OUT IN USE OF PAPER IS ASKED OF PUBLISHERS

House Postoffice Committee Requests Reduction in Consumption of News Print by 20 Per Cent in Six Months.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Every newspaper in the country was called upon by the house postoffice committee to reduce its consumption of news print paper by ten per cent for a period of six months in an effort to relieve the present serious shortage, which the committee has been told threatens the destruction of a number of small papers.

Obviates Repressive Act

Voluntary cooperation of publishers would obviate the necessity for repressive governmental action, said the committee today. Members of the committee said that if the publishers carried out the voluntary conservation plan, further action on the Anthony bill to limit the size of newspapers and periodicals using the second-class mail privilege would be postponed.

Chairman Steenerson's statement to the newspaper publishers follows:

"The committee considered too shortage in the newspaper paper supply and believe that such conservation can be materially reduced it will result in the destruction of a large number of newspapers in the smaller cities and towns and the irreparable injury to the communities served by them; and having in mind the great results accomplished during the war by the voluntary and patriotic cooperation of the people in saving food, fuel and other necessities, in which you had creditable part, we appeal to you to reduce consumption of newspaper paper by at least ten per cent during the next six months, thereby averting the threatened injury and obviating the necessity for repressive measures in the future."

Publishers Give Assent

During the hearings on the Anthony bill Chairman Steenerson questioned representatives of newspaper publishers as to whether a voluntary reduction would solve the problem and the publishers said such a plan would meet with their approval.

Chairman of President Glass of the American Publishers' association and representatives of paper mills and paper brokerage firms indicated that the prospective shortage for 1920 was slightly less than ten per cent, and the committee decided that a general reduction of ten per cent by every publication would eliminate the necessity of pending legislation and would practically every large daily in the country and some smaller publications.

Makes No Recommendations

The committee made no recommendations as to the methods of placing the plan in effect, leaving the details to the publishers themselves. Objection was made to the plan when first proposed, on the ground that while the larger newspapers would meet the mechanical difficulty in placing it in effect, the smaller dailies, semi-weeklies and weeklies printing eight pages an issue would find it impossible to cut down the required ten per cent. It was agreed by the publishers, however, that this objection could be overcome by printing only four pages every fifth issue.

GOTHAM RESTAURANTEURS COMBAT COST OF LIVING

Purpose Opening of Central Purchasing Bureau and Operation of Co-operative Laundry

NEW YORK, (AP)—Restaurateurs of New York have decided to combat the high cost of living by opening a central purchasing bureau through which they will be able to buy thousands of tons of foodstuffs each week. They also have decided to establish an agency for the city's 2,000 hotels, restaurants and luncheonettes.

The restaurateurs also will operate a co-operative laundry. In order to make up for the losses caused by prohibition, so they said, restaurant owners also decided to increase prices 10 per cent beginning January 1. Increased cost of sugar, sugar, corkery and laundry were given as other reasons for the higher prices.

CITRUS CROP OF 40,000 CARLOADS IS INDICATED

CHICAGO, (AP)—From present indications the total citrus crop to be shipped from California to eastern states this winter will amount to more than 40,000 carloads, according to a statement made here by Hale Hadden, federal railroad director for the central west region. He also reports that the annual winter exodus of tourists from the east and middle west states to California has begun and promises to be unusually heavy.

TWIN FALLS AGAIN TO BE SCENE OF BIG WINTER LIVESTOCK SALE

Beginning January 19 for Four Days Breeders' Association Will Place Some of Country's Best Cattle and Horses on Auction Block—Marks Important Step in Advancement of Industry Here

BY RAY W. PELTON
Field Editor, The Idaho Farmer

Twin Falls is again to be the scene of a great winter livestock sale. Beginning January 19 and extending over to January 23, 225 head of registered cattle and horses will be sold by the Twin Falls North & South Breeders' association. The first three days will be devoted to the sale of 165 head of Scotch and Scotch Topped Shorthorns. January 22, 35 head of Hereford bulls and heifers will be offered and on the last day 25 head of Percheron brood mares and stallions will go under the hammer.

City Gets Reputation

Twin Falls is rapidly gaining a reputation as a center of registered livestock and the horse and thoroughbred breeders. It is doubtful if there is a section in the northwest that is doing more constructive work for the advancement of the livestock industry than is this great empire in southwestern Idaho. It is significant. It means that the Twin Falls country is laying a solid foundation for an abiding prosperity, one that cannot be shaken by the ups and downs experienced by other localities whose people are less progressive and whose vision of the future is as great. Livestock is the basis of sound agriculture and sound agriculture is the keystone of the world.

It is frequently my privilege to come to Twin Falls and visit the people who are doing things in this rapidly developing country. And I want to say that I always look forward with keenest interest to a trip to the livestock fair. I find real people and real stock. I wonder, sometimes, if the men who live in town or even those who are themselves the horse and farmer, realize the number of good cattle that have been brought in from the recognized breeding centers of the east and middle west. I was talking to C. J. McMaster the other day and he told me he had brought to this tract with him in the last two years nearly 600 head of registered livestock. This means toward the improvement of the herds of this and other sections of the northwest. Not all of these cattle stay here but many of them do. In other states want them badly enough to pay higher for them. I hope the next sale will result in a large percentage of the goods remaining on the Twin Falls tract—at least some where in Southern Idaho—because I want to see them again. I know some of the best grades that will be offered and I am glad to say that they will do credit to any herd in the north-west.

Much New Blood

Besides a number of good bulls and a lot of splendid females from Twin Falls breeders, there will be some new blood, just brought in. There will be a great son of the noted Duke of Oakdale, first prize winner in the Short-horn aged bull class at the 1919 Chicago International. He will be added following the sale of a class of five sweet heifers, the purpose being to send the bull to the man who buys the five heifers, as a herd header. This will mean some lively bidding.

