DISCLAIMS CHARGE IN ELECTION OF MICHIGAN SOLON

Attorney for Defenses Says New Charge Entered Rage at Solicitation of Others and Not in Furtherance of Scheme

ARGUES JUSTIFICATION OF ALL EXPENDITURES

Directs Attention to Peculiar Circumstances Surrounding Campaign and Cites Popular Feeling Against Ford

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—T. H. Newberry entered the 1918 senatorial campaign in Michigan at the solicitation of others and not in furtherance of a scheme to get a seat in the senate, said James H. DeLoach, Detroit, in outlining to the jury in United States district court the attitude the defense will assume toward the charges of conspiracy and fraud for which 125 men are on trial.

Conspiracy Essence of Charge Judge Murfin explained the defense's view of the specific details of the offenses charged in the six counts of the indictment, emphasizing that conspiracy is the essence of the charge. It was pointed out that on the first four counts "the gist of the charge is not fraud in the election, corruption in the election, but that these corrupt practices are charged with conspiring to aid, abet, assist and encourage Truman H. Newberry to commit an offense, to-wit: The offense of expending money of his money than the law allows.

It was further argued that "under the Michigan law, as long as expenses come within the eleven enumerated classes in the statute, there is no limit as to the amount of money a committee of a candidate's friends can spend in his behalf." "It is my purpose," Judge Murfin told the jurors, "to point out to you in exact detail everything that was done by anybody connected with this campaign, and to analyze and consider what these respondents did, the atmosphere under which they did it should be considered.

"Our country was at war and the situation was critical in the extreme. The fate of the civilized world was hanging in the balance.

Ford's Attitude in Question "While there had been rumors in Michigan that Henry Ford would be a candidate for the senate, his candidacy was actually announced on June 14, 1918.

"Rightly or wrongly, there was a very general feeling, Mr. Ford did not represent the type of American who at that critical juncture, should represent his state in the United States senate.

"Rightly or wrongly, many people remembered his campaign against military preparedness. Many people remembered his well meant, misguided efforts to bring about what now appears would

EMPLOYERS OF TWIN FALLS TO RUN OPEN SHOP

Local Association will Affiliate in General Southern Idaho Movement Under Terms of "American Plan"

UNION MEMBERSHIP IS NO BAR TO EMPLOYMENT

Statement of Official Declares Action Not Designed to Reduce Wages or Increase Working Hours

Open shop working conditions in Twin Falls will be the rule hereafter, according to action taken last night when the Twin Falls Employers' association met and decided that from now on recognition would not be accorded the various unions.

The action, according to officials of the association, is not intended in any manner to interfere with existing contracts in any line. It will not mean lower wages or longer hours, but fact it may mean higher pay than the present scale in some lines. But it does mean that non-members of unions will be employed along with union men and that members of unions will be free to work for or against an employer in the matter of securing work or holding a job.

The following statement was this morning given out by the association: "We sincerely hope that the public will understand that the action which we are compelled to take in the matter of securing men to work in the building trades and other lines does not mean an unfair discrimination against anybody, be he union or non-union. The members of our association will pay just as good wages or better than are now in effect. Nobody's pay is to be cut and none of the privileges of employees under existing conditions are to be curtailed in the slightest degree. We do not intend to fix the rate of pay on the basis of what a man's work is worth and not on the basis of his membership in one or another union.

Building Costs Increased "Under union rules, and Twin Falls employers have been forced in the past to accept union rules in their strictest interpretation, all men in any one class of work have been paid the same wage. As a result of this system high wages for a premium has been placed upon slow and incompetent work rather than upon good work. Out of this system rules have grown up which have increased the cost of our work to a point which has curtailed the amount of work we have to do. From our standpoint high wages are a small part of our troubles. We realize that wages must be high if good citizenship demands of them. We favor high wages and will continue to pay for a job's pay, in the interests not so much of ourselves as of the people as a whole.

LEWIS DISPUTES WAGES FIGURES

Mine Workers' Union Official Takes Exception to Data Offered by Operators

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Tables showing the gross earnings of all classes of bituminous mine workers in the central competitive field during the ten month period immediately preceding the walk-out on November 1 compiled from the "payroll records," were presented in evidence before the coal strike settlement commission yesterday by the operators.

They were challenged by John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America. C. Leahy, secretary of the National Coal association, said the figures were secured from "representative mines" and that he believed them "truly representative."

Drawing the admission from Mr. Leahy that the final selection of mines was left entirely to the secretary of the operators' committee in each field, Mr. Lewis asked:

"Our assurance can be given that the secretaries in selecting their 15 per cent did not select the 15 mines out of the 100 where the earnings were larger than in the remainder?"

"Our only assurance is entire confidence in their ability and honesty," replied Mr. Leahy.

The figures showed that in October, the month preceding the strike, the average earnings of 44 mines working 27 days were $23.27. In the main vein field 29 men working 27 days the same month received for that time average earnings of $20.84.

In the same field the same field (trued in more days' work, the table showed, and also received slightly higher or proportionate earnings.

Instances were noted where machine runners in selected plants earned $12 to $15 a day, in selected months.

After the introduction of these exhibits, Mr. Lewis said in a statement "that the operators neglected to tell the commission that machine runners work on a twelve or sixteen hours a day," said Mr. Lewis. "These figures mean nothing when compared with the fact that in the six year period from 1913 to 1918 inclusive the average annual earnings of all of the mine workers in the central competitive field were $473.85. The only fair way to ascertain a man's earnings is to take his earnings for a year, not a day or a week."

SAYS SOCIALIST SPAT UPON FLAG

Girl Stenographer Testifies Against One of Suspended Assemblies

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Charles Solomon, one of the socialist assemblymen suspended for alleged disloyalty, spat on the American flag at a recruiting meeting in Brooklyn, in 1917, according to testimony given at the socialist's trial today by Miss Ellen R. Chivers, an 18 year old stenographer, of New York.

Solomon committed this act, she said, after he had refused to give up for recruiting purposes a socialist platform erected for electioneering, remarking that the gutter was good enough for the recruiting party.

The girl, who said she had witnessed the incident, has described, she said she had written of them to Spenser Thaddeus C. Street who initiated the court movement. There was a burst of applause when she said she had done so because she was relieved before the duty of every American to report such incidents.

RAILWAY COSTS CHURCHES DEAR SAYS MINISTER

Interchurch Council on Organic Union Convenes to Consider Charges of Inefficiency and Recommendations

NEW YORK. (P)—Charging that "the competition and rivalry of evangelical denominations in the United States have resulted in astounding waste and inefficiency" and that 80 per cent of the Protestant churches have a total seating capacity of more than 53,000,000, or 10 times the requirement, the Rev. Dr. Robert Westly Peach, pastor of a Reformed Episcopal church in Newark, N. J., makes a plea for organic union of 22 national church bodies.

Dr. Peach's recommendations, together with others, will be discussed by the Interchurch Council on Organic Union which begins a four-day session in Philadelphia today. The Newark clergyman is one of 50 composing the ad interim committee representing various Protestant churches which was appointed last December upon an invitation by the Presbyterian church, to approve a plan for bringing about a merger. In his statement, a minority report, Dr. Peach stated that he had built perhaps "100,000 superfluous churches at a cost of $500,000,000."

