PROSECUTOR IN NEWBERRY CASE MAKES CHARGES

Address of Assistant Attorney General Dally to Jury in the Federal Court Outlines Scope of Evidence to be Entered

ALLEGES OBTENTION TO BUY SENATOR'S TOGA

Indicates Use of Hogs Funds for Influencing Voters; Says a Moving Picture Film was Used in Campaign

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—The fraudulent election campaign which "Detroit" arranged against United States Senator Newberry and his co-defendants had its inception in New York in 1917, according to the opening statement which Frank C. Dally, assistant attorney general, made to the jury in United States district court here today. He named Senator Newberry and Frederick O'Byrne, who he described as "a legitimate agent for large corporations, particularly the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the American Book company," as the men who made the preliminary arrangements to be added to the jury in United States district court here today. He named Senator Newberry and Frederick O'Byrne, who he described as "a legitimate agent for large corporations, particularly the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the American Book company," as the men who made the preliminary arrangements to be added to the jury in United States district court here today.

Alleges Relatives' Aid Mr. Dally told the jury that the senator was then on "paid leave" in New York city as a lieutenant commander in the navy, adding that the American Book company "was largely controlled by the Barnes family, to which Newberry was related by marriage."

Mr. Dally said that O'Byrne was commissioned to hire a manager for the campaign and that J. G. Hayden, a Detroit correspondent, was in Detroit, N.Y., was offered $500 a month, but refused the position because "he did not want that kind of a job." Mr. Dally said that Hayden had advised Mr. Newberry "not to conduct a 'barrel campaign.'"

Mr. Dally then shifted the scene to Detroit where on February 2 there was a conference of Michigan politicians known as "O'Byrne's." This conference, he said, selected Paul H. King, one of the defendants, as manager of the campaign.

Charges Vast Expenditures "During the campaign," said Mr. Dally, "Mr. King paid out a vast sum of money."

The prosecutor then sketched the publicity campaign of the Newberry organization, charging that they sought advertising space in "every newspaper and magazine in the state."

The changes today leave only four of the original members of President Wilson's official family, and one of these, Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior department, soon will retire to private life. The others are Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Postmaster General Burleson and Mr. Houston.

Court to Decide on Legal Status of Captured Garment

Chicago Bank President May Lose Trousers in Which Boots was Carried

CHICAGO, (AP)—The United States district court will be asked to decide whether the trousers of Charles N. Thomas, Chicago bank president, are a "vehicle" and if they are, whether they should be confiscated by the government and sold at auction.

Mr. Thomas was arrested Saturday night in a cabaret when he produced a bottle of liquor from his hip pocket and concealed highballs for himself and three companions.

Federal prohibition agents who made the arrest seized the size of the hip-pocket to carry liquor makes Mr. Thomas' trousers a vehicle within the meaning of the dry law and that the garment is subject to seizure and sale.

Mr. Thomas, who was refused bail and has been in jail since Saturday night, will be taken before a United States commissioner today. He is president of the Commonwealth Trust and Security company.

Decision in the case will affect the question of hip-pocket flunks throughout the country.

Sharp Rise in Cost of Furs is Predicted

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Prices of furs will be decidedly higher next winter according to buyers attending the winter auction of the International Fur Exchange here, which opened today.

The prospective increase in prices is assigned to the embargo placed on higher grades of furs by Australia and to Bolshevik uprisings in Russia, which, it was said, virtually has paralyzed the fur trade in that country.

DEPORTATION OF ARIZONA MINERS CASES IN COURT

Three Men of 210 Accused of Kidnapping Go to Trial Before Chochoise County Tribunal; Others Accused

DEFENSE TO ATTEMPT TO SHOW I. W. W. ACTIVITY

Defendants Include Most Prominent Men in State with Several Millionaires; Proceedings Promise to be Famous TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP)—Trial of the three Bisbee deportation defendants was halted temporarily here today when County Attorney Robert N. French asked that 150 defendants be put on trial simultaneously under a blanket charge of kidnapping and the defense attorneys refused to have the trial proceed unless but one defendant went to trial.

TOMBSTONE, ARIZ. (AP)—Three men of the 210 accused of kidnapping in connection with the deportation of 1,138 striking copper miners and their sympathizers from Bisbee, Ariz. to New Mexico, on July 12, 1917, went to trial in the Chochoise county court here today. Fred Sandherr and Phil Tovar, mine shift boss of the Warren mining district and Phil Tovar, Bisbee meat dealer, were the first defendants to face the state court.

