Decision to Blow Up Ships in Scapa Flow Disposes of Vexed Problem

LONDON, (P)—German warships sunk by their officers in Scapa Flow will be blown up shortly. It was decided here today. The decision to dispose of the vessels in this way followed the completion of investigation by a special commission representing all of the allies.

The decision, announced in the foregoing dispatch, to blow up the German ships sunk in Scapa Flow apparently disposes of a question which has caused a great deal of discussion in all of the allied countries. The almost insuperable task of raising the vessels and the possibility that the salvaged materials would be used by the Germans were believed to have weighed heavily in favor of destroying the vessels by explosives.

It is expected to open rail communications at once between Riga and Dvinsk, and it was stated in the legation that the first train from Riga to Dvinsk would probably leave Riga today, thus establishing direct communication with Poland.

The population of Dvinsk, the advance state, enthusiastically welcomed the occupying troops.

PROSECUTIONS LOOMING FOR SUGAR PROFITEERS

Federal Attorneys Looking into Practices of Shippers of Western Product to Eastern Market

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, (P)—Profiteering in sugar purchased in Utah and shipped to eastern states is being investigated by the United States district attorney at Salt Lake City, according to a statement made by him late yesterday. Prosecution will be instituted in a number of cases he said.

Owing to a shortage, a market for sugar at $20 a hundred pound sack has been created in the eastern states, while in the west the producers, conforming to the federal regulations, have been selling sugar at $10.50 per hundred weight, the district attorney said. Speculators have been purchasing all the available sugar in Utah and shipping it east in order to realize an unfair advance in price, which, according to the district attorney, is profiteering.

Legislative Probe Reveals Great Organization Under Direction of Russian Bolshevist Leaders

ESTIMATE MAKES NO ACCOUNTING OF SECRET FRIENDS OF REVOLUTIONISTS

NEW YORK, (P)—More than twenty thousand alien enemies in the communist party of New York state alone are openly organized for violent overthrow of the government under the direction of Bolshevist leaders in Russia, Senator Clayton B. Lutz, chairman of the legislative committee investigating seditious activities, declared today. In addition there are the communist labor party and "other revolutionary" organizations working actively to accomplish the same ends as well as many other bodies which encourage their activities without participating openly in them, the senator said.

"The arrests already made in the state on charges of criminal anarchy and for conspiring to scratch the surface of the situation," said the senator.

"These organizations have been permitted to reach such proportions that the only way they can be destroyed is for loyal citizens in each community to organize and co-operate with the federal and local authorities in unceasing and prosecuting those traitors."

Commits Misleg to Jail

An order for commitment to jail of the Russian radical paper Noy Mir, in which Trotsky worked before going to soviet Russia to become minister of war, was prepared today by Deputy Attorney General Davis. By agreement with Justice Davis' decision last night that Misleg was in contempt of the joint legislative committee investigating seditious activities when he refused to answer certain questions, the principal developments of the conference which began yesterday.

Demands of women for equal representation on the national committee of the party, and a sentiment reflected in speeches of prominent party leaders, to deal vigorously with the labor and industrial situation as one of the chief issues of the election campaign, were the principal developments of the conference which began yesterday.

Meets Women's Demands

Many of the women today regarded their demands for "a fair representation" in the party organization as virtually confirmed with the election of Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, that "the republican party offers the women everything we offer the men."

Plans for the national convention next June also were launched and arrangements for the fitting up of the Coliseum to allowed a seating capacity of 15,387 were made.

Edward T. Sawyer, of Indianapolis, was elected sergeant at arms for the gathering.

Talk Industrial Problems

At a banquet last night given by the state central committee in honor of Chairman Hays and Mrs. John Oliver, the national committee, the two candidates for the presidential nomination, and Chairman Hays devoted their attention to industrial problems. The gathering was attended by more than 1200 republican men and women.

Major General Leonard Wood, asailing anarchism, declared "the biggest problem of the day is maintenance of the law and order, respect for constitutional authority and maintenance of a government under the constitution."

"As for the roads," General Wood said, "let's stamp them out. They are a cancer on the body of the government is timid and slack."

Ninety per cent of American labor is "on the square," he said, urging American leadership for labor.

Information was also given by the speaker about a more healthy industrial situation. "If every man and woman took the same interest in political matters as in their personal affairs, most of our social ills would disappear," he asserted.

In the war on radicalism, he said, there was no more potent argument than home ownership.

Urges Ratification

Governor Lowden made public a letter to Senator Borah, of Idaho, in which he urged ratification of the covenant of the league of nations, with such reservations as already adopted by the senate in committee. ## Party Leaders' Speeches Reflect Sentiment for Vigorous Dealing with Industrial Situation in Campaign

CHICAGO, (P)—Republicans from 14 middle western states continued today their work of molding party issues and laying plans for the participation of republican women in the 1920 presidential campaign.

Demands of women for equal representation on the national committee of the party, and a sentiment reflected in speeches of prominent party leaders, to deal vigorously with the labor and industrial situation as one of the chief issues of the election campaign, were the principal developments of the conference which began yesterday.

REAL FIGHT STILL TO COME, SAYS ATTORNEY FOR LIQUOR INTERESTS

CHICAGO, (P)—Liquor interests have not given up their fight against the Greenback national prohibition despite the decision of the supreme court sustaining constitutionality of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act, Levy Mayer, counsel for the "wet" declared today.

DRASTIC PLAN OF ROOSEVELT IS REVEALED

Hitherto Unpublished Details in Settlement of Anthracite Strike of 1902 are Made Public by Biographer

NEW YORK, (AP)—Hitherto unpublished details of the "drastic" plan President Roosevelt had decided to adopt to settle the anthracite strike of 1902, as it has been known only to two members of his cabinet and a few persons who were to take part in its execution appear in the fifth installment of the author's new letters edited by Joseph Bucklin Bishop in the January issue of Scribner's Magazine. The article also gives some intimate insights on Roosevelt's attitude toward union labor.