There is an imported cow, imported Sweeten Mina 632809, with a bull calf by her side, that will cause some spirited bidding, if I am not mistaken. A heifer from this cow sold last year when 18 months old for $1,500 at the sale of Prewitt & Son, Clarksville, Mo. This year a yearling bull from this cow sold for $800 at the sale of S. B. Emmons & Son, Mexico, Mo. But listen, this is the interesting part of this lot: The cow is rebred to Long Branch Sultan, June 29, Cal., Bredel Sultan is sired by Avondale Herd 114029, bred by Carpenter & Ross. His grand sire is Maxwellton Renown 367543, one of the best Avondale sons retained by Carpenter & Ross for herd headers following the death of the noted Avondale.

I could use all the space in the News and still not be through telling you about some of the blood lines which will be found in the January sale, but my friend Red would have no room left for his own daily masterpiece, so I must be brief.

Herefords on Sale

Besides the Shorthorns, there will be 35 good bulls and heifers of the Hereford breed, grandsons and granddaughters of the noted bull, Beau Blueheart, whose own calves have been selling in the east for $1,000 to $1,200.

The horse consignment will include the noted Walter mare, Detroit, three times grand champion at the Idaho State fair and an eastern Kentucky winner. Detroit herself a fairly winner. Detroit herself a consistent winner in the east. Then there will be Carona, first in get of sire at the Chicago International, second in produce of dam, first in stallion and four mares and fifth in the open junior class. Also the classy Oceano, junior and grand champion Percheron stallion at the Idaho State fair in 1919, and junior and reserve champion the year before. He represents the blood of the greatest stallions of the breed. All the mares are bred to Carino, twice grand champion at the Idaho State fair, at Boise.

It will be a great sale. There is only one regret and that is the lack of a really modern sales pavilion in Twin Falls. Some town on this tract will build one some day. Why not Twin Falls? It would be an accomplishment, the value of which would be realized year after year and more with the passing of years.

Sweet Cider Figures in 1920 Festivities

NEW YORK, (AP)—New Yorkers, who in years past have heralded each new year with the popping of corks from champagne bottles and attendant festivities in the "white light" district hotels and restaurants, will drink to the health of 1920 with sweet cider. Here by the way, the revelers in other states want them badly enough to pay higher for them. I hope the next sale will result in a large percentage of the goods remaining on the Twin Falls tract—at least some where in Southern Idaho—because I want to see them again. I know some of the best grades that will be offered and I am glad to say that they will LONDON, (AP)—A lively agitation in the Lancashire cotton industry has been going on for the last three months, according to reports reaching the American chamber of London, as syndicates have been buying up cotton mills at huge prices and floating new companies whose shares have been eagerly snapped up.

In the last three months, says the American chamber, probably more than 70 mills have changed hands and fortunes have been made by owners who previously were men of only moderate financial standing.

The next four or five years, says the American chamber, are looked forward to as a period of unsurpassed prosperity.

THE LEAK IN THE HOPPER

Anarchism and the forces of radicalism reach out into strange places. Recent disclosures brought about through Congressional investigation include the following letter from Emma Goldman to Frederick C. Howe, late immigration commissioner. Mr. Howe, be it remembered, in his official capacity was in charge of the government immigration machinery at Ellis Island, which machinery includes the detention quarters or prison where foreigners suspected of radical tendencies are confined pending decision as to deportation.

My dear Fred Howe:

I hear about you a great deal, even though you are among the high mucky mucks to Americanize America. I was rather surprised to find your name there, but one of your position, I suppose, must participate in a lot of foolish things. I hope, however, that your fine spirit and your good taste will not be carried away by the cheap nationalism which is everywhere raising its sinister head in America today. I hope you and Marie are well. Please remember me very kindly to her. I leave for a two months' tour tomorrow, which will take me as far as St. Louis and back.

Mr. Howe resigned his position in order to lend his full assistance to the Plumb plan of railroad control. It was in evidence during the investigation referred to that out of 607 alien anarchists and kindred spirits, all of them suspected or known plotters against the Government, arrested during recent months, only 55 were actually sent out of the country. Ole Hansen, late mayor of Seattle, fixes the number at 39.

It was shown that marked consideration was accorded the group during their confinement on the Island. They even received I. W. W. literature from time to time.

Mr. Howe, in his own defense, stated that not one of these men were released or paroled except on official order from Washington.

Howe, during his incumbency of office, conducted himself in such a manner as to warrant the assumption that he was not wholly in sympathy with the Government deportation plans. But more important still is the information contained in his statement that superior at Washington are actually responsible for the turning loose of the great bulk of the men arrested, and that he himself had nothing to do with the matter.

THE BEST WAY TO STOP IT

The growing popularity of the crime of forgery among the youth of Twin Falls is rapidly becoming a serious menace to business. Added to which, if allowed to go unchecked, it is going to become a menace to the next generation of American manhood.

Within the last few weeks, literally hundreds of spurious checks have been presented to Twin Falls merchants and business men, in payment of minor purchases. Many of these have been cashed, others have been turned down. Many of the checks cashed should not have deceived anybody. A glance should have been sufficient to warn the man to whom they were presented that in cashing them he was assuming a grave risk. It is not necessary that a businessman assume such risk. Young boys of seventeen or eighteen years of age offering checks written in lead pencil or penned almost illegibly in the unformed hand of a schoolboy should not ordinarily be regarded as negotiable paper. If cashed at all, the risk should be assumed by the acceptor.

The man who loses a few dollars through cashing such checks is not the chief victim. His loss is slight compared to the penalty which is visited upon the party to the other side of the transaction. Crime Made Easy should not be tacked up over the cashier's desk in anybody's place of business, and the best way to correct the growing tendency towards this sort of crime would be to quit cashing this character of check.

