He further says he is "stranded" here because they have not yet received their expense money. CHARGES PERMEATION OF GOVERNMENT STRUCTURE BY VICIOUS RADICAL IDEA

DEPORTATION OF ALIEN MEMBERS OF I. W. W. PROPOSED BY LEGISLATION

Texas Congressman Makes Sensational Charges at Hearing of House Immigration Committee on Series of Proposed Measures to Co-ordinate Bill Defining Radicalism and Prescribing for Suppression of Menace

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A bill defining radicalism and designed primarily, Chairman Johnson said, to keep the department of labor to arrest and deport all alien members of the I. W. W. and kindred organizations, was reported to the house today by the immigration committee.

MAKES MEMBERSHIP OFFENSE

Under the bill any alien who is a member of, contributor to, loans money to, or is affiliated with any organization now prohibited by law, or by the teachings of sabotage, the overthrow of organized government, the killing of, or assault upon, any government official, or unlawful interference with the collection of property, would be liable to arrest and deportation. No overt act must be proved in order to bring about deportation, as the bill provides that mere membership in or any affiliation with radical organizations shall be a deportable offense.

Explaining that the purpose of the measure was to make the utterance and intent of the law plain and unmistakable, Representative Johnson introduced letters and records to show that Secretary Wilson had ruled that existing law mere membership in the I. W. W. did not constitute grounds for arrest and deportation.

CONSIDERS CO-ORDINATING BILLS

Explaining that the purpose of the measure was to make the utterance and intent of the law plain and unmistakable, Representative Johnson introduced letters and records to show that Secretary Wilson had ruled that existing law mere membership in the I. W. W. did not constitute grounds for arrest and deportation.

CONSIDERS CO-ORDINATING BILLS

Ten bills aimed at immediate suppression of all forms of radical activity in the United States were introduced today by the house judiciary committee which expected to begin work immediately on a measure co-ordinating the provisions of the various acts incorporating the ideas of individual members of the committee. It is the plan to report the committee bill before the Christmas recess.

Worse weather with resultant interference with railroad traffic and operation of Canadian mines that supplied fuel made necessary by the current strike had been relaxed today. While other cities resumed normal business hours and factories began full time work instead of the three-day week the coal shortage caused, Spokane, Washington, and Butte, Idaho, found it necessary, however, to maintain the fuel-saving orders.

KANSAS ONLY IS HELD TO ANSWER IN STRIKE CASE

Federal Court Continues Hearing on Charges of Contempt Against Miners' Union Chiefs with Single Exception

GRAND JURY PROBE OF CONSPIRACY SCHEDULED

Nation-Wide Investigation to Be Launched to Determine Responsibility for Limitation of Coal Production

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (AP)—Charges of contempt of court against eighty-four officials of the United Mine Workers of America, with one exception, were continued this morning by United States District Judge A. B. Anderson until such a date as it is deemed advisable to bring the cases again before a grand jury. The exception is the charge against Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas district of the mine workers, who is charged with continued violation of the court's injunction against furtherance of the strike.

CHARGE PRIOR ACTIVITIES

Attorneys for Howat, who is under $10,000 bond, were instructed to have him appear in court tomorrow morning December 22. Government attorneys charge that since the agreement reached by the miners last week to end the strike on the basis suggested by Secretary Wilson, Howat has been instrumental in ending the strike in the Kansas region insofar as it affected men called out on October 31, but has succeeded in keeping out of work who were on a local strike prior to the general strike.

MAY CALL FOR REPORTS

The motion for continuance of the charges of contempt was made by Henry Warren, general counsel for the United Mine Workers, and was continued in by the government. The attorneys took the position that resumption of a coal operation and return to work of miners in compliance with agreement reached here last week, constituted compliance with the court's order for ending the strike. Judge Anderson was unwilling to continue the cases indefinitely and indicated that they probably would be called up again within a week or so for a re-hearing and return to work of miners were continuing in their obedience of the injunction.

INTERESTED IN "BEER" STRIKES

Judge Anderson manifested considerable interest in the charges against Howat, general counsel for the United Mine Workers, in a statement by government attorneys that a "beer" strike was in force in Kansas prior to the calling of the general strike. It was explained that when the miners wanted some part of a concession with the employment of living conditions, they went on local strikes. In this case, it was stated, some of the Kansas miners took the position of "no beer, no work." It was declared such actions by locals were not considered strikes by the national union but merely "stampedes."