"If not a single church had been built in the past 13 years," he said, "these standing in 1920 would accommodate at a single service every Protestant communicant of the year 1919 and every Roman Catholic in our country, baptisms included, including, every man, woman and child in Canada, Cuba and Porto Rico and there would still be much room to spare."

"These 86 per cent of our churches reported over their sittings for one communicant. At the same time, the Roman Catholic churches reporting had one sitting for every two and one-half members. The Protestant churches are crowded, on an average less than one-quarter filled—for it is the exceptional church which, at its principal sittings, has a total attendance equaling 80 per cent of its communicant roll."

Raising Wasted Dollars

The upkeep and the salaries incident to maintaining 22 national Protestant churches, Dr. Peach said, "make necessary the raising annually of millions of wasted dollars; make necessary, moreover, 20,000,000 more dollars to do this money. Inevitably there has arisen The Great Protestant Order of Mendicant Pastors and Sisters, unincorporated. Inevitably also has followed a widespread deflection of church members, weary of continual solicitation to give outright and to buy tickets for suppers, entertainments, bazaars, etc. Next the giving is deflected, in most instances," continued Doctor Peach, "for the American people are generous—but the needless calls for uneconomic giving."

"Upon members who remain steadfast have fallen the heavier burdens," he said. "This deflection also is mainly responsible for increasing the total cost of three million dollars by over-churching to three out of four. Let not the pastors and members of exceptional congregations blindly question the general public, who have thousands of settled communities without a single church. In Ohio, for example, the recent Methodist Episcopal survey has discovered scores of townships, six miles square, without a single resident minister. To wretched waste we add wasteful inefficiency."

Grown Under Burdens

"In our churches," said Dr. Peach, "our people are groaning under the burdens caused thereby, and under the reproach of incompetence, not only, but dischurching, and the consequent weakened testimony and reject our appeal; our problems are multiplied, our fellowship is marred, our Lord is dishonored. These are the conditions our organic unity is set to cure."

The Rev. William H. Black, D. D., of the Presbyterian church, Marshall, Mo., another member of the ad interim committee, in a minority report, urged the use of the terminology of the United States government for characterizing the proposed new united church and opposed a "reformed" denomination, declaring that "all evangelical churches recognize and teach that the Holy Scriptures are the inspired word of God and are the only infallible rule of faith and practice."

Other suggestions and minority reports which will be presented to the council will be made by the Rev. John S. Roming of the Moravian church, and Alfred C. Garrett of the Society of Friends, both of Philadelphia. Invitations have been extended to Washington, D. C., attached to the federal Vocational training bureau inspected the college recently and declared its location and facilities were excellent.

WANT SOLDIERS, DRIVE STARTED

Campaign Now Under Way to Obtain Enlistments to the Fighting Forces

The most intensified drive of the sort ever held in this immediate district, was opened today for recruits for the U. S. army. The campaign will continue to February 7 inclusive and was inaugurated by Captain Alva Leo of the Salt Lake district headquarters for recruiting.

Captain Leo was in Twin Falls yesterday arranging the final details for the push. Lieutenant Evans, of the 14th Field Artillery, with ten non-commissioned officers reported at local headquarters today for duty in connection with the campaign. They will remain to the conclusion.

The object of this drive, according to Captain Leo is twofold. First, to disseminate information concerning the new army to the end that the people who authorize, support and pay for the army may understand something of it; second, to obtain sufficient recruits to fill the army to its maximum strength before March 1, 1920.

A feature connected with the new push attracting most attention is the essay contest for all school children. Stated briefly the contest is this:

(a) Essays will be written in the school room on Friday, February 5, 1920. No essay to be longer than 400 words. Subject: "Benefits to be derived from an Enlistment in the U. S. Army."

(b) On April 10 a board of judges, consisting of General Pershing, General March and Secretary of War Baker will decide and announce the winners.

(c) On May 5, 1920, the three winners (boys or girls) accompanied by parents or guardians will be given a trip to Washington, D. C. and return with all expenses paid. The winner of the first prize will be presented with a gold medal by Secretary Baker, second prize a silver medal, third prize a bronze medal, all suitably engraved.

Local recruiting officers for this district, Major E. Emery, is authorized to offer a cup for the best essay submitted in this district.

The local recruiting office is anxious to have the prize won by a student of the Twin Falls schools and will assist in every legitimate way to this end. Pamphlets and circulars giving details concerning army life may be had by applying either in person or by letter to the army recruiting office, Room 3, Shoshoni rooms.

Census Statistics Show Mortalities at Rate of 18 Per Cent in Registration Area

WASHINGTON. (P)—The death rate in the United States for 1919 was the highest on record, according to the census bureau's annual mortality statistics issued today which shows 1,473,267 deaths for the year representing a rate of 18 per cent per 1,000 population in a country with a registration area of thirty states and 27 cities with total estimated population of 81,868,104. TEMPORAL AUTHORITY IS ESSENTIAL TO SULTAN

Indian Privy Councillor Gives Views on Problem Presented by Turk

LONDON. (P)—Temporal authority is essential to the sultan of Turkey and he should be allowed to remain in Constantinople as caliph of the faithful, according to Amir Ali, Indian privy councillor, who for the last forty-five years has held many offices in Bengal.

"The proposal to drive the Turks out of Constantinople is a concession to religious fanaticism and if the Turkish administration is removed from the city the bitterest resentment will manifest itself in India and all Mussulman countries," he says.

About seventy million Sunni Moslems and twelve million Shiahs Moslems in India, he says, are in agreement as to the Sultan's continued rule at Constantinople.

After saying that the principles of Islam are fundamentally opposed to Bolshevism, the Amir goes on: "Maintenance of the temporal authority of the sultan is necessary. His temporal and spiritual offices cannot be separated. Moslems were assured in the late war that the caliphate would not be interfered with and that Constantinople, Thracian and the homeland of the Turkish race would remain in their hands; and on this assurance Mohammedan troops bore their full share of the fighting in various regiments."

WOULD APPEAL TO COURT TO BOOST RUSSIAN TRADE

Counsel for Soviet "Ambassador" Proposes Policy of Coercion of the State Department

NEW YORK. (P)—A suggestion that the American commercial association to promote trade with Russia apply to the United States supreme court for a writ of mandamus compelling the state department to permit American firms to trade with Russia was made by Dudley Field Malone at an organization meeting of the association here yesterday.

Malone, who has acted as counsel for Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, "soviet ambassador" to the United States, said he was representing the Lehigh Machine company of Lehigh, Pa., American firm, he said, doing trade with Germany, many although the United States was at war with Germany but could not trade with soviet Russia with which this country had not been at war.

Action of Malone's suggestion as well as another that a trade commission be sent to Russia was postponed until the next meeting of the association which was formed temporarily in Washington, January 24.

Boyd Hospital LABORATORY

Twin Falls, Idaho

Established 1905

A new department of the hospital, fully equipped to lend valuable aid toward making a diagnosis.

Without a proper diagnosis, no disease can be properly treated.

Diseases, such as typhoid, syphilis, malaria, tuberculosis, anemia, influenza, obscure diseases of the blood and nervous system, Bright's disease, and cancer, can be diagnosed by laboratory tests alone.

In nearly every disease known, valuable diagnostic, as well as prognostic aid can be given by careful examination of the blood, urine, sputum, gastric contents, specimens of tissue, such as cancerous and tuberculous glands, bacterial examinations of pus, spinal fluid contents, and inflammatory exudates, such as pus in the lung, etc.