The other defendants include mining officials, bankers, business men and professional men of the Warren district, which embraces the mining camps of Bisbee, Lowell, Warren, Baker'sville and other smaller camps.

State Charges Conspiracy The state charges the defendants with putting into effect a kidnapping conspiracy to deprive the deportees of their lawful rights. Besides the defendants it was said by the prosecuting attorney that more than 1,600 persons participated in the conspiracy, including the strikers and sympathizers, leading them into box cars and sending them across the state boundaries into New Mexico, where later the deportees were cared for in a great camp provisioned and cared for by United States soldiers.

I. W. W. Agitation Alleged The defense, it was intimated when court opens, will attempt to show the strike was the outgrowth of I. W. W. agitation, that miners who cared to remain at work were kept from the mines by intimidation and that the deportations were lawfully resorted to under the direction of the then sheriff, Captain Harry Wheeler, who wore in the defendants as deputy sheriffs. It was said that attempts would be made to show that the United States was at war and the strike was crippling this country's efforts to obtain copper for manufacturing munitions and otherwise carrying on war work.

REPUBLICANS COUNTER DEMOCRATS' MOVE TO CALL UP PEACE TREATY

Another Long Period of Discussion is Indicated as Majority Party Leader Announces Intention to Inaugurate Consideration of Pact with Reservations on Floor of Senate; Declaration Comes as Surprise to Opposition

POSSIBILITY THAT OPEN DEBATE WILL FACILITATE AGREEMENT SEEMS REMOTE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Countering the democratic move to take up the peace treaty in the senate, republican leaders today gave notice that they would formally ask to bring the treaty up for debate next Monday, one day earlier than the democrats had decided on.

The development was regarded as practically assuring another long period of discussion.

In giving the notice in the senate, Senator Lodge, the republican leader, said he would first ask unanimous consent to proceed to "consideration of the treaty with reservations."

"I trust," he added, "that unanimous consent certainly will be given. In case it is not, I shall make the necessary motion to suspend the rules."

Takes Democrats by Surprise The announcement appeared to take the democrats by surprise and the republican leader was asked to repeat it. Senator Ashurst, democrat, Arizona, then asked: "Why withhold it so long?"

"Why not move to take it up tomorrow, the next day?" he asked.

"I have given the matter consideration," replied Senator Lodge. "Many senators are absent, and I desire to wait until they return."

Reservations in Making Democratic and republican leaders are understood to be preparing resolutions to offer as soon as the treaty is taken up for debate. In some quarters it was predicted that many of the points at issue soon would be eliminated from the agreement on the basis of the work done by the informal partisan compromise committees.

The possibility that open debate would facilitate agreement on article ten and the Monroe doctrine, however, was regarded by many of the senators as remote.

FIGHT LOOMS IN DEPORTATION CHARGES TRIAL

Hardest-Fought Legal Battle in History of Arizona in Prospects as Court Opens Hearings in Kidnapping Cases

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., (AP)—The Bisbee "deportation trials" set to begin here today are expected to develop the hardest-fought legal battle in the history of Arizona. The litigation resulted from the deportation of 1,185 striking copper mine workers and their sympathizers from Bisbee, Ariz., to New Mexico on July 19, 1917.

More than 300 defendants, among them many of the most prominent citizens of Bisbee and vicinity, have been summoned to appear in the superior court here to answer charges of kidnapping in connection with the deportation. Harry S. Wheeler, former sheriff of Cochise county, who has taken upon himself sole responsibility for the deportation; mine managers, superintendents and foremen; bankers, merchants and professional men are among the defendants.

Investigation Is Searching

Judge Samuel L. Patton, of Phoenix, who has been designated to preside, first gained prominence by revising and codifying the laws of Arizona after her admission to statehood. Officials of the county attorney's office are understood to have traveled through many western states gathering depositions from the men who were deported.

Preliminary examinations were held in Douglas last year. These were followed by a trial in the federal court at Tucson of 20 leaders in the financial and industrial life of Bisbee, Douglas and Warren on indictments charging conspiracy to deprive a citizen of his rights in violation of the penal code. The defense raised a question of the court's jurisdiction in that case and it was sustained with the result that the trial of 300 or more, instead of the 20 alleged leaders, was undertaken in the state courts.

