MARTENS TELLS INVESTIGATORS OF EARLY LIFE

Self-Styled Russian Soviet Ambassador to United States Is First Witness Called Before Senate Committee

DEPORTED TO GERMANY AFTER PERIOD IN JAIL

Submits Authorization for Taking Over Property of Former Russian Legations and Government Funds in America

WASHINGTON, (P)—After Ludwig O. A. E. Martens, self-styled Russian Soviet ambassador to the United States, has given a brief personal history of himself and his Russian Soviet committee investigating Bolshevik propaganda in the United States, adjourned suddenly today because its members had other pressing engagements.

Chairman McLean announced that the committee would meet at his call, probably Wednesday, and that meantime Martens was to remain himself in the custody of the committee.

Ignored by State Department Just before adjournment, Martens, replying to questions by Chairman McLean, said he had sent many communists to the state department in his "official capacity," as the Soviet "ambassador," but had never received a reply to any of them. He said his communications dealt with a number of subjects, but he did not go into details.

Martens said he was born in Russia of German parents, and was educated in Russia, where he was a mechanical engineer, but never practiced his profession, as he was arrested for agitation against "the government of the czar."

"There was no trial," he said. "I was put into jail in 1906, kept there three years, and then deported to Germany. There I was put in the army, and spent two years in it."

Registers as Enemy Alien He said he worked as an engineer until 1907, when he went to Switzerland, from Switzerland Martens went to England, where he lived for 10 years. He registered there as an enemy alien after the war began, but was not interned as his German citizenship was regarded by the British authorities as purely a technical one.

He came to the United States in 1910, he said, was admitted upon declaration of his German citizenship and went to work as purchasing agent for a Russian steel company.

Senator McLean asked if he had registered as a German citizen after the United States entered the war.

"No, I had perfected my Russian citizenship before the registration was required," Martens responded.

FRENCH PREMIER PICKS CABINET

Captain Tardieu Refuses to Retain Portfolio Under Millerand

PARIS, (P)—Captain Andre Tardieu has refused to retain his portfolio of minister of liberated regions in the new Millerand cabinet. In reply to M. Millerand's request that he remain in the cabinet, Tardieu said that during the past few days both chambers of parliament have shown they wish to appeal to new men and that therefore he was unable to accept the premier's invitation.

Premier Millerand's cabinet will hold its first meeting at the new premier's home at 4 o'clock this afternoon. It will then be introduced to President Poincare, who will sign the decree of nomination, which will be promulgated in tomorrow's Journal Officiel.

The cabinet is composed as follows: Premier and foreign minister, Alexandre Millerand.

Minister of justice, M. L'Herminier.

Minister of the interior, Jules Steeg.

Minister of war, Andre Lefevre.

Minister of marine, M. Landry.

Minister of commerce, M. Isaac.

Minister of commerce agriculture, Henri Rickard.

Minister of finance, Frederic Francois Marsal.

Minister of the colonies, Albert Sarraut.

Minister of public works, Yves Lot.

Minister of public instruction, Andre Honnorat.

Minister of labor, Paul Jourdain.

Minister of hygiene and social welfare, M. Breton.

M. Jourdain was minister of labor in the Clemenceau cabinet, and M. Lot was under secretary of state for the liquidation of stocks. These are the only members of the Clemenceau ministry retained. M. Francois Marsal is the manager of the Banque d'Alen Parlemon. He is neither a deputy nor a senator.

Ukrainians Fix Terms for Peace With Bolsheviks

Permit Communist Party to Enjoy Privileges Under Conditions

WARSAW, (P)—Terms for concluding peace with the Bolsheviks have been fixed by the Ukrainian government, according to Lemberg newspapers. They include recognition of the independence of the Ukrainian peoples, repudiation of the pact between Ukraine and Russia, complete neutrality of Ukraine and the withdrawal of all Soviet forces from the territory of that republic and recognition of the Ukrainian government, with M. Magosa as premier.

In exchange the communist party will enjoy full exercise of its rights in Ukraine, on condition that it will not attempt to monopolize power.

ORGANIZATION PROCESS KEEPS LEAGUE OCCUPIED

Formation of Administrative Mission Preliminary to Taking Charge in Sare Region

PARIS, (P)—The work of the league of nations is still confined to organization, as the only act of the league council at its first meeting was to appoint members of the Sare valley boundary commission, which is not under the league's control.

It is expected the league will take jurisdiction over the Sare region only when an administrative mission has been organized.

BAY STATE COUNTESS HAVE NO MORE USE FOR JAILS

BOSTON, Mass., (P)—The jail population of Massachusetts has diminished so rapidly during the last few months that county jails at Lowell, Taunton and Newburyport and Fitchburg have been ordered closed. Twenty-five county institutions which have accommodated for 6400 prisoners, housed an average of only 2,500 during the last month. In addition to prohibition another reason assigned is high wages. Three Boston men who drank wood alcohol mixtures at John Barleycorn's saloon last night were in hospitals today.

SEEKS EXPLANATION FOR WOOD STATEMENT ON NAVY

WASHINGTON, (P)—Chairman Butler of the house naval committee announced today that Major General Leonard Wood would be asked to appear before the committee to explain his statement that the navy is in "feasting death trap," made in a speech last night. General Wood was said to be on duty before the committee and Mr. Butler said his work to Chicago and Mr. Butler said his work to Chicago and Mr. Butler said his work to Chicago.

He sought when he could be reached.

COURT TO PASS ON VALIDITY OF DRY AMENDMENT

Rhode Island Is Granted Permission to Institute Original Proceedings to Test Prohibition Law

PAVES WAY TO ENJOIN ENFORCEMENT IN STATE

Measure Is Declared "Usurpatory, Unconstitutional and Void" in Briefs Filed in Support of Contention

WASHINGTON, (P)—Validity of the federal prohibition constitutional amendment is to be determined by the supreme court which today granted the state of Rhode Island permission to institute original proceedings to test it and enjoin its enforcement in that state.

The permission was granted by Chief Justice White without comment or without fixing any time for hearing arguments in the case.

Motions to bring the suit were filed by Attorney General Rice, of Rhode Island, in response to a resolution adopted by the state legislature authorizing him to take steps to test the validity of not only the amendment, but also of the enforcement act.

In briefs filed in support of the motion, Rhode Island authorities questioned the validity of the ratification of the amendment and alleged that the amendment was an interference with the state police powers and a violation of the fifth constitutional amendment. They also alleged that the amendment was "usurpatory, unconstitutional and void."

Rhode Island was one of the states that refused to ratify the amendment.

MALTA, (P)—Orders were received Thursday night for a number of naval vessels to leave Malta for the Black Sea. Vice Admiral De Robt. Smith, on board the battleship Formidable, accompanied by the destroyers Scorpions and Stenard and the steamer Hibernia. Every other ship available is preparing to leave on Sunday filled to its capacity with stores.

DEMAND FOR SURRENDER OF HOHENZOLLERN STIRS EMOTION IN NETHERLAND

Holland Is Told In Allied Note Demanding Extradition of Former Emperor that She Will "Not Fulfill Her International Duty" If She Refuses to Associate Herself with Entente in Chastising Crimes Committed by Germans During War

BRUSSELS, (P)—Deep emotion has been caused in Holland by the allied demand for the extradition of former Emperor William of Germany, according to a dispatch. Belief is expressed at The Hague that measures will be taken with a view to inducing him voluntarily to place himself at the disposal of the allies.

PARIS, (P)—Holland is told in the allied note demanding the extradition of former Emperor William that she will "not fulfill her international duty" if she refuses to associate herself with the entente powers in chastising crimes committed by Germans during the war. The text of the note sent to The Hague was made public today.

"It follows that we have the honor to make known at the same time that they have decided to put into execution without delay this article. (Article 227 publicly arraigns William II of Germany for a crime against international morality and the sanctity of treaties, and declares the allied and associated powers will address a request to The Netherlands government for his surrender in order that he may be placed on trial.)"

