CLOUD OF WAR LOWERING OVER NORTH MEXICO

Great Military Activity Following Holidays Praised in Reports from Both Carranza and Villa Sources

FEDERAL LEADERS PLAN COMBINED OPERATIONS

Insurgent Leader is Expected to Resume Famous Dashing Campaigns Through Country Raiding Smaller Cities

EL PASO, TEX. (AP)—Great military activity in northern Mexico following the holidays is praised in reports reaching here today from both Carranza and Villa sources. In the meantime both forces seemingly have suspended operations for the holiday season because of religious views which exist in the most Catholic Mexican military men.

A combined plan of operations following the holidays in the campaign against Francisco Villa has been arranged between General Carranza, Carranza leader at Torreon, Chihuahua, and General Francisco Murguía, with headquarters at Moscow, Coahuila. This plan, according to an authority, consists of simultaneous advances of Carranza troops from Chihuahua, Sierra Mojada, Santa Rosalia, Monclova and Mexico City, the object of surrounding Villa with a border of government troops.

Villa in Pánuco Hills
Villa and his brother Hipolito, who reported to be occupied at the Rancho El Pano, at the foot of the Pánuco mountains, south of the Big Bend district of Texas.

Counts on Recruits
Villa is expected to be reported, would attack towns protected only by the "defensa social", or local militia, preferably towns inhabited by persons of lukewarm tendencies toward Carranza. In these towns, however, the rebel leader expects to find considerable stocks of transportable merchandise and ready cash, besides considerable numbers of men, gaining many new recruits, some of whom formerly were members of his bands.

Reports reaching here from the Big Bend district are to the effect relations between Americans and Mexicans appear friendly in border districts controlled by both Carranza and Villa factions.

HOPE OF EARLY PEACE SETTLEMENT REVIVE

Germans Likely to Sign Protocol Without Waiting for Verification of Reparation Demands

SATISFACTORY ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR TRANSPORTATION OF TROOPS

PARIS. (AP)—Hopes have again been raised in council circles of an early exchange of ratifications of the treaty of Versailles. The end of the first week in January now as the probable date when the treaty will be put into effect.

This prospect springs from the conversation held yesterday between Paul Dutaist, general secretary of the peace conference, and Baron Kurt von Lermer, head of the German mission here. It was said today that the chances were considered good that the Germans would decide to sign the protocol without waiting for verification of the figures on harbor tonnage demanded as reparation for the sinking of the German ships at Scapa Flow.

It is explained that the supreme council will satisfy Germany's demand for a more specific declaration on the reduction of the tonnage asked for, through affixing to the protocol the text of M. Dutaist's verbal declaration to Baron von Lermer on the subject.

The Hibernian commission is expected to meet soon after the treaty is promulgated. This commission will have jurisdiction over the territory occupied by the allied troops in the Rhineland, including the area of the coal fields.

The allied military mission dealing with the subject of transporting allied troops to the districts where they are to be held under the treaty reported to the council today that satisfactory arrangements had been made with the Germans for the movement of these forces. It is estimated that it will require two weeks to get into Silesia the many of these troops.

BLAMES CAPITAL FOR OPPOSITION TO FUME CLAIM

General Robilant in the Italian Chamber of Deputies, Points Out Sinister Influence of Anglo-American Commerce

ROME, (AP)—Anglo-American capitalists were blamed for opposition to Italy's claim to Fiume by General Robilant, speaking in the Italian Chamber of Deputies today.

"Anglo-American commerce," he declared, "needed Fiume as a port of penetration into central Europe, preferring to have it in the hands of a small country rather than under the control of a great power. This plan was backed by the peace conference which was favorable to the Slav peoples wishing them to form a barrier against a reconstruction of Germany. Anglo-American capitalism selected three ports for its purpose, Fiume, Danzig and Constantinople, assigning the first to Yugoslavia, the second to Poland, and the last to Turkey. The last named country is under control of the league of nations and all know the hands in which it is in the hands of the Anglo-Saxons."