TURKO-ARAB MOVEMENT IN MESOPOTAMIA MENACING

British Authorities Take Measures to Handle Situation Which May Become Serious

LONDON. (AP)—A Turco-Arab movement of considerable proportions has developed in Mesopotamia and there is danger of a flare up if the trouble should spread according to the war of fire today. The Arabs are reported to have burned the government building at Bheezzar, and appear to be still in possession of it, the reports state. Numerous Romanians were encamped in the neighborhood. A Turco-Arab column is reported moving down the Euphrates in the direction of Bagdad. The British authorities are taking measures to handle the situation.

American Soldiers to Be Red Cross Guests

PARIS. (AP)—American officers and enlisted men who will spend Yuletide in Paris will be the guests of the American Red Cross during the Christmas festivities. An old fashioned party will be held on Christmas afternoon. Santa Claus presiding at a huge Christmas tree to distribute gifts and packages from America.

Every census has disclosed the fact there are more men in the United States than women.

Today's Markets

New York Exchange

NEW YORK. (AP)—Another break in foreign exchange and the stand taken by labor organizations against the return of the railroads induced further selling of leading stocks today. Sales approximated 700,000 shares. Moderate buying of sugar and irregular rallies in oils were the only features of the list. The closing was heavy.

Liberty Bonds

NEW YORK. (AP)—Prices of Liberty bonds at 2:55 p. m. today were: 3 1/2's $90.24; first 4's $93.46; second 4's $91.36; first 4 1/4's $93.54; second 4 1/4's $91.50; third 4 1/4's $93.64; fourth 4 1/4's $91.63; Victory 3 3/4's $98.94; Victory 4 3/4's $98.50.

Grains and Provisions

CHICAGO. (AP)—Most traders in corn leaned to the opinion today that the market had been overbought and that a reaction from the recent sharp advance was due. Bearish sentiment was emphasized by lower quotations on hogs and a fall in British exchange. Commission houses led the selling. Opening prices, which ranged from 1-3/8 to 1-1/4 lower with January 1-1/4 to 1-4/8 and May 1-1/8 to 1-3/8 3/4 were followed by moderate further declines and then by something of a rally.

Subsequently, talk of big export demand for rye led to a sudden advance in corn. The effect, however, failed to last. Prices closed heavy, 7-8 cent net lower, with January $1.39 3/4 to $1.40 1-8 and May $1.35 1-4 to $1.35 1-2.

Oats tumbled down grade with corn. After opening 1-8 to 1 1/8 lower, including May at $3 1/2 to $3 3/4, the market continued to sag.

Provisions were weak as a result of setbacks in the value of grain and hogs. Selling though, was not urgent.

Corn Quotations

CARLISLE AGAIN ENTERS PRISON

Wyoming Train Robber Returns to Cell After Period of Liberty Following Escape

RAWLINS, Wyo., (AP)—"Hello, Bill," "Howdy Cap," These were greetings exchanged between Warden Brine and William Carlisle when the latter was returned early today to the Wyoming state penitentiary after a period of liberty extending over several weeks following his escape from that institution in November. During the time that Carlisle was at liberty he held up a Union Pacific train and was finally shot and captured two weeks ago by the sheriff who was pursuing him.

Announces Reformation

Carlisle told the prison authorities today that he was feeling fine with the exception that the wound in his lung bothered him somewhat. He also told Warden Brine that he had reformed, as he had managed to pass through Medicine Bow, Wyo., the scene of his latest robbery, without repeating the offense against the Union Pacific.

The bandit will be placed in the prison hospital until he recovers from the effects of his wound, and he will then be assigned to duty in the shirt factory.

Holds Up Train

Following his sensational escape from the penitentiary on November 15 after he had had his fellow prisoners nail him up in a box of shirts which was being sent outside the prison, Carlisle held up a Union Pacific passenger train near Medicine Bow, Wyo., several days after his escape and then took to the wild country in the northern part of the state. He was trailed for several weeks by posse of officers and finally captured by Sheriff Ronch of Platte county after being shot through the lung. He was returned to the penitentiary to serve out the remainder of his life sentence which resulted from his conviction of a train robbery charge in the spring of 1918. Carlisle had been in a hospital at Douglas, Wyo., since his capture.

PACKERS' CASE DISPOSED OF

statement late today setting forth his views on the subject and commending the work of the department of justice in maintaining the agreement with the packers.

IMPORTANT SIDE LINES ARE TO BE DISPOSED OF

CHICAGO, (AP)—A dozen or more important side line industries of the Chicago packers involving investments of many millions of dollars will be disposed of under the stipulated decree soon to be entered in the United States court at Washington on motion of Attorney General Palmer.
While representatives of the packers today declined to discuss the details of the decree under which the packers in the future will be required to confine the business activities to the production of meat, poultry, butter, eggs and cheese, it was learned from an authoritative source that the outline of the plan had been agreed upon.
Among the lines of business from which it is said the packers will be ordered to withdraw under the stipulated court decree are the following: Leather, canned fruits and vegetables, soap, cleansing powders, groceries, fertilizers, cold storage, fish, refrigerators, car lines, cereals, glue, sporting goods and the control of stock yards.
Representatives of the packers express the view that under the proposed plan they might continue to manufacture soap and fertilizer as they are naturally products of the meat packing industry. Some doubt was expressed as to whether cleaning powder is an animal product. The purpose of the proposed re-organization, it is said, is to prevent the packers from entering the wholesale country business.
Swift and company already have segregated its South American and Australian business, its fruit and vegetable canning industry, and its manufacture of leather. Wilson and company recently disposed of its wholesale grocery lines to a New York firm.