Consequently the powers address to the government of The Netherlands an official demand to deliver into their hands William of Hohenzollern, former emperor of Germany, in order that he may be judged.

"Individuals residing in Germany against whom the allied and associated powers have brought charges are to be delivered to them under article 228 of the peace treaty, and the former emperor, if he has remained in Germany, would have been delivered under the same conditions by the German government."

"The Netherlands government is conversant with the facts and circumstances which imperiously exact that promissory violations of international treaties, as well as systematic disregard of the most sacred rights and interests of nations should receive as regards every one, including the highest placed personalities, special punishment provided by the peace congress. The powers briefly recall, among so many crimes the criminal violation of the neutrality of Belgium and Luxembourg, the barbarous and pitiless system of hostages, deportation en masse, the carrying off of young girls, the cruel violation of the laws of the laws of war."

"Responsibility at least moral for all these acts reaches up to the supreme head who ordered them, or made active use of his full powers to enforce, or to allow infringement upon the most sacred regulations of human conscience."

"The powers cannot conceive that the government of The Netherlands can regard with indifference the responsibility of the former emperor."

Points Out Duty "Holland would not fulfill her international duty if she refused to associate herself with other nations as far as her means allow in undertaking, or at least not hindering, chastisement of the crimes committed."

"In addressing this demand to the Dutch government the powers believe it their duty to emphasize its special character. It is in the interest of high international policy imposed by the universal conscience, in which legal forms have been provided solely to assure the accused such guarantees as were not before recognized in public law. The powers are convinced Holland, which has always shown respect for the right and love of justice, having been one of the first to claim a place in the society of nations, will be willing to cover by her moral authority the violation of principles essential to the solidarity of nations, all of which are equally interested in preventing the return of a similar catastrophe."

"In interests of Holland it is to the highest interest of the Dutch people not to appear to protect the principal author of this catastrophe by allowing him shelter on her territory, and also to facilitate his trial which is claimed by the voices of millions of victims."

DANIELS LAUDS WORK OF NAVY

Announces Purpose to Investigate Charges if Other Action Fails

WASHINGTON, (P)—Unless the so-called "Hohenzollern" case against Admiral Sims' charges of failure of the navy department to co-operate fully with the allies during the war is made to the entire satisfaction of the American people, an inquiry will be made by a naval board, Secretary Daniels announced today. He added that "no organization in the history ever did a better job than the American navy."

While refusing to discuss Admiral Sims' letter of criticism of the department, Mr. Daniels indicated the department frequently clashed with the department through his insistence that more destroyers be sent from troop convoys to augment the anti-submarine forces in European waters.

"The paramount duty of the American navy," Mr. Daniels declared, "was to protect the commerce of American ships to Europe, and the safeguarding of merchant shipping, vital as that was recognized to be, necessarily was secondary."

Secretary Daniels emphasized that, contrary to a popular impression, Admiral Sims throughout the war was subordinate to Admiral Mayo, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet. He indicated that on the question of the destruction of destroyers, Sims was well as on other questions Admiral Sims was overruled by Admiral Mayo as well as the department.

"Every naval order, every document bearing on the navy, every activity of the navy," Mr. Daniels continued, "is open to the light of day, and the more thoroughly the entire record is laid before the people of this country, the greater the pride they can have in the achievements of their navy. The country will be entirely reassured when matters are brought to a showdown."

ANTI-TOXIN SAVES A LIFE

Eight Year Old Victim of Olive Poisoning Seeks Way to Recovery

NEW YORK, (P)—Anti-toxin rushed here Saturday from Washington administered to eight-year-old Legn Delbert, a destroyer shipwrecked on the Portland hospital, is believed to have saved her life. Unless unforeseen complications developed, physicians stated, the girl will recover. The child's parents, a brother, sister and two uncles all died within a week as a result of eating green-horned olives.

COMMITTEE TO PROBE CHARGES MADE BY SIMS

Arranges for Complete Investigation of Navy Department's Conduct in War when Present Task Is Done

CONFINES TESTIMONY TO AWARD OF DECORATIONS

Naval Commander Says Criticism Not of Persons who Made Changes but of Fact that Changes Were Made

WASHINGTON, (P)—Complete investigation of Rear Admiral Sims' charges made against the navy department's conduct of the war will be made by a sub-committee of the inquiry into the award of naval decorations, as soon as it completes its present task. This decision was made today by the full senate naval committee.

A motion by Senator Pittman, democrat Nevada, to have a separate sub-committee named to make an immediate investigation, was defeated. The motion to have the present sub-committee conduct the inquiry was made by Senator Walter Dill, democrat, Montana.

Limit Testimony Chairman Hale said the committee could not complete its investigation of naval decorations in less than ten days and that the inquiry of Admiral Sims' charges would not be undertaken until the committee had made its report on the matter now under consideration.

The inquiry into naval awards was resumed after the meeting of the full committee adjourned. Admiral Sims was called to resume his testimony which started Saturday.

Chairman Hale announced that as a separate investigation of the conduct of the war was to be made, no evidence bearing on this subject could be heard now. Senator Pittman, who directed the examination of Admiral Sims, called for testimony on any matter not related to naval decorations.

Sims Defines Position Senator Pittman called the admiral's attention to the fact that some of his recommendations for decorations had been changed by the Knight board and not by Secretary Daniels. The witness replied that his criticism was not of the persons who made the changes, but of the fact that they were changed.

ROCHDALE PLAN STORE UP FOR CONSIDERATION

Farmers' Association Will Discuss Moot Proposition at Coming Meeting

One of the most important questions for the members of the Twin Falls County Farmers' association at the general meeting on the night of January 26, will pertain to the establishment of a Rochdale plan store here. The plan store has been under consideration some time, it is said.

Decision to hold the next meeting of the association on January 26 was reached at a session of the association, executive council held at the Perrine hotel last Saturday. The coming convocation will be conducted in the parlors of the New Presbyterian church, a business meeting of the working forces of the occasion.

DISABLED FREIGHTER WITH BOOZE CARGO NEARS PORT NEW YORK, (P)—The freighter Yarmouth, disabled off Cape May, N. The craft left this port Saturday for Havana with a cargo of liquor valued at $2,000,000.

STATISTICAL COUNTS JEWISH POPULATION OF THE WORLD LONDON, (P)—The Jewish population of the world is 15,430,000, according to David Tietzsch, the well known Jewish statistician. Poland and the Rumanian each have 3,000,000 while there are 3,100,000 in the United States, 500,000 in Russia and 300,000 in the British Isles.

GOLD FIND EXOTES RANCHERS WINNETT, Mont., (P)—Great interest has been aroused by the discovery of gold assaying $14 to the ton on a ranch 12 miles north of Winnett, in a region where the yellow metal has never been found. The owners of the ranch are not miners and the discovery was by accident.

A similar petition by the Shaw-Batcher Shipbuilding company of South San Francisco remains to be acted on. The shipyard workers have been on strike since September 30, following differences over a wage agreement.

The company in its petition for the order said that government contracts were being suspended by the picketing acts and other activities of the strikers.

PAINT RECORD OF MEXICANS IN TERROR TALES

Woman Witness Tells Senate Investigating Committee of Torture Used by Bandits in Dealing with Victims

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (P)—Mrs. Anita Whitley, told the senate subcommittee investigating Mexican affairs yesterday how revolutionists in Parral threatened her with death because she was unable to deliver to them money she did not have.

The revolutionists appeared at her home one night in Parral, demanded money from her mother and then turned their attention to her and her sisters. She was stood against the wall for execution. She told them there was no money. The order to cut her foot to see if that would compel obedience was carried out but her repeated denial appeared to convince the Mexicans. The property has been destroyed by the Mexicans.