At 30 persons had been killed and about 40 injured during the rioting in the coal fields and the approach of winter brought with it the prospect of a nation wide fuel famine, the majority of large cities in government and private industry appealed to the president, Mr. Bishop says, to interfere to the interest of the public welfare and safety. According to his biographer, Mr. Roosevelt of the cabinet, who had previously persisted in their refusal to accept a commission, "to assume powers which the constitution did not specifically give him" and to use the United States army to suppress all violence and disorder.

Writing to Robert Bacon on October 5, 1902, shortly after a conference in Washington of the mine operators and the strike leader, the president declared, in a futile effort to settle the trouble, by the appointment of a commission of investigation or arbitration, he said:

"The situation is bad, especially because it is possible it may grow infinitely worse. If when the severe weather comes on there is a coal famine, I dread to think of the suffering in parts of our great cities especially, and I fear it will be fuel riots and a type as any bread riots we have ever seen. Of course, once the rioting has begun, one there is a resort to mob violence, the only thing to do is to maintain order. It is a dread thing to do, but I brought face to face with a necessity of taking measures, however unavoidable, which will mean the death of men who have been maddened by want and suffering."

In a letter to Senator Lodge he wrote that he was "feeling" his way to solve the difficulty and was determined not to be drawn into any "violent step which would bring bloodshed and regret afterward." At another time he said: "Most emphatically I shall not compromise with lawlessness. I have been told on excellent authority, that the disorder has been worse than that of any kind. On equally good authority, I am told the exact contrary. I shall speedily find out for myself. I stand against socialism; against anarchic disorder."

Colonel Roosevelt's "drastic" plan of action which Mr. Bishop says he makes public with the late president's permission and authority included his appointment of an investigating or arbitration commission without regard to whether or not the operators agreed to it or agreed to abide by its decisions. He asked ex-President Cleveland in case he were to appoint such a commission, if he would accept of one on it, and, according to Mr. Bishop, Mr. Cleveland replied favorably.

"This commission was only part of the president's plan," says Mr. Bishop. "The investigation which it was to conduct would take time. In order that mining operations might be resumed as speedily as possible, the president consulted with Senator Quay, who was all-potent in Pennsylvania politics, and was assured by him that whenever the president desired him to do so he would have the governor of the state notify the president that he could not keep order in the coal region and needed federal interference."

"The president then informed Major General John M. Schofield that in case federal interference was insisted to send him and his coal regions with the regular army troops with instructions to act as receiver of the mines, take full charge, put down all violence, and disregard any orders from the operators. He asked the general, if, in case the operators went to court and had a writ served on 'him,' would he do as was done under Lincoln, simply send the writ on to the president? After a little thought the general replied that he would. Roosevelt said: 'All right, I will send you.'"

President Roosevelt, he said, had all preparations made for starting the troops within half an hour after the request for federal aid was received. The president's plan, Mr. Bishop says, "because at the last moment the operators changed front and consented to the appointment of a commission, whether or not they got wind of the president's purpose, but for better or for ill, but some powerful influence was responsible for their sudden reversal."

WALLACE DODGES RESPONSIBILITY FOR PEACE COUNCIL NEGOTIATIONS

PARIS, (AP)—Hugh C. Wallace, the American ambassador was reported to have asked the supreme council of the peace conference to change the formula referring to the powers participating in the council from the "allied and associated powers" to the "allied powers." This report was not strictly correct, it has been learned.

Ambassador Wallace, it is stated, was not asked for the term "allied and associated powers" but merely requested that, when questions arose which involved the United States, this formula, including "the United States," be not used in documents until he had time to get a decision from Washington on such questions.

Newspaper Gives Version. Hugh C. Wallace, American ambassador to France has asked the supreme council to precede future decisions of the council with the formula "allied powers," instead of "allied and associated powers," which has been used in the past, according to the Echo de Paris.

"This," says the newspaper, "marks the determination of the United States not to participate officially in decisions to be reached in Paris. Washington," while declining the responsibility of the supreme council, continues to be represented at its sessions. How can Mr. Wallace's role be defined? It is not a plain question. Witness or observer is the accepted term.

Pleasure at the prospect of an American representative who will keep Washington informed as to events until the United States delegates resume their places on the council is expressed by the newspaper, which says:

Wilson Inhabits Olympus. "Nothing can be definitely concluded without President Wilson's assent beforehand. So the council is supreme only in name; 'supremacy belongs to Mr. Wilson, who inhabits not the White House, but Mount Olympus. It is inevitable that a dilemma will arise. The United States will be obliged to take responsibilities corresponding to her action, or she will renounce this role. It is hoped this abstruse situation may be arranged by speedy ratification of the treaty according to the program of Senator Lodge, followed by return of America to her rightful place in the settlement of European affairs."

Frankly Put.
Recently two old people in the neighborhood were married. Both were well known, being familiar town characters. When Jimmy heard about it he was so excited he came running in and exclaimed: "O mother, Mr. Old Jenkins and Auntie Old Murray are married, and I think they're awful long waiters."

Suspects the Comp.
An Ohio shape reports a double wedding "where the bride and groom, John Nichols officiating, the two couples pledged their troth, exchanging the cows which made them man and wife." Rather odd, that idea of exchanging cows in church. We suspect, however, another exchange—that of the compositor, who probably substituted a "c" for an "n."

Mountains of the Moon.
The "Mountains of the Moon" was a name given by ancient writers to a ridge in the interior of Africa, containing the source of the River Nile. They were situated afterwards as traversing Africa from east to west. These ancients knew next to nothing about the interior of Africa, and their mountains of the moon have disappeared from modern maps.

YANKEES' OWNER PURCHASES RUTH BUT WILL NOT TELL THE PRICE PAID

Red Sox Dispose of Mighty Slugger at a Price Sports Experts Estimate from $125,000 to $150,000—"Babe" Says He'll Play Only in His Native Town—Has Asked $20,000 Per Year

NEW YORK, (AP)—The most popular indoor sport in New York today was guessing how much the New York Yankees paid for George H. (Babe) Ruth, the home run monarch. The nearest approach to anything of an official nature was the smiling admission of Colonel Jacob Ruppert, the Yankees' president, who understood an offer of $100,000 for Ruth was refused last summer by Harry Frazee of the Boston club. Sporting writers estimate the price paid was $125,000 to $150,000.