Succession of Blunders

General Robilant, Italian representative on the inter-allied military commission at Versailles, said he had a handling of the Fiume situation had been a succession of blunders.

Fiume, which the speaker described as an Italian "meat," had been handed to remain Italian and not to "become Croatian before the Fiume question" existed. He pointed out that the treaty of London gave Fiume to Croatia.

For this reason the plebiscite at Fiume could not be recognized by Italy, he said, because it was contrary to the pact of London, nor could Italy proclaim annexation of Fiume because the allies would neither have permitted nor acknowledged it.

Interviews Marshal Foch

General Robilant, at the time of the armistice, was asked by the Italian government to obtain from the French command the occupation of the city, and he interviewed Marshal Foch. As a result Italy was allowed to assume command over inter-allied forces in and about Fiume.

"Conflicts soon occurred between the French and Italians," the speaker said, "and were caused principally by the fact that the Croats had continued to our enemies. The situation became extremely difficult. The best policy would have been to have spontaneously given satisfaction to France for the French sold their hills and mountains, offering indemnity. Instead of that an inter-allied commission was appointed to conduct an inquiry. This was a great mistake, as Italy appeared before that commission as the aggressor, and her representative was always in the minority. In the end all the governments accepted the very grave proposal of the commission—the internationalization of Fiume."

Expedition Premature

"Captain Gabriele D'Annunzio's expedition into Fiume prevented the execution of the commission's proposals, which was a pity because if the election of the new national council there had occurred under the auspices of the inter-allied commission, instead of those of Captain D'Annunzio, it would have assumed greater importance."

General Robilant, who was in command of troops in the armistice line when the D'Annunzio coup took place, was about to suppress the movement when he was called to Rome.

"Interference of irresponsible persons in government action regarding the army is a grave danger," said the general, discussing militarism. "Germany has shown us to what a catastrophe may lead."

Assumes Responsibility

General Albertini, minister of war, spoke after General Robilant had completed his address, saying that he himself was "always responsible for everything regarding the army."

Former Minister Mazzotti protested against the recent speech of French Clemenceau in which he said the Serbians and Jugoslavians had fought bravely for the cause of the allies.

"The Serbians did not fight the Slav fight against us and the allies to the bitter end," declared the speaker.

Clemenceau Called Friend

Senator Cramer, president of the Italian Red Cross, said too much importance must not be attached to the impromptu speech of M. Clemenceau, who, he declared, was an old and true friend of Italy and who had upheld the Italian cause as vigorously as he had that of Alsace-Lorraine.

Bill in Congress May Scare Automobile Thieves

Automobile thieves will find their activities dangerous if the senate passes a bill recommended to it by the House. The bill was introduced in congress by Representatives L. C. Dyer and C. A. Newton of Missouri. It is a compromise between one designed by the St. Louis men and one by the National Automobile Dealers' association.

Under the provisions of the bill a pentennial sentence awaits any one who steals an automobile, buys a stolen car, or has one in his possession, knowing the car to be stolen property, or drives a stolen car from one state to another.

Automobile dealers have long waited for a federal law to protect them. Their organizations have urged the members of congress to pass a law rather than to let each state handle this matter. With a federal law on the books there would be no conflict between the various states, as the law would be the same in all. The bill includes the following:

"Section 2. Whoever shall in any state, territory, or the District of Columbia, steal or unlawfully take, carry away, or conceal, with intent to take it to his own use, any automobile, automobile truck, or any other motor vehicle, or shall buy or receive or have in his possession any such automobile, automobile truck or any other motor vehicle, knowing the same to have been stolen, or shall thereafter, in any manner or means transport such automobile, automobile truck, or other motor vehicle in interstate commerce, to any other state, territory, or the District of Columbia, or to a foreign country, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than ten years."