No disease is of such minor importance that the patient is not justified in demanding every means toward an accurate diagnosis.

Announcement

In these days of extremely high prices, are you interested in the idea of starting a Rochdale co-operative store? The real center of the Rochdale plan, which has been so successfully carried out for many years in other places, is the return of all net profits above expenditure and interest on stock to the patrons in proportion to the amount of business they have given to the store. The Twin Falls County Farmers' Association unanimously think that the time has arrived to start this movement, and upon the suggestion of the Department of Agriculture are sponsoring the movement. At two recent meetings of farmers held in Twin Falls some $10,000 was pledged, the general opinion prevailed at both meetings that at least $50,000 should be collected before making a start.

Do you believe that we could, as farmers deal collectively for our Groceries, perhaps Shoes and Clothing, Hardware, Lumber, Twine, Sacks, Oil, etc., and thereby make a saving, through collective bargaining?

Do you believe that such a store could help us as farmers in selling some of our products to better advantage?

If so, are you willing to do your bit to start the ball rolling?

Are you willing to buy stock at $10.00 a share and not more than 10 shares, the same to draw the legal rate of interest providing enough shares are sold to assure its success from the start?

If so, sign the attached coupon stating the number of shares you would like to have. In order to get this store started we must act quickly, as many as possible, must take the limit of 10 shares.

At any rate, please sign the coupon and let us know what you think of the plan.

JOHN E. WHITE, Secretary.

FILL IN AND RETURN THIS COUPON TO DR. JOHN E. WHITE, SECRETARY, P. O. BOX 447, TWIN FALLS.

I am interested in what the Twin Falls County Farmers' Association is doing to establish a Rochdale Co-operative Store in Twin Falls and am willing to do my bit.

I will buy _____ shares of stock, per value $10.00 per share, the same to draw the legal rate of interest at 8%, conditionally upon the necessary amount of money being raised to assure its success. Signed _____

N. B.—Take the limit, 10 shares, if you can possibly do so, to insure quick action. Get your neighbor to do likewise.

CHURCHILL SEES PERIL IN RUSSIA

British Secretary of War Forecasts a Menacing Move Against Civilization

SUNDERLAND, Eng. (AP)—Winston Churchill, British secretary of state for war, declared in an address he delivered here that while no one can tell what will emerge from Russia, it will be something very menacing to civilization and especially dangerous to the British empire.

"Bolshevik fanatics are determined to bring about a complete reorganization, and the liberties of free people," declared the minister.

"Europe and Asia are in a desperate condition. The alliance may be abandoned. The object of the bear will cross the snows and menace them.

"New forces are springing up in Italy, Mexico, and elsewhere. Bolshevism and Turkish Islamism should join hands in the attack on Great Britain would be grave. Kulebka and Denikine have provoked British interests in the east, but the armies of Kulebka are almost gone, the armies of Denikine are in jeopardy and if they were to disappear serious danger would immediately arise.

"It is possible that there may be a combination between Kaiser militarism and German Bolshevism to destroy the German republic. We must see that that does not happen. We are not to trade with Germany again, but how are we to get our indemnities unless we trade with her? France and America are taking all steps to trade with Russia, but we should not be called on to stand aside."

MINIDOKA SECTION PROVIDES EXAMPLE

Quick Returns from Irrigation are Exemplified in Report from Project

As an example of the quick returns of irrigation development, attention is directed to the Minidoka project in Idaho. In 1904 it was an unhabitable sagebrush desert, having no towns, no farms, no railroads, no facilities of any kind. All that it is today is the result of the construction of the irrigation works by the U. S. reclamation service at a cost of $5,800,000. Of this amount, more than $1,000,000 has been repaid by the end of 1919.

In 1919—within five years—of the desert state—conditions are shown by the following figures, collected by the local commercial organizations and compiled from the records of the U. S. reclamation service:

Value of farm lands and improvements on project estimated by the owners at close of 1919, $27,388,000; values of livestock, $2,016,000; value of farm equipment, 1,021,000. Total, $30,425,000.

Assess valuations—Farms, 47,800; 6000 towns, $2,270,000; public utilities, $4,500,000. Total, $14,570,000.

Crops produced in 1919—Alfalfa, $3,075,000; potatoes, $1,000,000; wheat, $1,000,000; sugar, $1,000,000; miscellaneos, $748,000. Total, $5,823,000.

Crops produced since 1909 (actual census), $25,000,000.

Shipments of agricultural products, 1919, in carloads—Wheat, 3,500; potatoes, 1,200; hogs, 1,000; beef, 1,000; chickens, 1,000; sugar, 200; sheep, 210; flour, 170; miscellaneous, 150. Total shipments, 43,000 cars.

Wholesale purchases of manufacturers during 1919—Dry goods, 1,000,000; shoes, $1,200,000; number, $1,000,000; automobiles, trucks, etc., $1,040,000; groceries, $814,000; hardware, $659,000; coal, feed, flour and bags, $468,000; farm implements, $434,000; machinery and supplies, $375,000; clothing, $325,000; $275,000; jewelry and miscellaneous instruments, $240,000; drugs and sundries, $172,000; cigars, etc., $124,000; furniture, $121,000; other merchandise, $105,000. Total for one year, $7,139,000.

War activities of the project—Men in army, 1,017; men in navy, 62; Red Cross members, 4,100; Liberty loans, etc., $1,747,000; Red Cross subscriptions, $37,000; Liberty bonds, 450; war activities, $210,000. Total, $2,014,000.

Industries—Sugar factories, 2; cheese factories, 3; flour mills, 2; brick yards, 1; potato drying plant, 1; alfalfa mills, 2; mixed feed mill, 1; feeder yards, 2. Railroads, 52 miles.

Electric power generated in project per house, 100 kilowatt hours power, when pumps water for 50,000 gallons supplies all towns and factories and more than 800 farmers.

Water supply of project—Snake river, with storage in Jackson lake, Wyo., and Lake Walcott, Idaho. Jackson lake reservoir has a capacity of 850,000 acre feet and supplies storage to supplement the natural flow to 750,000 acres. It is the fifth in size in the world. It supplies more land and protects more crops than any other reservoir in the world. Land so supplied produced crops worth $40,000,000. Jackson lake reservoir cost only $1,250,000.

Finding a position is sometimes a most disheartening task. Just to rely upon friends, or upon going about and making personal applications, often leads to utter discouragement. The quick road to a position is through the classified. Sometimes this road requires more than one day to travel, but it leads inevitably to the desired goal if followed.

PLAYING HOOKY MADE 'B' RUTH GREAT PITCHER

Yankees' New Player Was Sent to Reformatory Early—Priest Coached Him

CHICAGO, (Special).—G o r g e s (Babe) Ruth was born in Baltimore twenty-six years ago next February 7. He is 5 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 198 pounds. At an early age he indicated in a manner in which he has exceeded his rating that he would later throw a baseball with his left hand and bat from the left side of the plate.

The story of his boyhood resembles that of a reformatory inmate. He was sent to a reformatory, and a newspaper story bearing upon this event is headed "Playing Hooky Made Babe Great Pitcher."

It was at this reformatory that Ruth first showed ability as a baseball player. He became the protégé of the priest in charge of the school and school. Dunn made a trip to the reformatory for the purpose of observing Ruth in action.