Followers of the national pastime recalled that it was not so many years ago the baseball world was agitated at the news that the New York Giants had purchased Rube Marquard for $11,000. Since then the sale of diamond stars has mounted even faster than the high cost of living. Until the sale of Ruth yesterday, the record price was $50,000 and two players paid by Cleveland for Trix Spieker, and $50,000 by the Chicago Americans for Eddie Collins.

In commenting on the purchase of Ruth, Colonel Ruppert said: "This is our answer to those who would like to drive us out of baseball. We entered into negotiations for the famous player in pursuance of a definite policy to give the club's royal following in New York an aggressive, strong, well balanced team."

"BABE" DOESN'T LIKE IT.
BOSTON, Mass., (AP)—Babe Ruth today sent the following telegram to John Igoe, his business manager here: "I will not play anywhere but Boston. Will leave for the east Monday." Igoe said Ruth had indicated his money in the cigar business here and naturally would desire to be in Boston as much as possible.

There was some adverse criticism of the sale from the local fans among whom Ruth's prowess was the bat that has made him immensely popular. Harry Frazee, owner of the Red Sox, declared the club too valuable to be dependent on the services of one player. He would not name the amount received for Ruth but declared that it was "stupendous" and that no other club but New York could afford to pay such a sum. The money received, he said, would enable him to purchase much needed strength for the Boston club and place it again in the running for pennant honors.

High School News

A new policy has been adopted by the Twin Falls high school this year in respect to the schedule of debating teams. Pocatello high school as well as Boise will meet local debaters in a few months, it was announced at the high school yesterday. The subject for discussion this year between Twin Falls and Boise is: Resolved, that boards of arbitration with compulsory power should be appointed by the government to settle all labor disputes. Arguments between Pocatello and Twin Falls will hinge on the same topic, though complete arrangements for debate with the Gate City teams have not yet been made.

The local school, as in the past, will send two teams of three members each against the other schools. About fifteen boys will contest this year for places on the teams, which will again be coached by M. G. Mitchell. Members of the teams will be selected at the tryout meeting on the evening of January 27. Local speakers will meet Boise on April 2 and Pocatello a few weeks later.

CAFETERIA CLOSED

The school cafeteria and lunch room is closed this week, during final examinations, but will be reopened next Monday.

TO HELP OPHATHIES

Several girls of the senior class were entertained by Miss Marian Farrag at her home on Second avenue north last evening. The time was spent sewing on material which will probably be donated to the Associated Charities when completed.

"Bussa" an Eastern Intoxicant.
"Bussa," the intoxicant drink of the Africans from Egypt down to Zanzibar, is the well-known hydromel, made of honey and water. This is a northern as well as a tropical and southern drink, being much used in Russia. It was the popular drink in the countries of the Baltic. It was also well known to the ancient Greeks and Romans.

Novel Apartment Building.

A San Francisco woman realty operator has planned a novel building. Her idea is to utilize a steep bluff 350 feet high. On it she proposes to erect a series of apartments running in stair-step fashion from the street down to the water of San Francisco bay.

It is proposed to have each apartment equipped with its own elevator entrance, porch and roof garden, with a glass-covered inclined elevator connecting all with the private wharf for fishing and boating. Other features projected are a swimming pool, sea-water bathing tank and glass enclosed and heated playground for children on the beach. Steam heat, hot water, laundry, garage, billiard, club and ball rooms are to be provided as matters of course. The site commands a fine view of the Golden Gate and the sea outside, according to the prospecting, and it is said the apartments, which will rent at prohibitive (for most of us) price, are already under lease, even before the building has been started.—Kansas City Star.

His Opinion.

"True, women's fashions are so immodest as to shock the pure," said J. Fuller Gloom. "The summers are also hotter and the winters colder than they ever were before. Just as usual, the country is going headlong to the dogs. Every town in America has more feds and crooks and gossips in it, in proportion to its size, than any other town in America. The poor are always growing poorer and the rich growing fatter. The end of the world is always at hand, and probably always will be. In fact, there is everlastingly something to howl about, if you want to howl. The women have always worn exactly what they pleased if just the manner that suited their best, and there never was and never will be any help for it. And if their disgusting garb offends you there is no law compelling you to keep edging around until you get a comely woman between yourself and the sun, confound you!"—Kansas City Star.

Milton's Next Retort.
It was in 1868, in the fifty-second year of his age, that Milton was visited in prison by Charles II, the restored Stuart king. "You see," said the monarch to the prisoner, "what a pass God has brought you to for your treason. He has stricken you with blindness and brought you to this loathsome dungeon." "But by your majesty's argument," replied Milton, "God thinks far more of me than he did of your father, for while he made me blind, he cut off your father's head."

THE WAY OUT

"The United States should not forget that it has invested in Europe ten billion dollars—part of its national wealth," says Eugene Schneider, chairman of the French commission of the International Trade conference, pointing out continuing needs of Europe and asserting its undiminished ability and willingness to pay its debts.

"America's position in world trade is changed," says President Wilson, dealing in his recent message with this dominant world problem and arguing on this premise for removal of economic barriers and the creation of trade equality among nations.

No one doubts that America's position in world trade has changed from that of a debtor to a creditor nation and no one questions the desirability, the necessity for American participation in the rehabilitation of Europe, but the advisability of the president's proposal very seriously to be doubted. It is to be recalled that the president's present contention is, exactly the same as his contention before the war, only it is based on a new premise.

Europe can and will repay the loans that have been advanced, but the medium with which this debt is to be paid is a matter of very serious importance to Americans.