MISSOURI MINERS INVOLVED

A part of the Missouri miners are involved in a local strike in sympathy with the Kansas miners, it was stated, by government officials. The Missouri miners were mentioned as violating the injunction in the same manner as Howat, they were not ordered to appear in court today.

LIQUOR DEALERS PLAN NEW FIGHT

Seek Permission to Institute Proceedings Against Dry Amendment

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Permission to institute original proceedings to have the national prohibition amendment declared unconstitutional and New Jersey and federal authorities enjoined from enforcing it was asked of the supreme court today by the Retail Liquor Dealers association of New Jersey.

This was the first question as to the validity of the constitutional amendment to reach the supreme court. George W. Tucker, of New York, presented the motion, together with a printed brief prepared by the association, and the court will announce later whether permission to institute the suit will be granted.

In addition to enjoining enforcement of the eighteenth amendment the association also would ask an injunction against enforcement of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act. Defendants named in the proceedings were the state of New Jersey, which refused to ratify the constitutional amendment, Attorney General Palmer, Joseph L. Bodine, United States attorney for New Jersey, and Commissioner of Internal Revenue Daniel C. Roper.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—An unfavorable report on a bill to repeal the war-time prohibition law was ordered today by the house agricultural committee by a vote of 16 to 3. Representatives John T. Rainey, democrat, Illinois, and Wright, Wisconsin, and Ward, New York, republicans, cast the negative votes.

GOVERNMENT GIVES HELP FOR ROAD BUILDING

Approval for Construction of Highways in Intermountain Region Given by Secretary of Agriculture

OGDEN, Utah, (AP)—Approval for the construction of several highways in Utah, Arizona and Nevada has been received from Secretary D. T. Houston of the department of agriculture. Immediate efforts to secure co-operation in expense from the state governments will be made and it is believed work may be started on the new highways in the spring.

Among the approved projects were: Grand Canyon highway, from a point south to Kanab, Utah, to Bright Angel Point on the edge of the gorge, 52 miles, at maximum cost of $30,000 provided co-operation of Arizona is obtained. Portions of this route are already built. Salina-Emery road in central Utah, an all-winter route over the Wasatch range between Sanpau and Castle valley, 50 miles, at an estimated cost of $125,000, to be built on an equal cost basis between the forest service and the state.

Panguitch-Tropic road in southern Utah, 20 miles, at an estimated cost of $54,000, on a 50-50 basis. This road is the only outlet to the people around Tropic and passes near the "Castle of the Gods" on the Sevier national forest.

Extension of the Cedar-Long Valley road which is at present constructed a distance of 28 miles from Cedar to Duck Lake. Approved 20 mile extension to Long Valley at an estimated cost of $10,000, to be shared equally by the state. The road will connect with the main route of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado from Lund, Utah.

Secretary Houston also approved the construction of the Current Creek road, a portion of the Midland Trail between Ely, Nev., and Los Angeles. The work will be 17 miles in length and will cost about $50,000.

Approval also was given the Austin-Eureka section of the Lincoln highway between Ely and San Francisco which will be ten miles in length and cost about $35,000. The state of Nevada will be asked for full co-operation on the two latter projects.

Engineers and surveyors of the forestry service in this region worked the greater part of last summer on surveys of the projects approved by Secretary Houston and before spring it is expected full construction details will be worked out.

The area sown to rye is estimated at 5,530,000 acres, as compared with 7,200,000 acres, the revised estimate area sown in the fall of 1918. The condition of the crop December 1 was 89.8 per cent of a normal, compared with 89.0 on December 1 last year, 84.1 in 1917 and 91.0, the ten year December 1 average.

GERMAN BOATS MAKE PROBLEM

French Ambassador to Brazil is Confronted with Complicated Situation

RIO DE JANEIRO, (AP)—One of the first duties of Alexandre Conty, the French ambassador to Brazil, will be to secure for France, either by purchase or prolongation of the leasing contract already existing, the use of a large part of shipping tonnage seized in Brazilian ports during the war.

Considerable discussion has been going on in the Brazilian press as to the right ownership of the formerly German vessels taken over and leased to France. In some quarters it had been asserted that all German ships, so many of whose seizures would have been proportionately among the various allied powers which participated in the war.

The official view here, however, is that Brazilian ownership of vessels seized in Brazilian waters is established both by the leasing contract with France, which describes the ships specifically as "ships belonging to the 'Lloyd Brasileiro'" (Brazilian government merchant fleet), and by the Versailles treaty, which vests the ownership of vessels seized in allied ports to the respective countries in which the seizures were made.

A local paper, however, has asked "To whom do the ships now actually belong?" and called upon the government to explain.