Civil Action Pending

A third action is pending. It is a civil proceeding for damages alleged to have been sustained by the deported men by reason of their deportation. The deportation of the 1,185 men followed a prolonged strike in the copper mines at Bisbee. Accusations were printed in the newspapers of the south-west that the strike was fomented by Industrial Workers of the World for the purpose of cutting off the production of copper needed by the killed and associated powers in the war against Germany. Sheriff Wheeler, who directed the deportations, declared at the time that all of the men deported were known to be members of the I. W. W., but an investigating committee under Secretary of War Wilson reported that some of the deported men were not members of the I. W. W., but were business men and property owners who had lived in the district many years.

Story of Deportations

Fifteen hundred armed men under Sheriff Wheeler herded the strikers and sympathizers into the baseball park at Warren, Ariz., and there they released those who promised to return to work, loaded the remainder on a train of cattle cars and box cars, put guards on board and the train proceeded to a sidetrack at Hyrum, N. M., where it was left. United States troops on July 14 removed the exiles to a camp at Columbus, N. M., where they remained several weeks until they finally drifted away. Two men, one a deputy sheriff, were killed in the roundup at Bisbee.

COMMENTS OF ROOSEVELT ON EUROPE GIVEN

Biographer Makes Public Contents of Former President's Letter Describing Trip from Khartoum to London

NEW YORK, (AP)—Colonel Roosevelt's "longest letter," a 25,000-word personal account of his trip from Khartoum to London in 1919 and which is described by his biographer, Joseph Bucklin Bishop, as "a human document of exceptional character," appears as the first of two installments in the February issue of Scribner's Magazine, published today.

Addressed Sir Controversy "Soon after retiring from the presidential office," explains Mr. Bishop, "the colonial went to Africa on a hunting trip. He had arranged before his departure for several formal addresses, which he was to make in Germany, Holland, France and Norway on his return. When he reached Khartoum in March, 1919, on his way home, he yielded to urgent appeals and made two addresses on Egyptian affairs, one at Khartoum and the other at Cairo, which aroused much controversy and led later to a speech on the same subject, also by urgent request, at the Guildhall in London.

"From Khartoum he went to Rome, Vienna, Budapest, Paris, Brussels, The Hague, Copenhagen, Christiania, Stockholm, Berlin, and thence to London. At the close of his tour he paid a long visit to his long-time correspondent and friend Sir George Otto Trevelyan, at the latter's estate at Wolcombe, Stratford-on-Avon. During the visit his narrative of his experiences in Egypt and Europe so strongly impressed Sir George that he urged him earnestly to put it in writing. This Roosevelt did the following year, in the form of a letter to Trevelyan, under date of October 1, 1911."

Comments on Royalty "The former president, in the massive, made 'frank and searching comments upon the characteristics and personalities of kings, emperors and other eminent personages with whom he came in contact," and the opening paragraph requested that it should not be made public "until long after all of us who are now alive are dead." Trevelyan, in authorizing its publication, said: "I do not hesitate to say that it should be published and the sooner the better. The world would be much the richer for it. The times are such that the human interest and solid value of this wonderful paper would be very great indeed now."

Defendant's Husband who Shot Kelly, Is Acquitted on Plea of Temporary Insanity

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Mrs. Alice Woodcock, charged with murder in connection with the killing of Edward Kelly, a newspaper employe here, faced trial in the superior court today.

The defendant's husband, Edgar Woodcock, who shot Kelly, was acquitted of the charge on a plea of temporary insanity. Subsequently the grand jury was said to have started an investigation when intimations of irregularities in the conduct of the trial were published in the local newspapers.

Testimony was presented at Woodcock's trial to show that his wife told the jury she could not remember the act being executed by her husband. Woodcock followed her one evening, according to witnesses, and when Kelly raised his hat to her the husband shot him.

UNITED STATES ARMY

MEN

TEN years ago it was necessary for the United States Army to argue men into its ranks.

But, today the Army like every other great university, points with pride to its graduates.

Four million of the nation's choicest young men were entrusted to the Army's care.