AIRPLANE FIRE PATROL PLEASES FOREST SERVICE

Results of Experiment in California Declared so Satisfactory Use is to be Extended to Northwestern States

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—The United States forest service is highly pleased with the results obtained by the use of airplane fire patrol of national forests in California this year, the first of its operation, according to officials of the service here. The air plane patrol proved so efficient that plans are being made to increase largely its scope in California, and to extend it to Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington next year, if authorization can be obtained.

In California alone the timber in national forests is valued at $210,000,000, and aviators proved their worth by reporting 442 fires, in addition to those discovered by the regular foresters on the ground. The area flows over contained 21,500,000 acres of timber, and to protect it the aviators spent 2,457 hours aloft, traveling 262,000 miles. Notwithstanding the ruggedness of the country traversed, making emergency landing hazardous, there was but one fatality, and only six major accidents to machines, the occupants being uninjured.

Five daily patrols were made from June 1 to October 31 of fifteen of the seventeen national forests in California. Two machines were operated from Red Bluff, two from Fresno, two from Sacramento, two from Riverside, and one from San Diego. Corresponding crews were held in reserve with other planes, so that each set worked on alternate days.

The aviators were supplied by the United States army air service, and used the Curtiss type of machine until September 1, with but one man in the

PICKLE MANUFACTURERS SHOW VERY-LIGHT PACK

Harvest of Cucumbers was 25,000 Below Record of 1918, Reports Say

Of 509 pickle makers on the lists of the Bureau of Crop Estimates, U. S. department of agriculture, 405 reported that they had contracted for and harvested 40,211 acres of cucumbers this year. This compares with 65,487 acres reported by 475 pickle makers as having been contracted for and harvested in 1918.

Based on reports received from the packers as to the average yield per acre this year, it is estimated 2,109,000 bushels were produced this year as the contracted average reported, as compared with 6,818,322 bushels in 1918. No stock procured in the open market is included in the above estimate.

Score One for Employer.

A Kansas City man received four very nice presents on his birthday early this week, a silk shirt, a pair of gloves, and a pair of silk hose. The shirt, given him by his wife, was size 15½—he wears 14½; the gloves, selected by his mother, were size 6—he wears 7½; the socks from his brother, were size 12—he wears 10. His employer, however, who has known him more intimately for several years, sent out a box of soft collars which fit him exactly.—Kansas City Star.

Diseases, such as typhoid, syphilis, malaria, tuberculosis, anemia, influenza, obscure diseases of the blood and nervous system, Bright's disease, and cancer, can be diagnosed by laboratory tests alone.

In nearly every disease known, valuable diagnostic, as well as prognostic aid can be given by careful examination of the blood, urine, sputum, gastric contents, specimens of tissue, such as cancerous and tuberculosis glands; bacterial examinations of pus spinal fluid contents, and inflammatory exudates, such as pus in the lung, etc.

No disease is of such minor importance that the patient is not justified in demanding every means toward an accurate diagnosis.

Work more—
Produce more—
Save more—

But we can't continue increasing our production unless we continue increasing our railroad facilities.

The farms, mines and factories cannot increase their output beyond the capacity of the railroads to haul their products.

Railroads are now near the peak of their carrying capacity.

Without railroad expansion—more engines, more cars, more tracks, more terminals—there can be little increase in production.

But this country of ours is going to keep right on growing—and the railroads must grow with it.

To command in the investment markets the flow of new capital to expand railroad facilities—and so increase production—there must be public confidence in the future earning power of railroads.

The nation's business can only grow as fast as the railroads grow.

A GOOD MOVE: Whatever of desirability there may be in the building of a monument to commemorate any good and great undertaking or achievement for the betterment of human affairs—and that such desirability exists is not disputed—ought to be a moving factor in the fulfillment of a project lately launched in Utah for the erection of a monument to commemorate the service of a famous organization which has come to be known in the history of the west as the Mormon battalion.