In reply the government stated that, while the peace conference did consider dividing all such ships among the allies, the United States opposed the plan. France, the statement said, proposed a general clause giving such ships to the nations which seized them but, as there was no special agreement regarding the ships seized in Brazil, the ownership of these vessels is determined by the clause in the Versailles treaty giving the ships seized in allied ports to the respective countries in which the seizures were made. The official statement further admits that an offer of sale for some of the ships was made last June. It said that certain negotiations were set on foot looking to a renewal of the leasing contract with France, but that these were not completed owing to the absence of the French minister. In the meantime, however, the leasing of the ships was being continued and with the arrival of the new French ambassador the negotiations would be resumed and it was hoped, completed at an early date.

Ambassador Conty stated in an interview upon his arrival that the question of the ex-German ships was one of the first points he would discuss with the Brazilian government. He expressed confidence that one of the various proposals he would make regarding the ships would be acceptable to Brazil.

POWERS IN ACCORD ON AFTER WAR PROBLEMS

Lloyd George Tells Commons Satisfactory Conclusions Reached

LONDON, (AP)—Discussions with reference to the conclusion of peace with Turkey and Hungary and the Adriatic question took place during the recent conference in Downing Street. Premier Lloyd George told the house of commons Monday. Future sitting of the peace conference and ratification of the treaties already concluded and execution of their clauses also were discussed.

The economic and financial situation was examined in detail and in order to remedy the fall in exchange, which was prejudicial to the two nations, Great Britain had agreed to permit the issue of a French loan in England, he said.

The Russian situation was given full consideration. Upon all questions the allies were in complete agreement, the premier asserted, and the conference would be resumed at an early date.

AMERICAN BUYERS SEEK GERMAN POTASH SUPPLY

Negotiations Under Way to Resume in Delivery of Fertilizer to United States

BERLIN, (AP)—American buyers are reported to be negotiating with the German Potash syndicate for a supply of German potash. The Kreuz Gazette says that the progress so far made indicates that Germany soon will deliver a large quantity of the fertilizer to the United States.

Similar negotiations conducted three or four months ago failed, says the paper, because the German mines in Alsace would be able to supply them. The paper points out that the potash mines still lack sufficient coal to operate on full-time but says that abundant orders for German potash have been received.

GERMAN NOTE EXPRESSES HOPE FOR EARLY PEACE

Disclaims Intention to Make Consent Dependent on Certain Settlements

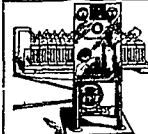

PARIS, (AP)—In its note handed to the peace conference Monday the German government declares it never had been its intention to make its consent to the putting of the peace treaty into effect dependent upon a settlement beforehand of the question of the extradition of Germans to be tried under the treaty. It takes note of the supreme council's disposition to have recourse to coercive measures only until a state of peace shall have been established by putting the treaty into effect. It says that it withdrew the objections it had offered on this score. It takes note also of the evident intention of the allies to patriate the German prisoners as soon as the ratifications are exchanged.

The note says the government holds to its opinion concerning the Scapa Flow incident, expressing the belief that a more just solution of the dispute would have been to have submitted it to The Hague court. Nevertheless it declares itself ready to settle for the damage caused, but declares that it is not in a position to make payment in the way provided for by the protocol, and it proposes to the allies a new method of settlement consistent with what it considers Germany's vital interests.

The note demands that the crews of the sunken warships be set at liberty. It closes with an expression of the hope that through the means set forth the peace that has been so much desired will at last be realized.

QUIT MONKEYING

Some few years ago the government of the United States took upon itself a new function, that of monkeying with the clock.

Probably the idea underlying the original action was sound. It does seem more sensible to have the eight hour working day fall within daylight hours rather than commence in daylight and wind up in darkness.

The government gave up the job and decided to go back to first principles, but the virus had taken and the disease was abroad in the land.

JUST A BEGINNING

The Nonpartisan league regime in North Dakota has repudiated one C. E. Stangeland, an employee of the state board of administration who was held responsible for the attempted injection into the public school system of the state certain books from the pen of Leon Trotsky, Ellen Key and other moral and political radicals.

But the manner of the repudiation lets Stangeland out of the wretched incident with a little more dignity than the four members of the board who voted for this resolution by which it was accomplished.

"Because of the malicious assault upon Mr. C. E. Stangeland by the minority members of the sixteenth legislative assembly, and because of the indiscreet judgment used by Mr. Stangeland, I move that his resignation be asked for by the board of administration to be effective at once so that corrupt politicians may not be able to divert the public mind from the great industrial program which is being worked out."