MOST of them are back in the ranks of industry today; and every parent in America, every employer, every teacher knows that they are better, abler men for their experience.

They stand straight upon their feet, a symbol of physical fitness.

They have learned how to execute orders, and how to give them.

THERE is, in their characters, a maturity beyond their years, a vision and a self confidence that are fundamentals of success.

* The months that they gave to the Army were not lost months; the records of the future will show more rapid progress for them because of the qualities which those months developed.

THE United States Army is open for enlistments today. It wants no inferior applicants; it seeks young men of character and purpose; and it promises those young men that the term of their enlistment will be fruitful years.

They will come back to civil life in perfect health—their muscles, their eyes, their bearing all evidencing the finest professional care.

IT IS the purpose of the War Department to develop in the American soldier those qualities which are the essentials to success in any trade or business and are the prime requisites in an American citizen.

Congress has appropriated $2,000,000.00 to be used in Educational work in the Army Schools. In many camps and posts men are being trained in the skilled trades and at practically all Army stations, schools are in operation in which the soldier can improve his education.

Through enlistment the United States Army offers opportunities to travel. It provides good food, good clothes and good care. It gives a training which brings health—physical development—mental quickness and self-confidence. It sends you back to civil life better equipped for American citizenship than when you enlisted.

The Fourteen Arms of the Service

The Recruiting Sergeant can give you the information that will help you decide which branch fits you best. In all of them you will get the fine training as a soldier the United States offers all its men—in many branches you can get highly specialized training.

INFANTRY—The men who have made the name of "doughboy" feared and respected throughout the world welcome you to the comradeship. Fine fellows—good fun and good training in any school at the post you go to.

CAVALRY—When the horses are champing at the bit and the "yellow legs" mount up and the troop rides forth, there is a thrill that no old cavalryman can ever forget. Horse of your own—a good outdoor life and training for future success.

FIELD ARTILLERY—"Action Front" comes the command—then watch the boys with the red hat cord snap into it. A happy outfit—with the dash of mounted service added to interesting work that calls for head and hand. Motors if you wish.

CORPS OF ENGINEERS—Army engineering is known the world over for its excellence, and an enlistment in the Engineers can be the start of a young man's training in the various branches of Engineering and in any of the mechanical and building trades.

COAST ARTILLERY—Living on the sea coasts, guarding big cities with big guns, getting time for study and a wide and good technical training, the C. A. C. man is preparing for a useful life and good pay and is having a good time while he's learning. The C. A. C. also mans the mobile big gun regiments throughout the country.

Today's Markets

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, (AP)—Some weakness in the corn market, reached today from the reported closing of Russia to foreign trade. Mild weather and bearish views in regard to financial conditions counted also as depressing factors. On the other hand, possibilities of scattered buying at times and so too did an advance in the price of Canadian wheat. Opening corn quotations, which ranged from 5-8¢ decline to 5-4¢ gain, with May 1-1.35 to 1-1.34 and July 1-1.33 to 1-1.32 1/4, were followed by moderate, setbacks in the active distant deliveries, but relative firmness in near-by months.

Subsequently, covering by shorts led to rallies. Farmers continued to hold out for $1.50 bushel at loading stations, and the visible supply total was the smallest at this time in many years.

Prices closed firm at the same as last week's closing to 1/8 higher, with May 1-1.35 to 1.36 and July 1-1.33 5-8 to 1.32 3-4.

Oats were governed by the changes in corn. After opening unchanged to 1-30 higher including May at 83 7-8 to 84 1-8¢, the market underwent a general sag.

Provisions reflected surprise at the large amount of livestock which the government reported for farms. The estimate was much heavier than the trade looked for.

DEPORTATION

famous in Arizona. The defendants include the most prominent men in the state and millionaires are included in their number. The deportations already have an interesting official history. Following the trial a grand jury indictment was made and President Wilson was quoted to the effect that the laws had been broken. Tombstone was enjoying its greatest excitement since it was a boom mining camp, one of the richest and most famous in the world, and filled with thousands of fortune seekers. Its hotels were filled to overflowing and scores of persons here for the deportation trial were forced into private families. Lines of men and a few women were forced to wait their turns at the town restaurants. For two hours before court opened the streets about the court house were filled with defendants, witnesses and citizens called for jury duty. Every voter's names in the county had been drawn for duty in the present case. The first panel of two hundred were here today. A feature of the jury drawing was the fact that in the first panel were the names of eight defendants. These will be compelled to appear in court to be excused.

