what thus is gathered and prepared.

But the entire one hundred men continue to insist upon their right to eat. The daily food supply gradually shrinks. The man with two fish demands three bananas in exchange for one of them. The man with two fish refuses to part with one for fewer than three fish.

Finally the ten men remaining at work quit indignantly. Everybody continues to eat. The hidden fish are brought to light and consumed. Comes a day when there is no food of any kind. Everybody on the island blames everybody else.

What would seem to be the solution? Exactly? We thought you would guess it. For we repeat that you can't eat, buy, sell, steal, give away, hoard, wear, use, play or gamble with WHAT ISN'T.

English Note Little Resemblance Between Present Shah and Predecessor

LONDON, (AP)—The Shah of Persia, who is visiting England, bears little resemblance, physically or otherwise, to that other shah, Nasr-ud-din, who came here in 1873 and again in 1879, and on both occasions left behind him some not particularly savory memories.

There was little of the saint about him, but he was picturesque and could not be restricted to the bonds of English conventional respectability. Therefore, the public of a generation ago took a much keener interest in him than Londoners are doing in the reigning shah.

The latter is fat and plump, does everything that he is told to do, never upsets the programs that are prepared for him, and shocks no one.

In making a comparison between the two the Shah recalls some of the escapades of Nasr-ud-din when he visited these shores.

During his '73 visit, it says, he demanded to see a prize fight. So, after the contest with Lord Queensberry a glove fight was arranged for his delectation in Buckingham palace stables. As usual the Shah was late, so the venue was hastily changed to a quiet spot in the corner of the palace gardens.

On his way the Shah dashed through a room where a deputation of bishops was waiting to see him to beseech his august protection for the Christians of Persia. They followed him into the gardens and presently found themselves in a ring with two prizefighters. The fight was stopped; the Shah waved angry and the good Lord Shaftesbury of pious memory, who led the deputation, denounced the selling of "a prize fight in the Queen's palace."

But things were ultimately smoothed over, though, what the Shah said about the Christians in Persia required a strong gloss in the interpretation.

GERMAN OFFICERS JOIN ARMIES OF UKRAINIANS

Skilled Trench Warriors Fill Gaps in Forces Opposing Polish and Russian Enemies

LONDON, (AP)—A Deskline wireless message received here stated that increasing numbers of German officers are being enrolled in the Ukrainian army. It gives an extract from General Petlura's newspaper which states that owing to the scarcity of officers the Petlura (Ukrainian) government has been obliged to hand over the command to German officers. This will immediately provide, says the paper's journal, "with excellent specialists of all kinds, and a magnificent cadre for the Ukrainian army consisting of 6,000 German officers. Only this measure can defend the Ukrainians against their Polish and Russian enemies."

GOVERNMENT TAKES TO PROSECUTE

no appreciable change from yesterday. There was no indication of any intention to resume production in the great central competitive field.

The output of the surface mines in Kansas, being worked by volunteers under protection of state and federal soldiers, today promised to be increased as the men got the "hang" of the work and their forces were augmented. The governor of Nebraska has requested men of his state to volunteer to work in the mines of nearby states, and the dispatching of troops into the coal fields of Missouri was regarded by some as a forerunner of attempted state operation of those mines.

From mine operators themselves, however, came some opposition to sending inexperienced men into their shafts.

The West Virginia mines today continued to be the chief producers of soft coal, as they have been since the inception of the strike. Wyoming miners who walked out two days ago in protest against the 14 per cent wage increase today were under orders of their state officials to return to work. The new strike was not sanctioned.

As miners' leaders talked of possible extension of the strike to the anthracite fields, there were reports that the government had concluded to institute contempt proceedings at once, being convinced that the injunction issued against the strike had been violated.

So far most actual suffering from the fuel shortage has been reported from Montana and western Kansas. The cold wave today was spurring its unusually low temperatures over the better supplied eastern section, although temperatures in the west were not greatly changed, and the situation in many places in that section remained acute in Chicago, where suffering among those in the poorer quarters was reported, the temperature early today was six degrees above zero.