It is very evident that the house-cleaning process in North Dakota has not gone nearly far enough with the elimination of Stangeland.

PRICES OF MEAT DECLINE

Chicago Markets Offer Cheaper Wares as Hog Supply Increases

CHICAGO, (AP)—Retail meat prices dropped in Chicago on Monday. Sliced ham fell from 50 cents a pound to 49 cents. Bacon, formerly selling at 60 cents a pound was down to 48 cents; pork chops went from 55 cents per pound to 40 to 45 cents; and lard was down to 30 cents, as compared to 37 cents last week.

The lowering of prices was credited by a representative of one of the cutting off of exports and the increased supply of hogs. There was no great change in the price of beef.

THE PEACE TREATY BALLOT

Following the armistice, the representatives of 28 nations, including our own, drew up and signed at Paris a peace treaty with Germany. Part I being the league of nations covenant. This was also signed under compulsion by Germany.

During the special session of congress that ended on November 19, a series of 16 resolutions to this treaty and covenant was adopted by the senate on recommendation of the foreign relations committee.

This is a democracy and in the end the will of the people will be acted upon by our representatives in Washington.

To test public sentiment on this most important question of modern times The Twin Falls News asks its readers to state their attitude by checking that one of the following statements which expresses their views:

- 1. I favor compromise on reservations with immediate ratification of the Peace Treaty and the League of Nations Covenant.
2. I favor ratification, but only with all the Lodge reservations.
3. I favor ratification, but only without any reservations.
4. I am opposed to ratification in any form.

COUNCIL TAKES MEASURES FOR AUSTRIANS' AID

Decides to Dispatch 30,000 Tons of Food to Relieve the Shortage; Imposes Credit Granting Upon America.

PARIS, (AP)—Initial measures of relief for Austria were taken by the supreme council today after it had heard a lengthy presentation of his nation's difficulties by Dr. Karl Renner, the Austrian chancellor. It was decided to take as a first step in relieving the Austrian food shortage, 30,000 tons of food should be despatched to Trieste to be shipped thence into Austrian territory.

The general opinion expressed in the council was that the co-operation of the United States in the Austrian relief measures was absolutely necessary and that the credit for the purchase which Austria must make could be accorded only by America.

Although it was officially announced that the head of Premier Clemenceau was perfectly satisfactory and no bulletin was issued the meeting of the council was held in his residence.

The council discussed the desire of Vornberg, the principal city in the northwest Tyrol, to detach itself from Austria and to join the United States. It means to assure the unity of the principality with Austria as provided by the treaty of St. Germain.

HAYS MAKES APPEAL FOR PEACE TIME PATRIOTISM

Republican National Chairman Argues for Continued Interest in Country

BUFFALO, N. Y., (AP)—Appeal for "patriotism in peace time as in war" was made by Will H. Hays, republican national chairman, speaking at a dinner of Erie county republicans last night.

Mr. Hays reviewed the plan for the appointment of a committee on policies and platform to meet before the national convention next year. Underlying that plan, he said, is "the great fact that there rests on the republican party the tremendous responsibility of lifting America out of the slough in which the present administration has sunk it and putting in force the most comprehensive program of wise constructive measures ever attempted in this republic."

Today's Markets

Grains and Provisions CHICAGO, (AP)—Fresh strength which developed in the corn market today was described briefly to lightness of receipts and to predictions that it would take several weeks for railroads to move sufficient corn to prove a burden on values.

Higher quotations on hog-tonded also to lift prices, and so likewise did an advance in sterling. Besides, attention was given to the fact that despite defeat of the liquor later eat both rye and barley were selling around the highest prices of the season.

The passage of the Edge foreign finance bill served to increase bullish sentiment in the last part of the day. Prices closed buoyant, 1-7-8 to 3-8-8 cent higher, with January $1.38 5-8 to 1.38 7-8 and May $1.74 to 1.75.

Ons were in good demand, principally from speculators. Opening figures which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 3-8-8 higher, including rye at $1.14 to $1.32, were followed by a moderate general advance.

Provisions rose with hogs and grain. The bulk of the trade was in lard. Subsequent provisions, as well as grain advanced in response to the passage of the Edge bill.