Descriptions of the massacre of more than 300 Chinese in Torreon in 1911 by revolutionists commanded by Emilio Madero, brother of Francisco Madero, into president of Mexico, was given the committee by C. W. Enders and Paul Renard, two American business men, then living in Torreon. W. W. Miller, who was with the San Antonio plantation company whose property was in southern Vera Cruz, told the committee he had invested $70,000. He told of it and admitted having made no claim through the United States government.

"What's the use?" he inquired when asked why he had not done so. He read into the record a letter he had written to President Taft asking protection and the formal acknowledgment of his receipt.

RESUMES NITRATE OUTPUT
Cessation of War Demand Has Only Temporary Effect on Chilean Industry

VALPARAISO, (P)—Production of nitrate in the Tarapaca district of Chile is to be resumed on the scale which prevailed during the war when there was a heavy demand for it in the manufacture of explosives. Twenty thousand nitrate workers were dismissed when the war ended. A similar number will now be employed. About 750,000 tons of nitrate have been sold for export, and it is expected that 250,000 tons more soon will be sold. Most of it will go to Europe.

High School News

Arrival of the $250 mat to be used in staging boxing and wrestling matches was welcomed by some 65 members of the recently organized athletic club. The mat is 14 feet square and is one of the best made.

Candidates who have signed up for membership will begin training next Monday afternoon in the high school building under the direction of D. L. Robey. Strict training rules will be observed. By holding three meetings a week, Mr. Robey expects to have candidates in condition within a month or two to have regular public bouts and contests with picked men from other schools. All members of the athletic club will be placed in classes according to weight and matches will be arranged between boys of each class. Weights of members enrolled yesterday varied from 90 to 185 pounds.

The first meeting of the H-Y club in several weeks was held in the recreation room on the third floor of the building, with activities the principal feature. Vacations and final examinations had interfered with the regular meetings in the past. Officers of the club are James Wood, president; Neil Cobb, vice president; Carl Edwards, secretary and Phillip King, treasurer. The advisory board has as its members W. H. Eldridge, L. L. Breckenridge, Hal G. Blue, M. L. Mitchell and James Wood. This club is distinguished from the boxing and wrestling organization in that it is connected with the Y. M. C. A. while the latter is not.

February 4 has been set as the date for the appearance in Twin Falls of the University of Idaho glee club. The singers will give their program in the high school auditorium on that evening.

ELECTIONS GIVE TOWNS CONTROL TO SINN FEIN

Opinion is Divided Over Policies to Be Pursued by Victors at Irish Polls

DUBLIN, (P)—With the Sinn Fein effectively controlling municipal affairs in three fourths of Ireland as a result of Friday's election, considerable interest is evidenced as to how the Sinn Feiners will use their victory. In some quarters, it is believed, they will take advantage of the opportunity to show their capacity for practical administration, while in others it is thought the election will be used for furtherance of the republican movement. The opinion generally is that they will commence by electing Sinn Fein lord mayors and chairmen of local bodies.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you buy at any drug store the ready to use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

TWIN FALLS LAUDED AS PLACE TO LIVE FORMER RESIDENT TELLS POSSIBILITIES SAVE THE ORCHARDS IS THE URGENT CRY

BY G. W. CRAEER

To our friends in the Twin Falls country, greetings: In response to an invitation from "Ye Editor" of the Twin Falls News, I wish to express to you a few thoughts on how to further enlarge our community growth, prosperity and usefulness. Since leaving the home on August 13, I have practically crossed the continent, rejourning from one day to one month in twenty-three cities and villages in eight different states, Mrs. Crater with me most of the time.

Thought 1. Twin Falls is yet good enough for me in spite of the fact that I have found several very delightful places for home-making.

Thought 2. In climate, in farm, garden and orchard productivity, in character of its citizens; it is easily abreast of the leaders.

Thought 3. The possibilities of the future of Twin Falls are as yet but dimly comprehended.

Thought 4. Intelligent co-operation and mutual support are all-important in hastening the further development of this beautiful oasis and properly connecting it with remunerative markets and with the life and activity of other cities and communities.

You will rightly say that my thoughts are not new, but we will agree that they are such as will bear repetition and emphasis. Much effort has already been made to accomplish the desired ends, but much more is yet to be done. We heartily commend the earnest efforts that have been made in hastening the further development of this beautiful oasis and properly connecting it with remunerative markets and with the life and activity of other cities and communities.

Both before and after these new outlets are granted us, what other means can we wisely take in our own interest? Recently wheat has been the staple crop which could be sold at a remunerative price without hauling a market, but it is not likely that such wheat prices will continue to prevail or that our farmers will make the mistake of expending the same fields to wheat year after year. Some other Twin Falls products have been satisfactorily marketed without difficulty but some of our best products, notably fruits and vegetables, have at times gone begging.

It is also true, no doubt, that our producers have sometimes been deliberately and systematically robbed of a part at least of the value of their production in the process of marketing. What is the safest and best method of marketing? This is a very large and very important question not yet satisfactorily answered. The answer depends on many and varying conditions.

In general, it is safe to say that the producer and the consumer should get as close together as possible with the fewest possible number of middlemen between them. Let us frankly acknowledge the need of middlemen, and the further fact that every one who honestly and faithfully ministers to human need, in any capacity, is a laborer and "is worthy of his hire."

If we have already alluded to the desirability of co-operation. The first step toward successful co-operation is the selection of reliable and efficient persons to employ in positions of responsibility. The second step is like unto the first, namely, that each individual be honest and faithful to the mutual undertaking. Co-operation is not new to you. You have experienced both successful and unsuccessful co-operation and have learned much that should be useful to you in the future. Among other things (if I mistake not) you have found Chicago (the great market of the west) to be a difficult market with some products to get into and out of and sometimes the whole griot has too often been your experience. How can it be made easier to utilize this and other markets? To my mind it seems desirable and feasible that in some way you establish and maintain your own agency (in which you may have confidence) in Chicago as a center, and branching out as occasion may justify into cities and villages near or far. Besides marketing your produce, this agency with its branches would serve as a perpetual medium through which to advertise Twin Falls as we would wish it advertised.

A few days ago we had the pleasure of stepping into the store of Harry Kingsbury. We found him located in a beautiful and thriving suburb Oak Park in the western confines of the immense city of Chicago. It was a pleasure indeed to see and smell and taste the quantities of T. F. apples and other products of our own country and state, and to chat an hour with Harry himself. It seemed like a brief visit home.

open the way for larger dealings by Twin Falls county.

It has pained me much to see beautiful apple orchards in the Twin Falls district torn up by the roots, and I have repeatedly ventured the prophecy that some of those who thought themselves wise in their clearing their farms for other crops will some day be kicking themselves for so doing. My experience since have strengthened that opinion. Everywhere that I have traveled I have watched for fruit trees and I have seen but few. Through New York state I saw the old apple trees dead and dying and almost no showing of young trees to take their places. One of those old orchards I helped my father to set a half century ago. There are only a few trees left in that orchard. Prices of fruits and vegetables to the consumer are so high that those who must economize buy small quantities. If the selling system can be so reformed as to lower retail prices much more will be used. Wisely and helpfully serving our fellows is the best way to serve ourselves.

As to the Number "Forty."
Forty may not be a "magic number," like three, or seven, and it has not the extraordinary properties which mathematicians have discovered in the number nine, about which a whole volume might be written without exhausting the subject. But the manner in which it figures in both fact and fiction is certainly calculated to pique curiosity. It is impossible to discern any mathematical reason for such use of it, wherefore the natural assumption is that it had its origin in some striking incident.

TIGER'S DEFEAT NOT SIGNIFICANT

Assembly Picks Best Man for Presidency, Says Director General

NEW YORK, (AP)—Commenting on the election of Paul Deschamps as president of the French republic, Maurice Casanova, director general of French services in the United States said: "The defeat of M. Clemenceau in the presidential election has no political significance. There has been no political change in the balance of power in the French chamber. The French president, being without responsibility according to the rules of parliamentary government, is no more an active force in political life than is the king of England."