DECLARES NORTH DAKOTA INDUSTRIAL DEMOCRACY

Supreme Court Justice Says State Does Not Pose as Republic

BISMARCK, N. D., (AP)—North Dakota was referred to as an "industrial democracy" by Justice James E. Robinson, of the state supreme court yesterday, in commenting upon proceedings brought by five taxpayers who opposed the Non-Partisan League's Industrial plan adopted by the state legislature.

Counsel for the petitioners argued that the state had no legal right to invest or engage in private business enterprises and that such industrial activities were "repugnant to the federal constitution and to a republican form of government."
Robinson remarked that North Dakota "is not posing as a republic" but is an industrial democracy.
There's a market for good property. People are able and eager to buy desirable real estate. The home-finding problem is growing more serious all the time. You can sell your real estate if you are willing to sell at a fair price—and to advertise it adequately.

STRICT ECONOMY

JUDGMENT IS ASKED

Seeking judgment for $464, alleged to be the amount due on a promissory note, Attorney J. H. Wise, appearing as counsel for the Consolidated Wagon & Machinery company, has filed action in the district court against William R. Noyes. The sum of $200 is also asked as attorney's fee.

STATE'S GAME BIRDS SUFFER FROM STORMS

Warden Sends Out Urgent Requests for Scattering of Food for Quail

Quail and pheasants, driven to starvation by heavy storms and blizzards in Idaho, have been made the subject of an urgent call sent out by State Game Warden Otto M. Jones. The following message has been sent to district deputy game wardens: "Heavy storms impeding lives of quail and other game birds. Keep close watch on conditions in your territory. Notify all deputies to secure necessary food and scatter same where it is needed to secure safety of birds."

As a result of this order food for the birds will be strewn on the snow in all valleys of southern Idaho, and every effort will be made to preserve the lives of the game birds. Recently, at the end of the open quail season, game department officials made a survey of quail meadows and nesting places, finding the birds little affected by the 24-hour blizzards. Similar reports came in at the end of the pheasant season a week ago. Since that time, however, severe storms have swept southern Idaho, driving the temperature down to 16 degrees below zero in many places. This condition in itself would prevent the birds from feeding, but it was accompanied by heavy snowfalls, burying deep the small grains and weeds upon which they subsist. The birds have since been in grave danger of starving.

ENTER RICKARD AS A PROMOTER OF BIG CONTEST

Yankee Booster of Championship Scraps Would Help French Syndicate

PARIS, (AP)—"Sparrow" Robertson of New York, representing "Tex" Rickard, is conferring with M. Decoin with the object of having Decoin join interests with Rickard in promoting a Dempsey-Carpenter fight. Owing to difficulties which it is believed would be encountered in staging the battle in the United States, Rickard is reported to be prepared to aid Decoin in holding the championship fight in Paris.

Rickard, according to Robertson, would be willing to advance half the capital required and share equally with the French promoter in the profit or loss. The negotiations are said to be progressing rapidly owing to the expected arrival in New York within a few days of C. B. Cochrane, of London, who promoted the recent fight between Joe Beckett and Carpenter.

Brief Bits of Sport

Modesty in demand for money in you see, no attribute of the champion fighter of the world.

And just to recall that this fellow, lacking many of a normal man's natural gifts, a few brief years ago was a red-capped messenger in Salt Lake, and none too well thought of by the police there, either.

Anyhow, if he gets it he will be tossing a bundle of the money loaned by the United States to France during war times, back to the homeland.

And we thought France was broke.

Jim Smiley, sagacious sage, says: "Never knowed it for fall—coal shortage and hard winter always come together."

Charlie, White, of Chicago, once a contender for the lightweight crown, is smacking second and third-raters along the coast with vary success.

Sometimes Charlie gets a draw, and sometimes he doesn't.

Jim Smiley, appearing twice on one day, also says: "Ain't afraid of a chap what ain't got the guts to sign his name to his epistles, by gum."

That's likely to find a place under the hide of Shunko Liver Pete, eh well?

Jack Dempsey, "starring" as the hero fallback of a film eleven in Los Angeles, was supposed to buck the line hard and scatter the neatly-arranged like chaff before a Twin Falls wind.

But some durned muttheaded, failing to appreciate the horror of his act, tripped the king-of-battlers, and sent him sprawling, rubbing that particular piece of celluloid, doggone him.

Al, ha; Hason—"Kid" Decoin, a Filipino of Manila, will invade the United States soon, bent on capturing the lightweight boxing championship.

Of course the kid will have to see Benny Leonard about it first, but that's a mere detail, is it not?

The Briefs blathered for help, but did not expect quite the kind Snabo River Pete provided.

Nevertheless it's a party fair start.

Ray Pearson, Chicago sports writer, says Jimmy White lost his first bout in the United States because he took on weight to meet a heavier opponent, thus losing his speed.

Oh, very well.

However, if Jimmy hadn't partaken of the food that fattens, it would have made no difference to Sharkey. He learned to shadow box previous to his ring experience.

WILDE DEMONSTRATED HIS CLASS IN FIRST BOUT ON AMERICAN SOIL

British Flyweight Boxer Credited with Extraordinary Boxing Ability but Lost His Speed Building Up to Meet Heavier Opponent, Expert Says Fans Expected Too Much

BY RAY PEARSON

CHICAGO, (Special)—Jimmy Wilde, flyweight champion of Great Britain, flew fought his first battle on American soil. The result of that performance was not in favor of Wilde, but it answered what all American boxing fans wanted to know—was question which concerned the class of this "slightly atom" from Wales. It answered that question in the affirmative, for despite the fact that Wilde was outpointed by Jack Sharkey of New York—a boy to whom he conceded about eight pounds—in a Milwaukee ring, he showed cleverness, game-ness, and good hitting power for a boy of his slight physique.