DIFFICULTIES SOLUTION INTRODUCED TO CARRANZA MEXICO CITY

The solution of difficulties arising out of international affairs with the United States were entrusted to President Carranza without legislative intrusion by the senate at a secret session here today. Relations with the United States were declared during the session as being "very delicate."

A part of the evidence to which Senator Fall referred was the distribution of a book by Arthur Thompson, an American writer, titled "The conspiracy against Mexico." Information that has reached the senate sub-committee is regarded as proof that the booklet which is a defense of the soviet form of government, was distributed by the diplomatic and consular officers of Mexico and at the direction of the Mexican president.

The inquiry will be conducted by the senate interstate commerce committee of which Senator Cummins, republican, Iowa, is chairman. The resolution adopted originally was confined to Senator Watson's charges but was broadened at Senator Cummins' suggestion.

BRAZIL TO RECONSIDER COMMERCIAL REGULATION

Government Heeds Objections to Proposal Voiced by the Trade Association

RIO DE JANEIRO, (AP)—Enforcement of the new Brazilian regulations for consular invoices which were to have been put into effect October 1, has been postponed at the request of the semi-official Commercial Association of Rio de Janeiro, pending further consideration by the government. It is expected that modifications will be made to meet the desires of native and foreign commercial interests.

The local American Chamber of Commerce for Brazil, the American Association of Saint Paulo and other foreign commercial bodies, played a large part in co-operation with the commercial association in securing reconsideration of the proposed regulations. In fact, Dr. Herbert Moad, secretary of the American chamber, in a recent address before a commercial gathering, stated that the memorandum presented by the association to the government was identical with that received from the American chamber.

The memorandum to the government pointed out the impracticability of the regulations and the handicaps they would impose on legitimate commerce. The chief objection to the new rules was that they called for absolutely detailed particulars of the goods, consigned, even to the number of different commercial bodies, played a large part in co-operation with the commercial association in securing reconsideration of the proposed regulations. STORIES from the BIG CITIES

"Buck Privates" Would Have "Dugouts" Everywhere

IN THE long night watches on the firing line or in hospitals or rest billets, our fighting men found that tempo failed to fugit with its customary slacuity. They yearned for amusement. To be sure, there were various patriotic organizations catering to the social instinct, but somehow they did not satisfy. So one day there sprang into being the Buck Private society. Its success was instantaneous.

Originally organized in the Sixth United States field artillery of the First division, which artillery regiment by the way, did the first American shot in the war, the Buck Private society soon numbered thousands of members in every branch of the service. There was no formality of initiation. The only qualification was that you had to be an overseas buck private.

In order that the society may become a permanent institution the charter members, now discharged, are beginning a campaign for organization. The original overseas organizer, Private Paul F. Collins, Battery D, Sixth field artillery, lives in Los Angeles. He is president and chief buck private.

But one of his comrades, First Sergeant Edward M. McGuire, opened headquarters the other day in Chicago as national field representative. "The Buck Private society has no way conflicts with the American Legion," Sergeant McGuire said. "It is a fact, I might say, one of its aims is that of co-operation with the legion. There is no question that it will be the means of strengthening that body. We hope to establish a dugout in Chicago with a membership of at least 50,000 men."

As its platform, the society has adopted these planks: Broader educational work; cleaner politics; compulsory schooling for all boys under sixteen in order to make bigger and better Americans; and active study of conditions in industry, commerce and labor.

COUNCIL ADOPTS NEW PAVEMENT ORDINANCE

Question of How Alley Crossing Levies Shall Be Assessed is Determined

At a postponed session of the city council, held last night, a revised street improvement ordinance was read, approved and passed. The ordinance replaces the one annulled by action of the council last Monday night, the repeal being made necessary through discovery of errors in the ordinance.

Improvement districts 34, 35 and 37 are involved in the measure, the changes required having to do only with the method prescribed for the payment of levies for alley paving.