"The defeat of M. Clemenceau signifies only that the presidential electoral college was under the impression that a man of his former character was less suited to the office of president than that of prime minister, who is the real head of government in France, being directly responsible to both chambers. A French president is not elected on a question of policy but on a question of his personal fitness for the office he is to hold."

M. Deschamps is the son of one of the founders of the third French republic. He is a man noted for his high character and great personal intellectual distinction. His patriotism and his sympathy of all Frenchmen throughout France and he has for some time been a member of the French academy."

"As success is undoubtedly due to the fact which has enabled him to unite under his leadership the respect and sympathy of all Frenchmen of the chamber of deputies with regard to the political tenets to which they adhere."

COMPETITION IS KEEN FOR DEBATING PLACES

Large Number of Students Work for "Tryout" in High School Forensics

A large number of young men students are working hard for places on this year's debate teams and competition at the tryout meeting a week from tomorrow night is expected to be keen. The question for debate with Boise and Pocatello is, "Resolved, that arbitrators should be appointed by the judges to settle all labor disputes." Two teams will be selected by the judges at the tryout, each comprising three members. The team comprising the negative side of the question will travel to Boise and debate there April 2, at the same time that the local affirmative team is engaging the Boise negative speakers here. A week or two later the affirmative team will go to Pocatello while the negative team debates with the Pocatello affirmative team on the local floor.

Debates with Pocatello have not been held for three or four years but it is believed that speakers from that city will prove stronger than those from Boise. Local boys who will contest next Tuesday evening for forensics honors are James Cori, Lambert Day, David Wilkinson, Lloyd Harrison, Glenn Schneider, Harold Kretschmer, and Bolz, Jacob Irwin, Reuben Hogg, Harold Decker, Nat Williamson, and Walter Krenge. It is desired that as large an audience as possible be present at the initial contest.

UNUSUAL BATTERY LIFE

"Every one's a while," says D. C. Watson, manager of the local 'Exide' Service Station, "you'll see an ad or read an article about starting and lighting battery to whose life force just doesn't seem to be any limit. And immediately after the appearance of any such publicity I am literally drowned by a deluge of questions from customers wanting to know why they can't get some such everlasting service from their batteries."

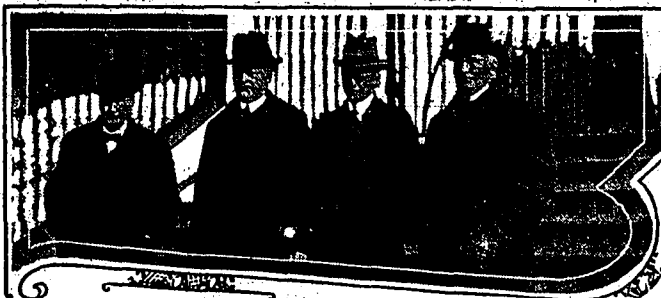

"As a matter of fact, I don't know why they can't—it will really give their batteries honest and, unflattering, a true test. This stuff about a short life and a merry one, that the pessimistic motorist is forever pulling out his battery, is mostly bunk. Starting and lighting batteries will live and do their work a whole lot longer than most people think. If, of course, before they are given a fair chance. I've got a bunch of letters in my office now—reprints of original sent to the home office—testimonials from all sorts of people from all parts of the country in which 'Exide' Batteries that have been giving bang-up performance anywhere from three to six years are mentioned. Of course, no first question anything like that, any more than the salesman can guarantee his seeds coming up—results are so markedly dependent on the user and the local conditions. But I will say that anyone who buys an 'Exide' Battery, and backs that battery up with a faithful using of 'Exide' service, is surely going to get his money's worth—and then some every time."

Births

The English Language.
It is estimated that over 140,000,000 people now speak the English language, over 51,000,000 the French, 75,000,000 German, 35,000,000 Italian, 42,000,000 Spanish, 13,000,000 Portuguese and 75,000,000 Russian.

Untangling Uncle Sam's Fuel Problem

Here are the men who are thrashing out and adjusting the fuel situation. They are the three appointed by President Wilson and representing the coal operators, miners and the public. Secretary of Labor Wilson represents the government. This picture was taken at the party was having at the White House. They are (left to right), Secretary William John C. White, former Mine Workers president; Henry W. Robinson, representing the public, and Rembrandt Peale of Pennsylvania, representing the operators.

Social Notes

Mrs. J. B. McLean will entertain a bridge tomorrow and Wednesday afternoon at her home on Seventh avenue east.

Chapter D, P. E. O. will meet at the home of Mrs. Carl J. Hahn, 255 Fourth avenue east Tuesday evening, January 20.

The women of the Episcopal Guild held a most successful "waffle day," Saturday, in the room formerly occupied by the Skeels-Wiley Drug company.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilson of Kimberly entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Peck of Hazelton and Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Reed of Eden at dinner Saturday evening at the Hotel Rogerson.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Wilson entertained with a dancing party Friday evening. Entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Ray B. Wilson, of Conrad, Mont., who are guests at the Wilson home. A dainty supper was served at midnight. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sizer, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Giff, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Larson, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Salmon and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Kauffman.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilson entertained twenty-eight guests with a delightful progressive 500 party at their home in Kimberly Friday evening. Mrs. W. A. L. Stowe won high score for the ladies, a cut glass salt and pepper shaker, and oil bottle in a silver holder. Mr. Carl Ridgeway won the gentlemen's prize, a handsome book. Mrs. Doty and Mr. Charles Myers were given the consolation prize. Cut flowers were used to decorate the rooms. After the games a delicious three course luncheon was served and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Mrs. E. J. Finch entertained the members of the Adreana club at a one o'clock luncheon at her home on Kimberly street Friday afternoon. The table had a lovely potted plant as a centerpiece. After a brief business session a short program was given consisting of instrumental solo by Mrs. R. D. Stever and a reading with a musical accompaniment by Mrs. E. J. Finch. The remainder of the afternoon was spent with games. Those present were: Mrs. W. A. L. Stowe, Mrs. M. E. Fisher, E. B. Johnson, Charles D. Hunt, C. N. Laubach, E. J. McNew, E. M. Patterson, Charles Potter, Ivan Price, E. D. Stone, L. A. Warner and C. D. Weaver.

Miss Alma B. Hoyt and Mrs. Harry Benoit entertained at the home of the latter on Saturday with a luncheon and miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Agnes Hart, a January bride. The luncheon table had as a centerpiece a silver chalice of champagne standing on the table with a bowl of cream tulle, pink candles were also used. The place cards had as a motif two blue birds carrying a heart caught in a lover's knot by a ribbon. After a four course luncheon the guests seated themselves around a table in the living room upon which was placed a basket tied with white ribbons containing the gifts for the guest of honor. Miss Hart received many beautiful and useful gifts. The hostesses were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. L. I. Bonell. Covers were laid for two intimate friends of the bride-to-be.

Red Hair Unpopular.
Red hair, however unjustly, is still associated with deceit, and, in Ireland and Scotland, with ill luck as well. In the highlands he who meets a red-haired woman who starts on a journey will be well advised, say the wise, to return home and start the journey afresh; and in Ireland red-haired people are supposed to exercise the same baneful influence upon any undertaking.

Causes of Memory's Stirring.
"How I love the smell of a wood fire," is a common exclamation. Now, there's no doubt about it, the smell of wood smoke, but, oh! the memories. The invader spruce in grandmother's bureau drawer did much toward keeping her memory green. Returning seasons redolent with the fumes of flowers and fruit are responsible for many a homesick hour.

Japanese Handmade Paper.
Handmade paper is produced in Japan principally by farmers as a secondary occupation which they can pursue in seasons when there is nothing to be done in the fields. There are no fewer than 60,000 families engaged in this industry.