There are too many fellows who do not realize what eight pounds' difference in weight means when the contestants are boxers in the smallest class in pugilism. It is much easier to make weight concessions in "the heavier classes." That has been demonstrated times without number, when Jack Dempsey fought Jess Willard at Toledo!

Gives Moore Ten Pounds
But greater consideration must be accorded these little fellows, and how Jimmy Wilde managed to go twenty rounds with Pal Moore after giving away something like ten pounds, or how he was able to battle him, say, against a tough center with the sturdy hard-hitting Joe Lynch of New York always was more or less of a thing hard to understand in this country.

But Wilde accomplished that in England, and before he came here, most people believed that this little flyweight was a world wonder. Naturally he came heralded as a marvel and most of the fans—those who weren't familiar with the ability of Jack Sharkey—expected more, far more of him than should have been expected in his first bout in America. Consider one thing, and that is that Wilde was boxing in an climate unfamiliar to him, and consider also that he was boxing before a strange crowd, a crowd which naturally favored his opponent.

Will Has to Build Up
These are two things that the fans should think about, but there are others. Here was Wilde in a foreign country meeting Sharkey, whom he allowed to weigh in at 116 pounds at 7 o'clock, three hours before time for entering the ring. He knew that he had to do this and his solution of the weight problem that faced him, he tried to solve by building on poundage.

He was aware that Sharkey would fight at 115 pounds or about that much, so that the plan made necessary was for him to enter the ring as heavy as it was possible for him to do.

While probably weighed 109 pounds in the ring, making the difference between him and his rival about eight pounds. That was a big enough disadvantage, but Wilde declared that in building up he further handicapped himself, for he found it impossible to battle at his best with increased poundage. Naturally in order to build up he could not train as hard as if he were making his natural weight of 105 1/2 or 107 pounds.

Puts Up Great Fight
After the bout, which went against him, the Britisher told the writer that he did not put up the fight of which he is capable and attributed his failure to do so to the fact that he entered the ring at an unnatural weight. Perhaps this is true, perhaps not, but every one who saw his contest with Sharkey is generous enough to give Wilde full credit for putting up a great fight. Wilde did a full share in making that scrap the whirlwind affair that it was, and the surprising thing about it was that he was able to go the full ten rounds at the hot pace without dropping.

A lot of those at the ringside wondering as round after round was reeled off with Sharkey patting the Briton with lefts and rights to the jaw, what was holding Jimmy up. Sharkey found it easy to hit Wilde and if Jack carried a knockout in either hand he would have stopped the Britisher in almost any round after the first. But Wilde took Jack's punches without flinching or slowing up to any great extent, and though he was a tired boy at the finish, he was not allowing it to be a one man scrap by a long way.

Dismays to Fight
We have said that Wilde showed that he is clever. He is a nice boxer, one of the type that delights a crowd. He can hit with his right hand, but after five rounds of punching by Sharkey the sting was taken out of his wallop and the New York Italian had little to fear from Jimmy's right.

Whether some of the critics will call attention to the fact that Wilde has a defensive weakness, a weakness that is caused by his own offensive boxing. The style of fighting with the left is well known with boxers, but not once

PURPOSES TIGHTENING IMMIGRATION RULES IN RESPECT TO ANARCHIST

Recommendations of Congressional Committee Investigating Conditions at Ellis Island Formulated to Remedy Some of Existing Defects and Provide for Naturalization Courts

NEW YORK, (AP)—Some of the defects at Ellis Island and recommendations which the congressional committee will make to the house for "tightening up" of immigration regulations throughout the United States, particularly as they apply to anarchists, bolsheviks and other ultra radicals, were indicated here by officials of the United States Immigration station and by Representative Isaac Siegel, a member of the committee which has been investigating this port of entry.

Requires Oath of Allegiance
These recommendations according to Mr. Siegel, will include (1) Naturalization courts in large cities; (2) a method of requiring all young Americans to take the oath of allegiance upon reaching 21 years; (3) abolition of the office of commissioner general of immigration; (4) appointment of an assistant secretary of the department of labor to supervise all immigration affairs; (5) mandatory legislation providing for more rigid inspection at Ellis Island where 80 per cent of incoming alien arrivals; (6) a new immigration patrol on the Canadian and Mexican borders; (7) more drastic penalty for ship owners who permit alien members of crews to disembark; (8) "You can't tell a Red by looking at him," declared one of the Ellis Island officials. "You can't catch a Red by cross-examining him. They are far too wily and shrewd. It is only after they have been in the country for a sufficient length of time that you discover their pernicious beliefs and when you do no time should be lost in deporting them. No examination, prior to entry, can give the protection intended by the law. It is necessarily perfunctory and intelligible aliens are bound to slip through because of our wrong methods."

Women of the jury?" but quickly removed himself and administered the oath of citizenship. Here was a ceremony which should have been attended with great care and solemnity turned almost into a vaudeville show.
A naturalization court, presided over by federal judges similar to the circuit court of appeals and where it would not be known who was to administer the oath of allegiance, declared Mr. Siegel, would lend dignity and force to one of the most sacred obligations imposed upon the alien and start him right on the road to patriotism and good citizenship.

L. W. W. IS SENTENCED ON CHARGE OF SYNDICALISM
SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—An indeterminate sentence of from one to four years was given James P. Mahley, Industrial Worker of the World, here today following his conviction on a charge of criminal syndicalism.

Caster Oil for Botulism.
In a case of botulism—poisoning from eating spoiled vegetables or fruit and most common with canned goods—the most effective remedy is a generous dose of castor oil. But it must be given quickly, as one of the effects of the poisoning is to paralyze the intestines, and when this has taken place the oil will do no good.