The president argues for payment in goods, and this in the face of the fact that Europe has practically no raw materials with which America is not already abundantly supplied. It must be, then, that goods offered in payment must be manufactured goods; and this comes perilously near meaning that American workmen must be permitted to lie idle, American factories must remain closed and American fields must grow to weeds, in order to enable foreign nations who chafe to be in debt to some American to pay their debts to those creditors.

It is not to be questioned that American capital has the right, and in this case, the privilege, to loan money to foreign nations. It may be a good thing for them, and for the borrowers, and no fault is to be found in that. But serious fault is to be found in any proposition which makes of the productive industries of the country a large collection agency for the lenders.

America cannot afford to accept payment in that medium with which she already is abundantly supplied; but America can afford, and ought to extend the time of payment of the debts of Europe until such time as Europe, through rehabilitation of its own industries and through eventual replenishment of its own war-depleted stock of goods, is in position to repay in the same medium which it borrowed.

There is no other satisfactory way out.

HEART OF THE WORLD

Additional evidence of the unbroken continuity of the "heart of the world" consequent upon the decision of the United States senate not to ratify the peace treaty and covenant of the league of nations without reservations deemed necessary for the safeguard of American interests is the statement of the Echo de Paris in comment upon the reported request of Ambassador Wallace that the supreme council change the formula referring to the powers participating in the council from the "allied and associated powers" to the "allied powers" until he had time to get a decision from Washington on certain questions.

Says the Echo de Paris: "It is inevitable that a dilemma will arise. The United States will be obliged to take responsibilities corresponding to her action, or she will renounce this role. It is to be hoped that this absurd situation may be arranged by speedy ratification of the treaty according to the program of Senator Lodge, followed by return of America to her rightful place in the settlement of European affairs."

It is becoming increasingly evident that the ratification of the treaty without the dotting of an "i" or the crossing of a "t" is denounced by very few and that those few include practically none of the allied powers.

INDICATION IS FAVORABLE

(Continued from Page One) Representatives complain that the cost will be excessive. So heavy an expenditure is not necessary, it is asserted. The council, it is learned, will reply that inasmuch as the United States has not supplied its quota of troops which was to constitute a quarter of the whole, the number of men sent will comprise only three quarters of the total originally fixed.

WILSON WILL CONVENE LEAGUE PLEBISCITE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Wilson "will no doubt" issue the call for the first meeting of the league of nations under the peace treaty when the treaty is actually in effect through the exchange of ratifications of three of the allied powers and Germany, Under Secretary of State Polk said today. "I think there is hardly a doubt that the president will issue the call," Mr. Polk said, "in view of the fact that he is especially charged with this duty by the treaty and it has nothing to do with ratification by the United States."

Mr. Polk added that he had so advised Treasurer Clegg and the other outside members while he was in Paris as head of the American peace mission when they asked whether the president would issue the call.

Today's Markets

Grains and Provisions CHICAGO, (AP)—Stormy weather and highness of receipts gave a decided advantage today to bulls in the corn market. Besides there was some export inquiry for coal. General buying, however, was overdone, and this fact together with weakness in hog values led to a reaction. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 1-2c higher, with May $1.34 1-2 to 1-35 and July $1.33 to 1.33 1-4, were followed by sharp general gains and then something of a sag. Ascenting bids arrangements had been made to furnish a liberal number of cars to railroads in the grain belt counted later to some extent as a check against new upturns in price. The close nevertheless was strong, 1 3/4 to 2 3/8c. Oats paralleled the action of corn. After opening unchanged to 1-4c higher, including May at $1.14 to $1.12c, market hardened further before beginning to react. Provisions were lower with hogs. Selling however, lacked volume.

BOLSHEVIST AIM TO ENGULF ALL NATIONALITIES

Establishment of International Dictatorship of Proletariat Essence of Sovietism, According to Admissions

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The communists of London and Trotsky recognize no national lines or state boundaries but aim at engulfing the entire world through the establishment of an international dictatorship of proletariat, according to "essence" of sovietism prepared by the Bolsheviks themselves and included in a collection of press utterances translated from Russian newspapers for the state department.

The memorandum which presents an indictment of Bolshevik terrorism and points out the Soviet program for world revolution, was made public Sunday and has been transmitted to the senate and house committees dealing with foreign affairs.

Elite Eligible Radicals
Four American radical organizations were included in the original list eligible for representation and full membership in the third international, according to the full text of the call issued by wireless in January, 1919, which was reproduced in the memorandum. These organizations were: the socialist labor party of America, the "left element" of the socialist party of America, especially that group which is represented by Debs and the socialist propaganda association, the I. W. W. of America and the Workers Industrial Union of America.

Exclusion of Terror
The extraordinary commissions and organized terror under the Bolshevik regime are discussed in the memorandum, and supplemented by official proclamations from the president of the All-Russian extraordinary commission. This message, signed by Petrovsky, September 2, 1919, contains the following:

"Eggs should be put to weakness and softness. All right socialist-revolutionaries known as local sovets should be made amiable. Numerous hostages should be taken from the bourgeois and officer classes. At the slightest attempt to resist or the slightest movement among the units, immediate shooting should be applied at once. Initiative in this matter rests essentially with the local executive committees."

Industrial Collapse Shown
Other press excerpts show the disorganization of administrative machinery, the decrease in the productivity of labor, industrial collapse, and the breakdown of transportation.

The world program of the Bolsheviks is amplified in the May day proclamation last year of the communist international, in which appeared the phrase: "Long live civil war, the only just way, in which the oppressed class fights its oppressors."

Young Diplomat
Little Dale, aged three, who lived in the neighborhood, was always dropping in about meal time. He liked to be asked to remain for the meals and would try to think of something interesting to say in order to bring his about. At one time he walked round the table and noticing some eggs that had been boiled in the shell exclaimed: "Oh, see the beautiful eggs!"

Neatly Put
George's little playmate was somewhat inclined to exaggerate whenever he told anything. His elders seemed amused at what they called his imaginations. Not so with George, who was a serious child for his age. "You can't depend on what Carl says," he commented; "he tells so many things that ain't."