PROSECUTION

statement, and render it more misleading, the film terminated with an appeal for enlistments in the navy.

Gives Bid to Roosevelt

The prosecutor read a telegram which he said was sent in September, 1918, to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt at Oyster Bay bidding for his approval of the Newberry candidacy. He said this telegram was signed "Newberry volunteer committee, Charles A. Floyd, secretary."

The telegram stated that $170,000 had been contributed to the campaign by many subscribers, but, according to the prosecutor, the campaign statement of the committee showed that five contributors alone gave $100,000, and named John B. Newberry, a defendant and brother of the senator, Mrs. Henry B. Joy, a sister, and her husband, and Victor Barnes and Lyman B. Smith, of the American Book company. Mr. Dailey said the money went for automobiles and halls, workers at the polls, votes, banquets, liquor, cigars and flowers. He charged that some thousands of money used to pay personal debts. There was also, he said, a system of gratuities. A $50 bill was placed in a book so that it could be found by one Dailey, and a banker was given $500 for his influence, the prosecutor charged.

Special Agents Employed

He said special agents were hired to work among the Indians, lumberjacks, negroes, factory workers and sailors on the great lakes. "They ingratiated themselves into the churches wherever possible by the use of money," continued Mr. Dailey. "The defendants wanted a great deal of money in an attempt to control, the nomination of the opposite party," he continued. "They arrived at the conclusion that the defendant, James W. Helme, would be a suitable opponent to Mr. Newberry in the election and hired the defendant William Mickel to induce Mr. Helme to become a candidate on the democratic ticket."

Mr. Dailey charged that Mickel was later told by Charles Floyd that Samuel O'Dell, a defendant, had paid him $2,000 to enter the race.

Contribute to Opposition

Mr. Dailey said the Newberry organization got up the petition by which Mr. Helme's name was placed on the democratic ticket, managed his campaign and "paid Helme a weekly salary." Mr. Dailey asserted that on the day when the report of receipts and expenditures was to be filed the books failed to balance by about $40,000. He said the evidence would show that neither the report of the committee nor their books gave a true account of the receipts and expenditures. The county chairman and secretaries who received from $850 to $1,200 "were asked to make reports showing they received from $150 to $200" and that no mention was made of the amount "expended in behalf of" James W. Helme.

WHERE PROPAGANDA FAILS

Quite frequently propagandists' publications attempt to masquerade as newspapers, but the attempt is rarely successful...

There is a legitimate field for the political publication, the trade journal and the house organ which interprets the news of the day with respect especially to the interests it represents...

Modern newspaper standstills require the publication of the news as free from bias as is humanly possible, with the reservation of comment to the editorial columns.

Devotion from this essential requirement sooner or later spells failure for the publication attempting it.

As evidence of this fact, the Fargo, North Dakota, Forum points out that in just 38 days of operation, the Albert Lea Examiner, the first Nonpartisan daily started in Minnesota last between $10,000 and $15,000 and then quit as a daily.

Commenting on this circumstance, under the caption, "How to Lose Money Quickly," the Forum continues editorially:

The farmers who subscribed to this Townley venture have a costly new newspaper plant on their hands, which is being used to about one-sixth of its capacity in the publication of a weekly journal carrying the usual Townley propaganda. It probably never can pay a dividend on the original investment, and the money that was lost in the daily is hopelessly gone.

The experience of backers of Townley newspapers has not been a happy one, either in North Dakota or Minnesota. The Bismarck Public Opinion had a very brief and very costly career as a daily. The Grand Forks American has been forced to call on its owners for additional sums to pay its losses.

The difficulties of such daily publications are not due to political reasons, whatever their backers may claim, but to economic causes. The publishing of a daily newspaper has always been a hazardous business undertaking, and it was never more hazardous than now, when it is sometimes difficult to tell whether circulation is an asset or a liability.

Even many of the larger dailies are finding it difficult to weather the storm, and long-established publications like the St. Louis Republic, the New York Herald and the New York Telegram are being suspended or combined with other papers, for the simple reason that they cannot pay expenses.