Superficially the achievement of this organization is rather well known. Composed in the main of adherents to the new sect popularly known as Mormonism, but enlisted in the service of the United States and commanded by officers of the United States army, this band of 500 pioneers, establishing the record march of infantry for the world, blazed a trail of more than 2000 miles through the then practically unknown western region, half of it through wilderness and desert, and by subsequent garrison duty in Mexican coast towns participated in the conquest of northern Mexico which added to the territory of the United States more than 500,000 square miles consisting of the western part of New Mexico and Colorado, all of Utah, Arizona, Nevada and California, territory equal in extent to two-thirds of the territory of the thirteen original states of the union.

They took the first wagons to the Pacific coast, established a road now followed for hundreds of miles by a great railway; they participated in the discovery of gold in California, and, most important perhaps, theirs is the credit for the introduction from Mexico of the suggestion of irrigation employed first on the hard, baked soil of Utah, from which it spread to the vast fields in which it reigns today. The benefits derived from the battalion's toil and sacrifice as pioneers of the west are now shared equally by all classes and conditions of western citizens. It cannot be doubted that the present generation owes them much, of which the proposed monument ought to have a big and effective influence in communities where this problem may be presented in the future.

Americanism VS. Internationalism

"Not under any circumstances would I sacrifice the spirit, the character, the nationalism of America, or the constitution and the institutions that have bred America's manhood and womanhood. If we plunge America into the water of internationalism we shall destroy America, and, in the name of good to the world, we shall make our country incapable of good either to the world or to ourselves.

"Free and untrammelled, with safe frontiers, America's task is to perfect America's own national life in America's own way. Only so can America—North, South, East and West—the America we all love, endure. Only so can America irradiate an even higher influence in the world.

"Internationalism would destroy us at home. Nationalism will save us at home. If there is anything through which we can do good to the world it is our Americanism. If we sacrifice that distinctive thing we destroy the hope that the world has in America. We are the salt of the earth, and for the earth 'Salt is good; but if the salt has lost its savor, wherewith shall it be seasoned? It is neither fit for the land, nor yet for the dung-hill, but men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.'" This spoke the Savior of mankind, and, to paraphrase another divine expression, what will it profit America to gain the world and lose its own soul?"

will be a partial recognition and summary of achievements that may serve for the inspiration of tomorrow.

THE LEGION'S STAND: The executive committee of the American Legion has endorsed the stand of various posts and of individual members of the organization in opposing performances of German opera and concerts by German or Austrian artists and has communicated this endorsement to the Legion Americanism commission lately established to combat all anti-American activities or tendencies, to promote education of immigrants as prospective American citizens, and to inculcate ideals of Americanism in the citizen population.

It is a safe bet that the Legion, in taking this stand, is yielding to no silly, childish impulse of resentment. It is not risking its reputation for sound patriotism on grounds open to tenable charge of chauvinism; in view of which consideration the real motive for its action becomes important and deserving of attention of Americans in general. And, generally, the simple condemnation is sufficient, while the Legion's statement that this matter is akin to the activities of "enemy sympathizers who were organizing ostensibly for the purpose of affording relief to the civilian population of enemy countries but in reality for the purpose of organizing and spreading anti-American propaganda" should silence criticism on the part of all Americans.

It is entirely unlikely that the American Legion, comprising a large membership among men who fought or were ready to fight for preservation of American ideals, should be mistaken about this matter, and this decision ought to have a big and effective influence in communities where this problem may be presented in the future.

French Minister of Treasury Suggests Loan Bill Approved by Cabinet.

PARIS, (AP)—Louis Klotz, minister of finance, presented to the chamber of deputies Monday the loan bill providing for five per cent bonds redeemable during six months at 150 with drawings every six months to discharge these bonds redeemable in each period. The measure was approved by the cabinet.

The new bonds will be exempt from taxation, according to M. Klotz, who reviewed the war finances. He declared the voting of the monthly credits was indispensable to return to the rule of a single budget.

The minister said that the expenses voted totaled 250,000,000 francs, but the disbursements averaged a tenth less.