LABOR ELECTS OFFICERS

R. H. Park Boise, Is Re-named to Head Idaho State Federation

POCATELLO, (Special).—The Idaho State Federation of Labor, at its convention here, elected the following officers: President, R. H. Park, Boise; Secretary, A. B. Rogers, Boise; Treasurer, T. W. Swanson, Walla Walla; first district, Frank W. Hughes, Boise; third district, Joe Cashion, Pocatello; fourth district, Frank Stogard, Pocatello; fifth district, Allan J. Grant, Idaho Falls; sixth district, H. C. Seranton, Twin Falls. All of the officers were re-elected except in the case of Joe Cashion who was elected to fill the unexpired term of A. W. Muir, resigned.

Seishi
The word Seishi, which occurs so frequently in the Psalms, is usually translated to be a direction to the musician who chanted the Psalms in the temple. Matthewson, the great musical critic, wrote a book on the subject in which, after rejecting a number of theories, he came to the conclusion that it is equivalent to the modern "da capo," and is a direction that the air or song is to be repeated from the commencement to the part where the word is placed.

Frisk of Nature.
One might think that the powerful bumblebees and the milkweed would make ideal partners, but such is not the case says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. These remarkable plants, which not only flow with honey, but also invite their insect guests by a strong honey scent, are utterly ignored by the big hungry bumblebees.

Not in Bull's Class.
Peter was out exercising his bulldog when a small white poodle ran up to the gate and began barking through the cracks of the gate at Peter's bulldog, which made him growl and raise his bristles as if he would chew the poodle up. Peter said to his dog: "Drop your bristles, Bull: nothing do with such a little dog like that."

Trial of Matrimony.
We were stopping at a hotel, while on our honeymoon, and were trying to hide the fact that we were newlyweds. We succeeded quite well until dinner time. Just as we had reached the center of the big dining hall, a tall stood up on his chair and shouted, "Which one is the bride, mamma?" Every one then knew, by my telltale blushing, that it was I—a most embarrassed bride.—Chicago Tribune.

Making Sure.
A hostler was sent to the stable to bring out a traveler's horse. Not knowing which of the two horses in the stable belonged to the traveler, he saddled both animals and brought them to the door. The traveler pointed out his own horse, saying, "That's my nag." "Certainly, your honor, I know that very well," but I didn't know which was the other gentleman's."

NOT VETERANS' VIEWS

We believe that the world war should be the last war; therefore we call for general support in our fight against universal military training.

So runs what is purported to be an official declaration of a pseudo-organization of world war veterans.
 Similarly one might "believe" that the epidemic of Spanish influenza last winter will be the last of its kind. But is that an argument for boycotting the doctors and closing medical schools?

Or one might "believe" that recent repeated house-breakings in Twin Falls
 will be the last offense of this nature.
 But is that an argument for doing away with the police force and taking locks off of doors?

Such lame and halting logic is characteristic of pacifists' brainstorms that pass for thought.
 It has no place in the philosophy of men who actually fought the world war and who in that experience, observed the terrible toll of unnecessary sacrifice consequent upon unpreparedness.

By its use of this argument, if by anything else, the movement proves itself out of touch with service men. Its membership must continue to be limited to those persons in whose interests it was brought into being, and those include mighty few men who have worn their country's uniform.

PUBLIC FORUM

THE WORKERS' GAZE
 Editor of Twin Falls News,
 Dear Sir:

In a recent issue of your paper there appeared a lengthy editorial on the high cost of living and as the wage was his question which the same is in my eyes for addressing you these lines. Now I think that I can convince you or any other fairminded person that the wage worker isn't deserving of all the abuse which is heaped at him.
 In 1896 I was working in the city of Sacramento, Cal., getting $3.50 per day as a carpenter and at that amount of wages I could earn about $700 per year, and it was costing me $19 per month for room and board. Now the scale of wages in Twin Falls is $7 per day
 and at the above estimate a carpenter
 in this city would earn $1400 per year, but he would have to pay for board and room $75 to $80 per month. In other words, board and room costs in 1918
 four and one-half times much more as it did in Sacramento twenty-four years ago, but a carpenter gets only twice as much wages or $7 per day. I am working in the city of Boise at the present time and am getting $4.00 per day and $48 per month for board and room.
 Where in "old days all this profiteering that we hear so much about came in?
 The wage worker certainly does not share in it to any great extent. I can see readily be seen from the above figures.

Earnings in 1896 $700.00
 Expense board and room 228.00
 Balance $472.00
 Earnings in 1918 $1400.00
 Exp. board and room 1080.00
 Balance $320.00

Least you should think that my estimate on earnings is too low I give you my earnings for 1917 and 1918.
 Total earnings for 1917 $1133.40
 Total earnings for 1918 1407.50
 Total earnings for 1919 1573.95
 Now for the greatest cost of the year of 1919 my wages have been from one to two dollars above the scale, hence the greater earning for that year.

Hoping that this will not be considered in the waste basket, but in any case you in your paper so that the public may know that we are not the bunch of grafters that some of the newspapers of the country are trying to make people believe, I am,
 Very truly yours,
 C. A. BRUNSTEDT,
 Twin Falls.

SUNDAY PICTURE SHOWS

The Editor of The Twin Falls News:
 A few weeks ago, an article appeared in the morning paper stating very definitely and positively that the residents of Boise are unanimously delighted with the open Sunday shows and that they do not voice a criticism or censure
 is heard" for "Boise finds Sunday shows are a big help."
 I clipped the article and sent it to Boise for verification and received the following reply from the Boise Ministerial association:
 Resolution adopted by the Ministerial association of Boise, Idaho, January 12th, 1920:

Whereas, there has been published in a Twin Falls newspaper an article on Sunday moving pictures, purporting to be the unanimous opinion of the residents of Boise, and which contains the following statement: "Today not a voice of criticism or censure is heard";

Resolved, that the Ministerial association of Boise places its record as follows:

1. This association stands as unanimously opposed to Sunday moving pictures as it ever was; and since they have been permitted in Boise, the association is not less convinced but more convinced that they are harmful to the community and to its citizens.
 2. We are convinced that the Christian population of Boise would oppose to the Sunday moving pictures and that the issue represents a very definite cleavage between Christianity and irreligion.
 3. We are of the opinion that the only interest which has been benefited by the Sunday operation of the moving picture houses is the financial interest of the moving picture managers; and it is a question whether this class has received an adequate gain, since by its attitude it has forfeited the "confidence of the Christian churches of the city."

4. We are convinced that any town would make a great mistake if it were to follow the example of Boise in opening the moving picture houses on Sunday.
 And so, Mr. Editor, will you be kind enough to give this article the publicity it deserves through the columns of your paper.

 Church,

MYSTERIES OF WIRELESS HAVE NO TERRORS FOR BOYS OF TWIN FALLS

Growing Interest in Scientific Pursuits Takes Prominent Part in Boyish Occupations of Waking Hours in and Around the City

By "Bud" Husted

AES ago evie men would chisel a message on stone, and, if someone happened to find it, the writer got an answer. But in these days of marvels and wonders and things that can't be done, the ultramodern kid sits down to a little table, foils around with a rubber knob on a brass or copper box, and flings out the air from the long wire fingers of his aerial, electric waves that radiate in all directions. And a mile away, or further, some other youthful student of the newest of discoveries, waiting for a message, reaches up into the air with his wire fingers and captures the electric waves, turns them into letters
 and words, and gives his friend:
 "Hey, Scotty, listen. Dad says I can have the old tin horse tonight.
 We'll pick up somebody and show them
 the bumps on the state highway."
 A Scotty doesn't object.

But before one can do all this he must have a little chat with the U. S.
 government. He must take an examination and get a license to operate a transmitting station. This receiving station does not require a license. Two government regulations are easily complied with. The main thing to do is to study about an hour after you have your sets completed and you will be able to pass the tests. All you have to know is the Continental Morse code well enough to send and receive at least five words per minute; know how the transmitter and receiver work and be able to make either of them; and know the international regulations for wireless communication. And United States wireless laws and regulations.