In Fact, Generally
A scientist says that cholera germs look like a comma. Possibly, but when they get into a man's system they are apt to put the final period to his existence.

Twin Kangaroos Scarce
A kangaroo with twins is one of the rarest sights in Australia.

Court Decrees Women Smokers Not Immoral

NEW YORK, (AP)—Smoking of cigarettes by women was judicially decreed today as not immoral. The decision was made by Supreme Court Justice Mulvaney in a separate case in which counsel for the husband tried to show that cigarettes had been found in the wife's dresser drawer and that this constituted evidence of "bad character."
"It is not immoral for women to smoke cigarettes," declared the judge. "Some of the best women in the country and in the world smoke cigarettes. It would not make any difference if she had a thousand packages of cigarettes there. This isn't Kieckvillo."

Three Doctors Return From America to Begin Active Health Campaign Among Women.

ALL AGENCIES COMBINE.

American Y. W. C. A. Will Support Women's Part of Chinese Health Campaign as Part of World Service Program.

As a result of the Y. W. C. A. International Conference of Women Physicians, held during September and October, Chinese women are to have a far-reaching health program.

HIR IDA KAHN URGES CHINESE WOMEN TO WORK.

conference, are to take an active part in promoting this health program for women which will be the share of the Y. W. C. A. in the big health movement in China.

The funds for establishing these health centers, for demonstrations of how to care for babies, for health lectures for the women, for babies' dispensaries and for a general educational campaign, will be raised by the American Y. W. C. A. as part of its program of world service for women and girls in 1920.

Dr. Ida Kahn, in a recent appeal to modern Chinese women said, "Let our women of education in Peking and elsewhere gather themselves together to work for the schools, Red Cross and Y. W. C. A., and everything else which represents the betterment of the country. Instead of staying at home to play poker and 'sparrow,' and going out to attend endless dinners, tea parties and dances.

"Let us rally our forces and help the ship of state to move safely. One person cannot accomplish much, but one or two hundred millions of women can work wonders. Let us go back to a more Spartan-like simplicity of living and let us build up social service until every city in China is sanitary, every section of the town has its proper schools, and every child, whether boy or girl, is sent to such schools. The social service brings democracy in the train, and we who are citizens of a new republic can help to make it truly great by preaching and living democracy all the time. Why not learn to do our household duties, deeming it feminine to be waited upon by maids and slave girls all the time?"

"The status of women in China, while leaving much to be desired, still is quite hopeful when we consider that she is just emerging into the sisterhood of the nations. Our men can depend upon us to bear the burdens of the day, for nowhere is there a more industrious, diligent and persevering womanhood than in China."

Dr. Kahn is lecturing in this country on the needs of her fellow country women, in the interests of the Y. W. C. A. Educational Campaign which plans to acquaint people with all phases of Y. W. C. A. work in the United States, South America, Cuba, Japan, India and Europe. This educational campaign will be followed by an active effort to raise the $3,000,000 needed for service for women throughout the world.

FAIR PRICE IS QUOTED BELOW DEALERS COST

Chicago Department Stores Adjust Lists to Bring About Rushing Business in Cheaper Grade of Clothing

CHICAGO, (AP)—Investigation of the "fair price" list for clothing, issued by the Illinois fair price committee, and which out-of-town merchants desire is lower than the wholesale price, has revealed that business dealers whereby leading Chicago department stores have done a rushing business in cheaper grades of clothing.

The clothing fair price committee, composed of five officials of the big downtown department stores and one representative of the suburban dealers, frankly admits that clothing can not be bought in the wholesale market today at the "fair price" set for retailers.

The committee fixed the fair price for men's suits and overcoats at $25.50; women's suits at $27; men's and women's hose at 25 cents a pair, and other articles on a corresponding scale.

Do Rushing Business

The big downtown stores have complete lists of clothing on sale in their "subway" sections at the prices fixed, and have been doing a rushing business.

When merchants from many sections complained that it made them appear to be profiteers, and that they could not buy clothing at wholesale for the committee's retail price, the Chicago dealers explained.

The clothing on sale here was all purchased many months ago, some being bought within the past six months.

The men's suits, for example, are of two classes, cotton and wool mixtures, and all wool shoddy.

When the merchants agreed on the "fair price" list each placed a complete list of this class of clothing on sale, regardless of the wholesale cost. After the present supplies are exhausted no more will be available, it is said.

Use Buying Power

The big buying power of stores here, coupled with the fact that they carry very large stocks, made this price list possible, according to D. P. Kelly, manager of one of the biggest Chicago department stores, and acting chairman of the fair price committee.

The merchants in smaller cities are rigid when they say they can not buy now at wholesale at prices as low as our fair price list. We couldn't either. We had to make a special drive for the men and women who want low priced clothing.

Cheapest Wool Suit $50

The cheapest wool suit, moderate in well tailored, on sale in the regular clothing departments today is priced at $50. The average well-dressed business man can not be outfitted for less than $75 to $85 for a suit. The suits we are selling at $50 would have retailed at $15 in 1914, showing an increase of about 50 percent since before the war. The suits that sell today for $50 would have sold at $25 before the war.

Members of the fair price committee include Mr. Kelly, are John T. Pierce, George Lytton, John O'Connor and Dudley Palmer, representing Chicago business district stores, and Irving Klein, representative of the suburban dealers.

CHINESE WOMEN HAVE FINANCIAL ABILITY.

They Carried Y. W. C. A. Campaign "Over the Top."

Much has been said about the honesty and skill of the Chinese business man. The world has neglected to mention the financial ability of Chinese women. They proved this ability in the last financial campaign of the Y. W. C. A. in Tientsin.

Ordinarily three weeks are allowed in which to raise the budget by subscription after the finance committee has decided upon the sum necessary to carry on the work of the coming year. The Tientsin campaign was carried on entirely by Chinese women and broke all records by going over the top in ten days with a large surplus over the budget.