M. Klotz said that the total receipts of 1919 would exceed 11,000,000,000 francs. That answers the fallacious charge that France lacked fiscal courage, he continued. To appreciate the figures one should consider that France had eight departments invaded and offering no resources and mobilized 9,000,000, or eighty per cent of the mobilizable age.

Subsequently, tightness in the French attention as a bullish factor, and so likewise did predictions of unsettled weather and of a col wave. The market closed nervous, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 and higher, with January 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 and May 1 1/2 to 1 3/4.

Provisions were higher with hogs and grain. Business was on a somewhat larger scale than has been the rule of late.

Today's Markets

NEW YORK, (AP)—Stocks were irregular during the greater part of today's session on further tightness of money, but this condition was fully overcome later by favorable industrial prospects. Sales approximated 1,300,000 shares. Little attention was paid to high money rate in the last hour, the entire list rallying briskly on the buoyancy shown by American Woolen and other active industrials. The closing was strong.

LIBERTY BONDS: NEW YORK, (AP)—Prices of Liberty Bonds at 2:55 p. m. today were: 3 1/2's $95.00; first 4's $92.25; second 4's $91.70; first 4 1/4's $93.70; second 4 1/4's $91.80; third 4 1/4's $94.75; fourth 4 1/4's $91.94; Victory 3 3/4's $99.20; Victory 4 3/4's $99.05.

CORN AND PROVISIONS: CHICAGO, (AP)—Corn took a decided upward swing in price today largely as a result of brisk export demand for oats, rye and wheat. Rural complaints of car scarcity tended also to strengthen the corn market. In this connection the smallness of receipts here had a further bullish influence.

After opening 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher, including May at 82 7/8 to 83c, prices reacted a little but then scored a fresh advance.

Subsequently, tightness in the French attention as a bullish factor, and so likewise did predictions of unsettled weather and of a col wave. The market closed nervous, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 and higher, with January 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 and May 1 1/2 to 1 3/4.

GEORGE CHANEY HANDS KILBANE A REAL BEATING

Baltimore Featherweight Credited with Walloping Champ in Eight Round Tilt

JERSEY CITY, N. J., (AP)—Young Chaney of Baltimore outboxed and outpointed Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, in an eight round bout last night, in the opinion of a majority of the New York morning newspapers.

Chaney weighed 122 pounds and the champion 125. The Baltimore boxer took the aggressive at the start and, although not as clever as Kilbane, often went in blow for blow. The title holder was frequently forced to clinch. Chaney took the first, third, fourth and seventh rounds, and Kilbane the second and eighth. The fifth and sixth were even.

The best blow Kilbane landed was in the second round, when he placed a right smash to the left eye. In the last round, Kilbane tried to score a knockout but Chaney fought back hard.

Gene Tunney, light heavyweight champion of the American expeditionary force, scored a knockout over Bob Pearce of Chicago in the second round of an eight round match last night. Tunney weighed 175 pounds and Pearce 160. The ball saved Pearce in the first round when he was down from a right uppercut to the head. His seconds threw in the sponge in the next round after the second knockout.

Tom Cowley, the English heavyweight, won in the third round from Al Beich of New York, who was disqualified when his seconds sprayed him with water while he was recovering. Cowley weighed 212; Beich, 200. Beich did work for a minute of the first round but took the defensive thereafter. He was floored twice in the second round, the bell ringing as the count reached six on the second knockdown. In the third round he went down from a light punch.

Illness prevented Harry Greb of the United States navy from meeting Angle Rainer, who A. E. F. middleweight champion.

Jeff Smith, the light heavyweight, knocked out Jack Coyne, of Orange, N. J., in the second round.

Smith weighed 157 and Coyne 152.

Baltimore Race Track Man Partners with Hortorich for Dempsey Fight Here

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—G. D. Bryan, Jr., of Baltimore, part owner of Bowie Jefferson, Thelma Life and other race tracks, announced last night he had formed a partnership with Dominick J. Tortorich, boxing promoter of New Orleans, to form a syndicate for obtaining at any cost a bout between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier, next November.