With a small set consisting of a spark coil, condenser, spark gap and key you will be able to learn a lot and can become competent to handle a transmitter and receiver. The receiving set is made up of a telephone receiver, detector, and a battery. This is the most simple set of any and can be used without a license.

I will not attempt to describe any of the technical parts of this intricate study. It hasn't been many years since the telephone was invented—and what a wonder it was and is! Wireless telegraphy is still more wonderful. But did you ever think what the wireless telephone is, and how it works? That is a pretty deep study for boys, but wireless telegraphy has been made easy for the amateur by the telephone and those who have mastered it. You may get from the library a book which will teach you to make and operate a small set of "wireless" containing a complete working diagram of all parts of a wireless outfit. All the instruments described in this book can be made by any one. One of the sets illustrated is worked by electricity, but the larger set works from the electric light current—110 volts, and that has some kick. You connect your 110 volts to your transformer after it goes through it it has increased to 10,000
 volts—and compared to this the kick
 of a peevish mule is a soft caress.

There are quite a number of boys interested in wireless telegraphy in Twin Falls. It is a fascinating study. Boys who are trying to unravel its mysteries are learning something worth while.
 There are only two complete sets in Twin Falls so far, but by next summer
 there will probably be six or seven. Edward Walters and myself are the only ones owning complete sets now. There are several boys starting sets which will be finished by spring. Leonard

Fifteen year old Twin Falls boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Husted, who has built and is now installing a practical wireless set at the family home.

Scott and Ralph Coburn both expect to have their finished soon. I am sure there will be many more as soon as one or two are in operation. I know of no set working here yet, but there will be in a short time, because all that is necessary to complete mine is an aerial.

A small wireless set can be made by one who is handy with tools and isn't afraid of an unexpected shock once in a while. When you come down to the bare necessities of a small sending and receiving station it is surprising what little expense it is. The four necessary parts to a transmitting outfit are generally called, can be made by any boy at a cost of about six dollars. The receiver is also simple and is lots easier on the pocketbook than the transmitter. The receiver is made of two or three parts, the cost being not more than two dollars. With this outfit a boy can learn much and can talk back and forth with any friend within a short distance.

The aerial is another part that must be considered. It is simple but must be put up very carefully. The aerial is made of wire, and is usually made of be well insulated or it is apt to cause trouble by fire. The aerial consists of a few strands of wire stretched between two uprights and a lead-in wire to connect it to the instrument.
 The aerial should be at least thirty feet high, and as much higher as conditions will allow. The length is another important thing to consider, as the longer the better. Every wire should be taken in putting up your aerial, because a poor aerial will not give good service
 even if you have high-grade instruments; while on the other hand, a good aerial will work with low-grade instruments.

Come on, boys, get busy and make a wireless station and form a Radio Club.

WOOLGROWERS SESSION URGED TO SPEED PEACE

President Hagenbarth Touches
 on National Problems in Opening Address at Salt Lake Convention Opening

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, (AP)—An appeal that American woolgrowers go to record in favor of the peace treaty and the league of nations was made by F. J. Hagenbarth, of Salt Lake City, president of the National Wool Growers' association, when the organization opened a three day convention here today.

"We should be ready to hold out a helping hand," he said. "But let us have a league based on American ideals and at the same time safeguarding our own constitution and nationality."

Rail Service Unsatisfactory

President Hagenbarth described the railroad service during the past two years as "unsatisfactory and damaging to the wool industry." He said the railroad service has been "wrecked and badly disorganized" and asserted the losses of the growers from causes incident to the bad service would run into millions.

"If the past year affords a fair example of what the shipper may expect from government operation of railroads," he said, "I am sure the woolgrowers will be a unit against such an undertaking."

President Hagenbarth laid stress upon the shortage of freight cars. Double deck cars are especially needed, he said,
 for the shipment of sheep.

No Reduction in Costs

From present indications, President Hagenbarth said, it is quite certain there will be no reduction of costs in the production of the 1920 wool crop.
 "The 1920 yield," he asserted, "is already 80 per cent made and paid for and necessarily there can be no saving."

He emphasized the necessity of competition in England and foreign wool.
 "At the present we are largely in the hands of Great Britain as to what price on fine wool should be," he said.

"The general impression prevails,"
 he said, "that the wool growers have been coining money. However, the wool and mutton production business has not been as profitable as before the war. Money has been made in isolated instances and localities where conditions were unusual."

Labor costs have increased more than 100 per cent and feed has doubled or tripled in cost, he said. "Coupled with these excessive expenses," he continued,
 "we have met with declining markets
 on our meat products."

Recommend Bonus System

Hagenbarth told the delegates it would be wise for the wool growers to adopt the bonus system or cooperative plan to make it possible for faithful and deserving employees not only to draw fair wages but also through stock ownership to acquire an interest in the business.

All branches of the sheep industry
 from the producer to the consumer should be operated without friction.
 "The crying need of business at this time," he said, "is not destructive criticism but constructive cooperation."

WOOL CONSUMPTION SHOWS DECLINE DURING NOVEMBER

Manufacturers used about 60,000,000 pounds of wool, gross equivalent, in November, 1919, or slightly more than 8,000,000 pounds less than the amount consumed in October.

The November, 1919, total exceeded that for the same month in 1918 by approximately 13,400,000 pounds.

Totals by condition, in pounds, for November, 1919, as given by the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture, were: Grease, 43,177,821;
 scoured, 7,605,982; and pulled, 1,074,951.

AMERICAN CHEESE WINS EUROPE'S CONFIDENCE

Factory System of Manufacture Stimulates Production in Foreign Lands

That the factory system of cheese
 making developed in the United States has greatly stimulated cheese production in practically every country of the globe is indicated in a survey of the cheese industry of the country abroad, recently completed by the dairy division, bureau of animal industry,
 of the United States department of agriculture. One interesting feature of the survey is that relating to the effect of the "filled" cheese production which was developed in a limited way in the United States between 1870 and 1905. This cheese, sold as genuine cheese and practically destroyed the confidence of European purchasers in the quality of cheese from the United States. Only now are European buyers beginning to regain confidence in the American product, so badly was their faith shaken by the short sighted policy of a relatively small number of producers who exported the "filled" variety.

In 1880 the United States was the greatest cheese exporting country in the world. In 1918 five countries exceeded the United States in export.
 The cheese exported from Europe is of special types, while that from Canada,
 United States, Argentina, New Zealand,
 and Australia is largely of the Cheddar type. Countries exporting these varieties of cheese which are used for savings purposes have not enjoyed a continuous export demand. The variations in their exports are not so marked as the variations of the exports of these countries, including the United States, that have made the Cheddar type of cheese.

In the last half century the annual consumption of cheese in the United States has been less than four pounds per capita, and has never reached five pounds per capita as a national average. Speaking generally, the per capita consumption has been less in countries using only a few varieties than those where numerous varieties are used.

In the last half century the production of farm-made cheese in this country has practically ceased, while factory cheese, which has taken its place, now exceeds 300,000,000 pounds annually, about three times the highest figure ever reached by cheese made on the farm.

 vertising.

RUPPERT BANKS ON BABE RUTH TO GET CROWDS

Gotham Magnate Figures Gate Receipts to Pay Back $125,000 Paid for Slugger

NEW YORK (Special).—Will Babe Ruth's marvelous batting eye and his huge bat collect $125,000 worth of home runs this coming season for the Yankees owners?

Evidently Colonel Ruppert, who put the deal through, believes so. Ruppert has it figured out that the acquisition of Ruth will swell the gate receipts that amount and then run over that to give him a handsome profit on his investment.

The one thing that draws fans to the ball park when Babe Ruth is scheduled to play is his ability to break up a ball game with a four-bagger smash that goes out of the park and into some nearby county. Babe is a crack-brain pitcher—has always been a winning hurler—but the fans pay little attention to that. They led him to believe in clean fielding last season, but that matters not to the fans.

But the fact that he collected 29 home runs in the short season and laced out 34 triples and 12 doubles and made him the greatest drawing card in baseball last season. He pulled the attendance record in Philadelphia over those three figures. Other clubs drew about ten fans.