CONGRESS TO CABINET IN TEN MINUTES

Catching Red Big Problem
New York has the biggest immigration station in the country, he said, the other being at Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New Orleans, San Francisco and Seattle, Wash. Norfolk, Va., and Galveston, Tex., are ports of entry with inspection officers but are not classed as "stations" at Ellis Island and the rest. It is comparatively easy to shut out the mentally and physically defective when they come in at these big ports, said Congressman Siegel, but the big problem is to prevent the entrance of undesirable aliens over our northern and southern borders.

Inadequate as our immigration machinery may be in New York and other large ports," said the congressman, "it is much more effective than the machinery we have along the international boundary lines of Canada and Mexico. We have no means of knowing how many men and women, hostile to American institutions and democratic government, have surreptitiously entered the United States. Still another means of illegal ingress has been for Reds to ship as sailors and desert upon reaching this country. Under our present law the ship owners can be penalized by a $10 fine only. We purpose making the penalty more stringent."

Believes Federal Judges
The house committee, Mr. Siegel said, will recommend the establishment of the naturalization courts, of that federal and other judges, whose time is taken up with hearing hundreds of civil and criminal cases, may be relieved by a task of immense importance to the country's welfare but which, by the very nature of things at present, is generally slighted from sheer judicial necessity.

Last year, Mr. Siegel said, the government realized a net profit from naturalization fees of $100,000 and the profit to date since the beginning of the immigration service has been $10,000,000. Such a court, it was said, could expedite hearings and "undesirables" instead of being released on their own recognizance or paroled in the custody of their lawyers could be ordered deported within thirty days.

One judge, said the congressman, his mind preoccupied with other cases recently had a lot of naturalization cases before him. The crowd in the courtroom represented several nationalities. Soon a balliff shouted: "All you Czechoslovaks hold up your hands!" They went the hands of about a dozen. The judge, think of other pressing matters, soberly remarked: "Gen-

SITUATION HARD FOR BOLSHEVIST IN RUSS CAPITAL

Only Bread of Majority of Petrograd Residents Made of Flaxseed Skins Declares Finn who Has Made Escape

HELSINKI, Finland, (AP)—The bread of the majority of the residents of Petrograd have been made of flaxseed skins, made from flaxseed skins from which the oil has been pressed, M. Saponen, a Petrograd art dealer who recently succeeded in escaping from Bolshevik Russia to Finland, who discloses this situation says the bread is highly irritating and causes stomach trouble.

M. Saponen expressed the opinion that, if the allied blockade continued the worst months for Bolshevik Russia would be March and April. He stated that, though unemployment was general in Petrograd, it was difficult to hire workmen owing to their wretched condition and apathy. The working class, who are not allowed rations, get nothing except what they manage to buy surreptitiously by selling their furniture and other possessions.

"Hartering is extensively practiced in Petrograd and Moscow as well as in the country", continued M. Saponen. "No one may legally possess more than 5,000 rubles. When people have nothing more with which they may trade they must join the communist party in order to get work. That is difficult, however, for the bourgeoisie. All the educated people try to move into the country where conditions are better."

Last March, foreigners, who up to that time had enjoyed special privileges, became subjects of persecution, declared M. Saponen. This gradually increased until June when foreigners, especially the English, were attacked wholesale. When the Bolsheviks after the recent Litz conference could do as they liked, had a change came with the German revolution. The German diplomats were badly treated and after June 1 all Germans shared the fate of other foreigners.

There has been little home life in Petrograd since July 1, M. Saponen stated, when parents were ordered to take all meals in the communal eating houses. This order has not yet been extended to Moscow.

Owing to the closing of military shops and other places employing large numbers of women, those who were physically able went into the munition works and other factories. The remainder were shut off from livelihood and were forced to shift for themselves as best they could.

What police protection Petrograd enjoys is given by the bourgeoisie, Saponen said, and continued, "A year ago every person was a law unto himself, the authorities doing little to suppress lawlessness, but since spring the police and militia, made up of women from the Baltic provinces, have been trying to keep order. In Moscow there is a regular militia, the members of which are often, themselves, arrested by soldiers."

Although burglars caught in Petrograd are promptly executed by the Bolsheviks, robbery and theft are frequent. Wines and vodka are still obtainable at exorbitant prices.

Asked if the Bolsheviks were showing any signs of factional division, M. Saponen said that some would admit publicly that there was not unanimity.

RHODE ISLAND PURPOSES TEST OF DRY AMENDMENT

State Applies to Supreme Court for Permission to Bring Action

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Rhode Island, through its attorney general, Herbert A. Rice, asked the supreme court Wednesday for permission to institute original proceedings to test the validity of the national prohibition amendment and to enjoin federal officials from enforcing it in that state.

Validity of portions of the prohibition enforcement act affecting the constitutional amendment also is attacked in the motion.

The proceedings were filed in compliance with a resolution adopted by the Rhode Island general assembly directing that the state bring a test case against the amendment. Rhode Island refused to ratify the prohibition amendment. The purpose of the suit is to have the "so-called eighteenth amendment declared unconstitutional, usurpatory and void, and that such portions of said Volstead act as multiples or relates to the enforcement of the so-called eighteenth amendment be declared unconstitutional and void and said defendants, their assistants, subordinates, agents and servants be enjoined and restrained from in any manner enforcing or attempting to enforce the aforesaid provisions of the Volstead act "within the state of Rhode Island."

For an Improved Christmas

by GRACE ARNOLD

THE woman with brown eyes was gazing meditatively out of the window at the people hurrying through the falling snow with their Christmas bundles.

"You are thinking?" her husband suggested.

"About Christmas, that's all."

"We have left undone the things that we..."

"Not this time, my dear. Merely about everybody in the world."

"No one could call you narrow minded."