If they cannot meet expenses, what can be expected of a new publication which is merely a propaganda organ and not a newspaper, entering a new field which is already well supplied with newspapers? There is no economic reason for the existence of such papers, and if readers and advertisers refuse to support them for political reasons, they surely cannot be blamed for their death.

The day is passed when anybody with a hand press and a desire to see his ideas in print can set up a newspaper. Whether that is desirable or not may be a debatable question, but it is a fact, nevertheless.

DEFINES QUESTIONS AT ISSUE ON SALMON TRACT

Attorney for Settlers' Association Reviews the History of Litigation Involving Reclamation Project and Cites Conclusions; Points Out the Probability of Foreclosure Proceedings

The following recital of the situation of the Salmon river tract was given out today by James B. Bothwell, attorney for the Salmon River Settlers' Association.

Judgment was entered by Federal Judge Frank S. Ditch in Boise on January 23 conforming to the written decision handed down on September 13 last in the case of Caldwell et al. vs. Twin Falls Salmon River Land and Water company.

By the terms of the decree, rights of the company and the settlers were defined as follows: That the meaning of the contract between the state of Idaho and the Twin Falls Salmon River Land and Water company, dated April 20, 1908, and the subsequent agreements by which the company sold water rights to settlers, and also the reasonable duty of water for irrigation on the Salmon River Carey project, are questions of common interest to all settlers; that a determination of the meaning and effect of said contracts will avoid a multiplicity of suits.

Conclusions in Case

Accordingly, it is found and adjudged that the settlers, in addition to owning a proportionate incidental interest in the water right, are entitled to receive one one-hundredth of a cubic foot of water per acre per second of time during the irrigation season; that the company was not at liberty to sell or contract to sell water rights in excess of the capacity of the reservoir and conduits, or if the water supply made available by it for delivery therefrom in average years; that two and one-half acre feet per acre per season is and will continue to be required for the reasonably successful production of crops to which said lands are adapted.

It is found and adjudged that the reservoir and canal constructed are of sufficient capacity to conserve and deliver the amount of water called for by said outstanding contracts, but that the water resources which the defendant has provided therefor furnish and will furnish 56,500 acre feet per season and no more. Consequently, the system can be relied upon to furnish approximately 40 per cent of the water which the said company by its outstanding contracts agreed to sell and deliver; and it is further adjudged that in all actions brought by the company, or its assigns, or the settlers, to recover damages, the findings and adjudications herein contained shall be conclusive of the issues herein found upon and adjudged, and the company is restrained from making additional contracts for the sale of water rights and from waiving any right that it may have to forfeit or otherwise terminate any outstanding contract, and the restraining order heretofore issued restraining the company and its assigns from foreclosing on the water contracts is dissolved.

Requires Overcharge Return

An ancillary to the decree the company has filed a verified list in accordance with an order of the court showing that it collected an overcharge for the check basin improvement of 50 cents per share on 46,007 shares of water for the year 1919, or a total sum of $23,033.75. The company is now ordered to repay this sum direct to the settlers within thirty days, otherwise, judgment will be entered against the company.

Foreclosure in Prospect

By dissolving the injunction heretofore issued in the Caldwell case, the company is at liberty to institute foreclosure suits against the settlers, and information is now at hand that foreclosure proceedings against all settlers on the tract and all outstanding water contracts are in the process of preparation. The Settlers' association has under consideration a plan of defense which was made on the basis of a total irrigating capacity of the system of 35,000 acres in a more or less compact body.

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though it troublesome, is the sure way to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. Any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrous.

MAY START OLD RATING METHOD FOR TWINKLERS

Major League Rulesmakers are Considering Change Plan to Help Standings

CHICAGO, (Special).—Among the suggestions to be considered by the joint rules committees of the National and American leagues and the Baseball Writers' Association of America in Chicago next month is one to revise the former method of rating pitchers by games won and lost, which has been abolished for years in the American league and is to be retained in the National.

The suggestion, relatively unimportant in itself, involves more or less radical changes in the way to get results worth while, and to determine whether or not the major leagues or even the sponsors of the suggestion would favor the necessary revisions.

Injustice in Present Rule

The prevailing argument in favor of rating the win and loss of pitchers is that it is done in a manner which is not fair to the pitcher because they cannot beat or come close to the records of old-time Cy Young, for instance. Walter Johnson and Eddie Cicotte to illustrate.