EGG MAKING VITAL THING

Carcase of Hen of Little Value, She Must Be a Layer—Pamphlets Tell Story

Containing a vast amount of information relative to the breeding of poultry for all-around utility purposes, and the feeding of hens for egg production, from Moore, poultry husbandman of the agricultural experiment station of the University of Illinois, has issued a series of three brochures, a number of copies of which are to be found at the local offices of the farm bureau. The distribution to persons entertaining an interest in this line of domestic fowl culture.

An accompanying message is precluded with the primary information and instructions relative to the raising of domestic birds. He says the primary object of keeping fowls is egg production. It matters not what other qualifications a hen may possess, if she is not a producer she has no value. Eggs represent about two-thirds the value of the entire poultry industry in dollars and cents. The hen's carcass is merely a by-product of the poultry industry.

Containing Mr. Moore says:

"The carcass of the average hen, on the average market of Idaho, will sell for less than one dollar, probably a little less than one-third of the cost of feeding for one year. If the average hen is to break even with her keeper, then she must lay at least 80 eggs in the average price of eggs in Idaho for this period was about 42 cents per dozen, making the eggs worth about three dollars. This would not allow the farmer any compensation for his labor in raising the bird. Even so much better that to sustain a loss, but certainly is not good business."

"Eighty-six eggs per hen is much above the average yearly production for Idaho farm hens. There are those farm flocks in Idaho, however, that produce a much higher average. One Idaho farm record has been kept for the last five years shows a yearly average of 184 eggs per year per hen. A production of this average would mean a net income of $634 per year per hen, or a net profit of $334. There are other records of shorter duration that show even higher averages than the one mentioned."

"The real test of the success of any proposition is determined by the results obtained over a long period of time and from all the units affected. High individual records, or high averages obtained from short tests, are not the real test and are not valuable."

RUPERT

RUPERT—Petitions are being circulated asking the board of county commissioners of Minidoka county to create a herd district including within its boundaries the irrigated lands within the county. The purpose of the new scheme, it is explained, is the correcting of the old law and also for the prohibiting of livestock being herded on the highway.

Plans have been drawn for a big gymnasium and community hall by the L. D. S. church, to be erected on property adjoining the Rupert church building. The plan calls for a 60 by 120 foot structure, probably of brick with full concrete basement, in which will be a dining room, shower bath and similar additions. Thirty thousand dollars is expected to be expended in the building and equipment. The first floor will be equipped with an up-to-date gymnasium, and will be built so that it may be used for amateur athletic and dancing. A large stage will occupy the back portion.

C. H. Darling, advance agent for the University of Idaho Oleo Club was in Rupert last Thursday, and arranged for a concert to be given by the club in Rupert in February, 1920. The club's appearance will be made under the auspices of the high school, and will appear in the high school auditorium.

On Tuesday night at the Walcott school house a farm bureau meeting was held with a good attendance of farmers.

THE successful farmer raises bigger crops and cuts down costs by investment in labor-saving machinery.

Good prices for the farmer's crops encourage new investment, more production and greater prosperity.

But the success of agriculture depends on the growth of railroads—the modern beasts of burden that haul the crops to the world's markets.

The railroads—like farms—increase their output and cut down unit costs by the constant investment of new capital.

With fair prices for the work they do, the railroads are able to attract new capital for expanding their facilities.

Rates high enough to yield a fair return will insure railroad growth, and prevent costly traffic congestion which invariably results in poorer service at higher cost.

National wealth can increase only as our railroads grow.

Poor railroad service is dear at any price. No growing country can long pay the price of inadequate transportation facilities.

ALL IN A STEW

By LUCY HIGHTON

"Stella awfully good," declared big Bill Printley, coming into the kitchen from the garden and smiling about "How long before dinner, Eleanor?"

"About twenty minutes," briskly returned his wife, stooping to turn up the gas under the oven. "You just got to put the potatoes in the stew now."

"Stew's the stuff for hungry gardeners," Bill replied appreciatively. "Lucky I had a vacation today, that garden needed glowing badly. Hello!" he exclaimed, glancing out of the window.

"What's up? Somebody's having a trouble. Guess I'll fan out a minute and see if I can help."

"Eleanor," he called in a tone of mingled awe and excitement a few minutes later, "It's John Gillespie, head of the firm, and it will be quite some time before he gets fixed up, so I nacked him in to dinner."

Eleanor stared at her husband in ominous silence. In a moment she found her voice.

"Bill Printley, what were you thinking of?" she demanded. "Today of all days. I'm ironing, too. And we've nothing but lamb stew, biscuits and boiled custard."

"I'm sorry," he whispered, stepping up softly behind her and kissing a saucy curl on her neck.

Eleanor related. "I'll have to think of something more suitable in a jiffy," she returned, smiling into his great brown eyes.

She stepped into the pantry and selected a lot of tongue. She would cut it in thin slices and garnish with parsley. That would be vastly superior to plain lamb stew.

She glanced at the clock. Fortunately, she had saved some potatoes from the stew. She would cream them. There would be time for a lamb pie, and with the addition of a few egg whites whipped the water turn her boiled custard into a floating island and dot it with currant jelly.

She slipped into a pretty gray velveteen dress, and flushed and smiling she welcomed her unexpected guest.

After a few minutes that she excused herself, leaving Bill to entertain. She hurried into the pantry, but not perturbed with horror as she held the platter of choice tongue fast in a pin of milk. In her haste she had left the platter uncertainly perched on the window sill and a good stiff breeze had done the mischief.

Another hasty glance at the emergency shelf revealed a can of crab meat that was too small. Fatigue and that bad nerve worse than lamb stew. She sighed. She must serve this phoebian dish, after all. She would serve the stew en casserole. It wouldn't be bad, after all, with carrots and peas.

"I wonder if you ever eat lamb stew?" asked Eleanor slightly apologetic after the soup course had been dispensed.

"My favorite dish," responded Mr. Gillespie. "Nothing beats real home cooking."

After a few mouthfuls, he continued: "It's just like mother used to make for me when I came home from school. And it justifies the tantalizing colors that were wanted out to me when she hung me out to dry. I was wishing my good fairy would invite me to dinner when, lo! my tire turned the trick."