URGE FARMERS TO RAISE HOGS

The Department of Agriculture Wants Swine Industry Put on Stable Basis

Recent heavy slumps in the hog market, as well as the high prices of corn, have caused hog raisers in various parts of the country to reduce the number of sows in their herds, according to reports received by the United States department of agriculture. But hog raising on the farm should be made a stable, regular business, department specialists believe. The man beginning to raise hogs should resolve to raise them year after year, regardless of the price he may obtain for his hogs or the cost of the feed which he converts into pork. Like every other farming activity, pork production has its ups and downs, but, according to long-time averages, the farmer who sticks to it realizes a fair and dependable profit, the specialists declare.

The source of failure is that too many follow it as a speculation rather than as a business. They plunge on hogs just as they would gamble on grain futures or on the stock market. Operations of this character are never beneficial for any business. Because of the recent decline in the hog market it does not necessarily follow that the selling price of the pigs that will be raised from the sows bred this fall will not be satisfactory. The pigs of this fall will not be ready for a year, and untold changes may come about. Every farmer who is conservative, careful, and painstaking in his hog-raising operations is able after a few years of experimentation to determine approximately the maximum and minimum number of sows that he can maintain on his farm at the greatest net profit. When he has accurately ascertained this number he should breed that many sows every year, other conditions being equal. In adhering to this plan the farmer is, in no sense, a speculator, but is in reality a business man practicing common-sense business management. Hog raising throughout the localities where pork is made as a regular and dependable business has proved one of the most reliable farm activities in which the farmer engages, and despite market fluctuations and the sporadic irregularities in prices the prospects are that pork production will be as profitable in the future as it has been in the past.

TALESMEN FIND BUSH GUILTY AS CHARGED

Whiskey Runner Convicted of Illegal Possession—Makes Sixth State Victory

Concluding the criminal calendar for the present term of the district court, Cleo (Slim) Bush was this morning found guilty of the illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. He will be taken into court Friday morning for sentence.

Bush was arrested last fall for an offense against the state prohibition law committed June 9, 1919. Bush, with a companion, was found by county officials on the Kimberly road with an automobile suspected of carrying contraband. The men refused to halt their machine when commanded, and gunfire followed. During the fusillade, the car escaped, Bush returning to Twin Falls voluntarily later. Upon return he was arrested and on September 6 entered a plea of not guilty to the charge preferred in the prober court. He has been out on bond since. The case was defended by E. V. Larson.

Yesterday a jury in the district court acquitted J. H. Swain of the charge of illegal possession of intoxicants. The man, however, will be on court Friday morning for sentence after having admitted guilt on another charge of similar character.

The conviction of Bush makes the sixth finding of guilty out of nine cases tried, two being acquitted and the jury disagreeing as to the guilt of another. The remainder of the term will be devoted to routine matters.

Mr. Berg's new scheme proposes a concrete base in the present ditch, to be constructed without the aid of wooden forms, the top to have a covering of corrugated galvanized iron half-pipe. The entire cost is estimated at about $8,500.

They have decided to add 200 pounds a year to the parliamentary salaries of the representatives, and, in addition, defray their traveling expenses.

REPLACING OLD WINDOWS IN CHURCHES OF PARIS

PARIS, (AP)—The valuable and ancient stained-glass windows of the Paris churches that were removed to places of safety during the bombardment of the capital by German long-range guns are being rapidly replaced. The wonderful medieval glass of Notre Dame and the Sainte-Chapelle has already been replaced, and now the windows of five other old churches, Saint-Gervais, Saint-Severin, Saint-Mary, Saint-Etienne du Mont, and Saint-Germain l'Auxerrois, are to be put back. These are all very fine specimens of Bonaparte art.

WILL URGE TWIN FALLS BOOSTERS TO HELP EVERGREEN HIGHWAY

Transcontinental Road Representative to Come Here for Conference—This City Given Place on Both Permanent and Alternate Tourist Lines Between the Two Coasts

In a few days, according to official information, a special representative of the Evergreen Highway association will be in Twin Falls for the purpose of soliciting an interest in the highway project. Maps of the permanent and the summer alternate route give Twin Falls a place on both, an honor shared by but few of the cities between Augusta, Maine, and the west coast terminal.

It is understood here that some of the most men of the east are deeply interested in the Evergreen Highway project and their help should be a material factor in promoting the Salt Lake-Seattle-Tacoma national highway project.

The following statement, made by a Twin Falls booster for better highways in this district, and national coast to coast highways in general, contains illuminating facts and figures relative to the requirements for and the advantages of the proposed Evergreen Highway:

With our road construction placed in the hands of minor localities, each proceeding in accordance with the local needs of its district and without knowledge of the plans of other units, it is not strange that the highway boosters have found it difficult to reach their objectives. The tremendous increase in the use of the automobile as a means of transcontinental and interstate travel has made apparent the glaring need of a co-ordinated system of road construction, maintenance and marking. Good roads clubs, highway associations and automobile clubs have gradually crystallized public sentiment upon the completion of arterial highways first to be followed later by secondary roads—until we find today the federal government exerting its influence toward the attainment of this result.