Dunn was so strongly impressed by Ruth's playing that day that he was determined to get Ruth out of the reformatory and join Dunn's team.

This was done on the condition that Dunn adopt Ruth and keep his eye on the boy.

Stars Public Play in 1913

Ruth's first public appearance as a player in public was with the St. Joseph college team in 1912. He was signed by Baltimore of the International league in 1914, and late that year was sold to the Boston Red Sox.

Six years ago Ruth was at St. Mary's Industrial School in Baltimore, and it was there that Frank Dunn, manager of the Baltimore team, discovered him.

He was commended to Dunn's attention by Dave Pracom, coach of the St. John Hall college team, and at the invitation of Brother Gilbert, head of the school, Dunn made a trip to the reformatory for the purpose of observing Ruth in action.

Dunn was so strongly impressed by Ruth's playing that day that he was determined to get Ruth out of the reformatory and join Dunn's team.

This was done on the condition that Dunn adopt Ruth and keep his eye on the boy.

Goes to Baltimore

The following year Ruth signed a contract to play for Baltimore at the rate of $100 a month. Dunn promised him another $100 if he made good. But when the season ended before the season ended the cost of living increased, and he was paid a monthly salary of $200.

Late in 1914 he was sold to the Red Sox. He was paid $15,000. The difference cannot be accounted for by this biography.

It has been said that he is not only the world's greatest slugger, but also the greatest baseman known to baseball. He has been compared with Babe Wagner, one of the most eccentric figures of the diamond, but Waldett never was the drawing card which Babe was last year.

He pitched his first no hit game when he was 18 years old. He has the ball with which he struck out the last batter up in the ninth, and he has the ball with which he broke Ed Williams' home run record at the Polo grounds. His record breaking blow carried high into the upper tier of the right field stands, and he threw it out on the field to the souvenir, threw it out on the field to Ruth, who acknowledged its receipt with a tremendous outburst of applause by tipping his cap and bowing graciously.

Brief Bits of Sport

Tonight the Bull legionaires will stage a big athletic program. Boxing and "honors" wrestling will complete the schedule. Proceeds, after expenses are paid, will go to Clark E. Fox post, American legion.

By the way, Bull fans are talking baseball in public places. They talk so loudly that the name of Leo Dresson, of the St. Paul American association club is heard mentioned as prospective manager.

Heavy L. Farrell, sports writer of New York says Caddock is not the strong boy he was before he engaged in army service.

Eastern baseball experts say Kallio, who was with Detroit all last season, has nothing but a dinky cup and a heap of confidence, while Bill Cunningham has everything in the world but confidence.

Might combine the pair and make one good pitcher.

Slim Smiley, sugarbush sage, says, "Love air a laxy that only th' immoderately rich or th' immoderately poor kin afford ter indulge in."

Our punch may be as far off as it was during the late implementation between the Reds and Sox; but we guess Willie to flick the overlying stuffing out of Frank Mason.

The battle, billed for an early date in Toledo, is to be over a 18-round route, but three should be sufficient.

"Doc" Holler says Champion Joe Stecher is a better man than Getch ever was.

We'd like to have Getch in his best form here that and then get Holler on the mat. Oh, boy!

Bonny Leonard, lightweight champ without a real rival, says he expects to engage in a dozen big bouts before July 4.

"Bah for Bennie; the world's for that sort of champ."

Bob Martin, who expects to be world's champion fighter some of these days, saw duty in fighting boots "over there"; started fighting at a county fair dogs where he put a brace of birds to bed in a punch apiece; won the intercollegiate fight championship in France and since then has had a hard time keep track of his knockouts, by heck!

HERE'S A KNOCKOUT

PHILADELPHIA PAYS FOR HALL AFTER FIFTY YEARS

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Payment for building the Philadelphia city hall has just been completed, although construction was started in 1872. The cost was $25,000,000.

The city hall was built by a public-building commission, authorized by the legislature in 1870. A four-mill tax for its construction was levied on all taxpayers in each of the following six years. At that time, however, the city did not have the power of levying taxes and as a result, part of the building taxes remained delinquent.

CARPENTIER GETS CHAMPIONSHIP CUP?

European sportmen has some funny ideas of things. For instance here in Sport promoter Cochrane of London, presenting the Great gold cup to Georges Carpentier, the French heavyweight champion, after his defeat of Joe Beckett, British champion, in one round, at London recently. The cup is all right and the idea of awarding, since they insisted on it, "Champion of the World." American sport followers say the real champion Jack Dempsey, will see "think" that cue when he gets Carpentier into a ring.

DENY SUFFERING AMONG FAMILIES OF PRISONERS

Authorities at Ellis Island Declare Deportees Leave No Dependents

NEW YORK, (AP)—Authorities at Ellis Island today denied knowledge of "deplorable" conditions among families of extremists deported on the Buford or now held in deportation proceedings as charged by the American women's committee, which announces it will make efforts in Washington to have these dependents assisted.

"I know of nobody deported on the Buford who was actually married, according to the laws of the various states of this country," said Percy A. Baker, superintendent at the island. "Anyhow, I know of nothing in the immigration laws that provides that marriage shall relieve any alien from deportation."

Of the more than 500 persons sent in the island after raids last month only two have claimed at hearings before immigration inspectors that they were married. Mr. Baker said.

Most of them have refused to answer any questions at all and almost half of them have been released on bail.

ENGLAND'S DRINK BILL REACHES RECORD FIGURE

Statistics Show Decrease in Consumption and Increase of Sobriety with Higher Costs

LONDON, (AP)—Great Britain's drink bill for 1918 is estimated to reach the record figure of £250,000,000 yet statistics just issued show a decrease in consumption and an increase in sobriety.

In 1905 the convictions for drunkenness in England and Wales totalled 207,173; in 1910 they were 161,407; and in 1914 they numbered 138,877, "but from that onward the convictions dropped sharply to 125,811 in 1915; 84,191 in 1916; 46,410 in 1917, and 20,075 in 1918. The number of public-houses has also decreased from 103,341 in 1895 to 84,944 in 1918.

GERMAN THREAT AGAINST GIBRALTAR IS REVEALED

Plans for Air Raid in Conjunction with Italian and Austrian Fleets in 1914 Disclosed

LONDON, (AP)—A German scheme for an air raid on Gibraltar in conjunction with the Italian and Austrian fleets in 1914 has just been disclosed, says the Evening Standard.

In the summer of 1914 an aviation exhibition was promoted at Malaga, Spain, but was suddenly abandoned on the eve of hostilities. German competitors had entered ostensibly for show purposes, the Spanish states, but really in order to be close at hand for an air attack on Gibraltar. They hoped to secure the cooperation of the Italian and the Austrian fleets in this venture.

The British authorities had previously learned of this plan and, as all hope of participation of the Italian fleet failed, the coup had to be declared off, much to the chagrin of Germany who had reckoned on Gibraltar as an excellent place for a submarine base.

"Moreover, our action was taken with a view to the best interests of many of the men who have been members of the various unions up to now, not particularly because they wanted to be because they were compelled to in order to work. Hereafter it will not be necessary for these men to be union members to hold their jobs, and in the same sense union membership will not in any manner disqualify a man from working, or receiving the full wages of a day's work, as long as there is work to be done."