Bryan said that he would leave here immediately after the close of Jefferson park within the next few days for California where he will confer with Jack Dempsey, and Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager.

Tortorich a few weeks ago announced that Dempsey had signed with him while in Mobile for a bout with the winner of the Carpenter-Berrett bout if the foreign pugilist could be brought to this country. The offer to Dempsey was reported to be $150,000.

ALDERMEN WILL SLEEP OVER PART OF ELKS' REQUEST FOR PRIVILEGES

Petition for Permission to Excavate and Use Alley for Coal Bunkers Stumps City Legislative Body—Right to Space Under Walks Readily Granted—Murtaugh Has Complaint

A petition for permission to excavate under the 15-foot sidewalk the entire length of the Elks property on Shoshone street north, 110 feet on Second avenue north, and to a depth of 50 feet for a distance of 50 feet in the alley at the rear of the property, proffered the principal piece of business for the attention of the city council last night.

The petition was presented in the name of James S. Keel, trustee for the Elks by Arthur E. H. Gates, attorney, considering the appeal in all of its many phases the council decided to grant the petition as to the street and avenue walks excavations, but declined to act upon the question without further investigation of the proposition. This section of the appeal was referred to the streets and alleys committee for action.

According to the wording of the appeal, as it refers to the alley demand, the Elks desire to construct fuel bunkers under the alley, thus providing direct access to the bunkers through the manholes in the back thoroughfare, without the necessity of resorting to the plan was that if the demand is concurred in most of the width of the alley, which is only 15 feet in all, will be taken over as a part of the basement of the Federal institution building. This will leave but three feet for public utilities' installation.

Petitioner also requested the right to remove certain trees on the parking alongside the property where the new temple is to be erected. This was granted.

The judge will construct reinforced concrete walks above the excavation wherever they are made at its own expense. If granted the privilege asked in the alley the lodge promises to pay all cost of construction of a reinforced concrete base for a bituminous paving surface, at its own expense.

Representing interests he holds in the Murtaugh estate, the contractor, Mr. Murtaugh, appealed to the city council for a betterment of conditions around his premises, and redress for alleged injury and damage inflicted on his property by a city sewer contractor. Mr. Murtaugh explained that in the ditching for and construction of a trunk line sewer the contractor had entered the middle of his property without asking permission. Mr. Murtaugh also stated that in removing a ditching machine after completing the work the contractor had driven over his yard and through an ornamental hedge, a considerable section of which had been torn up and not replaced. He characterized this as wanton destruction saying the machine could as well have been backed out as taken ahead. Mr. Murtaugh also stated that the contractor had "ripped a hole" in a lot of good trees in his operation, and also cut off his property from the gravity irrigation system. He asked redress for all these claimed wrongs.

The city engineer explained that the sewer had been laid along an imaginary line where an alley would ultimately cut through the property. Mr. Murtaugh was referred to C. W. Reine, contractor in charge, for redress for the damage done. A council committee will investigate the other complaints.

L. Berg, city engineer submitted a new scheme for lining and covering the Eighth avenue lateral, a plan believed to involve a still smaller expende than the next cheapest scheme. The plan is under consideration, and will be prepared in complete form during the coming week of construction. A plain concrete lining of the sides of the canal with a thick concrete cap on top.

The council also adopted an ordinance approving and confirming earlier proceedings in connection with the establishing of sewer district number 31, and in making assessment levies for the payment of the cost of construction. The former assessment roll was confirmed.

TOO MUCH CASH ECONOMIC ILL, CARVER AVERS

Harvard Professor of Economics Blames Federal Reserve Board Policy of Flooding the Country with Money for the High Costs

CHICAGO, (P)—The federal reserve board policy of "flooding the country with money" is largely responsible for the high cost of living, Prof. T. H. Carver, professor of economics of Harvard university, told members of the American Economic Association here Monday. The presence of too much money has encouraged extravagant buying, he said.