Eleanor flushed with pleasure. There was no mistaking his sincerity.

Mr. Gillespie took the lead in the conversation, and before either Eleanor or Bill realized it, he had them telling him their hopes and aspirations.

"After his departing, Eleanor looked at Bill a long moment. "What do you make out of it all?" she asked as she hurried back to her ironing.

"He seemed mighty interested in us here in our home," returned Bill dubiously. "But I never flattered myself that he even noticed me in the office. Just a drudge along with the rest of the machinery."

For two weeks the eager look of expectancy in Eleanor's eyes were met by studied cheerfulness on Bill's part as each night he greeted her with, "No news yet, sweetheart."

"I'm afraid I've talked too much," said Eleanor uncertainly.

"Well, if we did it was all Gillespie's fault," defended Bill. "He led us on. I don't think they had made a grave blunder ranked in Eleanor's soul, but she strove to keep up her spirits for Bill's sake. Then one night, just as she had lost hope, she heard him bound up the steps and the next moment he was in the room. "I got the show and jubilantly, catching her in his arms."

"Gillespie called me into the office tonight and offered me the job of manager of the sales department. Do you realize what that means, sweetheart?"

She nodded, face aglow.

"I'm just getting my feet under me," he explained. "I've had two years of equal ability on the promotion list, but couldn't decide which was more deserving. That stew and our chat told him many things he wanted to know."

"Gillespie phoned me," collected Bill, as the subject never that delicacy chicken or choice or tongue or even a dignified roast that graces the board, but plain lamb stew.

LIBERTY BOND BUYERS HAVE 10 MILLION DUE

Interest on Third and Victory Liberty Loans Buys Christmas Presents

San Francisco—Patriotic citizens of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District who bought Liberty Bonds during the month of December 1919 will have come to them approximately $10,045,300 on December 15 as interest on bonds of the First and Fifth Liberty Loans.

This is more than one dollar per capita for every resident in the seven states of the Twelfth District.

To many the interest money will come almost as a Christmas gratuity, but the Government is anxious that its creditors use the interest not as easy money but that they re-invest it immediately in Government securities, such as War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates carrying 4% interest compounded quarterly, thus making interest earn interest.

To those who intend to make holiday merriment use the Government says: "Buy War Savings Stamps for Christmas."

The total of $10,045,300 due is apportioned into $2,295,750 as interest on the First Loan and $7,749,550 interest on the Fifth Loan.

If the entire $10,045,300 collectible on December 15 was invested in War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates, and the securities held until their maturity date five years later, the interest on the interest would amount to nearly a half million.

MESOPOTAMIA TO 'COME BACK'

Prophecy That Ancient Land is to Be Redeemed From Present State of Barrenness.

It may be remembered that, when Gen. Sir Stanley Maude had to lay down his sword with his life in Mesopotamia that work was taken up and carried out successfully by Gen. Sir W. R. Marshall. The expedition which he sent up the Euphrates-Tigris that river from the Turks, and just before the annals of the force which he led up the Tigris from Baghdad, captured the great city of Mosul, the city which stands on the west bank opposite the ruins of Nineveh. Since then the country has had peace, and all the way north and west from Basra there has been a notable revival of commerce and agriculture.

With a beginning of the great irrigation scheme devised by Sir William Willcocks, it was through irrigation that in ancient times the land developed its extraordinary fertility, and traces remain of the network of canals that formed the center of Babylonian life.

To-day to be a renewal of that fertility in place of the desert barrenness produced by Turkish neglect and maladministration? General Marshall, who has returned to England, is of that opinion. Speaking recently at Durham he made one very remarkable statement. As a result of experiments, the great irrigation scheme devised by Mesopotamia would become the finest cotton-growing country in the world. That is a large expectation, too large to disturb cotton growers in other countries. Details of the experiments, showing surprising results, will have to be made known before the "back to the land" scheme devised by South Carolina and Florida can believe that its supremacy is threatened by Mesopotamia, or that the beautiful long-stapled silky wool of its peculiar variety can be excelled anywhere.

AZORES AT A STANDSTILL

Population Has Shown Little Change in Last Century—Lost Trade in Sugar and Tobacco.

The population of the Azores is about 245,000, the number of inhabitants having changed but little in the last century, and, if anything, having diminished. This fact is probably due more to various political and social conditions than to climatic, agricultural, or other conditions of the islands. In the early days the Portuguese literally "raked cane" on the islands, and established a large sugar industry in England and other countries. Tobacco and fruits were also produced in great quantities, but with the discovery and settlement of Brazil and other South American countries, Portugal rather discouraged production in the Azores in order to aid her colonies in South America. With the sugar and tobacco trade snatched from them, the Azores became the cultivation of the vine and the making of wine and other liquors became one of the chief industries of the islands. The population consists mainly of Portuguese, Moorish, and Flemish settlers, with a few negroes and a fair sprinkling of English settlers.

The Statine Chapel

What is most admirable about these colorful figures of prophets and sages of the Statine chapel—and this we can never weary of admiring—is that not only are they decorations of a hall, the adornments of a chapel, but men who have suffered our sorrows and experienced our disappointments; whom the thorns of earth have pierced; whose foreheads are furrowed by the wrinkles of doubt and whose hearts are transfixed by the chill of disenchantment.—Emilio Castelar.

Hawaiian Islands

In the Hawaiian group there are twelve main islands, all classed as United States territory. The total area is 6,449 square miles. The inhabited islands number eight—Hawaii, Maui, Molokai, Lanai, Kahoolawe, Oahu, Maui and Nihoa. In addition there are numerous small islands in the chain which are valuable for their guano deposits and shark fishing grounds, but which are not inhabited.

ELKS MAY USE PART OF ALLEY

Twelve Feet of Back Thoroughfare to Be Excavated for Coal Storage

Twin Falls Elks may have the use of 12 feet of the 15 foot of ground at the rear of their new temple property at the corner of Shoshone street north and Second avenue, provided they agree to widen in case the city finds a need for the strip.