Building Trades Affected
The various building trades are those most affected by the move at this time. It is understood, but it is the belief of the association members that the plan will grow in popularity and spread into all lines of activity. It is pointed out in this connection that the general office of Twin Falls, with one exception, are operated on an open shop basis in a manner satisfactory to employer and employee alike and that the American plan of employment is to be put into effect in Idaho Falls and a number of other Idaho towns. Employers' associations having already been formed for that purpose.

Following are the officers and directors of the Twin Falls Employers' association:
Ernest White, president; F. R. Thompson, vice president; The out in effect here and J. B. Koch, Harry L. Dinkler, George R. Easley, L. E. Salladay, J. M. Maxwell, C. E. Munson and George Dow.

Quiet Among Workers
F. D. Turner, business agent of the Building Crafts Council of Twin Falls, at noon today stated everything was quiet among workers throughout southern Idaho at that time. He added that all craftsmen were at work. Asked as to possibilities and program for the future he declined to make a statement.

DISCLAIMER FEARED IN ELECTION

have been a German peace. Many people were bitter over the fact that he was not active in the war and that none of his family had become active in the war.

On the other hand, Commander Newberry had had an honorable record in the Spanish-American war, when in the navy. He had been secretary of the navy in the cabinet of the militant American, Theodore Roosevelt.
"Within forty-eight hours after our country threatened to enter the world war he volunteered and, in the spring of 1917 was commissioned a lieutenant commander and made aide to the commander of the third naval district at

New York. His brothers and his two sons were also in military service.

Prompted by Fiedotian
"This combination of circumstances roused many a man in Michigan to the belief that the chief duty of a citizen is in his power to assure the election of Commander Newberry, and we expect to show conclusively that they were prompted not by pay, but by patriotism—that they were actuated not by avarice, but by Americanism.
"Getting into this campaign was not the choosing of Commander Newberry and he entered with the utmost reluctance only after repeated urging. As early as August, 1917 a group of representative citizens had a conference on the senatorial situation. In addition to the governor of the state there attended a publisher, a banker, a lawyer, a soldier and business man.
"Cites Newberry's Reluctance
"After canvassing the qualifications of the various candidates, it was their composite judgment that they should organize a movement to elect Truman H. Newberry. Their desires were communicated to the commander, whether it was his duty and would be desirable for him to run.
"It was not until this had all happened that he consented to the use of his name. He stipulated, however, that he would leave his duties; that he could not be active and that he could not contribute one dollar to this movement. This determination not to be active and to contribute one cent was religiously adhered to by him from the beginning to the end and the proof will positively show that not one dollar of his money was ever handled by any one."
"The organization that was subsequently built up under the supervision of Mr. Paul H. King was undoubtedly the most perfect political organization ever put together. With a few conspicuous exceptions every township, hamlet and city in the state was organized. The commander was running against the best advertised man in America. It was indispensably necessary, in the judgment of these respondents in principal charge of the campaign that his qualifications be given the widest publicity. A general advertising campaign of newspapers, circulars, pamphlets and similar devices was organized, in charge of the most skillful publicity men who could be found, who did their work thoroughly and with absolute honesty."
From this point the attorney told the jury in detail the connection of most of the respondents with the case.

Today's Markets
New York Exchange
NEW YORK, (AP)—Shares of all descriptions lost from 8 to 13 points in today's active stock market. The reversal was primarily due to the general collapse of international credits. Sales approximated 7,000,000 shares. The last hour, the most active of the day, witnessed further shrinkage of market quotations with consequent depression of exchange. The closing was weak.
Liberty Bonds
NEW YORK, (AP)—Prices of Liberty Bonds at 2:55 p. m. today were: 3-1/2's $90; 4's $91.18; second 4's $89.95; first 4-1/4's $91.50; second 4-1/4's $90.04; third 4-1/4's $88.88; fourth 4-1/4's $90.20; Victory 5-3/4's $97.84.
Grains and Provisions
CHICAGO, (AP)—Although sensational new breaks in storing exchange induced some scattered selling of corn today, the corn market showed but little disposition to give way in sympathy. In this connection, bulls pointed out that exports of corn have never reached a large aggregate. Another sustaining factor was the government report showing that the amount of livestock on farms in the United States was greatly in excess of estimates heretofore current. Opening corn prices which varied from unchanged figures to 3-8 lower, with May $1.35 5-8 to 1.35 3-4 and July $1.32 1-2 to 1.32 3-4, were followed by a rally all around to above yesterday's finish.
In the last half of the day selling pressure on corn increased owing to word that further demoralization of exchange was bringing out offers to cancel export sales of oats and rye. Corn closed unsettled 1-2 to 1-1/2 net lower, with May $1.34 1-2 to 1.34 3-4 and July $1.31 1-4 to 1.31 1-2.
Oats held steady with corn. After opening 1-8 off to a shade advanced, including May at 83 1-2, the market hardened a trifle.
Weakness of exchange affected provisions more than grain. Lard in particular was somewhat depressed.

PRESIDENT LINDLEY PROUD OF GLEE CLUB

Varsity Singers Find Appreciation when They Perform for Institution Head

"There are certain numbers on the program during which I can close my eyes and believe that I am listening to a company of professional artists," stated President E. H. Lindley of the University of Idaho, after listening for the first time to a concert given by the Men's Glee club of his own school, presented in the Boise high school auditorium recently.

The club has met with splendid success wherever it has appeared. Those who have heard the club in former years are unanimous in their opinion that Professor E. Orlo Banga has developed an organization this year which is far superior to any of its predecessors.

The company making the southern tour consists of the sixteen members of the club, Helen Wegmann, pianist, Nathalie Tecklenberg, soprano, and John Dickinson, violinist.

Miss Wegmann is a graduate of the

New England Conservatory of Music, and at the present time is engaged as instructor of piano at the university. Her sympathetic accompaniments contribute largely to the success of the club. As a concert artist, she occupies a leading place in the northwest.

Miss Tecklenberg, a charming little blonde from Wallace, is a sophomore at the department of music. Her brilliant coloratura voice and her winning personality make her one of the brightest spots on the program.

John Dickinson, instructor of violin at the university, is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, and was for some time a member of the Boston Symphony orchestra. Mr. Dickinson plays with a tone, style, and technique that mark him at once as an artist. His interpretation of Schubert's "Ave Maria" is being especially well received.

In his direction of the club Professor Banga has produced a well developed musical organization, presenting a popular program ranging from classics to comedy. The Glee club comes to Twin Falls soon.

In making the price $50 we owe these coats an apology

How would you like to be making $5,000 a year and have the Joneses next door think you were only getting $3,500?

That's how these coats feel at $50. They are worth more and what's more they are bringing more in 9 out of every 10 clothing stores in Idaho.

And if the coats could talk we'd get a severe reprimand for holding their social position down to such common-place figures.

At 50—they are worth 60. At 60—they would be as handsome as anything at 75.

The lot comprises Aristocratic Ulsters, Blue Blood Chesterfields and Thorough-Bred Belters and every coat has the earmarks of a one hundred dollar bill in everything else than price mark.

If you'll come in and try one on — you won't go away mad.

THE OPEN SHOP

One of the things the accomplishment of which might have been hoped for during the recent industrial conference held in Washington...

The open shop is a term glibly employed wherever two or more are gathered together and the subject of the rights and privileges of capital and labor happens to come into the conversation...

This resolution defines the open shop as "one in which membership or non-membership in any association is not made a condition of employment."

Conversely, a closed shop is one in which no man can be employed who is not a member of the particular union organized for that industry.