The prior ordinance these levies were to have been taxed against the city's general fund, a procedure proven by the written statute to be illegal. The state law, according to a division of the supreme court, requires that property on the alleys themselves shall bear the burden of alley crossing paving expense. In this respect only does the new ordinance differ from the predecessor.

According to Judge J. E. Davier, city legal adviser, property half way through each block will have to pay for alley intersection improvements.

Protests will be heard December 12.

GIVING credit where credit is due we admit the rightness of the weather controller last night. It was cold, but not three degrees below zero. But had you not known the pronounced proclivities of the works' superintendent to "guess" on wrong you might have thought last night would have found the mercury tripping down to zero again. Instead it was -19 above zero for love, while yesterday's high was 22. Older tonight, though, is the prediction, with fair tomorrow.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by finishing his kidneys occasionally with a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the blood and poison the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of stinging get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in uric acid so no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Piling More Than 400 Years Old. Many of the piles in use in Amsterdam are 300 or 400 years old. That part which is not in the ground in salt water is often bored by a pile worm near the surface, but it is preserved by driving in balls with very large heads, so as to give the pile an air coating. This coating is then transformed by the water into a layer of rust, which protects the wood from the pile-worm. This process must be repeated every 10 years.

ORDINANCE NO. 251
An Ordinance declaring the intention of the City Council of the City of Twin Falls, Idaho, to grade, pave, curb and surface, drain certain streets and alleys within said city, and to assess the costs and expense thereof by special assessment levied against and on the lots and parcels of land fronting, abutting, contiguous or tributary on such streets and alleys to be improved; to pay the expenses of said improvements, declaring that the improvements hereinbefore specified shall be paid by the City, and declaring its intention to create for that purpose Local Improvement District No. 37 in said City, including as part thereof fronting, abutting, contiguous or tributary to the portion of the streets and alleys to be improved between the points named; fixing the time when protests will be received and heard against said proposed improvement; and ordering the publication of said ordinance.

Whereas, it is deemed necessary and beneficial by the City Council of the City of Twin Falls, Idaho, to grade, pave, curb and surface drain certain streets and alleys within the corporate limits of said City hereinafter particularly described, and,
Whereas, the cost of said improvements is to be levied and assessed upon the property benefited, to-wit: On the lots, blocks and parcels of land abutting, fronting, contiguous or tributary to such streets and alleys so to be improved, and in proportion to the benefits derived therefrom, the expense of all such improvements in the spaces formed by the junctions of two or more streets, or wherein one main street terminates in or crosses another main street, or wherein a main street crosses acrosswalks shall be paid by the City of Twin Falls, Idaho, and
Whereas, the City of Twin Falls, Idaho, on the 13th day of October, 1919, adopted Ordinance No. 273, being an ordinance declaring the intention of the City of Twin Falls, Idaho, to grade, pave, curb and surface drain certain streets and alleys within the corporate limits of said City, and the expenses thereof to be paid by special assessment levied against the fronting or abutting, contiguous or tributary on such streets and alleys to be improved, and establishing for that purpose Local Improvement District No. 37 in said City, and fixing the time when protests will be received and heard against said proposed improvement; and in said ordinance a mistake was made as to the amount of the estimated total cost of said improvement, as it was estimated to be $12,819.04, whereas the actual cost and expense of said improvement, according to the estimate returned by the city engineer, was the sum of seven thousand, six hundred and forty-four dollars, of which amount the sum of five thousand six hundred forty-four ($5,644.00) dollars was estimated as the total cost to property, fronting, abutting, contiguous or tributary on such streets and alleys to be improved, and the sum of seven hundred thirty dollars ($730.00) as a total cost of street construction, and

Whereas, since the adoption of said Ordinance No. 273, the city council and city engineer of said city, have, upon further investigation and consideration, concluded that said estimate of seven thousand three hundred forty-four ($7,344.00) dollars provided for in said Ordinance No. 273 is an insufficient amount against the making of such cost and expense of said improvement, and upon such further investigation and consideration the total cost of said improvement, according to the second estimate returned by the city engineer of said city, is the sum of twelve thousand eight hundred ninety-four ($12,819.04) dollars.