There is reason to believe that Babe will deliver for Ruppert. He is young. He has shown he can hit the ball in any park in the league and any pitcher in the game. And, in addition to this, he will play 77 games instead of only 11 last season in the Polo grounds, which boasts the shortest right field in the league.

Next season he will have a stretch of 154 games instead of only 140 in which to hang up another record. The only thing against Ruth is the fact that he may have "shot his wad" in the game. And, in addition to this, he will play 77 games instead of only 11 last season in the Polo grounds, which boasts the shortest right field in the league.

VICTOR SAIER GET BACK IN BALL BOOTS

After Long Rest Former Cubs' Infielder is Ordered to Report to Columbus

PITTSBURGH, (Special).—Back in 1910 Charles Webb Murphy, then head of the Cubs, gathered the sport scribes about him, looked behind the doors, pulled down the window blinds and then said in a soft voice: "I've purchased the greatest first baseman in baseball."

Murphy was talking of Vic Saier when he said it. Saier was then with the Lansing, Michigan State League club. The next year Saier became the Cubs' first baseman and while he didn't prove a phenom, he played the bag well in 71 games that season. The next season he shone with the bat, for a youngster, hitting .288. The next year he raised the average a point. Saier delivered the goods for the Cubs until he broke his leg sliding into a base early in the 1917 season.

As Saier was apparently laid up for the season, the Cubs announced that he was on the hospital list and could not be included in their player list. Acting on this decision they bought Fred Merkle from Brooklyn. Horner Dreyfus set up a howl, claiming that the Cubs were evading the rule and claimed Saier at the waiver price. President Tinker awarded Saier to Pittsburgh after much arguing.

Saier kicked at the move, and a little while later announced that he felt that the injury to his leg would slow him up so that he would be unable to hit a major league pace again, and was therefore ready to quit the game.

He hasn't played since. The Pirates kept him on the voluntarily retired list, however, and now comes word that Manager Gibson of the Pirates hopes to arrange a deal whereby Saier goes to the Columbus A. C. club in exchange for Joe Mauer, former White Sox pitcher. Manager Clymer of the Columbus club wants to grab off a star first baseman and it is believed that Saier will see in the prospect a splendid chance to get back into the game, convince the big league bosses he is still a good man and eventually break back into the big leagues with some club other than the Pirates.

Brief Bits of Sport

The Canadian government has asked King George not to confer orders of knighthood upon dominion citizens.

But the king has just bestowed the Order of the Bath upon Maj. Gen. Frank McIntyre, American assistant chief of staff.

Vaunted democracy, where's thy colatenity?

Heine Zimmerman says he will organize a semipro baseball league and make the thing himself.

Knowing something of Heine can you imagine the sort of a league it will be?

The big scrap will not be held until next September, anyhow, so you may wait a long time before you begin learning about home rule, the coal and the fee bills.

According to press reports from San Antonio Jack Johnson is helping Carranza run the Mexican government in tiny Carranza state.

Black Jack not only insists upon eating his provender in waffle cafes but recently made the proprietor of one of the exclusive places shake hands with him and then embrace him before the whole gang.

Matters and things are getting pretty bad for the ergulously injured. In the east the most popular song is "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes."

Benny Kauff, Giant outfielder, expounds a theory that may or may not benefit American league pitchers. He says Babe Ruth is weak on pitches over the outside corner.

Benny is in the National league and Ruth is in the American. As far as folks know the Giant played never has failed to my great extent against the former Red Sox star.

Must have been working a ouija board.

Pete Herman, who bears the title of bantamweight champion, has ambitions to go up. The New Orleans boxer says he wants to enter the featherweight class and tackle Johnny Kilbane in a championship bout.

Sam Smiley, angelus sage, says: "Ain't nobody so poor that he can't afford the luxury of a doll's good."

Jack Burke, of St. Paul, once quite favorably looked upon as a mittmitch, lies dying in a St. Paul hospital. Burke, a fellow named Rabinovitch and a tar heap were recently involved in an attempt to steal a consignment of whiskey from a car in a railroad yard. The cops caught them and a battle Burke got a bullet in the head.

Some folks would just naturally rather die opposing law and order than live and prosper as law-abiding citizens.

LEGION'S BLOW STAGGERS JACK DEMPSEY, CLAIM

King of Battlers Goes Groggy Under "Slacker" Attack of Service Men

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
NEW YORK, (Special).—Jack Dempsey is facing his first barrage.

The world's heavyweight champion, who went to the shipyards when Mike O'Dowd, Augie Ratner, Bob Martin, Gene Tunney, Pat Moore, Joe Lynch and Johnny Asher were on the khaki, is now under a bombardment of fire that is almost as harassing as the high explosive shrapnel and machine gun bullets that some of the ring heroes faced in the trenches.

He carries the title of the world's greatest fighter, and he is being "tried" now for turning a deaf ear to Uncle Sam when he called for fighters.

The first shot was fired at Dempsey by the Denver post of the American legion. Resolutions condemning him as a slacker and closing the doors of Colorado to him were passed last week.

The attack was taken up on other sections when posts in Kansas City and Ft. Wayne followed suit.

Without official action, legion members in New Jersey voiced their feelings and the state boxing commission announced a decision barring Dempsey from fighting or exhibiting in the state.

What the result will be before this contagion dies is impossible to forecast. So far national officers of the legion are not considering taking any action, according to G. H. Bennick, assistant adjutant general.

Every American sportsman believes in fair play. Every American soldier and every member of the American legion should believe in fair play. Dempsey should be heard before action is taken that will blot his record for all time and eventually drive him out of the country, an outcast.

There is another reason, especially for the former soldiers, to avoid hasty action in taking their respective communities to task the doors against the Dempsey-Carpenter fight.

One step toward Belgium when Carpenter enlisted in the aviation corps. He canceled contracts worth thousands of dollars; he was twice decorated for gallantry in action. The war cost him heavily. All his money was invested in mining properties around Lens, and when the Germans left he had nothing but a hole in the ground. It will take an immense sum of money to restore his property, and his only assets are his fists.

If Americans force the fight out of America because Dempsey is considered a slacker, it will react on Carpenter. The blows that are being directed, perhaps justly, at Dempsey, will hit the Frenchman with the same force.

RECLAMATION BOOSTER URGES HARD STRUGGLE FOR IRRIGATION

Major Fred R. Reed Not Discouraged over Reports from Washington Unfavorable to Appropriations for Redemption of Lands in the West—"Stick Together and We Will Win," He Declares

Major Fred R. Reed arrived Saturday from Peacerville and is engaged in perfecting plans for the Idaho reclamation convention to be held at Burley Tuesday and Wednesday, January 27 and 28. The counties of Cassia, Gooding, Minidoka, Jerome, Lincoln, Twin Falls and Power will take part in the convention. Former Governor F. R. Gooding, vice president of the reclamation association, will preside over the meetings.

Governor D. W. Davis will attend, and also Warren G. Sweeney, commissioner of reclamation, and many noted speakers on water storage, irrigation and organization will address the meetings.

Speaking with relation to the report of discouragement being met by the western delegations in Washington in the matter of obtaining an appropriation for reclamation, Major Reed says: "This does not surprise me at all, and the reports carry no discouraging features.

"All the Idaho Reclamation association and the other twelve far-west states have got to do to perfect their organizations, stand back of the association of states, and keep on working. Congress is so busy passing water bills that it is not paying very much attention now to a little thing like the reclamation of the arid, swamp and cut-over lands in thirty far-west states.

"What we have got to do is to just 'keep 'em nose in the bank,' and go on working. By-and-by the American people are going to get tired of all this monotonous Congress is going to sit up and take notice when people make an appeal for something that means homes and employment for thousands upon thousands of American citizens and their families. We must keep digging.