If an employer sees fit to hire only union men that would be his privilege just the same as it would be the privilege of an employer to refuse to work for one who would not employ union labor exclusively.

Every man in the United States has the right to make contracts to suit himself and none can deny him that right, be he employer or be he employee.

But if one man or set of men say to another that he must employ men of a particular race or religious belief, they infringe upon his lawful right.

They tell him that he shall not employ men who do not belong to the same church, or club, or labor union that they do they are attempting to deny to him one of the rights which has made the United States the land of opportunity for every employer and has opened the way for workingman's sons to place and power, many attaining seats in high places above and beyond the possibilities of any union affiliation or any other connection under the sun.

Employees in private industry, have the right to quit if they wish. They also have the right to strike if they see fit. But it would be a monstrous wrong to compel them by force to work against their consent.

The closed shop is, in principle, the same thing. In the final analysis it is an attempt to coerce employers into employing only certain classes of men and under such terms and conditions as are dictated to them. It would bar to non-union workers the right to work.

The principle upon which it is founded is foreign to the institutions and traditions of America which would give equal rights to every man, with special favors to none.

WHO ARE DEPENDENTS? INCOME MAN EXPLAINS

Valuable Information is Provided Relating to Certain Exemptions

In order to clear away misunderstandings as to what constitutes dependency in connection with the dependent exemption...

The dependent exemption may be allowed a credit of $200 for each person for whom he is the chief support. But it must be remembered that he can claim this additional exemption only with respect to certain persons...

The chief difference in that for "head of a family" the restriction is to close relatives, the evident object of which is to promote the home; for "dependent" the restriction is to children under 18 years of age...

"A single person is the head of a family if by December 31st he has been the sole support of close relatives (not blood relatives) for the entire year in the same household with him and looked upon by them to exercise a greater or less amount of control in the matters affecting the support and maintenance of the household."

"The phrase 'sole support' is here used in the sense that there is no other person to whom the dependents are looking for a substantial portion of their support. There may be another source of income (such as interest on bonds, dividends on stocks, pension) which, if meagre enough to still leave the recipient financially dependent, may interfere with the claim for exemption."

"But a division of responsibility will in every case exclude the parties from the claim for the additional exemption. A child of 14 years of age who declares that a head of a family is a person who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation."

"Once the existence of the fact that a taxpayer is the principal cause for the origin or maintenance of a home is established it cannot be destroyed by his mere temporary or avoidable absence from it. If a father is left with a young child to whom he cannot care for, he should not be considered the head of a family even if he is not the sole support of the child."

For Love's Sake

By T. B. ALDERSON

Copyright, 1921, by the Western Press, Twin Falls, Idaho

A crushing blow had come to Eloise Burley, and she had gone down under it. It had not been the death of her father, as she had expected. It was the death of her mother, who had been her chief support.

Her father's death had not been a great loss to her. Her mother, who had been her chief support, had been the one who had made her life a burden. She had been a cripple, and she had been a burden to her father.

Ransome Hall was ideal in its message and selection, and Eloise was content, fairly happy in her new life. She had made true friends among her girl associates in the new school.

But in the midst of her happiness, she was reminded of her father's death. She had been a cripple, and she had been a burden to her father. She had been a burden to her father.

"That brother of hers is going at a fast rate. He is at heart a generous, good-natured fellow, and that fact accounts for his reckless extravagance. It is not so much drink as it is cards, and a constant whirl of excitement around a set who are leading him into all kinds of spendthrift ways."

Apparently there Dudley Thorne dropped the subject from his thoughts, although he prolonged his home stay because a part of each day it was possible for him to be in the company of his sister's attractive friend.

"Mr. Thorne," she said, "you have told Milly just enough to alarm me about my brother. I have suspected something wrong for many months. He never comes to see me, his letters show change in him that alarms me. Won't you tell me all about him, and won't you help him if he is in trouble?"

Dudley was silent for a moment or two. He reflected deeply. With that fair, pleading face before him, he had not the heart to crush faith and hope. A sudden hesitancy came to him.

"Miss Burley, it would be unwise and unkind for me to retail to you gossip which has reached me—the true merits of which may be at entire variance with the truth. Will you trust me when I promise to learn all that is true, to act as a friend in behalf of your brother and save him from his sad, reckless ways? Will you further banish all worry and care regarding him until I come to report to you something reassuring, which I firmly believe I will be able to do before the month has ended?"

"The more years in her eyes as she placed both of her hands in his willing own and sobbed forth brokenly: 'I know that I can trust in you utterly!'"

It was the next day when Dudley entered a house given over mainly as a boarding place for members of the dramatic club. He found Arthur Griggs, the man he was looking for.

"Still playing 'The Prince of Adventure's Guide'?" inquired Dudley. "I am not. That brilliant success went by the board two weeks ago."

"You I recognize as the first man I met on my way to the school town where she later could visit him, oftentimes with Milly."

Rescued from the influence and wiles of sordid schemers, after his money only, Arthur Griggs came back to reason. By that time he had become a visitor to Burley's school. By that time Beatrice Morse knew that she had been banished. Arthur Griggs disappeared from the scene and Dudley Thorne never grudging the money required to get young Burley out of the clutches of his comarant associates, for he had been the most cherished friend in the world—Eloise.

CHURCHMEN ASK PLACE IN LEAGUE

French City Celebrates Organization of Nations Under Covenant

P. PARIS, (AP)—A declaration by Cardinal Amelie in which he said the league of nations was essentially a Christian idea and expressed the hope that a representative of the greater church organization would be admitted to representation in the council of the league was loudly applauded.

M. Bourgeois said he hoped that the United States would be represented at this meeting. The spacious auditorium of the Sorbonne was packed to its limits and the warmth of the enthusiasts of the audience afforded seemingly strong counter evidence to the pessimism that has been current that France is lukewarm toward the league.

President Poincare praised the idea and ideals of the league and added: "But it is not the fault either of France or M. Bourgeois that the league is not provided with better means for supervision and action so that it might exercise effective surveillance over armaments and might itself have the power to enforce its will."

"KEEP WELL" RULES TO FIGHT DISEASE Federal Health Department Tells How to Avoid Catching Spreading Contagion

In the nation-wide fight against the influenza epidemic the public health department of Washington, D. C., has issued a series of bulletins of health rules, copies of which have been sent to state, county and city health service sections all over the country to be given publicity through all communicable diseases.

Keep Well Ventilate every room you occupy. Wear loose, porous clothing suited to season, weather, and occupation. If you are an indoor worker, be sure to get recreation outdoors.

Sleep in fresh air always; in the open air if possible. Hold a handkerchief before your mouth and nose when you cough, or sneeze and insist that others do so, too. Always wash your hands before eating.

Do not overeat. This applies especially to meats and eggs. Eat some hard and some bulky foods. Eat slowly—chew thoroughly. Drink sufficient pure water daily. Evacuate thoroughly, regularly. Stand, sit, and walk erect. Do not allow poisons and infections to enter the body. Keep the teeth, gums, and tongue clean. Work, play, rest, and sleep in moderation. Keep serene. Worry is the foe of health. Cultivate the companionship of your fellow men.

Be sure of your footing. Beware the plausible humbug of the patent medicine faker. Have your doctor examine you carefully once a year. Also consult your dentist at regular intervals.