Conditions Changed

In Cicotte's case he could not hope to equal Young's record without having the same chance old Cy did to start and finish the game. He was not permitted to pitch frequently for a pitcher, permitting a relief hurler frequently to be credited with a "victory" which really belonged to Cicotte.

To give any justice to the win and loss records of pitchers it is necessary to change the present system, but with the change in conditions which made necessary the new rating of slabsmen.

Revised Scoring Method

Another necessary change in the win and loss system is restored, involves the official scoring. It will be imperative to reduce the official records to one per pitch, instead of the existing one per game.

Financial Interest Shows

The real demand for the return to the old system comes from the betting fraternity. Few latter day fans care whether Johnson ever beats Cy Young's mark, but when A bets B that Cicotte will beat the Yankees and Cicotte pitches only an inning or two at the start of a finish, or in the middle of a game against New York, there is a great loss and cry from A and B for an official ruling by which they may win or lose their bet.

CHARGE KILBANE DEMANDS WEIGHT THAT KILLS BOUT

CHICAGO, (Special).—An instance of the making of weight which brought forward through the persistent challenge of Johnny Kilbane by Benny Valer, in response to these challenges Kilbane and the fight Valer providing that Valer's manager will post a forfeit of $10,000 as a guarantee that Valer will do 125 pounds ring-side.

Brief Bits of Sport

Earl Caddock says he expects to get another chance against Stickey. He promises, too, to win back the laurels lost in the recent mat encounter.

Caddock admits now that the weight handicap was unfair, but he could not come, and expects, before he takes the champion on again, to tackle a lot of rugged strong men.

The Colorado university has arranged a series of bouts of college boxing bouts. Student miffmen will be engaged the Aggies, the Denver university, Mines, the Aggies at Fort Collins and will also display their prowess at the Rocky Mountain conference.

Young men students in Denver have expressed decided and certain notions against the present "makeup" and dress styles adopted by college girls.

Said young men have declared a strike against low-cut in waists and high-cut skirts. Also they have declared diaphanous hose, rouged lips and cheeks taboo.

First thing you know these Puritanical youths will want girls to appear modest.

But in return for this demanded exemplification of virtue what are the boys' willing to offer?

Jimmy Wilde says he was "just getting warmed up" when Mike Ertle was taken down and out in that famed third round.

It would be interesting to know what would have happened if the British fighter had taken a preliminary warning up before going into the ring with the Milwaukee boxer.

Bill Byron, major league baseball umpire, is making his signline the main line this winter. He is a steamfitter and plumber and makes more money at the game than at umpiring.

They've called Bill a robber, thief, pirate, highwayman and everything other than but a leadpipe worker.

Sam Smiley, agebrush sage, says: "No squar' peg wuz ever as success at fillin' a round hole. If ye give a miffnet better white off th' corners er find a squar' hole."

Connie Mack is starting late to "build up". He has made Clark Griffith an offer of a bundle of money and four players for one outfielder named Howard Shanks. Griffith has decided to save Shanks for the Senators.

Also, if you will notice, Burley is pulling off boxing matches every so often.

From Jersey City comes a report that Benny Leonard and Freddie Welsh are to engage a championship bout in that city some of these nights. Benny must defeat Johnny Dundee on February 9 if he is assured of the match, though.

COOPERATIVE STORE GETS ENDORSEMENT

Farmers Subscribe Stock to Start Bookstore Participating Feature

Initial steps of a definite character toward the locating of a Bookstore cooperative general store in Twin Falls were taken Saturday afternoon at a general conference of district farmers. The conference was led by Dr. John E. White, president of the Twin Falls County Farmers' association.

Plans adopted for this store proposition include capitalization at $50,000 or more, as needed. Stock amounting to $3000 was subscribed at the Saturday session. Committee men were chosen to canvass the various communities and sections of the county interested in the cooperative store movement. Plans to report results of their endeavors at a meeting to be held next Friday of the coming week.

Not less than 100 district farmers attended the meeting. It was held Saturday, a lively interest in the project being displayed by members of the Non-partisan league, who were present in force. During a motion picture showing the success of the general campaign for organization, Doctor White, explaining the purposes of the convention, declared the movement to be inspired by the Farmers' association at the same time announcing that his association disavowed the Non-partisan league and its principles. He added, however, that the store movement proposed by the farmers and Non-partisan league to be derived from the institution.