Retention by the United States of the excess profits tax was advocated by Robert M. Hing, of Columbia university, who spoke on "British experience with excess profits taxation."

Professor Carver said the country has gone on a "beat" of extravagance. There is no mystery in the present high prices. The more purchasing there is the higher prices will be. The presence of an abundance of money in the country due to the efforts of the federal reserve board, which maintained that business needed more money, is largely responsible for the excessive purchasing. Production has not fallen off as much as consumption has increased.

The convictions of the American Association for Labor Legislation, the American Association for Agricultural Legislation, the American Sociological Association, the American Statistical Association and the American Association of University Instructors in Accounting, were opened in connection with the meeting of the economic association.

Death of Frank M. Wheeler, Known as One of Best News Gatherers in New England, Follows Illness

NEWPORT, R. I., (P)—Frank M. Wheeler, for twenty years correspondent of the Associated Press here and known as one of the best news gatherers in New England, died Monday. He had been in ill health for several months.

Among the notable news "beats" scored by Mr. Wheeler was the first announcement of the capture of the harbor of the German submarine U-53, October 7, 1918. He received a tip that a strange craft was approaching the Long Point Light. From a building he "picked up" with the aid of glasses the German imperial flag and the guns fore and aft, and flashed to the world the intelligence that a German man of war was in American waters. Then in his own motor boat he put out to the U-53 and was permitted aboard her and learned the news that a day later was to work havoc among British shipping off Nantucket Strait.

Mr. Wheeler was an expert on the navy, its personnel and its ships. He was a graduate of the old line of navy men, having served on warships of sailing days. He wrote for the "Naval Apprentice," organ of the naval training station here, then turned to the regular newspaper field and, 27 years ago joined the staff of the Newport Herald. Five years later he was appointed correspondent of the Associated Press.

ISOLATION OF RUSSIA AFFECTS FRENCH TRADE

Recovery of White Goods Industry Retarded by Shortage of Flax

ARMENIERES, (P)—Recovery of the white goods industry in France from the blow dealt by the war has been retarded, it is said here, by the shortage of flax due to the isolation of Russia, the great source of supply. Only fifteen hundred persons are at work in three mills here as compared with sixteen thousand employed in 1914, according to information given the correspondent of the Associated Press today. In the course of his government-arranged trip to the war-torn regions.

Government statistics say the linen industry as a whole has resumed operations in one third of the mills, but with only a little more than six percent of the pre-war force. Officials express confidence that the manufacture of white goods will be at half production within a year, and at full output within two or three years.

BOARD INVITES BANKERS

Proposes Discussion of Federal Reserve Discount and Interest Rates

WASHINGTON, (P)—Representative bankers from throughout the country have been invited by the federal reserve board to meet in Washington January 6 to discuss the existing relation between federal reserve bank discount rates and interest rates on deposits.

The conference is the first step of the federal reserve commission and the "existing entangling alliance" between federal reserve bank discount rates and interest rates on deposits which resulted from war financing, Governor Harding said. Members of the reserve board feel that any change in the present arrangement, established during the war period, will have to be made with due consideration with its effect on the general banking situation.

CANADIANS MINE "STONE FOR SPINNING"—ASBESTOS

The greatest known deposit of asbestos in the world is in the Province of Quebec and the mining of this extraordinary mineral has developed into an important industry. Most of the asbestos mined in Canada is exported to the United States and there manufactured for commercial purposes. A great American industry is thus dependent on the Canadian raw asbestos.

Asbestos derives its name from a Greek word meaning "inconsumable" and although the knowledge of the fire-resisting qualities of asbestos is very ancient, it is only in the last decade that its multitudinous uses have become a matter of common knowledge. Greek and Roman historians tell that the corpses of their kings and heroes, when prepared for cremation, were wrapped in incombustible blankets to separate their ashes from those of the funeral pyre; Charlemagne astounded his guests on one occasion by having a tablecloth made of "cotton stone," cleaned after a meal by throwing it into the fire and taking it out unburned, but it has been put to use only in modern times.