ASKS APPROPRIATION TO STOP BOOZE SMUGGLING

Secretary Glass Appeals to Congress for Grant of $2,000,000 to Prevent "Liquor Wars"

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Glass yesterday asked congress for $2,000,000 for the use of in stopping the smuggling of liquor into the United States. A statement from the division of customs accompanying the report said that because of longer facilities for smuggling with the situation of the quantity of liquor seized was infinitesimal in comparison with the quantity actually smuggled into this country.

"Smugglers will be placed on duty along the Mexican and Canadian borders in sufficient numbers to patrol hundreds of highways, paths and trails that afford easy means of access for smugglers."

A letter from the United States marshal for the western district of Texas, written to the attorney general under date of December 29, was sent to congress by the treasury to show the need of greater watchfulness over the international border. The marshal said there were "a large number of 'dry' areas" in the western district of Texas.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

BALLS OF WOOL.

The skeins of wool had been wound about into three fat balls of wool and they were waiting to be made into fine warm sweaters.

"It's a shame," said one of the balls, "that such an expression ever was given any attention. Yes, it is a perfect shame."

"I agree with you," said the second ball of wool, and the third ball of wool said,

"Wonder how it came about."

"I don't know I'm sure," said the first ball of wool, "but it certainly is quite generally used. And it seems rather unfair to us."

"It really does seem that."

"Yes," said the other two balls, "it does."

"Well," the first ball of wool said, "we are liked, too. It is rather confusing."

"But take that expression. Folks will say of some one who is deceiving others and who isn't being frank and honest."

"Oh, he's pulling the wool over his eyes," meaning that one person is pulling the wool over another's eyes.

"And by that they mean that one person deceives another and deceives the other so thoroughly and so completely that the other cannot see the truth. And it is as though wool were over his eyes which hid the truth from being seen."

"Of course they never mean that wool is really over anyone's eyes, but they mean that the people who are deceived cannot see the difference between the truth and the false and the person who is deceiving, is the one who is pulling the wool over the other's eyes."

"But it is such an unkind expression."

"It is," said the second ball of wool.

"It is," said the third ball of wool.

"Now," said the first ball of wool, "there are so many things said which people don't mean they say them."

"When a person is ill others will often offer lots of advice, but they don't want to put themselves out though they will pretend they're sympathetic."

"And sometimes people will think that they are every right to own more themselves and they will talk about all their wrongs and all the lack of things they have, but they won't be quite honest to tell all the things which they really have got."

"They will want everything themselves, money and time and comfort and yet they don't care whether the next person has it or not. They will about what they had lately, and haven't been pulling the wool over anyone's eyes, as the expression goes.

"And the parents have been frank, too." When they have seen friends of theirs who they would never have tried to pull the wool over their eyes and pretend that they adored them, when in reality they just liked them, and seeing them once in awhile—they have acted this way, lately.

"But here we are, nice balls of wool which will make lovely warm slippers and sweaters and warm, woolly things, and they use that expression about us."

"But they never think of you when they use it," said a little fairy who suddenly appeared. So they were happy once more.

The KITCHEN CABINET

No man or woman of the humblest sort can really be strong, gentle, pure and without somebody being helped and comforted by the very existence of that goodness.—Phillips Brooks.

THINGS WORTH REMEMBERING.

When going upstairs place the whole foot on the stair and keep the body erect; this manner of climbing stairs will not strain any muscle unduly.

A dish soap used for washing dishes is a great saving on the hands as the water may be used much hotter and the process is finished quicker.

When rainfalls and prunes stick to the paper which wraps them, hold them a moment near the steam of a teakettle.

A baby, no matter how young, should be given frequent drinks of sterilized water. A bottle is the best way to give it until the child is old enough to drink from a cup.

Orange juice for babies, given between meals, is a most wholesome and refreshing drink.

A harmless laxative which will be a pleasure to the children to take is the following: Grind through a meat grinder one pound each of figs, dates, raisins and softened prunes, with five cents worth of lemon juice. Mix and knead well, form into a loaf and wrap in waxed paper; keep in a cool place. For a child a piece the size of a pecan is sufficient; adults may take a larger piece. This will keep for weeks, is entirely harmless and much less expensive than many drugs sold for the purpose.

Add preserved citron to the marmoset; it adds greatly to the flavor of this time-honored pot filling; the citron mellow which is home prepared, not that used for cake.

Citron mellow, if grated before preserving, may be used for many dainty dishes or garnishes for ices, giving a delicate flavor well liked and adding to the variety of good things as well.

One may boil a pudding in a double boiler instead of in the old-time pudding bag. Into the upper part of the boiler with oiled paper, turn in the pudding and it will come out in good form.

When it is necessary to clean up upholstered furniture indoors, cover with a dampened cloth and beat; the dust clings to the cloth.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Solicitor General King said yesterday that by agreement with Attorney-General Rice, of Rhode Island, arguments before the supreme court in original proceedings brought by Rhode Island to determine the validity of the federal constitutional prohibition amendment would not be heard before March 31 at the earliest. The agreement was made because of the large number of cases assigned for argument immediately after the court reopens on March 1 after its February recess.

Valuable Japanese Plant

A plant grows in Japan which furnishes a sort of vegetable leather. It is a pretty shrub called the mitsunata, and its inner bark, after going through certain processes, is converted into a substance as tough as French kid, as transparent as that which can almost see through it, and as pliable and soft as catskin.

INSPECT MEAT SUPPLY

City Council Adopts Measure to Protect Public Health—Expert is Employed

The needs of a growing city and the need of keeping pace with the progress of the community formed the prime factors of a new council business at the weekly session of the administration board last night. The council was of the old-time prolix order, but of vast importance to the well-being of the town at large.

Principal among the matters at issue last night was the necessity existing for an authorized meats and abattoirs inspector. This institution, discussed subsequent to the discussion of the question provided, is a primary requisite to the health of the people of the town as well as to the general condition of health in the community.

The proposal to establish meat inspection, under the direction of an expert in this line of work, met with such favor with the council as a whole that agreement was reached for the introduction of an ordinance creating the department, and W. A. Falcon was appointed inspector. The appointment was approved by Mayor and council, and confirmed by unanimous vote of the council.

In addition to the establishment of a meat and slaughter house supervising department, the council also decided that the term of antiquated horse-drawn street sprinkling and flushing device had proceeded beyond the limit of repair, and a new progressive piece, and the same was ordered repaired to community history.

R. B. King, manager of the local department of the Idaho Power company, stirred up the municipal legislators on the question of the new electric system for the main business section of town. Mr. King presented prospectuses of various schemes of ornamental curb-post lighting system, all of which are being compared with the best in larger places.

The lighting system providing of greatest appeal to the council is one which contemplates four blocks on Main avenue and seven on Shoshone street. The latter will begin at the O. E. L. station. This plan is being considered as the present business section north and south of Shoshone.

Frank Kleffner presented a petition, carrying nearly 1000 names of persons supporting to be bona fide residents of Twin Falls, urging for the opening of a new lecture show at the Grand Hotel. Steven, manager of The Twin Falls Chronicle, appeared to address the council, ostensibly in support of the petition, but his real object was to deny the petition, but with a motion denying the petition, but withdrew this when the scheme of further discussion was admitted.