Transcontinental Road

In February, 1917, a group of good roads boosters met at Paso, Wash., and after a discussion of our needs, formed an organization known as the Interstate Highway association with the declared purpose of encouraging the co-ordination of highway construction in Idaho, Utah and Washington with a view to hastening the construction of a through route from the east to the Pacific coast.

The officers of the association found much encouragement from the spirited citizens and organizations and after a tour of the route from Vancouver, B. C., to El Paso, Texas, the official party returned convinced that not only was it possible to construct an all-year highway through this territory, but that much of the road was already in very fair condition, a great part under construction for improvement during the next few months and that there was a keen interest on the part of the communities along the route in the project.

An All-Year Route

Instead of crossing the mountain ranges, the location was selected because it went around such natural obstructions and by following the water-courses afforded an unusually attractive highway from a scenic viewpoint; a safe and comfortable route, avoiding the desert country and reaching the districts which were highly improved with farms and cities and country seats, and the state capitals of each district are reached. The permanent route of the Evergreen national highway, as the route has been fittingly named, will therefore become the most important highway in each district, serving the most people, reaching the most important centers and encouraging a heavy flow of tourist travel.

Much Work Completed

During the past summer the Highway association has had a field secretary over the route as far south as Salt Lake City and the highway has been completely marked from the Great Salt Lake to Puget Sound. Each district or practically each county through which the highway passes has a representative on the national board of trustees and a very complete working organization has been effected. Maps are now being prepared of the route and these, together with a descriptive literature, will be sent to all American cities and towns throughout the United States so that every tourist may be apprised of this most scenic route through the "Wonderland of America." Working parties have been carried on with funds raised by being subscribed through the various communities through which the Evergreen highway passes, since these are the communities who are directly benefited by the highway.

What Remains to Be Done

It must be recognized that the promotion and advertising of a national highway, to become really effective, requires a considerable amount of money. The officers of the Highway association are "putting it up" to the communities along the route to furnish these funds. Present plans call for several large signs to be placed at next summer at the strategic intersection points of the Evergreen national highway with other established American highways. Efforts will be made to divert some of the many thousands of tourists who are headed for California. New and distinctive road signs are to be placed at that the route will be even better marked than at present. Maps and literature will be issued so that the customer may make all necessary plans even before he leaves his home. Communities along the route will organize themselves into local associations to see to the improvement and maintenance of the road through their section.

What the Tourist Needs

California now figures her tourist crop in dollars—not in number of persons—and $1,000,000 a day is a safe estimate of the amount of tourist money which comes into California during their average three to five day stay. Communities along the route stand to lose if they do not receive a portion of this money if the people's desire by lending their moral and financial support to the one and only means of bringing the tourist to their state—the Evergreen national highway.

Within the next few weeks Bernard

Eastman of Payette, and a national trustee, will visit in this city in the interest of the highway and with the purpose of securing the co-operation of the good boosters in this city. Mr. Eastman is a very interesting and enthusiastic speaker with a full knowledge of his subject, having been over the Evergreen highway only this past summer and knows of its possibilities. SPANISH FARM WORKERS COMING TO NEW WORLD

Emigration One of Results of After-War Social Conditions in Spain

MADRID, (AP)—Large numbers of agricultural workers from all parts of Spain are awaiting at Ferrol and other ports for transportation to America, both north and south. This is one of the results of the new social conditions brought about in Spain by the war, and increased wages.

For years the Spanish farmer has paid his help about three pesetas (approximately sixty cents) daily during the harvest. As this was just sufficient for the employe to subsist upon, the farmer also allowed his men and women sufficient to buy food during the winter. This amount was decided by the farmer himself and varied in proportion to the generosity of the employer.

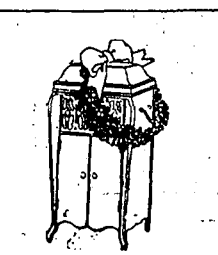

Last year the farm hands, like almost every other class of labor in Spain, organized a union with the result that wages during the harvest increased from the country-wide three pesetas daily to from fifteen to twenty-five pesetas daily. Therefore when the winter came on and there was no work, the farmer, instead of following the old convention of handing out doles to his employes, told them as they were now earning good wages they should be sufficient to keep themselves during the winter.