"People have the right spirit about it," she explained. "They are so full of good will toward men that they try to do too much—that's the trouble! You see, most of us and our good intentions are hampered by average salaries and moderate strength."

"We noticed it."

"We want to give to everybody. We want our homes to prosper equitably day. We plan festivities which require no party clothes for the whole family, extra special cooking and preparation for guests."

"Then we set about doing these things. At first it goes well and we enthruse. The common, everyday affairs interfere and complicate matters."

"At the beginning of Christmas week—with many frolics deleted—we find ourselves growing tired, awfully tired. But we see that it's impossible then to stop and rest. That's where the strain begins. We feel compelled to finish what we've started and to carry the program through to the last item of buying, making, packing and shipping. Unexpected demands interrupt. Then the strain begins to tell on our nerves. Perhaps we don't say anything for fear of spoiling Christmas for the others, but in our hearts we wish mankind had kept Christmas free from this sort of thing."

"When Christmas day comes we are too weary to bother about the true meaning of it all or to take very keen pleasure in the results of our back-breaking work, much less to go out and hear beautiful music and uplifting sermons."

"I've always wondered why women attempt so much."

"Because everybody does. And if one poor, lone, sensible woman sits down and faintly refuses to get busy working for Christmas, her family and friends will think she is a quitter—a social slacker."

"Well," suggested her husband, "why not let the rich people have all the fuss and feathers, and let those in modest circumstances now exchanged would be a great improvement."

"You can make fun if you want to," she replied, "but when the world wakes up to the real meaning of Christmas—and the war I believe has helped to wake it up—you'll see the effect the first of January won't be associated with bills and pills, but with the genuine eagerness to live the next 12 months better than those preceding."

"In the meantime," sighed her husband dramatically, "I hope you haven't bought me another smoking jacket."

"That reminds me!" said the woman with the brown eyes. "I haven't time to be sitting here talking. And it won't be any of your affair until tomorrow morning, anyway." — Chicago Daily News.

A Christmas Blessing

By Rev. Dr. Howard Buefield

MAY the Blessing of the Light that shown at Midnight come to the hearts that are shadowed and the homes that are dark.

May the Blessing of the Song of the Angels come to the multitudes who strive and bleed upon fields of battle, and to all who wage the hard warfare of life.

May the Blessing of the Good Word to the Shepherds come to everyone who is humbly and honestly laboring to do a share of their world's work.

May the Blessing of the Manger Cradle come to that innumerable company against whom the floors of hope and peace and rest are shut.

May the Blessing of the Holy Child come to every one who has forgotten that Thou, O God, art his Father, and that all men are brothers.

May the Blessing of the Guiding Star come to those who wander in the night and cannot find the homeward way.

May the Blessing of the Stable come upon all hearts, wakening a kindly sense of kindred with every living thing that walks the field and forest, or wings the air, or passes along the paths of the seas.

Origin of Petroleum a Mystery.

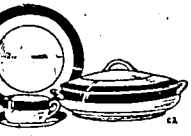

Geologists disagree as to the origin of the so-called "mineral oil," or petroleum. The majority of those who have written on the subject appear to believe that the oil is of animal and vegetable origin. It is conjectured to be mainly the fat of fishes, reptiles and animals that lived and died ages ago. Oil-bearing plants or seeds may have contributed to the total supply. The subject is wrapped in mystery.

Father of Whist.

The modern game was evolved by Edmund Hoyle, who died 150 years ago. He wrote a treatise on whist which ran into five editions in a year, and achieved such fame as a coach to whist players that Byron once exclaimed: "Troy owes to Hooper what whist owes to Hoyle."

A Christmas Omen

HERE'S gladness to every one—open your hearts to it all year round—don't keep them closed until you are ashamed upon prying them open with a jimmy on Christmas—make every day a Christmas Day—get rid of your grudge—throw it overboard and don't throw out a lifeline if it cries to be saved—let it drown—it will do the poor thing good.

Some Legends of Christmas Celebrations

THE original "halcyon days" were at Christmas, and were so-called because the halcyon, an ancient name for the kingfisher, was said to build its nest upon the waters at this time of year. It was generally supposed that this bird, through the influence of the holy season, had the power to still the waves and winds, so that the weather was peaceful and calm, and enabled the halcyon to lay her eggs in her floating nest and brood upon them with perfect safety.

It often flows it was believed that all nature thrilled in various ways to a recognition of the great event commemorated in the celebration of Christmas. The winds and seas, as well as the animals and plants and all other living things, gave evidence of knowledge of the approaching glorious anniversary and became imbued with the prevalent spirit of adoration, joy and peace.

Tradition tells us that at the moment of the Saviour's birth a universal peace reigned throughout the earth, that a deep silence rested upon the world, the birds stopped in their flight, the cattle ceased to feed, men became motionless with sudden awe in the midst of their labors, and the stars glittered with added lustre. From this tradition came the superstitions of the middle ages relating to the miraculous phenomena supposed to occur annually at Christmas, many of which still survive.

Belle, too, have their legends. In a village near Harehish, in Nottinghamshire, England, there is now a valley where once there was a picturesque and prosperous village, but an earthquake swallowed it up; yet every Christmas since, the bells of the buried church are heard chiming.

Similar tales are told of Preston, in Lancashire, and Beem, in the Netherlands. This latter city was famed for its beauty and magnificence, and also for the sins and avarice of its inhabitants. On the anniversary of his birth, the Saviour came as a beggar and went from door to door; but, although Christmas festivities were being kept up, nobody would give him alms. Sin was abundant on all sides, but there were no Christmas goodwill and charity, and he culled to the sea and it came and completely covered the unhappy city of Beem. But at Christmas time even now comes the joyous pealing of bells from under the water.

The skulls of the three Wise Men, each encircled with a crown of jeweled gold, are among the relics in Cologne cathedral.