A franchise was granted A. G. Bost for a spur railroad track along Wall street to serve a new warehouse district. The site of the warehouse is ordered to prepare the legal documents. Sheriff A. N. Sprague asked the council to authorize expense incurred in sending Chief of Police William Taylor to Boise to attend to the same matters and traffic officers. The city will pay Mr. Taylor's expenses on this matter. The convention will be held Friday and Saturday.

Residents of South Park addition appealed for more intersection lights. The petition was referred to the city engineer for investigation as to the number of lamps needed. The council adopted an ordinance admitting two additional to the city. One at the Olden addition and the other at the Reed addition. City Health Officer A. W. Murray was granted permission to employ such assistance as he requires in collecting samples for analysis. He is also authorized to employ an automobile in the prosecution of his work. Salary of the waterworks superintendent was ordered increased from $175 to $200 per month.

IRRIGATION VALUE DEMONSTRATED IN CROP STATISTICS COMPILATION

South Idaho Reclamation Projects Produce Immeasurable Results from Watered Areas—In Comparison Cost of System Construction is Small Item—Barber Submits Figures

Some of the most interesting figures to see the light of day in respect to the money value of farming in the Twin Falls country are to be gleaned from a recent compilation of yields and acreages on the South Side compiled by C. H. Barber, commissioner of agriculture.

Mr. Barber's figures are based largely upon the data gathered by the Department of Agriculture in this section and certain other data. The figures are declared to be conservative throughout. Incidental to the main features of the compilation but of no less interest is the fact that the total value of the produce of the Twin Falls South Side area for the year 1918, exclusive of live stock, amounted to $10,244,000. A very large part of the total value of the figures is to be found by a comparison with the cost of construction of the Milner dam and canal system of the project.

Here are the values per acre in cash for 1918: Alfalfa crop, value per acre $5.00; Alfalfa seed, value per acre $2.80; Clover seed, value per acre $2.80; Oats, value per acre $6.00; Barley, value per acre $7.10; Corn, value per acre $7.20; Beans, value per acre $4.00; Sugar beets, value per acre $120.00.

Later, figures will be available for the year 1919. The total gross value of last year's crops is today estimated at $19,000,000, grown upon a total area of 400,000 acres. The total average served with water under the South Side ditch.

In the year 1918 the value of the ten principal crops of the Twin Falls South Side project was $9,841,227 in excess of the cost of constructing the irrigation system. Compared with the South Side project, the cost of the project in arrears as to production. Crop value for that year was $5,584,496, while it cost $4,609,000 to construct the project.

The report does not confine itself to the Twin Falls North and South Side projects but deals with both the Milner canal gravity and the Milner pumping system. The cost of the project as to construction from 1903 to 1918 a total of $5,720,000, while the crop production of 1918 was $5,108,078. All projects served in excess of the cost of construction was $23,938,467, while the aggregate cost of construction was $15,024,375.

The value of products other than those noted is as follows: South Side $981,997; North Side, $98,710; Milner, $206,217; total, $1,186,924. Average ten principal crops, South Side project, 168,964; other crops, 25,252; total, 194,216. Average ten principal crops, North Side project, 9,948; total, 9,948. Average ten principal crops, Milner project, 3,125; total, 3,125.

The area in crops on the three projects, according to the report is 361,000 acres. Shipments of livestock in 1919 from the three are: hogs, 285 cars at $2,400 per car, $685,000; other livestock, 1607 cars at $2500 per car, $4,178,500.

Weatherman and Jurists are Made From One Piece

The way of the weatherman is as inscrutable as the mind of a court-jury. When the weather is fair and all conditions look favorable, with the clouds in with "chance" of "snow or rain." When it is cloudy and even storming he urges upon the folks the theory that "back of it all there is a silver lining, and that somewhere in this favorable load the sun's shining bright."

But he never predicts what is to follow, with the exception of a slight wig, accepted now as the official mechanical meteorological distinguisher, falling and the sky more or less obscured with vapors hanging the master mechanic of the weather works upon us.

Top of the temperature yesterday was exceedingly springlike, causing pullets to prate and peopulous pups to prance. Fifty-two degrees, with 29 low last night.

WARY SUITS STARTED AGAINST SALMON LAND

Unsuccessful Proceedings Started in District Court, on the Bondholders' Liens

In the district court last Wednesday were filed 22 actions against owners of Salmon River district property. The actions seek foreclosure of liens against the property. The complaints were filed by Richard and James, attorneys of Boise, who are acting for the bondholders holding liens security for the project construction company.

Of the suits 22 are filed in the name of A. C. Robinson, alleging that the plaintiff advanced loans to the construction company. The remainder are brought in the name of the Commonwealth Trust company of Pittsburgh, trustee. These actions are all against land on which it is alleged the payments have been made for project construction work since 1911. The filings brought the county the sum of $2379 in fees.

AMUSEMENTS

GEM—Pauline Frederick in "The Loves of Lady," also Billy Rhodes comedy "Firing Father." ORPHEUM—"The Thunderbolt" starring Katherine Macdonald.

IDAHO—Dorothy Dalton in "The Lady of Red Earth." Also Sunshine Comedy, "Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts."

Classified Ads are cheap-effective. Mediceo acting serves but to accentuate the innate vulgarity of the piece. Low comedy brings quite a little shamefaced applause. Forced dialogue, apparently much of it interpolated, causes one's mind to revert to the many good shows which have greeted the boards of the Lavington in the past and to sympathize silently with Mr. Lavington in his efforts to operate a theatre under the conditions which now exist in the show business.

PARLOR, BEDROOM AND BATH

A. H. Woods, stand sponsor for a good many high class theatrical offerings. During the past few years some of the biggest successes of the American stage have been offered by him at theatres here. In "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" Mr. Woods' company of men is conspicuous by its absence. At least this is the inference to be drawn from last night's performance at the Lavington.

At that, perhaps Mr. Woods is not altogether to be blamed. "Sometimes they wake up," said Polly Hathaway, with reference to the possibilities of galvanizing life into men via the primary path, but Polly didn't have the members of the cast in mind when she said it. If there was one thing "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" needed more than another it was life.

Probably Mr. Woods knows a good show when he sees it, but if he does it is safe to assume that he has yet to witness a performance by this particular company. Mediceo acting serves but to accentuate the innate vulgarity of the piece. Low comedy brings quite a little shamefaced applause. Forced dialogue, apparently much of it interpolated, causes one's mind to revert to the many good shows which have greeted the boards of the Lavington in the past and to sympathize silently with Mr. Lavington in his efforts to operate a theatre under the conditions which now exist in the show business.

Pauline Frederick

A REVIEW IN RHYME
By Her Latest Foto Play
(Pauline Frederick in "The Loves of Letty")

The loves of Letty number three:
1 is a pudgy money-roll,
2 is a knight of royalty;
And 3, an ordinary soul.

Our heroine is proud, though poor—
A struggling working-woman, etc.
She feels that she cannot endure
Her hardships and her lodging debts.

And so she seeks the suit of 1,
Repeating that, she jumps to 2.
And when their dual course is run,
She looks around for something new.

And then her heart is touched by 3,
Who is responsive to the touch,
A lowly cameraman is he,
Whose income doesn't count for much.

But 3 knows how to hold her hand,
And how to gaze into her eyes,
Which 1 and 2 don't understand,
And that's where 3 outshines the two guys.

THE MORAL of this little tale
(Since MORALS always have to be)
Is this: When 1 and 2 both fail,
Why don't despair—try number 3.