Those who had saved or at least a proportion of their, decided to move to some country where money could be earned the year around.

SECOND AVENUE TO BE WIDENED

City Council Takes Action Toward Addition of Ten Feet to Roadway

Notwithstanding former protests Second avenue north and east between Second street north and Second street east, is to be widened as to the roadway. This action was authorized by the city administrator last night, and the city attorney ordered to draft such an ordinance as will make the preceding legal.

The street-widening order, between the points named, resulted from a petition presented by a number of property-owners who asked that the roadway be extended 10 feet, or more, at the expense of the walks on each side of the avenue. The roadway at present is 40 feet, the walks being 20 feet from each of the latter will be taken five feet, which will be added to the driveway.

One of the principal property-owners affected is the P. O. E. fraternity, which has broken ground for a lodge home at the corner of Shoshone street and Second avenue north. The fraternity urged that the street be widened and that a grade be established so that excavation could be made to the curb line. The position, as presented, however, only contemplated the widening of the avenue between Second street north and Shoshone street. This phase of the urge brought about considerable discussion dealing with the question of extending the width of the avenue still another block eastward. The council finally decided that to widen one of the business blocks and not the other, regarded as equally important from an industrial point of view, would be creating a bad job in street layout, and one that would doubtless prove an eyesore immediately and a nuisance in years to come.

The city attorney has been ordered to present the improvement ordinance covering this district not later than next Monday night.

CAMPING SPOT FOR TOURISTS NOW PLANNED

Chamber of Commerce Urges Action by Council Toward Purchase of Park Site

Appearing before the municipal board last night a representative of the parks and playgrounds department of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce asked what financial aid the club could expect for a project planned for the establishment of a playground and tourist camping site. The representative was advised that the council favored the project sufficiently far to submit a sewer plan for the laying of bonds to make the purchase of a satisfactory location, if one is found.

During the discussion following the presentation of the proposition, Herman L. Breckneridge, offered in a sincere suggestion that an aviation landing station be included in the project. Although the suggestion was submitted at a more advanced stage of the discussion, it proved that there is need for serious consideration of the recommendation.

Several ideas, one of ten acres and another of fifteen, were suggested for approval, but no action of definite character was taken with a view to selection. The commercial body representative was asked to investigate the available property and return a report later. This was promised.

The plan is to create not only a municipal park and playground, but to provide a deluxe camping spot for tourists.

Folks Barking Up Wrong Tree Is Declaration

Complainants Against Garbage Collector Told what Contractor's Duties Are

During the period of perfunctory proceedings, engaged in last night by the municipal administrative quieted, charges were made that the city garbage contractor fails to function as an efficient collector of garbage and rubbish. Complainants were referred to the streets and alleys committee for report.

But before the charges were referred to the committee, the streets and alleys committee had been requested to support contentions that the complainants have asked too much of the garbage man. In several instances, it was shown, the collector has been reported for failure to move debris and rubbish accumulated from home-building and similar operations.

The garbage man collects, under his contract with the board of supervisors, only such matter as accumulates from regular domestic and culinary operations, together with ashes, cinders and like, not brickbats and mortar.

MUNICIPAL LEGISLATURE LISTENS TO LENGTHY AGRIMONIOUS DEBATE

Triumvirate of Plumbers Lodge a Protest Against Inspector and Sewer-Laying System Stretching Session Toward Midnight - Paving Ordinance Placed on Final Passage

Reverting to old style the municipal governing body another of its fall-plenary parties last night. The affair was devoted chiefly to a "School for Seniors," in which the people, or part of the people, participated in forensic exercises.

This style of meeting was made famous several weeks ago on motion presented by Alderman C. R. McMartin, and voted by a majority of the city council, but the resolution was shelved at last night's session in favor of debate on subjects which the McMartin motion requires should be submitted in writing. The hands of the municipal clock were reaching well toward the witching hour when adjournment was called.

The main ruckus of the session came to pass when a triumvir of plumbers appeared with specific complaint against the hours of the plumbing inspector, and the city's system of sewer grades. W. B. Wall led the attack of the invading forces, concentrating against the office hours of the plumbing inspector. He explained that sufficient time was not given to inspect. This roused the inspector to action and for a half-hour period a battle of oral forces waged with Murray and his assistants, and outpouring the invading warrior. The plumbing inspector lost the decision, however, Mayor W. H. Eldridge, desiring for a change in the city's system of sewer grades, that more time during the "heat" of the day, might be devoted to the call of plumbing installers.