The fine quality of Canadian asbestos and the ease with which it can be spun and woven—a very good imitation silk can be made from it—caused American and English capitalists to investigate the Canadian mines with the result that great mining camps have arisen at Black Lake and Thedford, Canada is now the center of the asbestos mining industry of the world, producing about 75,000 tons yearly, with the value ranging from $300 a ton for the best grade down to $10 a ton for the shortest fibre.

Asbestos is used in making fire-proof roofing shingles and water, vermin and fire-proof walling asbestos paint, plaster, tiles and even asbestos lumber are used in fire-proof construction. It is commonly used for theatre curtains, firemen's and electricians' gloves, firemen's garments, backing and insulation for steam pipes, boilers, refrigerators and many special purposes.

DESCRIBES BRITISH MODE OF HANDLING REBELLION

Details of Investigation of Alleged Massacre in India Reached England

LONDON, (P)—The latest newspaper received from India contain details of the investigation of the massacre of natives at Amritsar, India, last April, and the testimony given before the commission of inquiry.

General Sir William Bagnall, district commander, testifying at Lahore on November, strongly upheld the instructions of martial law. He defended the action of General Dyer, commander of the troops in India, at Gallian, Walsingham and Amritsar. He said public columns had been sent out to impress the natives and make it clear that it was intended to keep order and to counteract false reports that British rule had ended.

Magistrate J. E. Gough testified regarding flogging. He said that only natives of good physique were chosen, twelve being flogged in one day on the same flogging. The punishment was inflicted with the usual cane.

Colonel North, who commanded the port during the riots, said that the people laughed and jeered at the British quite a month prior to the riots. Early in the morning of April 12 a crowd of six thousand collected outside the walls of the fort. They tried to pull the rails down, and spat at the people inside. They stoned an officer leaving the fort. According to Colonel North, many used the expression "let us kill the white men."

The senior native magistrate at Lahore, Raim Rux, said he gathered that the impression prevailing in the crowd which collided with the authorities in April was that if the agitation continued two or three days it would result in the dismissal of the lieutenant governor, and if continued a week or so would insure the dismissal of the viceroy.

Demurrer in Newberry Case Holds Legislation Unconstitutional

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., (P)—Constitutionality of the United States election laws was questioned in a demurrer attacking the indictments against Senator Truman H. Newberry and 124 others, filed Monday by Martin W. Littleton, counsel for the respondents. The demurrer also sets forth that a majority of the counts in the indictments do not constitute offenses against the United States.

The demurrer was filed with United States District Judge C. W. Sossion, and will be heard January 5.

The demurrer holds that not only are no charges constituted in the indictments, but the congress of the United States had no authority to constitute offenses arising out of the acts set forth as offenses in the first five counts of the indictment. Through the general election law of June 25, 1910, it is claimed congress violates the right of the people of Michigan to make and enforce laws governing their own elections and themselves. In this connection the claim is made that this act violates the constitution of the United States by interfering with the sovereign rights of the various states. Congress, the demurrer adds, is without authority to enact laws regulating the news and conduct of citizens in any states who may become candidates in nominating conventions, in primary elections or in a general election. The general election law also is unconstitutional, it adds, for the reason that congress has no authority to prescribe qualifications for members of the house or senate except as in sections 2 and 3 of article one of the constitution of the United States, which in effect make congress judge of the qualifications of its own members.

The claim also is submitted to the court as a reason for setting aside of the indictments, that congress has no authority to enact laws regulating the news and conduct of citizens in any states who may become candidates in nominating conventions, in primary elections or in a general election. The general election law also is unconstitutional, it adds, for the reason that congress has no authority to prescribe qualifications for members of the house or senate except as in sections 2 and 3 of article one of the constitution of the United States, which in effect make congress judge of the qualifications of its own members.