"The time is rapidly approaching when that mistaken notion of man's superiority to the forces of nature, the far-west is only the home of the gun-puncher, the gun-fighter, the gun-writer and the outlaw, will be exploded.

"By all the far-west sticking together and working for one thing—reclamation—we are going to be properly introduced to the people of the east—especially at the national capital, in view of the fact that we are a land of tremendous and splendid resources, the home of millions of prosperous American citizens; that our resources, now practically unused, are to be developed, are the foundation for a mighty empire; that we are an earnest people in this land-of-the-setting-sun.

"If we stick together, the first thing we know, instead of our having to go to them; they will be coming out here to us."

SCHOOL PROPERTY IS VALUED AT $12,863,852

State Department Publishes Interesting Figures on Idaho Holdings

Idaho school property is worth $12,863,852.46 this year, says the new educational directory issued Thursday by the state department of education. Aggregate expenditures for school purposes in the state are $5,859,734.56, according to announcements made by the state department of education.

Here are some interesting statistics made available in the new pamphlet: The county has $1,091,645 invested in schools.

Mal G. Blao of Twin Falls is the highest paid superintendent in the state, receiving $3,850. Boise pays $3,700. Peacerville and Lewiston pay $3,500. The lowest is $1,800.

The lowest paid principal in the state gets only $875 per year and is at Central.

Idaho rural schools keep open an average of 8.23 months each year, possibly a national record.

The average salary paid teachers in country districts is $611.33 per year. The lowest is $722.33. The highest is $1,035.

Boise and Twin Falls have the best record on salaries paid high school teachers. Idaho Falls ranks "fair."

Caldwell and Weiser are "low."

There are 1,489 school districts in the state and 1,715 buildings.

A total of 137,702 pupils attend the state schools; 70,349 boys and 67,413 girls.

WOOL-STEALING CASE IS AGAIN ON TRIAL

In the district court this morning was begun the re-trial of Frank Clark, accused by the state of stealing wool. The greater part of the morning was consumed in impeaching a jury. The case is prosecuted by Frank L. Stephens, district attorney, with E. M. Wolfe and J. P. Martin defending.

Clark, together with B. F. Nichols and W. G. Robertson, is accused of stealing a considerable quantity of wool, the property of Jose Bengoughen, a Three Creek district sheepman. Nichols and Robertson were recently convicted and have been in the penitentiary some time. In the Clark case the jury disagreed and a new trial was ordered. Nichols and Robertson have been brought here as witnesses for the state.

CANAL STOCKHOLDERS VOTE FOR MORE WATER

At Mass Meeting Directors are Ordered to Contract for a Reservoir Service

Directors of the Twin Falls Canal company, by unanimous vote of a meeting of about 300 stockholders assembled Saturday afternoon in Parish hall here, were instructed to enter into a contract to co-operate with the reclamation service and other Snake river irrigation projects for the building of the American Falls reservoir. Similar action was taken at the annual meeting of stockholders held here in December. The proposal was represented Saturday to stockholders in meetings here and at Buhl. At Buhl no action was taken.

J. C. Wheeler, general manager of the canal company, and W. O. Taylor, secretary, presented the plan which was endorsed on motion of J. A. Cron, seconded by Dr. John E. White. F. E. Chamberlain presided over the meeting and T. George Hyslop acted as secretary.

The motion as adopted provides that the canal company shall enter into the contract for building the American Falls reservoir even though plans for the Brunson project should not enter into consideration at this time. Under the terms of the contract the canal company would secure additional water right of 100,000 acre feet in the American Falls reservoir. The cost to stockholders. It was stated, would be about $5 per acre, payable in installments.

OPERA'S LYRIC STAR IS HERE

Miss Alice Nielsen Comes for Concert—Is Entranced with the West

Today Twin Falls entertains the queen of opera, Alice Nielsen. Miss Nielsen, with her entourage, reached this city yesterday. Tonight she will present what connoisseurs of music regard as the most extensively inspiring program of high-class song Twin Falls patrons of opera and opera selections have had the opportunity to hear.

Miss Nielsen is accompanied here by Mrs. Ora O'Brien, of Portland, a cousin by marriage of the great American lyric soprano, and Tom Griselle, pianist-accompanist. She is entering upon the last half of a western tour begun in Phoenix, Arizona, December 10. She has already filled engagements in Klamath Falls, Washington, Portland, The Dalles, Mt. Vernon, Wenatchee, Vancouver and Lewiston. From Twin Falls she goes to Salt Lake, Missoula, Seattle, Spokane, Great Falls, and Aberdeen. At the latter place she will on February 9 will close the present tour of 15 dates in five weeks, and will jump back to New York, her home.

Gets Spirit of West

"I have not toured the west for some time but I have always had a kindly interest in the western country and its people. The country itself, its progress and its wonderful expanse, its magnificent scenic glories and the bigness of its people have won my heart entirely on this trip. I shall never forget it, but shall look forward to the time when my engagements will permit scheduling it cities for concerts again," Miss Nielsen declared upon arrival in Twin Falls yesterday. The star had as her escort until very recently her husband, Dr. Le Roy Stoddard, a surgeon of New York. Dr. Stoddard, noted for extraordinary achievements in surgery before the war, won fame through his accomplishments in plastic and corrective surgery during the war. Pressing business of his office compelled him to leave the trip with Miss Nielsen, Mrs. O'Brien assuming the role of accompanying guest with the Nielsen company when Dr. Stoddard left.

Star as a Child

Miss Nielsen, American born, has had a wonderful career in concert and in light and grand opera. She toured first as a child, taking boys' parts in Gilbert and Sullivan opera, her first role being Nanky Poo in Mikado. She assumed her real prima donna role as Yum Yum in the same opera when she was but 16 years of age. She has carried on grand opera star soprano parts, temporarily closing a magnificent career four years ago as Nedda, in Madama Butterfly, in Covent Garden. At that time she starred opposite Caruso. "I am planning to re-enter grand opera next year, and propose to give from 25 to 30 performances during the year," Miss Nielsen announces. This return to the highest form of music will be with the Metropolitan Grand Opera company of New York, with which the star has achieved some of her most noteworthy successes. She was with the Metropolitan from 1910 until the outbreak of the war. In 1909 Miss Nielsen appeared in Salt Lake as star with Madame Lillian Nordica in the original San Carlos Opera company.

Brilliant Career

Alice Nielsen was reigning queen of light opera for a period of five years, leaving that field of endeavor after two years with the Bostonians and three at the head of the Alice Nielsen Opera company, when she left the light opera field to win added honors in grand opera.

This evening's program will comprise seven distinct parts, in five of which Miss Nielsen will participate. Mr. Griselle will present the other two. The schedule:

- PART I
- (1) Aria—Deh Veni Non Tardar (Mozart). (From "Nozze di Figaro").
 - (2) a) A Spirit Flower (Campbell-Tip). b) The Weathercock (Lehman). c) Lullaby (Scott). d) Under the Greenwood Tree (Buzzi-Pecora).

TEMPERANCE PEOPLE EXPRESS ENTHUSIASM

W. G. T. U., "Victory" Celebration Occasion for Appropriate Speech and Song

Great enthusiasm was displayed at the W. G. T. U. "Victory" meeting, held at the home of Mrs. J. M. Wall. The affair was a celebration of national prohibition.

Attendance was very gratifying and all addresses were well received, as was, also, the musical program. Attorney Turner K. Hackman, former Senator S. P. Atherton and the Rev. C. L. Owen made speeches appropriate to the occasion. Mrs. William Monteith, of Kimberly, gave a song, "The Jubilee and What It Means."

WIN FROM SHOSHONE

After losing to both Rupert and Gooding the Twin Falls high basketball team, the Shoshone boys and trounced Shoshone 40 to 9. The Twin Falls players out-classed the Shoshone five in all departments and might have accumulated a much larger score had Nafziger's deep shot not refrained from extra effort toward the end of the contest. Yechem, Neuman and Putzier starred for the Twin Falls quintet.