This arrangement was made at last night's meeting of the city council following a considerable period of consideration as an appeal made by J. B. Keel, trustee of the lodge. Mr. Keel agreed to all of the terms and restrictions placed upon the grant by the council. The property to be used for coal bunkers, and bins in connection with the $300,000 temple.

The fraternal order agrees to construct a road to the alley of sufficient strength to support a 15 ton truck.

While granting the Elks, the right to use the major portion of the alley for coal storage purposes the council also gave the statement of the right to use one third of Shoshone street and Second avenue for building material storage during the progress of construction. The contractor will be required to erect a board fence around the construction area and also place a four-foot board walk for pedestrians.

Let's New Paving Contract

A new contract was awarded the Warren Construction company covering the paving of three districts in Twin Falls. This new contract was required to meet certain technical matters contained in the ordinance drafted in this connection and upon which the initial proposal was made.

The new bid is based upon unit prices contained in the former offer for construction, but is, in total, slightly more than $1000 in excess of the initial proposal. This is due to an increase in dirt excavation required in later specifications drafted by the city engineer. It is expected, however, that the amount of actual work will be cut down to more than cover this extra cost. The first bid, in sum total, was $711,293.99, as against $712,711.10 proposed in last night's bid. Contract was entered into and all formalities disposed of.

Objects to Assessment

Formal objection was lodged, in writing, by C. E. Lind, against the city's proposal to assess to abutting property cost of improving the district along Second avenue north and Second avenue east by widening ten feet on either side. Mr. Lind was represented by A. T. Mearns, J. B. Swesley, who orally supported the statement concerning the assessment unjust, inequitable, unwarranted and illegal. The objection will be given consideration when the creating ordinance is brought up for consideration at the next regular session of the city legislature.

H. J. Youngs of the Sterling Creamery company, appeared to explain that his institution has installed a pasteurization system and suggested that this method of treating milk is probably the only practically safeguard against the spread of disease through milk and dairy products.

Closes Street for Playground

Hal G. Hlyns, superintendent of city schools, representing the local school board and about 700 boy and girl pupils enrolled at the Bickel school, appeared to the council to the petition of Seventh street running past the Bickel school, to remain closed until such time as the council found an absolute need for its opening to serve the contiguous community. The request was granted but does not carry with it any deed to the street property. The street will continue in use as playground property for the school.

The question of opening this portion of Eighth street south across the railroad tracks was brought before the council by A. L. Swin, the opening being ordered done by the city engineer. The movement had support by operators of a sand and gravel dealing institution who recently erected bunkers for the handling of this product near the tracks, and whose business, it is claimed, will be better served if the crossing is opened. The section in question is near the end of Main avenue south.

Boosts Janitor's Pay

The board ordered a raise of $2.50 per month in the wage of the city hall janitor. This brings the salary of this worker to $15 per month.

W. Murray, sanitation inspector, submitted a letter containing that an unauthorized veterinary is proceeding with the work of testing dairy cattle in the district for tuberculosis. Mr. Murray pointed out that such operations are a violation of the ordinance. He was supported in the contention, and orders will be issued to accept clearance cards for cows tested only by an authorized veterinarian.

The plumbing inspector submitted a quarterly report showing 72 permits issued and 29 sewer connections made.

FENCE BUILDING SITE

Contractors in charge of Elks temple construction operations, are today erecting a fence around the building site. A four foot board walk will be installed for the use of pedestrians.

LICENSED TO WED

A marriage license was issued this morning to Ernest E. Rohrbaugh, aged 25, and William L. McCormick, 20, both of Bath.

BUILDING OPERATIONS FOR YEAR MAY EXCEED 2 MILLION IN COST

Plans for Structures in Twin Falls Thus Far Suggested for 1920 Suggest an Expenditure Far Exceeding the 1919 Record — Hotel and Apartment Houses in Contemplation

Not whether building operations in Twin Falls this year will reach the proportions of 1919, but how much they will be in excess of the question, contractors and builders and business men in general are poring over.

Last year the total building permits issued summed 317, the value of the structures involved, according to figures entered, being $1,275,630. This total, however, does not represent the entire cost of construction. The figures are based upon the price of material and construction at the time the plans were made. Estimates make the increase some 25 per cent higher.

Thus far this year the outlook for building here is exceptionally bright. The Elks' temple, to cost $300,000, is already in course of construction; St. Edwards Catholic parish is to construct a church building to cost some $20,000; the Mormon church will build a church and auxiliary structures valued at more than $100,000 during the year, and at least one apartment house to cost $100,000 will be erected.

These plans alone contemplate the expenditure of more than $550,000. While the apartment house mentioned is the only structure of the kind for the building of which plans have actually been drawn and accepted and the material contracted for, it is rumored that two other offices of a like nature, and of similar cost, are being considered by property owners with a reasonable assurance that the coming fall will find them either ready for occupation or well toward that point. If all these apartment house plans are carried through as at present expected the sum of more than $300,000 will be invested in community housing this year.

In embryo form, too, are plans for an immense hotel structure. If this office is finally built it will probably be on a Shoshone street site, and will cost in the neighborhood of $200,000, but thus far the plans have not been worked out in anything like tangible form. A site has been decided upon, but not purchased, by all accounts.

There is also a growing tendency by contractors and house-builders to plan for the erection of many modern dwellings in the buying additions. One firm alone will start with 15 residences, and should conditions prove satisfactory, and the outlay in cash seems warranted this concern will extend operations to the extent of 100 such residences. Scores of individuals plan the erection of home structures. In all approximately 200 dwellings will be set up here this season, if plans carry out.

Plans for the erection of a picture show house by a local operator have been under consideration for some time, and may be put into effect early this year, while one Salt Lake operator of a picture show circuit is said to be planning a similar house for Twin Falls. Tom Koto recently purchased two lots on Main avenue near the power company building and expects to put up a structure for a restaurant and office building.

Taken altogether prospects suggest that Twin Falls will pass last year's building cost mark by at least $700,000.