PHONE COMPANY IN TAX ACTION

Property Assessment Method Basis of Injunction Case Against County Treasurer

Alleging that assessors in Twin Falls county pursued an unjust and discriminatory course in levying assessments against the company's property for taxation, the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph company has brought action against Emma L. Warren, Twin Falls county treasurer and official tax collector of this county, from collecting the total tax assessed against the company's property in this county for 1920.

Notice of the filing of this action was served upon the county treasurer yesterday by the United States marshal, with orders for appearance in the federal court, Boise, on December 20 if the case is to be judicially resisted. The telephone company seeks restraining order preventing County Treasurer Warren from collecting more than $8,224.99. The total assessment, according to the assessor's books, is $17,049.99.

The complaint, copy of which is on file with the county treasurer here, alleges that Twin Falls county assessors, as well as assessors in all other counties of the state, have "systematically and intentionally conveyed to the plaintiff for the assessment of property all over the state on a 50 per cent basis or less, but in appraising the value of plaintiff's property on full valuation." The company offers to pay one half of the total sum shown on the treasurer's books in this county.

The hearing in the federal court of Boise will be before Judge F. S. Dietrich.

LYCEUM ENTERTAINMENT IS WELL RECOMMENDED

Press Announcements Speak in Terms of High Praise for Artists' Trio

Next Tuesday the Artists' Trio, young women entertainers, will appear as a number of the local Lyceum course. This organization comes as well recommended as any number on the winter course, and, according to press announcements, should prove as popular as any entertainment on the schedule for this season.

The Artists' Trio is a company of novelty performers as well as artistic. Each member has been chosen with a view to individual work as well as for the ensemble which makes a harmonious whole.

Mrs. Vera MacKevlie, one of the company members, is noted for her draftsmanship as well as for her splendid personality and excellent singing. As a cartoonist she is well recommended. She is a graduate of the dramatic department of the Lyceum Arts Conservatory of Chicago.

Miss Florence Thorpe is a beautiful girl who, for two years, was with the Beverly Entertainers as one of the leading members of the company. She plays the mandolin and in addition, sings a beautiful and full contralto, thus adding an important feature to the program.

Miss Alma Merriman is a reader of exceptional ability. She possesses an exquisite speaking voice, advances no note, and is splendid in histrionic characterization. Miss Merriman also plays the piano and organ.

CASE IS DISMISSED

13 YEAR OLD SCHOOLBOY FORGES CHECK, SUSPICIOUS CASHIER ACTS

"Johnnie Doe," Mere Kid, Takes Money from Parent and Tries to Make It Up by Criminal Process — Booth Mercantile Company Store Scene of Operations — Lad Taken Back to School

This is another case of a juvenile committing forgery to obtain spending money.

The instance differs slightly from similar cases recently mentioned in the columns of the Twin Falls Daily News in that the boy offered the cashing was held by the recipient until its authority and validity could be determined before money was paid on it. The presenter is 13 years of age and enrolled as a pupil in one of the grade schools of Twin Falls.

"This Johnnie Doe"—his correct name is withheld from publication in the hope that this escapade may prove a restraining lesson for the future—comes of foreign parentage, in fact his father and mother speak English but slightly, and in court this morning it was necessary to employ an interpreter before the complete nature of the offense their son had committed could be adequately conveyed to them. Yesterday the boy, with a companion of his own age, and also a pupil in the same grade school, appeared at the Booth Mercantile company store and made some minor purchases. Cash was paid for the goods. While the package was being made up Johnnie Doe presented a check on a local bank and hearing the name of a local man as signor for $7.50. The cashier became suspicious of the lad's actions, and by subterfuge, held his attention until the bank on which the check was drawn was given an opportunity to vouch the signature. The cashier was informed that while the man whose name appeared on the check had an account at the bank the signature of the paper was a palpable forgery.

It so happened that while this information was being obtained the man whose name appeared on the check, and when appraised, declared he had not made the check. The boy was then delivered into the custody of the sheriff and juvenile authorities. He was held in custody over night.

According to information gathered by John Ault, juvenile officer, Young this is the second case of a boy who has not summer worked sufficiently to save $200. This money, it is observed, was given into the care of the lad's parents, who still retain possession of it, declining to give any part of it over to the boy for expense purposes. Yesterday morning, according to statements made in the juvenile court, this amount of $200 had been turned over to his father, who is a plasterer employed on a large local building now in course of construction. He attended school yesterday morning but at noon found his companion with whom he shared the stolen money, evidently each had taking $10. The boys then stashed on a hill toward the west, but during the afternoon tired of the jaunt and decided to return to Twin Falls. They got a ride back in an automobile. Johnnie Doe says he wanted to make up the amount spent of his father's money and forged the check to get the money.

The boy displayed a penitent impulse when interrogated in court today, and begged pitiously to be released and allowed to return to his studies. He said he had heard of lots of other boys who had stolen checks at stores without getting into trouble, and assumed he could follow the example without getting into difficulties. He was taken back to school shortly before noon in company of Juvenile Officer Ault, who will keep a supervisory eye on the lad.

IN JEROME TODAY
Judge R. A. Walters of the law firm, Walters & Holgin, is in Jerome today looking after legal matters connected with the North Side Land & Water company.

Weather Man Tires of Well Doing—Colder

COURSE one couldn't expect the "chotic recalcitrant" of the weather works to do a good thing all the time, even if it wasn't such a good thing anyhow. He showed another button last night and let the temperature slide a quint of points toward zero. Yesterday the domestic temperature rambled up to 31 degrees above zero, but it settled back to three above during the night, as against eight on the preceding nocturnal period. Tonight and Friday fair, is the more or less ambiguous prognostication from the Boise moaque.