The Wall-Murray bill, however, was merely a shunt to what happened when another plumber, nicknamed Campbell, took up the gauntlet, dealing retaliatory blows of a crushing quality against the inspector's position, which requires the stretching of "hoppers," whatever they be, installed by plumbers, to reach to the main drains. This portion of the fuss was much more acrimonious than the first part, lasting longer, and, in the end, getting "nobody no place." The contending force was finally routed when the city engineer rushed a corps to the aid of the plumbing inspector, E. V. Berg, showing that sewers have to be laid at a certain grade else there will be no flow. He showed, too, that this grade cannot fluctuate with rises and depressions of ground, a point for which the plumber seemed to be contending.

The real business of the council, according to the laid-down schedule, was the adoption of three revised public improvement ordinances, namely, establishing local improvement districts for the paving, grading, curbing, surface draining and widening certain streets in Twin Falls. The ordinances, lengthy legal gossams according to the city attorney, were intended in all respects to be a compromise between equity and redundancy by the city clerk in punctilious though rapid manner. Thousands of words were thus reeled off, while the working majority of the municipal force, augmented by a cub reporter and the city legal adviser, breathed into space, by clouds of smoke engendered by "fog" and "steer," while the dean of the newspaper section, the city engineer and various others, insouciantly lolled back in armed chairs and lived through.

The three ordinances were finally ended and made part of the public laws. They take the place of three others recently enacted for the purpose of providing and come into force and effect in legal time.

Petitions, presented in connection with the authorized paving of a certain portion of Kimberly road, both for and against, were read. The new tests against paving the road 35 feet wide were overruled as to last night's meeting.

MANY BACK PORCH DAIRIES IN TOWN

Health Officer Tells of Individuals Who Are Violating the City's Milk Law

There are too many "slinky" dairies in Twin Falls, according to A. W. Murray, city health officer, who makes the statement that a cursory survey of the city in part reveals the fact that 165 cows are being maintained in the town environs.

The city health officer last night explained to the municipal governing body in the majority of instances where devices are maintained for the purpose of providing milk supplies for the immediate home and neighborhood surrounding the vending is done from ill-kept houses or barns, and from back porches.

"There's a lot of cows kept just outside the city limits and these are supplying a lot of milk to town consumers," Mr. Murray declared. In this connection he urged that the city take action toward having him made a regular state health deputy so that he can control the manner of handling this outside milk supply.

At this juncture Alderman C. R. McMartin inquired the statement that as a rule milk being vended in Twin Falls is of extraordinarily poor quality. "I'd like to see some real cream again," he murmured.

The health officer has received license plates which will be delivered to persons officially authorized to distribute milk in Twin Falls.

WALLACE IS SUED - In the district court Attorney J. H. Wise, appearing for client F. A. O'Grieh, filed action for judgment against H. B. Wallace, claiming $300.01 due on a promissory note. The sum of $100 also is asked as attorney's fee.

FROST PERIOD MAKES DEMAND FOR "THAWER"

City Finds Unusual Climatic Conditions Create Unusual Requirement

Unusual conditions create unusual demands. This applies not only to domestic, private and corporate enterprises but to municipalities as has been discovered in the past few days by executives of the city water department.

The long and steady stretch of extreme cold weather has in addition to requiring extra help at the water department, created a demand for further operating apparatuses and devices for relieving the distress, caused by frost-bitten pipes.

At last night's sitting of the municipal selection John J. Pilgerim, waterworks superintendent, combined up with an appeal for a pipe-thawing apparatus to tide him over the present stressful period. The executive explained that matters and things were becoming altogether too hectic in the frost fighting department, hand operations, aided and augmented by temporary auxiliary methods, not meeting requirements. He explained, too, that while frost thus far had not reached maps in the street if cold weather continues the chance is there will be lots of main line trouble. Mr. Pilgerim's field of scores of calls to thaw out service and residence water pipes, occupying all of the time of his force.

Expenditure of $500 for a regulation pipe-thawing machine, proved the point at issue, the matter being finally referred to the water committee with power to act. This action followed expressions of sentiment to the effect that present antiquated pipe-thawing methods would be unsatisfactory before spring.

Guesser Splits Hairs but Hits Right Button

IN the wake of the official guesser's weather prognostication of "fair and warmer" came three degrees below zero for the coldest last night.

That a rise is coming is amply noted in general climatological conditions, which - presages storms as well as warmer weather. The barometer is falling slightly.

High yesterday was 10 above, which was "several" degrees ahead of Sunday's top.