Doctor White explained in detail the operation of the Farmers' association and its prospectiveness to all who applied for further information to be absorbed at leisure.

Hansen Board Decides Against Classes During Present Smallpox Flareup

A smallpox flareup has caused the closing of the Hansen public school. A condition, bordering, it is said, upon epidemic, showed up last week causing action by the school board for the closing of the school until such time as the epidemic has subsided. It is not understood that the instances of disease were found in the school.

Dr. C. C. McGinnis says smallpox, as a general rule, is not particularly prevalent in Twin Falls county, the number of cases holding about average. His records, as county health officer, show only 20 existing cases. A few are in Twin Falls city.

"FLU" FLARES HIGH DURING THE SABBATH

Forty-Four New Cases Reported Sunday Bringing Total in County to 188

Officially reported there are 188 cases of influenza in Twin Falls county, about 50 per cent being in Twin Falls.

Record of this number of instances showing the prevalence of an epidemic of "flu" is with the county health officer, C. C. McGinnis, who makes this figure public.

"It is an irony to say that I believe there are many more cases of flu than have been reported, these cases being diagnosed mostly as severe colds," said Dr. McGinnis at noon today. He stated that no deaths had been recorded from the epidemic and added that the malady is of a very mild character as a rule.

On Sunday, according to reports, 44 new cases of "flu" developed. This is the greatest number since the epidemic was first noted here. Saturday reports were made of 21 cases, Friday, 30; Thursday, 28 and Wednesday 30. Prior to Wednesday there were 38 existing cases. The Home Service department of the Red Cross has issued an urgent call for volunteers to be used in nursing "flu" patients. There are no available nurses now in the county. In some instances whole families are reported stricken of the malady. None of the cases reported are of a serious nature, but Red Cross officials report, but it is necessary to have somebody to look after the patients. Willing hands are said to be hard to come by.

ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL FUND DRIVE IS OPEN

County Committee Starts after $1,600 Required of District—Postponed Push

With intense fervor the Twin Falls County Roosevelt Memorial committee this week will conduct a drive for funds to be applied on the national fund for the erection of a monument to the great American, Theodore Roosevelt, now dead. The county of Twin Falls has been asked to donate $1000 altogether. About one quarter that sum has been subscribed.

The campaign for Roosevelt memorial funds was begun last October as a nation-wide push. In Twin Falls it failed because of other activities of a similar nature, including the Salvation Army drive and the Red Cross memorial campaign. The memorial matter was postponed until such time as the committee, of which A. L. Swin is chairman.

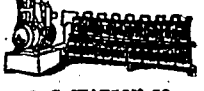

Last Saturday four high school lads, Chapman, Enright, Huston, Frayne McAtee and Norris Egler, conducted a cursory canvass of the residence districts for the purpose of gathering subscriptions. Most of the day was applied in this manner with some fairly gratifying results.

Thus far about $500 has been subscribed toward the $1000 allotted to the county. Most of the money in hand has come from outside of the county. The county committee has allotted $1100 for the city of Twin Falls to provide through subscription by individuals. High school lads will be used actively in conducting the canvass, which will extend throughout the present week if needed.

Seeing No Sun Groundhog Says He'll Stay Out

"WINTER is over and done".

Dr. W. A. Sullivan, expert in all things topically, pronounces:

"The hog does explain: 'When the groundhog tared forth from hibernating quarters at sunrise this a. m. he saw no shadow and, according to annual rote, set about arranging a program for the year's activities along his married line. He called the old lady, who has lain curled up aloofside of him during the rigors of the winter season, and instructed her, all about the schedule for the culinary department, and, announcing the prevalence of great gustatory anguish, commanded an immediate move to the storeroom to gather together a supply of succulent viands most toothsome to a hungry woodchuck. Then he went about getting acquainted with the animals in his battick who had not gone to bed for a winter roost; also hustling out those who were still asleep, making official pronouncements that winter had been banished. That's all there is to it. Might as well start farming and gardening right off.'"

Sunday's weather, in apparent anticipation of the annual appearance of G. Hog; was more than ordinarily springlike as to temperature, though clouds obscured the horizon most of the day. Night was 54 with 31 low at high. Rainfall was 22-100 inch.
